REVELSTOKE GETS NEXT MEETING

Of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities Convention Next Year

Provincial Library

Mayor Hamilton returned on Monday from Victoria, where he had been attending the annual convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities. The convention this year was the most successful ever held, there being sixty delegates present, representing nearly every municipality in British Columbia. Mayor Hamilton was successful in getting Revelstoke named as the meeting place of the Union of B.C. Municipalities at their convention next year. The Victoria Times says in reference:

For the next place of meeting, invitations were received from Mayor Morley for Victoria, coupled with the suggestion that the annual meeting should be made a fixture here, and from Mayor Hamilton for Revelstoke. Vernon and Armstrong gave way in favor of the railway town. It was the opinion of the bulk of the delegates, that it would kill the association to keep on meeting in the one city and prevent very many delegates from ever getting an opportunity to attend a convention.

Revelstoke was unaoimously chosen on motion of Reeve McNaught, seconded by Mayor Lee, and the election of officers was then proceeded with as follows:

Vice-President—Mayor Lee, New Westminster.

FIRE AT DOMINION SAWMILLS OFFICE

Heroic Work of C. P. Powell Saves Big Fire

What might have been a very serious fire occurred last Sunday morning at the Dominion Sawmills Company offices in this city. It was about 10 a.m. that a heated flue caused fire to start up. The first man to notice the fire was Mr. C. V. Powell of the office staff, who used great presence of mind and broke open the plastered wall, and then by the aid of a chemical hand extinguisher succeeded in killing the fire which had only probably been alive a few minutes. To the pluck and presence of mind of Mr. Powell is due the fact that this valuable block of handsome offices is in existence, for if he had not acted with such promptness and fortitude the fire might have been much more serious. As it was the damage done was only nominal.

OPPOSED TO BI-LINGUAL SCHOOLS

Ontario's Catholic Attorney-General Expresses Himself

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 21—Hon. J. J. Foy, attorney-general of Ontario, and one of the two Roman Catholic members of the Whitney cabinet, made the following statement at a Conservative meeting in North Toronto last night:

"My view is that the English language should be thoroughly taught in our schools to every pupil by teachers fully competent to teach English.

"That no other language should be taught in the schools.

"That such is the law that governs us, and that there cannot lawfully be any bilingual schools in the province of Ontario. If any are found, they must cease to exist and care should be taken to make all schools conform to the law.

"This policy is not unfriendly to any portion of the community but it is in the interests of rising generations."

W.K. McNaught, the other Conservative member in North Toronto endorsed Mr. Foy's views.

At the tea given by the Ladies Guild of St. Peter's church on Tuesday, there will be a sale of fancy work and a table of home cookery. At the home of Mrs. J. Purvis.

TREAT TO-MORROW NIGHT

John P. Clum's Illustrated Lecture at Edison Theatre

John P. Clum, the eloquent lecturer, will be at the Edison theatre tomorrow, Thursday night. A feature of his address is the fund of anecdote and legend possessed by the speaker, which he imparts in a conversational style, making the entertainment a very realistic travel thru' a beautiful country with a most entertaining companion.

Over 200 stereopticon views and moving pictures will be exhibited and are without doubt among the finest ever exhibited in this city. The dissolving effects as manipulated by the skilled operator assisting Mr. Clum are particularly good and adds great interest to the lecture. One dissolves quickly into the next; an afternoon sky becomes a sunset; a cataract in still life begins tumbling and plunging, all without the fraction of a second's delay.

The views shows include scenes on the Columbia river, Puget Sound Mount Shasta, Shasta Springs, and Messbrea Falls, Santa Barbara and its romantic old mission and scores of others.

The moving picture subjects include Flower festivals, glimpses of Golden Gate park, along the surf line, games at Del Monte, some wonderful waterfalls, the march of the mission monks a Yosemite camp fire, feeding 100,000 pigeons, among the citrus groves, a regiment of ostriches, climbing Mt. Lowe, alligators galore, honoring the sailor dead, a trip to Catalina.

TOO MUCH FREIGHT

Congestion at Winnipeg and at Head of Lakes

Winnipeg, Nov. 19—Freight congestion on Western Canada railways at Winnipeg and the head of navigation and other western points has become so severe that the general managers of the C.P.R., C.N.R., G.T.P. and Great Northern find themselves almost helpless. The congestion is partly the result of the efforts to get the big crop out before navigation closes and partly of the western movement of freight in unusual volume. The Winnipeg Board of Trade and other commercial bodies in the Western towns are holding daily meetings with railway officials to get the tangle unravelled, but with little success. Westbound freight is fifty per cent heavier than in other years and the motive power of the western lines can not handle it expeditiously.

Finds New Metal

Nelson, Nov. 20—An entirely new metal, hitherto unknown to science but possessing highly valuable commercial properties, has been discovered by Andrew French, a well known metallurgist, in the platinum-bearing ores of the Kootenay district.

Mr. French made his discovery last May, but made no announcement of it at that time as he wished first to ascertain definitely the properties of the new metal which he has named Canadium.

