SILVER GLANCE A BONANZA

SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS IN A FEW FEET.

OWNERS NOT A BIT ANXIOUS TO SELL.

Reports received from the Silver Glance indicate that the owners have in this property struck a bonanza. It is located on the north side of Bear lake, on the K. & S. line, and is in a good position for economical working. Four cars of ore were shipped on Monday last to the smelter at Everett, Dr. Rogers accompanying the shipment. If the ore is up to the standard of the last shipment the returns will be in the neighborhood of $15,000. As yet all the ore taken from the property has been obtained in the sinking of a shaft, which is only in 42 feet as yet. It has taken four men only 30 days to get out this last shipment, and there is now over nine cars of ore in sight. A lower tunnel is being run to connect with the shaft, and an ore house has been built. As soon as possible a couple of cars will be put to work in the tunnel, and it is the intention of the owners to continue work all winter.

The news of the success that is being made at the Silver Glance has caused some excitement among the miners of the district, and there has been quite a scramble for fractions and claims in the vicinity. The surveying of the group is to be commenced today, the surveyors having arrived on the property yesterday. It is reported that a number of good offers have been received for the property as it stands, but it is the intention of the owners to carry through the development themselves.

SPYING OUT THE LAND.

C. P. R. Commissioners Look Over the New Railway Route.

Winnipeg, Oct. 10.—Land commissioner Griffin, of the C. P. R., and Mr. L. A. Hamilton have just completed a long journey in the northwest, which included a drive of over 600 miles. The trip was undertaken for the purpose of inspecting the regions which will be tapped by the C. P. R. extension now under construction from Kirkella on the main line, and from Yorkton, the present terminus of the northwestern road. They started from Wolsley and drove in a northwesterly direction, passing through the well settled and highly cultivated district north of Wolsley and into the Loon creek district, and thence proceeding to Saskatoon on the South Saskatchewan, folowing the old Humboldt trail for a considerable part of the distance. After examining some lands owned by the company east of Saskatoon, Mr. Griffin and Mr. Hamilton drove northeast into the Carrot river country and then turned southeasterly, passing lake eLnore en route, striking the railway at Yorkton. The extent of country traversed was very large, but throughout its length and breadth no land was found that is not suitable for either mixed farming or ranching. The branch line from Kirella, of which 100 miles will be built this year, will pass through some fine districts already settled.

VACANCIES FOR OLD MEN.

Two Lieutenant-Governors Drop Out in a Few Months.

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—The lieutenant-governorship of Quebec will be vacant on February 2nd next. Sir Louis Jette's term expires on that date. It may be offered to sir Alphonse Peletier, of Quebec. The latter has been in parliament since 1869, and served eight years in the commons, and since 1877 in the upper chamber. He is a leader in the legal profession in Quebec. He has had an honorable career in law, militia and politics. He was minister of agriculture in the last year of the Mackenzie administration, and speaker of the senate in last parliament.

Sir Richard Cartwright's purchase of a residence in the capital is taken as certain evidence that he has no intention of retiring to the lieutenant-governorship at Toronto, which could be his in November if he wisned.

The minister of trade and commerce will evidently remain in federal politics just as long as his health permits.

SEVERAL BYE-ELECTIONS.

Writs Will Be Issued Shortly After Premier Laurier's Return.

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—Apropos of the probable meeting of parliament early in January, it is said that as soon as possible after the premier returns, writs will be issued for the four bye-elections in North Grey, Argenteuil, St. James division of Montreal and Two Mountains. Indeed, if rumor be true, there may be a couple more, as Flint, of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, is slated to succeed sir John Bourinot, upon the latter's superannuation as clerk of the house of commons, and W. C. Edwards, M.P., for a senate vacancy, caused by the death of Clemow. In anticipation of his call to the upper house, it is said Edwards has concluded arrangements for the purchase of a residence in Ottawa.

THEY DON'T LIKE TAYLOR.

Irish Landlords Resent His Efforts to Settle the Trouble.

Dublin, Oct. 10.—The land owners' convention is in session here today, and by a vote of 77 to 14, refused to adopt a resolution proposed by the earl of Mayo in favor of a conference between land owners and tenants for the purpose of discussing proposals to transfer the ownership of lands to the tenants. The duke of Abercorn presided at the convention. Considerable feeling was displayed against captain Shaw Taylor who proposed a conference between landlords and tenants.

Thomas Wallace Russell, Liberal-Unionist member of the house of commons for the south division of Tyrone, has begun another land campaign at Saintfield and Belfast. He suggests a new basis of land purchase under which the state should give a bonus for the benefit of the landlords.

MINING IN THE YMIR CAMP

UNION JACK'S PLANT IS BEING RUSHED AHEAD.

SECOND RELIEF STAMP MILL IS NOW CRUSHING.

Ymir, Oct. 10.—(Special to The Daily News.)—Work on the government's wagon road up Porcupine creek, is progressing rapidly, the upper end being in the neighborhood of the Union Jack mine. As soon as the road becomes available for traffic the machinery and building material for the Union Jack electric plant will be hauled up. A force of men are now at work on the flume, and on the construction of the dam and power house. The water power is obtained from the south fork of Porcupine creek, and is to be carried by the flume over a distance of about 2,250 feet with a fall of about 250 feet. A three-foot Pelton wheel will be installed to run the electric generator. The power will be transmitted from the generator, a distance of about 3,500 feet to the mine, where the Durkee electric drills will be in use. In addition to running the drills, sufficient power will be generated to furnish light for the mine and buildings.

The stamp mill and cyanide plant at the Second Relief mine are now running, although not up to their full capacity. About 25 men are employed on the property.

The Porto Rico Lumber company has finished the construction of two dams across the Salmon river. By this means the water is periodically raised about five feet, enabling the logs to float down to the sawmill.

