ELECTIONEERING

Goes on All Over the Broad Dominion With Great Energy.

THE VARIOUS NOMINATIONS

The Roman Catholic Clergy Generally Support Sir John Macdonald.

MONEY ASKED IN MONTREAL

From All Those Who Derive Benefit From the Protective Tariff.

TORONTO, February 10.—Dr. Horsey and Dr. Lauderkin have been nominated to contest in the Liberal interest, North and South Grey respectively. In East Huron, Dr. McDonald will run on behalf of the Liberals. W. McCall will be the Conservative candidate in Peel and will be opposed by Featherstone. The Reformers of North Leeds and Grenville have nominated Frank Frost. S. B. Burnett, the old member, is in the field in East Hastings as a Reformer. West Middlesex Reformers have nominated Hector McFarlane, farmer of Eckfried. South Oxford Conservatives have nominated M. Walsh, barrister, to oppose Sir Richard Cartwright. Charles Mohr, of Fitzroy Harbor, is the nominee of the Liberal convention here for North Lanark.

Sir John Macdonald is expected to deliver his first address of the campaign here, probably on Monday. East York Conservatives will hold a convention on Friday. The Empire's Montreal correspondent estimates that with all doubtful divisions given to Laurier in the next Parliament, Sir John MacDonald will find at his back the representatives of 41 Quebec constituencies. Thus, according to this clever young man, Laurier will have only 24 supporters for this Province in the next House.

A TORONTO FAILURE.

Boyd Bros., merchants, made an assignment today. Their liabilities are put at considerably over $100,000, but their financial position is not yet clear.

A FATAL FALL.

BERLIN, February 10.—While Adam and Jacob Zimmer, brothers, were driving across the over-head railway bridge here today the horse fell against the railing, which gave way, and both were instantly killed, and Adam seriously injured.

At the Reform convention here today N. H. Ketchum, banker, of Brighton, was nominated to contest the Riding in their interest.

LEVIES OF MONEY ASKED.

MONTREAL, February 10.—The political fight is causing much excitement. Subscriptions are being levied on all manufacturers and corporations, who derive any benefit from the protective tariff, for the Conservative election fund. Sir John has notified Montreal that he expects $150,000 from that city alone. It is stated that the Canadian Pacific has subscribed $50,000 of this amount alone. La Semaine, the religious organ of Cardinal Taschereau, warns the faithful against the unrestricted reciprocity policy of Liberals, which is only the first step towards annexation. The Roman Catholic clergy generally support Sir John.

NOVA SCOTIA'S CHAMPIONS.

HALIFAX, N. S., February 10.—Thomas Robertson, ex-M. P., has been nominated as Liberal candidate for Shelburn County. He is at present in New York at a convention of Digby Liberals. Today Mr. E. C. Bowers, a leading Westport merchant, was nominated.

CAPE BRETON CONSERVATIVES.

These are the Conservative candidates for Cape Breton Island: Cape Breton County, H. F. McDougall and David MacKeen; Inverness County, Hugh Cameron; Victoria County, John A. McDonald; Richmond County, Joseph A. Gillies. The nomination was tendered to the Hon. W. B. Vail who, however, was obliged to decline on account of ill health.

Attorney-General Longley refuses to be the unrestricted reciprocity candidate in Annapolis and a Mr. Chipman has been nominated to oppose Mr. Mills.

VARIOUS NOMINATIONS.

In Digby County Hon. W. B. Vail, who was Minister of Militia in the McKenzie Government declined nomination, and the Liberals agreed to support E. C. Bowers of Westport. The Liberals of Shelburne have telegraphed to New York and asked Thomas Robertson, ex-M. P., to return to Canada and run as the unrestricted reciprocity candidate in that constituency. Halifax Liberals tonight nominated Hon. A. G. Jones and Dr. Farrell to contest Halifax County. In Charlottetown today Liberal Conservatives nominated Hon. Donald Ferguson, M. P. P., and Patrick Blake, M. P. P. Mr. Ferguson was a member of the Government for twelve years and Mr. Blake is leading Roman Catholic who has sat for Charlottetown in the Legislature for three parliaments. In Kings County Liberal Conservatives nominated Hon. Austin C. McDonald, ex-M. P., and James F. McLean, M. P. P.

Following Liberal nominations are reported for Cape Breton, Hon. G. M. Murray, James Eisenhauer, for Kings; Dr. W. Borden, Queens, P. E. I.; Davis and Walsh, Liberals, and Ferguson and Blake, Conservatives, Halifax; Hon. A. G. Jones and Dr. Farrell, Liberals.

AN OLD FAVORITE.

MONCTON, N. B., February 10.—At The Liberal-Conservative convention held today Josiah Wood, the old member for Westmoreland County, was selected. The Liberals of the county have called a convention at Dorchester on the 17th to nominate a candidate in the interest of the Liberals and unrestricted reciprocity. The names of John T. Hawk, editor of the Morton Transcript, Henry R. Emmerson and George R. Sangster are spoken of as possible candidates.

ADJOURNED TILL SATURDAY.

WINNIPEG, February 10.—The Conservatives did not select a candidate for Winnipeg tonight, adjournment being made till Saturday. Scarth declined the nomination.

BIRCHALL'S DEFENDER DECLINES.

The Conservative convention in West Toronto nominated Col. F. C. Denison this evening. G. F. Blackstock, who defended Birchall, declined to accept the nomination. Ex-Alderman E. A. Macdonald today nominated himself a candidate in opposition to Hon. Alexander McKenzie, but as he is a Conservative of a very few years' standing, the choice of the convention will doubtless fall on someone else. It is reported that since the victory of Equal-Righter Campbell in East Durham for the Ontario Legislature friends of H. A. Ward are fearful of that gentleman's chances of success, should he again get the nomination. The evening paper has a story to the effect that the Liberals will spring

A BIG SURPRISE

On their opponents at their mass meeting here on Friday. It states, on what is given as unexceptionable authority, that Laurier holds in his pocket a letter from Secretary Blaine in which he refused to negotiate with any party in Canada but the Reform party on any question of commercial union. Mayor Taylor of London, who it was at one time thought would oppose Hon. John Carling and make a three-cornered fight in London, will be a straight party candidate in East Middlesex. W. H. Stewart, of Warwick, may replace George Moncrief as Conservative candidate in East Lambton, who redeemed the riding in the last election, but who has lost ground by his support of the Jesuit Act.

POVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.

Davie's Libel Bill Tempered in Favor of Newspaper Publishers.

VICTORIA, February 10.—Davie's Libel Bill, doctored in committee by the insertion of sections benefiting newspaper publishers, was the only important business before the House this afternoon. Tomorrow, it is expected, will be fully taken up with private bills.

Caught in a Blizzard.

WINONA, Minn., February 10—Two boys, aged 10 and 12, sons of a German farmer named Ford, were found dead last evening two miles northwest of Utica. They got caught in a blizzard.

[illegible] francs and only 40,000 francs to pay his [illegible]

NEW YORK, February 10.—[illegible] Warde, aged 21, who yesterday morning robbed Father Hayden of a gold watch, was sentenced today to the state prison for five years.

Railway Collision.

GROVELAND, N. Y., February 10.—An express train on the Lackawanna Railway which left Buffalo at 7:20 p. m. collided with a wild-cat engine near this station at 9 o'clock. Both engines were demolished. One engineer and both firemen were fatally injured and the other engineer is very badly hurt. None of the passengers were hurt.

Will Resign His Diocese.

SIOUX FALLS, February 10.—Announcement was received last evening by friends of Bishop Hare that he had decided to resign his charge of the Episcopal diocese of South Dakota, as he has been offered and accepted charge of the Japanese mission and will leave for Japan in March.

Purse for Sullivan and Slavin.

NEW YORK, February 10.—A cable dispatch was received from London at the Police Gazette office today, stating that the Ormonde Club had decided to offer a purse of $20,000 for a 12-round glove contest between Frank P. Slavin and John Sullivan. The dispatch also stated that Slavin had signified his willingness to fight for the purse. Sullivan has been notified from here of the Ormonde Club's offer.

Local Reciprocity.

It may not be generally known that members of either the New Westminster or Vancouver Building Society who happen to obtain a ballot allotment may secure the loan on house property of sufficient value in either city. Thus Mr. Broad, who secured a drawing for $2,000 the other day in the Vancouver Society is building with it a house on a lot in Montreal Street, New Westminster.

Those Ticket Sellers.

EDITOR MORNING LEDGER: SIR,—You will pardon me for occupying so much of your valuable space, but I certainly must inform "one of the charming ticket sellers" and "Socius" that I have been highly amused at the silliness of their communications. As regards the former, there is nothing in it worth responding to, and were the individual who has the audacity to sign herself "charming" a merchant, she too would soon be worried almost to death by the dear little incidents who are continually sent from door to door with "Don't you want to buy a ticket?" This peddling tickets is all nonsense, and I, as a ratepayer and merchant have frequently wondered how it was that the License Inspector has not come down upon them for a peddler's license. Great Cæsar! "Charming!" I wonder what sort of looking creature this can be? I wonder whether she really thinks she is "charming?"

Now as to the latter one, that signed "Socius?" He is evidently not a merchant, for he would not talk as he does. His whole letter displays a wonderful ignorance of the subject about which he writes. I should judge that this individual is one not altogether unconnected with the scholastic profession, considering the way he goes about the thing. I repeat, notwithstanding all adverse communication, that ticket fiends are a nuisance. Yours etc.,

MERCHANT

SIR G. BADEN-POWELL

Points Out the Importance of the C. P. R. As a Factor

IN AN IMPERIAL FEDERATION

And Its Immense Value to Canada Commercially.

A MILLIONAIRE PRIMATE DEAD

England Awaits Americans' Finding Out the Folly of the McKinley Bill.

LONDON, February 10.—Sir George S. Baden-Powell, Conservative member for Kirkdale, Liverpool, addressed an enthusiastic throng of business men in the Chamber of Commerce today on the subject of the new route from England to Asia by way of the C. P. R. He claimed the new route would bring England within 21 days of Yokohama, Japan, and greatly facilitate trade between the Japanese Empire, Great Britain and Canada. The journey would be 30 hours shorter than by way of Chicago, and for that reason alone, irrespective of any patriotic sentiment, should command the patronage of all who are interested in the welfare of the Empire. The Asiatic trade had of late years increased enormously and was certain to increase at an even more rapid rate in the future, as the people of Asia learned what was most desired in the markets of Europe. The New route would shortly capture a trade of 120,000,000 people yearly. Canada was awaking to the fact that the trade of the Empire with the rest of the world was of vastly greater importance to Canadians than the patronage of the United States, and once awakened Canada was sure to go ahead with a bounding and elastic step. The speaker added that there was another important reason why the Canadian Pacific route should have the aid and countenance of Great Britain. It was to be hoped that the calamity would long be averted, but

SHOULD WAR ARISE,

It would be of the utmost great[illegible] usefulness, for in its w[illegible] would be no exposure of military preparations [illegible] should be broken. Sir George Baden-Powell also stated that England would subsidize the line with £60,000 yearly for carrying mails to China. The speech was listened to throughout with great attention and was received with the greatest enthusiasm.

MYSTERIOUS WEALTH.

A Vienna dispatch says that Hungary is in a state of wonder over the new developments of the vast wealth possessed by the late Cardinal Simor, Prince Primate of Hungary. The Cardinal belonged to an obscure family and began life as a poor boy, and his only income has been from his ecclesiastical offices. Yet he left an estate valued at several million of florins. This money, under the Cardinal's will, goes to the Pope. The Cardinal was a peculiar man. Some time before his death, he remarked that no one should ever tread upon his heart, and in accordance with his wishes his heart was taken out, placed in a silver urn and deposited behind the high altar of the church in the town of Graran.

DEVOTED TO LITERATURE.

Huntley MacCarthy, National member for Derry, announces that he will not seek re-election to Parliament, as literature absorbs all his attention.

In Dublin today William Redmond, Parnell's staunch supporter, said it would be useless than criminal to start an organization as a rival to the National League, if the new organization should fail to support evicted tenants. He announced that 548 of the evicted tenants intended to emigrate to America.

