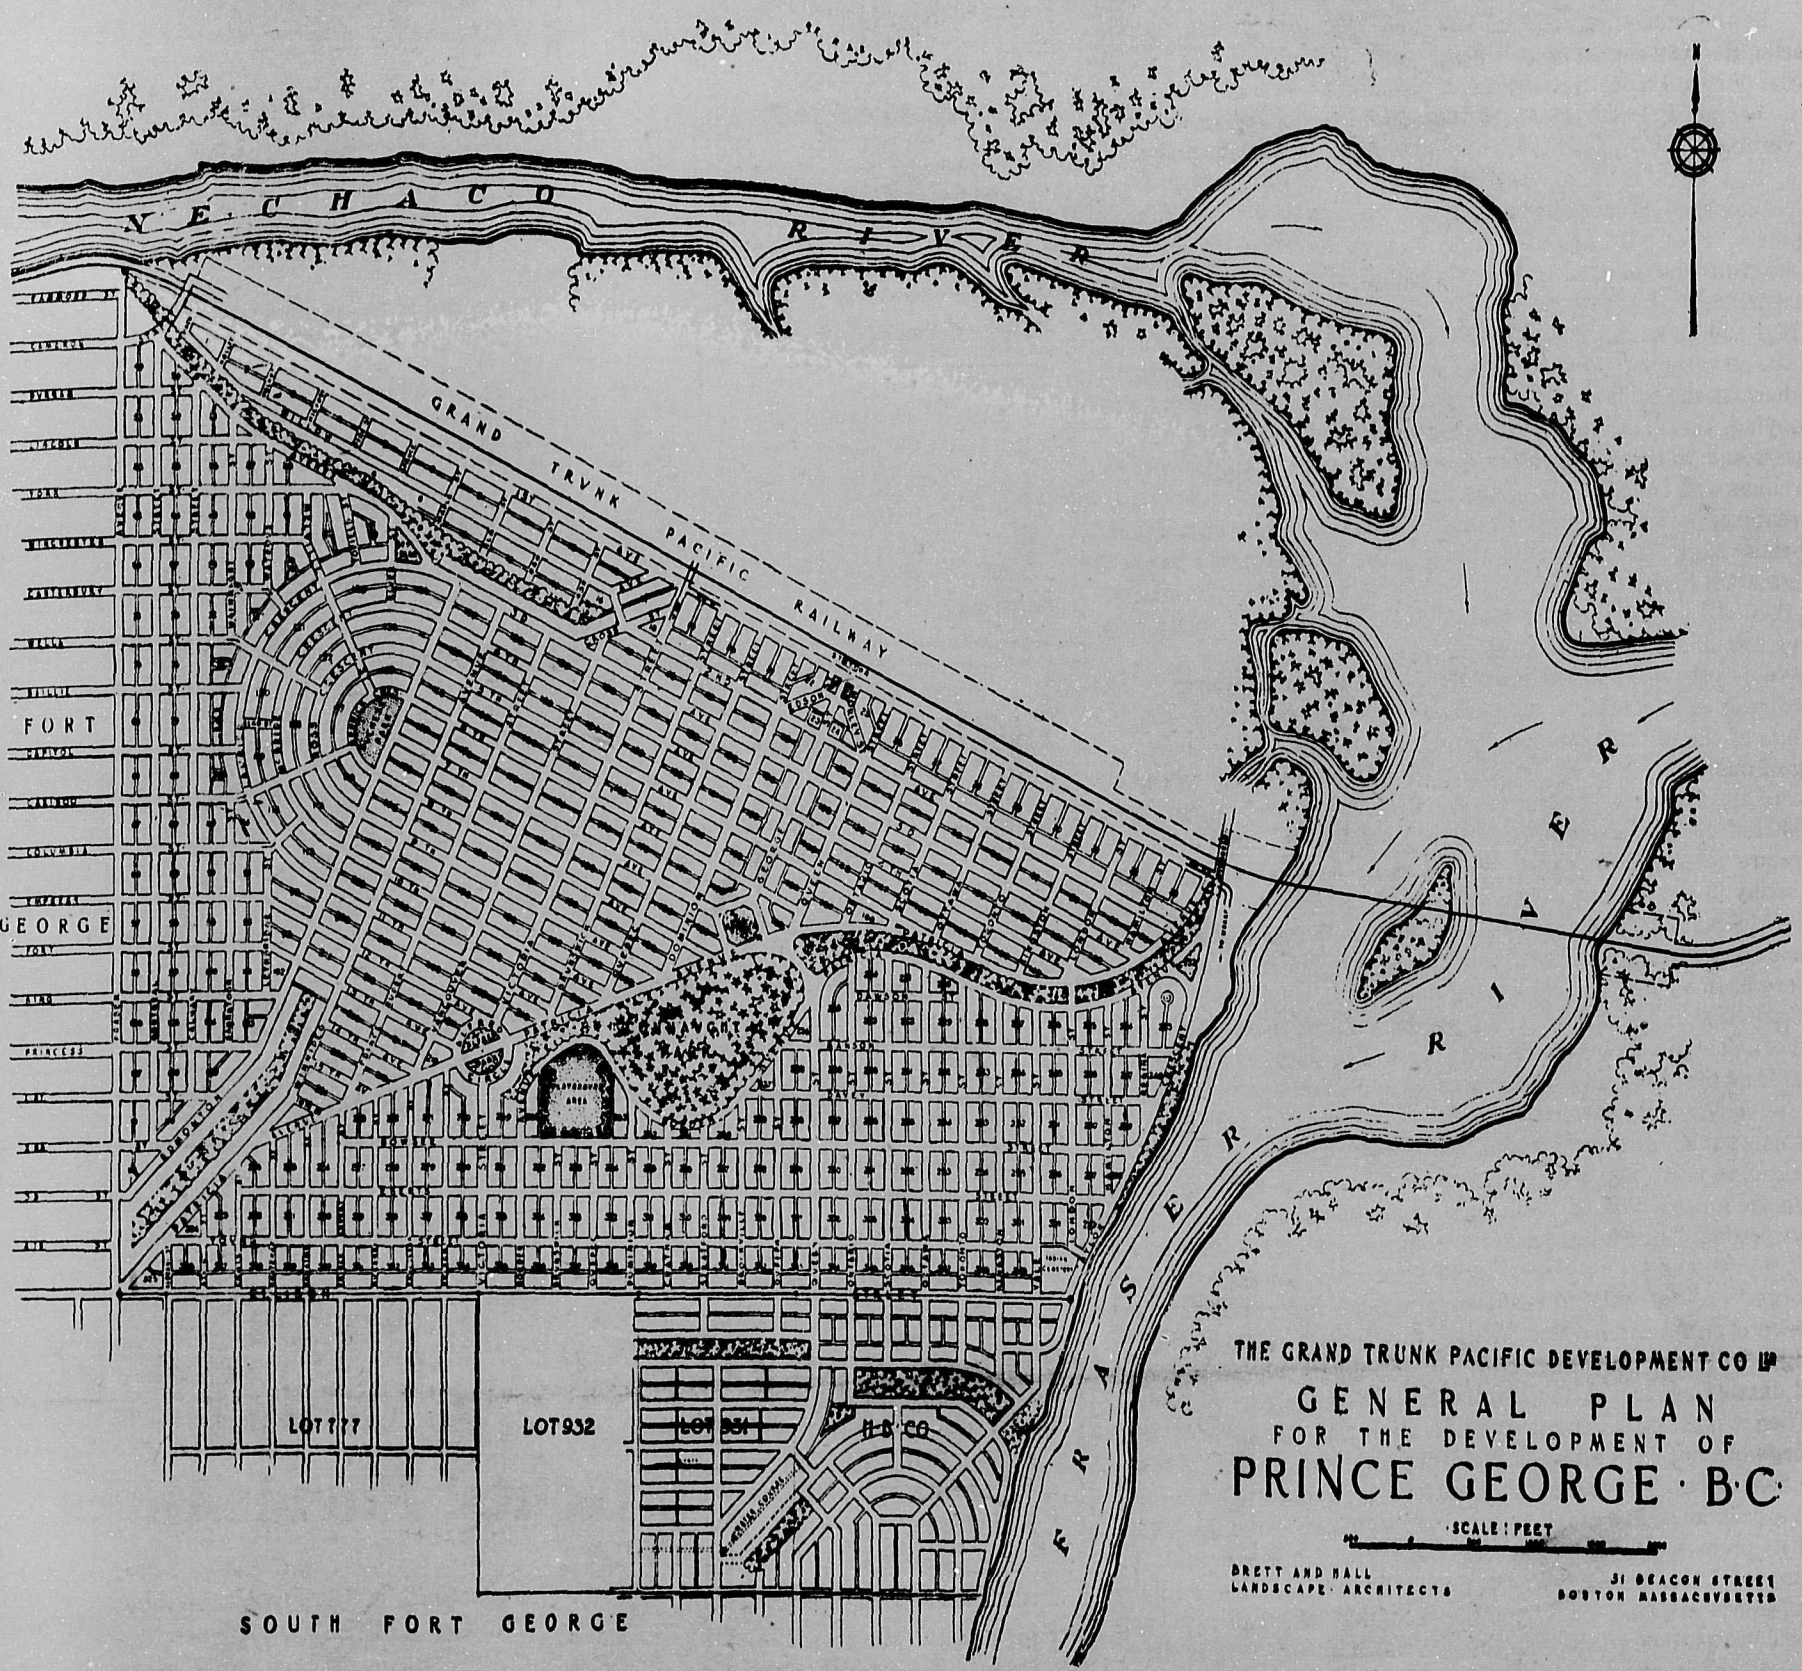
THE GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC RAILWAY CO.'S TOWNSITE OF PRINCE GEORGE



