PROVINCIAL PARAGRAPHS

Happenings Throughout Week in B. C.

Vancouver police authorities have determined to snuff out the club nuisance and since the passing of the Club License Act by the Legislature, they have the power to make life strenuous for the clubs. The kick made by the commissioners, the Ministerial Association and other reform bodies, togelher with the Licensed Victuallers, was that the clubs sold openly on Sunday without let or hindrance. Under the new law a license fee of $100 is payable and inspection is provided for.

W. W. B. McInnes, the last defeated Liberal candidate for the constituency of Vancouver, has returned to that city from Ottawa. While at the Federal capital he was made Senior County Court Judge, retiring to the bench aft r a sensational political career in British Columbia and the Yukon.

The Methodists of Vancouver celebrated the Jubilee of the arrival of the earliest missionaries in the province last Sunday. Rev. Dr Robson and Rev. Dr. Crosby, two of the pioneers were the chief figures in the celebration.

Commander Eva Booth, of the Salvation Army, has announced that on April 10th the Army will launch a scheme for the founding of a "world university of humanity." Five million dollars will be required to initiate the scheme, and the raising of this will be commenced on the above date.

The Hudson's Bay and Skeena river steamers will this year make their terminal at Prince Rupert, instead of stopping at the mouth of the Skeena river.

It is reported that the government has under consideration a scheme for the reclamation of the lands of the lands of the Kootenay Valley, south of Kootenay Landing.

The contract for the steel rails to be svpplied to the Grand Trunk Pacific for the first hundred miles of line from Prince Rupert to Copper River has been awarded to the Dominion Iron and Steel Works. The company tendered against the strongest American steel firms and succeeded in submitting figuses which carried the contract.

It is now definitely announced that the sale of Prince Rupert town lots will take place beginning on May 25, and lasting five days. The lots will be disposed of by auction and will consist of an equal number of government and company property. Between 2,000 and 2,500 lots will be offered for sale.

ALPINE CLUB OF CANADA

Members Indignant at Goverment over Mr. Wheeler

The value of the Alpine Club of Canada to the country is now so well established that argume ts in favor of its existence are no longer necessary, and should anything happen which would mean that the Club would have to go out of existence, even temporarily, it would be nothing less than a national setback. It can therefore be imagined with what feelings the news has been received that the President of the Alpine Club, A. O. Wheeler, and his staff are not to be permitted to attend the annual camp this year, the reason given being that his services will be required all season on Departmental work. At this stage of the Club's history Mr. Wheeler's presence at the camp is an absolute necessity, and unless he is permitted to attend, to organize and manage the camp it will have to be abandoned altogether. In addition to the regular attendance at the camp, which is expected to be greater than ever this year, a number of members of the British Association, which will be meeting in Winnipeg this year, as well as prominent members of the English Alpine Club and other men of world-wide fame, have accepted the Club's invitation to attend the annual camp, and if the Club is forced to cancel the invitation to these distinguished men because the Department cannot afford to allow one of its officials and his staff to spend ten days there it is very apt to make these distinguished foreigners wonder what kind of an institution the Government of the Dominion of Canada is. And not only will the country lose the splendid advertisement it would otherwise obtain, but it will advertise itself as a community which has asset which is worth millions of dollars annually, if properly used, but which it has not the sense to take advantage of. Pressure is being brought to bear on the Department to have the present arrangements changed to allow of Mr. Wheeler's attendance at the camp, as in former years, steps to this end being taken by the local centers of the Club at Revelstoke, Vancouver, Lethbridge, Winnipeg and Toronto, as well as by the executive of the Alpine Club at headquarters.

LONDON, April 7.—Great Britain seems to be waking up to the fact that the other nations of the world are leaving her behind in the race for command of the air. While the members of the House of Commons were yesterday afternoon drawing the attention of the &overnment to the fact that Germany has built or is building a dozen dirigible airships and urging the Government to take up with energy the construction of a British air fleet, there was being held at the same time a meeting in the Ma sion House, under the chairmanship of the Lord Mayor of London, in support of the same object.

MONTREAL, April 7—The C. P. R traffic earnings for the period ending March 31st increased $260,000 over the same period a year ago. The Grand Trunk earnings for the same period increased $85,031 compared with last year.