TO COPY AMERICA.

In Parliament today Arthur A. Baumann gave notice that on Thursday he would ask Sir Michael Hicks Beach, president of the Board of Trade, to send a delegate to America to inquire into the working of the laws restricting hours, and to report thereon.

PROCEEDING CAUTIOUSLY.

In the House of Commons today Mr. Goschen intimated that he would not promote passage of the Gold Coinage Bill until he saw his way clear to dealing with other matters affecting currency.

LEAVING IT TO THEMSELVES.

In Parliament today the Chancelor of the Exchequer, in reply to Mr. Goschen, said that the Government had no intention of starting a policy of retaliation against the United States for injury to British trade by the new American tariff, especially as it was hoped that the Americans themselves would perceive the mistake of adopting the McKinley Bill.

American Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, February 10.—The Senate today took up the Naval Appropriation Bill as reported. The bill appropriates $31,504,000. After a long discussion relative to the merits of land and floating batteries, reading of the bill was agreed to and proceeded with. The following committee amendments were also agreed to: To enable the President to cause careful soundings to be made between San Francisco and Honolulu for the purpose of determining the practicability of the laying of a telegraphic cable between those points, $25,000 or so much thereof as may be necessary, and the President is hereby authorized to direct the use of any vessel or vessels belonging to the United States in making such survey.

ENGLISH OPERA.

The Emma Juch Company Present Two Masterpieces Yesterday.

IL TROVATORE AND CARMEN

And Thereby Enhance Their Already Fine Reputation.

The Emma Juch Grand English Opera Company played Verdi's great four act opera, Il Trovatore, in the Vancouver Grand Opera House yesterday afternoon, there being present a very fair audience among whom were noted a large number of prominent Westminster people. To attempt to say anything new about Il Trovatore is like trying to say something original about Niagara Falls. The piece was as a whole well played, the principals being very good; the support rather ragged and weak. Miss Januschowsky as Leonora was excellent, and her rendition of the many beautiful passages that fall to the share of the heroine throughout the opera elicited well-merited and frequent applause. Her costumes were fine and her acting for one so petite and retrousse, was very nearly majestic. Januschowsky has a clear, rich soprano, and she takes the difficult high notes with unfaltering fidelity. In the Miserere scene she scored a triumph and was compelled to respond to a vociferous encore. In the grand scene where she so passionately pleads with the Count di Luna the life of her lover, she did grand work.

Louise Meislinger as Azucena, the Gipsy, was very powerful. The part is a most exacting one, and as a portrayal of the wild, nervous passion that sweeps the soul of the proud, fierce Zingara of the Spanish mountains, is without parallel on the operatic or dramatic stage. Miss Meislinger acted the part with immense force and spirit, and her fine voice made the most of Verdi's melodious lines. To this character fall some of the most charming snatches of melody in the opera. In the last act Meislinger sang, "Back to her Mountains," with a verve and thrilling pathos not soon to be forgotten by her hearers. Her "make up" was true to life, and the splendid facial changes, the flashing white teeth, gleaming black eyes and mobile mouth, united to her acting and [illegible] work was fairly well done, but the scenery was somewhat "thin." But the costumery was very good indeed. Of and yesterday [illegible] more fully noticeable something always owing to the absence of the prima donna herself, who would doubtless, were she present, smartly check any signs of carelessness or slovenliness. The performance may be briefly summed up in that the principals were first-class and the support very tame.

CARMEN.

Another full house greeted the company last night, although evidently a different one in a great many respects than that of the night before. Bizet's music is always enjoyable, and was thoroughly appreciated by those present. The orchestra, under Herr Neuendorf's able baton, was most effective, the faultless precision with which he wielded his stick and the promptitude of the musicians in answering its slightest movement, was proof sufficient of the good training he has bestowed upon his followers.

Two beautiful bouquets were thrown to Emma Juch at the end of the second act.

CARMEN'S SONG

At the cards where she reads her fate repeatedly, was very sweet and her acting good, more especially where she tries to stab Don Jose.

Emma Juch's duet with the Toreador Escamillo in the beginning of the last act was a credit to both, and the last entreaty of Jose to his faithless love was full splendidly done; his acting could only have been produced by an artist.

CARMEN HER FAVORITE.

It is no wonder that Miss Juch says she likes Carmen the best of all her characters, for it certainly suits her to perfection. The saucy, light-hearted and careless character was charmingly portrayed by her and the fetching style of dress, both as country maiden and gipsy shows off her glorious figure to great advantage and she seems created only for joy and happiness.

The first scene where she makes love to Jose was very pleasing. The costumes and mise en scene were charming and bright in true Spanish style, and the gipsy camp at the opening of the second act was extremely pretty. One does not need to know Bizet's nationality to recognize at once where the scene is laid. Mr. Stormont scored a great success with his Toreador song than he ever did before. The tableaux were particularly pretty throughout, of course the whole opera gives plenty of scope for that.

Mention ought to be made of Michaela Miss Charlotta Maronda, who appeared for the first time in Vancouver as a singer, and proved herself the possessor of a voice full of sweetness and power. The whole of the orchestra, with the exceptions, are Germans, and that fact probably accounts for its excellence.

Vancouver has enjoyed the performances of this company very much, and there is a general hope that at some time in the early future the Terminal City may greet them again.

A Gentlemen Reply.

The following uncommonly civil reply to a correspondent appears in a recent issue of the Montreal Star and Family Herald: "We cannot say what wages you would get in British Columbia, but they must be much higher than in New Brunswick. It must be remembered, however, that the cost of living is higher. New Brunswick is a good country to live in, but if you have made up your mind to leave it you would probably do as well in British Columbia as anywhere else."

Public notice is hereby given that by an order of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, dated the 8th day of December, A. D. 1900, the undersigned has been appointed Receiver for THE TRUTH PRINTING COMPANY (Limited), and in accordance therewith all monies due to the said Company will be payable to the undersigned, and all accounts against said Company should be presented to the undersigned for settlement.

WM. BAILLIE,
Receiver T. P. Co., Ltd.

New Westminster, Dec. 21, 1900. 17.

The Ledger.

A GOOD SIGN.

