MUD SLIDE DELAYS TRAINS

Communication at Palliser Cut —Track Cleared Today Trains Are Delayed

A slide 400 feet wide and 13 feet deep came down the mountain at Palliser yesterday morning and tied up railway communication. The first section of train No. 13 arrived on time yesterday afternoon but the second section was delayed and will ot arrive until this afternoon. Train No. 3, due at 4.50 this morning is expected to arrive at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Trains No. 2, 4 and 14 are being held west of Palliser until the tracks are cleared.

Torrential rains brought down a series of mud and rock slides on the C.P.R. main line near Rogers Pass on Saturday evening, delaying traffic until Monday morning, when the obstructions were reported at the superintendent's office here to have been cleared.

A cloudburst, high up among the peaks near the summit of the Selkirks was responsible for the trouble. Vast quantities of water suddenly spilled on the mountain sides overhanging the tracks, washed down debris and mud on to the line. The first slides were succeeded by others which greatly handicapped the clearing operations. The C.P.R. marshalled all its available forces at the scene of the obstruction. Trains from Vancouver and those bound for the coast were delayed each side of the slide. A local was made up at Revelstoke to handle the traffic into Vancouver from Kootenay points. The noon train from the coast on Sunday was held in Revelstoke.

Former Revelstoke Editor is Honorably Discharged

The Three Hills Review contains the following report of a police court case in which H. G. Knight, formerly editor of the Revelstoke Argus, took a prominent part:

H. G. Knight, editor of the Three Hills Review was brought into court last Saturday afternoon on a charge issued by the Three Hills village council for using profanity and disturbing the peace, the information being laid by F. M. Tagtmeyer, the chairman of the council. From the evidence given it appears that on the night of July 22 a crowd of boisterous hoodlums found great pleasure in assaulting certain parties who had worked against the new prohibition bill wherein a near riot followed. The council produced 7 witnesses, who when placed on the stand stated that they had heard several loud remarks on the evening mentioned but as they were some distance away it was hard to tell who had actually created the disturbance. The magistrate in summing up the case found the evidence insufficient to convict and honorably dismissed the defendant. Before closing the presiding magistrate stated the evidence was presented in such a spiteful manner and that some of the witnesses had not even been subpoened and that in his judgment the village council of Three Hills were engaged in great work to bring action against a man in business and having him charged contrary to chapter 146, section 238, clause "F," of the criminal code which meant nothing more than an arrest on a vagrancy charge. Before closing His Honor stated that to him it looked like a high handed piece of spite work and if continued it would be very dangerous to the future growth of the village, and added that in future if they found it necessary to call his services and could produce no stronger case than the one he had just tried they would be compelled to suffer the consequences. The defendant, H. G. Knight was represented by Barrister J. Vincent Power of Trochu, who informed the court that from the evidence submitted he would not even put his client on the stand but leave him to the mercy of the court. After the magistrate had criticized the village council he turned to the defendant with the words, "H. G. Knight, you are honorably discharged from this court."

Greenwood is not satisfied with its superior school. The trustees want a high school which will cost $900 a year additional.

MORE MEN ARE NEEDED; RECRUITING IN REVELSTOKE

Men Needed in Fifty-fourth and Sixty-second Battalions —Draft Goes from Vernon—Recruits for Guard Duty —Enlist

Capt. Sawyer has received instructions to recruit all men available for overseas service. Those who enlist will have the option of joining either the 54th or 62nd battalions.

It is expected that a large draft from the 54th Battalion will soon leave Vernon for service at the front and men are required to fill the vacancies. There is no limit to the number of men to be accepted. Men are urgently required, says Lieut A. Grant, and all who offer themselves and are able to pass the medical examination will be accepted.

Men are also being enlisted in the 102nd regiment chiefly for guard duty Already thirteen men have been accepted for that purpose and have been added to the strength of D company of the regiment. They are

Capt. Sawyer has been offered charge of the alien detention camp at Edgewood and Lieut. Grant has received orders to hold himself in readiness to go to Kamloops for service with the headquarters company.

An important relaxation in the regulations regarding the qualifications of recruits offering for service in Canada has been agreed upon by the militia council, which should add largely to the enlistment throughout the Dominion without detracting from the efficiency of the Canadian forces. The changes follow:

HEIGHT REDUCED.

A change in the height requirement from 5 feet 4 inches for infantry to 5 feet 2 inches; from 5 feet 6 inches for artillery to 5 feet 4 inches.

