OVER ONE HUNDRED CHILDREN ARE KILLED.

CAUGHT LIKE RATS IN A TRAP---ARE TRAMPLED AND BURNED TO DEATH.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 6.---One hundred school children were killed, scores injured, many probably fatally, in a fire which attacked and burned the Lakeview public school, in Collingwood, a suburb of this city, Wednesday. The fire broke out so suddenly that the children were trapped in the rooms. In the terrific panic which followed the little ones were knocked down and many trampled to death. Others were so badly injured that all chances of escape were taken from them.

The Collingwood fire department had no extension ladder, and were unable to reach the children on the third floor of the building. The fire started from an unknown cause under the stairway leading to the third floor, on the lower floor where the high school students were, with a way of freedom open to to them. Above them were the children of the lower grades and primary who were caught in a trap. Assistance from the Cleveland fire department was quickly on the scene, and the firemen fought heroically to reach the imprisoned little ones, but their efforts were unavailing. When the fire was finally under control the searching of the ruins were begun. Thirty bodies were recovered inside of an hour, and the houses of the neighborhood turned into morgues with the bodies of the children ranged in rows.

In many instances identification is impossible as the bodies are burned beyond recognition.

LIVERPOOL MAN BUYS RANCH.

J. C. RAUCHE'S RANCH SOLD THIS WEEK FOR $4,000.

McMURDO, B. C., March 7.---(Special by Telephone to the Times.) Mr. J. C. Rauch has sold his beautiful ranch to Mr. J. R. Morgan, of Liverpool, Eng., for $4.000. Thos. O'Brien, solicitor of Golden, has the deal in his hands, and is now awaiting a reply from Mr. Morgan's trustees in Liverpool.

Mrs. Morgan and family will arrive in Golden from England early in April.

The police force of Vancouver is to be increased by the addition of sixteen men.

NOT GOING TO KEEP IDLE.

TWO MILLION DOLLARS WORTH OF RAILS FOR THE C. P. R.

The Canadian Pacific's order for 65,000 tons of rails will involve over $2,000,000.

The price was not given out, and, in fact, never is, except in the case of government contracts, but it is safe to say that it was somewhat in the vicinity of $33 a ton.

The order is significent in many ways, and means, for one thing, that the C. P. R. is not going to rest on its oars merely because there happens to be a slight business reaction.

With the money that is derived from its new stock issue, it is going full steam ahead in the work of extensions, double tracking, and re-tracking where the present rails are worn.

Both the "Soo" and Dominion Steel officials have been busy a long time upon the specifications, and the C. P. R. rail, which is to weigh 85 pounds.

CHINESE WANT $159,000 DAMAGES.

THIS IS THE AMOUNT THAT THE CHINESE CLAIM FOR SEPTEMBER RIOTS.

VANCOUVER, March 3.---News was brought by the Monteagle that the Chinese merchants of Vancouver have forwarded claims for damages in the riots of last September amounting to $159,000 to the Chinese government for collect.

Orders have been sent to the Chinese embassador at Washington to send one of the members of the legation to Vancouver to make inquiries with regard to the damage done.

This is the first time China has made claims against a foreign power for damages sustained by her subjects at the hands of foreigners, though monetary indemnities have been frequently paid to the subjects of the treaty countries in China for damages during the last sixty years.

It was not learned when the Chinese emissary is expected to arrive here.

DIED IN JAIL.

VANCOUVER, Feb. 29.---William Chedwick, prisoner in the city jail, died suddenly today. There is evidence of poisoning, but the police are puzzled as to how the drug was smuggled to him.

OUR "SOCIETY" COLUMN.

Owing to the bashfulness of our reporter in gathering news by "asking many questions" (Vide Golden Star) we shall feel grateful to all our kind friends of the male persuasion who have to "pay the piper" if they will help us in our search For "Society" items, and thus make this column of much interest to Our many readers.

The "Hosiery Club" held their weekly meeting on Tuesday afternoon in an upstairs room with closed doors and windows, so we are unable to give full reports as to what took place.

We are secretly informed however that angel-cake was served on pretty little "Boiler Plates" kindly loaned for the occasion by the "Golden Star," and that the subject most under discussion was the "Society-Column" of the "TIMES." Just as it was getting interesting a small mouse ran across the room, and with hasty exclamations of "Oh my"! "Dear me"! "How dreadful"! "Shocking"! etcetra! etcetra! the meeting dispersed.

A few old ladies of the last guard of the Conservative Party met together on Monday Evening in an upstairs office to discuss the best ways and means of rooting out "Piebald Excrescences."

The chair was taken promptly at 8 o'clock, and speakers limited to 10 minutes. There was however so much garrulousness among the old ladies, that it was not decided until nearly 2 a. m. which of the plans submitted would work best; but finally, after considerable warmth of feeling, the award was settled on that submitted by Grandma Dunn.

APOLOGIES.

We regret that we have been guilty of "handicapping" the "Golden Star," as the Editor of that paper so strenuously asserts.