WINNIPEG, April 7.—British Columbia lumber manufacturers to-day have advanced prices throughout western Canada, one to three dollars per thousand. They claim there has been and will be a heavy demand for railway and bridge timber and for lumber for building railway cars all season.

SOUTHEY, Sask., April 7.—Supposed to have got up from her bed and walked in her sleep, Clara Kreinke, nearly two years old, was found dead on the C.P.R. tracks here at midnight Saturday, having been hit by an engine. $15,000 GRANT

For New School to be Included in 1910-11 Estimates

The School Trustees are in receipt of a communication from the Minister of Education, Victoria, stating that the government has arranged for an appropriation of one-third of the total cost of the new Revelstoke public school building, the grant itself not to exceed $15,000. This appropriation will be included in the provincial estimates for 1910-11. As soon as the plans are ready and the necessary alterations made, the petition for the bylaw for the balance of the money will be submitted to the council The school trustees' deputation who obtained this promise from the government have this record to their credit that they have secured the largest appropriation for any local work that has yet been made, of any request for money help that was put before the government. The grant of $50 by the council towards the expenses of this deputation has been well spent and it would have been just the same if double that amount had been provided from city funds.

KOOTENAY AT OTTAWA

A. S. Goodeve, M.P., Presses Revelstoke's Claims

The secretary of the Board of Trade has informed us that he is in receipt of a letter from Mr. A. S. Goodeve, M.P., at Ottawa for Kootenay, relative to matters of local interest. Among the chief items is the question of the Arrowhead and Kootenay Railway. Mr. Goodeve states that he has succeeded in having amendments made to the bill by which they will be compelled to construct 15 per cent of the road immediately. Mr. Goodeve put up a hard fight for this amendment eventually gaining his point. The amendment is as follows:

The Kootenay & Arrowhead Railway Company shall, within two years after the passing of this act, construct 15 per cent of the mi eage of the unconstructed portion of the railway which it was authorized by Section 7 of Chapter 10 of the Statutes of 1901 to construct and shall complete the said railways and put them in operation within five years and if the said 15 per cent of mileage is not constructed and if the said railways are not completed and put in operation within the said periods respectively, the powers of construction conferred upon the said company by Parliament shall cease and be null and void as respects so much of the said railways as then remain uncompleted.

In reference to the town wharf Mr. Goodeve stated that he would urge the matter when the Government went into supplies for B. C. He said moreover that the Minister of the Interior, on grounds of economy, has decided to do nothing in regard to the various claims in Kootenay for wharves, as the reserve would not warrant it Had the matter been brought up earlier in the session an amount might have been placed in the supplementary estimates. In these matters, he said, he was getting the unanimous support of all the western members.

With reference to the eight-hour bill, Mr. Goodeve stated that the government will allow this to come to a vote this session.

PEACE RIVER AGENCY

F. C. Campbell of Trout Lake to be Government Agent

The provincial executive has decided to open a government agency in the Peace River district. Hitnerto there has been no agent of the provincial administration in that country, but as settlers are now beginning to go in, it is necessary to have a representative there. There has been a large influx of people lately into the Pouce Coupee country to the south of the Peace River, but so far settlement has been difficult.

The Government Agent selected for the post is Fred C. Campbell, for many years mining recorder at Trout Lake, having succeeded the Hon. Thomas Taylor when the latter gentleman gave up the appointment. Mr. Campbell is one of the best known mining men in the Lardeau and Revelsioke and one of the pioneers of the province. In the Peace River country Mr. Campbell will be in a position whence frequent communication with the government will be impossible so he will be clothed with large powers. He will combine in his single person the functions of government agent, gold commissioner, assessor, deputy commissioner of lands and stipendiary magistrate

Provincial Constable McVickars will accompany Mr. Campbell to his new post. Mr. McVickors is one of Revelstoke's old timers, being provincial constable in this city about ten years ago. The two will proceed to Fort St. John, a Hudson Bay post near which they will provide themselves with quarters.