Rev. H. Young, Presbyterian minister, yesterday joined in matrimony William Turner, son of W. J. Turner, until lately foreman of the Ymir mine, and Miss Mabel McLeod, eldest daughter of postmaster John McLeod, the pioneer merchant of the town.

MILITIA MEN INSPECTED.

Colonel Holmes Expresses Himself as Highly Pleased With Them.

The annual inspection of the Nelson company of the Rocky Mountain Rangers was made yesterday afternoon by lieutenant-colonel Holmes, D.O.C. The company turned out 35 strong, including one officer and six non-coms. After the general salute had been given the company were marched past the saluting point in line, and also as in quarter column, both in quick and double time. After this, a number of the movements in company drill were executed in good style, concluding with an advance on a supposed enemy, represented in this instance by a special target. The advance was commenced at 800 yards distance, each man being provided with 40 rounds of ball cartridge, and the maxim section having the maxim gun along. Out of about 1,000 shots fired, close on 700 found the target, showing very good marksmanship on the part of the men, as in a hurried advance over rough ground as in this case, it needs a steady eye and hand to reach the target.

Colonel Holmes expressed himself as well pleased with the company, making special mention of the shooting, which he regarded as admirable.

TO SHOOT DUCKS.

Poplar Point, Manitoba, Oct. 10.—His excellency the governor-general arrived this morning in his private car, Victoria, accompanied by his aide-de-camp, captain Hughes, and the honorable J. H. Kirchoffer. The party left for the lake at 11, where they spend the balance of the week duck shooting, the guests of senator Kirchoffer, at York lodge.

IT IS NO BLUFF.

London, Oct. 10.—In a public speech at Whitehaven tonight, Mr. Brodrick, secretary for war, reiterated colonial secretary Chamberlain's declaration at Birmingham last night, that the government's education bill would not be withdrawn, and said the rejection of this bill would mean the defeat of the government.

BRAKESMAN McLEAN KILLED.

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—Kingsbury McLean, Canadian Pacific railway brakeman, received fatal injuries at Montcecello yesterday, and died while on the way to Ottawa. He is supposed to have been struck by the spout of a water tank while entering the cupola of a caboose. He was 21 years old.

GERMAN LEGATION AT HAVANA.

Berlin, Oct. 10.—The cabinet has decided to establish a German legation at Havana, and the foreign office has inserted an appropriation for that purpose in the next budget. The reasons for taking this step appear to be largely commercial.

GLASS BLOWERS ON STRIKE.

Pittsburg, Oct. 10.—Vice-president T. W. Rowe, of the American Flint Glass Workers, announced today that a general strike had taken place in the chimney combine, and that the five plants of the MacBeth-Evans company, located at Marion, Elmwood, Toledo, Charleroy and in this city are now idle. The strike was caused by the company refusing to comply with the skimmers' rules. One thousand men are affected.

Governor Odell's Plain Talk

He Jars Up the Man Who is a Coal Master, as He Says, by Divine Right

New York, Oct. 10.—"What do you mean by politicians? I want you, and all the other operators to understand that I am the governor of New York, the chosen representative of seven million people, and that I am here in this matter solely in that capacity, and to relieve if possible an intolerable situation. What is more, I intend to use every power at my command to do it."

Governor Odell made this statement today to president Baer, of the Reading road, in the presence of United States senators Platt of New York, and Quay and Penrose of Pennsylvania. It was the culmination of a rather heated interview in the office of senator Platt, and the result of the first meeting between governor Odell and president Baer. Mr. Baer was accompanied by E. B. Thomas, chairman of the board of directors of the Erie railroad.

The conference was opened by senator Penrose, who said the situation was becoming serious and that some solution must be found at once. He suggested that the operators should incline to some concessions.

"If you mean by that," said president Baer, "that we are to recognize the dictation of a labor union, I tell you right now that the operators will consider no such proposition."

Governor Odell was on his feet in an instant, while with excitement he said. "Are we to understand that no kind of conciliatory proposition will receive consideration at the hands of the operators?"

"I did not say that," answered Mr. Baer, "but I do say, and I reiterate it, that we will not accept political advice, or allow the interference of politicians in this, our affair."

Then it was that governor Odell made the statement quoted above. President Baer bowed to the governor, and said: "Governor, I beg your pardon; no personal offence was intended, and we will listen to any suggestions you have to make, but again I repeat that we must refuse to recognize the union as represented by Mr. Mitchell."

"I believe,' said the governor, "that your position from a public view is absolutely untenable. The operators, railroad men and business men can combine for mutual profit, and protection; there is no reason why laboring men should not."

"What is the proposition?" said Mr. Baer, coldly.

"Just this," said governor Odell. "I am sure that the labor organization of which Mr. Mitchell is head desires him to be fair with the general public. If the operators will consent to give the men five cents a ton increase, I will personally present it to the miners, and I believe they will accept it. It is a fair proposition."

"Does this mean, governor Odell, that we are to recognize the miners' union?" Mr. Baer asked.

"It certainly does," answered the governor, quickly, "and there is no reason why you should not."

Mr. Baer and Mr. Thomas rose to go. Mr. Thomas remarked that the matter would be presented to the other operators, and that an early answer would be forthcoming. Mr. Baer said: "We are to meet a committee of the manufacturers association on Tuesday, and we may have an answer then."

The conference broke up and Mr. Baer and Mr. Thomas withdrew. Senators Platt, Penrose and Quay talked over the matter a short time, and then they too departed, the Pennsylvanians announcing that they would go back to Harrisburg and discuss the situation with governor Stone.