We never meant to take such a mean advantage, because we consid red the present Editor of the "Star" a sufficient "handicap" in himself, to that, or any other newspaper.

RECOGNITION.

"Twinkle-twinkle little "Star"
How we wonder WHAT YOU ARE"

It is some three years since the "Golden Times" made its first appearance.

Young and inexperienced, yet willing and anxious to learn, our desire was towards journalism. After working hard to get together enough ready cash to purchase a small hand-press and a few cases of type, by diligent study and with very little help from the outside world, we set up and sent forth, with much fear and trembling, our first issue. It was a very small affair, about as big as a sheet of note-paper. Everybody tried to encourage us, and many of the leading newspapers gave us words of commendation for our enterprise and pluck, and wished us all kinds of success.

We have never had "political pop" to feed on, nor are we owned and controlled by an organized band of "Newspaper Adventurers" to further their own political aspirations. Everything we have in the way of a "printshop" has been earned by hard work and economical business methods.

In this quiet plodding way we have been able to enlarge our columns, increase our circulation, and give fair value for our modest subscription and advertising rates. Our little paper has many warm friends, and a paid up subscription list quite equal to; if not exceeding,-that of our larger self-esteemed and self-complaisant contempory "The Golden Star."

But up to last week we have been quite beneath the notice of our local luminary,—at least so he says.

Our raw and youthful attempts at journalism, - the legibility of our columns,—the "boiler-plate" stuffing,-all and everything,-has been so much below the high grade standard set up every week by that resplendant orb that it has been "humiliated"- "disgraced" -"handicapped" in its glorious work of shining on the interest of Golden.

We are a "piebald Excrescence" and should be "rooted out"-"squelched"! THAT'S US,! At last we are recogonized! We have had a free "Ad" from the "Star"!-the first one; and from this on we hope to benefit by it. We thank our local friend for his kind recognition even though long delayed. We feel sure it will be greatly to our benefit, for we know that anything he opposes will be almost sure to meet with success.

But what has caused this sudden act of recognition?

Gentle reader; did you ever stray into a barn-yard,-and stop to look over the rails of a pig-sty, and see a well-fed, self-complaisant, lazy porker stretched out with his snout in a mud-heap, dozing and sleeping away the hours? and did you not feel inclined to take up a good-sized stick and give him a prod under the ribs and wake him up?

And have you never noticed with what alacrity he jumps from his lethargy and snorts and grunts and grunts and snorts, and wants you to let him alone that he may go and lie down and slumber again?

Well,—figuratively; that is just what has happened to the "Golden Star."

In the fancied security of a strong "Corporation of newspaper Adventurer"; he has been eating lucious husks, and dreaming pleasant dreams, and folks began to wonder what the "Star" was coming to,—and whispers began to be noised about, such as "worse and worse every week," and therefore, a couple of weeks ago, in the kindness of our inexperienced heart,-figuratively; we hit him a poke under the ribs, and woke him up; and he was so surprised at the unwonted and unexpected disturbance of his peaceful reveries, that he actually summoned up enough energy to grunt and snort, and snort and grunt, though absolutely uncertain himself whether he is snorting at grunts; or grunting at snorts.

❦ ❦ ❦

But at any rate, we have gained recognition at last! We are a "piebald Excrescence"! how we are not quite certain what that classic expression may mean;-but it may possibly be something that hybridizes on the moss-covered thatches of the villas of Victoria under the "fascination of Morpheus." Or possibly it may mean one of those "excrescences" that swell up when a fellow "gets it in the neck"? And they hurt too,-don't they; little "Star"? And if you pick and scratch them, they hurt some more.

Poor little "Star"! we are so sorry! If we had only known it before hand!- Just to think, that we, a poor insignificant "piebald excrescence", in all the verdure of our youth and childish simplicity had actually "handicapped" the "Golden Star"!

But "twinkle-twinkle little Star" for we are about to speak a few words of comfort. Do you know that we are arranging to become a near neighbor of yours? We did not intend to mention it so soon, but the fact is we find ourselves growing, and our present quarters too confined; and we are receiving so much encouragement and support from the good people of our town and country who have known us for years before the "Star" shone in the Columbia Valley, that we have decided to move into more convenient premises; we anticipate the purchase of a more up-to-date plant; the enlargement of our paper; and we actually hope to find our way "into the offices of some of the Coast Dailies" (the very contingency you so much dread), and possibly we may in time find our way East as well as West! Now is'nt that dreadfully presumptions?

But we hope we may not become contaminated by too close proximity to the "Star" headquarters. We must be careful not to learn the manly art of throwing mud, and calling naughty names. We shall try and "keep our equilibrium.

And if it should ever fall to our lot to write the obituary notice of the "Golden Star" we shall try and have enough "Caps" on hand to make it "readable" "senseable", and "legible."

And then; when the remains of that charming, but somewhat erratic and irregular periodical are laid in the journalistic graveyard, the sweet ladies will plaintively sing (with a slight change of words from those on top)

"Twinkle-twinkle little "Star"
How we wonder WHERE you are."

And all Golden will join in the chorus.

