VOLUME 6. NORTH VANCOUVER, B. C., FRIDAY, MARCH 27, 1908. NUMBER 6

Mayor Kealy Asks One Month's Holiday

All the members of the Council were present at Monday night's meeting. Considerable business was transacted of a routine nature.

A court of t sion of the council was held to consider the petition for grading Eleventh street, and the special assessment for Ottawa gardens.

Only one communication was on the docket. C. Cook, of Vancouver, wrote in connection with the proposed ferry wharf there. Aldermen Irwin and Smith and the city engineer compose a committee to take the matter up with Mr. Cook.

The finance committee recommended adoption of the decision of the police commissioners relative to the vacation of the rooms upstairs in the city hall by A. Brimacombe. The committee further recommended that Mr. Brimacombe be retained as caretaker, fire-warden and poundkeeper. The report was accepted.

In the board of works report appeared a letter from Jas. P. Fell, with reference to the closing of McKay road by the city. The letter stated that this would work hardship on Mr. Fell's property in D. L. 552. The letter was referred back to the board of works.

The fire and light committee recommended that the chief be instructed to demolish the old bell tower at the rear of the city hall, and also that the caretaker of fire hall No. 1 be required to attend all the fires with the brigade. Fire Warden Brimacombe to remain in the hall in the absence of the caretaker. He was appointed poundkeeper at a salary of $60 per month. He is to vacate the rooms in the city hall immediately.

D. G. Dick was appointed to act as the city arbitrator on the matter of the expropriation property on St. David's avenue, which was valued at $900, but rejected by the owner.

The principal discussion of the evening arose over the application of THE EXPRESS for a water connection on First street for the water moter which has been used by them since their advent in town. The present connection is a one-inch pipe, but this pipe is found to be too small to develop the required power for the motor. It was the intention to replace the pipe by a three-inch one in order to give a greater volume of water at the nozzle. The water committee did not deem it advisable to grant the request, as at present there was only a four-inch watermain on First street, and it was their opinion that such a connection would affect the present supply on that street.

Ald. Irwin asked the committee to reconsider its decision. He stated that below Fifth street the pressure of water is too great when all the pipes are closed, and that water was going to waste right along. "Has the committee ascertained the maximum of water which can be supplied by the present pipes, the approximate amount which is being used, and the surplus which is going to waste?" asked Ald. Irwin.

Ald. Smith stated that he did not see how they were going to arrive at that.

The mayor stated that there was any amount of water going to waste at the present time, and stated that he would like the engineer to state what the capacity of the pipe is from the top of the hill to the outlet.

The engineer replied that the capacity is 2,362 gallons, or roughly 100 gallons for 236 houses.

Further discussed, the feeling was that a one-inch nozzle on the pipe would not use too much water, but engineer Loutet pointed out that the amount of water they would get through a one-inch nozzle from a three-inch pipe would be the full capacity of the three inch pipe. The stream at the nozzle might be smaller, but the velocity would be much greater and the same quantity of water consumed.

This information gave a totally different aspect on the question—so much so that the council decided not to grant the application, and adopted unanimously the committee's report.

Just prior to closing the mayor was granted a leave of absence for one month by request, and Ald. Irwin was unanimously elected mayor pro tem.

An illustration of the growing importance of shipping on this coast is noticed in a recent issue of the San Francisco Commercial News. In the lists of shipping bound for the various coast ports, with one exception, British Columbia ports are the only ports showing an increase in tonnage over last year. Portland is the city which has a large increase, but in their case the growth is not so regular and consistent as is that of the British Columbia ports. The record of tonnage to British Columbia ports this year as compared with the three previous years is as follows: Last week, 1908, 25,583 tons; last week, 1907, 22,005 tons; last week, 1906, 19,453 tons; last week, 1905, 13,276 tons.

A Busy Night For Municipal Council

All the members of the District Municipal Council were present at Friday night's meeting shortly after opening up.

