FIERCE FACTIONS.

CORK FILLED WITH WILD BELLIGERENT MATERIAL.

Next Sunday there will be Plenty of Skull Cracking—The Fate of Pyrrhus Nearly Befalls William O'Brien.—Admirable Impartiality of the Constabulary—A Socialist Treasurer Elopes with the Treasury—Severe Earthquake Shocks in Japan.

CORK, October 28.—The city is quieter tonight, but the feeling of bitterness between the factions is still very strong and disorders are apt to occur on the slightest occasion. The Anti-Parnellites assert that the Parnellites are beginning to realize that they are in such a hopeless minority that they cannot even make a formidable street fight, and that they are obliged to send to Waterford, Limerick and Dublin for troops to aid them. The Cork men are declaring, however, that they will show what they can do in the way of fighting next Sunday, when there are to be rival meetings in the park, unless the police forbid the demonstration. It is quite probable that the prohibition will be interposed. The Anti-Parnellites loudly complain of the partiality of the police in yesterday's fighting, but the Parnellites do not seem any better satisfied with the treatment accorded them by the officers of the law, and disinterested outsiders are of opinion that the guardians of the peace bestowed their cudgellings pretty impartially among the combatants. The Parnellites assert that the government has ordered the troops to be used mercilessly on the first occasion when a lively scrimmage shall give an excuse for calling out the military. A strange rumor is current tonight that the guns at the barracks on top of St. Patrick's Hill were trained upon the city, and that the cavalry at Ballincollig were booted and spurred ready for an instant descent upon the town. Casual inquiries failed to confirm the rumor. The polling does not take place until a week from Friday. The delay is unfavorable to the Parnellites, as it gives longer opportunity for the priests to exercise their influence upon the more ignorant and docile of the electors. While Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien were canvassing today they were each attended by an escort of police to protect them from possible violence. Mr. O'Brien, however, objected to this guardianship and finally at his solicitation the officers withdrew and their places were taken by an escort of priests, including the fiery Canon O'Mahoney whose presence foiled several attempted assaults upon the speakers. One female Parnellite partisan tried to strike O'Brien with a bust of Parnell. The virago's aim was a little wild and the bust was smashed to pieces. O'Brien seized the occasion to predict that this was an omen of a like collapse of Parnellism at the election. There is much renewed Tory grumbling at the action of the party leaders in putting up Captain Sarsfield to contest the seat with Redmond and Flavin. They declare it is poor tactics and many Protestant Unionists do not attempt to conceal their intention to vote for Redmond as a protest against priestly intimidation

MORE TROUBLE EXPECTED.

Despatches from Cork say that all is quiet in that city this morning but the troops are held in readiness to meet any emergency. Messrs. O'Brien and Dillon and the Catholic priests are actively canvassing the city for the seat in the House of Commons made vacant by the death of Parnell.

PLEASURES OF POPULARITY.

The nominations in Cork will be formally made on Tuesday next and the polling will take place on the following Friday. The fighting was renewed tonight. John Dillon and Dr. Tanner were driving together to attend an anti-Parnellite meeting, when a mob started in pursuit and overtaking them threw stones at Dillon and also attacked him with blackthorns. Dillon received a severe leg wound from a stick in the hands of one of his assailants, and was lamed for a time. He succeeded however in reaching the meeting and addressed an enthusiastic audience. A strong volunteer escort surrounded Dillon on his departure and protected him from further violence. His injury causes him considerable pain.

Took His Share.

BERLIN, October 28.—Max Bushel a weaver at Apolda and a prominent socialist agitator well known in the Buringen district, has absconded with large sums belonging to his socialistic comrades for the time he acted as treasurer.

Shaken by Earthquakes.

LONDON, October 28.—Despatches from Japan state that shocks of earthquake have been experienced in that country. So severe were they at Hiogo and Osaka that scores of houses were destroyed and many lives lost at both places. Hiogo is on the island of Hondo and has been almost entirely destroyed. Telegraph wires are down and particulars are hard to obtain, but it is known that a large number of lives have been lost. At Onkaka, a city of 350,000 inhabitants, 300 persons are known to have been killed and thousands of buildings destroyed.

OFFICIAL ROTTENNESS.

It is said that a serious scandal involving officials responsible for army supplies is involved in the mutinous outbreak of the Grenadier Guards at Windsor. The authorities have been paying for a better quality of rations than the troops received, and it is insinuated that some of the officers were aware of the fact, and the grenadiers having a suspicion of this knowledge, mutinied as a last resort to call attention to their grievance. The corps that mutinied is the same that evoked the high commendation of the German Kaiser during his recent visit to England.

FAST MAIL DELIVERY.

The mail brought by the White Star Line steamer Teutonic, which arrived at Queenstown yesterday after having made the best eastward passage, was distributed in this city before 9 o'clock this morning. This beats the best previous postoffice records for such work.

ALL FOR LORNE.

The Marquis of Lorne has consented to stand for Central Bradford as the Unionist candidate.

Decides Before Sunday.

ROME, October 28.—It is reported that the Pope will take decisive action before Sunday on the question of leaving Rome and alternative question of making a modus vivendi with Italy. All present indications point to the latter course. The Pope's dislike for Italy having received a signor counter irritant in the action taken by France against the Archbishop of Aix, since the proposed prosecution of the Archbishop was officially announced the Pope has become tolerent of King Humbert's government and it is now even intimated that letters of a conciliatory character have passed between Signor Rudini and the papal secretary of state.

Under Religion's Holy Cloak.

DUBLIN, October 28.—Highly sensational and startling testimony was today given at the trial of the Rev. Samuel Cotton, a rector at Carnoghe, County Kildare, who was charged with criminal and ill-treatment of children in the Carnoghe orphanacy. The clergyman, who has conducted the affairs of the institution for many years, has often appealed to the people for pecuniary assistance and has received large sums of money by subscription for the maintenance of the orphanage. The society for the protection of children recently made an examination into the manner in which the orphanage is conducted, and a horrible state of affairs was revealed. The children were ragged, emaciated, filthy and covered with parasites. The toes of one child had rotted off, while a little girl had been chained by the legs to a log, and an infant six weeks old was found in the orphanage kitchen covered with rags and dying of starvation. Other children were found in the same apartment crouched around a small fire almost frozen, and half starved. All the poor little ones were stunted in growth and weak and sickly in health. The sanitary condition of the establishment was abominable to the last degree. The accused clergyman was committed for trial, bail being allowed in order to permit him to attend the synod of the diocese of which he is a member.

