VOLUME 6. VANCOUVER, B. C., FRIDAY, JUNE 26, 1908. NUMBER 19

CITY COUNCIL

There were present at the session of the council on Monday evening, Aldermen May, Crickmay, Irwin, Wheeler, Smith, and Braim; Mayor Kealey presiding.

The following communications were received:—From A. Philip, C.M.C., acknowledging receipt of letter re railway legislation and advising that Councillor McNaught was appointed to represent the district on the committee to be appointed. From W. P. Peacey, secretary of the public school board, submitting extraordinary estimates as follows: Balance unpaid of supplementary grant 1907, $600; for purchase of lot adjoining school ground, $900; for proposed additions to school accommodationf $4500; total, $5900; referred to finance committee. From Bond & Sweet, Vancouver, with reference to a proposed road to reach the lower level of property between the city and Lynn creek. The property through which this road will run is owned in part by the city, the district and the province. The district has agreed to build its portion of the road, provided the other parties will do likewise. The letter asked that the city agree to open up Third street, in a line with which the new road will be built; and also to lend its influence to induce the provincial government to construct the road through the provincial lands. The scheme was endorsed, provided the road be made to connect district lots 204 and 273, the city's work to be done on the local improvement plan.

The city solicitors, Messrs. Taylor, Hulmes & Innes, wrote giving advice with reference to the repeal of the ferry purchase bylaw, and enclosing a draft resolution for adoption by the council, in order that the vote of the electorate may be taken. Under the proper order of business Ald. May and Braim moved the resolution which was carried unanimously. The resolution reads as follows:

"Whereas, the city of North Vancouver ferry purchase loan bylaw, 1907, was passed with the assent of the electors to enable the corporation of the city of North Vancouver, to raise by way of loan the sum of $175,000 to purchase the shares in the North Vancouver Ferry & Power Co., ltd., and the whole interests of that company.

And whereas, the said bylaw has not been carried into effect, and the council desire to obtain an expression of the wishes of the ratepayers as to whether the necessary steps should be taken to repeal the said bylaw.

Be it resolved that the following question be submitted to the ratepayers by plebiscite:

Shall the city of North Vancouver ferry purchase loan bylaw, 1907, be repealed?

And that the vote of the ratepayers be taken on the question, Yes or No, on the day of A.D. 1908."

A petition from property owners fronting on the street in question was presented, asking that 16th street, between Lonsdale avenue and Chesterfield avenue, be stumped and graded. Referred to the board of works to report.

Mr. Smith, as one of the property owners on 3rd street, appeared before the council and stated that a petition had been circulated among the property owners on the street, ostensibly to the effect that crushed rock be substituted for gravel in the improvement plan about to be carried into effect. Since signing the petition it had been learned that the petition sought likewise to effect a change in the award of the contract as made by the council. Mr. Smith stated emphatically that it is not the desire of the property owners to interfere in any way with the action of the council in awarding the contract. The mayor stated the petition referred to had not been presented to the council and that therefore no action was required.

A. W. Sargent spoke in favor of the substitution of crushed rock for gravel in the 3rd street improvements, provided such change could be made without additional cost. The matter can be arranged only by consultation with the contractor.

Ald. May referred to the difference of opinion at last meeting between himself and the mayor with reference to the repeal of a former bylaw relative to ferry matters, and submitted documentary evidence of the correctness of his position. The mayor freely conceded that the ferry loan bylaw of 1903 was, upon motion of Councillor Gill, seconded by Councillor Kealey, read for the last time and finally passed by the district council. This bylaw was afterward repealed by the council without reference to the people.

Geo. H. Morden called the attention of the council to the undesirable growth of thistles on streets and city lots and suggested they be cut before they had opportunity to spread. Board of works to act.

Ald. Braim reported that in the course of blasting operations on 4th street, a huge rock had fallen through the roof of an adjoining house and serious consequences narrowly averted. The aldermen took strong ground against careless blasting within the city, and the mayor promised a stringent application of the terms of the bylaw relative to the use of explosives, were complaints made to him in writing.