The new metal belongs to the platinum group, in which chemists have long recognized that there was a vacant space. It has a beautiful white color and a brilliant permanent lustre It will be highly valuable, its discoverer claims, for gem settings and for the reflecting surface of concave mirrors.

It occurs in the dyke rocks of the Kootenay district in quantities varying from a few pennyweight to three ounces per ton. The discovery, it is believed, will be of tremendous importance to the mining industry of the Kootenay.

REV. T. W. HALL DIES AT CHILLIWACK

Pioneer Methodist Minister of B. C., Formerly of Revelstoke, Passes Away

Chilliwack, Nov. 20—The death occurred early Saturday morning of the Rev. Thomas Wellington Hall, pastor of the Carman Methodist church, Sardis, and one of the pioneer ministers of British Columbia. The news of his death was a great shock to his friends as he was apparently in good health until he was stricken with heart failure.

His first charge in this province was at Clinton on the Cariboo Road in 1881. He has since held appointments at Kamloops, Grand Forks, New Westminster, Nanaimo, Eburne, Revelstoke, Chilliwack and Sardis, and was once president of the British Columbia Conference. He is survived by a widow, four sons and one daughter.

The above announcement will come as a shock to the many friends of the late Mr. Hall in this city. For many years Mr. Hall was known in Revelstoke previous to his taking charge of the Methodist church here, he having been among the pioneer ministers of the Methodist church in British Columbia. The Mail-Herald joins with the many friends of the late Methodist pastor in extending to the bereaved ones their heartfelt sympathy.

MURDERED AND ROBBED

Body of Workingman Found With Throat and Face Gashed

Calgary, Nov. 22—With a V-shaped gash an inch long over the right temple, his throat cut from ear to ear and also with a long gash all around the back of the neck, an unknown man, apparently about twenty years of age, was found beside one of the spur tracks back of the Calgary Milling company's mill, on Ninth Ave., and Fourth St. west, by Mike Solovitz, 309 Tenth avenue east a teamster in the employ of the milling company, about 7:30 this morning.

The body was quite stiff when the man made the discovery, and Dr. Davies, who was called, judged the man must have been dead about six hours.

Everything about the body, the injuries and the outturned pockets, all point to robbery and murder. The man's hands were covered with blood and he lay flat on his back.

The wound on his forehead had evidently been made by some heavy rounded instrument, and the cuts on the throat, being ragged and uneven, evidently were made with some large clasp knife.

A CALL FOR BRAVERY

By Percy F. Gifford, Physical Director of Y. M. C. A.

When I was in Toronto I visited a large store and while there I used the elevator. Since then I have though quite a lot about the elevator boy, riding up and down all day long in that dreary cage, helping people along in their shopping.

I wonder what he is thinking about as he rides hour after hour? Is it the performance of duty? No, that becomes second nature to him; perhaps he spends his time reading a Nick Carter. This time he is tramping around in one spot and listening to bells, whistles and sliding doors, and calling out for the 59th time:—"Going up; 5th floor; top floor." But the real boy is riding wild horses and holding up desperate men in some of our Western canyons.

How many boys have that same double life, tame surroundings and wild dreams, and I wonder how many boys and young men today think there is no chance for bravery in this world. The wild west is nearly all inside shows and story books, there is no sign of war in all the land, what then is a boy with the hot blood of youth in his veins to do in these piping times of peace?

Let me say this, there never was a time when there was such a call for bravery as there is today.

Notice No. 3 as it comes tearing along the rails, screeching out its warning to any who may be on the track. The engineer has brought it the last 100 or 150 miles at the rate of 40 or 50 miles an hour, the fireman has poured in the coal forging it ahead, and they are doing this winter and summer at the risk of their lives.

There is the ring of the fire alarm now, and in two minutes the fellows you see on the truck dashing past, will be in the midst of flame and smoke trying to save life and property.

What about the business man that you see sitting at his desk. He works all day long until he is all tired out. He has seen lots of dark days. He has seen men get rich, he knows how they have done it, they took mean cowardly ways that brought money fast. It takes a great deal of courage and bravery to do honest work as this man does, but he is the man that holds the world's trade together, because his word is as good as gold.

Look into another office, the man here is a born fighter, he spends his time, his life, in battle against grafters. He is called names, he is threatened and abused, but he speakes out boldly, he never flinches, he writes hot, strong words that makes men who live by the vices and weaknesses of other men writhe and curse but he keeps right on, we need men of that sort of bravery.

But the boys and men might say, we are not in an office. There is just as strong a call for bravery among boys as among men in offices. There is the old lady tottering across the street, it takes a boy with a strong courage to help her across the street amid the jeers of his chums.

Take our games—hockey, baseball, basket ball—we need boys who are determined to keep up the standard of our games (and let me say that the standard is honesty) so that the sport loving people will be encouraged to attend the games. It takes a brave boy to play fair when he is on the loosing side and sees his chance to win the game by a little crooked play, perhaps the referee or umpire does not see it, but he plays fair and looses the game, but in his heart he knows he has done right.

Better to loose honorably than to win dishonorably. Better to loose a game and be able to look the world in the face, than to win and know you won by foul play.

We want boys who are manly in their sports, cut out the swearing, cut out the smoking, play for the pure love of the game, but play to win, meet your man on the common ground of honesty and fair play.

