VOLUME V. NORTH VANCOUVER, B. C., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1907. NUMBER 3

CITY AND COUNTRY

A ditch is to be dug on the north side of the Esplanade, between Lonsdale avenue and the bridge, near St. George avenne, where it will be connected with the one on the other side.

A drain will be put in on the north side of the city hall to catch the surface water, and be connected with the channel on Lonsdale avenue.

"Sam" Macdonal, an old-time Vancouver hotel man, but now of Dawson, was in the city on Tuesday. He was accompanied by his wife and little daughter. He has considerable property here, and was surprised at the growth of the place. Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald left for Harrison Hot Springs yesterday.

There is on display in THE EXPRESS window a box of different kinds of fruit, grown in Mrs. Kickham's gardens, corner Second street and Chesterfield avenue. The varieties are two Wealthy, three Gravenstein, three Snow and two B. C. winter apples, two egg plums and three Bartlett pears. The fruit is certainly a revelation as to the fine stuff that can be grown in North Vancouver.

A three-plank sidewalk will be laid on Twentieth street, west of Lonsdale avenue, to Hickman's house.

Several complaints have been made of late about a big Dane dog, who is treacherous and unsafe at large, having bit a child as well as others. The police should look into the matter.

The high tree, cornerSeventeenth street and Durham avenue, has been cut cut down. This was a source of danger.

Boom the city and district.

Messrs. W. Walmsley and H. Larson returned Wednesday from their hunting trip to Eagle Harbor The grouse they brought back had very finny feathers.

Mr. Fogg, Fourth street, was one of the first to have deer for dinner on Sept. 1. The animal was shot near Twenty-first street.

Mrs. C. E. Lawson, Third street, North Vancouver, will receive on Thursday, Sept. 12th, and every second Thursday.

The Capilano road is now in fair condition, the municipal council and the Vancouver city council having done considerable repairing. By a moderate expenditure this beautiful drive could be made famous.

While stepping off the wire bridge at the Capilano canyon the other day Sam Robb, of the World, was heard to say: "Less terra and more firma for mine."

Ex-Councillor P. A. Allen returned today, after a prolonged visit to the old country.

Arrangements are being made to hold a boxing tournament to be held here in October next if possible.

Monday night two boats were stolen from the boat house of Messrs. Fyfe & Duke. One was a ship's dingy, China built, and the other was a square stern row boat, with white varnished upper stroke. Both craft were valued at $150.

Flour has advanced 60 cents per barrell and all foodstuffs are advancing. Oats are now selling at $34 a ton, and hay is selling at $22 a ton.

Tour of Inspection

The annual official inspection of the Capilano dam by the Vancouver city council was held on Thursday. Besides the city fathers were a number of guests, including the North Vancouver city and municipal fathers. Since their last inspection considerable work has been done, namely, the changing of the intake from the old dam site to the new one, about a mile farther up. The system has been so arranged that at all times good clear water is insured, the receiving tanks being considered the finest and most complete to be found in America. The new 32-inch main is also now completed, giving the city three pipes from the Capilano. Considerable minor changes have been effected, placing the whole system up to date and guaranteeing an abundance of water.

A sumptuous repast, prepared by Mr. T. Maddison, was indulged in in the cosy shack erected near the dam.

Something New

Probably one of the most unique and at the same time cosy building to be found anywhere, is the one situated at the Capilano intake. It is constructed wholly of cedar shakes, supported by white fir beams. For originality and design this is hard to beat, the cedar being the finest found anywhere, and placed to great advantage. Inside one is struck with the at-home-like appearance, the large fire-place lending enchantment, bringing one back to the time of our forefathers. One of these shacks can be erected for a moderate sum, and any one wishing to erect a cheap and comfortable house would do well to take this one as their pattern.

Progress in Lynn Valley

A few days ago Mr. F. Crowley moved his family into his residence in Block 44, D. L. 2087.

Mr. Dissett has built on his block in D. L. 2022, and is busily engaged in clearing his land.

Mr. Adams is clearing his block in D. L. 2022, preparatory to building.

Mr. S. Martin, of North Vancouver, has built and moved his family to his house in D. L. 2023.

Mr. A. Buckley, the school teacher in Lynn Valley, has purchased a block and built in D. L. 2023.

Mr. Underwood, of Vancouver, is building a house 28x30 at the junction of the Rice lake flume and the Pipe Line road, on a block owned by him in 2088.

