Injunction Granted—A Triple Murder—Mint Activity—A Conductor Arrested—Alleged Plot—Cut Wages.

SEATTLE, Nov. 2—Federal judges C. H. Hanford and C. E. Wolverton, in a decision rendered Wednesday night, temporarily enjoined the Hill and Harriman railroad lines from advancing the freight rate charges on lumber and and other timber products 10 cents per 100 pounds. The proposed advance applied to eastbound shipments on which the rate is now 40 cents per 100.

LETHBRIDGE, Nov. 2—The dead bodies of three Indians, a man, his wife, and a boy, were found last Sunday by some children in the neighborhood of Fifteen Mile Lake. There was every indication of murder, the man's head being blown off as with a shotgun. All of the bodies bore marks of violence.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 2—The Ogilvie Milling Company has just completed contracts for heavy monthly shipments of high grade flour to the Fiji islands and has been asked to quote on monthly shipments throughout the winter.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2—Pursuant to directions from Washington, the coinage of $15,000,000 of gold bullion will be undertaken immediately at the mint in this city. No gold has been coined here since August, the active force being engaged in the coinage of Philippines pesos. The mint force was considerably enlarged at the time coinage of Philippine silver was undertaken and it is thought that this force will be adequate to handle the rush order for gold.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 2—A warrant has been issued for Conductor W. Alexander, of the wrecked passenger train, charging him with unlawfully causing the death of E. Brett, the fireman killed in the wreck at Regina. Alexander was brought before Magistrate Trant at Regina, but was allowed to go free on bail, Conductors Prosser and Shand going security in $2 500 each, and himself $5,000, or $10,000 bail in all.

NEWMARKET, England, Nov. 2—The police here have arrested J. H. Pearse, suspected of having designs on the life of King Edward or the Prince of Wales. He is an ex-member of the Bechuanaland Police.

GRAND FORKS, Nov. 2.—To reduce the wages of all the employees of the Granby Company at both the mines and the smelter by a cut of 50 cents a day is the word that today reached here from New York. It is stated that the cut will start today and will include all the miners in the Phoenix camp.

CRISIS PAST.

Banks that Failed were Insignificant—Situation Saved.

NEW YORK, Nov 1.—The arrival of nearly $20,000,000 in gold, it is believed, will considerably relieve the situation here and perhaps make call money a little lower on the Stock Exchange. The decline in stocks today was generally attributed to the continued scarcity of money for speculative purposes, the refusal of brokers to make transactions except for cash, and the absence of buying interest under present disturbed conditions. The fact that the Bank of Germany advanced its discount rate from 5½ to 6½ per cent was not unexpected, in view of the care with which the German Bank protects its gold stocks. The intimation of Dr. Koch, Governor of the bank, that the action taken would unfavorably affect the American situation is interpreted as meaning nothing more than that it would impose a check on the shipment of German gold to New York. The fact that the day passed without any special meeting of directors of the Bank of England for the purpose of raising the discount rate, was accepted with gratification. Comparatively few conferences were held today, because it was felt that New York Bankers had the situation in hand and that the provision for Clearing House certificates and for paying large drafts in cheques instead of currency would avert any further trouble.

Aside from the satisfactory local conditions, reports from all points showed a favorable tendency. No failures were recorded at any point throughout the country. It should be borne in mind in this connection that there are over 12,500 banks in the United States and that the number of institutions which have recently failed is of insignificant proportions as compared with this total. It was pointed out today that the failure of a minor bank is immediately known from end to end of the country, whereas the public overlook the fact that 12,500 banks are open for business as usual, and none of the real important banking institutions anywhere has shown the slightest signs of unsoundness. On the whole, the banking community takes a favorable view of the outlook and is particularly encouraged by the large foreign credit secured through the enormous shipments of American products abroad.

MUSIC, DRAMA AND DANCE

Amateur Dramatic Club and the Independent Band will Furnish a Big Night's Fun for Anti-Tuberculosis Society.

When people spend their money they like to get something in fair exchange for it. Revelstoke public are noted for their generosity and when there is some return for that generosity there is a double incentive to practice it. One of the most deserving movements in Revelstoke today is the Anti-Tuberculosis Society, which is now actively engaged in the great work of aiding in the stamping out of the dread White Death. This movement is general all over the province and Revelstoke as one unit should not be behind any other city in interest and actual work done. Funds are necessary, absolutely necessary, in order to carry out the general scheme.