THE above plan, published for the first time, in this issue, shows the general plan for the development of the Prince George townsite on the Indian Reserve. The laying out of the townsite will be according to the description as shown above.

The Indian reservation comprises an area of 1366 acres. The vacant land lying north of the tracks will be utilized by the operating department of the railroad, and freight yards, etc., will be laid out thereon. The southern boundary line of the Indian reserve is two miles long.

Connaught Park is situated in a position which includes a local hill which commands a splendid view of all the townsite area. It will be noticed that the townsite is laid out in such a manner that the streets converge upon Princess Square, designed to form a civic centre.

The Indian graveyard, of which so much was heard some years ago, when townsite promoters were endeavoring to block the sale of the Indian land to the railway company, lies at the extreme southeast corner of the site. It is slightly larger than one of the city blocks.

Patrecia Avenue, which runs in a northwesterly direction across the townsite from its southwest corner, follows a bench of land. The southern road on this twin highway will follow the upper edge of the side-hill, and the northern road the lower level.

The station location is 1000 feet from the Fraser river, and 6000 feet from the eastern boundary of the boundary of the Fort George group. the measurements being on the line of the railway, crossing the reserve at a tangent. From the northern boundary line of the south Fort George townsite a distance of 6500 feet separates it from the depot. The same distance exists between the eastern boundary of the Fort George group. From the business centres of the towns now here, South Fort George on the Fraser river and the Fort Georgee group on the Nechaco, to the Prince George depot the following distances are found: From Hamilton avenue, South Fort George, 6500 feet. From Central Avenue, Fort George group, 9000 feet.

The lots on the Prince George townsite, it is understood, will have a frontage of 50 feet.

The whole area shown in the plan above is well adaptable for the site of a townsite beautiful, particularly the land near the Fraser river. About half way across the site the gravelly formation of the jack-pine flats begins. On the Fraser river the soil is very fertile and the townsite is covered with green timber.

In the clearing of the reserve, which will begin immediately, the park areas will be left in their natural state, but otherwise the whole site will be cleared, including the government lots.

It is the intention of the railway company to clear and survey the land as soon as possible. They plan to put the site on the market this fall. We received information from the railway company this week to the effect that as soon as Sir Richard McBride returned from his vacation in California definite information would be forthcoming as to the division of lots with the British Columbia government.

WILL SCOW SUPPLIES FROM END OF STEEL

Mr. Russell Peden, vice-president of the Northern Lumber company, left on the last stage for Tete Jaune Cache, going by way of Ashcroft and Edmonton. Mr. Peden goes to arrange for the shipment of freight consigned to his company here at the earliest possible moment in the season of navigation, which may be expected to open early next month. President Cooke of the company, informs us that there is 130 tons of mixed freight at the Cache for their store and mill here at the present moment.

Mr. Peden will build a fleet of four scows in which this early freight will be brought down. These four scows will be lashed together and handled by one crew. In places where the water is bad they will be separated and taken through the dangerous water one at a time by the whole crew.

A sixty-ton scow, to be shoved ahead of the steamer Quesnel, owned by the Vancouver-Quesnel navigation Company, a subsidiary concern to the Northern Lumber and Mercantile Co. will also be built at the Cache, under Mr. Peden's supervision.

EXPLAINS LICENSE REFUSAL.