A communication was read from W. S. Hugo, complaining of the impassable condition of Queen street, and stating that he had a quantity of rock which the council might use for making roads. The letter was referred to the board of works with power to act

J. P. Fell's plan of sub-division of the west half of D. L. 552 was laid on the table, and asking the council to approve of same. Mr. Bridgeman appeared on behalf of Mr. Fell, and explained the minor details. He stated that the proposed road of the engineer's runs close to the edge of a bench, and if it were built the usual width would be half in the air. The road which Mr. Fell proposes building as per the plans is 80 feet, north of the present surveyed road, and will be 80 feet wide instead of 66 feet, with suitable ditches on either side, and would run from the city boundary to the western boundary of 552. The road would be as good as existing one and Mr. Fell will clear an 80-foot right-of-way the whole distance. Work will be started forthwith. The council, after considerable discussion, approved of the plans, and agreed to give a quit-claim to Mr. Fell as soon as the engineer had approved of the work when completed.

Medical Health Officer Dr. Campbell handed in his report on the water and supply in Lynn valley, as several residents had complained of the pollution of the water in the flume. The report stated that the water in the flume complained of was good, but that the Rice lake flume was not fit for use. He advised that steps be taken to provide good water or protect the flume against Japanese using same for sewerage purposes. After going thoroughly into the matter the council instructed the health officer to rigorously enforce the by-laws, and that notices be posted at all camps to this effect.

Mr. Bridgeman made application for water to his proposed new residence, situated on the north-east corner of Sutherland avenue and Eighth street, in D. L. 553.

The clerk was instructed to ask Mr. Fell to consent to join the proposed water area for the passed portion of his plan.

Two applications were made for water on the Fromme road.

In view of the proposed water area coming into existence the council thought it advisable to ascertain the water connections that would be required for some time to come, and have instructed an advertisement to be inserted asking residents wanting water to make application.

Reeve May, for some time past, has been bored by some silly persons by a question which was purported to have been given by the council. The question was that the clerk, when writing the government re the proposed bridge across the Second narrows, stated that the District Council wanted a combined vehicular and railway bridge, or none at all. Under the heading of enquiry, the clerk read a copy of the communication referred to, but failed to come across the objectionable paragraph.

Councillor McNaught thought that a spur should be put on the whip to get the bridge committee in motion and make the bridge a reality.

Councillor T. S. Nye registered his objection to letting the contract for the new Lynn creek bridge before passing a by-law to borrow the money. The other councillors did not view the contract in that light, and explained to Mr. Nye the fact that the money market was not suited for such purposes, and especially a sum so small, and that the amount could be taken from the general revenue fund, and afterward a loan could be put through for the purpose.

The clerk read the list of water records, which have been obtained, as follows: Lynn creek, 274 inches; Mosquite creek, 50 inches; an unnamed creek, 1 inches, and three smaller creeks, 4 inches. On the Lynn creek the cost was $55.75, and the others $15.75, at an annual renal of $8. This gives a total of 15,000 gallons per day.

District lot 615 has been included in the proposed water area.

The clerk stated that the necessary papers for the road machinery by-law had been prepared and ready to submit to the ratepayers. It was decided to let this matter stand over for some time.

Councillor McNaught reported on the meeting held in Vancouver re the invitation to the American fleet.

The approval of the services of Miss Lillie Peers, as stenographer and assistant clerk, was given by the council, vice Miss Smith resigned, at a salary of $45 per month.

The council received the thanks of the reporters when Reeve May announced that there would be supplied a special brand new table (and cushioned chairs) for their own special use. This fills a long-felt want.

The council then went into committee.

Arbitrators Sitting On Two Local Questons

Shall the City of North Vancouver or the District Municipality have control of the city's poles passing through the municipality, and what division of last year's ferry rental, if any, go to the latter?

These questions were on Tuesday submitted to arbitration with Magistrate Alexander and Mr. H. Senkler, K. C., as the arbitrators in the latter's private office, the congested courthouse affording no available room.

The questions arise out of the incorporation last May, these being the only outstanding differences, the first being the chief. In this the municipality seeks full control with the right to remove poles that may obstruct, while the city seeks to retain its present control.

