WILHELM DECIDES

THAT HE HAD BETTER NOT VISIT AMERICA AT PRESENT.

Patti Will Sing at the Welsh Eisteddfod—Rival Holy Coats—French Vine Growers Quarrel Over Phylloxera—Leeds Millers Raise the Price of Flour—Splendid Welcome to France at Portsmouth—Canadian Eggs Rule the English Market—Extraordinary Affair at Braemar.

LONDON, August 18.—The hopes which have been raised from time to time that the German Emperor might visit the United States during the Columbian Exhibition, because he has indicated the wish to do so, have been dissipated. It is officially declared that the Emperor has no intention of taking a journey so far away from home, much as he desires to see the great country across the Atlantic.

MUSICAL WALES.

Mme. Patti will attend the Eisteddfod at Swansea tomorrow, and has aroused the enthusiasm of the Welsh bards by promising to sing during the festival. People are flocking to Swansea by thousands in consequence. The opening ceremonies of the festival took place today with great display and greater promise of success. There was a procession of bards, which marched to the pavilion holding 20,000 people. The mayor delivered the inaugural address, dwelling on the literary and musical results of these assemblages in the past thousand years.

EUROPEAN ARMIES.

The failure of negotiations with Switzerland for a Commercial League with Austria and Germany has produced much disappointment in Berlin, where it is felt that the failure is due to the evident determination of the majority of the Swiss to maintain a neutral position in the existing differences and difficulties and coming wars of Europe. The proposition from the first impressed the people of Switzerland unfavorably. They have a traditional repugnance to close alliance of any kind with Austria and they fear the power of Germany. France, too, has many friends among the Swiss, and all these stood out against a commercial union with the two great German powers. The Swiss Federal government has got out of the matter as easily as possible, conscious that a refusal would result in the defeat of the proposition and in the discredit of the government supporting it. It is expected that Austria and Germany will now confine themselves to confirming and arranging the details of their mutual agreement. Hungary has an abundant harvest and will be able to spare large quantities of grain for use in Germany as soon as the treaty between the two countries comes into operation. A Vienna despatch says that some apprehension is felt there among the military officials over the recent evidence that Russia has more than doubled the number of cavalry possessed by Austria. Russia can furnish and muster 782 squadrons, while Austria-Hungary can muster only 341 squadrons. Russia continues to keep a large force of cavalry and infantry near the Austrian frontier, as if preparing for a sudden invasion. This disturbs the Galician Poles, who greatly prefer the rule of Austria to that of Russia and who are among the best soldiers in the Austrian army.

SCARCELY HONEST.

The Prince of Wales started for Hamburg today. He will remain there until the beginning of September, when he will leave for Copenhagen to meet the Princess and join the family party assembled there, which will include the Czar and Czarina. The latter are about starting for Copenhagen on a visit to the Czarina's royal parents. This is a visit to which the Czar looks forward with pleasure, as it is only in Denmark that he lays aside his dignity and acts naturally, going about the woods and grounds without a guard and without his staff military uniform. The visit to Finland has been followed by a decree depriving the Finns of the freedom of the press. Hereafter newspapers are to be controlled by a Russian board of censors on the Russian plan, and the Governor-General may on his own judgment suppress any publication. Considerable excitement prevails in Finland over the announcement. It is looked upon as the harshest step yet taken by the Government of Russia to destroy the liberties of the Finns, in direct violation of the compact made by the Czar Alexander I. in 1808 at the Diet of Borga, when he solemnly confirmed and engaged himself to respect the rights and privileges of all classes.

HIGHLAND WRATH AROUSED.

A gentleman named Farquharson has been making himself obnoxious of late to the residents of Braemar, the pretty little village near which Balmoral castle is situated. Farquharson, who owns an immense estate adjoining Her Majesty's domains, some time ago closed the right of way across his grounds to certain spots much frequented by the villagers and by tourists on account of the splendid views obtainable there of the surrounding mountain and water scenery. The Queen, across whose property the right of way also led, has always been very willing that the privilege should be continued, but her graciousness was ineffective so long as Farquharson denied admission to his estates. The villagers determined to ignore the barrier erected across the path and frequently threw it aside regardless of the warning of the owner of the land. Recently, however, Farquharson caused a high and strong fence to be erected which could not be passed by any single trespasser. It was then resolved by the people of the neighborhood to assert their claim to the right of access to the points referred to, and today was chosen as the time for carrying out their purpose. Four hundred villagers and visitors, headed by a brass band, marched to the barrier, tore it down and burned the timber of which it was composed. They then proceeded in triumph to the spot where the most beautiful view could be obtained and listened to speeches by local orators, defining their rights of access to the territory in question. It was solemnly resolved that those present would march to the same spot every day so long as any attempt was made to exclude them. This being according to legal advice the best method of testing their common rights, which would certainly lapse if they did not exercise them. It is stated that Farquharson will at once take the matter into the courts, and if he does the villagers will make a strong fight with a very good legal case, it is thought, on their side.

BETTER TRY B. C.

Two tenant farmers, one English and one Scotch, have sailed for Canada to examine and report upon the resources of that Dominion, especially Nova Scotia, and its adaptability for the settlement of English and Scotch emigrants. The Canadian Government pays all their expenses.

Travelling in Sweden.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 18.—The Prince of Naples has arrived at Christiana, Norway, and will spend some days inspecting the summer beauty of the Norwegian fields. The Prince will be invited to review the Swedish army, and may take a journey to the mines of Delecarlia. He has expressed a strong desire to see the birthplace and any relics of Gustavus Adolphus, whom he has declared to be his type of a military commander.

Russian Elevators.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 15.—The government proposes to establish a system of elevators at the principal points of export and lines of railway. This is to enable the small farmer, as well as the extensive landowner, to bring wheat, whatever quantity, to the elevator to be graded, receiving for the quantity they bring a warrant for so much grain of a certain grade. These warrants will be payable at all government banks. It is expected thus to abolish the middlemen.

Against Phylloxera.

PARIS, August 18.—A syndicate of wine growers has been formed at Epernay for mutual insurance against individual losses from the ravages of phylloxera. A meeting attended by six thousand persons was held at Epernay yesterday to promote this object, but was invaded by a body of wine growers hostile to the measure, who captured the meeting and elected a committee opposed to the scheme. The opponents of the syndicate declared that there is no danger at present from phylloxera and that the movement is a speculative one. They also oppose the government's proposal to appoint inspectors who shall have the right to tender all vineyards and take measures against phylloxera.

Welcome to France.

