MEMBERSHIP REARRANGED

Redistribution Bill Making Many Changes Introduced.

Tales of Death and Disaster From the Southern Seas.

Victoria, March 20.—The redistribution bill submitted today increased the members of the house to 42. Victoria retains 4 and Vancouver gets 5. South Victoria and Vancouver island are united and part of North Victoria is merged into Saanich, while all islands of the gulf are made into the Islands constituency. North and South Nanaimo become Newcastle; Esquimalt loses a member; Nanaimo City, Alberni, Cowichan and Comox remain the same as before. Delta, Chilliwack, Dewdney, Richmond and New Westminster has each a representation of one, while Cassiar is divided into Atlin and Skeena with a member each. Cariboo retains two while the remaining ridings are: Lillooet, two ridings combine; Yale, Kamloops, Okanagan, Similkameen, Greenwood, Grand Forks, Ymir, Revelstoke, Slocan, Nelson City, Rossland City, Kaslo, Columbia, Cranbrook and Fernie. It is believed to be generally fair, although an increase in representation is regarded as a step in the wrong direction. The opposition will likely hold for a reduction in committee, while approving the general principle of redistribution.

Victoria, March 20.—During the month of February the natives of the islands of the South seas gather on the coast in large numbers and the vessels which go to recruit laborers bring home many stories of treachery. This year is no exception to the rule and a number of these stories being brought here by the steamer Aorangi, which arrived this morning from Australia, Suva and Honolulu.

The Ketch Venture while in Cadell straits, a narrow and difficult passage, was attacked by natives who attempted to climb over the sides. In the fight which followed this attempt two members of the crew were killed by spears in the hands of the natives George McCabe, recruiting officers of the labor vessel Rhoderick Dhu, was another victim.

The cruise of the barque had been fairly successful and the voyage without special incident until the island of Malayta was reached. However, it was decided to land for the purpose of obtaining a few recruits, if possible, and although no instances of treachery on the part of the natives were known to the officers of the vessel, still McCabe took precautions against disaster of any kind. In the boat commanded by McCabe were a number of his trusted men, and another of the ship's boats was also in attendance to cover the landing party. No natives were seen on the island, but shortly after the officer had landed and proceeded some distance up the beach he was suddenly fired on from the rear by some of the islanders concealed in some thick undergrowth. McCabe was killed instantly. The murderers after committing their treacherous deed, immediately fled inland and thus escaped the wrath of the crew of the Roderick Dhu. McCabe's body was recovered, and later buried at sea.

The captain of one of the recruiting vessels adopted a novel method of getting natives to enter into contracts with him. He secured a phonograph and before leaving Queensland had a native, already engaged on a plantation, talk into it, telling of the good time he was having. This was taken to the native villages and turned loose. The natives flocked to the recruiting ship. The Danish barkentine Puck with 170 recruits on board ran ashore and was wrecked. The recruits and crew were rescued by the Germany steamer Meteor.

Another wreck, of which news was received by the Aorangi, was that of the schooner Prosperity bound from Newcastle to north Queensland. When off Point Lookout, Stradboik island, the man at the wheel drew the attention of the mate to land ahead. The mate for answer struck the man and immediately the schooner went ashore. The crew, with the exception of the mate who locked himself in the cabin, spent the night in the rigging and swam ashore in the morning. The mate and cook were drowned.

A tribal war was in progress in Noumea, one band of villagers attacked a rival village and according to reports received at Sydney a number of men were killed and the wounded were decapitated. It was also said that cannibalism was practised by the sucessful party.

There were 20 cases of plague in Sydney on February 24 and several in Brisbane. In Sydney the theatres have been closed and every precuation is being taken to prevent a spread of the disease. It is confined to one locality. The steamer Aorangi called at Suva this trip, this port having been included in the ports of call of the Canadian-Australian liners. She had 116 passengers. All accommodations on the two steamers to follow her has been booked by passengers bound for London for the coronation.

TIRED OF HIS TRIP.

Luxton Returns Aft Reaching Australia With Capt. Voss.

Victoria, March 20.—N. K. Luxton who left here with Captain Voss on the yacht Tillicum, an Indian war canoe housed over, returned home today, having abandoned the trip after reaching Australia. Capt. Voss has a new companion and is continuing the trip in which he hopes to encircle the world.

