ND OF GREAT STRIKE NEAR

SIGNIFICANT SIGNS OF AN EARLY SETTLEMENT.

PROBABLY BE ALL OVER BY THE MIDDLE OF NEXT WEEK.

Philadelphia, Sept. 30.—Mayor Ausbridge refused today to comply with the request of mayor Maybury of Detroit, to appoint a delegation of citizens to attend a conference to be held there October 9th to devise means for obtaining a reasonable coal supply from the mining regions of Pennsylvania and West Virginia. The mayor's reply follows: "The governor of the commonwealth, clergymen and citizens are actively working for a settlement of the strike in the anthracite coal fields in this state. My judgment is that the differences will be adjusted and work resumed before the date of the conference named."

Mayor Ausbridge contracted today with president Baer, of the Reading company, for 50 tons of coal daily, beginning next Wednesday for use at the Philadelphia hospital and almshouse. The mayor's telegram, and the contract with president Baer are considered significant, coming as they did just prior the visit here of president Mitchell, national secretary- treasurer Wilson, and other officers of the United Mine-Workers.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The president today took initiative steps to ascertain what, if anything, could be done by the federal authorities to settle the coal strike. The result was a rather general expression of opinion by the advisers of the president, who were parties to the conference, to the effect that the federal laws and constitution did not afford means of federal interference to end the strike, but another conference will be held tomorrow, and the president will do all he can properly and legally to bring about a settlement.

Three cabinet officers, attorney-general Knox, secretary Moody and postmaster-general Payne, and governor Crane, of Massachusetts, were present. These gentlemen conferred with president Roosevelt first, and after the subject had been considered for some time, they adjourned to another room and conferred together for an hour. They all returned later in the day and held another conference with president Roosevelt, and the strike situation was discussed further. President Roosevelt is deeply concerned over the situation.

Detroit, Michigan, Sept. 30.—President D. M. Parry, of the National Association of Manufacturers tonight received from president John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, the following telegram in answer to one sent him asking if the mine workers would appoint a committee to meet with a committee from the association to discuss means of ending the strike: "Shall be pleased to appoint committee to confer with committee of the National Association of Manufacturers. Should prefer meeting in the east.—John Mitchell."

In reply Mr. Parry sent Mr. Mitchell another telegram, as follows: "Your committee should represent those in full authority, including yourself. We suggest Buffalo as place of meeting. Any day this week you may designate. Advise number of your committee. Telegraph me here full particulars."

THE CUNARD SUBSIDY.

Conditional Upon Company Remaining a British Corporation.

London, Sept. 30.—The directors of the Cunard steamship company sent a letter to the shareholders tonight, setting forth the terms of the proposed subsidy. It will include payment by the government of $750,000 annually, the company to build two large, fast steamships for the Atlantic trade. The agreement will remain in force 20 years after the completion of the second steamer. The company is to remain a British corporation and an undertaking is to be given not to unduly raise freight rates. The government will lend the money for the completion of the two steamers, charging interest at the rate of 2 3-4 per cent per annum. The loan is to be repaid in annual payments extending over 20 years.

FOR DESTITUTE BOERS.

New York, Sept. 30.—Henry Phipps, of the Carnegie steel company, who gave $100,000 to the relief fund for destitute Boers, arrived home from Europe today. He was reluctant to talk about his gift, but said, "I sent Arthur White, the author, to see Mr. Chamberlain, before I decided what to do, and the answer came back that the gift would be all right. If the situation had been changed and England had been the suffering country, I would have given her the money."

RICH PROVIDENCE ORE.

Greenwood, Sept. 30—(Special to The Daily News.)—The last shipment of ore made from the Providence mine to the Trail smelter brought in nearly $1,800 net to the shippers, or not quite $119 per ton. The shipment was only 15 tons. A car of higher grade ore will be sent out this week. This ore is being taken from the bottom of the shaft, 60 feet down, where the vein is about a foot in width of ore in which free gold can be seen with the naked eye, and it is expected it will run higher than a recent shipment of 43 tons, which averaged $145 per ton.

Several offers have been received by the owners of the Ruby mineral claim, situate within 300 or 400 yards of the Boundary Falls smelter, to take it on a working lease or on a bond with right to purchase. The property was worked last year by some Detroit men, who put a small power plant on it and sent 85 tons of good grade gold-copper ore to the smelter, but got into financial difficulties and could not take up their bond.

SHAMROCKS SUFFER DEFEAT

BEATEN AT NEW WESTMINSTER BY A SCORE OF 10 TO 2.

GAME SAID TO BE FASTEST EVER PLAYED IN B. C.

New Westminster, Sept. 30.—In the lacrosse match played here today between the Shamrocks, of Montreal, and the New Westminster team, the latter won by a score of ten goals to two. The Shamrocks were practically out of the game in the last two quarters, and attribute their defeat to the long overland trip, and a week's want of practice.

A stirring game is looked for on Thursday. Today's game was one of the cleanest and fastest ever witnessed in the province.

BULLETINS

First Game—New Westminster in 3 1-2 minutes.

Second—Shamrocks in 3 minutes.

Third—New Westminster in 6 minutes.

Fourth—New Westminster in 4 minutes.

Fifth—Shamrocks in 12 seconds.

Sixth—New Westminster in 3 minutes.

Seventh—New Westminster in 2 minutes 20 seconds.

Half Time—New Westminster, 5; Shamrocks, 2.

Eighth—Westminster in 6 1-2 minutes.

Ninth—New Westminster in 5 miuntes.

