Yellow Peril—Japs Influx—Marconi Wireless—Trunk Mystery—Twelve Cents a Loaf in the East.

MONTREAL, Sept. 25.—Rev. Dr. Young preaching on the "Yellow Peril," declared his belief that the day is coming when the Japanese, Chinese and Canadians will bow the knee at the same shrine, join in the same hymn of praise in mutual worship of a common God.

SEATTLE, Sept. 25.—The body of a young woman found in a trunk, off Alki Point, near Seattle, has been positively identified as that of Mrs. Agnes Covington, of Vernon, B. C., and the police are searching for the dead girl's husband, who is thought to be implicated in the crime.

OTTAWA, Sept. 25.—The price of bread in Ottawa rose yesterday to 12 cents a loaf, the highest in eight years.

ROSSLAND, Sept. 25.—Mr. J. A. Macdonald, leader of the opposition in the provincial legislature, addressed the mass meeting of citizens held in Rossland last week to consider the question of the influx of Japanese and signified his agreement with the efforts of the people here to have them excluded.

SYDNEY, N. S, Sept. 25.—Signor Marconi arrived here Saturday and left later in the day for Glace Bay. Before leaving, he made a statement to the effect that his company will be able to send commercial messages as soon as the Sydney station is open, in about three weeks The first commercial work would be sending press dispatches to big English papers.

QUEBEC, Sept. 23.—The Commissioners inquiring into the Quebec bridge disaster, visited the wreck and inspected the material yesterday. Special attention was paid to the chord It has been frequently referred to as having been damaged by the fall at the storage yards. This chord was subsequently repaired, and it was supposed to have been weakened The Commissioners, however, found that the end of the chord was in a perfect condition, even after the disaster, and the repaired plate was found to be all right. This practically clears up all the defects referred to, and the question now remains as to whether the defects which resulted in the collapse of the structure may not have been in the design of the bridge.

ATHEIST STRUCK DEAD

ADA, Idaho, Sept. 24—Because Amos Clark, aged 40, a farmer living on the Lewiston reservation, 20 miles south of here, openly defied the Lord, he was struck dead in his front yard last night. Clark had been known as an atheist for years, and last night in the presence of his family and several neighbors said, "There is no God." He then defied the Supreme Being to punish him. No sooner had the words left his lips than he was stricken and died a few minutes later. His family is composed of Christian boys and girls who have been secretly trained and instructed by the mother.

HANDSOME PRESENTATION

R. Gordon Receives Gift from Civic Employees

A very pleasing event took place on Saturday night at the City Hall the occasion being the presentation of a handsome oak case of solid silver spoons and forks to Robt. Gordon by the city employees on his leaving the city service. Ald. R. Howson took the chair. Every member of the civic staff with few exceptions were present, a mark of the general esteem felt for the retiring member. Mr. Howson in addressing the meeting said that it had befallen him to carry out a very pleasant duty in presenting Mr. Gordon with a gift on behalf of all the city employees He had known Mr. Gordon for many years, as a good, faithful servant, useful both to the city in his ability, and to the community at large in that he was always ready to give his services when required. Mr. Gordon in his associations with Revelstoke had always acted in a conscientious and upright manner, and whatever he did was always in his heart for the interests of the city. He had helped in the development and betterment of the community and had always been popular with everyone. His career as a city employee had been to the advantage of the city and he had given his honest and best work to aid in the furthering of city work and improvement. He would leave the service of the city regretted by all and he (Howson) felt assured that his fellow employees could testify as to his ability and conscientiousness and that all would regret the fact that he was leaving the city staff. A good master and a good servant was the unanimous opinion of all and the sincerest wishes for his prosperity in his new field of usefulness from all his fellows would accompany him. Mr. Howson on behalf of Revelstoke's civic staff, congratulated Mr. Gordon on his new appointment, and said that his career as a city employee would always be a pleasant remembrance. He likened his period while a servant of Revelstoke to a rose, expanding and growing until it reached the height of its magnificence.

Ald. Sawyer said Mr. Gordon was in every way a credit to the city and that he felt his leaving the staff very keenly. He had been Hon. Pres. of the Independent Band for many years and was always welcome in the Band room where he was extremely popular. Every member of the civic staff testified to Mr. Gordon's conscientious work for city interests and congratulated him on his new appointment at the same time expressing regret at his leaving them, although he would still remain a citizen of Revelstoke.

Mr. Howson then made the presentation which was applauded by loud cheers.