It takes a brave boy or man to play fair when he sees the other side winning by foul means, but this is the kind of boy we want, because as the boy so the man. That stamp of a boy is the kind the world will be seeking, he will be called to fill the office, because people know he is square (and who does not like a square boy or man) because his word can be depended upon.

Let us have good clean sport this winter, keep out of the penalty box, win by superiority, and then sport will be serving its end, namely, to promote health and develop character.

Rod and Gun for November

For the big game hunting month, Rod and Gun in Canada published by W. J. Taylor, Woodstock, Ont., still keeps big game stories well to the front in the November issue. Hunters on their annual vacation bent, those in camp and those returning, after fine experiences and with many pleasant recollections of recent and former outings, will all welcome the wealth of good stories contained in the latest issue. Mr. Bonnycastle Dale opens the number with one of his British Columbia studies, which he makes so fascinating to all lovers of the outdoors. More is heard about the wolves and still more about the moose, a large head having been secured by Mr. Rankin. A variety from the big game stories is introduced by one relating the adventures of a duck shooting expedition in Saskatchewan and a combined fishing and hunting trip in Nova Scotia. Angling readers should not miss the symposium by past masters in the art on some interesting fishing queries. The articles on the Wild Passenger Pigeon, and the surveying of a new Alpine district by Mr. A. O. Wheeler should by no means be overlooked. As usual there is so much good material running through the whole of the pages that it is impossible to mention more than a few of the most conspicuous good things in store for all readers.

DRIVEN TO THE HILLS BY FEAR OF FLOODS

In the State of Washington--Seattle's Water Supply Has Been Badly Affected

Seattle, Nov. 21—With Seattle facing a water famine and many of the smaller towns west of the Cascade mountains under water or cut off from communication with the outside world by the loss of bridges and the washing out of roads, the people of Western Washington today are anxiously watching the turbulent streams for signs of subsidence from the flood that has raged for more than two days.

The railroads that cross the Cascades with their transcontinental lines are virtually tied up, the only outlet being over the coast lines to Portland and then east along the Columbia river.

Although Seattle, built upon commanding hills, is in no danger from flood, it is confronted by a more serious problem—that of a water famine The raging waters of Cedar river, from which the city obtains its supply high in the mountains, have washed away a bridge carrying the two big pipe lines that bring the water down to the city.

The breaking of the pipes was immediately felt in the most populous residential section, which is fed by the intermediate water service. When the break came, the reservoirs contained 100,000,000 gallons of water. Ordinarily this would be a five days' supply but water department officials believe that by judicious husbanding it can be made to last a week.

Of the smaller towns caught by the flood, Renton, a prosperous coal town twelve miles up the Cedar river from Seattle, suffered most. The business part of Renton is entirely under water and twice yesterday the residents hearing rumors that the big Cedar river dam had gone out, rushed to the surrounding hills.

A clanging of the fire bell, the ringing of church bells, and the shrieks of the mines' siren whistles at 8:30 o'clock brought all the towns people to the street, prepared for the worst, and a scene of wild confusion followed. A dash was made to the hospital whence patients were hurriedly removed to the highest point of safety on the hills. The churches lying on hillsides were thrown open for the shelter of women and children. Sons carrying their old mothers on their shoulders hurried up the hills and into homes where hospitable shelter awaited them. Stampeding horses galloped along the streets, barely held in control by their struggling drivers. Women with bundles of portable goods on their heads rushed up the hills, dragging their children behind them, while baggage-laden fathers and husbands followed, carrying all they could bear from their abandoned homes.

One old woman attracted notice even in the confusion, by driving before her a flock of hens to a point of safety. At the Presbyterian church Rev. Thomas Evans prepared coffee and doughnuts for as many refugees as the place would hold, and in other spots, shielded from the rain by improvised tents, women set to work preparing interrupted breakfasts for their families.

As the day wore on and there was no sign of the promised catastrophe, the people gradually filtered back into the town. All houses in the lowlands surrounded by water remained deserted, however, and the residents were in continual fear.

Low-lying rain clouds swept over the town during the day, drenching the hills with rain, and with the muddy flood sweeping through the town, submerging sidewalks and paved streets the outlook was gloomy The sullen roar of dynamite used in blowing up the log jams during the afternoon also helped to keep the nerves of the townspeople on edge, and when the second alarm came at 3:30 the stampede of the early morning was re-enacted, though on a lesser scale.

All day curious crowds stood on the river banks, at the brickyard, the Columbia & Puget Sound bridge and the street bridges watching the huge volume of water roaring down the valley. Occasionally an immense fir tree, uprooted by the boiling flood, would be swept against a bridge abutment with a crash that could be heard all over the town. With the water scarcely a foot below the beds of the bridges, more than once it appeared that a pier would be knocked out.

The Cedar river dam, which furnishes electric light and power for the city of Seattle, is situated about twenty-eight miles from Renton. It stands on an elevation of more than 3000 feet. The ordinary velocity of the river is about four miles an hour and the valley is comparatively narrow. The bursting of the dam undoubtedly would be attended by a great calamity, but that all such fears were groundless was shown by examination of the structure. With nine feet of water thundering over the dam, it stood firm and solid. It was this immense quantity of water caused by the melting snows in the foothills and the constant rains of the last few days which resulted in the flooding of the Cedar River Valley and not any break in the dam.