Contractor W. H. Stoney, upon request, advised the council that creosote stain for the roof of the city hall could be secured in Seattle, but not in B.C. Ald. Braim was of opinion that tar would be preferable for the roof and cheaper. The consensus of opinion, however, was to the effect that the creosote would preserve the shingles better and would be more durable, so that the extra expense of $50 was fully justified. On motion of Ald. Irwin and Crickmay, the contract was ordered to include creosote stain for the roof.

A grant of $100 was made to the Horticultural Society, with the promise of an additional grant at a later date. A grant of $75 was made to the celebration committee for July 1st, and a grant of $25 to the Year Book of the board of trade. The matter of watering the streets on July 1st was referred to the fire and water committee.

A report of the expenses incurred in the submission of the Wallace Shipyards aid bylaw was submitted, showing a total of $163.40. The city clerk was instructed to forward same to the Wallace Shipyards, ltd.

The liquor traffic regulation bylaw was read in part and subjected to many amendments.

Dominion Day Notes

The celebration committee had a special meeting Tuesday evening, which proved one of the most satisfactory yet convened.

From the progress report made by the finance committee, it was evident that the sum of $1000 is now practically assured, and this amount will be considerably augmented as the result of arrangements completed during the meeting. This committee has experienced great difficulty this year in procuring funds, chiefly for the reason that there are so many applicants for subscriptions in the field at the present time. An additional $250, however, will provide sufficient funds for all purposes for the civic celebration and the committee confidently expects that the amount will be forthcoming.

The report of the field sports committee showed certain amendments, which were of a very satisfactory nature to the general committee. Arrangements are completed for a baseball match between the Vancouver Athletic Club team and that of New Westminster. These are rivals who have met on many hard fought fields and who put up a high grade of amateur baseball. The field sports programme as it stands at present is substantially as follows:—Baseball match; 100 yard dash, open; three-quarter mile relay, open: preliminary wrestling match; greasy pole climb; 100 yards dash, local; quarter mile obstacle race; half mile, local; wrestling match for championship of Pacific coast (lightweight), between Venderbill of Seattle and Renshaw of North Vancouver; pole vault, hose reel race, tug of war, etc.

Considerable discussion took place as to the advisability of holding the wrestling match in the evening and putting on a lacrosse match. The field sports committee thought it would be best to give the evening entirely to the Horticultural Society, so the matter will probably drop.

The aquatic sports committee have a varied and attractive programme in course of preparation, but find it difficult to definitely conclude arrangements, because of the uncertainty as to funds. The unanimous opinion was that this programme should go on as arranged without subtraction.

The music committee have engaged the New Westminster band for the day. This aggregation bears the reputation of being the best brass band on the B.C. coast.

It was decided that all monies are to be paid to the treasurer, H. R. Heffell, and that all disbursements are to be made by cheque, signed by the treasurer and G. J. Phillippo, the treasurer, upon the production of a voucher signed by the chairman of a subcommittee.

Ald. A. E. Crickmay was present and on request of the chairman addressed the meeting, giving helpful information and making several excellent suggestions.

The meeting adjourned, to convene again Friday evening, at 8.30, in the city hall, when a full attendance is particularly desired, as final arrangements must then be made.

Home Grown Fruit

What can be accomplished locally in the raising of small fruits, by the employmenr of right methods, is splendidly exemplified in the results that may be seen at the gardens of R. Radermacher, on Lonsdale ave., near 22nd street. Three years ago these four acres were in their wild state, and today they present a most inviting prospect to the one who appreciates fruit culture. The most notable feature of the gardens is the large area of strawberry vines, covering three acres, containing practically 30,000 plants and comprising three varieties, namely, Crimson Clusters for early, Magoons for medium and Paxtons for late, marketing. The fruit bearing quality of these vines may be judged from the fact that on one plant 360 berries were actually counted and yet there were many more. The berries are unexcelled for size and flavor. Mr. Radermacher has likewise 2500 running feet of raspberries and also a large number of currant bushes, etc. He is of opinion that the strawberry season this year will be short, owing to the backward season causing the berries to ripen very rapidly and within a short period. The supply is likely to be very plentiful during the season of ripening and buyers will secure best satisfaction as to quality and price by not delaying their purchases to too late a date. A. J. McMillan has arranged to handle the entire crop of strawberries from these gardens.

