THE CIRCUS.

Remarkably Beutiful Circus Act with Norris & Rowe Shows

The first public appearance in America of the Castonati Parisian Living Models will be made with the all new and Greater Norris & Rowe Circus. The act is beautiful beyond description. For several years a group of 20 artists' models have created a sensation in the studios of the French capital. Norris & Rowe's European agent was confident that could the group be secured intact for an American tour, it would surely prove both a revelation and a sensation, but it took considerable persuasion, a very large monetary inducement and many tales of picturesque America before the young women could be interested; however, they finally decided to make a tour of this country under the management of Norris & Rowe. The groupings were originally designed by a famous French artist. The picture he secured made him famous as it was hung in the Paris Salon of last year. When the contract was signed whereby the now celebrated group decided to join the Norris & Rowe circus, the showmen engaged the services of a well known artist to elaborate upon the original group and make a series of groups and this he has done remarkably well. On a huge pedestal made to revolve upon the elevated stage, the artist shows a series of ten beautiful actual reproductions of famous paintings and marble statuary with the 20 young women as the human subjects and figures. This wonderfully beautiful series of living breathing pictures will never be forgotten by those who witness them for it is the greatest original novelty ever attempted under a circus canopy. Though the subjects are of the nude, there is absolutely no vulgarity, for they are simply reproductions of great masterpieces. Norris & Rowe will present the art studies in conjunction with their many other features when they exhibit at Revelstoke, Wednesday, June 13th.

The Lawrence Hardware Co. are putting on the market a hand sprayer that will be most useful and serviceable to gardeners and fruit growers. It throws a strong, well separated spray of fungicides and insecticides that will get into every part of the limbs and foliage and sweep out the pests.

FIELD.

From our own correspondent.

For the past two weeks electricians have been with us putting up new lines and wiring the houses. Almost every house in the place is now lighted with electricity.

The new home of Jas. McNaught is now nearing completion.

Tom Martin has returned from a month's bear hunt. He and his partner, John Otto, have had good success, securing two fine grizzlies and two black bears for their party.

On Friday evening of last week the people of Field were favored with a visit from Hon Richard McBride, prime minister of B. C., and Hon. R F. Green, Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works. Addresses were given by these gentlemen in the Buckham Hall. Wm. Lynes occupied the chair in a very acceptable manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newett have returned from their visit to Nelson and Revelstoke.

WEDDING.

McGinnis—McMahon.

On Monday afternoon, at the Catholic church, the marriage of Mrs. T.H. McMahon with J. McGinnis, yard foreman for the C.P.R at Revelstoke, was celebrated. The church was crowded. Mrs H. J. McSorley attended the bride and Mr H. J. McSorley the groom. Rev. Father Pecoul performed the ceremony, after which the happy couple were driven to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. Urquhart where was spread the wedding dinner, for which an elaborate menu was provided.

The health of the bride and bridegroom was proposed by Mr Urquhart and the groom responded in a neat speech. Ald. Palmer proposed the health of the bachelors, to which Bert Howe responded, and the health of the young ladies was proposed by Mr. Bailey, coupled with the name of Dr. Sutherland, who responded.

In the evening Mrs. Urquhart held a social evening for young people in honor of the event.

Mr. and Mrs. McGinnis left by the afternoon train for Vancouver and Seattle where they will spend their honeymoon and on their return will take up their residence at their pretty home on Fourth street. The railway station never saw such a shower of rice as greeted them as they entered the train.

The popularity of the bride and bridegroom created a widespread interest in the wedding, and especially among the many former residents of the old town of Donald, where both were so well known and the whole community unites in wishing them a long and happy wedded life.

The wedding presents were both numerous and handsome, and included the following:—W. Bailey and R. Loyst, glass water set; Mr. and Mrs. McCarter, glass berry bowl; Mr. and Mrs. Kilpatrick, cut glass salad bowl; Dr. Sutherland, cut glass vases; Mayor and Mayoress, silver cake basket; C. O. E. but the city at large. He was ably supported by Ald. Abrahamson, who also extended hearty greetings and well wishes to the officers and delegates present.