PORTSMOUTH, August 18.—Preparations are all complete for the reception of the French fleet, and they have been made with a will, for the Frenchmen are much more welcome than the Germans were. The whole town, private as well as public buildings alike, is decorated with flags and streamers. The Solent is full of pleasure craft of every description, filled with gaily-dressed people, every point of vantage on the shore for miles is covered with spectators. The British men-of-war are placed in position ready to do the honors the moment the friendly squadron heaves in sight. The Royal Yacht Club makes a fine display, a large portion of the fleet being here. A position has been assigned to it in the ceremonies of the reception. The yachts of all nations are present, and among them the American flag occasionally appears. A large number of Frenchmen have crossed the channel to view the spectacle so flattering to their national pride. The hotels are filled and fabulous prices are asked for everything.

Rival Holy Coats.

BERLIN, August 18.—The city of Treves is packed with visitors from all parts of Germany to be present at the ceremonies on Thursday, when the holy coat of the Saviour will be exposed to public view. Thousands of letters have been received in which the writers beg for permission to enter the church, and permission to touch the holy coat for religious and healing purposes. The rector of the church at Argenteuil, in France, which possesses the rival coat, has arrived there with two friends. He declares that the holy coat of Treves is not seamless, as has been represented, and as the description in the New Testament requires the coat should be; moreover, that it is a long cloak, falling from the shoulders to the feet, which Jesus, being a mere craftsman, could never have worn. The French rector, who got the start of the German by the exhibition at Argenteuil, on Sunday, of the coat vouched by Gregory of Tours, is incensed at the prominence given the coat of Treves. His presence is likely to cause trouble, as his remarks have stirred up much indignation among the faithful.

SHOCKING RAILWAY DISASTER.

Two passenger trains going at full speed collided today at a point between Ostrowo, Prussia, and Lissvitz. Ten persons were killed and many injured. The coals from the locomotives set fire to the wreck and terrible scenes were witnessed, some of the injured being burned to death before the eyes of the rescuers.

MISPLACED TRUST.

The National Zeitung says that the German merchants who in April made heavy advances to Russian growers of rye to be delivered in September will suffer enormous losses. The situation is grave.

PAPAL PERPLEXITIES

People are wondering here what Pope Leo will do with the ticket bequeathed to him by the late Ritter Von Leon Hard, who was chancellor of the papal legation in Vienna. The will of the late chancellor left to the pope about 100,000 francs in money, a quantity of stocks and bonds, and half of any eventual gain from the lottery tickets held by the deceased. It is shown by this instance that dealing in lotteries is not uncommon in Vienna among people of high station. But it is probably the first time that the pope has been made a lottery beneficiary.

Killed by a Meteor.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., August 18.—It is reported that Thomas Lucas was killed by a falling star at a small hamlet in Elk county, Pennsylvania. Lucas' little daughter aroused the neighbors and a party repaired to his home. Directly over the bed was a large hole in the ceiling, and the plastering was scattered in all directions. On the bed lay the mangled form of Lucas. There was a large hole burned through the bed-clothing and piercing the floor, and the floor boards being removed, imbedded in the earth was found a large piece of rock, weighing fully 25 pounds, which was yet warm. This confirmed the belief that the house had been struck by an exploded meteor.

Home to China.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 18.—The acting secretary of the treasury has directed that the Chinaman named Chang, alias Woo Lee, who was convicted at New Orleans of unlawful entry into the United States, be delivered to the custody of the collector of customs at San Francisco for deportation to China. This man arrived at New Orleans on the 28th ultimo, by steamer from Havana, and asserted that he was a naturalized citizen, and produced a certificate to that effect. It was shown at the trial that he was not the person named in the certificate. The collector of customs at New Orleans has been instructed to submit to the United States attorney the question of the liability of the steamship Hutchinson for aiding in the immigration of the Chinaman.

Chinese dissipation with white man's rye is becoming quite common now. John makes a very disagreeable drunk.

NEARLY A MILLION

FIRE ALMOST WIPES OUT JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA.

Damage Amounting to Almost a Million Dollars—Many Prominent Business and Other Houses Completely Destroyed—Latest Advices from Hawaii—Changes in the Ministry—Popularity of the Queen—Slavin Coming to America—Must Fight Somebody.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., August 18.—A half-million dollar fire this morning destroyed 55 buildings, including Knight's crockery house, the Hibbard block, in which was located the Western Union telegraph office, and half a dozen other large concerns—the Tremont House, Seminole Club, Smith Building, Hotel Placide, Chelsea House, Tilton House, McMurray & Baker's carriage warehouse, St. Joseph's Convent, the Retzweller residence and Lloyd Bros.' crockery store. The buildings for four streets back from Bay street and a strip two squares wide were burned. An explosion of dynamite on Forsythe street made the fire uncontrollable and injured many people, but none seriously. The insurance is light. Many other buildings in the vicinity of the business portion were badly damaged and some were completely gutted.

The total losses by today's fire are now estimated at $850,000, and insurance $500,000.

Record Breaking.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., August 18.—Three new records were made last night on the Sprinfield bicycle track by W. F. Murphy of the New York Athletic Club. He rode a pneumatic and beat all American records for one mile. The time was: Quarter mile, 35 seconds; half mile, 1.09 3-5; three-quarter mile, 1.45¾; one mile, 2.22 2-5, beating the American record by 2 4-5 seconds.

Drowned in a Canal.

FRESNO, Cal., August 18.—News is received here this evening of the accidental drowning of W. T. Simpson, well and favorably known here. Simpson, in company with his brother-in-law, W. J. Perry, left Sanger this afternoon at 4 o'clock on the way to their homes at Big Dry creek, where Simpson is proprietor of a wayside store. After leaving Sanger they stopped at Church canal to take a bath. The water was running full head, and while bathing Simpson was taken with cramps and disappeared before Perry could render any assistance.

Nice People.

PURVIS, Miss., August 18.—A family feud, which is likely to prove a bloody one, opened here today. Jesse Lee and William Boon, well-known citizens of Purvis, met at a neighbor's house, and without wasting any time in words, began firing at each other. Boon was shot twice through the heart, but before he died, and while lying on the ground, he succeeded in wounding Lee, who escaped, but it is thought he is fatally shot. Family troubles caused the duel, and as each man has many connections with fighting blood in their veins, it is not thought that the trouble will end here.

Rather Romantic.

CARSON, Nev., Aug. 18.—John Wood of Carson stated to an Appeal reporter that fifteen years ago a Spaniard lived at Pinenut, and owned a very rich gold mine which he kept covered up, except when he wanted money. Then he would crush some ore in a mortar and dispose of the gold. I saw the man this morning who had seen some of the Spaniard's ore. I showed him rock from the Zern mine, and he said it looked the same. The question is, are there two rich lodges in Pinenut, or has Zern found the mine of the dead Spaniard? John D. Winters used to ship galena ore by the carload from this district. The Winters mine was owned by a man in Los Angeles.

