VOL. 3, NO. 32. SOUTH FORT GEORGE, B. C., SATURDAY, APRIL 19, 1913. $3 PER ANNUM

HAMMOND TO FIGHT LOCATION OF DEPOT

Townsite Promoter Will Again Lead His Henchmen in a Last Desperate Attempt to Move Prince George Depot Nearer to His Group of Townsites.

According to the coast press the Fort George crowd are again invoking the aid of their legal battery to prevent the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway from locating their depot on the Prince George townsite where they wish.

By the Fort George crowd, The Herald refers to the Natural Resources Security Company, the Fort George Board of Trade, which that concern's lawyers created, and which is manned by the trusty followers of the townsite organization; the lobbying lawyers of the townsite company, the newspapers which do its bidding in return for advertising contracts or stock subscriptions, and the vast army of people who have purchased Fort George lots, and who will sign anything presented to them which may serve to enhance the doubtful value of their properties.

Early last year the Fort George people took an application before the railway commission which requested that body to order the location of the Grand Trunk Pacific depot at a point not further than 1900 feet east of the eastern boundary of their townsite, a street named Fraser Avenue. The late Chairman Mabee, stated that he could give no decision in the matter of a station location when the railway was hundreds of miles away, as it then was. The session ended, however, in a sort of tacit understanding that the depot would not be nearer than 3000 feet to the Fraser river. The Grand Trunk Pacific representatives stated that from the Fraser river for a distance of 3000 feet west on their line through the Prince George townsite, there extended a three per cent grade. They could not, in any event, locate the depot on this heavy gradient. It also transpired, at the session of the railway commission, that the Natural Resources Security Company, who made the application, had sold lots on the statement that the depot would be located within certain confines on the Grand Trunk property near the Fort George properties. The application was obviously made for the purpose of prevailing upon the railroad commission to issue orders which would have the effect of supporting the advertised statements of the townsite concern. The commission, however, could not see its way to so far assist the lot-selling company.

The Natural Resources Security Company have behind them the names of the thousands of people to whom they have sold 25-foot lots in the Fort George townsites. Just what influence the fact of these people lending their support to the application will have before the railroad commission remains to be seen. To The Herald, it appears that the fact of a promoter being able to sell this enormous quantity of lots upon representations made months before they are permitted to be even substantiated, should, if properly presented be sufficient to defeat the application in its earliest stages.

The Herald does not believe that the townsite people hope to win anything favorable to their proposition in this application. We believe that the people behind the townsites which lie to the west of the Prince George townsites, are using obstructionist tactics in an endeavor to depreciate the value of the railway company's townsite, and to prevent the marketing of that property until as late as possible, for, we understand, the Natural Resources Security Company still have a large number of lots which they wish to unload on the public, and if the vivid future they have proclaimed for the Fort George townsites falls short of their word pictures, their future ventures in this branch of human endeavor will perhaps not be such a marked success—financially.

The application will, of course, be fought strenuously. To comply with the application the railway commission would change the plans of the Prince George townsite entirely, and would establish a precedent which would have the practical effect of allowing townsite promoters who operate upon the future assured a particular territory by railroad enterprises, to step in ahead of them in the vicinity of their important points and, having created large vested interests upon doubtful representations, use the power of their argument to obtain such privileges as they had advertised as assured advantages. In other words the railway commission would be making good the bluff of the townsite promoter.

BASEBALL CLUB NOW PREPARED FOR SEASON

Trustee Cooke Re-elected—Plans for Season's Games Discuss-Opening Contest Probable for May 24th.

A meeting of the baseball club was held here this week. Mr. W. F. Cooke who so successfully filled the delicate position of trustee for the past season, was elected to the same position for the ensuing season. To be trustee of a baseball team, where such conditions exist between towns as the healthy rivalry of the places hereabouts, requires the tact and diplomacy of a Disraeli, the tenacity of a suffragette, the executive ability of a Tammany Hall politician, and the courage of a gladiator. There is only one character known to northern history who requires these qualities, and others—the referee, who should go disguised and be a two-gun man.

The meeting was well attended, and the business of the team was speedily transacted. A proposal was advanced by which it is hoped that the usual Sunday baseball games may be carried on during the coming summer. It is suggested that the game on May 24th., shall be played on the diamond at Central Fort George, and that of July 1st., on the South Fort George diamond. The Sunday games, it is suggested, should be played on a neutral diamond to be made on the old Indian reserve. This diamond could be easily laid out on the land at the foot of the hill, and it is suggested that it could be commanded by a grand stand.