Lumber May Advance Further

The rise in the price of lumber says the Winnipeg Commercial is being much discussed throughout the province and in the interior generally. A prominent lumberman, in talking over the situation the other day, said that the advance was simply and inevitably the result of the market. Less money, they state, is being made in lumber to-day than was made in 1903, as the cost of supplies is higher and the cost of labor has also increased. One point that is the direct result of the development which has taken place since then is that it takes three donkey engines to do the same work as was then done by half a dozen horses, the distance from which the logs have to be brought to the water being so much greater in the majority of cases now than then. At present, too, most millmen are shipping green logs and the freight on green lumber is nearly $2 a ton higher than on seasoned lumber, on account of the increased weight. Even at the prices ruling now the supply is far short of the demand. The supply from the interior is short this year because there was so little snow in the winter that little logging could be done. The summer logging in the interior is more expensive. It is regarded as a certainty that no reduction in prices will be made this year, and a further increase, though not contemplated at present, is among the probabilities of the near future.

W. Haupt, of Wilmer, intends shipping this season from the Tecumseh, adjoining the Ptarmigan on McDonald creek. This property carries ore running 160 ozs. in silver and 43 to 60 per cent lead. Somebody played Mr. Haupt a dirty trick last winter burning his cabin, and as the timber has to be hauled up the mountain side the loss is a serious one. He had in the cabin enough supplies to enable him to work the property till snow had gone, and the burning of his cabin upset all his arrangements.

The Silver Dollar will shortly install a compressor plant and aerial tramway.

P. Burns & Co. Ltd., have bonded the Conrad mines at Windy Arm. The amount is said to be $750,000.

The main tunnel on the Mammoth is in 300ft. A new ore body has been uncovered 400 ft. above present workings.

"I would . . . earnestly advise them for their good to order this paper to be punctually served up, and to be looked upon as a part of the tea equipage."—ADDISON.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 6, 1906

A GROSS IMPOSITION.

At last meeting of the City Council the Department of Inland Revenue presented a bill for $342 for testing the city meters. The work of inspection took one man from the department a week, the city furnishing all the extra labor required. The salary of the man and his expenses to Revelstoke would not exceed $50, and why the city should be robbed to the tune of $270 is more than any fellow can understand. Such public services as checking weights and measures, meters, etc., which are administered for the public protection, should not be a greater tax on the public than the cost of administration. In this case it is made a matter of Dominion revenue and is a most illegitimate source of taxation. We trust the municipal conventions will take this matter up, for there is no greater outrage on the statute book than the fees levied on such an extortionate scale.

BRIDGING THE COLUMBIA.

The suggestion made by Ald. Abrahamson at the last meeting of the City Council re bridging the Columbia river is a most important one, and we hope to see steps taken to give effect to the suggestion. The importance of the Revelstoke Sawmill Company's industry, and the active demand for land for settlement on the west side of the river and the Eagle Pass, make it imperative that the city of Revelstoke should have direct communication with that section by a bridge across the river. We believe the C. P. R. would be willing to enter into an reasonable arrangement and it is up to the Provincial Government and the City Council to arrange to provide the extra cost. The C. P. R. is, we understand, under an obligation in connection with that bridge, as they destroyed the old Eagle Pass road, which had been built at great expense, in the construction of their road-bed and were no doubt bound to provide another roadway when required. It is understood the Provincial records provide for an arrangement with the C. P. R. for a traffic bridge across the Columbia river at Revelstoke. As it is understood there is a large appropriation for the work, and that the foundations of the bridge will be put in this fall, there is no time to be lost in urging the Provincial authorities to get into touch with the C. P. R. on the subject. The most suitable traffic bridge would doubtless be one on the same level as the C. P. R. bridge and no doubt a design to give effect to this can be made at moderate cost as an attachment to the regular C. P. R. bridge.

A JUDICIAL SCANDAL.

There is much indignation at the Coast over the release of Brothier, who is stated to have been one of the worst criminals that ever struck Vancouver. Brothier was sentenced to two years for procuring girls, including his own sister, from France under the pretence he was finding them respectable situations. He was also charged with perjury and sentenced to five years. As the sentences were concurrent he had still three years to serve of the latter term. It is suggested that the release was granted owing to irregularities in the perjury charge, and if so the Minister of Justice should take the public into his confidence and explain these irregularities. Otherwise there is an awkward feeling that the administration of Justice is being tampered with and that because Brothier was a rich man he was able to purchase his liberty at the cost of the reputation of the Canadian Government. Unless there were technical reasons which demanded Brothier's release at the hands of the Minister of Justice his action will be condemned by every right-thinking person, and Mr. McPherson, as member for Vancouver, will have to explain to his constituents why he lent himself to any such notorious recommendation, for we presume the minister would not take the course he did without Mr. McPherson's approval. That Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick should have been created Chief Justice of Canada immediately after this release creates an unsavory feeling regarding the purity that ought to prevail in the administration of justice, and for the sake of the Laurier Government, the new Chief Justice, and the reputation of the member for Vancouver, the Government should give out an explicit statement on the matter. Next thing we might expect to hear is that the train robbers have been released, and that society is no longer safe from the vilest vampires even if they do go through the form of arrest, trial and sentence.