CHEST MEASURE LESS.

2—A relaxation in the regulation regarding chest measurement, the minimum to be 33 inches. This will be largely at the discretion of the examining officers. For instance, a young man in otherwise fit condition may naturally be expected to increase his chest measurement with out of door life and exercise, while with an older man this is not likely.

ONE MEDICAL TEST.

3—In future there will be only one medical examination and that at the place of recruiting. If a man passes there, he at once becomes a soldier. In the past many men who successfully passed the medical examination at the point of recruiting, gave up their positions and were farewelled by their friends, were turned down by the doctors of the company This was especially evident at Valcartier, where hundreds of men failed to pass the hands of the second examiner.

BAD TEETH FIXED

4—Men suffering from bad teeth, otherwise medically fit, will in future be supplied with new sets. The dental corps will do this work at the expense of the government. In the past hundreds of men were turned down for this cause. Many who could afford to do so had their teeth fixed at their own expense.

MINOR DEFECTS REMEDIED

5—Slight physical defects, which may be removed by minor operations will not debar a man from enlistment. In such cases the men so suffering will be turned over to the army medical service for treatment. The expense connected with the removal of such defects will be borne by the government.

In fact the regulations are such that they will give every man who desires to fight for his country, who is of proper age, the chance to do so. It is intimated that in the past more than 15,000 men have failed to secure a place in the forces because of regulations which have now been relaxed.

Wants Status of Glenbank School Changed

Nakusp, B. C., Aug. 2—The adjourned annual meeting of the Glenbank school district was held in the school room on Tuesday evening when there was a large attendance of ratepayers and wives of ratepayers, in view of the fact that the school with its 40 odd pupils would be without a teacher during the coming term on account of lack of finances due to the non-payment of taxes. A resolution was passed to make an appeal to the government to reduce the status of the district to the "assisted class," whereby the entire salary of the teacher is paid by Victoria. Under this plan only $150 will have to be raised by taxation instead of the customary $600 and will mean the reduction of rates from 10 mills to about 2½ mills. G. H. Gardner resigned his position as trustee and E. W. Bell was elected in his stead.

Miss McFarland returned to her home at Nelson Friday.

Miss M. Paget of Revelstoke is visiting Nakusp.

Mrs. Brockman of Roseberry stayed off a day at Nakusp on her way to Victoria on Thursday.

The Canadian Pacific railway station at Nakusp is now equipped with telephonic communication with Halcyon Arrowhead and Revelstoke.

Miss Pool is visiting friends at Hall's Landing.

Thomas Abriel returned to town on Thursday.

Preparing to Stock Lakes With Fish

That the department of fisheries intends to stock the lakes in Revelstoke park with fish is indicated by a letter addressed to Mayor W. A. Foote by F. H. Cunningham, chief inspector of fisheries. The letter says

"I am advised by the department at Ottawa that you are desirous of stocking with fish two lakes in the Revelstoke National Park. Will you kindly advise me of the names of these two lakes in order that the usual inspection may be made by our officer."

Dr. Morrell Will Lecture on Mooseheart

Dr. Edwin Morrell, vocational director of Mooseheart, will give an illustrated lecture on the Mooseheart proposition in the Rex theatre on Friday next. Seventy colored slides will be included with the lecture. This lecture has been given 25 times during Dr. Morrell's trip from Chicago to the Moose convention. Dr. Morrell is a scholar, a good public speaker and a live Moose.

Cranbrook had it 91 in the shade on Thursday last.

Every town in the Pass gave a majority against prohibition in the vote on that measure. Frank's plurality was 122, Blairmore 110, Coleman 71.

Kaslo Kootenaian:—The cherry crop this season has by no means proved a big success, as in addition to a considerable loss by "dropping" there has been a serious mortality due to splitting of the fruit, caused by the excessive rain.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING; SHINGLE MILL BURNED

Property of Star Lumber Company, South of City Destroyed by Fire—Loss Estimated at Ten Thousand Dollars With No Insurance

The shingle mill belonging to the Star Lumber Company at 14 mile, south of the city, was completely destroyed by fire on Monday afternoon It is believed that the fire was caused by lightning, a heavy thunder storm passing over that district at the time the fire occurred.

The mill, including machinery and boiler and engine, was completely destroyed, as also was the overhead tramway to the loading station.

