CITY COUNCIL

At the regular session of the city council on Monday, there were present Aldermen Irwin, May, Wheeler, Crickmay and Braim. Mayor Kealy presided.

The following communications were read: From J. R. J. Murray, secetary of the Board of Trade, submitting a copy of the new Year Book and requesting a donation toward the expenses of publication referred to finance committee. From James Murray, Jr., calling the attention of the council to the fact that a nuisance is being created on the rear of his premises; board of health to act. From the Capilano Cement Block Company, requesting re-payment of sums expended in improving the roadway on 2nd street, east of St. Andrew's, in front of lot six, Block number 154; referred to the board of works to report. From K. J. Kirkland, making application for the removal of a very large pile of logs on lot number 13 block number 215, Western avenue, as the same is on city property and is in contravention of clause 14 of the city fire bylaw; board of works to report. From J. Kirkland, requesting that additio[illegible] be laid on the [illegible]lk, a[illegible] of 150 feet, to [illegible]dence, [illegible] accordance with the resolution of the council passed some time ago; referred to the board of works to act.

Under reports of committees, City Clerk Shepherd read the minutes of a meeting of the board of work as follows: An arrangement had been arrived at with Mr. Bunbury, representing the B.C. Electric Ry. Co, with reference to the construction of the culvert at the corner of Lonsdale ave and 22nd street. Clearing is progressing at 15th and Ridgeway avenue. A stable for the accommodation of two horses is to be constructed at the Fire Hall. Inasmuch as the tenders for improvements to Ottawa Gardens were all considered too high, it has been decided to do the work by day labor. Upon motion the report was adopted.

Mayor Kealy asked why work on the extension of the tramline on Lonsdale avenue had been stopped. Alderman Braim explained that misunderstanding had arisen with reference to the relative responsibility of the city and the company as to the removal of rock. The unanimous understanding of the members present at the meeting of the board of works was that the company was to haul the rock for the culvert, but the company understood the agreement in a different way. The matter was referred to the board of works to act.

J. Kirkland, who was present at the session, objected to the employment of Hindus in blasting on property near his premises. He requested the council to take some action to compel the owner of the property to place the work in capable hands. Ald. Irwin suggested that in taking any such action, it was but fair to the council that the informant should put his information in writing and give definitely date, names, date, place, etc. The council did not see how they could proceed against the Hindus.

Ald. May gave notice of motion, at the next meeting of the council that the bylaw for the purchase of the ferry, for the sum of $175,000, be repealed. The Mayor was of opinion that the repeal would have to be submitted to the ratepayers. Ald. May's judgment that under the statute, the city council has the power to repeal the bylaw.

Geo. H. Morden submitted to the council the request of the celebration committee, for a donation on behalf of the celebration fund, explaining briefly the value of the celebration to the city and the progress thus far made with arrangements this year. Referred to the finance committee to act.

The trades license bylaw was then taken up. It provides license fees as follows; Bowling alley, etc., one dollar for every six months; billiard saloons, one dollar per year per table; barber shops, one dollar every six months; merry-go-rounds, swings, etc., five dollars for each year or portion thereof. The bylaw was given its final reading.

Ald. Wheeler broached the matter of the so called boxing contests that are being held in the city, and considered that the matter should receive attention at the hands of the council. He had no objection to boxing contests, so long as the contestants were local men and the sport was kept clean, but he was not in favor of allowing ontsiders to come in and make use of he city for their purposes. Ald. Braim was of opinion that a license fee should be imposed. He understood that the promoters of the sport would be willing to pay such a fee and the city would get the income. They would not be able to pay a heavy fee but could stand twenty-five dollars. Ald. Irwin was of opinion that such events should be held under the auspices of the local Athletic Association, and that they should be held responsible for them. It was not desirable to allow sporting events of this character separate from local [illegible]rol. Mayor Kealy was not [illegible]vor of imposing any license [illegible]ee upon this form of sport, because if you license it, you allow. He would not be in favor of trying to suppress amateur boxing, but if undue advantage was to be taken of privileges allowed that was another matter. He had given the chief of police strict instructions to watch these contests closely and the moment that any objectionable feature presented itself, to take decisive action. With respect to the contest being held this evening, the chief evidently suspected something, as he had sworn in four special constables. The mayor will look into the matter.

