Children's May Day Celebration

The program for the May Day festivities is now rounding into definite form and promises to be one of very exceptional merit. As at present suggested it includes tableaux, choruses, cutlass drill, Maypole dance, Boy Scouts, masquerade, etc.

The committee wish to explain that they will be pleased to have any girl in the city over five years of age assist in the program. A meeting will be held this afternoon in the second auditorium of the Methodist church.

The committee wish further to intimate that any ladies having artificial flowers or other articles that would be useful for decorative purposes and who is willing to loan the same for the occasion, will greatly assist by communicating with Mrs. C. Inez Hall, corner 8th street and St. George's Ave., or with any member of the committee.

It is also desired to provide tea for the children who participate in the festivities at the Horticultural Hall on May Day and for this purpose they will be pleased to receive contributions in the way of cake, scones etc.

The May Day celebration should appeal to parents and friends of children, not only because it affords the children a most delightful day but likewise because the particular purpose toward which the proceeds of this occasion will be devoted is especially worthy of sympathy and support, namely the establishing of a cot in North Vancouver Hospital, to be known as "Queen Victoria Cot."

LAYMEN'S MISSIONARY BANQUET

The session of St. Andrew's church, acting in conjunction with the Presbyterian Laymen's Committee, have arranged for a banquet to be held in the exhibition hall here on Wednesday, the 27th inst, at 7.30 p.m. The following speakers and others will be present to take part in the discussion of the different matters that will come before the assemblage. Prof. Pidgeon, D.D., of Westminster Hall, Captain J. J. Logan, Dr. J. W. Macintosh, Ald. McKechnie, M.D. The aim will be to look at the interests and work of the church and its mission agencies from the laymen's point of view. The exhibition hall has been secured that all may come.

STEAMER LEFT

After being tied up at the Cates wharf for nearly a month the S. S. Elsa weighed anchor last evening about 11 o'clock and crossed the stream to the Vancouver side of the Inlet where she will complete loading her cargo which is scattered between the Heatley Ave. Union Steamship Company and the Evans, Coleman and Evans wharf. The cargo is consigned to the Northern Light, Heat and Power Company near Dawson. About 1,600 tons of the plant and equipment was taken on this side of the Inlet during the past 20 days and the balance which has been left lying on the Cates wharf, will be scowed over to be loaded at the south side of the harbor.

A STRONG COMPANY

One of the most encouraging signs of the substantial progress of North Vancouver is found in the growing inclination upon the part of strong and successful financial institutions to secure a foothold on the North Shore. The latest of such institutions to establish a local office is Canadian Financiers Limited. The annual report of this company, of which Mr. Patrick Donnelly is president and Mr. R. L. Thompson is local manager, was submitted recently and shows a net profit for the year of $58,788.81 and this amount together with net premiums from sale of shares gave the handsome surplus for the year of $70,831.76. After making provision for bonus to employees, dividends, bonus to shareholders etc., the sum of $30,600 was added to the reserve, still leaving $6,371.50 to be carried forward to profit and loss account. The company employs a resident agent in Great Britain who devotes his whole time to the interests of the company. The local office is at No. 14, Lonsdale Ave.

NEW CHURCH SITE

The Board of Managers of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church has concluded to establish a second congregation in the city and for that purpose a suitable site has been procured at the corner of 24th street and Chesterfield Ave. The new church will be organized for the present as a mission station and it is hoped to begin holding services about May 1st, negotiations being at present proceeding to procure a temporary use of the Horticultural Hall.

Lacrosse Meeting

A meeting of all those interested in this popular game will be held in the municipal hall on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. From a very small canvas taken recently in this behalf it was found that the Ambitious City contained quite a number of the stick artists who are only waiting the electric touch to spring into action. Among those who have already evidenced a desire to enter the game in this city are a number of first-class players who have figured prominently in senior leagues in the east and elsewhere. A cordial invitation is extended to any wishing to associate themselves with a local league.

WHIST PARTY

A very pleasant progressive whist party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Green at their residence on Keith road Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Vera Seale, who leaves for the east in a short time. Five games were played in all and the count showed the winners to be: Ladies, first, Miss Vera Seale; gentlemen, first, Mr. Henry Woods, and consolation prizes went to Miss Edna Hay and Mr. Keefer. A dainty repast was served intermingled with a number of songs by Miss Mary O'Sullivan of Vancouver. After the customary exchange of pleasantries following supper the gathering dispersed with many well wishes for the success of the North Vancouver ladies basket ball team. Among those present were: Wiss Mary Miss Mary Laing, Miss Muriel O'Sullivan, Miss Vera Seale, Fuller, Miss Edna Hay, Miss Fanny Seale, Mr. Keefer, Mr. Henry Woods and Mr. W. J. Butler.

Mr and Mrs. A. E. Markle, recent arrivals from the Northwest, have leased a flat in the block 443 Lonsdale Ave. and have moved in.