Governor Odell was not in a talking mood. When he left the conference he went directly to the Fifth Avenue hotel, and during most of the afternoon received callers, mayor Low, Anson G. McCook, Edward Lauterbach, congressmen Lessner and Littauer and senator Platt were among his callers. To one of these the governor said: "The coal operators may postpone this matter until Tuesday but I don't propose to postpone it. They are not acting fairly towards the people. I believe I shall find some remedy."

About 5 o'clock John Mitchell, accompanied by L. N. Hammerling, of Wilkesbarre, called, and had a long conference. While this was going on a message, announcing that the operators had refused to consider the terms offered by the governor was received. When the conference was over governor Odell refused to say what had occurred. And Mr. Mitchell was equally non-committal. It is believed, however, that governor Odell presented his proposition for settlement to the leader of the miners' union, and that Mr. Mitchell said he would present it to the district presidents in the hope that it would be accepted. Governor Odell said: "Mr. Mitchell was eminently fair, and showed every disposition to adjust the serious situation."

Wilkesbarre, Oct. 10—Disappointment followed the news received from New York today that the conference there for the purpose of settling the miners' strike had failed to reach an agreement. It is feared in business circles that the strike will continue for some weeks yet. The strike leaders will make every effort to hold their men in line, trusting to cold weather to bring the operators to terms.

The officers of the Third Brigade, with headquarters in this city, said today that the order of governor Stone ,to place all persons arrested for rioting under a military guard, will be strictly enforced. A stockade is being erected at West Side park, where the 9th regiment is in camp, and prisoners will be confined there.

The operators will make another determined effort to start up additional collieries next Monday ,and in case the militia cannot furnish the necessary protection for the men, and their families, a number of local operators will petition the governor as to the advisability of calling on the president for federal troops."

Washington, Oct. 10.—Close advisers of the president, who have conferred with him over the coal situation, say that in their opinion there is no further action the administration could take on its own initiative to bring the strike to an end. They say the administration is ready to do whatever is possible, but that it has taken all the action that is practicable. They scout the idea of a resort to the anti-trust law, and say no such step is contemplated, as action cannot be had under that measure against the interest involved in the strike. In official circles here it is suggested that the postponement of the conferences that have been in progress in New York today mean that Mr. Mitchell, and the district labor presidents who were with him, are going back to Pennsylvania to sound the miners on some proposition made during todays' meeting. This, it is pointed out, is a natural influence, though made without an inside knowledge of today's proceedings.

The executive council of the American Federation of Labor, which is in annual session here, is giving some time to a discussion of the coal situation, though most of the sessions are devoted to regular federation matters. It was expected that the council today would adopt an address appealing to the public for assistance for the striking miners, but no action was taken. President Gompers announced tonight that the council may issue its appeal tomorrow. He is in occasional communication with Mr. Mitchell, but declines to discuss the situation.

Shenandoah, Oct. 10.—A warrant was sworn out today for the arrest of private Wadsworth, for the killing of W. Durham, yesterday, but colonel Hulings, of the 18th regiment, refused to allow the constable to serve it. Deputy coroner Lee was also refused permission to serve subpoenas on the soldiers who were wanted to testify at the inquest. The coroner has referred the matter to the district attorney. Colonel Hulings says Wadsworth was justified in shooting when Durham refused to halt, when challenged for the second time, and that he acted under orders from state headquarters.

ANOTHER VICTIM DEAD.

Winnipeg, Oct. 10.—An Altoona dispatch says one of the gorls shot by schoolteacher Toews has since died. The murderer is himself alive, but de and the two Kelper children and trustee Rempel cannot possibly live according to reports of the doctors in attendance. Toews was brought into the Winnipeg general hospital for treatment today.

COKE MAKERS FIGHT.

Sydney, Nova Scotia, Oct. 10.—G. B. Scott, colored, is dead, and Jim Brooks, also colored, is probably fatally wounded, as the result of a row between them at the coke ovens last night, in which revolvers were drawn and shots fired. Scott received two bullet wounds in the breast and mouth, and died 15 minutes later. Brooke received a wound in the breast, which may cause his death.

CONVICT SURRENDERED.

Washington, Oct. 10.—The secretary of state has issued a warrant for the surrender to the Canadian authorities of Robert Thompson, held under arrest at Lincoln, Nebraska, as a fugitive from justice. He was convicted of burglary in Sarnia, Ontario, and sentenced to 10 years imprisonment, but escaped from jail last July.

FATALITIES NEAR HALIFAX.

Halifax, Oct. 10.—Two fatal accidents occurred in Cape Breton yesterday. Alex. Matheson, 23 years old, was struck by a fall of coal in the Caledonia coal pit and killed. He had only been married a few months.

O. Anderson, a Swedish sailor on the schooner Ida was instantly killed at Port Morien, by a chute falling on him.

FRUIT GROWERS ORGANIZE

ARRANGE FOR HOLDING FALL SHOWS IN NELSON.

RESULT OF TWO MEETINGS HELD IN THE OPERA HOUSE

The fruit growers of Nelson and vicinity have decided to form themselves into an association. This decision was arrived at yesterday afternoon at a meeting held in the opera house. The meeting was about evenly divided between men who spend money ranching and fruit growing, and men who make money at it. Taken altogether the meeting was a very much mixed up affair in which electricians, school teachers, real estate agents and government officials sought to break into the ranks of the rubens.

Among those present were James Tarry, who owns the big ranch on the C. & K. branch, about 18 miles from Nelson, and Jim Hughes, N. Hoover, D. A. McDonald, A. B. Shannon and Buggins, who have put in some pretty hard licks on their ranches along Kootenay lake. Then there were the newly fledged fruit raisers such as Onslow Newling who purchased the Collins property after it had been put in pretty good shape, J. E. Annable and A. D. Emory the summer residence ranchers from Powder Point, James McPhee, whose fruit crop has not yet exceeded in point of quantity the appetites of the birds; A. R. Sherwood, who confines his operations chiefly to raising hen-fruit, and J. A. Kelly, the Bogustown agent of nursery stock.