The long delayed planer for Mr. Fromme's mill has arrived and has been installed. The firm is now prepared to supply finished as well as rough lumber.

Another house has been erected on Block 13, D. L. 2088, the owners name we have been unable to learn.

School opened after the holidays with 26 children in attendance.

North Vancouver Rowing Club

The next and final regatta this season will take place on September 14th. The cup presented by the Hon. F. Carter-Cotton will be competed for at this regatta. Further details of this will appear next issue.

Lynn Valley Trails

To the Editor of THE EXPRESS:

SIR,—I reeeived a communication from Alderman Emery calling my attention to a letter in THE EXPRESS from Mr. G. W. Sugden, re Lynn Creek Trails, which he thought was hardly fair to those who neither owned property in the valley or resided there, but who generously subscribed to aid the project, he (Alderman Emery) having taken up some subscriptions to assist the matter, particularly mentioning Mayor Kealy and Alderman Irwin, and asking that the list of non-property owners who subscribed, if not too long, might be published in THE EXPRESS. The letter of Mr. Sugden was caused by remarks at the board of trade meeting, that outsiders contributed to the building of the trails, which Mr. Sugden thought very misleading. The matter really hangs on the word "outsider." To begin with Alderman Emery and Ex-Ald. Allan, who resided for years in the valley, and who only recently removed therefrom, formerly held large property interests here, and it would be a cold proposition to call them outsiders. Alderman Irwin I find an assessed ratepayer in the valley to the extent of 320 acres (Irwin & Billings), and the trails are partly on their property. You would not class Alderman Irwin as an outsider. Then we have Councillors Robson and Nye and the Municipal Clerk, Mr. Philip, who have been connected with the district municipality for years. Lastly we have Mayor Kealy and Reeve May, gentlemen who for years have been energetic members of the district council, and always ready and willing to aid to the utmost of their power to assist in the advancement of Lynn Valley. To class such men as outsiders would be a very poor acknowledgment of past services. Had I been writing the letter instead of Mr. Sugden I am afraid I should have fallen into the same error (if error it is), as I should never think of calling the officers of the municipality outsiders, so if any of the gentlemen named should think that they had been unintentially slighted they can console themselves with the knowledge that they were held in higher regard than perhaps they thought themselves entitled to. It is to be hoped that the kindly feeling indicated will continue, not only between the ratepayers and officials of the city and municipality, but also between the two councils, as nothing is so calculated to inspire the zeal of the average man as a kindly appreciation of his efforts in the public welfare. In conclusion, I thank Alderman Emery for drawing my attention to the matter, and also for his kindly reference to me personally.

JOHN M. DUVAL.

Lynn Valley, Sept. 4th, 1907.

School Board

The school board held a meeting on Tuesday evening in the city hall, Chairman Steacy presiding.

It was decided to appoint an extra teacher for the fourth division and the council was asked for an appropriation of $600 for same, which request was granted. The board hopes to have the new division started by October 1st.

The trustees discussed the matter of so many children of school age romping the streets during school hours, and will shortly take steps to stop this state of affairs.

Oppose Development.

There is, it is to be feared, a disposition in certain quarters in Canada to oppose the development of the country along national lines, from the apprehension that it may prove too expensive. While there may have been some ground for such a belief ten years or so ago, there can be none today when the Dominion is making such rapid strides towards nationhood. There can assuredly be no objection to the Mint from the standpoint of financial administration, because it is abundantly certain that its operations must result in a substantial profit to the treasury, and it will be a matter of regret if a portion of our people, no matter how insignificant, should be led to believe that the Mint will be a white elephant when all the experience of other countries has been to the exact contrary. However, time will show. In the meantime it would be more acceptable if the critics of the Mint proposition were to emerge from their shelter of anonymity and come out into the open. Then the interests which are concerned in the campaign against the Mint would be identified.—Free Press, Ottawa.

Kidnapping Col. Elliot.