Tells About India's Zenna Ladies

Lady Fraser, wife of Sir Andrew Fraser, ex-Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, addressed the Woman's Canadian Club at Toronto last week and told of the Zenana ladies behind the Peirdah. Lady Fraser explained that Zenana meant the apartments of the ladies, and that Peirdah meant curtain. She said that the ladies apartments were usually in the palaces, and were rooms off a court yard, and that from the time the women enter at the age of twelve they never leave the Zenana, never see anyone but their attendants and the men of the household—that each palace has its temple and the women worship morning and evening. The Zenana is now a social distinction. When an official goes to interview the ladies of the Peirdah they never see the man, but talk behind a curtain.

Lady Fraser told of how she arranged a party for the Princess of Wales (now Queen Mary) of the women of the Peirdah. How hard it was to get the women to leave the Zenana, but after some time she was able to get the consent of the most important of the Ananas to come to the party. The interview was most amusing. Lady Fraser went to her, and at first she refused, but when Lady Fraser told her that she knew of her going to another city to worship her idol, she said that was a different matter, as she was taken in a box and much veiled, so after a great deal of talking she consented to come, and Lady Fraser was in the end successful in getting them all to attend.

On the day appointed the Rajah came and locked all the doors and windows and pulled down the blinds and put the keys in his pocket, and told Lady Fraser she would be responsible for them—all the attendants in one room and the ladies in another.

The ranking of the ladies was rather difficult. The women came in all their jewels, and it was a most brilliant sight. The scared woman came in and startled the poor bashful ladies of the Zenana, and so Lady Fraser tried to smooth them down, and was speaking Hindostan when the scared woman tirned and said in English "What fools." The women were most impressed with her Royal Highness, and the party wasa great success.

Now some of the women leave the Zenana and go to England with their husbands, but this is not usual. Many of them are anxious to leave, and their husbands are seeing that it is better for them to consent.

It was announced at the meeting that the Toronto qomen teachers had formed a Canadian Club, and that in the future both clubs will endeavor to have their meetings on the same day in order to secure the same speaker. Tea will be served after each meeting.

Ladies—The afternoon class on Saturday will still be continued if twenty avail themselves of the opportunity. For terms, etc., phone No. 85.

STOP IT!

If you are the man that has been buying his shoes and furnishings on time; stop it; you are wasting money. Remember, it is not what you earn, it is what you save that counts. That's why so many men (men who know) are now buying their shoes, clothing and furnishings from JOHN BULL. Hardly anybody would believe that such high class goods could be sold for so little money. But then the reason is simple; he sells for cash, that's why HE SELLS SO REASONABLE. Of course if you have bought goods here before you don't need to be told that our qualities are worth noticing. We are showing an excellent range of Stanfield's Underwear—just the kind for this weather and our shoe department is full of such well known lines as J. & T. Bell's, Doctors Special, and Dr. Reed's Cushion Shoe—the easiest shoe on eerth, and McPherson's fine shoes for men who know.

A PRACTICAL POULTRYMAN

(By Our Special Commissioner).

Our first visit to Lulu Island was made under the most favorable conditions, as regards the weather. Brilliant sunshine relieved the monotony of the flats, which stretched out 6on every side, as the car made its way to Steveston. We were reminded of the Sussex marshes in the Old Country, with its herds of cattle dotted about among the dykes. Mr. Wilson tells us that the Drainage Commission of Lulu Island have cut dykes across the island at intervals of one mile. These dykes discharge their drain water into the Gulf when the tide is at the ebb. At high tide, the dykegates automatically close, and store the drainage water until the next ebb tide opens the dyke gates again. At rare intervals of drought the dyke gates are kept closed and their stored water is forced back by sub-irrigation to the lands again.

Mr. Wilson's 25 acres have been drained by him by means of mould drains at intervals of 10 feet apart, which fall into a central drain leading to the main dyke. The soil reclaimed by this drainage system is a stiff clay and, though yielding good crops, is sour, like all lands which have been water-logged.

Mr. Wilson purchases large quantities of slacked lime from the builders Barrels of this lime, which has been spoilt for building purposes, may from time to time be cheaply acquired. The lime is lavishly used on the droppings board and in the houses, and then swept out to manure the land. We believe that a large measure of the success which Mr. Wilson has had with his chickens is traceable to this persistent liming of the soils. The action of the weather would convert this lime into a carbonate and render it available as surface grit for the chicks, and at the same time the lime will gradually sweetenthe soil and counteract its acidity. So far as our experience has yet gone, there seems to be a concensus of opinion that lime and basic slag are the manures urgently needed in this district. The connection between lime and the vitality of an animal appears to have been demonstrated by experiments conducted by Professor Graham and others, and the writer's experience endorses their conclusions.

Another advantage, due to the geographical position of the ranch, is that Mr. Wilson is able to get clam shells in bulk from the Gulf Islands, at a very cheap rate, about 25 cents a sack.