The post is situated in the middle of vast territory of large, natural resources, a big slice of which has been given to the Dominion government. The province, however, has still large holdings of valuable land there and pioneer settlers are already beginning to work their way in from the Alberta side. It has been said by those who know the country that a great deal of the best agricultural land in that section is on the British Columbia side of the boundary line, lack of transportation being the only thing that keeps it back. There is no railroad there nor any immediate prospect of one, as it is hundreds of miles north of the Yellowhead pass, where the Grand Trunk Pacific crosses the Rockies

Revelstoke General Agencies

A FRUIT EXCHANGE

With the approach of Spring the rural weeklies—and their name is legion—are discussing the culture, packing, shipping and sale of fruit, showing how far the ramifications of the horticultural industry have spread throughout British Columbia. Not a few of these papers deal at length with the matter of fruit shipments and several revert to the question of the need of a central exchange for the proper control of the movements of orchard and garden products. The ill-fated collapse of the B.C. Exchange last year, with its headquarters at Revelstoke was admittedly a disappointment to both its promoters and its patrons, some of the latter quite without warrant waxing harsh in their criticisms of the management. Insufficient paid-up capital, independent shipments by several large subscribers to its stock, failure to pay for stock subscribed, and what is perhaps of more moment than these, a lack of genuine appreciation of what a properly organised, well supported and well managed exchange can mean, are more responsible. The experience of the B. C. Excharge wos not an isolated or singular case. Many similar organizations in other provinces and even in B. C. have gone the same way but that fact has not disheartened the men who see that co-operation in shipment is in the best interests of shippers, and, learning by their past mistakes most of the eastern provinces now have their exchanges where the whole output from certain sections is controlled. Independent shipping has become a rare experiment where foreign markets are involved.

We believe that with a calm and unbiassed consideration of the subject the shippers of B. C. will arrive at the same conclusion especially as it has been clearly intimated by large purchasers on the prairies that they will not buy from individual shippers. The opportunities for recourse in case of inferior fruit or bad packing are eliminated and a strong central exchange is recognised by the buyers at least to be the solution of the problem as far as the relations of seller and buyer are concerned.

While there may exist some unfounded prejudise against the relict of the B. C. Exchange this cannot affect the fact that Revelstoke is the natural shipping center for all the fruit areas of the Interior. Tapping, as it does, the growing industrial centres of the Kootenays and the Boundary country and on the main line over which the fruit from the Okanagans and the Coast must be shipped it would seem to be geographically the single marketing depot from which all the contributions of the various parts of the province may profitably be handled.

The refusal of the government to make a grant to the local exchange at the instigation of other institutes would not appear to be justified and the instigation itself was not one of the wisest ways to overcome the failures of the past. Moreover, the establishment of exchanges at the Coast, in the Okanagan Valley and in the Kootenays—as is proposed—does not commend itself as a step in the direction of the most economical handling of the large tonnage that will have to be transported during the coming summer. The larger the business done at any single point, when properly carried on, the more economical are the expenses and with the more confident relations between shippers and buyers, are maintained. More than this, special considerations can be obtained from the railway companies when the final loading is done at one point and fruit trains made up for the destination at one common starting place. This latter is no dream as it has been announced several times by the traffic managers of the roads.

That any effort to reorganise the local exchange must initiate in Revelstoke goes without saying. But we think that, if the business men of the city realise the valuable asset which would accrue to Revelstoke as an advertisement in case the exchange is revived they would not be slow to rally liberally to its support. A single successful season would do the trick and the demonstration which would follow would speedily ensure the co-operation of shippers in all parts of the province.

A public meeting to which a rally call could be issued would at once determine the amount of local interest that ezists in the re-establishment of an exchange here and would, in the interchange of views have an educative value far beyond immediate power to estimate.

POLITICIANS' HOLIDAYS

So Hon. W. J. Bowser, Attorney-General will take leave of British Columbia for a visit to England "and the continent" on Sunday morning. The visit is primarily to lay an appeal before Downing street on the question of the conflicting rights of the Province and the Dominion in the ownership of the Indian reserves but it is incidentally stated that a well-earned holiday, rest, recuperation and other things are in contemplation. Curious things these appeals to the throne as an excuse for a holiday jaunt to the old country. In the Premier's case it was the question of Better Terms—and by the way, what has become of that issue as between the Provincial and the Federal governments? With Mr. Bowser it is the Indian reserve question with a possible side-crack at the fishery rights of the province. But we may be sure that the Attorney-General will lose no time in stacking his private papers at the Hotel Cecil and hieing across the channel to gay Paree, Rome, Vienna, Venice and possibly Budapesth, though it is stated often that in the latter place virtue is its own reward.