The following are some additional details of the recent attempt by a Bulgarian band to kidnap Colonel Elliot, the British staff officer in charge of the work of Gendarmerie reorganization in the Drama district of Macedonia. In the course of a tour in his district, Colonel Elliot arrived on the afternoon of Tuesday, July 30, at the Bulgarian village of Gyuredjik, situated about seven hours from Drama, on the road to Nevrokop. About 7 o'clock the following morning Colonel Elliot went out to take a stroll round the village. Suddenly he found himself seized by four men in khaki uniforms, armed with Mannlicher carbines and bayonets, wearing bandoliers and carrying bombs in small sacks attached to their belts. They tried to hurry their prisoner away towards the hills, explaining that they intended to do him no harm, but merely to make the Turkish government pay a ransom for him. He resisted with all his might, but when they tied a rope round his left arm he relaxed his efforts, fearing that he might be secured in such a way as to leave no hope of escape. Two of the gendarmes composing Colonel Elliot's escort started in pursuit, and soldiers from an adjoining blockhouse began to fire across a ravine on the retiring Bulgarians.

Meanwhile Colonel Elliot had been hurried some distance upwards towards the forest, and his party reached an open meadow, where, finding themselves under fire, one of the party lay down and began to return the fire of the two gendarmes, who were only about 70 yards off, while the other three tried to force their prisoner to lie down. At this moment he succeeded in drawing his Browning pistol, and immediately shot through the body the three men who were struggling with him. He then started running down the slope, and presently saw the fourth of his captors taking aim at the Gendarmerie sergeant Ferhad. The man swung round his rifle to bear on Colonel Elliot, who instantly shot him. Further down Colonel Elliot saw a fifth Bulgarian lying on the ground with a rifle and shot him through the head. At this point Colonel Elliot was wounded in the thigh and understood from the bullets splashing in the mud in front of him that he was being fired upon from behind; but in a few more steps he gained cover and was out of danger.

The work of promoting political purity still goes on. First Mr. R. L. Borden accepted the oratorical services of Hon. G. E. Foster and then he was content to allow Mr. G. W. Fowler to speak at his St. John meeting. With two such eminent pursists in his train the work of purifying politics will doubtless proceed rapidly. Probably when he reaches Quebec, that other apostle of political rectitude, Senator Landry, will be added to the company.—Free Press, Ottawa.

If that $29,000,000 is collected from the Standard Oil Company, it is suggested that it might be used to build battleships, to be christened after the men at the head of the monopoly. What a piratical squadron it would be. The Jolly Roger might represent H. H. Rogers, the John D. and the Arch Bold would be dangerous, and the Harriman certainly would never be afraid of water, even far from Wall Street. Their ensign would be a hymnbook from a Cleveland Sunday school, a ticker upon a yellow field rampant, with the motto underneath: "The public be damned."—Mining and Scientific Press.

Moving Pictures at Larson's Pavilion

Commencing Monday, September 23rd, North Vancouver is to have a moving picture show one night every week during the long winter months. The management assures us that the entertainment is to be up to date in every detail, with a complete change of programme every Monday night. The entertainment will consist of the latest moving pictures, illustrated songs and magnificent chromatic panoramic views, and the management has been fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Leo Gibson, the eminent baritone, to sing the illustrated songs. Therefore keep your date open for the evening of the 23rd, and you are assured of an entertainment that will satisfy the most critical.

Mr. H. V. Smith and also Mr. and Mrs. Davey desire to thank those who were so thoughtful and kind in their recent affliction, as shown by the tokens of flowers and acts of beneficence.

Cupid's Capers.

A very modest wedding took place last Saturday evening, when Mr. Walter Carey Green and Miss Marguerite Emily Mee became husband and wife. Miss Mee is the daughter of Mr. Chas. A. Mee, Moodyville, and Mr. Green is the nephew of J. C. Williams, North Vancouver, and the representative of the World in this city. The ceremony was performed at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church by the Rev. Mr. Gillam. The contracting parties are popular young people in the community. THE EXPRESS, along with a host of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Green, takes this opportunity of expressing congratulations and flinging the proverbial old slipper after them. "May bad luck follow them all their days and never catch up to them," is the toast of all their well-wishers. They will reside on the Keith road, between Chesterfield and Mahon avenue.

The hunter who "thought it was a deer" should be heard from any day now.

The work of repairing Keith road west as far as Eagle harbor, is reported as progressing favorably and is expected to be completed shortly. The gang expects to finish up today, when they will join the one on the east division, who are now at work on the Lynn creek bridge.

Another recent arrival, Mr. Haskins, from Manitoba, has decided to locate in North Vancouver, and has purchased a lot on the north side of Victoria Park east. Mr. Haskins will start work at once on the erection of a dwelling for himself, and when finished, will send for his family. A friend of Mr. Haskins has also about settled on a lot or two in this city and will, if he makes a purchase, start building operations too.

