Strange Fortunes of Count Zeicthy and His Lady Love—Wilhelm in Clover Among the Londoners—Nothing But Compliments, Sweet Speeches and Confectionery—The Prince of Wales Hooted—He Heeds it Not—Sardinian Brigands on the War Path.

VIENNA, July 10.—A romance in high life has been made known to the public through the circumstance attending the marriage of Count Ernest Zeichy, a Hungarian magnate, and Mrs. Etelka Fischel, nee Steinfeld. The couple had been lovers in their earlier youth, but Etelka's father compelled her to marry a wealthy man of her own race and religion, named Fischel. The parents of Count Zeichy also brought pressure to bear upon him which led to his marrying the Baroness Lopreste. Etelka's father repented when he saw that his daughter's life was miserable because of the ill-assorted marriage which he had insisted upon, and when he was on his death bed his remorse led him to make arrangements by which a divorce was procured. Count Zeichy on learning that his beloved was free again also obtained a divorce, renewed his suit for the affections of the fair Etelka, was accepted and lost no time in beginning the arrangement for the marriage, but here a new difficulty arose. The Count being a Catholic no priest would marry him to a Jewess. This obstacle was quickly and easily overcome by the Count's renouncing his religion and declaring himself a Protestant.

Will Test the Case.

LONDON, July 10.—Mr. Paternoster, a delegate of the Seaman's Union, who had been sent to Denmark to organize a branch of the union in that country, was recently expelled by the Danish Government. He appealed to Lord Salisbury for redress, but the complaint was ignored. Mr. Paternoster is now about to return to Denmark and court arrest and trial. He proposes in case he is again interfered with to appeal to Unionists throughout the world to subscribe the funds necessary to defray the expense of his trial and to vindicate the cause of unionism in Denmark.

SLAVIN'S OPINION OF THE KAISER.

Your correspondent met Frank Slavin elbowing his way through the throng in the Strand today, after the great procession in honor of the German Emperor. Slavin was exulting over the fact that he had just floored four fellows who were attempting to ply their trade as pickpockets in the crowd. When asked what he thought of the Kaiser, Slavin remarked critically that he was a small-boned man, but looked gritty; in these respects he differed from Sullivan who was big boned but without grit. Slavin added that he would quickly prove the truth of this statement if Sullivan would give him a chance. "There is £27,000 laid on me here," said Slavin. "Sullivan is a swaggering bully, fond of low company and naturally following their ways."

WELCOMED TO OLD LONDON.

After returning to Buckingham Palace from visiting the naval exhibition, the Kaiser prepared for his grand entry to the city proper or old London. English, Scotch and Irish battalions of the regulars lined the streets. They had been brought from Aldershot for the purpose, having been encamped during the night in Richmond Park. The route of the procession was by way of the Strand, Fleet street and Ludgate Hill. Enormous crowds filled the streets, and every point of vantage was thronged with spectators. The German Kaiser and Kaiserin had a most brilliant staff. They rode amid the loud plaudits of the multitude; the Prince of Wales, who acted as the Kaiser's escort, also being heartily applauded. The German celebrities in the suite of the Kaiser also shared in the favor of the multitude, as they happened to be known to the British public.

When at 12:05 p. m. the Imperial carriage reached Guildhall, the approaches there were found to be covered with handsomely designed mottoes bearing in English and German text expressions of greeting to the illustrious guests of the nation. At the entrance of Guildhall stood Lord Mayor Savory, the city aldermen and sheriffs, all arrayed in full robes of office. The procession to the library was formed without delay, and when order was secured, the recorder began reading the address to his majesty. The address declared that the corporation of the City of London desired to offer to his majesty and his imperial spouse a sincere welcome to English shores, and to the capital of the British Empire. The corporation sees in the visit a happy augury for the maintenance of those friendly and affectionate relations so long existing between the two nations. Turning towards the Empress the recorder, still reading from the address, especially welcomed her, and expressed the hearty appreciation by the people of London and England of her presence in their midst. The address concluded with the prayer that their majesties might be long spared to rule over a prosperous and united nation and a happy people. The address, enclosed in a splendid gold casket, enamelled and decked with precious stones, was then formally presented to the Kaiser and Kaiserin. In responding to the address his majesty expressed heartfelt thanks for the warm welcome.

WILL MAINTAIN PEACE.

His majesty paid an affectionate tribute to Queen Victoria, who, he said, will ever be remembered not only as a noble character, but as a lady great in wisdom. The Emperor then declared that following the example set by his illustrious grandfather and ever-lamented father, he should always do his utmost to maintain the historical friendship between England and Germany. He felt encouraged in his task when he saw wise and capable men such as were gathered about him, do justice to the earnestness and honesty of his intentions. His aim was above all to maintain peace, for peace alone can give the confidence necessary for the healthy development of science, art and trade. The Emperor then concluded as follows: "You may therefore rest assured that I shall continue to do my best to maintain and constantly increase the good relations of Germany with other nations. I shall always be found ready to unite with you and then in peaceful progress, friendly intercourse and the advancement of civilization." This concluded the ceremonies attending the presentation and acceptance of the address. The imperial party were then entertained at luncheon served in the library.

GENERAL ENTHUSIASM.