Presence of Mind.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, August 18.—There was a narrow escape from a fearful wreck at the crossing of the Panhandle and Columbus, Shawnee & Hocking Valley Railroads, a mile east of this city, at 10 o'clock tonight. A passenger train on each road was due there about the same time. The Panhandle train had the right of way, but the Columbus & Shawnee train was late, running fast, and could not stop. The operator saw a fearful collision was imminent and quickly threw the Columbus train on an open switch. The engine and two cars were derailed and turned over. Engineer McMunn of Dennison, Ohio, who had his left leg badly crushed, was the only person hurt.

Horrible Enough.

CARMI, Ill., August 18.—A most revolting tragedy occurred yesterday at Texas City, nineteen miles north of here. Mike Weitzle was in company with Mary Ballantine, a notorious character, on a north-bound freight train. When near Texas young Otis Johnson, aged 15, who was in the caboose, resented some unseemly remarks made by the woman. Weitzle instantly knocked Johnson prostrate with a slungshot. Johnson got up and made a slash at Weitzle with a knife, cutting a deep gash across the abdomen, disemboweling Weitzle. The woman then picked up a hatchet and struck Johnson a fearful blow on the face. Both Johnson and Weitzle have died.

From Polynesia.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 18.—The steamer Zealander arrived from Honolulu this afternoon, bringing the following advices: Complete census returns show the population of Hawaii to be 6,030. The Queen is making a tour of the Capital Island, and is being royally received everywhere. H. A. Widemann, Minister of Finance, has resigned owing to ill health, and has been succeeded by J. Mott, an old resident who was Minister of Finance in the reign of King Kamehameha, 1869, and of the interior in the late king's reign. The extreme drought has been relieved by light showers. An English barque has arrived at Honolulu on the way to the guano deposits on Layean Island. She will take over 1,300 tons to Hamburg.

Yellow Fever.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The steamer City of Washington, which arrived here this morning from Mexican ports and Havana, reports yellow fever prevalent to an alarming extent at Vera Cruz, and though the health authorities are striving to check the spread of the disease, their efforts are apparently unavailing. Many deaths occurred during the last six weeks, and it was a common sight, the officers of the vessel say, to see a string of funerals half a mile long, stretching from the gates of the city to the cemetery, each funeral party waiting patiently for a chance to bury its its dead. Among the latest victims of the malady is P. L. Snowball, a well-known commission merchant of 70 Wall street, who has been in Mexico since August 2nd. The City of Washington was detained for thorough inspection and fumigation at quarantine, as a precautionary measure, and will not be allowed to come up to the city until tomorrow. On the vessel are Captain Pratt and wife, of the tug boat Julia, the second mate and three sailors of the American brig Akbare, and Captain Brunk of a Danish bark, all of which vessels were recently wrecked.

WILL FIGHT SOMEBODY.

A London cablegram to the Police Gazette says that Slavin and Mitchell will sail for America on September 24th. If Slavin sees on his arrival that there is no opportunity with Sullivan, he will arrange a match with James Corbett.

FOR THE SOUND.

The Charles W. Wetmore, commonly known as the "Whaleback steamship," was the object of much curiosity yesterday, as she steamed up the river to Green Point. In appearance, the vessel resembles a huge cigar. She arrived in ballast from Liverpool, and behaved exceedingly well on the passage, although some rough weather was encountered. She will take a cargo of machinery at Green Point docks, for transportation to Washington state.

Made a Meal of.

DYONORUSKY, Aug. 18.—An explorer telegraphs from Debraszaville, West Africa, that the failure of Crampel's mission is certain. Crampel was in command of an expedition sent out by the French Government to Lake Tchad in June last, and a report was received that Crampel and the members of his expedition were killed, roasted and eaten by natives of Matonga. This report, however, was subsequently denied from Debraszaville.

Female Counterfeiters.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., August 18.—This city is flooded with counterfeit dollars. They are of a perfect mould and every bank in the city has had them offered with other money on deposit. Some tellers of long experience have allowed them to pass unnoticed. They bear the date of 1889. The coins have a sticky feeling, like soap stone, and very different from silver, but many people have been deceived by them. The perpetrators are supposed to be two women. Two modestly-attired women have made trifling purchases at several places and after paying for them in silver have asked that the dealer give them bills for $10 or $15 in silver to relieve the weight of the pockets. The United States authorities are making a thorough search for the offenders.

CANADIAN NEWS.

Where is McGreevy?—Type Founders in the Swim.

OTTAWA, Ont., August 18.—Hon. Thomas McGreevy, M. P., did not obey the summons to appear within the bar of the House this afternoon. He is in Quebec. It is understood that the resignation of McGreevy is in the hands of the Speaker, but this is not definitely known. Rumors that he had resigned were published in all the afternoon papers.

McGreevy having failed to attend in his place this afternoon, Thompson moved that he be taken into custody by the sergeant-at-arms. The motion was carried without debate.

Langevin presented himself today at the meeting of the committee on privileges and elections to explain the reason why Michael Starrs was requested by him to withdraw his tender for the Esquimalt dock.

Laurier remarked this morning that he saw no reason why prorogation should be postponed later than a fortnight from tomorrow or Thursday.

REALLY AFTER CHAPLEAU.

TORONTO, Ont., August 18.—An Ottawa despatch to the World says it is admitted that unless there is a tall lot of swearing by the typefounders of Toronto, it will be elicited that the official who had a great deal to do with the printing bureau received large commissions from them on purchases made by him, but it is not so much the official that Reform editors who have charge of this scandal are after, as his ministerial chief, Chapleau. They will not say openly that he shared in any of the commissions got by the head of the bureau, but they think they will be able to get at something if the evidence goes deep enough and far enough.

CANADA'S HENS SUPREME.

Three million Canadian eggs have just been landed at Liverpool. Experts declare that these eggs are far superior to the best that come from Ireland or from the Continent, in regard to size, quality and packing. Though the shipment of eggs from Canada on such a large scale was brought about by the McKinley bill, which has the effect of depriving Canada of the United States market, the English dealers say that the Canadian article can now hold this market, whatever happens, its superiority having now been proven.

ENTIRELY PRIVATE.

The Canadian Pacific board of directors held its regular meeting yesterday under the presidency of Van Horne, but the proceedings were of a private nature, and the officials decline to say anything about it for publication.

TIME NOT UP YET.

HALIFAX, N. S., August 18.—A cablegram from the colonial office in London announces that neither England nor Spain has given notice of their intention to terminate the treaty of 1880, and as one year's notice of such intention must be given after the date fixed for its expiration, no change can be made for two years to come on the duty on Canadian imports into the Spanish West Indies.

DIED ON THE SCAFFOLD.

WINNIPEG, Man., August 18.—A young man named Green was killed at Neepawa this morning by the collapse of an elevator scaffold.

SCULLY COMING WEST.

Vincent Scully the defeated Parnellite candidate in the late Kilkenny election, is here en route to the west.

ASHAMED TO SHOW HIS FACE.