Tenth—New Westminster in 1 1-2 minutes.

Eleventh—New Westminster in 3 minutes.

Twelfth—New Westminster in 2 1-2 minutes.

Score—Shamrocks, 2; New Westminster, 10.

THE FRANK COLLIERY.

Sufficient Development Work Done to Permit of a Daily Output of 2,000 Tons.

S. S. Taylor, K. C., returned on Monday evening from a trip through southern Alberta. He spent some time at Frank visiting the new coal mines. He was surprised at the great progress that has been made in the development of the mines and the fine grade of coal. The property which is owned by the Canadian-American Coal & Coke Mining company, is peculiar in that the coal veins instead of running horizontally as is usually the case in a coal mine, are nearly vertical, which greatly simplifies the mining operations. The lead on which most of the development has been done is over twelve feet in width of clear coal, the main entry being now in over a mile. There are two entries, and two levels above them. Adjoining the lead is an immense lime dyke which having been forced up from below has changed the natural lay of the coal bed to one of 83 degrees. A straight entry has been driven horizontally on this, and a shot fired in the roof brings the coal down by gravity into the main haulage entries. The chambers have been placed perpendicularly one above the other, and the coal is slid down a main shaft. Enough development has been done to permit of turning out two thousand tons of coal per day, but owing to the shortage of cars on the C. P. R., only eight hundred tons a day are being taken out at present. Six beehive ovens have been erected near the mine, and the coking tests made have been most satisfactory. The coal is of such fine quality that it is loaded straight on the cars without screening, and was reported by vice-president White, of the C. P. R., to be the best steam coal on their system. Close on 250 men are employed on the property at present. The railway spur to Grassy mountain, where the Fleutot property is being developed, was finished this week and it is expected that coal will be shipped from there within a few days. Mr. Taylor reported that there was great activity at Michel, which is building up very rapidly.

ERIC SHARP ACQUITTED.

Kingston Boy Charged With Killing a Girl Schoolmate.

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 30.—Eric Sharp, accused of manslaughter for shooting dead his school associate, Beatrice Holland, on April 28th last, was tried this afternoon. The facts of the occurence were detailed by teacher and pupils. The defence was that the shooting was accidental, the lad not knowing the revolver was loaded.

George Creegan swore Sharp knew the weapon was loaded. He had shown witness the weapon at 1 p. m. It was loaded then, as Sharp told him it was. Jessie Garrison, another pupil said there was no ill-feeling between the two, and that Beatrice was a particular friend of Eric's. After being out three-quarters of an hour the jury returned with a verdict of "not guilty." The youthful prisoner was at once discharged.

THE RHODES MEMORIAL.

London, Sept. 30.—Earl Cowper, chairman of the committee which has in hand the erection of a national memorial to the late Cecil Rhodes, announces that the duke of Devonshire, lord Rosebery, earl Roberts, lord Kitchener, lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, and colonel Francis W. Rhodes have joined the committee.

GOSSIP OF GREENWOOD.

Greenwood, Sept. 30.—(Special to The Daily News.)—John A. Macdonald, after more than two years continuous service in the capacity of master mason at the Mother Lode mine, near Greenwood, now that construction work is about completed at the mine, has decided to proceed to Fairview in the Similkameen, where it is likely that, with new mining and reduction plants going in, a good mechanic will find an opening. Mr. Macdonald came from near Toronto, Ontario, and during his residence at the Mother Lode became quite a conspicuous figure at gatherings in Greenwood of free masons and members of the local St. Andrew's society, respectively.

John Thornton, familiarly known throughout the Boundary for many years as "Jolly Jack," left on yesterday's train en route to Kamloops, where he will enter the Old Men's Home. He was accompanied by Thomas McAuley, of Midway, president of the Pioneers' association of Okanagan and Yale, who had been deputed to see the old-time placer miner to his destination. Among others who saw him off at the railway station were James Kerr, secretary of the association, and J. W. Nelson. "Jolly Jack" is 77 years of age. After an apprenticeship on an English collier he crossed the Atlantic to the West Indies and went thence to New York. Later he joined the United States navy, in which he saw service for several years. Then he drifted round the Horn to California and reached Stockton in the spring of 1849. The placer excitement on the Fraser river in 1858 attracted him to British Columbia, and on September 4th, 1859, he saw Boundary creek for the first time. Since then he has joined in pretty well all the western placer rushes within two or three hundred miles of the international boundary line. From Boundary creek he went to the Columbia, below what is now Marcus, in 1860; to Wild Horse creek in 1861; to the Big Bend in 1869; and so on through the years, sometimes on Rock creek or Boundary creek, again in Idaho or on the Little Salmon or the Pend d'Oreille, or prospecting in the Slocan or Lardeau. His life has been one of varied fortune and adventure and even now the old man thinks himself good enough to tackle another rush. But his friends think differently and that, for the time at any rate, he should not continue to live alone in his cabin below Boundary Falls, so they have succeeded in getting him admission to the home at Kamloops.

