To Masters, Owners, and Persons in Charge of Foreign Fishing Vessels, and to all others whom it may Concern.

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby called to the provisions of the Revised Statutes of Canada, Chapter 94, intituled; "An Act Respecting Fishing by Foreign Vessels."

The said Act provides among other things:

1. For the granting to foreign ships, vessels, and boats, and to ships vessels, and boats not navigated according to the laws of the United Kingdom, or of Canada, of licenses to fish for, take, dry, or cure fish in British waters within three marine miles of the coasts, bays, creeks, or harbors of Canada.

2. That Fishery Officers and certain other British and Canadian Officers therein named may board ships, vessels, and boats, within any harbor in Canada, or hovering in British waters as aforesaid, and may stay on board so long as such ships, vessels, or boats, remain in such harbor or waters.

3. That any one of such officers may bring any such ship, vessel, or boat into port and search her cargo, and may examine the master upon oath touching the cargo and voyage, the master being liable to a penalty of Four Hundred Dollars for not answering truly the questions put to him.

4. That if such ship, vessel, or boat is foreign, or not navigated as aforesaid, (a) has been found fishing or preparing to fish, or to have been fishing in any such British waters as aforesaid without a license, or after the expiration of the term named in the last license granted to such ship, vessel, or boat, or (b) has entered such waters for any purpose not permitted by Treaty or Convention, or by any law of the United Kingdom, or of Canada, such ship, vessel, or boat, and the tackle, rigging, apparel furniture, stores, and cargo thereof shall be forfeited.

5. The officers aforesaid are given authority to seize and secure vessels, goods, &c., liable to forfeiture, and any person opposing an officer in the execution of his duty under the Act or aiding or abetting any person in such opposition is declared to be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to a fine of Eight Hundred Dollars, and to two years imprisonment.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1891

THE inland towns of British Columbia will come in for a good share of attention from capitalists this year. For years investments in real estate in the coast cities have paid so well that comparatively little capital has been spent in industrial enterprises, especially in the interior of British Columbia, but there are ample evidences that a change is about to take place. The wonderful resources of the country are gradually becoming known, and the reward that lies in wait for those who develop them is so certain that capitalists can no longer afford to let the good opportunities pass. Real estate investments in the towns will return a good interest, and more especially when the value of the land is enhanced by the developing of the natural resources of the country surrounding and tributary to such towns, and the establishment of manufactories, etc. Revelstoke will no doubt come in for a good share of attention. The present extensive mills here will be augmented by a large door and sash factory, in which the celebrated British Columbia cedar, that covers our mountains and valleys will be extensively used. Besides supplying the home market, which promises to be good, the bulk of the output of the factory will be shipped to the Northwest and Manitoba, where a ready market awaits it. The value of the wood for doors, sashes, pannelling, etc., is well established, and efforts will be put forth to keep the supply up to the demand. In the development of the rich mineral resources of the district, however, its prosperity chiefly depends, and the outlook in this direction is most encouraging. Though the money market is not flush, the prospects for profitable investment are such than capital will not remain long out of the field. The demand for supplies consequent upon the development of the mines which will undoubtedly be made during the coming season, will aid materially in building up the commerce of the place, and will be felt immediately upon the opening of navigation on the Columbia. The branch line of the C. P. R. to the Lakes will also form an important factor in promoting the interests of this town, and the district generally. The furnaces of the smelter here will be started as soon as sufficient ore can be secured, which in all probability will be shortly after the opening of navigation, as the C. K. S. & N. Co. will have two steamers ready for the transportation of ores from the Lakes country, and arrangements are being made for shipments of ore from the mines at Field, Rat Portage, etc., in the spring. This will mean the expenditure of many thousands of dollars weekly in the town and district, which will aid very materially in promoting the prosperity of Revelstoke particularly, and which will also be felt throughout the whole mining country. From the north wealth is also expected to roll in, from the working of the placer mines in the Big Bend. The money spent in supplies alone for these camps amounts to considerable, but when this is augmented by the rewards of the miners labors the amount will be greatly increased. Then at Illecillewaet large sums of money will be expended during the coming season, in developing some of the claims there, which cannot fail to benefit this place as well as the immediate vicinity of the mines. And now that the magnificence and variety of the scenery along the Columbia has been noised throughout the world, and the many places of interest on the river and lakes may be readily reached by steamers, very extensive tourist travel over the river between here and the Little Dalles may be expected,—in fact is assured. The benefit from such travel will be felt in many ways. To meet the wants of this travel at least two new hotels, in addition to the new Victoria, will be erected in town, as soon as the weather will permit. Altogether the prospects of Revelstoke are brighter than they have ever been before, and are certainly very encouraging.