Persons who watched the imperial and royal progress through the city today, say that they noticed gleams of anxiety in passing the side streets where the special guards of cavalry were stationed, but after passing St. Paul's, the anxiety was evidently succeeded by ease and confidence. The occasional hooting at the Prince of Wales by people here and there in the crowd was a nothing compared with the enthusiasm shown in the waving of handkerchiefs and showering of flowers on the royal party. At the new law courts, where many of the upper classes reside, the street was carpeted with floral tributes, and generally along the line the Kaiser was even more of a target for flowers than British royalty. Nothing disturbed the order that reigned throughout the whole progress except one slight incident. Just before reaching Ludgate Circus there was an alarm of fire. The engines rushed into St. Paul's Churchyard, breaking through the lines of guards, but so skillfully were the engines managed that their presence and active use did not spoil the procession or seriously interfere with the popular view to it. However, the driver of the carriage containing Sheriff Augustus Harris fainted, and the horses bolted. A plucky man in the crowd stopped the animals, and Mrs. Harris herself, in a fainting condition from fright, was lifted out and taken to the residence of Colonel North. There restoratives were applied, and she revived. The casket containing the civic address to the Kaiser is a gorgeous product of the arts of goldsmith and jeweller. The whole frame work is of 18 carat gold. It is richly decked with enamels and precious stones, and various designs are engraved thereon, including German eagles and city griffins holding the arms of London. The eyes of the griffins are of diamonds, and the cross in the imperial arms is of diamonds. When Mayor Savory handed the casket to the Kaiser he bowed almost low enough to kow tow. The Kaiser led the lady Mayoress to luncheon and the Lord Mayor had the honor of escorting the Kaiserin. The Prince and Princess of Wales followed and then other members of the royal houses. The Kaiser sat on the Mayor's right and the Kaiserin on his left. The Kaiser started on the return at 3:20 going by way of the Thames embankment.

While the crowd were waiting to see the returning procession, many fights took place between the police and the rougher element, who vented their impatience in disorderly conduct. When the carriage of the Prince of Wales appeared on the return journey the rougher element, now very numerous, gave the Prince beside whom was seated the Princess, a distinctly hostile reception. The cheers being faint as compared with the jeers and hootings, the Prince looked straight ahead as he passed and made no pretense of saluting. The crowd warmly cheered the Duke of Connaught. It should be stated that in the procession to the Guildhall in the earlier part of the day, the Prince of Wales and other members of the English royal family preceded the Kaiser by fully an hour, in order to let the Kaiser and Kaiserin be the main figures in the subsequent procession. The Kaiser wore countless decorations and responded to the huzzas with a mechanical and very frequent salute. In the city proper, the crowds were so dense that numerous accidents occurred. Many fainted in the crush and the ambulance corps was kept busy.

AN IRISH TRAGEDY.

A leading Irish detective has just gone to the United States to search for an important witness in a supposed case of mysterious murder. The body of an aged clerk of sessions, named Thompson, at Enniskillen, was recently found buried beneath a rose tree in his garden, horribly mutilated and bearing evidence of chopping, sawing and partial burning. Thompson's daughter-in-law is under arrest on suspicion of having in concert with her lover, committed the crime. Thompson's opposition to the intimacy of the couple is supposed to have been the reason for the murder. The lover disappeared after the tragedy, and is supposed to be in America, where he is being sought.

ENGLAND'S POPULATION.

The result of the recent census of England and Wales announced the total population as 29,000,018; an increase of 3,026,752, or 1.65 per cent, over the previous census.

RACES AT SANDOWN.

This was the first day of the Sandown Second Summer Meeting. The race of the day was for the Eclipse Stakes of 10,000 sovereigns, the second horse to receive 500 sovereigns, the nomination of the winner 500 sovereigns, and the third 100 sovereigns out of the stakes, for three and four year olds. The race was won by Surefoot, with Gouverneur second and Commons third. Nine horses started.

Sardinian Brigands.

ROME, July 10.—Brigandage is on the increase in Sardinia, though the Government has been more than usually active in attempting to enforce order during the past year. Advices from the Islands show that two bands of outlaws, one having about one hundred members, and the other seventy, are gradually becoming the real rulers of the province, plundering villages and levying blackmail at will without fear of successful resistance on the part of the local authorities. The Italian Government is now aroused to the necessity of heroic measures and has ordered a whole battalion of infantry to proceed to the scene of the lawlessness.

Mysteriously Disappeared.

A horse and buggy belonging to Mr. G. R. Ashwell disappeared in a rather mysterious way on Tuesday last, says the Progress. The horse attached to the rig was driven by Mr. Ashwell to the bank of Hope slough and tied to a tree there, the owner crossing the stream to look after some work on his farm on the opposite side. When he returned he missed the horse and rig, and concluded the animal had been removed by some members of the family. Not finding that the case he proceeded to investigate matters and discovered marks of the wheels down the steep bank and into the water, and it is supposed the horse by some means became untied, was thirsty and went down to the river to drink, and getting beyond its depth sank to the bottom and was seen no more.

For the Championship.

This afternoon the return match between the Westminster and Vancouver lacrosse clubs will take place on Brockton Point grounds at Vancouver. A steam ferry will fly between Vancouver and the grounds. A great deal of interest is generally felt in the match, and many people will go over from Westminster to witness it. Local sports, it is said, have a considerable amount of money up on the result of the game. Both teams are in good condition, and the play will be very close and spirited. The Westminster team will be composed as follows: Coldwell, goal; Mackenzie, point; Campbell, cover point; Ketchum, Cambridge and Steuart, defence field; Van Allan, centre; Allan, Turner and Ryal, home field; McGregor, outside home; Brouse, inside home. Mr. James Gow will officiate as field captain.

The following will represent Vancouver: Goal, J. Quinn; point, A. E. Suckling; cover point, A. E. Swift; defence field, H. E. Rankin, M. Peard, E. Scurry; center field, D. Smith; home field, E. Nicholls, E. Quigley, J. B. Simpson; outside home, R. Frost; inside home, L. Draper; captain, J. Smith.