We are glad to think that there is some likelihood of the early settlement in this city of another industrial enterprise in the form of a soap factory.

The City Council is, with a view to afford the founders opportunity to purchase a suitable site at a fair market value, submitting two town lots belonging to the municipality for sale by auction. We know the Council cannot, nor happen that those interested in the proposed undertaking may not see their way clear to purchase the lots in question at the highest price bidden, but even should this occur there must be other sites within the city available for their purpose and procurable on satisfactory terms. We therefore hope that those concerned will in any case adhere to their intention of settling in the city, where there should be ample scope for their enterprise, conveniently situated as New Westminster is as a mainland trade centre. There is, we believe, little or nothing in the slight objection casually raised to the proposed works from a sanitary standpoint. Two such undertakings have for some time existed within the city limits of Victoria, and there created no nuisance whatever; and it is, as we understand, easy enough to carry on the business of soap boiling without offending neighboring residents by either bad smells or other noxious fumes.

Successful soap works afford remunerative employment to large numbers of operatives, the demand for the product which they turn out, being at present constantly increasing, and likely long to remain so. The proposed new undertaking therefore represents an industry likely to be of permanent value to our city, so we hope it may soon come here to stay.

New Westminster has to vindicate its reputation as a solid town; and this it can best do by making every effort to attract many varieties of industrial enterprise.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Our evening contemporary, in an editorial discussion of "General" Booth's scheme of social reform, praises the good work of Cardinal Manning, but only at the expense of a leading member of the Church of England, the Bishop of Bedford, whom the writer describes as one passing by like the Levite of old, on the other side of the street, whilst the sores of society are waiting in the ditch to be dressed. Now Dr. Billings, who as Bishop of Bedford acts as an assistant Bishop of London, was from 1878 to 1885 the Rector of one of the most squalid and poverty-stricken districts of the British metropolis, that of Spitalfields, where he did noble work amongst the poor and devoted constant attention to the elevation of the degraded and the rescue of the fallen. Hence, he was busily engaged, in the same field, as General Booth long before the head of the Salvation Army, began his rescue campaign, and it is therefore eminently unjust to stigmatize a good man as callous and selfish, because he honestly holds a different view from the General of the practicability of his scheme. Our contemporary's criticism is, in such matters as these, unfortunately apt to be biassed by religious prejudice.

Le Manitoba urges French Canadian electors only to vote for Dominion Parliamentary candidates who are in favor of separate schools for that Province, and will consequently support a movement to reject the Greenway Martin legislation as unconstitutional. This important side issue will apparently decide the fate of several candidates in Manitoba.

A prize fighting brute having lately killed his man at Seattle, we may perhaps hear more of resolute efforts in the States to put down such brutalities by law. We shall then no longer find our telegraphic news columns, occasionally inundated by betting ring criticisms of pugilistic ruffians, for which relief we shall be devoutly thankful.

* * *

Settlers in Manitoba and the North West, who want good wives, had better write to Millport, Buteshire, where the medical officer has represented to the local authority that some of the many Scots lassies of the place must emigrate if they ever hope to get married. There are unhappily far too few men in the town.

* * *

So severe has been this winter's cold in England, that thousands of "natives" have perished at Colchester. They were happily, however, only oysters. In South Lancashire, where winters are usually damp and misty rather than frosty, the thermometer one night last month fell to zero, and on others registered 21 and 26 degrees of frost respectively.

* * *

London, England, is immediately interested in the settlement of the Behring Sea difficulty, the fur trade there giving employment to 8,000 or 10,000 people, and the bulk of the sealskins coming from Behring Straits. The supply of fur has lately fallen off considerably, and prices have consequently risen 50 to 80 per cent. during the last three years.

* * *

A movement is being organized at Kamloops to slaughter inland cattle at that point, and send on dead meat instead of live stock to the Coast markets. The reason given for this proposal is the deterioration of the animals, which ensues during their carriage to the Coast. It is an established fact, that as yet too little regard is paid to the comfort of the beasts en route.

* * *

The sooner our waterworks loan can be raised in the open market on favorable terms the better, seven per cent. being a heavy interest to pay for a temporary loan from the Bank of Montreal on such safe security as that of our city. As, however, the Bank can elsewhere make this percentage readily enough; and has many demands upon its cash resources its managers cannot at present be expected to offer even our city money at a lower rate.

* * *

Nelson has a distinct grievance. It possesses no resident minister of religion, nor is there in his stead even a registrar, empowered to solemnize marriages. Hence several young men and maidens of the town are, according to the Miner, waiting impatiently for some one to unite them in the bonds of "holy matrimony." No doubt the Nelsonites flow[illegible] marrying and giving in marriage how in the world is Nelson to become—what its people hope it will be—a second Denver?

* * *

If the Miner is correctly informed, silver is being found in amazing quantities in the Silver King mine near Nelson, where there are said to be "millions in sight." Samples from the centre of the face assay, it is stated, 593 ounces, or $622 worth of silver to the ton. The Miner vouches for the accuracy of the news, and claims that the Nelson district of British Columbia will be found one of the wealthiest mine regions on earth. "So mote it be," say we. Why, oh, why, does British capital so slowly flow into our Province, where it could do such splendid work?

A CANINE HERO

Second Part of the Wonderful Adventures of the Dog, Chase.

As we have seen, Chase mortally disfigured his foe in Victoria, and reaped his lost laurels with an ease that showed him to be the same old Chase he was before he went to live in California, and spoiled himself with too much pic-nic training. The following chapters will show how dogfully Chase overcame obstacles interposed in his path, and, though surmounting them, deservedly came to be the pet dog of the town, and an animal well worthy of having his story chronicled.

CHAPTER IV.

RETURNS HOME.

That very evening Chase boarded the cars, and next morning ran down the gang plank with his tail aloft and a heart full of joy at getting back to old Vancouver again. He was glad to return safe and sound and proudly conscious that he knew twice as much as any dog in Vancouver. There had been a great sorrow at the strange disappearance of Chase, and even his friends and admirers had given him up for a dog. His welcome home was therefore sincere and enthusiastic.

VISITS WESTMINSTER.

