CAUSE IS LOST

REVIEW OF THE STRIKE OF ANTHRACITE MINERS.

DIMSDALE SAYS IT WAS NOT OPPORTUNE AND THAT OPERATORS WILL WIN.

Philadephia, June 12.—Martin Dimsdale, a well known writer on economic and labor topics, has issued the following review of the anthracite coal strike:

Arbitration, when taken in connection with the present situation arising between the coal mine operators and their employers is rather a far-fetched proposition.

There is no doubt but that arbitration is the greatest asset owned by the student of labor conditions. Yet there are certain phases in the disputes between capital and labor which arbitration cannot meet. The present is an instance which brings an example of what cannot be done, prominently before the thinking public.

The anthracite miner now demands increased wages, shorter hours and easier conditions of labor. These demands are perfectly legitimate. Any workman in the world has the right to ask for higher pay and to quit working if he does not get it.

But it is a far advanced application of the arbitration principle to say that whenever such a demand is made a third party is to be called in to determine whether or not the demands shall be granted.

Most employers will be reluctant to admit that outside persons can manage their business for them to the extent of determining what wages they shall pay their workmen. Nor have indications pointed out that the workmen themselves would permanently relish having their wages arbitrarily fixed for them by men who have no concern in their line of business. It perhaps is true that a system of arbitration to fit all cases is most desirable, but it is just as true that present day arbitration should be taken only when full knowledge of its purports are had.

The paramount and salient features of this present case should be moderation on both sides. It seems that a long drawn-out strike should not be the outcome.

The effects of such a result as this would be disastrous in the extreme. Thousands and millions of dollars lost in wages and energy wasted, and discomforts to producer and consumer alike, are not things to be lightly treated. There is a wise counsel on both sides, and it is indeed regrettable if the combined talent should come to naught. Some honorable way should be found by which a prolonged struggle should be avoided.

A short review of the case as it is, will show the laymen how matters stand.

The anthracite coal region, in which field the dispute is located, embraces as its principle centres the states of Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Some 150,000 men are affected.

These men work on an average of 180 days a year. The price of labor above ground is about $25 a month; below ground, from $33 to $38. Thus it can be seen that a strike of one week's duration would entail a loss to the laborers of over $1,000,000.

For each additional day of a prolonged strike add the sum of $150,000, and the stupendous cost to wage earners becomes apparent.

Not only this but the general public will feel the loss almost as keenly as the miners. When coal advances in price by jumps and bounds, ten, twenty, fifty and seventy-five cents to the ton, then it is that the mine strike is felt. The operator feels nothing. The true sufferers are the worker and consumer.

An illustration of this state of affairs attended the increase in wages to the miners in 1900.

The increase amounted to but 10 or twelve cents a day, yet this was made the excuse of raising the price of coal from 50 to 75 cents per ton. The consumer was the real sufferer here.

It has been estimated, and a true estimate it is, that under present conditions, the cost of production, including mining, "trucking" and loading on cars, is $1.56 a ton. This covers also the thirty or forty cents a ton paid in royalties to land owners.

The labor of mining proper costs about 60 cents a ton, and other laboring operations nearly as much more. Transportation, the last item of expense, cost to tide-water about $1.50, making the total cost of the production from mine to market at $3.06.

Whatever the coal brings above this figure is clear profit, and even then, there are what may be termed "emoluments." For as the railroads own the coal lands and leases, they really not only take the nominal profit, but the land royalties, which figure as a "cost" in the initial production, and the stock dividends, which form a large share of the cost of transportation.

In any difference between the operators and their employees, the public is the chief party interested.

Already the consumers, the retailers and those who supply the general markets, have received notice of an endless chain of advances in the commodity, which will, in view of the present strained relations, add from 30 to 75 cents a ton to the April price by next September.

It has been pointed out that an advance of from 10 to 15 cents in wages can be easily withstood by the coal barons. That their profits will hardly be smaller, and that the worker deserves the increase.

Yet the opinion already current bears out the coal operators expressed ultimatum that no such sort of concession will be made. The operators certainly have the upper hand, if the reports can be believed. Some of the most conservative authorities of this city go so far as to say that a strike, prolonged or not, will be welcomed by them, from the reported fact of increased prices in a comparatively glutted market.

But few go so far, however, as to agree that the mine owners wish to force a prolonged conflict. On the other hand, the present working conditions are satisfactory to them. Still if concessions demanded of them are to be backed up by a long and dogged strike, they say, "let it come."

In view of these conditions, and they are without doubt true, it would seem that the miner should have considered seriously the subject of a bitter fight resulting from the present actions of the miners. There can be but one outcome, one of suffering and privation to himself and to the public.

A fight, man to man, has been honorable since time immemorial, let the conditions of one apply to the other. Yet if one is armed for the fray, is it sense for the unarmed to invite certain vanquishment?

It seems that the miner, has simply picked the wrong time for action.

As a prominent socialist here said last week: 'Conflict between capital and labor is to be expected until time eternal. And under this conflict, the lot of the workingmen is bound to be bettered. History proves that. But history does not give us an instance where a conflict waged under the same unequal conditions as those confronting the mining world today, ever resulting advantageously to the laboring faction. Labor is the weaker of the two. Therefore strategy must make up for the power of money. But inthis case, I can see no room for strategy. The mine owner has the winning hand, and it would have been policy for the worker to wait."

AN OLD TIMER IN TOWN

MARTIN FRY BACK FROM TRAPPING ON WILSON CREEK.

ONE OF THOSE WHO STAKED IN SLOCAN EARLY.

Martin Fry, of Bonner's Ferry, one of the pioneer prospectors of Kootenay, and a man who trapped for years through the country before the mineral wealth of it was dreamed of, was in Nelson yesterday renewing old acquaintances. Fry is just out from Wilson creek, in the Slocan, where he has been engaged in trapping bear. While on the creek he came across a party of three New York men who had outfitted at considerable expense for their bear hunting. They had been on the creek the previous year, but not meeting with much success, had brought hounds this year. Fry's traps made it rather dangerous for the hounds so they decided to buy Fry off the creek, a matter which was arranged by the payment of $150. The result was that the New Yorkers got a bear each, two of them being caught in Fry's traps and the third run down by the hounds. There are plenty of bear on the creek, but it is likely that when the New Yorkers return they will leave their hounds at home. The hounds had no difficulty in picking up the scent of the bears, but they invariably run so hard that the New Yorkers were unable to get a shot at them.

Among the old-timers whom Fry met yesterday were Thomas C. Collins, the trapper, prospector, poet, and local historian, with whom he was well acquainted in the early days of the Ferry, and J. Fred Hume, who in the beginning of Kootenay's development took long chances in supplying prospectors with grub on the condition that they should pay when they struck it. When the first discoveries were made in the Slocan Fry was in Nelson. He was anxious to join in the rush which was being made to the now famous Slocan, but he was "a little short," and time meant everything. He took his lottery ticket to J. Fred Hume with the result that he was soon on his way up Slocan river with an outfit. On this trip he was lucky, and secured an interest in the Freddie Lee, which at the time was one of the richest finds made, and from which Fry made a neat clean-up.

Martin Fry is remarkably well preserved, and is as keen for adventure as ever. At the present time he has a steamboat venture on hand. His two sons are now building a small boat at the Ferry for the purpose of trading along the Kootenay between the head of the lake and the Ferry. There is good business here for a small boat, not only in towing, but in the moving of produce to the markets on this side of the line.

INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE READY.

Rossland, June 12.—Word was received here today by cable that Anthony J. McMillan, and his colleagues on the special investigation committee recently appointed, sail for New York on Saturday, per the Cunard liner Umbria. They will prepare a report on conditions at the mine and smelter for presentation to the shareholders upon their return to London.

"ROMEO AND JULIET" UP TO DATE.

London June 12.—Since Sarah Bernhardt arrived in London it has been finally decided to produce "Romeo and Juliet" in the United States during her tour of that country, which will begin next October.

Maude Adams will take the part of Juliet. Mme. Bernhardt and Miss Adams will play in French, while the supporting company will use the English language. This combination will appear in London during the season of 1903 at one of Charles Frohman's theatres.

E. S. Willard has engaged Maude Fealy, who is now in San Francisco, for his American tour, which is also to begin in October.

BIG COAL PROFITS.

Montreal, June 12.—The Dominion Coal Company held its annual meeting at noon today and ratified the agreement entered into with the Dominion Steel Company a short time ago, particulars of which were sent out at the time. The report of the directors announced that 600,000 tons of coal mined during the year, the surplus earnings of the company amounted to $937,681.44.

JUDGE M'ISSAC DROPS DEAD.

Halifax, June 12.—County Judge Angus McIssac, of Antigonish county, and brother Hon. C. F. McIssac, M. P., dropped dead this morning.

DENOUNCES THE BOOSTERS

MANIPULATORS OF C. P. R. STOCK GET A HARD KNOCK.

THEIR TACTICS LIKENED TO THOSE OF BUNCO STEERERS.

Montreal, June 12.—A leading financial authority of this city, and a gentleman who has for many years been a shareholder in the Canadian Pacific and in other ways intimately associated with the management, in an interview today, condemned in the most emphatic terms the tactics which had recently been employed in Toronto, New York and Boston to boost along the stock of Canada's great transcontinental ine.

He was most indignant at the misleadig statements which had been sent to the New York and Boston papers recently, the same emanating from Toronto. Each and every one of these stories was ridiculous upon its face and could not for a moment be credited by any one who was well informed.

For instance, there was a story that the dividend would be jumped up next month from a five to a seven per cent basis and, further, that the shareholders would obtain an additional one per cent bonus from the profits of the company's land sales.

The speaker, who has stood by the company in its lean years, as well as in its prosperous ones, said that such tactics were only worthy of a gang of bunco steerers and was the method usually employed in boosting along the rottenest kind of fake companies and, therefore, should never be employed in dealing with such a property as the Canadian Pacific railway.

For years the policy of the C. P. R. had been a most conservataive one, and he had no reason to believe that there was any danger of the officials changing in this respect. The present price of the stock would have been actually reached through legitimate channels and upon the merits of the property. There was no question that the outside assets of the company, such as land grants, express companies, sleeping cars, etc., were of themselves almost equivalent in value to the outstanding capital stock, and with another generous crop in the Northwest the stock would be selling alongside of the best American railways. At the same time the tactics which had emanated from Toronto were not worthy ones.

As to the story that a bonus would be paid out of the land sales, the speaker pronouced it simply ridiculous. He said that every one should be familiar with the fact that the money obtained from land sales has to be applied to the liquidation of the bonds at which at the close of the last fiscal year, June 30, 1901, there was outstanding $17,831,000.

SOUTH AFRICAN TRADE.

Anticipated Rush of European Traders to Oust British.

New York, June 12.—A special despatch to The Times from London repeats a despatch from the Vienna correspondent of The London Times, which notes early signs of a rush of commercial and industrial classes to South Africa under the British regime. Even easy-going Austrians are forming syndicates for that purpose, but the Germans are first in the field, hoping, with the home markets secured by high protective tariffs, and exports encouraged by subsidized shipping, and the rates on State railways reduced, to meet the unprotected British trade on more than equal terms. The correspondent urges consideration of the question whether British manufacturers and the working class, who have been subjected to heavy burdens of taxation, should be further handicapped by such unfair competition. The most severe competition is to be expected from that great European nation which confessedly aims at depriving Britain of her maritime predominance. The correspondent suggests that the precedent set by the action of the British government in sugar bounties may be extended further.

MISPLACED CONFIDENCE.

Paris, June 12.—An employee of the Bank of France who was entrusted with care of collateral securities, abstracted a number of the documents and through the help of a friend borrowed money on them from the Bank of France itself. The papers this evening say that the sum lost by the bank amounts to 450,000 francs.

RIOTS SPREADING

MILITIA CALLED OUT IN PAWTUCKET.

STREET CAR STRIKE ASSUMES ALARMING PHASES AND TROUBLE IS FEARED.

Pawtucket, Rhode Island, June 12.—For the first time in the history of the city, bayonets in the hands of soldiers ordered out by the governor of the state to supress riotous disturbances, glistened in the streets of Pawtucket today.

The astonishing increase in the lawless acts directed against the U. S. Traction Company, whose union men have been on strike since June 2nd, and the inability of the limited police force and deputy sheriffs to suppress the rioting, induced governor Kimball to call out the militia. Numerous scenes of disorder occurred during the day and more than a score of persons were injured, one fatally. No cars were operated tonight, but they will run again in the morning and further trouble is expected.

While the militia is policing the city, Pawtucket is not under martial law. Tonight mayor Fitzgerald, who has been away on his wedding trip, returned and is using his influence. In the presence of about 1000 persons and the militia this evening adjutant-general Sackett read the riot act.

The governor also issued a proclamation enjoining the citizens to preserve peace and prevent further bloodshed.

MICHEL MISSED A TRAGEDY

MEN IN THE MINE HAD A CLOSE CALL FOR THEIR LIVES.

INTAKE PIPE DRAWING SMOKE INSTEAD OF AIR.

Rev. H. Houghton, of Fernie, who has been in Nelson attending the synod, gave a most graphic description of the fire at Michel. It appears that some men were clearing brush at the east end of the town, and notwithstanding a stiff wind blowing they imprudently set fire to it. Almost immediately after, the wind sprang up to a heavy gale and in less than fifteen minutes the whole north side of the town was in a blaze, from end to end. At the same time the flames swept around to the other side and if they had formed a circle, which they were only kept from doing by the desperate efforts of a large number of workmen, probably not one in the town would have survived, as the place would have been an oven. Soon after the fire started the smoke drove in a heavy cloud against the intake pipe for ventilating the mine, and the force pump drawing in the smoke quickly made the mine uninhabitable. As the men came rushing out they were met by a wall of flame and smoke at the mouth of the tunnel, and for a while it looked as if considerable loss of life would ensue. Fortunately the ground had been fairly well cleared around the mine and the flames quickly passed from the mouth of the tunnel and the men escaped, to join the force fighting the flames at the other side of the town.

VICTIMS OF ENTERIC.

Death of New Members of the C. M. R. Reported.

Ottawa, June 12.—Lord Minto has been advised by the casualty department at Capetown that Trooper J. J. Woodmare died of enteric fever on board the Cestrian, with the 3rd C. M. R.

Edward Stanley Banfield, 2nd, C. M. R., died of enteric at Elandsfontein on June 3rd. Banfield enlisted at Halifax.