GOVERNOR HILL

DAVID DECLARES HIS INTENTION TO RUN FOR PRESIDENT.

He Counts Upon the New York Delegation—Two Expert Accountants Appointed in the McGreevy Case—The Grenadier Guards Called Home Again—Russian Jews Not Particularly Welcome in America—Rapid Mail Carrying, Yokohama to London in 23 Days.

NEW YORK, July 10.—The Evening World says that W. Scott Ray, of the Shelbyville (Ind) Democrat, which paper for some time past has announced Hill and Gray as a presidential ticket for 1892, is now in this city and claims to have the authority of Governor Hill for publishing his name as that of a presidential aspirant. He says that he came here as the authorized agent of ex-Governor Gray to ascertain what Hill's intentions were, and that the latter told him he was in the race and would have the New York delegation. Governor Hill also told him, he says, to have the Indiana delegation instructed for Gray.

PLENTY OF TROUBLE.

The steamer Cyril arrived here today from Manoas, Brazil, and confirms the report of an insurrection at that place. Eighteen men were killed during the revolt. A fire was raging in the town as the steamer left Manoas. What proportions it assumed the Cyril's officers could not say.

AGAINST EUROPEAN YACHTS.

An important ruling was received from Washington today at the custom house, affecting the owners of European yachts. Hereafter all yachts built abroad sailing in American waters without documents, will be charged tonnage at the port of entry, at the rate of 50 cents per ton. It is apprehended that the matter will work such a hardship as to cause the ruling to be carried to the United States supreme court for interpretation of the law.

CANADIAN NEWS.

TWO EXPERTS APPOINTED.

OTTAWA, July 10.—There was a slim attendance at the morning's meeting of the Privileges and Elections committee. Osler, counsel for the public works department, proposed a resolution for the appointment of two expert accountants, representing the government and Tarte, for the purpose of examining all books, papers, etc., bearing on the charges, and reporting thereon in concise form without making any finding. Sir John Thompson regarded the proposal as a good one. Osler proposed the name of Cross, a Toronto bookkeeper, as the government expert. Finally, after a lengthy discussion, the committee adopted Osler's resolution, the wording of which was slightly amended. Cross and Lang of Toronto, representing the government and Tarte respectively, were appointed the officials. The committee also passed an order calling for the production of all bank and other books of Hon. Thomas McGreevy and Mr. T. Larkin. The chairman was instructed to secure the attendance of John Moore of Portland, Maine, and John Hanrahan of Quebec. The examination of Mr. Nicholas Connolly was then resumed by Geoffrion. The government is almost certain to accept the resignation of chief engineer Perley, who has been suspended, the assistant engineer performing the duties of the office.

Nicholas Connolly was examined in the Tarte inquiry. Several letters caused much amusement by references to public men. He said he was in the habit of calling politicians he knew intimately "his uncles." He went with his brother to see Baker and Shakespeare about lengthening the Esquimalt dock. His brother had not told the truth when he referred to these two members as "a brace of pirates." There never had been any suggestion of payment for their services. The only thing said was by Shakespeare who told Connolly that if it was necessary that Baker and he should go to Ottawa on this matter that they ought to have their expenses paid and the cost of telegrams refunded. He did not believe the two members received a cent. He always regarded them as perfect gentlemen. Nothing was paid the newspapers for agitating the lengthening. Public feeling in Victoria was strongly favorable to the increase.

Four officers of the Canadian militia have just written examination papers for commissions in the Imperial army, the first occasion on which candidates presented themselves, one being from Montreal and two from Halifax.

Perley's resignation has undoubtedly been accepted. The question now is whether he will receive superannuation. There is a strong feeling that he should get it.

There is considerable commotion in the civil service relative to the discovery that certain prominent clerks have been in the habit of drawing extra pay, contrary to the Civil Service Act. It is expected that there will be a general enquiry on the subject.

Kingston is making a strong bid to get a grant from the government for the Macdonald Institute.

Premier Abbott told a railroad deputation yesterday that owing to the remission of the sugar duties, there would be no railway subsidies this year.

BOUND FOR BEHRING SEA.

Sir George Baden-Powell and Dr. Dawson, the British commissioners to Behring Sea, left for the Pacific coast last night. They will be conveyed to the sea by the steamer Danube, which has been chartered by the British government for that purpose.

QUICKEST ON RECORD.

TORONTO, Ont., July 10.—A telegram from London to the Globe says: Letters have just been delivered in London from Yokohama, via Vancouver, in twenty-three days. This is the quickest delivery on record, being five days less than the official estimate in the post-office guide, and seventeen days less than the average.

WILL CAUSE A WAIL.

Hotel keepers and saloonists have decided to increase the price of whisky to ten cents per glass, and to make the standard for five-cent beer not more than twelve ounces.

CHAMPION WRESTLERS MATCHED.

MONTREAL, July 10.—W. H. Quinn, champion wrestler of the Pacific coast, and John McMahon, champion of the world, have signed articles of agreement for a match for the championship of the world and $650 a side, to take place in Montreal about the 24th inst.

RETURN OF THE GRENADIERS.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 10.—The troop ship Orontes, which is to take the Grenadier Guards back to England arrived in Bermuda today. The Guards have become very popular since their advent in Bermuda, and the natives will be sorry to lose them. The Guards, however, are delighted to get home and escape the hot weather.

TELEPHONE MONOPOLISTS.

The Bell Telephone Company has absorbed the Federal Telephone Company of this city, and again enjoys the monopoly of the telephone business in Canada.