Mr. James Miller of Moodyville was one of the few sucdessful nimrods with the hook and line last week end, when he succeeded in pulling out no less than thirty-five fine denizens of the water from a small stream not far from the city. Mr. Miller could no doubt, have a great many friends during the fishing season if he desired it.

DRESSMAKING on the Premises

Council in Regular Weekly Session

The regular Monday evening meeting of the City Council was as usual well attended by a full house of spectators. His Worship Mayor May was in the chair and all the aldermen were present.

A large amount of correspondence, the calling of a public meeting for the purpose of arranging plans for Dominion Day celebration, which day North Vancouver has appropriated for its celebration, and a lengthy report on sewerage from the city engineer were among the principle items of business dealt with.

The correspondence read and dealt with was as follows:

Letter from Mrs. W. P. Peacey expressing her thanks for council's sympathy in her late sad bereavement.

H. S. Cayley, secretary pro tem of the mainland university committee, advised that a joint meeting of the representatives from all the mainland municipalities interested would be held in Vancouver on Apr. 22nd and that it was desirous of having the Mayor present. His Worship delegated Alderman McRae in his stead and appointed Alderman Schultz to represent the council.

The North Vancouver Yacht Club wrote asking that the street end be cleared to allow them to start building their proposed landing. Referred to Board of Works.

Indian Agent McDonald forwarded a copy of a resolution passed by a majority of the male members of the Squamish tribe, North Vancouver mission whereby they agreed to allow the city to extend Third street through their reserve on the condition that the city give them free water in twelve taps and a fire hydrant in perpetuity and $3,000 in cash. There were 25 signatures to the resolution and Mr. McDonald advised that the original had been forwarded to Ottawa for official sanction.

Wallace Shipyards Company advised that their insurance company would prefer that the city place a hydrant close to their premises as a means of fire protection. It was referred to the waterworks committee with power to act.

A. Philip, C.M.C., secretary of the joint civic advertising committee advised that a meeting had been held last Saturday and that in order to proceed with the work this year it was necessary to know how much would be forthcoming from public institutions in the city. He stated that Mr. A. G. Perry and Mr. G. H. Morden had been delegated to interview the city council in this connection. Mr. Perry and Mr. Morden, who were present, stated that good work had been accomplished last year by this mode of advertising and now that the city was entering on an era of prosperity it should not be allowed to drop.

It was explained that while good work was done last year, the experience gained thereby would add greatly to this year's success.

On motion of Aldermen Irwin and McRae, an immediate grant of $200 was authorized and another of $300 a little later on. Last year's civic donation was $500.

Another letter from Mr. Philip advised that relative to certain resolution of the city council passed recently that his council were willing to have conveyances asked for executed as soon as their solicitor had passed on them; also that the district was willing to co-operate in the matter of providing for connecting roads between the city and district in any new places of subdivision which were submitted, that the district was going to instal a number of water meters as requested and that the damage done to the city's telephone wire was reported to the proper authorities The whole matter was referred to the committee of the whole.

The North Vancouver Land and Improvement Company acknowledged city's willingness to agree to pay the company at the rate of $100 per acre for opening streets in D. L. 544, 545, 546 and 550.

The company advised that they would accept city debentures bearing 5 per cent.

Fire Chief Prime asked council to provide the brigade with extra equipment at an early date so that the force would be properly outfitted should an outbreak of fire occur.

Alderman Fowler stated that the finances were the only obstacles standing in the way of immediate action in this regatd. It was laid over.

A resolution passed at a recent meeting of the N. V. Ratepayers' Association was read and was in effect that in the opinion of the meeting it was advisable to appoint a local man to fill the office of city solicitor and that they would recommend Alderman Schultz for the position. It was referred to the committee of the whole.

The city engineer reported as follows on the construction of sewers on the Esplanade, 1st, 2nd and 3rd streets, under local improvement on the council's initiative; Esplanade from Forbes Ave. to east of St. Andrew's, total cost $10,900, city's proportion 800 feet, $1,585, fronting property 4,000 feet $9,315, cost per foot, $2; First street, Forbes to St. Patrick's Ave., total cost $18,625, city's share 1,160 feet, $2,320, fronting property, 8,210 feet, $16,305, cost per foot, $2; Second street, from Forbes to 300 feet east of St. Andrew's Ave., total cost $14,815, city's share 980 feet, $1,660, fronting property 7,810 feet, $13,155, cost per foot 91.70; Third street, from Forbes and to east of St. Andrew's, total cost $21,875, city's share 930 feet, $4,555, fronting property 7,630 feet, $17,320, cost per foot $2. The life of the work was figured out on a 20 year basis. The report was held for reference.

T. C. Holt wrote stating that a number of residents on 5th street had made an unsuccessful trial to get the requisite number of signatures for the local improvement of that portion of 5th street lying between Mahon and Queensbury Avenues, had now asked the council to proceed on their initiative. Alderman Fowler considered that Keith road ought to receive first attention being as it was, a main artery through the city. The matter was laid over.