The reading of the new plumbing bylaw was then taken up.

St. John's School

It will be a matter of general regret that Rev. Richard Marsden is compelled, because of the unsatisfactory condition of health of Mrs. Marsden, to relinquish the excellent work which he has conducted for over three years past as head master of St. John's school. Mr. and Mrs. Marsden have been actively identified with local interests beyond the pale of their more direct affairs and have made for themselves hosts of friends. They will be greatly missed from the circles of which they have proven such popular members, and they will be followed by universal good wishes for future health and prosperity. They will leave within the next few weeks to take up their permanent residence in England. In view of these facts, the following resume of the history of the school will be of interest:—

Little over three years ago the Lynn Valley road was a trail (not over straight or easy), lying between "the camp" and 15th street, along the virgin forest owned largely by him from whom the Keith road takes its name. Having as always the highest interests of North Vancouver at heart, the owner had approached the diocesan synod of New Westminster, and offered them land if they would found and support a school on definite church lines. As the synod, though heartily approving the project, were unfortunately unable to accept the responsibility themselves, an agreement was finally made with the retiring head master, Rev. Richard Marsden, by which he was to conduct the school for ten years, "under the auspices of the synod."

To come to mere dates: The land was surveyed, a site chosen for the house, and the agreement signed by April 18th, 1905, aud on May 1st the clearing began. It should be mentioned that, when some of the disadvantages of the site proposed were pointed out to Mr. Keith, he at once offered ten acres in a more valuable position. Many were the obstacles to the progress of the building—the delaying of the plans through postoffice eccentricities, the difficulties of getting in materials, a phenomenally wet September, etc.,—but by April 25 the school was opened with two boarders.

But September 18th marked its first step forward into public life. The bishop and some ten of the diocesan clergy and the parents of the boys, joined in a service of dedication, in which the grounds, the house, the dormitories, the dining hall and classroom were solemnly blessed, the big school room being used as a temporary chapel.

It was not till Feb. 17th, 1907, that the bishop came again, this time to hold a confirmation in the church, at which the school presented two candidates; and yet once more he showed his interest in the school, of which he is visitor, by making a special journey to it to dedicate the new chapel of St. Hugh, and to confirm two more of the boys, on St. Hugh's day, Nov. 17th, 1907. An interesting point to note is that though two rooms have been set aside in case of sickness, it has never been necessary to use them.

The building, with its spacious house and grounds, its lofty and airy rooms and dormitories, and situation 500 feet above the Inlet, close to the car and yet distant from the busy parts of the city, make it ideal for a school. The best thanks of every true North Vancouverite are due to Mr. Keith, and those who have co-operated with him, to conquer the difficulties attendant on the first steps of such an undertaking.

May it go on and prosper, should be the wish of every one who feels responsibility for the future of the country, which lies so largely in the hands of the schoolboy of today.

Celebration Notes

The several committees are making very satisfactory progress with their arrangements and all things augur well for an excellent programme.

The decoration committee have their plans well in hand and the city will be decked in elaborate gala attire. Chairman Sabin is an experienced hand at the business and what he does will be well done.

The field sports committee, under the leadership of Chairman Martinson, is manifesting commendable energy and enterprise. The firemen's sports will be worth going far to see and the field sports on the Athletic grounds will be so arranged that there will will be something interesting doing all the time. They will be accompanied by novelties of an amusing and attractive character.

T' aquatic sports committee have their programme well outlined and, in the hands of an enthusiast, such as chairman J. N. J. Brown, the success of this department (so pleasing to large numbers of holiday seekers) is assured.

The music committee has already closed with a band, second to none on the coast. Chairman Chance is au fait in matters musical and can be depended upon to put on an excellent programme.