J. C. Williams, of North Vancouver, and James Layfield, of Vancouver, have entered into partnership, contracting and building of all kinds. Both Mr. Williams and Mr. Layfield are thoroughly acquainted with this line of business, and also with cement block work, which will be a specialty. Mr. Williams' cement block house, corner of Lonsdale and Fourteenth streets, North Vancouver, is a fine specimen of of workmanship and was the first of its kind in Vancouver.

THE SITUATION

The News-Advertiser, in an able article last Sunday morning, forwarns the business community as to an impending lull in commercial and industrial affairs. While there is no reason to believe that there will be a crisis, yet indications show that we have reached a period when there will be some retardation in the pace at which things have been going. Owing to the recent slump on Wall street the banks of Canada were forced to send out of the country some $60,000,000. This means that they will not take on any new business, and business men and others will have to resort to their savings in order to make any further expenditure or additions to their ventures. Within a few weeks after Mr. Pugsley ceased to be premier of New Brunswick his successor has had to go to the money market to borrow $1,500,000 at five per cent., which, to say the least, in good times is a pretty stiff rate for a government to pay. But it only shows that the country is entirely at the mercy of the banks. It has been stated by several politicians that they will amend the Banking Act next session to prevent a general hold-up policy.

One thing is certain, however, is that the amount of railroad construction now going on in Western Canada will, to a large extent, check the downward movement. In fact, there is every indication that in anticipation of another transcontinental line coming there will be considerable activity in the northern portion of this province.

At Vancouver real estate is not as active as it was. The prices, however, remain firm enough. One cause for the falling off in land speculation is the fact that the banks have shut down on it. The rents continue high, and this is a tremendous drain on trade and there is no city with 70,000 people in the world where rents are so high, but so long as business remains as brisk as it is they can be met.

North Vancouver at the present time is particularly hampered for the want of a railroad, but in spite of that fact, its volume of business keeps increasing. We think that something should be done to induce the C. P. R. to put on a car barge, and thus give us direct railway communication. Besides if this were done it would not be long before there would be a number more manufasturing concerns start here. The Ambitious City, being an important location will not suffer very much even if there may be a downward movement. A certain local wag said we don't need "good" fellows, what we want are hustlers.

INDUSTRIAL PROBLEM

The Hon. R. Lemieux, P. M.G. and Minister of Labor, made a statement of great economic importance the other day at Toronto. He said that "the disastrous effects of prolonged industrial disputes on railways or in the mines were sufficient to indicate the importanse of the state doing all in its power to prevent and minimize the frequency of such occurrences." Coming from such a high source the heads of the great corporations must take heed in dealing with their employees. Never before in the history of the world when transportation, manufacturing and mining companies were more prosperous, and yet it is amazing to note the large number of strikes taking place all over the land. The cost of living is just about double as it was a decade ago. Excepting with mechanics and laborers by combining wages have not been very materially increased. Take for instance the class of workers that by their very occupations prevent them from combining, for instance bookkeepers and clerks in banks and other large financial and commercial institutions, as well as those in the civil service receive not nearly the pay of laborers. We are told that at Vancouver men holding responsible positions in these places, especialy in the banks, do not receive a salary anything like an equivalent to laborers, and why is this? Because they cannot help themselves. The minister, in framing his proposed new legislation to prevent strikes, should consider all classes of workers, organized and unorganized.

A MODERN RHYME OF THE NURSERY.

Hush-a-by, Baby,
No use to yell.
Milk's to be dearer
In spite of the well;
Is water scarce,
Or won't Bossie come through?
I don't know, Baby,
And neither do you.

Hush-a-by, Baby,
Daddy's not here,
He must hustle harder
'Cause milk is so dear;
The price is up, Baby,
To ten cents a quart,
But don't holler, Baby,
Until you run short.

Hush-a-by, Baby,
Don't look so blue,
The beef trust starves Daddy,
The milk trust starves you;
The landlord declares
That we cannot live here,
For kids are unpopular,
Baby, my dear.

Hush-a-by, Baby,
The milkman is here,
We'll give him a stand-off,
'Cause milk is so dear;
We'll mortgage the furniture,
Then pay his bill;
We'll pull you through, Baby,
We really will.

—MOTHER GOOSE.

That milk drivers' union official who stole $19,500 of the funds of the organization knew how to skim cream without a separator.