A number of petitions asked for the improvement of 5th street from Queensbury Ave to Hendry Ave. The petition called for the opening of the street, construction of a number of culverts, a crossing over the gulley and a two plank sidewalk. Referred to Board of Works with power to act.

A local improvement petition for the clearing and grading of 3rd street and the laying of a 6-foot sidewalk on both sides of the street from St. David's and to the city limits was received and referred to the city clerk to see if the requisite number of signatures were attached.

Councillor Bridgman was present on behalf of the North Vancouver Land and Improvement in connection with making a jog at the corner of the boulevard and 21st street where the streets now intersect at a rock bluff. Mr. Bridgman's proposals were accepted.

Mr. A. G. Perry drew attention to some large stubs that were standing close to Lonsdale and from 17th street north and endangering both life and property. The matter was referred to the board of works with power to act.

A prospective builder on Western Ave. made a request that Western Ave. be extended from 23rd to 24th streets to allow him to get in building material. Referred to the Board of Works with power to call for tenders for the works.

The following plans were passed: lots 1 and 2, D. L. 133, D. L. 274, lots 1 and 32, lot 6, D. L. 616, and block 240 D. L. 545.

R. Nelson's tender of $800 for the the clearing, grubbing and grading of 15th street, 24 feet wide from Sutherland to Rufus Ave. was accepted.

The Board of Works' financial statement of $587.15 and the waterworks statement of $228.30 were read and passed.

The following were recommended by the board of works committee: That communications with St. Agnes church on 12th street be opened up and that E. Johnson's request for the opening up of Ridgeway Ave. to his property receive attention.

Alderman Schultz reported that the committee composed of Alderman Irwin and himself had the draft almost ready for the main features of the gas franchise and that it would be submitted to council at an early date.

On motion of Aldermen Fowler and Schultz, it was resolved to adopt Alderman Fowler's suggestion to clear the boulevard on all streets running east and west for a distance of two blocks on both sides of Lonsdale Ave. and also in front of property already improved.

The waterworks committee recommended that F. B. Day be rendered with an account for $3.75 for cost of repair of damage done by one of his men to the city's water pipe, that a temporary connection be given to F. B. Day for donkey engine purpose, and that the engineer seal the meters being used in the district. Both reports were adopted.

The fire and light report, recommending a street light near St. John's church was laid over for a week to allow the location being decided upon.

A resolution of sympathy was passed unanimously to the family of the late R. G. Tatlow, late minister of finance of the province.

On motion of Aldermen Schultz and McNeish the Mayor was requested to call a public meeting for Thursday, May 12th, to consider plans for the Dominion Day celebration.

Another resolution was passed instructing the city clerk to invite Hon. Mr. Bowser to this city in connection with the establishment of a Land Registry office here.

The council then went into committee of the whole to consider a bylaw establishing a permanent grade on the Esplanade and a number of other matters.

ST. ANDREW'S AND CALEDONIAN SOCIETY

The regular monthly meeting of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society was held last Tuesday evening in the Eagles' hall and assumed a semi-public form with the presence of the lady friends of the society. The president, Mr. A. Philip, presided and there was a large attendance of members present.

A report was received of the success of the Oddity dance held in the horticultural hall recently and an expression of satisfaction was voiced by the members in that behalf.

The organization papers of the Caledonian Hall Company, Ltd., were submitted and adopted and authority was given to have the incorporation concluded as early as possible.

Arrangements were made for a meeting of the ladies to be held in the club rooms for the purpose of organizing a ladies auxiliary society. After the reading of a paper by Vice-President Murray on Scottish characteristics, an excellent program of songs and recitations was provided by a number of the ladies and gentlemen present among whom were the following: Mrs. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, Mrs. Simpson, Mr. Kellas and a recitation by A. B. Stevenson. Mrs. Philip favored the assembly with a number of selections on the piano. The balance of the evening was then given over to a merry hop which was enjoyed by all present until midnight.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Currant Bun—This is a Scotch recipe for currant bun: Two pounds currants, two lbs. raisins, one-fourth pound almonds, one-fourth pound candied orange peel, one ounce ginger, one ounce cinnamon, one ounce all-spice, four cups flour, one teaspoon baking powder. Stone raisins and mix with currants. Halve almonds and slice orange peel. Sift flour and spices. Mix all together with sweet milk into a stiff mixture.

BUILDING CONSTRUCTION

Pursuant with a resolution passed at a recent meeting of the city council issuing instruction to City Clerk Shepherd to compile certain data and statics relative to the value of building construction completed and in a semi-completed state since the first of the present year to be furnished to the Contracting Record for the express purpose of publishing along with building statistics from other leading cities of the Dominion to be spread broadcast throughout the Empire, the following excellent showing, based upon an estimate as nearly as possible to correct calculation, was the result obtained by the city's enterprising clerk. Estimate for the months of January, February and March, $48,750 as compared with an estimate for the same period in 1909 of $9,000. Mr. Shepherd estimated that the value of building constructed and started during last month was about $25,000 and for the same month last year practically nil.