When the meeting was organized James Tarry was appointed chairman, and A. D. Emory secretary. A resolution was then offered and accepted to the effect that Messrs. Shannon, Rutherford, Newling, Tarry and Emory be a committee to take the necessary steps for the forming of a fruit growers' association. Another resolution was offered by Onslow Newling to the effect that the meeting would be pleased to see a Nelson exhibition of the products of the district every year, and reciting that the project would receive every assistance in their power.

The meeting then adjourned till the call of the committee. In the evening a meeting was held for the purpose of talking over the proposition of holding a show in Nelson. There were about 25 present. E. C. Traves was appointed chairman and J. E. Annable secretary.

After considerable discussion on the matter it was decided to organize a fair o the called the Nelson Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition. That the officers consist of a president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and twelve directors; and the secretary was authorized to call a meeting in the board of trade rooms on Friday, Oct. 17th of all interested in making the exhibition a success, for the election of officers and directors.

WHAT HORSES COST.

Canadian Breeders Got Good Prices For Their Mounts.

Toronto, Oct. 10.—The Evening Telegram's London cable says: The report of the commission of inquiry into the remount charges contained in the blue book issued yesterday says the total number of horses purchased in Canada for use in the army in South Africa was 12,068, contract price being, cobs, $125; cavalry, $140; artillery, $150; prices included delivery at Montreal.

The facilities for moving the horses were good, but the trucks used to transport them are capable of improvement, as, owing to their faulty construction, many animals suffered injury. At the railroad company's yards, at Montreal, horses were fed at contract price, forty cents per day, but colonel Dent says he found they were not as well cared for as they might have been.

SUNDAY OBSERVANCE PEOPLE.

They Have an Interview With General Manager McNicoll.

Montreal, Oct. 10.—Representatives of the Lord's Day Alliance, Trades and Labor Council and Christian churches, waited on general manager McNicoll, of the Canadian Pacific railroad today, and asked that the railway management do all in its power to avoid traffic on Sunday, and that only work absolutely necessary, and trains urgently required, be operated on Sunday. In reply Mr. McNicoll said he personally believed in Sunday observance, and that the policy of the road was to do as little as possible on Sunday, as labor utilized on that day cost all the way from fifty to one hundred per cent. more.

BOUNDARY ORE SHIPMENTS.

The Output is Creeping Up to the Old Figures.

Phoenix, Oct. 10.—(Special to The Daily News.)—This week the Boundary ore shipments reached a higher figure than for any similar period since last June, before the trouble at the Fernie coal mines which resulted in the closing down of the Boundary smelters, and this is notwithstanding the fact that the Granby smelter has been operating but one furnace several days owing to the low stage of water in the north fork of Kettle river, from which the power is derived. A second furnace will be blown in tomorrow again. In detail the shipments were as follows:

Granby mines, 4,542 tons; Mother Lode, 4,544; Snowshoe, 780; Sunset, 560; B. C. mine, 750; Emma, 510. Total for the week, 11,686 tons; total for the year to date, 359,495 tons.

The Granby smelter this week treated 3,363 tons, making a total for the year of 225,172 tons.

COMMANDER HELD THE FORT

ARMY VETERAN WOULD NOT BE TURNED DOWN.

SERIOUS SPLIT IN RANKS OF UNION VETERANS.

Washington, Oct. 10.—The encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, for 1902, came to a close today, although a few social gatherings may assemble tomorrow. San Francisco was chosen as the next place of meeting, and the election of officers, begun yesterday, was completed.

Resolutions were adopted by the encampment having in view the liberal treatment of veterans in the matter of public office and pensions. The kindred bodies to the parent organization also brought their several conventions to a close, the Sons of Veterans, Women's Relief Corps and other bodies choosing officers for the ensuing year.

The union veterans made a decidedly lively day, and the result was a split in the organization. The first row was over a question of eligibility to membership. A resolution was adopted that let down the bars too much to suit some of the state delegations, with a large membership in the order. This caused ill feeling. Later the friction in the union developed rapidly, owing to a committee of the order which had been investigating the character and conduct of commander-in-chief Dyrenforth, adopting a report recommending the suspension of the commander-in-chief. General Dyrenforth was presiding over the convention when the committee endeavored to report. He refused to recognize it, or to surrender his office to the next ranking officer of the order. Turbulent scenes followed, until finally a large number of the organization withdrew, but those remaining re-electing him, the seceders took steps to form a new union. The weather today was fine, thus giving the veterans a glorious October days throughout the encampment.

SETTLING UP THE NORTH.

Land Has a Rising Value All Around Edmonton.

James Robinson, president of the Dominion Commercial Travellers' Association, has returned from the Northwest Territories, where he spent most of the time in and around Edmonton. He says that the new lands of the dominion are being advertised as they never were before; that American land companies' land agents and individual farmers are coming into the country in swarms, and after taking up or purchasing large or small tracts of land, they return to their respective states and boom the Canadian northwest. Canadian Pacific land is being sold north of Beaver lake, some 30 miles northeast of Edmonton, at $3.50 an acre, while from $5 to $25 is being asked, as it gets nearer to the Saskatchewan capital. The best part of the land for 30 miles northeast of Edmonton is practically all taken up.

Mr. Robinson found the Russians and Galicians exceedingly well satisfied, and not at all inclined to return to their native land. He visited several of their houses and found them clean and well kept.

There is naturally a great deal of interest taken in that district over the coming of the Canadian Northern railway, as the engineers are in the field, and the people are engaged in speculating as to whether Mackenzie & Mann's road will go to the north or south of Beaver lake. Llutenant-colonel Sam Hughes, M.P., who was there, declares it would go to the north of the lake.