A reply to a communication from the local Conservative Association from Attorney General Bowser, was received this week, with reference to the refusal of his department to grant a licence to the Empress Hotel. Hon. W. J. Bowser states that it is against the policy of the government to garnt licences in the zone of Grand Trunk Pacific construction. Mr. Bowser apparently has good grounds for his decision in this matter and since the arrival of his communication the indignant attitude of the association here has somewhat subsided. Doubtless, in time, the Empress Hotel will receive the coveted permit to sell booze, and in the meantime the people of this place must be content to await the indulgence of the government, having made their wishes in the matter uncompromisingly plain and explicit.

The effect of the refusal of the department, however, although doubtless justified as shown in Mr. Bowser's explanation, works a hardship on the town, for the planned addition to the hotel will not be built until the licence is forthcoming as circumstances will not justify the large expense involved for the small profits of a temperance hotel in such a country as this.

Name "Prince George" Stands

"The western section of the Grand Trunk Pacific will be completed by November 1914, and it will possess the lowest grades of any transcontinental railway in America." This message was given out by Mr. Morley Donaldson, the vice president of the railway, in Vancouver last week on his way from Prince Rupert to Winnipeg. The railway will, according to Mr. Donaldson, have a maximum grade of one per cent, eastbound and of six per cent westbound. He reports that track construction is proceeding satisfactorily and that there is no scarcity of labor.

"Steel has been laid up to Mile 199 from Prince Rupert east, but there will be a delay of some five or six weeks, pending the completion, steel laying will be resumed at the rate of two miles a day, and we hope, despite the necessity for several other bridges, to keep the steel-layers well up with the graders and have work well in hand by the end of the coming fall.

"Onthe eastern section steel has been laid as far as Raushuswap where it was stopped by a big bridge but this was expected to be now practically complete. If this is the case tracklaying will at once be resumed and continued without interruption though there will be some delay owing to heavy rock cuttings in several places.

"The situation is very much better than it was last year, both as to labor and the supplies. We have no difficulty now in securing all the labor we need, and the winter was so favorable that we were able to b in down large amounts of supplies on the ice to below Fort George. These include steam shovels and other machinery as well as a large stock of food and other supplies, so that there will be no delay in that regard this year."

Mr. Donaldson confirms the report that it was the intention of the Grand Trunk Pacific company to designate their station as Prince George and not as Fort George. On this point he told his Vancouver interviewer: "We have our townsite and we have a right to call it by any name we please. It is true that it adjoins Fort George, but that is no reason why we should be bound down by any old name. In due course we shall open our station and call it Prince George, and in due time also we shall place our townsite on the market under the new name. That is our desision and it is irrevocable."

OUR contemporaries of the coast have become gravely concerned by the announcement of the fact that the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway company will name their townsite on the Indian Reserve here Prince George. The organized effort of the interests behind the movement now on foot to cajole or mislead the government into refusing the application for the registration of the name would seem to have successfully extended their influences to such of the newspapers aforesaid as have given prominence to the absurd line of argument they advance in the discussion of the incident. We can see no other pretext for their vehemence in the matter.

It would be an unpardonable reflection upon the good judgment of the government to anticipate any consequences that would embarrass the railway company in this matter, arising from the lobbying, the ill-advised newspaper criticisms, or the deluge of letters and telegrams from the scores of lot-holders, promoter's hirelings and hangers-on. The value of these people's property is threatened in some degree by the fact that the Grand Trunk officials have found it advisable to place their property here on the market under a different name to that which has been played to the limit by the promoters of the Fort George townsite and they combine in protest accordingly.

We do not feel justified in devoting a great deal of space to the discussion of this matter, as it is inconceivable that the arrangements of the railway company can be interfered with in the naming of one of their most important townsites, but we wish to record the fact that, contrary to the deluding articles which have appeared in the coast press, the independent business interests here are very well satisfied with the decision of the railway company in the matter.

On the point of interference, the quoted remarks of Mr. Morley Donaldson, vice-president of the company, which appear elsewhere in this issue, are reassuring and very conclusive.

To review the situation: Let it be remembered that the name of Fort George was given to the Hudson Bay post here by Simon Fraser of the Northwest company over 100 years ago. The Hudson's Bay company never took any steps to protect their right to the name that had been created by their pioneer, and it was seized upon some years ago by a townsite concern who applied it by registration to a part of their huge group of subdivisions. This enterprising concern has traded ever since upon the indisputable fact that it was selling the "legal registered townsite of Fort George." That this townsite was a huge mass of 25-foot lots strewn over a jackpine flat behind the Indian reserve did not weigh with the far-flung crowd of lot-buyers who were fooled and dazzled by such statements as that above quoted.

