DESERTING PARNELL

Another of the Irish Leader's Most Influential Supporters

ABOUT TO FORSAKE HIS BANNER

The Chinese of Woo Hoo Become Suddenly Murderous.

AN IRONCLAD ORDERED OUT

The Jack the Ripper Inquest in New York Excites Public Interest.

DUBLIN, May 13.—The National Press today asserts that within a few days one of the most influential supporters of Mr. Parnell will renounce his allegiance to the political fortunes of that gentleman. The paper, however, refuses to disclose the name of the person referred to, satisfying itself with saying that he is one of whose loyalty to Mr. Parnell at present believed to be unquestionable.

INFLUENZA ALL THERE.

Seventy members of the House of Commons are now suffering from influenza, among the latest to be attacked being Mr. T. P. O'Connor. The death rate at Chesterfield near Derby, has increased forty-one per thousand above the normal, as a direct result of the prevalence of influenza.

A FINANCIAL DIFFICULTY.

The Bank of England yesterday practically charged five per cent to all comers, and today threatened to charge 5½ should the pressure continue, the object being, if possible, to avoid the raising of the official rate. Gold is certain to come from the continent, because exchanges are moving so strongly in favor of London.

Chinese on Their Muscle.

SHANGHAI, May 13.—At Woo Hoo an anti-foreign riot has occurred. The Catholic mission and a number of European dwelling houses have been attacked and burned by the natives. The Europeans have fled to hulks anchored in the river. The British war ship Inconstant has been ordered to proceed forthwith to Woo Hoo to protect the lives and property of the Europeans resident there.

The Big Lottery.

NEW ORLEANS, May 13.—Following is the result of todays drawing in the Louisiana State Lottery: No. 37,491, $300,000; 46,215, $100,000; 41,859, [illegible] 000; 49,538, $25,000; 56,362, 88,519, each $10,000; 1,741, 24,727, 23,422, 30,788, 32,624, each $5,000; 3,282, 10,079, 13,856, 20,214, 33,581, 29,985, 30,048, 31,231, 36,770, 48,308, 48,798, 4,802, 21,457, 51,807, 67,689, 74,344, 78,549, 81,523, 82,068, 85,522, 86,386, 88,257, 92,805, 94,055, and 97,105, each $1,000.

Started Business.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Coroner Schultz today began the inquest on the body of Carrie C. Brown or "Nakespeare," the last victim of Jack the Ripper. The coroner's office was crowded, and the array of Water street habitues something startling. Eight females held as witnesses were all present. Amer Ben Ali, or "Frenchy No. 1" was also there under a strong guard. On the jury were ex-city-commissioner Brennan, L. J. Meekeen, maltster; Harry Minor, of theatrical fame; George Putney and George Brockway, hotel keepers; Richard M. Walters, a piano manufacturer; Jacob Rupert, jr., brewer; and F. Slaughter, clothier. The first witness was Mary Conacers, the house keeper of the East River Hotel. Her testimony in regard to the occurrences of this night did not differ from that already given. Police Captain Richard O'Connor of Oak street station testified that he found drops of blood in the hallway leading from room 31, where the woman was murdered, to room 33, where Frenchy No. 1 slept that night, also blood on panels of the door of room 33, also near the handle of the door. On the inside of door, there were small spots of blood. He also referred to other blood spots found on the bed, and in room 33. He then identified the shirt that Frenchy No. 1 had on when arrested. The blood marks on the shirt having been carefully cut out by the district attorney, Crowley then testified regarding the condition of rooms 31 and 33, and the cuts on the body of the woman, the finding of the knife in room 31, and other points in the case.

THE DEADLY GRIPPE.

There were 146 deaths for the 24 hours ending noon today. Of these, six were from grippe complications.

A GOOD HORSE WINS.

The Louisville Derby was won today by Kingmas, Balgowan second, and High Tariff third.

WILFUL MURDER.

Carlyle W. Harris, a young medical student who adulterated morphine to Helen Nelson Potts, from effects of which she died on February 10th, was today indicted for murder in the first degree by the grand jury.

The McMahon Show.

The above circus will exhibit here on Friday and Saturday, May 22-23, and is conceded east, west, north and south, as well as beyond the confines of the United States (as its travels extend to the most remote portions of civilization) the very best circus organization of any age. The McMahon show is heard of from France, England, Russia, Spain, Mexico, Central and South America and Australia. An exchange says of their show: McMahon's circus was greeted by two large and enthusiastic audiences yesterday, the tents last evening being packed. Judging from the frequent outbursts of applause, the multitudes were more than pleased. McMahon bears the reputation of being an extraordinary rider, and he well sustained his laurels last night. The cowboy equestrian is entirely new in Spokane and well deserved the cheers it called forth. The acrobats are immense. The leaping, tumbling and trapeze, are all of superior excellence, while the trained mules display animal sagacity hitherto deemed impossible. In fact, the whole show, from first to last, is of unusual excellence. The horses are splendid specimens and nobly did their work.

An Interesting Ceremony.

Last night the quarterly election of officers of Dominion Lodge No. 4, Independent Order of Good Templars, took place in Temperance Hall on Columbia street. After the usual preliminary business had been finished the officers for the ensuing quarter were in due form and manner installed in their various offices as follows: C. T., L. B. Lusby; V. T., Sister F. Nobles; Sec., Sister F. Darrah; Assist. Sec., Bro. E. A. Parker; F. Sec. Bro. W. W. Forrester; Treas., Sister B. Kelly; Marshal, Bro. E. Welch; Dep. Marshal, Sister E. Scott; Chaplain, Bro. O. Crandell; Guard, Sis. W. Ackerman; Sentinel, Bro. C. Ross; P. C. T., W. Emerson; L. D., G. Emerson. The reported membership for the quarter ending yesterday was 121. It was decided to hold an open lodge meeting next Wednesday evening, at which all will be welcome, and music and refreshments will be provided. The grand secretary and grand superintendent recently visited the principal points in the District, including Vancouver, and have organized a large number of new subordinate lodges, and report the prospects of the order in the district to be most flattering.

MISSION CITY ITEMS.

Business Changes—Better Postoffice Facilities Required—Building Operations Brisk.

MISSION CITY, May 13.—Mr. Plumridge, of the Mission City Bakery, has completed his new store on Railway street. Mr. A. York has disposed of his butchering business to Mr. A. Tretheway who will carry on the business at the old stand on Horne avenue. Mr. York will devote his entire time to the fish and game business.