Chase's next excursion was to Westminster by train. How he managed to elude the eagle eyes of the conductor and brakeman nobody knows, but he visited the Royal City as right as a trivet, and at once struck up an acquaintance among the higher walks of society here. He could be seen any morning inspecting corners, posts, lamps and piles of drygoods at store doors, in the company of the "toniest" dogs in the town. [illegible]

CHAPTER V.

VISITS THE THEATRE.

On his return to his native city he proceeded up to the theatre one evening when a play was being performed. With his usual marvellous good luck he passed the ticket office, slipped past the doorkeeper and eluded the ushers. But by no means sneaked in; up the middle of the centre aisle he walked with all elevated and his ears pricked up jaunty. An elderly gentleman, an acquaintance, saw him and beckoned to him. Chase jumped into his lap and licked his friends' chin and necktie, while he gave his undivided attention to the play. The stage was occupied by a villain, who was filling in time smashing dishes and furniture. Sounds of revelry always has a charm for Chase and preliminaries for battle on this occasion made him violently excited at seeing one villain having all the fun to himself. Chase had been sitting in his friends' lap, very quiet and deeply attentive. Latterly his bristles had begun to stiffen with convulsive smothered growls to vibrate from his throat. At last the villain threw down a whole pile of crockery. Chase could stand it no longer. There was a sound of small pattering at a mad gallop over the floor of the aisle, a few muffled yelps and a small black and white object was seen to shoot over the orchestra railing, jump upon the plank and across the footlights on to the stage with a bound. The next moment Chase had the villain by the calf of the leg and a scene followed. The villain ran round the stage swearing and attempting to shake Chase off. Chase would not be shaken off, and his growling could be heard all over the theatre. The audience rocked in their seats and screamed with laughter, the orchestra stopped and other actors of the company came to their comrade's assistance. But seeing the awful odds against him, and as a wise general beat a hasty but orderly retreat out of the theatre. He felt feeling that although his part in the entertainment had been totally unnoticed, it had not been the least enjoyable of the evening's proceedings. Filled with the grateful consciousness of duty done, Chase when he got outside, attacked a dog twice his size carrying a tin kettle behind him until he howled, upset the bone and went and buried it in a rich merchant's pet geranium bed.

CHAPTER VI.

TRIES HIS STRENGTH.

One day Chase went down to see the boat leave for Victoria. There were many of his friends on the dock and on the boat. Chase was happy. He was petted by everybody, and several gentlemen fed him biscuits. Chase was in fourth heaven. At last the plunder began to cast off lines. Chase noticed the men acting suspiciously, and after the boat being pulled along the wharf towards the steamer, he sprang upon it, growling and yelping. He was dragged to the edge of the dock, his teeth fastened in the hawser. Just as everybody thought he must go over, he let go his hold at the small rope. All the officers on the steamer and the great crowd on the wharf laughed uncontrollably. Capt. Rodlin leaned over the rail of the pilot-house and simply roared with laughter. Finally the end of the rope and it went over the dock with Chase, with his head on one side and over into the water far beyond. Chase appeared to wonder if his friends would ever come up again. He appeared in an injured way at the manner which he had fruitlessly tried to detain, as if he thought he was unfairly dealt by in some way.

CHAPTER VII.

FIGHTS A GIANT.

Perfection evidently made him sick on a huge Newfoundland dog lounging around in the lordly way Newfoundlands have. Chase sprang at and took a firm mouthful of the fellow's left jaw. The big dog howled and bellowed like a bull calf, and astonishment shouted. Somebody said,

"SIC EM, CHASE"

Inside of five minutes there was a picture kaleidoscope or lightning panorama. Chase hung on like death. It has always been a point with him to hang on to a good thing, and the Newfoundland seemed to be the prize for Chase; he chewed his enemy's throat if it had been rations regularly sent to him and was nobody's business but his own. Then the owner of the dog came up and struck Chase a few years with an umbrella. The blow hurted. Chase received another blow on the cranium and concluded he would put the old adage, "Love me love my dog," into business practice right away, so, quitting the scalped paw, he transferred his attentions to the umbrella of his friend, who had adroitly interposed it between Chase's teeth and their objective point, his own calves. How the fray would have ended to one or the other at this point Chase spoil[illegible] carrying what looked to him strongly like the bone he had buried the afternoon and intended touching on the same evening. With a wild howl he started after the other dog. Upon seeing the redoubtable champion set off at top speed up town, dropping with the bone was a born runner and Chase's best speed brought him over the coveted bone. For all that he may have eventually overtaken the robber, soundly thrashed him and afterwards regaled himself on the bone of contention.

CHAPTER VIII.

Chase is a dog among ten thousand. He will not sully his hard-earned reputation by stooping to explore garbage barrels or dust heaps, knowing that he is considered the Admirable Crichton of dogs in his own city, he positively refuses to consort with low company. He has a reputation which must be supported, and for the honor of his friends and his own glory, Chase behaves himself better than any dog in the city.

VERNON

THE TERMINUS OF THE

SHUSWAP & OKANAGAN R'Y

SITUATED IN THE HEART OF THE GREAT OKANAGAN VALLEY

THE RAILWAY CENTRE OF THE INTERIOR

The Shuswap and Okanagan Railway is now under construction and will be completed and in operation to Vernon this summer.

THE OKANAGAN & KOOTENAY RAILWAY CO. obtained a charter (with land grants of 20,000 acres per mile) to construct a railway from Vernon to Sproat's Landing, via the Goldstream Valley and Cherry Creek mines.

A charter is now being applied for from the Local Legislature to construct a Railway from Vernon south to the International boundary to connect with the American Railway system.

This is a great chance to make money, as Vernon being in the heart of the most extensive agricultural district in the Province, will undoubtedly become a large and flourishing city.

Arrangements have been completed with responsible parties for publishing a GOOD WEEKLY PAPER AT VERNON, the first issue to appear in April. This paper will be circulated by the Company in all parts of the world.

A LARGE HOTEL will be erected early this spring and plans for same are now being prepared.

PLANS OF TOWNSITE are now in all real estate offices.