GROSSLY OFFENSIVE.

The Maynooth trustees have resolved by a vote of 24 to 6 that the public utterances of Dr. Kenny, M. P., were grossly offensive to the clergy. Dr. Kenny, apparently astonished at the charge, demanded to know upon what evidence such a declaration was founded. The trustees thereupon voted his instant dismissal, along with a quarters' salary in lieu of notice. Dr. Kenny seems to be rather proud than otherwise of the distinction of having been singled out as the object of hierarchical animosity, as he did not depend on Maynooth for a living. He remarked that the trustees would yet regret the unchristian example given by their course towards him.

Had Fatal Results.

PARIS, October 28.—The official reports of the accident at Moirania, on the railway between Lyons and Grenoble, shows that two were killed and twenty-one injured.

HIS NAME'S ALL RIGHT.

Prince Damrong of Siam, has been the lion of society here since coming from London a few days ago. The prince, who converses fluently in both French and English, and spends money lavishly, is being made much of by the officials, who, in view of French designs on Siamese independence, wish to give this scion of Siamese royalty a lively impression of the power of France. The prince, however, takes no pleasure in the attentions showered upon him, and is quite seen at places of amusement, and is quickly seen at love with a new performer at every visit. As he is generous with presents to the objects of his fickle affections, his attentions are seldom shunned, and already several actresses of shady reputation are wearing valuable diamonds, the gifts of Prince Damrong.

Kingly Magnanimity.

ST. PETERSBURG, October 28.—The Czar has directed that a full statement be submitted to him of all the arrears of taxation due by the famine-stricken provinces. It is believed that the Czar intends to remit all the arrears due by such provinces and also grant them a diminition of taxes for several years.

CHINA WELCOMED THEM.

A number of Jewish families residing in the trans-Baikal in Asiatic Russia, having been ordered to remove back to the Jewish pale in old Russia, made their escape into Chinese territory and were hospitably received.

Will Meet in Mexico.

CONCORD, N. H., October 28.—The City of Mexico has been decided upon by the American Pacific Health Association as the place for holding the next annual meeting. The sessions will begin on November 30, 1892. President Diaz has personally invited the association to meet in Mexico, hence its action.

Discussing Freight Rates.

NEW YORK, October 28.—A meeting is being held today of the trunk line freight committee and the general freight agents of the Central Traffic Association at the offices of the Trunk Line Association in this city. The meeting is for the purpose of arranging a division of eastbound rates on business originating west of Chicago.

Provincial Sunday Schools.

A meeting of the British Columbia Sunday School Institute was held in the Emmanuel Baptist church, Spring Ridge, Victoria, yesterday. Delegates were present from Westminster, Vancouver, Nanaimo and other places. Several interesting papers were read and addresses delivered, and in the evening a mass meeting was held and an attractive programme carried out. The session is to be continued today when a series of instructive papers will be read on Sunday school work. In the evening the children will be entertained with songs, recitations, speeches and refreshments.

Escaped From the Russians.

Captain Alexander McLean and the crew of the sealing schooner J. Hamilton Lewis, who were seized by the Russian man-of-war Aleut off Copper Island, and subsequently taken to several Russian ports before coming before a tribunal for sentence, will stand on American soil within a week. They are now on their way across the Pacific Ocean from Hongkong to San Francisco, in which city they will arrive about Monday. Mrs. McLean left Victoria on Monday evening in the steamship Walla Walla for the Bay City to meet her husband. She has received private cable despatches from him that have put her in possession of all particulars, and will once more join him, after a more perilous escapade than any of his previous adventures. With his proverbial luck he has this time eluded the clutches of the Russian bear, and has almost miraculously escaped a Siberian convict prison with all its suffering and agony. The bare details of the manner in which he and his crew were handled by the authorities, which have reached here from time to time through the medium of British and American warships and sealing schooners, give no possible clue to the manner in which he has got out of his last tight fix, but there is little doubt, as everyone who knows him will allow, that he has accomplished the feat by cool headed pluck, and a determination to get back home in spite of everything.—Colonist.

THEY DON'T CARE

CHILI USES STRONG LANGUAGE TOWARDS THE UNITED STATES.

Refusal to Guarantee the Safety of American Seamen Ashore at Valparaiso—Banker Dill's Unpleasant Fix—Louisiana Lottery Sharpers in the toils—Paraguay Will be at the Fair—Launch of United States Steamship Detroit—Fatal Fire in New Orleans.

SANTIAGO, Chili, October 28.—The city is in a fever of excitement tonight caused by a report that the Chilian legation in Washington had been attacked. The government today replied to Minister Egan's demand for reparation for the recent attack upon the Baltimore's crew. It is a refusal to accept responsibility for the affair. Mr. Egan has notified the state department at Washington and tonight is consulting with Secretary McGreery and Commander Schley. Decisive action is looked for very quickly. The authorities at Valparaiso have gone so far as to refuse to guarantee the safety of market boats coming to that city from the United States warship Baltimore, or the safety of officers of that vessel coming ashore at night. Minister Egan, it is said, has notified his government that the crew of the Baltimore are practically boycotted, and no American sailors are permitted to land at this port. It is understood that Minister Egan expressed much surprise at the very strong language in which the Chilian governments's reply is couched.

Dill Done for.

PITTSBURG, Pa., October 28.—Another true bill containing 32 separate counts was found against Banker Dill of the Clearfield, Pa., bank by the United States grand jury today. With the indictment made yesterday in which were four counts. There is now a total of 36 separate and specific criminal charges against Mr. Dill. Bank examiner Miller thinks the total amount named in the charges today will not fall short of $78,000. He says, however, that Mr. Dill's speculations may reach twice this amount.

TRUE BILLS FOUND.

True bills were found by the United States grand jury against Paul Conrad and other officers of the Louisiana State Lottery for violating the lottery law. The offence was committed in January last by mailing letters papers and circulars in the United States express company's envelopes to this district. The case will not be tried before next May owing to the numerous cases to be tried in various states for the same offence.

Uncle Sam's Navy.