Mr. Gordon, who felt much overcome by this spontaneous mark of general esteem, rose to reply. He said that it was a hard matter to speak on an occasion like this and to fully acknowledge the kindly sentiments of all present. He was pleased that the occasion had happened because he felt that he had often been misjudged by his fellows. He felt too, that he had not always done things right and that he now saw that his misgivings had been mostly his own fault. In his five years of city employment he said that all the city employees had worked well together, and all had lived in harmony. He had taken offence sometimes, but he was glad that his fellow employees had overlooked his faults. He pointed out that there was too much estrangement between the aldermen and employees and now that he was no longer an employee he could speak out. The aldermen were not in close touch with the employees and they should brush up against them more and take personal interest in them and be more intimate with the actual city work. He complained of the lack of genuine interest taken in the employees and urged that the aldermen should take personal interest and pay personal attention to all the city work and in those who are doing it. A better feeling should exist between them and much material good would be the result. He had often called the attention of the mayor to the harmonious feeling among the employees, and said that he had never worked among a better or finer body of men. He felt the kindness of them in their handsome gift to him and was deeply sensible of their appreciation of his best efforts and congratulations and wishes for success in his new vocation.

MONEY KINGS AFTER TIMBER

Two Immense American Syndicates After Supremacy of British Columbia Forests.

SEATTLE, Sept. 24.—It is now believed that the extensive purchases of timber lands on Vancouver Island within the past two or three months were made by agents of two groups of capitalists who are struggling for supremacy in timber holdings. One of the bands of capitalists is headed by J. P. Morgan, and with him are found James J. Hill and Frederick Weyerhauser. The latter is said to be even richer than Rockefeller. The other party is John D. Rockefeller.

Sales of enormous areas of timber lands on Vancouver Island have been numerous of late, and the heavy purchases are believed to have been made by the agents of either of the two bands of capitalists. It is said that the Standard Oil company recently purchased 50,060 acres on Vancouver Island, on which there are not less than 8,000,000,000 feet of fir and other woods. A Michigan syndicate recently closed a deal for 50,000 acres of timber land on the same island, and it is supposed it is connected with the money kings. Another party of men hailing from Iowa and supposed to be merely Standard Oil agents, have bought 210 square miles of timber lands on Vancouver Island and on the mainland. Additional purchases have been made in the province, and it is the understanding that many of them are in the interest of the Standard Oil and the Hill-Morgan-Weyerhauser combine.

The United States government's investigation into the question, if there is a lumber combine, has developed the startling fact that the two groups of captains of finance are engaged in a competitive race for the acquisition of all remaining sources of timber supply not included in the national forest reserve. Not only are they buying up all the timber land that they can put their hands on in British Columbia but in every section of the United States they are buying every acre of timber land they can get. That it is their intention to acquire a complete monopoly of the lumber business in the United States is easily seen.

One feature of the giant contest is the railroad which the Standard Oil company is building across the continent in record time. That it is a railroad to serve the Standard Oil purposes alone, and not intended to develop any new country, is shown by the fact that for a large share of the way across the country it runs side by side with the Northern Pacific, seeking everywhere the easiest route and the quickest construction.

The Standard Oil outfit, although not heretofore known as a factor in the lumber business, is now preparing to become the largest owner of timber lands in the country. Perhaps it is already the largest. At any rate in the state of Montana it holds title to more acres of timber than any one else.

The Hill-Morgan-Weyerhauser group on the other hand, through control of the Burlington, the Great Northern and Northern Pacific, have at this time exclusive access to a great area of the remaining timber country of the Northwest. And also they have acquired titles to thousands upon thousands of acres of the choicest timber lands in this part of the country. It is this group that bought the timber lands of the Northern Pacific for $1,000,000 when they obtained control of that road, and the same lands are now worth $125,000,000. They also own practically all of the timber lands of Northern Idaho.

THE CITIZENS' LEAGUE.