A saw, the property of Fred Robinson, valued at $81 was among the property destroyed. The loss is estimated at $10,000 and so far as can be learned there was no insurance. The mill has not been operated for the past three years.

The principal stockholders in the Star lumber company were R. Gibbons and T. Meredith, managing director of the Canadian Pacific lumber company. Mr. Meredith was returning from a visit to Pingston creek on Monday and saw the property in flames as he passed on the train.

PATRIOTIC DEMONSTRATION; EMPIRE DETERMINED TO WIN

The anniversary of the British empire's declaration of war will be celebrated this evening by a great patriotic demonstration to be held on First street, opposite the club. Chairs will be supplied for the audience and the demonstration will be under the auspices of the Women's Canadian Club.

The following resolution will probably be submitted to the meeting:

"That on this anniversary of the declaration of a righteous war, this meeting of the citizens of Revelstoke records its inflexible determination to continue to a victorious end the struggle in maintenance of those ideals of liberty and justice which are the common and sacred cause of the allies."

The program will be as follows:

Similar meetings will be held throughout the British empire and will demonstrate its determination to carry the war to a victorious conclusion. A silver collection will be taken up in aid of the machine gun fund.

The fund to provide a Lewis gun as a gift from the people of Revelstoke to the Kootenay battalion has now reached half the sum required. The list today stands as follows:

C. Jolliffe	$10
Rex theatre concert	10
Previously acknowledged	480
Total	$500

The concert at the Rex theatre in aid of the gun fund on Sunday evening was an artistic success but the attendance suffered owing to the heat of the evening. Nevertheless $10 was subscribed and has been added to the fund. All those who have not yet subscribed will have an opportunity to do so this evening.

Elsewhere the machine gun funds are growing rapidly. The Nelson fund has reached nearly $2,000. The Kamloops fund is now $2300. In Golden two lots have been presented and will be raffled to aid the fund. In Grand Forks, Rossland, Kaslo, Vernon and dozens of other places the funds are being enthusiastically supported.

O Canada, our home, our native land
Loyal and free—beneath thy flag we stand,
With chains of love thou hast bound us,
Thy winds have made us strong,
Our eyes have seen thy golden fields
To thee we raise our song.

Chorus.

O Canada
Our prayer shall be
God bless and guard thee
Keep us true, true to thee.

Oh Canada
Beneath thy glowing skies
May valiant hearts
And faithful souls arise.
One faith, one hope in every heart,
A forward marching state.
And present good like glory past
Shall make our future great.

Conditions Ideal for Mountain Golf Links

That an ideal golf course could be made in the Revelstoke park near the chalet is the opinion of L. W. Wood who spent last week up the mountain in charge of the Boy Scouts camp.

Mr. Wood is an enthusiastic golfer and has played on a large variety of links. Nowhere, he says, has he seen natural conditions more suitable for golf. The grass in the park is tough and excellent for golfing purposes, and natural bunkers abound. A nine hole course could be easily constructed and it would be one of the best, most unique and most attractive courses on the continent.

Thirty-four Boy Scouts attended the camp and spent a delightful holiday on the mountain. The summit of the mountain is carpeted with flowers of the most brilliant and most varied hues, the wild berry crop is prolific and bathing in the cool waters of the lakes in the park is especially delightful during the hot weather.

WESLEYANS AT THE FRONT

On March 31 last there were 1,115 Wesleyan Methodist officers in the British army and 79,583 soldiers; 108 officers in the Royal navy and 12,637 sailors. To minister to these men 628 Wesleyan ministers throughout the country have been appointed 'officiating clergymen,' in addition to their regular work, and 40 have been appointed hospital chaplains, while 100 have been taken from their regular work, to give their whole time to chaplain service, thirty-five of these having been sent to the front. Twenty-four ministers and forty-four students in the theological colleges have enlisted in the army for regular service. We are sorry that similar figures for the Canadian Methodist church are not available, but after repeated attempts we have to admit that they cannot be secured.—The Christian Guardian.

Twelve of Trail's fourteen entrance examination candidates succeeded in passing. One of them had one mark to spare, while two were over the 700 mark.

Dan Dezall has been decorated with the gooseberry picking championship medal by the Cranbrook Herald. His best effort for eight hours was exactly 32 crates.