The finance committee is working overtime and is receiving the hearty co-operation of all parties in the strenuous endeavor to provide the sinews of war. The customary sources of revenue are being approached with excellent prospects of gratifying results, and every new avenue that can be discovered is being energetically prospected.

The advertising committee is carefully devising means and methods in order that economy may be combined with the greatest possible effectiveness and the results are proving satisfactory.

Geo. J. Phillipo, chairman of the general committee, and Geo. H. Morden, chairman of the finance committee, waited on the district municipal council on Friday last, with respect to a donation toward the celebration funds. They were accorded a cordial reception and assured that the council would go the limit to assist.

It is announced that the events to be carried through by the Sons of Scotland will be confined to members of the Order, with the exception of the women's and children's events, and that their programme will conclude not later than 3 o'clock p.m., resuming with the entertainment in the evening.

The field sports at the Athletic Grounds will conclude at or before 7 p. m., in order to make way for the Horticultural Society grand concert and assembly in the evening.

The young men are manifesting an enthusiasm and a willingness to co-operate in every way, that is deserving every encouragement. It augurs well for the future of healthy athletics in the city.

Harry Holland and wife returned home on Thursday evening after an absence of somewhat over four months spent in an enjoyable visit among friends in their old home at Nottingham, England.

The many friends of John N. Duval will regret to learn that while clearing land on Monday he met with an accident, badly spraining his hip. The accident will confine him to the house for sometime.

Shaw-Burns Nuptials

The marriage of Miss Edith M. Burns to Wm. Cowie Shaw, of Vancouver, was solemnized in St. John's church on Tuesday, at high noon. The church was beautifully decorated with a profusion of white flowers, and the service was semi-choral, a full choir being present. The Bridal March from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's Wedding March were played by J. Alexander, the organist.

The bride wore a white satin costume, very prettily made, and carried a shower bouquet. She was attended by two little flower girls, Misses Gladys and Wilma Morden, dressed in white and carrying bouquets of white flowers. Miss Ethel Burns, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and R. H. Duke as groomsman. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Hugh Hooper, rector.

After a light luncheon, the happy couple took their departure for inland points on their honeymoon trip. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw will take up their residence on Smythe St., Vancouver.

A feature of the trip was the exhilarating climb to a plateau adjacent to Ald. Smith's residence, from which an inspiring view was gained of the surrounding district. NORTH VANCOUVER, JUNE 12, 1908

THE FERRY SITUATION

For some months past the most pressing problem with respect to the welfare of North Vancouver has been the permanent and satisfactory adjustment of the ferry service across Burrard Inlet. It may be asserted that practically without exception, the ratepayers positively assert that the service which has of late been given, is altogether inadequate to the needs of the city. Residents upon this side of the inlet find themselves greatly inconvenienced through what is considered inefficient service, while many, resident elsewhere, who are desirous of making their homes in North Vancouver, are deterred from doing so because they will not subject themselves to prevailing unsatisfactory conditions in this regard. From a pro-North Vancouver point of view, a thoroughly modern ferry service would usher in an era of growth and progress that would make of this city, within a comparatively short period, one of the finest and most populous residential sections adjacent to Burrard inlet. Keeping these considerations in view it is readily seen, why those who have the interests of the city at heart consider the disabilities imposed by present conditions, grave in the extreme and the loss entailed thereby, well nigh incalculable. Any impartial and fair minded observer will at once declare that it is evident upon the basis of the most rudimentary business principles that the interests of North Vancouver demand the removal of all uncertainty with reference to the frequency of the service once and for all, and further, that a modern ferry service be provided in the immediate future. To object that a service fulfilling all that those terms imply, could not be made to pay, does not affect the situation materially, for the reason that the interests of the city would be best served in the long run by assuming, if necessary, an annual deficit in the ferry earnings as a temporary condition, in view of the large and enduring benefits that would result in other ways.