THE bill amending the Land Act, introduced by the Hon. F. G. Vernon, Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works, makes some material changes in the law as regards actual settlers. One good feature in it is that settlers will be allowed to be absent from their holding six months in the year to earn money to pay for it. The limit is placed at 640 acres, with the object of preventing the purchase of large tracts of land for speculative purposes. If the government will now place a reasonable tax on the large wild land holdings throughout the country, it would have a tendency in the direction of dividing up for settlement some of the large tracts now held and almost unused. By the division of these farms the whole country, but the agricultural districts especially, would be greatly benefited thereby.

Mr. J. A. Mara will again represent Yale-Kootenay in the Dominion parliament. On Thursday at Kamloops he was renominated for the position, and no other nomination being made, was declared elected by acclamation. During the past week a number of his opponents made strenuous efforts to get some one to oppose him, but without effect. Mr. Mara though possessed of large interests in the district and a man of considerable influence, is not the most popular man in the district, from the fact that he is not as sociable as men in his position are generally expected to be. For this reason he is looked upon as considering himself of aristocratic caste, and rather autocratic, Those who know Mr. Mara intimately, are aware that he is never above doing a favor when it lies in his power, and the fact of his re-election by acclamation is sufficient evidence to prove that his constituents consider he has looked after their interests well during the past four years, and that he is worthy of their continued confidence. He is undoubtedly a man of great energy steadiness of purpose, and is possessed of considerable ability, and we believe the district has done well in reselecting him to the responsible position of its representative in parliament, and feel confident that he will not betray the trust reposed in him, but will work zealously for our best interests.

A SIGNAL SUCCESS.

The Entertainment on Wednesday Evening.

There was a good turn out at the school house on Wednesday evening, the occasion being a musical and dramatic entertainment in aid of the organ fund of the Methodist church. Something good was expected and the audience was not disappointed, the entertainment proving a decided success in every particular, and certainly one of the most pleasing ever held in town.

By request Dr. Brown of Westminster acted as chairman, and performed the duties of the office very acceptably.

The programme was opened with a sleighing glee by the church choir, which was given in good style. The second number was taken by Miss Maggie Robson, who displayed considerable ability as a reciter in her rendition of "No. 1," and won a generous applause. Miss Hettie Lee also recited in excellent form "A Smack in School," and won a storm of applause. The comic song "She Trotted Me off to Church," was given in fine style by Mr. Wm. Lee, who received the first encore, giving "Where Did You Get That Hat." Vocal quartettes were then given by Mrs. Dickey, Mrs. Smith and Messrs. Barber and Creelman, and Mrs. Coursier, Mrs. Cash and Messrs. Coursier and King. Mrs. Nelles, a general favorite with a Revelstoke audience, sang very sweetly "Killarney," and an encore was insisted on. One of the best numbers of the entertainment, the comic quartette "Call John," concluded the first part of the programme. It was given by Mrs. Dickey, Mrs. Smith, and Messrs. Barber and Creelman, and caused any amount of amusement. The parts were all taken well while the acting in it was first-class.