Then it must be taken into consideration that the name of Fort George has not been altogether clear of unpleasant associations in the field of realty investment. Controversy, libel suits, exposures and accusations have raged around the "legal registered townsite" and its promoters, and considering the fact that the actual importance of this whole townsite area—the good, the bad and the indifferent—always rested upon the fact that the railway company's townsite on the Indian reserve was a futurity, it is not to be expected that the Grand Trunk Pacific railway would place their townsite on the market as an addition to the townsite of Fort George (the legal registered one) or descend to the making of arrangements with the owners of the worked-out name, for the joint use of it, one or the other of which contingencies were necessary under the circumstances.

APROPOS of the situation which has arisen in the application of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway company, which is the subject of the foregoing comment, it would appear about time that the provincial government rectified the acts under which it is possible for such situations to arise as that which confronts them in this instance.

It will be remembered that some years ago, when the railway company was preparing to put on the market the townsite of Prince Rupert, their western terminus, that some unscrupulous individual of an active turn of mind, caused both the Grand Trunk railway and the provincial government some embarrassment by filing a plan of some unimportant subdivision and registering thereon the name of "Prince Rupert." Subsequently the government, in justice to the railway company, advertised in the press the fact that the Prince Rupert referred to must not be confused with the important town which was then being laid out on Kaien Island.

It would seem quite reasonable that a railway bisecting an unpeopled land and opening up its resources should be allowed to so far protect its interests as to be permittod to hold such titles for projected townsites as would best serve its purposes, for otherwise real estate people, taking advantage of the situation, can step in as they have done here, and by securing the sole right to the use of a name, put the railway in the position of having to register their town as an addition to the subdivision which has usurped the name desired, or change the name with results similar to those which mark the present instance.

The Dominion government expenditure for the past year will reach a sum in the neighborhood of $154,000,000, while the revenue will probably total $170,000,000, or more. For the year ending March, 1912, the revenue was $136,108,217, and expenditure $98,161,440. These figures give an illustration of the way the country is growing. Canada continues to enjoy a period of unrivaled prosperity which there is no indication of coming to an end. The onward march of progress is becoming yearly more pronounced, as why should it not with almost unlimited natural resources.

FARM EXPERTS TO BE APPOINTED

Department of Agriculture Will Commence Work of Demonstration Farms the Coming Season.

Mr. W. E. Scott, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, announced recently in Victoria, that the government has under consideration the appointment of two expert officials in horticulture to reside in and serve the Northern country of the province. It is felt that with the rapid development which will result from the increased facilities for transportation when the Grand Trunk Pacific and other projected railways are completed through the magnificient country that there awaits the settler, ample scope will be found at no distant time for the services of men well trained both in horticulture and general agriculture.

One of these probably will be stationed at Prince Rupert, from which centre he can take charge of Queen Charlotte Island and the other islands of the Gulf, while inland his territory will include the valleys of the Upper Skeena and the Naas as far as Hazelton. Another practical agriculturist will also be appointed to look after the needs of the country between Hazelton and Fort George. This northern country, Mr. Scott stated, is, from its climate and soil conditions, certain to become a great, if not the greatest producing territory in the province, and the appointment of skilled experts to originate sound methods of cultivation and production at its start should do much to assist in its rapid progress.

Speaking of the development of the land that is going on all over the province today, the Deputy Minister remarked that few of the inhabitants of its cities could have any idea how much sterling work was being done. He himself was especially struck by the large demands made for stumping powder by the different farmers' institutes, one secretary writing to say that the members of his institute had no less than 500 acres ready to clear, and this was but one instance out of many. Every time a visit was paid to any particular locality there would be seen numbers of new holdings taken up, houses erected and five or ten acres around these being cleared.

The Department of Agriculture has also in contemplation the starting this year of demonstration farm work in different parts of British Columbia. This must not be confused with the experimental farm work undertaken by the Dominion Government, but will consist of demonstration plots and orchards worked by some farmer under instructions from the department, and from the results of which much valuable information is to be gathered at a trifling cost as to the possibilities of any given district for fruit-growing, fodder crops, and so on.

This is a system which has been in vogue for many years in the Netherlands, and which makes an even greater appeal to the attention of the farmers than the most perfectly equipped experimental farm, as they see on these plots, worked by one of themselves, what each may achieve on his own holding, and without making any long journeys to watch the results.

