Probable That the Duchess of Cornwall Will Not Gross Canada.

A Conservative Unseated in West Durham.—Eastern News.

(SPECIALS TO THE MINER.)

Montreal, June 10.—A private letter received from London this morning brings interesting news, which may, if it proves correct, interfere with the programme laid down for the tour of their Royal Highnesses, the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, in Canada. The letter states that it is currently reported in society circles that her Royal Highness is expecting an addition to her family and that this interesting event is expected to take place about the time when the Royal party is scheduled to reach Canada. Should this prove correct, it is quite possible that the Duke of Cornwall and York will have to make the transcontinental trip without the Duchess, who may have to remain either in Quebec or Ottawa until His Royal Highness returns.

Two social clubs incorporated by the City Council were raided by the police Saturday night and a large quantity of gambling paraphernalia seized. They were the Belmont club and the St. Jean Baptiste club. A big legal fight will follow and French Canadians threaten to have the St. James club raided also as retaliation.

Ottawa, June 10.—Trooper William Hanum, of the South African Constabulary, who was corporal in G Squadron, died from enteric fever at Bloemfontein on May 7. Hanum was from Kildare, Ireland.

Trooper Charles Hallett, who was in F Squadron, died from wounds at Rietfontein, May 31. Hallett was from Woonona, Man.

Trooper Mullins, from Hillsboro, Albert County, N. B., and who joined at Halifax, died of enteric fever at Elandsfontein.

Miss R. Chardson, sister-in law of Col D. A. Macdonald, of the Militia Department, is opening a South African Constabulary hopital at Heidelberg.

Col. W. H. Cotton, Assistant Adjutant General of Artillery at headquarters, succeeds Col. Foster as Quartermaster General. Col. Cotton began his military career at the age of 18 as second lieutenant of the Ottawa garrison artillery.

Owen Sound, Ont., June 10.—In the course of a speech here at a complimentary banquet to himself and F. H. Clergue on Friday evening, Mr. Tarte regretted that R. L. Borden was not present and paid a tribute to that gentleman for the manner in which he had led the Opposition during the last session. M. Borden had, he said, manfully and patriotically repudiated appeals to passion and prejudice.

Winnipeg, June 10.—W. B. Lanigan, acting general freight agent of the C. P. R. at Toronto, has been appointed to succeed Mr. G. H. Shaw as assistant general freight agent at Winnipeg. Mr. Lanigan comes highly recommended as a most capable and popular man.

St. John, N. B., June 10.—Mrs. Bathurian Chipman, mother of Lady Tilley, died in St. Stephen on Saturday. She was born in Kentville, N. S. in 1859.

Coburg, Ont., June 10.—West Durham has been declared vacant owing to corrupt practices.

Toronto, June 10.—Hon. C. Wood was nominated as the Liberal candidate in West Victoria.

PLEASED THE HOUSE.

"Shamus O'Brien" Scored a Big Success at the Theater Last Night.

There was a whiff of Old Ireland at the Opera House last evening when Charles Erin Verner and company produced the Irish comedy drama "Shamus O'Brien." Mr. Verner has been lauded as a "celebrated Irish comedian" and his work last night showed that he is thoroughly entitled to the distinction. His comedy is of a dry, rich variety that is irresistible and productive of peals of laughter. In the heavier work he displayed histronic ability of a high order, his scene when parting from his mother in the prison being very clever and pathetic. Of his support the same measure of deserved praise cannot be given. The most pleasing work was that of Miss Bishop, as "Miss O'Rielly." It was a small part but very daintily portrayed. Mr. Oblein was an extravagant, but withal clever, English officer. Louis Belmour had the thankless part of the villian and did it so well that the gallery set up a great cheer when he was killed. Miss Miller and Miss Belmour were fair in their parts.

The performance, on the whole, was a pleasing improvement on most of the companies that visit Nelson, and tonight and tomorrow night the house should be as crowded as it was last night by those anxious to see clean, wholesome comedy. But a little more attention to details would be acceptable. The delightfully careless manner in which the house lights are controlled is refreshing. They were not turned on between two acts, leaving the house in semi-darkness, but the genius of the switchboard made up for it by leaving them on when the curtain was up, and when a state of semi-darkness would have been the proper thing.