FATHER LEO'S PENANCE.

MARTYRED PRIEST WORE A SHIRT OF STEEL SPIKES.

DENVER, Col., March 3.—Investigation of the murder of Father Leo Heinrichs by Giuseppe Alio, an Anarchist, as he was administering the sacrament last Friday, has revealed an austere mode of life on the part of the martyred priest approaches the penance of early monkish times.

Priest and laymen alike are astounded by a discovery made in preparing the body for burial. Next to the skin Father Leo had wrapped about his waist and upper arms heavy bands of linked steel chains, and to each link was a hook, sharpened to a needle's point, attached in such fashion that each movement of the priest caused the hooks to pierce his flesh and to remind him of the life and death of Him in whose steps he struggled to follow.

Father Leo never spoke to his fellow clergy of his mode of penance and no one in the monastery surmised it. His body and upper arms were entirely calloused, showing that when the pain became deadened because of the toughened skin, he had taken the network of claws and adjusted it so that the pain might come again with renewed force,

RECORD-BREAKING AT GRANBY SMELTER.

3450 TONS OF ORE PUT THROUGH SMELTER IN ONE DAY.

PHŒNIX, Feb. 29.—Following th new high record smelting made by the Granby Consolidated, on Wednesday of last week when 3450 were put through the eight blast furnaces of that plant in one day, as already noted, it is learned that the record made by the plant for the next day was but little less, running up to 3550 tons, and then the plant ran out of ore and the furnaces were banked a couple of hours till two trains on the way arrived. This is a total of 6800 tons of Phœnix ore smelted in two days, or 48 hours, and is a record never before attained in the Boundary or in British Columbia. Indeed the ore ran so well that the daily order at the mines of 3200 tons for the smelter when it is operating eight furnaces has been increased to 3400 tons, so that in future there shall be no shortage of ore supply at the reduction works. As it is well known, at the company's mines there is no difficulty in getting out 5000 tons of ore daily, if the order from the smelter calls for that much.

The smelter this week, while it treated but a little over 20,000 tons of ore for the seven days, will probably shatter all records next week, if things continue to run as smoothly as in the recent past.

MISLEADING THE PUBLIC.

The following which appeared in the Cranbrook Prospector on Feb. 29th, goes to show that the "Golden Star" prints everything recreant.

Kingsgate. B.C., Feb. 24.

Mr. Editor:

I am sure you do not wish to mislead the pnblic in any matter of news; hence I have no doubt you will permit me to sav, that you, as well as your fellow editor of the Herald, have been very much misled by the articles you have both quoted from the "Golden Star," alleging that an extension of time has been granted for the construction of the Kootenay Central. I am able to assure you that there is no truth in these reports. No extension of time has been granted the K. C. R The charter recently renewed was one long held by the C. P. R. in the name of the B. C. Southern, but for what purpose kept alive may be somewhat of a mystery. It has in this instance led to very unfortunate confusion.

WRECK BAY SAND RICH IN GOLD.

A BANK OF SAND A HUNDRED FEET HIGH IS RICH IN GOLD.

VICTORIA, Feb. 29—If the news brought here last week proves correct Vancouver Island will see a stampede this summer unequalled since the days of the gold rush.

On beach sands of Wreck Bay, at Sidney Inlet, on the west coast, a bank of sand a hundred feet high has been found wonderfully rich in gold. Water Myles, an old time miner of Colorado and Yukon, has just had numerous samples assayed, and results are running to justify the wildest hopes of avarice. The sand pans out five to fifteen cents to the pan, and the yield varies from $38.20 to $105.40 to the ton. There are millions of tons of raw material at Wreck Bay. Immediately being furnished with assay figures, Myles staked out and duly registered eight claims.

"In all my experience in Colorado and Yukon I have never known this equalled," he said. "Hard by this beach sands there is a plentiful supply of water and every naturtl circumstance is favorable to cleaning out the gold. I am interesting Colorado capitalists in the prospects, and development work will be commenced at once."

THE HINDUS ALLOWED TO LAND.

REFUSED ENTRANCE BY B.G. GOVERNMENT BUT PASSED BY DR. MUNRO-ALL WERE ARMED

Vancouver, March 4.---The game of shuttlecock between the provincial and Dominion governments with the Hindus as the victims, saw another round this evening when fifteen Hindus who had arrived yesterday by the Empress of Japan were admitted as immigrants by Dominion Inspector Dr. Munro.

Before they were allowed to land and while srill on the ship and before the Dominion Inspector had given his decision the new arrivals were lined up and examined by the provincial inspector. They failed to pass the examination prescribed by the Natal act, dut theprovincial officer could not prevent their landing under instructions of the Dominion inspector. Once landed the constables of the Canadian Pacific Railway company forcibly kept the Hindus from returning to the ship where they are ordered by the provincial order. The latter was powerless against the force of special constables and in deed against the Hindus themselves for the latter certainly do not wish to return to their native land.

Accordingly the provincial police arrested entire party and took them to jail. Upon being searched each Hindu was found carrying a hatchet.