J. W. STEWART BUYS ESTATE IN SCOTLAND

The tract of the Duke of Sutherland's estate in Sutherlandshire, recently acquired by Mr. J. W. Stewart, comprises over 50,000 acres, and embraces some of the finest scenery in the Scottish Highlands. Bounded on the south by Loch Assynt and the river Inver, it includes the villages of Stoer, Achmelvich, Inver and takes in the townships of Stoer, Achmelvich, Inver, Kylesku, etc.

Mr. Stewart is a native of Drumberq, Sutherlandshire, and emigrated to Canada close on thirty years ago. He is a partner of the firm of Foley Welch & Stewart. It was a cherished desire of Mr. Stewart's to possess a portion of his native land, including the district where he was born. That desire, by his purchase from the Duke of Sutherland, has now been realized.

TELEGRAPH BUILDING ON THE G. T. P.

Wire Service Being Rapidly Installed on Branch and Main Lines as Coestruction Is Pushed Forward.

W. J. Rooney, superintendent of construction in charge of the Grand Trunk Pacific telegraph service, announced that arrangements had been completed for telegraph and telephone construction work to be undertaken this year throughout the western provinces.

This announcement is a practical forecast of the coming season's activity, because it is the custom of all railways to have telegraph construction follow immediately behind the pioneer or tracklaying machines.

The season's work includes the erection of a line from Harte to Brandon, the completion of the Regina International Boundary and Regina Moose Jaw branches, extension from Moose Jaw northwest; completion of the Young Prince Albert branch; work on the Battleford section, through the Cut Knife district; extension from Biggar southwesterly, and the completion of the Tofield Calgary line.

In addition to this, a large force of men is already engaged building on the main line between Tete Jaune Cache and the Shushwap river, in this province, carrying the permanent wire service of the railway company to a point up the Fraser river within 260 miles of this place, and in the Pacific district construction work is now in progress between Mile 183, near New Hazelton, and the end of the track.

The extension of train despatching and commercial lines will be carried on simultaneously with the laying of steel.

VANCOUVER'S SIXTH ANNUAL HORSE SHOW

With each day of this modern age old records go by the board and new standards are set up that to the uninitated are indeed remarkable. For years we have heard of the onward sweep of the automobile; we have also thought, many of us, that with the popularity of the horseless vehicle the horse must sink into disuse and oblivion.

But one great fact is borne home to us, that the better class of horse is in greater demand than ever, costs more and is receiving more attention from breeders. This is proven by the intense interest taken in Vancouver, British Columbia and the entire North West, in the Sixth Annual Vancouver Horse Show, which is scheduled for April 21st., to 26th., Vancouver.

It will have 180 classes, of which 71 are for breeding purposes only; it will have over 1,000 blooded exhibits; award over 700 ribbons, distribute $8,000 in cash and donate some 20 magnificient trophies including the famous one from the Duke of Connaught for Draught Horses.

William J. Clements will be ring master. He is known from coast to coast. The opening night will be graced by the presence of Lieutenant Governor Paterson, Sir Richard McBride, Premier of British Columbia, and from advance notices a large representation from Seattle, Portland, Tacoma, Spokane, Victoria, New Westminister, Edmonton, Calgary and farther east.

An order-in-council has been passed abolishing the royalty on coal mined in the Yukon for a period of five years.

John Breckenridge, a well known western railroad contractor, is seriously ill of appendicitis in Calgary. He refuses to permit anyone to operate on him but Dr. Mewburn, who is somewhere west of Chicago, is being rushed to Calgary on a special train.

After some considerable delay for the prosecution of necessary inquiries into the costs of labor and materials, the government has awarded the contract for the erection of the new courthouse at Quesnel to Harry Joyce, of that town, whose tender was at a price of $22,000. Work on the contract will be initiated almost immediately, states a Victoria press despatch of recent date.

What We Have We Hold

FORT FRASER, Central British Columbia, has the ideal townsite location on the entire line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway in British Columbia. : : : :

It has also many natural resources and advantages not possessed by other townsites.

It has a sparkling lake of fifty square miles of fresh water. Tremendous hydro-electric power being developed at its very door. The largest tract of agricultural land to be found in British Columbia. A healthful and ideal climate both summer and winter. One thousand miles of navigable waters reach to and from Fort Fraser.

These Are Advantages Which Cannot be Taken Away

Again, it is a natural distributing centre for a vast territory, and with the incoming of the Grand Trunk Pacific, Pacific & Hudson Bay Railway and other contemplated lines, its future as one of the coming cities of Western Canada is assured.

