GRAND ORANGE LODGE CONVENTION AT REVELSTOKE

February 20, 21, 22--Two Hundred Delegates--Many Members and Friends Will Visit City

Revelstoke is fast becoming known as a convention city and during the present month will be entertaining one of the largest conventions ever held in the interior of B.C., as the Grand Orange Lodge of British Columbia will meet here on the 20th, 21st and 22nd inst. It is expected that fully 200 delegates from all over the province will be here some coming from the west coast of Vancouver Island, while others will come from the eastern extremity of the province.

The Orangemen have secured single fare rates for their delegates and as this privilege is also extended to visitors at the Grand Lodge and their wives, Revelstoke will be well advertise throughout the entire province.

The Orange Lodge in Canada is now recognized as a most important organization, and Revelstoke can consider herself highly honored by this city being selected as a suitable location for hilding such an important convention.

Such a great convention will bring large numbers of visitors to the city and the accommodation of so many influential and distinguished guests will tax our resources to the uttermost.

It is fortunate that no city of the same size in the interior, can boast of as many well equipped hotels as Revelstoke, and everything will be done by the businessmen and citizens to cater to the visitors during the convention sitting.

The facilities afforded by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company in the matter of special reduced rates, backed by the fact that three passenger trains in each direction are available at Revelstoke every day, should result in a record attendance of lodge officers, members and friends and our visitors can rely upon a welcome and a pleasant holiday in the City of Revelstoke.

St. Valentine Dance

The Drill Hall is to be the scene of the most important event of the season on February 14th, this being the date of the St. Valentine's dance under the auspices of the Girls' Hospital Auxiliary.

The floor will be in perfect condition, McMahon's orchestra, of four pieces, has been engaged especially for this occasion. The hall will be tastefully decorated with appropriate St. Valentine and Leap Year emblems. There will also be two card rooms for those who wish a game, and a gallery for spectators, with prices placed reasonable. The refreshments from the management of a capable committee will be triumphs of the culinary art

The present season has been exceptionally brilliant from the view-point of the dancers, owing to the failure of the ice-skating, and the girls who are organizing that St. Valentine's dance promise a good time. All Revelstoke and his wife, to say nothing of the best girls, will be there. Interest in the hospital has been stimulated owing to the large government grant.

The Girls' Hospital Auxiliary is a new society organized last December Its object is to furnish a cot in the children's ward of the hospital. The worthy cause for which this function has been organized and the great preparations made to render the same a success by the girls who have given time and talent to the completion of the arrangements warrants the most generous patronage.

Dickens' Centenary

On Wednesday evening the Westminster Guild of St. John's church, and the Baptist Young People's Union held a very successful union meeting in the Presbyterian church. The day being the centenary of the birth of Charles Dickens, the program was largely composed of a study of his life and books. The main address of the evening was given by Miss MacKenzie, who in a clear and instructive manner presented the career of the famous author, and several members of the Guild read selections from his books, illustrating the different characteristics of his style. Mr. Allan Thomson, president of the Guild, acted as chairman, and welcomed the Baptist young people. Rev E. J. Chave spoke briefly, expressing the pleasure of himself and his young people in being present to participate in marking the anniversary of the birth of one of the world's greatest writers. Misses Wrigley, Byrd, and Manning, and Messrs. Tyson, Duck and Thomson, contributed musical selections, which were greatly enjoyed. At the conclusion of the program refreshments were served- bringing to a close a most enjoyable evening.

McKinnon's Tournament

The bowling tournament is now fairly on at McKinnon's alleys, for the gold medals, the first two games having been played off on Thursday and Friday, between the Happy Home and Calendonians, and the Selkirks and Corleys on Friday. The first game resulted in a win for the Caledonians by two games to one and in the second game the Corleys won over the Selkirks by a narrow margin. From the interest so far manifested the league promises to be a great success and some good games are expected. The high score on the alleys for the mineralite ball is still held by Roy McDonald with 225. The list of games for next week follow:

Monday—King Edwards vs. Corleys
Tuesday—Happy Home vs. Selkirks
Wednesday—Selkirks vs. King Edwards.
Thursday —Caledonians vs. King Edwards.
Friday—Corleys vs. Happy Home.

VERNON BONSPIEL A GREAT SUCCESS

Although Mild Weather Made Only Second Class Ice---Revelstoke Curlers Make Good Showing

WIN PRIZE CUPS.

The Kelly-Douglas cup, as well as the Okanagan cup prizes at the Vernon bonspiel, were won by the Revelstoke curlers who returned home last evening. These cups are now on exhibition at Macdonald's drug store.

The Vernon bonspiel commenced on Monday afternoon with a very fair attendance. The weather has been very mild and the ice too soft for good curling; all effort is being made, however, to rush the events through before the ice fails entirely.

THE BURNS ALL-COMERS.

Six Vernon rinks were entered for this competition against rinks from the six outside points represented. Vernon has won in the aggregate and the six home rinks will play down for the cup and prizes. The aggregate score is as follows:

All-comers—		Vernon—
Beavis.....	9	Smith.....	4
Summerland
Little	5	Berry	12
Armstrong
Lang	8	Macdonald...	13
Peachland
Elliott.....	11	Jackson ...	13
Kelowna
Dill	15	Forester .	7
Enderby
Macdonald...	18	Simms ...	18
Revelstoke
	66		67

Before the last game the Vernon rinks were 11 points up and the Revelstoke rink came very nearly winning out for the visitors.

GRAND CHALLENGE.

Great interest has been manifested in the McCallum Grand Challenge and several very close games have been played. Dill, of Enderby, and MacDonald, Forester and Jackson, of Vernon, reached the dours. MacDonald won out to the finals against Forester, and Jackson lost to Dill.

The concluding game will excite great interest. The opposing rinks are: J. E. Evans, I. W. Evans, E. Evans, D. B. Dill, skip; F. B. Jacques, N. H. Lamont, Hamilton Lang, K. C. MacDonald, skip.

KELLY-DOUGLAS.

McIntyre and Jackson are playing in the semi-finals. The winner will meet Forester who reached the finals after defeating Little, of Armstrong, in a very close game which was won by a single point.

HENDERSON.

This interesting competition is not far advanced. Lang, of Peachland, is waiting to play either McIntyre of Revelstoke, or R. E. Berry. Beavis of Summerland, will play against R. Smith, of Revelstoke.

OKANAGAN.

Beavis is out in the fours; McIntyre has to play Dill; R. Smith, (Revelstoke) meets Peachland, and Kelowna plays K. C. MacDonald.