Mr. Rodgers, our new tinsmith, is building a large store near the corner of Hoene avenue and Harbor street.

Mrs. Jenkins of Victoria delivered a lecture under the auspices of the R. T. of Temperance in the opera house here last Wednesday. In spite of counter attractions a large audience assembled to listen to the fair lecturer's views and arguments on this much hackneyed theme.

The trout fishing is at its height, and this is a veritable paradise for lovers of the rod. A well known hardware merchant in this city brought in a catch of "speckled beauties" a few days ago from the stream at the head of Burton prairie.

Building has been taking quite a boom here during the past two weeks, and the song of the saw and the hammer delight the ears of the inhabitants of this usually calm and peaceful valley.

A change is much needed in our postoffice facilities and conveniences here. The postoffice is located in a store about a mile from the business part of the city making it very inconvenient for business men and others who have business to transact at the postoffice. The amount of postal business done here and the population of Mission City ought to warrant the establishment of a money order department in our office. Matsqui postoffice and Mission City do not work well together. Mission City wants a postoffice of her own, and one in which registered letters will receive the attention due them.

Mr. Wm. Downie, assistant superintendent of the C. P. R., was in town last week attending the opening of a Masonic Lodge here.

Quite a number of men are being employed by the Townsite Syndicate on city work, clearing and grading streets, etc.

Work on the laying of the new water mains on Horne avenue and Broadway commenced yesterday.

MAN AROUND TOWN.

Rowing Club Meeting.

A meeting of the Rowing Club will be held in the office of Mr. H. F. Clinton on Friday evening next. Business of importance, concerning the selection of crews and practices will come up. Some weighty questions affecting every member of the club will also be discussed, and it is particularly requested that all who possibly can will be present.

Two Writs Against the City.

A writ of execution was yesterday morning placed in the hands of the Sheriff directed against the city in the case of Brighouse vs. The Corporation, wherein judgment was recovered against the city for a sum exceeding $900.

A writ was issued yesterday at the suit of Jas. Punch vs. The City for $50,000 damages for changing the ferry landing from Brownsville Mr. Punch sues as well for an injunction to restrain the city from operating the present ferry either directly or by any corporation or individual in trust for the city, and claims disclosure as to the dealings of the city in regard to the ferry and any alleged sale thereof.

The Coming Language.

The other day an Irish gentleman from Nicomen Slough arrived in the city with his eldest son, a promising young half breed some ten years old. The Milesian land owner called upon one of the city school teachers a particular friend of his, and made known the purpose of his visit to the city. He said:

"Ye see Mr. ——, it's this way, I want yez to undertake the schoolin' o' this young divil, an' educate him as foine as ye can. An' plase sorr, tache him the gre't Chaynook langwidge, for Oi tell yez Oi believe it's going for to be the ladin' langwidge av the wurrld. Sorra a sowl at Nicomen but shpakes it as good as Oi shpake the English: so Mr. ——, put the Chaynook till him shtrong, div ye mond; Oi want moi son to have a rale good classicule education.

Y. M. C. A. Matters.

Last night an important meeting of the board of directors and the chairmen of the various committees took place in the members' parlor of the Y. M. C. A. building. Various questions of vital importance were brought before the meeting, and certain matters closely affecting the constitution of the association were thoroughly discussed, and decided action taken thereupon. The chairmen of the various committees made their official reports, and much business in connection with the interior management of the association was transacted. During an interval of 30 minutes the meeting adjourned for a tasty and attractive supper, provided in the reception room by the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary, and was thoroughly appreciated by those who partook of it. After a little social converse, the meeting finally adjourned at a late hour.

A Desirable Class of Settlers.

On Tuesday last Mr. M. Bailey, in company with Mr. T. Tippett, Mr. A. C. Wilson's brother-in-law, arrived from Liverpool, England, and will reside in Westminster permanently. Mr. Bailey is a market gardener of extensive experience, and will possibly enter into business here. They had a twenty days' journey altogether from Liverpool, and the journey from Quebec to Westminster made exactly six days of railway travel. The party came on the strength of the statements contained in the pamphlet, issued by the Provincial government early during the present year, copies of which were sent them, and are more than satisfied with what they have so far seen of the country. Several more people from the same district will follow these gentlemen to Westminster shortly, as the resources of British Columbia, and Westminster District particularly, through the pamphlets mentioned, are now beginning to awaken widespread interest in the farming districts of England.

CITIZENS' MEETING

A Large Assemblage of Ratepayers Receive Last Night the Report

OF THE CITIZENS' COMMITTEE

Which Provokes a Considerable Amount of Lively Discussion.

ALD. SCOULLAR'S OBJECTIONS

Three Trustees and a Solicitation Committee Appointed After the Meeting.

The city hall was well filled last night about 8:30, with the ratepayers and others who had assembled to listen to and receive the report of the committee on the electric light and ferry sale agreement. At the hour mentioned Mayor Brown ascended the rostrum and announced the purpose of the meeting. He said there were not as many present as there had been at the previous meeting, but this was probably owing to the fact that the citizens generally considered that the matter was perfectly safe now in the hands of those appointed to take charge of it. He did not wish to act as chairman, as he had much to say, and he therefore proposed Ald. Curtis for that honor. Mr. Curtis thereupon took the chair, and said he hoped he would fill it with more credit than he did last time. (Laughter and applause.) He thought he could not do better than apologise. He was only human, sometimes intensely human, and when he got a savage blow he sometimes felt like retaliating. He, however, apologised for the insult he had offered the meeting on the last occasion. (Applause.) He then declared the meeting open and after the appointment of Ald. Walker as secretary, called upon Mayor Brown to speak.