Rather than institue a general canvass of the city, which is not altogether satisfactory since the brunt usually falls on a few, the society have been looking around for some means of raising money. The Amateur Dramatic Club very generously came to their aid and offered their services gratis. At the express wish of many citizens and admirers of the club, "Jane," the well-known comedy will be again produced, and with the signal success gained at the first production of the play, the club feel sure they can again succeed in getting a bumper house. With their customary good nature the Revelstoke Independent Band have also donated their services for the occasion and will discourse sweet music at intervals during the evening and for the dance which follows the play. When the cause for which the Dramatic Club and the Band are lending their services is remembered, Revelstoke will not be backward in buying tickets and doing all in their power to make the affair successful. Reserved seats 75c., general admission 50c. The money will be well spent and the entertainment well worth seeing. A few donations have been coming in to the society, but the words of a well-known popular parody will be particularly appropriate: "Every little bit, added to what they get, makes just a little bit more."

HEAD-ON COLLISION

C.P.R. Passenger Smashes into Freight Train.

REGINA, Sask., Nov. 1.—As the result of a head-on collision between an eastbound Moosejaw local and a westbound freight train, Railway Engineer R. Hinchley and Fireman Charles Brett were instantly killed, with a dozen people badly shaken up.

The wreck occurred four miles east of Regina on the main line, at six minutes to eight Wednesday morning. The eastbound local, running a few minutes late, crashed into the westbound freight. The two engines were driven through to the piston heads, and the tenders were lifted clear off the rails. The baggage and express cars were badly smashed up, the former being thrown from the rails and the latter completely telescoping the tender of the passenger engine.

A. E. Emsile, of Winnipeg, mail clerk, was seriously hurt.

On No. 1413, the extra freight, the crew was Engineer A. J. Smith, Conductor Geo. Hayes, Fireman B. Wood.

The crew of the passenger train was Engineer Robt. Hinchley, Conductor Wm. Alexander, and Fireman Chas. Brett. All the men are from Moosejaw.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

Thanksgiving Day was a busy day down at the Y.M.C.A. Early in the day the Oatmeal Eaters beat the Young Tigers at bowling after a keen contest, some high scores being made during the game:

Three games of basketball were played during the day, one of them being very speedy.

The Basketball League will start as soon as the new gymnasium is built. The physical director wishes that all teams who are entering the series would get the name of the team and the list of probable players and give it to him.

The Juniors should also get into line as the Public School will put up a big fight to keep the cup again this year.

Indoor Baseball will be played this year and should be very popular as the game is speedy and admits of a large number playing the game at once.

HIGH SCHOOL EXERCISES

Large Attendance of Parents and Others Interested in School Work—Distribution of Prizes—Musical.

The annual High School opening exercises were held last night in the Selkirk Hall, when a large number of parents and others interested in school work were present. Extra seating accommodation was found necessary, as, in spite of the inclemency of the weather, the people turned out in good form. A McRae took the chair and opened the proceedings by a few appropriate remarks, calling attention to the excellence of the local schools and the results attained by the pupils.

His Worship the Mayor, on being called upon to speak, said that the advantages offered in B. C. schools were second to none and he liked to see all children seize the opportunities offered for sound education. Success depends on brain as well as muscle and one helps the other. Rivalry in scholars is a good thing and he noticed that the Revelstoke children were all keenly interested in their studies. He pointed out that Revelstoke had taken a prominent place in education and it was the duty of all to keep it up. (Cheers).

A. E. Miller then presented the high school entrance certificates and congratulated those who had won them. "Perseverance," he said, "had gained these prizes," and he urged that the children should stay with all they undertook. He said that the pupils had done faithful, earnest work and urged that the parents give them all the education they could get.

The following received certificates: Edna Bruce, Cecil Buck, B. Calder, M. Calder, A. Campbell, Frank Granat, Frank Daniels, Rheta Johnson, T. Patrick, C. Urquhart, F. Tapping, C. Procunier, E. Morgan, Ethel McIntyre, R. Lawrence.