CANNER'S OFFER WAS REFUSED

Fishermen's Union Will Not Accept 12 and 10c. for Sockeyes.

Another Victoria Marksman Joins the Bisley Team. Coast News.

(SPECIALS TO THE MINER.)

Vancouver, B. C., June 10.—The canners' offer of 12 and 10 cents for sockeyes has been refused by the fishermen's unions. The Grand Lodge of Fishermen met in Westminster on Saturday. Reports were read from all the unions regarding the vote taken on the offer made by the canners and without exception each lodge refused to accept the offer. Individually, however, 20 per cent of the fishermen were in favor of accepting the offer.

The Province claims that they have information to the effect that Vancouver's population will be between 25,000 and 25,500.

Farmer Polson has disappeared from New Westminster. He recently lost his horse and buggy at the ferry landing and fretted about it a good deal. Next day he could not be found and it is feared he has been drowned. He has been missing for a month.

Vancouver, B. C., June 10.—The Grand Lodge of the Fishermen's Union reported to the executive of the canners' combine this afternoon that the white fishermen and Indians declined to accept the offer of the canners. The proposition was to pay 12 cents for sockeyes during July and 10 cents during August, with the understanding that the price would be lowered thereafter if the run was too big to handle. A great deal of argument was advanced on both sides and the whole question was threshed out. The canners' executive finally informed the fishermen's executive that their demand for 15 for fish was simply out of the question and was not considered, but that the time for the payment of 12 cents per fish would be extended until the third of August, thus taking in another Saturday.

Dr. Bell Irving, chairman of the canners' executive, states that he does not believe the fishermen will accept the proposition of the canners, and he fears a strike and probably trouble, for the canners were not prepared to make any further concessions but would go on and put up their pack with any fishermen, Japanese, Indians or whites, who would accept their terms.

Victoria, B. C., June 10.—Company Sergeant Major McDougall, of this city, received a wire this morning from Col. Hodgins, secretary of the Dominion Rifle Association, stating that one Bisley man had disappointed them and offering him a place on the team. McDougall immediately accepted and leaves tomorrow night to join the team. This gives Victoria four men, or twenty per cent of the team, Gunner Fleming, Sergeant Bodley and Sergeant Major Richardson being already slated for Bisley.

Rear Admiral Bickford, in meeting the Department of Navy League on Saturday, suggested that sealers and other sailors of the port be formed into a navy reserve.

GRANBY SMELTER.

During May 19,07 tons were run through the two furnaces at the Granby Co.'s smelter at Grand Forks. The quantity treated during three months ending May 31, was as follows:

	Tons
March, 31 days	19,713
April, 30 days	18,995
May, 31 days	19,075
Total	57,783

This gives an average daily tonnage treated during that period of 628 tons The average for seven months—November to May, both inclusive—during which 129,486 tons of ore were smelted, was 611½ tons per day. The total quantity treated to June 1st is 155,518 tons, of which 62,387 tons were smelted during the latter part of 1900 and 93,131 tons during the current year.

THE LAST OF SUNDAY BALL

Council Instructs Police Commissioners to Enforce Sunday By-Law.

Indemnity Granted Medical Health Officer on Account of Law Suit.

Unless the wishes of a majority of the City Aldermen can be overruled, or ignored, by the minority, there will be no more Sunday ball games on the recreation grounds, notwithtanding the recent violation of the resolution of the Council to the contrary. The early proceedigs of the Council meeting last evening went as smoothly as a swallow skimming the untroubled sea. All business was completed at an early hour and the Aldermen were preparing for adjournment and the reporters were stacking their copy, when all attention was directed to Alderman Hamilton, who asked permission to ask a couple of questions. Before the requisite permission was granted or the questions asked everyone present knew what was coming. The little cloud, no bigger than a man's hand a week ago, had gathered force and descended in a flood.

The questions asked by Alderman Hamilton related to the cause of the resolution passed by the Council at a previous meeting, regarding the prohibition of ball games on Sunday not having been observed. The Mayor asked that the resolution be read, and followed the reading of it by the statement that the resolution was addressed to no one who had authority to enforce it and there was nothing to prevent the boys from playing ball on the recreation ground if they so desired. He further stated that the only way they could take any action on the matter at all was for some of the Aldermen or some one else to lodge a complaint and ask to have Sunday ball games suppressed by a charge of violating the Lord's Day Observance Act, and claimed that so far as the resolution of the Council was concerned it was merely an expression of opinion and had no weight.