The Mayor began by sketching the objects for which the citizens' committee had been formed, the duties it was expected to perform, and what it had done. There had been a number of private committee meetings, and some people had taken umbrage at that way of conducting business, but he pointed out that it was the wisest plan where so many intricate details were to be discussed. The committee's work consisted in reducing this mass of detail to proper shape and turn over the whole matter, then report the conclusion they had arrived at. The committee acted in a precisely similar way to the committee in the legislative assembly, and he thought they had preserved the proper course. In the construction of the original committee many names had been left out unavoidably, but the committee had received power to add to its numbers. It was impossible to appoint all the ratepayers on the committee and those whose names did not appear understood the position perfectly. The committee came to the conclusion that the proper course of action was to form a company of citizens of Westminster who should subscribe a certain amount of capital amply sufficient to purchase the electric light plant and steam ferry and conduct them in the best possible way, like public spirited citizens. The sale was to be quite bona fide, and the plant and ferry were to pass completely out of the hands of the city into the hands of the company. It was of course also necessary to arrange for the ultimate repurchase of them by the city. These citizens who had agreed to form the company did not wish to make anything for themselves out of the arrangement. They were animated by the most patriotic sentiments and would conduct the two businesses in the best interests of the city; they would operate them to their fullest advantage and return them to the city in as good order as they had received them, or possibly better. After a great deal of careful deliberation and legal consultation and advice in the matter the committee had drawn up a memorandum of agreement with the citizens. This document was submitted to the City Council on Monday night last at the regular meeting, and a resolution was passed by that body approving of the memorandum of agreement as the basis of the agreement between the city and the company. After a certain amount of stock had been taken in the company it was decided that no more should be taken until it should be seen if it was actually necessary. Those who desired to take stock, however, would probably have an opportunity of doing so. The mayor here proposed that for the better despatch of the business of the meeting the memorandum of agreement should be read and dealt with by the meeting as they saw fit, and if approved that the public meeting adjourn and that the stockholders of the company remain to take action and come to some definite understanding. Mayor Brown then read the memorandum of agreement which is briefly as follows:

Memorandum of agreement between the city and C. G. Major, Alex. Hamilton, E. A. Jones, trustees for the Citizens' Electric Light and Steam Ferry Company. For the sale of the electric light plant, and the steam boat, excepting the steam fire pump now affixed to engine of ferry steamer. Purchase to be actual of said plant. The Company to pay one-half purchase price, (viz., cost) to city within one year from the date hereof, and the balance within two years from said date, at 7 per cent interest. The city to guarantee a subsidy of $450 per month for the electric lighting of streets and city buildings, and $150 per month for keeping the steam pump on ferry in running order. The said subsidy to be payable monthly until the option of repurchase has been exercised. To give the said Company full power to erect poles, hang wires, etc., and use the streets for the purposes of their business. Not to give any other electric lighting company similar powers, or license any other ferry company charter for 15 years. The city to have the right to convey the Grant ferry charter to the Surrey. To keep streets and municipal buildings as well lighted and with same number of lamps as now used. Additional street lamps to cost 40 cents per lamp per night, and other lights same price as charged private consumers.

To keep ferry boat in good running order, both for ferry and fire boat purposes. To continue the same number of trips and charges as at present, and to increase number of trips and to lessen charges as soon as practicable.

To resell to the city at present price paid for the same, plus price of additional material bought.

The Company to maintain fire insurance on electric plant of $15,000, and on ferry $10,000.

The city to have the right to view the state of said property at any time.

Continuing, the mayor said this was a sketch of the agreement. It had been greatly changed in its passage through many committee meetings. The scope of the agreement is that the works mentioned therein shall be sold to a company operated by the citizens, and that the citizens and the company shall be protected as far as possible from loss. It would probably be necessary to put up 10 per cent of the subscribed capital, which would be about $15,000. It was proposed to do all this from purely patriotic motives, not from those of selfish interest. Nobody expects that this state of affairs will continue more than a year. At the next sitting of the legislative assembly he did not doubt that powers would be granted New Westminster to manage these works herself. He believed the city had the power now, but the great delay and considerable expense of setting to work to prove it would not be wise just now. The way in which things had been shaped was the best way, he thought. Virtually a committee of the citizens had assumed the responsibility and they should be protected. And they would be protected; nobody wanted to see them lose by it. If it were a number of men entering into an ordinary business speculation for their own benefit and aggrandisement they would be expected to take chances, but when a number of gentlemen came forward patriotically and voluntarily offer to extricate the city out of a bad hole into which it had been put, it was only right that they should be protected from loss. He thought it quite certain that if any loophole could be discerned in the company's management of the works an attack will be made on the company, and he thought in that case the citizens would step forward and assist the company. He would like to see two representative gentlemen in each ward of the city undertake the task of getting the citizens to subscribe to a guarantee that they would be responsible should anything of the kind happen to the company. This would be known as the Legal Defence Fund. Each citizen could be assessed pro rata on the value of his property, and the assessment on each would be a mere trifle. He felt sure that the citizens would approve of this scheme. He himself would, and he knew the citizens did not want the company to be left open to loss. If any such attempt were made the citizens should come forward and subscribe readily to the guarantee fund. It was a small thing among so many. It seemed to him that this whole matter resolved itself into a question of whether the citizens of New Westminster had any right to manage their own business as they saw fit, or be dictated to by a comparatively small body of individuals. (Applause.) He did not say anything inflammatory, although he well might. So far nothing in the matter had been done from which the city could not be readily extricated. The speaker here instanced the cases of a number of old country cities which had tried to preserve their corporate rights and succeeded so well that the citizens had not to pay a cent of taxes. This of course could not be expected in a young city like Westminster, which had just been chopped out of the woods. He hoped that they would be able to light the streets and carry the debenture debt without one cent of taxation. Westminster should very soon be at the head of the list of provincial cities, and by everybody assisting in the matter now under consideration it would help to send her that way. [Applause.]

Mr. John E. Lord here rose and asked if it would not be advisable to have the agreement read over again slowly and plainly, clause by clause and in that way put to the meeting for their approval.

The chairman thought this would be a good move.

Mr. Gowan moved in amendment that the agreement be voted on as a whole. Mr. J. S. Clute seconded this.

Mayor Brown said the committee had done all the clause by clause work and he thought the agreement was pretty well understood by the meeting. The proper way to deal with it was to vote on the general policy of the agreement.

On motion the agreement was received and considered as a whole. The secretary then read the agreement, after which Mr. Gowan addressed the meeting. He said that there had been one point overlooked in this affair and that was the legality of it. He did not know what course the Council were going to take in the matter, but that which they had taken was irregular. He thought there was a strong similarity between this case and the Brighouse one. Mr. Justice Crease had said that bylaws of such importance as this must be submitted to the people. This bylaw had not been so submitted, therefore it was illegal. He failed to see for what purpose a committee was wanted. If the Council had brought forward the measure and submitted it to the people there would have been no necessity for all this entanglement. He did not see why it was necessary to go round and canvass the citizens all the time. The correct thing to have done would have been to give them a chance to vote on it at first. Then would have been the time to go ahead, after they had sanctioned it. If the measure had been drawn up on a legal basis there should be no need for calling upon the people to defend it. He did not know exactly what the ferry and electric light were costing the city to run, but he knew that it was too much, and he thought that electric lighting ought to be done as cheaply here as in Toronto. Mr. Gowan also took exception to the city paying a bonus. He did not think the citizens could be expected to go and do that work for nothing and there was not much patriotism about it if they have to be paid.