Troopers Clement Guest, of Rossland, B. C.; Wm. Bell, Hamilton, Ont., and Harry Hyde, of Charlottetown, are reported ill at Elandsfontein from enteric fever.

Troopers Chas. McVicar, of London, Ont., and Richard Player, of Quebec, are ill from enteric at Klerksdorp.

VENEZUELA'S REVOLUTION.

Washington, June 12.—When the state and navy department closed today nothing in the shape of a request for the presence of an American war ship at La Gauayra during the present revolutionary crisis there, had come to hand. The navy department has ready at San Juan de Porto Rico, the cruiser Cincinnati, and the training ship Topeka. The little Machias, which which has rendered such excellent service during the revolutionary movements in the Isthmus of Panama, is lying at Colon, but it is probable she would not be available for such service, as affairs are interesting where she is.

SECURED SMALL DAMAGES

Paris, June 12.—As a result of the suit began in January, 1899, by Madame Henry, widow of Lieutenant-Colonel Henry, who committed suicide in prison after having confessed forgery of a document in the Dreyfus case, against Joseph Rienach, former editor of the Siecle, and against that paper, 20,000 francs damages being claimed for injury to herself, the court today condemned Rienach and the manager of the Siecle to pay 500 francs to the widow, 500 francs to her son, and costs of the action. The judgment said, that in fixing the damages, the court took into account the good faith of the defendants and the absence of any intention on their part to injure the widow and orphan, and the circumstances under which they acted, "after the revelation of the odious crime committed by him."

IN SEARCH OF BALDWIN.

London, June 12.—W. S. Champ, secretary of the Baldwin-Ziegiar Arctic expedition will start tomorrow for Tromsoe, Norway, whence they will sail July 1st on the Frithjof for Franz Joseph Land to take coal to Mr. Baldwin's ship, the America, and obtain news of the Arctic explorers. Mr. Champ expects to find the America in about 82 degrees. If Mr. Baldwin has succeeded in his last dash to the Pole, he will be brought back, otherwise the Frithjof will leave a well equipped sledge party to search for Mr. Baldwin. The Frithjof will return October 1st, at the latest.

LYNCH IS UNDER ARREST

BOER COLONEL MUST ANSWER CHARGE OF TREASON.

WAS CAPTURED BY DETECTIVES WHEN HE LANDED.

London, June 12.—Colonel Arthur Lynch, who fought with the Boers in South Africa, and who in November last was elected to represent Galway in the house of commons, was arrested yesterday on his arrival at Newhaven from Dieppe, France. Colonel Lynch, who was accompanied by his wife was brought to London. Subsequently he was arraigned at the Bow street police court on the charge of high treason and remanded until Saturday, June 14th. The prisoner, who was described on the charge sheet as a "journalist," sat in the dock apparently unconcerned until the magistrate asked him if he had anything to say in reply to the charge. Then he arose and replied almost inaudibly, "No, sir."

He did not apply for bail and was taken to the cell.

Lieutenant Colonel Philip Nolan (Nationalist) applied for the release of Colonel Lynch on bail, but the magistrate said he had no power to grant the request.

ISLAND MAY VANISH.

Scientists Discuss the Effect of the Mount Pelee Volcano.

Port de France, June 12.—Excitement is renewed by the eruptions at Mount Pelee and the unusual agitation of the waters surrounding the island. Fear is expressed that Martinique may disappear, as the island of Krakatoa did in 1883, and that the outbreak on sea and land is but the prelude to the sinking of the island beneath the waves. Hundreds were again today seeking for passage to other ports and asking the authorities to provide them with homes elsewhere. There is a line of gendarmes about the city to prevent people ascending Mount Pelee on account of the danger.

Washington, June 12.—Profesor Borchgrevink made the important statement of his belief today that the whole chain of mountains, of which Pelee and Soufriere are parts, are in a state of unrest. The professor's statement is as follows:

"The entire chain of islands is in a state of unrest and the same is true of the basin or floor of the Caribbean sea. From what I know of volcanic phenomena, and from what I saw in Martinique and the adjacent islands, I judge there is little to warrant the belief that the disturbances are over.

'In fact, I saw enough almost to satisfy me that a recurrence of the recent volcanic disturbances in these islands is not only possible, but quite probable.

"The situation in the region of the Caribbean sea resembled nothing so much as a pot of porridge which had cooled a little. There is a crust at top and heat beneath. And as you watch you will see the gas burst through the crust, first in this place and then in that.

"Exactly the same cause I saw work in the West Indies. Consequently when Mount Pelee is quiet Soufriere is often active, and when both are quiet St. Christopher is liable to an eruption. Indeed, my judgment is that an eruption of the islands of St. Christopher may reasonably be expected at any time."

A CARELESS ENGINEER.

Causes Collision With Serious Loss of Life to Train Crews.

Chattanoogo, Tennessee, June 12.—A fatal colision occurred on the Nashville Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad today between Hooker and Summit, two small stations about 12 miles from this city. Three men were killed and 15 others more or less seriously injured.

The train, known as the Jasper accomodation, left Chattanooga about 2:40 o'clock this afternoon. It was due at Summit at 3:08 p. m. The other train a fast mail, No. 1, from Nashville, was behind time and the meeting point of these trains had been changed, giving the regular station to Summit. One of the engineers overlooked his orders and ran past the place. Fireman Rankin of this city was horribly mangled and died almost instantly. Engineer Rollins was badly injured, his legs terribly crushed and a large hole made in his head and left side. His injuries are considered fatal. Engineer George Ray, of the fast mail, is seriously injured and it is thought fatally. Fireman James Bernard was caught under the smaller engine and literally burned to death. A handful of cinders and charred flesh was all that could be found of him. Express messenger W. Ebb, of the fast mail train, was caught under the debris and died shortly after.

The accomodation train being the lighter one, was telescoped, the heavy engine of the fast mail ploughing its way through the cars and splintering them into kindling wood.

None of the passengers were seriously injured.

LOCATING THE LINE.

C. P. R. Branch Will Probably Be Completed to Trout Lake.

Chief engineer Tye has a gang of men engaged in locating the line between Gerrard and Trout Lake. This looks very much as if it was not the intention of the company to delay the construction of the section along the lake very long. The work of ballasting is going on.

W. J. Twiss, who was down on Okanagan lake about the 24th of May, says that just about that time the men had begun on the work of taking the steamer York to pieces. This is the boat which is intended for Trout Lake. It is not very likely, however, that she will be in commission much before the 1st of July. It is not likely that the moving of ore now stored here will commence before the York is on her regular runs on Trout lake. The wharf at Gerrard has been covered over and everything is now in readiness to handle freight the moment the York is in shape to make the run.—Trout Lake Topic.

CHRIST RECEIVES SENTENCE.

Alex Christ, the siwash committed for trial upon the charge of having a quantity of stolen clothing in his possession, knowing the same to have been stolen, was brought before Judge Forin for election yesterday. The prisoner was not defended. He elected speedy trial and entered a plea of not guilty. The case was then proceeded with, the evidence being practically the same as that brought out at the preliminary hearing. When the case for the prosecution was completed the prisoner was asked if he had anything to say, when he made a statement virtually admitting his guilt. The provincial police officers gave Christ a rather bad reputation, and he was sentenced to 12 months imprisonment in the Nelson jail at hard labor.