A Commendable Move

A commendable move has been made by the local lodge of Pythians, in that initial steps have been taken towards owning their own hall. Tuesday evening a special committee reported on a number of available building sites, the choice falling upon the south east corner of 4th and Chesterfield, opposite the public school The site is 100x120, facing on 4th, and is all cleared and graded. The purchase price is $2500, extended over 18 months, the initial payment being made Wednesday. To finance the scheme and to provide for the ultimate erection of the hall, a joint stock company is being formed, with a capital of $25,000, divided into $5 shares. These will be sold only to Pythians, the local lodge having the first refusal on all the stock, eventually owning the structure outright. The members were quite enthusiastic over the scheme at the meeting Tuesday evening and before separating upwards of 200 shares were subscribed for. This move ensures the permanency of the lodge and speaks well for the progressive spirit of such a young institution.

St. Andrew's Church.

The services at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church on Sunday next, will both be of a special nature. In the morning the Communion will be celebrated, which should ever be a season of comfort and stimulus. In the evening the newly appointed principal to the B.C. Theological college will occupy the pulpit. At a great financial sacrifice, the principal has accepted this task, and such a man is ever worthy of being heard. Moreover, he has already won a name for himself in the pulpit, having ministered to one of the largest congregations in the east. He is fast making a name for the college and for himself as principal. The congregation is sure to be delighted on Sunday evening, and a hearty invitation is extended to all.

Wedding Bells.

On Wednesday, June 24th, Harley Ackley and Annie Olive Barker were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, on 3rd street. Rev. B. H. Balderston was the officiating minister. The bride and groom were attended by Mabel Bell and Clarence MacDonald, both of New Westminster. Following the marriage ceremony the guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast. Mr. and Mrs. Ackley, accompanied by Westminster friends, took the 2.45 boat. The newly wed couple will make a tour of the coast cities before settling down in their home in the Royal City.

Specifications for the steel superstructure of the new Seymour creek bridge have been completed by District Engineer Donald Cameron and tenders will be called for in the near future.

Arrangements have been completed for the plumbing, lighting and seating of the new Horticultural pavilion and the work is moving along rapidly.

Mr. MacPherson is about to begin operations on the erection of a building on Lonsdale ave., near 3rd st.

Larson's motor launch and essayed therewith to induce the boathouse to change its resting place from its time honored position at Lonsdale Gardens to Cates wharf, adjoining the ferry landing. When well out into the Inlet the boathouse yielded to the mild persuasions of the summer winds and decided to part company with the launch, proceeding accordingly in precisely the opposite direction from that which had been intended. Before a tug could be procured in response to a "hurry up" call, the boathouse had successfully navigated as far as the Second Narrows, where it was recaptured and safely conveyed to its destination.

NORTH VANCOUVER, JUNE 26, 1908

AN ESSENTIAL FACTOR

There are many elements which play a more or less important part in the attainment of prosperous conditions in any community. Many of these are contributory, assisting the volume of that prosperity, while some of them are fundamental, comprising the principles which are vital to prosperity. Harmony amongst the members and the different sections and interests of the community constitutes one of these underlying principles. It is a prolific source from which spring manifold possibilities of growth and progress, which are otherwise rendered impossible. It is a veritable Pandora's box, ready to yield innumerable forms of community enrichment, to which access cannot be had on any other basis.

The development of hostile opinions as to the management of affairs and the ineffectiveness of every means adopted to harmonize those differences, has proven the merciless reef upon which many a commercial venture of genuine merit and of great possibilities of wealth production has made shipwreck. This is the negative view of the topic. The absence of this element of cordial agreement, of readiness to harmonize differences, which is so mischievous wherever men are placed in associated relationships, is particularly baneful in civic life. At the same time the civic arena is the place of all others in which conditions are the most favorable for the development of these regrettable differences. In the city are found competitive interests commercially and antagonistic interests morally. Here are found widely divergent opinions as to industrial questions and public issues. Here are in evidence minds that look at questions of civic administration from different viewpoints and arrive at conclusions that are opposed to each other. Here are social sympathies, religious sympathies, political sympathies, and innumerable kindred influences which mark lines of possible cleavage in the community.