Mayor Brown said there was a style of criticism that was rather too prevalent—it was that which presupposes that the members of the committee sat down five minutes before the meeting took place and threw something together and then came in to report. If Mr. Gowan had listened attentively to what had been said he would have heard him (the speaker) say that there had been many meetings of the committee and that the best legal advice had been obtained and the case fully studied in all its bearings. He considered that a great amount of work had been done and done well, and every care had been taken to guard the interests of the citizens. In regard to the legality question, he did not propose to dispute Mr. Gowan's legal knowledge at all, only some of Westminster's best lawyers had agreed that what had been done was perfectly legal. It was the intention of the council to put the bylaw concerning this sale before the people. The council had power to sell the works for $5 if they pleased. As he had stated before, the company is purely patriotic. Of course common sense would show that the company would have to pay the manager and the crews who operated the works, but the members of the company cannot make a cent of profit out of the undertaking and they don't mean to. The men who have put out their money thus deserve the thanks of the city. An attempt was being made to pick the scheme to pieces; this was injudicious; if they objected to the policy it would be all right. The sale, however, is not made yet; the bylaw will be passed and submitted to the people. The object of the meeting was to see if they had approved of it. Nothing is to be done till they say it shall be done. Regarding the citizens' defense fund, the danger to the company lay in the fact that there were always men about seeking a chance to make a little money by securing valuable franchises. It was therefore necessary to protect the company from these people. If Mr. Justice Crease's law is right, as given in the de-

The Ledger.

THE AGREEMENT.

The report which will be found in another column of the proceedings at last last night's meeting will give LEDGER readers a thoroughly accurate account of what took place. The important feature in the memorandum of agreement with the proposed company under which the latter will undertake to operate the electric light and ferry services. This company has been described by the Mayor as a "patriotic" on. We make no question whatever that those who form that company are animated by patriotic impulses. They are, however, friends of a party, and all parties, however they may disagree on matters of public policy, are "patriotic" in their motives.

The agreement submitted is the result of several weeks of cogitation on the part of a committee, from the meetings of which the press in its representative form has been excluded, and it is not possible in an hour or two to thoroughly digest the nature of an agreement of such importance and intricacy. There is one prominent feature, however, that thrusts itself on the attention of the ordinary reader, and that is, that the proposed company is to be given a fifteen years' franchise, provided the Legislature is not brought to time meanwhile. We confess that there is in the agreement a great deal that holds forth very little hope that the company's operations (the financial results of which, whether favorable or otherwise, must be shouldered by the city) will be economically carried on. In fact, the proposed company appears to be given very wide scope for thriftless management. In the matter of the electric lighting of the streets, for instance, the company is guaranteed $850 per month for the present service of 50 lamps, and 40 cents per night per lamp for each additional lamp that may be required. This sum amounts to at least $150 more than the service in question costs the city at present, and if $850 per month should be used by the Company in providing 50 lamps it would be a considerably larger sum than would be required by any company operating on the continent today. If we are not mistaken, and we do not think we are, the Electric Tramway Company, well on to a year ago, offered the city lamps at 45 cents each per night. The lights are required only 310 nights in the year, making the charge of the Tramway Company amount to $6,510 per annum. Now, the allowance to the proposed company, as per the agreement considered last night, amounts to $850 per month, or $10,200 per annum, a difference of $3,690 per annum against the city as compared with the offer of the Tramway Company. Of course, the proposal, in substance, is that if the proposed company don't require $850 per month to supply 50 lights, that the difference at some time will be returned to the city. If we could bring ourselves to hope that a "patriotic" company would be carried on as economically as a private company, there would be some prospect that a portion of the $850 might be returned, and thus lessen the immense cost to the city. But we fear that men doing business on the lines of "patriotism" will find uses for all the money that is given them.

We are not prepared to dissect this morning all the phases of an intricate agreement which was discovered at so late an hour last night, but the basis of agreement is certainly not such as THE LEDGER had in its mind when it made the suggestion on which the committee have acted in drawing up the agreement. We would have preferred to see an absolute sale made to a number of citizens who could be trusted to do what was right in the meantime and when the time come to return the property to the city, could be depended on to do so without all the involvements (some of which may be fatal) included in the agreement, the particulars of which were made known last night.

LIBERAL ORGANIZATION.

We learn that there is a movement on foot for the formation of a Liberal Association in this district. An association has been in existence at Victoria for a number of years, and it includes in its membership a large number of the most prominent citizens of the capital. During the last Dominion election in Westminster District, those members of the Liberal party who took the initiative in bringing on a contest wherein the points at issue were those of tariff reform as against protection, were surprised at the hearty approbation with which Liberal sentiments were received by the electorate in general. The voting was really no index of the real feelings of the people with regard to the questions at issue. Hundreds had pledged their votes before the tariff reform candidate was in the field, and besides that, a good deal of personal feeling had been aroused in favor of a candidate who had been elected only the year before, and who had not yet had a chance to take his seat in the House. Moreover, it has been the record in all those provinces in which development is "new," that the Government that happened to be in power has been accorded the great majority of votes. It has not been a matter of "policy," but of "government." And so it was here. But it may be depended upon that at least those six or seven hundred electors of this constituency who recorded their votes for the tariff reform candidate, did so from a strong conviction that reform was necessary in order to secure that full measure of prosperity which might be experienced here. They, at all events, had concluded that "protection" in this province meant "taxation," with no countervailing advantages. The townspeople, as will be discovered by an investigation of the vote polled, were not less pronounced in favor of tariff reform than the farming community; indeed it would almost appear that they were even more hearty in their support of it. Protectionists usually count with a great deal of certainty on carrying urban constituencies, for the reason that in the cities are congregated the protected manufacturers, and their influence is a very weighty factor in an election contest. In this district the farmers so far have not become exporters (except to a limited extent in hay and oats) and consequently many of them have concluded that if barriers on the importation of farm produce can be maintained, they will be able to exact a higher price in the home market. It is an utterly selfish and shortsighted view to take of the matter, and will not hold its sway very long in the farmers' mind.