The Attorney General's department have, through the local police officers, taken a stand against Sunday games to which admission is charged. The Herald, in common with every other opinion of a reasonable nature, stands for Sunday baseball. On the other hand, however, we are of the opinion that this vexed question should not conform to the opinion of the majority without regard to the objections raised on the grounds of religious prejudice or Sunday observance. Therefore the games should be played in a locality where no residents can be disturbed in any manner.

PIONEER SETTLER DIES SUDDENLY.

George Pickering, a pioneer preemptor of this district, who has been farming a quarter section of land on the Willow river for the past few years, dropped dead on Third Street on Tuesday evening last at 8.15 p. m. Deceased was seized with a coughing fit whilst eating in a restaurant and staggered out into the street where he sunk down and died. He has been suffering from poor health for some time past, and exhibited signs of nervous disorders and weakness of constitution. The late Mr. Pickering leaves a wife and family in Wardner, a town in the Kootenay.

ANNOUNCES DATE OF FIRST THROUGH TRAIN

Vice-president of Transcontinental Railway Company Says September, 1914—Opinion Is Divided.

Mr. Morley Donaldson, vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, has very definite ideas regarding the date of the completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific. In Winnipeg the other day he stated that the first train from Winnipeg to Prince Rupert would leave the Manitoba city on September 14th. 1914.

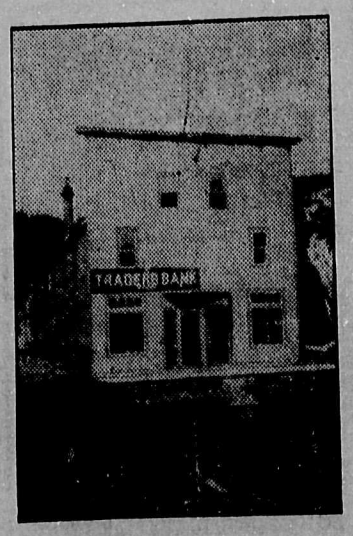
From the eastern end of steel the distance to this place is now about 160 miles. Over the entire length of this distance the contractors are busy. There is a big battery of steam shovels working along the Fraser river, and many of these will be scowed down stream for work on the big cuts west of here as soon as the stage of water will permit. The biggest earth cut on the uncompleted portion of the road lies on the Nechaco river between here and Fraser lake. This cut will keep the shovels busy for months.

Mr. Donaldson stated in Winnipeg that the railway company will lay 298 miles of steel this year. This steel will be laid on the main line from the eastern end of the steel 162 miles into Pronce George. The two bridges are to be built across the Fraser river, one here and the other near the mouth of Bear river, and these Mr. Donaldson expects will be ready for the steel by the time it reaches there. On the main line from Prince Rupert, steel is already at Boulder Gulch, past Hazelton, and a viaduct steel bridge now in course of erection over the gulch will be completed by April 25. Work will proceed steadily through to Burns lake, a distance of 115 miles, on tracklaying, at a steady rate of 1½ miles a day.

The Herald does not expect to see the steel here before March 1914. In our opinion, based upon the expressions of opinion of men who are engaged in construction work, the steel will do well to reach the Willow river by the end of the year, under favorable conditions. The Willow river is twenty five miles up the Fraser from this point.

Mr. Donaldson announces officially that there are 524 miles between the eastern and western ends of steel. Of this distance he expects to build 302 miles this summer and leave 222 miles to be built next summer. The vice-president also expects the two ends of steel tied up by September the first, and the first train will leave Winnipeg 14 days later. There is much ballasting to be done, he states, before his company can announce the inauguration of a summer schedule.

Pat Campbell, who has been buying cattle for the B. C. Market, arrived here yesterday with eighteen fat, lowing kine. Arrangements were immediately made to assassinate the animals to appease the beef hunger of the populace. Beef has been a rare commodity here for some little time, and the sight of the kind-faced cows, driven from silver brooks and leafy glades in the sunny south to lay down their lives to fill short orders, gladdens the heart.



Present quarters of the Royal Bank which will soon build.

MODERN BUILDING FOR ROYAL BANK OF CANADA

Local Manager Announces That New Building Will be a Credit This City—Financial Institutions Display Their Faith in the Permanency of This Place.