It is not likely that any of the other members of the Cabinet will essay a voyage across the big pond though the Minister of Education is next in line for such a jaunt. The Chief Commissioner would scarcely venture so far away from home, the Minister of Public Works is too new to his office to leave its cosy arm-chairs, and Hon. Carter-Cotton is too busy watching the rise of his skyscrapers in Vancouver. Hon. Captain Tatlow makes no excuse for such a trip; he simply goes "'Ome" for a visit. Should there be a dissolution of the assembly and a defeat of the government—a thing quite unsupposable at present—the chief members of the executive will have had their holidays anyway.

A Public Challenge

Editor MAIL-HERALD:

SIR: In a recent issue of the newspaper called "The Observer," we notice an article in which the editor of that paper makes the insinuation that certain anonymous letters which have recently been received by some Revelstoke people were written by some members of the Italian colony in Revelstoke or vicinity.

We desire to publicly challenge the editor of the Observer or any of those who are furnishing him with information on the subject to show that he or they possess any evidence that the letters in question were written by an Italian and not by an Englishman. It is all very well to make insinuations against people, but it is another thing to furnish proof in support of the slanderous charges which this man is in the habit of making against law-abiding citizens who are his superiors in many ways. The Italian residents of Revelstoke are, as a rule, a law-abiding people, and they are not for a moment to be considered as sympathizers with the members of the so-called "Black-hand Society," and would only be too glad to assist the authorities in driving out of their midst an unworthy member of the colony who would be guilty of such an offence as writing an anonymous letter.

We know some people in Revelstoke who do not belong to the Italian nation, who are given to doing that sort of thing, and we do not know of any Italian in this community who has ever had a charge of that kind brought home to him We protest against this vile insinuation against the members of our community, and we believe that all right-thinking people will agree with us that an uncalled for insult has been directed at our people.

We consider it a useless waste of time to ask an apology from such an irresponsible person as one who would make a charge of that kind, but we take this opportunity of placing before the public our disapproval of mean tactics, and we challenge the authorities to come forward with any evidence which will show that any of our people had anything to do with the writing of letters, and if they can show us that any member of our community is properly suspected of writing such letters, we assure you that we and our friends will do all possible in assisting to procure evidence against the culprit.

Thanking you for inserting this letter, we are,

Yours truly,
P. SIRIANNI,
M. RAGNELLI,
D. GALLICANO.

Revelstoke, April 5th, 1909.

A second letter, similar in tone, has been handed into this office by Mr. A. Pradolini. Lack of space, and because the matters dealt with are the same, prevent its publication in full. The concluding paragraph of Mr. Pradolini's letter is as follows: ED. MAIL-HERALD.

"I wish to state that whether the culprits of the latest blackmail be of latin or some oth r extraction. the Italian inhabitants of Revelstoke, as a whole, may be relied upon to do their duty as citizens and to perform their part in maintaining the institutions and laws under which they live and by which they expect the same treatment as applied to others; then no other nationality or faction can assume as they may at present, if the Observer's justice be the standard, that immunity from crime is assured them on the assumption that whatever may occur the blame will be laid at the door of Italians.

A. PRADOLINI.

Simply Incredible

A remarkable return has been laid on the table of the House at Ottawa by Hon. A. B. Aylesworth in regard to the escape of Bill Miner, the road agent, from New Westminster penitentiary. The return, which was asked for by J. D. Taylor, one of British Columbia's new members, shows beyond doubt that the celebrated train robber escaped through the conniving of officials.

The most interesting section of the whole voluminous page return is the account of an interview Instructor Geo. McKenzie had with Bill Miner a short time previous to his escape. This interview tends to bear out the story that it was the C.P.R. which secured Miner's escape in return for his surrendering to the company certain Australian bonds valued at fifty thousand pounds sterling.—Ex.

CHINESE LICENSE CASE

Action Against Ah Sing for Supplying Liquor Dismissed

In the Police Court on Saturday a somewhat lengthy hearing was given the charge against Ah Sing, keeper of the Palace restaurant on the complaint that he had illegally served patrons of the house with beer, not being licensed to do so. Ah Sing immediately pleaded not guilty. The principal witnesses for the prosecution were two Italian women, they being the same persons as had given evidence in the case against the Jap, fined for a similar offence last week. The first of these, Mrs. Magray, swore that she had gone to the Palace on March 29th in company with Mary Veltori. The latter had ordered two bottles of beer and these had been brought by Ah Sing. Ah Sing had drawn the cork, brought glasses and poured the liquid. One bottle was carried away by the spies and was produced and identified in court. It was with the supper that the liquor had been served. Both the supper and the beer were paid for at the same time. A $2 bill was given in payment for supper and the beer and $1.00 returned.