THE HOLD-UP MEN.

The verdict of the jury and the sentence of Judge Irving in the hold-up cases at Kamloops will be received with satisfaction by ever lover of law and order. The pursuit of the robbers, their sharp capture, their prompt trial, and their heavy sentences will have a deterrent effect which will be likely to prevent such a recurrence for long years. That the only two hold-ups perpetrated in Canada should have been by the same man, Edwards, alias Miner, makes the result all the more satisfactory. There is no more serious offence than robbery of the mails, and we believe that the most severe penalty the law is capable of devising should be meted out to men who dare to present a revolver at the head of a railway engineer and make him obey their orders. The other two men who were with Miner at the Mission hold-up have not yet been caught and no effort should be relaxed to land them and lodge them in the common gaol also for life. An engineer has anxiety and responsibility enough without being made the subject of hold-up men. The next step would be the murder of the engineer, as happened recently on the Southern Pacific hold-up. It is up to the Dominion Government to have two or three companies of the Mounted Police stationed in British Columbia with blood-hounds in readiness at a moment's notice. That is the only way to safe-guard the railways in a mountainous country so near the American Boundary, and no effort should be spared to secure the safety of the mails and passenger traffic, against such outrages in the future.

There is a bad scandal at the Coast over the alleged access of Mrs. James Anderson to papers in the Department of the Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works, and the manner in which the information is stated to have been used to the detriment of Pendray and Sons. It is time Hon. Mr. Green took steps to have an investigation into these scandals, for no government can afford to leave such charges unanswered. If the present charges are true they will support the charges of the same woman's part in the Kaien Island affair, and it would reflect badly on the McBride Government if it could be proved the most important affairs of state were in control of an adventuress.

Considerable indignation has been expressed at the action of the Minister of the Interior in reserving from prospectors mineral rights on lands applied for by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. Hon. Mr. Oliver explains this reservation only applies to lands for road-bed and station yards. No exception can be taken to that, but if any attempt is made to shut out prospectors from that country by the Grand Trunk applying for huge blocks of land with a view to monopolising the mineral rights the people of British Columbia will not stand for it.

BILL MINER.

May Accept Engineer Scott's Invitation.

Engineer Scott, who brought the train, conveying the hold-up prisoners from Kamloops to Westminster Junction, is the man who was in the cab when the C. P. R train was held up by Bill Miner and his party near Whonnock in 1904. As the prisoners were being escorted past the engine at the Junction, Saturday, Scott recognised Bill, and leaning out of the cab window said: "Hello Bill, come into the cab and have another ride with me." Bill grinned and replied: "Not this time, thank you, you see I can't very well, but I may take that invitation sooner than you think."

Miner, alias Edwards, paid a visit to Revelstoke two weeks before the robbery. He visited the police station and took special note of Constable Upper. When Mr. Upper was in Kamloops at the departure of the prisoners Miner shook hands with him and remarked: "You're the policeman from Revelstoke."

The C. P. R. have Miner's signature as Edwards to two time checks. He was considered a good workman during the time he served them, getting information to serve him in his proposed hold-ups.

WERE AFTER GOLD BRICK

Valuable Shipment From Hedley Would Have Fallen Into Bandit's Hand, but for Mistake in Cutting off Car.

In the greatest of schemes the "best laid plans of mice and men gang aft agley," and in the plans of rogues as with men and mice, some little slip, or some little carelessness unhinges the whole neatly arranged fabric of the scheme and instead of order, chaos reigns. Simply because the usual type of express car was not running on the particular train which the robbers held up at Kamloops, Miner and company failed to make a little commercial transaction which would have added untold wealth to their working capital. At all events, had things worked with the smoothness associated with Miner in his other robberies, the trio now awaiting trial at Kamloops would not only have made a much larger haul of registered mail matter, but would have lifted from the express car in which it was snugly ensconced, a pure brick of virgin gold worth probably from thirty to forty thousand dollars. Understanding this, one can easily understand Miner's annoyance so tersely expressed when McQuarrie, the cool-headed mail clerk, told him that the express was attached to the car they had left a mile or so behind.

