THE BRITISH COMMISSIONERS REPORT ON THE WORLD'S FAIR.

High Encomiums Passed Upon the Skill and Energy of the Promoters—Great Floods in England—Royal Gardens in Windsor Inundated—Redmond Opposed at Cork by a Butter Merchant—German Printers Going on Strike en Masse.

LONDON, October 23.—The elaborate report of Sir Henry Wood and Mr. James Dredge, the British commissioners who recently returned from a visit to Chicago and who are now making inquiries with regard to the steps to be taken by Great Britain in order to make a suitable exhibit at the world's fair, was published today. It having been presented to the special commission on Wednesday last. The report, which consists of fifteen printed pages, to which is added an appendix and several maps, carefully reviews each step taken by the fair managers with regard to foreign exhibits. It also pays a graceful tribute to the courtesy displayed by President Harrison, Secretary Foster and all the exposition officers with whom the British commissioners came in contact. The commissioners agree in admiration of the manner in which the great undertaking has thus far been managed, and express their full belief in the success of the enterprise. The report says: "We also believe that our visit was of some assistance to the executive officers, as it was a part of our duty to place all the information which past exhibitions had given us, fully and wholly at their disposal." Referring to the designs for the fair the commissioners remarked: "So far as we could judge, great skill and boldness characterize the general engineering designs, which have been prepared by the construction department." The commissioners believe that all difficulties connected with the weighty problem of transportation will be successfully solved. The report strongly recommends the erection of handsome buildings on the site provided for Great Britain. The report is a remarkably strong and friendly document and is undoubtedly destined to work largely for the interest of the fair. The royal commission has decided to appoint committees to attend the finance, fine arts, Indian exhibits, engineering, etc. A committee of ladies will also be appointed to correspond with and act in conjunction with the ladies' committee of Chicago.

GREAT FLOODS.

In Buckinghamshire the country in the vicinity of Newport on the Ouse is submerged, and the inhabitants have been compelled to seek refuge on the upper floors of their houses. A railroad cutting near Christchurch, undermined by the floods collapsed this morning and completely blocked up the railroad lines. The surrounding neighborhood is inundated so that to repair the damage is impossible until the subsidence of the floods. The Thames is still rising and is already five feet above its normal high-water mark. A portion of the royal garden of the Queen's drive at Windsor is flooded.

The flood demolished a pile dam which had been constructed across a 50 knot gap in the embankment in the River Parott in Somerset. An enormous volume of water poured through the breach thus made, causing widespread damage to the adjacent country and forcing the country people to use boats in passing from village to village.

FIENDISH WORK.

The frequency of attempts at train wrecking lately has aroused a feeling of uneasiness amongst the people. There have been serious cases of the kind within the past two days. The elaborated character of the preparations made by the would-be wreckers, the solidity of the obstructions placed on the track, and the artfulness with which the work is done to avoid detection, together with the ominous fact that all the trains aimed at are express trains seem to justify the belief that the outrages are the work of an organised gang of wreckers. The theory is advanced in some quarters, that the object of the criminals is to affect the value of certain railway stocks for speculative purposes. The smashing up of the costly rolling stock, comprising one of the principal express trains, together with the enormous sums that would have to be paid out for damages to passengers or in death claims, would of course temporarily affect the securities of the company which should be the victim of such a plot. The alarm created by the attempts is so great that urgent orders have been sent out to the London County police to watch the lines, and so far as possible to co-operate with the railway officials in their endeavors to detect the wreckers.

Home Secretary Matthews has urged the officials of Scotland Yard to employ all their energy in the same direction. The newspapers devoted much space to the matter and some of them are quite hysterical in their treament of it. Every known expedient looking to the detection of the guilty parties and to the prevention of further attempts are suggested. Some of them are notable for their absurdity, for instance the St. James's Gazette thinks it a thousand pities that a couple of blood hounds have not been put on the scent of the perpetrators of the fiendish attempts upon human life. It is true that bloodhounds were found to be useless in tracking "Jack the Ripper," but the fact that the canine detectives are failures in London does not prove that they would be unsuccessful in country districts, where the conditions under which they would operate are so different. The Gazette declares that it would be worth the while of each company to own a few of the sagacious animals, which could be kept at a central point and be telegraphed for whenever required. "Even the mere knowledge that they were available would have a tendency to deter a man from taking the risk of attempting jobs of this dastardly character," adds the article.

PERFECTLY INDEPENDENT.

Henry Irving, replying to an offer by an alleged American theatrical syndicate, declines to take a company to Chicago during the World's fair season of 1893, for less than $2,500 a night for himself. He adds that he is not anxious to visit America at that time anyway.

A Smooth Representative.

DUBLIN, October 23.—The McCarthyites today selected Martin Flavin, a local butter merchant, to make the contest against John E. Redmond, the Parnellite candidate, for election to the House of Commons from Cork.

DAVITT IN KILKENNY.