A CONTRAST IN SHELLMAKING

Up to the time the British government decided to order "fixed" ammunition only Canadian manufacturers had made and shipped about 650,000 empty 15-lb. and 18-lb. shells, and were tuning up to produce hundreds of thousands per month. The order that ammunition must be 'fixed" temporarily gave shell making in Canada a setback, because the Dominion lacked facilities for making fuses, the necessary quantity of high explosives, shrapnel bullets, etc. The manufacturers of shell casings and other parts have to wait for the organization of the new technical branches, or the procuring of parts lacking. But our munition problems have been manfully and energetically tackled. The Shell committee was formed at the outbreak of war, and has handled shell contracts amounting to nearly $200,000,000. The resources of the Dominion for shell-making were ten times, says the Toronto Mail & Empire, the orders for empty shells placed here by the British authorities, and now that shells must be loaded ready for use our industrial system is being converted as rapidly as possible to the new basis. Our shell-making capacity is limited now chiefly by the deficiencies in 'fixing' equipment.

Such being Canada's record, it will be somewhat surprising to most Canadians to learn that only now Australia is investigating whether its factories can make shells. A special committee is acting for the Department of Defence in appraising the capacity of Australian machine and metal works. In fact, the Imperial government about six weeks ago enquired of a private firm if it could take a contract to manufacture some thousands of shells per month, and in this did not negotiate through the Australian authorities. Private firms spent in the neighborhood of $5,000 in cable tolls getting information on shell-making from England to place before Senator Pearce, the Australian Minister of Defence. The chief engineer of the firm approached by the British government is in the United States and Canada investigating shell manufacture. The Australian government has not been taking the lead in the matter. The business firms of Australia have been doing its work for it, and pushing it along. Senator Pearce is on record as saying the establishment of a shell factory would be too expensive for Australia at present.

Canada has a great advantage, of course, in having access to the highly developed machinery factories of the United States. What we may lack in technical equipment can usually be quickly obtained over the border. It happens that at present machinery for making fuses and loading shells, and doing other of the finishing work, is very scarce, being gobbled up by United States factories also making shell orders. But at no stage of the Canadian shell-making business has the Dominion government's committee failed to grasp the opportunities presented our industry. Their work has been limited by the London orders, of course, but so far as their authority has gone, their leadership in the business has been in decided contrast to the attitude of the Australian Department of Defence.

OXFORD'S BIT

The Christian Guardian—It is now a familiar fact that the universities and colleges throughout the empire have been foremost in responding to the call for men in the present great crisis. Oxford University is an illustration of this fact, perhaps at its highest. In a private letter received a few days ago from one who has been spending the year in Oxford the following interesting figures are given. Of the nearly 4,000 students in attendance at Oxford when the war broke out all but 600 have enlisted. Of that 600 only eighty were of Anglo-Saxon birth, and of that eighty there was practically no one who could measure up to the requirements of physical fitness. This means that practically every student in Britain's greatest institution of learning who could at all be expected to enlist for active service has done so. That record is certainly splendid.

GRAND FORKS RESPONDS

Grand Forks Gazette:—The generous response to the appeal for money for the purchase of machine guns on Tuesday speaks well for the patriotic spirit of the citizens of Grand Forks and district. It was especially gratifying that when only one gun was the objective, nearly sufficient money for two guns was received. The single day campaign proved a capital idea and the ladies who inaugurated the campaign have every reason for congratulation. They have not only been more than successful in their mission, but they have developed greater interest and enthusiasm in the struggle in which the empire is now engaged. Providing money for machine guns is a Dominion-wide movement that is demonstrating the personal patriotic spirit of Canadians to the Mother Country, which would be entirely lacking in the supplying of the same number of guns by the government. Thousands of Canadians have answered the call for recruits. The call for machine guns is being answered equally readily. It is well that the opportunity offered itself.

ENTERTAINING THE TOURISTS

Kamloops Standard:—Many more tourists will pass through our city during the present season. Too much attention cannot be paid to this fact and we think that some organized effort should be made whereby each and every passenger train passing through in daylight would be met by autos ready to give those who wish a short ride round town. Good work has been done in this way so far but in a desultory manner and we believe the work and results could be much improved by organized and systematic efforts. Never in the history of Kamloops has such opportunity been offered to spread knowledge of the city so widely and at so comparatively small expense. Let us get busy and embrace fully the present chance which in all probability will never occur again.