Mr. Robinson says that the town of Edmonton is now booming, one firm doing business to the extent of $300,000 yearly, and carrying stock worth $100,000. Real estate is rising in value, and a corner lot, 100 feet front, sold the other day for $10,000. One firm purchased no less than 280,000 acres of half-breed script not long ago, and the demand for land has been so extensive since that only 40,000 acres remain.

VELVET ORE IS RICH.

A cablegram received in London from the manager of the Velvet mine states that "300 tons have been shipped, yielding $6,750 net."

MAY USE B. C. ANTHRACITE

MONTREAL IS CONSIDERING IT AS NEW SUPPLY.

BELIEVED IT COULD BE LAID DOWN AT $10 PER TON.

The Grand Trunk management, as the largest consumers of coal in Canada, deplore the failure of the conference, and regret that they see no solution of the problem on any other lines than the president has suggested. In saying this they are less concerned for their own coal supply than they are for the public interest.

Business men all along St. James street gave expression to their disappointment in no measured terms, sharply condemning the selfishness apparent on both sides—the callous disregard of the sufferings which are likely to be inflicted on nearly ninety millions of people.

The feeling is very strong at the moment that some active measures ought to be taken speedily to render Canada independent of the United States for her coal supply; and the suggestion is freely made that the possibilities of British Columbia in this direction ought to be ascertained.

It is contended that anthracite of good quality can be obtained there, and that it can be hauled down at such cost as would avert a famine.

The greatest obstacle standing in the way of this is the scarcity of railway cars. The Canadian Pacific rolling stock equipment is not, it is to be feared, large enough to cope with an unexpected emergency such as this.

It might be supposed that they could borrow the necessary stock from the Pennsylvania companies for such a purpose, but a railway official said today that he doubted if this would be possible. The companies that serve the Pennsylvania coal fields are now using all their free boal cars for the transportation of soft coal.

It is said that the hard coal from British Columbia can be brought down to Montreal at three-sevenths of a cent per ton per mile. This would represent $8 a ton for haulage. Another two dollars would have to be added to represent the price at the pit's mouth and the profits of the retailer. There is thus the bare possibility of putting it on the market at $10 per ton.

It is not a hopeful prospect, but it is being talked about just now, when any straw is being seized.—Montreal Herald.

MINING AROUND KASLO.

Owners of Properties Have Considerable Work in Hand.

Kaslo, Oct. 10.—Lumber for the schools to be erected at Pilot Bay and Creston was shipped from here today, and work is to be started on the buildings immediately.

Two new business firms have been started this week, both occupying premises on the front street. Archer & Hodder, general hardware merchants, is one, and McCallum & Dill, grocers, the other.

A force of men leave here on Monday next for the Gillis group at the mouth of Hall creek on the Duncan river. The development already done on this property consists of a tunnel in 100 feet. The ore is a black sulphate carrying good values in gold and silver, and it is the intention of the owners to push work during the winter.

C. N. Bernard has a small force of men at work on the Irene group situated a short distance from the Gillis property. A tunnel has been driven for over a hundred feet on a small lead, and some very rich galena is being taken out.

Surveyors are at work on the Leviathian group, across the lake from Kaslo, and as soon as they have completed their survey of the property application for crown grant will be made. An excellent strike on a parallel lead to the Leviathian was made this week by Frank Marquis and James Spier, a good sized lead of gold and copper ore, the values of which average $16.80 in the former metal. Three claims were staked on the lead covering all available ground.

A number of the leading business men of the city state that the smelter project is anything but dead, and that arrangemens are still pending regarding it.

W. English this week made a shipment of ore from the Copper Star. The new engine for the Rambler-Cariboo, which has been delayed for some time on the road, arrived in Kaslo yesterday from Nelson, and will be sent up the hill to the mine today. As soon as this has been installed the working force at the mine will be increased.

MUST RELY ON LOW GRADE ORE.

Dr. Morley Wickett Says Klondike Will Hold Out.

Dr. S. Morley Wickett, who was a special trade representative of the Canadian Manufacturers' association in the Yukon, has contributed a lenghty and most valuable report to the association.

Dr. Wickett estimates the production of the present year at $12,000,000, thus bringing the total output to eighty millions.

Upon the question of the possible shrinkage in the supply of gold, he says that though the output may fluctuate, the camp will remain an important one for many years—how many no one can say.

The camp is too important and too promising for Canadians to neglect. The cost of mining in the Yukon has fallen fully fifty per cent. since 1899; next year it will be lower still. He adds, however, that a warning should be thrown out. Since geological investigations made up to the present, and the history of other placer camps do not warrant us in anticipating another Eldorado, rich gravels may, and doubtless will, be found, but local opinion seems settling down to the belief that the rest of the country is made up largely of lower grade gravel, which, generally speaking, can be successfully washed only in a large way, and after considerable investment of capital.

A POPULAR TARIFF LAW.

The Victoria Colonist asks, "What on earth have the ideas of the Manufacturers' Association to do with the policy of the conservative party?" Time was when they comprised the beginning and the end of that party's policy, and judging from the utterances of such representative organs as the Toronto Mail and Empire, and the Montreal Gazette the wish of the Manufacturers' Association is still very much a law unto the conservative party leaders. The liberal tariff law of 1897 put the manufacturers where they belong, on the same footing with the rest of the people of Canada. So emphatic was the notice given the manufacturers that their control of the country's fiscal policy was at an end that sir Charles Tupper, on the floor of the house, with tears in his eyes, deplored the ruin that stared the great industries of Canada in the face. Happily his prediction in this case, as in so many others, proved false. Whilst control of the tariff was taken out of the hands of the manufacturers, the liberal government were at pains to avoid such changes as would dislocate trade. Their object was to remove hindrances to the expansion of Canadian industries, and how successfully their object has been obtained is shown in the thoroughly healthy and vigorous condition of our manufacturing concerns.