BALTIMORE, Md., October 28.—The United States steel cruiser Detroit, the largest vessel ever constructed in a Baltimore shipyard was launched from the [illegible] this afternoon. She slid into the water gracefully and without a hitch. Until the last minute it was expected that Secretary Tracy of the navy, and other heads of departments would arrive from Washington to witness the launch. They did not, however, put in an appearance. There was a great crowd present nevertheless, who cheered the handsome vessel as she left the ways. The Detroit is one of three sister ships of two thousand tons each for which bids were accepted in November, 1889.

Buried in the Ruins.

NEW ORLEANS, La., October 28.—A fire occurred this afternoon at the Brignolis station house on Royal street, located alongside of the Royal Concert saloon, in which a number of men were engaged in making repairs. The fire did not seem to be a serious one and the workmen attempted to remove their tools. While so engaged the lower floor of the Brignolis building fell in and this caused the Royal Concert saloon building also to collapse. Fifteen men were in it at the time, four of whom were either killed or buried in the ruins. Ben Schneider and Jackson Montague were severely injured, the former fatally. The collapse of the building was due to its inherent weakness, and it should have been condemned long ago.

Army Report.

WASHINGTON, October 28.—General William Smith, paymaster general of the army, has submitted his annual report to the secretary of war. The report says: "The paymasters during the year were charged with $15,611,754, and the amount expended by them was $15,196,408." The report shows a decrease in expenditure of $22,403. Of the amount expended during the past year all has been properly applied. The report dwells upon the great risk run by the paymasters on the frontier posts, as 1 of the responsibility of disbursements based on accounts which have been specially submitted for approval and can only be allowed upon the order of the secretary of war, yet such expenditure, it says, are disallowed by the treasury department in its final statement and are charged to the paymaster, whose only offence is obeying higher officers. As an example, the extra expenses resulting from court-martials, which have been approved by the secretary of war and have been disallowed by the treasury department, are cited.

FOR THE JEWS.

The Bureau of American Republics announces that the Argentine Government has sold a tract of land in the Grand Chaco, the northern part of the republic, to Baron Hirsch for the establishment of a Jewish settlement. One million dollars in gold has been paid for 10,000 square miles of territory.

PARAGUAY WILL PARTICIPATE.

The mails from the River Plate today bring the Diario Officiale of Paraguay, containing the passage of a law by the congress of that country authorizing the President to accept the invitation to participate in the World's Columbian exposition. The President is also authorized to use from the public funds a sum of money necessary to enable Paraguay to make a proper exhibition here of her resources and products. This acceptance completes the list of Latin-American republics, all of which have formally signified their intention to participate in the exposition, and in most of them appropriations have been made.

All Dead.

TUNIS, October 28.—The thirty Tunisians who were today buried by a falling wall are all dead.

A Patent Rain Maker.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, October 28.—John B. Ellis, who has been in charge of the government rain-making experiment conducted at Midland, El Paso and San Diego, has arrived here on his way to Mexico, where he goes at the invitation of prominent railway officials. In an extended interview he stated that he is well pleased with the success of the series of experiments, and believes that they have demonstrated that artificial rain-making is not only possible, but practicable.

Crooked City Officials.

DENVER, October 28.—Three ex-city officials of Denver realised tonight that the way of the alleged transgressor is hard. Today the grand jury brought in three bills of indictment against ex-City Treasurer William Bliss, ex-Deputy Treasurer James Hadley and ex-Deputy Auditor George Raymond, charging them with embezzlement, malfeasance and forgery. The accused were arrested tonight and lodged in jail where they will remain till the amount of the bond is fixed by the court. These indictments are the result of the work of the investigation committee, which reported some time ago that they had discovered gross irregularities in the books of the city treasurer and auditor. The alleged amount said to have been stolen is 345,000.

Battered by the Sea.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., October 28.—After a voyage of unusual severity the schooner Lanito, Captain Avery, leaking badly with her bows stove in and with an exhausted crew, was towed into this port yesterday. She is from Vineyard's Haven, laden with granite blocks. She was caught in a hurricane on Thursday and her heavy cargo placed her at the mercy of the waves. Lashed to the spanker boom by heavy ropes made fast under the armpits, the crew worked the pumps for two days and nights, suffering beyond description from hunger and thirst, as well as exposure. Seas swept every portable thing off the decks, and constantly imperiled the lives of the seamen. "I have followed the sea since 1858," said Captain Avery last night, "but never before experienced such a storm. We did not expect to reach port alive." The three-masted Philadelphia schooner Frank McDonnel, Captain Sam H. Haskell, which sailed from this port on September 29th for Lynn, Mass., is believed to have foundered at sea, and it is supposed that all hands, seven in number, have perished.

Publicity Ruined Them.

ST. PAUL, Minn., October 28.—Bushnell and Bushnell, a well-known real estate firm in this city, assigned today. The liabilities will probably reach half a million dollars. The assets will nearly equal this sum. The firm was known as the Standard Investment Company. The following statement has been made for publication. The immediate cause of our assignment is the commencement of two suits against the Standard Investment Company of St. Paul as makers, and Bushnell and Bushnell as generators of two notes of $5,000 and the garnishment in both cases of our bank accounts. The publicity given those proceedings has so curtailed our credit in the various money centres from which we usually obtain funds, as well as the legal hacks that we find it impossible to meet our obligations as they become due. If these suits are allowed to proceed to trial, and the parties should obtain judgment, it would give them a preference or advantage over our other creditors. Believing that our assets should be equally divided and that if they are carefully distributed they will pay all liabilities and leave a surplus, we have deemed it a duty to the creditors of both concerns to make assignment for the benefit of all creditors to the end that all may share alike.

CANADIAN NEWS.

Decision in the Manitoba School Appeal. Great Fire at Virden.

OTTAWA, Ont., October 28.—The Supreme Court today rendered a decision in the Manitoba school appeal. The decision condemns the act of the local legislature abolishing separate schools in the province as ultra vires and asserts the rights of the Catholics to have their children educated in separate schools if they so desire.

The Manitoba school act received a bad blow when the supreme court rendered judgment unanimously holding that the Roman Catholics of Manitoba had separate schools. The only absentee was Gwynne, who did not hear the argument on appeal. The judges decided that the appeal be allowed. They said it was the same system of Catholic schools that was in operation in Manitoba at the time it became a part of the Dominion of Canada, and that the public school act passed by the Manitoba legislature prejudicially affected the rights and privileges of Catholics in respect to the system of denominational schools, and it therefore violated the act admitting Manitoba into the union. Catholics having had preserved to them their rights in respect to defined schools, it was then beyond the power of the legislature to interfere with them. They held that it was clear under the act that the bylaws of the city of Winnipeg would prejudicially, both directly and indirectly, affect the Roman Catholic schools in that province, and therefore the act was ultra vires and by law could not be enforced.