Reply to Edmund B. Kirby

EDITOR THE DAILY NEWS:—Will you permit me to show that Mr. E. B. Kirby's estimates of the incidence of provincial and dominion taxation on our province's mining err greatly by doubtless unintended exaggeration. Thus the manager of the War Eagle mine first overestimates by at least $550,000, the total provincial and dominion taxation of British Columbia, reckoning this at $5,350,000, instead of a sum which cannot—counting in every possible item—be reckoned at more than $4,800,000. He will find by investigating official statistics, after deducting dominion grants in aid of our taxation, under the terms of confederation and deducting also rents, the proceeds of land sales and a number of other revenue yielding items, that are not taxes, that the provincial revenue claims of the taxpayer not more at a maximum than $1,300,000 a year. The dominion revenue, derived from British Columbia in 1901, was less than $3,800,000 in all and this included more than $300,000 from postoffice and telegraph receipts, land sales and other sources not representing taxes. Hence at the very utmost—and I am in fact rather overestimating—the taxation of British Columbia last year did not exceed $1,300,000 for provincial and $3,500,000 for dominion revenue—together as before stated, $4,800,000, in lieu of Mr. Kirby's estimate of $5,350,000. He doubtless failed to deduct contributions to government revenue, not representing taxation.

On the other hand his estimate of the yearly production of British Columbia at $27,362,580 errs enormously by under reckoning every large item, except that of mining. This a general analysis of the figures would of itself prove. Mr. Kirby's reckoning makes the annual production of the 177,000 people of British Columbia amount only to $154 a head, or less than the minimum necessary to sustain living on a basis little above starvation point, as $154 a year stands for less than an average of 43 cents a day per head of the population. In reality such a production would represent much less than 43 cents a day per caput for subsistence, as a very considerable percentage of what stands for a country's production, does not represent the subsistence of the worker, but stands for interest paid to outside sources, the cost of fuel, machinery, purchase and keep of horses and stock and many other items, unconnected with the food, clothing and lodging of workers and their families. Deducting these offsets, Mr. Kirby's estimate of British Columbia's annual production would in all probability not leave more than 30 cents a day per head for the keep of our population. In fact on Mr. Kirby's figures, at least half our people would need to live on remittances.

This general conclusion as to Mr. Kirby's underestimate of our province's annual production, is corroborated by even the most partial examination of his figures and comparison of them with official data. He is approximately accurate in two items only, those of metal and coal mining, as to which his estimate of a total output of $20,087,000 in round figures accords with provincial returns. In his reckoning of the remaining production of British Columbia, as less than $7,300,000 in 1901, he is vastly underestimating. Thus the production of our fisheries in that year—which he reckons at $3,065,900—must in fact have come to more the sum of rather under $7,300,000, which he reckons as the value of all British Columbia's products in 1901, exclusive of mining yield. The provincial year book for 1901 shows, for example, that British Columbia's fishery output of 1900 came to $6,787,756, when the salmon pack amounted to 606,530 cases as against the more than 1,236,000 cases of 1901, in which year also there was a big increase of halibut and other fishery yield. The salmon pack of 1901, taken at $4 a case—a low estimate—represented in itself a value of no less than $4,945,000 in round figures. In the same year the worth of salmon frozen, smoked and salted, shipped from the province to various points, represented a further value of at least $500,000, and salmon and other fish used for home consumption must have represented, as figures of the year book sufficiently indicate, at least $700,000 more. Halibut shipments stood for at least $200,000. They were $103,000 in 1899, when the fishery was but slightly developed, compared with the vessels of 1901. Then sealskins added to the fisheries output of last year a further sum of at least $250,000. The values of fish products and a host of minor fisheries of the province, enunciated in the British Columbia year book, added largely to the items above given, and it is practically certain that, directly and indirectly, our British Columbia fisheries of 1901 represented a productivity approximately to the $7,300,000 which Mr. Kirby allows for all other industries, except mining. He is thus more than $4,000,000 out in his reckoning of the value of our fisheries in 1901.

In lumbering again he is hopelessly inaccurate in reckoning $1,690,00 as the yearly yield. Thus if he will turn to the dominion census figures of 1891—since when our lumbering has certainly advanced by at least 40 or 50 per cent in output, he will find that the saw mills of the province produced in 1890 $2,212,910 worth of lumber, whilst exclusive of the value of raw material, British Columbia door, sash and blind factories, then made an output of about $690,000. These two items of our lumbering thus yielded so far back as 1890 $2,900,000, an amount which must assuredly have grown in 1901, with the increase of our population and a big increase of our logging, lumbering, and wood manufacturing concerns, to at least $4,000,000. Nor is this all, for there should be added a very considerable value of home got and home wrought lumber that never saw a mill, used for fencing and building in rural districts and a sum of at least $500,000—more probably $700,000 or $800,000—representing cordwood got in the woods for fuel and used in the homes and the industrial establishments of the province. The 7,000 houses of Vancouver and environs must e. g. alone consume nearly $100,000 a year of cordwood, and there are large numbers of industries such as electric railroads, steamboats, gas works, canneries, etc., which consume yearly big values in cordwood. The very lowest estimate of the value of British Columbia lumbering in 1901 must therefore place it at $4,500,000, instead of Mr. Kirby's reckoning of $1,690,000.

