Peculiar Evolutions of Mr. Murphy—American Cruisers to be Armed With Quick Firing Hotchkiss Guns.—Shocking Brutality to a Samoan Islander—Four Men to Die by Electricity at Sing Sing—Fearful Railway Massacre at Ravenna, O.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 3.—At the privileges and elections committee meeting this morning a large number of cheques and notes already reported were identified by Owen Murphy and filed with other exhibits. This concluded the main examination of Murphy, and his cross examination was proceeded with by Mr. Osler, counsel for the public works department. Murphy gave his story as follows: He lived 27 or 28 years in New York, prior to December, 1877, when he left rather suddenly, leaving all his property, real and personal, and his family in New York. He held two important public offices, being one of a board of three excise commissioners and school trustees. He was treasurer of the excise board without a secretary, and as such received large sums, which remained as his personal disposal. When he left New York on December 22nd, 1877, he was still holding office. Murphy explained that he had obliged a friend by lending him $20,000 of board funds for an election contest between Tilden and Kemp, and that his friend had unfortunately failed to return the loan. He had subsequently drawn $30,000 of the same fund to help him to get back the $20,000, but was again unsuccessful and left New York. The facts had been published and he did not care who knew them. He intended yet to pay back every cent. After leaving New York he visited Canada, South America and Europe. Ten years ago he settled at Quebec.

COMING TO BANFF.

Lady Macdonald has changed her plans for the summer; instead of visiting Murray Bay she goes west to Banff.

DISCUSSING THE ESTIMATES.

The entire session of the Commons today was taken up with discussion of the estimates. Nothing else of importance was transacted. An agreement was reached by which one-tenth of each amount in the estimates was passed, in order to enable the Government to carry on business.

OUSTED BY MONGOLIANS.

QUEBEC, July 3.—Some 25 firemen and stewards from one of the Canadian Pacific steamers that lately reached Vancouver, have arrived here on their way to England, their places now being occupied by Chinamen.

A Horrible Slaughter.

RAVENNA, O., July 3.—The worst railroad accident that ever occurred in this vicinity happened at 3 o'clock this morning. The horrible calamity fairly appalled the town and neighborhood. Twenty people were killed and the bodies burned to a crisp. More than that number were injured. The charred remains of the dead were taken from the ruins of the demolished passenger train as fast as the flames could be subdued by the townspeople who rallied to the rescue. An express loaded with sleeping passengers was run into by a freight train while the express was standing in this city. The wreck of the passenger train was terrible and complete. To add to the condition of the unfortunate passengers who were imprisoned in the debris, the train caught fire and was consumed in this way. Death fairly swept through the train. By daylight 20 bodies, all of them charred in a horrible manner, were taken out; 23 injured had also been reached. A large number of the killed were glassblowers, who were on their way East from Findlay. The freight train that telescoped the express, is due to meet the express from Chicago and was running about 30 miles an hour when it struck the passenger train. The accident was due to carelessness in leaving a switch open. Geo. Holman, engineer of the freight, said to a reporter: "I cannot see that I am to blame. Oh, my God if I could have got said I could have stopped the train, but the rails were wet. I was not warned in time and could not see the lights of the express owing to the darkness and fog. I reversed the lever as quickly as possible and jumped from the train sustaining a severe fracture of the right hand." Holman seems to think the flagman of the passenger train, Fred Boyle, could have flagged from a greater distance. One poor woman was pinioned in the wreck, though apparently only slightly hurt, and her appeals for help will never be forgotten by the spectators. The flames had not reached, but were slowly eating their way toward her. Strong and willing hands swung axes as they were never swung before. It was a battle between life and death. As the heat became more intense the men who were no longer able to withstand the flames gave place to others with the rapidity of lightning, but it was a useless fight. The choppers had to fall back and abandon the woman to her fate. In a moment the flames caught her dress and instantly leaped to her head. Her piteous cries of "Save me, save me" as the flames enveloped her form, and the expression of agony on her face as she sank down in the debris caused the strongest hearts to grow sick with horror. How many more such frightful tragedies, though unseen were enacted within the burning ruins to those brief moments will never be known.

Deadly Weapons.

NEW YORK, July 3.—New Hotchkiss rapid fire batteries have been ordered for the revenue cutters Corwin, Bear and Colfax. The batteries are of the six-pounder type. The guns will be mounted in pivot and have an almost all round fire. On the proving grounds the six-pounder piece has been fired as high as 30 shots per minute. The projectiles are a steel shell, the ordinary shell, shrapnel and case. The cartridges weigh about ten pounds. As soon as practicable all the best vessels of the revenue marine will be furnished with the Hotchkiss armament.

MAN'S INHUMANITY TO MAN.

Manogi, one of the Samoans being exhibited here, was admitted to Bellevue Hospital yesterday. His condition is regarded by physicians as extremely critical, but they say there would be hope for him if he could get well enough to reach Samoa. At present he is too weak to travel unless provided with unusual comforts. Manogi has suffered more from harsh treatment than any other member of the band. He has been sick with consumption nearly a year, yet has been compelled day after day to go on with the performances of the little troupe. He has been forced to go on the stage four times every day when he should have been in bed. The manager says he would not contribute a cent for paying their way home, but is willing to tear up the contracts if they want to go to Samoa.

THE EASTERN HOP MARKET.

Hops are dull, samples were shown in small lots of medium quality, States as low as 22 to 25 cents, and some fine Pacifics, but buyers were not attracted. A fair amount of stock is going to the brewers on contract, but fresh purchases are moderate and hardly up to the average for the season. Crop advices contained nothing distinctively new. There is no radical change in the situation of foreign markets.

TO BE ELECTROCUTED.

The World's Sing Sing special says: Four of the men to be killed by electricity next week have embraced the Roman Catholic faith. Which will die first has not been decided, but it is believed if the machinery works satisfactorily the four will die in quick succession. The final test of dynamos and the apparatus has not yet been made, but they were tested this week and found in excellent condition.

WHAT BRADSTREET'S SAYS.

Special telegrams to Bradstreet's indicate that the wheat crop prospects in the Dominion of Canada continue very favorable, and exert an influence in general trade, which has heretofore been slow and depressed. Business failures in the Dominion, (including those for Newfoundland) increased 121, or 14 per cent in the first six months of 1891 over 1890, while the increase of liabilities was $1,478,282, or twenty per cent.

AN INTERESTING COUPLE.