The real question is, how is such a service to be procured? Just here let it be said that there is no doubt that the great body of citizens would much prefer that this end be attained, by means of an amicable arrangement with the present ferry company. It is a matter of sincere regret upon the part of the best and prevailing sentiment of the city, that relationships between the city and the company have become strained. The onus of present conditions does not rest exclusively with either party, neither is there any desire to censure those who have been doing the best that counsel and wisdom could devise. The action of each party at each stage of the proceedings has doubtless been that which commended itself to their mature judgment, as best under the circumstances. It is nevertheless regrettable in the extreme that the process has culminated in the present unfortunate differences, and further that the possibility of an amicable arrangement appears to be exceedingly remote.

The interests of the city and the ferry company are so closely identified that beneficial results must accrue to both, from the promotion of harmony, and detrimental results cannot be avoided by either, as a result of discord. Whatever may be the ultimate outcome of the existing order of things, the fundamental proposition remains unaltered, namely, North Vancouver must have an adequate and modern ferry service.

Inasmuch as it is freely asserted by local aldermen, that the city will not buy the ferry under the ferry purchase by-law, it is evident that the solution of the difficulty must be sought by other means. Several possible methods of procedure are suggested. The proposition is advanced that the city bonus the present company, to an annual amount, sufficient to enable them to sustain an improved service on a profitable basis. This plan, however, is not likely to be received with favor by the ratepayers, unless indeed the bonus were arranged as a loan to be paid back to the city out of future earnings after a fair dividend had been declared.

Another proposition is outlined, to the effect that a new company be formed to purchase the plant and assets of the present company, the city to subscribe for shares, also the district municipality, and the present company to accept shares in the new company to the arbitrated value of their assets, exclusive of Lonsdale gardens, plus a reasonable bonus in lieu of the fact that they have operated the ferry during the unprofitable period of its existence.

There remains, of course, another possibility which is freely discussed and concerning which persistent rumors are in the air, namely, the project of putting on a second ferry service. There is room for two opinions as to whether a satisfactory and permanent solution is to be arrived at along this line. At any rate, it is debatable whether a second ferry, as a private venture, will materially improve the situation, permanently considered. An essential feature of the abiding success of any such scheme, would seem to necessitate united action upon the part of the city and the district, in order that it may be accompanied by a reasonable certainty of persistence, and in order that the control may, beyond peradventure, be vested in such hands as to absolutely insure the fact that the new service would be operated in every way, and all the time, for the sole benefit of the community on the north shore of Burrard inlet.

Whatever may be the method adopted, it is urgent that some decision be arrived at with the least possible delay. The city is losing valuable time as the building season advances and homeseekers are being lost to other communities. The probabilities point to largely increased activity in real estate and home building, when the wheat crop is assured, and therefore, delay in the making of a definite announcement as to the permanent frequency of the service in the future, and of final arrangements as to the improvements that may be depended upon, will doubtless involve the city in heavy loss of prospective development which it will be difficult if not impossible to regain. The whole matter should be finally set at rest at the earliest possible date.

POWERS OF COUNCIL

Has the city council power to repeal a bylaw passed by the ratepayers, without consulting the ratepayers in the matter? This is the interesting question that arose at the council meeting on Monday night, in connection with a notice of motion to repeal the ferry purchase bylaw.

The statutes do not always lend themselves to the construction which would appear most equitable in the premises, but viewed from the standpoint of a layman, it would appear a very ill-advised form of legislation which would vest such powers in the board of aldermen. If such were the reading of the law, then the fiat of the people when a bylaw is submitted is not mandatory. It is only recommendatory and the council is at perfect liberty to enact, or not to enact, that particular piece of civic legislation as it sees fit. Should the people pass a bylaw by a most decisive majority, the council would then have the power to veto the will of the people and to render their mandate void of effect. This would certainly appear to reverse the constitutional order of things, which vests the power in the people, and views the elected representatives of the people as the people's stewards who are accountable to the people.

Furthermore, an affirmative reply to the above question would appear to open the way to all sorts of undesirable conditions. The pernicious effects of lobbying upon the part of those interested in exploiting the people's heritage for selfish aggrandisement might be expected to be alarmingly felt.