Burnt to Death.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, July 10.—The home of J. E. Hannegan, general passenger agent of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern railway was burned this morning. Miss Huff, a servant girl, perished in the flames.

The Rumor Contradicted.

BAR HARBOR, Maine, July 10.—The report that Secretary Blaine was dangerously sick as published in a western paper is false and without foundation. Everyone who sees Mr. Blaine riding and walking about the streets says he is steadily improving and there is every prospect that he will be a well man by the end of the summer.

Prospects Good.

NEW YORK, July 10.—In Canada the crop prospects appear to be uniformly excellent, exerting a favorable influence on general trade. Orders for drygoods are noticeable and demands for groceries are active. The Dominion reports 33 business failures this week against 42 last week, and 32 this week last year. The total number from January 1st to date is 1,044 against 905 last year.

Has Really Resigned.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Austin Corbin admitted today the truth of the report telegraphed from Philadelphia that he had resigned as director of the New Jersey Central Railway. He said that he had closed out all his holdings in that company and that it would therefore be improper for him to continue in the board. His resignation will be acted upon at the meeting in August.

They Don't Want Them.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 10.—Assistant Secretary Nettleton has instructed Acting Superintendent of Immigration O'Beirne at Few York, in view of the published fact in foreign newspapers that destitute Russian Jews are being sent to the United States at the instance of officials of foreign governments, to exercise especial care in their examination. The matter, he intimates, is becoming the subject of diplomatic correspondence. He says: "In case it is decided to bring this matter to the attention of foreign governments, it would be essential to keep the department well informed on all particulars when it is found that such immigrants are arriving at our ports. You are therefore requested to closely question any Russian Jews who may arrive as immigrants at your port, and if you find any who have been diverted from their original destination to this country, you will take and record such testimony, together with the names and official rank of persons who are active in the matter, and promptly send the facts to the department.

Voting on the Bylaws.

The result of the voting for the various bylaws yesterday showed that an average of 185 votes was recorded on each bylaw as follows: Water Works Bylaw, for, 173; against, 12. Electric Light Bylaw, for, 155; against, 31. Steam Ferry Bylaw, for, 121; against, 61. Fire Loan Bylaw, for, 116; against, 65. It will be noted that there was little opposition, and it was also remarked that the number of votes polled was very small compared with the number of ratepayers in the city.

Mill for Centreville.

Mr. James Tretheway, an experienced miller from Mission, B. C., contemplates the erection of a saw and grist mill, at Elk Creek in Chilliwack, at an early date. The machinery for the mill is on the way, and all arrangements are made for the construction of the works. The location is one of the best sites to be found anywhere, having a never failing stream of water falling from a perpendicular height of over 200 feet, which is to be used as the motive power for the mill. The farmers are ready to turn out and convey the machinery from the steamer landing to the mill site, and otherwise assist in the project gratis.—Chilliwack Progress.

Glanders, the Equine Leprosy.

Mr. W. Moresby, of the Provincial jail, went down to the western end of Sea Island yesterday for the purpose of destroying a horse which was suffering from glanders. He found the disease in an advance stage and had the animal shot at once and the carcass burned to ashes as an effectual means of preventing contagion. This animal was one of three which arrived lately from the east at Vancouver in a special car. Upon arrival there the animals were examined, glanders was detected and two of the animals shot on the spot. The one destroyed yesterday at Sea Island was taken there in the hope that a cure might be effected. It was a very valuable trotting horse of well bred stock, and every effort was made to save its life. Glanders is like cancer, tetanus or leprosy, the chances of cure are so infinitely small. The disease is fortunately not common, and if taken in hand when the earliest symptoms appear may be driven out of the system. The symptoms of a pronounced case are staring coat, glazed eyes, stertorous breathing, swellings of various sizes at different parts of the body that soon suppurate and exude offensive pus; coldness about the extremities; extreme salivation and drooling, and the one great, infallible sign—granulations on the membrane covering the cartilaginous partition of the nose; also on the mucous membrane generally, inside the nostrils. Later, purulent pus begins to reach the nasal orifices and the animal frequently raises his head and snorts, casting the impeding matter from his nose, somewhat as an enraged llama vents its wrath at the offending object. The deadly nature of this pus may be understood when it is related that a veterinary surgeon, a short time ago attending a valuable mare badly affected with glanders, took the animal by the chin to examine her nostrils. Just as he had brought the nose level with his eyes she "blew," as the ostlers call it, and some of the matter flew into the corner of his eye. He wiped it away with a handkerchief, but in ten days he died in horrible agony from the blood poisoning thus engendered. No precautions are too stringent in dealing with this disease. Complete isolation is imperative and rigid disinfection and fumigation; all blankets, bandages, pails, shovels, forks, baskets and ropes used about the animal, even the outbuilding used as a loose box are better burned. This is generally done in eastern cities where the disease has been detected and the animals quarantined.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