Citizens as a whole will have an opportunity of meeting in a body on Tuesday, October 1st., that occasion being a convention of the Citizens' League, at which several important subjects will be up for discussion. The public should remember, however, that the league is not per force antagonistic to any individual section of the community, nor was it formed as a means of attacking any particular person or persons, or indeed of adopting an agressive stand upon any subject. Erroneous ideas have been formulated as to the real objects of the league and allusions have been made in other directions as to the material benefit or even results that will accrue from the league. As there are to be found pessimists in every community, so will there be sure to be some who will never allow themselves to think that any good can come of bodies who are trying to institute reform. The Citizens' League although formed as the outcome of certain conditions too well known to the public to bear repetition now, is a power which if judiciously and tactfully, yet at the same time firmly, handled will have direct benefit on the moral and civil condition of our community. The league is there to take up every question of interest and importance to the city and not only as some suppose to keep lynx eyes on hotel doors at all hours and worry after the police and seeing that they do their duty. Granted that civic morals will take a prominent place in the work of the league, and it is only right that the public should be protected and that no undue licence is permitted in certain sections which will be detrimental to the peace and reputation of the city. The league will have to use prudence and tact in all its dealings and not rush blindly into anything that it may take up, even if emergency calls, but by carefully and with a level head and firmness, looking into all matters, its weight will be felt far more and its importance be acknowledged. Although the league has not been advertised, it is nevertheless doing its work and when occasion arises, will be all there. The town of late has been quiet and from investigation in many quarters we find that many undesirable residents have left our midst to look for "fields and pastures new," convinced that Revelstoke will no longer be a happy hunting ground. Besides moral reform there are many things that require looking into, which have direct bearing on civic interest and the ratepayers will now have an opportunity of discussing all such matters and per chance grievances that need adjusting. Popular interest should be encouraged and all citizens whether clergy, business men, hotel men and others can work together, if they will only allow themselves to do so.

THE HOME PAPER.

A local newspaper is absolutely necessary to any community. It is the home paper that keeps the people of the community in touch with each other by giving them all the news of their own neighborhood and district. For that alone they are of value and worth far more than the small subscription price. They keep up the local pride and progressive spirit aroused and in various ways are worth far more to a community than a community ever spends on them. In Western Canada where development is going on and capital required to cause such developments the home paper circulated far and wide gives publicity to its home town and helps in many other ways to better the community for whose interests it is working.

CRICKET.

First Cup Match Won by New Chums

The many citizens interested and enthusiastic over cricket welcomed heartily the bright warm weather on Saturday, and at 2 o'clock were in force assembled on the Big Bend road ground, to witness the first match for the Enterprise Brewing Co.'s Challenge Cup, and more especially for the honor of being the best cricketers for the year, to be played between the old generation and the new, or, as advertised, between "Pioneers" and "New Chums."

Anticipation of a good game was fully realised, for in the opinion of many old timers, no such play had ever been watched in Revelstoke, and although T. E. L. Taylor, Wallace Le-Leaux, J. M. Goble, and Norris were prevented from taking part, yet each side had a good cricketer in every man.

It was a batsman's wicket, as one could see on inspecting the pitch, and from the umpire's frequent signal of a boundary hit, which mightily pleased the onlookers and encouraged the batsmen. As in previous matches, good fielding was conspicuous, and in this repect both sides were equal.

Entwistle, captain of the "New Chums" was the tall hitter for his side and totalled his biggest score this season. His 40 included three 4's and eleven 2's. He was well supported by Darbyshire, Davis and Goring, who each reached double figures. Maley, Bourne and Brier bowled, and Maley had most success with the ball. His analysis reading 15 overs, 5 maidens, 46 runs, 7 wickets. An average of just over 6 runs per wicket. The innings closed for the good score of 112.

The "Pioneers" were nothing daunted by that total and settled down to good work at once, Atkins, one of the best of Revelstoke's old time cricketers, whom we are all glad to welcome back among local players, and Frank Bourne, starting the side's effort.

Much was expected of Frank, but it was not his day with the bat, and after making 8 made way for Brier. Walter Brier just showed how easy the difficult bowling seemed, for in his brilliant innings of 53 were 6 fours, 2 threes and 6 twos. The hopes of the Pioneers were high, and frequent applause and encouragement punctuated each hit right through the innings, but when Albert Arman and Eddie Edwards retired without scoring and the stalwart Tom Skinner was run out with nothing to his credit, a finish of the innings for 94 was the result, and against the excellent bowling by Entwistle, that score was remarkably good. Entwistle is and has been the best bowler throughout the season, and his average of less than five runs per wicket on Saturday further enhanced his reputation in that respect, his analysis reading 13 overs, 2 maidens, 38 runs, 8 wickets. The scoring book reads as follows:

WOULD SHUT OUT JAPANESE

CALGARY, Sept. 24.—W. A. Galliher, M. P. for Kootenay, stated last night in an interview that outside of politics and speaking as a citizen of British Columbia, he would rather see the province retarded in growth, losing trade with Japan, than to have the province overrun with Asiatic people. Mr. Galliher has just returned from Ottawa, where he conversed with Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the Japanese invasion. He stated that the secret treaty between Japan and Canada, whereby Japan only permits 500 to enter Canada yearly, would again be enforced.

CITY COUNCIL.