CAME TO VANCOUVER.

Two weeks after the holdup at Mission in September, 1905, Bill Miner occupied a small cabin at Chilliwack. He occupied these uncongenial quarters for over a month, and that he was ready for any emergency was apparent in the fact that in a deserted barn about half a mile from the cabin he always kept two horses ready for immediate use.

Finding that the chase after the Mission bandits was not in his direction at all. Miner unconcernedly boarded a train at some smaller station and came to Vancouver. A fortunate rancher found the two horses and never suspecting their owner's identity put them to his own use.

For several days Miner was walking about Vancouver and the tales of his prowess that were being told of the man must have been pleasant music to his ears. Wearying of city life, he made his way to Spokane, and in that city joined the men who were probably his associates at Mission.

LOST MONEY IN GAMBLING.

The next heard of Miner was later in the year. In company with a young man and woman he ignored the railway as a means of conveyance, and drove from Spokane to Hedley. It was a journey altogether unnecessary, for fully three-quarters of it could have been made by rail. At the time of their transition fifty head of horses were stolen from over the border and strangely enough, their owner's brand was a leaning "M" exactly similar to that found on the horses discarded by the robbers at Kamloops.

Arrived in Hedley the trio spent cash in so lavish a manner as to attract notice even in that openhanded mining town. In reply to questions as to the sources of their wealth, the lady accounted for it by explaining that the two men had struck a rich vein somewhere south of Kamloops. It is now considered most probable that this vein was located at Mission, and was "struck" by Miner and his companions in September. It is estimated by those who knew the trio at Hedley that in a short time they must have spent nearly $20,000. The younger man was lavish in everything, insisted on having the best of everything at the hotel, and often joined the crowd around the tables where blackjack was the favorite game. For four consecutive nights he was known to have lost over $250 at a sitting.

THE WOMAN IN THE CASE.

It was the lady in the case that brought this pleasant partnership to an end. Quarreling with the younger man about her share of the fortune that was supposed to be coming from the mine, she broke away from the gang and took a position as waitress in the hotel at Hedley. From reports in the Similkameen her career before her advent with Miner and his companion had been a chequered one, and after her row she fully lived up to her reputation. Tiring of Hedley, she journeyed to Penticton and there lived a life of untrammeled freedom. She finally entered into a marital alliance which proved as uncongenial to her husband as to herself, so they separated. The lady is at present in Vancouver and when discovered by the detectives, who are working on the case at Kamloops, will be able to throw many interesting sidelights on the career of Miner and his associates in the upper country.

REWARD IN MONTANA.

It was at Hedley after the quarrel that Miner made the acquaintance of John Grell or Billy Dunn. The latter originally came to the Similkameen from Montana. He had spent considerable time in the Cariboo and for some years had followed the peaceful pursuits of trapping, prospecting and broncho-busting. He was absolutely at home on all the trails which connected the great mining district of the North to that of the Boundary. Tales of his prowess with the gun are told in many a prospector's camp in the Similkameen. Dunn had often enlivened proceedings by relating his own adventures in the imitable manner that has made him such a "favorite" at Kamloops. To an acquaintance about this time he boasted of the Indian blood in his veins. At one time when underover-indulgence in firewater, he told one of his companions of an exploit in Montana when he shot and killed a sheriff, who was pursuing him, causing a reward of $4,000 to be placed on his head. The man to whom he related this tale put it down to the freak imagination of a drunken brain, but since the arrest at Kamloops, has communicated with the authorities over the border and it is more than probable that "Shorty" will pay the penalty of a crime even more severe than that of a life-sentence, for holding up His Majesty's mails. Dunn proved to be a man after Miner's own heart.

LITTLE OF A SOCIALIST.

From Hedley Miner went to Princeton, and lived on the ranch of Jack Budd. His acquaintance with Budd dated from childhood in Texas. Throughout his long sojourn in the Similkameen and the Okanagan there was not the slightest suspicion that he was a wanted man. Socially he showed all the traits that had made his career so remarkable in California and Nevada. He was always a great favorite with the ladies, and on one occasion, while driving with one of his feminine friends, talked political economy in a way that stamps him as a deep thinker as well as a deep schemer.

"I wish I had control of the air," said Miner. "I would dole it out to the rich and make them pay heavily for it, too; but I'd let the poor have as much as they wanted."