The quartette "Pro Phundo Basso" was the opening number of the second part, and in it Mrs. Creelman, Miss McLauchlin, and Messrs. Barber and King scored a decided success, and were constrained to repeat it before the audience would be satisfied. Miss Irvine contributed a taking reading in "The Bashful man," the portrayal of whose blunders provoked continuous laughter. Guy Barber, sang in capital voice, "The Old Home Down on the Farm," and won a hearty applause. The comic duet "Matrimonial Sweets" by Mr. and Mrs. Creelman, was spendidly given and caught the house. The choir sang "Allow Me to Move a Vote of Thanks," after which the farce "Two Heads are Better Than One," was called. During a wait for one of the performers Master George Boyle gave an overture on the mouth organ, which was evidently appreciated.

The farce was finally placed on the boards. The selection was a capital one for the cast, and the acting throughout was excellent. Mr. H. N. Coursier as Strange, a near sighted old gentleman with a partiality for old pictures and a rich son-in-law, did exceedingly well, while Mr. F. Fraser, as Charles Conquest, in love with the old man's niece, Ellen, and who had to pose as a dummy, performed his part like a professional. Mr. Lendrum, as Max Melton, an old man of fortune also did his part like a veteran of the stage. Mrs. Coursier was excellent in her representation of Helen Strange, with a decided liking for millinery and Chas. Conquest. Of all the characters Mr Wm. Lee had the most difficult, in Sam Melton, a silly young man, who old Strange was ambitious to secure as a husband of Ellen. It takes a clever actor to play the fool, but Mr. Lee was equal to the occasion and played his part to perfection.

The "Good Night" chorus by the choir brought the entertainment to a close. The net proceeds amounted to about $50.

The accompanyists during the evening were, Mr. Bradford, who was instrumental in getting up the entertainment; Miss Hume, Miss McLauchlin and Mrs. Cash.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

In referring to the late General Sherman the London Times says: "His death removes one of the greatest heroes of a great war and impoverishes the World's stock of military genius and renown."

The Toronto Telegram says Sir John must win this election with the help of the independent Canadians and Liberals, who love Canada more than they hate him. Gratitude for the aid given him at the time of his need ought to keep the old man from sinning in future as he did in the past. The Liberals, however, are firm in the belief that you can't teach an old dog new tricks, but you can get a new dog.

Erastus Wiman has published a long appeal to congress, in which he urges that Congress give proper encouragement to the Liberal party of Canada, in their present parliamentary struggle to put down the Tories and Sir John Macdonald's government. The appeal may be made with good intentions, but it is likely to have the opposite effect than that intended.

The Public Business of Revelstoke.

To the Editor of the KOOTENAY STAR.

Sir,—Will you kindly allow me space in your paper for a few words upon the above subject.

It seems to me the time has arrived when some definite step should be taken by those whom it it most concerns, too in some sense manage the business matter of the town in something like a business manner. There are many matters which concern all alike and about which all should take an equal interest, take for instance the late meeting held to meet the representative. Perhaps the best was done that could be under the then existing circumstances but I think and believe that had there been some sort of representative organization existing the matters most needing attention in conection with the town could have been previously talked over so arranged that they could have been placed in a much clearer and more concise manner before the meeting and much time would have been saved and more satisfactory results arrived at. And so with many other public matters that at the present moment need attention.

I would suggest that some of our business men should at once move in the matter and in the first place invite any and all concerned to meet and talk over, say "The best means of conducting the public business of the town."

Trusting this matter will be taken up and thanking you for inserting this note.

Respectfully Yours,
H. D. B.

Church of England Services.

To the Editor of the KOOTENAY STAR:

Sir, — Like most other public movements in Revelstoke the above is comparatively young and therefore for a time at least needs especial attention and care and all the help its friends can give it. So far it is not in a position to have the entire service of a minister, but has to content itself with the help of one on each fourth Sunday; the balance of the time it has to help itself in the best manner it can. Considering the time the movement has been in existence and the circumstances under which it has worked there is every reason for all to be perfectly satisfied. Still with our present resources there is plenty of room for improvement and especially on the Sundays we have no minister. We all know it is an easy matter to move with the throng when all is joy and everything satisfactory. But we all must also know there is work to be done to bring about this state of things and in this work I would ask every friend of the Church of England to lend a hand. Some are already doing their best but there are yet many who can do something and to these I would say come out and do what you can. We cannot all render music as our friends Mr. Jowett or Mrs. Cash or read the prayers or lessons, but we can do something and there is plenty to do for all who are willing to help. If we feel we cannot take any more active part we can all make a point of being present at every service and thereby encourage those who can and are willing to work. If all who have the success of the cause at heart will do this we shall I feel sure at no very distant period see matters in a very different condition and we shall all have cause to be thankful that we did not despise the day of small things. Thanking you for inserting the above.

I am respectfully yours
A CHURCHMAN.

Golden and Railway Connection South.

As it was felt an erroneous impression of the proceedings of the meeting held here on the evening of the 14 h inst. would get abroad, another was called and held at the Queen's Hotel on the 16th inst.

The meeting was representative and well attended.

A petition to Col. Baker M. P. P, was read requesting him to use his influence to induce the Government to assist and encourage any corporation or company desirous of constructing a railway between Golden and the boundary line, and to draw the attention of the government to the fact that any action taken, liable to obstruct railway construction, would be prejudicial to the interest of East Kootenay, and that what is wanted is a road, never mind by whom it is built or from whence it comes, so long as a good service is obtained throughout the valleys of the Upper Columbia and Kootenay rivers.

The following suggestions were added to the petition after being passed unanimously by the meeting and both have by every resident of Golden and vicinity.

First. That a liberal land subsidy should be offered by Provincial Government to any company or corporation desirous of obtaining a charter to construct a railway between Golden and the boundary line, but that the lands when granted shall be open to settlers upon the same conditions as Government land in the district.

Second. That survey of line should commence within six months from time of granting of charter, and and that not less than one of whole distance should be constructed during third year, two thirds by end of fourth year and that the distance should be completed and equipped by end of fifth year from time of granting of charter.

Third. That the maximum passenger and freight rates should be determined by charter throughout the whole distance and portions thereof,

Golden, Feb. 20th 1891.

C. P. R. RATES.

What D. E. Brown Has to Say on the Subject.

Vancouver World Feb. 21: "The World today chanced to meet Mr. D. E. Brown, assistant-general freight and passenger agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway for the Pacific Division, and upon asking that genial and active official certain questions relating to the Kootenay country and the attitude the company was going to assume towards it in the matter of transportation rates Mr. Brown answered that this company was fully alive to the importance and value of that country and was going to adopt such a policy as would thoroughly develop the mines and such other latent resources as existed there. The residents of that section, as well as people elsewhere can rest assured that the material prosperity of the country will not be retarded by any rates for either freight or passengers which may be decided upon by the C. P. R. Co'y The rates are to be framed with the view of bringing out of the country any and everything it may contain of value as a commercial commodity. As yet, he said, we have not decided positively as to the rates to be levied but they will be such as to admit of the coast cities and the farming districts, as well as points east of the the mountains, sending it the products of the soil and all commodities at such prices and rates as will practically debar the importation of foreign goods. The wants of the country will be watched and catered for in such a manner as will make it impossible to make any reasonable complaints. As regards freight going to Sproat's Landing and Nelson heretofore beyond Revelstoke there was no schedules of rates or or charges to be made. From Revelstoke freight was carried by steamer to Sproat's Landing and thence to Nelson by construction trains. Low grade ores will be handled at rates which will make it possible for miners to ship this class of minerals to the smelters at Revelstoke, Golden and Vancouver and at such other points as smelters are certain to be erected. The determination of the company is, said Mr. Brown, to make such rates as will tend to push ahead the mining industry in this important and valuable section of the Dominion. The Railway Co.'s rates will be reasonable and no doubt the river and lake transportation companies will cooperate with us in this respect. We are bound to keep the ore in our own country in osder to make the mining industry a leading one in this province. We believe the ore is there and this once settled nothing will lacking on our part to make the most of it. If railways, the best of reduction works and smelters, excellent water craft and good wagon roads in every direction, combined with cheap transportation rates, can accomplish this, then we shall reach that end ere long.