The Royal Bank of Canada will shortly let a contract for the building of a modern office building on their property, which is situated at the corner of Hamilton avenue and Fourth street.

Mr. H. C. Seaman, manager of the branch, gave out this information this week. "The plans for the building" he said, "are now on the way here, and until they arrive I can give no exact information as to the type of building to be erected, but you may be assured that it will be a credit to the town."

The Royal Bank, and its predecessor, the Traders, has been doing business here for the past few years in the building of the Fort George Timber and Trading Company, on Second Street. These premises, they have long realized, were not adequate for the rapidly increasing banking business which is being done here.

The officers of the bank investigated the situation very thoroughly before coming to the conclusion arrived at, and in announcing the forthcoming bank building on Fourth street, at this time, the Herald believes that a strong endorsement of the stability and established importance of this town is registered.

The Bank of Ottawa, which carries the account of Messrs. Foley, Welch, & Stewart, will open a branch here within the next few months. It is a matter of some speculation as to where this branch will be located, and in this connection The Herald believes that the officers of that institution will appreciate the importance of serving the public from the most convenient point, and we anticipate seeing the building of the Bank of Ottawa also in South Fort George.

In contrast to the branches of banks in the Nechaco townsites, which occupy rented premises, are the two firmly established financial institutions here, the Bank of British North America, the first bank to open a branch here, and the Royal Bank of Canada. The Bank of Vancouver, located on the Nechaco, at one time received a stipend of $200 a month, and may yet, "to protect them against loss" as the promoter on whose site they were located once said on the witness stand.

CONTRACT LET FOR BUSINESS BLOCK

A. Johnson Will Erect Two-storey Building on Hamilton Street, Adjoining Hotel Northern.

Albert Johnson, proprietor of the Hotel Northern, the pioneer hotel man of the Fort George district, has let a contract for the building of a 30x60 store and office building on a lot adjoining his hotel on Hamilton Avenue.

The building will contain two large stores and will have offices on the second floor. Work on the buildings will commence immediately. The contract for building was awarded to Messrs. Bronger & Flynn.

Mr. Johnson is continually showing his faith in the town by progressive methods and heavy investment. This new enterprise marks his attitude still further.

WINNIPEG FIREBUG TELLS OF HIS CRIMES

Was Responsible for 200 Fires in the Prairie Capital in Which Seven Lives and a Million in Property Lost.

Immeasurably worse than was ever dreamed by the local police is the terrible record which James Dodds, the firebug set for himself when he made a statement to Chief of police McPherson, says a Winnipeg despatch. The pyromaniac asked to have a detective sent to his cell, and on his arrival said he wanted to talk to the chief, as he had been thinking over all of his work and it had been bothering him since his incarceration and he wished to relieve his mind of the load he was carrying.

When the chief arrived Dodds immediately began to talk and started by saying that he believed he was responsible lor at least 200 fires in Winnipeg and St. Boniface during the past two years. The biggest of these which he claims to have been responsible for was the conflagration in the Radford-Wright building on March 11th, 1912, which caused the death of seven persons, five of them firemen. He said that he stood and watched the bodies brought out and helped to keep the crowd back. This fire resulted in $250,000 damage to property.

Dodds also claims that he started the fire in the Rat Portage Lumber Company on May 14 of last year, which did damage to the extent of $40,000 and also the McKittrick block last summer, which was damaged for a similar amount. On June 21 he says he started blazes in seven vacant houses in course of construction on Kittson street, which resulted in heavy damage. On June 22 he set fire to the new convent being built in St. Boniface and June 26 to the rear of the cathedral.

Dodds also says that he started many of the big fires in St. Boniface and also in Winnipeg, and many minor ones which did not get a good start. His favorite scene of action was vacant buildings or places which were not carefully guarded and into which he could get without a great deal ol difficulty or danger. It is estimated that he started fires which in all will total over $1,000,000 damages besides the loss of life in the Radford-Wright catastrophe.

"Nothing could keep me from starting the blazes," Dodds said. It did not hinder his mania to see the bodies taken out in his biggest blaze but since he has been in jail he has commenced to worry over it, and he gives his troubled concience as the reason for making the statement.

HUDSON'S BAY STORE ADDITION.