AGAINST THE VAMPIRES.

The government has started a crusade at last against the horde of vampires who have been enriched out of the public treasury. At an early hour this morning M. Connolly of Larkin, Connolly & Co., was served by Commissioner Sherwood of the Dominion police, with a summons to appear before Police Magistrate O'Hara in Ottawa on Wednesday next, on a charge of conspiracy.

ALMOST WIPED OUT.

VIRDEN, Man., October 28.—A big fire occurred here this morning. The flames broke out in the Ottawa Hotel stable where over twenty horses were cremated, burning the building and stocks of Ramsay & Clingan, general store; Frame & Miller, hardware; Ottawa Hotel and stables; Huston's stables and McLelland's dwelling, all of which are a total loss. The fire crossed to the east side of Nelson street, setting fire to all the buildings on that side, namely: Wilmot & Co., general store; Higginbotham's, drugs; Jones, butcher shop; Schoonens, hardware; Fraser, flour and feed; McIntosh, butcher; Woodhouse, stationery; Foster, harness. By the exertions of the citizens all these buildings were saved from total destruction, although the stocks and buildings were badly damaged. The total loss is $50,000.

HIS WOUNDED FEELINGS.

MONTREAL, October 28.—The action by Mr. Chapleau against the Toronto Globe for $10,000 was entered in the courts here today.

GOING TO FIGHT IT.

The Ledger

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT LOAN BYLAW.

This bylaw is to be submitted to a vote of the ratepayers of this city today. Its object is to enable the civic authorities to borrow $25,000 to increase the electric light plant owned by the city. If this sum be borrowed and expended, the total outlay for the system will then amount to $100,000, or at least within $5,000 of that sum; it is impossible to tell exactly.

If we were advising the ratepayers how to vote on this question, we should be inclined to say, vote for the loan.

One good reason is this: the present plant, notwithstanding its great cost, does not appear to be able to supply the outlying portions of the city with lights for private use. The light is now being sold, to those who are within the limited bounds in which the light is supplied, at a price less than it costs to produce it. The deficiency is made up out of the general taxation. Therefore, those ratepayers living outside of the boundaries at present supplied are made to pay a share of the cost of lighting the houses within those boundaries. Thus, if as is said a further expenditure of $25,000 will give to all the opportunity of participating in the benefit of this service, it is just that it should be given them. It would be an injustice not to give it them.

We sincerely trust, however, that this $25,000 if granted will prove sufficient. It will be recollected that the first estimated cost of an efficient system was $30,000, then it was raised to $51,000, then to about $70,000, and now the proposition is to make it about $100,000.

The indebtedness of this city is being rolled up mountain high. The ratepayers were induced to agree to the bulk perhaps of the loans on the ground that they would be self-supporting by means of the revenue they would produce. So far these results have not been achieved. There will be a rate in the tax bill next year for electric lighting and for waterworks also. It cannot possibly be otherwise. The light has not paid expenses so far, and it would be fatuous to expect that the most daring civic financier would be bold enough to estimate for 1892 a surplus from the water supply. These public enterprises will need to be supported in part at least out of the current revenue probably for several years to come. There has been extravagance and waste in the manner in which the electric light plant was put in; every ratepayer knows that, who knows anything; a good many thousands have been lost to the city. We confess to much misgiving that the waterworks before completed will need nearer a half a million than the $380,000 now estimated.

One hundred and fifty thousand dollars or thereabout is needed for sewers. Where is the money coming from? And yet when anyone questions the prudence of some of the enterprises the city authorities are embarking in, and asks for an exposition of the civic ideas of ways and means to meet all the obligations that these enterprises will entail, he is straight set down as a [illegible] monopolist, or in league with such. That is the answer that meets every protest and argument against the shameful waste and extravagance that has been going forward the past couple of years.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Some remarkable statistics show that vessels sailing under the British flag still provide four-fifths of the traffic of the Suez Canal. Last year 2,611 British ships with a tonnage of 7,478,000 passed through that great waterway, as compared with 800 only of other nations, having a total tonnage of 2,000,000 only. Of this foreign tonnage France provided but 260,000, thus showing, as do abundant other facts, how small are French commercial interest in Egypt compared with those of our empire.

It is said that British marine underwriters are somewhat loath to accept the risk of insuring the new "whaleback" ocean freight steamers. It is, however, believed that this is only a temporary feeling that will soon pass away, as the safety of the new vessels is considered by those engaged in navigating them, to be fully assured. This being so, the whaleback freight vessels have a great future before them, possessing, as they do, such immense carrying capacity in relation to their size, and being therefore able to take cargoes at low rates, and yet yield their owners good profits.

A Seattle issue quotes from a resident on the American side of the Okanagan country, a deplorable picture of the lawlessness there prevalent, which markedly contrasts with the order and quietude usually maintained on the Canadian side. Liquor is, he says, in large quantities openly sold by degraded whites to Indians, amongst whom dangerous fights and disgraceful orgies are of daily occurrence, whilst among the settlers are many, who boast themselves fugitives from American justice and declare that they will never permit a United States marshall to enter the country, unmolested. This picture may be overdrawn; it comes however from the States and certainly cannot be paralleled anywhere in this Province.

HENRY VILLARD, the great American railway magnate, is now said to be assisting the inventor Edison in elaborating a plan for utilizing electric storage batteries on so large a scale, as even to supply transcontinental railway systems with sufficient motive power. Mr. VILLARD is no doubt aiding the inventor commercially rather than scientifically, but as he evidently means business, it seems fairly certain that we shall soon see a vigorous effort made to supersede steam power, on at least one of the great railways of the world. No electric railway as yet runs further than about a hundred miles, but if so long a distance can be thus measured, there seems no reason to doubt the further application of electrical motive power to lengths several thousand miles. We may even ere many years are past, see the C. P. R. traversing our continent by the sole force of electricity.

