A MURDER IN GREENWOOD

Samuel Feora, an Italian, Killed in a Shack Near Depot Wednesday Last

ROBBERY SUPPOSED TO HAVE BEEN OBJECT

The Murdered Man Is Said to Have Had a Considerable Money on His Person—Evidence Given Before Coroner—Verdict of Jury.

Wednesdey evening about 7 o'clock Chief McLaren received a 'phone from the depot that a man had either committed suicide or had been murdered in a shack near the railroad track. He immediately notified Coroner Jakes and together they proceeded to a shack about 200 yards from the depot, where they found Samuel Feora, an Italian section hand, lying on the floor of the cabin. On examination of the body by Dr. Jakes it was found that the man had been dead four or five hours.

Thursday morning a jury was empannelled, composed of James Kerr, (foreman), Robt. Leach, David Beath, I. Robt. Jacobs, Berry Yuill and W. O. Wright, who visited the cabin. An adjournment was taken until 3 o'clock to allow Dr. Foster to make a post mortem of the body, when the following evidence was taken:

Dr. Foster: Made a post mortem examination on body of deceased. Found man about 5 feet 4 inches in height, about 50 years of age, and the body well preserved. On examination I found a found a large lacerated wound on left side of head and in front of ear, wound about two inches in length, edges everted and ragged. On left side, behind the ear, I found another wound with edges inverted and depressed. Around these wounds was a great deal of charring. By probing these wounds I found the one on the right side to pass upwards and forwards, and the one on the left downwards and backwards. On removing skull cap I traced the right wound through the roof of auditory canal and found the wing of the sphenoid bone splintered. On left side I found body and wing of sphenoid bone splintered. Base of cerebellum corresponding to this point was badly lacerated. On turning skull cop and brain over, a bullet dropped out, which must have been embedded in the substance of she brain. On examination of the brain I found it normal Edges of two wounds were apparently wounds of entrance, but upon careful examination of base of skull and brain substance I was unable to trace second bullet. The two passages apparently communicated, and the second bullet either went out through the opening of the first or was embedded in the deep muscles. Examined membranes of brain and found them normal with exception of laceration caused by bullet. Both were bullet wounds. Both wounds were charred, so it is not probable that shots were fired from out. side of cabin. Found all the organs normal.

Chief McLaren: Last night about 7 o'clock I was called by telephone from C. P. R. depot and informed that there was a case of either suicide or murder in a cabin near railway track. I immediately called up the coroner. On reaching cabin found deceased lying on his right side on the floor, and blood oozing from wound behind the ear. Did not find any fire arms in the cabin. Did not find any money in pockets of deceased. Body might have been handled before I came. Was accompanied by Coroner Jakes.

Manuel Poiston, in whose cabin the body was found, was the next witness. He is employed on the C. P. R. as a section hand, and had been working all day. When he came home at 6 o'clock he found his cabin locked as usual. On opening it and lighting a candle, discovered blood on floor, and on further examination saw hand of deceased under bed. He then went out of cabin and called for help. Joe Feora, a son of deceased came, and pulled body from under the bed. Witness then went to section house to call foremen. Came back to cabin and informed Joe that police had been summoned by section foreman, then went back to depot. Feora lived with his son in a cabin a few yards distant from that in which he was found. Witness lived alone in cabin but had a partner for about three months. Partner was a Swiss and left a month ago for Grand Forks. About five weeks ago a stranger came to my cabin who claimed to be from Northern Italy, my home. The stranger is known as French Joe. He speaks both Italian and French. He stopped two or three days with me. Joe wanted to borrow money from witness, but was refused a loan. Claimed he was stopping at the St. Charles hotel. Had key of cabin three or four days. Often when he came home at night he found stove warm and bread and butter,etc., missing. Some one had come into his cabin one night and eaten all his beans. French Joe had shown him a 38-calibre revolver. Told Joe that Northern Italians did not use guns or knives. Joe had again called at his cabin about ten days ago. Witness produced key of cabin.

Robert H. Robinson, section foreman, gave evidence as to telephoning for police and that deceased had worked with him on west end of section in forenoon of Wednesday, but had not shown up for work in the afternoon.