In the city of large population there is considerable latitude, allowing for the play of these discordant elements within certain limits, without any appreciable impairment of the welfare of the community as such. But in the city of small population every circumstance that tends to alienate the sympathies of individuals or of sections of the citizens, is a serious matter and prejudices materially the probabilities of progress commensurate with opportunity.

Many of the dissensions that spring up in comparatively small cities have their inception in really trivial causes, and are allowed to assume importance altogether disproportionate to their deserts. These embitterments arising from minor causes are the more troublesome and the more difficult to overcome, because they are unreasonable in their very origin, and the man who harbors them is conscious that he is lending himself to an action unworthy his intelligence and his manhood. They are also the more regrettable because they would have been so easily overcome in their early stages, by the exercise of a little wholesome commonsense.

Every citizen owes it to himself and to the community to shake himself free from the influence of petty considerations, to rise above those unworthy emotions that intercept between him and his fellow citizens; to learn to hold his own opinions while allowing his neighbors to do the same without descending to personalities and senseless estrangements; to be broad enough to disagree from others and yet to agree to disagree, and to work harmoniously for the promotion of the common weal. It augurs well for the community when citizens adopt as their settled policy the determination to minimize their differences and to magnify their agreements, so that the entire civic order may be cemented into an harmonious structure, in which every factor counts for its utmost in the promotion of the welfare of the whole.

Whether these sentiments are at all applicable to conditions in North Vancouver, or to what extent they are thus applicable, it is not for this article to presume to state. In any case, here's an appeal to the manhood of every citizen, in the name of our city and our home.

Next Tuesday evening the local lodge of Orangemen will hold an ice cream social and entertainment in their hall. Vancouver brethren will pay them a visit on that occasion. Mayor Kealy has consented to act as chairman.

Free School Books

The provincial government has completed arrangements for the supplying of free text books and the system will come into force with the autumn term. The scheme includes both public and high schools, and the books to be provided include readers, arithmetics, exercise and copy books. The initial cost to the government will be $30,000. Blank forms of trustees' agreement, with requisition for free text books, etc., are being distributed throughout the province, together with circulars giving list of books to be supplied, application forms, and all necessary directions. The new order of things ought to operate smoothly from its inception.

Lynn Creek Notes

The valley is growing.

Mr. Anderson is also progressing favorably with his sprained ankle.

The home of C. O. Olsen on the pipe line road was brightened last Friday, by the arrival of a young daughter.

We are happy to say that J. M. Duval is able to be about again, though it will be sometime before he will be able to do any work.

Once again we have to record the arrival of the stork in the valley, this time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Crawley, on Wednesday last, with a big bouncing boy.

H. Holland who has just arrived home from the Old Country, is having his lots all cleared up, and is making arrangements to build as soon as the clearing is done.

J. H. Vickers, of the contracting firm of J. H. Vickers & Sons, Nottingham, Eng., who came over with Mr. and Mrs. H. Holland, has made up his mind to reside in Vancouver.

Successful Social.

The annual strawberry and ice-cream social of the Presbyterian church came off with great success on Thursday afternoon and evening. People came and went all the time, taking with them more than they brought and leaving behind them tangible tokens of their goodwill. During the afternoon the sale of work went on briskly, while in the evening the younger element made things lively with the ice-cream and other dainties. A splendid programme was provided, chief among the artistes being Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Livingstone, a quartette party consisting of Misses N. Philip and A. Marshall and Messrs. W. Philip and C. Cross. Mrs. Philip and Mrs. Gillam played the part of accompanists. Miss Maggie Phillips gave a racy recitation, while Mrs. Dougal charmed all with her elocutionary power. The Ladies' Aid embrace the opportunity of thanking all who contributed to make such a pleasant and successful event.

