WHAT EUROPE'S BUSY MILLIONS ARE DOING AND THINKING.

Turkey Seems Doomed—France and Russia and England and Germany Have Greedy Eyes on Constantinople—India in Danger of Famine—Failure of the English River Plate Bank—Terrible Accident at the Manchester Ship Canal Railway.

LONDON, July 18.—A well informed Constantinople correspondent telegraphs this afternoon that at the palace of Yildiz and amongst leading Turkish officials there has been a decided reaction against the acceptance of the report emanating from Berlin that France has approached Russia on the subject of a coalition against England, and had offered to cooperate with Russia in the seizure of Constantinople, and the formation of a new Turkish state in Asia, embracing Egypt, under Franco-Prussian protection. The comments of the German papers on the visit of the Emperor William to Lord Salisbury's residence, together with the fact that Germany has for years been grafting German officers in every department of the Ottoman empire, have raised a strong suspicion in the minds of the many leading Turkish statesmen that the alleged Franco-Prussian programme is undoubtedly an Anglo-German arrangement with Germany at Constantinople and England in Egypt. The fact is also recalled that the great German strategist Count von Moltke, just previous to his death said that the eastern question would have to be settled at the gates of Constantinople; and it is a well-known fact in the latter city that the first power that gets a few men-of-war up the Dardanelles can compel the Sultan to sign any treaty desired. The extraordinary exertions of the German Emperor to win popular favor in England, together with the fact that it would be impossible for Lord Salisbury to postpone the general election more than another year, when Mr. Gladstone will undoubtedly come into power, are pointed out as other straws indicating a desire on the part of the Emperor William to precipitate matters while he can rely on the support of the British fleet. It is learned that Germany had several expert German engineers who speak the Russian language, travelling through Russia, and that these officers have reported to the German Emperor that the Russian army, as well as every other branch of the Russian administration is rotten and that if France relies on Russia in a future war with Germany she relies upon a broken reed. A strong feeling prevails in diplomatic circles at Constantinople that England has joined the triple alliance, or that a written engagement has been entered into by England, binding Great Britain to co-operate with the central European powers.

HARCOURT ON THE SITUATION.

The despatch quoted being shown to Sir William Harcourt, a Liberal member of parliament, he said: "The English Tories are effusive in their joy at the Triple Alliance being prolonged another six years. They dislike France for a variety of reasons, among them being the fact that France is a republic, resting on Liberal ideas, and all their sympathies go out to the great military monarchies of Central Europe based as they are essentially on authority and force. But above all France is understood to be on good terms with Russia and in the case of the great majority of English Tories, their conception of foreign policy begins and ends with the one sentiment of hatred and fear of Russia. English Liberals are far from agreeing with the Tory wiseacres who hold that to add the British navy to the available forces of the Triple Alliance would be to make peace certain. On the contrary, it would be to make war more probable; Italy would then be relieved of the fear for her exposed coast, which at present keeps her in the paths of comparative prudence, and could send large masses of troops to the Rhine, or at all events keep a large French army occupied in Dauphine and the provinces. Without England, Italy is not worth much to the Triple Alliance, but if England has been or can be induced to give any sort of pledge that she will save the Italian fleet from destruction, or will prevent descents upon the Italian coast, she will be worth a great deal. There is, therefore, every motive to induce the Central European powers to win over England if they possibly can, and it is imperatively necessary that English Liberals should be vigilant if this country is not to be drawn into a position opposed alike to her best traditions and to her interests; to hold resolutely aloof from either party; to bind ourselves to nothing and be ready to throw all our influence on the side of peace at a critical moment is the true English policy."

INDIA THREATENED WITH FAMINE.

It is too soon yet to conclude that the late arrival of the southwest monsoon rains in India will result in a failure of crops anything like so extensive as that which occurred in the years of 1876 and 1878. In a portion of Madras there is undoubtedly even now much suffering and it is certain that in the particular districts affected the autumn crops will not be reaped, simply because they have not been sown. Over most of the area covered by the monsoon rains in India, the practice is to prepare the land, but withhold the seed until the rains have fallen or at least have begun to fall. It is now too late to sow for the autumn crops, and nothing is left for the unfortunate cultivators but to await the winter rains. The next harvest cannot be expected until the beginning of 1892. The food grains produced in Madras are confined to millet and rice, 67 per cent of the former and 33 per cent of the latter being the proportions usually grown. Both of these, rice especially, require abundant moisture. The total cultivated area of the Madras Presidency is about 22,000,000 acres, of which more than 7,000,000 acres are watered from irrigation canals, tanks and wells. These are always secure against deficient rain fall, but the remainder is affected by the failure of the summer rains. It is certain, however, that the Indian government will have to deal with famine in a more or less acute form over a great portion of Madras. Bengal has received a fair amount of rain, although it is lighter than usual, and the country immediately around Bombay has been well watered. From the interior of western India the reports vary, some portions having had a moderate amount of rain while in other parts little or no rain has fallen.

UNFORTUNATE SMALL INVESTORS.

The failure of the English Bank of the River Plate today will cause widespread loss to small investors. An unusually large proportion of the shares of the bank are held in small blocks by comparatively poor persons, as an investment and the call for ten pounds per share to which each holder is liable in liquidation, will bring ruin to many. The stability of the bank was not doubted up to the time the failure was announced, despite the fact that the institution was known to be embarrassed by the action of the Argentine government in failing to keep up its balances. It was supposed that this difficulty was merely temporary and that the bank's resources were ample to tide it over any such tight place. The London newspapers recently published a Buenos Ayres letter eulogizing the courage and energy of the bank's managers during the recent financial crisis in the Argentine, and hinting at the existence of a conspiracy among local rivals of the bank to ruin it through political intrigues. It is thought possible that this may explain the peculiar course of the Buenos Ayres government preceding the failure. Lord George Hamilton, First Lord of the Admiralty, is one of the directors of the bank, and it is understood that many of the holders of the stock were induced to make the investment on the strength of his name. Instances like this emphasize the objection which has so often been raised to members of the government being mixed up in corporations of various kinds. It is alleged that most of the large and influential Hamilton family derive the bulk of their income from their connection with companies, the stock of which they receive in return for the use of their names. The evil is widespread among public men. Previous to delivering a speech at a political meeting in Chiswick tonight, Lord George informed a group of sympathizing inquirers that the bank was amply solvent had the creditors of the Argen*tine Republic met their obligations.*

PLUNGED INTO THE DEPTHS.

