BIG MINING TRANSACTION

Rich Copper Property Comprising Twelve Claims near Golden Acquired by American Company.

Mr. Charles H. Taylor, a Cleveland, Ohio, attorney, recently visited Golden and Revelstoke in connection with the affairs of his company, the British American Copper Mines and Smelter Company, which company, represented by the J.C. Kernoham Co. of Cleveland, have acquired from Messrs E. A. Bradley and G. S. McCarter all the shares of the New Imperial Mines, Ltd., a British Columbia company which owns twelve copper claims on Warren Creek and Wells Creek, a few miles south of Golden.

Mr. Taylor visited the properties where work is being carried on on an extensive scale by a large force of men and expressed himself to a MAIL HERALD representative as highly pleased with the excellent showings on the claims and with the progress made with the work. We are informed that the properties have been examined and reported upon by eastern and western engineers and all agree that the copper showings are among the best to be found in the country.

There is an enormous vein of rich copper bearing ore traceable throughout the claims and as soon as modern transportation facilities have been provided the owners should be in a position, within a very short time, to make heavy shipments of ore.

The announcement from Winnipeg that the construction of the Kootenay Central railway is to be vigorously pushed by the C.P.R. is a very gratifying one as it will bring these properties within reasonable distance of a coal and coke supply from Crow's Nest Pass, and as a consequence the ores can be smelted at a convenient doint on the Columbia River which can be reached by a tramway from the mines and thus cut out the transportation charges which at present prevent many valuable properties in North East Kootenay from shipping to the smelters in West Kootenay.

Negotiations for these properties were commenced about a year ago and options were then obtained by representatives of the British American Company and considerable sums of money have been put in circulation among the owners as a result and during July last active work was commenced, the lateness of the season having prevented an earlier start on the properties. It is proposed by the management to lay in large stocks of winter supplies during September and continue a force at work during the coming winter, comfortable quarters for the miners having been erected and equipped during this summer.

The property on Warren Creek is a tunnelling proposition entirely and if indications count for anything the work to be done can be carried on in ore throughout.

The ultimate success of this mining enterprise will mean a great deal for Golden and vicinity as it will not only be the means of putting a large amount of money in circulation among the claim owners and trades men and miners, but will serve to draw attention of mining men to the undeveloped resources of North East Kootenay camp, which is one of the oldest quartz camps in the interior, but which has, until the advent of the Kootenay Central railway, remained largely undeveloped because of lack of adequate transportation facilities to bring in smelter necessities at a reasonable cost.

Mr. Taylor returned home by way of Seattle and Salt Lake City and is expected to return early in September to complete arrangements for the winter's work.

CHINESE PAY

Sixty-Four Celestials Put up $37,000.00

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20—Sixty-four of the 671 Chinese who arrived on the steamer Empress of India, Sunday, paid $500 each, the total amounting to $37,000. Ten entered at Victoria and 64 came to this port. Those who did not pay were either ticket of leave or of the exempt classes. The Chinese are now of the opinion that as labor here is much better paid than a few years ago, they can afford to pay the $500 head tax.

SNOW IN ALBERTA.

Crops Have Not Suffered any Damage.

CALGARY, Aug. 20.—The Olds district was visited by a slight snow storm early Saturday morning For twenty miles north of the town the ground was covered by a white coat two inches deep.

Sunday night a heavy frost fell and prevailed from Calgary right up to Edmonton. A good deal of trepidation was felt but luckily so far no damage has been reported to crops. The south escaped the snow entirely but the thermometer dropped below the frost mark at Lethbridge shortly after 11 o'clock.

Over two inches of snow fell at Banff Saturday night and it was bitterly cold. The snow came from the west striking in a northeasterly direction. Passengers from the north state that snow fell for upwards of an hour but that the wind kept it pretty well scattered.

The above is a good likeness of Frank Lawrence who is wanted by the police on a charge of highway robbery and jail breaking recently in this city.

PILES FOR BIG BRIDGE.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20.—The C.P.R. has taken tenders for 14,000 cubic feet of wooden piles which will be required for the construction of the sub-structure for the new bridge over the Belly river at Lethbridge. The bridge will be the largest on the construction route of the road, and in fact will probably be the longest in the world. The bridge will consist of 67 spans which, from face to face of masonry ballast walls, will have an aggregate length of 5,326 feet, thus making it nearly a mile in length. The superstructure will also be of the most modern and perfect construction and will be of steel trestle. For about two-thirds of its length it will have a height of 290 to 325 feet from base rail to the ground line. The steel to be used will be manufactured by the Canadian Bridge Company of Walkerville, Ont.

RAILROAD NOTES.

It is said that the Erie Railroad is planning a pension system for its engineers and conductors.

According to some Chicago reporters, the Burlington has invited passengers to drop into a locked box placed in the observation car of their best train between Chicago and St. Paul, any suggestions they may have to offer concerning the quality of service on the train.