The two leading Conservative journals of Montreal, the Gazette and the Star, lost no time after Mr. R. L. Borden's announcement of his new platform, in giving evidence of their distinct disappointment with it. The plank in which Mr. Borden so very guardedly speaks of national telegraph and telephone systems was denounced by the Montreal Gazette in very decided terms, which have already been quoted in these columns. The Montreal Star at first expressed a faint and patronizing approval of this plank, but frankly doubted Mr. Borden's capacity to make it mean anything. Of Mr. Borden's new platform as a whole the Star said: "The platform contains several very good ideas; but it is not too much to say that he appears to be a trifle afraid of handling them himself." Regarding the Intercolonial policy, the Star, while approving the commission idea, says: "It is a little disappointing to find the leader of the Opposition abandoning the avowed party policy in favor of the extension of that road to Georgian Bay." This will remind the public of various policies in opposition to the Grand Trunk Pacific in which Mr. Borden entangled himself previous to the last Dominion general elections. The Montreal Star has been returning to its criticisms of the new platform announced last week at Halifax, which has failed so signally to arouse enthusiasm in any part of the country. Referring to the accusations of Socialism, the Star remarks that if Mr. Borden is a Socialist "he must be a homeopath; for his doses taste like a pinch of the drug in a tub of water." The telegraph and telephone planks have a Socialistic smack it says, "but they are so well hedged about with 'ifs' and 'ands' that no one is likely to get nervous because of them. No one expects that Mr. Borden's announcement will cause any wholesale selling of telegraph and telephone stocks. The fact is that Mr. Borden's platform was pretty well sterilized before the people were exposed to it."—Free Press, Winnipeg.

R. KERR HOULGATE, MANAGER

THISTLES WON THE CARTER-COTTON CUP

Despite the disagreeable condition of the weather a large crowd assembled at the North Vancouver Athletic grounds to watch the football games for the first year's series for the silver cup presented by Hon. Mr. Carter-Cotton. The games were all closely contested and well repaid those who saw them. The contesting teams were the Thistles, Nationals and Celtics, of Vancouver, and the North Vancouvers. The first game was between the Thistles and Celtics and was won by the Thistles by a score of one to nil. Following them the Nationals and North Vancouvers, who played a very hot game and proved themselves to be pretty evenly matched, the Nationals won out on a score of three to two. This left the final between the Thistles and Nationals. It appeared to be a walk-away for the former team, who took four goals, shutting the Nationals out altogether. The grounds were somewhat heavy, but considering the heavy fall of rain previous to the opening of the sports the field was in fair shape.

In the evening as a final and appropriate finish to the day's events, a smoker was given in the Palace hotel dining room and a large number were present. Refreshments were served for the benefit of the footballers and afterwards singing and music were indulged in besides other entertaining features that went to make the program a success.

An executive meeting of the Horticultural society was held on Tuesday evening. Alexander Smith occupied the chair and there were present Directors D. G. Dick, A. E. Crickmay, R. L. Doherty, W. L. Boult and Mr. Keene.

The question of erecting a new building on the horticultural grounds on Twenty-first street was discussed. The desirability of an exhibition building is felt and steps will probably be taken in a short time with that end in view. A general meeting of the members will be called at an early date and this matter will be one of the features of business to come up.

The North Vancouver Rowing club has been kindly invited by the Vancouver Rowing club to enter a four-oared crew to compete on the 7th of September when the Vancouver club holds its regatta. At an executive meeting of the North Vancouver Rowing club held on Wednesday evening, the crew was selected and is composed of the following members: W. B. Bunbury, F. E. Mitchell, Dr. J. A. Campbell, W. J. Butler.

The party left last Friday in Mr. Woods' launch and have been cruising around on the Sound from one place to another since in quest of game, which was found to be a scarce quantity. However, a fair bag was secured, Mr. Mirvan Woods carrying off the honors of the hunt by bagging a nice deer.

St. John's college opened today with a fair attendance. The fruits of Mr. Marsden's efforts are ripening in regard to this school for young men. At the outset it seemed quite a venture, such a structure in the heart of the bush, but now its reputation is spreading, and success is assured.

Owners and residents north of Keith road on Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth streetts, between Jones and Forbes avenue are complaining as to the condition of the sidewalks in that vicinity. The undergrowth and bracken have been allowed to grow so thickly that there is only a very narrow passage way left in the middle of the sidewalks. They feel that the council is neglecting this part of the city.