These figures need no explanation and to the most pessimistic they show that the city is growing at an exceedingly rapid rate with apparently no cessation on the horizon of the city's prospective prosperity. Mr. Shepherd was also asked to make a statement on the future outlook of the city in a general way and this he did in a manner and along the lines that must be apparent to every resident and visitor that tours the North Shore. To put his statements in a nut shell they were: North Vancouver today affords the brightest prospects in almost every line of activity of any city in the golden west considering age and size in which connection nature has dealt lavishly with her gifts of beauty and industrial advantages.

ACCIDENT

An employee of the McDougall-Jenkins Engineers Ltd. sustained a nasty cut under his right eye on Wednesday through the flying of some missle in the shops. After his wound was dressed he was able to resume his duties at the works.

The annual meeting of the W. C.T.U. will be held on Wednesday, 20th inst., at the home of Mrs. Stoney, 6th st. west, at 3 p.m. All members are earnestly requested to be present and any ladies interested in the work are very cordially invited.

COMMUNICATIONS

Dear Mr. Editor:

Will you kindly allow me to address a few words to my fellow-owners of blocks in district lot 599 for our mutual benefit and for the good of the city and municipality of North Vancouver?

There is but one district lot on the east between 599 and the city and the city bounds it upon the south.

At present there is no road by which we czn reach our property. About one year ago I appealed to the other owners and secured requests for the opening of the road from many owners. I was then told by the clerk of the municipality that if the owners would each give 16½ feet from the front of their property for the purpose of widening the road as then laid out on paper from 33 to 66 feet we could then have the road. I wrote my fellow-owners and secured the consent and gifts of land from a sufficient number The municipal council then expropriated our land and laid out a road (upon a map in the office) and did me the honor to call it the Dudley road.

I was then told that it was too late in the fall to build the road, but it would receive early attention "next spring." Well, "next spring" is here and now we are told that there are so many other movements pressing that the way does not seem open to do anything for us at present. Besides, we are told that the engineers have discovered that an impassable bluff crosses the lower end of 599 and that it is not practicable to build directly from south to north through the centre of the district lot.

It is now proposed to arrange with the city to extend "Fell" or "Pell" avenue to the border of 598 so that our road may have an outlet from near block 19, from that point the road will proceed north through the centre of the lot.

I am told that negotiations are in progress to arrange with the city for the opening of a street or avenue to connect with our road, but with little hope of early success as the city has already undertaken as much work as it has money to pay for.

I have been told that after negotiations have been completed with the city and with the block owners in 598 and 599 it will then be necessary to have our road surveyed and an estimate made of its cost. Then the owners would be notified and a petition that the road be built upon the local improvement plan be presented by the owners. If a sufficient number petition the matter will then be submitted to the ratepayers. I understand that the municipality will pay only one fifth of the cost.

All this will take much time and I fear that unless we do something at least another year will pass without anything having been done and the spring of 1911 will find us just where we now are.

I am anxious to improve my property and have it ready for the market when the right time comes and meantime to put it in shape to produce revenue sufficient to pay interest and taxes at least.

I assume that most of the other owners feel as I do. I, therefore, hope that we may get together and make a united effort to set the wheels in motion.

I propose to attend the next meeting of the municipal council and hope I may meet a goodly number of the other owners there.

Sincerely yours,
L. EDWIN DUDLEY

SEMI STEEL

(J. H. Linton, Ch. E. Seattle, Wash. in the B. C. Building News.)

The name semi-steel has come to be used by the trade to signify any metal melted in the cupola which contains an admixture of steel, in fact some people make so-called semi-steel by melting some small steel punchings or turnings in a ladle by tapping hot grey iron on top of it and stirring up the mixture with an iron rod, but this material is not worthy of the name, as it has but very few qualities superior to grey cast iron. It may be a little closer grained and hence a little stronger with a steadily applied load, but that is all.

The characteristics of true semi-steel are: Strength, at the same time preserving softness so that it can be easily machined; elasticity, by virtue of which it resumes its original form after receiving the shock, in place of breaking. In this respect it is superior to grey iron, which will break with a shock which is less than the maximum load it would stand if uniformly applied. Toughness, which makes it outwear the ordinary grey iron, makes it a good material for cylinders and all castings to withstand wear by friction.

The physical characteristics are well represented by the following specifications which can readily be met by this metal: a 1x2x25-inch test bar under transverse stress should have a shrinkage, as cast, of from one hundred and forty thousandths inch to one hundred and sixty-five thousandths inch per foot; chill—when cast against chill pieces at the ends of from one-eighth to three-quarters of an inch, according to the per cent. of steel and the chemical composition of the metal; it should stand a breaking load of from three thousand to forty-two hundred pounds when broken with a load applied in the centre on the two-inch side and supported on a span of twenty-four inches; the bar should show a deflection of from thirty-five hundredths to fifty-five hundredths of an inch from its original horizontal position before breaking. As good metal can be made in semi-steel with the proper selection of stock as is made by the air furnace method of melting gun iron.