The brooder house is of simply construction, the walls made of 12 in. x 1in. planks, with strips nailed over the joints. Mr. Wilson does not believe that chicks require special warmth in the house, outside the brooder itself. If the latter is well warmed and the chick knows its way there, he thinks that artificial heat in other parts of the house is unnecessary. For this reason, he is opposed to locating the furnace on the ground level, so that the outflow hot water pipe has to be carried several feet above the ground level and only passes through the brooders. By sinking the furnace so that the top is about level with the floor, he is able to carry the outflow pipe thru' the brooders, as well as the return pipe ,thereby concentrating the heat of the whole furnace in the brooders. To prevent excessive variations of temperature in the water, he uses damp sawdust to bank the coal in the furnace. The brooder house is 100 feet long, and contains nineteen brooders, 5 feet long by 2 feet wide. The brooder is constructed of wooden partitions and a solid back with a movable top. The inside runs are 5 feet wide and 9 feet long, giving 45 square feet to each brooder of 100 chicks. The outside runs are 5 feet wide by 50 feet long. These dimensions are generous, and we have always strongly urged that brooder houses should be constructed to give ample scratching room inside and out. As may be gathered from the foregoing, Mr. Wilson does not believe in the "cool brooder."

The methods of feeding are simple. A dry mash of bran and crushed oats is alway before the birds. No meat scrap is given, but fresh cut green bone is fed four times a week Sprouted oats and wheat are given daily. To sprout the oats, they are soaked for six or seven hours, then placed in barrels to heat and finally spread out in trays in a warm place, such as the furnace end of the brooder house. The sprouted oats furnish green food, and large quantities of cabbage are fed. The alternating run system is used, one run at the back of the house being used while that at the front is turned over and sown aboutthree times in the season, i.e., the birds are turned into a fresh run that number of times.

The fowl houses are built on the open front system, and divided into breeding pens by partitions to hold one male bird and 12 to 15 hens. These houses are built to give greater warmth than the brooder house. The walls are double boarded, with tar paper between. The floors are boarded and raised well off the ground, litter being put in the space between the roosting boards at the back and the front of the house. The breeding pens are 10 feet square, with wire doors giving passage way throughout the length of the building.

The birds were well through the moult and will begin laying about December, or even earlier. Mr. Wilson finds that it is essential to get the birds well through the moult before the wet weather begins, or laying is seriously delayed.

The number of day-old chicks sold was 48,600 this season, and there are 5,000 birds on the ranch at the present time. These will be reduced to 2,000 breeders by the time the breeding season begins in February.

A mammoth brooder of four sections for 4,000 eggs each is being erected, and on completion will form the subject of an article in this journal.—Agricultural Journal of B.C.

IT WAS STONE IN THE BLADDER

GIN PILLS PASSED IT

"Five years ago, I was taken down with what the doctors called Inflammation of the Bladder—intense pains in the back and loins, and difficulty in urinating, and the attacks, which became more frequent, amounted to unbearable agony. I became so weak that I could not walk across the floor.

My wife read in the papers about GIN PILLS and sent for a box. From the very first, I felt that GIN PILLS were doing me good. The pain was relieved at once, and the attacks were less frequent.

In six weeks, the Stone in the Bladder came away. When I recall how I suffered and how now I am healthy and able to work, I cannot express myself strongly enough when I speak of what GIN PILLS have done for me". JOHN HERMAN, Hamilton, Ont.

DRUNKENNESS CAN BE CURED.

Many men drink who desire to stop the habit. Whisky, however, has undermined the constitution and created a craving that is not to be denied, and the man must have whisky or something that will remove the craving and build up the system and restore the nerves.

Samaria Prescription stops the craving, steadies the nerves, builds up the general health and makes drink actually distasteful and nauseous. It is tasteless and odorless, and can be given with or without the patient's knowledge, in tea, coffee or food. It is used regularly by Physicians and Hospitals. It has cured thousands in Canada, and restored happiness to hundreds of homes.

Read what Mrs. G——, of Hull, says of it and what it did for her:

"It is four months to-day since I started to use your Remedy I followed the directions, and had the best of results. One week after I started using your Remedy the patient stopped drinking, and has not drunk a glass of liquor since. I hope you will accept my heartfelt thanks. Hoping God will bless your Remedy whenever tried, I remain,

Mrs. G——, Hull, Que.

Now, if there is anyone in your town who needs this Remedy, tell them of it. Practical philanthropy can take no better form. If you have a husband, father, brother or friend who drinks, help them help themselves. Write to-day.

A FREE TRIAL PACKAGE of Samaria, with Booklet giving full particulars, directions, testimonials, price, etc., will be sent in a plain sealed package to anyone mentioning this paper. Correspondence sacredly confidential. The trial package alone has confidential. Write to-day. The Samaria Remedy Co., Dept. 46-49, Colborne St., Toronto, Canada. Also for Sale by C. R. "I MEET PARLIAMENT FOR THE FIRST TIME"

Duke of Connaught in Speech from Throne Expresses His Satisfaction

Ottawa, Nov. 16—The following is the speech from the throne as read by His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught in the Senate chamber this afternoon:

"Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

"It is with much satisfaction that I meet, for the first time, the Parliament of Canada and avail myself of your advice and assistance in the fulfillment of the important charge which has been entrusted to me by His Majesty the King.