W. H. MALKIN.

This is well advanced. Jackson, Little, Macdonald and R. Smith reached the fours. Macdonald played R. Smith yesterday morning, and won out after a very exciting game, and is resting at the final stage to meet either Jackson or Little for the concluding battle.

Dill, of Enderby, beat MacDonald, of Vernon, in the Henderson. McIntyre, of Revelstoke, beat Jackson in the Kelly-Douglas. Dill won from Smith, while Berry lost to McIntyre in the Henderson.

In the Okanagan, Elliott, of Kelowna, lost to MacDonald after a hard fought game. Lang, of Peachlann, won from R. Smith, of Revelstoke, in the same competition.

Last night Little was playing Jackson in the Malkin, and the winner will play MacDonald in the final game today. Dill meets McIntyre, and Lang meets MacDonald in the Okanagan.

The final games in the Grand Challenge between MacDonald and Dill; in the Kelly-Douglas, between Forester and McIntyre, are taking place today.

The best of good feeling prevails, ann although the soft ice is not calculated to bring out the best curling skill, the annual gathering is proving a marked success!

Excellent arrangements have been made by the home club to provide for the comfort of the visitors and it is hoped that they will all return to their homes well pleased with their annual holiday.—Vernon News of the 8th inst.

SATURDAY, FEB. 10th, 1912.

We understand that in the near future, an effort will be made by the new city council, to rid the town of the hordes of stray mongrel dogs, which have succeeded in evading the tax gathers for years, and have increased to such an extent as to become a public nuisance.

Every dog owner in town of course is agreed that the stray cur dogs should be weeded out, and there is no better way to secure this desirable reform than by a rigid enforcement of the dog tax. When owners have to pay a tax for keeping their dog the natural result is that they get better dogs, no one will pay for the privilege of keeping yelping curs of the "sooner" type, and we hope the council will act in this matter this spring.

The Revelstoke Board of Trade have given abundant proof of the possession of that charity which "suffereth long and is kind" and the patience with which they have accepted the excuses of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company in regard to the complaints of the delays to freight shipments to Arrow Lakes points, is proof of their desire to do everything possible before taking any drastic action re this very serious matter. But everything has its limits, and the resolution passed at the annual meeting of the Board, that the matter be taken up with the retailers association, and a joint case prepared for submission to the Railway Commission, shows that the limit of their patience has at last been reached.

After three years of complaint and waiting, a weary repitation of facts on one side, and of broken promises of reforms on the other, the businessmen of this city have been compelled to abandon any hope of redress from the Great Railway Company, and are now preparing to submit the matter to the Railway Commission.

It seems a pity that a matter of this kind could not have been amicably adjusted before such a point was reached, by ignoring these complaints the Railway Company have killed their own traffic at the same time as business from this center to Southern points has been strangled for lack of reasonable shipping facilities, and no one has benefitted.

LUMBER AND CUSTOMS TARIFF

The Canadian Lumbermen's Association Asks the Federal Government to Impose Duty

Ottawa, Feb. 6—The Canadian Lumbermen's Association this afternoon discussed tariffs on certain lumber imported from the United Btates.

It was decided to memorialize the Federal government to place all lumber which is further manufactured than rough sawn on the dutiable list and to instruct all customs officials to exercise increased vigilance in inspecting lumber imported into Canada to see that the law is fully complied with.

This action was taken in view of the fact that the statistics of last year show tremendous increases in imports of covering planks, boards, joists and scantlings, all of which came from the United States. It was also shown that Canada's Customs Act, permitting importation of lumber planed or finished on one side has led to gross abuse, whereby large quantities of lumber finished on more than one side has been brought into Canada and evaded the customs.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mr. T. MacLaren, Montreal; vice-presidents, Messrs. J. S. Gillies, J. C. Brown, John Hendry and D. C. Cameron; executive, Messrs. A. MacLaren J. C. Browne, J. S. Gillies, W. C. Laidlaw and C. C. Edwards.

The matter of adopting a uniform grading rule in the sale of lumber was discussed, and the following committee was appointed to prepare a report on the subject: Manufacturers Messrs. J. S. Gillies, F. T. Waldie, and R. Kenny; wholesalers, Messrs. W. Laidlaw, P. C. Walker and A.H. Campbell.

The association passed a resolution endorsing a resolution passed by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association asking that the Railway Commission be empowered with the necessary authority to require railways, before introducing a new tariff on carrying rates, to show that the increased rate is just and reasonable. The secretary pointed out that under present conditions when notice of an increase in rates was posted by a railway company, shippers could do nothing until the rate came into effect. Then they were required to bear the expense while fighting the question out before the Railway Commission. The proposal is to give the commission the necessary power to hold up any proposed change in the railroad tariff when complaint is made and to throw the onus of dispute on the railways, compelling them to prove that the increase is just and reasonable.

The Lumbermen's Association will act in conjunction with the Manufacturers' Association in this matter.

Daughters of Empire

The annual general meeting of the Daughters of the Empire was held on Monday afternoon last in the Alexandra club, Vancouver, the president Mrs. Henry Croft being in the chair. The election of officers resulted in those holding office for the past year being re-elected, the list reading as follows:—Regent, Mrs. Croft; first vice-president Mrs. Luxton; treasurer Mrs. Bennett; secretary, Mrs. Haning-ton and standard bearer, Mrs. Parker Hibben. Councillors were elected as follows: Mrs. Curtis Sampson, Mrs. McMicking, Mrs. Dewdney, Mrs. J.D. Gordon, Mrs. Day, Mrs. Hasell, Miss Harris, Mrs. Jenkins, Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Beaven. The report of the executive committee on the year's work was read by the secretary while the president gave a short address illustrative of the progress made by the order during the past twelve months. A communication was received from the Women's Canadian club, stating the willingness of its members to co-operate with the Daughters of the Empire in their forthcoming course of lectures, which will commence on the 26th inst. with a lecture by Mr. E. O. S. Scholefield, provincial librarian, on the early history of this province.

Most interesting and well expressed was the report read by Mrs. Hasell on the observance of the coronation in this city by the order. This was listened to with much interest and will be forwarded to the national chapter in Toronto with the various annual reports and other data of the local branches. Mrs. Day's report on the children's committee of the coronation carnival which was read at the last meeting will also be sent to Toronto, and it was decided that before this was done both this report and that of Mrs. Hasell should be printed here, so that the order could refer to them at future times.

Considerable discussion was held over the request sent to the national chapter from the Vancouver branches of the order that the provincial organization should be formed in that city. The constitution clearly points out that the provincial chapter can only be formed in the capital city of the province, and some feeling has been aroused by the local members at the action taken by the sister city in the matter. Victoria feels also that the time is not yet ripe for the forming of a provincial organization as the order is only established in Vancouver and Victoria, and not in any other cities of the province. The local executive with whom Vancouver has been in communication on the matter, wrote a letter to the Terminal City a few days ago strongly protesting against their action, but have not yet had time to receive a reply.