Semi-steel is used exclusively in all castings and fittings in the manufacture of refrigerating machinery as it is the only metal aside from steel that will withstand the pressure of the liquified ammonia gas used in the ice making or cold storage process. It is also used in work that requires a chilled surface as it gives a good wearing chill. In fact throughout the east it is specified in all work requiring extra strength, elasticity and toughness, and commands from sixty to one hundred per cent. higher price than ordinary grey iron.

Semi-steel has its peculiarities and needs to be understood to be handled with the best success and in this respect at in many others, a little knowledge is a dangerous thing, as has been demonstrated by the experience of those who have tried mixing their irons without regard to the chemical composition. When properly handled there is no metal easier to control and that gives as universal satisfaction, regardless of the verdict to the contrary of those ignorant of its good properties, as semi-steel.

In the machine shop the metal cuts tough, but not hard. That is, the machine will have to be run at a little lower speed than it probably would on grey iron, but the tool will not dull any sooner. The finished casting will take a fine polish, being very closely grained, as the graphitic carbon is broken up into very small flakes.

Semi-steel has a characteristic dark velvety fracture, whether it contains ten or sixty per cent. steel, providing the chemical composition is correct.

Finally, on account of its superior strength, parts of machines can be made lighter and have the same strength, or if the original design is preferred, greater strength can be insured.

Mr. J. Smith and family of Seattle, Wash., have moved to this city and are occupying a cottage at the corner of 5th street and Chesterfield.

CANADIAN TRADE WITH GERMANY

The mutual restrictions which have hitherto been imposed by Germany and Canada in the form of excessive tariff rates upon interchange of trade between the two countries have militated effectively against the development of commercial possibilities, which, properly fostered and encouraged, should have assumed imposing proportions. The recent mutual removal of those excessive rates and the substitution of a moderate tariff will, without doubt, result in great benefits to the trade of both countries.

A pamphlet just to hand from the pen of J. A. H. Muller of Montreal furnishes in systematic form a mass of statistics relative to the trade question between Canada and Germany. The facts adduced prove conclusively that Canada produces the goods that Germany most needs. The greatest increase in German imports during the past decade has been in products and manufactures of which we are increasingly great producers, such as wheat, barley, feed, linseed, cattle, agricultural implements, etc. In the natural order of events Germany affords, therefore, a most advantageous opportunity for extensive development of the volume of Canadian exports thereto,

In this connection the remarkable expansion which Germany has been undergoing during these later years becomes a matter of great interest. Perhaps the most striking feature of the growth of the nation is found in the rapid increase of population, which is proceeding at the rate of one million each year. In 1896 the population was 52,753,000 and in 1908 it had increased to 63,017,000, or an addition of 20 per cent. in twelve years.

On the other hand the agricultural possibilities of Germany are limited while the industrial classes constitute an unusually large and steadily increasing proportion of the population. Consequently Germany finds herself compelled to import from other countries vast quantities of food products for the support of her teeming industrial millions. Such a situation is of special import to Canada inasmuch as it offers a most desirable market for our wheat, fish, cattle, fruit and kindred products. It is further evident that Germany's requirements in this regard are rapidly growing, and that her imports must increase enormously, to keep pace with the ever enlarged demands of her rapidly increasing population. A glance at comparative statistics serves to forcefully emphasize this feature of the situation. In 1901 German imports amounted to $1,430,000,000, while in 1908 they had reached a total of $2,916,000,000, or an increase of over fifty per cent. in eight years.

The chief items in the list of imports were horses, cattle, fowl, fish, hides, wool, fur, eggs, butter, lard, wheat, rye, maize, oats, barley, linseed, bran, soft wood, copper, lime, coal oil, machines. etc. From this category it will be seen that German requirements are of such a nature that Canada is peculiarly fitted to supply them for which reason, under advantageous conditions Canada should command a very large proportion of this immense trade. Unfortunately, however, the exact figures bring to light the unwelcome fact that Canada has been securing only a bare fraction of this patronage, and that even that portion which fell to our lot has been on the decrease. In 1897 to 1898 Germany imported from Canada goods to the amount of $2,209,557 and in the year 1908 to 1909, $1,575,493. This latter sum equals about one twentieth of one per cent. of the total imports of Germany for that year. A poorer showing could not well be imagined, in the face of the exceptional advantages which Canada's resources afford her, in relation to the most important items in the list of those products which Germany requires.

The trade of the two countries should be complementary the one to the other and the removal of those undue restrictions which have constituted such effectual barriers to progress in trade relationships for some years past, will, without doubt, give an impetus to commercial interchange of commodities between the two countries which will prove of great advantage and profit to both parties.