A special to the World from Pittsburg says: John Cameron and Miss Carrie Duff were married here tonight. This afternoon Miss Duff was arrested for robbing jewelry stores and Cameron was taken into custody as an accomplice. Both were subsequently released on $500 bail, Levi B. Duff, the young woman's uncle, widely known as a Pittsburg attorney, becoming their security. Miss Duff's family is not wealthy, nor is Cameron's, but the bride determined to have a handsome trousseau and to go on a wedding tour also, so she started to "work" the large jewelry stores. Her fancy turned to diamond rings. Dressed well, refined looking and of modest bearing, she tripped in to several jewelry shops from day to day and looked over the rings. Her trick was to drop a handkerchief over a ring on the show case and then after examining samples to her heart's content, walk off with a sparkler. Her next move was to take the gem to a pawnbroker and sell it, the proceeds going to the wedding fund. In this way she is known to have disposed of four rings valued at $600. How many more she got is not known. Her detection came about today at the store of Biggs & Co., one of the largest in the town. She acted so suspiciously that a clerk telephoned for the police. Cameron is employed in one of the leading jewelry establishments and the police suspect that he and Miss Duff planned to "work" all the stores before embarking in life together. Cameron declares his innocence, while Miss Duff's family declares she is a kleptomaniac.

Burnt Out.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 3.—Early this morning a fire occurred in a three-story brick block and a two-story farme building. The frame building was occupied by the foundry of Honeyman & Co., and was totally consumed. The brick block contained Johnson & Lehman's flour and feed mill, and E. E. Henry's mattress factory. It was only partially destroyed.

Broke on Cotton.

ARKANSAS CITY, Ark., July 3.—Developments fully confirm the report of the defalcation of Sheriff Warfield. Yesterday afternoon his family packed up their effects and left for Memphis. The actual shortage will be in the neighborhood of $25,000 made up of state tax, school tax and levy tax. It will be a total loss to the bondsmen. In addition to this, advices from Little Rock say he is short $30,000 in his settlement of last year. Warfield lost heavily in cotton futures during the past few months.

A Military Question.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—A question of interest to army officers has been presented to Acting Secretary Grant for settlement, involving the rights and duties of staff officers. Gen. Howard, commanding the division of Atlantic, recently called a court martial and detailed for duty as member one of the commissary officers stationed within his division. The officer protested against this detail, and claimed exemption from such duty under the regulation which placed him under direct orders of the Secretary of War. The decision is not yet given in this case. It is awaited with great interest by engineers, commissary and other staff officers.

Fighting the Fire.

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., July 3.—About 9 o'clock this morning the fire started in the upper end of Ross Valley and owing to the strong southwest wind now blowing it is rapidly approaching on the residence portion of the valley. Reinforcements have been sent out to check the flames at that place. Should the fire make its way to Ross Valley it would no doubt cause great damage to the many elegant residences being built close to the shrubbery. In the direction of Bolinas a back fire was started to save the water company. The fire is making rapid strides northward and westward. It is reported that the fire is raging on the stage road to Bolinas, and it is not improbable that today's stage from Bolinas will have to make the trip via Sausalito. The fire has been extinguished at Tamalpais, but in the Mill Valley gulches it is still burning. Reports from Mill Valley and vicinity do not express any alarm, as the wind is now blowing from the hot section and a gang of men are constantly on the alert.

Secret Shipments.

ST. PAUL, July 3.—At a cost of nearly $6,000 and two months time the grain growers association of Minnesota has succeeded in establishing the fact that the Duluth Elevator Company have shipped 279,000 bushels of wheat without inspection and a large part of it under cover of night. The association asserts that this is prima facie evidence that the elevator people were seeking to swindle the farmers either by stealing the wheat outright or billing it out as rejected and getting it graded as No. 1 Northern at Buffalo. The Elevator men, however, insist that the grain was bin-burned, and that with the consent of the State Warehouse Commission they were shipping it away quietly to avoid a panic. They assert that had they had bulletined nearly 50,000 bushels of wheat as damaged, it would have caused such a flurry in the wheat markets all over the country that a panic would have resulted, and the Minnesota farmers themselves would have been the greatest sufferers because of the immediate stigma which would have attached to Minnesota grain.

OPINIONS OF THE LONDON PRESS ON THE MATTER.

The St. James's Gazette Complains of American Spelling—The Globe Predicts Bad Times for Minor Scribblers—The Hollanders Honor Kaiser Wilhelm—The Vatican Denounces the Triple Alliance—Repulse of the Boers by South African Remittance Men.

LONDON, July 3.—The St. James's Gazette indulges in a tirade on the ugly spelling which ruins the character of English books printed in America, and says these persons are living in a fool's paradise who believe that no injury will result to England from the new copyright law. The Globe believes that the new copyright law will weed out minor authors whose works the Americans have printed because they cost only what the publishers are pleased to give. These authors will now lose even that, and with it their vocation will be gone.

ARISTOCRATIC BUT USEFUL.

According to Cape Town advices, great rejoicing has been caused by the repulse of the advance guard of the Boers in Mashonaland by the armed police of the British South African Co. The force is largely composed of young men of excellent families in England and adventurers from all over the world. It is felt, however, that the danger is not yet over, as several thousand Boers are engaged in the trek, and the company's police are inadequate in numbers to repel any extensive attack. British troops are being hurried to Mashonaland to aid in the repulse of any large body that might invade the colony.

WILHELM'S WELCOME.

The Kaiser's refusal to have particular days set down for his entertainment in England, is commented on everywhere in a tone of satisfaction. The official programme at the Guild Hall, it is believed, will be carried out as originally decided upon. The emperor and empress will come to the Guild Hall a week from today. They will proceed to the city proper from Buckingham Palace to the Stand, thence by Fleet street, Ludgate Hill and Cheapside, and return by way of Queen Victoria street and the Thames Embankment. The streets will be gaily decorated. The proceedings at the Guild Hall will consist of the reading in the library of an address of welcome by the Recorder on the part of the Corporation of London, and the Kaiser's reply. The ceremony will be followed by a luncheon.

The Loyal Dutch.

AMSTERDAM, July 3.—The emperor and empress of Germany left here for the Hague this morning. They were accompanied to the station by the Queen and Queen Regent. Great crowds assembled and heartily cheered the imperial party.

Favors France.