The news reached here tonight of the finding of wreckage on Mary island on the northern coast. It is believed to be from the collier Bristol which was wrecked a short time ago.

There are no idle ships here now, the Gwydr Castle and Glenmark having been towed to Tacoma to load wheat, the owners accepting a very low rate in preference to allowing their vessels to remain idle. The bark Peter Rodale left Honolulu for here on March 1st and the American schooner King Cyrus, which also has orders to come here, has arrived at Honolulu with coal from Newcastle.

MAKING STEADY PROGRESS.

Improvements and Addition to C. P. R. in Kootenay.

The C.P.R. has been adding to its force of men on the line between Nelson and Robson until now there are from 250 to 300 men employed. Work has been started on the bridge at Slocan crossing but a much larger force is engaged at the Kootenay river crossing bridge near Nelson where there are about 90 men. The two piers are well under way and can easily be kept ahead of the rise of the water. The base of the masonry will all be above water at the low stage of the river, but not, by many feet, at high water.

Good progress is being made with filing the approaches to the Robson bridge. A few days ago the most powerful steam shovel on the Pacific division was put to work and is doing excellent execution. The design is known as the Marion and the machine is capable of lifting two and one-half yards of earth at a load and of filling a gravel car holding six cubic yards in less than a minute. It is expected that three weeks will see almost, if not quite, all of the filling done and then the Boundary train will be run through to Nelson over the bridge.

This change will make necessary the doing of the greater part of the repairs of cars for the division in Nelson. This will entail a considerable addition to the working force here which will number more than 150 men. A machine shop will be equipped and it is possible that a new one will be built.

A new Shay engine for hauling the ore from the Rossland mines to the Trail smelter has been built and is expected to be on the way to the Kootenay division from the shops in Lima, Ohio, by April 1. It would take about two weeks to come out. There is already one Shay engine on the division now on the run from Phoenix to the Granby smelter. As shipments from the Rossland mines increase the rolling equipment in ore cars will be added to also, and then on the division there will be a complement of about 200 ore cars.

RECEIPTS WERE EXCELLENT.

Winnipeg, March 20.—Receipts for the three hockey matches for the Stanley cup played here were about $7,500. The Montreals share of this is $1,800.

BOERS STILL CONFIDENT

Reported as Well Supplied With Guns and Ammunition.

Have Unlimited Support and Large Number of Cattle.

London, March 21.—A despatch to the Times from Klerksdorp, Transvaal colony, says that the Boers in the western Transvaal are well supplied with guns and ammunition and have unlimited support and a large amount of stock, that their numbers give them confidence, whilst the blockhouse system has not yet extended far enough to alarm them. What is possible has been done, continues the correspondent, but owing to the insufficiency of troops the British columns have been too small to cope adequately with the Boer forces, which are all composed of fighting men without any intention of surrendering.

FITZSIMMONS HEARD FROM.

His Terms Regarding Purse Considered Rather Exacting.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 20.—Manager McCarthy of the Century Athletic club, received a telegram from Robert Fitzsimmons today stipulating the conditions under which he would accept the club's offer to fight Jeffries. The text of Fitzsimmon's message has not been made public. President McCarthy said: "Fitzsimmons is too exacting. He combines two of our propositions and wants both. We still think our bid of a $25,000 cash purse is the best to be had and perhaps Fitzsimmons will come to see it that way. We have replied to his telegram, but I am not ready to state the conditions therein, an answer is expected tonight, however.

When shown Fitzsimmons' statement that he would fight in Los Angeles under certain conditions, Billy Delaney, Jeffries' manager, said: I have not heard from Jeffries regarding the despatch but I know he will grab at anything that means a meeting with Fitzsimmons. I don't know whether the Los Angeles club will consent to suggestions from Fitz or not, but I do know that they will do anything within reason.

HAS MADE NO DEMAND.

United States Has Not Asked Turkey to Pay Miss Stone's Ransom.

Washington, March 20.—The persistent circulation of reports that the State department has made a demand upon Turkey for reimbursement of the money expended in the ransom of Miss Stone, is causing the officials of that department a good deal of annoyance. It can be stated as a fact that the State department has made no such demand on Turkey and consequently the Turkish government has not flatly refused to pay.

ROWING EVENT AT CORK.