The Baptist convention of Ontario seems as troubled as the Rev. Mr. SPURGEON has lately been in England over the alleged growing unorthodoxy of the denomination. Fault is even found within the pages of their representative organ, the Canadian Baptist. When moreover a stalwart clerical defender of that organ defended it as being fully in line with the theological teaching of Macmaster University, the great Baptist educational institute of the Dominion, the reverend gentleman was promptly met by the rejoinder that the religious teaching of even the denominational university must be wrong also. Charges of unorthodoxy seem to be the order of the day just now among the churches, some of the doughtiest champions of enlightened Christianity being amongst the most assailed. The present divergence of views amongst the Ontarian Baptists does not, however, seem likely to produce any specially detrimental effects upon that religious body. The supporters of each view are no doubt practically inclined to adopt a conciliatory policy so long as no assault is anywhere made upon the fundamentals of Christianity.

The British Columbia Commercial Journal holds that ample justification for the government commission of enquiry into Victoria's municipal methods, is to be found in the fact that if things are as well managed as is officially declared, the investing world will learn this on impartial judicial authority. Our Victorian contemporary adds that "it cannot be mere prejudice that "has made financiers try to steer clear "of our bonds, and have as little to do "with them as possible. The moneyed "men of the old world are only too "anxious to discover profitable fields "for investment. They have almost an "infinite amount of money that they "are anxious to turn to better account, "and it might be that the result of the "labors of the commission will be an "immense blessing." If on the other hand, anything is seriously wrong, this must be disclosed at the enquiry, when local public opinion will soon supply a remedy. It is therefore difficult to see how any mischief can accrue from the proposed investingation which will cover the whole ground of municipal work and not, like a public enquiry suggested at Vancouver, deal only at considerable cost with a question of three or four dollars on an advertisement bill of no magnitude, even in the aggregate.

The Choral Union.

The Choral Union commences its eleventh season tomorrow, Friday night in St. Leonard's Hall, when all old members are expected to attend promptly at 8 o'clock, and new members who have sent in their names to the secretary, Mr. J. S. Clute, jr., will be proposed. There is every probability of a number of members joining from Vancouver, if arrangements can be made with the Tramway Company. An endeavor is also to be made to co-operate with the orchestra which assisted the Choral Union at one of their later concerts last season, in the production of one or two works entirely new to Westminster audiences. We wish the society a prosperous season.

Collision at Sea.

A gentleman well known in local sporting circles was out rowing in Wilson's outrigged skiff yesterday afternoon, and had the misfortune to run into one of the Westminster Rowing Clubs doubles propelled by two members of that organisation. The frail skiff's bow struck the starboard outrigger of the double and bent it badly, the skiff's bow being smashed to pieces with the force of the impact, planks split and joints started. The skiff began to fill with alarming rapidity and had to be towed to the shore which was fortunately near at hand. There were some dozen of energetic verbal expletives used on both sides but as no personal injury had been sustained the affair ended in good natured banter, and the skiffist towed the boat down to Wilson's.

Saturday's Aquatic Sports.

The competitors who have so far announced themselves for the double scull race on Saturday are E. H. Port and P. Pittendrigh; H. M. Martin and R. Kennedy; E. B. Deneehaud and T. L. Graham; J. Vanstone and G. Buck. Others are expected to enter before the day of the race, as the club has a few other strong couples who should be heard from. In the single scull races, senior and junior, several entries have been made. The senior single promises to be a hard contest as several of the participants have been training carefully and doing some good hard work in view of this contest. The course will be a mile and a half with a turn, in the direction of Liverpool. Two o'clock is mentioned as the probable time of starting the regatta, as the tide is then near the full.

Visiting the Lepers.

The Colonist reports that the steamer Alert, with Mr. J. Bailey, city sanitary officer, on board, left for Darcey Island lazaretto, on Tuesday morning, with the winter supplies for the five Chinese lepers. Arriving at the island and having landed the supplies, which consisted of Chinese merchandise and a large hog, which the Chinamen were craving for, the little party dispersed in all directions over the small farm. A variety of vegetables, with not a weed among them, and planted in small beds, with foot-paths intersecting, were the first things to command attention. A large quantity of wood, all ready for the stove, was piled neatly in and around the little shanties, and the half dozen chickens taken out to the island, on the second trip of the steamer, have multiplied to the number of thirty. Although the Chinamen are gradually wasting away, they seem to be very cheerful and energetic, and expressed, in their own way, the warmest thanks to the visitors. They all look well, considering their disease, and are quite satisfied with their home. The steamer left them about 1:30 o'clock, and the party had a delightful trip home, the water being quite smooth. Wild ducks are very numerous around the island.

A Blue Look Out.

Sealing men are looking very, very blue, and one has not to seek far for the cause, says the Colonist. The fall sales at London, which determine prices for the year, was held on Monday, and instead of sealskins being in strong demand, at higher figures, they found an overstocked market and purchasers who considered 60 shillings excessive. The ruling quotation was 57 shillings, or about $13, and at this price the only business done was transacted. Eighteen dollars, it will be remembered, was the standard price last season, and owing to the closing of Behring Sea and consequently light catch, those identified with the industry were hoping and expecting that on Monday $20 a skin would be freely offered. One prominent owner and operator of schooners goes so far as to say that if sealskins bring $8 net next year it will be to him an agreeable surprise. Buyers' agents here working upon the effects produced by the modus vivendi—the curtailed catch—have been accepting all skins offered on the arrival of the schooners, giving an advance of $14.50, $15, and even as high as $17 a skin. This necessitates refunds in nearly every case, and it is now a certainty that this season every schooner securing less than 1,000 has lost money. The receipt of the news from London has completely altered the position of affairs here, and several who had sent east to buy new schooners for the fleet have telegraphed cancelling their orders. The schooners now on their way round will meet with a profitless market, and some of the resident owners are now casting about to find other business for their floating property.

Talk as you will, it is the external appearance by which we judge a man at first sight, and first impressions are the most lasting. SOME STRANGE SUICIDES.

REMARKABLE INSTANCES OF INGENIOUS SELF-DESTRUCTION.

A Home-Made Guillotine—One Man Tried to Pull Down a Scaffold and Crush Himself—The Cool Attempt of Hunter the Murderer—Bridgeport's Suicide Club.

Statistics of suicides show that self-destruction is more prevalent among men than among women in all countries except France and Spain, where the proportion is about equal. Suicides among men are largely in a majority in Germany, the proportion being sixty-seven to thirty-three. In Ireland felo de se is rare, and among Africans it is almost unknown.