CANADA'S GREAT PROGRESS

MORNING POST DIRECTS ATTENTION TO RECENT GROWTH.

IT HANDS OUT A BOQUET FOR THE FEDERAL MINISTERS.

Ottawa, June 12.—It is as great a help to countries as to individuals to be permitted occasionally to see themselves as others see them. In this respect Canada is not an exception, and our population may profitably spend a few minutes viewing themselves in the British mirror. No one who knows the conservative Morning Post, of London, England, will accuse it of undue enthusiasm on any subject, much less of lavishness in dispensing praise; therefore, when Canadians see themselves mirrored to advantage in its columns the reflection is not far wide of the mark.

In the last edition to hand this is the picture presented:

"Today the splendid results of Canada's commercial enterprise are apparent even to the most causual student of affairs. Her foreign trade increases month by month and year by year; the population of Nebraska, the Dakotas, and other western states is being drawn up into her northwest; and almost every day she advances the boundaries of her civilization towards the north. The results are apparent to all; the processes whereby they have been attained are understood by few in this country. That Canada posses ilimitable natural resources, and is both the Scotland and Normandy of North America, does not explain the amazing rapidity of her development. In the short space of ten years she has grown into a commercial great power. In particular the growth of her agricultural trade—always a sure foundation for national greatness—is without parallel in the world's industrial history. In 1896 the aggregate value of her exports of food stuffs was $35,773,133; last year it was $63,098,841.

"Moreover, the average Canadian's standard of living has been considerably raised in the interval, and since the growth in industrial and mining population has been much greater than in rural districts, the difference between these two sums does not adequately represent the increases in the annual value of her farm products. How has this remarkable advance been brought about?

"The plain truth is that Canada has always been governed by business men, and that every member of the present cabinet (or board of directors for the nation) has the necessary talent and training for supervising the business of his department. Not the least able of these men is the minister of agriculture, who has charge of Canada's agricultural policy—no new thing, though it has been revised and extended of late years. And much of the success of that policy is due to Professor Robertson, Canada's indefatigable agricultural traveller."

TOD SLOANE IN JAIL.

Paris, June 12.—Tod Sloane, the American jockey, was sentenced yesterday to two day's imprisonment and a fine of ten francs for driving an automobile at an excessive speed. He was fined five francs each on two minor counts. Sloane was sentenced to a fine of eight francs last year for a similar offence.

THE ROYAL SHOW

EDWARD VII. REHEARSES HIS CORONATION.

ATTENDING FESTIVITIES WILL EXTEND OVER PERIOD OF TWO WEEKS.

London, June 12.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra were engaged today in what was practically a rehearsal of the coronation ceremonies. Accompanied by princess Victoria and a suite, their majesties drove to Westminster. There they were quietly received by the Duke of Norfolk, Earl Marshal and Chief Butler of England, who escorted their majesties through the abbey, and, in order to prevent the possibility of a hitch in the proceedings on coronation day, all the details of the procession and ceremonial were explained to them. The royal visit to the abbey was accomplished very quietly, and but a few of the persons about the building were aware of the presence of their majesties.

London, June 13.—The final court of the season will be held at Buckingham palace tonight. Their majesties will then go to Windsor and will not return to London until coronation week. The programme is as follows for coronation week:

Monday, June 23.—Arrival in London of the royal representatives, dinner at Buckingham Palace and reception of the suites.

Tuesday, June 24.—Their majesties will receive the special foreign envoys and deputations to the coronation and give a dinner at Buckingham Palace.

Wednesday June 25.—Reception of the colonial premiers and other envoys. The Prince of Wales will give a dinner party at St. James Palace to the princes and envoys.

Thursday, June 26.—The coronation.

Friday, June 27.—The procession through London, which will be a military pageant some two miles long, representing every portion of the British dominion. In the evening their majesties will attend a reception at Lansdowne House.

Saturday, June 28.—The royal party will leave London for the naval review.

Sunday, June 29.—Dinners to the foreign envoys by their respective ambassadors.

Monday, June 30.—Their majesties return to London. Gala performance of opera.

Tuesday, July 1.—Garden party at Windsor Castle.

Wednesday, July 2.—Departure of the foreign princes and envoys. Their majesties will dine at Londonderry House.

Thursday, July 3.—Their majesties will attend service at St. Paul's, and lunch at the Guild Hall.

Friday, July 4.—Their majesties attend the reception of Indian princes at the Indian office.

Saturday, July 5.—King Edward's dinner to the poor.

DROWNED IN KETTLE RIVER

JOHN SUCKSMITH GOES DOWN CLOSE TO SHORE.

WAS LOOKING FOR LOGS WHEN HIS BOAT CAPSIZED.

Grand Forks, June 12.—John Sucksmith, sawmill owner of this city and of Nelson, Washington, was accidently drowned last evening in the Kettle river, seven miles below here, as a result of the upsetting of a row boat. Sucksmith, his manager, John A. Keogh, and J. Wicks, were hunting for a boom of logs that had broken away farther up stream. Keogh reached shore in an exhausted condition. He says he saw Sucksmith, who was unable to swim, sink a moment after the boat capsized. Wicks clung to the upturned boat and also escaped. Sucksmith leaves a widow and four children. The body was recovered this morning.

PIERPONT'S MOVEMENTS.

Paris, June 12.—Pierpont Morgan passed through here on his way to the Mediterranean today where he will board the yacht Corsair.

COPPER FIND IN ONTARIO.

Toronto, June 12.—J. S. Doble, C. E., of Bruce Mines, has discovered, in the vicinity of Thessalon, a very large deposit of copper. The vein, is about 15 feet wide, and so far proves it to be very rich in copper.

BRITISH STEAMER ASHORE.

Quebec, June 12.—The steamship Sahara (British) from Rangoon for Montreal, with a cargo of rice, is ashore at Bicquitte island. She is in a dangerous position, on a shelf of rock, and should she slide off would be in 100 feet of water. As the craft is making water, fears are entertained that her cargo will swell and strain her hull. The wrecking plant should reach the steamer tonight.

OGILVIE BONDS OVERSUBSCRIBED.

Montreal June 12.—The subscription list of the Ogilvie Milling Company's bonds and preferred stock, which was opened on the 10th, was closed at three o'clock today, and the final allotment will be made as soon as the Royal Trust Company receives the detailed list of out-of-town applications from the branches of the Bank of Montreal and Royal Bank of Canada. No actual figures are yet obtainable, but it is known that applications for the $2,600,000 bonds and preferred stock have been over subscribed several millions.

THE LATEST LAND GRAB.