The prospects of Liberalism in British Columbia could scarcely be more satisfactory. The benefits that tariff reform would confer on the Province in every one of its several important departments of trade, commerce and industry, are apparent to the most casual enquirer, and with the argument of facts so strongly on their side it should not be difficult, with an active organization at work throughout the whole province during the next few years, to carry at least several of the seats at the next Dominion election. We are particularly pleased to hear the matter of organization mooted at the present time, because the voters' lists are to be revised within the coming twelvemonth, and it will be necessary to have the party organization pretty well under way before the revision begins, so that the name of no elector favorable to tariff reform may be left off the lists. If, however, we may be permitted to make a suggestion, the initial steps might be profitably delayed till after the case of the present session of Parliament, when no doubt one or more of the leading members of the party in the east would be willing to take a trip out here and address several mass meetings at the centres of population. Meetings such as these would afford most favorable opportunities to begin the work of organization. We believe that complete success awaits energetic effort in this regard, and we have confidence that that effort will be soon and successfully made.

CONCLUDED FROM FIRST PAGE.

...ing of the Brighouse case and published in the MORNING LEDGER of yesterday, then the city has full power to...ate its electric light plant itself and ...ake a position to snap its fingers at any...dy who says such procedure is illegal. ...ople think it is an easy matter to ...nduct corporation business, but there ...as a considerable difference of opinion ...as that lead among the legal gentlemen. ...ow the speaker, amusingly described ...he experiences of a case dragged from ...ourt to another. No man can tell ...ne days when he is legally right in ...ome legal affairs. If a legal attack is ...ade in the company, he hoped the ...itizens would stand behind the company ...nd see that they were defended. No ...ne would feel the assessment and the ...ax effect would be strong and show ...he ratepayers of Westminster are ...n earnest about this matter. He ...emembered a piece of poetry ...pplicable to some municipal disturbance ...n a town, which applied not unfittingly ...o the present instance "Be men today, ...orsooth, or be forever slaves!" [Laughter, and applause from the Quirites on ...he back benches.] He asked them to ...tand up for their rights and show that ...hey were able to defend them against all ...comers. The ferry was run at present ...n a purely selfish manner, no one ...ny knew who he did not, it was ...generally running itself, on its own responsibility, a kind of automaton so to ...speak. This was far from satisfactory, ...and it was imperative that it be attended ...to without delay. He moved that the ...report of the citizens' committee be ...adopted.

E. Jos. Armstrong—Who are the ...citizens? Let's hear their names. It ...would be refreshing at least. [Laughter.]

The names were then read with the ...assent each one subscribed.

R. C. E. Woods then said that as one ...of the committee who solicited these ...subscriptions he would like to inform ...the meeting that each individual mentioned on that list had been carefully informed that he could not derive one ...cent of profit from the investment.

R. J. C. Armstrong drew attention to ...the disinterested conduct of Mr. C. G. ...Major in this matter.

R. C. G. Major said he did not want ...any stock in the concern than anyone else, what he wanted to do was to ...do the thing along and he would take ...stock in it as it best suited the citizens, but he was prepared to see the ...thing through whichever amount he was ...asked for. [Applause.]

R. J. C. Armstrong seconded Mayor ...Brown's motion for the adoption of the report.

Ald. Scoullar said he would like to ...make a few remarks before the motion ...is put as a ratepayer he thought he ...had a right to a hearing. He did not ...think the city had any legal authority ...for the electric light plant, and to do ...so was in his opinion, most decidedly ...against the interests of the city. As a ...business matter it was not ...generally known that another ...hundred dynamo, more boilers, ...piping and other machinery were ...needed and he had been assured by a ...practical electrician that these supplies ...without at the lowest estimate $20,000 ...would cost. It would be seven months ...before the provincial parliament meets ...and most of those months are ...winter months, when incandescent ...lighting is not wanted except by a few ...business houses. It was the intention to ...go to the House for a charter to ...carry on incandescent lighting in the ...city therefore, why go into needless ...expenditure and annoyances for the ...sake of a few months when it will be ...entirely known whether the city will ...have the power to carry on such high ...lighting. It would only entail endless complaints to divide the public from the ...arc lighting, and it was, in this case ...practically impossible to do it. Street ...lighting at present was costing the city ...$35 per month. This was somewhat ...better than even the gas bills of yore, but ...he was convinced was more greater. ...Let us drop private lighting until the ...provincial legislature definitely settles ...whether we can have it or not? He believed the committee had acted in the interests of the city, but he recommended ...waiting several months when a price ...might be asked for ...the right to supply private lighting. ...He had then reviewed the reasons ...for changing of the ferry landing ...from the landing was at Brownsville, ...Surrey was strong supporters ...of the ferry. The landing had been ...changed in the interest of certain ...speculators owning land across the river, ...it was placed at South Westminster, ...in the convenience of the public, ...and those land owners. When ...Mr. Hoy went down to the city ...he had to tell him that he meant to ...oppose the changing of the landing. Mr. ...Hoy said that he had Mr. Punch's ...word for it, that the landing might be ...changed with the approval of the ...people of Surrey. Mr. Scoullar said ...he would call upon Mr. Hoy to ...substantiate his statement if necessary. ...Mr. Hoy, however, would find ...himself wanting when they come to put their ...hands in their pockets to foot the bills. ...Mr. Ewen, whose lands were enormously benefited by the change in the ...ferry back to the city what the ...people asked for that landing. The ...people might laugh, but that would be ...merely exacting justice. He proposed ...that the landing be made at Brownsville, ...and the ferry make half hourly ...trips to Hastings.

A voice—Better call at Maple Ridge ...[Laughter.]

Ald. Scoullar—Yes, better for the city; ...the farmers of Maple Ridge we want ...to come here, and of Langley and Surrey. They have been kept ...long enough, it is time Westminster ...was opening wide her doors to them. ...[Laughter.] Three-fourths of the people of Langley favor the Brownsville ...landing, as the Reeve of that great ...municipality had told him. The lower ...landing was convenient only to the Mud ...Island people. "Let us," ...said Mr. Scoullar, "run the ferry in the ...interest of the farmers, these trips if ...need be." The ferry was not built to ...suit the interest of a few land grabbers ...and speculators, but for the people ...at large. [Long and hearty applause.]

R. C. E. Walker spoke briefly in ...favor of the report of the committee, ...which was followed by Mayor Brown, who ...said it was necessary to reply to some ...remarks made by Mr. Scoullar. It ...was true that the legislature would ...not give the city the powers they ...asked for at the next session, but there ...was better chances two years hence. ...In the meantime a private company ...might come in and establish a system ...of lighting. Mr. Thrift had sworn ...that the committee of the legislature ...from the people of Surrey were in favor ...of the change in the ferry landing.