The line adopted by the liberal government in framing this tariff law was in accord with the policy laid down by sir Wilfrid Laurier in the campaign of 1896, when he spoke as leader of the opposition, and asked the support of the country for putting into effect of that policy. What sir Wilfrid then said is worth reproducing now in view of the attempts being made to fasten the liberal party to promises that were never made. Laurier said:

Whether a policy of absolute freedom of trade would or would not be injurious to the manufacturing industries of this country is a question I will not stop to discuss here. There is no occasion for such a discussion, as the intention of the liberal party is not and never was to establish free trade in this country. The question was discussed at Ottawa, but, after anxious consideration, while fully recognizing the superiority of the British system of freedom of trade as an abstract principle, the convention came to the conclusion that, under the existing conditions of our country, the fiscal policy best adapted to its requirements, its economic situation, its enormous financial obligations, is a revenue tariff; that is to say ,a tariff levying our revenue from customs duties, the basis of which would be the amount necessary to carry on the business of the country.

I submit also that, apart from the community as a whole, the manufacturers have not only not to suffer but much to gain from the substitution of a revenue tariff for the present system. A revenue tariff, being based upon the fixed charges of the country, and not, therefore, subject to fluctuations and alterations made to suit and please now one interest and now another, would establish those conditions of stability and permanency which experience has shown, are essential to the security and prosperity of manufacturing interests. Moreover, I think I can confidently appeal to the experience of the business community that, with the exception of monopolies and combines, all manufacturing interests would welcome a change of policy on the lines which I have indicated above.

I entirely concur with you in the hope and belief "that the advent of "the liberal party to power would "place political parties in Canada "in the same position as political "parties in England, who have no "tariff issue distracting the coun-"try every election."

The moment a tariff has been framed and enacted which would not be subject to variations, under which manufacturers would know that their invested capital would operate regularly, according to the conditions calculated upon by them; under which their conditions in regard to foreign competition would not be arbitrarily jeopardized; under which the burdens of taxation would be reduced to the lowest degree compatible with the exigencies of the revenue; there is reason to hope that such a system would ingratiate itself in the confidence of the people, and that therein the manufacturing class would find the security which it needs, and the consuming classes that relief which they must have.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The New Year celebration in the Flowery Kingdom possesses a great attraction to the Chinese and hundreds of those who have favored Canada, according to the opinion of some of the eastern Canadian press, with their unsolicited presence, are hastening homeward in order to take part in the blessing of the great event. Now if the imperial government could only persuade the emperor to order a repetition of the celebration every month for the next year or two, we might get rid of every chink in the province. Failing that it would pay the government to charter a few large vessels and give the celestials free transportation to the Flowery Kingdom and thus give every one of the almond eyed residents a chance to take a trip to see his friends and to end his days among them. Perhaps Mr. Dunsmuir would place some of his steamers at the service of the poor yellow fellows.

The workmen of Great Britain do not like millionaire Carnegie, and they have shown their consistency by refusing to accept the offers he has made to give goodly sums for the building of public libraries. So strong is the feeling against him that his name is frequently hissed at when mentioned in public. The Homestead affair is not forgotten, they will have none of the blood money he offers, and they are not inclined to assist in bolstering up his spurious reputation for generosity. For spurious it is when it is remembered that he is not giving away one cent of his millions of capital, but only part of the interest his fortune is earning without any effort on his part. They have weighed him in the balance and found him wanting.

GAME WORTH SEEING.

AMERICA'S YOUNGEST CHIEF

AN ENGLISH APPRECIATION OF THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

AN IDEAL CHIEF OF DEMOCRACY, SAYS PUBLIC OPINION.

The United States of America are like Great Britain in one respect, if unlike in many others. They generally manage to throw up the right man when the crisis demands. As the colonies in revolt brought forth Washington, so the civil war brought forth Lincoln, and the murder of McKinley ,at a moment when the vital fortunes of America were in a state of transition, brought forth Roosevelt. Unimaginative must be the student of the world's affairs who was not impressed with the clockwork ease with which one president was struck down and another stepped into the place left vacant. Like the good soldier he is, Theodore Roosevelt was prepared to take the command the instant his chief fell. He was no mere understudy, as some called him, ready to go through a performance, every move in which was laid down for his guidance, but the man of initiative, able to interpret a part for himself on lines which patriotism and integrity would suggest were the right ones. His loyal proclamation that he would elect to follow in the footsteps of the late and much-mourned president was entirely compatible with the adoption of his own means to the same end.

American's youngest chief, a man at once of the backwoods, the ranch, and the desk, president Roosevelt bids fair to pass into history as the embodiment of all that is best and worthiest in American ambition. He seeks to give effect to the aspirations of the people, flouts the pretensions of bossism, and sets an example of work and duty which every officer in the services, civil, military or naval, fails to emulate at his own cost. With tastes as varied as those of the kaiser, he strikes one as a blend of William II., lord Kitchener and Mr. Chamberlain. He is like the German emperor in his tendency to dramatic speech, in his desire to create a navy which shall be second only to Great Britain's, in his reputation as a firebrand who has never yet set anything in a blaze, and in his sympathy with the work of the social reformer. He is like lord Kitchener in unconventional resourcefulness in actual fighting; he did quite enough as colonel of the Rough Riders to show that as a man of action he is as dashing and thorough as he is determined in other directions. He is like Mr. Chamberlain as a municipal reformer and as a believer in the new diplomacy. In a country which governs, or is supposed to govern, itself, the people must be informed of the facts if their support is to be wholehearted, and if the new diplomacy involves the laying of some cards upon the table, it may be unfortunate for the diplomat, but cannot be helped. As governor of New York, he made, says the writer of the most important biography of him yet published, "an extraordinary close approach to coming to an understanding with the people. They had the immense advantage of knowing all the time exactly what he wanted; he made no reservations; he was glad to get the whole truth, let it help or hurt whom it might. That is his political policy." It has certainly been his policy as president."