A remarkable long-distance run was made recently by S. F. Edge on his six-cylinder Napier motor car, over the Brooklands racing track at Weybridge, Eng. He covered a distance of 1,581 miles and 1,310 yards in 24 hours, an average of 66 miles an hour. Nothing approaching this speed has ever been maintained for 24 hours by motor car, railroad train or any other locomotive apparatus. Mr. Edge undertook to cover 1,440 miles in 1,440 minutes, but bettered it by 141 miles and 1,310 yards. In the ninth hour he traveled almost 72 miles, and in the fourteenth hour 78.

The terminal points will be Clifton, Ireland, and the wireless station in Cape Breton. The ordinary rate is to be five pence (10c) a word and the press rate two pence hall pence, (5c) in addition to the land charges, and it is expected that the facilities offered will attract a large volume of business.

LABOR DAY

Revelstoke in Holiday Attire on September 2.

A good day's sport is promised on Labor Day this year and the committee in charge of arrangements have drawn up an excellent programme. Prizes to the value of $1000 have been apportioned besides several valuable trophies. Cheap rates on the C.P.R. have been promised and every effort has been made to give the townsfolk and visitors alike a day's first-class amusement. The chief feature of the show will be a monster public parade. and demonstration of labor; nearly every organization in town turning out with a float, for which $100 has been given in prizes. During the day football, Kamloops v. Revelstoke; lacrosse, Armstrong v. Revelstoke; gun club matches, Vernon and Armstrong, Kamloops, and Revelstoke; tennis tournament, Golden, Kamloops and Revelstoke, will keep the people amused, besides firemen's races and athletic sports. SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS.

The question of school examinations has been foremost, at this time, in the minds of the general public of the province and much has been said against them. The provincial press have published letters from many "Citizens" and "Subscribers" wherein the writers have specified in the support of their arguments the unfairness of a written examination as a test of a pupil's ability and the nervous strain to which a child is subjected, not in acquiring an education but in preparing for an examination; and they advocate the sweeping away of such tests. Their contentions are correct in the main but the remedy proposed is extreme. No one knows better than the teachers whether the candidate for promotion is fitted mentally and physically for a higher grade or not, but it is quite a responsibility to feel that the settlement of the question depends upon him or her, and accusations of impartiality and injustice are sure to follow the teacher's report. Every teacher knows this and feels relieved in a sense. Then the written examination, set by an outsider, takes the responsibility off their shoulders. Apart from the view point of the teacher the formal examination is not at all an evil as far as the child is concerned. It is an annual mental stock-taking, a method of finding out exactly where he or she stands, of comparing his position with that of other pupils of his own age and grade and when conducted on a common sense plan is rather a blessing than a curse. One way to make it the latter is to hold it up before the child as a dreadful ogre only waiting till the end of the year to gobble up all lazy pupils. Another is to attempt to "cram" during the last two or three months to cover work that should have been spread over the whole year. The teacher can obviate the necessity of the latter by devoting the first week of the school year to laying before the pupils of each grade a synopsis of the work to be covered, explaining to them that if the work is properly done each week May will be no harder a month than August and the thought of examinations will create no more dismay in June than in October. In many schools the children obediently swallow the mental nourishment that is served out without even the vaguest idea of what is really expected of them. A teacher can invariably size up the situation, and have a good idea as to how his pupils are going to shape, although in some cases the results are not according to expectations, for or against. No written examination should count for more than half in any promotion and forty per cent is not too low. The teacher's estimate of the whole year's work and the age and general health of the pupil should be essential factors in the decision. This would lead to steady work from August to June, would prevent lazy pupils from dawdling along when they could do more work and would check ambitious pupils whose minds are stronger and more active than their bodies.

NEWSPAPER STATEMENTS.

The wish is very often father to the thought, and nowhere is this instanced better than in reports for publication in newspapers near and far. One often hears a paper criticized or derided for the inaccuracy of its statements, but the public at large little realize the difficulty which a news gatherer experiences in getting at the real facts of the happenings of every day life. There are several reasons for this. In the first place it is simply human nature to present facts in the light most favorable to the speaker. This leads the one interviewed to place the favorable features of a story out in the lime light and shield the unfavorable ones. Then again, prejudice and the point of view have much to do with the color of a story, for what to one seems a favorable manifestation of a character, may seem when looked at by different eyes a sign of folly or vice. Downright dishonesty is perhaps the least of a reporter's troubles. A false report can be likened to nothing so much as a snowball on a mountain side, and it need travel only a few blocks to become an avalanche of fiction. Marriages are constructed on nothing more substantial than the purchase of a yard of ribbon for a pet cat. A divorce is made up simply because a man seeks an opinion on a bad debt. Embezzlement and bank failure follow the hurried visit of a bank cashier to his sick mother. All of these instances are but a few of the many that take place; they have their amusing side of course, but too often such unfounded rumors work great hardship on the hapless victim. One if often led to wish that there were fewer amateur detectives in the world and that some people who are particularly afflicted with a deranged and distorted imagination could secure some sort of mental spectacle which would come at their point of view.