At the last session of the Ontario Legislature, compulsory education was pretty well discussed during the course of a debate on an Act for the Prevention of Truancy, introduced by the Minister of Education of that province. The view taken by the Government was that the free school system in itself was not sufficient to secure even an elementary education to every child of school age. The negligence of parents, or their cupidity or greed, was often the occasion, even with free schools, of children growing up with no schooling at all. The Act as passed provides that all children between the ages of eight and fourteen shall be required to attend the public school in the school districts in which they respectively reside. Exceptions are made to meet the cases of those who are receiving efficient instruction at home—those who may be sick, those whose circumstances compel them to work for their own support, or for that of relatives dependent upon their exertions, etc. Machinery is provided for obtaining reliable records of the names, residences, parents, or guardians, etc., of all children within the prescribed age-limits. In every city, town and incorporated village, the Police Commissioners or Municipal Council are required to appoint a truant officer, or, if necessary, more than one, whose special duty it shall be to see to the enforcement of the Act. On the notification or complaint of the principal of the public school, or of one of the trustees, or of any responsible citizen, it becomes the duty of the truant officer to enquire carefully into the case, to notify the parents, guardians or other parties responsible for the child who is failing to attend the school, and to warn them that the continued violation of the law will expose them to prosecution and fine. The truant officer is to act under the direction of the school boards. An excellent feature of the act is the provision that children who have been expelled from the public school may be sent to an industrial school. The truant officer is empowered to enter factories, stores and all places where children may be employed for purposes of inspection, and fines may be imposed upon any persons in whose employ are found children under fourteen years of age. We believe that an Act embodying the essential provisions of the Truancy Act of Ontario might be introduced into British Columbia with great advantage.

As was anticipated, there was only a small proportion of the ratepayers who cast their ballots for the debenture bylaws submitted yesterday. Of the four voted on, if we are to judge by the number of votes against, the Waterworks bylaw was the most popular, the Electric Light, the Ferry and the Fire Loan coming in the order named. The absolute necessity of a thorough system of waterworks must be apparent to everyone, and that twelve votes were cast against the bylaw yesterday is no doubt accounted for by objections to some of the details of the scheme. We hope to see the work of construction carried on vigorously and without any of that dilly-dallying that has marked the progress of the enterprise thus far. The work was to be completed the coming October, but if it is finished and in thorough working order by a year from that date, it is probably as much as can now be hoped for.

Thirty-one votes were cast against the Electric Light Bylaw, and 155 in favor. Those who voted against, no doubt felt that there was a need of protesting in this manner against the disastrously irregular manner in which the undertaking has been carried forward from its inception. But to vote against that bylaw at the present stage in the history of the concern, must have seemed, to those ratepayers who did so, very like kicking oneself on account of one's misfortunes. The city was forced in any case by the Enabling Bill to pay for the plant that has been put in, and the thing that remains now is to make the best use of it possible. We are hopeful that there will be no further trouble, but that there is plenty of occasion for trouble in the course that has been pursued in defiance of an express legislative provision, must be apparent to all who have looked into the matter

We can scarcely wonder that a very considerable vote was cast against the Ferry Bylaw, notwithstanding the wisdom there would be, now that the boat is on the city's hands, in refusing to spend a few thousands more in getting it into some sort of shape to do the business for which it was constructed. It would not do to tie the boat up altogether. But we think it would be a good idea to look about and see if it could not be disposed of at some reasonable fraction of what it cost, and get another good one in its stead. What is really wanted, however, is a bridge, and until that be had the conditions of traffic here will always be unsatisfactory. If there is any chance of a railway bridge being built, some effort should be made to secure, if possible, accommodation for ordinary road traffic on that structure. There are difficulties in the way of this, of course, but they may not be insuperable.

It is surprising to find so many votes cast against the Fire Loan Bylaw. Surely the city has had scorchings enough during recent years to convince people of the wisdom of securing the most adequate appliances for protection against fire. The explanation of the large vote against the bylaw is probably to be found in the opinion held by many that after the water works are completed the new apparatus will be useless. But that is a mistake; and, moreover, great danger would be undergone in the meantime.

The Victoria Colonist seems to be very well pleased, indeed almost jubilant, over the opinion expressed by the Attorney-General that the failure of a quorum of the University Senate to meet within the time limit specified by statute has nullified the statute altogether. The Colonist thinks it's just as well anyway; the population of the Province is too small to support a good University, and we can get along just as well with a preparatory College for a few years more. Singular, is it not, that the Colonist did not think of these things at the time the University Bill was passing through the House? The reason no doubt was that at that time the Colonist thought there was a very good chance for the proposed University being located at Victoria; that consideration in its opinion apparently made up for any scarcity of population. But when it became apparent that the University, if established at all, would be located on the Mainland, the size of the population was observed by the Colonist through a diminishing glass. We are ourselves, we must confess, and always have been, doubtful of the wisdom of establishing a degree conferring institution in this Province at the present time, chiefly for the reason that the degrees of a small and obscure seat of learning would be lightly considered. But if it is to be established, it should certainly be located on the Mainland.

As time goes on, the necessity of having separate buildings for the post office and the various other Government departments now crowded together in the postoffice block, becomes more apparent.

SPECIAL MEETING.

City Council Meets Last Night and Passes the Bylaws.

Yesterday morning City Clerk Robson issued notices for the aldermen to attend a special meeting of the Council at 8 o'clock in the City Hall. At that hour there were present Mayor Brown in the chair, Aldermen Curtis, Keary, Owens, Smithers, Gifford, Walker and Sinclair.

COMMUNICATIONS.

John Ibbotson, asking leave to allow timber from old buildings on Dupont block site to remain on street two or three days. Granted.

From J. A. Calbick, asking leave to remove store occupied by M. Ross on Columbia street. Granted.

REPORTS.

The City Clerk reported that the four bylaws, Ferry, Electric Light, Water Works and Fire loan, had been voted on by the people, and giving particulars. The report was received and filed, the bylaws read a third time and passed.

The fire and light committee reported recommending that a water tank be built on east Columbia street for street watering purposes, and applying for permission to erect the same.