Alderman Irving enquired as to what were the powers of the Council in regard to the City property. The Mayor replied that there was no by-law in the city to enable the Council to enforce the resolution and if they were going to restrain people from doing these things they must do it in a legal way. Most of the ground was private property and they could not interfere.

An Alderman asked if they had not power to prevent ball games being played on the city thoroughfares, which were part of the enclosed space where the ball games were held. The Mayor claimed that a resolution of the Council could not open or close them.

An Alderman claimed that they have a right to order the fences removed where it crosses the city streets. The Mayor admitted that as far as the streets were concerned the Council could act. Alderman Patterson asked what would happen if ball games were played on Baker street? He was satisfied that they would have them stopped at once. He claimed that in the same manner they had the power and right to enforce the resolution on the same principle and regarded it as a slight on a majority of the members of the Council that no effort had been made to have the resolution put into operation.

The Mayor claimed that if they had not sprung the matter upon the Council in the manner they did that it might have been deliberated upon more carefully and addressed to the proper authority.

Alderman Irving held that it was submitted to the proper authorities.

The Mayor said they must address their resolution to those in charge of the police.

Alderman Irving claimed that it was the duty of the Mayor to see the wishes of the Council were executed. Other decisionns of the Coucil were enforced either by the department in charge of that particular work or in the absence of any particular department being in charge of that particular work, the Mayor was supposed to see it carried out. The Mayor claimed that it was not his duty to enforce the resolution and that he had power to veto the resolution. Alderman Gillett asked that if the majority of the Aldermen did not rule he wanted to know the reason why they did not. All this discussion had taken place wihout a motion before the house and the Mayor called the meeting to order demanding that before any further discussion on the matter would be allowed that a motion must be put in writing, whereupon Alderman Hamilton recorded the following motion, which was seconded by Alderman Patterson. that the police commissioners be requested to have the resolution, passed by the Council regarding the Sunday games in the city limits, put into effect.

No further discussion took place on the matter. The motion was then put and supported by Aldermen Hamilton, Patterson, Irving and Gillett and was passed without a contrary vote. This action of the Council practically removes the responsibility of the enforcement of the resolution from Mayor Fletcher to Police Commissioner Fletcher, who joins with Alderman Selous and Hugh Cameron the duty of its application.

Another matter of interest, and another chapter in a weekly story, which the Council is running, arose out of a communication from Dr. La Bau, the City Health Officer, requesting the Council to indemnify him for costs in the suit in which Drs. Hall and Rose are suing him for the amount of damages, which previously they had sued the Council for, but had withdrawn. Alderman Patterson claimed that the injury to the instruments in question arose from contributory negligence on the part of the sufferers. The Mayor remarked that the claims of Drs. Hall and Rose was simply disgraceful, and no reasonable men would be guilty of making such a claim.

Alderman Selous suggested that the Mayor request the press not to report the proceedings under this head, seeing that the Council were in danger of having a lawsuit on their hands. The Mayor remarked that he was now speaking his mind on the question before the Council, and did not care whether he was reported or not.

Alderman Selous claimed that it was their duty as a Council to put themselves on record and stand by their officials, because if they failed to support them in the discharge of their duties they would soon be unable to get officials at any price.

The Mayor claimed that it was their duty to assist Dr. LaBau in the discharge of his duties in every way they possibly could and in fighting the unjust claim made against him.

Alderman Patterson claimed that it was their duty to stand by their city officials.

The Mayor claimed that it would indicate a spirit of meanness to step out and allow the Health Officer to suffer the cost of the suit which was laid against him.

Alderman Irving approved of the idea suggested, that the Council ought to stand by the officers of the city, but thought that they ought not to do so in this case at the present stage.

Alderman Gillett claimed that the city had nothing to do with the matter, and they ought not to assume any such liability as it might lead them into costly litigation. He claimed that the whole cause of the trouble arose from the fact that the man employed by the Health Officer to perform the duties of disinfecting did not know his business and was unfitted for the task. Therefore the city had no right to be responsible.