Although British Columbia is the farthest removed of the provinces of Canada from this prospective customer there is no reason why our resources in mineral, timber and fish should not become an appreciable factor in the supply if the demands of the German market while there is likewise the probability that the British Columbia ports may become the points of shipment for large quantities of prairie wheat bound for German ports, thus enabling this province to participate indirectly as well in the benefits which this new avenue of trade has to offer.

THE LATE R. G. TATLOW

Throughout the entire province of British Columbia a deep sense of loss will be felt because of the death of Captain R. G. Tatlow, which occurred at Victoria Monday night, following an accident while driving in which he was thrown out of the buggy to the pavement.

The old land has given great numbers of her sons to the British possessions beyond the seas who have conferred material benefits upon the land of their adoption, but to few of them has it been given to attain to a position of influence and usefulness in a colonial sphere such as that which was held by R. G. Tatlow. During his residence of upwards of twenty years in British Columbia, Captain Tatlow had become a well known figure both at the coast and in the interior. Enterprising and public spirited to an exceptional degree, he became identified with some of the most extensive interests in different sections of the province. Of genial personality and unwavering sincerity he readily attained wide popularity and universal public confidence.

Captain Tatlow was chairman of the Vancouver Parks Board for eight years. He was elected to the provincial legislature in 1900 and again in 1903. In the latter year he was appointed Minister of Agriculture and Finance, which position he occupied until his voluntary retirement in 1909. That the complete metamorphosis of the financial position of the province from the utmost stringency to gratifying affluence which took place during those years, was to a very great extent due to the admirable qualities and commanding ability which R. G. Tatlow brought to that department of the government, will be readily admitted from all quarters.

One of the first citizens of British Columbia has passed away and while flags fly at half-mast in token of public sorrow, the most sincere sympathy will be felt in an especial manner for the bereaved wife and family so suddenly deprived of husband and father.

TO LIMIT THE BOATS

The canners of Britith Columbia have been notified by Provincial Fisheries Commissioner Babcock that until they come to some agreement among themselves relative to the number of boats to be operated no provincial licenses will be issued.

The declaration is made by some of the canners that they will operate under their Domion licenses, but a great many of them realize that that would liable themselves to a legal tangle and besides involve a suspension of their fishing operations.

According to a decision of the privy council in regard to eastern fisheries the province has power to impose licenses for revenue only, but not authority to otherwise restrict the fishing.

UNCONQUERED

However skilled and strong art thou, my foe,
However fierce is thy relentless hate,
Though firm thy hand, and strong thy aim and straight
Thy poisoned arrow leaves the bended bow,
To pierce the target of my heart, ah! know
I am the master yet of my own fate,
Thou canst not rob me of my best estate,
Though fortune, fame and friends, yea love, shall go.

Not to the dust shall my true self be hurled;
Nor shall I meet thy worst assaults dismayed.
When all things in the balance are well weighed,
There is but one great danger in the world—
Thou canst not force my soul to wish thee ill.
That is the only evil that can kill.

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

ORDER RE IMMIGRATION

An order in council has been passed at Ottawa providing that any immigrant, male or female, entering Canada, including also persons coming from across the border between March 1 and October 30, must have in his or her possession at the time of their arrival at least $25 in cash in addition to their ticket, or such a sum of money as will purchase transportation to the immigrant's destination in Canada. It is also provided that if immigrants are heads of families and are accompanied by such members of the family he or she must have a further sum of money equivalent to $25 for each member of the family between the ages of five and fifteen years in addition to tickets or a sum of money equivalent to transportation to the place of their destination in Canada.

IMMIGRATION

From reports received from the Immigration department at Ottawa indications are that there will be an immigration to Canada this year of about 300,000, made up principally of 150,000 Americans and approximately 100,000 from the British Isles. This shows an increase of about 50 per cent. over last year. Statistics show that each immigrant had $800 in cash or settlers' effects. This means for the year that about $125,000,000 will be received from this source alone.

FLOWER CULTURE

At one time it was a popular idea, even among florists, that each variety of plant required its own special variety of soil. Now we know that this is all a mistake. Ninety-nine out of every hundred plants will do well in a soil composed of good garden loam, well rotted stable manure and sand. Some florists advise a sprinkling of bone meal, which can be added to advantage, but it is not absolutely necessary. After soil, next in importance comes drainage. Every pot more than three inches across ought to have something in the way of drainage before filling it with soil through which the surplus water can run away. See that the hole in the bottom of the pot is kept open. The minute it becomes clogged, just that soon the soil becomes sour and sour soil means delicate plants.

One inch of drainage is sufficient for a five-inch pot; for a ten-inch pot, three are not too much. Old flower pots may be broken up and used for drainage purposes also pieces of broken china and bits of charcoal. Almost anything will answer that will not decay under the soil.

There is no set rule for watering that applies to all plants. The best one can say is in a general way. When the surface of the soil looks dry, then water and do it thoroughly, and then wait and watch, and when once more the soil is dry repeat the watering.