Joe Feora, son of deceased, said he was 19 years of age. He worked on section on the branch to Mother Lode mine. Had been living with his father in cabin since last May; worked may and June on main line and was then transferred to branch line; saw deceased last Wednesday morning; both had breakfast and left cabin together; went to work on Mother Lode branch; at six o'clock didn't go to depot with rest of men, but got off car apposite Greenwood street and went to postoffice; got home about 6:30 and commenced getting supper; heard Manuel call "Sam, Sam"; I asked him what he wanted; he replied that there was one man in the shack dead; I said who dead man; he said don't know, you come too and see, I am afraid; I then went into the shack with him and got a candle and saw my father dead under bunk. I said "My God Manuel, its my father!" I knew by clothes that it was my father. I pulled him out from under the bunk; when I pulled him out I saw that his face was covered with blood; told Manuel to call somebody, and he said he would call section boss. My father had between $1,100 and $1.200 in his pocket; searched pockets for money but could not find any; carried money in pockets of pants; money was in bills and one $20 gold piece; some bills were $50, some $20 and some $10. No one knew but myself that he had money; he did not spend much money, so people must have suspected that he had money. French Joe came to our cabin about five weeks ago; never saw him before; father did not know him before; he had supper with us; after supper he said he was broke, and wanted to know if there were any Northern Italians in Greenwood. He said he had come from Butte, Mont.; he had prospected there and lost $2,000; took him over to Manuel's shack. He came back again next Sunday and talked a little while with my father; didn't stay to dinner but went to Manuel's shack. Saw him every day at depot or coming from Mother Lode; said he had contract at the Mother Lode mine. Another day while working between Mother Lode and Sunset he came and asked for tobacco from Manuel; he said he started to work at 2 o'clock; saw him in Anaconda last Sunday, but haven't seen him since. Antoine, another Italian, had seen Joe Wednesday morning.

This was all the evidence taken. The jury returned a verdict of murder by some person or persons unknown. Both the city and provincial police are working on the case.

THANKSGIVING GAME.

On Thursday afternoon at the athletic grounds a lively game of foot-ball was played between a team of Canadians and one of Little-Islanders, resulting in a score of 1 to 0 in favor of the latter.

The teams were composed as follows: Canadians—Dill, Craig, Hallett, Johnston, Grey, Hill, Harris, Appleby, Holmes, Chesterton and Atwood. Little Islanders—Smith, Cousins, Robertson, Duff, Custance, Elkins, Hodgson, Coulter, Stow, Coles and Lysons.

The game was called by Umpire Merritt at 3:45 and up to the end of the first half at 4:30, there had been no score on either side, although the ball hovered persistently around the goal of the Englishmen. In the second half both sides appeared fresh and for a half hour no score was made, then Duff with a free kick-off put the pig skin between the Canadians' goal posts. This kick won the game, for though the Canucks worked hard the superior weight of the English team began to tell and the ball was kept dangerously close to their opponents goal, but without further scoring. Some brilliant individual plays were made during the game, but neither side could be congratulated on their team work. Dill, captain of the Canadians, was the best player on the field, and was ably seconded on his side by Hallett, Chesterton, Craig and Johnston. On the side of the Englanders Smith, Cousins, Duff and Coles, with Stow as an ideal goal-keeper, played the hardest game. The teams were very evenly matched, with the exception of the Canadian goal-keeper, who was either rattled or did not know much about the game.

A return match will be played in the near future and may the best side win.

AN INDEPENDENT PARTY

FORMED THURSDAY EVENING

With the Object of Working for and Endeavoring to Secure Election of Chris Foley.

Thursday evening Uuion hall was crowded by supporters of Chris Foley in response to a call with the object of organizing for the campaign in the Boundary. Chas. Wilion, organizer for the Western Labor Union, occupied the chair and stated that the object of the meeting was for the purpose of making arrangements to carry on the campaign in the interests of Chris Foley, Independent Labor candidate. He stated what had been done so far by organized labor, and suggested that an Independent Labor party should be formed in order that all sympathizers with the cause would be enabled to work intelligently in the canvass. After a campaign committee of fifteen had been elected by the meeting, with Mr. R. J. Evans as secretary-treasurer, a motion was put to form an Independent Labor party in Greenwood. J. J. Caulfield was elected chairman and R. J. Evans secretary. Thirty names were enrollefi on the membership.