The ferry account is a matter of $625, which the municipality claims as its share of the rent falling due last July. The city's reply is that this was included in the adjustment. The evidence Tuesday was brief. Mr. A. D. Taylor, K. C., appeared for the city, and Mr. W. E. Burns for the municipality.

Hon. W. J. Bowser has issued in pamphlet form his speech on the Natal Act, and Duncan Ross, M. P., has done likewise with his speech on the Oriental question, both excellent readings for persons who have plenty of time and are not particular as to how English is thrown together. Now, if John Oliver would issue a pamphlet on pneumatics, hot and cold, the country might be considered politically safe during the summer months.—Greenwood Ledge.

It was also decided that on Miscellaneous night, which is on the 31st of this month, the club will adopt a club song, suitable to the association.

The North Vancouver Football club held a smoker in the Pavilion Wednesday night, and the only thing that was missing was the crowd. A good program had been prepared, plenty of tobacco and pipes in evidence, but no musician, as the one arranaged with at the last moment found it impossible to attend. Besides singing and an instrumental selection by Master Bert Grosse, their were two lively boxing bouts, and a good exhibition of wrestling between Renshaw and Rowley. It is rather discouraging to those getting up entertainments for the simple reason that residents show an utter disregard for their success, no matter how good the program or for what cause. Amateur athletic sports are healthful, elevating and harmless and it is the duty of every good citizen to encourage their practice. Money is required to carry them on, and these entertainments are gotten up with the idea of defraying necessary expenses in connection therewith, but if there is not enough interest manifested by the people generally these sports are bound to diminish.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We recently announced that Mr. G. A. Love had acquired the interest in the business formerly held by Geo. Bartley, and would assume editorial charge during this month, when it was expected that he and Mr. J. B. Williams would continue the business of THE EXPRESS Printing Co. Owing to circumstances which have since transpired, however, it becomes necessary for us to announce that these parties have transferred their entire interests to Messrs. Smithingale and Morden, who, as the proprietors, will assume charge on April 1st. It might not be out of place to mention in this connection that the present owners retire from the business with some regret on account of the great confidence they have in the brilliant future awaiting the City of North Vancouver and its paper. At the same time they introduce the new owners with every feeling of satisfaction, believing that these gentlemen are eminently fitted to serve the interests of their constituents in the conduct of a progressive newspaper, which, in their hands, shall—upon larger and broader lines—become a credit to this city.

Mr. Charles E. Smithingale, who at present operates a printing plant in Vancouver, is a practical printer and journalist of many years experience, who has, from time to time, been identified with several of the coast papers and has successfully conducted publications in the interior of the province.

Mr. George H. Morden has been for some years with the Dominion Trust Company, of Vancouver, and having previously had some journalistic experience and a long training in literary work of a general character, comes to his position well equipped in every particular.

The new proprietors are gentlemen of the highest character, and we bespeak for them a hearty welcome from the citizens of North Vancouver, as they come to join in the great work of building up this beautiful young city.

Mr. J. B. Williams, who has been identified with THE EXPRESS since its foundation, and has, in his experience with the people, made many warm friends in this community, particularly desires to take this opportunity of thanking the citizens generally for the kindly encouragement and generous support accorded him from time to time, often under trying and discouraging conditions.

Interesting Lecture on Charles Dickens

Under the auspices of the Young People's Club of this city, Principal Burns, of the Provincial Normal School at Vancouver, delivered on Tuesday evening last, a lecture on "Charles Dickens," to a good sized audience. The interest of the audience in the subject shows how strong is the hold the great novelist still retains upon the readers of the following generation for with deep interest they followed the eloquent lecturer in his portrayals of the life and times and character of this great master of fiction, who left such a profound impression on his age.