In agriculture, horticulture, stock raising and general industrial production Mr. Kirby is again woefully inaccurate. There were in 1901 at least 35,000 persons in our rural districts dependent upon farming, gardening and stock raising and their daily subsistence must assuredly have averaged $180 a year, or less than 50 cents a day for good, clothing and housing. In addition to this, the agricultural population must have produced enough for implements, seed, plants, trees, the purchase of feed for stock, etc., and in many cases for interest on loans, and the cost of transport and marketing of produce. Say that these added, as assuredly must have been the case, at a minimum, only 20 per cent of the lowest possible cost of subsistence of our agricultural population, and the $180 per head must be raised to $216 a head and we get $7,560,000 as the very lowest annual production of our agriculture, horticulture and stock raising. Then there are several thousand people in British Columbia not agriculturists but living in semi-rural districts, who add the proceeds of milk, butter, eggs, poultry and fruit production to their other earnings and home supplies respectively. There must on these items be added to the production of our agriculture and horticulture at least $500,000 a year. In fact, it will not be underestimating the yearly value of the industry at $8,060,000 in lieu of Mr. Kirby's reckoning of $2,520,000 for "agriculture, etc." Let me give a few details in point, as bearing out these figures: Thus the hay yield of our province was as census figures show, in 1890, worth nearly $1,000,000—it must have been at least 50 per cent more in 1901. British Columbia butter represented in 1901 a value of at least $600,000, as four creameries of the New Westminster and Cowichan districts represtively produced in that year some $130,000 worth and these cannot have represented anything like a fourth of the output of the province's many dairy farms. Potatoes, I gather from official returns, must have represented at least $600,000 in value last year. Home produced milk stood for at least an equal value and to these must be added the worth of egg and poultry products, wheat, oats, hay, peas, root crops, livestock, honey hops, fruit large and small (now not only raised for home products but exported to Manitoba and the territories), flowers and shrubs ,etc., etc.

I need only add, to clinch the proof of Mr. Kirby's multifarious inaccuracies, a few data as to the output of the "etcetera" industries of the province which he groups with agriculture and reckons in under his estimate of $2,520,000.

He is evidently unaware that the yearly production of our smithies, ironworks and machine shops far exceeds $1,000,000 a year, without reckoning in the value represented by the iron and steel work done in such establishments as railway car shops, marine railways and ship repair yards. He has not reckoned at least $400,000 a year produced by breweries, and nearly $100,000 by aerated water manufacturers, at least $150,000 a year yielded by tobacco and cigar factories, a like sum representing the output of fruit canneries and pickle and spice factories, and a far larger total standing for sugar refining. He fails also to note a goodly sum representing boat and small ship building, at least $200,000 representing boot and shoe making and leather industries. Nor has Mr. Kirby accounted for the value of our province's flour milling, printing, lithographing and photography, clothing and dress making, bakeries, candy factories and quite a small host of other industries including hunting and trapping, which last in game food, furs and skins, represent a return of several hundred thousand dollars per annum. Mr. Kirby has forgotten also to note that the transport and navigation trade of our province—as export even from mining and transport—employs thousands of our people and produces several million dollars per annum in freight charges, much of which comes from producers and shippers from outside the province. He also omits to note several million dollars worth of new buildings and building additions and repairs, annually added to the sum of provincial production by a host of masons, bricklayers and carpenters. Last, not least, he allows nothing for the value represented by the care of and provision for thousands of annual visitors to and travellers through our province, catering for whom in large part maintains very considerable numbers of British Columbia workers.

The expenditure of tourists and travellers in and through Vancouver and Victoria alone, will represent each year an outlay of several hundred thousand dollars, and there are large like expenditures in many other pleasant parts of our province.

I must now, however, conclude, though I have left unenumerated many items of provincial production and means of livelihood. But I believe that I have sufficiently proved my case and shown that in lieu of the $7,300,000 of annual production attributed by Mr. Kirby to British Columbia industries and avocations, other than mining, the real amount stands for a total that comes very much nearer to $30,000,000.

Hence instead of mining—great as is the industry—standing for nearly four-fifths of the total annual production or value of the associated industries of British Columbia, it represents considerably less than half such value, the real production of 1901 being in round figures as follows:

Mining, $20,100,000; fisheries, $7,300,000; lumbering, $4,500,000; agriculture, etc., $8,060,000; other industries, including such largely remunerative and productive employments as transport, provision, iron and steel works, sugar refining, building and construction, brewing, baking, shipbuilding and repairing, clothing, hunting, printing, etc. $9,000,000. Total, $48,960,000.

The above data are assuredly far nearer the mark than Mr. Kirby's. I believe that they do not err by exaggeration and they quite negative his conclusion that the mining industry of this province is taxed to the extent of 30 per cent of its yearly output value.

NICOLAI C. SCHOU, Vancouver, B. C.

A SUCCESSFUL FAIR.

The opening day of the fair in aid of St. Joseph's school was a grand success. From early afternoon till after 10 at night, the large hall where the fair was held was crowded with throngs of buyers and pleasure seekers, and the committee were well pleased with the results. The decorations of the booths were most artistic. Dinner was served at two long tables, one of which was prettily draped down the centre with cerise veiling, with stands of beautiful flowers at frequent intervals, and at the other table pale nile green and white were the prevailing colors. Today, and for the remaining days of the fair the ladies in charge of the dining room will serve lunch, which will be on from 12 noon until 2 p. m. Dinner will be at 5.30 and afternoon tea, at dainty little tables suitable for two or three, will be served between lunch and dinner.

An added attraction this evening at the fair will be a fortune telling booth presided over by Madam W. Hoffman.

The candy tables and the fancy goods booth seemed to be the specially favored places of resort yesterday, although none of the fair saleswomen could complain of lack of patronage. Musical selections were rendered at frequent intervals during the afternoon and evening by the Misses McConnan, Emerson and Ferland, but it was decided to not hold a regular concert until Saturday evening. Today there will be a fresh assortment of articles on sale.

PASSIONATE POLITICIANS

CHARLES WILSON AND COLONEL PRIOR ALREADY SQUABBLING.

EACH JEALOUS OF THE OTHER'S CLAIMS TO PREMIERSHIP.