Alderman Irving was decidedly in favor of standing by the city officials, but it was not quite clear to him whether the cause of the trouble was due to the fact as suggested by Alderman Gillett, and if so he did not see that they ought to be held responsible.

The Mayor stated that the same man had disinfected his house and everything had been all right and Dr. La Bau claimed that he was a competent man and the system adopted was the one always adopted in the general hospital where they had expensive operating tables and instruments, and no complaints were received or injury done.

It was then moved by Alderman Selous and seconded by Alderman Madden that Dr. La Bau be given the letter of indemnity as requested by his solicitors, Macdonald & Johnson, and carried by a majority, Alderman Gillett being the only one voting against it.

A TRAGEDY OF THE COAST

Interesting Account of the Occurrence by Adjutant McGill.

Terrible Ending to a Honeymoon.—A Peculiar Murderer.

In last Saturday's Miner mention is made of a story in McClure's for June of a remarkable self-convicted murderer at Skagway, who after being converted by the Salvation Army at Skagway, of which Adjutant McGill, now of Nelson, was then the head, confessed to a most heinous crime, his sentence of death being afterwards commuted by President McKinley. Considerable interest having been manifested in the story and a number of local exchanges having made reference to it, an account given to a representative of The Miner by Adjutant McGill will prove interesting.

There was an Indian feast given up on an inlet on the coast some distance from Skagway at which, after a few days, provisions began to run short. An Indian and his wife left for Haines' Mission, 12 miles away, to purchase supplies. After waiting several days for their return, the rest of the tribe became impatient and a party of 12 started down to look for them. At the mouth of the inlet a piece of canoe was observed, and across a pebble bar, a short distanec away, a tent with a young white man standing beside it. According to the story finally elicited at the trial the party advanced towards him, four carrying guns, with the intention of questioning him. The white man was a Mr. Horton, of Skagway, who with his bride, a handsome and prepossessing young lady, were spending their honeymoon on a camping trip. Mr. Horton appeared to be suspicious of the Indians and asked them what they wanted, finally telling them to stand back. Jim Hansen, one of the Indians, then raised his gun and shot Horton dead. At the sound of the shot Mrs. Horton rushed out of the tent, and was immediately shot by another Indian, but not fatally. As she lay on the ground a third Indian ran forward and cut her throat. The murderers then destroyed or burned the tent and belongings of the hapless couple, also burying the bodies.

This was early in the summer. In October Adjutant and Mrs. McGill, who were holding services at Skagway, happened to visit the Indian settlement and seeing a good field for their work held a special weekly service for Indians only. Early in November Jim Hansen came up to the penitent form, and among other things made allusion to some great crime he had committed. Nothing yet having been heard of the terrible deed up the coast, no particular attention was paid to his disconnected words, until early in January he came to the Adjutant and told the whole story, as above related. He asked what he should do, and was told that though it meant death that there was but one path. He asked for a few weeks' grace to put his affairs in order, so that his wife, to whom he had been married but a short time, should not be left destitute. This was granted, and punctually, on the day appointed, he returned and with the Adjutant he went before the local Judge, who was in perfect ignorance of what he was to hear. There was a dramatic pause after the Judge had asked the Indian what he had to say. Then Hansen related his murder of Horton, not, however, mentioning anything about the murder of Mrs. Horton by the others. He took the Marshal to the scene of the murder, where the bodies were disinterred, and bit by bit the evidence accumulated which resulted in the arrest of the eleven other culprits. After the preliminary examination all were committed to a small jail, where they were kept from March until the arrival of the Judge in June.

Hansen was the first brought up. He pleaded "guilty," but his attorney was asked to withdraw the plea in order to allow the law to take its course. At the trial a rather peculiar

FOR THE HONOR OF CANADA.

Four or five expeditions in search of the North Pole are being fitted out, and as many in search of the South Pole. An American gentleman is undertaking the entire expense of one of them. The United States has already earned a goodly share of such credit as belongs to these enterprises. Great Britain, of course, as in everything else calculated to promote scientific knowledge, has long enjoyed a pre-eminence in Polar explorations. France and Germany have been more or less prominently associated with them. This year, it is said, Russia, Austria, and Italy will each fit out an expedition. Little Norway has covered herself with glory in connection with this work. Only Canada of all the advanced nations of the earth is without a single line of credit in this field of great popular activity. A Canadian navigator, Capt. Bernier, appealed to Parliament last session for aid in fitting out an expedition. The aid was not given. It was not refused, however, the Premier promising that if the Canadian people would contribute a share of the cost the Government would do the rest. Our plucky countryman was compelled to content himself with that, and now he is waiting with true seaman's impatience to see what the people propose to do about it.