OVER $80,000 WORTH OF LOTS

have already been sold. Many of these will have buildings erected on them this year. Special inducements are offered to builders; see price list. FREE SITES will be given to parties establishing industries. Financial assistance will also be given to responsible parties engaging in legitimate enterprises.

ADVANCE IN PRICES

The Company will advance prices of all central lots early next month. Intending purchasers should not delay selecting lots now in order to obtain the benefit of this advance.

Vernon is situated in a pass commanding and making tributary to it the whole of the famous Okanagan Valley and its tributary valleys, the grazing country of the Lower Nicola, the mining camps of Rock Creek, Granite Creek, Kettle River, Okanagan and Similkameen Mountain, the placer diggings of Cherry Creek and Siwash Creek. It is impossible to get to any of the above places without first going through Vernon.

The opening of the Shuswap & Okanagan Railway this summer will flood this favored country with land and mining prospectors, etc., and will give a great impetus to the farming, fruit-growing, grazing and mining industries. Several important industries are projected and will likely be started in Vernon this year.

The best advice we can give intending purchasers is GO AND SEE FOR YOURSELVES. The C. P. R. to Sicamous, stage from Sicamous to Vernon. Leave Vancouver on Mondays or Fridays, arrive Vernon Tuesday or Saturday evening.

How Baby Sleeps.

About the loveliest sight the reporter—who, by the way, is himself a father—ever saw was this little nude baby asleep on her face, with legs drawn up snugly under her, meeting the little elbows at her side.

"Baby always sleeps with her back up," said the doctor. "That is the natural position for babies to sleep in. She cuddles her head down on her little hand, and without a stitch of clothing on sleeps through these hot nights as well as you do who have cottages on the seashore. If the night is cool we throw over her a light linen sheet and perhaps a light blanket, but in such days as we are having now she needs nothing.

"She has, of course, had not a sign of the 'snuffles,' so inevitable with most babies. 'Snuffles' is simply an indication of inflammation of the mucous membrane or internal skin, due to the outer skin being so sweltered that it can't do its work, which is thrown on the mucous membrane, resulting in snuffles that may very easily develop into a serious trouble. A baby treated as I would have it treated simply can't catch cold unless subjected to unusual exposure.

"Hundreds of women in speaking to me of their older children have said: 'Oh, yes, they are very healthy. They have had most of the 'children's diseases' of course, such as measles, croup, etc., but they are all right now.'

"They shouldn't have had those diseases. A child brought up under proper treatment ought to be no more subject to disease than an adult, or even as much."—Boston Globe.

Well Paid Literary Women.

Somebody said the other day, "It would be interesting to call a convention of 'the best paid literary women of New York.'" A good sized hall would be required to hold them. Within a month I have been told that Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge, of St. Nicholas, was the best paid literary woman in this city, and quite as positively was I assured that Mrs. Margaret E. Sangster, of Harper's Bazar, was that lucky person. Again she is said to be Mrs. Mary Kyle Dallas, and in another paragraph Mrs. Amelia E. Barr is announced as the one.

Out of town letter writers swear she is Mrs. Mary E. Bryan, of whom her native south is so justly proud. One or two syndicate men declare that she is Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox, and several persons who ought to know aver that she is Mrs. Frank Leslie. About the latest claimant is "Bab." In private life Bab is Mrs. Mallon, the widow of a British officer, but born and bred down south. She is a tallish woman, slender but round, one of those paradoxical creatures who, without a single good feature, yet manage as wholes to be adorably handsome. "Bab" has faultless taste, and dresses exquisitely. Her screeds are readily salable, even in the deadly dullness of midsummer.—Epoch.

The Search for Pretty Wives.

Girls to be successful today must have something more than pretty features. The men who are worth marrying are looking for something else than pretty faces, coy manners or fetching gowns. They are recognizing full well that women are progressing at a pace which will quicken rather than slacken. They realize that the woman of to-morrow will be brighter in mind than her predecessor of today. Hence they are looking for wives who will be the equals of their neighbors. Beauty is being considered an adjunct to common sense. "I want a wife who knows something, who is worth having for what she knows; not one of these social butterflies," said one of the greatest "catches" of the New York season to me at the winter's close. And he expressed the sentiments of thousands of the young men of today. The scent for pretty wives is over, and the look out for bright young women has begun. And the girl who today trains her mind to knowledge will be the woman of to-morrow.—Edward W. Bok in Ladies' Home Journal.

Not Discouraged Yet.

It is wonderful how much pertinacity and courage are displayed by the average settler in a new country. Up in Dickey and McIntosh counties, in North Dakota, the crops have failed for several seasons from various causes, and the hardy Russians and sturdy Germans who have been holding down claims in these localities have had pretty tough times. This year the hot winds have again cooked the crops, so that there is nothing left to harvest, and the poor foreigners have been forced to leave their farms and look for work in northern Wisconsin in order to save their families from starving during the coming winter. "But they are not discouraged," naively remarks a North Dakota paper, "and will cling to their claims, feeling confident that there is a good time yet in store for them."—Chicago Herald.

An Unusual Phenomenon.

An unusual phenomenon was witnessed at Neville island Thursday. During the heavy thunder storm a shock of green corn in a lot a few feet from Squire Shanks' residence was struck by lightning, and taking fire, instantly burned until it was entirely consumed, the flames rising several feet above the top of the corn. The corn was not only wet by the shower, but was entirely green, having been cut but a few hours.

People who witnessed the sight were reminded of the story of Elijah's competitive test of the products of Baal, the fire coming down from the sky and consuming a pile fully as wet as was the sacrificial altar. Several people in the vicinity were somewhat stunned, but not seriously injured.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Mechanical Use of His Teeth.

One of the attractions at the Kazan industrial exhibition is the curious workmanship of a peasant from Little Russia named Nitkin, who works exclusively with his teeth, and makes little carriages and other small articles in capital shape. The young man, aged 25, was born without arms or legs, but he can move very rapidly to right and left, and employs his jaws as a saw and a graving tool.—Journal of Rouen.

A Witty Cobbler.