The accident on the Manchester Ship Canal Railway at Ince today, by which eleven persons lost their lives and a number of others were injured, is probably unprecedented in railway annals. The twenty-three wagons laden with construction materials were being hauled by two engines down a heavy grade at full speed. The pointsman, a lad of 17 named Pratt became confused and turned the train upon the short sid*ing leading to the brink of the canal.* The distance was so short that the engineer had no time to check the movement of the train, and it took a frightful leap over the embankment, a depth of forty feet into the cutting. Pratt fled shrieking across the country, nearly frightened out of his senses by the awful result of his blunder. He was captured by the police and will be held for trial. The management of the line is severely blamed for entrusting so important a switching point to so young and inexperienced a person.

ANOTHER WAR MONSTER.

The Emperor William will preside at the ceremony of launching a new German battle ship on August 17, at the Vulcan shipbuilding yards in Stettin. It was at these yards that the record breaker, "Furst Bismarck" of the Hamburg-American line was built.

RUSSIAN JEWS IN DISTRESS.

The English Hebrew authorities in London have taken steps to relieve the great distress among the Russian refugees in Palestine. The dangers of a famine, the price of bread having doubled, are so keenly appreciated that the Russo-Jewish committee have ordered the immediate shipment of food sufficient to keep the unfortunate immigrants alive until they themselves can reap a harvest from the land.

SUNK THE BRIG.

The German steamer Dresden from Bremen for Baltimore, with 800 emigrants on board, collided with the British brig, Annie Harris, off Start Point at 12:45 this morning. The Annie Harris sank immediately, before assistance could be given. Four of her crew were drowned. The captain and mate were saved. The passengers on the Dresden were greatly alarmed until reassured. An examination of the steamer showed that she had sustained no damage sufficient to prevent her proceeding. The Dresden placed the survivors of the Annie Harris on board a fishing boat.

KOCH'S LYMPH PROHIBITED.

The medical board of the province of Hanover have prohibited the use of Koch's lymph in hospitals under their jurisdiction. The efficacy of the lymph in private practice in many cases is not questioned by the board, but they do not regard it as fitted for miscellaneous hospital practice.

BARRACKS BURNED.

The infantry barracks at Dantzic were destroyed by fire today. One soldier perished in the flames.

ACTUALLY KILLED THE APPRENTICE.

While an apprentice was mixing chemicals in Rosenzweig's drug shop at Cassel today an explosion of the mixture occurred, killing the apprentice and setting fire to the shop. The flames communicated to the Hotel de Russie adjoining and both buildings were destroyed.

TOO ILL TO ATTEND.

Edward Decobain, member of parliament for Belfast, accused of gross immorality, in reply to the speaker's mandate to appear before parliament and defend himself from the charges, has sent from Bulongne, where he is now staying, an affidavit declaring that he will return to face his accusers as soon as his health has improved sufficiently to allow him to travel. The affidavit is ac*companied by certificates from his* physicians and the British consul at Bulongne to the effect that Decobain is seriously ill. The police authorities place no confidence in these papers and are of the opinion that they are manufactured.

JUVENILE DEPRAVITY.

A nine-year-old girl at Rottweil, Wurtemburg, drowned her four-year-old brother yesterday because she was tired of having to take care of him.

New French Tariff.

PARIS, July 18.—Today the Chamber of Deputies approved the remaining clauses of the tariff relating to the temporary free admission of certain imports. The entire new tariff measure was then passed by a vote of 286 to 110.

The chamber rejected appointments proposed for a grant of 100,000 francs for the Ecole Polytechnique. The sitting of the chamber was therefore suspended while a cabinet council was held to consider the action to be taken. At the council his colleagues persuaded M. de Freycinet not to carry out his intention of resigning the premiership, the explanation having been made that the rejection of the credit did not imply a want of confidence in the ministry. The session of the chamber was then adjourned.

A Celebrated Visitor.

Mr. Michael Davitt, the famous Irish member of Imperial Parliament, is expected to arrive in this city on the first train from Vancouver today at 11:30 a. m. A deputation of gentlemen will meet him at the station and drive the distinguished visitor about the city. It is proposed to make a short trip on the river in a steam launch, so that Mr. Davitt can get a thoroughly good idea of Westminster's beautiful and advantageous situation. Mr. Davitt will return to Vancouver on the afternoon train.

MERELY SLEEPING.

Jay Gould is quoted as saying: "The public is not deserting Wall street as some suppose. There is steady absorption of securities there now and the time is coming when there will be a craze to buy and stocks will soon have a 20 per cent rise without any trouble."

A Herald special from St. Louis says: Heavy seizures of whisky were made here today by United States revenue officers sent direct from Washington who have been on a still hunt here for some time. The whisky seized belonged to the Nelson Distilling Company, A. Scharff, John Bordenheimer and several other well known liquor houses, and before tomorrow night a dozen or more firms will have become involved. The grounds on which the seizures are being made are the changing and defacing of the government brands upon brands of whisky sold to retail customers after its proof had been stamped and certified by the government. The liquor dealers state that these seizures have been made on technical grounds and that no attempted fraud against the government can be shown. The matter will be carried to the courts in November on a test case.