COMMUNICATIONS

ALL WORK TOGETHER

To the Editor of the Mail-Herald,

Sir: I would like to thank the 'Review' for the prominence given my name in last Friday's issue. I am glad, too, to see my views about the Dominion Saw Mills so ably seconded, and that Mr. Anstie has been given the important task of bringing the industry back to life, which we all hope he will. I wish Mr. Anstie luck and I trust that when the war is over, as I have enlisted, that Mr. Anstie will be in a position to offer me a situation in the Forest Mills Co. Now that Mr. Anstie, the Review and myself have given our views, and since Mr. Green has succeeded in obtaining for Revelstoke, at the request of the board of trade, some two hundred interned aliens, let us all shake hands and unite and work together in advancing the best interests of our city and of our province. Again thanking you for this valuable space.

JOHN TIPPING.

Revelstoke, August 2, 1915.

A LITTLE SET-UP TALK.

To the Editor of the Mail-Herald,

Sir: John R. Mott says that the best days are before the Young Men's Christian association. The best days lie before each one of us who bears the name of Jesus Christ. This is so because we have a larger knowledge now than we ever had before with reference to our field, our problems, our aims, our opportunities, possibilities and resources. Larger knowledge always makes possible better days. The best is in front of us because we have greater dangers and unsolved problems than at any time in the history of Christianity.

What is the dominant idea with the board of directors as plans are being shaped for the fall? Is the work to be driven with courage and conviction to meet the large needs of many men, or is it timorously "feel the way ahead," at slack speed. Our conviction is that if the work is entered upon with a crippled force, a beggarly budget, shody equipment, and feebly conceived and planned program it will cost more and produce less than a broad and well thought, hard-driven, big purposed program. And, we may add, all that is big in purpose, and service is not as big a cost of cash as of courage. Do something worth while. Men "ain't got no money or no use for doing nothing."

Everything is being done to place our association in A1 condition for the fall work. Bowling alleys are being repaired and walls painted. Gymnasium well equipped and the physical director preparing himself for better service and greater efficiency. The swimming pool is at the proper temperature and dormitories suitable for railroad boys and others.

To make the entire building complete we must have the co-operation and good will of the people of our fair city. Unity is strength, and with the assistance of those remaining in our city, this year ought to be a banner year in the history of the association. Plan now for the fall and winter to spend at least two evenings out of seven at the Y. You need it.

The following gentlemen are requested to meet at an early date and choose a sufficient number of members to assist them in carrying out a large program: N. R. Brown, membership; Ralph Chisholm, social and educational; John Henry Lyons, physical; Wm. Lawrence, financial; Frank Paulding, religious; M. K. McQuarrie, house committee.

A. THOMSON.

Revelstoke, B. C., Aug. 3.

BRITAIN'S PART

(The Chicago 'Daily News.')

Here are some of the things Britain is doing:

1. Holding the seas for the ships of the allies as well as her own.

2. Protecting the coasts of her allies as well as her own.

3. Struggling in co-operation with the French, to smash the Turks and win the Balkans for the allied cause.

4. Rendering great aid to French and Belgian troops in resisting the terrible onslaughts of the Germans on the allied left wing in the west.

5. Making loans and supplying munitions to nearly all her partners in the war.

6. Pursuing a financial policy in south-eastern Europe likely to promote the cause of the nationalities.

7. Putting into the field more than ten times as many men as she ever promised.

8. Guarding her own soil and people against an invasion, which, if it came—and it is believed to be far from impossible—doubtless would be the most savage, the most unsparing ever known. To hear some people talk, one would suppose that upon Britain were laid the duty of defending every land but her own.

Britain's wealth and sea power and military power are the one sure safeguard against the triumph of Germany's unparalleled war machine. Without Britain's help France and Russia must certainly have been crushed. Without Britain's whole-hearted participation in the war, who will say that Italy would have ventured to challenge the mighty and merciless Germanic coalition? With Britain out of the struggle, would there have been any hope of the Balkan states daring to move?

"And Britain—never forget it—was not compelled to go to the aid of France. Come what might, the most that ever Britain promised France were six divisions—120,000 men. She was not in honor bound to send a single soldier more. She could have stayed out of the war, Germany had begged her to stay out of the war. Disgraced she might have been—as Britons think, must have been—if she had left Belgium and France and European liberty to their doom.

"But she could have done this. Few nations are without disgrace, without historical pages, they fain would obliterate. Britain was not attacked. France and Russia were attacked. Britain might have awaited the onset—as America is waiting the onset. Britain might have stood clear, and might have husbanded her resources of men and money, might swiftly have prepared, even might have looked over the stricken adversaries in the end and claimed the hegemony of Europe for herself.