After adjournment the committee met and discussed preliminaries for carrying on the campaign. Rooms have been secured in the building formerly occupied by the Victoria restaurant, Copper street. The city has been divided into wards and committees for each ward appointed. Arrangements were made for a meeting to be held next week, at which Mr. Foley and others will address the electors.

A BOLSTER BUDGET

Settlers Will Supply the Camp With Farm Products.

MILL TO BE PLACED ON REVIEW

Two Shifts Are Working on Buckhorn Mine—New Machinery Being Installed.

BOLSTER, Oct. 18.-[Special]—Now that the settlement of the reservation is a thing of the past, everyone is directing their attention to the principal industry of the camp—mining. For the yast two or three weeks mining has not received that attention which it deserved, being side-tracked naturally by the opening of the reserve. This latter event, while it did not come up to expectations, still leaves room for a great improvement in a general way, By next summer the farmers who live around Bolster will supply the camp, whereas now all eatibles are shipped from the Okonogan. Farm products will be cheapened thereby.

THE REVIEW.

Everybody expects great things of the Review. The making of a dividend payer of that property is a foregone conclusion. There yet remains but about 60 feet of tunnelling to be done to tap the main lead, and after that is done the company, so it is reported, will place a mill on the property. Already a great deal of attention has been directed towards this property which is the most completely developed one of the camp.

BUCKHORN.

The Buckhorn, on Copper mountain, continues steadily at work. Two shifts are now working a 400-foot tunnel about 300 feet below the main lead which is expected to cut the ledge at about 400-foot depth. A new Sibley has been insalled in the workings. The company operating this group of claims is a very strong one, and it is their intention to erect a smelter at a near date. The site is admirable and the ore can be easily trammed from the dump to the smelter.

Everyone is iooking forward to a good winter in mining circles. The Myers creek district is beginning to receive more than the ordinary attention from outside quarters, and this together with the many people who were alert for investments consequent upon the opening of the reserve, leads everyone to believe that more money will be spent this year than for that of any time past.

Several transfers in mining property have taken place during the past two weeks, the most important of which was the sale of the O. K. and O. K. fractional to the Yakema Mining company. The figures have not been given out, but it is understood that it was way up in the thousands of dollars.

A representative of Patsy Clark has been here for the past week looking over some of the properties of the camp

The board of trade is now an incoroorated body.

CANDIDATE FOLEY.

The following brief sketch of the life Christopher Foley, who is now the candidate for the electoral district of Cariboo-Yale-Kootenay, is forwarded by Mr. James Devine, of the Independent Labor Party of British Columbia, Rossland:

Christopher Foley was born in Toronto i 1848. Five years later his parents removed to Paris, Ont., where he worked on his father's farm until he was 14 years of age, when he started out in life for himself, going to the southern part of the United States, where he travelled extensively until 1866, when left the south and went west. Reaching the mountain country he commenced prospecting, and has mined and prospected with varying success from the City of Mexico to the Fraser river. In 1889 he settled in Vancouver, where he engaged in contracting, and succeeded by close attention to business in accumulating considerable money, which he invested in Vancouver real estate. The panic in '93 and the slump in real estate which accompanied it hit Mr. Foley hard, and he was compelled to sacrifice much valuable property and to seek new fields. Two years later he came to Rossland, and commenced as a workings miner in the Commander mine. Since then he has followed the occupation of a miner and has worked in several mines of the camp, at present being employed in the Centre Star mine. He had been a resident of Rossland but a few months when he became a member of Rossland Miners' Union No. 38. His fellow members at once recognized his great executive ability and thrust him to the front. Always refusing to hold many offices proffered him, he has almost ever since his admission into the union been a member of the executive board, a most responsible position, and one which of en calls for the most hard practical sense, which Mr. Foley has in a remarkable degree. aud his influence with the Rossland Union. as well as with the whole Federation has been great. The recent conventions of the Western Federation of Miners has chosen him to represent this province on the executive board of that great organization, and in that position he has shown marked ability Three or four years ago Mr. Foley commenced the study of social questions, and that study has placed him in the front rank of the social and political reformers of the Dominion. Interviewed after he accepted the nomination, Mr. Foley said: "I do not want the nomination, but under the circumstances when the convention asked me to be the standard-bearer, I would indeed have been a traitor had I refused. In accepting it I considered the cause instead of myself."—Vancouver World.