BERLIN, July 3.—A painful impression has been produced here by the article in the Observatore Romano denouncing the Triple Alliance. It is accepted as proof that the influence of the Papacy will be on the side of France in the event of a European war. France to repay the favor in case of success by the restoration of the temporal power of the Pope. The article is believed to settle against the Jesuits the question of their readmission to Prussia. Coming as it does, close after the important concession made by the Prussian Government in the restoration to the Catholic hierarchy of the state aid sequestrated by Bismarck, the hostile attitude of the Vatican is particularly surprising. It is likely that the Government will make no semi-official deliverance on the subject during the absence of the Kaiser.

WATCHING THE ANARCHISTS.

Three of the leading detectives in the Prussian government service have gone to London to keep an eye on the exiled anarchists and socialists in that city during the coming visit of the Kaiser, and to point out to the English police any who are likely to be troublesome. The mission of the detectives is to be merely precautionary; and, although the government has received no information that would justify a fear of any intended insult or injury to the Kaiser, it is known to the police that the German colony in London includes a number of individuals who are wholly anarchists in their tendencies, and, it is believed, capable of abusing the hospitality of England in their hatred of existing institutions. The German anarchists are said to have a secret club in East London, in which most dangerous doctrines are discussed, and actions against other governments urged, if not determined upon; no overt act has, however, yet been proved against these people. The Russian nihilists also have quarters in London, where conspiracies are hatched and the means provided to carry them out. There is a strong undercurrent of sympathy with the nihilists, which does not exist for the German anarchists; and the latter would do well, if they value their ease, not to provoke public attention during the imperial visit. The Kaiser leaves Prince Henry in charge of the empire during his absence. Prince Henry has been well trained to occupy the post of regent either in war or in peace. He is credited with having all the Kaiser's energy without his eccentricities.

A Decrease.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—Bradstreet's Mercantile Agency reports 15 failures in the Pacific coast states and territories for the week ending tomorrow as compared with 27 for the previous week, and ten for the corresponding week of 1890.

Coal for Chili.

PORT TOWNSEND, July 3.—The steam collier Willamette left here today for Nanaimo, where she will load 1,000 tons of coal and proceed direct to San Francisco. At that port she will discharge part of the coal and take on a cargo of supplies for the German warships Leipzig, Sophie and Alexandria, that sailed about three weeks ago on a moment's notice from San Francisco for Iquique.

Hostile Hungarians.

PLYMOUTH, Pa., July 3.—A desperate fight took place yesterday morning in the thickly settled Hungarian district at the lower end of the town. A large party of Hungarians had been drinking and making merry for several hours, their shouts causing disturbance to the more peaceful dwellers in the settlement. John Majak, who went among the crowd and requested them to desist, was brutally beaten and fled to his house, where he arroused a number of fellow boarders, who formed a party to avenge the attack on their friend. A free fight ensued, in which fully 100 Hungarians took part. The crowd had been drinking heavily and fought like madmen, seizing any weapon within reach. After a battle of fully an hour the weaker party was driven away. Two men are so seriously injured that they will die and a number of the rioters are suffering from serious wounds and bruises. No arrests have been made.

A Murderer Recaptured.

CHICAGO, July 3.—Lewis Dillinger, alias Paul May, who a year ago escaped from the jail at New England, Mo., a few hours before he was to have been hanged for the murder of his wife and two men, was arrested here early this morning after a desperate running fight with the police officer, during which 25 shots were exchanged. Dillinger received several wounds before he was overpowered and locked up.

His Riches Took Wings.

MILWAUKEE, July 3.—Col. H. S. Benjamin, pioneer investor and business partner of Capt. N. D. Moore, the discoverer of the Gogebic iron range, and for several years a bonanza king, took the "poor man's oath" before Court Commissioner Ryan, last evening, to escape the jail limits under an execution against his body. Col. Benjamin has been under the action of the execution since June 8.

Yachts in Danger.

DETROIT, July 3.—The Detroit Yacht Club fleet of 26 yachts left here last night to take part in the regatta today at New Baltimore, Mich. The fleet was caught in a heavy wind storm in Lake St. Clair and so far only seven of the boats have reached the destination. Much anxiety is felt for the safety of the boats and their crews. Eight of the missing yachts have been heard from and it is now hoped all are safe.

CITY POLICE COURT.

Latest Readings of the City's Moral Barometer.

Business in the police court yesterday was better than for some time. Messrs. T. C. Atkinson and P. McTiernan J. P. presided, and the first case called was that of Ah How, charged on the information of Jimmy, an Indian, with having supplied him, the said Jimmy, with gin on the 2nd inst. Defendant pleaded not guilty. Evidence being given, the case was considered fully proved, and defendant was sentenced to six month's imprisonment with hard labor.

The case of Alexander Ewen for an infraction of the Fire Limit Bylaw then came up. Upon application of the chief of police the case was adjourned until next Tuesday the 7th inst.

J. Griffin, who has just completed three months in the provincial jail, then came up on a charge of drunk and disorderly on the 2nd inst. He was further charged, on the information of Charlie, an Indian, with having attempted a rape upon Susan, an Indian girl of about eight years of age. The case was enlarged until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. At the hour appointed a large and interested crowd of Indians filled the City Hall. Evidence detailing the alleged crime was given by three Indians and the girl, named respectively Charlie, Paul, and Captain Jack. It went to show that the assault was committed while the prisoner was in a state of intoxication. His honor lectured the prisoner severely and denounced his conduct in scathing language. Prisoner was finally committed for trial, the first charge against him to stand over until the more serious one is disposed of.

Lacrosse at Fairhaven.

The Westminster lacrosse team that went to Fairhaven this morning is made up as follows: Coldwell, Casey, Campbell, Ketchum, Stewart, Van Allen, McGregor, Taylor, Turner, Browne, Climie, Pittendrigh, J. Gow, captain. The Vancouvers have decided not to go, but Victoria sends a team, so that a pleasant friendly game may be expected, and one that will no doubt please the American spectators. The Westminster men are in good training and expect to be able to give the time of day from the top of the heap when the battle's over.

A Large Reward.

The salmon canners on the Fraser River, as will be seen by an advertisement elsewhere, have combined in offering a reward of $500 for the detection of anyone buying or selling salmon from the boats of the various canners. It has been found that fishermen employed by the canners at so much a day have been in the habit of selling some of their catch to outside fishermen and others, and thus defrauding their employers. Doubtless the offer of this large reward will put enough private detectives on the watch for the dishonest fishermen as will stop the crime.