Washington, March 20.—Ambassador Choate has transmitted to the State department a circular sent to the United States embassy by the chief secretary to the Lord lieutenant of Ireland relative to a proposed rowing race at Cork in connection with the exhibition which will be held in that city next July.

The Lord Chief Justice has promised to give a cup which is to be won "out and out," not a challenge cup. The race will be open to all amateurs of all nations and it is desired that publicity be given the project in the United States.

DILLON WAS SUSPENDED

Scenes of Disorder and Tumult in the Imperial House.

Traitor and Liar Were Terms Bandied Among the Members.

London, March 20.—One of the liveliest scenes witnessed in the House of Commons since the palmiest days of the Irish Nationalists, ended this afternoon with the suspension of John Dillon. During the discussion of South African affairs, the Liberal leader, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman vigorously protested against the government's conduct in uttering "malignant slanders" in calling the Liberals "pro-Boers."

The Colonial secretary, Mr. Chamberlain, in the course of an equally incisive reply, said he desired deliberately to accuse Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman of losing no opportunity for slandering his countrymen, the soldiers and the government. Consequently, the "malignant slanders" had come from the opposition side. Mr. Chamberlain, proceeding, referred to the Boers who are fighting in the British side, when John Dillon, Irish Nationalist, interjected, "They are traitors," on which Mr. Chamberlain retorted, "the honorable gentleman is a good judge of traitors." A scene of great confusion ensued. When order was partially restored, Mr. Dillon demanded a ruling on Mr. Chamberlain's words.

The Speaker said: "An honorable member spoke of soldiers serving under the British flag as traitors. I deprecated the interruption and I depreciate the retort of the other member."

Mr. Dillon then said: "I will tell the right honorable member that he is a damned liar."

A dead silence followed this remark. Such unparliamentary language seemed to stun the house. The Speaker invited Mr. Dillon to withdraw the expression but the latter said: "I will not with draw." "Then I must name you," said the Speaker.

The government leader, A. J. Balfour then said: "I beg to move that Mr. Dillon be suspended from the service in the house."

The motion was carried by 248 to 48 votes. Mr. Dillon's suspension under the present rules cannot exceed a week.

The ejection of Mr. Dillon did not serve to clear the atmosphere and the remainder of the debate was filled with personal allusions and unpleasant exchanges, the nature of which would have excited comment had they not be discounted by the first explosion. David Lloyd George, Welsh Nationalist, bitterly attacked the government, drawing a harrowing picture of the conditions in South Africa and charged the war office with pigeon-holing important information.

Sir Charles Cayes, Conservative, interrupted Mr. Lloyd George saying that the speaker was playing to the pro-Boers, whereupon Mr. Lloyd George characterized the interruption of Cayes as "an insolent remark."

This caused confusion in the house and cries of "withdraw." John Redmond, leader of the Irish party in the House of Commons, appealed to the chair, and Sir Charles reluctantly withdrew his statement. Mr. Plummer and Mr. John Redmond then had an altercation and after more disorder Mr. Lloyd George succeeded in finishing with the remark that he did not know who was responsible for all the errors and incompetency in South Africa, but that the men who had profited by these conditions now sat upon the government bench.

Mr. Broderick, the secretary of state for war, answered Mr. Lloyd George with a long defense of the war policy.

During the day's discussion in the House of Commons Mr. Broderick and Mr. Chamberlain showed themselves to be very hopeful over the position of affairs in South Africa. Mr. Chamberlain estimated there were still 9,000 fighting Boers in the field. The optimism is rather offset by the fact that the government has again telegraphed Australia inviting that commonwealth to send 2,000 more men to South Africa.

EXPECTS PLENTY GOLD.

Assay Office at Vancouver Anticipates Large Receipts.

Vancouver, March 20.—William McCaffry, manager of the Vancouver assay office, today intimated that he looks forward to a rushing season this year. Every one on the coast in the northern gold-bearing regions of the Yukon and Atlin, and in Cariboo and the Northwest Territories is aware of the large amount of gold dust handled at the local assay office last year, and if the expectations of Vancouver are realized the amount of dust received this summer and fall will be far greater than that handled last season.

All winter the Vancouver assay office has been kept busy handling small consignments of gold dust from nearly every placer mining section of lower British Columbia and the Territories, and while it may be stated that the volume of business done was not great, still the gold received was sufficient to keep the staff busily employed.