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor Mail-Herald:—

Dear Sir,—I would like, through your columns, to express my appreciation of the article in your last issue headed "The Pettipiece Case"; also to back up, with what little weight I may have, all the statements contained therein as they are within my personal knowledge.

We are altogether to apt to criticise and condemn a man for what we regard as his failings, entirely overlooking his good points and the conditions under which that man may labor.

Since "Parm" left Revelstoke, he has thrown his whole being into the cause of labor and has been instrumental in effecting a number of improvements in the conditions under which thousands work in this province. This has necessarily brought down upon his head anything but love from a large section of the employing class, who have lost no opportunity of spreading accusations absolutely without foundation and misrepresenting his actions at every turn. And, I am sorry to say, large numbers of those who have benefited by his labors have been the first to join in the chorus of maledictions.

I have been in close touch with Parm Pettipiece and his family for three years now, and know somewhat of his personal affairs. I do not know any man who works any harder than he does or who takes more interest in the welfare of his family and relations. Parm is not an angel but he is a man whom I am proud to number among my friends.

How would it be Mr. Editor if we say a word occasionally in a man's favor while he lives, instead of waiting for his funeral?

It is true that Parm belongs to a peculiar political faith; but, is the fact that a man has the courage to publicly announce his political convictions any reason why we should condemn him?

Yours truly,

W. W. LeFEAUX.

Goes Under Ice

Fernie, B. C., Feb. 6—West Fernie was the scene of a distressing accident last night which has cast a gloom over the town. About six o'clock a number of children were playing on the river snowballing each other. To escape being struck with the snow little Jackie Wright covered his face with his arms and started across the river. About the middle of the river there was an air hole, but owing to having his eyes covered Jackie did not see it and the poor little fellow went in. Chief Minty, with a number of helpers is searching the river for the body.

Two weeks ago today Mr. Wright's house was burned to the ground the children having a hard time to get out of it safely.—Ex.

MALAKWA NOTES

Malakwa Notes LL ((££ lblb AA Q
Editor Mail-Herald:—

Dear Sir,—The Garden of Eden valley is beginning to assume the attire of the gentle spring time. There being no ground hogs, we have to look to other indications for foretelling the advent of this welcome season of the year, with the summer like days and nights brings the robins and the bees back to their favorite haunts mid the swelling buds and pastures green, but let it come.

The Conservative Association met in the hall on Wednesday evening, and transacted some very important business.

Wm. Waddell made a very sudden departure for the coast last week, and we hear whispers of important results from his extended visit, also probable changes in Buckingham Palace on his return. In the meantime Lloyd is very lonesome and restless, more so since his three or four days sojourne in Revelstoke last week.

Mrs. Kile of Craigellachie has been priding herself on a good case of munps all her own, but she is now out of danger we believe.

Mrs. A. S. Alderton of Craigellachie, was in Revelstoke Tuesday.

J. H. Johnson and E. A. Haycock were Revelsyoke visitors yesterday.

R. A. Coppock and wife have returned home, and are prepared to feed the wayfarer on short notice.

The government dam is completed and Messrs. Bruhn and Boseley are moving their equipment to Bowie to start work on a new wagon bridge across the Eagle river at that place.

Just 32 Miles West of Revelstoke, and Extending between Sicamous Junction to Three Valleys Station

Area of First-Class Land---20,000 Acres

Character of Land Principally Level.

Character of Soil Bench Lands, Clay Loam and Vegetable Mould, while on Lower Lands Black Loam Prevails.

No Irrigation Positively no irrigation is needed as Valley is sub-irrigated, and many creeks supply water for Domestic purposes.

This Land is specially adapted for Large and Small Fruits, as well as Hay and Vegetables.

Moderate Climate Freezing is Average Winter Weather.

PRICES OF LAND REASONABLE

For Further Particulars About This Garden Spot of B. C., Watch This Page of the MAIL-HERALD Each Week

Every day people are realizing more and more that a mixed farm is the best paying proposition in the province. In the Garden of Eden we have one of the best examples for mixed farms to be found. On the main road to Sicamous two and a half miles from Malakwa is this ideal farm the home of Mr. F.J. Boseley. Running parallel with the road is a nice piece of land suitable for orchard with the house and barn and numerous other buildings close by. Behind and on either sfde is to be found fine black land, which from time to time has yielded exceedingly good crops, both of hay and vegetables.

We regret that this early inhabitant of the "Garden of Eden" contemplates a move, his home has been the scene of many a joyful gathering and his departure would no doubt be greatly missed.

SETTLER No. 2.

The marketing of cedar posts and poles, which has always been considered one of the chief industries of the "Garden of Eden", is now temporarly retarded owing to the fact that the cold weather and incidentially sleighing has apparently departed for a while. It is so soft that heavy loads of poles or ties cannot be hauled to the station to advantage. The weather has b?en so warm that many of the summer birds have returned, and fill the air with their melodies.

The public can rest assured that at Malakwa there is a climate that takes the lead of any portion of B. B. yet known, possibly excepting the Pacific coast. From present indications ploughing will start in March this year, which fact alone is enough to show what a great advantage Garden of Eden settlers have over ranchers in colder sections.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased lor a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each applicant must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal miaing rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to the Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

Dicken's Centenary

All the civilized world and more especially the British Empire, last Wednesday made some suitable observance of the One Hundredth Anniversary of the birth of Charles Dickens. In London probably the most important feature of the day was the annual dinner of the "Boz" club at which Lord Rosberry presided. From distant parts of the world floral decorations of magnificance were laid on the grave of the famous writer in Westminster Abbey.

Important dates in the life of the great author are:

1812—Charles John Huffman Dickens born at Portsea, near Portsmouth, the son of John Dickens, a clerk at the Portsmouth dockyard.

1816—Removed with his parents to Chatham, where he resided until 1821 when the family removed to London.

1827—At the age of 15, with the advantage of less than three years at school, he began life on his own account as a clerk in a solicitor's office

1828—After a year in the solicitor's office, where he acquired the intimate knowledge of law and lawyers that he afterward used to good advantage in his famous novels, young Dickens became a law reporter.

1831—At the age of 19 he found employment as a parliamentary reporter in which occupation he displayed great efficiency.

1833—Wrote a slight sketch entitled "A Dinner at Popular Walk" his first essay in the realm of literature.

1836—At the age of 24 he published the opening parts of the "Pickwick Papers," the work which was to make him famous.