Ald. Curtis stated that the tank would not cost much more than $100, and it was necessary to make a success of the street watering scheme. The tank would be erected on Columbia street opposite the ferry landing. He had seen Mrs. Hogan about the hose pipe crossing her lot, and she had promised to let the committee know that evening whether she could grant permission. The tank was an absolute necessity; the fire team, which should not be used for such purposes at all, could not drag the street sprinkler up east Columbia street. There was plenty of old hose that could be used for the purpose of watering the street and the cost to the city would be nil. The monthly collections would more than pay all the expenses attached to the scheme.

Ald. Sinclair here said that Mr. Hill, the water works engineer, had assured him that the water works would be completed and the water turned on by December next.

This statement was received with every mark of incredulity and Ald. Sinclair was gently roasted for a short time for his all-too-pleasing romance.

On motion permission to build the tank was granted.

Ald. Keary verbally requested permission in the name of the Sisters at Hopperton to lay building on the street for a period probably not exceeding two or three days. The Sisters want to raise the fence in front of their property. Permission granted.

Council then adjourned until Monday next at 8 p. m.

Revival of the Garrote.

James McGovern of Seattle was garroted on the streets of that city on Wednesday afternoon in the presence of hundreds of people by two ruffians, who were subsequently arrested. One man gripped the victim from behind by the throat, bent him back and held him until he became black in the face while his comrade coolly rifled the man's pockets. An immense crowd gathered, but everybody in it was afraid to do anything. Lieut. Simms of the police department happened to see the affair and immediately understood what was going on. He stole quietly but quickly through the crowd, clapped a revolver to the principal garroter's head, and in a trice had the handcuffs on both their wrists. The capture is described as very clever and daring.

Half Holiday Movement.

A meeting was held in the Hotel Douglas last night by the general committee on the half holiday movement; [illegible] reported that two different [illegible] by ladies in the city, and on a show of hands was requested, 53 ladies had replied that they intended to do their shopping on Friday afternoon (applause). The secretary also reported that the W. C. T. U. had been asked for their influence. The committee then adjourned for one week.

STARTED AT LAST.

The Celebration Committees in Their Preliminary Stage.

After the special meeting of the Council last night the public meeting called for the purpose of considering the arrangements to be made for the annual celebration, was called to order by Mayor Brown who had been elected chairman. Mr. H. G. Ross was elected secretary. Mayor Brown said he did not remember distinctly how last year's preliminary meeting commenced operations, but the best way was to appoint a general committee and it could appoint the sub-committees.

Ald. Curtis said the first thing to decide was whether they were going to have any celebration or not. He moved, seconded by Mr. P. Peebles, that the city of Westminster have a celebration this year. Carried unanimously. Ald. Curtis thought a collecting committee should be the first appointed, and it could report at an early date to the general committee. They must first know how much money they were going to have.

The chairman said this was only a preliminary meeting and that they could not go so far as that tonight. He proposed that the meeting appoint a committee of seven who should get together and draw up a programme and pick committees for the different events on the programme and report the whole thing to the general meeting. Some programme should be finally decided upon as early as possible. The chairman of the different committees could act as an executive committee and instruct the secretary in his duties. Something in that style, his worship said, if adopted would save a lot of trouble.

Ald. Owens could not see what right any seven men had to dictate in an affair of this kind. They did not comprise all the brains in the city even if his worship was on the committe. The general committee was the one to make the selection.

Mr. A. B. McKenzie was against picking committees wholesale. Such committees were always failures.

Mr. S. J. Thompson moved that the whole city be a general committee, and a meeting be called, those who attended to be adjudged the enthusiastic people and the ones best fitted to carry forward the work.

Mr. W. A. Duncan thought the meeting could not do better than copy the programme of last year, and, as far as possible, have the old committees formed up. Their experience would be very valuable.

Mr. P. Peebles was of the same opinion. Last year they were amateurs, but this time they would be professionals. He proposed that everybody suggest what he thought was best.

Mayor Brown said that last year the Celebration Committee and the Agricultural Society actually ran in opposition to one another in several things. This was wasteful. The proper theory to work on was the greatest possible amount of amusement at the least possible expenditure. There would be no attempt to break records or do wonders, but the aim would be first to attract as large a number of visitors as possible, and second, send them away satisfied. If the committee did that it fulfilled its mission. A small committee meeting and discussing this business would come to a far better understanding and much more quickly than a large general meeting like the present one. The committee could come before the subsequent meeting, submit a programme and give explanations of the points involved. He moved that a comparatively small committee be appointed. This was seconded and carried.

Mr. C. C. Stewart moved that a programme committee consisting of 12 persons be appointed; seconded and carried. The following gentlemen were then appointed: Messrs. W. H. Keary, S. J. Thompson, W. A. Duncan, John Reid, R. T. Read, H. A. Lewis, William Johnston, P. McTiernan, A. Leamy, J. Batchelor, D. S. Curtis, J. S. C. Fraser, G. Raymond.

The collecting committee was appointed as follows, two gentlemen for each ward: Fifth Ward, Ald. Keary and Kennedy; Fourth Ward, Ald. T. Gifford and J. Calbrick; Third Ward, J. S. C. Fraser and H. T. Read; Second Ward, James O'Halloran and James Cash. Mr. Cash said he would rather not act; he would be willing to subscribe $100.

Ald. Curtis—Make it a couple of hundred and we'll let you off. [Great laughter.]

Mr. Cash—You put up $200, too, and I'll stay right with you. [Roars of laughter and cries of "Stuffed again, Dave."]

Mr. Cash eventually decided to remain on the committee. First Ward, Ald. Walker and Thomas Levi. Lulu Island, W. A. McLaughlin, collector. The committee was vested with power to add to its number, the number of each ward to be limited to four.