QUEBEC, August 18. — Thomas McGreevy has sent a letter to Parliament saying that he prefers losing his seat to complying with the orders of Parliament, which were that McGreevy should appear in his seat today and give his reasons for refusing to answer questions put by the investigation committee of the House.

Spoiled the Fun.

SWANSEA, August 18.—The Welsh Eistedfodd or national festival began today. During the proceedings a sudden and violent storm arose. A cloud burst and deluged the amphitheatre where the services were being held and a heavy wind caused the canvas of the pavilion to collapse. The ten thousand people within the structure were thoroughly soaked with rain. A stampede occurred, but no one was injured. After an interval of several hours, in which repairs were made, the proceedings were resumed.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD'S WIT.

In yesterday's LEDGER we made some reference to the excellence of the work performed by Mr. E. B. BUGAR, of Montreal, in his "Anecdotal Life of Sir JOHN MACDONALD." Many of Sir JOHN's jokes are famous, and his bright sayings were almost without number. Here are some of the anecdotes as told in Mr. BUGAR's volume:

On the subject of naturalization of aliens, replying to Mr. BUNSTER, Sir JOHN said: "I think German, Italian, French and other aliens can hold land in British Columbia under a local act, and that the 'heathen Chinee' can purchase land until the Legislature of British Columbia repeals the law allowing all aliens to hold lands."

Mr. BUNSTER, arguing on the question, pointed out that the Australian colonies had bound themselves together against the Chinese pest.

Sir JOHN—"Would the honorable gentleman prevent Dutchmen from settling in British Columbia?"

Mr. BUNSTER—"No."

Sir JOHN—"Well, one foreigner comes from China, and another comes from Delf (Delft.) I am sure that china is better than delf."

"Not at all," insisted Mr. BUNSTER, apparently oblivious of the joke.

* * * * * * *

Sir JOHN (replying to Mr. BLAKE on the Canadian Pacific Railway contract question)—"The hon. gentleman with his legal mind sticking at legal technicalities may argue that a speech of mine is not a legal notice; but on a previous occasion, when the hon. member for Lambton was forcing a measure upon the country without notice, he said indignantly to this House: 'Every man has read my speech at Sarnia.' I will ask the hon. member if that did not occur, that if what is sauce for one animal of a particular kind, is not sauce for another animal of the same kind?"

Mr. BLAKE—"We do not say he is a goose."

Sir JOHN—"That is a ready answer from an *ass*er."

[It will be necessary to inform readers who do not understand Latin, that "anser" means "goose."]

As soon as the roars of laughter at this hit had subsided, Sir JOHN added with a comical air of sorrow for what he had said: "I think my hon. friend will pardon me for the allusion, because he brought it on himself."

* * * * * * *

One day Sir JOHN, wishing to close off an inconvenient discussion which had been brought up by Mr. MACKENZIE, said to him, "Art thou he that troubleth Israel?" Sir JOHN did not remember that he was quoting the words of Ahab the wicked king, but Mr. MACKENZIE was more deeply read in biblical literature, and instantly retorted in the words of Elijah, "I have not troubled Israel, but thou and thy father's house, in that ye have forsaken the commandments of the Lord and have followed Baalim."

* * * * * * *

Mr. McLELAN—"The position taken by the hon. gentlemen opposite is that we should content ourselves with the production of raw material for the rest of the world to use in their manufactures."

Several members—"No."

Sir JOHN—"You touch them on the raw there."

* * * * * * *

Mr. MACKENZIE—"I wish to ask the Premier at what date Sir ALEXANDER GALT's resignation takes effect."

Sir JOHN—"On the first of June."

Mr. MACKENZIE—"Who is to be his successor?"

Sir JOHN—"Oh!"

Mr. MACKENZIE—"The hon. gentleman can tell me in confidence."

"Sir JOHN—"I think the hon. gentlemen and myself took the same oath—that we would not disclose any advice given His Excellency without his permission."

* * * * * * *

In a discussion on Indian supplies, Mr. CHARLTON, who was suffering from a cough, said: "I doubt the propriety of going contrary to the traditions of the Indians in matters of this kind. They should be allowed to bury their dead according to their custom."

"I see you have a fit of coffin tonight," said Sir JOHN.

* * * * * * *

Sir JOHN was taken to task one day for reappointing a delinquent civil servant who had promised to do better, when he retorted:

"The hon. gentlemen sneered when I said, 'Go and sin no more.' I would not give them that advice because I do not think they would take it."

* * * * * * *

Mr. BLAKE (alluding to the treatment of the Indians)—"Why should we be more moral with our Indians friends than with ourselves?"

Sir JOHN—"If we were not, it might diminish the number of the opposition."

* * * * * * *

On a motion to spend a sum of money for meteorological observations in British Columbia, Mr. BLAKE remarked: They do not blow at all out there." To which Sir JOHN replied, "No, they raise the wind without it."

* * * * * * *

Mr. DAVIE—"I rise to a point of order. The complaint I make is that the hon. gentlemen made such a noise when I was speaking that I could not make myself heard."

Sir JOHN—"That is not a point of order, it is a point of disorder."

* * * * * * *

Mr. BAKER, of British Columbia (in a debate on the civil service naval examinations)—"Naval officers have to pass a very difficult examination at the Royal College, Greenwich. If you would include naval officers you would make provision for the future."

Sir JOHN—"I see no reason why we should not also put in clergymen." [Naval chaplains.]

Mr. BAKER—"They are not like clergymen."

Sir JOHN—"I don't know; a good many of them are at sea."

* * * * * * *

Sir JOHN—"The intention of the Government is, if it is the will of the House, to sit on Dominion Day."

Mr. BLAKE—"Not on St. JOHN'S Day?"

Sir JOHN—"That is my day."

Mr. BLAKE—"No, the hon. gentleman is not canonized yet. It requires a long space of time, and a successful passing of the very serious ordeal of an inquisition with the advocatus diabli as chief accuser."

Sir JOHN—"Will my honored friend not take that office?"

* * * * * * *

Sir RICHARD CARTWRIGHT (speaking of the sanitary defects of the Chamber)—"For the last two or three days there has been an unsavory and unwholesome smell on this side of the House."

Sir JOHN—"The hon. gentleman had better change to this side. I have no objections to the hon. gentleman coming over here."

Sir RICHARD—"I am quite willing to accept the suggestion to change places pro tem. and to consider this the right side of the House for the time being."

Sir JOHN—"There is a constitutional objection to that—the ayes are on this side and the noes on that side."

* * * * * * *

Mr. THOW (the Liberal whip, concluding a speech in the session of 1888)—"The leader of the Government has to take a little rest sometimes, but on the whole he has been very attentive, and I think he has renewed his youth. We all wish he may long continue—though not on that side of the House—and may live at least a quarter of a century, to give his counsels to the people from this side of the House."