GRIP AND PASSWORD.

A couple of weeks ago the Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias moved from their hall at the corner of Greenwood and Government streets to the Masonic temple, where both societies now hold their regular weekly meetings, the former on Tuesday and the latter Wednesday evenings.

On Saturday evening of last week Harry H. Watson, grand master A. F. & A. M. of British Columbia, paid an official visit to Greenwood lodge About fifty members of the order were present. After the regular lodge business a banquet was served in the reception room. While here Mr. Watson was driven out to a number of the mines and was taken through the workings of the Mother Lode by Supt. Hutchins.

Wednesday evening the members of Greenwood lodge, K. of P., gave a banquet to F. T. Abbott in the reception room of the Masonic temple on the eve of his departure from the city. Mr. Abbott was also the recipient of a handsome K. of P. charm from the members of Greenwood lodge. Since the institution of the order here Mr. Abbott has held the position of chancellor commander of the lodge, and to his efforts is due much of the success of the order in the city. Werner & Pittock were the caterers and provided an excellent repast.

Last night Grand Master W. E. Johnston of Vancouver paid an official visit to Boundary Valley Lodge, I. O. O. F. He was accompanied by A. H. Blackeby of Toronto, who s connected with the relief branch of the order, and F. E. Cooper and A. L. Clements of Grand Forks. The Grand Master gave a lecture on the secret work of the order, and Mr. Blackeby gave a splendid address. After the lodge business was concluded a banquet was served in the reception room by E. Kerfoot, the Greenwood street caterer. Speeches were made by Messrs. Blackeby, Johnston, Law, Clements, Cooper, McKinnon and McKay, and songs were sung by Messrs. J. P. Harlan and James Kerr.

MURDER AT GOLDEN.

A. Dando was shot through the heart at Golden Saturday morning and F. Collins is under arrest charged with the murder.

Dando, while on a spree, got into trouble with Collins by doing some damage to a house and Collins went to get a warrant for his arrest, but was told to return within an hour. Instead of this he went to the Hotel Dolphine, where he found Dando in bed, and as he entered the room he exclaimed, "It's all off with your brains." Immediately he fired two shots, one of them penetratfng Dando's heart, killing him instantly.

Dando was formerly a member of the Northwest Mounted Police. Collins is a painter by trade, and for some time lived in Vancouv r.—Inland Sentinel.

UNION LABEL — TYPOGRAPHICAL — GREENWOOD

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1900.

THE puhlicatien day of the Miner has been changed from Friday to Saturday. The trains now running through to Midway enable us to publish on Saturday and reoch subscribers west of here as early as when formerly published on Friday.

THE last issue of the Greenwood Weekly Times would lead one to suppose that a municipal campaign is not very far distant. The mayor comes in for some very pointed compliments from the editor. If both the mayor and the editor of the Times were not possessed of an inordinate amount of egotism, they would have tumbled long ago to the fact that the citizens of Greenwood have lost all interest in their personal quarrel.

THE city is at present defendant in two actions for damages. The qustion as to the city's liability in each case will be settled by a judge and jury. Newspaper criticism should be withheld until a decision has been rendered by the court. In some parts of Canada judges have been known to consider newspaper criticism on a cause pending as an attempt to prejudice the case Such criticisms by the press are not usual, and the Times, we believe, is exceeding its duty to the public by editorial remarks that may tend to influence the jury.

THE Greenwood correspondent of the Nelson Tribune in his report of the Conservative meeting here last week, says: "As no intimation of the intention of these gentlemen to visit the chief of the Boundary towns this week and address the electors was received, other than a telegram which came to late to allow of their coming being announced in Wednesday afternoon's issue of the Greenwood Times, the attendance at last night's meeting was not nerely so large as it would have been had more publicity been given." But it was announced in Wednesday's issue of the Greenwood Times. The fact of the matter is that electors are not very much interested yet in the campaign.