A large addition to the Hudson's Bay Company's store was completed last week and is now being occupied by the company. The Herald hopes that, in spite of the value of the ground on which they stand, and the progressive policy of the great trading company's sales shops, that we shall never see the time when the old log buildings will be demolished. For years the stout whitewashed log buildings formed the only oasis in the northern desert where the trapper and the prospector might find the necessities of esistence. In the days of the preliminary surveys of the Grand Trunk Pacific the old post, with its living house and great log store, was the home of the engineers and the supply base of the ever shifting canvas homes of the men who were threading the line of the G. T. P. through the virgin forest. Many a knotty engineering problem has been settled within the four log walls of the old house, and in the reminiscences of all old-timers "the post" with its hospitality, its associations and its officers feature most narratives.

FORT GEORGE HERALD

Subscription $3.00 a Year in Advance — Advertising Rates on Application

THE HERALD has had cause to dwell on occasion upon the deplorable manner in which the coast newspapers in this province subjugate their policies and pollute the standard of journalistic principle—this by allowing the power and influence of their widely-circulated pages to be turned to account by private individuals whose interests are wholly inimical with those of the reading public they ostensibly serve.

No more glaring example of this condition has come to our attention than the campaign now being waged through the fallen newspapers of this province in the matter of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway company's application to register their townsite here under the name of "Prince George."

This campaign, which is forced upon the public in the guise of news matter, in editorial comment, and even from the cartoonist's allotted space, represents nothing more genuine than the desire of a gang of real estate operators, headed by the king of them all, to inveigle the railway company into an action nicely calculated to enhance the value and importance of their townsite while depreciating that of the railway company itself.

To accomplish this, the calculating real estate broker, who appropriated the name of Fort George by registration a few years ago, realizes that a furore of public indignation must be produced. This is easily attained. Strewn over the countries of the world are the thousands of people who have bought 25-foot lots in the subdivisions which have been advertised for long past as "the real Fort George" or "the legal, registered townsite of Fort George." These people have been led to believe that the subdivisions in which they have invested were, by the fact of the significance of their registered name, vastly important in the scheme of things hereabouts. That the name, Fort George—applied to an old Hudson Bay company post, haled from the frontier oblivion to identify a mass of speculative subdivisions—only gained its notoriety from the fact that it was so widely advertised in this connection, has not been taken into consideration at any time. The railway company, whose intention to make an important point of the place known as Fort George before the days of townsites in these parts, has always been fairly plain, finding that the name has been worked to death and that it was the personal property of a corporation with which they had nothing in common, and whose operations on occasions had caused them considerable annoyance, has decided to call their townsite Prince George. And they will.

Therefore the terrible lamentations, the denunciations, and the newspaper attacks levelled at the G. T. P. and inspired by the townsite promoter whose schemes, like those of other mice and men, have quite often gone kerfluey.

We cannot see any law which might be applied to prevent the registration of any name the G. T. P. may care to apply to their townsite here. The Land Registry Act is a terse piece of legislation, likewise is section 69 of the Land Act. They cover the situation. What the promoter hopes to accomplish by the false impression of the situation which is being spread broadcast by the moribund, dependent and abject journals which have so ill-advisedly taken up his fight, on his own lines, we fail to see. It is not possible that by such means as these it is hoped that the Minister of Lands may be prevailed upon to withhold his approval of the plans submitted by the railway company.

It is time that the government realized exactly what has been transpiring up here for the past three years and called a halt upon the obstructionist tactics aimed to maim real progress and aid speculative propositions which stand at last before the public in their true light. These tactics are created by pettifogging lawyers, crooked politicians and unscrupulous promoters, and they should not be tolerated.

NO announcement of recent months indicates more pronouncedly the permanent nature of real estate values, or acknowledges as strongly the assured position of South Fort George as a permanent and important business area, than the announcement that the Royal Bank of Canada will shortly build a permanent branch on their property on Fourth Street.

In the interest attaching to the plans of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway's Prince George townsite, a short distance to the north of South Fort George, it is natural that the properties regarded as additions to that area will appear to the general public to be of minor import as business or industrial sections. The Herald has always realized the fact that in the future creation of the Prince George townsite lies the best interests of this city. The area of the South Fort George townsite is limited to a total of no more than 90 acres. The site is, without a doubt, the most natural point for the commencement of development here, and by the same token, it will continue to grow and develop from the strong position we occupy today as the greater townsite of Prince George, hard by our borders, grows and develops.