British Tramp Steamers.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—Shipowners on this coast can now join hands with the coast seamen in the fight against foreign steamers who are trying to crowd American vessels off the coast. The British tramp steamer Taichow has arrived here with a cargo of coal, and will take the place of the West Indian, that vessel having been chartered to go to Chili. The new arrival came from China, where for several years she ran between Hong Kong, Singapore and Bangkok. She carries a crew of thirty-five, all told, and out of the lot only six are white men, the rest being Japanese. In reply to a question the second mate said: "We are here to stay and expect to have plenty to do. Of course we shall have to carry coal from the north to this city, but we shall have lots of freight going north; in fact there is more here now than we can carry in two trips." He was then asked what would be done with the Japanese sailors. "Why, keep them, of course. They do just what they are told to do and never give any trouble. Then again, one white man would want as much money as three Japs, so you see it amounts to a great deal in running a steamer a month. The West Indian will return to the coast from Chili, and the Grandholme is now on her way from England, and will be here by the end of the month. So we shall have quite a little fleet of ships here." It was also learned that it was the intention to bring enough Japanese here to man all the steamers, if there is much trouble with the coast seamen.

STUMP SPOILING.

A well known commission merchant left for the interior today to warn farmers to ship no more potatoes to this city as the market is glutted with them and they are rotting on the wharves, there being no purchasers. It is believed the farmers will lose above a million dollars on their potato crop this year.

TOO LOW FOR HIM.

The Pacific Club has been offering inducements to Peter Jackson to meet Joe McAuliffe again. The latest offer is $5,000, which Jackson has refused. He can see nothing in fighting McAuliffe, notwithstanding the big purse, and says that he would be going backward in fighting the Mission Boy again. Peter's friends also have the same views, and have advised him not to accept the match. McAuliffe, replying to the Pacific Club's offer, said he would be willing to meet Jackson for an even $2000. McAuliffe's friends are working hard to get him a match.

CUTTING A NEW CHANNEL.

The Examiner this morning prints a communication from its correspondent at Salton who made a trip by boat from Yuma to Salton over the Colorado river and the flooded Colorado desert. Six miles below Hanlon's the party left the Colorado river and turned northwest into the wide slough, and proceeded about twenty-five miles, ran into a lagoon of the Colorado river. This was the first place where they saw water leaving the Colorado river on its way to the desert. It seemed to be breaking out of the river in many places. There was a bar forming and the correspondent expresses the opinion that the river will eventually change its channel and throw a great volume of water into the desert.

Crazed by Remorse.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 18.—Judge Warder, under indictment for the murder of his son-in-law, Banker Simpson Fayette, committed suicide last night at his residence on Lookout Mountain by blowing out his brains. He shot himself in the right ear early this morning at Stone Cottage on Lookout Mountain. He survived until 10 o'clock. Judge Warder was district attorney in this city at the time of the murder, which was the most appalling tragedy known in this state. Intense grief, it is rumored, gradually unsettled his mind until he became but a shadow of his former self.

Hungry Hyenas.

DENVER, July 18.—William Collins, the trainer and keeper of Sells Bros.' herd of elephants, came near being torn to pieces last evening by the hyenas, and but for the assistance of the circus employees he would have been killed and eaten. Collins had been looking after the hyenas in addition to caring for the elephants, as the regular hyena trainer is off on a vacation, and had entered the cage preparatory to taking part in the morning parade. He had just fastened the door when the largest animal leaped on him and fastened her teeth in his thigh. Collins pulled his club, but the other hyenas were on him in a second. He fought and yelled for help but the rest of the menagerie become so excited that the employes with difficulty located the trouble. Collins had by this time become so exhausted that he was fast going under. The hyenas were almost beaten to death before they released their hold, and after Collins was secured, more dead than alive, the animals went to fighting with one another. They were subdued by a stream from the fire hydrant. Collins will recover, but he was terribly injured.

Arrested for Murder.

RHINELAND, Wis., July 18.—William Daniels, who fought a prize fight at Crystal Falls, Mich., on Wednesday night, was today arrested, together with his two backers, for murder, on the strength of a telegram from that place. No particulars obtainable.

A Great Trotter.

SAGINAW, Mich., July 18.—The great stallion Nelson made an attempt here yesterday to lower his record of 2:10 3-4 for a special purse of $1,000. The horse has been unwell on the previous day, but he was nevertheless sent the mile, which he accomplished in 2:11 3-4 without a skip or break.

Permanently Cured.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 15.—Near Village Springs, Ala., last Thursday, a negro named McBrown, assaulted Mrs. Cowden, the wife of a prominent farmer. Last night McBrown was captured by a posse and fully identified. At 1 o'clock this morning while being taken to jail, he was taken from the officers by the posse and riddled with bullets.

Gave It Up.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, July 18.—Burlington's great airship company is no more. The capitalists who had gone into the $10,000,000 incorporation with Mr. Pennington, became convinced there was nothing in the enterprise and so dissolved the company today. Pennington proposed to fly his new machine from Burlington to New York, carrying four people in six hours. Nearly two-thirds of the required subscription has been secured.

Through Grand Canyon.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 18.—The Stuker Bros., druggists and men of some means and big backing; Homer Merrill, Associate Justice of the State Supreme Court; Carl Von Agner, a merchant and member of the Legislature; and the Bennet Bros., ranchmen and miners, want to put a boat on the Green, Grand and Colorado rivers. They have organized a company with $250,000 capital, after figuring and prospecting two years. They plan an excursion route, the start to be made at Green River, Utah, and the end and feature to be a trip through the Grand canyon of the Colorado, explored twenty years ago by Major Powell, and in 1889 by Frank V. Brown. Lives were lost both times. Brown, and Stanton his engineer, believed a railroad through the canyon feasible. The new company is in earnest. It is the purpose to arrange for a portage around the dangerous falls and eddies. The company has a party in the field now.