When Davitt arrived in this city today from Queenstown he was driven rapidly to the headquarters of the Irish National Federation where he was received by the leading members of the McCarthyites now in the city. A prolonged consultation was held the result of which was the announcement that Mr. Davitt had consented to stand for the northern division of Kilkenny, the seat for which was made vacant by the death of Sir John Pope Hennessy. In accepting the nomination of his party Davitt said: "Whatever my friends may say or believe, I scarcely regard myself as fitted to prove a serviceable member of the House of Commons, nevertheless I consider it to be my duty to yield to the wishes of the parliamentary majority of the Irish National party with whom I have been joined since the recent unhappy crisis commenced. Mr. Davitt concluded the acceptance of the candidature for North Kilkenny by expressing his confidence that the vast majority of his countrymen in Ireland will as certainly approve of the course pursued by the Irish majority under recent trying circumstances, as do their fellow countrymen in America.

Pulverizing William.

The Moscow, Latah Co., Idaho, Democrat, publishes a column and a half of perfervid rhodomontade concerning a person known as William Black Kyle, now earning his living at $100 a month, as clerk of the district court of Latah county. The Democrat says Kyle is not a citizen of the United States, that he registered as a voter in Westminster, B. C., in 1884, and that he is an all-round bad man. The article starts out with a huge scare heading, then comes a poem of Longfellow's, nine verses in extent. The heading is a real curiosity, running: "Fraud! The gods may overlook, but true American patriotism cannot forgive. William B. Kyle's record. He is not a citizen of the United States and is a purgerer. Exile from justice." The fact of the matter is that William is on the Republican side and has been scoring "agin" the Democrats rather sorely, hence the Moscow Democrat's bilious headache.

Is It Boodle, or What?

An advertisement signed by the city clerk appears in the evening paper of yesterday calling for tenders "for boilers and machinery for the waterworks" of the corporation of New Westminster. Hitherto we had always supposed that the waterworks system now under construction in this city was one of gravitation or the natural pressure of water descending from a high elevation. This being the case, we hold that it is a thing quite unnecessary that engines and boilers should be used to assist the water to run down hill. Of course, the composition of our municipal council is a thing fearfully and wonderfully made, and there may be sufficient reasons; but it is a proposal so extraordinary that the suspicions of naturally suspicious people are to be expected. In the interests of these, we think an explanation is necessary. Before these engines and boilers are purchased there should be some clear understanding of the uses to which they are to be put after they are bought. At present ratepayers will be quite justified in a suspicion that there is boodle in it. Can it be that the corporation is purchasing these engines and boilers under a species of false pretences,—indicating by the advertisement that they are to be used for waterworks purposes, while they are really intended to be used in the electric light works, the machinery of which institution has already cost the city such an enormously large price?

DETAILS OF THE COWARDLY MURDERS OF VALPARAISO.

Gibson of the Whisky Trust Must Stand Trial—Important Meeting Between American Press Representatives and the Western Union—A Lynched Negro Said to Heve Died of Fright—A Black Brute's Victim Goes Raving Mad.

WASHINGTON, October 23.—Secretary Tracy, after submitting the cablegram received from Captain Schley of the United States steamship Baltimore about the affray in Valparaiso, between the American and Chilian sailors last week, to the President, made public the substance of the dispatch as follows: "A dispatch received from Captain Schley last evening stated that he had made a careful investigation of the assault on our sailors on the 16th inst. The investigations show that petty officer Charles Reggen, while riding in a street car, was assaulted and dragged from the car and shot and murdered by a mob of about 100 men. Apprentice Talbot was assaulted and cut dangerously several times in his back, two cuts penetrating the lungs. Coal heaver Ethorson was robbed and cut dangerously in the back several times. Coal heaver Turnbull received eighteen wounds in the back, two penetrating his lungs. He is in a critical condition. Petty officer Hamilton was wounded several times in the back and other parts of the body. Coal heaver Painter and landsman Davidson were dangerously injured by an assault with clubs, stones and knives and a number of other men were dangerously injured. Thirty-five seamen were arrested by the authorities, but what disposition was made of them cannot be learned, from the inability to translate the now later dispatches. The surgeons are of the opinion that some of the wounds were made by bayonets, showing clearly the participation of the Chilian police. The American sailors were without arms and totally defenceless. The investigation shows they were sober and they were in no respect guilty of misbehavior. Two of the seriously wounded are still in the hospital. In several instances the sailors of the Chilian fleet rendered assistance to the American sailors and several of them were arrested. Secretary Tracy would not say whether any action in the matter had been decided upon.

It will form a direct route in connection with the Sioux City & Northern and the Great Northern roads.

Begins to Look Serious.

SANTIAGO, Chili, October 23.—Minister Egan has been informed by the Chilian Government that his application for safe conduct for the refugees in the United States legation will not be granted. Mr. Egan will continue his demand for safe conduct. A settlement between the two governments appears as far off as ever. It is stated that the Chilian Government made the refusal on the ground that the refugees were criminals.

Canada's Commerce.

NEW YORK, October 23.—Bradstreets reports that there is a fair volume of business reported in general lines at Toronto and prospects are bright. A similar report comes from Montreal also. Ocean freights are in good demand at the latter point and mercantile collections have improved. The Dominion reports 53 business failures this week against 50 last week, and 33 this week last year. The total number from January 1st to date is 1481 against 1302 last year. Dominion bank clearings (three cities) aggregate $19,417,092 this week, an increase of 5.9 per cent compared with last week.