Victoria, Sept. 30.—(Special to The Daily News.—)Charles Wilson, leader of the conservative party was in Victoria yesterday. Eberts arriving last night, the object of his visit was to have an understanding with him and Prior previous to the arrival of Dunsmuir, who is due on Thursday, and who, it is stated upon good authority, has given a written promise to resign in Prior's favor on his return from the coronation. To anticipate any definite step Wilson sought some assurance from Prior, and in inner conservative circles last night there were whispered stories of a rupture between the two. It is understood Wilson sought an alliance of Eberts, Prior and himself, but insisted that there should be no more island premiers and that he was the natural head of any future conservative government. Prior flew into a passion and declared that such a proposition was an intolerable illustration of sectionalism and that he repudiated as his leader any man who would make it. He said that such sectionalism was nowhere found in the interior or on the island and that Wilson must voice the opinion of a very limited portion of the province. The two men parted in passion. Conservatives here fear that this squabble will nullify the movement toward party lines and hopelessly divide the party unless the breach is healed.

CRAWFORD BAY IRON DEPOSITS.

George W. Taylor and E. Peters returned Tuesday from Crawford bay, having located a number of claims on a large lead of iron carbonates. They went in last Wednesday from Crawford bay, and although greatly hampered by the weather encountered were most successful in finding what they were sarching for. The lead is one hundred feet wide, and the ore on the surfact is thirty per cent. iron. The strike of the lead is north and south, which is different from the hematite iron leads discovered to the southward of Crawford bay, which run east and west. Messrs. Taylor and Peters were unprovided with any blankets or shelter, and the second day out encountered a snow storm which lasted till over eighteen inches of snow covered the mountains in their vicinity, and in crossing the summits four feet of fresh snow was to be seen.

SULLIVAN MINE TO RE-OPEN.

Cranbrook, Sept. 30.—(Special to The Daily News.)—The Sullivan mine will reopen with a large force of men on the first of October.

The government lots in Morrissey have been sold by auction. The prices realized were very fair.

Great improvements are being made to Wentworth hall (Cranbrook's opera house). Safety exits are being put in and a new stage built.

The East Kootenay Lumber company will commence at once to build a large mill at Wardner. Another mill will be built on the Kootenay near the boundary in the spring. This will bring this company's total number of mills up to six.

MEDALS FOR COLONIALS.

Toronto, Sept. 30.—The Evening Telegram's special London cable says: All officers, warrant officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the British Indian and colonial forces, civilian medical practitioners and others employed in military hospitals in South Africa, all army nurses, also officers, non-commissioned officers and men who have been invalided by reason of wounds received in action, prior ot January 1st, 1902, are to be given South African medals with all the clasps to which they may be entitled.

OFFICIAL SUSPENDED.

Toronto, Sept. 30.—Alfred Macdougall, who has had charge of the collection of succession duties since the passage of the act, has been suspended, the reason being given that his duties have not been properly attended to. It is not yet known if there will be any loss to the province. His books are now under investigation.

IMPORTANT NEWS.

Poplar Point, Man., Sept. 30.—Hon. Geoffrey Howard, son of the earl of Carlisle, and Hon. Arthur Stanley, son of lord Stanley, have gone on a shooting trip to York lodge, as the guests of senator Kirchoffer. They intend to remain the rest of the week.

IN FUTURE WRITE.

Montreal, Sept. 30.—The special arrangements for the transmission of telegrams to the troops in South Africa, through the hands of the adjutant-general at Ottawa will cease on and after October 1st. All messages will then go direct as ordinary telegrams and must be charged for at full rates.

EBERTS HAS RETURNED.

Victoria, Sept. 30.—(Special to The Daily News.)—The sealer Florence M. Smith is shipping a picked crew here for a two years' hunt out of Falkland islands.

Attorney-general Eberts returned last night.

FRANK COLLIERY DISASTER

TWO MEN KILLED, FIVE OTHERS BADLY BURNED.

BURNING GAS ENVELOPED PARTY IN A TOP CHAMBER.

Frank, Sept. 30.—(Special to The Daily News)—A fatal accident took place in the Gebo mines on Sunday evening by which two of the miners lost their lives and five others were more or less burned, one of them seriously. As nearly as can be learned the accident was due to the burning of a flash of gas, which enveloped a party of miners. Two of them were working at the top of a chamber, and when the fire occurred were enveloped for a moment in the flames. They lost their hold and fell down the shaft at the side, a distance of over 100 feet, being instantly killed. The other men were in the chamber and sustained the heat from the burning gas for some moments. The two who were killed were W. Clark and J. Haines, while David Davis is seriously injured. The coroner's inquest into the causes of the death of the two victims is being held this evening.

J. J. Fleutot, who is connected with the Gebo mines, arrived in the city last evening. He said he knew nothing of the particulars of the accident, as the bare news that there had been an explosion in the mines and that two lives were lost had just reached Frank as his train pulled out. He said that the mines at Grassy Mountain had not commenced shipping as yet, pending the completion of the branch line of railway which his company is building in to connect with the Crow's Nest line at Frank. This branch it is expected will be finished in three weeks, after which the shipments from the colliery will be determined solely by the markets which can be reached to advantage, as there will be a larger tonnage available than the management hope to be able to place for a time.

NAVAL OFFICER SUICIDES.

New York, Sept. 30.—Lieutenant-commander W. V. Bronaugh, of the United States navy, committed suicide today on the battleship Kearsarge, at the navy yard, by blowing out his brains with a revolver. His friends believe that he was much worried over his manifold duties as executive officer, which are considered more arduous than those of any other position of rank in the navy. Purnell F. Harrington, captain of the Brooklyn, said: "There is an epidemic of suicide in the navy. As surely as there was ever an epidemic of fever such a thing may occur and cannot be explained. The man had possibly been thinking of old suicides, which were very sad affairs, and then in an unguarded moment the desire to try it seized him and it was all over in a minute." Commander Bronaugh was born in Kentucky, and entered the naval academy in 1873.