A special meeting of the city council was held on Monday night with a full attendance. Minutes of last special meeting were adopted as read.

A communication from Messrs. Scott & Briggs, city solicitors, regarding the impounding of P. Burns & Co's. sheep on Sept. 9th, was read but was laid over until that firm had seen Wheeler and Shardlow, who had impounded their sheep.

A communication was received from G. Lembke, requesting to be paid at rates according to the work entailed last year when taking shifts at the power house and promised him by the previous council. This matter was referred to the Fire, Water & Light committee.

A deputation from the school board waited on the council for the purpose of stating their case in asking for an appropriation to send delegates to the Westminster convention. H. N. Coursier in stating the facts of the case said that the aldermen did not realize these facts and said that education was one of the chief questions vitally affecting the province and the whole of Canada. The schools have cost a lot of money, he granted, but all money spent in Revelstoke on the schools was no more than a necessity. He reviewed the educational system and read a few of the salient resolutions to be discussed at the convention, many of which tended to lessen the cost of education. He touched on reciprocity of the provinces in the matter of teachers and pointed out the importance of universal text books. New books were a very expensive item and the time had come when the government should own the copyright and sell at slightly over cost of production. Continual changes in books were not creditable and the cost was high as compared with the price of novels. The question of school surroundings wonld be discussed and he pointed out that Revelstoke schools had made almost a record in the laying out of grounds and the city had every reason to be proud of the schools and surroundings. He urged that civic teaching should be carried out in schools and Revelstoke should not be behind the times; this would also be taken up at the convention. He said that the trustees had given their time and work to the interests of the children and the city should aid them since it was not fair for the trustees to pay their own expenses at the convention. School topics would engage the attention of the whole province and delegates from every point should attend to decide on all these important questions. He said that very few dollars had gone astray in school work and that first class teachers had always been engaged. The minimum in Nelson was $70 and in Revelstoke $60, and the Board may have to raise all salaries. He said that he would take up the question of technical schools at the convention since they were a saving of expense and necessary to B. C. and the influence and assistance of the Dominion Government had been asked.

The Mayor said that one convention had already been held at Nelson at public expense this year and the expense of another was too heavy.

Mr. Coursier said that the dates of the conventions had been changed and would always be held in the fall.

Ald. Abrahamson said that money was pressed from the council on all sides.

H. Floyd said that the principles of the programme were good.

Ald. Howson said that he didn't want to cut down legitimate expenses, but the council had paid out much money this year but he would be in favor of moving that $50 be appropriated to send delegates to the convention.

H. Manning said that the sum was not sufficient and one delegate was no use, pointing out that undue economy in education was no good but weight of numbers in important questions would tell.

Mr. Coursier said that Revelstoke would have the convention next year; she was well thought of, more over one delegate at this convention was very poor for an important place like Revelstoke, $40 at least was necessary for one delegate and two if not more ought to go.

Ald. Sawyer said it was best to send two delegates and make a good job of it or none at all.

Ald. Woodland seconded Ald. Howson's motion for $50, the motion being carried.

The deputation retired after thanking the council for their consideration.

The Tax Levy by-law for 1907 was introduced and passed its three reading. As shown by the by-law the actual value of city property, etc., is $1,221,820, the improvements which are exempt in part from taxation being $674,886. Thus 21 mills on the dollar are levied to cover all general expenses for health, schools, etc., a reduction of one-sixteenth allowed if paid before November 27; and 12½ mills on the dollar to cover debenture interest, etc., making a total tax rate of 33½ mills.

The Cab Licence and Regulation by law was finally read and adopted.

Forty-five applications for position as power house superintendent were received and read, letters coming from all parts of the Dominion. After careful selection and discussion, that of Christopher Holden of Winnipeg, was accepted. Mr. Holden has excellent references and testimonials having 14 years practical experience in hydro, electrical, gas produce and electrical work, and should prove an excellent man for the position.

The council adjourned at 11.15 p.m.

A curious looking craft is now in the station yard. In appearance it somewhat resembles the toy Noah's arks, familiar to all, but as it bears a descriptive title painted upon the hull it is apparently used for a more practical purpose. The description runs, "Alligator Warping Tug," and the vessel is intended to navigate shallow and rapid waterways. It is equipped with very powerful machinery and has twin propellers. The propeller shafts outside the stuffing box are fitted with a swivel joint and by a special mechanism handled from the deck the propellers can be raised completely out of the water and beyond the reach of injury in passing over shallow and rocky rapids. Forward arrangements are made for the handling of a cable by means of which the tug can be warped along wherever the conditions render the propellers of little avail. The vessel is equipped, in short, for work on deep or shallow water. So powerful is the machinery that should water not be available it would be almost possible to crawl up a mountain side should such a feat be deemed necessary. It is understood the vessel is to be used by the Shuswap Lumber Co. and will navigate Adams river and lake.—Inland Sentinel.