A. Law, architect, is asking for tenders for the proposed alterations to the public school.

The Order of Eagles.

The Eagles are good fellows, who believe in doing good to their fellow men. They aid the sick, bury the dead, and inject sunshine into the dark corners of life.

"Whosoever giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord" is a quotation from the bible. The Eagles have a large fund thus invested, and are not looking for either interest or principal. Their motto "The faults of our brothers we write on the sands, their virtues on tablets of love and memory," contains more christianity than all the church creeds in christendom. If an Eagle goes hungry it is his own fault, if his family is ever in want it is because no one knows it. There are no Eagles in county shrouds or buried in paupers' graves.

The North Vancouver Aerie had a very successful meeting in their hall on Wednesday evening, when ten new members were added to their number. The District Deputy President was prevailed upon to keep the charter open until July the 8th, to give some others, who wished to have their names engraved on the charter list, the privilege of going in on their next meeting night, and they hope to receive many more, as it is their ambition to have North Vancouver a model aerie.

THE DISTRICT COUNCIL

This council met last Friday evening; all the members present, with Reeve May presiding.

Lambert Bond and E. Philip Gilman were heard as to opening out of the road from Moodyville east to 204 by the government and from there to the waterfront. The matter was fully discussed and attention was called to the promise of the government last year to open out their part of the road; in fact, work was actually begun. The council decided to support the appeal to have this work continued to completion, and to assure the owners interested of the council's willingness to continue the road further as soon as possible.

James A. McNair called attention to the old Lynn creek road through his property and asked that it be opened out; referred to the engineer to report.

Mr. King, secretary of the L.O. L., invited the council to an ice cream social on the 30th. Accepted with thanks.

The secretary of the Capilano Improvement Association asked the council to endorse their petition to the Dominion government, asking it to build a wharf at English Bay. Resolved to write Mr. McPherson, giving the necessary endorsement of the request; also to ask the association to adopt some other name than Capilano for that section, as there is already a Capilano townsite and a Capilano valley.

J. L. Cripps was allowed $15.50 for boulevarding in front of his property on the Lynn valley road.

Board of works was empowered to have a road provided for T. H. Bullock, in Lynn valley, and to have a footbridge placed over the flume.

Mr. Bunbury madereply regarding right to insist on electric lighting on Lonsdale ave. Referred to solicitor to report.

The secretary of the Horticultural society invited the council to the opening gathering at the exhibition hall on July 1; accepted with thanks.

The city clerk sent resolutions, recently adopted re railway legislation and suggested that the district council appoint a representative to the standing committee on that subject; Coun. McNaught appointed to the committee.

A plan of subdivision of part of D. L. 673 was submitted; referred to engineer for report as to registered map. The engineer was asked to procure copies of Mr. Dawson's new map for each member of the council.

Tenders for the approaches and concrete abutments of Seymour bridge were opened and referred to the committee of the whole.

The financial reports were submitted and authority given to pay the men's wages, and the price of the school site in D.L. 784.

The finance committee made report as to grants asked for, and it was resolved to make these donations: $25 for Dominion day celebration; $100 towards cost of exhibition building.

Applications for a number of short roads were considered, where settlers required access to their homes; referred to the board of works, with power to act.

The Lonsdale ave (north) local improvement bylaw, for the purpose of grading that avenue to the full width from the city limit north one mile, was read a second time. The engineer was asked to make a report on the work and probable cost before final passage of the bylaw.

The Capilano road bylaw, to appropriate the necessary road reserve, was passed.

The firearms restriction bylaw was also passed, prohibiting shooting within 500 yards from any residence, subject to certain exceptions.

A memorandum to the government, on the subject of their undertaking to the purchasers at the recent land sale, was considered and adopted. This memorandum is in answer to the suggestion of the government that their grant of $5000 last year was in fulfilment of their undertaking. It appears that the roads necessary to open up these lands extend to over 16 miles and will cost about $34,000. The council's reply is that they never knew of the undertaking till about three months ago, and that the grant was made in lieu of lost taxes on these lands. The clerk was instructed to forward the memorandum to the government.