His worship then suggested the appointment of two vice chairmen of the general committee. Messrs. D. S. Curtis, W. B. Townsend and N. C. Schou were appointed vice chairmen of the committee.

It was moved and seconded that Mayor Brown be permanent chairman of the celebration general committee, Mr. A. B. McKenzie secretary, and Mr. J. S. C. Fraser, treasurer.

A general discussion of the methods that should be adopted in carrying on the celebration followed, and when it was eventually the meeting adjourned, and the committees met afterwards. The programme committee decided to meet again on Friday night at 8.30 in the city hall.

LULU ISLAND LULU ISLAND

This property is being sold in blocks of the convenient size of five acres, which is about the right area for a fruit or market garden.

The gravel road running westward from the new Lulu Island bridge leads up to this property, thus placing it within a few minutes drive from the centre of the city.

The land is all cleared and under cultivation. There is no better soil in the world for general garden and fruit purposes and its closeness to a live market renders it particularly eligible for gardening purposes.

An acre of this delta land faithfully tilled will produce more money in a year than ten or twenty acres of ordinary farming land cultivated after the ordinary farm method. Its extraordinary productiveness is a positive wonder.

Here is an opportunity for any man to acquire what will afford him a lucrative living and a good deal more. It is an opportunity not likely to occur again for a long time. It is far cheaper than uncleared bush land at $5 an acre. Get some of it.

A young man named Anderson fell off a wharf at Nanaimo yesterday and was gallantly rescued by a workman who was repairing the wharf. Anderson could not swim and would have been drowned but for the man's help.

There is quite a sentiment in Centreville in favor of incorporation. The general feeling is that the time has come when the town of Chilliwack should have its mayor and council, with its many advantages and set-offs.

By special train at one o'clock yesterday there arrived three cars of freight for the city. The shipments cast on the special at 4 o'clock were two cars lumber from the Royal City Planing Mills; one stallion for Savonas; three cars lumber from the Brunette Sawmills and a car of hogs for Vancouver.

A lumberman at Bickley Bay on the north coast felled a tree the other day and the stick in falling glanced off a stump, struck him and flung him twenty feet, breaking two ribs and bruising him badly. He was taken to Vancouver.

The residents of a certain part of Trounce Avenue, Victoria, are seriously thinking of getting out an injunction to stop some person or persons who drone on an organ and pound a piano from morning till night on that thoroughfare.

The Vancouver World having explained and apologized for the publication of an article that reflected on Mr. F. C. Cotton, of the News-Advertiser, the action instituted by the latter for libel, it is probable, will be dropped.

For a good horse and buggy go to the Crown Stables. A. E. Clarke, proprietor.

The engineering staff employed in locating the route for the Chilliwack railrailway, under Mr. Houghton, have returned to Vancouver. It is understood that the high water on Sumas prairie prevented them from completing the the work.

The agents of the Gilman mines, who have been hiring new men in Tacoma have secured all they wanted. They expressed the belief that the trouble was over and that many of the old miners not in sympathy with the strikers, would be taken back.

The only case in the city police court yesterday morning was that of Alexander Ewen, for infraction of the Fire Limit Bylaw, which was adjourned from the 7th inst. This case was finally concluded after argument, by Mr. Ewen being fined $10 and costs.

For rent—A store room and upper flat on Front street, adjoining Mathers & Milligan's. Apply to F. J. Coulthard & Co. *

The Board of Works has carried out some important improvements on the streets leading to and about the cemetry at Sapperton. If they will now turn their attention to that sidewalk between Leopold place and the penitentiary they will confer a public benefit.

Mr. M. McSwain had a valuable span of horses drowned on Tuesday last while trying to cross Gravel Slough, a few miles above Chilliwack. Midway in the stream the horses became entangled in the harness, and despite the best efforts of the driver went down.

Some time ago the Board of Works received a petition praying that some earth be spread on top of the sawdust on west Columbia street. No action has been taken, and in such dry weather as this, there is some danger of fire, which the petitioners had in view when they prayed.

When you want a first-class hack call up the Crown Stables; telephone No. 45. *

The U. S. government vessel Marion has sailed from San Francisco for Port Townsend and the Behring Sea to cruise during the sealing season. Her rendezvous will be the Pribilofs, and in September she will continue on to the China station without returning to Triton.

The work of tearing down the old buildings on the site of the Dupont block is about completed, and excavation will probably begin next week. A notable feature of the process was the countless hordes of rats which were driven from their hiding places as the buildings were dismantled.

The heavy hammer throwing, Murray vs. McLeod, will take place in Nanaimo on Monday next, the day of the Orangemen's parade. McLeod is heavily handicapped as he is recovering his opponent is best on the only feat of each hammer, the weights of which will be 12, 16 and 22 pounds. The betting is in favor of Murray.

A Bargain.—For sale, cottage with six rooms and orchard on Clinton street; best residential part of city; terms reasonable. Apply Mrs. M. Gray, Russell House. *

Three gentlemanly looking members of the light fingered fraternity have arrived in the city from Victoria, and are now under surveillance by the police. The town, as a rule, is exceptionally free from the visits of such characters. If caught tripping, these gentry will be run out of town.

Some fine leads of arenaceous galena silver ore and gold bearing quartz, have lately been discovered near Chilliwack. The ores being free assayers, especially the galena, showing up very promisingly; they are very rich, and have given startling assays. Specimens of black marble of a superior quality have also been brought in.