Manager McCaffry stated this morning that he does not expect to handle much Yukon and Atlin gold dust until the latter part of June or the beginning of July when the first big cleanups from winter mining in the Yukon and Atlin will begin to arrive in the city. Owing to the fact that it is possible low water may prevail in the North after the first freshets, it is likely that the miners will put forth every effort to make their cleanup as rapidly as possible, and such being the case the gold will come in with a rush when it starts Vancouverwards.

The excellent service rendered by the Vancouver office last season is so well known now throughout the North that in the natural course of events much more gold dust will be handled here during the coming summer and fall than was the case last year.

FORWARDING TROOPS.

Russia Said to Be Concentrating Forces at Vladivostock.

London, March 20.—With reference to Russo-Japanese war rumors the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times says he is able to vouch that the Siberian railway is declining consignments from merchants because the resources of the line are fully occupied forwarding troops and war materials to Vladivostock.

MILITIA REPORT.

Ottawa, March 20.—The report of the militia department has been presented to parliament. The major-general deals with the inefficiency of the permanent corps, from an instructional standpoint. He says that the cavalry should be increased by four officers, 12 sergeants, and 60 men; the artillery by four sergeants and 78 men; the infantry by 18 officers and 492 men of other ranks. He claims that this is absolutely necessary if the efficiency of he militia is to be kept up. He would have the maximum permanent force at 1,500 men, almost double its present strength and a third company of garrison artillery formed. He states that the Kingston military college is giving unsatisfactory results.

SMALLPOX REPORTED

Second Canadian Contingent Said to Be Under Quarantine.

A Young Man From Victoria in Trouble in Montreal

Toronto, March 20.—The executive of the Manufacturers' association met today and chose Halifax for the next annual meeting to be held in October next.

The Evening Telegram's cable says: The morning papers here contain a cable from Ottawa to the effect that the steamship Victorian, with the second section of the second battalion of Canadian Mounted rifles on board was held at quarantine at Durban with several cases of mild smallpox among the men. Enquiry at the war office and the admiralty today failed to elcit any information, and at both offices it was stated that no such report had reached them. The admiralty further stated that the Victorian was on her way home.

BROKER SHOOTS HIMSELF.

Stoddart Got Goods on False Order and Was Arrested.

Montreal, March 20.—Stewart Campbell, a well known insurance broker, and military man, was found dead in his bed this morning. Beside him lay a revolver which had been discharged. The news came as a great shock to his large circle of friends, as only the previous evening he had been in the best of spirits. No cause is yet known for the act.

A young man named Stoddart, hailing from Victoria, B. C., was arrested here today on the charge of obtaining goods under present false pretences. He called on a local house and produced an order purporting to be signed by his father for $200 worth of goods. These were delivered to him and the young man at once proceeded to pawn them. Meantime the firm became uneasy and investigated and the young man's arrest followed. The case will probably be settled.

IT IS NOW MURDER.

Arthur Simpson, Shot at Calgary, Died Yesterday.

Calgary, March 20.—Arthur Simpson, the victim of the shooting outrage of Sunday, died about 12.40 o'clock today. It is considered phenomenal that he lived so long. Scouting who did the shooting will be held for murder.

A NOVEL SUGGESTION.

In connection with the proposal to erect an electric power plant at Bonningon Falls to supply Nelson with electric lights and power a suggestion emanates from Rossland which seems feasible and is worthy of consideration. In brief, it is suggested that the cities of Nelson, Rossland and Trail enter a partnership and erect the plant, so that each of the cities will be enabled to secure the power for lights from the plant. It is contended that the cost would be less to each than if three separate plants were erected and that the desired result of plenty of power for all lights needed would at the same time be secured. The cities could each take a third interest in the plant or they could have interests in proportion to their population. The proportion which each should own is a mere matter of detail which acould be arranged later on if the scheme should meet with the approval of the citizens of this and the other towns mentioned. Nelson is entitled to the site and which will doubtless be given to it during the present session of the legislature. The above suggestion appeared in the Rossland World a few days since.