TO ADORN STOCKTON.

The treasury agent at California has recommended that one of the two sites selected in Stockton, Cal., for a public building, viz: The corner of Sutter and Channel streets at $10,000, or the corner of California and Market streets at $21,000.

A USEFUL LIFE LOST.

Su Penn, a Corean prince, was killed last night by a train at College Station, Maryland, near this city. He came to this country with the commission sent out by Corea years ago to investigate the progress of civilization in foreign countries, and decided to make his home here. His persistent refusals to return caused the confiscation of large estates owned by him. Becoming interested in agricultural advancement he studied at the Maryland Agricultural College and after graduating last June, obtained a position in the Agricultural Department, where he devoted himself to translating and compiling data concerning agriculture in China, Japan and Corea. Su Penn was 40 years old. Recently he endeavored to obtain permission to return to his native country, but the request was refused.

The opinion is prevalent that Minister Egan will be instructed to demand immediate reparation and indemnity from the Chilian Government. The Recorder reports the President as having said: "I mean to have no more of this business from any nation, and the demand upon Chili must be immediate and peremptory." Captain Schley informed the secretary in his report that it has become impossible for American officers to go ashore without being insulted, and that hereafter they mean to go armed, and to resent insults in the proper way. "We are losing our respect by permitting those things," says Schley, "and the younger officers are wild with rage and cannot be much longer restrained." "I do not want them to be further restrained," said Secretary Tracy to one of the commodores, "and I have told Schley so. Therefore any day may bring news of a serious emeute between the Americans and the Chilian mob, instigated and secretly encouraged, it is believed here, by persons high in authority there.

American Medicos.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., October 23.—The convention of the American Medical Association came to an end today with the election of the following officers: President, Dr. Felix Foermento of the City of Mexico, and second vice-president, Dr. Walter Wyman of Washington, D. C. The next convention will be held in the City of Mexico in August, 1892.

Will Reduce Expenses.

BOSTON, Mass., October 23.—People here connected with the Union Pacific Railway say that they have no information in relation to the rumored consolidation of the department of that road at Denver and other points. They think it very probable however, that expenses will be reduced wherever possible without interfering with good management.

Lottery Fakirs in the Toils.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., October 23.—The grand jury recorded at 2 o'clock today all separate indictments against the officers of the Louisania lottery. Among the list are General Beauregard, Paul Conrad, president, and Joseph P. Horner, secretary. The indictments are for transacting lottery advertisements through the mails, which is a violation of the lottery laws passed last winter by congress.

Took it Coolly.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., October 23.—Elwood Bruner, indicted for forgery by the San Francisco grand jury, was arrested today. The prisoner went before Judge Catlin and gave bonds for $10,000 and was released. Bruner looked pale when he entered court in charge of the officers, but displayed no emotion and was quite jolly in talking to his friends.

THE COAL MARKET.

The heavy receipts from Australia during the past month have tended to weaken values, not that the amount is greater than is required, but wharf and yard room is in such demand that jobbers are forcing sales without any profit from ship's side. This is only momentary, as it is now generally known that sales are being made considerably below the prices at which cargoes can be duplicated for loading and en route. The last charter effected from Liverpool shows an advance of fully 8d per ton, and the latest cables from Australia quote 16s. as the freight rate on coal, and tonnage scarce at that. With these facts before us it is very evident that there should be an improvement in present quotations. The market values of leading Australian grades are considerably disturbed by outside brands, several cargoes of which are now afloat. Buyers for the same are not procurable, unless at low figures, as new coals are very difficult to introduce here.

Must Stand Trial.

CHICAGO, October 23.—Judge Collins today decided that George J. Gibson, ex-secretary of the whisky trust, must stand on two of the many counts in the indictment against him in connection with alleged conspiracy and attempt to destroy the Schufeldt distillery with dynamite.

PRESSMEN IN CONCLAVE.

A special meeting of the board of directors of the Western Associated Press was held at the rooms of the association in the Western Union building yesterday afternoon; the session was a prolonged one, commencing promptly at 3 o'clock p. m. and not terminating until 7:40 p. m. Those present and participating in the meeting were: Colonel W. A. Collier of the "Memphis Appeal;" A. J. Barr, "Pittsburg Post;" Fred Driscoll, "St. Paul Pioneer Press;" O. Knapp, "St. Louis Republic;" William Penn Nixon, "Inter Ocean," and Victor J. Lawson, "Daily News." The two absentees were Mr. H. DeYoung of the San Francisco "Chronicle," and A. H. Purdue, Cleveland "Leader." The meeting, by previous agreement, was secret, no one except members of the board were admitted.

At the conclusion of the press dispute meeting, each of the participants positively declined to state what the object of the special session was, or what action if any, had been taken in relation to the present rupture between the New York Tribune and Sun and the New York Associated Press. The rumor was current yesterday that William Henry Smith, the general manager of the Associated Press, had tendered his resignation and that it would be accepted between now and the 1st of November, at which time certain important contracts must be renewed or other arrangement perfected. The rumor, however, was denied at the office of the Associated Press.