Some gentlemen of spirit have taken the matter up and are soliciting subscriptions. Lists have been placed in nearly all the towns and cities of the Dominion. There are lists in Nelson, but it was said not many days ago that not a single contribution had been made. The Miner has had the honor of a personal request from Capt Bernier to open a list through its columns, promising that "the names of the subscribers will be recorded in the official records of the undertaking to be handed down to posterity in the history of Arctic exploration." We cannot refuse the request, although sensible of the untimeliness of the appeal for aid, when the town is bled freely for its annual Dominion Day saturnalia. But we cannot but hope that there are Canadians in Nelson whose patriotism can rise superior to the ephemeral sports of even a national holiday, and who will be willing to associate themselves with a movement calculated to give distinction to their country. Individual subscriptions need not be large. One hundred dollars, or two at the most, will be a generous contribution for a town like Nelson, and this sum we have no doubt can readily be raised if some gentlemen prominent in the community will take sufficient interest to start the ball rolling. The Miner would appeal to the citizens of Nelson to show by their response that, although shut in by the mountains and to a large extent thrown back on themselves, they can rise to the greater height of Canadian citizenship and take both pride and part in events of national interest and honor. We desire to repeat that this method of soliciting subscriptions is taken at the personal request of Capt. Bernier. Contributions will be acknowledged through The Miner as received.

A gentleman recently in Ottawa, who is said to know British Columbia well, is credited with the statement that it is the canners of the Province who are pressing for local control of the fisheries. "These men," he says, "think they can get a more pliable fisheries department at Victoria than at Ottawa. It is an open secret that for years the canners have been pressing for the greatest possible relaxation of the regulations, and if they could have their way there would be no weekly close time, nor even a close season. It is the desire with them of getting all they can while the fish last, and then when the fisheries are depleted and the canneries have to close up for good, these men will be millionaires, But British Columbia will have been deprived of one of its greatest natural resources by selfishness and greed." In comparison with the protection of our great fishing industry the mere question of where the control shall lie sinks into insignificance.

The Coast papers had better stick to the character of the service supplied Western Canada by the Associated Press, and leave the cable and general service East to other hands. There is no proper system of news gathering in Canada, but it will come with population and wealth. It may be hurried if people in the East continue to keep up a row. But the improvement of the service supplied to newspapers out in this part of the Dominion is a very simple matter, and can be effected in a day. It only requires that the Canadian Pacific Telegraph Company shall go to the expense of employing a man who knows what news is, and who is not too lazy or indifferent to discriminate between what is good and what is no good. Let that man be put in charge of dispatches as transferred by the Associated Press, and British Columbia will immediately have a better service.

Conservative Governments knew what it was to have deficits in operating Canada's one State-owned railway, the Intercolonial, although for a year or two Mr. Haggert professed to make ends pretty nearly meet. This was probably due, however, to special book-keeping and to systematic starvation of the service. When the Liberals came in they were going to do better. Pursuit of like methods made a good showing for a time, but it could not be kept up without inviting disaster. Latterly substantial deficits have been the rule. At Montreal a few days ago Mr. Blair had to admit that the deficit for the last half year would be in the vicinity of half a million dollars. As railway managers Canadian governments have not been a success.

We wonder if the Ministers at Victoria were induced to double the tax on mineral output by the fact that a mine or two here and there were making dividends? If this reasoning process could reach no higher than that, it is not surprising that their stupidity found the particular form of expression that it did.

A LUCKY FIND.