In the cross-examination by Mr. McCarter, Mrs. Magray was submitted to an uncomfortable grilling as to her occupation and means of support, she stating that she was being practically supported by the city. She had not received any of the money paid for the information laid in the case against the Japanese excepting her witness fee of $1 50. She did not know how much Mary Veltori got. She had no promise of anything for information in the present case.

Mary Veltori, being sworn, corroborated, without apparent hesitation, the evidence of the previous witness, while under direct examination by Mr. Gillan. She had frequently had drinks of beer at Ah Sing's. Under cross-examination she swore that she had not been promised anything for informing in case the charge against Ah Sing was made to stick. On being asked if she had received anything for informing in the case of the Jap fined last week, she at first denied, but on being held to the question admitted receiving $50. No one had sent her to spy on Ah Sing. She had told the chief of police after she had got $50 for informing in the Jap case.

Chief of Police Bain testified that he had heard no complaints as to the general sale of liquor at Ah Sing's place. Had heard that Sam Suey was sold about New Year's time. He knew nothing about the character or occupation of the witnesses.

For his defence Ah Sing told his story without hesitation. He had taken an order for two suppers from the witnesses. They had gone into a box and immediately afterward Mary Velori had come into the kitchen, laid two quarters on the order table and asked him to get her two bottles of beer. He had donned his coat, gone out and got it. He did not open the bottles or pour the beer. He denied the evidence of the prosecution that he had taken a $2 bill and given $1 in change. "He liar," said Sing with emphasis.

Cross-examined.—He often went out and got beer when requested by his patrons, but only when they paid the money in advance. He never drew a cork on his premises and never sold or kept Sam Suey. Two other Chinese gave evidence clearly corroborative of Ah Sing's story as to the order for the beer and the advance payment of the money.

At the conclusion of the evidence there was the usual cross firing between the legal lights as to the applicability of the civic by-laws to the case and its amenability under the Municipal Clauses Act.

Police Magistrate Foster in summing up said that he could not see that the procuring of the beer for his patrons by Ah Sing "advantaged him any or had in it the element of barter, sale or profit. The case might be different if beer were constantly being supplied as an inducement for custom." As it was it appeared to be a case of accommodation. He accordingly dismissed the charge.

SIR. Could you tell me why the Dominion Government regulations referred to, under the above heading, in your issue of the 3rd. inst., have been arranged so as to make the open season for trout fishing, east of the 120th meridian, cover those months (with the exception, perhaps, of July) during which the trout are on their spawning beds?

BUILT BY WOMEN

Remarkable Growth of L.O.T.M. Since Inception in 1892

The corner stone of the fraternal organization known as the Ladies of the Maccabees of the world, was laid in October, 1892, and the event was hailed with delight since the plans of the Order gave women extended opportunities to care for and protect their homes and those dear to them. The building of the Order has gone on apace and every structure reared has had careful planning and management. From a membership at nil it has grown by leaps and bounds, the year 1903 leading in gains, the increase being 24 719.

Its growth is thought by some to be more remarkable in that the association has been from its inception the work of women alone. Founded and built up by women, of women and for women, its officers and managers, its field workers, its deputies, and its members are and have always been only women.

Its solid foundation, upward growth, its splendid achievements are the result of woman's brain, woman's effort, energy and forethought.

To Mrs. Lillian M. Hollister, supreme commander, a woman famed as a fraternalist throughout the United States is due in great measure to the marvellous growth of the institution, In her charge for many years has been the field work, with its many responsibilities. She has contrelled and directed the competent force of women deputies and leaders, who under the training and with the example of their chief, have each contributed largely to make the order known throughout the land.

For the personal achievements no less than in connection with the great order of which she is the head, is Mrs. Hollister known.

All of the charters issued by the order to subordinate hives from organization to the present time, bear the signature of one woman, Miss Bina M. West, supreme record keeper of the order. She it was in 1892 who shouldered the undertaking of founding the order, with only faith and a boundless enthusiasm and belief in its future to back her.

The funds of this great institution, amounting to over three millions of dollars in the emergency fund alone, are and have always been in the hands of women financiers.