Arabi Pasha Dying.

LIVERPOOL, July 18.—A despatch from Colombo, Ceylon, says that the health of the Egyptian exile, Arabi Pasha, which has been steadily declining for the past two years, has now reached a state gravely alarming to his friends, of whom he has made thousands since his banishment to Ceylon, a little more than seven years ago. From time to time within the past six years various persons of standing and influence have voluntarily undertaken the thankless task of appealing to the British Government for his release, with the unvarying result of meeting with an unqualified refusal on the part of the home authorities, and upon one or two occasions the petitioners have been informed that Arabi ought to consider himself forever thankful that he was not put to death, as his original sentence decreed. The present information concerning the rebel exile is that another effort to obtain his release and return to Egypt to end his days in the land of his birth is being made, which was the moral and material support of hundreds of prominent officials and residents, who have been his friends and associates throughout his enforced stay in Ceylon, and those who have the matter in charge are encouraged to hope that they will be successful. It is stated that Arabi's physician has informed the authorities that his patient will not live many months longer in his virtual confinement, but will succumb to the exacting climate and the incurable nostalgia from which he is constantly suffering.

CANADIAN NEWS.

UNDERVALUED MICA.

TORONTO, Ont., July 18.—The customs authorities here have been advised of the seizure at Schenectady, N. Y., of a car of mica shipped by a certain Ottawa firm to Boston, on the ground of undervaluation. The alleged shipping of mica at undervaluation has been going on for years, and that the United States government has been defrauded out of fully $100,000.

COMMENDS THEIR FAITHFULNESS.

The Empire says: "One thing stands out prominently in connection with the investigation at Ottawa of the allegations of irregularity and frauds, and that is the faithfulness and vigor with which the government are pursuing the enquiry and expressing the determination to probe all the charges to the bottom. There is no fear of a whitewashing act of concealment of the censurable doings, or of a wholesale denial of the charges.

FATAL NEWS TO MANY.

The Dominion Brewers' Association have passed a resolution raising the price of ale and porter 10 cents per dozen bottles, and that of beer 5 cents per gallon, the increase to come into effect today.

TORONTO VICTORIOUS.

The cricket match between Toronto and Germantown, Pa., was finished this morning. Toronto won by six wickets.

THE CHAMPION FOOL.

NIAGARA, Ont., July 18.—Photographer Dixon of Toronto crossed the Niagara river just above the whirlpool rapids yesterday on a seven-eighth inch wire cable. Over six thousand shuddering spectators witnessed the daring feat.

More Mountaineering.

Mr. W. B. Goodwin of Seattle, who has a claim on the middle fork of the Baker Valley, Mount Baker, and is fairly well acquainted with the country in the vicinity of the mountain, has announced that he would, with R. M. Hurd of Seattle, attempt the ascent of Mount Baker in August. As they have had some experience in the Swiss Alps, he thinks they will accomplish their object, and make it known to a certainty that they did so.

Prof. A. G. Ingraham, who has made the ascent of Mount Rainier, attempted the ascent of Mount Baker with a party of nine in the month of August in 1889, and again in 1890. They went up from the south and west side and failed each time to get over the glacier, where they found a crevasse 300 feet wide and 500 feet deep.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

"We see that another Liberal paper, the New Westminster Ledger, is full of compassion for OWEN E. MURPHY. It speaks of him as a 'poor fellow,' and denounces the keen and close questioning of Mr. OSLER as a 'species of brutality.' How very tender hearted these Liberal editors! They evidently do not realize that Mr. OWEN MURPHY takes the witness stand voluntarily to swear away the reputation of men who have hitherto been highly esteemed in the community."—[Colonist.

Our esteemed Tory contemporary at Victoria is quite mistaken in its insinuation that we have any tender heartedness for Mr. MURPHY, although the spectacle of any man in physical distress fails not in our case to excite those ordinary feelings of commiseration which are common to humanity. Nor did we, in the paragraph to which the Colonist refers, find fault with Mr. OSLER'S close questioning of the witness. Our remarks were directed to the "species of brutality" displayed by the Toronto Empire in glorying in the circumstance that MURPHY, after withstanding a searching cross-examination for several hours on an extremely sultry day, had dropped in a faint. MURPHY is a scoundrel, and if he had his deserts he would be in the penitentiary along with several others against whom he has been giving testimony. The Colonist says he has "taken the stand voluntarily to swear away the reputation of men who have hitherto been highly esteemed in the community." Pity 'tis, rogue as he undoubtedly is, that he had not taken the stand long ago and sworn away reputations which have been highly esteemed much too long. MURPHY is likely a liar, but he does not lie always. That appears to be his most objectionable feature. He tells the truth sometimes. For instance, he purchased the influence of Mr. PERLEY with a present of $1,800 worth of jewelry to Mr. PERLEY'S wife. He wasn't lying when he told that, because Mr. PERLEY, confronted by incontrovertible proof, admits that it is true. Who is Mr. PERLEY? He is the Chief Engineer of the Public Works Department, a position which, if corruptly administered, is capable of draining hundreds of thousands dishonestly from the Public Treasury. Guilt has also been admitted by others whom he charged with wrong-doing. And the end is not yet. It is only a flexible of what the Investigating Committee is now driving at the discovery of.

Those Conservative papers that are attacking MURPHY with such virulence at the present time should not neglect to tell their readers that for many years MURPHY has been on terms of great intimacy with the Minister of Public Works and with almost every prominent official of the Public Works Department. He does not give his word simply for the charges he makes, but a voluminous correspondence, covering a dozen years or more, is put in to substantiate what he says. Some of this correspondence must be of especial interest to the editor of the Colonist himself. The Esquimalt graving dock contract was one of the biggest "jobs" yet exposed, and while Mr. MURPHY was in Victoria arranging that business he wrote a number of letters to his confederates at Ottawa. In one of those letters he says that the local members of Parliament were "a brace of pirates," but that—

"The editor of the Colonist is the decentest man we have met with here. He has given us the use of his columns and never asked for a cent. We intend to give him something, though."