"I can assure you that I esteem it a privilege to be called upon to administer the affairs of this prosperous and growing Dominion and to associate myself with you in the important duties which you are about to approach. It affords me great pleasure to congratulate you upon the continued and increasing prosperity of the country. Our trade, both with British and with foreign countries is rapidly expanding and there is every prospect that, both in volume, the trade of the present year will be largely in excess of that attained at any time in the past.

"Although there has been some damage to the crops in certain districts, the harvest has on the whole been abundant and it is believed that the returns to the husbandman will exceed those secured in any previous year.

RESULTS OF CENSUS.

"The results of the census taken during the present year will be laid before you, so far as they have been tabulated. While the increase in population has not fulfilled all the sanguine expectations that had been formed, yet it has been substantial, and encouraging. You will be pleased to know that the revenues for the current fiscal year have, up to the present, largely exceeded those at any similar period in the past with every prospect that the increase will be maintained.

"The advantages that would result from a wider exchange of products between the various countries of the Empire are undoubted in view of the wonderful variety and extent of those productions, and negotiations have been opened with the British West Indies and British Guiana which should prove advantageous to those colonies as well as to this Dominion.

HIGHWAYS AND AGRICULTURE.

The importance of providing our country with better highways is manifest. A bill will be introduced for the purpose of enabling the Dominion to co-operate with the provinces in the accomplishment of this desirable object.

"It is essential to recognize that in a country possessing so great an area of fertile land as that with which this Dominion is happily endowed, the great basic industry is agriculture. My advisers are convinced that the time has come when greater aid and encouragement should be given to those who are engaged in the cultivation of the land. To this end a measure will be introduced under which it is hoped that there may be co-operation between the Dominion and the various provinces for the purpose of assisting and encouraging our farmers to secure the best results in production and at the same time preserve the fertility of the soil.

"A measure will be introduced revising and consolidating the acts relating to the inspection of grain and providing the means by which the government can secure, through a commission, the control and operation of the terminal elevators upon the Great Lakes.

TARIFF COMMISSION.

"A bill will be introduced to establish a permanent tariff commission, whose duty it shall be to ascertain by investigation and enquiry, such information as will furnish a more stable and satisfactory basis for tariff legislation than has heretofore been available.

Bills will also be laid before you with respect to the department of external affairs, the archives and other subjects.

"The selection of the best route for the Hudson Bay Railway is engaging the attention of my advisers, and an announcement will be made to you of the result of their enquiry.

"Gentlemen of the House of Commons: The accounts of the last year will be laid before you; the balance of the estimates for the coming year will be submitted for your approval at an early date.

"Honorable gentleman of the Senate; gentlemen of the House of Commons: I commend the subjects which I have mentioned to your best consideration. I trust that your deliberations under the blessing of Divine Providence may tend to the welfare and good government of this Dominion."

PARLIAMENT OPENED BY BRITISH PRINCE

Great Crowd Assembled About Parliament Buildings to View Scene—Senate chamber Packed

Ottawa, Nov. 16—In the Dominion capital at 3 o'clock this afternoon, the boom of a big gun in the crisp winter air proclaimed that a British prince had come to open a British Parliament in Canada. At the sound the great crowd which had assembled about the Parliament buildings broke into a cheer. Before the second gun of the salute had boomed out a cavalry escort clattered through the east gate. Close after the troop came the royal coach drawn by four blooded bays with postillions on their backs. Within were seated their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and the duke's military secretary, Col. H. C. Lowther.

The equipage swept up to the Senate entrance, where the bushbied guard from the Governor-General's Foot Guards was drawn up with the regimental band. The guard presented arms and broke into the National Anthem as the party left the coach, and entered the building.

UNEQUALLED IN SPLENDOR.

There have been many ceremonial openings of the Canadian Parliament but none which ever equalled in splendor today's show. The weather conditions were ideal. A mantle of recently fallen snow covered the ground, and the sun shone brightly, adding materially to the brilliancy of the military part of the spectacle. The crisp winter air had an exhilirating effect on the men in uniform as well as on the people who had turned out in thousands to see the Duke of Connaught and his escort arrive after the drive from Government House.

Inside, the scene was no less brilliant. The Duke and Duchess found the Senate chamber packed with senators and officials and their wives and daughters on the floor, while the galleries were jammed with the privileged public who had succeeded in obtaining tickets for the occasion. The military were there in brilliant uniforms. The judges of the Supreme Court in scarlet and ermine were seated upon the woolsack before the throne. Representatives of foreign countries and of the churches were present in ceremonial garb.

COMMONS SUMMONED.

At the command of Speaker Landry, Major Denis Lemoine, the acting Black Rod, was sent to summon the members of the House of Commons. He delivered his message in two languages to the waiting members in the lower chamber, with three knocks and six bows, and the speaker of the Commons, following the sergeant-at-arms and the mace, led the Commoners to the Senate chamber, where his royal highness, having been officially informed that the Commons had selected their speaker, read his speech from the throne, first in English and then in French.