* * * * * * *

Sir JOHN's failing was the habit of indulging in strong drink, but for which he might have lived ten or fifteen years yet in the full vigor of his intellect. Once he went to speak against a Reform candidate in a North Ontario constituency. When he mounted the platform, after having taken too much strong drink and being shaken over a rough track on the train, he became sick and vomited on the platform while his opponent was speaking. Such a sight before a large audience disgusted even many of his friends, and the prospect for the Conservative cause that day was not bright. The opposing candidate, whom we will call JONES, ceased speaking, and JOHN A. rose to reply. What could he say, or how could he act to redeem himself and gain respect or attention? "Mr. Chairman and gentlemen," he began, "I don't know how it is, but every time I hear Mr. JONES speak, it turns my stomach." The conception was so grotesque and so unexpected that the audience went off in fits of laughter, and disgust was instantly turned into general good humor and sympathy.

* * * * * * *

At one time, complaints were pretty numerous among prominent Conservative members of the drinking habits of THOMAS D'ARCY MCGEE. A member came to JOHN A. and said, "You must speak to him. This sort of thing is a disgrace." After putting them off for some time, JOHN A. went to MCGEE, and said, "Look here, McGEE, this Government can't afford two drunkards, and you've got to stop."

NOTICE.

HIS HONOUR THE LIEUTENANTGovernor has been pleased to make the following Rules of Court:—

1. There shall be a vacation of the Supreme Court from the 15th day of August to the 30th day of October, 1891, both days inclusive, during which vacation, subject to the further provisions hereinafter contained, no pleading shall be delivered or cause tried.

2. Nothing in these Rules shall interfere with the delivery of pleadings, or the trial of causes triable or proposed to be tried, elsewhere than at Victoria, New Westminster, or Nanaimo.

3. Notwithstanding the next but one preceding Rule, and unless otherwise ordered in any case by the Court or a Judge, any trial may proceed in vacation when notice of trial has been given before vacation, or where an order shall have been made before vacation directing the trial during vacation, and for the purposes of any such trial, as mentioned in this Rule, amended pleadings may be ordered and delivered during vacation; and where in any case application is made for further time to deliver any pleading or to take any step in the cause, the effect of which would or might be to prevent notice of trial being served before the commencement of vacation, or the making before vacation of an order for trial, the Court or a Judge, in granting such further time, may impose upon the party applying for such further time the condition of going to trial during vacation, and thereupon such trial may proceed during vacation.

4. Nothing in these Rules shall interfere with applications for judgments under Rule 75 of the Supreme Court Rules, 1890, nor with the assessment of damages in cases of judgment by default.

5. Nothing in these Rules shall interfere with the pending sittings of the Full Court nor with the right of appeal to the Divisional Court from any interlocutory order, or the refusal of any interlocutory order.

6. These Rules may be cited as "The Supreme Court Vacation Rules, 1891."

By Command,

A. CAMPBELL REDDIE,
Deputy Provincial Secretary.

SIR, One man is better than another, just in proportion as he dresses well. Talk as you will, it is the external appearance by which we judge a man at first sight, and first impressions are the most lasting. The Matter of a PERFECT FIT is, more than even the quality of the material of which a suit of clothes is made, the most important consideration. The finest cloth badly conformed to the shape of the wearer is worse than shoddy.

CITY POLICE COURT.

Opium and Whisky Get Three Chinamen Into Trouble.

The city hall yesterday morning was filled with a large audience of Chinese, come to see how their countryman in distress, Sing Kee, fared at the hands of Judge Atkinson.

Sing Kee was charged on remand with selling liquor without a license on August 6th last. He was further charged with selling opium, also without a license. Mr. Judge appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. John Boultbee of Vancouver for the defence. A plea of not guilty was entered. Joe Sam and Lee Yok Sing gave evidence showing that on the evening of the 6th of August they purchased liquor in a bottle and opium, which articles were produced in court. The case at this point was remanded until the afternoon. On being resumed in the afternoon, Mr. J. S. Clute testified as to the nature of the liquor contained in the bottle. Mr. Smith also gave evidence as to the bottle and box containing opium being taken from the witnesses, Lee Yok Sing and Joe Sam, at the time of their arrest. Mr. Smith also testified as to the character of the liquor sold, showing that it was an intoxicant, and of the very lowest grade at that. Sing Kee stated that he did not see either Joe Sam or Lee Yok Sing in his store on the date in question. He admitted having Chinese wine in his store, but it was kept to give away to customers, not to sell. Ying Tung, an assistant in Sing Kee's store, also gave evidence having a more or less direct bearing on the point at issue. The matter was argued by Mr. Boultbee at some length, Mr. Judge, for the prosecution, briefly replied to Mr. Boultbee's contention. The Trades License Bylaw was quoted in support of the prosecution. His honor carefully summed up the case, and finally imposed a fine of $50 and costs on the first count and a fine of $25 and costs on the second. Mr. Boultbee gave notice of appeal.

The case against Quong Lee Joy Chung for keeping a common gaming house then came up, Mr. Morrison for the defence, and Mr. Judge for the prosecution. It was adjourned until this afternoon at 2 o'clock, and will probably take all day, to say nothing of possible adjournments, to settle it.

The Official Programme.

The advertising committee of the Citizens' Celebration Committee has contracted with Mr. E. Bloomfield for 10,000 copies of an official eight page programme with cover, which will be distributed in neighboring cities and throughout the city during the exhibition week. The programme will be divided into departments, and the cover page will bear a handsome engraving of the exhibition buildings. It will contain the latest information regarding the events of each day, and serve the purpose of an efficient guide and directory for the use of visitors.

Courtesy Thrown Away.

On Friday evening, says the Times, as the steamer Islander was entering Seattle harbor, Captain Irving noticed a steamer on fire. All the other boats in the harbor were getting out of the way, and the fire-boat was, for some cause, late in arriving. The Islander, however, ran alongside the burning steamer and had two streams of water playing on it in a very short time. The fire was in a cargo of lime, but nevertheless the Islander was there with her two streams of water, notwithstanding the report in the Seattle Telegraph, which ridiculed the part taken by the crew of the Islander. Some people do not know how to accept a courtesy.

Bicycle Tourists.

Yesterday morning Messrs. Hopkins and Buttar, two members of the Whatcom bicycle club, arrived in the city, having come from Whatcom, from whence they started last week on bicycles by road. They described their journey as being very enjoyable, over fairly good roads and the scenery along the road the finest they ever saw. They had no adventures of much importance, and were favored with fair weather from the start, except Monday. After staying a short time in town, the two cyclists went on to Vancouver. They will probably return today, and then propose to wheel it to Harrison Hot Springs and thence home.

Tonight's Fine Concert.