Admirable as are the aldermen as a class, who are elected from time to time by our Canadian cities, they are not gifted with the "judicial faculty" that views every question solely on its merits, and reaches conclusions based exclusively on the best and fullest knowledge available. Whim, or prejudice, or biased judgment, or any other of the many imperfections which are inseparable from human nature might intervene to cause the repeal of a bylaw passed by the people, and thus to defeat the will of the ratepayers. This is a purely academic discussion of the matter as an interesting point at issue, and has no reference whatever to the bylaw to which the notice of motion refers.

As for the ferry purchase bylaw, the best method to pursue is probably to repeal it. The aldermen are presumably unanimous in their conclusion that the purchase of the ferry under that bylaw is definitely dismissed, and this being the case there would appear to be no reason why the bylaw should not be repealed; while in favor of repeal, it may be urged that a useless piece of legislation would thereby be removed and the position of the city's credit in the money market would be materially strengthened. If, however, the repeal is to be effected, it should be effected in a strictly legal manner. The matter will then be set at rest so far as this particular proceeding is concerned.

Fire Alarms

The fire department had a busy time yesterday afternoon. The bush fire which has been burning in the east end, starting from Keith road, made rapid progress up the hill, until it began to enter the green timber adjacent to the Diplock-Wright mill. An alarm was sent in and after several hours work the fire was got under control not, however, until one small house was consumed. While the firemen were thus engaged, another alarm was sent in, this time from 25th street and Lonsdale avenue. A bush fire here had approached in close proximity to the shingle mill and adjacent houses; in fact, the saw dust heap at the mill was already ablaze. This fire was finally disposed of after some hours work.

THE DISTRICT COUNCIL

The district council met last Friday evening. Present: Reeve May, presiding; Councillors Nye, McNaught and Davidson.

The auditors' report, certifying the treasurer's books in order to April 30, and sending joint report with city auditor as to city debt, was received and filed.

Letter received from secretary of board of trade, asking contribution toward cost of Year Book. Grant made of $25.

Deputy minister of marine and fisheries wrote, asking if council saw any objection to grant of foreshore in front of part of 469 to North Pacific Lumber Co.; no objection made by council.

A largely signed petition was presented from Lynn Valley settlers, asking to have a pound district formed and to have shooting prohibited in the valley. After hearing some interested parties on the subject, the council decided that as yet it was too early to form a pound district. The clerk was directed to prepare a bylaw. prohibiting shooting in any part of the district within a distance of 500 yards of any dwelling house.

Messrs. Phillippo and Morden were present, soliciting a subscription to the Dominion Day celebration in the city; referred to finance committee.

The secretary of the Capilano Improvement Association wrote, enclosing resolutions adopted by them. Resolved to reply as follows to these resolutions:—1, that the council have made it a rule to apply for every street end available for them; 2, that the finance committee have been instructed to confer with the committee of the city council regarding course to be adopted to protect owners' interests in matter of future railway legislation; and 3, that the engineer has been instructed to prepare preliminary report re Keith road west, local improvement scheme, and that when his survey is completed a joint meeting will be arranged to adjust the bylaw.

Mr. Gibson wrote, complaining that the B. C. Electric Railway Co. had refused to extend lighting system to his house. Resolved to ask company to comply with Mr. Gibson's request, in terms of agreement.

Several offers for municipal lands were submitted; replies to be sent that lands are off the market.

Financial reports were adopted and authority given to pay the monthly accounts and salaries, including the first instalments on the Lynn creek bridge, the steel for which has now arrived.

Finance committee asked to consider what aid can be given the Horticultural Board, to assist in erection of exhibition hall.

Board of works were instructed to confer with Dr. Swayne as to new road wanted to give access to his mining property on Lynn creek.

The engineer made a report regarding this road and laid on the table samples of the ore being taken out of the mine. The ore shows excellent indications in copper.

The collector was instructed to hold a tax sale on September 1st next, of all lands then delinquent, after giving the necessary notices.

Council adjourned.

The board of directors held their regular weekly meeting on Tuesday evening. The president, Alexander Smith occupied the chair.