1836—Married Miss Catherine Hogarth, daughter of George Hogarth, publisher of the Evening Chronicle to which Dickens contributed his first sketches.

840—At the age of 28 he had completed "Oliver Twist," "Nicholas Nickleby," "The Old Curiosty Shop" and "Barnaby Rudge."

1841—Paid his first visit to America.

1843—At the age of 31 he had written "Martin Chuzzlewit" and the first of his Christmas books.

1847—At the age of 35 he had completed "Dombey and Son" and four more of his famous Christmas books.

1849—At the age of 17 he had completed "David Copperfield," which is regarded by many critics as the greatest of his works.

1853—At the age of 41 he completed "Bleak House," which is famous for the excellent construction of its plot and has retained its place as one of Dickens' best efforts.

1854—At the age of 42 he had completed "Hard Times."

1857—At the age of 45 he had completed "Little Dorrit."

1859—At the age of 47 he had completed "A Tale of Two Cities," his second historical novel and one of the most powerful of his works.

1862—At the age of 50 he completed "Great Expectations," one of the most characteristically humorous of his works.

1866—At the age of 54 he completed "Our Mutual Friend."

1867—At the age of 55 he arrived in America to begin a lecture tour, in which he appeared in many of the principal cities and was received everywhere with the greatest cordiality and enthusiasm.

1868—At the age of 56 he returned to England in failing health, having depleted his strength by hard work and the excitement incident to his American tour.

1869—At the age of 57 he began writing "The Mystery of Edwin Drood," which he did not live to complete.

1870—At the age of 58, on the evening of June 9, the great writer breathed his last at "Gad's Hill place," his home in Kent, not far from Rochester, which he had purchased in 1856.

1870—On June 14 the remains were laid to rest in Westminster Abbey. In accordance with Dickens' own often-expressed feelings in the matter, the funeral was strictly private.

Killed On East Bound

Moose Jaw, Sask., Feb. 6—A young man named John G. Klundt was shot and killed early this morning by another passenger on C.P.R. train No. 4 on its way east. The murderer then turned his revolver on himself with a fatal result. At 4:20 the train drew into Moose Jaw depot where the bodies were taken in charge by the police and Dr. Brown, the coroner.

According to the story of W. L. Hindle, who was an eye-witness of the tragedy, John G. Klundt, togetherwith his brother Gusten A. Klundt had been to Medicine Hat to locate land and were returning to their home in Garrison, N. D. The murderer, whose name is not yet known, came from Vancouver and his ticket upon which his signature is inscribed in unreadable writing, shows that his destination was Campbelltown, N.B. The murderer was an old man, thin faced and dressed in neat clothes, although apparently those of a working man. When west of Maple Creek, he began to act in a very queer way and took exception to a remark passed by a man and his wife. He made the remark to them that "I am not ready to shoot yet, but I'll fix you" The man and woman left the train at Maple Creek.

Nothing further happened until the train reached Swift Current. John G. Klundt and a man named George Morrison were then sitting in a seat together at the rear end of the car with their backs to the engine.

Morrison was asleep when suddenly the old man rose from a seat just ahead of the two, pulled a 32 revolver took a quick aim and shot Klundt, a perfect stranger to him, through the back of the head. He then turned the gun on himself and put a bullet into his own brain. There appeared to be no doubt but that the murderer was crazy.

An inquest will be held by Coroner Brown.

English Cup Games

London, Feb. 6—The second round of the English Football Association cup was played today, the usual thousands attending the games. Four games resulted in draws and will have to be played next week. Among the interesting results were the wins of the Blackburn Rovers over Derby County, of Fulham over Liverpool, and Bradford City over Chelsea. Other metropolitan clubs won or drew their games. No games were played in the first division. Following are the second round results:

Everton 1, Bury 1.
Bradford 2, Portsmouth 0.
Manchester City 0, Oldham Athletic 1.
Derby County 1, Blackburn Rovers2
Leeds City 0, West Bromwich Albion 1.
Wolverhampton Wanderers 2, Lincoln City 1.
Crystal Palace 0, Sunderland 0.
Middleborough 1, Western United 1.
Darlington 1, Northampton 8.
Coventry City 1, Manchester United 5.
Barnsley 4, Leicester Fosse 0.
Swindon Town 2, Notts Forest 0.
Bolton Wanderers 1, Blackpool 0.
Aston Villa 1, Reading 1.
Bradford City 2, Chelsea 0.

Don't let repairs eat up your profits

Whether they represent actual cash outlay, or only the time of yourself and your help, repairs are waste just the same. When you make an improvement—no matter how small its cost may be—let it be permanent. Then it is a real investment, something on which you can realize in cash should you decide to sell your property; and something that will pay you constant dividends in convenience, sightliness and comfort as long as the farm remains your own.

Concrete Improvements Are Permanent

They last as long as the very hills themselves. They do not require experts to build them. Their first cost, in most cases, is no more than for inferior materials.

Aren't you interested in the subject of permanent, modern farm improvements?

Then write for the book that describes hundreds of them—

"WHAT THE FARMER CAN DO WITH CONCRETE"

It isn't a Catalogue. Every one of its 160 handsomely illustrated pages is interesting and instructive. They tell how to mix concrete, how to place it, what can be done with it. The book was printed to sell for 50 cents, but we have a copy for you, free.

A GREAT ENTERPRISE COMES TO REVELSTOKE

Walter Bews Makes an Important Connection With the Largest Co-Operative Corporation in America, Backed By Men Doing an Annual Business Amounting to $75,000,000.

PEOPLE OF REVELSTOKE BENEFITED

Walter Bews of this city, has with characteristic enterprise, demonstrated his ability to keep well abreast of the times by connecting himself with the largest druggists' co-operation in America. The men connected with this enterprise do a yearly business aggregating over $75,000,000 which well emphasizes its soundness and magnitude.

Nearly five thousand retail druggists throughout the United States and Canada have organized themselves as a co-operative company for the purpose of producing a line of medical preparations which they recommend, absolutely guaranteed and backed up with their own names and personal reputations. The formulas of these remedies are thoroughly known to everyone of these druggists and the ingredients of each will be truthfully described to the public and the remedies sold with the distinct understanding that their purchase price will be instantly refunded without question or quibble if they fail to benefit the user. This means that the public is sole jury and judge.

Different formulas were turned over to the company from most reliable sources. Each formula being selected because of its tested and proved value and established reputation, gained through continued and successful use in a high average of cases.

A research committee of chemists and physicians made a most thorough and exhaustive test of each one of these prescriptions until they had selected a very large list as being of the very best and most dependable known to medical science, each for the treatment and relief of a peculiar ailment.