The coast papers have at last awakened to the enormity of the proposed granting of some thousands of acres of public lands to the Columbia and Western railway for an extension that was never built. Though the subsidy bill has now been before the legislature for several days, and The Daily News has on several occasions drawn attestion to the meditated steal, it is only at this late date that the papers published at the capital appear to have learned what is going on. The Victoria Times refers to the grant as one of the most iniquitous ever contemplated even in this province. The effort to secure the unearned grant has been manipulated with a good deal of secrecy, and there is still much that is unexplained in connection with the matter. All attempts to obtain a plain statement from the government have failed, and with the exception of one or two members the opposition do not show any disposition to prevent the steal. Upon motion of Mr. Oliver a select committee has been appointed to take the evidence of Mr. Cotton, who was formerly chief commissioner of lands and works. Mr. Cotton's evidence, was strongly against the claim put forward for the railway company, but Mr. Joseph Martin, who is chairman of the committee, was at considerable pains to discredit Mr. Cotton's evidence, and advanced arguments favoring the granting of the land to the company. To off-set Mr. Cotton's evidence Mr. Martin suggested that Mr. Shaughnessy, who will be in Victoria shortly, should be examined, and this was agreed to. Just why Mr. Martin should be so anxious to assist the railway company to secure this unearned land grant is unintelligible. He has always professed thorough going hostility to land grants, and four years ago resorted to extreme measures to prevent the disposal of land to certain corporations. He has had it in his power to put a stop to subsidies of all kinds this session, yet he has failed to exercise that power, and now he is taking an active part in furthering a scheme to rob the province of thousands of acres of the choicest lands in Yale and Kootenay.

LAND RESERVES.

The Kamloops Inland Sentinel has recently had occasion to protest against the action of the government in placing a reserve on a considerable area of lands on the North Thompson and some of its tributaries, the objection being raised that part of the reserve includes farming and meadow land, and as the reserve is made in the interests of a pulp company the objection appears to be well taken. When information was asked in the House by the member for North Yale, the reply of the chief commissioner of lands and works was that he did not know whether the reserve did or did not include farming lands.

This admission points to the necessity for the government to take up in a systematic manner the survey of provincial lands. In the case in question had there been a survey made the chief commissioner would not have been in ignorance of the characteristics of the North Thompson valley and it may be assumed that he would not have agreed to placing a reserve on other than strictly pulp timber lands. A system of surveys would guard against occurrences of this kind. The ones to suffer most are the intending settlers in search of land upon which to locate. If the same careless methods were followed in every case where a reserve was placed the condition would become serious. As it is, an injustice is undoubtedly done to a district which is largely dependant upon farming and ranching and to which a large number of settlers have recently turned their attention.

It would be a wiser course for the government, in cases where a reserve is asked for and no survey has been made, to insist before taking action upon at least an exploratory survey being made by a competent man at the expense of the parties seeking the reserve. This would at once prevent the unnecessary and injurious tying up of land suitable for settlement; it would, to a limited extent, show the bona fides of the interested parties; and it would prevent undue advantage being taken of the regulations respecting the pulp industry to secure more than the law intends shall be the case.

This or some similar course should be adopted by the government in every case where a reserve is asked for and the department of lands and works is not in possession of the required data.

THE LOST PROVINCES.

Of all the unfortunate resuts of the Franco-German war perhaps none was more keenly felt by the French people than the loss of the provinces of Alsace-Lorraine. It was a bitter draught for them to drink of and the provincials felt the separation as keenly as anyone. It was their boast that some day the old order of things would be restored, and it was because of this boast and the hope, openly expressed by the provincials, that the day of restoration would soon come, that Germany placed their newly acquired territory under the control of a dictator. Last week the dictatorship was abolished and in taking this step the chancellor was well advised.

The older generation no doubt still retain their affection for France, but it is questionable whether the mass of the people are in sympathy with them. To subject them to more stringent regulations than are imposed on other parts of the German empire is scarcely the wisest way of reconciling the inhabitants of Alsace-Lorraine to the new conditions. The course followed by Count Von Buelow is more likely to achieve the result, and while there may linger, in the memories of a few, those other days when they were not of the Fatherland, it is more than possible that there will be no difficulty experienced in inspiring a reasonable amount of loyalty towards the empire of which they form a part.

Germany will never part with the provinces again. Now that they are safely within her grasp there they will remain and no the doubt cooler heads among the Reischlanders realize this. That France will not some day make the attempt to wrest her old provinces from the grasp of the kaiser can scarcely be questioned, but it is not likely that the other powers will consent to another shuffle, even supposing the French should turn the tables upon her old foe.

Meanwhile the process of nationalizing the Reischlanders is being actively carried on by Germany. Another generation may see them the most German of the Germans.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Word was received in the city last evening from John Houston, M. P. P., stating that the amendment to the Municipal Elections Act, which abolishes dual voting in civic elections, had received its third reading and was finally passed on Thursday afternoon. The effect of this will be that no matter whether a ratepayer has property in both wards, he will only be entitled to vote in one. It will also do away with the practice which heretofore prevailed of voting as property owners in one ward and as licence holders in another. In Nelson, where the franchise has been worked for all it was worth, the amendment to the Elections Act will make a very noticeable difference in the size of the voters' list.

The civic finances of Rossland are in a bad way. A citizen's committee appointed to devise ways and means to meet a prospective deficit of $11,000 have recommended a cut all round in salaries paid to civic employees, including the mayor and aldermen, and a new tax of two mills. The situation was well described by one of the committee who said that it was a case of a "large town system with a small town revenue." The recommendations of the committee appear reasonable. If they are carried out and greater economy is exercised in the future Rossland should speedily regain a sound financial basis. In a large measure Rossland's present deficit is due to the change in the public school law which necessitates the city providing upwards of $4,000 out of the public rates heretofore provided by the provincial government.

PRINTERS' INK PHILOSOPHY.

The man who tries to push business along, ignorant of the utility of advertising is like one who would try to move a car with his puny power, and let lie a certain lever, called a pinch bar, used for that purpose. Learn to utilize advantages.

Before you send your ad to the printer just read it over and ask yourself how the man next door, your neighbors and your wife would regard each statement. For they are living, breathing human beings, representative of the same human beings who are to read your ad. What wil appeal to them can be depended upon to appeal to their kind. What will not receive their sanction can never touch humanity in the mass.

Cheerfulness counts for much in an advertisement. One likes to enter a place where the sunshine of good feeling prevails. Funeral advertisements may be well for an undertaker, but all other business should avoid them. There is a sea of difference between what is proper cheerfulness. While life is a serious proposition, men may take it too seriously. They are truest to themselves and to their generation who gladden and brighten the places in which they are seen. Those stores are best patronized where gentle courtesy and native politeness abound, and those advertisements are most read, easiest digested and attract most buyers which are pervaded with a spirit of bonhommie

The newspaper has taken the place of the Look. In the newstand rather than the library men go in search of knowledge. The newspaper is read universally. Hence it is the one leading medium for reaching the people. That can be said of it which can be said of no other medium, that it goes everywhere and is read by everybody. It is only who pass by given billboards who read the signs inscribed upon them. It is only they who ride in given street cars or steamboats who read the cards of advertisers displayed in these. But the newspaper goes every where. It is the great twentieth century colporteur, bearing to every home the progress of civilization and declaring the things that are to be.

KOOTENAY SYNOD MEETING

AMENDMENT SUGGESTED FOR CANON ON FINANCE.

MATTER WILL BE DISPOSED AT NEXT SESSION.

The second day's session of the synod opened yesterday at 10 a. m.

The list of motions proposed and carried during the morning session was as follows:

By Dr. Schon.—That the synod of the diocese of Kootenay desire to place on record their deep sense of the loss to the diocese in the removal by sad and sudden death of Rev. H. Irwin. His devotion, unselfishness, sweet disposition, and genuine humility endeared him to all classes, especially the toil worn and poverty stricken, and his name and work in the diocese of Kootenay can never be forgotten.