Surely it is ingratitude on the part of the editor of the Colonist to turn round and require Mr. MURPHY'S expression of good opinion by such harsh language as is contained in the article from which our above quotation from the Colonist is made. But perhaps Mr. MURPHY'S good intention to "give him something, though," was not fulfilled, a thing which often occurs when, in the lapse of time, benefits become forgot. In that case, there would be some excuse, as human passions are ordinarily understood, for the Colonist's lack of sympathy for MURPHY. It is impossible to believe that the Colonist would defend the corruption of Mr. PERLEY or of the government, except in such indirect and unavoidable manner as would be involved in its very proper outburst of indignation against a man who, happening to make himself prominent by divulging the corruption, had forgotten to carry out those benevolent designs towards the Colonist mentioned in the letter quoted from.

But we would seriously advise the Colonist that when it gives use of its columns to people of MURPHY'S stamp, it is wise to have matters properly understood beforehand. "Honor among thieves" is a romantic fiction. It is contrary to human expectation, and contrary also, as the Colonist will probably agree, to human experience. Therefore, in dealing with such people, it does not partake of the quality of virtue to be mealy-mouthed and trustful. There should be a boldness in the statement of terms verging on positive command, for a condition timidly submitted suggests its refusal. And above all things payment should be "on the nail," otherwise the bargain is sure to be observed in the breach. This wisdom is the result purely of observation.

A JULY JAUNT TO GOLDEN.

Figure to yourselves (as the French say), dear readers, a perfect summer morning, cool and bright, with that sense of freshness and crispness in the atmosphere at 7 o'clock which we of the mountains know so well and appreciate so thoroughly in the dog days. A long freight train is drawn up beside the Donald platform, to the rear of which, two tourist sleepers are attached. Numbers of our citizens dressed in full holiday attire may be seen approaching the station from all directions. They are allowed half an hour's grace beyond the fixed hour of departure, and then, with the usual little scurry of belated jaunters, and numerous admonitory whistles, we are off, steaming away up the Columbia Valley, past Donald's well known eastern land marks, the old sawmill, Engineer's Point, Raspberry Cut, the Blueberry, with its logs and lumber camp, and so on to Moberly of construction fame, now a mere siding. Beyond here the valley widens and we slip away from the river, which trends towards the Selkirks, leaving wide expanses of green hay meadows between its banks and the railway, for at Golden, where we presently arrive, the Columbia is over a mile from the track. The platform is crowded with people, among whom we recognize some kind friends who have offered us hospitality for the day. With them, our party of half a dozen makes its way across the somewhat barren stretch intervening between the station and two pretty cottages, one the property of Captain Armstrong and the other of our host. After being properly refreshed with lemonade, and depositing the wraps, which our morning atmosphere demands, we are ready for what the programme advertises as the "second annual race meeting and sports," in which 25 events have been set down, and for which $500 has been collected. The races and sports are held on an open space between the railway and the town, the finishing post being opposite the two principal hotels, the Kootenay House and the Queen's. The proprietor of the latter advances to meet us, and conducts us to his upper verandah, whence we command the situation, though, the course being semi-circular, we cannot see the starting point.

The meeting opens with a 600 yards horse race, the first prize for which was $50, and second $25. For this event so good horses have been brought up from the Columbia lakes, a fine nag, a well built pinto with a record, a very handsome chestnut with silver mane and tail, owned by a Stony Indian, which I recognise as one of last year's field, and the favorite, a capital buckskin owned by Mr. Chandler of Golden. This is an animal with a reputation, as he carried everything before him last year, winning a large amount of money for his master. Naturally, he is heavily backed by the betting men of Golden. Charlie C., as he is familiarly called, is a big raking horse, and when I saw his jockey, a little lad of twelve years, plucky as possible and fearless, but wanting naturally at his age in the brute strength to hold such a powerful animal, I felt in my boots that Golden would lose its shekels on this race. The result proved my foresight, for after many false starts, in which Charley C. distinguished himself by boring down the course, the race was won in two heats by the black horse from the lakes, cleverly ridden bareback by Mr. D. Kimpton, whose stable companion could have run him much closer than he was allowed to do. The buckskin, ridden this time by his owner, raced the pinto after an interval for second place, but he carried too heavy a weight and could not pull it off, though he eventually won the hurdle race carrying Mr. Chandler, whose weight is close on 175 lbs. A novel event was the cigar race, which seems to be purely western in its origin, and is thus defined: The riders must light cigars, saddle their horses, and at the word go, run 200 yards, and have cigars still alight when they come under the wire. The first prize was $10, and second $5. The race was won with the greatest ease by Mr. Chandler on a roan. The squaw's race, which is always entertaining, did not come off. None of the dusky ladies could be induced to enter, probably for the reason that such contests have been found productive of jealousy, envy, hatred, malice and all unchariteableness among the matrons and maidens of the tribe. There were three other races, a 400 yards, won by the Stony horse; a 200 yards, won by a fine bay horse also from the lakes; and a steeple chase, over an extremely severe course, won by a most remarkable Indian nag, rejoicing in the euphonious appellation of Tenbaseket Ike. The sports themselves did not amount to much. There were few entries, and none of the good jumping contests of last year. The only interesting events were the foot and hurdle races. Two of the former fell to Tarrant of Calgary, the hurdle race being won by Mr. Warren of Golden. The tug of war with which they concluded, for the customary keg of beer, was pulled off in triumph by Donald. The day's entertainment wound up very suitably with a moonlight excursion on the Duchess, which was largely patronized. I am very familiar with the Duchess and the Columbia river, so this event had no attractions for me, and my party, which numbered two small children, was nervous about a possible crowd on the water, so it was decided to stay at home. The only drawback to our holiday trip promised to be the lateness of the train on which we were to return to Donald. Nine was the hour appointed for it to leave Golden, but owing to some delay east of that place, the western bound freight was billed an hour and a half late, and might be later, which was trying, as it would make a long day, and the two small children very tired and cross. I was inspired about 7:30 to pay a visit to some friends at the station. While we were gossiping in their pretty sitting room, I heard the whistle of an approaching engine. On inquiring its destination, I found that it was, in railway parlance, a light engine (an engine and tender only) bound for Donald. Why not, I boldly suggested, return on it? The station master was kindness itself. He went and interviewed the engineer, and announced that two or three of us could go on the engine, which was a big one with a very small cab. I at once went in pursuit of the children's mother, and explained the situation. Anything, she decided, was better than remaining in Golden till possibly midnight, so the two infants were prepared for their journey. When I saw the dimensions of the cab into which two full grown women, my daughter, the engineer and the two babies had to be squeezed, I was appalled. However, the die was cast, and I made the first plunge, and braced myself into a corner on a twelve inch seat, with my shoulders under an iron support and one foot on the boiler, my child beside me. I undertook to hold the baby, which is a saint amongst infants. The mother braced herself on the other side, with the baby's brother, an eighteen months' old boy. Her husband took up a position at the end of the tender, and our momentous journey began. We were on engine 404, in the charge of Mr. Anderson. Unfortunately, it was backing down to Donald, which made its progress anything but pleasant, carrying the coal dust from the tender into the cab. The curtain was dropped, and every possible attention paid to our comfort, but the engineer meant to travel, and travel he did. Away we rattled, round curves and over trestles, bracing ourselves firmly and breathing hard. As the baby engaged both my arms, I had to make use of all the balancing power I had acquired in years of riding. About every half hour the whistle would shriek, and the sleeping baby would rouse up with a squirm and yell in chorus. Between the intervals, the fireman would open the furnace door, just under my feet, shovel in coal and make the dust fly in clouds. We reached Donald in 40 minutes, none the worse for our ride in the cab of an engine, but I must admit the experience was a very hot one. However, I should not mind repeating it on an engine that was not going backwards, without my best clothes and without a baby.