Fire Brigade No. 2 received a call at about three o'clock yesterday morning the alarm being turned in at No. 2 Fire Hall. Responding smartly to the call, the boys were directed by Charles Turnross, who gave the alarm, to the Union Hotel Restaurant, where the kitchen was found to be in flames. On entering the building the firemen quickly got at the cause of the trouble which proved to be a tin of grease which had caught fire on the range, the flames enveloping that end of the kitchen. The blaze was quickly extinguished without turning on the hose. No damage resulted.

The fastest time ever recorded by a passenger train on western lines of the C.P.R. was made by the Overseas eastbound last week. The run from Broadview to Brandon a distance of 131 miles was made in two hours and eleven minutes. It required 14 minutes to cover the first 8 miles out of Broadview where there is a hard grade. The six minutes lost were made up later when the train at times attained a speed of almost 70 miles an hour, 99 consecutive miles being covered in 97 minutes.

GRIP AND PASSWORD

G. M. Embledon, Grand Master of British Columbia of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, visited the city on Monday for the purpose of instituting a Rebecca Lodge of the I.O.O.F. The movement has been afoot for some time and has been very popular among the ladies of Revelstoke. It is generally acknowledged that a sister's lodge auxiliary to a fraternal order has done much good and is very highly advocated by all members of such orders. Thus the new lodge, known as Naomi Lodge No. 21 starts under the most auspicious circumstances. The institution took place in the afternoon the lodge room in Selkirk Hall being well filled. Grand Master Embledon assisted by Brothers J. Callin, J. Palmer and C. Palmer performed the ceremony the following officers being elected and installed:—

N. G.—Mrs. J. A. Agnew.
V. G.—Mrs. W. J. Armstrong.
Warden—Mrs. J. Callin.
Conductor—Miss A. Berger.
Rec.-Sec.—Miss Bain.
Finance Sec.—W. E. McLaughlin.
Treas.—Miss Patrick.
J. P. G.—Mrs. McLaughlin.
Chaplin—Mrs. Urquhart.
I. G.—Miss A. Palmer.
O. G.—C. Palmer.
R. S. N. G.—W. W. Foster.
L. S. N. G.—Miss Urquhart.
R. S. V. G.—Mrs. E. Trimble.
L. S. V. G.—Mrs. Hooley.

At the evening session of Selkirk Lodge 32 Oddfellows were initiated into the Naomi Lodge, the occasion being celebrated with addresses and speeches. At the close of the ceremonials, supper was served, after which the brothers and sisters spent several hours in dancing.

MILLINERY OPENINGS.

C. B. Hume & Co., and Reid & Young show Fall Creations

The summer which has been all too short is fast fading and once more the sear and yellow leaves flutter and fall one by one to the ground, sure signs of the approaching winter. It seems only yesterday we were looking forward to spring dainties and summer creations, and now we are once more looking round for fall costumes, fall hats, and fall millinery of every description. Messrs. C. B. Hume & Co., and Messrs. Reid & Young have both made the most elaborate preparations for their Fall Millinery openings and to be up with the times, and they have gone to almost unlimited trouble and care in securing the very latest designs in all millinery goods.

Miss James, of C. B. Hume & Co., has returned from Seattle and the coast after attending the millinery openings there and has come to Revelstoke again loaded up with ideas dainty and new for fall creations for our ladies. Some of the designs and styles are extremely pretty and we have every reason to believe that Revelstoke fashion will be one of the best ever seen.

Reid & Young too have made all provision for a busy season. Miss McKenney has a wide experience in both eastern and western modes and fashions and has taken in the openings in Seattle, Portland and the coast, and has returned here with all the latest dainties in all styles of millinery which will delight and satisfy all hearts and all purses. The fall season in these two firms commences this afternoon and evening and judging by the crowds of the fair sex wending their way past our office window, while we are going to press, in the direction of these two firms, it is evident that the millinery staff of both will have an extremely busy time. These firms are up-to-date and progressive in every respect and this year has seen them even more so, with many new and original ideas which the ladies of Revelstoke should not fail to take stock of.

This is the first year that the C.P.R. has been assessed according to the act, by the city corporation, the figures are thus:

Operating department	$13,850.00
Real estate and lands	25,024.00
Buildings and improvements assessed at half	36,308.00
Total	$75,182.00