The Herald has always contended that this town should apply for incorporation as a municipality under the name of South Prince George, and this contention we strongly adhere to without compromise or qualification. Had the interests which opposed the attitude of The Herald in this stand, known then what they do today, we do not believe that the fiasco of harking back to the application for a name which marks us as something we are not—an addition to an unimportant mass of subdivisions—would have occurred.

This matter of a name we commend to the serious consideration of our readers, and we shall be glad to receive their views.

PROVINCIAL NEWS

The Aldermere News advertises for an editor who must understand farming, politics and mining. Also he must possess some money and a vote.

There has been a big demand for sleigh dogs at Hazelton during the past few weeks owing to the gold strike at Teslin Lake. Twenty-five dollars has been the prevailing price.

The railway offices at New Hazelton will shortly be moved into the new station and the cars now used as a depot will be moved out to Porphyry creek, to which point the service will soon be extended. This is about fifteen miles further east.

Salt beds have been discovered 45 miles east of Prince Rupert on the G. T.P. Messrs. Mobley and White, the discoverers, have an up-to-date drilling outfit on the property and have erected a small testing plant consisting of three evaporating pans. So far five holes have been drilled at considerable distances apart, some more than a mile from others and all have struck salt at depths varying from 50 to 250 feet. Altogether the two gentlemen own about 1000 acres. The property is situated within 200 feet of the railway and 400 feet of the Skeena river. Up to the present about eight tons of salt have been secured from the deposits. The most thorough tests show that it is absolutely pure and of the best quality.

Robert Pritchard, one of the oldest residents of Cariboo, died recently at Stanley. He came to Barkerville district in '62.

J. F. Hill has received the endorsation of Quesnel citizens for the position of government ferryman in the old Cariboo metropolis.

The location of the Pacific Great Eastern line between Lillooet and the vicinity of Fort George, a distance of 290 miles, is now in progress. There are two engineering parties in the field and additional parties are to follow. It is hoped to finish the permanent location before next fall. The work now being undertaken is on the lower section of the route north of Lillooet, actual construction on which is to be undertaken this summer. Eleven hundred men are now employed in the various camps along the route from Lillooet south along Seaton and Anderson Lakes and beyond to Pemberton Portage.

Hon. W. J. Bowser has issued orders that no licenses should be granted for the selling of liquor in Newport. The government is following the policy of preventing the sale of liquor in railway construction camps, and although Newport is not yet connected with the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, Mr. Bowser considered it wise to prevent the sale of liquor there at the start. Several licenses were asked for. The same policy is ordered for Lillooet and other places along the line of the railway. The "blind pigs" are being hunted down and eradicated as rapidly as possible.

Many parts of Manitoba, especially along the Red River valley, are suffering considerable damage from floods. Life is not endangered, but the damage is altogether unprecedented so far as recent history goes.

The permit for what will be the narrowest building in Vancouver has been taken out by Sam Kee, a Chinese millionaire. The plans show a four-storey steel and frame structure only 6 feet wide and 120 feet in length. The city recently appropriated most of Kee's land and left him only 8 feet.

In striving to arrest a Nicola Indian named George Bent, Provincial Constable King received severe gashes in the arm and body from a knife. The Indian was finally brought to time by a bullet wound in the leg and is now in the jail at Merritt awaiting trial. The Nicola Indians have been giving trouble lately as a result of having too much liquor.

An extraordinary story comes to light from Boharm, eight miles west of Moose Jaw. A few days ago a train stopped at Boharm, and just as it was gaining speed on its westward journey a sensational shooting affray took place. It appears that a large number of Russians were being taken to British Columbia to work on a railway gang and were locked in their cars without having anything to eat for two or three days, it is alleged. At Boharm they broke open two of the cars and tried to escape. An unknown person fired six shots and three of the men were hit, although none seriously, and all got away. The mounted police are investigating.

It is now definitely established that the maximum grades between North Vancouver and Newport, on the Pacific Great Eastern, will not exceed one per cent.

The Vancouver Sun, directed by the notorious John P. McConnell, of Saturday Sunset fame, recently published a most amazingly irrational editorial upon the question of the name for the Grand Trunk townsite here. History has shown that John P. McConnell as a publisher, may be entirely disregarded when his questionable talents as a journalist are turned loose on the question of Fort George. We would recommend the directors of the Sun, however, to take their promoter's editor in hand, before he starts something that will result in a total eclipse of the Sun, in the same manner as the sun set behind the hills of oblivion on the stricken Fort George field.