CITY POLICE COURT.

John and Lo Make Themselves Unpleasantly Prominent.

The delinquents at the city justice mill yesterday consisted of three Chinese and one Indian.

Joe Quee, charged with an aggravated assault on Ah Wing on the 17th inst., was fined $4 and costs.

Wong Gin was also charged with assault on the person of Ah Sai on the 17th inst. Mr. McColl, for the complainant, asked leave to withdraw the information, which was granted on payment of costs.

Johnny, a Spuzzum Indian, next appeared on a charge of having been found in a state of intoxication on the 17th. Defendant pleaded guilty, and his honor fined him $5 and costs, in default, one month in the skookum house.

Ah Wing, the complainant in the first case, was charged on the information of Joe Quee with assault on the said Joe. The charge was dismissed and court adjourned.

Dog Fish Oil Factory.

A party of Victoria gentlemen with capital are organizing for the purpose of manufacturing oil from dogfish. There is understood to be a good market in that city for that industry, but the promoters have the assurance of a large company in San Francisco to take all the oil that can be made there. The operations of the company will be extended into curing fish and probably raising hogs. The steamers for the business will shortly be built, and work will be commenced this season.

Sealskins for London.

Carne & Munsie of Victoria on Friday shipped 4,702 sealskins, the catch of three schooners, which was brought down by the Danube. The consignment fills 75 casks, weighs 44,333 pounds, and will go to Montreal in two refrigerator cars on the C. P. R. The railway men say the skins will be rushed through to London, which city they will reach in 21 or 22 days. The total value of the shipment is $94,000, estimated at present prices, but the shippers expect that it will fetch over $100,000 at the fur sale to be held in London shortly.

Visiting His Old Home

Yesterday afternoon Ald. W. B. Shiles left the city bound for Philadelphia, Pa., near which he formerly lived. Ald. Shiles has a ten weeks' leave of absence from the city council, and will probably not return to Westminster until the expiration of that term. Mr. Shiles will attend the Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., as Grand Representative of British Columbia. The Sovereign Grand Lodge meets in St. Louis, Mo., September 21, and will continue for several days. Ald. Shiles was seen off by several friends, who heartily wished him bon voyage.

A Favorite Minister.

The Nanaimo Free Press says that at a meeting of the Presbyterian congregation, held two nights ago, it was unanimously decided to guarantee the Rev. D. McRae, who has filled the pulpit for the last six months, a salary of $2,000 per annum and a manse. It is also their intention to build a much larger church than the one at present in use, which is quite inadequate to meet the increasing demands of the congregation.

Rev. Mr. McRae preaches today morning and evening, in the new West Presbyterian Church. He is an eloquent and thoughtful preacher, and is profitable to listen to.

The West Presbyterian Church.

This morning at 11 o'clock the West Presbyterian Church will be opened for the first time, Rev. D. A. MacRae of Nanaimo, an eloquent and popular divine, officiating. Rev. Mr. MacRae will also conduct the services in the evening, and Rev. S. J. Thompson of the Methodist Church will have charge at the 3 p. m. service. This fine little house of worship is as cosy and comfort*able a sanctuary as any in the city*, and has a seating capacity of 300. It is tastefully painted and decorated, and internally as well as externally has a very pretty appearance. The new church fills a need long felt in the West End, and there can be no doubt that large congregations will be the rule. On Monday evening a social to celebrate the opening of the church will be held in the building.

Knows What He's Talking About.