Added interest was lent to the subject in this case because of the fact that Mr. Burns had enjoyed personal acquaintance with Dickens, and so was able to speak with the warm admiring interest of a personal friend and bring his audience into a closer and more sympathetic relation to his subject than is ordinarily the case. Charles Dickens was born in the year 1812, and his early life was spent under the adverse condition of poverty. It seems his father was a soldier in the peninsular war and upon his discharge returned home in the midst of times of depression, soon to find himself in the grip of debt, which resulted in his being cast into prison, where he spent several years. In the meantime his son Charles produced his first great novel, entitled "Pickwick," from the proceeds of the sale of which he secured his father's release. After a long, hard struggle for an education, the future writer had secured a position as parliamentary reporter for the London Times, and it is said that frequently when news for his paper was lacking he would provide short stories, which were produced under the non de plume "An Uncommercial Traveller." These soon began to attract the attention of his employer and the public on account of their marked evidences of the ability which was soon to bring him fame and fortune. As a man, Dickens was of a highstrung nervous temperment, and lived a strenuous life, hastening himself finally to an early grave through overwork. One of the marked features of his character, evidenced in all he did or wrote, was a profound dislike for pretense or sham of any sort, and he seems to have set before him as the chief mission of his public life to tear aside with ruthless hand the thin veil of sham and cant, which, like a thick mantle lay over the life of the people. Underneath all he wrote was the solid foundation of truth and a great moral purpose dominated the whole. This it was which touched a responsive chord in the heart of the English people and made his work such a supreme success.

Speaking of the writers of today the lecturer pointed out that only those who based their creations upon such a foundation could hope for any reaf or ultimate success. As illustrating the simple nature of the man, Dickens requested that upon his death no mourning should be worn by his friends, and that he be buried in a common church yard. Only in response to the late Queen Victoria was his body finally interred in Westminster Abby, and over him was placed the simple lines he had himself written for a friend, "Lord, Keep His Memory Green."

The speaker was heartily thanked for his inspiring lecture and a North Vancouver audience will be delighted to welcome him again.

DOGS.

4. Every person within the limits of the City who is the owner, possessor or harbourer of a dog or bitch over the age of six months shall procure such dog or bitch to be licensed, taxed, numbered, described and registered, and such license shall entitle such person to own, possess or harbour such dog or bitch up to the first day of February of the succeeding year, while such person continues to own, possess or harbour such dog or bitch, procure the same to be licensed, taxed, numbered, described and registered for the then current year, and shall cause such dog or bitch to wear around its neck a collar of metal or leather to which shall be attached a metal check to be supplied free, on which shall be inscribed the letters "N. V. D. T." (North Vancouver Dog Tax) and figures indicating the year for which such tax has been paid, and a number corresponding with a number under which for the time being such dog or bitch is registered in the Books of the Inspector of Licenses, and every such person shall pay for such License the sum of $2.00 for a dog and $3.00 for a bitch.

5. The Inspector of Licenses shall not register any such dog or bitch unless the person applying to have the same registered shall have paid the Tax imposed by this By-law and shall produce the receipt of the Treasurer therefor.

5a. Provided hereby that where any person owns five or more dogs he shall be held to own a kennel, and in such event his annual license fee shall be the sum of Ten Dollars for such kennel, and on payment of that fee he shall receive a metal check for each dog or bitch over six months of age in the said kennel belonging to him.

6. It shall be the duty of the Inspector of Licenses to keep a book in which shall be recorded the names of the owners of every dog or bitch registered under the provisions of this By-law, the date of such registration, the description of the dog, the registration number and the amount of Tax paid.

7. No person shall suffer or permit any dog or bitch of which he or she is the owner, possessor or harbourer to run at large within the City unless such dog or bitch shall have around its neck the collar and metal check mentioned herein and inscribed as herein provided, and any dog or bitch running at large without such collar and metal check shall be liable to be impounded and be disposed of as provided by this By-law.

8. Any person guilty of removing a collar or metal check from a licensed dog or bitch shall be subject to the penalties of this By-law.