The Depot Building.

As will be seen by advertisement in another column Mr. G. W. Grant is calling for tenders for the erection of a four storey brick and stone block at the corner of Columbia, McKenzie and Front street, for Mr. C. F. Dupont. It is understood that this building will be built and fitted out in the most modern style, containing all the latest sanitary and other improvements. The site is one of the best in the city and the stores which are to occupy the first storey will be much sought after. The basement will be used probably for the purposes of a first class restaurant. Work on the building will begin as soon as possible after the tender has been decided upon.

The Ledger.

PROVINCIAL TAX ON HOMESTEADS.

The letter which we publish below refers to matters of such importance to settlers in this Province that it is deserving of more than ordinary notice. The clearing of the bush lands of this Province involves immense labor, and the advantage of having them cleared and brought under cultivation is of such vital importance to the prosperity of the community as a whole, that the utmost encouragement should be given to those undertaking the work. The letter, which comes from the Stave River Settlers, reads as follows:

EDITOR MORNING LEDGER: SIR,—Some of the Stave River settlers would feel grateful could you inform them through the columns of your paper whether Government land is taxable, on which are located parties who intend purchasing the same, after the required improvements have been performed. We have only recently entered on this land and have just begun to make small clearings. Many of us have not as much as a garden patch cleared this spring, so we have not reaped the smallest benefit yet; nor can we for years, of such land, which on account of its situation and the heavy growth of timber, is valueless until the settler enters on it and after years of unremunerative toil, contrives to establish a home for himself. Up to the present time, we have not even a road, and the trails we use are of the roughest description. Last winter we spent about six weeks cutting out and making such as we have. A few weeks ago, we were notified to pay at Westminster $3 revenue and $4 assessed land taxes. We can understand the revenue tax, but we fail to see why we should be taxed for land we do not own, and from which we reap nothing. Could you enlighten us on the subject, you would greatly oblige some of the

STAVE RIVER SETTLERS.

We have looked into the law affecting the above matters with a considerable degree of care, and have consulted Mr. KIRKLAND, the Provincial Government Assessor, in order to discover the authority exercised by him in imposing the "$4 assessed land taxes," of which complaint is made. The lands held by the Stave River Settlers have been taxed under Section 6 of the Assessment Act 1888, which reads as follows:

"Lands in respect of which no crown grant has issued, but which are held under pre-emption or lease, or agreed to be sold, granted or conveyed, shall be liable (while so held or during the existence of such agreement) to taxation from the date of such pre-emption record, or lease, or agreement to sell, grant or convey (as the case may be), but such taxation shall not in any way affect the rights of Her Majesty in such lands."

The definition of what are regarded as wild lands, and under which denomination the Stave River settlers' holdings would be properly assessable, is found in Sec. 7 of the same Act, and reads as follows:

"The words 'wild land' shall mean land claimed by any person on which there shall not be existing improvements to the value, when assessed, of $2.50 per acre on land situate west of the Cascades."

The tax on wild lands, according to the act cited and under which the Stave River lands are assessed, amounts to 4½ cents per acre, which, on a holding of 160 acres, would amount to $13.60 but the government assessor informs us that, in order to make the charges on such settlers as those on Stave River as light as possible, the wild land tax has been remitted, and the real estate tax alone has been imposed. This tax amounts to one-half of one per cent. on the assessed value, or, on a holding of 160 acres, (assessed at $5.00 per acre, as is the case on Stave River) a tax of $4.00. It will be seen, therefore, that the government, while having authority under the law to collect from each of the Stave River settlers holding 160 acres the sum of $17.00, the impost has been reduced to $4.00.

The question is submitted to us by the Stave River settlers as to whether their holdings of land, which have not yet been purchased by them, are taxable. In dealing with this question, it must be remembered that the Stave River settlers' lands are Dominion Government lands, and we believe it has been settled by the courts that municipalities cannot collect taxes on homesteads and pre-emptions until a patent has been issued for them. But they may, nevertheless, be assessed, and the whole of the taxes accruing before the patent was issued may be charged up and collected afterwards, with interest, so that it practically amounts to the same thing as if the taxes had been collected yearly. In this province the Assessment Act, 1888, sets forth very clearly the power of the government agents to collect a tax on homesteads and pre-emptions. Subsec. 2 of Sec. 4 sets forth that "the occupant shall be assessed in respect thereof, but the property itself shall not be liable," and Sec. 67 provides for the payment and collection of the tax as follows:

"The person liable to pay the taxes imposed by this Act shall be personally liable for the amount thereof, and all lands of such persons situate within the Province shall also be liable therefor, and such taxes shall be a charge on such lands, having preference over any claim, lien, privilege, or incumbrance of any party, except the Crown, and shall not require registration to preserve it."

It will thus be seen that although the land of the Stave River Settlers is not liable, the occupants are personally liable for the tax, and it may be recovered by proceeding against the goods and chattels or other lands owned by them.

Some amendments of importance were made to the Assessment Act, 1888, at the last session of the Legislature, but these amendments will not, of course, apply until the assessment for next year is levied. The most important change so far as homesteaders are concerned is the following:

"Notwithstanding anything contained in the Assessment Act, homesteads shall only be be assessed on the amount of their value in excess of the sum of $500."

Thus the Stave River Settlers who are occupants of 160 acres, which is assessed at $800 will next year have to pay the tax on only $300, or the trifling sum of $1.50 each. This concession in favor of the actual settler was obtained through the exertions of Hon. JOHN ROBSON, who, it must be admitted, has always shown a desire to place the settler in the most satisfactory position as regards taxes.

Another salutary amendment effected by the Premier is that of taxing wild land—that is, land held by speculators—to the extent of 2½ per cent. of its assessed value. It is probably the greatest grievance this Province has that a large part of the best land, that which is described as "delta" and "prairie" land, and which, being free or comparatively free from timber, lies ready for the plow of the husbandman, is kept in a condition of nature, untilled and unproductive, because the greedy owners of it are not willing to sell it for fifty or a hundred times the amount they paid for it. We hope to see all such land assessed up to its full value next year and the 2½ per cent tax collected to the last copper. Two dollars and a half an acre may increase the disposition to sell some of it to people who would till the soil, but really ten dollars an acre in the way of taxes would be only a drop in the bucket of what the Province loses by the keeping of all those thousands of acres of splendid land in an unimproved and untilled condition. The owners have already made enough or are able to realize enough out of their speculations, and the Legislature should not let up till it has put on such a tax as will compel them either to sell or till.