After leaving Budd's ranch at Princeton, Miner and his companions were often together. For a considerable time he was staying with the young man with whom he arrived at Hedley. This was on a ranch a few miles out of Armstrong. While he was here he often met Dunn, who was working in a neighboring sawmill, and last Christmas the two created a disturbance in a quiet Okanagan town by getting gloriously drunk. Even then they were well supplied with the necessary cash. Several persons in the vicinity now recognize Miner as the Edwards whose suave manner with the ladies quite disarmed any suspicion that he might be the notorious stage and train robber.

WOULD STEAL GOLD BRICK.

Lulled into security by finding that his identity was safe, it is only reasonable to assume that Miner should look forward to a chance of once more practicing his art. He and Dunn while in Hedley were aware of the frequent shipments of gold bricks from the Nickel Plate mine to Vancouver. They were acquainted with the route taken by these consignments, and arranged a neat plot which but for one untimely error would have added one more success to Miner's many exploits. The day preceding the robbery one of these gold bricks was quietly shipped by the Nickel Plate mine. A confederate of the robbers telephoned a simple message to a man in Kamloops advising him that the treasure had started on its journey. One of the party who had since Miner's first arrival in Hedley been associated with him received the message and conveyed it to the camp of the robbers. The gold brick, which was valued roughly at about $30,000, started on its journey to Penticton, up the picturesque Okanagan Lake and via the Sicamous & Okanagan to Sicamous. There it was transhipped to the express car of the train which was held up. The story of the robbery and the annoyance of Miner when he discovered that the car which contained the treasure had been left behind is now well known. But for the fact that the bandits mistook the mail for the express car, it is possible that the robbery would have been altogether successful. Complete plans were made for the disposal of the booty.

It was undoubtedly the intention of Miner to secure the valuable brick and throw it off the train at this point, leaving his friends on the hill to safely dispose of the booty. From his anxious inquiry about the contents of the catarrh package, which was about the size and shape of the gold consignment it was evident that even when McQuarrie told him that the express car had been left behind, he hoped to find the precious parcel in the registered mail.

The disposal of the few letters which the robbers secured has puzzled the detectives who are working on the case, and it is evident that with the number of confederates who were working with the robbers, that had the gold brick been secured, it would have been just as safely spirited away.—Province.

SYNOPSIS OF REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE DISPOSAL OF DOMINION LANDS WITHIN THE RAILWAY BELT IN THE PROVINCE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.

A LICENSE to cut timber can be acquired only at public competition. A rental of $5 per square mile is charged for all timber berths except those situated west of Yale for which the rental is at the rate of 5 cents per acre per annum.

In addition to the rental, dues at the following rates are charged:—

Sawn lumber, 50 cents per thousand feet B.M.

Railway ties, eight and nine feet long, 1 1-2 and 1 3-4 cents each.

Shingle bolts, 25 cents a cord.

All other products, 5 per cent on the sales.

A license is issued so soon as a berth is granted, but in surveyed territory no timber can be cut on a berth until the licensee has made a survey thereof.

Permits to cut timber are also granted at public competition, except in the case of actual settlers, who require the timber for their own use.

Settlers and others may also obtain permits to cut up to 100 cords of wood for sale without competition.

The dues payable under a permit are $1.50 per thousand feet B.M., for square timber and sawlogs of any wood except oak; from 1-2 to 1 1-2 cents per lineal foot for building logs; from 12 1-2 to 25 cents per cord for wood; 1 cent for fence posts; 3 cents for railway ties; and 50 cents per cord for shingle bolts.

Leases for grazing purposes are issued for a term of twenty-one years, at a rental of two cents per acre per annum.

Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres may be acquired by one individual or company.

Royalty at the rate of 10 cents per ton of 2000 pounds is collected on the gross output.

Entries for land for agricultural purposes may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken up is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior at Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration at Winnipeg, or the local agent for the District, within which the land is situated, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

A fee of $10 is charged for homestead entry.

A settler who has received an entry for a homestead, is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

It is the practice of the Department to require a settler to bring 15 acres under cultivation, but if he prefers he may substitute stock; and 20 head of cattle, to be actually his own property, with buildings for their accommodation, will be required instead of cultivation.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of the Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of the Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of the Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years before the local agent, sub-agent or a homestead inspector.

Before making application for a patent, the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior
Ottawa, Februray 14th, 1905.

Sunshine Furnace

The "Sunshine" furnace and "sunny" ways are synonymous.