After the speech had been read the royal party at once retired and the members of the Commons returned to their chamber, where Premier Borden introduced the formal bill respecting oaths of office, which preserves the traditional right of Parliament to deal with its business before that of the crown.

In the Senate a formal bill which relates to railways was introduced by Senator Lougheed, the government leader.

New Senators

Ottawa, Nov. 16—The two senate vacancies were filled by the government at a meeting of the cabinet council last evening. Mr. Rufus H. Pope has been appointed to succeed the late Senator G. B. Baker, who represented the Eastern Townships, while Mr. George Taylor, of Gananoque, Ont., succeeds the late Sir John Carling, who was one of Ontario's twenty-four senators.

The Lawrence Hardware company, of Revelstoke, brought action before Judge Carpenter yesterday in the district court against Dr. R.G. Brett of Banff, for account for paint supplied to the Halcyon Hot Springs hotel. Judge Carpenter gave judgment that the doctor was not the person liable for the debt and dismissed the action with costs. F. S. Selwood appeared for the plaintiff, and J.M. Carson for the defendant.—Calgary Herald.

A large congregation turned out on Sunday evening to take part in the song service in the Methodist church. Sankey's favorite hymns were sung and his life reviewed. Two splendid anthems "Unfold Ye Portals" and "I Am a Pilgrim" were well sung by the choir. Mrs. Bews thrilled the audience by singing the old hymn, "There Were Ninety and Nine" and a trombone solo by Mr. Paul Samson, was very much appreciated.

The Mail-Herald is in receipt of the first number of "The Agricultural Journal of B. C." It is a most creditable 24-page journal, fairly bristling with hints for the farmers. In this issue we are reproducing an article by "A Practical Poultryman" which will be interesting reading for local poultrymen on the eve of the poultry show. Owing to the fact that the poultry industry is becoming a live issue at Revelstoke, we will endeavour to publish from time to time as many articles on poultry as the space will warrant.

PEDIGREES OF APPLE TREES

Washington Fruit Expert Advocates Keeping "Stud Book"

That the day is approaching when apple trees, in common with cattle, horses and poultry, will have their pedigrees recorded in a "stud-book" is the opinion of H.M. Lichty, a fruit expert from Sunnyside, Wash, who is visiting the Kootenay and Boundary districts.

During the past few days Mr. Lichty has visited a number of ranches near Nelson and has distributed metal tags among the growers by means of which the records of the performances of the best trees in the orchards may be kept and recorded in a register. Each of these tags has a number in the "stud-book."

"The great advantage of keeping the pedigrees of the trees," said Mr. Lichty, "is that it enables the grower to obtain scions for grafting from the trees in his orchard, or in some other person's orchards, which by their records have been proved to be the producers of the best fruit and the most regular crops.

"I am a great believer in up-breeding," he continued. "It is, beyond question, possible by careful selection of scions to up-breed in such a way as to produce fruit of steadily improving quality. The pedigree system applied to fruit is intended simply to improve existing varieties and not to create new varieties."

Mr. Lichty advocates planting young apple trees in rows 35 feet apart, with the trees 17½ feet apart, fillers alternating in rows. He believes in planting only standard varieties as fillers and suggests planting two different varieties of the same class of apples in blocks of about six rows. As an instance he has found that Wagners and Yellow Newton Pippins alternating in rows succeed admirably.

The wide space he advises in order that ample room be given for cultivation, spraying, irrigation, if necessary, and sunlight. The wide rows also permit of the planting of alfalfa and other crops between the trees.

To Aspiring Musicians

Mark Hambourg, the famous pianist, who comes to the Edison theatre on November 30th, is not only a great musician, but looms up largely as an authot. For a number of years he has been a celebrated Londoner and has written his experiences, in various parts of the globe, for many of the English weeklies, and such was the success with these shorter articles that he decided to try his hand on a book, not a work of fiction—material for which he could readily provide, but a compact little volume entitled "The Piano as a Profession" written more particularly as an author. For a number of book is not a large one, but the ideas set forth are like unto its masterful author and his playing; full of originality and spontaneous interest, and of exceptional value to students.

Contrary to the advice usually administered to those who aspire towards a career at the piano (which is Don't do it), Hambourg believes in encouraging all candidates to determine whether or no they possess decided talent before taking the first step along the steep and rough path way; which, if considered more frequently, and seriously, would be is sure, avoid much misery, bitterness and disappointment, but for the youth who has the "real gift" this is his advice: "Let him be sent to a great teacher from the first, let him study with the best from the beginning and an advantage will be conferred which will be felt all thru' his subsequent career." The young pianist must cultivate not only mental but bodily health, taking physical culture, light gymnastics, with plenty of exercise in the open whenever possible, or else, just when everything seems within his grasp and his mental capacity at its zenith, he may feel the agony of his physical powers of endurance failing when there is greatest need of them, for if anyone has need of a sanguine disposition and a healthful optimistic view of things, it is surely the musician.—Continued in next issue.