A BACK NUMBER.

Mr. John Houston, M. P. P., Nelson, has learned his lesson. He now admits that a newspaper loses all influence with the workers the moment it opposes their demands for independence of old political parties. Houston is a back number already, and he will not know what has struck him if he ever comes before the electorate again. Traitors are never forgiven.—Industrial World.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the Labor candidate for Yale-Kootenay-Cariboo does not hold similar views to those held by the editor of the Rossland Industrial World. One of the fundamental principles of the International Typographical union, of which both the editor of the Tribune and the editor of the Industrial World are members, is individual independence in all matters outside the composing room. If the editor of the Tribune is to be knifed politically for supporting the party he thinks will best govern the country, many workers in the labor ranks have been mistaken in regard union principles. John Houston has been a consistent union man for a quarter of a century, the editor of the Industrial World has been a member of a union for about one-fifth of that time. Since his first newspaper venture in British Columbia—the Donald Truth, twelve or thirteen years ago, John Houston has advocated the cause of working men. In all their fights he has been with them. Previous to the organization of a typographical union in Rossland he paid his printers 20 per cent. higher wages than any other paper in the interior of British Columbia. During the eight-hour agitation as was the only daily paper in the province that supported the men as against the Mine Owners association. If John Houston's unionism is a "back number" variety, may providence protect us from the "front number" kind advocated by the Industrial World. If the editor of the Tribune believes that the country would be benefitted by the election of one of the old party candidates, he has a right to that belief, and Mr. Foley's cause will not be strengthened by calling him a traitor and a back number. Unionists who use such arguments are either bigots or sissys, and the central committee of the Independent Labor party will gain votes by suppressing the verdant scribe of the Industrial World. If Chris Foley wins in this contest it will be by brains and the principles advocated by his party. In order to have the former commodity enter largely into the editorial part of the campaign it will be very necessary to remodelle the staff of Rossland's labor paper.

PRAIRIE JAG IN PRETORIA.

"An amusing thing happened when we were in Pretoria," writes Trooper Charlie Rubbra of the Mounted Rifles, in a letter received recently. "A day or two after the city was taken one of our fellows, in some way or another, got on a real live western jag. Riding down the main street he met a Dutchman on a bike. The wheel caused the horse to shy, making the westerner kind of hot. He told the Dutchman that while he might have owned the street a few days ago he didn't now. The latter made some nasty reply and rode off quickly. The man from the prairie then took a lasso from his saddle, gave it a couple of whirls and Mr. Dutchman came to a very sudden stop.

"After dragging the Dutchman a few yards on the end of the rope to give him the full benefit of being lassoed, a lieutenant in the imperial service rode up and threatened to have the man with the jag arrested. But the jag said something about the whole imperial army not being able to do that, and some hot words ensued. When the officer rode off with the intention of getting the westerner arrested, the the lasso whirled again, and a scene similar to that before happened, but with the officer at one end of the rope. The lieutenant stopped and very ungracefnlly dismounted. After being trailed a short distance, the man from the west said he would let up if his prisoner would reconsider his decision to have him arrested and promise not to appear against him if he was run in by anybody else. The lieutenant gave in and kept his word, so nothing was said about it. I think it will be some time before that officer will forget his short acquaintance with the man from the Canadian prairie."—Toronto World.

THE LIBERAL OBJECTED.

Two well known young men about town, one a bank clerk and the other a railway employe, became involved in a political argument regarding the question as to whether Hugh John Macdonald would or would not defeat Hon. Clifford Sifton at Brandon. The little discussion took place about 1:15 o'clock this morning at the corner of Hastings and Granville street. Each of the politicians gave evidence which would satisfy a jury that the evening had been convivial. The railway "magnet" is a Sifton man, but the bank clerk is a Conservative, by birth, training and conviction. It was quite a friendly argument until the bank clerk remarked that the Mr. Hon. Sifton was so crooked that he could not lie in bed straight. That settled it. There was no further argument. The railway man without uttering a word in reply shot out his right arm and landed with full force on the jaw of the man of finance. Then he brought over his left and landed on the banker's nasal organ, and the monetary official gently fell to the sidewalk to dream about dreaded inspectors, balances that are $2.10 out and trousers that will not remain creased. The railway man then proceeded jauntily homeward and at 1:50 the bank clerk was still reposing on the cold, cruel, hard pavement at the corner of Hastings and Granville.—Vancouver World