Guy W. Walker, Merchant Tailor, having dissolved with Mr. W. F. Beggs, is now at his old stand, 26 McKenzie Street. Clothes cleaned, repaired and dyed as usual. The store will be closed from 7 to 6 on Saturday. *

The Nanaimo merchants who are accustomed to do a large business at Wellington have been notified that in future they will be required to pay a Provincial license of $25, in addition to the one they already pay in the city for delivering goods at Wellington. The merchants here think this action of the authorities is rather hard upon them.

Mr. A. W. Vowell, superintendent of Indian Affairs came over from Nanaimo to Vancouver yesterday morning, having just returned from a trip along the western coast and northern portions of the island. He reports the Indians as being contented and industrious. The canneries are all running full time, and many settlers are taking up land in the northern districts.

You never miss your mother till she's gone, but you'll miss a quarter of your life if you don't eat at the Bonanza Grill Room. *

The end of the examinations for teachers' certificates, which have been in progress in Victoria for a week past, will be finished on Monday. The applicants for second B's finished their labors Wednesday evening; those writing for second A's disposed of the last of their papers yesterday; tomorrow the examination for 1st B's will be over and on Monday the examination for 1st A's.

The steam roller got into difficulties on Columbia street opposite the post office yesterday afternoon. The heavy kind wheel slipped sideways down the grade on the south side of the street and a collision with the sidewalk seemed likely to take place. With the aid of some planks and the skilful handling of a shovel among the broken rock, the roller at last got up to the crown of the road and stabl there the rest of the afternoon.

I have just received a nice stock of Gents', Ladies', Misses' and Children's boots, shoes and slippers which I am prepared to furnish at prices lower than the lowest. James Rousseau, Front Street, rear Bank B. C.

The Grant street electric railway of Seattle, is to be extended to Tacoma, says the Seattle Telegraph. The plan is to extend the road from the race track to Kent and then to Puyallup, a distance of 22 miles. Right of way and subsidie for a large part of the distance have already been secured. At Puyallup connection will be made with an electric road from there to Tacoma, thus making a complete electric connection between Seattle and Tacoma.

It is reported that one of the census enumerators sent up from this city to the Cariboo district, met with almost a fatal accident. He was attempting to ford a stream in the neighborhood of Fort Douglas, near the head of Harrison Lake, when his horse missed footing and was by the force of the current carried down stream. After awhile both horse and rider managed to effect a landing, the only damage done being to the census books which were badly wetted.

UNIVERSITY SENATE.

Whether It Exists or Not a Matter of Much Doubt.

The Mainland members of the University Senate refused to accept the opinion of the Attorney-General as final and held a conference with Dr. I. W. Powell, the Chancellor in Victoria, on Thursday at 11 a. m. The meeting was informal. Letters were read from Hon. D. W. Higgins, Rev. P. McF. Macleod and Mr. J. Stuart Yates, all of Victoria it will be noted, in which each of these senators stated that he regarded any meeting that might be held on the 9th as illegal, and consequently would not attend. In the course of the conversation which followed the reading of the Attorney-General's letter it was stated by some one that he had eminent legal authority in Victoria, in direct opposition to the opinion of the Attorney-General. The Chancellor, wishing to further consult Hon. Mr. Davie, the gathering broke up to meet again at three in the afternoon.

At the hour named the chancellor again took the chair, there being present Vice-Chancellor R. P. Cooke, Rt. Rev. Bishop Sillitoe, Revs. Robson, McLaren and Jamieson, Drs. Bentley and Tunstall, Fred Schofield and J. M. O'Brien. Upon the suggestion of the Attorney-General, as conveyed by Dr. Powell, the following resolution was introduced by Rt. Rev. Bishop Sillitoe, seconded by Rev. Mr. Jamieson, and adopted by the meeting:

"That whereas the four members of the Senate who met in this place on the second instant were under the impression that the Chancellor's suggestion to adjourn the statutory meeting of Senate until today could only be carried out if nine members were present, and, therefore, separated without any formal opening or adjournment; And whereas there is, consequently, a doubt as to the technical legality of this meeting, the Senate hereby authorizes the Chancellor to submit the question to the Lieut.-Governor-in-Council under section 1 of 'The Supreme Court Reference Act, 1891,' and in the event of this meeting being held to be a legal one, to summon a meeting of the Senate for the transaction of business within one month after such decision has been rendered." The meeting then adjourned.

Penitentiary Supplies.

The following are the successful tenderers for the articles described to be supplied to the penitentiary during the current year: Groceries, C. McDonough; flour, J. D. Rae; hardware, T. J. Trapp & Co.; salmon, W. H. Vianen; drugs, McPherson and Thompson.

Revising Barrister

Judge Bole received notification by wire from Ottawa yesterday that he had been appointed Revising Barrister in the matter of the preparation of the new voters' lists in this district for Dominion elections purposes. He will begin his work without any unnecessary delay. The politicians had better get up and locate to get their friends on the lists.

New Westminster, June 23, 1891. *

A Pointer to the Public.

District Lot No. 28 lies immediately adjoining the city limits. The continuation of Mary Street goes directly through it, and the Electric Tramway will in a couple of months be running its cars every hour of the day through the centre of this property. The lot (No. 28) is composed of 128 acres of land as level as a table. Contracts have been let to clear and grub the ground, and leave it in perfect condition for building purposes. Already six citizens have decided to erect handsome residences there, ragging in price from $4,000 to $7,000 each. The whole of this splendid piece of property (except some limited portions already disposed of) will be put on the market in a few weeks. One great advantage in buying a lot and erecting a residence on this property is that the owner will avoid heavy municipal taxation. Make a note of it, and wait till the property is put on the market before buying. *