The council also authorized a letter to the government, regarding the road to Dr. Swayne's mine, on Lynn creek, and to forward a copy of the following report from the engineer:—

"The present means of access to the mine is by a skid road and bridge crossing the Lynn, immediately below the intake of the waterworks of North Vancouver, and by a trail from the end of this road, following the side of the creek to the foot of the rise in which the mine is situated. The skid road only extends to a couple of hundred yards above the intake, so that practically the whole of the way is by trail.

Considerable work has been done in clearing the trail, in bridging streams, and in widening where the river banks are above trail level. The line recently surveyed by the B. C. Electric Railway Co. continues practically on or alongside the trail.

For considerable lengths the ground is soft and would require puncheon and some of the higher banks will require to be cut down, but otherwise no engineering difficulties stand in the way of making a roadway. The clearing of timber and stumps offers no great difficulty.

The mine tunnel is in 250 or 300 feet above the Lynn side, and this is about 200 feet below the openings or crosscuts made for locating the veins.

With the proposed roadway running so close to the creek, abundance of good roadmaking material is at hand, and judging by the hurried trip along the line of the proposed road, I estimate that the sum of $5000 would enable a serviceable road to be constructed. This estimate would mean a road to a point abreast of the mine in the valley. In estimating it might be advisable to add 15 per cent for contingencies, making the total estimates $5750.

In addition to the mining prospects, there are fine bodies of timber along the route, around the mine, and stretching north and south an untouched forest of cedars.

On the 15th inst. I instructed Foreman Eva to go over the route of the proposed road, and when in ths valley to examine the mine and operations there. He has been a miner the greater part of his life and has had experience in the American mines. He quite concurs in my estimate for the road and that the difficulties in construction are only ordinary. In his description of the showing of mineral in the mine, he is most enthusiastic, describing it as the most extensive in his experience and the mineral as most amenable to treatment.

I felt that without a report from a mining expert, or the inspector of mines, the municipality would not, in the present state of settlement of the valley, be justified in incurring any large expenditure on the undertaking."

Careless Blasting

Careless blasting was accountable for considerable damage last week to the new house of David Cantelon, on 4th street. Some parties clearing a lot directly opposite his house managed to dynamite a piece of rock, as large as a man's head, into the air and across the street, where it alighted on the roof of the house and went crashing through it and the ceiling, striking the stairway, where its course was arrested, because of hitting one of the stringers. Had it not fortunately struck the stringer it would probably have gone on through into the room occupied at the time by Mrs. Cantelon, with possibilities of serious consequences.

North Vancouver Mails

The American citizens of Vancouver purpose celebrating the 4th of July in this city, holding forth on the grounds of the Hotel North Vancouver. A big turnout is expected.

The superstructure of the Lynn creek bridge is making satisfactory progress. The steel is now all in place, and the bridge should be ready for traffic in about two weeks.

Chesterfield House, a high class school for boys, will open on Sept. 5th, under the direction of A. H. Scriven, B.A. It is located at the corner of Lonsdale and 25th, and has splendid grounds comprising three acres.

Laceket Joe, of the Indian Mission, found a motor launch adrift off the booming ground early this morning. The boat is about 18 feet long and when found was covered by a canvas tent. The boat is now moored at the Mission.

The prizes for the local Dominion day celebration will include six gold medals, seven silver medals and two excellent cups. These will come to hand Saturday and will be placed on exhibition in the window of McDowell's drugstore.

Alex. Grant has recently arrived in the city from Aberdeenshire, Scotland, and is building a house on his property, on 4th street, opposite the fire hall. It is Mr. Grant's intention to erect a second and larger residence in the near future.

The Horticultural Society has succeeded in securing the consent of A. H. Macgowan, M.L.A., to represent the government at the opening of the new Horticultural building on July 1st. Mr. Macgowan is one of the best known members of the local house and is one of its readiest speakers. He has been actively identified with horticultural and kindred interests for many years. He was, for a considerable time, honorary secretary of the Fruitgrowers Association and has always taken a deep interest in such matters. His presence will therefore be peculiarly appropriate to the occasion and will ensure a successful gathering.