THE NORTH COAST.

We have just received the initial copy of "The North Coast," a new publication devoted to the interests of the coast districts and northern interior. The new journal is published at Simpson, B.C., by P. F. Godenrath & Co., under the management of Ed. Rowland and will incidently aid in the development of the vast resources of the northern districts of this province, soon to play an important part in the history of B.C. This first issue is a neat six page sheet with illustrations of Port Simpson, and should be warmly received by those for whom it is intended. Too much publicity to the district embraced cannot be given and by the medium of the North Coast, settlers and capital, will have an additional source of information, when contemplating making a home in the north of B. C. P. F. Godenrath is one of the best known journalists in western Canada and a hustler second to none, and under his guidance the North Coast should be another link in the chain of journals devoted to the interests of our province.

THE BLUNDERS OF A BABOO

A good deal has been heard within the last few weeks about the baboos—the native officials—of India, who are supposed to be responsible for the present condition of unrest in that country. The following story, however, is about a baboo lawyer, who was defending his client, a woman accused of assault and battery. In the course of his remarks he addressed the opposing attorney as follows:

"My learned friend, with mere wind from a teapot, thinks to browbeat me from my legs. I only seek to place my bone of contention clearly in your Honor's eye. My learned friend vainly runs amuck upon the sheet anchors of my case. My poor client has been deprived of some of her valuable leather (skin), the leather of her nose. Until the witness explains what became of my client's nose leather he connot be believed; he cannot be allowed to raise a castle in the air by beating upon a bush."

New Burner Employed on a Western Railroad.

Keeping the right of way on dirt ballasted tracks free from weeds is a problem that has vexed railroad officials for years. To keep the weeds down with scythes and shove's requires a large force of men at work all during the weed growing season.

The Union Pacific has built a gasoline weed burner which is doing the work very successfully at a moderate cost. The gasoline weed burner is in reality an automobile mounted on railroad car wheels and equipped with the weed burning apparatus. The car carries the fuel for the burners as well as for its own power, and it is a comparatively easy job for one man to handle the machine. In fact in nice weather a trip through the country is a very pleasant ride.

Attached to the car are a number of tanks carrying the supply of gasoline sufficient for the day's run on the road. This gasoline is forced into a system of burners carried on the back of the car, making a very hot flame close to the ground and extending out several feet on either side. This kills the weeds.

The machine is capable of burning from 20 to 25 miles a day, running about three to four miles an hour. Three men compose the crew of the car, which is handled on the road under orders as a regular train.

Where weeds are cut by hand it requires approximately 16 men to cut one mile of track per day, hence the machine does the work of about 800 men.—Kansas City Star.

The communication was referred to the police commissioners with suggestions from the council that the laws should be enforced. From No. 2 Fire Brigade requesting an appropriation of $50 for local delegate to attend firemen's convention at Nelson. The council agreed and resolved that a sum of $50 should be granted to the fire brigade for delegate to attend the Nelson convention. From the secretaries of the Labor Day celebration and Turf Association, requesting a donation for their respective celebrations. A donation of $200 each was given.

In the matter of the law case of the City v. Taylor, it was resolved that the city solicitor be instructed to appeal against the decision of Judge Forin.

A resolution was passed that the by-law repealing by-laws 97 and 99 being read three times be passed and be sealed and registered.

The health and bylaw committee submitted a report on regulations and fees to be embodied in a bylaw for licencing and regulating hacks in the city. The report was considered and a bylaw ordered to be prepared.

The accounts were then passed and the meeting closed.

MOONLIGHT EXCURSION

Now that the harvest moon is doing duty every night, what more ideal amusement than a trip under the moon on the Columbia?

To-night a moonlight excursion will take place on board the s.s. Revelstoke held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's church. The weather man has given fair weather and all who wish for a pleasant, sociable and enjoyable outing should take advantage of this opportunity. The Independent Band will be in attendance and the steamer will leave the wharf at 7 p.m. sharp.

REVIVAL MEETINGS

The revival meetings which are being conducted at the Baptist mission hall on First street, by evangelist Romig, are meeting with excellent success.

On Sunday and Monday evenings the hall, which seats at least 150, was full. The people listened to a most remarkable sermon on Sunday night from the handwriting on the wall—"Thou art weighed in the balances and found wanting."

On Monday evening he carried his house into the "Unseen World," and gave a wonderfully clear Bible exposition as to the place of the soul after death. In Rev. Mr. Romig we find a great Bible student and his sermons bear on the face of them the truth of God. He is, no doubt, probably the strongest platform man that has ever visited Revelstoke.

In all the meetings the singing of the Misses Cave is a telling feature. Their voices are sweet and blend perfectly. They sing the Gospel message from the heart in such a way as to touch hearts.

Mr. Romig uses the stereopticon views to illustrate hymns, etc., at the close of each service.

It is the intention to continue these meetings every night indefinitely. They are worthy of the support of every citizen.