A cobbler at Forfar, Scotland, who was an old offender, was sentenced to a fine or imprisonment. To be imprisoned he had to be carried to the jail at Perth. As he had business at Perth he expressed no unwillingness to go. When arrived about to be locked up he offered to pay the fine, which the governor was obliged to take. Then he demanded his fare back to Forfar, which the governor, after hesitating and looking at the law, found that he was obliged to pay. The fare alone amounted to five cents more than the fine imposed.—Ram's Horn.

McLennan & Co. have received two cars more of assorted cattle feed. The increased demand and ready sale of this article is sufficient proof of its merits, and only needs a trial to convince those who have not yet used it. Also in stock, wheat, oats, barley, peas (feed barley and oats, wheat and barley, oats and peas), oil cake meal, bran, shorts, hay, etc. *

Yesterday was Shrove Tuesday or Pancake Day. It was formerly customary in England on this day for the people to confess their sins, one by one, to their parish priests, after which they dined on pancakes or fritters, when the occasion became one of merriment. Hence the name Pancake Tuesday.

Grand Lodge I. O. O. F.

The Grand Lodge of British Columbia, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, meets today in Victoria for the transaction of their annual business. Delegates will be present from all parts of the Province, those from this city being W. McColl, W. B. Shiles, J. E. Phillips, P. J. Foulds, George Cunningham, R. H. Baker, D. Walsh and D. Douglas.

The Writ Arrives.

Yesterday Sheriff Armstrong received the writ for the general election for a member to represent this district in the Dominion House of Commons. It so happens that the authorities at Ottawa, or whoever mailed the important document, had made a slight error in forwarding the writ to Westminster which should have been sent to Nanaimo district.

An Accident.

While George Price, fireman of the tug Earl, was in the act of oiling the machinery of his steamer the other evening at Mission, a lighted candle he held in his hand was blown out by a gust of wind. In the darkness, the revolving shaft gave one of his feet a terrible blow, fracturing several of his tarsal bones and otherwise injuring the limb. The injured man is at the Telegraph Hotel, this city, under care of Dr. Fagan.

A New Establishment.

It is with pleasure that we announce the opening of a new furniture establishment in the premises at Blackie and Columbia Streets, by Messrs. Gordon & Raab, two young gentlemen who have after a good many wanderings decided to make Westminster their future home. Both members of the firm being experienced men in their business are in a position to guarantee positive satisfaction to all their patrons of whom it is hoped they will have many.

The Bible Society.

The annual meeting of the New Westminster branch of the Canada Bible Society will be held tomorrow in the Olivet Baptist Church. The reading of the report of the secretary, Rev. Mr. Haddon, is looked forward to with great anticipations, for there is not one but who is anxious for the welfare of the Society, and who wishes to hear of the success achieved. Addresses will be delivered by the Reverends Robson and Mills appropriate to the important occasion. The chair will be taken by the president, Mr. Sheriff Armstrong.

A CHARMING CONCERT.

The Westminster Choral Union Give a Most Enjoyable Musicale Last Night.

The 30th concert of the above society was given in St. Leonard's Hall last evening, to a large and appreciative audience, when the following programme was gone through under the baton of the Bishop:

PART I.

Cantata—"Lauda Sion"...Mendelssohn
1.—Chorus.....'Praise Jehovah."
2.—Chorus.....'By His Care."
3.—Solo and Chorus."Sing of Judgment."
Solo.....Mrs. Sillitoe.
4.—Quartett."Ye Who From His Ways."

PART II.

Motett—"Hear My Prayer"Mendelssohn.
Solo.....Mrs. Sillitoe.

PART III.

Song—"Come Into the Garden, Maud".....Balfe.
Mr. Rushton.
Part-Song—"Sleep While the Soft Evening Breezes".....Bishop.
Part-Song—"Farewell to the Forest"
.....Mendelssohn.
Part-Songs { a—"The First Spring Day" b—"The Vale of Rest" c—"May Day"
.....Mendelssohn
Song—"The Devout Lover"M. V. White.
Mr. Hamber.
Part-Song—"Journeying On".....
.....Dr. E. M. Lott.
Part-Song—"The Vikings"Eaton Faning.
God Save the Queen.

The choruses were all well rendered, and showed that a large amount of care and practice had been taken. The solos, "Sing of Judgment," "Lord at all Times," and "Hear my Prayer," were beautifully rendered by Mrs. Sillitoe in her usual finished style. The quartette, "Ye Who From His Ways," by Mrs. and Miss Major, the Bishop and Mr. H. De Beck was much appreciated, as was also "Thou Didst Free Them," by Mrs. and Miss Major and Messrs. Pelley and De Beck. There was then a short interval, after which Mr. Rushton brought down the house in "Come into the Garden, Maud," and gave for an encore, "My Sweetheart When a Boy." The part songs, "Sleep While the Soft Evening Breezes," "Farewell to the Forest," "The First Day of Spring," "The Vale of Rest," and "May Day," by the Bishop and Mrs. Sillitoe, Mr. Rushton and Mrs. Wolfenden were capital and warmly applauded.

"The Devout Lover" was next, sung by Mr. Hamber who has a good voice, but unfortunately spoils its effect by not pronouncing his words plainly. "Journeying On," a part song by the Bishop and Mrs. Sillitoe, Mrs. Wolfenden and Messrs. Rushton and Cantell, was also very nicely rendered. The combined chorus and orchestra then gave "The Vikings" in splendid form, and the concert was brought to a close by all singing the National Anthem.

Mrs. Pearson at the pianoforte and Mr. Morey at the organ, gave general satisfaction.

Police Court

(Before T. C. Atkinson, P. M.)

Thomas Caffrey was charged by a celestial called Ah Lee with assault. Caffrey denied all knowledge of the assault and said he had never seen Ah Lee before. The celestial brought as witness a man from the Flowery Kingdom, who stated that the white man hit and also threw his countryman down on the sidewalk. The prisoner brought a white witness, who said he had been with Caffrey all night and he saw no assault committed. The case was dismissed on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

"One Another."

The above is the subject of a decidedly popular lecture to be delivered, this evening, at the Sixth Street Methodist Church by the Rev. J. E. Lanceley of Toronto. We have been led to believe from the press reports in both the Canadian and American papers that the reverend gentleman is an orator of great merit, handling the subject, as he does, with wonderful precision and tact. During the evening several choice selections will be rendered by the choir to add to the enjoyment of the entertainment. There should be a large audience to greet this popular lecturer this evening.