FORT FRASER

is already a good lively town with Government office, telegraph office, postoffice and various lines of trade already established there.

Lots can be obtained at from $200.00 upwards with cash deposit of 10 per cent. cash, and 5 per cent. monthly without interest or taxes.

WILLOW RIVER
BRITISH COLUMBIA

At the confluence of the Fraser, Salmon and Willow Rivers. The first town of importance to be established in Central British Columbia on the Main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. By those who are in close touch with the true conditions, Willow River is regarded as being a town of future great importance in the heart of "Canada's Inland Empire." This fact, plus the fact that Willow River will be an important lumbering, mining and agricultural centre, makes property in this new town desirable from either a business or investment standpoint. Willow River property has been purchased by merchants and investors throughout Canada and United States. Although the town was only established October 16th, 1912, a number of lots have been resold at decided profits, while other purchasers refuse to sell at even twice the prices paid. The business portion only of Willow River is now on the market—the survey of the residence portion has recently been completed and this portion of the town will be placed on the market in the near future. There are a limited number of lots available in the business portion at the original prices. Easy Terms. No Interest. Clear and perfect title direct from the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. The Original and Official Townsite of Willow River is located on Lot 785; Station Site approved by the Board of Railway Commissioners March 26th, 1912, Order No. 16179. REMEMBER THAT. IMPORTANT ... IN LOCAL REALTY

Several Sales Closed This Week Show Upward Trend of Local Real Estate Market.

One of the largest deals in inside realt estate which has yet been put through, was closed this week by Messrs. Wesley and Wiggins, a local real estate firm. This was the sale of Lot. 931, adjoining the Indian reserve on the south side, by Dr. McLennan, secretary of the J. D. McArthur Construction Company, to a syndicate of South Fort George business men for $1500.00 an acre. The total purchase price was $35,000.00.

Other real estate deals this week were the sale of two lots in block 11 sold to the Blair brothers, on which they will build a large corrugated iron warehouse, and a lot on Third street was purchased by Mr. Jorgenson as a site for a bowling alley and shooting gallery.

THE UNDESIRABLES.

Following an interview with H. W. Flannigan, of Mile 160 B. C., one of the contractors up river, the Edmonton Bulletin says :

The I. W. W.'s, who next to the whiskey bootleggers, are the most hated and feared enemies of the contractors, are again busy along the line. Over ten thousand men are at work on this stretch of country and the I. W. W. agitators are busy among them crying for better conditions in camps, wages and many other things.

Speaking of the camp question over which such a hue and cry was raised last year, Mr. Flannigan said that on the 96 miles from 160 on, nothing could be said against the camps. "I have railroaded most of my life all over this western continent, and I don't believe that anywhere have I seen more sanitary camps. We keep everything clean, the camps are located in the best possible places for drainage and health purposes."

INFORMATION

Correspondence regarding investments in this section will be dealt with in these columns.

Hugo, Colo. U. S. A.

I am owner of lots 1 and 2 Block 7, District Lot 934, and would like your opinion as to the advisibility of holding same, for an investment or a business property, or selling at present time. About what is their present value, and do you consider the location of the lots good. Would also like to know what the chances would be for a person with a good team of horses in your country this summer? J. K.

Your lots are good property, but are out of the business section. The residential section will grow up somewhere in that vicinity. I would advise you to hold them. At present they are not worth more than $300 each. The property immediately to the north of these lots sold here this week to local buyers for $1500 an acre, en bloc.

There will be any amount of work here this year for teams at good remuneration.

Saskatoon, Sask.

I would esteem it a favor if you can let me know as near as possible the value of property or lots in Lot 483, close-in acreage, as was advertised in your paper of February 8th. and also what lots are worth in Fort George District Lot 2610, and if you could recommend me where to buy a 50 foot lot, near in, cheap, that I could build on next year some time. H. D.

Lot 483 offers a good investment in acreage. It is well located and is excellent land. Much of this property has sold in the local market. This speaks well for it.

Lots in 2610 are a poor buy in my opinion. This sub-division is perhaps a generation ahead of the times. We will not advise you to buy in any particular location as this is not a real estate journal, but if you are looking for a business location now would say that the present business centre of this section is contained between the boundaries of Fourth Street and Hamilton Avenue, in this townsite. Lots are 33 feet in frontage and range in price from $300 to $1200 in the business section.