At present the following are the rates in force to Nelson from the coast points via the Northern Pacific and the Canadian Pacific. Through rates from Victoria and Vancouver to Nelson, via Tacoma and Northern Pacific railway to Kootenay station, and steamer from Bonner's Ferry are, per 100 pounds:

1	2	3	4	5
3.64	3.36	3.06	2.87	2.67

The C. P. R through rates from Vancouver to Nelson, per 100 lbs., will not exceed:

1	2	3	4	5
2.48	2.24	1.90	1.74	1.68

Flour, in all probability, will not exceed 1.38 per 100 pounds. Further more, added Mr. Brown, you can state state to the World's readers in Kootenay that it is anticipated these rates will apply not only to Nelson, but to Ainsworth, Hendryx, Hot Springs, and all the other important mining camps which may be accessible by rail and water on Kootenay lake from Victoria and Vancouver. In addition to the enormous saving in freight, there will be the bonding charges, duties and custom house brokerages. If this will not suit the people of Kootenay, I don't know what will. But our determination is to please them and secure their traffic, and this we are bound to do. More I am unable to say; but the World may rest perfectly assured that all I have indicated will be carried into effect."

Old Friends.

The old, old friends:
Some changed, some buried, some gone out of sight;
Some enemies, and in this world's swift fight
No time to make amends

The old, old friends—
Where are they? Three are lying in one grave,
And one from the far off world on the daily wave
No loving message sends.

The old dear friends
One passes daily, and one wears a mask;
And long estranged cares not to ask
Where causeless anger ends.

The dear old friends;
So many and so fond in days of youth!
Alas that faith can be divourced from truth,
When love in severance ends.

Surely they shall return when sunlight fades,

The new Argentine Pacific railroad from Buenos Ayres to the foot of the Andes has probably what is the longest tangent in the world. It is 211 miles without a curve. The French government is immensely relieved by the departure from Paris of Empress Frederick and her daughter the Princess Marguerite. Notwithstanding that no hostile demonstration was made, the authorities were in a continual apprehension lest some fanatic should make an attempt to injure the empress. Detectives in large numbers were employed to keep watch for dangerous persons, and any one who approached the imperial carriage was closely inspected. The reception of the empress does not augur well for the kaiser, should he follow her example, for while she has been received with respect, there has been a significant coldness in the tone of the press and a coldness on the part of the people, which, in France, means much.

Three young men have been arrested at Watertown, N. Y., for assisting Chinamen across from Kingston. The men claim their passengers were half breeds and deny having had any opium.

General Booth is holding a review of his troops in Germany. The Salvation Army does not flourish in Germany, where, owing to the compulsory military service, there is but little disposition to play at soldiering.

During the last week Nicholas Flood Davin got on a spree at Moosejaw and was unable to address a meeting. His supporters have been in a quandary as to how to patch up the situation. Davin has come to their relief, however, by by publicly pledging himself to in future abstain from all intoxicants.

Sadler, the sailor who was arrested in London charged with the murder of Carroty Nell in Whitechapel, has written to the London Star claiming to be innocent of the crime, and that the police, determined to fasten on someone as a scapegoat have evidently selected him and persistently ignore all facts tending to show his innocence. The star has engaged counsel to defend Sadler, who is without means to defend himself, and propose to see that no injustice is done him. The belief in Sadler's innocence is growing.

APPALLING ACCIDENT.

Fire Damp Explosion in Springfield Coal Mines

A mining disaster attended with fatal results unparalled in the history of Canadian mines occurred at Springhill, N. S., on Saturday last. The loss of life is probably as great as the combined appalling loss at the Drummond and Foord pit explosion. About 117 lives are known to be lost. Fifty-one widows have been left behind, and 157 children made fatherless. The calamity was caused by an explosion of fire damp. The miners who have visited the locality of the explosion say the levels are filled up with broken timber and debris, which covers the dead bodies of the men who were working there at the time of the explosion. The work of recovering the bodies was very quickly accomplished all the bodies being recovered by Tuesday night. In many families the affliction is great as many as four in one family being killed by the explosion, The deepest gloom has settled over the community, and relief funds are being started to assist the widows and orphans of those killed. Some of the bodies taken out were frightfully mutilated, and had to be identified by clothing or marks on their bodies. The mines and outbuildings have been converted into morgues and hospitals, where the dead and injured are taken.