In America, with its polyglot population, the proportion is about the same as in the countries of the Old World, but the ingenuity and the determination displayed in a large number of instances have no counterpart anywhere else in the world. It remained for a Yankee boy in Connecticut to devise a method for ending his life, which has, in all probability, never had a parallel. Reproved or punished for some trifling offense, he went to his father's barn and spent three days in rigging up a guillotine, with which he successfully beheaded himself. Between a pair of grooved uprights he fixed a butcher's cleaver, sharpened to a razor-like edge. This he weighted on top with a box of scrap iron and stone weighing 200 pounds. From the top of the uprights to the bottom the distance was five feet, and the cleaver was held in position at the top by a rope reefed through a pulley and held by a wooden lever four feet in length. On the end of this lever he hung a large tin pail, in the bottom of which a small hole had first been bored. The pail was filled with water, which slowly dripped through the hole in the bottom. After these arrangements had been completed the lad placed his neck between the uprights directly in line with the cleaver. When the water in the pail had nearly all escaped the lever flew up, the rope was released and the sharpened blade fell like a flash. The head of the suicide was cut off clear and clean.

A SURE THING.

In March, 1883, a man boarded a ferryboat running between Philadelphia and Camden, N.J., and when the boat was in midstream he took a vial from his pocket containing prussic acid. He swallowed the contents, at the same time mounting the rail. Before the deck hands could check him the self-murderer leaped into the river and as he went overboard shot himself through the head with a bullet from a bulldog revolver. When his body was recovered and a post-mortem examination was made sufficient poison was found in his stomach to have killed a dozen men.

A few years ago a despondent German, who had lodgings on Grand street, near the Bowery, rigged up an old fowling-piece in front of a table, with the stock resting on the floor. He had first charged it heavily with powder and slugs. To the trigger he attached a string which was run around the table leg. The other end was tied to his foot. He had two revolvers of 42-calibre each in the right and left pocket of his sack coat. There was a pitcher of beer on the table. Thus the man drank with the muzzle of the gun pointing at his face. When he was ready to die he drew out the revolvers and placed the muzzles against either side of his head. As he pulled the triggers he jerked his foot. The three weapons exploded simultaneously. The gun had been improperly set and the charge went over his head. The bullet from the pistol in his left hand glanced upward and simply cut a groove through the scalp. The other bullet entered the brain, but did not have the effect even of producing unconsciousness, so the suicide arose, dragged gun and table across the room to a bureau, and there, picking up a razor, cut his throat from ear to ear. This caused death.

A MURDERER'S ATTEMPT.

One of the coolest and most deliberate attempts at suicide recorded is that of Benjamin Hunter, the murderer of John Armstrong, in Camden, N. J., in 1879. Hunter was confined in the "murderers' cage" in the county jail under charge of the deathwatch. He complained of chilliness one night and was permitted to wrap up his lower extremities in a blanket. He had previously torn off the rim of his tin cup with his teeth and had it concealed in his trousers pocket. Talking on commonplace topics to his guard, Hunter secretly took the jagged strip of tin from his pocket, and concealing his movements with the blanket, began cutting into an artery in his left leg. The blood spurted out in jets, and the flow was concealed by Hunter spreading the blanket out like a skirt. He became so weak that he was unable to continue the conversation and the guard's suspicions were aroused. He made an examination and found that the murderer was bleeding to death. Physicians were summoned, a ligature was applied and Hunter's life was saved. He was afterwards hanged and it was pretty generally believed that he was dead from fright and sedatives before the cord tightened around his neck.

A man named Nerdinger, living at No. 618 East Eleventh street, killed himself in April last with unusual deliberation. He went into a woodshed, and, placing a thin rope around his neck, tied the ends to a post. Then he walked around and around until he had strangled himself.

A tailor in Philadelphia took one of the blades of a pair of scissors, and, putting the point directly over his heart, pushed the blade slowly into his body by pressing the other end against the wall [illegible]

A SUICIDE CLUB.

A history of the Suicide Club, of Bridgeport, is well known. The organization was unique. Its members pledged themselves to become their own executioners and faithfully carried out their promises. Only two members were left out of twelve in March. One of these was Wendell Baum, the Secretary. He had pledged himself to self-destruction within a certain period and a few days before the time was up he came to New York and cut his throat. The President of the Club was, at last accounts, still alive, but if he keeps his pledge he cannot live beyond next March.

The favorite method of women for ending their lives is either by poison or drowning. There are more poisonings in Winter than in Summer, because, curiously enough, there is a decided aversion to the chill which follows a leap into the water. The statistics prove that beer-drinkers are more prone to die by their own hands than men who are addicted to strong liquor, or those who are total abstainers. The favorite time of life for snuffing it out is between the ages of forty-five and sixty. There has been no record of self-destruction by electricity.—N. Y. World.

Woman's Estimate of Time.

Perhaps it is not too much to assert that the majority of women have very inadequate conceptions of the value and extent of time. The man of business [illegible] what it means. It may mark the limit of banking hours, or the departure of an important train. Promptness is so large an essential in business circles, and a few wasted moments may mean so much of gain or loss or wasted opportunity, that men are forced to learn the value of time, and less frequently than women under-estimate its uses.

The woman who, in feminine parlance, "accomplishes" much is the woman who has learned to use and save her minutes. Many women who are really industrious think nothing of squandering ten or fifteen minutes in an unmeaning unsatisfactory chat with an acquaintance, and then wonder at the close of the day what has become of the hours. A very few misspent half hours destroy the day's usefulness. Almost as deplorable as the waster of time in gossip is the woman who never has time for a pleasant chat with her friend, and whose mind is so crowded with social or household cares that she inwardly grudges the time given to a caller.

There is a happy medium between these extremes, which it is well worth every woman's while to strive for. Time means golden opportunities for so many helpful, interesting occupations. Balzac says that in Paris everybody wants to find a twenty-fifth hour among the twenty-four. In our blessed America we are looking away beyond that, and would welcome the addition of a round dozen hours to the calendar day.—Harper's Bazar.

How the President is Elected.