These remedies are now manufactured by the company, which is known as the United Drug Co., Boston, Mass., in one of the largest, most modern and best equipped pharmaceutical laboratories in America.

The tremendous output of this company enables it to purchase drugs, herbs and other necessary material in very large quantities. The co-operation and professional advice of nearly 5000 leading druggists guarantees the high quality of everything used and guarantees that only formulas of known merit are used in the manufacturing of their products.

The preparations of the company are shipped direct to the retail druggists who are connected with the enterprise. Thus their absolute freshness is assured, it is almost impossible for their quality to deteriorate, there are no middlemen's or jobbers' profits to be added to their cost and the public can obtain these products at actual cost of manufacture, plus a single retail profit.

One noticeable feature of this business, and a very commendable one, is that no one remedy manufactured by this company is a "cure-all" Each one of the many different remedies is a known and dependable treatment for a particular ailment. The confidence of the druggists interested in this enterprise is unquestionable demonstrated by this guarantee, which is printed on every package: "The United Drug Co., and The Rexal store selling this preparation guarantee it to give satisfaction. If it does not go back to the store where you bought it and get your money—it belongs to you, and we want you to have it"

This is certainly an innovation that must appeal to the people of Revelstoke. It insures safety and satisfaction because our own druggist Mr. Walter Bews, who is so well known, and highly respected for his integrity is connected with this enterprise and is making his own personal reputation on the quality of these remedies and the very frankness with which he takes the people of Revelstoke into his confidence insures an unprecedented success for these remedies, which are sold under the tradename Rexall, which means King of All. From reports coming from hundreds of towns and cities, the Rexall Remedies are certainly demonstrating their full title to the name.

Those who have previously refused to buy proprietary medicines because there was no way of ascertaining their ingredients, can now purchase Rexall Remedies, the formulas of which they can have for the asking. Besides, they are sold by a concern personally known to you and located right here in our own city, who guarantees that they are in every way as represented or they will cost nothing

Rexall Orderlies are one of these remedies. They are for the treatment of constipation in every form, except it be of a surgical nature. They are eaten like candy, and do not cause griping, excessive looseness or other annoyances whatever. They come in three sizes, ten, twenty-five and fifty cents.

Mr. Walter Bews is so well and favorably known for his sterling honesty and square dealing that we predict a great success for him with the Rexall Remedies, and he is to be heartily congratulated in bringing this great and modern business enterprise to Revelstoke.

We urge all who may be in need of prepared medicines to call on Mr. Walter Bews and learn about the Rexall Remedies. Enterprise of this sort should be encouraged.

WILL SPEND $20,000,000

That is the Amount to be Expended on G.T.P.

At the end of this year there will be only 200 miles of uncompleted railway along the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific between Winnipeg and Prince Rupert, according to official information issued by the company, and the work proposed for 1912 will entail the exdenditure of $20,000,000. in addition to that a number of new towns will be laid out. British Columbia's share of these new settlements has not been made public but in the prairie provinces they will number forty-seven and an innovation will be introduced in that the company will open general stores in 25 of them so that the new settler will have no difficulty in securing supplies at reasonable cost.

On the main line this year 185 miles will be built east of Fort George and 150 miles west of Fort George leaving only 200 miles to be built in 1913 between Winnipeg and Prince Rupert. A total number of 500 miles of branch lines to Moosejaw, Brandon, Calgary Battleford, Prince Albert and the Alberta coal field will be completed and the building of the line from Calgary to Lethbridge will be started.

Hotels will be erected in Edmonton and Regina of 150 rooms each and the terminals at Regina will be completed and passenger service will be inaugurated between Winnipeg and Regina, and Winnipeg and Fort William. This work will all be done this summer if the supply of labor is sufficient and the steel can be secured for the laying of the track.

Forty-seven now towns will be placed on the market by the Grand Trunk Pacific in the prairie provinces during the coming spring. This is the official program of the company for 1912, as announced by Mr. S. T. St. John of the Transcontinental Townsite Company, who has charge of the G.T.P. development department.

350,000 Immigrants Last Year

Immigrant settlers to the number of 292,516 arrived in Canada during the first nine months of the current fiscal year, April 1st to Jan. 1st. Of this number, 186,151 arrived at ocean ports, and 107,365 from the United States.

These figures show an increase of 16 per cent. as compared with those for the corresponding months of last fiscal year.

During the calendar year, 1911, there were 350,374 arrivals made up of 144,076 British, 75,184 European, and other countries, and 131,114 American. During the calendar year 1910, there were 303,091 arrivals, 112,638 of whom were British, 65,851 European and other countries, and 124,602 were American.

Curfew Law for Husbands

Chicago, Feb. 1—A curfew law for husbands is advocated by Robert B. Glenn, formerly governor of North Carolina. "The man who stays away from his family at night is the most contemptible creature on earth," he said, "I wish we had a law that would make every husband stay at home from 8 o'clock in the evening until 6 o'clock the next morning."

Astronomers Claim 366 Days in Every-Fourth Year

As far back as the year 46 B. C., wise and learned astronomers gave scientific reasons why every fourth year should contain 366 days instead of the regulation 365; and, because this fourth year was three minutes longer than the astronomical year, they further demonstrated that some years divisable by four, and hence to the ordinary mind leap years were not leap years at all. Thus 1700, 1800 and 1900 were not leap years, but, to all whom it may interest the year 2000 will be reckoned as such.

But though there is a necessity, from the scientific point of view, of one year containing more days than another, there is no positive record of the origin of that delicate privilege which tradition says is the right of women in leap year. Myth ascribes its inception to St. Patrick. It is said that while walking by the shores of Lough Neagh the saint was accosted by St. Bridget, who tearfully told him that there was trouble among the nuns over whom she ruled owing to the fact that a woman might not propose to a man. It may be remarked that, in the days of St. Bridget, celibacy was not enforced as an absolute rule for the clergy though advocated by the church as the proper mode of life for a religious person.

Moved by her tears, St. Patrick offered to concede the coveted privilege to women one year in every seven. But Bridget declared that this would never satisfy her discontented charges and pleaded for at least one year in four, enforcing her argument by throwing her arms round St. Patrick's neck "Biddy, acushla, squeeze me that way again, and I'll give you leap year, the longest year of the lot," is said to have been his reply, and so the matter was settled. Emboldened by her success, Bridget straightway proposed to the saint himself, but being under a strict vow of celibacy he felt obliged to refuse, smoothing over the awkard situation thus created with a kiss and the present of a silk dress.