THE LATE EMILE ZOLA.

Paris, Sept. 30.—The remains of Zola will be interred in Montmartre cemetery. The funeral will be a civil ceremony, though possibly the body will be accorded the military honors to which the deceased is entitled as an officer of the Legion of Honor. The League of Rights is organizing an imposing demonstration at the funeral, and has issued an appeal for subscriptions to erect a monument to the dead novelist. Among those who signed the register at Zola's house, or sent messages of condolence were premier Combes, a majority of the cabinet ministers, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, Maitre Laborie, colonel Piquart and M. Millerand.

GAVE THEM A PAIN.

Montreal, Sept. 30.—News of the defeat of the Shamrocks by the New Westminster team by a score of 10 to 2 caused a painful surprise to their friends in this city. The Shamrocks' supporters, however, are confident that in the next match the champions will give a better account of themselves.

AN EXTENSIVE TERRITORY.

Montreal, Sept. 30.—United States inspector of immigration Watchorn, stationed in this city, has been notified that his jurisdiction has been extended as far west as Vancouver. It previously only went as far west as the Soo. Mr. Watchorn leaves for Vancouver on a trip of inspection this week.

CHEAP FUEL FOR THE POOR.

Montreal, Sept. 30.—It has practically been decided that if the coal strike continues, the city council will make large purchases of cordwood and dispose of it to poor people at cost price.

DECAPITATED.

Montreal, Sept. 30.—George Laviolette, a street car conductor, while collecting fares today, fell off and the car wheel passed over his neck, severing his head from the body.

JOHN DOTY IS DEAD.

Toronto, Sept. 30.—John Doty, the founder of the well-known firm of John Doty and Co., died here yesterday, aged 81.

FOSTER A SILENT MEMBER.

Wolseley, N. W. T., Sept. 30.—R. L. Borden and his party are here on their way back east. Hon. George E. Foster is now one of the party, but so far has not spoken at any of the meetings.

SQUABBLING ALREADY.

Our Victoria dispatches indicate that trouble has already arisen in the provincial tory camp. The cause is the usual one where tories are concerned—office. It appears that Charles Wilson is not prepared to abide by the terms of his re-appointment to the position of leader. It was understood that his office was to be purely nominal until after the dissolution of the present legislature. But there is prospect of premier Dunsmuir resigning office upon his return from England, and the possibility of colonel Prior succeeding to the position fills his soul with righteous indignation. Charles Wilson is getting on as a politician. His proposition that no island man should in future be eligible for the premiership is a first move to secure for himself that exalted office whenever the people call upon his party to take charge of the provincial administration. No wonder colonel Prior flew into a passion. The audacity of the proposal was enough to rile a smoother tempered man than the colonel.

It would seem to an outsider that Wilson, Prior and Eberts have very short memories. The lesson of the late conservative convention was, or rather we took it to be, that the old element had been politely, but none the less distinctly, told to take back seats. The future guidance of the party in this province was placed in the hands of the younger men, to whom the principles of conservatism as heretofore enunciated were as of nothing worth. There was to be a fresh start, with new leaders and new principles. The choice of John Houston as president of the provincial organization was accepted by the general public as an unmistakable evidence of this desire to be done with old fogeyism. He was to be the real leader, and formulate a policy upon which they could carry the province.

We fancy that Charles Wilson, colonel Prior and attorney-general Eberts will be severely rebuked for presuming to take any initiative in the affairs of the party. They will assuredly be told to behave themselves in future, and to leave the manipulation of delicate party matters to their superiors. Further developments in this domestic squabble will be awaited with amused interest by the public.

TO ENCOURAGE MINING.

The attention of mine owners is directed to the following self explanatory communication from W. A. Galliher, M.P. He is certainly well advised in calling the mine owners together early to discuss matters pertaining to the mining industry, more especially with a view to encouraging the silver-lead industry. As Mr. Galliher states in his letter, there is a divergence of views as to the best means of promoting the industry, and if common cause is to be made at Ottawa, the mine owners must get together, thresh out the whole question, and come to some definite understanding as to what is essential in the premises:

Editor The Daily News:—Owing to some divergence of opinion as to the best means to be adopted for the encouraging of silver-lead mining in British Columbia, I desire that the mine owners fix a time and place for the discussion of this subject, and also as to the admission into Canada free of duty of all mining supplies and machinery not manufactured in Canada, and the lowering of duties on certain other mining machinery manufactured in Canada.

I shall be pleased to attend any such meeting in order that I may have their views thereon to aid me in my endeavor to bring about conditions most favorable to the mining industries in my constituency.

I might add that the views of the boards of trade and smelter men and some of the representatives of large silver-lead mines in my riding on the question are already before the government.

I would like this matter to be taken up in earnest by the mine owners, and to be advised of the time and place of meeting.

By kindly giving this space in your paper, you will oblige,

W. A. GALLIHER.

Nelson, Sept. 30th, 1902.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Grand jurors will not omit the time honored custom of directing the attention of the presiding judge at the assizes today to the state of the court house, and the pressing need of better accommodation.

The drubbing administered the Shamrocks by the cohoes yesterday makes our lacrosse experts anxious for a date to be fixed for the visit to this city of the eastern team.