New Land Bill.

Hon. Mr. Vernon's bill to amend the Land Act provides that the price of first class lands shall be $5 per acre; of second class lands $2:50 and of third class lands $1 per acre, the purchase money to be paid at the time of purchase, ten per cent. on application, the remaining ninety per cent. when the survey shall have been accepted. It is provided that every person desiring to purchase unsurveyed, unoccupied, and unreserved crown lands shall give two months' notice of his intended application to purchase, by a notice inserted, at the expense of the applicant, in the British Columbia Gazette, and in any newspaper circulating in the district wherein the land lies; such notice shall not include a greater area of land than six state the name of the applicant, the locality, boundaries, and extent of the land applied for. The proper staking out of property is also provided for. Each application for a timber lease must be filed with the Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works with in forty days from the date of the notice in the British Columbia Gazette, accompanied by a marked cheque equal in value to ten cents per acre upon the whole area applied for. If the applicant fails to comply with the conditions imposed by the Lieutenant-Governor in council respecting the grant of a lease, the deposit shall be absolutely forfeited, and the land shall be open to other applicant.—Colonist.

Odd and Even.

"Short and sweet," remarked the grocer as he tied up thirteen ounces of sugar and called it "one pound."

Young Widow—Mr. Fresh, why do we always speak of the earth as the femenine gender?

Mr. Fresh—Because of the earth had been masculine it wouldn't take a woman more than a week to get around it.

Smart Attorney—You say the evening wore on. What did it wear on that particular occasion?

Witness—The clothe of day, I presume.

Boston Mother (shouting down stairs)—Minerva, are you going to bed?

Daughter—Let me have another half hour with Robert, ma.

Mother — Goodness. Gracious! Have you a man in the house?

Daughter—The idea! I'm reading Browning.

Mrs. Pinniper—Take Mr. Clumso and slip into the billiard room. There's a small anti-Lenten waltz going on.

Miss Ricard—(who knows Clumso's disability as a dancer)—Thanks, very much, but I've done about all the penance I can stand this season.

She—Did papa ask you about your income?

He—Yes.

She—And you told him that little fib about the large salary?

He—Yes.

She—I'm so glad.

He—Well, I'm sorry. He borrowed $5.

A negro in South Washington was asked the proper way to cook a possum.

"Yo' teks de possum and dresses it," said he. "Den you gets a big pan and puts the possum in it—"

He got no farther. His mouth filled with water and he couldn't talk.

Mrs. Nagely—You must take me to Europe, Ezra. I do long so to see the historic battle fields of the Old World.

Ezra Nagely—Maria, if battlefields are what you want, I'd like to know where there's been more hard fighting done than right here in this house!

LOCAL NEWS NUGGETS

Picked Up in the Town and District.

Jack Caldwell has returned from Donald.

Dr. C. E. C. Brown was at the Columbia House all week.

The petition filed against the election of F. C. Cotton, for Vancouver, has been dismissed.

Messrs. Wm. Lee and F. Fraser have worn a more youthful appearance since Wednesday evening,—but wear no mustaches.

Mr. John Dunn, who went to Kamloops for medical treatment some months ago has returned to Revelstoke in good health.

Mr. W. A. Moulton, at one time a resident of Revelstoke and now of Vancouver, stopped off here a day this week, while journeying to Banff

Alex Smith has all the windows in the new Victoria Hotel and manages to get in some work on the building notwithstanding the cold weather.

Mr. D. Cowan, of Whatland, Dakota, is visting his brother Wm. Cowan, of the Victoria Hotel. He will in all probability become a permanent resident of Revelstoke.