"Yes, I was born in Dufferin," said the stranger tall and gaunt,
As we all sat round the table in our Front street restaurant;
"And I've been round this mundane sphere, and up and down the coast,
And I've eaten every kind of dish from clam to royal roast,
"I've encountered every kind of chef and scores of first class cooks,
And well-meaning but death-dealing girls who take things from the books,
And without a doubt I realize and am truly proud to say
That we have in New Westminster a restaurant today,
Which for wholesomeness and toothsomeness in white or they boil or bake,
Whitlock's Bonanza Grill Room most surely takes the cake."

SENECA G. KETCHUM.

Port Simpson has adjacent to it the largest salmon canneries on the coast, and from its nearness to the seal fisheries it must also become the headquarters of the seal fishing industry and the large fleets therein engaged. It has back of it millions of acres of rich prairie land, which in time will be peopled with ranchers and farmers, who will contribute to the building up of a large city.

PORT SIMPSON

The Coming City of the North Pacific, is Now on the Market and offers one of the Best Speculations of the Day.

Port Simpson affords the same opportunity to investors today that Vancouver did ten years ago. Ten years ago lots in Vancouver that are selling for $10,000 could have been purchased for $250, and there was not so much certainty of a railroad to Vancouver at that date as there is today of a railroad to Port Simpson.

Nature has determined Port Simpson for a Metropolis. It possesses the only harbor on the North Pacific Coast, and that harbor is pronounced by all mariners (including a British Admiral) to be the finest and safest in the world.

Port Simpson is five hundred miles nearer to Japan than are Vancouver and Victoria, and with the completion of the railway from Port Simpson to Port Churchill, on Hudson's Bay—only a question of time—it will be on the shortest route between England and the Orient, and must command a large share of the trade of the Orient.

It is the only place on the North Pacific Coast that can be reached by the railways that are pushing northwestward from Edmonton and Prince Albert, and without any doubt will be the terminus of another transcontinental railway within a few years.

The property now offered to the public must, by reason of its location—which stands to the surrounding lands just the same as the peninsula on which Vancouver stands—be the site of the future city.

On Queen Charlotte Islands—situated in the Pacific Ocean, nearly opposite Port Simpson—there is an unlimited supply of first-class coal, and it is also thought there is a good supply of coal adjacent to the Port on Work Channel, which is to Port Simpson what Barrard Inlet is to Vancouver.

The Hudson's Bay Co. has had a trading post at Port Simpson for years, and it is the headquarters on the North Pacific Coast for the large and important trade of that rich and powerful company. The attention of the public is called to the fact that, as a rule, wherever the Hudson's Bay Co. has planted its trading posts, there have grown up important cities. Fort William, *Winnipeg, Edmonton and Victoria are illus*trations of this fact.

C. H. Tuttle, author of "Our Northland," published *recently, concludes his interesting work as fol*lows: "And in respect of transcontinental transport or travel from the United Kingdom to the far east, the advantages of the Hudson's Bay route, in connection with a railroad from Churhill to Port Simpson, will not only afford a safe national route, but so greatly minimize time and distance, that with its establishment Canada will become one of the most important parts of the British nation, and absolutely indispensable to the Mother Country. In view of these things, one may reasonably hope that England will eventually aid the Dominion in the construction of the Hudson's Bay railway. The importance of Canada to the parent country is so great that, in a few years at most, one may expect to see a disposition manifested on the part of the latter for closer federal relations. With this will surely come the means of a larger development of Canadian resources, the construction of railways in connection with Hudson's Bay, and the establishment of an extensive international commerce through channels on Canadian latitudes, and consequent national prosperity. Such are the prospects of Our North Land."

Messrs. D. W. Port & Co. will this week begin hauling off the big pile of accumulated debris in the neighborhood of their new fire house. This example could be imitated with profit by all the property owners in that neighborhood. Thousands of drift logs and pieces of lumber, forest garbage and other truck encumber the shore.

Guy W. Walker, Merchant Tailor, having dissolved with Mr. W. F. Beggs, is now at his old stand, 26 McKenzie Street. Clothes cleaned, repaired and dyed as usual. The store will be closed from 1 to 6 on Saturday. *

McLean the oarsman is in splendid condition for his race with Peterson. His muscles are in excellent order, firm, flexible and supple, and strong as ever. His general health for some time past has been capital while the training which he is now undergoing has placed him in the best possible condition to pull a winning race. McLean is quite confident that he can defeat Peterson, but recognizes that he has a hard man to meet.

I have just received a nice stock of Gent's., Ladies', Misses' and Children's boots, shoes and slippers which I am prepared to furnish at prices lower than the lowest. James Rouveaux, Front Street, rear Bank B. C. *

Scotsmen, A'thegither!

There will be a special meeting of the Caledonian and St. Andrew's Society next Wednesday evening, at which it is earnestly requested every member be present, and, if possible, bring along a friend. The Scots are going to have the biggest Caledonian sports meeting this year ever seen in the province, and they want every bairn of John Tamson in this city to lay hold of the rope and haul with Caledonian pith to make it a huge success. Highlanders, Lowlanders, Borderers and Islesmen, shoulder to shoulder and g lorify the thistle, your glorious national vegetable.

VANCOUVER VICTORIOUS.

Yesterday's Cricket Match at Queen's Park a Splendid Exhibition.

The cricket match Westminster v Vancouver yesterday afternoon at Queen's Park was played in fine weather, on a wicket which after first innings were rather badly, thus placing the Westminster men somewhat at a disadvantage, having lost the choice of innings, Vancouver winning the toss. Notwithstanding this there is no doubt that the Vancouver eleven won the match on their merits, though it was not expected that their victory would prove such a decisive one as it turned out to be, the Westminster eleven being defeated in a single innings, a result very largely due to the splendid batting of Mr. Saunders, one of the finest exponents of the game in the Dominion; the steady play of Mr. Dean and the excellent bowling of Messrs. Griffiths, Dean and Mahon. Messrs. Saunders and Dean opened the play so successfully for Vancouver that 81 runs were registered ere the first wicket fell, that of Mr. Dean, although the subsequent players only raised the score to 178, a total sufficiently formidable to render futile the efforts of the Westminster men Mr. Saunders' innings of 60 was an almost faultless display of cricket, and although Dean had not a little luck, his 36 runs were the result of creditable and steady play. Rev. P. Woods bowled excellently for Westminster, fielding his own balls remarkably well and in particular securing Yolland's wicket with a splendid left hand catch. The other Westminster bowlers were hardly up to their usual standard, with the exception, perhaps, of Rev. Mr. Irwin, who at times put in some very difficult balls.