An Antique Relic.

Mr. John F. Harbottle has brought with him from Queen Charlotte Island, says the Colonist, some splendid samples of marble and minerals picked up during his recent visit. He was also fortunate enough to secure one of the finest specimens of wood carving that has ever been picked up in the country. The figure is that of a woman and stands about three feet above a pedestal, the whole piece of work having evidently been carved from one block. The figure, which is very old, is in a wonderful state of preservation the only injury to it being the loss of the nose—a deficiency which Mr. Harbottle remedied with a little plaster of Paris. The carving is exquisitely fine, so delicate and artistic being the lines that, although found in an old Indian ruin on the island, the idea is suggested that the work is not that of an Indian. The symmetry of the figure is perfect, and altogether unlike any carving done by Indians. The head and face are also unlike those of the ordinary Siwash, while the long flowing hair goes to show that the work is not that of Indian hands.

THE GREER ESTATE

NOTICE.

ALL PERSONS WHO HAVE purchased lots in the above estate are respectfully requested to forward to box 98, Vancouver P. O., any sum or sums of money they may feel disposed, which amounts will be duly acknowledged and receipts therefore forwarded as credit on back payments, to meet the necessary expenses in three suits now pending, viz: One criminal and two civil. I have not compromised any who may have purchased property in the estate referred to, with a tyrannical company, well knowing my many friends would stand by me. The darkest hour has arrived. My petition of right will be carried to the foot of the Throne and the six thousand acres, the Canadian Pacific Railway land grant, must fall to the ground. Justice will yet be had.
SAMUEL GREER.

The Ledger

A GOOD CAUSE.

A very deserving cause now modestly appeals for aid from our well to do citizens. The projectors of the Mechanics Institute are about to begin courses of technical instruction in the rooms granted them in the Public Library building. These rooms are however, unfurnished, and funds are needed for this purpose. The total outlay involved will be very small and should be subscribed readily at almost a moment's notice by our business men. Our city must if it is ever as we hope to become a large business emporium and important shipping centre—develop local manufactures of various kinds. These will in this age of the keenest competition require the work of skilled mechanics and other craftsmen for whom, in view of our expected future, the Institute is about to make a modest beginning of technical instruction. The present cry of the most capable business men of every great country is, "train our handiworkers, make them if possible "better men than all others." Millions of pounds are with this object now being expended in Great Britain, the United States are nowise behind "the old country" in their like effort, Germany, France and Switzerland have long supplied excellent technical instruction in special schools and institutions established at many centres and other parts *of our own Dominion are also, to a cer*tain extent, taking similar work in hand. It will never do for British Columbia to lag behind the rest of the world in this. Technical instruction of the best must gradually be made available throughout the province. Our Mechanic's Institute means to make a small begin*ning of this in our own city. The effort* should be aided by all means in our power. The movement may and probably will, some day, attain to large dimensions, and the sooner the better. Let every one who can, therefore lend it now a helping hand and give it a good start. A very small gift from each of —say some threescore of our citizens— will do what is required, though the sum subscribed will never be missed, and should, directly or indirectly, bring its due return.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The Scotch correstondent of our evening contemporary gives a list of salaries of certain British mayors. The chief magistrate of Liverpool gets the most of all the provincials, receiving £2,700 a year. The lord mayor of London, however, obtains £10,000 a year. The mayor of Cardiff receives £750, whilst the mayors of important cities like Birmingham, Manchester and Leeds receive nothing. It must, however, be stated in explanation that these sums are not really salaries but intended only to pay in part the cost of official charity, mayoral public banquets and the like. In every case the mayor is in fact expected to exceed his salary, or else is regarded as extremely mean. Thus mayors of Liverpool have been known to assert that they have to spend more than double their liberal grant of £2,700. It is also well known that a lord mayor of London hardly ever holds office without spending for public uses at least double his salary. Twenty thousand pounds a year are in fact what the average lord mayor is expected to expend in princely charity and hospitality. What is true of London and Liverpool applies more or less, to the other English salaried mayors. In fact the official grant is really no relief as the knowledge of it only increases the demands upon a mayors purse. For this reason the city councils of Manchester and many other large towns decline to vote salaries to their mayors knowing that this would afford no real relief but rather increase their official expenditure. It usually costs a mayor of Manchester from £1000 to £1500 for a year's tenure of office, and the claims of Leeds and Birmingham upon their chief magistrates are equally heavy. Municipal service is in fact throughout Great Britain and Ireland purely honorary and often very costly, aldermen and councillors being also expected, though in less degree than mayors, to contribute liberally to local public purposes of benevolence.

All present indications show that Major McKinley will win the Ohio governorship election, though he will do this probably as much on the honest money policy as on his notorious ultra-protectionism.

The ladies of Haviatha, Kansas, are said in virtuous indignation to be protesting against the local performances of a touring troupe of London Gaiety theatre chorus girls, and deciding to taboo socially any male visitor to their show. The choristers in question, though comely in appearance when elaborately "got up," and to a certain extent clever as burlesque actresses, are a somewhat disreputable crowd, the gaiety theatre being no school of conduct, but rather a typical example of the able but demoralized British stage.