"Britain did not do so.

"She threw her tridant into the scale. She threw her sword into the scale. She threw her gold into the scale—and she is incalculably rich.

"She threw into the balance her impressive racial record, her prestige, her unrivalled diplomatic skill. She threw—is throwing— will throw into the balance the whole puissance of her empire.

"And all for what? for the principle—the fruits of the principle—of the liberty of the individual against the despotism of the state.

"Britain, one can believe, may be the author of some acts of which she is not proud—may have done some things to cause her, looking back upon them with full light to wish they had never been done. But in this war this old and proud democracy is unfolding, applying a material strength and a moral splendor that for countless ages after this conflict is stilled will be shining and undimmed amid the first glories of history."

Penticton had a tax sale at which 273 pieces of property were offered, against which there was $8,000 arrears of taxes.

Owing to each dairy being put to an expense of $200 to put in a bottling plant Trail council has amended the new milk by-law making delivery in bottles unnecessary.

Notes from the Mines

The crew employed at the Cork-Province now numbers about forty men.

The Wakefield, on Four mile, near Silverton, is expected to make a car shipment this month.

It is expected that the 100-ton mill in course of erection at the Galena Farm, south of Silverton, will be ready for operation some time in October.

Norquist Bros., of Spokane, went up to the Nome mine on Cariboo creek the latter part of last week to do their summer's work on that property.

The Fisher Maiden, on the Slocan side, is another property that will soon be opened up again, having been leased to Spokane parties according to advises from that city.

On account of lack of cars shipments from the Standard are not going forward as fast as ore can be supplied. About twelve cars a week are going to the Trail smelter.

During the past few weeks the price of Lucky Jim stock on the Spokane exchange has attained the vicinity of eight or nine cents a share, the speculators occasionally having an innings with it.

Wm. Barner and Ray Hughes, who have a bond on the Black Grouse on the North Fork of Carpenter, are reported to have cut into a strong vein of high grade ore on that property. They have a depth on the ore of 200 feet vertically.

For the week ending July 22nd, the Ainsworth and Slocan district shippers to the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co.'s smelter at Trail were:

Cork-Province Zwicky	35
Hewitt, Silverton	32
Standard, Silverton	716
Number One, Ainsworth	202

The much desired and long delayed centrifugal pump for the Bluebell arrived a few days ago and has been installed, and the concentrator of the big lead mine will probably be turning out shipping dope by the first of the month, almost a year after war conditions forced a shutdown. As soon as the mine gets going full blast, the entire plant will be employing about one hundred men.

The Dunedin, on Reco mountain, and which is being developed this season by Shilland and Marshall, is considered one of the most promising prospects tributary to Sandon camp, being situated on the famous Reco-Goodenough lead. Since any work was last done on the property, however, a considerable amount of caving in has taken place, resulting in a necessary quantity of preliminary cleaning up work being undertaken.

The prospectors of Ferguson are now either taking ore out themselves with a view to shipping it or leasing their properties to practical miners. D. Morgan and E. Garrett have a carload of ore to ship from Gold Gulch. J. Livingston has a nice shipment of high grade ore out on Trout creek, while A. P. Garrett and associates are taking out ore on the Cromwell with the view of making a shipment this fall.

The Florence Silver Mining Co., is building a wagon road from the mine to the South Fork of Woodbury creek, a distance of 5,000 feet, where the company is putting in a 2,000-foot pipe line with a 250 foot fall to generate power for the mine, according to information from Ainsworth. A wagon road is also being built from the mine to the Highland concentrator, where the ore from the Florence will be treated until the company's own mill is ready. A contract will be let for the hauling of 70 tons of ore per day to begin on Sept. 1st and to continue until the company's mill is completed, which will be about a year hence.

R. G. Barnes of Calgary was in Kaslo on Monday, having come down from the Liberty Hill, on the South Fork of Kaslo creek, on which propert he and W. A. Harvey have secured a lease. A good deal of the work done in the early days on the Liberty Hill has been made of little immediate use, on account of caving in, according to Mr. Barnes, and a good deal of rubbish and muck must be cleared away before they will be in a position to get much idea of the value of the property. There are a number of samples of ore on the dump, such ore having been taken out in the early days. It is remarkable for its high percentage of its lead contents.