There is something peculiarly absurd, declares the London Truth, in the idea just carried out at Leipsic of the undraped statute to Beethoven If nude figures of distinguished men are to be encouraged in public thoroughfares, it will add a new terror to eminence. The human mind almost reels at the thought of statutes in Parliament square of lord Salisbury as Apollo, of Mr. Chamberlain as Hercules, of any distinguished prima donna as Venus, and, let us say, of lord Rosebery as Cupid.

DR. PRICE'S Cream Baking Powder

The difference of cost between a good and a poor baking powder would not amount for a family's supply to one dollar a year. The poor powder would cause doctors' bills many times this.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is the most economical in the end, because it goes further in leavening and insures perfect, wholesome food.

When outfitting for camp always take Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder for good health and good food. It makes the finest flapjacks, biscuits and bread.

Never go into the woods away from a doctor with a cheap alum baking powder in the outfit. You want the best baking powder in the world—and it is most economical in the end.

CUTS OUT THE DARK ROOM

WHAT THE LIQUID LENS HAS ACCOMPLISHED.

ALSO PERMITS TAKING OF PHOTOS ON DARK NIGHTS.

The "liquid lens" has not come to America as yet, but from all accounts it is revolutionizing photography abroad, making possible achievements in rapid work that hitherto have been thought to be out of the question. In fact, the new development in photographic art is being hailed as no less a wonder than the Rontgen rays.

For, by using a certain oil between the parts of a rectilinear lens, the refraction is so increased that instantaneous photographs may be made in the ordinary light of a theatre. This is but one of the photographic feats possible. Another is to take a photograph at midnight on a pitch-black night with no apparent light in fifteen minutes. A third is to make a photograph at midnight, with a fair moon, with one minutes' exposure.

Other tested possibilities of this new lens are no less extraordinary. A photograph may be taken in a theatre, the footlights only being used, in a quarter second exposure. In an ordinary room with an exposure of but five seconds, a photograph may be made, with an illumination of but forty-eight candle power.

Never before in photographic history has there been a lens so rapid as this. To the ordinary amateur photographer it will all seem to be fiction, but it is none the less an undoubted scietific fact. The liquid lens is an English invention, the device of Dr. Edward F. Grun, of Brighton, England, who has been working on it for several years, and was led to the experiments that have resulted in its perfection through his work with the microscope.

Dr. Grun's early experiments were made with the idea of being able to photograph stage performances at night. He found that the fastest lens he could get was not quick enough to photograph a play in action; that there must be a halt for an instant, posing the figures and losing the time effect, or else the picture would show movement and blur.

A speedier lens became necessary, and finally Dr. Grun devised it, discovering an oil which, placed between the glasses of the combination of lens, (and not in the air spaces, as first tried), shortened the focus materially. What this oil is the inventor will not say. Its success, however, has been proved by many extremely fine photographs that the doctor has made. It works at a very large aperture and is thoroughly practical, though in actual operation it can only be used for small plates.

THE JEWISH NEW YEAR.

Will Begin at Sundown This Evening—There Will Be Ten Days Celebration.

New York, Sept. 30.—The Jewish people throughout the world will begin at sundown tomorrow evening the religious celebration of the Jewish New Year. It is a feast of marked significance in their religious calendar and is observed by all the congregations throughout the world. Even those whose temples may happen to be without pastors for the rest of the year make it a point that for this occasion the pulpit shal be filled and the members of the congregation brought together.

The year that is ushered in is 5663. It is the new year of the Old Testament, and in the Hebrew tongue is known as Rosh Hoshona. The day is a month later this year than usual. This is due to the fact that the year 1902 is, according to the Jewish calendar, a Leap year. As the Jews use lunar time instead of solar time, like the Christians, they add one month to their year instead of one day.

In America, where the members of the Jewish denominations are divided into the orthodox and reformed congregations, there are some minor differences in the manner of celebrating the occasion. In all of them the ancient ceremony of blowing the shofar, or ram's horn, is still used. In the orthodox congregations, which cling most tenaciously to the old-time ritual, one of the customs is for the men to appear in the temples wearing shrouds to typify the significance of the day as a reminder of death. This part of the ritual is not now used in the reformed temples.

The celebration extends over a period of ten days, ending with the feast of Yom Kippur, or Day of Atonement, another of the most solemnly observed holidays.

THE MERGERS CONFER.

Lord Beresford Was Present at the New York Meeting.

New York, Sept. 29.—A conference of the interests identified with the proposed international shipping combine was held today at the office of J. P. Morgan & Company. Those present included sir Clinton E. Dawkins, Charles Steele and George W. Perkins, of the Morgan firm; P. A. B. Widener, W. J. Pierrie and Henry Wilding, the latter of the Leyland line.

Lord Charles Beresford, of the British navy, was a party to the conference for a brief time. When questioned, the admiral said he had not been asked to participate in any conference, and his visit to Mr. Morgan was only casual. He did discuss the subject off hand with some of the gentlemen named, but could say nothing for publication. One of Mr. Morgan's partners said this afternoon: "There will be no statement about the shipping combination today."

ENFORCING THE LAWS.

St. John's, Newfoundland, Sept. 29.—The colonial revenue cruiser Fiona, with Jackman, minister of finance of Newfoundland, on board, returned here yesterday from a three-weeks' cruise along the French shore. Mr. Jackson visited all the French stations, prosecuting and fining Frenchmen who were guilty of smuggling and other evasions of the laws of the colony. The crusade of the minister of finance was a complete success, and the French have been cautioned that future interference in the law would be more severely punished.