He referred to the teachers as having done faithful work, and said that the people should appreciate their efforts.

J. T. Pollock then read a letter from Rev. J. R. Robertson, expressing regret at not being able to be present and saying that he would present Francis Lawson with a medal for the highest in general proficency. Miss Lawson has done exceptionally well and deserves much credit. Mr. Pollock said he was glad to see such loyal interest taken by Revelstoke in her schools. (Cheers).

Thos. Taylor, M.P.P., said that the B. C. educational system was the best of any other in the Dominion. The public schools were especially good but he pointed out that higher education gave extra facilities for all professions. He said that the government had done the best they could for education. He congratulated the teachers on the high standard of the Revelstoke school. Mr. Taylor then presented the Governor General's bronze medal to Francis Granat, who had attained highest marks at the high school entrance examinations. (Cheers.)

C. B. Sissons then presented the gold medal to Hilda Hobbs, for being first in matriculation. He explained the inscriptions on the medal, and its particular appropriateness. On one side was Mt. Beghie with the motto "per ardua ad astera," on the other side was the B. C. coat of arms. Mr Sissons then dwelt on the earnest and faithful work of Miss Hilda Hobbs, and referring also to Wally Clark as the first Revelstoke student to enter a university, and to Geoffrey Hargen as the first student of English literature. He referred also to Jean Hyatt, who passed the junior grade at midsummer. In reviewing the general work done he said that he was well satisfied, and was glad to see the interest taken in the schools and was glad of the people's encouragement.

G. Haggen then read a paper on Shylock the Jew, a highly creditable essay.

The experiences of Wally Clark in the Medical school of the Toronto University, were read by Mr. A. E. Miller, the essay being very interesting. H. N. Coursier in a few well chosen remarks, urged affinity between trustees and the municipal council, and referred to the recent trustees convention when many important subjects were passed upon. He was pleased to see the good work done by teachers and pupils alike, and said that the trustees always aimed to get the best of everything.

F. H. Bourne and D. L. McLaurin also spoke a few words, Mr. McLaurin urging rational development as against the gross and frivolous.

A letter from H. Floyd was read, regretting that he could not attend.

During the evening a musical programme was furnished by Agnes and Ethel Blackberg, Misses Bird, Isobel Crawford, Edna Bruce, (recitation), Myrtle Cathels, Eva Thompson, H. Coursier. Refreshments were served by the young people at the close of the evening.

The funniest thing on record will be Ye Old Folks Concert, when ye aged people will appear dressed in ancient garments of 50 years ago, at ye singing house of Esquire Tapping, on the 5th day of December.

CARDIFF COAL!!

We beg to advise the public that we have secured the agency for the Cardiff Coal Co. of Alberta, who mine the best soft coal yet placed on the market for domestic purposes. This coal burns clean with no dust, or gas; has hardly any smoke or ashes; and retains its heat longer than any other soft coal on the market. We have tested it in almost every possible way and draw your attention to the results obtained by Mr. J. H. Lyons, C.P.R. engineer.

The price of this remarkable coal is $9 PER TON.

November 1st., 1907

REVELSTOKE GEN. AGENCIES:

Gentlemen,—

I received this sample of the Alberta Cardiff Coal and found it to be most satisfactory. I tried it in my cooking range and it burned with very little smoke and retained the heat for a long time. After leaving but a small amount of fire in the grate all night I was surprised to find a fair fire the next morning. I am of the opinion this coal would give good satisfaction in a self feeding heater as it burns with practically no smoke or ash.

Yours truly,
(Sgd) J. H. LYONS.

