WORLD'S NEWS IN BRIEF.

Judge Henderson, of Vancouver, sentenced the woman Kelly, of Van Anda, convicted of fiendish cruelty to a little girl, to one year's imprisonment. The crime was one of the most disgusting and brutal ever tried in a British Columbia court, and great surprise is expressed at the trifling sentence inflicted.

Skagway, Alaska—The steamer Cottage City ran on the rocks at the point of Etolin island, 20 miles south of Wrangel at 10 o'clock Sunday night. The 150 passengers were safely landed on the shore a hundred yards distant.

Washington, D.C.—The sum of gold now in the United States treasury exceeds that of any previous time in our history, and, with one possible exception, it exceeds that of any country at any time in the history of the world. The single exception is that of Russia, about eight years ago, when that country was preparing to resume gold payments. At that time Russia is said to have had in its treasury $598,000,000 in gold. Last Saturday the vaults of the United States treasury contained $573,936,194, and increase since July 1 1901, of $79,087,897.

St. Louis, Mo.—A sensation was caused here by the issuance of bench warrants for the arrest of 18 members and former members of the St. Louis house of delegates, following a confession by Delegate J. K. Murrell, who fled to Mexico last spring, after being indicted by the grand jury for bribery in connection with the alleged boodling operations in the granting of franchises to the Suburban street railway, and in other legislation.

BOYCE AND SMITH.

Alleged Rapprochement Between the Noted Leaders.

If the Vancouver Province is to be believed a treaty of peace has been arrived at between Mr. Tully Boyce, of Nanaimo, the stalwart labor leader who has bravely stuck to his principles, and Mr. Ralph Smith, M.P., elected as a labor representive but turned Liberal for reasons best known to himself—and perhaps his pocket-book. THE LEADER hopes that Mr. Boyce has not changed his opinion about Ralph Smith. THE LEADER believes there can be only one opinion about Smith, and THE LEADER has often expressed the same in a manner so plain that nobody could make any mistake where this paper stood in the matter. THE LEADER would be sorry to see Mr. Boyce soiling his hand by taking that of Smith on any kind of understanding. The Province newspaper, of Vancouver, published the following alleged interview with Mr. Boyce:

Mr. Tully Boyce, the well-known labor leader of Nanaimo, passed through the city today on his way to Fernie, B.C.

Previous to his departure Mr. Boyce was interviewed by a Province representative in regard to the existing relations between the miners at Nanaimo and Mr. Ralph Smith, M.P. Mr. Boyce admitted that up to a short time ago there had been a slight difference of opinion between himself and Mr. Ralph Smith, but said that the questions involved had been satisfactorily settled on both sides. With regard to the result of the pit-head vote, which would be counted this evening, and which would decide whether Mr. Ralph Smith would be given his credentials to the meeting of the Trades Congress or not, Mr. Boyce said that it was impossible to forecast how it would end, but Mr. Boyce thought that Mr. Smith's chances of being sustained were favorable, although if he were it would be by a very close margin. Out of the 650 votes there would not be a majority of twenty-five either way, opinion on both sides of the question was so evenly divided.

Personally, he said, he had the greatest admiration for Mr. Smith and would be glad to see him sustained. The only thing he ever had against him was his entering politics, as he considered any labor leader could exert a greater influence if he remained out of politics.

The whole trouble, Mr. Boyce said, arose out of the actions of some of Mr. Smith's enemies among the ranks of the miners, who had taken advantage of his absence to work up a strong feeling against him and who had made many statements which they dare not repeat in Mr. Smith's presence.

THE WOODMEN'S EXCURSION.

Sunday's Outing a Grand Success in Every Way.

On Sunday last the closing excursion by the steamer Joan for the present season was given under the auspices of the Ladysmith Woodmen of the World, and it was probably the most successful of the series given under the same auspices during the past summer.

Upwards of 500 people took advantage of the opportunity to visit Vancouver, coming from Duncan's, Somenos, Westholme, Extension, South Wellington and Nanaimo, the main body being, of course, from Ladysmith.

Owing to the dense smoke hanging over the water some delay was experienced in getting away, and it was 1:30 p.m. when the Joan reached Vancouver. Three five hours were pleasantly spent, the return journey being started at 6 o'clock. On account of the smoke it was deemed advisable to land all passengers at Nanaimo, where a special train was waiting.