Ald. Scoullar—Yes; but he got badly ...left in the election. [Laughter.]

Mayor Brown had confidence in the ...truth of any statement made by Mr. ...Hoy. He (Mr. Hoy) was no doubt ...sincere in what he had said to Mr. Scoullar. Mr. Ewen had sworn that Ald. Scoullar had told him that the mayor had never brought the matter of the Enabling Bill before the Council, and Ald. Scoullar had denied that he had told Mr. Ewen any such thing. He (the speaker) had confidence in the truthfulness of Mr. Ewen, and he believed that it was simply a misunderstanding of what Mr. Scoullar meant. In like manner it was probable that Mr. Hoy had been mistaken. As to the land on the other side of the river adjacent to the new ferry landing, neither he (the speaker) nor Mr. Johnston knew who owned the land at the time Mr. McColl had offered the city a free landing, and although Mr. McColl was doubtless looking after his own interests in making such an offer, the mayor considered it was in the interests of the city to accept that offer. Mr. McColl had faithfully adhered to all the promises he had made in the matter.

Mr. Scoullar pointed out that it was nonsense for the mayor to speak of any private company getting ahead of the city in the matter of private lighting, because any company would first have to get permission from the council to use the streets before they could make the first move. [Applause.]

Mr. Gowan remarked that Mr. Scoullar had said that the street lighting now cost the city only $650 per month, and still the agreement with the proposed company guaranteed the company $850 per month for the same service. Also, it was stated that the ferry was paying expenses, and the agreement gave the company $150 additional. The speaker enquired what was the necessity of this?

Mr. G. W. Walker said there was also a clause in the agreement which prevented the company acquiring any surplus that might be on hand.

Mayor Brown said that as a matter of fact the lighting provided for was costing the city more than $650 per month, besides the agreement was such that the company was guaranteed against loss.

Mr. John George, an innkeeper at South Westminster, said the people of Surrey were unanimous in favor of the new ferry landing.

The resolution was then submitted and carried and the meeting adjourned.

At the close of the public meeting a meeting of the company was held and the following trustees were elected pro tem to arrange for the purchase of the ferry and electric plant: Messrs. C. G. Major, C. E. Woods and A. Hamilton.

Another committee was appointed to interview the citizens regarding support in the proposed legal defence fund. The following gentlemen compose this committee: Messrs. H. G. Ross, H. A. Duncan, F. G. Turner and G. W. Walker. This committee meets in Mr. Ross' office today.

OLD POSTAGE STAMPS.
I WILL GIVE FROM 1 CENT TO $1 to $10 a piece for all old Postage Stamps of British Columbia or Vancouver Island used before Confederation. There are thousands of these stamps around on old files in offices, and clerks or boys and girls can make a good thing by sending them to me. I will take all kinds of old stamps, giving better cash prices than any stamp dealer. These were used between 1860 and 1871. Hunt up the old letter files, and send me all stamps used before Confederation. I want all for my collection, and always pay postage in addition. Address:

NEW PROCESS CARPET CLEANING
Carpets cleaned by this preparation will remain clean as long as a new carpet.
It will remove grease spots, coal dust, lamp black, soot and stains, and guarantee nothing injurious in the preparation.
It will restore colors. It is a disinfectant, rendering the carpet clean and healthy where sickness and disease have been in the room; it raises the nap and leaves it soft like new; restores the colors to their original brilliancy; destroys carpet bugs and moths.
I clean carpets, rugs, mats, etc. on the floor at residences, offices, public halls, and in fact everywhere as they lay. I use no water, and the slight moisture by the preparation is instantly removed or rubbed dry by sponges and dry cloths. Carpets are dry and ready for use in a few hours.
When you want your carpet cleaned drop me a card, and I will go to your residence, show sample of the work, and give you an estimate on what you want done. Much damage is done to carpets, mats, rugs, etc., by using corn meal, ammonia, salt, soap, beef gall etc. Address

Best cup of coffee in town at Baker & Whitlock's. *

Spratt's Ark finished discharging cargo yesterday, and went down river about 4 o'clock.

Contractor Dan McGillivray has completed driving the piles for the Mission City wharf. *

The steamer Irving brought down a very large load of freight for the city and C. P. R. yesterday.

Try eastern oyster stew at Baker & Whitlock's tonight. *

The steamer Telephone took an unusually heavy load of freight down the South Arm yesterday afternoon.

Look over P. M. Watson & Co.'s list of property on second page of this paper. *

Twenty-five carpenters are wanted today to go to Mission City on the express at 1:10 p. m. See the advertisement in another column.

If you want a nice building site see the map of Young's addition at S. T. Mackintosh & Co.'s. *

Alexander street, from Columbia to Carnarvon, is being cribbed with heavy timber on each side and the roadway graded.

Young's addition is now on the market. For particulars apply to S. T. Mackintosh & Co., Agents. *

One of our city wheelmen was observed taking his machine over to South Westminster yesterday, presumably for practice on the plank road.

If you want a first class investment call at S. T. Mackintosh & Co.'s and examine the map of Young's addition. *

The exterior furnishings of the new court house look very handsome. They consist of a broad arch of cement over each window and door.

Remember lots in Young's addition are the only half acre lots on the market which have a frontage on the tramway line. *

Fishing for trout is decidedly popular at the present time. No less than six ardent city anglers suspended business and went up to the Coquitlam yesterday.

Don't miss your opportunity May 19th. Excursion and auction sale at Mission City, B. C. *

A pair of fine thread gloves, dark red with leather tips, were picked up on Cunningham street on Tuesday afternoon. They await a claimant at THE LEDGER office.

List your property with us if you want to sell it. E. H. Port & Co. *

The salmon catch last night was almost nil. Fresh water fish are scarce on the market. A large consignment of halibut and small flat fish has been received from Vancouver.

The finest fruit growing section of British Columbia is immediately surrounding Mission City. *

Over $7,000 was subscribed on Tuesday evening for the enlargement of the Baptist Church. The work will be proceeded with at once. The proposed alterations will cost about $15,000.

For Bookbinding, Ruling, etc., go to Lewis & Greig, Powell Block. *

A large number of Chinese are camped on the opposite side of the river, some distance below Manson's ranch. They are engaged in clearing the land from the river bank back to the Scott Road.