As regards actual settlers on bush lands, we would like to see them relieved from the real estate tax altogether. As the above letter sets forth, such lands for the first few years are wholly unproductive, and to tax the occupants at all looks very like taxing people for the privilege of laboring in a species of work most beneficial to the Province, and without which the Province cannot hope to be as prosperous as it should be. Every man who comes to here, takes up a bush farm and sets to work to clear it, should be bonused rather than taxed. It is true that the tax is very light, and that next year it will be almost wholly effaced, but it could, we believe, be advantageously done away with altogether. And on Stave River, so long as the settlers there continue to make their own roads and trails at their own expense, they might reasonably be relieved of the revenue tax also.

ON THE ISLAND.

One of the City Firms That Will Locate Permanently on Lulu Island.

Messrs. Reid and Currie, the well known iron founders, have purchased three acres of land at the upper end of Lulu Island, immediately beyond the end of the bridge, and intend to move their foundry and pattern shop there this fall. The land is situated next that of the mill company, on the north side, and the firm have an extensive water frontage. They will probably build out into the river, as it is their intention to make a specialty of steamboat work. A gridiron for dry docking vessels will be built and every facility put in for doing all kinds of marine work. It is also probable that the firm may undertake the building of steamboats, but that is in the future. The main entrance to the company's yards will be almost off the bridge, this proximity to such a splendid highway giving them great advantages. Later on the machine and blacksmith shops will be moved over to the island and the entire mechanical department operated there; the office and sale room will be located on Columbia street. A LEDGER reporter in talking to Mr. John Reid yesterday about the proposed change, learned that the firm have been much cramped by the small premises they now occupy, and that for a long time past the conviction had been forcing itself more strongly upon them that to cope with the demands of their trade they would have to get into much more extensive premises. Orders have been pouring in upon Messrs. Reid & Currie at such a rate lately that even a largely augmented force of men, working overtime regularly, has scarcely been sufficient to keep pace with the work. When the establishment is fairly settled on the island it is understood that a greatly increased staff of workmen will be employed constantly, and Mr. Reid was of opinion that although the extent of ground owned by the firm on the island would give them plenty of room to do their work, if things went on as they had been going, and there was no reason to doubt that they would, even that ample area might soon become nothing more than sufficient for the firm's ever-growing needs. The work of erecting the necessary buildings will be proceeded with as soon as possible, and at the earliest possible opportunity after they are finished the foundry and pattern shops will be moved over. Mr. Reid thinks the north end of Lulu Island is sure to become a very busy manufacturing place in a year or two, as many of the larger industries in the city may find it to their advantage to locate there. Mr. Reid stated that some important changes would probably take place in his firm before long, the business having assumed proportions that render it necessary for the managers to think of strengthening the directorate; this means that the firm will be able to engage in enterprises hitherto beyond their capacity, which will be a good thing for the city as well as for the firm.

Customs and Inland Revenue

The customs and inland returns just made up by the department should prove satisfactory reading to all who are interested in the progress of the city. The comparison of figures shows that the receipts at this port have nearly doubled since last year. The particulars are as follows:

Customs for the year ending June 30, 1891	$ 97,568 56
Other revenues	1,070 89
	$ 98,639 45
Inland revenue	9,773 75
Total	$108,413 20
Customs returns for the month ending June 30, 1890	$60,231 78
Other revenues	1,614 89
Total	$61,846 67
Customs returns for the month of June, 1891	$11,212 53

A Test Year.

The question as to whether the government hatchery is any benefit in improving the yearly run of salmon in the Fraser River has been a subject of much debate and speculation among the fishermen. The experience for many years, indeed, ever since salmon fishing has been carried on here, has been that for two successive years there is a plentiful run of fish, and then for two succeeding years a poor run. This rotation of good and bad years has been kept up without variation in the past, and the question now is,—will it be so in the future? Four years ago five million salmon fry were deposited in these waters from the hatchery here, and the success of the operation will be tested by the extent of the run of fish this year. The fry put out four years ago should return as mature fish this month, and if the expectations of those who believe in the benefits of the hatchery are realized, there should be a big run of fish this year. It is to be noted that all the canners have prepared cars for a greatly increased pack over what will be ordinarily expected in a poor year, this showing that there is a good deal of faith in the success of the hatchery experiment. The run of sockeyes should begin in a few days now. The canners will all get their boats out on Monday next.

Down on the Mongolian.

They are having heaps of trouble over the Chinese question down Blaine way. The Bellingham Bay Express seldom misses matters, and this is the way it comes out on the subject: Blaine is in trouble with her new cannery. It is said that Drysdale, the proprietor, refuses to employ white labor, and has gone to Portland to bring up a crew of Chinese. He has telegraphed the authorities to protect him and his Mongolians, and to have 25 extra policemen on hand to help him out. Naturally the people of the International city are excited and have called a mass meeting for this evening to take measures to keep out the heathens. It has been Whatcom county's proud boast that not one of these parasites has found a home within her boundaries, and the Express comes out flat-footed with the assertion that it will be a bad day for her when they are allowed to come. "No Chinese" is our motto. They hurt both the laborer and the business man and the whole country as well. The Chinese question has been argued for years on this coast. Every legal way has been tried to remove them; petitions signed by thousands have been forwarded to congress. Being disgusted at the delay and receiving no relief, the people have risen en masse and fired them from various cities. That has settled it. The citizens of Blaine should bounce the last son of a wall-eyed Mongolian. Do it firmly but inflict no bodily injury on the Chinese. A bold, determined, uncompromising, unconditional, no surrender stand will settle the business. Let the edict go forth that no Chinese will be tolerated in Whatcom county. We are the only county in any state from Mexico to Alaska, on the Pacific coast that has no Chinese within its borders. Let us remain that way. The Express will have a free reporter at the meeting tonight.

At Fairhaven Today.

The ferry steamer will leave Westminster this morning at a quarter to seven with a large party of Westminster people who intend to help Uncle Sam enjoy the "Glorious Fourth" at Fairhaven. The train for the bay leaves Brownsville at 7 promptly, and will start from Fairhaven on the return journey at 8:30 p. m., arriving at Brownsville at about 11:30. The ferry will bring the excursionists over to the city. The Fairhaven people have to adopt their own American language, "laid themselves out for a big time," and the Americans have a great name for doing the grand when they make an effort. All kinds of amusements have been arranged for the delectation of the visitors; baseball, lacrosse, hose reel team races, athletic sports and other entertainments will serve to while away the hours. There will, of course, be the usual Fourth of July orations by well trained orators, who will no doubt give the British lion's tail some ugly twists. Among the Westminster excursionists are several of the aldermen, who will officially represent the city.