Mr. Montgomery, a barrister, who handles the situation with an able pen, has presented us with a copy of a letter which he has asked the Vancouver Sun to publish. We reprint it herewith:

Editor: The Sun newspaper, Vancouver, B. C.:

Sir: In your issue of April 1st. last was published an article entitled "Fort George or Prince George." Having been a resident of South Fort George for nearly a year and, I think, knowing what I am talking about, I wish to join issue with several statements made in the above article the correctness of which I dispute. The article referred to states that "when the townsite (meaning the Fort George townsite) was fairly established, having, as it has today, a population of about 1000 etc." Now I unhesitatingly say that this is a serious misstatement of fact. The townsite of Fort George contains today at the very outside figure, 400 people, excluding railroad employees that may be established in camps on the townsite. Not that there is no room for more. Half a million could easily be accommodated without jostling each other. Excluding railroad employees I don't suppose that there are more than 2000 people within a radius of 25 miles of Fort George. This includes the bustling but little known town of South Fort George. More than one hundred years ago the Hudson Bay Company established a trading post on the Fraser river and called it Fort George. This name, I understand, was never registered. This trading post adjoins the townsite of South Fort George, and lies about 2 miles from the present townsite of Fort George. The G. T. P. property lies between the Hudson Bay property and Fort George itself. It is well known that in the past the Hudson Bay Company have picked the best sites for its Forts in the localities where they have been established. It did not choose any part of the present townsite of Fort George for the simple reason that it was not the best site. Fort George is not situate on the Fraser river but on the Nechaco river, far inferior from the point of view of navigation. Again, in nearly all cases, and very properly so, the Indians have been granted the best land in British Columbia. The G. T. P. have purchased the Indian reserve No 1, and intend to make it, I hope, the town of Prince George. If the writer of the article referred to will ever condescend to let me show him a bird's eye view of the G. T. P. property from a certain point I know of, I think that he will admit that it is ideally fitted by nature for the laying out of a beautiful city. Really the following lines in the above article would, to put it vulgarly, make a cat laugh. They read as follows: "No one who has ever visited the scene would argue that the site which the G. T. P. was forced to take as a last resort is to be compared with that of earlier and more enterprising promoters." Let us examine this. If the early bird is to catch the worm of location, surely the Hudson's Bay Company is entitled to breakfast first, to be followed by the original owners of the South Fort George townsite?

But why was the Indian reserve not chosen before the other townsites adjoining? Well, go to the proper authorities and tell them you wish to buy land held as an Indian reserve and just see what kind of an answer you will get. The G. T. P. are performing a very great public service by building a transcontinental railway and I presume that the powers that be realized that it could tread where ordinary mortals would be told to keep off the grass. The people of South Fort George are seeking incorporation as a city municipality under the name of South Fort George. They are only too willing to let the G. T. P. call their town Prince George, or any other name it pleases. As the article states the G. T. P. may be short-sighted but it seems to have a pretty good pair of glasses to work with.

Expressing merely my own opinion, I would rather possess an inch of land in the G. T. P. property than an ell in the town of Fort George.

I feel sure that you will be fair-minded enough to allow this letter to appear in your columns. I could write reams more on the subject, but cui bono?

Yours truly,
NEVILLE MONTGOMERY

What We Have We Hold

FORT FRASER, Central British Columbia, has the ideal townsite location on the entire line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway in British Columbia. : : : :

It has also many natural resources and advantages not possessed by other townsites.

It has a sparkling lake of fifty square miles of fresh water. Tremendous hydro-electric power being developed at its very door. The largest tract of agricultural land to be found in British Columbia. A healthful and ideal climate both summer and winter. One thousand miles of navigable waters reach to and from Fort Fraser.

These Are Advantages Which Cannot be Taken Away

Again, it is a natural distributing centre for a vast territory, and with the incoming of the Grand Trunk Pacific, Pacific & Hudson Bay Railway and other contemplated lines, its future as one of the coming cities of Western Canada is assured.

FORT FRASER

is already a good lively town with Government office, telegraph office, postoffice and various lines of trade already established there.

Lots can be obtained at from $200.00 upwards with cash deposit of 10 per cent. cash, and 5 per cent. monthly without interest or taxes.