The mechanism of the presidential election in the Argentine Republic works as follows: The president is elected for six years, and is installed on October 12th, the anniversary of the discovery of America. The last year of a presidential term is one of elections. On February 12th are renewed a third part of the Senators and Deputies of the National Congress, which will say the last word in the election of the new President. On the 12th of April takes place in each province the election of the electors of the second degree, who, being chosen outside of the members of Congress, and in double their number for each province, meet on June 12th to designate the candidate for the presidency who has their preference. These delegates accomplish this operation in the capitals of their respective provinces, and designate the President and the Vice-President by means of signed personal ballots, which are delivered to the legislature of the province, and then sealed and transmitted to the President of the National Congress, who opens and examines them in presence of a quorum composed of at least two-thirds of the members of that assembly. In case a candidate has obtained an absolute majority for either office, he is immediately nominated by Congress; if, on the other hand, no candidate has an absolute majority, Congress selects among those who have received most votes, and in a single session appoints President and Vice-President.—Theodore Child, in Harper's Weekly.

Paid Off in His Own Coin.

A remarkable case of "diamond cut diamond" occurred in Boston recently, not far from the Providence railroad station. A druggist had fitted up a neat corner store and had established at once a fine trade. One day another druggist entered his store and said: "I want to buy you out. How much will you take?" "I do not want to sell," was the reply. "I expected that answer," said the encroaching person, "and I am prepared for it. Now, if you don't sell out to me I will open a drug store in opposition on the opposite corners. How much will you take?" The druggist, offended at this species of browbeating, said he would sleep on it and report the next morning. At the appointed hour the aspirant was in the store and a large price was named. The bargain was bound. The druggist who had been thus ousted from a corner which he had fitted up with a view to years of peace and profit, sought the owners of the opposite corner which had been held out to him as a threat, secured from them a long lease, worked night and day and now has a drug store in which any community might take satisfaction and repose confidence. What is more, he is doing a better business than he did in the former locality.—(Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

His Rise in the World.

"Mikery," she observed stiffly, "you certainly have changed! What has come over you lately to make you so haughty?

"Miss Twilling," stiffly replied the young man, "while the pleasant relations which have heretofore existed between us will, I trust, remain unchanged, at the same time I find it necessary to maintain the proper amount of dignity to accordance with the more exalted position which I now hold in society. You are evidently not aware of the fact, but I have recently invested some of my capital in, and I am now wearing, a suit of genuine silk underwear."—Clothier and Furnisher.

Managing Editor (sternly)—Young man, that's no joke.

Fashions and Customs of the Dark Continent.

There is a sad monotony in our European fashions. Even the so-called changes are often fugues on a trivial theme, or thinly-disguised variations and reproductions of forgotten trivialities. Our new communications and lively interest in the gentle inhabitants of Central Africa may suggest some startling novelties. Besides the graceful extravagances of their head-dress—which, however, hardly beat those of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, reconstructed for the public edification a few years since by Mr. Lewis Wingfield, and which may yet live again—there are many varieties among our new African proteges of the way they wear their heads. The ruling families of the Muniettu tribe flatten their skulls so as to elongate their heads. The Bari apply pressure first in front of the ears so as to heighten the head in that place. The Beli distinguish themselves by extracting the four front teeth of the lower jaw. Then there is a variety of ways of wearing a tail, which beat the Court train of the modern beauty in simplicity and perhaps in grace. The Madi wear cotton tails, which swing when they dance. Elsewhere a lady limits her costume to a twig arranged as a tail, and manages to seat herself at a court function with this appendage in a graceful and dignified manner without throwing it over her arm, and with the intervention of a chamberlain. In the matter of eating, they are catholic and omnivorous, and nothing comes amiss, from a banana—which furnishes food, and when fermented, drink—to a fat pig or a deceased wife's sister, who give little trouble there to legislators. Owing to their reticence as to their burial customs—for which dark reasons are suggested—it is difficult to pursue this branch of anthropological osteological research. It will be seen, from the gravier gleanings which we publish elsewhere, that there is much to interest the physician and the anthropologist. Dr. Emin Pasha's diary is a mine of dry but instructive reading on this subject.—(Emin Pasha in Central Africa) British Medical Journal.

As no one was the worse for liquor on the streets lately, there was a clear slate in the police court yesterday morning; one good result of the rainy weather is that it keeps all the drunks indoors, although there is no denying that it also adds fuel to the craving to indulge in the cup that both cheers and inebriates.

He chose a jury trial and was returned to jail to await the assizes. It is said that Hayden, a few days ago, telegraphed to his wife in Whatcom to come to his rescue with sympathy and funds. So far no reply has been received to the message.

The favorable weather yesterday afternoon brought the local carsmen out in swarms, and the river was dotted with every description of craft capable heavy fishing boat to the racing skiff; the air was perfectly still and hardly a ripple disturbed the surface of the river. Some good time was made over the championship course, and some preferred the direction of Liverpool for their spin.

Last night's evening paper asks its readers if they did not get a headache trying to unders'and something in yesterday morning's LEDGER. The readers might but the LEDGER will be bound the Columbian didn't, for the simple reason that a headache is a brain disorder and the Columbian hasn't got any, so far as its published lucubations go. As for the mud part of the awfully sarkastick attack why, what more natural than the evening paper should draw its inferences, metaphors and similes from that in which it walloweth continually?

I. O. G. T. Meeting.

At the regular meeting of Dominion Lodge No 4, held last evening in their own hall the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: C. T., E. V Babstone; Q. T., Miss L. Latham; secretary, Thomas Park; financial secretary, John McMurphy; treasurer, Mrs. J. Baker; S. J. T., Miss M. Gilley; chap. J. Smith; mar. W. Milne, guard, Miss M. Ackerman; sent. James Latham; P. C. T., A. E. Parker. There was a very large attendance present, and the grand secretary of the grand lodge was also present, and by request occupied the chair. From the grand secretary it was learned that the order throughout the province is in a progressive condition, and several new lodges will be instituted shortly.

A Rising Firm.

Messrs F. J. Coulthard & Co., real estate, financial and insurance agents, will in future do business in the premises in the Public Library building lately occupied by W. F. Beggs, tailor. Although a comparatively young firm Messrs Coulthard & Co. have built up a fine business and established for themselves an enviable reputation for promptness, business-like methods and integrity. In securing such desirable premises, centrally located on Westminster's finest thoroughfare, Messrs Coulthard are to be congratulated, and no doubt the extensive patronage with which they have been favored in the past will be augmented in their new and elegant business quarters.

"The Burglar."