If one wishes most effectively to illustrate the essential greatness of a man like Theodore Roosevelt one need perhaps only mention him in the same breath with, say, general Boulanger. No prancing black charger is necessary to place him at the head of the people. The adventitious enthusiasm roused by equestrian pretension would pale before the patriotic storm which it is not difficult to believe president Roosevelt would create in the United States if he ever deemed it his duty to throw the gauntlet at the feet of a great power. Happily, he is no charlatan, his determination to stand by the Monroe doctrine notwithstanding. Theodore Roosevelt has, in his quarter of a century of public service—and he will be only 44 years of age next month—never held an office which he did not elevate and improve. Whether as chief of police, as secretary to the navy, as governor of New York, as colonel of irregular cavalry, as vice-president or as president, he has delivered frontal attacks on all enemies of the commonweal, came they in the guise of incompetence, corruption, monopoly or Spanish soldier. Theodore Roosevelt must often have been a terrible trial to ordinary human nature, because, as Mr. Halstead puts it, he has made no personal mistakes, and has always bettered his opportunities to serve his country. He does not seek to make America a standing camp, nor does he aim at a gigantic navy, but he does aim at efficiency in those who serve in either the army or the navy. He studied naval history at college so thoroughly that he was able to write a good book on the war of 1812 before he had passed into manhood, and today his belief is that the most effective and the cheapest peace assurance is an adequate and highly-trained navy—what that means some American naval officers have learned to their discomfort. "The cost of building and maintaining such a navy represents the very lightest premium which this nation can possibly pay." In social and industrial statesmanship he shines not less than in the larger sphere which is concerned with international relations. Few men in his position would have dared tell the trusts that their monopoly threatens to become a danger which renders "sovereign control" necessary. Great though the interests involved in the trusts may be, there is a trust which president Roosevelt would assuredly put before them all—the national trust, of which, at the moment, he is the Morgan. He is no bigot on the question of the tariff. He upholds protection, naturally, because protection has made the United States the powerful industrial concern they are today; but he favors a policy of give and take. "Reciprocity must be treated as the handmaiden of protection" is a phrase to be remembered. As a social worker, Theodore Roosevelt has not been wanting. All his social sermons do not appeal to us. We are never much impressed by an exhortation to contentment delivered by the well-offs to the have-nots. Envy may, as the president once said, imply a sense of inferiority, but is may also imply a sense of justice. It is a weakness of which the more fortunate in wordly goods should not be guilty! Unconsciously, perhaps, president Roosevelt is a disciple of Walt Whitman. Comradeship is the way to success in philanthropic endeavor. "The worker," he wrote in an article in the Fortnightly Review last year, an article which affords an idea of his literary gifts, "must possess not only resolution, firmness of purpose, broad charity, and great-hearted sympathy, but he must also possess common-sense sanity, and a wholesome aversion alike to the merely sentimental and the merely spectacular. The soup-kitchen style of philanthropy is worse than useless, for in philanthropy, as everywhere else in life, almost as much harm is done by soft-headedness as by hard-heartedness. The highest type of philanthropy is that which springs from the feeling of brotherhood, and which, therefore, rests on the self-respecting, healthy basis of mutual obligation and common effort. The best way to raise anyone is to join with him in an effort whereby both you and he are raised by each helping the other." The Rough Rider who holds and seeks to give effect to such views surely comes near to being an ideal chief of democracy.

NELSON'S NEWS OF THE DAY

The members of the finance committee met last evening. The consideration of the monthly accounts was the chief business.

The sitting of the county court, which was scheduled for Monday, has been postponed until Monday, November 17th.

The Rossland supreme court sitting, which was announced for Wednesday, has been adjourned for a week. The list of cases in Rossland is very light.

F. S. Clements, the surveyor, was in the box for the greater part of yesterday in the combination of suits over the piece of mineral ground known originally as the Cube Lode, in the Slocan.

Bruce White has again taken over the management of the Molly Gibson property, and English speaking miners have replaced the foreigners on the job. Bruce White left for the property yesterday morning with a number of men who are going to work.

The annual meeting of the Arlington Mines, Limited, was held at Slocan on Tuesday. The chief business of the meeting was the election of directors, all of the old directors being re-elected. J. Frank Collom, managing director of the company, made a special trip in to attend the meeting of the company.

Mayor York, of Slocan, is having more difficulty in keeping the sheep he brings in to kill for the Slocan market than some Nelson people have in keeping their chickens. The mayor has a reward out for information as to the whereabouts of ten sheep which got out of his corral last week.

In the suit of Robinson vs. Fishburn, an action on a promissory note for $300, S. S. Taylor yesterday made an application, in chambers, for an order to take the evidence of the plaintiff, George Robinson, at Edmonton. It is understood that the defence entered in this action is that the amount of the note represents a gambling debt.

Maude Preston and Nellie Brown were up before police magistrate Crease yesterday morning. They took it into their heads to do a cake-walk on Josephine street, but sergeant Hardy considered them poor performers and laid a charge of creating a disturbance against them. They were fined $20 and costs, each, with the option of a month in jail.

Work on the Marysville smelter has been stopped ,and the men will be paid off today. The Marysville smelter has had a checkered career, and, for a smelter which has never reduced a pound of ore, it is very widely known. It has been said that close upon $100,000 has been frittered away so far, with very little to show in the way of useful work.