State of the Weather.

Captain Peele was busy dispensing weather to a number of deeply interested gentlemen yesterday afternoon, at his meteorological bureau, central Columbia street, when a LEDGER man arrived armed to the teeth with questions about atmospheric and meteorological phenomena. The worthy captain read the thermometer in a deliberate way, everybody expecting to hear the fatal words, "950 in the shade." But it was only 80°, and 53 minimum, and those who had been about to rush off to the iced drink dispensary staid to hear what it was the day before; 81° on Thursday. The captain then announced that the barometer was steadily falling, and it was his private opinion that a southwester might be expected along in a few hours. There was yesterday afternoon only 50 per cent of moisture in the air, which Captain Peele said was an excellent condition. Those who were in the crowd, however, differed broadly from the captain's view, and adjourned in a body to make up the remaining 50 per cent at some of the neighboring moisture manufactories. Captain Peele says the present weather is as delightful a spell as could be wished at this time of the year. There was a six mile westerly breeze yesterday, which helped wonderfully to cool the air. But for this splendid daily western zephyr life in Westminster in summer would be scarcely bearable, but it seems never to fail of coming. Should the gentle breeze forget to do its duty one of these scorching July days there will be plenty of opportunity to appreciate what a boon it really is to Westminster.

LULU ISLAND LULU ISLAND

This property is being sold in blocks of the convenient size of five acres, which is about the right area for a fruit or market garden.

The gravel road running westward from the new Lulu Island bridge leads up to this property, thus placing it within a few minutes drive from the centre of the city.

The land is all cleared and under cultivation. There is no better soil in the world for general garden and fruit purposes and its closeness to a live market renders it particularly eligible for gardening purposes.

An acre of this delta land faithfully tilled will produce more money in a year than ten or twenty acres of ordinary farming land cultivated after the ordinary farm method. Its extraordinary productiveness is a positive wonder.

Here is an opportunity for any man to acquire what will afford him a lucrative living and a good deal more. It is an opportunity not likely to occur again for a long time. It is far cheaper than uncleared bush land at $5 an acre. Get some of it.

A ROYAL LADY STUDENT.

THE DUCHESS OF EDINBURGH AND HER HOME LIFE.

She Devotes many Hours Daily to Literature—A Glimpse at Clarence House—Her Husband Commands England's Navy—A Daughter-in-Law of Queen Victoria.

Clarence House, St. James's, is the town residence of Her Royal and Imperial Highness Marie Alexandrovna, Duchess of Edinburgh, the only daughter of His Imperial Majesty Alexander II., Emperor of Russia. Part of every year is spent at Coburg, to which Grand Duchy His Royal Highness succeeds after the demise of the reigning Grand Duke, his uncle. Their family at the present time consists of four children, a son and three daughters. Prince Alfred of Edinburgh a new nearly sixteen years of age. He is a fine, manly boy, admirably brought up, studious and well informed, popular with his professors and school colleagues. He is already an officer in the German Army, as befits the probable heir to the Grand Dukedom of Coburg.

The Princesses of Edinburgh may be frequently met riding in the neighborhood of Coburg, the Duchess's favorite residence being the beautiful Schloss Rosenau, the birthplace of the Prince Consort, and one of Her Majesty's favorite resorts in former years. Here the Duchess, although accustomed from infancy to all the elaborate ceremony and splendid ritual of the Russian Court, leads a most healthy, unostentatious life, her chief amusements being picnics in the lovely woods. Highly educated in every respect and possessing intellectual capacity far beyond the average, Her Royal Highness watches her children's progress with keenest interest.

Devoting many hours daily to literature few subjects worthy of study escape her observation. An excellent linguist, she speaks and writes fluently Russian, English, German, French and Italian, has a thorough knowledge of music, and performs admirably on the piano.

Her Royal Highness clings naturally to the orthodox religion of her own country, the "Greek Church," in which she was educated, but her children are scrupulously trained in the religion of their father, and she may often be seen accompanying them to the English Church.

The promotion of His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh to the rank of Admiral, and the command of the Mediterranean Squadron, necessitated, as in duty bound, the return of the Duchess and her children to Malta, where they spent the Winters of 1886, 1887, 1888. During that time their Royal Highnesses made several visits to Italy and Sicily, and the Duchess was able to gratify her taste in the study of art and antiquity in general, and more particularly on the subject of ecclesiastical architecture, a matter on which she is unusually well informed.

Her Royal Highness became quite attached to Malta, and her departure is yet a subject of personal regret to all classes, especially to the large circle of naval friends who frequently enjoyed her friendship and hospitality. In conclusion, it may truly be said Her Royal Highness is a model wife and mother, charitable, generous and, like the Princess of Wales, ever ready to co-operate in any good work, and a liberal patroness of art in every branch.

The accompanying interesting illustration of Clarence House gives but a faint idea of the richness and beauty of its internal decorations. His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh possesses some of the finest collections of arms and weapons of every description, interesting and valuable souvenirs of his extensive travels, as well as the rarest collection of old Venetian glass and lustre ware in exists on.

A STAR-SPANGLED LIAR.

Canadians Libelled by an American Writer.

In the current number of Harper Julian Ralph tells how the Canadian women manage to keep warm. He went out to a toboggan slide and almost chattered his teeth out he was so cold. He asked a Canadian lady how it was that the girls could stand such weather, and she answered running a list of principal garments those girls were wearing. They had two pairs of stockings under their shoes, and a pair of stockings over their shoes, with moccasins over them. They had so many woolen skirts that an American girl would not believe one who gave the number. They wore heavy dresses and buckskin jackets, and blanket suits over all this. They had mittens over their gloves, and fur caps over their knitted hoods. And these bouncing, buxom, pretty Canadian girls are as healthy a lot of women as can be found on this earth.

There was a painful silence for a moment until Willie Fauntleroy's little voice piped up: "I guess, miss, they're to stub when you don't want to go to school."

Bargains in property, examine carefull T. J. Trapp's list of properties for sale, in condensed column.