Some amateurs make the mistake of too frequently replanting their plants. It is better to feed the plants with proper fertilizers through the soil than allowing the plants to feed on the soil.

In such a case the plants need little changing. Young plants, however, do need frequent shifting to pots of larger size as their tiny roots develop. Not to re-pot such a plant would mean to check its growth at a time when the development of a vigorous root system is a matter of great importancef

In re-potting any plant, large or small, disturb the roots as little as possible. Slip it out of its old pot, put it into its new pot to settle the soil you have added.

CHANGE OF NAME

A correspondent interested in this question writes as follows:

"The Ambitious City" in choosing a name for all time should select the very best and "King Edward" is suggested for the following reasons:

First. It is uncommon, striking, distinctive, distinguished, simple.

Second. Having Victoria with the Gulf of Georgia, Queen Charlotte and Prince Rupert cities for neighbors, why not "take occasion by the hand" and trump the Imperial outfit with the name of our Emperor-King?

N. B.—The C.P.R. has nothing but Empreeses and Princesses in its fleet, displaying judgment in its nomenclature.

Third. The Royal City had its name given it by the late Queen and His Majesty may very aptly be approached and asked to sanction the adoption of his own name and title as that most fitting for the Imperial City in embryo.

In the recent visit paid by our late Chief Joe Capilano and his gracious reception, the way has now been paved and our coarse cleared for acting. We are no longer strangers to His Majesty.

Reference to the Index (List of place names) of The Times Centenary Atlas shows us no fewer than 49 Victorias, 9 Queens, 40 Princes, also a Cape Edward, Fort Edward, Lake Edward and an Edward river one of each and one King Edward, the last a hamlet and parish in Aberdeenshire, Scotland, the name of ancient date no doubt, but how come by not known to the present writer.

This being so the name suggested may be said to be unique and free from any liability to confusion with any other, a most desirable object to attain, at the same time an expression of the loyalty to the empire of its citizens, their ambition and aim to do nothing by halves, but hit the bull's eye every time.

RUNAWAY

Dairyman Hill, unfortunately from a financial standpoint, was the hero of another runaway accident which occurred on St. George's Ave. and First Street last Wednesday afternoon when his horse took fright and ran as far as the corner of Lonsdale and First ave., where some passersby caught the animal. This time Mr. Hill was not in the rig and was saved perhaps more serious results than happened to him about two weeks ago at the corner of 2nd street and Lonsdale when he was thrown out of his wagon against a telephone pole. Save for the upsetting of his cans of milk and the scattering of the fluid along the street the damage to property was light.

Mr. J. Widdop late of Lynn Valley, has secured the position of night watchman in Spencer's Ltd. of Vancouver.

TENDERS

Tenders will be received by the undersigned up to 12 o'clock noon on Wednesday, the 20th inst., for the slashing and burning of 23 acres of land in the city of North Vancouver. Full particulars upon application. Lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

POLICE COURT

Three drunks appeared in the police court the first part of the week and pleaded guilty of the charge. They each made the usual contribution to the city treasury. A young man named Stewart, a traveller from across the Inlet, failed to give the magistrate a proper explanation of where he obtained the liquor which rendered him in a state of intoxication last Sunday. He was therefore fined $10 and costs for his first offence. On Wednesday a man named Noling presumably from the south side of the Inlet pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk and was fined $5 and costs or ten days.

On Sunday morning last in the Institute Hall, Lynn Valley communion was celebrated when over twenty communicants were present. Rev. J. D. Gillam of North Vancouver officiated. After the service the names were taken of those desirous of joining the Presbyterian church. Nine persons gave their names and these were accepted by the session on motion of Mr. G. A. McBain. Now that there is a recognized Presbyterian church in Lynn Valley it is expected that work will be pushed towards the erection of a building for worship, funds nearly covering the required amount being already in hand.

NEW REGULATIONS ON B. C. FISHERIES.

The latest issue of the Canada Gazette to hand contains notice of the rescinding of the fishery regulations for British Columbia adopted on June 8, 1908, and the substitution of the following in part:

Export of Fish.

The export of fresh clams or other shellfish, other than oysters, from the province of British Columbia is prohibited: provided they may be shipped to any province of the Dominion of Canada.

No sockeye salmon shall be exported from the Dominion of Canada, except in a frozen, canned, salted, smoked or cured condition.

The export of fresh herring from the province of British Columbia is prohibited, or of herrings that have been preserved in salt for a period of less than nine days, or of herring of any kind intended for curing, canning or otherwise preserving, or converting into guano, fish fertilizer or oil outside or beyond the boundaries of Canada; provided always that fresh herring, taken in gill-nets in the waters of British Columbia, may be exported in a fresh, unsalted condition for immediate consumption; but the onus of proof that such fish, so exported, were taken with gill-nets, shall rest on the possessor or possessors of such fish.