Until a century ago it was a recognized law of leap year that in the event of a man declining a proposal of marriage he should help to alleviate the natural disappointment caused by his answer by giving a silk dress to his unsuccessful admirer.

History appears to have recognized what tradition established, and spinsters were given a rare opportunity in 1288, when by a law passed in Scotland it was enacted:

"It is statute and ordiant that during the rein of hir maist blissit Mageste, for ilk yeare knowe as lepe year, ilk mayden ladye of bothe highe and lowe estate shall hae liberte to bespeke ye man she likes, albeit he refuses to talk hir to be his lawful wife, he shall be mulcted in ye sum ane poundis or less, as his estait may be, except and awis gif he can make it appeare that he is betrothit ane ither woman he then shall be free..' Shortly after this a similar statute passed in France was approved by the then King.

The effect of these laws is not known. Unfortunately no statistics are extant showing the number of spinsters in Scotland or France who availed themselves of the privileges thus bestowed; nor is there any record of the number, if any, of fines imposed under the Scottish law.

By 1606 the leap year privilege of women appears to have become a part of the unwritten law in England. A curious little book published at that date contains these words —"Alb?it it nowe become a part of the commonlaw in regard to social relations of life that as often as every leap year doth return, the ladyes have the sole privilege during the time it continueth of making love, either by wordes or lookes, as to them it seemeth proper; and, moreover, no man will be entitled to benefit of clergy who doth in any wise treat her proposal with slight or contumely," but again we have no record of the extant to which the right was exercised.—Ex.

BOWLING SCHEDULE

SECOND SECTION.

Owing to the large number of members wishing to participate in the bowling, it was pressed upon us to form a new league. Four teams constitute the league, and the games will be played off on the alleys on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, commencing at 8 p.m. sharp. Thus it will give all others who have not been placed on any team an opportunity to have a game before eight o'clock.

B. C. POULTRY EXPERT ON EGG FERTILIZATION

Says Determining Factors Are Feeding and Temperature--- Results of Experiments

(By Rev. W. N. Scott, Trail, B. C.)

I am reminded of the remark of a little four-year old, who, on returning from a visit to a neighbor's, exclaimed in tones of disgust: "There they've gone and put Johnson's baby in pants before they know whether it's going to be a boy or a girl!"

The farmers and breeders of America annually turn out millions of chicks, without the faintest idea of what proportion would be "laynord" and what would "go into the mindey."

Assuming that fully 50 per cent of the season's progeny are males and that the usual mating is one male to ten females, it follows that 45 birds in every one hundred hatched find their way to the guillotine.

The 45 males, sold at average market prices, may get the producer $25. profit.

The 50 females, under proper conditions and western egg prices, will net the producer $150 in eggs, and then bring $1 each if sold as yearling breeders. It is understood of course that I am speaking strictly of utility stock and commercial poultry farming. On every hundred chicks raised that run half and half male and female, the males represent a profit of $25 and the females $200. Every male bird in excess of 10 per cent. of the whole represents an economic loss of over $3.

Multiply this by the millions of birds raised annually and the subject before me today, "The Determination of Sex," stands as the greatest economic problem of the poultry industry.

The caption of my address as indicated on the printed program is a misnomer. Whether our esteemed secretary classified me with the dear old ladies who claim to tell the sex of the future chick by the shape of the egg, or whether in his dreams he saw me gyrating a pith-ball over a basket of hen fruit, I know not; but I will unhesitatingly say that the first method is "hocus" and the second is "pocus." My subject is "The Determination of Sex," not "The Sex Determination of Eggs." In other words, the determination of the sex of the future chick, not that of the germ which makes the chick.

There are three primary factors in all scientific investigation which lead up to an accepted conclusion, viz.:

1. A Collation of accepted facts.
2. A theory to account for those facts.
3. A working hypothesis can b? accepted as a scientific conclusion, it must pass a three-fold test.

It must harmonize with the facts.

It must explain all the facts.

No other explanation must account for those facts.

In the address before me I have collated an array of co-related biological facts, and from the self-evident theory induced have formulated a working hypothesis which, by practical application to aviculture, has produced results striking enough to warrant its tentative acceptance as a conclusion.

Every organism, whether male or female, develops from a fertilized egg-cell. This material, which in the one case develops into a male, in another into a female, is, so far as our experience can go, always the same; but when the sex of organism is absolutely decided is a question to which no general answer can be given.

At the beginning of the last century the theories of sex were estimated at so many as 500, and they have gone on increasing. As in so many other cases our ideas respecting the determination of sex have been looked at in three different ways.

For the theologian, it was enough to say that "God made them male and female." In metaphysics it was natural to refer to "inherent properties of maleness and femaleness, and it is still a popular "explanation" (?) to invoke "natural tendencies" to account for the production of males and females.

This mode of treatment is now abandoned by biologists. It is recognized that the problem is one for scientific analysis.

In passing I shall briefly refer to the five outstanding theories of sex.

1. The Dual Ova Theaory, which contends that there are two kinds of ova respectively destined to develop into males or females, has no evidence to support it, and is contradicted by the fact that the bent towards one sex at an early stage may be counteracted by later influences of an opposite character.

2. The Process of Fertilization Theory of Canestrini, who ascribed the determination of sex to the number of sperms entering the ovum, the more sperms the greater tendency to male offspring, is contradicted by the well known fact that in the case of drones the males arise from unfertilized ova.

3. The Time of Fertilization Theory of Thury and Dusing carries a greater weight of evidence. They contended that an ovum fertilized soon after liberation tends to produce female, while an older ovum will rather develop into a male.

Some of the French fanciers worked on this theory by releasing the male bird in the evening only and some only in the morning, but results in both cases were inconclusive and contradictory.

4. The Parental Age Theory of Hofacker and Sadler, which contends that when the male parent is the older, the offspring is preponderatingly male, and vic? versa, is flatly contradicted by the statistics of Hieda and Berner. In poultry breeding I note that while most breeders mate cockerels with hens, the surplus of males does not appear to diminish.

5. The Comparative Theory of Grace which corrects the sex of the offspring with that of the more vigorous parent, is contradicted by what is known as Starkweather's Law of Sex, which claims that the superior parent produces the opposite sex. Passing from the realm of exploded theory to that living facts, we find two factors, which are undoubtedly the predomioant determinants of sex viz.: Nutrition and Temperature.

A. The Case of Tadpoles.—Yung found, when tadpoles were left to themselves, the percentage of females was rather in the majority. In three lots the proportions of females were as follows: 54—46; 61—39; 56—44. The average was thus 57—43.