By Rev. F. H. Graham.—That the synod express its sense of sorrow and regret at the terrible calamity that recently occurred at Fernie and also heartfelt sympathy with all the widows and orphans and who all who suffered through it.

By E. A. Crease.—That the secretar be authorized to notify all the clergy of the diocese of the meeting of the general synod which is to be held in Montreal on September 3rd.

By Rev. C. W. Hedley.—That the synod recommend that the committee on Sunday schools be hereafter designated "the committee on the religious education of the young" and that the committee be requested to consider and as far as possible take action in the matter of religious education in the public schools.

By Rev. F. H. Graham.—That a committee on temperance be appointed by the synod which shall be authorized to form itself into a local committee of the Church of England Temperance Society.

By Rev. E. P. Flewelling.—That the archdeacon and the secretary of the synod be appointed a committee to draw up a memorial to the general synod with regard to the income for the bishop of Kootenay and that the delegates from Kootenay be instructed to support such memorial when it comes before the general synod.

By Rev. F. H. Graham.—That in future the report of the executive committee be printed in detail and copies circulated among the members of the synod.

By Rev. H. Steele.—That the canons and constitution as far as revised be incorporated in the journal of the synod.

By Rev. C. W. Hedley.—That arrangements be made for the establishment of a diocesan depository in Nelson to furnish bibles, prayer books, hymn books, S. P. C. K. literature, lantern slides, and such other parish requirements as may be deemed advisable.

By the committee appointed to draft resolutions.—That the clergy and laity of the diocese of Kootenay in synod assembled at Nelson unite with their fellow subjects everywhere in welcoming the proclamation of peace which has brought joy to the whole British empire. They desire to thank Almighty God for the cessation of hostilities in which so many of our brave countrymen have fallen in defence of their country's flag, and pray that this peace may be a lasting one, assuring to the vanquished under their new allegiance the entire enjoyment of all their personal and political liberties which are assured to every subject of our king, so that Briton and Boer may dwell together in amity, and unimpeded develop their moral, commercial and political strength.

This was carried by a standing vote, followed by the singing of the doxology and the national anthem. It was also decided to send a copy to the governor-general for forwarding to the Honorable Joseph Chamberlain.

E. A. Crease, registrar of church deeds, reported that he had received deeds to church property at Kelowna, Grand Forks, Kaslo and Coldstream.

A. E. Ashcroft gave notice of motion for the next session of the synod to appoint a committee to draft an amendment to the present canon on finance, having in view the creation of a fund to be called the general church fund of the diocese of Kootenay, into which are to be paid all susbscriptions from all over the diocese, and from which fund are to be paid all stipends and other diocesan expenses. The executive committee of the diocesan synod to asses every parish and parochial district of a fixed amount to be delivered each year, and local treasurers to be appointed in each parish to collect all subscriptions and forward them to the diocesan treasurer at stated intervals. Archdeacon Pentreath and the diocesan treasurer to be ex officio members of such committee.

Votes of thanks were then passed to different officers of the synod and to the rector and helpers of St. Saviour's for their services.

At 12:30 the synod adjourned for another year.

In the afternoon a reception was given to the delegates at the waterside, the Nelson Boat club having kindly extended the courtesy of their club house. Tea and cake were served by the ladies of St. Saviour's and a pleasant afternoon spent, although a heavy squall of wind which came up very suddenly prevented the boating part of the programme from being carried out. Some of the clergy left for their parishes last evening and most of the others leave today.

The canon on marriage which was passed at Wednesday's session dwelt principally on the observation of the rules laid down in the prayer book as to the celebration of marriage by the clergy, and after reiterating the words of the prayer book forbidding the wedding of those persons related it also stated "that it shall be unlawful for any clergyman to unite a couple either of whom shall have been divorced, and the husband or wife living." "Whereas the book of comon prayer provides for marriage only after the publication of bans, therefore it shall be the duty of every parish priest to impress upon his parishioners their obligation to comply with the requirements of the said book and to discourage the practice of appealing to the civil power for a marriage licence." "It shall be the duty of the clergy to impress upon the people the importance of having all marriages so celebrated in the parish church."

THE WATKIN MILLS CONCERT.

At the opera house last evening a large audience was assembled to hear the Watkin Mills concert. Although this was Mr. Mills' first visit to Nelson a large number of those present have had the pleasure of hearing him in the past in other cities, and all united in saying that his magnificient voice is still at its best. Owen Smiley, the popular entertainer, who also contributed greatly to the success of the evening, is no stranger to Nelson audiences, and his appearance on the stage each time was the signal for an ovation of applause from all parts of the house. Mr. Smiley's humor is so refined and keen, as well as bright and sparkling, that it was enjoyed by all, and he found it hard to get away from the stage with the repeated encores that were demanded. Edward Parlovitz, the clever young Polish pianist, has a most exquisite touch and mastery of the technique of his chosen instrument, and while the class of music chosen by him was such as appealed most to those who have made music a study, all the selections were well received by the audience. In Chopin's Scherzo in B Minor, one of his more familiar selections, his clever fingering was remarkably good. The programme was well selected and arranged. It opened with a pianoforte solo by M. Parlovitz, which was followed by a song by Mr. Mills. Mr. Smiley then gave a musical sketch entitled "The First Piano in Camp," which he was compelled to supplement with several additional selections in response to the encores. One of the best appreciated songs of Mr. Mills was the "Serenade," the words of which were written by the Canadian poet, Professor Chas. G. D. Roberts, the music being especially composed for Mr. Mills by C. H. Porter.

Altogether the concert was a complete success and the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church, who were instrumental in bringing Mr. Mills and his talented associates to the city deserve credit.

HIGHLANDER DEVELOPMENT.

Miners Are Now Working Steadily in Shipping Ore.

Work at the Highlander mine in the Ainsworth camp is progressing very favorably. The company has now a crew of about sixteen men engaged. The main tunnel, which is now in for a distance of some 2200 feet, is being steadily advanced with a view of cutting the second ledge on the property, upon which considerable work was done in the early days of its development, and from which the highest grade of ore was secured. This ledge it is expected will be reached within the next four or five weeks. This ore carries a very small percentage of lead, and is very rich in silver, so that it will make a very desirable mixture for the treating of the ore from the main galena ledge, upon which work is now proceeding.

The drift which has now been run upon the footwall of the main ledge is nown in 500 feet from the tunnel, and the men are working upon a body of clean galena which varies in width from a few inches to three and four feet. It is this clean ore that the property is now shipping, the concentrating ore being held. The miners are now breaking down about five tons of this clean ore each day, which carries about 40 ounces silver and 40 per cent lead.

The management of the property is considering the employment of mules for the hauling of the ore cars from the end of the drift to the tunnel mouth. This will effect a considerable economy in the handling of the ore, as the moving of the empty cars back into the tunnel against the grade, for the length of the tunnel, is becoming very laborious and slow.

SOMETHING ABOUT AFRICA.

Its Railways, Diamond Mines and Gold Fields.