WILLOW RIVER
BRITISH COLUMBIA

At the confluence of the Fraser, Salmon and Willow Rivers. The first town of importance to be established in Central British Columbia on the Main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. By those who are in close touch with the true conditions, Willow River is regarded as being a town of future great importance in the heart of "Canada's Inland Empire." This fact, plus the fact that Willow River will be an important lumbering, mining and agricultural centre, makes property in this new town desirable from either a business or investment standpoint. Willow River property has been purchased by merchants and investors throughout Canada and United States. Although the town was only established October 16th, 1912, a number of lots have been resold at decided profits, while other purchasers refuse to sell at even twice the prices paid. The business portion only of Willow River is now on the market—the survey of the residence portion has recently been completed and this portion of the town will be placed on the market in the near future. There are a limited number of lots available in the business portion at the original prices. Easy Terms. No Interest. Clear and perfect title direct from the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. The Original and Official Townsite of Willow River is located on Lot 785; Station Site approved by the Board of Railway Commissioners March 26th, 1912, Order No. 16179. REMEMBER THAT. Representatives of British Columbia lumber industries as well as owners of timber limits are agreed that the proposed American tariff schedule admitting foreign rough lumber and foreign shingles into the United States market free of duty, will, if enacted into law, give Canadians an enlarged and more profitable market. A number of them also foresee a great expansion of the shingle manufacturing industry in the province and also look for an advance in the selling price of provincial timber areas.

Every effort is being made by natives in boats to complete the rescue of William Schroeder, survivor of the wreck of the Diomedes, crushed in the ice by the same floes which crushed the whaler Morris, and exploring schooner Kittiewak, in January. Schroeder, whose hands and feet were frozen, was left on an island in the Behring Sea, and an Eskimo who mushed over the floes, brings word that he has nothing to live on but beans and sugar and that his hands and feet are sloughing off. Pete Bernard is waiting with a dog sled at Wales to bring Schroeder to Nome, but he cannot be brought across the strait until the ice goes out.

For ten months, ending February 1, 345,000 foreigners settled in Canada, according to immigration figures for the fiscal year just ended. Of this number 119,000 were United States citizens and 130,000 British subjects.

Passing through Regina, Sask., recently Vice-president Dalrymple, of the Grand Trunk system, announced that work would shortly be started in that city on the construction of a $2,000,000 hotel and a $1,000,000 station. Both station and hotel will be connected by a tunnel, and the figures given out do not include the cost of either the tunnel or the extensive landscape gardening which is planned.

Greatly weakened by her refusal to partake of food, the release of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader sentenced to three years imprisonment for instigating the dynamiting of Lloyd George's country home, from Holloway prison is expected daily. A room has been prepared for her at a private hospital.

The first parliament of the world's youngest republic was inaugurated last week in Pekin, China, amid general rejoicing. The scene of the gathering of the joint inaugural session of the members of the Senate and House of Representatives was a remarkable one. Five hundred representatives out of a total of 596 and 177 senators out of 274, all of them earnest looking men of mature years and nearly all dressed in European fashion with frock coats, silently awaited the appointed hour of opening. As the clock struck eleven several bands played the national anthem while the assemblage rose to its feet. The senior members of the House of Representatives then made a few congratulatory remarks to the notable gathering and formally declared both houses open.

A roll of blankets and a rifle belonging to Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Schmidt, formerly of Seattle, have been brought to Dawson from Russell Glacier, where they were found by a prospector. This is taken as proof that the aged couple, last seen when they started across the glacier three years ago, lost their lives in some unmarked crevasse.

That J. P. Morgan established missions in the Far East for the selfish purpose of furthering his business interests; that he is a poor specimen to hold up before the Christian youth as an example of right living, and that he was a foe of the toilers is the opinion of Rev. George C. Richmond, of Philadelphia, expressed in a sermon to his congregation.

A railway strike is becoming general throughout the whole of Australia and has assumed serious proportions. Passenger service is seriously curtailed and the movement of freight is almost at a standstill. Chaotic conditions prevail. Total suspension of railway traffic over the entire commonwealth is probable. In such case business would come to a standstill and the loss would be almost incalculable. Australia has not faced such a crisis in many years.