One of the chief objections to the city of Nelson embarking in the enterprise of building the power plant last year was that protests were made to incurring to large an indebtedness as $150,000 for the construction of an electric power plant and a pole line between Bonnington Falls and this city at a time when the mining industry was under a cloud owing to the very low price of metals, which made the future of the district and the city appear gloomy and uncertain. Now, however, the price of metals is rising, a number of new mining and reduction schemes are being pushed, the outlook is brighter, and the matter of providing a power plant for the city is again coming to the front. The suggestion above outlined, if it is carried out, has one merit which will entitle it to careful consideration on the part of the people of this city, which is that it will enable them to secure all the power needed for considerably less of an expenditure than if they alone erected the plant. Of course, sole ownership is always better than partial ownership, and friction would doubtles arise were a plant owed by three cities.

One method of preventing this would be to secure contracts from Rossland and Trail to furnish them with lights at a little above cost and then to have Nelson erect the plant. If this could be done the income would be large enough to yield a good profit and to guarantee the payment of the principal of the indebtedness in short order. Besides this capitalists would lend money on much more favorable terms on a plant which was lighting three cities than they would on one which was performing a like service for only one town.

The city authorities should carefully consider the above suggestion as we believe it is worthy being looked into.

REDISTRIBUTION BILL.

A redistribution bill was submitted in the house yesterday, which increases the number of representatives from 38 to 42. It puts Vancouver island, which formerly was in the ascendency, in the minority. The mining districts will be well represented. Nelson division, for instance, will have two members one from Nelson and the other from Ymir, instead of one. The Boundary country is given two members, one at Greenwood and one at Grand Forks, and there will still be one member for Rossland. The redistribution seems to have been made with a desire to be just to each section of the province and give representation in proportion to population. The legislature with 38 members is quite large enough at present and there was no particular necessity for increasing its size by the addition of four members. One good effect of the redistribution bill, if adopted, is that the mining sections of the province will be represented by a larger delegation than hitherto. Under this condition more attention will be paid to legislation of a nature that will be beneficial to the mining industry, as the representative from Rossland, Greenwood, Nelson, etc, will be elected by mining constituencies they will of necessity have a knowledge of the needs of those whom they represent and will, at least, avoid some of the mistakes which have hitherto been made and which have not redounded to the advantage of those engaged in mining.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Vancouver Province recently published a rather pessimistic article on the condition of the mines and of business in the Rossland camp. The Rossland board of trade took the matter up and stated that Rossland mines were in splendid condition, that the quantity of ore shipped was large and increasing, and that the general condition and outlook were never brighter in the history of the camp. The Province realizing that it had been misinformed published the following amende honorable: "The Province is glad to learn from a resolution of the Rossland board of trade, reproduced in another column, that the prospects for the immediate future in Rossland are much brighter than this newspaper thought for in writing of it a few days since. Rossland cannot be any too prosperous to suit The Province. Good luck to you, neighbor."

It would be better for British Columbia to pay for the building of the Canada Northern railway through its territory and keep the eight millions of acres of land, says the New Denver Ledge. The building of the road will make the land very profitable and the province can make much more than the cost of building the road. To give away the land and money besides sounds like a scheme to rob the people. We should retain something if we ever expect to get out of debt.

A bonus is offered by the New Zealand government to the inventor of the most successful appliance for saving gold from black sands. The conditions of the offer are that the invention shall be new, portable, and capable of utilizing local water; that it shall have a capacity of 30 cubic yards per hour, and be able to treat material valued at but 3d per cubic yard at a profit; that it shall save not less than 80 per cent of the gold in the sands treated; and that it shall work six months, treating not less than 100,000 cubic yards of material, before the bonus shall be payable.

Copper mines as a rule are long lived. Some of the earliest opened in the United States fifty years ago are still productive with no signs of becoming exhausted very soon. One of the oldest copper mines of the world is at Fahlun, Sweden. This mine has been worked for seven hundred years and has produced 500,000 tons of copper, fifteen tons silver and one and one-quarter tons gold, representing a value of $277,500,000. Evidently people in Sweden are not so much in a hurry as they are in the U. S., or their facilities for working mines are not as good. In 1900 a single copper mine in the United States yielded 60,000 tons copper. At that rate this mine will produce more copper in ten years than the Swedish mine has in 700 years.