There is a lively contest for the privilege of selling booze in the new townsite which the Crow's Nest Pass Coal company is to open near the Morrissey mines. There are 13 applications in for licenses so far, and a number who are desirous of getting into the business have yet to make their applications. W. H. Barnes, who was provincial constable at the outbreak of the miners' trouble at Fernie, is among the applicants for a license.

John Jelsrude, through his solicitors, has written to the city, claiming damages in the sum of $60 as compensation for personal injuries sustained by him on the night of October 1st, owing, as he says, to the defective condition of a foot-bridge on Latimer streets. It is likely the city will contest the claim of Jelsrude on the ground that he alone is responsible for the accident, for the reason that he mistook a covering placed upon a water pipe for a foot bridge. The point at which the accident happened is where the box crosses a ravine, and in trying to get across Jelsrude fell and broke one of his ribs.

Mrs. Rattray, of the Nelson business college, has decided to remain in Nelson. Some time ago the removal of the college to the coast was contemplated, but this step will not now be taken; satisfaction that there is ample scope for it in this city being the reason. Mrs. Rattray will be in a position to announce her plans for the winter's work in the course of a day or two. The Nelson business college is a credit to the city and the citizens should do what they can to encourage it, as it presents a splendid opportunity for young people to acquire a thorough training in the special commercial branches.

In the case of McLeod vs. Waterman, S. S. Taylor, for the defendant, made an application in chambers yesterday to have the suit dismissed for want of prosecution. An order was made that the plaintiff proceed to trial at the next sitting of the court at Nelson, otherwise the action stand dismissed without further order.

The new instruments for the city band are on exhibition in Fred. Irvine's window and are attracting a good deal of attention. The instruments are a handsome lot, and were purchased with subscriptions collected from the citizens, assisted by a grant of $250 from the city council, which is to have the ownership of them.

PERSONALS

G. Alexander, of Kaslo, arrived in the city last evening.

H. Giegerich, of Kaslo, arrived in Nelson last evening by the steamer Kaslo.

J. Anderson, manager of the Antoine mine at McGuigan, arrived in the city last evening.

T. C. Gray, agent for W. H. Malkin & Co., of Vancouver, came into town last night from Fernie, and is putting up at the Hume.

J. K. Strachan, who has been confined to his room for several days past, expects to be able to resume his duties as city clerk early next week.

P. Hickey, manager of the Ivanhoe mine in the Slocan, arrived in Nelson last evening. The property is in good shape although little but development work is being done at present.

W. R. Megaw, general merchant of Vernon, reached town yesterday after a busi*ness trip through the Crow's Nest Pass.* He will be in the city for a few days and is staying with his brother-in-law, E. C. Davison.

Charles Milne, a wholesale grocer and produce merchant of Dawson, arrived in the city yesterday and is a guest of F. M. Black. Mr. Milne has sold out his business in the north and is now en route for Great Britain and the continent of Europe, on a combined business and pleasure trip. Mrs. Milne accompanies him.

THE GRAND TRUNK EARNINGS.

The Grand Trunk report which has just been issued in London shows that the gross receipts for the half year increased 3.90 per cent., and the expenses of operations increased 3.81 per cent. The train mileage decreased 7.96 per cent. In the report the directorate compliment the shareholders of the company on the steady progress. Increased dividends are available. Official figures show that during the year 9,903,394 passengers were carried, compared with 9,097,872 in 1901. The receipts from passengers were $8,061,644, compared with $7,692,190 the previous year. The freight returns show 12,085,958 tons carried, compared with 11,746,696 last year. The receipts from freight were $19,039,188, or an average of $1.58 a ton, compared with $18,665,244 last year.

DESPONDENT SUICIDES.

Toronto, Oct. 10.—Mrs. Haines, wife of G. W. Haines, bottler in Reinhardt's brewery, committed suicide by cutting her throat with a razor yesterday. She was alone at the time, and one of her children upon returning from school finding the doors locked, looked through the window and discovered the suicide on the floor in a pool of blood and called the police. Despondency, due to bad health is supposed to have been the cause.

WOODBERRY CREEK MINES.

Kaslo, Oct. 9.—Wm. English, of the Maple Leaf, Woodberry creek, reports that he has shipped a car of ore from that claim showing very rich results, and he says there is more to follow.

The Pontiac, on the same creek, is all in readiness for shipping as soon as rawhiding commences and other claims in the same section are showing activity.

LAURIER BANQUET POSTPONED.

Montreal, Oct. 10.—The Club National today indefinitely postponed the banquet to be tendered premier Laurier, leaving the date to the selection of the premier. The decision is somewhat of a disappointment to the friends of the club, as they were pluming themselves on the fact that the postponement of the Quebec banquet would give them the first hearing.

SPAIN COURTING FRANCE.

Madrid ,Oct. 9.—The Heraldo says that a cabinet council was held today at which king Alfonso presided. Premier Sagasta dilating upon Spain's friendly relations with the powers, indicated the urgency of studying the international interests, and emphasized the warmth of French demonstrations of friendship.

CONGREGATIONAL CRISIS.

Toronto, Oct. 10.—The opinion was freely expressed by many speakers at the autumn meeting of the Toronto and Western Congregational Association yesterday that congregationalism in Canada has reached a crisis, owing to its non-progressiveness.

FIXING THE SALARY.

Toronto, Oct. 10.—It is said the board of Upper Canada College will offer the successor to principal Park, $5,000 salary, with house, etc.

"THE BEER WITHOUT A PEER"—makes delightful drinking.
Raise your glass and drink with us this delectable, amber-colored beverage—this king of drinks—this health-giving, sparkling liquid of crystal purity that clears the cobwebs from the brain—sends warm, rich blood bounding through one's veins—puts one in a kindly mood.
It chases away the cares of business.
It furnishes humor that shakes one's sides.
It warms the very cockles of one's heart ,and brings to life the better side of one's nature, made dormant by the exactions of this too strenuous age.