With a subsidy of a million dollars divided between four Canadians steamship companies, all Canadian mail for Great Britain will after May 1, be handled exclusively by Canadian steamers. Announcement to this effect was recently made by Hon. L. B. Pelletier, postmaster-general, in the House of Commons. The new arrangement, according to the postmaster-general, will insure a tri-weekly service during the summer months and a semi-weekly service during the winter.

J. G. Taylor, superintendent of the Saskatchewan division of the C.P.R., structing branch lines in the west within the next two weeks. "All our men for construction work," he continued, "we are bringing from Russia, and they are already arriving in large numbers."

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 30th. day of April, I will offer for sale at public auction one team of brown mares left on my ranch for wintering, unless redeemed by the owner on or before that date. The following costs are charged against the team.

The sum of $34 due under wintering contract

Keep at the rate of $4 per day from date of termination of contract, until redeemed.

LOCAL AND DISTRICT

Casey Brown, resident engineer from the mouth of Mud river, paid a brief business visit to town this week. Work from the Mud river, in both directions, is being shoved rapidly ahead by contractors Logan and Maloney.

The Fraser river is now flowing towards the ocean uncovered from its ice sheath. Canoes have again taken to the water, and although in places portages must be made over ice jams, supplies are being moved in the water even now It looks as though the steamboats will be running very early in May, in spite of the late break up.

Walter Crocker, in charge of one of Gore & McGregor's surveys, bound for Willow river, arrived here on Tuesday last from the south by special stage. The party leaves immediately for the Willow river townsite, to lay out the north half of Lot 782. This property is the recently acquired sub-division owned by the Pacific Land and Townsites Co., of Vancouver.

Constable Higginbottam, acting as a health officer, has been making the rounds of the city on an inspection of sanitary conditions. He urges that all property holders will see that their premises are properly cleared of the accumulated debris of winter. This should be done by raking together all the accumulated rubbish and litter which should be burned.

Russell Walker, of the North Coast Land company, arrived here on last Saturday's stage. Mr. Walker has opened an office in the Gore and McGregor building. The North Coast Land Company anticipate a large influx of prosperous settlers on their excellent lands from now onward. This land company is one of the strongest and most legitimate concerns operating in this section.

C. Kinghorn, who has represented the forest branch of the provincial government in the Fort George district for the past year, was relieved this week by H. G. Mardin, of the same department, and he will proceed to Victoria immediately. Mr. Kinghorn's departure is greeted with regret here, and although his transfer is in the nature of promotion, we hate to see South Fort George lose its star hockey player.

Great improvements have been made in the premises of the Fort George Drug Company, on Laselle Avenue, by the lengthening of the store space and the addition of a dispensary in the rear. The post office has also been enlarged to cope with the increasing business, and Postmaster Williamson informs us that the new metal post office boxes will arrive shortly after the opening of navigation. The telephone exchange is now installed in a separate room and is entered from the east side of the building.

Kennedy Blair & Company Ltd., the pioneer merchants, of Second street, are enlarging their premises to house the huge stock they have en route to this place for the summer trade. A two storey addition has been added to the rear of their premises, and the whole roof of the main building is being raised in order to allow a gallery to encircle the whole store, for the storage and sale of dry goods. William Blair is at present at the eastern end of steel superintending the construction of scows to bring down the first of his stock.

The old, old story of the small boy, the 22-rifle, and the accidental shot cropped up here again this week. In this instance the shriek of the victim went forth from the peaceful home of Jimmy Bird, the well known and respected half breed who lives west of the Hudson Bay property. Frank Bird, age 14, was sitting at his father's table, when his little brother seized upon the loaded 22 rifle which he discharged and landed a bullet in his brother's head. From all appearances the boy will recover. He is doing well, and is not in any danger unless complications set in. The bullet entered his temple and followed the edge of the skull.

Justices of the Peace Campbell and Perkins are very busy men these days. Several drunk and disorderly Finns found on the Indian reservation after dark with bottles of "hooch" are now working for the government for 30 days, whilst a dago with a name like a sneeze paid a $20 fine for the same complaint. The dago ran amuck in the Gore & McGregor building and sought to exercise his bloodthirsty designs with a piece of Camorra cutlery of keen edge and graceful curve. It so happened, however, that Art. Sheridan, amateur champion boxer of the United States was one of the party, and resented the black-hand idea by knocking sneeze down a flight of stairs, at the bottom of which he landed in a puddle of blood. No one brought the knife charge home, however, as Mr. Sheridan's punative idea was considered sufficient for the occasion.