SAVE HUMAN LIFE

One of the foremost movements now attracting almost the undivided attention of the Province of British Columbia and in fact Canada as a whole is that of the prevention of the spread of tuberculosis or consumption. There is no more deadly or inviduous enemy than this white death, and thousands have perished from its relentless grip, almost without any definite steps being taken to cope with the disease. Hereditary, though consumption may be, it is nevertheless spread by other causes, and it should be the aim of B. C. to take active steps to prevent those who are suffering from consumption or other pulmonary diseases, from having close intercourse with the outside world. Every cough, every atom of sputum that is exuded from a consumptive scatters its death-dealing microbes far and wide, and people thus afflicted and who thoughtlessly and carelessly scatter sputum around in public places, endanger the health and possibly lives of hundreds of persons in that community. The very touch of the clothes of a tuberculousis person may be fatal and we should look to it that such persons should be put away to a place of safety where contact with the world is impossible. Every care should be exercised in all public places and a rigid war be carried on against expectoration which, besides being a disgusting habit, may lead to fatal results. Thus, then, the vigorous campaign against the spread of the disease should be carried on. While we are inviting and attracting settlers to our country we are doing little to destroy one of the chief forms of peril that is ever present among us. To effectually cope with the disease absolute isolation is necessary and to do this both the co-operation of the people and their liberal giving must be asked. It is satisfactory to see that B. C. has risen to the occasion and has generously come forward to aid in this great work. Dr. Fagan, provincial health officer, has already patients in the Kamloops sanitarium, but what is needed most is the complete co-operation of all the smaller cities and towns of the province and each local society should put its Anti-Tuberculosis Society is one of the many formed throughout the province, and it is to be hoped that all citizens will respond to any call for help that may come. Funds are needed and money spent in the cause of this work will be rightly spent and the lives of many of our fellow countrymen saved.

PUBLIC SERVICE.

It is but a comparatively short while now until we will be once more in the throes of civic elections, and all those who are contemplating offering themselves as representives of the different sections of the community, in the legislative council of the city, should weigh carefully the advantages or otherwise that are to be accrued from the tenure of a civic office. A public spirited man must exercise self denial when he takes time from his private business or concern to devote himself to public affairs. Most men spend the day in offices or at other places of business. Amidst the strain and worry that a business life involves the evening is the only time they have for rest and social enjoyment. As things are now conducted a school trustee, an alderman, a mayor or even a member of any local board of directors, board of trade or any other public body, must, if he does his duty, sacrifice many of his evenings and devote much of his time to public service. For this he gets little or no compensation in money and is more often the subject of considerable criticism, sometimes unjust and always annoying from those who will not bestir themselves to devote even an hour of their time to public matters, but who sit back and heap all manner of abuse on the heads of those who come forward to help in the carrying on of civic business. And yet these offices are very important and if they are not filled by men of ability and public spirit will be occupied by those who seek them from vanity or self interest. The city should be governed and the schools managed by her very best men and we say this without in anyway decrying against those who are now occupying those positions; in fact we are glad to see that much has been done in the past twelve months and even if they have been criticized they have probably done their best for the interests of the city and have given their time and work to the upbuilding of Revelstoke. To err is human, and out of the greatest mistakes have sprung some of the most important and momentous conditions of things, which have turned out a benefit to the nation.

COMMENT ON WESTERN BUSINESS.

It appears that there was considerable unrest among some eastern business men regarding the situation in Central and Western Canada previous to this month. They could hardly be blamed when such "wild" rumors were being circulated regarding crop shortage, crop ruin, crop everything except good. Now, however, the clouds are fast scattering, and the threshing operations in one of the finest Octobers ever seen reveal the fact that this part of Canada has a good average crop, worth considerably more money than in any previous year. Commenting on matters here, Mr. Boyle, western representative of The Toronto Globe, writes recently to his paper as follows: "It is safe to say that the mercantile element, a most important factor in the business life of the west, has been attending strictly to its knitting during the past six months, and has been able to withstand the threatened stringency. The result is that a general effort is being made to meet obligations as these fall due. On the whole there appears to be a feeling of satisfaction, and it is generally supposed that there are more pessimists in Winnipeg than there are proportionately in other trade centres throughout the west."

As The Commercial has already said, land speculation has been curtailed by the money stringency of the past season, and that will leave more funds in the farmers' hands to circulate in the general business of the country. The payment of old debts and the volume of cash business this coming winter should be on even a larger scale than in the season of 1906-07. Last year, although the crops were the largest in the history of the country, it cannot be denied that altogether too much of the returns went into real estate and other speculations.—Commercial.

"There's a world in which we dwell,
And yet a world invisible!
And do we think that naught can be,
Save only what with eyes we see,
Tell us that this very hour,
Had but our sight a spirit's power,
We would be looking eye to eye,
At a terrific company."