The fair repute of the Grismer-Davies combination as an excellent company of actors ensured a large attendance at Herring's Opera House last night, when they produced Augustus Thomas' comedy drama "The Burglar." It is a piece full of most interesting dramatic situations, affording scope for artists of high order. The title role was assumed by Mr. Grismer, and he played the part with a strength and brilliancy that quite justified all the high praises that have been showered on this well known actor. Miss Davies played Alice, the wife, with great skill and effectiveness, forming a capital setting for the master part in the drama. The support was without exception excellent, and the play was run off altogether in first class style. Each player appeared thoroughly devoted to his or her part, and there is not a weak one in the cast. The performance was marked with intelligence, always in good taste, no straining. The acting of little Laura Crews was astonishing for a child so young. As a whole, probably no drama has ever been more acceptably produced at Herring's.

A Purse in Chancery.

Mr. A. B. Mackenzie returned from Victoria yesterday. While there he had a talk with Ned Hanlan, during which that gentleman expressed his intention of coming over to Vancouver as soon as his race with Stephenson was over, as he has a little outstanding account in the terminal city that he would very much like to collect (if possible.) Hanlan went out to Shawnigan Lake yesterday and will stay there till after the race, when he will probably visit Westminster, that is, if the little Vancouver business transaction does not occupy all his remaining time on the coast. Vancouver will probably receive more than $500 worth of free advertising of the wrong kind in the eastern papers over the funny fake attempted upon Mr. Hanlan, as he is certain to be interviewed by all the leading newspapers on his return. Some $40 of the amount has been collected and the rest is —— well, the rest is still uncollected. When the clouds balance; at present whistling is in order by Mr. Hanlan, but all his well-wishers hope he may get it.

To be Decided Today.

Today takes place the polling on the Electric Loan Bylaw No. 2,, commencing at 9 a. m., and ending at 5 p. m. The polling places are situated as follows: In Ward No. 1, at the house of Frank Davis, No. 1,408, Sixth avenue, in said ward; in Ward No. 2, at the office of the late Dominion Sawmill Company, Columbia street, in said ward; in Ward No. 3, at the City Hall, in said ward; in Ward No. 4, at the residence of George Pittendrigh, Columbia street, in said ward; in Ward No. 5, at the Orange Hall, St. John street, in said ward.

Football at the Park.

The Rugby football men had a good turn out at the park yesterday afternoon, when about twenty players took part in a practice game. This afternoon another good turn out is requested as the team picked for next Saturday intend to play all comers, and beat them, too; so if any body wishes to air his proficiency at this fine old game, all he has to is go up to the park after luncheon and say so and the members of the team will be most happy to rush him around with much vigor for the rest of the afternoon. Everybody should make a point of attending the match on Saturday next, it will cost the nominal sum of only 15 cents to witness as fine sport as there is to be seen on the coast; this too is the first match of the season and all should endeavor to encourage by their presence and interest the gentlemen composing the team that is to uphold the honor of New Westminster this season in the football field.

Winter Lectures.

The management of the Y. M. C. A. have arranged for an interesting series of lectures to be given during the coming winter. The subjects are of living popular interest, by able exponents and will not fail to draw crowded houses on each occasion. The first lecture will be delivered by Dr. Boggs of this city on December 16th, his subject being "Hygiene and Sanitation." The next will be by Mr. M. M. Myers, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Tacoma, and he takes for his subject, "California Illustrated." On February 19th Rev. J. W. Pedley of the Congregationalist Church, Vancouver, will deliver a lecture on "Les Miserables." Such a subject in the hands of a gentleman of Mr. Pedley's intellectual capacity should prove a rare treat, both to those who have read the marvellous creation of Hugo and those who have not. The admission to these lectures will be the small sum of 25 cents for non-members. Members will be admitted free. The Y. M. C. A. has added unto itself lately a Boys' Branch, which has now a membership of twenty. The Boys' Branch is under the management of Mr. George Grant, who, once a week puts the little fellows through a course of gymnastics; and another evening of the week is devoted to debates, social games and other amusements. On Tuesday evening last Mr. James Bloomfield, artist, gave the juniors a chalk talk, being assisted by Mr. Grant, who did the lecturing while Mr. Bloomfield gave his pencil and imagination free rein to the great delight of the boys. Secretary Davie expects a busy season this winter, as the membership keeps growing steadily. The swimming baths will be open for service next week.

Some Remarkable Cures.

The science of Physical Optics has advanced of late years to such an extent that not only is defective vision made perfect, but relief is given to the whole system through the agency of the eyesight. This is so especially in cases of chronic headaches of years' standing, which in most cases is now cured in a day by properly adjusted glasses and without the aid of medicine.

During the short time Prof. Seward, the celebrated scientific optician of New York, has been in the Province he has cared over fifty cases of chronic headaches of years' standing, and already several cases in Westminster have been entirely cured.

The Vancouver World of Sept. 20th speaks of one case in particular in that city as follows: "Dr. Burritt, a leading dentist of this city, has reason to feel grateful for the work done in his family by Dr. Seward, the New York optician. In the case of his youngest daughter, whose sight was being ruined by the glasses obtained from a store, which compelled her to give up her studies, Prof. Seward has succeeded in restoring her vision by the aid of properly adjusted glasses, which has not only enabled her to return to school, but has actually been the salvation of her eyesight. Another daughter, whose eyes had been slightly turned for a number of years, and who had suffered many years from severe headaches, also had glasses adjusted by Prof. Seward, which not only cured her headache in one week, but straightened her eyes without the slightest operation. There is a large number of cases, especially among the children, that have been greatly benefited, and altogether the professor's visit has been a blessing to Vancouver."

Prof. Seward's parlors are now at the Queen's Hotel, New Westminster, where he will remain for a short time. This is the last city of the province to visit before returning east. *

A Pointer to the Public.

District Lot No. 28 lies immediately adjoining the city limits. The continuation of Mary Street goes directly through it, and the Electric Tramway will in a couple of months be running its cars every hour of the day through the centre of this property. The lot (No. 28) is composed of 128 acres of land as level as a table. Contracts have been let to clear and grub the ground, and leave it in perfect condition for building purposes. Already six citizens have decided to erect handsome residences there, ragging in price from $4,000 to $7,000 each. The whole of this splendid piece of property (except some limited portions already disposed of) will be put on the market in a few weeks. One great advantage in buying a lot and erecting a residence on this property is that the owner will avoid heavy municipal taxation. Make a note of it, and wait till the property is put on the market before