Should a Canadian accept knighthood or a baronetcy at the hand of the Imperial government, or, as it is formally put from the crown, is a question which has been much discussed. Knighthood and baronetcies are at best but survivals of what was once a reality. That reality never did and never can exist in Canada. The sentiment of Canada is against the importation of the time-dried shell. The man of action is admired in whatever walk of life he may be, and it cannot be said that anyone has been the receipient of this title has been raised in public estimation by such artificial honor. As a rule it would appear that in this country the people look upon a man who has accepted a title as on one who has been tempted and has yielded; they forgive him but do not forget that he has fallen. They honor much more those who have resisted. Then there are those who wish to be tempted and it seems that it is this desire to be tempted that is guiding to some extent the politics of British Columbia.

MINING NEWS.

It is again rumored that the Gooderham-Blackstock syndicate, is negotiating for the purchase of the Trail smelter.

The Trout Lake Topic declares that Lardeau's output of this year should reach $2,000,000. A large output certainly and easily likely to be realised quite so soon, judging by present appearances. But until railroad facilities and better general transport, and, perhaps, also the small local smelter successfully at work, an output of at least $1,000,000, or more than thrice that of 1901, would seem to be likely enough. And appearance suggest every possibility of the $1,000,000 of annual output doubling in 1903.

The sample mill of the Sunset smelter (formerly Standard smelter) at Boundary Falls, recently purchased by the Montreal and Boston Copper Company, is being dismantled, preparatory to putting in a larger plant, says the Phoenix Pioneer. A No. 5 Gates rock crusher and a Bridgeman sampler have been ordered and a larger engine than the one previously installed has been purchased, and, with the other new plant, will shortly be received at the works. Much of the sampling plant first put in will be used, but it will be supplemented by the heavier machinery. Nothing definite has yet been announced as to the company's intentions in regard to the furnace already built, but it is anticipated that whatever betterments are required in this department of the new smelter will shortly be taken in hand. Alterations and extensions of the buildings and the erection of additional ore bins are among the improvements that will be made. With so much to do to get the works in proper shape for continuous smelting on a sufficiently large scale to make it pay, it appears unlikely that the furnace will be blown in before next June.

The Ashcroft Journal of the 15th inst. says: Four or five prospectors returned from the Horsefly discoveries this week and report that they failed to find, after ten days' prospecting, any encouraging results. One of them plainly says that he did not find any gold. He was one of a party of three or four and he claims that they prospected all the creeks, sinking some 40 holes to bedrock, a depth of about three feet, and that the product in gold was nil. The snow, he says, was from two to two and a half feet deep, but they had no difficulty in clearing it off and sinking to bedrock. Others who reached the creeks about the same time, this prospector says are coming out by the lake and others down the river. The Journal nevertheless declares that it believes there is something in the much "boomed" discovery. Meanwhile really substantial corroborations is still wanting, and the most that can fairly be said is that the Clearwater and Horsefly districts will bear further prospecting by a fair number of men, who know their way about and can afford to risk loss of time and of a moderate amount of cash and energy should their searches prove unsuccessful as regards gold finding. It will, however, be worse than folly, as matters stand, to encourage an early rush of many hundreds to the spot.

WRITE MANY LETTERS.

Nelson Leads in Postage Revenue Per Head of Population.

The following figures illustrate the difference between British Columbia and other point of Canada, particularly those in the province of Quebec, as producers of revenue in the matter of postal service:

Province of Quebec—Gross postal revenue, $969,191.12; population, 1,650,000; revenue per capita, 59 cents.

Province of British Columbia—Gross postal revenue, $249,457.68; population, 177,300; revenue per capita, $1.40.

City of Quebec—Gross revenue, $41,403.78; population, 68,840; revenue per capita, 61 cents.

City of Hull—Gross revenue, $4,253.43; population, 13,993; revenue per capita, 30 cents.

City of Three Rivers—Gross revenue, $7,259.78; population, 9,981; revenue per capita, 73 cents.

City of St. Henri—Gross revenue, $4,031.70; poulation, 21,192, revenue per capita, 19 cents.

City of St. Hyacinthe—Gross revenue, $8,502.82; population, 9,210; revenue per capita, 92 cents.

City of Sorel—Gross revenue, $2,246.08; population, 7,057; revenue per capita, 32 cents.

City of Vancouver—Gross revenue, $52,289.75; population, 26,133; revenue per capita, $2.