The Ladies of the Maccabees of the World is established in 54 states and territories of the union and provinces of Canada.

The latest manifestation of the fraternal spirit in this order is the National L. O. T. M. home, which it is proposed to establish. A considerable sum for this purpose has already been contributed and on Oct. 1 of this year the sixteenth anniversary will be celebrated by the hives with an entertainment to raise money for the fund. The home, when completed, will give shelter and hospital service to destitute, sick and aged members of the order as well as orphans of members

For the first time in its history the local police station was occupied by a woman last Friday night. She blew in from some one of the adjacent mining camps and as she was in a deplorable condition she was locked up. She appeared before W. W. Foster, police magistrate, on Saturday afternoon, when, after consultation with the chief of police the magistrate decided to sentence her to one month in the Kamloops gaol. She was accordingly removed to that detention house on Saturday night.

The final game of the season of the Merry-go-round whist club was held at the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Ferguson, Sixth street. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson left nothing undone to make the evening enjoyable for their guests. There were eight tables playing. Mrs. J. Purvis was the lucky winner of the ladies first prize, a dainty piece of Wedgewood, Mr. Fred Urquhart carried off the gentleman's first prize. At the conclusion of the game the tables were laid with dainty refreshments. Dancing brought the last evening of the series of games to a close very much to the regret of the members. DREAD FRUIT PEST

Moth is Fatal to Fruit and Humanity

Provincial Fruit Inspector Cunningham received a batch of exceedingly unwelcome visitors last week. They came from France, and the family name is euproctis chrysorrhoea. These are nothing more or less than the caterpillars of the dreaded brown tail moth that is at present causing consternation among fruit growers and nurserymen in Ontario. At present British Columbia is free from the pest, and fortunately there is but small danger of its getting in, as every imported tree gets individual examination. The batch found came in a packet of nursery stock from France. These pests not only ruin the fruit and forest trees, but the hairs from the caterpillar, if they get on a human being, cause serious illness, and if the the person affected happens to be in poor health at the time, most likely death will ensue. The eggs are laid 200 and 300 at a time, on the under side of leaves early in July, and in a short time thereafter the tree affected will have its leaves skeletonized. The caterpillars also are great travelers and have a bad habit of dropping from the trees to buggies or autos, and thereby getting a free ride to new scenes of operations. Mr. Cunningham says that no worse curse could get into British Columbia orchards.

HIGHWAY ACT BROKEN

Citizen Fined for Dumping Refuse on Public Highway

James McIntyre was brought up yesterday morning before Mr. R. Gordon, stipendiary magistrate, on a charge of an infraction of chapter 92, section 12 of the Highway Act, or in other words for placing an obstruction on the public highway. It has been the practice, unfortunately, by certain parties carelessly or wilfully of dumping garbage and other refuse on the road out to the pest house, forgetful of the fact apparently that there was a lawful dumping ground. Prov. Constable Kington has been on the look out lately for the offenders, having previously warned all dray owners, storekeepers, etc. Yesterday morning the constable prosecuted J. McIntyre for breaking the law in this respect, the charge against him for dumping refuse on the road being substantiated. On appearing before Mr. Gordon, McIntyre pleaded guilty and was heavily fined. There is no necessity for people to dump their garbage either on civic or provincial highways since a place for that purpose has been provided and any further infractions of the law will be summarily dealt with.

Cheap Cables

An Australian writer in the National Review makes a strong plea for a better Imperial news service. In the course of his article he says:

"The Empire, in fact, is getting along mediocrely on a basis of mutual ignorance. Now ignorance did comparatively little harm twenty years ago. It is not necessary for one's comfort or safety to know anything about one's next door neighbor. But it is wise, often essential, to know a good deal about one's partner or one's branch managers; and the development of the Empire to-day leads inevitably either to partnership or to disintegration. 'The only road to an Imperial council,' said the Federal Attorney-General, the other day, 'lies through cheaper cablegrams; infinite mischief will ensue otherwise.' Mischief enough has already been done by the continual misinterpretation, at both ends of the world, of acts and opinions which were made to seem unjustifiable solely by the meagreness of the knowledge at the disposal of the judges. 'Milk for babes,' perhaps, but the thinnest of adulterated skim-milk for the nourishment of a grown-up Empire—what sort of criminal starvation is that?"

It is probable that a sixpenny cable rate would do more to solidify the Empire than any other single agency.