The concert this evening in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium promises to be successful in every way. The very moderate charge for admission will certainly not deter anyone who enjoys good music. Some of the city's finest singers and musicians will take part and render well-chosen selections. The Schubert quartette have been putting in some hard practice and are perfect at the pieces they intend to render. This will be their first appearance in public as a quartette. They should certainly be heard. The acoustic properties of the hall are excellent, both for singing, instrumental music and for speaking. It is hoped that an audience as fine as that which filled the spacious auditorium at the last concert, will favor the enterprise of this evening by their presence.

Somewhat Off.

The Bellingham Bay Express says that the Drysdale salmon cannery, on Semiahmoo spit, is running almost day and night. From seven to ten thousand salmon are being stored away in cans daily, which is more than all of the combined canneries on the Fraser river are doing at present. Drysdale formerly ran a cannery on the Fraser, the fish of which river have an excellent reputation abroad. It was to catch the Fraser salmon in American waters that induced him to establish his cannery at Semiahmoo, and the result is abundantly justifying his business judgment. There is not the least doubt but that Semiahmoo and Drayton will become the greatest fishing port on the Pacific coast in another year. While other canners are making two bits Drysdale is making dollars. Semiahmoo spit is a natural fishing point, but there are several places in Whatcom county where salmon fishing is profitable.

Thoroughly Enjoyed Themselves.

The steamer Delaware was loaded comfortably last evening when hawsers were hauled in and she headed for Steveston with the Artillery Band excursion party. The band gave a street parade before boarding the steamer and played a number of spirit-stirring selections. It is estimated that close to 300 persons, ladies and gentlemen, took advantage of the trip. The weather was admirable. As the Delaware sped swiftly down river the sunset attracted everybody's attention by its extreme richness. A few minutes later darkness fell and the moon rose, veiled in soft clouds, behind the South Westminster hills. All the way down the band discoursed most enjoyable music and no one seemed to mark the moments as they flew. Steveston reached, everyone disembarked and visited the rising city of the future. Mr. W. H. Steves and other prominent gentlemen of the city received the excursionists and bade them welcome. An early adjournment was made to Steveston Opera House, and the floor being cleared and the band having rested, the dancing began. The evening was thus enjoyably spent, and at the close of the dancing, refreshments were handed around. Embarking once more on the Delaware, the greyhound of the Fraser did not take long to reach her berth in Mathers & Milligan's dock, a short time after midnight. Everybody who took part in the outing speaks in terms of highest praise of the kindness shown by the Steveston people and the attention of the officers of the steamer and the managers of the excursion. Financially, the excursion is said to have resulted satisfactorily for the band.

Westminster v. Warspite.

At Queen's Park on Saturday a cricket match will be played between the Westminster first eleven and an eleven from H. M. S. Warspite, the flagship of the Pacific squadron, now at Victoria. This match is likely to be one of the most notable of the season, next to the one with the California team. The following gentlemen will represent Westminster: J. W. Sinclair, captain, G. Newington, H. H. Newington, A. Malins, F. J. Coulthard, G. R. Raymond, W. R. Ransom, E. A. Wyld, E. M. N. Woods, Captain Powers, T. Gifford, Rev. H. Irwin, A. J. Brine. On the 29th the return match with H. M. S. Warspite will be played at Victoria. On the same day a match between the Old Timers and the remaining members of the club will be played at Queen's Park, and on September 5th a match will take place between the married and single members for a pair of handsome cups, which will be presented by Captain Sinclair and George Newington. This last event is likely to awaken a good deal of interest.

Quarrelsome Women.

Yesterday afternoon as the last train for Vancouver was about to leave the depot, a disgraceful fight occurred between two women who recently figured in the police court. One was going to Vancouver, and as she was getting on the train, the other attacked her, striking her, pulling her hair and tearing her dress. The assaulted woman managed to get on board the train safely, and her assailant was prevented by the conductor from following her and renewing the fight. By this time a large crowd had gathered, and then the baffled woman ran from end to end of the car yelling out the foulest language, imprecations and curses, trying to get at her enemy, who coolly and unconcernedly watched her through the window. Once she evaded the conductor and managed to get through the outer door, and seriously alarmed some children and ladies by her violent behaviour. She was, however, ejected before she could get any further, and was finally taken home by friends as the train pulled out.

The rise of the moon last night was full of splendor and weird beauty. Westminster has another monopoly in Luna.

Port Simpson has adjacent to it the largest salmon canneries on the coast, and from its nearness to the seal fisheries it must also become the headquarters of the seal fishing industry and the large fleets therein engaged. It has back of it millions of acres of rich prairie land, which in time will be peopled with ranchers and farmers, who will contribute to the building up of a large city.

PORT SIMPSON
The Coming City of the North Pacific, is Now on the Market and offers one of the Best Speculations of the Day.

Port Simpson affords the same opportunity to investors today that Vancouver did ten years ago. Ten years ago lots in Vancouver that are selling for $2,000 could have been purchased for $200, and there was not so much certainty of a railroad to Vancouver at that date as there is today of a railroad to Port Simpson.

Nature has determined Port Simpson for a Metropolis. It possesses the only harbor on the North Pacific Coast, and that harbor is pronounced by all mariners (including a British Admiral) to be the finest and safest in the world.

Port Simpson is five hundred miles nearer to Japan than are Vancouver and Victoria, and with the completion of the railway from Port Simpson to Port Churchill, on Hudson's Bay—only a question of time—it will be on the shortest route between England and the Orient, and must command a large share of the trade of the Orient.

It is the only place on the North Pacific Coast that can be reached by the railways that are pushing northwestward from Edmonton and Prince Albert, and without any doubt will be the terminus of another transcontinental railway within a few years.

The property now offered to the public must, by reason of its location—which stands to the surrounding lands just the same as the peninsula on which Vancouver stands—be the site of the future city.

On Queen Charlotte Islands—situated in the Pacific Ocean, nearly opposite Port Simpson—there is an unlimited supply of first-class coal, and it is also thought there is a good supply of coal adjacent to the Port on Work Channel, which is to Port Simpson what Barrard Inlet is to Vancouver.

The Hudson's Bay Co. has had a trading post at Port Simpson for years, and it is the headquarters on the North Pacific Coast for the large and important trade of that rich and powerful company. The attention of the public is called to the fact that, as a rule, wherever the Hudson's Bay Co. has planted its trading posts, there have grown up important cities. Fort William, Winnipeg, Edmonton and Victoria are illustrations of this fact.

C. R. Tuttle, author of "Our Northland," published recently, concludes his interesting work as follows: "And in respect of transcontinental transport or travel from the United Kingdom to the far east, the advantages of the Hudson's Bay route, in connection with a railroad from Churchill to Port Simpson, will not only afford a safe national route, but so greatly minimize time and distance, that with its established parent Canada will become one of the most important parts of the British nation, and absolutely indispensable to the Mother Country. In view of these things, one may reasonably hope that England will eventually aid the Dominion in the construction of the Hudson's Bay railway. The importance of Canada to the parent country is so great that, in a few years at most, one may expect to see a disposition manifested on the part of the latter for closer federal relations. With this will surely come the means of a larger development of Canadian resources, the construction of railways in connection with Hudson's Bay, and the establishment of an extensive international commerce through channels on Canadian latitudes, and consequent national prosperity. Such are the prospects of Our North Land."