Mr. F. Teetzel has been appointed a Justice of the Peace for the district of Kootenay, and is in a quandary whether to accept the distinction or not. Small gifts well received often lead to greater things.

Mr. Gavin Hamilton and Mrs. Hamilton of Cariboo, who have been back east visiting friends stopped off at Revelstoke last Saturday to pay a visit to Mr. T. M. Hamilton, who is a brother of the before mentioned gentleman.

A jolly party of snowshoerers started out on a tramp Thursday night. Three of the party had never the "beautiful" skimmers on before, but all managed to have a good time. A rest was taken at a deserted cabin on the bank of the river, where a fire was started, and regrets expressed that refreshments had been forgotten. A club will be organized and weekly tramps made as a rendezvous being fitted up for the coterie.

Charles Turnros' horse ran away on Saturday afternoon last and caused a little excitement on Main street. Wm. Fleming rounded up the runaway into the snow bank along the street preventing it from making fast time, and Jack Sutherland finally held it up. The unruly horse broke up the sleigh the same night, by acting a little frisky in a snow bank. On Monday Thomas Rightons horse went on a frolic starting from Allan's brewery. When near the bridge the sleigh collided with some machinery and was demolished.

Mercury registered six degrees below zero on Thursday night.

Dr. Bell-Campbell, paid a visit to Revelstoke on Monday.

A freight engine ran off a switch at Sicamous on Monday, but was got on the rails again after a few hours work.

Edward Kelley, brother of Roadmaster Kelley, and who was at one time employed by the C. P. R, here died at Seattle of fever on the 16th inst.

The Victoria House bus, and the sleighs of Messrs. McCarty and Robinson carried passengers to and from the entertainment Wednesday night.

No. 1. train was nine hours late on Wednesday. It was made up of eight passenger coaches carrying about three hundred excursionists to the coast.

A millinery store will be started in Revelstoke when spring opens. The ladies will wait to get their hats fixed, while the gentlemen will fix their caps in anticipation of captivating the new comer.

Mr. John Scoley looked particularly happy on Monday morning, and inquiry as to the cause elicited the information that he had been presented by Mrs, Scoley with a little daughter that morning.

Mr. W. J. Roper, one of the oldest and most extensive of our interior ranchers, has sold out his property at Cherry Creek and is about to leave for the old country. The price is said to be $100,000, the purchaser being Mr. Burchall, Drumkeel.—Sentinel.

While sitting in his office last Saturdry Mr. J. P. Sutherland noticed three cows of Mr. Fred Fraser's herd in attempting to get a drink through a hole in the ice slide into the river. He at once raised an alarm and also helped Mr. Fraser raise the animals out of their dangerous position.

For some time past a few of the local nimrods have held rifle practice on the river bank, with bottles as targets. One day this week one of the shootists broke nine bottle out of ten and is considered a coming Dr. Carver. A Barber often comes pretty close to being a carver.

A septette of snowshoers went up the river yesterday afternoon to rig up the club lode. A great many fall were recorded and Mr. Mara's election was credited with being the cause of their feet tangling. They found a fine sheet of ice about a mile and a half from town and skating was in order this afternoon.

A new toboggan slide has been made at the rear of Mr. J. Fred Hume's and has proved a big success. A duo of devotees of the sport took a Chinaman down the chute yesterday spilling him in a snow bank. The Chinaman had as much of the snow and sport as his conductors, but declined to take a second slide.

Jas. McDonald & Co., have just received a very select and complete assortment of window shades, curtain poles etc, The shades are of the latest styles, in great variety, and are fitted with patent wire guides. They are worthy of inspection and house keepers should not fail to see them. The firm has also a complete stock of furniture at right figures.

The old man Zechariah Brown, who lost Saturday was removed from Illecillewaet by Constable Lendrum, with the object of taking him to the hospital at Kamloops, died on the train near Salmon Arm. His body was taken to the hospital at Kamloops and interred in the cemetry there, without an inquest. The deceased was a native of Vermont, 66 years of age, and had been tramping some time.