Front street will be rendered practically impassable shortly, when the extensive building operations now contemplated are in progress.

The river was fairly dotted with small sailing craft yesterday. One small boat narrowly escaped capsizing, but shipped about a hogshead of water.

Bonanza cake, doughnuts, fresh fruit, pies at the Bonanza. *

A new sidewalk will probably be laid shortly along the north side of Royal Avenue, where great improvements are at present being carried on.

Probably the ferry boat will be on the route between the city and South Westminster some time next week, but it is hard to say positively when.

For a good horse and buggy go to the Crown Stables. A. E. Clarke, proprietor. *

McPhee Bros.' little steam launch while lying at the foot of Douglas street yesterday was much admired by the people who congregated on the wharf.

The sky last night promised rain, a change which will be appreciated by the majority of the citizens, especially those whose business compels them to be down town.

When you want a first-class hack call up the Crown Stables; telephone No. 45. *

The barque Lanarkshire is probably somewhere between San Francisco and Victoria at the present time. She is almost due now, and may arrive at any hour.

The general growl about the lack of postoffice accommodation still continues, and the drug stores are yet carrying heavy stocks of postage stamps to meet the rush.

Dolls and tin toys at Lennie's, Douglas street. Don't forget to curl your hair. Toys for sale at Lennie's. *

The C. P. R. freight shed has been extended westward forty-seven feet. This addition was made necessary by the constantly increasing demand for more space.

Westminster's colored population seems to be on the increase. Quite a number of dusky sons and daughters of Africa are noticed around the streets at the west end.

A Bargain.—For sale, cottage with six rooms and orchard on Clinton street; best residential part of city; terms reasonable. Apply Mrs. M. Gray, Russell House. *

It is a notable fact, and one often remarked upon, that in spite of heavy fines and long terms of imprisonment, the crime of giving whiskey to Indians seems to be on the increase. The frequency with which cases of this character have appeared in the police court recently at any rate seems to point to this conclusion.

A man named Charles Humphrey, belonging to C Battery, Victoria, became suddenly insane on Thursday night, and was arrested. He will be sent to the asylum here in a few days.

Dr. E. Hall of Victoria will be at Hotel Douglas on Tuesday July 7th between 10 a.m. and 4 p. m. *

The fruit gardens of Mr. Butchart, senior, and Mr. Norval Butchart on the north side of the Inlet at Port Moody are worth a day's journey to see. The harvest will be enormous this autumn.

The steamer William Irving left at 3 o'clock this morning for Hope to bring down a big band of Similkameen cattle for distribution among the dealers in the coast cities. She returns tomorrow.

If you want a policeman or oyster stew at any hour call up the Bonanza. *

From all that is heard it appears that the art display at the coming exhibition will eclipse anything shown in former years. Several of our local artists are putting in their best work.

The merciful man is merciful to his beast: Keep a small piece of sulphur in the dog's drinking water during the hot weather. It will prevent lots of things that require a veterinary surgeon to solve.

Strawberries and cream, ice cream and cake for 10 cents at the Bonanza. *

A few gentlemen in the city, notably Mr. Jones and Mr. Wise, are making a study of breeding pigeons, and their success is made evident by the numbers of fine birds seen flying around their residences.

The annual veil of smoke encompasseth the land at last, and flames among a thousand woods are advertising their progress far and wide. Mariners report that it is becoming somewhat thick on the gulf.

Lacrosse, baseball, Indian canoe races and lightning drill by the Mason Zouaves of Tacoma, at Fairhaven, Wash., on the Fourth. *

The pound keeper is maintaining a clear and unwinking weather eye on all dogs at present. The tagless curs is pursued with merciless rigor and apprehended even in the very citadel of his own back yard. *

President Larrabee of the Fairhaven & Southern, who is now in St. Paul, is quoted as saying that in a week or two there would be no necessity for a man being idle in Fairhaven on account of scarcity of work.

For well arranged private rooms and first-class waiters go to the Bonanza. *

A special freight left the city yesterday about 4.30 p. m., consisting of three cars of lumber from the Royal City Planing mills for Manitoba and the Northwest, and two cars of general merchandise for the interior.

Mr. Butchart of Port Moody expects to do the heaviest business in bricks this summer he ever experienced. He has made ample preparation for the trade, and the brick yards will turn out several million before the fall sets in.

For rent—A store room and upper flat on Front Street, adjoining Mathers & Milligan's. Apply to F. J. Coulthard & Co. *

A great circular addressed to ladies, bearing a request not to do any shopping on Saturday forenoon has been circulated throughout the city by the chairman of the Half Holiday Committee. About 500 have been sent out.

A lacrosse practice took place on Queen's Park last night. The boys must keep this up regularly if they want to defeat Vancouver on the 11th. The Vancouvers are working as if there was a big salary attached to it.

Complaints are still being made of orchard robbing by boys. A reporter saw down a fine cherry tree yesterday from which the two largest limbs had been torn away by these young sinners in order to get at the fruit.

The steamer Islander leaves Victoria on July 20th on a special excursion north as far as Massett, and including all the important places on the north coast and in Queen Charlotte Islands. The trip will extend over 14 days, the fare for the round trip being $60.

List your property with us if you want to sell it. E. H. Port & Co. *

Front street is being quietly but steadily macadamized. There are no signs of that street roller yet and it amuses people to hear the council talk about getting a dozen different things and never getting even one of them. For the sake of the horses' feet, trot out that roller.

It is reported that the four representing Westminster at Vancouver on Dominion Day, and who made such an encouraging showing, will train for the regatta to be held this fall in connection with the Agricultural Exhibition. Some good prizes are to be offered, so the home club should make a special effort to retain them here.

The annual class firing of No. 1 battery, R. C. G. A., takes place tomorrow at the Brownsville range at one o'clock. All members of the battery are hereby notified to be present in uniform. *

The steamer Rainbow came down from Comichan and the northern logging camps last night via Victoria, arriving here about 11.30. A quiet, uneventful journey was reported, and everything well along the upper coast. She brought a small lot of freight for the city, and will take out merchandise and logging supplies this morning.

The scarcity of water on the hill continues. The good people up there look upon the projected waterworks much as upon one of the tales from the Arabian Nights. The expression on the face of the domestic man when the household Chinaman informs him that the well has run dry is a Duncan sketch that merits transference to posterity.