They Want a Sidewalk.

The residents on Carnarvon Street, immediately east of Sixth, as far as the rear of of Holy Trinity Church, are very anxious that a sidewalk should be laid down in front of their places. As at present, they are required, in order to reach their gates, to trample through mud and mire until they reach there, and all will agree that on a street so near the business portion as is Carnarvon, there certainly should be a sidewalk on each side. If the residents alluded to were to put in a petition to the City Council at its meeting on Monday next, their endeavors would, doubtless, be successful.

Thoroughly Satisfied.

Messrs. E. H. Port & Co., agents in this city for E. Leonard & Sons, engineers, London, Ont., received a communication from the Kamloops Electric Light Company yesterday, that is, to say the least of it, a very valuable testimonial for them. The letter is substantially to the effect that having purchased an engine and boiler from E. H. Port & Co. for the electric light works, it far exceeds their expectations in regard to economy of fuel. It burns only three-quarters of a cord of soft wood per day of twelve hours, and does the work perfectly. The Electric Light Company are delighted with the engine and voluntarily offer their recommendations.

Killed in a Prize Fight.

The People's Theatre, Seattle, a variety dive of the lowest order, was the scene of a brutal prize fight on Saturday morning between two middle-weights named George Shafer and Billy Doyle. Shafer was game enough, but could not cope against Doyle's science, and at the commencement of the seventh round was in a bad way; his opponent then gave the knockout blow from which Shafer never recovered consciousness, dying at 9:20 a. m. The police arrested several of the spectators but did not succeed in securing Doyle. It is said the murderer was seen in Vancouver on Sunday, most probably having come up by the Premier.

The following is a list of the Lenten Services at Holy Trinity:

Hazey Notes.

HAZEY, B. C., February 9, 1891.—The ground is covered with snow to the depth of about four inches.

Mr. and Mrs. James Robertson mourn the loss of their little daughter who died about 7 o'clock Saturday morning, February 7th. The afflicted family have the sympathy of the people of this community.

Mr. Devlin, the C. P. R. detective, has been around to see his friends here again.

The C. P. R. Co., at the request of the Maple Ridge Council, has built a fence along C. P. R. right-of-way at Mr. P. Baker's farm. This piece of fence has one board on the side of the posts and a cap on the top with wires underneath at about seven inches apart, and in contrast to the rest of the C. P. R. fence in this neighborhood, might be termed almost a good fence. It is the wish of this settlement that the C. P. R. Co. should remove their old fence and replace it with a good one.

The I. O. G. T. is still thriving here.

The readers of your local contemporary here are very much in sympathy with the Editor of that journal, on account of the item which appeared a few days ago in reference to Maple Ridge affairs, under the heading "Trouble ahead." They believe it would be in the interests of that paper to trust to its correspondent or some more reliable authority in this community for the news, and thereby avoid the insertion of such unreliable reports in its columns.

The Maple Ridge Council held their second regular meeting on Saturday last in the Town Hall, and judging from the manner in which they dealt with the business which came before them the interests of the municipality can be safely trusted to their fatherly care. The Town Hall was unusually crowded with ratepayers, signifying their interest in and approval of the work of the new Council.

Several real estate sales have taken place here lately. It is expected that there will be a boom in real estate here during the coming spring and summer.

A horse belonging to Mr. George M. Bennett was killed a few days ago near this place by a C. P. R. train, and the C. P. R. Company refuse to pay for the animal. This state of affairs is not in the interest of the public, and it is the intention of a large number of the electors at the coming general election here to support the candidate who unreservedly promises to have repealed the Dominion fence regulations, prohibiting stock from running at large within (half a mile is is understood) the railway, and one who will allow the several Provinces of the Dominion of Canada entire control over all fences within their respective territories.

LIVERPOOL
LAND AND IMPROVEMENT CO.

The Property of this Company

Will be placed on the market on the 1st MARCH next, and consists of upwards of 300 Acres of the most desirable land at the New Town of Liverpool, including the whole of the deep water frontage which extends one and a half miles on the Fraser River, from the N.W.S. Railway wharf east, and is the only really desirable location for Manufacturing and Shipping Industries near New Westminster.

Liverpool is the terminus of the New Westminster Southern Railway Company, who have bought 40 acres of the Company's land. Extensive buildings have been located at this point by the Railway Company. The Yale Road has been surveyed to this point and an excellent grade secured through sections 35 and 3. and profiles prepared for the work. This road will be opened up and graded as soon as permission can be secured. Streets running through the Company's property will also be cleared and graded, which work will be well under way before any of the property is offered for sale.

Sections 2, 3 and 35 have been laid out and staked on the ground. The Lots are all 66 feet wide and front on streets one chain wide. Every inducement will be offered to manufacturers and investors. Whoever has money to invest will do well to consider Liverpool before investing elsewhere.

REMEMBER MARCH 1st AND LIVERPOOL

REASONS FOR INVESTING IN LIVERPOOL

LIVERPOOL is considered by parties who are authorities on the subject to be The Best Speculative Property in sight today.

Liverpool is the terminus in B.C. of the American system of railways. In two years, if present arrangements are matured, three railways will terminate at Liverpool. In a few weeks all traffic for Sound points over the C. P. R. will go by way of Liverpool.

All material for the railway from Sedro to Seattle will be transferred in bulk by the Railway Company's Ferry at Liverpool. Passengers and Freight from Seattle and Fairhaven for the East, per Great Northern, will be booked via Liverpool, and New Westminster over the C. P. R. Seattle, in a few days, will be reached by an all-rail route in seven hours from New Westminster, via Liverpool, without the inconvenience of a sea voyage.

Freight for the Sound points, over the C. P. R., can be shipped by Liverpool without breaking bulk. Lumber and all manufactures can be shipped from mills at Liverpool to all points in the Northwest at the same rates as from New Westminster.

Capitalists have a better and surer chance of making money at Liverpool than at any other point.

A Sawmill and Shingle-mill will be erected at Liverpool immediately. The Company's property at Liverpool is excellent value; their lots are large and terms easy. All particulars of