The English Punch is certain once more to be prohibited entrance into Russia. The last issue to hand contains a noteworthy cartoon, representing a starving Russian peasant appealing vainly to his "little father," the Czar, for a trifling dole from the money bag full of lately borrowed millions, which the callous autocrat is depicted, hugging to his bosom. The new Russian loan will however doubtless be applied to mischievous military purposes, whilst millions of the Czar's unhappy subjects starve. Men and women count for little in that semi-savage land.

Says the Seattle Telegraph with equal truth and force as to the attacks on the C. P. R. made by certain American railway monopolists and their press organs: "Some of the papers are discussing 'how "to check the competition of the Canadian Pacific with American railroads.' "But it should not be checked. That "competition has been and is a blessing "to various American cities and districts. It is the only relief from the "tyranny of railroad monopolies. "Check it? Rather encourage it "to grow, till other competition "comes. Seattle knows the value of "Canadian Pacific competition. Look at "San Francisco, groaning in the grasp "of STANFORD & Co., who have persistently squeezed out of her and the "rest of California 'all the traffic will "bear.' Check competition? O, no." The Senator STANFORD, to whom the above alludes, represents the State of California in the United States senate, and is a millionaire many times over. He has lately built a magnificent series of university buildings which he proposes to endow with no less than $20,000,000. His railway schemes have accordingly brought him immense wealth.

An extraordinary sensational rumor comes from Cincinnati where it is stated that Dr. RIVAZ and Senor DEL RIO late of BALMACEDA'S military staff are confident that the report of his suicide is a mere ruse to facilitate his escape and accordingly expect to meet the ex-dictator in either New York or Europe. The idea is, however, almost incredible in view of the strong evidence of BALMACEDA'S death and even if the Cincinnati tale of the two friends' hopes is true it is *likely that they are merely extraordin*arily over sanguine, their wish being father to their thoughts.

Toronto has now joined the list of cities discontented with the results of the Dominion census, and deeming them greatly inaccurate. The local police are, therefore, now making a recount of the Torontonians. It would be interesting to know whether any prominent man of any Canadian city, except the editor of the Vancouver News-Advertiser, is content with the recent census record. That editor is, so far as we have noted, the only local leader who has thus declared himself. He stated, shortly after the taking of Vancouver's total, that the figures given were about right as regards that city. This will probably be scored against him as an offence some day when he again appeals to the popular vote.

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.

Interesting Business Meeting of the Board Last Night.

A very satisfactory meeting of those interested in the endeavors to push forward the practical work of the Mechanics' Institute was held in the city hall last evening, there being a good number present. The president, Mr. Peck, took the chair and after the general routine of opening the meeting, rose and delivered a very interesting address relative to the objects and methods of working the institute. Practical mechanics would be taught in all its branches and prizes would be given at the end of the terms to the students who made the highest number of marks in their respective branches of study. Scholarships would also be granted, and would take the form of free admission to the institution's several classes. The chairman stated the fee to become a member was $2.50 and asked that, if thought reasonable, it be adopted; the meeting approved the charge. In answer to an objection stating the opinion that the number of classes was too great to start with, the president explained that they had got rooms and light free from the council on certain conditions, and their classes had been formed to comply with those conditions. The question of general membership was brought up and names called for. A good number secured their tickets and many names were handed in by those present of friends who wished to join. At a future meeting class membership will be discussed. The secretary suggested that as the business of the institute was getting rather heavy for one man, an assistant secretary be appointed and accordingly Mr. Macrae was unanimously elected into the position. The president stated that there would shortly be an opening night appointed at which all members were requested to be present and bring such of their friends as would come. At this meeting all the instructors would be present and give an idea of what they would teach in their classes. It was proposed to solicit subscriptions from the townspeople to furnish the class rooms, and someone stated that the citizens generally had subscribed freely to prizes for the rifle competition and would surely not refuse such a laudable object as the Mechanics' Institute, Messrs. Bloomfield and Macrae were appointed a committee to solicit subscriptions. The question of non-attendance of some gentlemen who had been appointed officers of the institution and had never been to meeting was discussed and it was decided to write to all of these and state that they had been duly elected, enquiring at the same time if they intended to act. Mr. Shirley gave notice that at the next meeting he would introduce a motion proposing that steps should be taken to alter the constitution of the institute; also that the executive committee be enlarged to twelve members by the addition of the names of Messrs. Howie, Bloomfield and Newington. It was decided to hold another general meeting in the city hall next Friday night if the building was available on that date. The meeting then adjourned.

The classes to be held on the different nights are as follows: Monday, arithmetic, mathematics and junior night school; Tuesday, theoretical and applied mechanics; Wednesday will be a members' night, set apart for general discussion; Thursday, drawing and shorthand; Friday, book-keeping, experimental physics and junior night school. The hours will be from 8 to 10 p. m., one hour for each subject; all the teachers instruct in one subject only. The fees for the different classes are as follows:

Shorthand	$12 00	$14 00

SCIENCE AND PROGRESS.

INTERESTING PARAGRAPHS CULLED FROM VARIOUS FIELDS.