Ladysmith was reached at 10:30 p.m. Everybody enjoyed the trip, which was very well managed.

Mr. S. Kenyon, whose ranch lies on the Ladysmith-Chemainus road, gathered a Bartlett pear off one of his young trees last week, and the fruit when put on the scales weighed 13½ ounces. It was one of quite a large number of fine pears off the same young tree.

The thick smoke Sunday morning delayed the steamer Joan considerably in getting away on her excursion to Vancouver.

THE ONLY LIBERAL LEADER.

Vernon News is very far astray if it really believes that "the leadership of Mr. (Joseph) Martin is not acceptable to a large wing of the Liberal party in British Columbia."

The largest and most representative gathering of Liberals ever got together in this province unanimously elected Hon. Joe. Martin as their leader; and since that day, last spring, Mr. Martin's standing amongst the Liberals of British Columbia has been vastly strengthened. Hon. Mr. Martin is the one man in this province who is capable of leading it on to prosperous times, and of establishing its credit on a substantial basis. All the disreputable and discredited elements in British Columbia are bitterly opposed to Hon. Mr Martin; the more disreputable and discreditable, the more bitter; but the better sense of the people of this province is recognizing not only his signal abilities, but his indomitable courage and determination, his sterling honesty of purpose and unswerving devotion to principles.

Ask any man, any newspaper, any lawyer, who or which may be ranting against Joseph Martin, why he or it hated him so, and a thousand to one the reason will be that Mr. Martin would not do some dishonorable action at his or its bidding. The lawyers hate Joseph Martin because he stood between their sharklike rapacity and the common people's pockets; the "grafters" hate him because he defended the public treasury against their wolfish greed; the newspapers hate him because he called them by their proper name; the corporations hate him because he championed the people; some of the labor men hate him because Ralph Smith and the like, who could not work their selfish, ambitious will with him, lied to them about this man, who is the only real, true, actual champion the workingman has in this corner of Canada today.

We never met a man yet, of the hundreds of all sorts and conditions to whom we have spoken on the subject, who who could give a coherent, sensible reason for his hatred and opposition to Joseph Martin. They are like dogs at night; one dog starts ba[illegible] and all the rest j[illegible] not why; but it is dark, their minds are obfuscated, and they must relieve their feelings by yawping in chorus.

Hon. Joseph Martin is the only leader of the British Columbia Liberals.

No good Liberal will object to the Conservatives attempting to reorganize their shattered ranks. The Liberals would far rather see a good, vigorous, fighting opposition than the ghostly, feeble shadow of a former substance which now occupies the opposition benches. If Mr. Borden has the right stuff in him he should find himself within a twelvemonth at the head of a formidable reunited Conservative party. It is wonderful how much depends upon the qualities of one man, either in politics or business.

Some time ago THE LEADER was severely blamed by certain persons in Nanaimo for advocating the planting of orchards in the neighborhood of that city. Where are those critics now amidst all this present avalanche of similar advice from all quarters? Our prophecy that Nanaimo would yet see the wisdom of our advice is on the eve of fulfilment.

Nanaimo Clarion disputes THE LEADER's statement that the Wellington Colliery Company broke no faith with its employees at Extension. The Clarion is not fully informed as to the facts, and is, therefore, hardly competent to discuss this question. THE LEADER merely stated the chief facts in the case.

Shame on the Vancouver Province for daring to publish such an atrocious travesty as that alleged interview with Mr. Tully Boyce of Nanaimo. Whether that scandalous report was due to incompetence on the part of the reporter or was altered intentionally, the fact remains that it was a disgrace to the journalism of the province. The Province has an evil reputation for that sort of petty crime; nobody can possibly trust a newspaper that deliberately falsifies.

Mr. Robert Fitzsimmons of the United States will presently introduce Vancouver society to the mysteries of the short-arm jab for the jaw, the upper-cut short hook combination for the bread basket, and the crook-arm jolt for the bellows, which have won for Mr. Fitzsimmons kudos and cash. The stiff right-arm smash for the solar plexus, one dollar extra, plain; colored, $1 50; satisfaction guaranteed.

MISS L. ELIZABETH MOYER.

A Graduate of Washburn College and a Maid of All Work.