9. Any Police Constable, Pound-keeper or other person authorized for the purpose by the Mayor, Police Magistrate or Chief of Police may seize any dog or bitch running at large, elsewhere than on the premises of the owner, possessor or harborer of same, not having on such collar with metal check attached thereto, and such Police Constable or other person shall forthwith after making such seizure deliver such dog or bitch to the Pound-keeper, to receive such dog or bitch, and retain for forty-eight hours, supplying it with water and food in the meantime, and if such dog or bitch is not reclaimed within such time it shall be the duty of the Pound-keeper to kill such dog or bitch or sell same and deliver the proceeds thereof to the City Treasurer, who shall pay all expenses incurred in and about the seizure, maintenance and sale of such dog or bitch.

10. The owner of any bitch in heat, who shall suffer or permit the same to run at large while in that condition shall be subject to the penalties of this By-law.

12. When a complaint has been entered before the Pound-keeper or other authorized person against a dog or bitch on account of its ferocity or any disease while running at large, he shall immediately request the owner of said dog or bitch to destroy it or keep it in close confinement under chain, and in case of no compliance by said owner or owners, or in case of a second complaint before either of them, the said Pound-keeper or other authorized person is hereby authorized to seize said dog or bitch and impound him or her for forty-eight hours, and unless removed by said owner or owners and destroyed or chained up and the expenses, including a pound fee of $2.00, paid on or before the expiration of said time the said Pound-keeper is hereby empowered to destroy said dog or bitch and deliver the sum obtained, if any, to the City Treasurer who shall pay all fines and expenses connected therewith.

JEDWAY NEWS

From a Correspondent.

Mr. Parke made a flying trip to this camp, during which time he bought and bonded several claims near Jedway. He returned to Vancouver by the steamer Amur on the 10th inst., but will return to make his headquarters here this summer. He will open the Eagle Tree property, which has one of the best showings to be found in this section of the islands.

A. Ikeda has ore in all four tunnels of his claims and a small stringer of free milling quartz running $1,700 to the ton. The ore in his lower tunnel is also gradually growing wider.

Mr. Mack Young has a fine showing on his property on Carpenter Bay, a few miles from here.

Thos. Daykin has some fine showings in Collison Bay. He also has interests in Jedway with Mr. McPhee, the new manager of the Jedway hotel.

Jedway has a first-class hotel under the above management, also a sawmill with a capacity of thirty thousand feet per day, also a store well supplied with miners and loggers supplies. Mr. L. T. Watson, who is interested in the store, sawmill and hotel, and is also acting as mayor of the town.

The Sweed property, 40 miles north, is being operated by Mr. Wolffsohn, with S. Girle in charge. Every shot is showing better ore.

Messrs. Dass, Radley, Nelson and Johnson have a fine showing in a claim at Sewell inlet, 60 miles north.

Messrs. Stephens and Sullivan have bonded two claims to Mr. Parke for a good sum, the cash payment being $2,500.

The boys at Jedway have lately organized the Jedway Club, with Mr. Parke as president. They were entertained by Mr. McPhee on the 8th inst.

The islands have some fine showings on Dean river, Messrs. Esmond, French and Watson have recently found good seams in this vicinity.

Jedway had its first law suit—W. L. Nestell vs. H. Riley—restaking the Ink Pot mineral claim in Herriott Harbor. The charge was perjury and lasted for six days, during which Judge Manson used up a whole pot of ink. Riley won the case.

There is quite a building boom on and houses are scarce. Many people are living in tents. This is one of the best harbors on the coast. The new fish boat Chicago, Captain Joyce, late of the New England, and the Celestial Empire were in port and we entertained the crews and encouraged them to call. There is an American company about to start a whaling station and fish freezing plant and cannery.

A wireless station is to be installed here whereby we shall have connection with the mainland.

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor of THE EXPRESS:

DEAR SIR,—If by a further reference to the dictionary to which my first letter drove him, Ratepayer (vide North Vancouver News), can find any expression of mine championing any cause other than that of temperance in debate, there remains in reply only the obvious suggestion that he change his dictionary. Though this cause be as bad an one as he makes it out I shall remain its advocate with all the wealth of sesquipedalian verbiage that I can command.