The Bone Grafting Experiment in New York—The Actual Results Attained—Room for Hope Although This Trial was not an Unqualified Success.

In the New York Charity Hospital, in November last, as described in the scientific journals early in December, Dr. A. M. Phelps grafted a bone from a dog's leg in the skin bone of a boy, under circumstances which attracted general attention. Both boy and dog were bound side by side on a cot, where they might be kept as comfortably as possible for several days, anæsthetics were administered but moderately, and a piece of the bone about an inch and a half long was taken from the dog's limb and inserted in that of the boy, where it was ingeniously secured in position, care being taken not to injure the arteries or any important portion of the circulatory system of either. It was designed that the vitality of the dog should contribute to the growth of the bone in place in the boy's leg, which, it was estimated, would require about thirty days, and an artery of the dog was, therefore, conducted to the grafted bone, and muscle was stitched to muscle and skin to skin, to promote, if possible, a mutual growth. After three days the boy and dog became apparently comfortable together, and at the end of six days the wound was naturally healed, but at the end of eleven days there was an apparent shrinkage of the dog in the dressings, allowing of motion, and endangering the rolling of the graft from position, and the bond of union between the boy and the dog was then, on this account, severed. The operation had not been successful, but the bone graft was covered with an irregular new growth, and circulation was shown to have been established between the boy and dog. At the end of five weeks the graft was removed from the boy's leg, but the stimulation it had caused is said to have set up a reparative process, which gives hope that the original fracture may reunite. The boy now walks with the aid of one crutch or a cane, and the dog was carefully treated after the separation. Dr. Phelps is confident that the bony union would have taken place with the graft if actual [illegible] could have been maintained for a [illegible] period, and says that "the experiment is a success in so far as it establishes the principle that it is possible to grow large masses of tissue from an animal to man, and to establish the circulation until the union takes place between opposite species without danger to either. It also demonstrates that a growth of new bone takes place when a section of bone is transplanted and its nutrition maintained by the artery of the animal. This, if continued for four or five weeks, would probably unite a fracture."

The Electrical Heater.

One of the electrical applications which will presently come into as general requisition as that now enjoyed by the electric motor is the electrical heater. It dispenses with all dirt in the house, and can be turned off and on just when wanted. A large percentage of the heat from a stove goes up the chimney and is wasted, but as the electrical heater is light and handy, and can be moved from place to place with ease, the full advantage of its heat can always be secured. For instance, if a person is writing his feet often get cold if he is at any distance from the fire or stove, but with an electrical heater diffusing a heat of any strength or mildness, and costing less than 1 cent per hour, he can continue his writing in comfort. To those who suffer from cold feet at night the electrical heater is a godsend. It can be so arranged as to give a gentle heat at the foot of the bed for a certain time, and then to automatically reduce the supply of heat and finally cut it off.

Electrical Progress.

Owing to the difficulties that have so often been found with the closed type of engines for electric light machinery, the English admiralty has abolished them in recent ships and substituted open engines of the compound type.

A self-acting electrical balance has recently been invented. The object to be weighed is to be placed in the pan, which closes the circuit, starts a motor and moves the weight out on the beam of the balance. When the equipoise is established the circuit is broken.

Electricity has found a use in the stable in a new idea for grooming horses. The power furnished by an electric motor is taken by a flexible tube to a brush that revolves rapidly. With this brush a man can groom a horse better in five minutes than in a much longer time by hand.

Failure in a Noted Case of Skin Grafting.

Mr. John O. Dickerson, of Chicago, on whom was engrafted 144 square inches of human skin, taken from 132 different individuals, in January last, died on February 24. The occasion arose from the removal of a cancer, and it was at first considered the operation was likely to be a success, the new skin having began to attach itself over the wound, but the stomach of the patient gave out, the system having been overtaxed by numerous operations, and when nourishment failed the wound ceased to heal.—Scientific American.

Sunday Law in Switzerland.

In Switzerland a Sunday law has been enacted applying to all railroad, steamboat, and tramway companies and post offices. Working time must not be more than 12 hours a day, even on occasions of increased traffic. Engine and train men must have at least 10 hours unbroken rest, and other employes 9 hours. They must also have 52 days off yearly, and 17 of these must be Sundays. No reduction in wages is to be made for such rest days. All freight traffic on Sunday is prohibited, except live stock.

Electrical Utilization of Insects.

An electric apparatus supplies a strong light which attracts the insects and moths; a suction fan worked by the electric current draws them in when they approach the light, and carries them into a small mill, also worked by the electric current, where they are ground up and mixed with flour and thus converted into poultry food of excellent quality. This is said to be a Bavarian contrivance.

His Sister, Liliuokalani, and the Next Heir, Princess Kalani.

King Kalakaua, of the Hawaiian Islands, leaves a widow, Queen Kapiolani. His successor is his sister, Princess Lydia Kamakaeha Liliuokalani, who was born in 1838 and was proclaimed heir-apparent to the throne April 12, 1877, and has been for some time past acting as regent. She is married to John Owen Dominis, a native of Boston, a well-educated man, well known to all visitors to the islands. The next heir, in the legitimate order of succession, is the young Princess Kalani, who was born Oct. 16, 1875. She is the daughter of the late Princess Likelike, the youngest sister of Kalakaua. The young Princess, it will be remembered, passed through America about a year ago on her way to Europe, where she was to remain two years completing her studies. She is a very accomplished girl, a splendid musician, a daring equestrienne and a fine linguist.