Miss L. Elizabeth Moyer, a graduate of Washburn college, is the heroine of the Rev. Charles M. Sheldon's novel, "Born to Serve." She is a pleasant faced, pleasant voiced, pleasant mannered girl in the early twenties. She is the daughter of a wealthy farmer of Brown county, Kan. For five years she has worked as a domestic for families in Topeka, making a practical test of the servant girl problem. Her conclusion is, "Both parties are to blame." Miss Moyer says:

"Since I was old enough to have any fixed purpose in life I have had as my motto, 'I will do the things that I can do, the best of the things that need doing the most.' I wanted to make my own way through college, although my father told me that he would help me. I would accept no help and finished my course by my own exertions.

"We had no experience with servant girls on the farm, and I did not get interested in the subject until I attended the academy in Hiawatha. There I heard and read a great deal about this vexing problem, but I never realized what a great subject it was until I came to the city. I was really shocked to learn the necessity for reformation most homes stand in need of in this particular. I have studied the problem from the girl's side in my five years here, and during that time I have talked with the employers at social functions and have heard their side. Both parties are greatly to blame.

"I believe the servant girl problem can only be solved by a Christian education. The employers and servants must be taught to work together. The problem furnishes a splendid field for the energies of our young women. I know several young girls with good educations who work as domestics because they like it. These are the kind of girls who stay a long time in one place and have no trouble with their employers."—Exchange.

Washing of Fine Laces.

In washing fine laces, says the Millinery Trade Review, have a strip of flannel on which to baste the lace, using care to have every point basted down smoothly. Make a strong suds with white soap and water. Dissolve one teaspoonful of borax in half a pint of boiling water and add to it two quarts of the suds. When this liquid is tepid, lay the lace in it and let it soak for ten hours or more. Then sop and squeeze the flannel, but do the work carefully and gently; then squeeze out all the suds and drop the flannel in a bowl of hot suds. Work gently in this water. Now rinse in fresh water until the water looks clear. Finally starch and squeeze as dry as possible.

Tack the flannel on a clean board, drawing it very tight in all directions. See that every part of the lace lies smooth and that all the meshes are open. When dry, cut the basting threads and draw them out very gently. The lace may be tinted in the last rinsing water if the dead white is not liked. If the lace is point or any of the laces with raised designs, it will be necessary to lift the raised work with a small pointed instrument.

The Country Working Girl.

The girl who as bookkeeper, clerk, stenographer, milliner or teacher in her village home receives a weekly salary of $7 is far better off financially than the girl in the same occupations in the city who gets $15 a week.

In the first place the living expenses are much smaller in the country than in the city. One gets very much more for her money in the way of home comforts, the wear and tear of clothing is much less and as a rule the work less harassing to the nerves, since there are not the same hurry and rush, keeping brain and nerves stretched to the tightest possible tension, so that after the day's work is over one is too tired to go in search of enjoyment.

Working long hours at muscle wearying, brain wearing, nerve racking tasks in shops, offices and counting rooms causes the city working girl to long for rest above everything else and in itself precludes the chances of her making desirable outside acquaintances except such as may be offered through church affiliations, and even these she is too tired to improve.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Window Gardens.

All the windows of a house can be utilized for plant growing, provided one is careful in selecting and adapting the plant to the window it is to grow in. A list of plants adapted to the several exposures would be something like this: For eastern windows, fuchsias, begonias, calla, Chinese primroses, Primula obconica, azaleas, plumbago, stevias, lobelias and all kinds of bulbous plants; for southern windows, geraniums, roses, chrysanthemums, carnations, lantanas, oxalis, oleanders, abutilons, hibiscus, marguerites and most of the plants having richly colored foliage; for western windows, bright leaved plants and a few of the more "accommodating" plants like the geranium, provided the effect of too strong sunshine is modified somewhat; for the northern windows, ferns, arucarias, English ivies, palms, aspidistra, ficuses and selignellas. Roman hyacinths, Primula obconica and Chinese primroses will often bloom well in sunless windows.—Home and Flowers.

The time to advertise is all the time.

Face Care.

"Few women realize," says a French expert, "that the secret of face care is to treat each feature separately. American women in particular do not seem to understand that there are as many complexions as there are figures and that no one cosmetic can be good for all faces nor for all parts of the face. Rarely is the skin of nose and cheek of the same quality, and what is healing for one may injure the other. For example, the skin may be of good quality all over the face except on the nose, where too much oil is secreted. Bathing the skin with a soft sponge dipped in borax water will be of value, while such treatment would be too drying for the rest of the face, or the wrinkles around the eyes may be treated with cocoa butter, which might be harmful for nose and cheek. Leave all cosmetics entirely alone or understand their use," is her closing advice.