Fraser River Channel

No net shall be cast or allowed to drift on the channel side, in the Fraser river, within 100 yards of the line of buoys between the lightship at the Sandheads and Steveston; and in any other portion of the channel of the river, any net in the water must be hauled in to allow passage to a steamer, on the steamer giving notice to the operator of such net by four sharp whistles, of the necessity for such net being hauled in.

Herring or Pilchard.

The use of nets other than gill-nets, drift nets or drag-seines, shall not be permitted in the capture of herring or pilchard.

A herring or pilchard drift-net or gill-head shall not exceed 200 fathoms in length, and the size of the mesh shall not be less than 2½ inches extension measure.

The fee on a herring or pilchard drift-net or gill-net license shall be $2.50.

A herring or pilchard drag-seine shall not exceed 100 fathoms in length, and the mesh thereof shall be 1-inch extension measure.

The fee on herring or pilchard drag seine license shall be $50.

Herring shall not be fished for from the 1st March to the 30th April in each year, both days inclusive; but the close season may commence at an earlier date by direction of the district inspector of fisheries in any locality in which that officer may decide that such prohibition is necessary in order to protect spawning herring.

Halibut shall not be taken or fished for from the 1st to the 31st day of March in each year, both days inclusive.

Leases or Licenses

Fishing with nets or other apparatus and the taking of oysters, clams, abalones, crabs or other shell fish is prohibited except under license from the Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

No license shall be granted to any person, company or firm, unless such person is a British subject, resident in the province of British Columbia, or to such company or firm, unless such person is a British subject, resident in the province of British Columbia, or to such company or firm, or is licensed to do business in British Columbia.

Application for a license shall be made on an official form, and it shall be delivered to the local inspector of fisheries, before the issue of any fishery license.

At the end of the fishing season, such person, company or firm, shall make a true return of the total catch of fish to the district inspector of fisheries or to the nearest fishery officer.

No gill-net or drift-net license shall be transferable except by special written permission obtained from the local inspector of fisheries, and in the case of all other licenses except by permission of the minister of marine and fisheries.

Indians may at any time with the permission of the district inspector of fisheries, catch fish for the purpose of providing food for themselves and their families, but for no other purposes; but no Indian shall spear, trap or pen fish on their spawning grounds, or in any place leased or set apart for the natural or artificial propagation of fish, or in any other place otherwise specially reserved.

No salmon cannery or salmon curing establishment shall be operated, except under license from the minister of marine and fisheries.

The fee on a salmon cannery or salmon curing establishment license shall be $50.

No license for a salmon cannery or salmon curing establishment shall be issued unless favorably reported on as to its sanitary condition by the inspector of fisheries for the district, or by some other officer authorized by the minister of marine and fisheries to make the necessary inspection. We anticipate great activity in North Vancouver property this summer and are convinced that now is the time to buy before the rise in values takes place. We have several properties on our list which look attractive at present prices and should yield a handsome profit in the near future.

We are open to receive lists of property for sale from owners and same will receive our best attention. We have a large clientele and if prices are right can effect sales.

The report of Thursday evening's Ratepayers' Association meeting was crowded out of this edition, but will appear in detail in Tuesday's issue. The two principle subjects dealt with were the re-naming of the city which resolution was lost on a vote of 13 to 9. A resolution questioning the council's action in changing bench grades back to straight grades on north and south streets was passed unanimously.

WHITE-KING

'Neath an array of pink carnations and a corresponding and tastefully decorated room the solemn and beautiful rite of marriage was solemnized between Mr. Geo. Everett White and Miss Frankie M. King, both well and popularly known Vancouver young people. The wedding took place in the suite of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gallagher in the Keith block Thursday morning and was attended by only the immediate friends of the contracting parties. The bride, who was attired in a handsome and tasty travelling suit and carried a boquet of white carnations, was attended by an intimate friend, Miss Patterson who also carried a boquet of pink carnations. The groom was supported by a time tried companion, Mr. C. Greer. Miss King, leaning on the arm of her uncle, Mr. J. L. Gallagher, made her appearance in the temporary chapel promptly at 10 o'clock and immediately Mr. Bewell sounded the beautiful notes of Mendelsshon's wedding march. After the ceremony was concluded and the bridal party were retiring, Mr. Bewell again sounded the air of those impressive notes.

While the registry was being signed Mrs. Bewell sang sweetly "May Morning" and "Mary of Argyle."

The wedding breakfast which was served amidst a floral display of pink carnations and greens in the adjoining rooms, was a happy event and the solemnity of the occasion was forgotten for the time being and merry jests of a cheerful nature were indulged in.

After an interchange of greetings the happy couple left for a two weeks' honeymoon trip to the sunny southern climes and on their return will take up their residence in Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. White were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents, amongst which was a cheque for a substantial amount. The groom's present to the bride was a sunburst with pearl and diamond settings.

The best of good wishes were extended to the happy couple as the last faint flicker of the white handkerchief was seen on the out going ferry.