An Artistic Slip.

A French painting which sold for $18,000 was entitled: "Getting Ready for the Harness." All artists are licensed to make these slips.

Sending Letters by Wire.

What is termed telphersage, or the conveyance of parcels by electricity along lines of wire placed overhead, is little known in this country beyond the stage of experiment. We have little real need of this device to assist commercial business. In South America, however, telphersage schemes appear to be propitious to the speculator, and a line has been constructed 186 miles long, which will place Buenos Ayres and Montevideo in communication. Across the La Plata there is a swing for the wires of nineteen miles, and the initial start for this journey is afforded by two towers 270 feet in height. It is intended to dispatch letter boxes between the two cities at intervals of two hours

The Kaslo-Kootenay Land Company of Victoria, capital stock $100,000, in shares of $100 each, has just secured articles of incorporation, the promoters being Messrs. John Hendry, A. Ewen, George T. Kane, Robert Irving, jr., William C. Haywood and Robert Irving, sr.

To be sold as a going concern—the Bonanza Lodging House. *

A special train left at 11:30 for Vancouver yesterday to make connection with the Victoria boat, that travellers might not be inconvenienced by the non-arrival of the express from the east which was reported eleven hours late. The "Goat" pulled the regular 2:25 train to the Junction to connect with the express going east.

The Association footballers are expected to muster in force at Queen's park this afternoon at 2 for an hour's practice. The club stands in need of practice, and there should be a good turnout this afternoon. Matches with other clubs will soon be in order. Play will begin promptly at 2 o'clock as the Rugby men take the field at 3.

Exhibition line of baby carriages and complete new line of carpets. P. Peebles, Douglas street. *

With reference to the sad accident by which Fred Jacks and William Smith were drowned, in justice to the fishermen, we might correct a false impression, created by our item of Tuesday morning to the effect that they rendered no assistance. On receiving further information we find that these fishermen did all in their power towards rescuing the unfortunate men.

The journals and many of the citizens of Victoria are still feeling very much excited over the discussion as to the qualifications of Chief Deasy. Some very bitter letters have been published by both papers, one paper holding that Deasy is a saint; the other that he is a sinner—from a professional fireman standpoint. But he does not seem to heed either of them.

It is a genuine pleasure to use Silver Star Stove Polish. No dust, no dirt, no smell, no labor. It polishes almost instantly. Try it. Corbett & Cliff, opposite the Opera House. *

From Chilliwack.

The steamer Irving brought 447 bales of hay, 12 hogs, 4 calves, 7 head of cattle, 90 sacks of potatoes, 74 sacks of oats, 50 cases of apples, 42 sundries and 35 passengers, down from Chilliwack yesterday. Owing to the delay caused by the accident to the Yosemite she was very late in starting up the river on Thursday and the fog and darkness coming on prevented her reaching Chilliwack before yesterday morning; the run back to this port was made in splendid time.

Special Services.

The Right Rev. Bishop Cridge and Rev. J. Reid will conduct special services in St. Paul's R. E. Church beginning tomorrow morning. There will be an installation service in the afternoon for parents and children, subject, "The Heavenly Home." The evening subject is, "A Good Minister." On Monday evening there will be a confirmation service and holy communion to commence at 8 o'clock. On Tuesday evening a social reception will be given by the ladies in the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association beginning at 8 o'clock.

Today's Rifle Matches.

The boisterousness of the elements threatens to seriously interfere with the shooting at the rifle meeting which is to be held this morning. The individual who is not satisfied with the variety of prizes offered must be hard to please for everything conceivable is contained in the prize lists, from silver cups, medals and such high toned articles to cuspidors, roast beef and plum jam, not to mention six bottles of old Scotch whisky. No doubt a good many civilians will compete in the Martini-Henry match at 200, 500 and 600 yards, for which the first prize is a handsome silver cup.

A Miff Southwesterly.

A strong southwesterly gale passed over the city last night, doing slight damage to fences, sign boards and other light material. During the afternoon the wind had blown directly from the east, but veered round to the south towards nightfall, blowing more strongly. The mud caused by the rain was quickly dried up, and made locomotion in the streets somewhat more agreeable as a duty than it had been. The probabilities last night were for fine weather today, which, it is to be hoped will be realised, in view of the important events to take place.

The Freyjany Case.

Last night's World says: At 2 o'clock the case of L. Davis, charged with perjury, was heard, Messrs. Atkinson, P. M., and McLean and Schofield, justices of the peace, being on the bench. Mr. Blake appeared for the crown, while Mr. Boultbee defended the prisoner. A fresh information had been laid, specifying three charges of perjury. Mr. Boultbee asked for a remand, on the ground that he had had no time to look up the information. Before the bench had given their decision Mr. Atkinson took the Bible, from Deputy Registrar Cambridge, who produced the records of the case and swore to their contents, Mr. Boultbee entering an objection, contending that Judge Bole himself should be put in the witness box. Mr. Atkinson showed the greatest impatience, and said he would not have the time of the court wasted, the other two magistrates evincing a willingness to hear the learned counsel. The case is still proceeding.