B. C. MINES AND MINING.

Manager Whyte of the C. P. R., and W. R. Baker, executive agent, have returned from the coast where they accompanied President Shaughnessy on his trip of inspection. Interviewed by a Free Press reporter yesterday Manager Whyte discussed the mining industry of British Columbio. Since his trip last year he noticed many changes and reported considerable progress in the towns of Grand Forks, Greenwood, Nelson, Trail, Rossland, and also new towns that are springing up. At Grand Forks a new smelter has just commenced operations and 600 tons of ore besides coke are being turned out to start work and when this has begun twenty cars per day will be shipped from the place. The smelter at Greenwood, taking the ore from the Mother Lode, run by an American company, is kept very busy. A smelter at Boundary Falls, west of Greenwood, is doing some interesting work.

The sulphur from the ores has been utilized as it comes from the flues and has been found very useful for fuel. This is a new development in smelting ores that will be of no small importanoe in cutting down fuel expenses. Such smelters have been used with great success in Colorado.—Winnipeg Free Press.

THE PET OF A WARSHIP.

Stuck up in a prominant place on the lower deck of her majesty's ship Barfleur, flagship of Rear Admiral Bruce, second in command of the British China fleet, is the portrait of a little Blackburn girl. Just before the Boxer outrages began, a party of her tars were one day grouped around a messmate who was reading a paper just received from home Presently he came upon a short paragraph which announced that a little girl, aged eight, had been fined ten shillings by the Blackburn magistrates for riding a toy tricycle on the pavement. "Let's pay her fine," suggested one of the men, and in a very few minutes twice the amount required for this purpose had been subscribed. The money was sent to the girl's parents, enclosed in a letter expressing the donor's sympathy with the child. Great was the parent's surprise when the unexpected gift reached them. The money they gave to the war funds, and sent the kind-hearted sailors a photograph of the little girl. It is this portrait that now graces the Barfleur's lower deck.—London Chronicle.

To Greenwood "Herring-backs."

The following article appears in the Vancouver World:

"Maritime Province Boys—An Association of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia Boys—A movement is on foot to form a Maratime Province association to be composed of natives of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. A small army of "blue noses" are now making their homes in this city, and the city of St. John, it is claimed, carry off the palm for numbers. Nova Scotia has also a goodly number of her sons and daughters doing well in Vancouver. His Worship Mayor Garden is a New Brunswicker and Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper is a Nova Scotian. The objects of the association would be to bring closer together the people of those two provinces whose homes are here, and also to interest them in new arrivals from the provinces by the Atlantic."

The same plan would be an excellent one for Greenwood. Capitalists of the Maritime Provinces are heavily interested in several of the Boundary creek properties and their representatives occasionaily visit our city. Were they met and entertained by a Maritime Province association they might be induced to prolong their stay in the district, and after visiting the important mining properties they might feel inclined upon their return east, to make favorable representations to their backers, and money now tied up there at 3½ per cent per annum would be turned toward British Columbia investments. I think the idea is a good one and should a meeting be called by W. G. Gaunce or some other prominent Maritime Province man to effect such organization, I have no doubt that it would be attended with success.

"HERRING-BACK."

Down in southwestern Missouri a preacher announced that in the near future he would discourse on "Hell and who will go there." The good man has been somewhat puzzled on receiving several letters from parishioners threatening all kinds of vengeance if their names are mentioned in the forthcoming sermons.

The polling for the federal election will be conducted on an entirely different plan to that for the provincial election. The act provides that not more than 300 electors shall record their votes at one polling subdivision, and that not more than two voters shall be allowed in the polling booth at any one time. This, however, does not refer to the returning officer, his clerk. the scrutineers or agents of the candidates. Polling opens at 9 a. m. and closes at 5 p. m. The above regulations will necessitate a large number of polling booths and returning officers throughout the city. In this respect the principle will be the same as that which prevailed in the general election of 1896.