I do not know Ratepayers' name, and, apart from my total lack of interest in it, I have no intention of trying to ascertain it, as I have no wish to introduce any personal element into a purely academic discussion. Of course I shall neither step into the limelight with him or undertake a defence of slot machines, which I may parenthetically observe, seem admirably constructed with a view of defending themselves, or any other form of gambling, such as church lotteries and the majority of real estate transactions. These matters are not germane to the point I raised, and I do not propose to have them foisted upon me.

As my door is never locked when I am doing business I am sorry that Ratepayer deems it necessary to undertake what must, I feel sure, though I speak in ignorance of the exact nature of the operation, be the painful facial contortion of "cocking his eye."

So far as I am concerned this discussion is ended, and if it has any tendency to curb the employment of vituperation in place of argument, the time will come when Ratepayer will himself thank me for having embarked upon it. Till then I remain at his service, and always, Mr. Editor, at yours.

A. J. PICTON-WARLOW.

North Vancouver, March 21, '08.

Bank of B. N. A. In Healthy Condition

The seventy-second yearly report of the Bank of British North America, which was read at the head office of that institution on March 3rd, shows a healthy state of business, although there was a decrease of notes in circulation of £87,000, bills payable and other liabilities, a decrease of £601,000, as was pointed out by the chairman by the attraction of sound investments, which, owing to the financial stringency, were to be purchased at most favorable prices. and also the opportunities of lending money in the west upon mortgages at high rates of interest. Cash and other specie show an increase of £219,000, totalling £1,118,000, or an equivalent of 53 per cent. of their immediate liabilities. Cash at call and short notice shows a decrease of £757,000. Investments show the following changes. In the interim balance sheet to June 29th the sum of £6,060 had been taken from the profits of the half year with the object of writing down our holding of Consuls to 83, at which figure they now stand in the balance sheet. Dominion of Canada bonds show an increase of £12,600, and now stand at £157,000, with 97 as the book cast. Other securities have decreased £15,000. The book cost is lower than the current market quotation. The total of the investments is £9,000 lower than a year ago. Bills receivable and loans on security and other accounts show a decrease of £380,000, and premises, after the transfer of £20,000 from the profits show a decrease of £5,077. The actual net profits for 1906 were £129,016, and for 1907, £122,617, showing a decrease of £6,399.

The reserve fund has been increased to £480,000, besides declaring the usual dividend of seven per cent. A bonus of five per cent., or about £4,000 was granted the staff as an appreciation of their efficiency; £24,014 were carried forward to to the new account, as against £19,610 for 1906. The fully paid capital now is £1,000,000 and the reserve fund £480,000. Deposits and current accounts, £4,181,037 13s 8d.

End of the Quest

We've saw the grandjoors of the globe,
My wife Mehitable and me,
From Rooshia in her ermine robe,
To Greece a-dreamin' by the sea;
We've saw a Zulu and a Czar,
We've rid in rickyshaws and sich
We've travelled near and travelled far,
Since I struck oil and we got rich.

Now mind you I'm not running down
My native state of Ioway,
And Jayville is as neat a town
As you could find in many a day;
And yet, compared with furrin parts,
It's just a pin point on the map
And mighty back'ards in the arts,
Behind by jinks! The heathen Jap!

To North Vancouver we have come,
We see it advertised so much,
And here is where we'll stay by gum,
For don't this climate beat the Dutch!
You've got the mountains and the sea,
You've got the showerdrops and the flowers,
Here's Switzerland and Italy,
And here's a year of sunny hours.

My wife Mehitable, says she:
"There aint no nicer place on earth,
Right here is where we oughter be
Within the land o' fortunes birth.
I'm tiret of roamin'; here we'll rest,
For here air all them furrin lands,
We'll build a little hillside nest,
Where Spain and Norway's joinin' hands."

So here we be, and here we'll stay
Beside this blue Pacific shore,
We've said good-bye to Ioway,
Her blizzards we shall feel no more,
We've struck it rich, it beats the oil,
We've found the land of our desire,
The town of rest and happy toil,
Where sunlight is the hearthstones fire. —Adapted.