For One's "Turnovers."

A dainty little bag to hold soiled neckbands is made from two lawn handkerchiefs. Choose two alike having a pretty embroidered edge and put them together to form the bag. Those with a rather narrow embroidery should be selected, and they are stitched together around three sides just below the embroidery to form a frill. Around the opening at the same distance from the edge stitch a beading, through which ribbon of the desired width is run. A narrow ribbon is to be preferred. These can hang at the side of a dressing table or bureau and are both useful and ornamental.

Home Cures In Rhyme.

If poisoned, take mustard or salt, tablespoon,
In a cup of warm water and swallow right soon.
For burns try borax and a wet bandage too;
If blistered, then oil and dry flannel will do.
For children's convulsions warm baths are the rule;
With castor oil dose, too, but keep the head cool.
Give sirup of ipecac when croup is in store;
For fainting stretch patient right out on the floor.
To soak in hot water is best for a sprain;
Remember these rules, and 'twill save you much pain.

A wide, shallow granite or porcelain lined pan or kettle is best for cooking fruit for canning, as its larger surface permits more even cooking with less stirring.

Layers of newspapers folded evenly and placed under the stair carpet at each tread may cheaply be made to take the place of felt.

To keep steel ornaments bright when not in wear store them in a box containing a little powdered starch.

Vases discolored from having flowers in them are easily cleaned with powdered pumice stone.

A PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Popular Young Ladysmith Man Sustains a Terrible Fall.

Last Saturday morning Mr. Frank Young, who is employed on the carpentering staff at the Tyee Smelter, fell from a height of forty feet to the ground, sustaining a very severe shock, and some bruises.

He was on top of the framing for the smelter building and missed his footing. In his descent he luckily struck several beams which materially broke his fall and prevented him from striking the earth full force. But for this circumstance there can be no doubt the accident would have had very serious consequences for him.

Mr. Young was conveyed to his room in the Grand Hotel, where Dr. Wasson made an examination of his injuries and did all that was possible for the unfortunate man. Mr. Young was then sent to his home in Nanaimo on the noon train.

THE LEADER is glad to report that he is recovering satisfactorily from the accident, and will be at work again soon.

THE MOUNTAIN MAID.

Half seated on a mossy crag,
Half crouching in the heather,
I found a little Irish maid,
All in June's golden weather.

Like some fond hand that loved the child
The wind tossed back her tresses;
The heath-bells touched her unclad feet,
With shy and soft caresses.

A mountain linnet flung his song
Into the air around her;
But all in vain the splendid hour,
For deep in woe I found her.

"Ahone! Ahone! Ahone!" she wept,
The tears fell fast and faster;
I sat myself, beside her there,
To hear of her disaster.

Like dew on roses down her cheek
The diamond drops were stealing;
She laid her brown hands in mine,
Her trouble all revealing.

Alas! alas! the tale she told
In Gaelic low and tender;
A plague upon my Saxon tongue,
I could not comprehend her!

VICTORIA'S EXHIBITION.

Interesting Notes for Intending Exhibitors and Visitors.

The Provincial Fair at Victoria is certainly a most progressive institution. THE LEADER has received the Prize Lists and notes the entire absence of advertisements from its pages. This is an innovation in the Province highly to be commended and should be followed by all first-class exhibitions.

The absence of third prizes is also to be observed. The amount given for first and second is very large, and quite equal to those of any fair in the Province giving three prize. The numbers both in premium and special list run consecutively.

A casual glance through the Prize List shows, in the horse and cattle departments, prizes of $25 and $10 for first and second, these are supplemented in many cases by silver cups and special cash prizes.

In the sheep department prizes of $8 and $4 are offered.

There appears to have been a special effort to encourage the breeding of swine, the special prizes are unusually large, over $100 being given in each class; the winner of the prize offered for the best bacon hog securing $25.

The horticultural department in the apple class has been divided into two classes for those grown east and west of North Bend.

There is also enclosed a programme of the horse races on October 10th and 11th.

The Prince of Wales handicap for $500 on Friday, and the trotting or pacing free for all for $400 on Saturday will be the principal events. The wealthy and sports-loving people of Victoria have every reason to effect a very successful meeting.