A First Class Company.

There was a fine audience present in Herring's Opera House last night to welcome the Imperial Stock Company in their initial performance in Westminster. This fine company, the strongest and most talented on the whole Pacific coast, thoroughly captivated the audience in the sterling drama, "The Galley Slave," which is replete with stirring scenes and comic episodes. The caste was a very strong one, each artist playing his or her part in a manner that won hearty and well-deserved applause. It was a performance equal to the best ever seen in this city, and was carried through with a vim that delighted everybody present. The costumes were very rich and greatly admired; Miss Dalgleish in particular looked superb in her splendid wedding dress.

The scene of the play is laid in France and Italy and is highly romantic and full of thrilling interest. Miss Kate Dalgleish as Cicely Waine, the heroine of the play, gave unmistakable evidence of the great talents which she possesses for depicting the stronger emotions. Her acting was strong and consistent. As Psyche Gay, Miss Ella Damarie played the merry American girl to perfection, being capitally seconded in the comical work by Mr. Charles M. Gray as Franklin Fitts. His impersonations were most amusing. The hero, Sidney Norcott found an able exponent in Mr. F. R. Armstrong, whose acting proclaimed him an artist of great merit. Mrs. Gay by Miss Ada Wheeler and Francesca Remini by Miss Kittie Belmour were very strong parts; while Little Dolores was cleverly done by little Miss Bertie Cordray. The Oliver Oliphant of Mr. Fred Summerfield and Baron La Bois by Mr. G. Bryant were capitally sustained. Indeed the piece received rare good handling and won the heartiest applause from the audience.

Westminster theatre goers express themselves as delighted with the foretaste they obtained of the Imperial Company last night, and promise themselves a season of rare enjoyment this winter.

This afternoon the company will give a performance of "East Lynne," a play that attained greater popularity in England than perhaps any that ever was written. This matinee performance is given for ladies and children and should attract a very large audience. In the evening the splendid melo-drama "The Black Flag," will hold the boards. Fun and pathos strive for the mastery in this fine piece, and it is said to be the one in which the Imperial Stock Company most particularly shine so there should be no vacant seats at Herring's this evening.

It is to be deplored that the outrageous conduct of a number of rough characters in the gallery considerably spoiled the enjoyment of the more respectable portion of the audience. It is strange that Westminster is the only town in Canada where the gallery is allowed to trample on the rights of the rest of the house. Until a policeman who is not afraid to use his club with a will, is stationed in the gallery, such will always be the case.

Doing a Good Work.

Prof. Seward, the celebrated scientific optician of New York, is meeting with his usual success in this city. His parlors in the Queen's Hotel have been crowded from the first day of his arrival and his work is being spoken of in the highest terms by all who have visited him. Several cases of headaches of years' standing have been entirely relieved by glasses without the aid of one drop of medicine. Others who could not recognize a friend while passing within a few feet are now able to distinguish a friend or relation two blocks away, and can see across the Fraser and view the distant mountains as clearly as any one having a perfect eye. Professor Seward has accomplished wonders in British Columbia alone, to say nothing of the grand work done in the States, where he adjusted glasses to over 16,000 pairs of defective eyes. He has also adjusted a large number of artificial eyes, always carrying with him a large assortment, in order to fit the exact color and size. Crossed eyes can be straightened by glasses without operation if taken early enough in life, though there was one exception to this rule in Vancouver, in which case Professor Seward straightened the eyes of a young married lady and also cured her headache of years standing with glasses alone, and in one week's time. Prof. Seward takes a special interest in the most difficult cases of defective eyesight and has succeeded in many cases where the leading oculists of Europe have failed. There are no cases too difficult if the eye is not diseased. Several physicians have sent some of their patients to the professor for treatment and in these cases he has kindly diagnosed such case, giving instructions as to the proper mode of treatment, then referring them back to the physician as he will not operate or treat diseased eyes.

Those who intend to call upon Professor Seward at the Queen's Hotel should do so without delay as his stay here must of necessity be of short duration and this is the last city of the Province he will visit before returning east.

Business men and others who cannot risk being obliged to wait can have a time reserved by appointment in advance. *

A Pointer to the Public.

District Lot No. 28 lies immediately adjoining the city limits. The continuation of Mary Street goes directly through it, and the Electric Tramway will in a couple of months be running its cars every hour of the day through the centre of this property. The lot (No. 28) is composed of 128 acres of land as level as a table. Contracts have been let to clear and grub the ground, and leave it in perfect condition for building purposes. Already six citizens have decided to erect handsome residences there, ragging in price from $4,000 to $7,000 each. The whole of this splendid piece of property (except some limited portions already disposed of) will be put on the market in a few weeks. One great advantage in buying a lot and erecting a residence on this property is that the owner will avoid heavy municipal taxation. Make a note of it, and wait till the property is put on the market before buying *