CONSERVATIVES READY FOR THE CONVENTION

Between Three and Four Hundred Delegates Are Expected to Attend

New Westminster, Nov. 21— The annual convention of the British Columbia Conservative Association will be held in St. George's hall in this city on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 24 and 25, with the president, Mr.W. M. McKay, Vancouver, presiding. It is expected that this will be the largest convention of its kind ever held in the province, and the committees in charge are making arrangements to receive between 200 and 300 delegates from all parts of the province. Accommodation is being arranged for the delegates in the city hotels and in private houses.

On Friday evening a banquet will be held in the Royal cafe under the auspices of the local Conservative organization. Plans are also being made to run a special excursion train to Chilliwack on Saturday for the entertainment of the delegates, and to show them the rich lower Fraser valley. A meeting of the executive will be held this evening to complete arrangements for the convention.

DELEGATES TO CONVENTION.

The delegates for Revelstoke and district are:—Rand Gibbons, R. D. McDonald, T. J. Wadman, W. R. Reid, A. E. Kincaid, Frank Young, J. K. McLean, Ed. Trimble, H. J. McSorley, John Bland and Jas. H. Armstrong.

Leaps to Death

The cattlemen who drove a small bunch of beef steers from Revelstoke to contractor Sam Hunter's logging camp some thirty miles up the Columbia river, through the snow of last week, report having a very bad trip, it taking five days to make the round trip. Before the camp was reached the cattlemen witnessed a terrible sight, when one of the steers jumped over a cut bank and fell fully thirty feet into the deep snow.

The foremost animal was immediately followed by the whole herd, which piled one after the other over the high bank. The foremost steer was killed outright, its neck being broken by the fall, but strange to say none of the other animals were in any way injured.

It took the drivers half a day to get the animals on the trail again, and now Mr. Hunter's camp has a good supply of beef for the winter.

Ready to Meet Horrible Fate

Richmond, Va., Nov. 21—With only a shadow of his jauntiness remaining, Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., condemned to die for the murder of his young wife, knelt in a corner of his cell and prayed, while in the death chamber the electricians switched off and on the current in the electric chair, in which he is to meet his end Friday, and made sure that the apparatus was in sufficiently working condition.

Rev. Benjamin Dennis, the Episcopalian minister who has been constantly at Beattie's side during the past week, spent several hours in his cell today, accompanied by the Rev. Mr. Fix, exhorting the prisoner. The gravity of his impending fate has finally touched Beattie, and he is taking refuge in prayer.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 21—All Virginia and the whole of Dixie are awaiting with the greatest interest the execution of Henry Clay Beattie on Friday, but the people generally still believe something will happen to prevent the death penalty. If the execution occurs, the public will be greatly surprised, and there are many who still believe Beattie will find some means of ending his life rather than die the death of a felon.

The Beattie family is inconsolable, and the youth's father is half-crazed with grief and rage. He declares his son is innocent and his belief is shared by many who are not acquainted with the family.

Seattle Faces Crisis

Seattle, Nov. 21—The water famine is hourly growing more serious. The city's entire system is paralyzed as a result of the breaking of the mains in the mountains Sunday. Today there is enough water stored in the reservoirs to last only 24 hours and two-thirds of the city is now without any water at all.

Schools are closed and the courts will close today. Apartment houses and hotels are without water and sanitary conditions are bad. Water is being hauled from Lake Washington and boiled. The fire danger was never as great.

Today word came from the dam that the break could not be repaired before Saturday at the earliest. A two hundred foot bridge washed out with the water mains. This will mean that after tomorrow the city will be without water except what is hauled.

FAMOUS CASE IS NOW WITHDRAWN

Application of Mr. Herbert to Drop Marriage Case Involving the "Ne Temere" Decree

Montreal, Nov. 21—The withdrawal of the defense to the Hebert-Cloute marriage case was formally filed before Judge Arthur when court opened this morning. Mr. Hebert stated that he was unable to continue the case owing to his inability to meet expenses. He therefore withdrew his objection to Mrs. Hebert's appeal and the "Ne Temere" decree cannot be tested in court.

Mr. Wainwright, counsel for Mrs. Hebert, raised a strong objection to the case. "This case should be continued in the interest of the public," he said, "it involves an important question, the civil status of a resident of this province, and I believe it should be heard on it's merits."

"This move will leave the principals in the case in exactly the same position that they were before. Their marriage will be held legal, but will not be considered legal by the Roman Catholic Church. The object of the case now, it appears to me, is to test the validity of the "Ne Temere" degree in this province, where no decision has been reached on this point."

Judge Arthur granted the permission to Mr. Hebert to withdraw and in all probability, the final hearing of the case will be brief. Formal judgment is to be rendered in practice court.

COWBOY SHOT

Broke Up Sunday Evening Service in Oklahoma

Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 21— As in the old days when cowboys shot up the towns for the sport of it, two men rode up to the Presbyterian church at Park Hill, near here, while the preacher was offering the closing prayers Sunday night, and fired through the windows. Lights were shot out and the bullets sang over the heads of the congregation, the members of which crouched on the floor for safety. After a clatter of hoof beats indicated that the disturbers had gone, the people rushed to their homes and the men secured arms and went in pursuit. The men who fired the shots escaped.