A monograph entitled "Commercial Africa," issued by the United States treasury department, contains some interesting facts, as for instance, that Africa occupies fourth place in the list of the grand divisions of the world in its consuming power in relation to international commerce, the imports of the grand divisions, according to the latest available figures, being as follows: Europe, $8,300,000,000; North America, $1,300,000,000; Aisa, $900,000,000; Africa, $430,000,000; South America, $375,000,000, and Oceania, $325,000,000. Of this total of $11,630,000,000 the United States supplies 5 per cent in the case of Africa, 10 per cent of the imports of South America, 10 per cent of those of Asia and Oceania, 14 per cent of the imports of Europe and 40 per cent of the imports of North America, exclusive of the United States. Railroad development in Africa has been rapid in the past few years and seems but the beginning of a great system which must contribute to the rapid development, civilization and enlightenment of the Dark Continent. Including all of the railroads now constructed or under actual construction, the total length of African railways is nearly 12,500 miles, or half the distance around the earth. The Kimberley diamond mines, about 600 miles from Cape Town, now supply 98 per cent of the diamonds of commerce, although their existence was unknown prior to 1867, and the mines have thus been in operation but about thirty years. It is estimated that $350,000,000 worth of rough diamonds, worth double that sum after cutting, have been produced from the Kimberley mines since their opening in 1868-69, and this enormous production would have been greatly increased but for the fact that the owners of the various mines there formed an agreement to limit the output so as not to materially exceed the world's annual comsumption. Equally wonderful and promising are the great "Witwatersrand" gold fields of South Africa, better known as the "Johannesburg" mines. Gold was discovered there in 1883, and in 1884 the value of the gold product was about $50,000. It increased with startling rapidity, the product of 1888 being about $5,000,000; that of 1900, $10,000,000; 1892, over $20,000,000; 1895, over $40,000,000; and 1897 and 1898, about $55,000,000. Work in these mines has been practically suspended during the war in progress in that section within the past two years. The gold production of the "Rand" since 1881 has been over $300,000,000.

DON'T NEED RECRUITS.

New York, June 12.—It has been stated in the lobby of the house of commons, says a Herald dispatch from London, that an officer of the United States army is at the present time in London enrolling recruits for service in the Philippines from the ranks of soldiers who are returning from South Africa. The matter will be mentioned next week in the house of commons in the form of a question by one of the members.

United States army officials pronounce the rumor ridiculous and absurd, especially in view of the fact that the American army is fast being reduced in numbers in the far east and the soldiers are coming home by regiments.

MILLIONAIRES ARE UNEASY.

Do Not Like the Prospect of Mines Carrying Cost of War.

London, June 12.—Reconstruction in South Africa will soon be begun. The immediate prospect is bright, since the Burghers are fraternising with the soldiers, and there is universal joy over the cessation of hostilities.

The South African millionaires do not conceal their apprehension over the contingencies of the future, when the language in question, as compromised, will tend to reanimate the Dutch elements with ambition, and when the release of the prisoners will strengthen the resources of the intriguers, especially in Cape Colony, where imminent suspension of the Constitution and the administration of the largest South African State by Lord Milner as the direct agent of the Crown, are likely to excite comment. They are naturally pessimistic since the exemption of the land from taxation exposes the mining interests to the certainty of carrying the burdens of the various loyalist indemnities and the slump of South Africans has astonished all.

The reaction of the mining market has been, however, a natural sequel to the prolonged delay in making peace. There was a premature rush to secure profits, and the whole line of securities sagged, carrying consols with them. There is a temporary reaction since the resumption of work in the Rand is now practicable, and since consols must rise when the end of the war prevents further issues, even the Chancellor of the Exchequer is plagued to resume the sinking fund arrangements.

KASLO'S EAGLES.

Kaslo, June 12.—An aerie of the famed Fraternal Order of Eagles has been duy installed here. Mayor Goodenough is the first president, and C. H. Bonner the secretary.

C. E. Sands has been appointed agent for this district of the New York Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Lost Opportunity.

EVERY time a package goes out of your store which does not contain some advertising matter, you are losing an opportunity to make your store the store of the town.

Each package you send out is proof that a sale has been made. Every sale is supposedly of goods that are going to give the customer full value, and are going to give satisfaction. This will create a favorable impression. Every sale proves that some person has shown a disposition to trade with you.

Now this disposition is either great or small. In either case it can be made greater. And one of the most effective methods to bring about this desired effect is to place the advertising matter in the packages you send out.

AT THE DAILY NEWS JOB OFFICE

The police court books and furniture were removed yesterday from the old building on Josephine street to the new quarters in the city hall.

Mrs. H. Bird, who has been spending the past six months in England, is expected back in Nelson today. Mr. H. Bird, who has been at the coast on a short vacation returned Tuesday morning.

In the intended case of R. R. Hedley vs E. P. Whalley, an application was made before Judge Forin yesterday by R. M. Macdonald for permission to serve a writ ex juris for the fore-closing of a mortgage.

In the case of Marino vs Sproat and McInnis, an application was made in chambers before Judge Forin yesterday by R. S. Lennie, acting for the plaintiff, for an order empowering him to sell the interests of the defendant McInnis in certain properties in the Slocan. An order nisi was made.

The city engineer will start the work of repairing the Cottonwood creek pipe line today. The recent freshet took out a number of lengths of the pipe, but it has not been seriously damaged. This is about the only piece of work that the city has in hand.

Complaints are made by the dwellers along the railway track east of Cedar street that some of the engines passing there have no spark catchers, and that frequently hundreds of blazing cinders are showered along on both sides of the railway right-of-way, constituting a great menace to property.

The Nelson licenced victuallers have decided to challenge the victuallers of Rossland to a game of ball upon the first convenient date. There is just one reservation that the local victuallers make, and this is that the game be played on some week day. The local men have been on a still hunt for the past few days and they are of the opinion that they have unearthed a battery that will keep the Rossland mixologists guessing all afternoon.

The men who composed the Liberal lacrosse team on Saturday are anxious to meet the members of the Conservative team in some other contests. They claim that they can run faster, jump farther, kick higher and put the shot farther than any members of the Conservative aggregation, and they are willing to try conclusions and donate the prizes to the Kootenay Lake hospital.

Captain Gore returned yesterday from the upper Columbia where he took the steamer Revelstoke through the rapids above the town of that name to reach the Big Bend country. He states that the rapids were bad, but that the Revelstoke is the best built boat for going through rapids that he ever handled. He also went to the foot of Death Rapids, and is of the opinion that if those rapids are not any worse than the part visible from the foot that it would be quite possible to take the steamer through them also.

At Fernie the relief fund is now being administered by a committee consisting of the Anglican and Roman Catholic clergymen, two members of the board of trade, two miners, the manager of the Bank of Commerce, a lawyer, and an Italian, the latter representing the foreign element. A member of the committee who was in the city said that he could not see how the woman and children whose case was reported in The Daily News could have reached the city in the destitute condition reported. All families leaving Fernie were given tickets to their destination and $25 in cash, and told that when the final distribution of the funds was made that they would get their share. He said that they had little hope of sufficient being raised to meet the needs of the situation.

Word was received in this city last evening to the effect that J. J. Campbell, of the Hall Mining & Smelting Company, had met with a serious accident in Phoenix yesterday by being thrown from his horse. The nature and extent of Mr. Campbell's injuries were not learned at a late hour. Mrs. Campbell will leave for Phoenix this morning.