The cold, dreary winter days can be made cheery and warm with a pure, healthful heat if you have a "Sunshine" furnace.

Is easier to operate, cleaner, uses less fuel and "shines" in many other ways over common furnaces.

Two shakers are used to shake the heavy, triangular-shaped grates. This just cuts the work of shaking-down in half, besides being easier on the furnace than the old one-shaker style.

Complaint is made to us that the telegraph office is not connected up with the telephone system for convenience of sending in messages from the further limits of the city, but J. L. Smith, the manager, informs us that owing to the increased risk of error in messages by using the telephone the C.P. R. Telegraphs will not accept messages filed in that way.

An Indian grave has been discovered at J. McLeod's ranch on the west shore of Windermere lake. The Indians of that locality know nothing of it and say it must have been placed there many years ago before their time. The bones of two skeletons were found and necklets of elk teeth in an excellent state of preservation. R. R. Bruce, of Wilmer, and Mrs. Hume, of Firlands, went out to see the discovery.

East Kootenay sportsmen are gratified to see the way in which wild celery is increasing in the sloughs on the upper Columbia river south of Golden. They say this plant, which is such a favorite with feathered game must have been propagated by the ducks etc., visiting these sloughs and they suggest it should be planted extensively in all localities frequented by wild fowl, as ducks feeding on it are in splendid condition for table use and it appears to be a favorite food for feathered game, easily grown and propagated.

The Fish and Game Protective Association are determined to do their utmost to stop the illegal destruction of grouse as well as other game. As a result a case was brought before Mr. Fraser, S.M., this week in which a fine of $10 and $1 costs was imposed, in default ten days imprisonment. Constable Upper prosecuted. His Worship pointed out the penalty for the offence was a fine of $100 or 30 days imprisonment and similar offenders had better take warning. Constable Upper has in hand another case of the kind.

Jim Hill, the railway magnate, says British Columbia is the richest province of Canada. It has all the advantages of farm, orchard, forest, sea and mines. The prairies from Winnipeg westward, have unquestionably advantages of large areas of good grain land and breadstuffs, but British Columbia has everything in the way of minerals—coal, iron, gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc; large areas of agricultural land, and large valleys suitable for the production of fruit and vegetables.

Open fireplaces are becoming fashionable in the best homes in Northeast Kootenay. At H. E. Foster's fine home at Firlands the visitor is struck with the magnificent open fireplaces. At J. Taynton's house, on Windermere lake, there is one of the best built open fireplaces we have seen and R. A. Kimpton's magnificent home at Windermere is also fitted with open fireplaces where the Yule log burns so brightly and cheerfully as to make the visitor from the old land feel at home again.

At an interview at Ottawa between A. McRae, president of the Fish and Game Protective Association, and Professor Prince of the Fisheries Department, the local man, who was waiting a chance to get a word in edgeways, remarked that if the professor knew the damage done to ova by suckers, squaw fish and ling he would not long hesitate about sending out bass. The professor remarked the ling was fish of which he knew nothing and asked how about its spawn? "Oh, it doesn't spawn," remarked the local fish expert at the same time winking at Big Bill Galliher, who roared, when he saw the puzzled expression on the fish professor's face.

The Arrowhead Water Supply Co. Ltd. have been rushing work on their water plant with the result that on Friday last the water was laid into the town. This water system is a great boon to residents of Arrowhead where a good supply of water has in the past been badly needed. Fire hydrants will be installed at once and good fire protection afforded. The enterprise has been financed by Revelstoke and Arrowhead men and promises to be a success financially and otherwise. W. R. Reid is President of the company, G. S. McCarter secretary, and T. B. Baker treasurer. The other directors are T. Kilpatrick, Capt. Fraser and A. E. Phipps.

At the Opera House last evening there was a fair attendance to hear a lecture by Comrade Austin Lewis on the San Francisco horror. The lecturer spoke from a Socialistic point of view, and claimed the devastation of the city was due to the greed of the capitalists, who owned the water supply and refused information as to where it could be tapped after the pipes burst. H. G. Gough presided.

On Sunday night there was a disgraceful row at corner of First street and Mackenzie Avenue and Monday the police issued a batch of summonses. The case was set down for hearing to-day before R. Gordon, P. M. G. S. McCarter prosecuted on behalf of the city. John McKay and Tony Burton were each fined $10 and costs for being drunk and disorderly, and warrants were ordered to be issued for the arrest of R. McCutcheon and Casey who failed to appear.