Murray & Greig for wall paper and art supplies. *

Eight cars of cattle from Ashcroft and Kamloops will arrive per C. P. R. this afternoon. They are for the four coast cities.

Just received a full line of German art Tube colors at Murray & Greig. *

A large number of Westminster people will go over to see Madame Sarah Bernhardt at the Vancouver opera house next month.

The lacrosse men are not neglecting their opportunities to practice, and Queen's Park is nightly the scene of lively games.

Heavy scowloads of brick are being unloaded at Bell-Irving, Paterson & Co's wharf and at Turnbull & Co's dock near the woolen mills.

When you want a first-class hack call up the Crown Stables; telephone No. 45. *

The steamers Gladys and Delaware arrived from up river ports yesterday with good loads of farm produce, live stock and passengers.

A meeting of subscribers to the Band Fund is to be held this evening in the drill shed at 8 o'clock for the purpose of meeting the Band Committee.

The citizen's celebration committees are getting on swimmingly. Every man of them questioned says the celebration will be "a celebration as to a celebration."

To be sold as a going concern, the Bonanza Lodging House. For particulars apply at Cheapside. *

The Italian musicians delighted another large audience in the rotunda of the Colonist last evening. The ladies will have a chance to hear them in the opera house.

The sunset last evening was, as one young lady said, "scrumptious." Westminster for cloud scenery and effects has no superior on the coast. Or for general scenery, either.

Boating on the river yesterday was great sport. Each lowcoal lapstrake racer dipped a few gallons of the rolling wave, but the bold amateur oarsmen heeded it not a bit.

Harvey's extraordinary sale of goods still continues, and is proving a blessing to the community. *

Some toughs were making it generally disagreeable for two poor Indian women down on west Columbia street last night. The Westminster hoodlum is the completest hoodlum in natural history.

The steamer Robert Dunsmuir arrived from Nanaimo last evening with coals and general freight. She departs for the Black Diamond City this morning with a large load of farm produce and other merchandise.

We are pleased to say we at the office have used Dr. Treat's Tooth Paste and find it superior to anything we have ever used. *

The people in Lillooet and Cariboo districts are very much exercised over the arrangement for the free importation of sheep, and trouble is likely to ensue, for the people are determined to assert their objections.

A meeting of the general committee of the Citizens' Celebration Committee will be held this evening in the City Hall at 8:30. It is requested that all members shall attend, as business of some importance is to be considered.

Refrigerators, all sizes, at McLennan & McFeely's, Vancouver. Delivery free. Telephone 64. *

In the District Court yesterday, before Captain Pittendrigh, a man named Hogarth was charged with supplying liquor to Indians. When the case was called Hogarth did not appear, and his bail of $25 was accordingly forfeited.

McPhee Bros.' fine new tug boat is being speedily fitted up and made ready for sea at McLennan's wharf. She is a smart little craft, handsomely and strongly built and should give complete satisfaction to her Nanaimo owners. Her name is the Esperanza.

Now is the time to get wall paper at low prices, we are constantly receiving new designs, call and see Murray & Greig. *

A Victoria clerk named Lucas employed by the firm of Barrett and Carpenter of that city was suspected of dishonesty and watched. Lucas discovered that his movements were being spied upon and suddenly disappeared, not having been seen since last Thursday.

Business appears to be prospering with the New Westminster tire company, in spite of the active competition of electric light. The company's service has recently been considerably extended, and at present there are some miles of English made pipe lying in the company's yards, ready for immediate use.

On Monday afternoon a man named Brown, in the employ of the Royal City Planing Mills, had his left hand badly cut and torn by a circular saw at which he was working. It was thought that the fingers would have to be amputated, but fortunately, however, they will be saved, though of course the injury will take a long time to heal.

Refrigerators, all sizes, at McLennan & McFeely's, Vancouver. Delivery free. Telephone 64. *

Quite a variety of athletes are training up for the great time on the 26th. One gentleman amateur, ambitious to win honors in the sack race, was trying how it went in a potato bag last night, tripped over his feet and peeled an inch and a half of skin off his nose. Anybody can tell him now with that streak of pink sticking plaster from the tip of his nose to his eyebrows. He sticks sack racing foolishness off the world.

Notice—William Johnston has removed his stock of Boots and Shoes to the Public Library building. *

Two American gentlemen shipped opposite a certain well known water holder on east Columbia street yesterday afternoon and both said "Well!" shortly afterwards they said "What is it?" Somebody told them it was a memorial fountain, and also told them who built it. They both felt round towards their hip pockets and enquired in a breath, "Where can we see him?" It is hoped no serious results will follow this mysterious case.

Condensed Geography.

The following is a condensed telegraphic despatch from the columns of a Vancouver newspaper. According to their account the classic peninsula must have become dreadfully condensed also. An aeronaut was killed on Sunday at Rome. His balloon was at a great height over the Adriatic sea, when he was seen to fall from the car, plunging into the sea and being immediately killed.

A Popular Resort.

The Walla Walla penitentiary is terribly overcrowded. There are now in custody 381 prisoners, and some of them are sleeping in hammocks in the corridors for want of better accommodations. A contract has been let for the construction of an 80-cell addition, and work has been begun, so that there will be cell room for 160 more prisoners in a short time. Spokane is furnishing by far the largest pro rata of criminals who are taken to Walla Walla to expiate their crimes.

Relics of Antiquity.

Some curious Indian remains have been recently discovered at Boundary Bay by a gentleman living in this city. The most notable was a huge pile of shells, some feet high and enclosed within a square, the sides of which were formed by a low wall of rock. It was surmounted by a carved wooden totem, and its corners pointed exactly to the four points of the compass. Stones, hewn roughly square, were also found, half hidden in the earth, at certain points around the central mound. There were other indications to point to the great antiquity of the remains, the purpose, use, or former history of which are entirely unknown.

Agricultural Meeting.

A lengthy meeting of the general committee of the Agricultural Society was held at the City Hall last night to consider final arrangements for the fall fair. The meeting lasted till close on midnight. The whole of the evening was taken up with the nomination of judges for the various classes of exhibits, a great many names were put in, and the judges will be selected therefrom in a few days. The result will then be made public. It was decided to sell all stock entered by professionals by auction. Some minor business also was transacted, and a good deal of discussion took place over various matters connected with the business of the evening. It was reported that all matters connected with the fair were progressing in the most satisfactory manner, and everything in connection therewith would pass off without a hitch.

Serenaded.