The pairing for the second draw of the Nelson Quoit club resulted as follows: Thompson, 5 vs Hunter, 12; Nunn vs Watchorn; Irwin vs Watson, 10; Lillie vs Becker, 10; Gillett, 8 vs Bradley, 5; Annable, 15 vs Beer; Wallace vs Hardie, 10; Newett vs Smyth. "Jim" Bowes, of Silverton, was in Nelson yesterday. He says the management of the Fisher Maiden mine have about a mile and a quarter of road to build, and that when this is finished some extensive shipments from the property may be expected. There is already a considerable tonnage at the mine ready to be moved out, and the men who have been handling the ore say that it is as rich as any that has been shipped from the mine in the early days of its development.

Rev. E. P. Flewelling returns home this morning, having curtailed his stay in town in order to escort Mrs. Campbell to Phoenix, where her husband is lying dangerously injured by a fall from his horse.

W. T. Newman, fourth vice grand master of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, will be in town today, and this evening will be entertained at a supper at the Hume hotel by the officers and members of Kootenay lodge No. 588.

GREENSHIELDS IS SATISFIED.

Mackenzie & Mann's Solicitor Talks About the Railway Bill.

J. N. Greenshields, K. C., who has been in Victoria for some months devoting his attention to the interests of Mackenzie & Mann, contractors for the Canadian Northern, has returned to Montreal. Mr. Greenshields says the bill granting the road important subsidies, is all right. It has passed its second reading in the British Columbia legislature, and will, in Mr. Greenshield's opinion, soon become law. There are several minor matters, however, still to arrange which will necessitate a fourth visit to the coast. The bill gives Mackenzie & Mann a subsidy of $5,000 a mile for 630 miles of road, 530 miles of this total distance being on the mainland from the Yellow Head pass to Bute inlet, and the remaining 100 miles being located on Vancouver island, running from Seymour Narrows down to where the new system will join what is called the Dunsmuir railway.

Little as yet has been done in the way of locating the line from the Yellow Head pass to Bute inlet, on the Pacific, but the company had the advantage of being possessed of the information obtained by the government engineers, who had located the C. P. R. when it was first supposed that road would use the Yellow Head pass. There is an immense tract of fine grazing, ranching and agricultural country. One ranch belonging to a member of the present legislature had a branch in this section stocked with 12,000 head of cattle. Business was still unsatisfactory in the province, as there was considerable unrest over the labor question.

MONEY IN COAL.

Big Surplus Earned by the Dominion Coal Company.

Montreal, June 12.—The annual meeting of the Dominion Iron & Steel Company and of the Dominion Coal Company took place here today, the old boards being in each case re-elected. The coal company reported a surplus of $1,057,913, after meeting fixed charges, etc. Both meetings ratified the lease of the coal company's property to the steel company, practically on a basis of an annual payment of $1,000,000 and a royalty of 7 1-2 cents per ton for each ton of coal mined in excess of 3,500,000 tons in any one calendar year. It was announced here it would be some time yet before the steel company would be in a position to turn out the finished product. The rail mill could be put in a position to do business before November, but on account of the condition of the market it had been deemed advisable to complete the other departments before finishing the rail mill. At a subsequent meeting of the steel company's directors, James Ross was elected president, replacing H. M. Whitney, who, however, remains on the board.

A WALL OF WRECKAGE.

Flotsam From the Condor Piled High on Scott Islands.

Victoria, June 12.—The Dominion government steamer Quadra returned this afternoon from a trip along the west coast in search of the missing sealing schooner Hatzic, which is now a month overdue, and has been given up as lost with her crew of five whites and 24 Indians. The Quadra encountered a quantity of wreckage along the coast and brought it down but none can be positively identified as coming from the missing sealer. Captain Walbran reports that in the Scott islands, north of Vancouver island, which are seldom visited, wreckage is piled up to a height of eight feet. Much of this is from H.M.S. Condor, the collier Matteawan, which went down off Cape Flattery, and the Walla Walla, sunk in collision with the French bark Max, off the California coast. The currents set in on these islands, carrying the floatsam of the sea to their rocky shores. The crew of the Quadra were unable to find the human yody said to have been washed ashore on an island but found the body of a sea lion, which may have led to the report that a body had been washed ashore.

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT.

Kittaning, Pennsylvania, June 12.—Two men lost their lives, and a third was probably fatally injured, at Rosston this afternoon, in one of the saddest drowning accidents known in this vicinity. The Bailey and Hilman families, about sixteen in all, left their homes in Rosston, and went to the banks of Crooked Run, a short distance away. While fishing for minnows a line became tangled in a snag. Young Kirk Bailey swam out to see the trouble, and his feet became entangled in the net. Andrew Hilman started to the rescue and he, too, became caught in the net. Dwight Bailey, the boy's father, jumped into the water to aid his drowning son, and also became entangled. Young Bailey and Mr. Hilman were drowned, and Mr. Bailey will probably die. During all the time the men were struggling in the water their wives and families were on the bank in agonizing helplessness.

MILITIA ORDERED OUT.

Salem, Oregon, June 12.—Governor Geer has called out one company of national guard and ordered it to Gervals, where Tracy and Merrill are surrounded. Company F, which has been ordered to Gervais, is composed of about 60 men. About 20 men will proceed at once by wagon to the scene of the expected battle with the outlaws, and the remainder of the company will go by train at 4 o'clock. The posse is making no effort to close in on the fugtives, but will await reinforcements and endeavor to starve them out. Every man who has a gun within a radius of 10 miles has been summoned to join the posse, and pickets will be thrown out in every direction, so that escape will be well nigh impossible.

OFF TO THE CORONATION.

Montreal, June 12.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier left this morning for New York. He sails by the Etruria on Sunday for London. He is accompanied by Lady Laurier, and Boudreault, his secretary.

MITCHELL IS CONFIDENT.

Wilkesbarre, June 12.—"Well, gentlemen, the anthracite strike is complete, and we are going to win."

This emphatic statement was made to the assembled newspaper correspondents by President Mitchell in his office at strike headquarters tonight.

With reference to the soft coal strike in West Virginia, Mr. Mitchell said:

"At present there are 28, 500 mineworkers on strike in the West Virginia fields. Reports from Virginia, where there are 3,600 mineworkers, are incomplete, and I therefore can not say anything as to that state. I think we will win in this state, too. Suspension in West Virginia will cut off a large amount of soft coal that is shipped to the Atlantic seaboard, but there is no connection between the anthracite strike here and the bituminous suspension there."

WANT HISTORY REVISED.

Toronto, June 12.—At the Anglican synod today a resolution was passed demanding the elimination from the history used in high schools of Ontario of the Roman Catholic contention that the English Church dated from Henry VIII.

THE FRANK RAILWAY SPUR.

The contract for the construction of the railway spur from the main line of the Crow's Nest to the Frank collieries is expected to be let on Tuesday next. The spur will be nine miles in length. It is said to be a very desirable piece of work from the contractor's point of veiw and the competition for it promises to be very keen. There are now enough contractors going over the work and in the vicinity of Frank to take care of another Crow's Nest line.

An Affair of PURE BUSINESS

Advertising is not an affair of sentiment and favoritism. It is an affair of pure business, of dollars and cents—as much so as buying or selling goods. Advertisers are after results. They want the worth of their money. They aim to reach not only the greatest number, but also the best class of readers. They advertise where they find it pays to make known their wants and their wares.

To secure the worth of their money in Southern British Columbia, advertisers should use the columns of