Hallowe'en, that festival mysterious and uncanny has once more come round and all yesterday the portent of the moment was brooding over the city, as if portending some visit from the denizens of the nether world. As the shades of night settled down over the city the spirits (mostly youthful and far from being intangible) issued from every corner and met in rendezvous, bearing the emblems so dear to Hallowe'en. For hours the spirits played their pranks, quietly yet skilfully doing their work, visiting the homes of mortals, who all unsuspecting of their nocturnal visitors regaled themselves on Thanksgiving fare, the spirits meanwhile doing their best to turn all the moveable property on the premises upside down. Salvos of Chinese crackers were at intervals let loose, while with occasional unearthly cries the spirits, when disturbed by wrathful mortals or guardians of the law, hurried and scurried out of sight to lurk in the gloom and shadow, until the puny mortal had returned to his festive board.

Revelstoke has Quiet Holiday. McAuliffe Co. Play Twice.

Thanksgiving Day has once again come round and the festival in its ever recurring cycles once more reminds us that we are to return thanks for mercies past received and to acknowledge that the Almighty has showered the blessings of prosperity on the people. Revelstoke has much to be thankful for. Are we not a prosperous people? Are we not blessed with health and a certain amount of the good things which make the world bright and desirable to live in? Our people are happy and content, and the march of progress is ever forward.

Thanksgiving Day dawned cloudy and chill, with heavy fog banks hovering low over the mountains, while masses of clouds at intervals let go their showers upon the ground. As the fog lifted fresh snow was seen lying on the hills a reminder that winter is near at hand. The good people of Revelstoke spent part of the morning in devotion in the returning of thanks for the many blessings that they have received during the last 12 months. During the afternoon the sun shone for quite a little while drawing out the people from within doors. The special attraction in the afternoon was the performance of Niobe, a laughable comedy, played by the McAuliffe Stock Co. The Opera House was well filled, and the younger members of the audience were kept in shrieks of laughter at the antics and funny situations of the comedian Jere McAuliffe. Al W. Wilson, who is a ventriloquist of exceptional ability, pleased the youngsters mightily with his talking figures, little Willie Green being already extremely popular with both sexes young and old. Fred Martell gave two excellent illustrated songs which were particularly appropriate for the occasion. Jere McAuliffe, as usual, received a hearty ovation in his comic parodies "for every little bit added to what he got, made just a little bit more." Niobe is a well-known comedy and no better has been seen in Revelstoke before. Augusta Perry the charming leading lady was particularly dainty as Niobe the living statue, while the other members of the company worked well together in the many amusing situations throughout the piece, keeping a ripple of mirth running all over the entire audience.

In the evening a large and jovial crowd, many of whom had only just left the festive board at Selkirk Hall, where the ladies of Knox Church had a bumper spread, filled the Opera House where "Dens and Palaces" was billed. This exceptionally powerful melodrama was one of the best in the repertoire of the company and kept the audience in rapt attention from beginning to end. The piece shows the two sides of New York life very vividly and brought out the excellent histrionic ability of the artists. The remainder of the night passed without any particular disturbance, except a few of the youth of the city, who imbued with the idea that Hallowe'en allows them to play more or less harmful pranks, visited many of the residences, doing more or less damage and otherwise enjoying themselves in their own way.

TURKEY SUPPER

Ladies of Knox Church Prepare Large Feast.

Thanksgiving Day on Thursday ought to be quite enough to make the average man and woman sit up and begin to remember all the things they have to be thankful for. Of course we all know that there are plenty of women and men who will at once declare that they are perfectly sure they have nothing to be thankful for.

Fortunately, the number of such are few. The average Revelstoke man and woman has been able to put in a Thanksgiving Day just as well as any others in Canada. And because they will be busy in reckoning the store of happiness which the year has brought them, does not necessarily mean that the year has brought them nothing but unalloyed joy. Still for that day at least they were content to forget the shadows.

Talking about Thanksgiving, no better demonstration of the good things which come to us in life, could have been seen than at the Turkey Supper in the Selkirk Hall on Thursday night, given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of Knox church. Owing to the fact of the Opera House being engaged, the Selkirk Hall was called into requisition, although the capacity of the building was not nearly adequate for the large crowds that attended the supper. The hall had been tastefully decorated. Long tables groaning under the weight of good things were set up and down the hall, while in prominent vantage points, candy booths, fancy work tables and flower stalls were all doing a roaring trade. The fish pond was but short lived and a steady stream of anglers intervals was provided by Miss Francis Lawson, Miss Creighton, Miss McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence, Miss Grant, Mr. Freeman and Mr. Veith.