Negotiations are now under way for the bonding of the Gloucester group of mineral claims in Franklin camp to the Granby Consolidated. The Gloucester group includes five claims and are owned by Lee Mercer and Edward Garnet of Vancouver, and Thos. Newby, the latter being the moving spirit. Considerable development work has been done on the property both by shaft and tunnel and some splendid ore has been uncovered, the values being principally copper with a little gold. It adjoins the Union mine which has shipped several hundred tons of $80 ore. Supt. Campbell of Granby mines visited the property and made an examination a fortnight ago and assays of ore taken from the 50-foot shaft ran 25 per cent. in copper. It is understood the Granby company will commence development in the near future, of the many promising mineral properties in that district.

The recent shipment of thirty-four tons of ore from the Union mine, in Franklin camp, ran $53 to the ton, according to returns just received from the Granby smelter by the manager Lewis Johnson. The heavy transportation charges, covering a wagon haul of thirty miles, and the smelting charges totalled about $25 a ton, so that the ore netted the owners about $55 a ton. Two more carloads will be shipped in the near future.

Much fiction relative to mining in the province is from time to time published on the coast. One enthusiast was lately quoted in a prominent daily newspaper as having first told of the certainty that a property (not yet a producer) is a "big mine," and then characterized the Hedley mine as "the only other great gold mine in the province." Now, not with the slightest intention to belittle the Hedley gold mine, which in recent years has produced nearly 40,000 oz. of gold a year, but rather to make a statement of fact, the following figures are submitted: In 1914, Rossland mines—the Centre Star group, Le Roi and Josie group—produced about 138,000 oz. of gold, against nearly 137,000 oz. in 1913 and 132,000 in 1912. In 1912 Boundary district mines producted, in addition to the output of the Hedley mine nearly 68,000 oz. of gold, in 1913 about 71,000 oz., and in 1914, which was a short operating year, owing to the war having compelled suspension during the greater part of the latter year, about 45,000 oz. These figures show that of what the irresponsible talker designates "great gold mines" there are several in the province besides that at Hedley—Canadian Mining Journal.

Fred Roo states that the Blacktail dance is very popular with the Tobacco Plains Indians. The upper circles in redskin society always dance it with considerable eclat and other trimmings. Fred recently attended a debacle of festivities on the Plains, and heard Miss Billy Moccasin String sing in Siwash, that beautiful marching song Tipperary. It was so touching that nearly every paleface in the vast concourse, pulled a flask from his pocket to drown his sorrow. The war would soon be over, if Miss Billy could sing that song a few times in Germany.

THE HAPPY NINE

A party of nine started up the hill,
There was Ethel and Lucy, and Gertie and Bill;
Beth, Kathleen and Bob, Bertie and Jack,
And Gopher, the horse, with a pack on his back.

All started at five and arrived here at eight
In a happy, tired and hungry state;
We cleaned up the chalet, and made it look fine,
Cooked up the dinner, and sat down to dine.

We made up a raft, which we launched in the lake,
Then went for a swim and the water was Jake.
In the evening, a glorious bonfire we made;
Ate candy and sang, and then cards we played.

We went up to the lakes and sat in the snow,
Back over the hills to the caves we did go;
We explored all the caves and started for home,
But Billy got lost, when we went for a roam.

He caused us much worry and walking all told,
But we found and brought him back safe to our fold;
We were tired and hungry with mighty sore feet
But we cooked a grand supper and sat down to eat.

We carved our initials and the logbook we read,
Had cocoa and buns before going to bed;
Our neighbors complained of the noise and squall
And said 'twas impossible to slumber at all.

We got up at seven so happy and gay,
Though sorry to think 'twas our very last day;
We sat by the lake and a card game we played
While Lucy and Kay some candy had made.

A picture we drew of Chaplin the Great,
And wrote a love story of him and his mate;
A shout from above said the candy was done,
We rushed madly ahead, but alas! the boys won.

We got out our kodaks and pictures did take,
Some on the ladder and some on the lake;
We strapped up our blankets and gathered our goods
All ready to journey back through the woods.

Three cheers for the Chalet on Mount Revelstoke,
The best place to go in the world, good folk,
'Twill drive all your troubles and dull care away
And buoy up your spirits for many a day.

The admiralty received 16,000 offers of new scientific devices during the five months of the war. Another 16,000 doubtless came under the stimulus of the last five months. Another board has scrutinized these 25 more rigidly and reduced them to just two.