Mission City has more buildings and improvements completed and in course of erection than any other new town in the Province. Go and see May 19th. *

Mr. James Dallas, who has charge of the glazing department of the Royal City Mills, and Mr. Howden, yesterday superintended the conveyance of a case containing 17 plates of glass, 7x10 feet each, from a C. P. R. car to one of the brick blocks on Columbia street.

When you want a first-class hack call up the Crown Stables; telephone No. 45. *

Messrs. E. H. Port & Co. were awarded the contract for supplying the city with a chemical fire engine. Their bid was $2,000, one below the next lowest tenderer. They will supply a 30 gallon double dome chemical, the same style as used in eastern metropolitan fire departments.

For a good horse and buggy go to the Crown Stables. A. E. Clarke, proprietor. *

Grave fears are entertained that now the fence is down around City Hall square, somebody may steal the police station. This act would deserve a monument, but it is hoped the rubber will leave the electric lit barn just above as the council want to use it two or three times yet.

Mission City is not "going to have" railroads, etc., but has them now. They are a reality at Mission City; not a prospective advantage. *

Yesterday, while the pile driver on the Armstrong-English block was working, the rope supporting the drop suddenly snapped, and rebounded with great force, narrowly escaping striking the engineer. The accident caused some considerable delay, but was finally repaired and work resumed.

Law Books, Magazines, etc. bound in any style by Lewis & Greig. *

The following eleven has been selected to represent Vancouver in the match against New Westminster, which will be played here on Saturday next, May 10th: F. M. Chalderett, Rev. H. G. F. Clinton, G. Coleman, E. B. Deane, O. H. Evans-Thomas, E. Griffiths, E. Mahon, W. Miles, S. Saunders, H. T. Walton, Rev. J. Yolland.

Lots for $325 on Douglas street.—BRENCHLEY & BENNETT. *

The old buildings near the landing at Brownsville have been utilized as a swine farm. The owner is going extensively into the pork raising business, and already a large herd of hogs are being maintained, and are rapidly increasing. The principal market for them is with the city butchers, and occasionally a few of them are shipped to distant points.

The Mission-Chilliwack branch of the C. P. R. will undoubtedly be proceeded with at once, thus adding another railroad whose terminus is Mission City. *

Yesterday a quantity of very costly and heavy plate glass was unloaded by the Royal City Mills. The glass is to replace that which was broken in the Scoullar-Armstrong block by the great fire in February last. The cornice work and the whole exterior of Messrs. Cunningham's premises is being repaired and renewed, as it was badly damaged by the fire.

During the last three months fifty-five lots were sold in Mission City on building conditions ranging from $500 to $10,000. Most of these buildings are to be erected and completed within six months. *

The lacrosse practice at Queen's Park last night was well attended, all the men turning out in good shape. Some really first rate checking and passing were exhibited, and altogether the men showed a decided improvement in team play. It is pretty safe to say that the boys will make things interesting for the other clubs who are playing for the championship.

To rent, two good stores and dwelling house on Agnes Street. Apply to F. J. Coulthard & Co. *

Guy W. Walker, Merchant Tailor, having dissolved with Mr. W. F. Beggs, is now at his old stand, 26 McKenzie Street. Clothes cleaned, repaired and dyed as usual. The store will be closed from 1 to 6 on Saturday. *

The framing of six spans of the Lulu Island bridge has been completed and the flooring of the bridge is being laid. Only one span and the swing now remain, and work will be commenced on the swing as soon as the machinery is delivered by Messrs. Reid & Currie, probably some time next week. A large crowd of interested spectators are around the bridge every day watching the work as it progresses.

Every great enterprise must have a beginning. Mission City has already made her start and is progressing toward an important city. Take advantage of the excursion May 19th and see the recent improvements. *

Heavy Black Books, Ledgers, etc., ruled, printed and bound in any style by Lewis & Greig. *

The Brunette mills at Sapperton shipped a very large quantity of lumber to the east recently, and there is such a demand for British Columbia timber in the eastern markets that carloads are daily sent away over the C. P. R. Many tourists and commercial men are visiting the mills at this season and evince a lot of interest in the various departments and processes incidental to the manufacture of timber from the native woods.

The cheapest property on the market.—THE BRENCHLEY PROPERTY. *

Few opportunities to secure a block of building property occur. A choice is offered now. Why not secure a piece on the Douglas road and on Tramway line. Lot 90, Group 1, at all real estate offices. *

Do not forget that Mission City, being possessed of the best shipping facilities of any city in the famous Matsqui, Sumas and Chilliwack districts, must therefore become the great distributing point for all of this territory. *

In the river, opposite the penitentiary rather a curious phenomenon has been recently observed. A heavy current comes down upon the northern bank and sweeps on down towards the town with great force. Near the tiles stream is an old stump and in a semicircle from this, of some hundred and fifty yards in extent is a space of water, the current in which is constantly and steadily up stream although the river may be running down at four or five miles an hour. Moreover, this space of water is always extremely smooth, while all round its edges the waves run very high, and however rough the wind and water may be, the water is always as calm as possible.

A rare chance for a few weeks only: lot 90, on Douglas road, close to city and on Tramway line; no city taxes; two acre lots. T. J. Trapp, agent. *

Regular train service over the Seattle, Lake Shore & Eastern will commence May 15th. From that date through trains will run regularly to Mission City from Seattle, Tacoma and all south Pacific points. *

At the New Westminster Foundry a small knot of loafers yesterday watched the interesting operation of breaking up car wheels in preparation for melting down. A tripod was erected and at its top was a heavy pulley, over which ran a heavy tough rope, one end held a spring catch, a string from which was held by one of the men, and the other end was attached to a yoke bar harnessed to a horse. A ponderous weight, something like half a ton, was caught in the catch and drawn up to the top of the tripod. The car wheels were placed beneath in pairs. The string was smartly jerked, and down came the crushing weight of the heavy mass of iron, with such force as to split the wheels across, and finally to break them into fragments.

Lots for $325 on Douglas road; ¼ down; balance 6 and 12 months at 8 per cent. The cheapest property on the market.—BRENCHLEY & BENNETT. *

It will pay you to wait for the great auction sale of lots at Mission City, May 19th. There is no other property on the market that will increase in value as rapidly as the property you will have an opportunity of purchasing on that day. Remember Mission City is going ahead and is already started; has stores, hotels, a planing mill, wharf, lumber yards, etc. You are not asked to invest in property without seeing it and where there is nothing in sight but vacant ground. *

CITY POLICE COURT.