Last night Signori Bistoli and Montanelli serenaded THE LEDGER office. The talented musicians cast the magical spell of music over the busy wheels of midnight journalism and for awhile, all too brief, made sanctum and composing room thrill with delicious melody. A large audience of passers by soon gathered and stood on the bridge (at midnight, too,) and drank in the glories of Fontanelle, the impassioned cadences of the madrigal and serenade which, emulative of Lucrezia, the skilful musicians poured forth. That "music hath charms to tame the savage breast" Signori Bistoli and Montanelli proved last night, for journalistic breasts are about as savage as any in the country when the midnight oil is burning and the hour of "copy" nears. From the private concert given last night one can confidently recommend everyone who enjoys classical music played with facility to attend the band concert tomorrow evening and hear these two gifted Italian musicians.

Rather Passing to Strangers.

A good deal of comment has been created by the Gaelic mottos which adorn the large posters announcing the Caledonian games on the 24th inst. Many and amusing have been the attempts to translate the mottos, most of the amateur translators giving up disgusted with themselves after a few futile trials. The sentiment is certainly a formidable one, but its meaning is one that could well be expected from an ancient, proud and high spirited race like the Scottish Highlanders, whose clan ties and bonds of brotherhood are, in their deep mysterious strength, beyond Saxon understanding. The motto, then, means, "Children of the Gaels shoulder to shoulder." When the Highland regiments have been hard pressed on some great battlefield, and even the "Pibroch an Donuil Dhu" has failed to cheer up the gathering gloom of death and impending defeat, those words, magical to a Celtic ear, "Ceannaidh suas leat a' bhuaidh a' cheile," have been whispered along the line. And as they passed, the drooping Saxons have lowered spright and firm again to meet arrer, and the gallant Highlanders moved themselves for anything fate might send. It is said that was the identical person referred to by Sir Colin Campbell to his thin red line, the gallant Highlanders, drawn up two deep to receive the shock of Prince Eugene cavalry at Ramillies, and also by his great predecessor Abercrombie in Egypt, and also by Cameron of Fassifern in that terrific struggle with the veterans of Fraser at Alburg. So, we may see the Westminster Scottish, be proud to place the brave old mottos on their colors calling the clansmen to "gather, gather" at the grand celebration of 1891.

A Joyous Time.

Last night a very pleasant little excursion was held by a party of ladies and gentlemen in honor of Miss Ogle, who expects to leave Westminster in a day or two to take up her residence at Moscow. The fine little steamer Mamie was chartered, and the merry couples frolicked for and found that there was no room enough. The run to Liverpool was made in the glorious moonlight, and amid the merry chatter of the party the time flew past delightfully. The tablecloth was spread on the grass at Liverpool and the baskets with their delicacies speedily transferred thereto. The banquet was worthy of Queen Mab, under the moon's pale beams, among the frowning shadows of the foliage. There never was such a jolly time spent by anybody as they there enjoyed. After this moonlight luncheon the merry party had a royal time with the handcars on the Southern railway. The gentlemen worked at the handles until blisters rose on their honest palms, and the girls hung on like grim death and made the silvery echoes ring with their infectious laughter. The Mamie was once more loaded up and the home journey commenced. Songs and glees beguiled the voyage, and very sweet their blended voices sounded over the deep, moonlit bosom of old Father Fraser. Miss Ogle was the recipient of every good wish, and long will she and all who took part remember the happy trip to Liverpool under the broad August moon.

Tickets on Sale.

Tickets for the band concert tomorrow evening are now on sale at Lyal's bookstore. As there will be a rush for seats, they should be procured early.

The Battle of the Shirt.

On Saturday night an old man, paralyzed on one side, entered Hop Wau's Chinese laundry on east Columbia street and pacifically enquired if his "biled" shirt was done. Hop with unctuous and celestial politeness replied in the affirmative and handed over the said garment neatly done up in yellow wrapping paper, with a Chinese love story a foot long and an inch wide attached thereto. The paralytic took the parcel and said, "I'll pay you on Monday." Hop instantly dropped his politeness and made a hurried grab for the parcel. The paralytic was fully awake and held on to the package like a leech. Hop pulled and the old fellow pulled and both swore dreadfully. Finally Hop yelled to the other laundrymen, "Hu yo, hun chee cho, ki ki hubble bubble, chuck chuck," which is pure Cantonese for, "here, you fellows, give me a hand to throw this rascal out." In an instant all the Chinamen flew at the old man in obedience to Hop's order and rushed him out of the laundry into the street. Hop struck the old man, and a fight began. The side that was not paralyzed swung round and met Hop just in time to plant an awful blow between his almond eyes; another and another followed with surprising celerity and Hop began to beat a hasty retreat. At this juncture some friends of the old man arrived and awaited him from the scene. Later one of them went to the laundry and paid for the washed shirt, which had been slightly torn in the fray. About 300 gathered to witness the fracas and were much amused at the manner in which the aged paralytic paralyzed the washee man.

A Pointer to the Public.

District Lot No. 28 lies immediately adjoining the city limits. The continuation of Mary Street, goes directly through it and the Electric Tramway will in a couple of months be running the cars every hour of the day through the centre of this property. The lot (No. 28) is composed of 170 acres of land as level as a table. Contracts have been let to clear and grub the ground, and leave it in perfect condition for building purposes. Already six citizens have decided to erect handsome residences there, ranging in price from $1,000 to $2,000 each. The whole of this splendid piece of property (except some limited portions already disposed of) will be put on the market in a few weeks. One great advantage in buying a lot and erecting a residence on this property is that the owner will avoid heavy municipal taxation. Make a note of it, and wait till the property is put on the market before buying. *

Still Going Higher.

London, August 18.—The Londonmillers' association today decided to further advance the price of flour. The meeting fixed prices one shilling and sixpence above the previous rate.

The Famous Jap Dead.

New York, August 18.—Matsuda Sorakichi, the renowned Japanese wrestler, died suddenly in this city on Saturday night. He had been ill with consumption about three months. The Jap had wrestled with all the first-class men throughout the country, scoring many victories.

Everybody Says

(and what everybody says must be true) that

Never Before

In the history of New Westminster have such bargains been obtained in all departments of Dry Goods and Gents' Furnishings.

THE REASON WHY?

You must recollect that this is not an ordinary clearing sale of the remnants of a year's business. The stock as it lies on the shelves is fresh and complete with the most seasonable and fashionable goods, and was bought en bloc at a price which enables me to make these extraordinary reductions. If you have not yet called in yourself, and if you are sceptical, ASK YOUR FRIENDS who have been profiting by the passing opportunity. THEY WILL TELL YOU that the reductions which we announce ARE GENUINE. Then COME YOURSELF. Our salesmen are here to show you what you ask for, and you can come and go with no urging to buy except the attractiveness of our prices. Remember! This Stock must ALL be sold. Yours sincerely,

JAS. W. HARVEY.