Great time at Fairhaven, Wash., on the Glorious Fourth. Don't miss it. Any amount of fun and excitement, boating, bathing and a general good time. *

Enquiries are being made as to whether the C. P. R. intend to issue tickets at reduced rates to passengers bound for Port Moody, as was done last summer. So far as has been noted, the numbers who are travelling that way this summer is greater than last year. The concession by the railway company was much appreciated by the public.

It is curious how many different tribes of Indians there are in the city at present. It is computed by one known as an authority on Indian matters, that no less than 30 separate districts or tribes of Indians are represented in Westminster, and many of them differ radically from each other in customs, appearance, and to a certain extent, in language.

Look over P. M. Watson & Co.'s list of property on second page of this paper. *

That lover of pointed jokes, the mosquito, was in the city yesterday and with his usual liberality registered at all the hotels, boarding houses and restaurants in town, besides hunting up many of his old customers and presenting his little bill for settlement. The paradox about the "skeeter" is that although he would not stoop to ignore a friend he will always cut him.

The Nanaimo Free Press says: Mr. W. H. S. Perkins informs us that there is a movement on foot among the dry goods merchants of this city to close at 6 o'clock every evening instead of 7, and also to do away with the Thursday half holiday at the end of this month. They claim that the early closing would be a greater boon to their clerks than the Thursday half holiday.

I have just received a nice stock of Gent's., Ladies', Misses' and Children's boots, shoes and slippers which I am prepared to furnish at prices lower than the lowest. James Rousseau, Front Street, rear Bank B. C. *

When the street sprinkler was on Columbia street yesterday afternoon it did not go any farther west than Begbie street. The merchants on this end naturally are inquiring why they were thus slighted. The reason given by a city official for this was the same offered King Hiero by Archimedes: that a person or thing cannot be in two places at the same time.

A mail service over the Canadian Pacific from British Columbia points would be appreciated by the Bellingham Bay cities. Under the present system it takes three or four days for letters to reach Seattle from Westminster, Victoria or Vancouver, and were an arrangement made with the railroad 24 hours would bring the mail from the places named, as well as from other Northern and Eastern points.

Guy W. Walker, Merchant Tailor, having dissolved with Mr. W. F. Beggs, is now at his old stand, 26 McKenzie Street. Clothes cleaned, repaired and dyed as usual. The store will be closed from 1 to 6 on Saturday. *

A thing that causes much annoyance to Provincial citizens who have occasion to visit the cities just across the line, is the fact that Canadian money will not be taken at its face value, being subject to a discount of 10 per cent. Where large sums are concerned this is a serious matter, and in ordinary purchases gives rise to much vexation. No restriction is placed on American currency on this side, and the courtesy might surely be reciprocated. Even the American papers condemn the system.

The Okanagan Land and Improvement Company have just issued from the presses of the Vancouver Daily Telegram a handsome hand book of the famous Okanagan country. The little work is profusely illustrated with photo-engravings which give one a very fair idea of the beautiful land described in the ably-written letter-press. The work is a credit to the publishing house which issued it and the author has modestly, fairly and comprehensively set before his readers all that can be said in favor of the Okanagan country.

Ho! for Blaine—To the Citizens of New Westminster: You are all cordially invited to attend the celebration at Blaine (situate on the international boundary line) on July 4th. Sports of all kinds will receive our best attention. Tug of war between Blaine, Wash., and Blaine, B. C. Silver cup to winners. *

Cricket This Afternoon.

There will be a cricket match this afternoon at Queen's Park, beginning promptly at 2 o'clock, between the following teams:

Mr. Ransom's XI—J. W. Sinclair, F. J. Coulthard, E. M. N. Woods, A. E. Wyld, Hughes, Purvis, H. H. Newington, F. J. Keary, Jephson, Armstrong, H. M. Martin, W. Allison.

Mr. Newington's XI—A. Malins, Rev. P. Woods, Rev. H. Irwin, G. E. D. Applegarth, R. C. Blaker, Power, Vidal, Noot, A. Henderson, H. Read, Rev. Mr. Forbes.

The Victoria Ferry.

The steamer R. P. Rithet brought the following passengers in from Victoria last night: Mrs. Jagers, Miss Jagers, Miss French, Miss Troupe, Miss Shepland, Mrs. Lyttrel, P. Ladrer, H. Hutchinson, P. Simonds, R. S. Woodland, J. S. McQueen, E. Underwood, M. Smith, F. N. Wossland, J. Corbet, A. B. McKenzie, W. McCallum, Herr Forstrel. A large quantity of general merchandise was brought over. The old scow Rustler was found adrift in the gulf, loaded with lumber, and it appeared as if it had broken away while being towed. The Rithet hitched on to the old scow and towed it up to the head of Lulu Island, where it was secured.

Fruit and Fine Music.

The strawberry social, musical and literary entertainment last evening at the Y. M. C. A. was enjoyed by about 150 ladies and gentlemen. The edible portion of the programme was partaken of with great gusto, and to the Ladies' Auxiliary who provided the luscious fruit, the cream above suspicion and the pale, scintillating crystallization of the saccharine cane, all praise, credit and admiration are due. This delightful number had only one fault, the usual one with delicacies of that kind. The orchestra charmed the audience unmistakably. Their playing was a treat, the audience being surprised at the proficiency shown by an organization so young. Several songs and recitations were given and were enjoyed. The pleasing entertainment came to a close about 10 o'clock, and the audience dispersed, perfectly satisfied with what they had seen, heard and tasted.

Auction Sale.

I have just received instructions from the Honourable W. Norman Bole, on account of change of residence, to sell by public auction the whole of his valuable furniture and bric-a-brac. Parties requiring furniture would do well to wait until this sale comes off, full particulars of which will be given in due course.

Auctioneer.

New Westminster, June 23, 1891. *

A Pointer to the Public.

District Lot No. 28 lies immediately adjoining the city limits. The continuation of Mary Street goes directly through it, and the Electric Tramway will in a couple of months be running its cars every hour of the day through the centre of this property. The lot (No. 28) is composed of 128 acres of land as level as a table. Contracts have been let to clear and grub the ground, and leave it in perfect condition for building purposes. Already six citizens have decided to erect handsome residences there, ranging in price from $4,000 to $7,000 each. The whole of this splendid piece of property (except some limited portions already disposed of) will be put on the market in a few weeks. One great advantage in buying a lot and erecting a residence on this property is that the owner will avoid heavy municipal taxation. Make a note of it, and wait till the property is put on the market before buying.