One of the most interesting features of the exhibition is an aquarium of native food fish, which is believed to be the first effort ever made in this direction in British Columbia, and is certainly deserving of support from every one interested in one of our greatest industries.

Arrangements have been made with the customs department to admit from the United States or other foreign countries free of duty all live stock or articles for exhibition purposes only, by giving the customary bond.

Special excursions from all points at one fare for the double trip have been arranged for the fair week.

A FINE ORCHARD.

What Can be Done Around Ladysmith.

One of the finest orchards in the country is that owned by Mr Page, the old pioneer who lives across the harbor almost opposite Ladysmith. Mr. Page settled there many years ago, and hewed for himself out of the primeval forest the splendid ranch which now stretches along the eastern shore of the harbor.

When he went there first game was very abundant. Grouse and deer in particular abounded. Any morning he could look along the shore and see deer, grouse and other game feeding in great numbers. Then came the cheap sportsman with his cheap gun, in, and especially out, of season. Something like a massacre of the game took place. Grouse hens with broods of fourteen or fifteen chicks would be ruthlessly slaughtered out of sheer wantonness and lust of blood, for grouse at that time are very poor. Whole gangs of those law-breakers used to ravage the woods from Nanaimo southwards, until game began to get very scarce, and today is hardly so plentiful in these woods as it is within a mile of Victoria.

Mr. Page takes a great pride in his orchard, which is a sight worth seeing just now. He has a varied assortment of plums, and the crop this year is exceptionally heavy. The orchard is particularly strong in apples; there are none better grown in this part of Vancouver Island. Mr. Page is finding a ready market in Ladysmith for his fine fruit, and is booking many orders for his apples. The orchard shows what patient cultivation and intelligent painstaking care will do in the way of fruit raising in this favorable climate.

Another industry in which Mr. Page has proved himself a successful cultivator is oyster-raising. He owns large beds of the delicious bivalves, and ships large quantities of them regularly to Nanaimo, Victoria, Vancouver and other places.

Mr. Page in spite of his more than three score years and ten, is as vigorous and active as most men at half that age. Like most of the British Columbia pioneers he had a very hard time of it in the early days, when the gun provided most of the food supply. He, like many more of the old timers, is now reaping the reward of his toilsome industry in the growth of British Columbia, and is deservedly sharing in the prosperity of the province.

MR. MORTON LEAVING.

Mr. Gavin Morton, who has ministered at First Presbyterian Church, Ladysmith, for the past summer, leaves next Monday or Tuesday to attend Toronto University to conclude his studies in the divinity classes there for the Canadian ministry. Great regret is felt by all the members of the congregation at Mr. Morton's departure, while the hope is expressed that he may some day return here to take charge of the church.

Mr. Morton's ability as a preacher received hearty recognition here, and his success in awakening fresh interest was amply testified by the steadily increasing attendance at First Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Morton received his training in one of the greatest centres of learning in the world—Edinburgh university, but the Canadian Presbyterian church does not recognize that as proper qualification, and insists that graduates of no matter what famous university—Oxford, Cambridge, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dublin, or any other, must take the Canadian course, hence his departure for Toronto, where he will complete his divinity course, probably in one year.

Several meetings of the managing board have been held to make suitable arrangements to fill Mr. Morton's place. Last night, those arrangements were satisfactorily completed.

Mr. Morton will preach his farewell discourse next Sunday, when there should be a very large gathering of Presbyterians to hear this talented young man.

If it is a nice clock you are looking for we have them from $1.00 to $18.00. W. H. Lively, Ladysmith's Leading Jeweler

The Ladysmith Leader

JOB PRINTING PRICES.

THE LEADER Is ready to prove to anybody who wants to save money on Printing that this shop's prices are lower than those of any other office in the country. Having satisfied ourselves on this point we shall be pleased to compare notes with any who doubt.

The quality of THE LEADER'S job work is equal to anything produced in the Province.

THE LEADER employs only skilled union workmen, receiving the full union scale of wages; its prices and quality are always up to the accepted standard.

Ladysmith merchants and others who send to Victoria, Vancouver and other places for their job printing can save money, time, misunderstanding and annoyance by investigating THE LEADER'S statements as published here. When we cannot print certain classes of work we tell you so, we do not take your order, have it done elsewhere and charge you middleman's commission.

Our Motto Is:—"Square dealing; one price for all; our best work in every job." No trouble to estimate. Call and see us about that job printing work you are wanting and we will save you money.