What proved to be a more profitable find than gold happened the other day to a traveller from San Francisco, while at lunch in one of the leading restaurants in Nelson. He ordered a portion of Pumpkin pie, when to his astonishment his appetitie, which he had lost fifteen years ago in Arizona, suddenly returned to him, with renewed vigor. The pie had a very solid texture and a rich mellow flavor. The cook informs us that it was made from "The Morse Pumpkin Flour." None other just as good. Insist on "The Morse Brand."

situation developed. All the tribe turned against Hansen, and some of the other Indians who had been present, and had been released to act as witnesses all told exactly the same story, namely, that Hansen had fired fired three shots, one at the man and two at the woman. Hansen declared he had fired one shot at the man, and meant to fire another, but that the second cartridge jammed and he was unable to force it in, and that while struggling with the gun, another Indian fired and the second horrible tragedy was enacted. His wife, who had been the only Indian woman present, refused to say whether two or three shots had been fired, pretending she was asleep. Despite all the evidence being so plain against him his manner impressed all, and when the Marshal produced a loaded cartridge which had been found on the spot where Hansen had stood, showing the clearest evidence of having been repeatedly scored by the breech block in the effort to force it into the breech, all were convinced of his truthfulness. Hansen made no effort to excuse or exculpate himself but instead tried to shield the others, despite their calumniating him to the fullest extent possible. The other Indians had the services of two first class lawyers, the tribe, a very wealthy one, having furnished the money for their defense. Hansen at one time was cross-examined without cessation for four and one-half hours, but the questioning only more clearly proved his truthfulness. Finally the Judge sentenced Hansen to death, and the other two Indians were condemned to fifty years each. In passing sentence on Hansen the Judge said: "The Court has great sympathy for you. It is through you that this crime has been exposed and yourself and the others brought to justice and punished. You have been truthful and have not tried to screen yourself in the slightest degree. Your conduct in this respect entitles you to the highest consideration. I trust that while this Court is compelled to pass upon you the sentence of death that the Great Father at Washington may yet exercise clemency towards you, and save you from the consequences of your fearful crime. It may be that the Great Father of the white people will not be able to do anything for you. God alone can tell what the future unfolds for you." The usual formula of condemnation was then proceeded with and September set for the execution of Hansen. An appeal for clemency suggested by the Judge, prosecuting attorney and the leading people of Skagway was granted, and the sentence changed to imprisonment for life.

Hansen is now undergoing the same at McNeil's Island, and Adjutant McGill has secured several letters from him. The Adjutant also has in his possession a most interesting series of photos of the places and all connected with the story. The photo of Mr. and Mrs. Horton is an especially pathetic one; the groom a manly looking young fellow, and the bride a winsome girl, whose laughing eyes contain little presage of the fate that was to overtake her within a couple of weeks after the photo was taken.

By a coincidence a letter arrived from Hansen while the Adjutant was narrating the story. In it the convict told of his daily round in the prison, and shows the same honest spirit that he manifested throughout the trial.

LOST NO TIME—

About seven weeks ago James J. Godfrey was appointed deputy mining recorder here. Some three or four days ago the suspicions of Recorder McInnes, of New Denver, and Gold Commissioner Chipman, of Kaslo, were aroused; they came up, and after investigating affairs find him some $70 short in his cash. High living and paying old debts are given out as the cause of the defalcation. Up to going to press he was figuring to raise the money. Failing in getting the consequences will be bad.—Sandon Mining Reveiw.

THE CITY

LAKE GOING DOWN—

Kootenay lake has already dropped fourteen inches and the danger of a flood is daily diminishing.

A USEFUL PRIZE—

George Gale & Son, of Quebec, through D. McArthur & Co., of Nelson, have donated to the celebration committee to be given as a prize for any event chosen, an iron bed, brass trimmings, and springs, valued at $30.

ONE DRUNK—

A solitary drunk at the Police Court was the only case of Sunday jubilation which the magistrate had to deal with yesterday morning and as he was proved guilty the usual fine of $5 and costs was imposed and immediately paid.

CHANGE OF TIME—

Next Sunday evening the service in the Congregational church will begin at 8 o'clock instead of 7:30, to give late church goers a chance to get there on time and Mr. Munroe will preach in the evening on the subject, "Must the Chinese Go?"

HIS TASTES—

No trace has been found of the sneak thives who broke into the residence of Mayor Fletcher and G. C Hodge on Saturday afternoon last during the absence of the proprietors at the regatta. The one who entered the house of the latter was evidently a shoeless vegetarian, who took a pair of shoes along with some oranges, bread and other articles of food, although he left untouched a supply of meat which was equally handy.