Off for Big Bend.

Messrs. Sam Hill, Angus McKay, John Sands and Gus Lund, started off for Big Bend again on Wednesday morning on snow shoes, going by the river over ice and snow, and taking with them three sleds each carrying about 80 pounds of provisions, etc. They expect to reach their destination in eight or ten days and as soon as they get settled will begin work by deepening their flume. When they have completed this they intend erecting a small upright sawmill to cut the lumber necessary in carrying on their work, They expect to be well rewarded for their labors, and it is hoped they will do even better than they expect in washing out the yellow metal.

A Pointer to the People.

Editor KOOTENAY STAR.

SIR,—Will you kindly permit me to point out that the "men of gall," to wit: Kimpton, Ferrest and Neilson, who proffered the nomination of East Kootenay—whatever this means—to Mr. Hull of Calgary, had as much right to do so in the name of the independent electors of that section as they would have to offer it to Rufe Kimpton, of Solomon fame. The people of Golden, Illecillewaet and Revelstoke, aside from the large majority of electors of Donald, who disavow all connection with these people, resent such impudent assumption of their privileges. This trio of irresponsible "would be electors" with the most consumate cheek have been hawking the nomination of an opponent to the ministerial candidate, Hon. J A. Mara, throughout the district without the shadow of a right to do so and to the amusement and ridicule of the public generally.

VOX POPULI.

Specimens from Kootenay.

The Colonist, Feb. 25: Through the kindness of Mr. Kellie, M. P. P., for West Kootenay, the provincial museum was made richer yesterday by the reception of a valuable collection of ore samples—duplicates of those awarded the prize at the Toronto Industrial Exhibition, last year It is Mr. Kellie's intention to have samples of ore from all the mines in the rich country which he has the honor to represent placed in the museum here, where they will no doubt prove an invaluable advertisement The followng is the list of samples placed on the museum shelves yesterday. By looking over the figures which represent the different assays per ton, with owners and locations, some idea may be formed of the richness of the country from which these specimens were brought:

Spokane—L. C, Dilman & Co.; silver, $35.

United—Revelstoke M. Co.; silver, $24.

Cariboo—A. C. Fry, silver, 175 ozs.

No. 1—Revelstoke M. Co.; 89 to 247 ozs:

Krao—A. D. Wheeler, silver $90 to $384.

Tough Nut—Dr. Hendryx, silver $45.

Neosha—R. McLeod, silver, $500.

Pearl—B. L. Barker, silver $40.

Centre Star—Jos. Burgois, silver, $8; gold $18.

Arkansas—Roberts & Buckley, silver, $75.

Little Donald—E. L. Davenport, silver, $75.

Poor Man—E. L. Davenport, gold $75 to $200

Skyline—A. D. Wheeler, silver, $400 to $1,600.

Union—C. Roster, silver, $60.

Dandy—Fox, Kelly & Cook, silver $50.

The Monarch all Right.

Mr. H. T. Ceperley, secretary of the Vancouver Mining & Smelting Company, owners of the Monarch Mine at Field in a letter to the Vancouver papers contradicts the statement of the Miner of the 7th inst., to the effect that work on their mine had been shut down and that the ore was pinching out. He says: "The statements made therin are absolutely and unqualifiedly false in every particular. Not only has the work not shut down, but the board of directors are contemplating increasing the force. Our contract with the Revelstoke Smelter Co., is being complied with in every particular. The ore body instead of pinching out is constantly increasing and is now apparently unlimited, and from low grade galena carrying a large percentage of zinc has developed into carbonate ore, carrying a higher percentage of precious metals." Daily shipments of ore will be made from the Monarch to the smelter here as soon as the spur from the mine is connected with the main line of the C. P. R.

Local dealers have secured about all the ice they require.

Last Saturday afternoon Jailer James Sinclair, of Kamloops, while sculling with a friend fell and broke his leg.