City of Victoria—Gross revenue, $47,247.57; population, 20,816; revenue per capita, $2.26.

City of Nelson—Gross revenue, $13,692.03; populaion, 5,273; revenue per capita, $2.60.

City of Rossland—Gross renevue, $12,158 45; populaion, 6,159; revenue per capita, $1.98.

City of New Westminster—Gross revenue, $9,386.22; population, 6,499; revenue per capita, $1.45

It is visible at a glance that British Columbia is three times as valuable from the postal revenue of the Dominion as the province of Quebec. Yet we find that in the matter of expenditure, while it costs 90 cents in the city of Quebec to collect $1.00, in Vancouver it costs 38 cents, and in Victoria 54 cents.

MINE OWNERS' MEETING.

A meeting of the Mine Owners' association was held last evening at which routine business alone was transacted. Among those present were Frank Robbins, J. J. Campbell and Captain Gifford, of Nelson; Edmund B. Kirby, manager of the War Eagle and Centre Star, Rossland, Bernard Macdonald, manager of the Rossland Great Western, Le Roi No. 2 and Kootenay Mines, Rossland; S. F. Parrish, manager of the B. C. mine near Eholt, Boundary; G. W. Hughes, of the Sunset at Alamo, and A. C. Flummerfelt, of the Granby Consolidated, of Phoenix and Grand Forks.

FINAL CURLING MATCH.

An account of a curling match held on Wednesday by rinks composed of members of the Curling club, copied from the club minute book is rather interesting. The extracts reads as follows: "The games were skipped by Wallace and Carrie. Wallace winning by the score of 16 to 9. The game was a hot one right from the start, some sensational plays being made by Tamblyn and Carrie (although some said they were flukes, but some people don't know good playing when they see it). Wallace and Stocks could occasionally set a stone in the rings, and Bird would sometimes get one down by rolling it on edge. Beer would get the broom just where he wanted it but the stone did not seem to land just where he expected it to. Turner played a star game chasing Tamblyn and Carrie close for the honors although when he made an extra good shot he would say hat that was what he played for even when it was on the opposite side of the ice rink from the broom. Watchorn played a good independent game. He didn't believe in showing partiality to any particular part of the ice and when he did get the broom the stone generally landed somewhere. Dr. Armstrong played a very showy game. He would start his stones one after another without playing any attention to the skips and then he would step up on the boards and walk down to the other end smoking his cigar and would look mad if Tamblyn didn't sweep his stones into the rings."

Men's and boy's shirt waists and colored shirts, latest American styles, just received—The Wallace-Miller Co.

Regarding the proposal that the Fish and Game Protective Association should endeavor to get the government to pass a law prohibiting the selling of trout, a very pertinent suggestion was made by a gentleman interested in the matter yesterday. He said that it would in all probabilty be found impossible to get the legislature to take any such drastic step, but that if instead to have a license required to sell trout it could be arranged with out much difficulty. This would have much the same effect as the prohibitory law, if the license were made high enough, say $50 per year. If once the market for trout was removed the unlawful means of destroying trout would quickly cease.

NEW THEORY

Cause of Hay Fever

Hay fever is not so much a result of climatic conditioans as it is a showing of the "weak spot" in the general condition of the body. If a hay fever sufferer can be fed up to a prime condition of health by the use of well selected food the chances are the hay fever will not present itself.

As an illustration, a lady in Cave Spring, Ga., explains how the change of food affected her. "This past summer I found myself in a very low state of health and much emaciated. I got down to 95 pounds and was worried, especially as I had to look forward to my annual tussle with hay fever in September and felt it would push me even futher down.

One day a friend told me she had been using Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food and that she felt like a new person with greatly increased strength and vigor. I graspd at the straw and begun the use of Grape-Nuts. The effect was really magical. In a week I felt toned up and in a month began in earnest to gain flesh and strength. By September my weight had increased to 110 pounds and much to my amazement I discovered that when the hay fever sufferers began to complain I had not one symptom and escaped it altogether. Inasmuch as I had suffered for years from this miserable disease and had made no change except in my food, I naturally concluded that my improved condition was caused by the daily use of Grape-Nuts and by observing the usual laws of health." Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness and yet the human hair in equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without dandruff no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Scouring the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide.