BAD ENOUGH—

There has been enough sulphurous language used about the weather this last couple of weeks to warm it up, but in Nelson there is some small reason for satisfaction in that neighboring towns have had worse. The Rossland Miner of Saturday says: "Snow, rain, hail and brilliant sunshine within twelve hours is yesterday's tale, and this is difficult to beat in June. Rosslanders are lucky they raise ore and not wheat."

WHAT HAPPENED TO POWER—

Yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock the eastbound trolley car No. 1 was waiting on the switch near Hall street for the westbound No. 2 car to pass. No. 2 was almost on the switch when it stopped short, to the surprise of the motorman. An examination was made of the working apparatus but everything seemed to to be all right and it was finally discovered that the power had been shut off. There were a number of passengers in both cars, all of whom after waiting for varying periods, got out and walked. In about an hour the power came on again and the cars started.

DOMINION DAY DONATIONS—

In addition to the donations to the Dominion Day sports already reported from outside points the following list of additional ones has been received by Hugh Cameron and Percy Chap- One five-pound box of tobacco from Tuckett & Co., Hamilton; one box of Caramel Chewing Tobacco, and one box of Virginia Smoking Tobacco from F. W. Mitchell & Co., Vancouver; one box of Virginia Smoking Tobacco and one box of Caramel from the Dominion Tobacco Co., Montreal; a valuable gift promised, but not specified, by Gooderham & Worts, Toronto, through the Blackstock Mining Co. and will be received through their local agents, the Hudson's Bay Co.; Victor Safe and Lock Co., Cincinnati, through their agent, P. J. Russell, one fireproof jewelery box safe valued at $10; D. McArthur & Co., Nelson, a smoker's table for the fat man's race; Lake of the Woods Milling Co., via John Wilson, local agent, five barrels Lake of the Woods flour for races; Dyson, Gibson & Co., Winnipeg, one case of bottled fruit syrups valued at $10; Gutta Percha & Rubber Co., Ltd, Toronto, $20; Christie, Brown & Co., Toronto, $10; Nelson Soda Water Co., $10; A. B. Gray, $5.

Finance Committee it was agreed to complete the present works amounting to some $3,200 of city improvements and not to recommend any extensive or expensive public works for a few weeks until they knew whether they could afford it, and after passing the public works committee's report they put into force their retrenchment principles on the last recommendation which was altered to only extending a three-plank sidewalk from Stanley street to Melville Parry's house, which is tantamount to stating that the policy of reducing public expenditure begins at Melville Parry's doorstep.

Report of Public Works Committee:

1. That Ward street from Vernon to Front street be graded and ditched.

2. That the Nelson Gas & Coke Co. be required to place all their exposed gas mains in the city underground.

3. That the Nelson Electric Tramway Co. be required to repair that portion of their track lying between Josephine and Hall streets.

4. That a crossing be laid on the east side of Kootenay street across Robson street.

5. That the sum of $100 be expended in improving and repairing Vernon street between Hall and Cedar streets.

6. That a four-plank sidewalk be laid on the north side of Hoover street, between Stanley and Ward sreets.

The report of the Finance Committee authorizing the payment of accounts amounting to the sum of $1,409.13 and that the sum of $5,000 be raised for city public school purpose to supplement the grant of $5,000 from the Provincial Government.

It was also agreed that Huga Nixon be reimbursed his loss by the payment of $100 from the city funds and that the man Young, who so bravely risked his life in rescuing Nixon from drowning, be awarded $50 for his bravery, and that the City Clerk be authorised to communicate with the Humane Society for the purpose of securing to Mr. Young the society's medal for bravery.

The Council then adjourned to meet again on Monday evening, June 17.

GOES TO KASLO—

The Nelson organized labor societies have lost a good friend and useful worker in the person of A. J. Curle, who has accepted a position with Robert Irving, manager of the K. & N. Co., of Kaslo, as stenographer and typewriter. He left for his new field of labor on Sunday last, and prior to his departure he was farewelled by a large number of his associates and friends who wished him success and bon voyage. Mr. Curle was president of the Laborers' Union, secretary of the Trades and Labor Council, and was largely instrumental in preparing the voluminous evidence from the Nelson labor organizations which was presented to the Commissioners who recently sat in Nelson on the Chinese question.