AN IMPRACTICABLE POLICY.

London, Sept. 30.—The members of the United Irish league of Donegal county have adopted resolutions demanding the resignation of Wm. O'Doherty, who represents the seat in the house of commons, because he attended the coronation of king Edward in Westminster abbey. Mr. O'Doherty in his reply declared that he intended to resign and condemned the separation policy of the Irish nationalists as impracticable.

ANOTHER M. P. SENTENCED.

London, Sept. 30.—John Roche, nationalist member of the house of commons for the east division of Galway, wes sentenced to six months at hard labor, for inciting the boycott of land owners.

A NEW COALING STATION.

Victoria, Sept. 30.—The British warship Torch has returned to Adelaide after proclaiming Surrowaw island a British coaling station.

NELSON'S NEWS OF THE DAY

John McLeod, of Nelson, has received the contract for the plastering of the Kaslo hospital.

The total enrollment of the public school for the month of September was 362, with an average attendance of 303.33.

The Kokanee brought down two more car loads of ore from the Nettie L. mine Tuesday afternoon, for the Hall Mines smelter.

There will be a session of chambers at the court house this morning at 10 a. m., at which chief justice Hunter will probably preside.

A number of the ranchers along the Nelson-Granite wagon road are having their land cleared of brush and timber preparatory to putting it under cultivation.

Rev. H. S. Akehurst was among the arrivals last evening to attend the meeting of the executive committee of the Episcopal church, which convenes here tomorrow.

John Harper, who was brought over from Rossland in connection with an alleged insurance swindle, will come this morning before his lordship, the chief justice, and will, it is understood, elect for a speedy trial.

A meeting of those interested in the formation of a Young Men's Christian Association will be held in the mission room of St. Saviour's church, Silica street, on Thursday evening at 9 o'clock. The meeting will be quite informal and all young men are specially invited.

Ontario grapes are continuing to arrive in large quantities, and are in good demand. Since peaches and pears became scarce the demand for apples has greatly improved and large quantities are now being handled through the city dealers. The first sweet potatoes of the season came in this week, and are meeting with a ready sale.

The funeral of Hilton Hunter, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hunter, took place Tuesday afternoon from St. Saviour's church. A large number of the friends of the bereaved parents attended the funeral service, as well as many of the schoolmates of the deceased. There were many floral tokens strewn on the coffin and grave.

A telegram was received Tuesday in the city announcing the marriage of W. H. Bole, of Slocan City, and manager of the Joker mine, to Miss Clara Bennett, of Slocan City. The happy couple left the same evning for a wedding trip to London and other cities of Europe. Mr. Bole was well known in Nelson, and several messages of congratulation were sent to him from his numerous friends in the city.

James Tarry, of Slocan Junction, was in the city yesterday on business regarding his ranch. Mr. Tarry is greatly interested in the project talked of among the ranchers in the neighborhood of Nelson to form a co-operative society, with headquarters at Nelson for the handling of their fruits and other produce. The matter has been mooted several times in the past two years but nothing has been done as yet. It is likely, however, that a meeting will be called shortly at which decisive steps will be taken.

C. Wells, charged with incommoding peaceful passengers on the sidewalk was fined $10 and costs Tuesday morning by police magistrate Crease. It appears that on Monday evening Wells left his watch at a saloon. Some hours later he was in another saloon and spoke to a woman who came in, talking with her for some minutes. She then went out, and at the same time he discovered that his watch was gone. Having forgotten about leaving it for safe keeping elsewhere Wells followed the woman out on Baker street and accused her of the theft in strong language, which resulted in his being handed over to a policeman and having to come up at the police court.

Captain C. W. Busk was in the city Tuesday looking after some shipments from his ranch on Kokanee creek. Captain Busk said that the people along the north shore are now more hopeful of obtaining aid from the government for the completion of their road than they were. Now that the fall and winter is coming on it is extremely inconvenient and sometimes difficult to flag the steamers at night from the ranches and as the evening boats are very frequently from two to eight hours late it is hard to make connections. Mr. Busk related an incident that happened this week to illustrate. A couple of lady friends were up spending the day at his ranch. In the afternoon they heard that the steamers were four hours late, but while they were sitting at supper they heard the Kaslo coming. A hurried move was made to the landing place, but the Kaslo kept on, not coming in, although answering their signal. The reason given later was that it was heavily loaded with ore at the time, and that the Moyie was due about the same time. The Moyie, however, was very late, but took up the passengers when it came along several hours later. As in winter, without a road, the ranchers are entirely dependent for communication either among themselves or with town on the steamers, it can be seen how unsatifactory the present system is, With a wagon road connecting the ranches along the arm this would be remedied to a great extent.

PERSONALS

F. S. Laing, of the crown lands department, left Tuesday morning for a month's visit to eastern Ontario.

Chief justice Gordon Hunter arrived in the city last evening over the Spokane Falls & Northern, to preside at the assizes which open here today.

Rev. Father Welch, of Rossland, was one of the visitors to the fair in aid of St. Joseph's school yesterday afternoon, leaving in the evening for home.

Miss Annie Rath returned Tuesday from Vancouver, where she has been attending the fall term of the Normal school, and will resume her duties at the Nelson public school this morning.

Otto Nase, who has been with Fred Irvine & Co., at Nelson, for the past three years left Tuesday morning for Baltimore, Maryland, to enter a dental college. Mr. Nase during his stay in Nelson was an enthusiastic member of the hockey club and other athletic associations, and will be greatly missed.