Some Lively Customers Pay Their Respects to His Honor.

There was a large and predominating element of gore and "red paint" about yesterday morning's reception, the gentlemen who then appeared being "up" for offences of a violent nature. J. J. Fraser admitted that he had used language of rather a brilliant hue and had offered to massacre the whole city police force with his bare hands, but this was while under the hypnotic influence of an evil spirit known as rye. The charge stated that Mr. Fraser had been guilty of using obscene, blasphemous and grossly insulting language. The magistrate, after giving the prisoner a mild caution, fined him $5 and costs, which amounted to $6.50. In default one month's imprisonment.

Fred. Nicholson doesn't do things by halves when he is drunk. The day before yesterday he felt that he had a heavy programme to carry out and as the first number on the same read "rum and sugar hot." Fred lost no time in rendering the piece, which was written in a good many bars. Several encores followed and then the gay spirit of Nicholson burst through all bounds and he began to whoop it up with wonderful glee. He met a policeman, assaulted him as well as he could under the circumstances and was duly conducted to the coop. Here he encountered Mr. Alec Smith and there was more active service for about ten minutes. Mr. Smith diving his hand into Fred's pocket during the fray pulled forth a large loaded revolver. How it had not gone off in the melee is a wonder. After being put in the cell, the prisoner made such a tremendous noise with his heavy boots in trying to kick the side of the house out, that Mr. Smith had to go in and plead with him to remove the boots and keep quiet. This request had not to be repeated. The magistrate gazed sternly at the author of all this turbulence and demanded to know what he had to say for himself. To the charges of drunk and disorderly and carrying concealed weapons the prisoner pleaded guilty, and was fined for the first offence $5 and $2.50 costs; for the second he was bound over on his own recognizances to keep the peace for six months, in the sum of $250, and the weapon was impounded. On the charge of assaulting the police the prisoner pleaded not guilty, but the charge was amply sustained. Fined $5 and $2.50 costs, or one month's imprisonment.

NANAIMO'S CELEBRATION.

Mayor Hilbert Makes a Proposition That Deserves Consideration.

Mr. James Field of the city telegraph office, who has just returned from a short visit to Nanaimo, gave a LEDGER reporter some interesting news about the prosperous little Island city, yesterday. Mr. Field had the pleasure of a long conversation with Mayor Hilbert and that well known gentleman said he wished Westminster would send a lacrosse team over to Nanaimo on the 25th to play one that might be induced to come from Vancouver. If these two teams would go over he would guarantee them a purse of $100. Or if Westminster, in the event of Vancouver not coming, sent two teams he would offer a beautiful silver cup as a prize. What Mayor Hilbert wants is two crack lacrosse teams to play an exhibition game in Nanaimo to let the people see what it is like (as most of them never saw a lacrosse game, and know nothing about it) and also to try to get the young men of Nanaimo to form a lacrosse club. The cup which the mayor proposes to present the lacrosse teams was shown Mr. Field; it is eight inches high, beautifully engraved and embossed and is well worthy any team's best efforts.

Mayor Hilbert says that if the Westminster and Vancouver people don't come over to Nanaimo's grand celebration of the Queen's Birthday this year, the Nanaimo people will not go to Vancouver on Dominion Day or to Westminster at the Fall Exhibition. This means a good deal and is worth consideration.

Every arrangement has been made by the Black Diamond City to have a glorious time of it on the 25th. There will be a splendid list of athletic and aquatic events, with valuable medals, cups, trophies and money prizes, and everybody who goes to Nanaimo that day will be received as a guest of the city and treated with all the hospitality and courtesy for which Nanaimo is famous.

Mr. Field says that Rev. G. H. Tovey is very popular in Nanaimo, and the services at which he officiated last Sunday drew overflowing congregations; Mr. Field acted as organist.

Nanaimo is going ahead at a rapid rate and is increasing in population at the same ratio; the harbor is generally crowded with shipping and the docks resound with the stir and bustle of traffic.

Wedding Bells.

A numerous and delighted company of invited guests assembled on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. Daniel Welsh on Queen's Avenue, to witness the marriage of Mr. Welsh's only daughter, Bertha, to Mr. Albert Edward Clarke, one of Westminster's most estimable young men. The Rev. E. Robson was the officiating clergyman. The groom was supported by Mr. Chas. Welsh, eldest brother of the bride, who was in turn attended by Miss Clarke, sister of the groom. After the completion of the marriage ceremony the contracting parties received the hearty congratulations of their relatives and friends. The merry company then sat down to a beautiful repast, served in the most approved fashion, after doing justice to which the happy pair departed on their wedding trip amid showers of rice, etc., bestowed upon them as they entered their carriage. The dresses and flowers worn by the bride and her associate on the occasion were tasteful and appropriate, and the presents both beautiful and costly. The newly wedded couple enter upon their wedded career with the best wishes not only of their numerous relatives and more immediate friends, but of all who have had the good fortune to form their acquaintance.

PERSONALS

Ben Young returned from Victoria yesterday.

Mr. Brown of the St. Alice Hotel, Harrison Hot Springs, was in the city yesterday and left for Vancouver in the evening.

Excursion to the Hot Springs.

By advertisement in another column it will be seen that the Delaware will carry an excursion party to Harrison Hot Springs next Saturday, returning in the evening of the following day. The trip to Harrison by water is a delightful one, the scenery en route and at the lake being very fine. A low rate for the return trip is given, and the excursion is likely to be well patronized.

Small Investments With Quick Returns.

A rare opportunity will be afforded on May 19th, to obtain lots in Mission City, when a limited number of choice lots will be sold at auction without reserve. Although Mission City is already quite a town, the sale on the 19th will be the first opportunity afforded the public for making investments. Those who purchase at this sale will obtain the quickest and largest returns in proportion to the money invested. *

A Pointer to the Public.

District Lot No. 78 lies immediately adjoining the city limits. The continuation of Mary Street goes directly through it, and the Electric Tramway will in a couple of months be running its cars every hour of the day through the centre of this property. The lot (No. 78) is composed of 128 acres of land as level as a table. Contracts have been let to clear and grub the ground, and leave it in perfect condition for building purposes. Already six citizens have decided to erect handsome residences there, ranging in price from $4,000 to $7,000 each. The whole of this splendid piece of property (except some limited portions already disposed of) will be put on the market in a few weeks. One great advantage in buying a lot and erecting a residence on this property is that the owner will avoid heavy municipal taxation. Make a note of it, and wait till the property is put on the market before buying. *