As regards the supper itself, the ladies of the Knox church surpassed themselves in their efforts. Turkey, luscious and tender, ham, tongue, beef, dainty salads of all kinds, vegetables and sauces, with jellies, pies, dough nuts, rich home made bread, cakes and tarts, were arranged in tempting display. In spite of the large crowds all arrangements went off smoothly, the waiting and serving being all that could be desired. A steady stream of supperites continued from 5.30 till 8.30 and one and all spoke in loud terms of praise for the excellence of the repast, and the manner of serving. The ladies have always been famed for their culinary art and no better example could have been seen than at the Turkey Supper Thursday night.

This has now become an annual affair and Thanksgiving Day would be nothing without the turkey supper. As regards the turkey itself, there was nothing wanting. and as the poet says

To some the white, to some the dark
Carves Fate's mysterious way;s
For some it quite forgets to carve
E'en on Thanksgiving Day.

Here's hearty hopes you may not be
Of those forgotten quite;
But may your plate return well filled
With dark meat and with white.

Much credit is due to those who took part in the supper (we refer particulaaly to the promoters, although credit is due to the partakers for such hearty appetites) and October 31st. will long be remembered as a successful Thanksgiving Day.

REVELSTOKE EARLY HISTORY

Last Monday (June 28, 1904) the Columbia River covered the highest water mark at the Revelstoke bridge and went 5 inches beyond. This caused the flooding of several acres of land under cultivation, the farm of Mr. F. Fraser on the west side being submerged for 5 acres. The water is yellow with sand brought down from the mountains. At Mr. Fraser's house the water came into the kitchen; Mr. Fraser then employed jackscrews and raised the entire house 3 feet. The Lardeau and Revelstoke wharves were under water and the Fish Creek bridge washed away. The new Illecillewaet bridge was also knocked over. Fears were entertained for the safety of the C.P.R. bridge but no undermining process was found to be going on and the bridge was pronounced out of danger.

The Rev. C. A. Procunier, who is a very unassuming gentleman, received about two months ago the degree of Ph. B. from one of the foremost universities in Illinois.

Messrs. R. Howson, R. Tapping, W. M. Brown, J. W. Haskins, J. M. Kellie of Revelstoke, D. A. McDougald of Nakusp, and Angus McKay of Lardeau, all of whom are political candidates, will address a meeting at Nakusp May 24, (1894).

The pig nuisance at the station resulted in the death of Mr. Lindmark's tamed bear on Tuesday (Sept.25, 1894) The bear, which was about 18 months old and very playful, was kept chained in the rear of Messrs. Hume and Lindmark's premises, and had never been known to injure any animal before. But on Tuesday two or three small pigs came within his enclosure and he naturally resented it. He caught one of them and hugged it to death and then went for another. He was in the act of serving it in a similar manner when some men, attracted by the squealing of the porker, rushed in and clubbed the bear to death. Who owned the pigs we have not been able to ascertain.

The present drouth is the longest we have had for years, and the tremendous heat makes it all the harder to bear. It has been over 100 in the shade during the week. Everything is covered with dust. With the Columbia rushing by the town and numerous mountain streams pouring down from the heights all around us, it is too bad that clothes and merchandise should be spoiled and fruit, flowers and vegetables literally snuffed out of existence by the all pervading dust. The next improvement we must endeavor to get is a water system. It ought not to be such a very expensive undertaking, I should think $2,000 ought to give us a main along Front Street, with half a dozen hydrants.—July 21, 1894.

Officer Graham received a dispatch from the Lardeau telegraph office on Wednesday (Nov. 28, 1894) that Alex. Sims, better known as "Scotty" Sims, had been drowned, and asked that grappling hooks be sent down to drag the river for the body.

Cardiff Coal—stays in all night.

Revelstoke Cigars—Union Made—Our Special, The Union, and Marca Vuelta are ahead of all others.