The secretary read tenders for the plumbing from Messrs. Fraser, Noble and Walden Bros.; referred to the building committee to confer with the architect. Smith Bros. submitted a tender for building the chimney; referred to building committee. It was reported that the building will probably be completed before June 20th. Definite instructions were given the building committee with reference to painting the floors and the seating of the building.

Job Kirkland having agreed to discharge the duties of caretaker at a nominal salary for the present, the building committee was instructed to prepare an agreement and to draw up rules for the caretaker's guidance and to report. The secretary was instructed to write Captain Tatlow, minister of agriculture, extending to him an invitation to open the hall on July 1st, and also inviting the members of the government to attend. Invitations were also directed to be sent the city council of Vancouver, and the reeves of Burnaby, South Vancouver and Point Grey, respectively to be present.

The prize list for the exhibition in September was considered and considerable progress made in its arrangement. H. A. Shaw is the representative of the society for procuring advertisements for the prize list and special premiums for the exhibition.

A very attractive feature in the prize list this year will be that offered the public schools of the district, for the best collections of wild flowers, ferns and grasses. The tests are to be quality of of specimens, correct naming and artistic arrangements. Teachers may assist their respective classes. The prize will be a large Canadian flag, which will be hung in the class room of the competitor to whom it is awarded by the judges.

Board adjourned until the following Tuesday.

Funeral of Major Mulvey

The Manitoba Free Press of June 1st, has the following with respect to the funeral of the late Major Mulvey: "The late Stewart Mulvey was, Sunday, accorded a funeral worthy a soldier and a man. All classes of the community turned out to do him a last honor and the cortege was one of the largest ever seen in the city of Winnipeg. The streets were crowded along the route of the funeral, from the City Hall to Sherbrooke street, and among those on the sidewalk were many old friends of the deceased. From all parts of the province came old personal friends, comrades of the early days and fellow officers and members of the Loyal Orange Association.

Scotch Picnic

A. E. Vert, of New Westminster, district deputy grand chief of the Sons of Scotland of British Columbia, was in town today for the purpose of furthering arrangements for the first of July celebration by the coast camps. Mr. Vert states that the attendance from the Royal City will be 600, six or eight hundred from Nanaimo, and one thousand or more from Vancouver. Special arrangements are being made with the B. C. Electric Co. for conveying the Royal City visitors to and from Vancouver.

Ladies' Meeting

On Tuesday evening next, in the district municipal office, the ladies of the city are invited to meet with the board of directors of the Agricultural Society, for the completion of arrangements for the first of July entertainment at the pavilion. As this will probably be the final meeting, it is particularly desired that there be a large attendance of all ladies who are prepared to do what they can to assist in making the entertainment a success.

A meeting of the General Committee in connection with the civic celebration on July 1st, will be held this evening at 8.30 o'clock, in the city hall. The respective sub-committees will report progress and as far as possible arrangements will be reduced to a definite basis. A full attendance of members and officers is requested.

T. Hutchison has sold his grocery business on Keith road west to Mr. Peers, by whom it will be conducted in future.

The city has an important notice in this issue relative to the provisions of certain bylaws.

The lathers are now at work on Keith block.

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the City of North Vancouver intends to construct the Local Improvement set out in the schedule appearing below, and intends to assess the final cost, or a portion thereof, upon the real property benefited thereby fronting or abutting thereon and held liable for assessment therefor.

A statement showing the lands liable and proposed to be specially assessed for the said improvement and the names of the owners thereof, so far as the same can be ascertained from the last revised assessment roll and otherwise, is now filed in the office of the Assessment Commissioner and is open for inspection during office hours.

The schedule below shows the estimated cost of the improvement and the proportion to be provided out of the general funds of the city.

A Court of Revision will be held on the 6th day of July, 1908, at the hour of 8 p.m., at the city hall, North Vancouver, B.C., for the purpose of hearing complaints against the proposed assessments or the accuracy of frontage measurements or any other complaint which the persons interested desire to make and which is cognizable by the court.