In the first brood, by feeding one set with beef, the perc?ntage of females was raised from 54 to 78; in the second, with fish, from 61 to 81, while in the third set, the highly nutritous flesh of frogs was supplied, and the percentage rose from 56 to 92. This is to say, in the last case, the result of high feeding was that there were 92 females to 8 males.

B. The Case of Bees.—We are all familiar with the three classes of inmates of a beehive as queens, workers and drones, or as fertile females, imperfect males, and males. What are the factors determining the difference between these three forms? What fate rules the destiny of the egg-cells, determining whether a given ovum will turn out the possible mother of a new generation or remain at the lower level of a non-fertile worker? It seems certain that the fate mainly lies in the quantity and quality of the food. Royal diee and plenty of it develops the reproduction organs of future queens; sparser and plainer food retards the sexuality of the future workers, in which reproductive organs do not develop. Up to a certain point the nurse bees can determine the future destiny of their charge by changing the diet. If a larvae on the way to become a worker receive by chance the same crumbs from the royal superfluity, the reproductive functions may develop, and what are called fertile workers result; or, by direct intention a worker grub may be reared into a queen bee. It is not necessary to go further into details than to say that within the first eight days of larval life, the addition of a little food will determine the striking structureal and functional differences between worker and queen.

C.—Butterflies and Moths.—Mrs. Treat has demonstrated that if caterpillars are shut up and starved before entering the chrysalis state, the resulting butterflies or moths were males, while others of the same brood highly nourished became females.

D. Mammals.—When we pass to higher animals, the difficulties of proving the influence of nutrition upon sex are much greater. Yet there are decisive observations which go to increase the cumulative evidence. Giron divided a flock of 300 ewes into equal parts, of which the one half were extremely well fed, while the others were kept poorly fed. The proportion of ewe lambs in the two cases were, respectively, 60 and 40 per cent.

E. Genus Homo.—In man, the influence of nutrition is well established. While the best authorities are agreed that the period of fecundation may largely determine the sex of the child, they also agree that the nutrition of the mother during the gestation period is so dominant a factor that if the mother be too highly nourished, a male embryo may develop into that asinine prodigy—an effeminate man.

If, on the other hand, she suffer from mal-nutrition, a female embryo may produce that equally unpopular monstrosity—a masculine woman. Possibly the "New Women" of modern society may be the physiological product of the increased cost of living and its resultant mal-nutrition. In Merry England, noted for its high living and consumption of beef and beer, the census shows a large surplus of female over male births, there being no fewer than 700,000 more females than males in London alone. In America, where the common diet of a decade ago are the luxuries of today, out of every eight births, only three are females. What do we gather from these striking facts, gentlemen? Is not the cumulative evidence from biology overwhelming in its history the ovum, larvae or embryo is practically sexless? That high feeding and super-nutrition produces an excess of females.

Closely allied with nutrition in sex determination is its co-relatove factor, temperature. Every observer of nature has noted the close relation between the two. That it takes double the quantity of food to provide the same nourishment and vitality in cold weather than in hot. That heat nutriment is but another form of intensive feeding. The aphides or common plant-louse, during the summer months, produce generation after generation of females. The advent of autumn and its attendant cold and scarcity of food, brings about the birth of males. In the artificial environment of a greenhouse, equivalent to a perpetual summer warmth, they have been proven to proddce only females for four years in succession. Von Siebold made a series of careful observations on a species of wasp, Nemalus Ventricosus. In this wasp the fertilized ova, unlike those of live bees, develop into males and females. From spring onwards, as warmth increased, Von Siebold noted the percentages of males and females The results of a series of observations may be condensed as follows:

June 15th, 14 per cent. females,
July 1st, 50 per cent females.
July 15th, 269 per cent females.
August 15th, 340 per cent females.
End of August, 500 per cent females.
Sept. 100 per cent females.

Every poultry breeder hasnoted the fact that February and March hatched chicks run about 75 per cent males. April and May about 50 per cent, June and July about 60 per cent; to 70 per cent females. It is general practice in artificial incubation to either reverse the egg trays or shift the eggs from the outside to the center to equalize the unequal temperature in corners and outside with the intensive heat of the center.

Experimental tests have demonstrated that if the relative positions of the eggs in the machine be left unchanged until the 19th day, then carefully separated and hatched in separate machines, that the eggs from the center where the heat was greatest, gives a predominance of pullets, and those from the outside, of cockerels.

A high-power microscopic examination of the ovian embryo reveals absolutely no indication of sex before the 6th dgy. What factors determine the sex of the chick at this period? There being no connection between the mother and the embryonic chick if hatched artificially, nutrition could only play a part through the fat content in the yolk sac. (Ihope this season to conduct a series of experiments to determine whether high nutritive feeding of the hen will produce any higher percentage of fat content in the egg.)

In natural incubation we are all familiar with the successive coatings of films of grease which accumulates upon the shell through contact with the hen's body. The peasants of Belgium, even while setting eggs under a hen, grease them with fat from the entrails of one they have killed which produces, they claim, stronger chicks While hen hatched chicks undoubtedly have more vitality than those artificially hatched, it is very doubtful if the external greasing has any nutritive value in determining sex.

If we sum up the case, it will be recognized that a number of factors co-operate in the determination of sex; but that the most important of these may be more and more resolved into plus and minus nutrition, operating upon parents, sex elements, embryo and larvae.

That temperature plays a prominent part, resulting in a higher percentage of females as the heat increases is self evident.

That intensive feeding, through the heat nutriment supplied up to the end of the sixth day will largely determine the sex of the future chick is my firm conviction. An incubator may be safely run at 106 degrees and possibly higher, for this period, and the resultant hatch will predominate in females.

WHISKY HOLDS ITS VICTIMS

Until Released by Wonderful Samaria Prescription

Liquor sets up inflammation and irritation of the stomach and weakens the nerves. The steady or periodical (spree) drinker is often forced to drink even against his will by his unnatural physical condition.

Samaria Prescription stops the craving, steadies the nerves, builds up the general health and makes drink actually distasteful and nauseous. It is tasteless and odorless, and can be given with or without the knowledge of the patient.

Thousands of Canadian homes have been saved from misery and disgrace by some devoted wife, mother or daughter through this wonderful Canadian remedy. The money formerly wasted in drink has restored happiness, home comforts, education and respect to the families formerly in want and despair.

Read the following, one of the numerous unsolicited testimonials received:

"I can never repay you for your remedy. It is worth more than life to me. My husband has been offered liquor several times, but would not touch it. He said it had no charm for him now. May God's choice blessings ever rest on you, and yours, are my prayers ever. No one knows it but those who have tried it. As soon as I can I will see others that I know would give anything to stop their husbands from drink. I will give them your address.