About 125 persons attended the lantern service given by Rev. C. M. Wright in the Fort George Theatre on Sunday evening. A series of 80 excellent slides had been procured for the occasion, illustrating an old and popular story entitled "Christie's Old Organ", and as the story was read by the minister the various scenes were projected on the screen and numerous suitable musical selections rendered by the choir organized for the evening.

Occasionally similar services will be held under the auspices of Knox Church, and undoubtedly even larger crowds will take advantage of the opportunities afforded.

Mr. Wright and the committee in charge desire to express their gratitude to the management of the theatre for the use of the building, and to the members of the choir who so successfully assisted in the musical part of the service.

LOCAL AND DISTRICT

The automobiles on the Cariboo road are now running as far as Quesnel.

Mr. Russell Peden is transplanting a number of green spruce trees from the woods to his garden at Riverview.

During April regular services will be held in Knox Presbyterian Church every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Subday school at 2.30.

Captain Doherty, of the Steamer Quesnel came up on the last stage to get the sternwheeler ready for launching early next month.

George E. McLaughlin, manager of the Northern Lumber and Mercantile Company is in Edmonton. He will return here in about ten days.

The river is rapidly breaking up, and is no longer safe for travel. Horses were crossed on the ice this week for the last time this season.

Max Schenk, a pioneer of the Nechaco country, has entered into the business of locating pre-emptors. He makes his headquarters in this town.

Mr. John R. Campbell, of the Fort George Drug Company, received his commission this week as a Justice of the Peace. Mr. Campbell sat on his first case last Wednesday, and with Justice Perkins fined some drunk and disorderlies.

A. K. Bourchier, travelling freight agent for the British Columbia Express company, left here last Tuesday for Tete Jaune Cache on the business of the company. He will accompany Captain Busey down the river from the head of navigation in a canoe.

Tommy Williams, who was brought before the local justices last Monday on a charge of theft, was committed for trial. Mr. Neville Montgomery prosecuted the case, and in the absence of other profesional legal talent Mr. A. G. Hamilton acted for the defence.

Contractor J. H. Macpherson arrived this week from the upper river to commence his contract for clearing the Indian reserve. This is in preparation for the surveyors who will arrive shortly to lay out the Prince George townsite. Work will be commenced on the clearing almost immediately.

Messrs. Walter Adams and Chas. Westoby failed to carry through the deal they had on foot to purchase W. Ewing's butcher business here. They could not make terms with the Quesnel farmer. They have purchased Rigg's building at the corner of Second and Laselle, and will conduct their business from there.

Harry Close, of the mercantile firm of Close & Brown Co. Ltd., left here on Tuesday's stage bound for Edmonton, and Winnipeg. Mr. Close will buy the balance of the stock required for his company's business, and will return by way of Tete Jaune Cache after having attended to the shipping of the goods over the new route. Mr. Close looked forward with a good deal of pleasure to the trip down the wonderful old Cariboo road, "a journey" he stated to The Herald, "of which I never tire."

Rev. C. M. Wright, who has been laboring in this district as the representative of the Presbyterian Church for nearly the past three years, received on last Saturday's mail official announcement of his appointment as a commissioner from the Presbytery of Westminister to the General Assembly which meets in Toronto on the first Wednesday of June. Mr. and Mrs. Wright expect to leave about May 20, and will also attend the great Missionary Congress which will be held in Massey Hall on the eight days immediately preceding the general assembly.

Al Young, the veteran stage driver, who has brought the mail, passengers and express into town during the past winter, has been taken off the drive to do veterinary work on the stage horses between here and Ashcroft. Al. is one of the best-known stage drivers in North America. His drive has been taken by another old-timer, Jimmy Gannon, who has handled the ribbons on the Cariboo road for many years past. Jim has not driven stage for the past year, however, as during that period his smiling face and nimble hands have dispensed good cheer and liquid refreshment behind George Ward's bar in Ashcroft.

TRAFFIC TOPICS

EXPRESS CHARGES

Twenty cents a pound looks a lot, doesn't it? Yet to haul every pound of express matter from Ashcroft to Fort George we have to use 76 horses, employ 5 experienced stage-drivers and hire 20 good hostlers. Not much left of 20 cents after feeding and stabling horses and paying the men's board and wages, is there? Wages and feed have advanced 25 per cent in Cariboo these last few years. Our charges have remained stationary. Besides, the Railway Commissioners allow Express companies to charge three times freight rate. We charge less than double while our service is three times as quick. Could you, or would you, give the public as square a deal as we are trying to do?