It seems that there is only one policeman for every 643 persons in this city. This probably explains why you can never find yours when you want him. The other 642 keep him busy.—New York Herald.

CITY COUNCIL

Mayor Kealy presided at the regular meeting of the city council held in the city hall Tuesday evening, and all the aldermen were present.

A letter from W. B. Bunbury, local manager of the B. C. Electric Railway company in North Vancouver was read in answer to one received by the Street Railway company from the city in which the inadequatency of the service in North Vancouver at certain seasons was set forth. Mr. Bunbury replied that quite a considerable portion of the trouble lay at the door of the Ferry company, who only ran hourly boats at night and this, of course, concentrated the traffic too much and the car service was powerless to make a fair distribution of the passengers while this continued. Mr. Bunbury also stated that he thought the crowded cars that the council were complaining of was a good indication of the growth of the city. The letter was filed.

A. Philip, C. M. C., wrote stating that he had been directed by the reeve to ask the city council if arrangements could be made between the two councils for temporary "lock-up" accommodations in the city gaol for the district's prisoners. It was moved and seconded that this request be granted when sufficient room was obtainable.

A letter from the municipal council dated August 27, which was laid over from last meeting, came up for consideration. It contained the resolution of the district council in respect to arbitrating several matters that were, as stated in the resolution, in dispute between the councils.

The city council, after a short discussion, concluded that a letter should be written to the district asking them to specify the disagreements they had reference to, and that when this was received the question of arbitration could be dealt with.

The mayor read a letter in the form of an invitation from S. Madison, of the city of Vancouver waterworks department, asking the North Vancouver council to accompany them Thursday afternoon on a tour of inspection of the Capilano waterworks. The invitation was accepted with thanks.

Under the head of inquiries Mr. A. R. Steacy, chairman, was heard on behalf of the school board in regard to an additional appropriation being made to meet the increased demands upon the school accommodations, occasioned by the largely increased attendance this term. The school board asked for an appropriation of about $600. It was moved by Alderman Jordon and seconded by Alderman Irwin that the grant be made, which was unanimously assented to by the council.

Plan of subdivision of lots 7 and 8, D. L. 616, was approved.

Reports of accounts from the several committees were passed, together with the school board's account for August.

The meeting then resolved itself in committee.

BOARD OF TRADE CONCERT A SUCCESS

The soloists were Miss Gibbings, who sang Braga's "Serenata" beautifully and gave as an encore "The Swallows"; Mr. A. Ross was in great favor with the "Veterans' Song" and sang the "Highlanders" as an encore; and Mr. Cathrea and Mr. Jones in their songs "True Till Death" and "The Cyclone," gave much pleasure in the cultured rendering of their pieces and had to accede to an encore. The other members comprised a quartett by Messrs. Underwood, Dunlop, Alexander and Young and their mellow blend and tasteful rendering of "Ye Banks and Braes" was much appreciated.

Messrs. Ross and Kealy in their duet "The Pilot Brave," were also accorded an encore. Mr. Phillips, the vice-president of the board of trade, occupied the chair and opened the concert with a few well chosen remarks and His Worship Mayor Kealy spoke at the close.

Judging from the crowded audience which assembled last night to hear the concert by the Orpheus male voice choir, the Board of Trade have every reason to be pleased at the plan of entertainments which it intends giving during the coming months. The program was a varied and lengthy one, and space does not permit of a detailed criticism of the items. The principal interest centered in the choir, the high quality of whose singing was once more demonstrated. The part songs and choruses "Comrades in Arms," "Swanee River," and "Kentucky Babe" being specially well sung.

Muggins—"I'm surprised that you believe the story Brown just told us. Why, I wouldn't believe it if I told it myself."

Huggins—"Oh, well, in that case neither would I."

A number of young people gathered at the home of A. Philip Monday evening when a merry time was spent. The members of the party had assembled in the morning with the intention of taking a trip up Grouse mountain, but owing to the rain the picnic was abandoned and adjourned till the evening when Mr. Philip kindly opened his house for the benefit of the young people. Singing and games were the principle amusements, Miss B. Cameron on the piano being the foremost entertainer in the musical line. Later on in the evening refreshments were served, after which the party dispersed and the disappointment of the mountain trip was overcome with the successful and happy evening enjoyed.