The batting of the Westminster team calls for little comment, few of the eleven being able to withstand the deliveries of Messrs. Griffiths and Dean. Captain Sinclair when apparently becoming well set, drew a ball off his leg into his wicket; and Mr. Irwin after making 11 runs in his usual lively fashion got all across a straight shooter, paying the inevitable penalty. Of the other batsmen only Mr. Montague Woods made any stand, carrying his bat for a plucky but rather fortunate total of 14. Westminster's innings terminated for 56 runs only, and the team had accordingly to follow on. Captain Sinclair then made the best display of the day for his side, and was being fairly well supported by other members of the team though nothing very striking in the form of the players was exhibited. The score for Westminster ultimately totalled 158, leaving the Vancouver team victorious by an innings and 20 runs. Messrs. N. C. Nelson and H. T. Reed acted efficiently as umpires.

AT HASTINGS.

The match at Hastings between the Vancouver and Westminster second elevens resulted in a victory for Westminster by 30 runs and 2 wickets. Play commenced at 10:45. Westminster went to bat first, being represented by Vidal and Owen to the bowling of Miles and Miller. Vidal was the only one who made double figures, 14, as Miles' bowling was unusually puzzling to the visiting team. The remainder of the Westminster eleven were quickly disposed of, the last wicket falling for 55 runs.

Vancouver then went in. Rev. P. Lucy put together 18 before being well caught by Noot off Pittendrigh. Miles put up 15 by careful play, and the rest of the Vancouver men were got rid of for small figures, getting a total of 56. Blaker's bowling was particularly noticeable, and both sides showed good clean fielding, though the ball was at times badly fumbled. Westminster's second innings closed for a total of 144, some really fine batting being shown by Peebles and Power, who put together 22 and 71 respectively, and were loudly cheered on returning to the pavilion.

Vancouver followed with 54 runs to show for their second innings, the match thereupon falling to Westminster by 30 runs and 2 wickets. Score:

A Question of Favoritism

Mr. F. W. Heath, a member of the Toronto Lithographing Company of Toronto, Ont., and a frequent visitor to the province, called at THE LEDGER office last night. In the course of a conversation regarding the provincial exhibit for the Toronto Exhibition now being prepared, Mr. Heath said he had been very sorry to notice that there was a general impression that Vancouver had received more than its share of the notice at the exhibition last year. This idea, Mr. Heath assured THE LEDGER, was totally erroneous. The commissioner was most impartial, and he did his duty faithfully, neither favoring or disfavoring one part of the province above another. Mr. Heath was pleased to notice by the report of the meeting of the Board of Trade, published in THE LEDGER yesterday morning, that this fallacy had been dispelled. As an unbiassed spectator he could state that not the slightest favoritism had been shown, and Westminster got as fair a notice as Vancouver or any other locality in the province. Mr. Heath says the exhibition at Toronto this year will be a very grand affair, and on a larger and more splendid scale than anything attempted in the past. As many as 70,000 people visited the exhibition in one day last year, and the greatest interest was taken in the exhibit from British Columbia.

The Dramatic Society.

The Amateur Dramatic Society held a meeting in Mr. E. M. N. Woods' office last night, there being a good attendance of members. The constitution and rules were passed, and the following officers elected for the ensuing year: Stage manager, Edgar Bloomfield; property master, E. M. N. Woods; treasurer, J. D. Thompson; general manager, J. R. Bowman. The question of giving a play or series of plays during exhibition week was discussed. There will be another meeting at Mr. Woods' office on Tuesday evening to make arrangements to play during exhibition week. Last night five new members were elected. The society is in a flourishing condition and prospects are very bright and encouraging.

A Long Voyage Ended.

The British barque Lanarkshire, which arrived at Vancouver yesterday, has a cargo of steel rails for the Westminster and Vancouver Electric Railway Company, and has been 164 days at sea. She sailed about the same time as the Morayshire, which has the rails for the Vancouver Electric Tramway Company. Capt. Melville reports having been becalmed for a week off San Francisco and had very little wind all the way, which accounts for the long voyage. The vessel has 1,100 tons of steel rails for the tramway between Vancouver and Westminster, the remainder of the cargo being pig iron for the Vancouver City Foundry. After discharging the latter, she will proceed to Westminster and land the rails. Lanarkshire is a fine looking ship.

As soon as the rails are unloaded here the work of laying the track will be pushed along vigorously. It is expected that in about six weeks cars will be running on the new line. This will just be in good time for the fall exhibition and celebration.

A Pointer to the Public.

District Lot No. 28 lies immediately adjoining the city limits. The continuation of Mary Street goes directly through it, and the Electric Tramway will in a couple of months be running its cars every hour of the day through the centre of this property. The lot (No. 28) is composed of 128 acres of land as level as a table. Contracts have been let to clear and grub the ground, and leave it in perfect condition for building purposes. Already six citizens have decided to erect handsome residences there, ragging in price from $4,000 to $7,000 each. The whole of this splendid piece of property (except some limited portions already disposed of) will be put on the market in a few weeks. One great advantage in buying a lot and erecting a residence on this property is that the owner will avoid heavy municipal taxation. Make a note of it, and wait till the property is put on the market before buying. *