"Mrs. K——, Dewinton, Alta."
(Name withheld on request.)

Now, if you know of any family needing this remedy, tell them about it. If you have any friend or relative who has formed or is forming the drink habit, help him to release himself from its awful clutches. Samaria Prescription is used by Physicians and Hospitals.

A FREE TRIAL PACKAGE of Samaria Prescription, with booklet giving full particulars, testimonials, price, etc., will be sent absolutely free and postpaid in plain sealed package to anyone asking for it and mentioning this paper. Correspondence sacredly confidential. Write today. The Samaria Remedy Co., Dept. 46-49, Colborne street, Toronto, Canada. Also for sale by C. R. Macdonald, Druggist, Revelstoke, B. C.

THE CITY IN BRIEF

See LeFeaux about Vancouver property.

Mrs. D. Orr is confined to her home with a severe attack of bronchitis.

Mr. A. Carlson, the well known milkman, is seriously ill today with pneumonia.

C. B. Atkins leaves for Calgary on Tuesday next, to sit for his P.L.S. examinations.

The Drill Hall will be the scene of the St. Valentine's Dance on Feb. 14th next.

Mrs. D. W. Foote will occupy the residence of Mr. F. M. Gibson on Sixth street.

R. R. Cole, of the J. B. Watson Realty Co., is taking a well earned holiday at Halcyon hot springs.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Foote, who have been spending the past two months in Bermuda, returned home Thursday evening.

There are only 773,746 words in the Bible, but it is doubtful if many Sunday school scholars remember more than half of them.

The bright electric lights will gleam upon a scene of revelry unsurpassed in the history of the city, next Wednesday at the Drill Hall.

Excellent music, splendid floor, suitable decorations, tempting refreshments at the St. Valentine's dance, February 14th.

We understand Mr. A. O. Trebeck is contemplating leaving the C. P.R. with a view of adopting the profession of theatrical and concert singer

We regret to announce that Mrs. Frank Young has been seriously ill the past week, but we are glad to report that she is some better today.

Having been convicted of starving a patient to death a Washington diet faddist is convinced that her business is too Hazzardous to be healthy.

T. A. Abriel of Nakusp, passed through Revelstoke last Thursday on his way to Ottawa. Mr. Abriel is a delegate of the Nakusp Fruit Growers Association, and will attend the Dominion Fruit Growers' convention at Ottawa

The annual meeting of the Revelstoke Cricket Club, will be held in the City Hall, on Monday evening next, the 12th instant, at 8 p.m. All members and others interested, are requested to be present.

John Gould, late C.P.R. engineer at Revelstoke, had rather a bad auto accident in Vancouver the other day. Outside of the car being smashed, Mr. Gould did not receive any injuries.

HONEY - HONEY!

Pure White Clover Honey in 5 lb. Cans. This is something you will find awfully nice at this season of the year.

HOME-MADE JAM—in pints and quarts, glass jars. This is absolutely pure and well put up.

SYRUPS—Pure Maple Syrup in bottles or cans, which we guarantee to be the best.

A. HOBSON, - MacKenzie Avenue

SPRING IS APPROACHING

How about last year's resolution in regard to building? Do you intend to build that home or not? If so, don't wait until all our most desirable lots are gone, but get busy and secure one before prices advances.

KOOTENAY AGENCIES LIMITED

The city treasurer of Ottawa reports an increase in dog taxes and a falling off in cigarette licenses. There is an economic problem concealed here somewhere.

W. J. Wagstaff of Nakusp, who has been taking a holiday in the Columbia valley for the past three months, returned to Nakusp on this morning's south bound train.

Mr. S. Fawcett, general fuel agent of western lines of the C.P.R., and Mrs. Fawcet, were in the city this week, visiting Mr. Fawcett's sister, Mrs. J. E. Watson.

A very interesting and instructive paper on Dickens was read last Wednesday night by Miss MacKenzie, M. A., to a large and delighted audience at the Presbyterian Westminster Guild. The paper was illustrated by reading of excerpts from Dicken's works by Mr. Stevenson, B.&., Miss Gowan, Mrs. Watson and Mr. J. M. Paberson, B. A.

R. Robertson, machinist of the C. P. R. shops at Revelstoke, was presented by J. Sneddon, the popular hotel keeper of Nakusp, with a four storey wedding cake. The wedding is to take place next week and Mr. Sneddon hopes to be the best man at this important event. It is reported that the happy couple intend to spend their honeymoon in Pennicook, Scotland.

F. M. Gibson, manager of the Bank of Commerce, returned from Calgary last Monday, where he has been relieving the manager of that bank for the past month. Mr. Gibson and family left again on Thursday for Prince Albert, where he will again relieve the bank manager of that northern city for the next three months A number of friends saw Mr. and Mrs. Gibson off at the station.

CHURCHES

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Rev. J. W. Stevenson, minister. Services on Funday at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday school at 2:30 p. m. Westminster Guild on Wednesday at 8 p.m. In connection with the Sunday school, there are two adult Bible classes, one for young men and one for young women, open to all young people not attending elsewhere. On Sunday morning the subject of Church Union will be considered further, and in the evening the subject will be “The Unruly Member” The following special music will be rendered:—Anthem, Macfarren's “The Lord is My Shepherd”; solo, “Crossing the Bar”, by Mr. Ralph Lawrence. The public are cordially invited to all the services of the church.

BAPTIST CHURCH

METHODIST CHURCH.

Rev. R. J. McIntyre, pastor. Services at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.. In the evening the choir will sing the anthem “The King of Love My Shepherd Is;” and a quartette will be given “The King's Business,” The Quarterly official board will meet on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, at the parsonage. The Epworth League will meet on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. A cordial welcome awaits the public at all the services of the church.

Poultry

The Revelstoke poultry fanciers that sent their birds down to Vancouver and won so many prizes, are in receipt of handsome ribbons instead of the prize cards that are used at most shows and are a great credit to the B. C. Poultry Association as winners have something to keep to remember the first annual Provincial Show held at Vancouver January the 15 to 19, 1912.

Great Mine Disaster

At the Star theatre Saturday (today) without a doubt, one of the most wonderful pictures ever seen in Revelstoke—The big explosion occurs as the men are working in the mine the great rush of water cuts off the poor men as they scramble for life. The husbands and wives are at the pit-mouth looking for their children, as they come out, the women, grief stricken, rushing the managers for news of their relations.

This picture will be shown at the Star theatre tonight. It will be a long time before another picture of this kind will be shown in this city. The management of the Star have and always will have pictures that cannot be equalled in this city. This picture (three reels) has never been on a machine before, and you will miss a great feature if you don't see it. Our prices are always the same.
