TO REPRESENT LABOR PARTY

Candidate to Be Nominated for Nelson

Choice of Standard Bearer is Deferred

The independent labor party in this city will put a candidate in the field at the coming provincial elections. This was decided last night at a meeting of the party called to consider the advisability of doing so, and the question was finally decided in the affirmative after two votes were taken, the final vote standing 11 to 8.

The first vote showed 15 in favor of running a candidate and 12 opposed. A motion to make this decision unanimous was defeated. Later a motion to reconsider the question was carried and the second vote was as stated, the smaller number of votes cast being accounted for by the fact that many left the hall during the long and desultory discussion on various minor points that intervened between the two ballotings. The meeting was held in the Miners Union hall, and was called to order at 8.30 o'clock by John Matheson, the president, who took the chair. Charles McKay was elected secretary pro tem., and at the request of the chair read the platform of the independent labor party, which is that adopted by the party at Sandon when William Davidson was nominated for the Slocan riding.

The principal planks call for government ownership, the taxation of land values to the exclusion of the products of labor, universal franchise, and the initiative and referendum.

About 30 of the 50 odd present then formally accepted the platform by signing the following pledge:

"I, whose signature appears below, do affirm that I am not at the present time a member of either the conservative or liberal parties, or pledged in any way thereto, and desire to become a member of the independent labor party, and do hereby subscribe my name to that party's platform."

The secretary then explained the objects of the meeting. It was to decide whether the party should nominate a candidate at the coming elections, and if not, which of the two present parties should be endorsed.

It was moved by the secretary and seconded by Mr. Phillips that the party should put a candidate in the field. In the discussion that followed widely diverse opinions were expressed. A. B. Sloan thought it would be foolish to run a candidate, as the party was without funds and organization. O. H. Bell did not think that the party could consistently endorse either of the other two parties.

The secretary, Charles McKay, made the longest speech on the question. Although he had made the motion for parliamentary convenience, he was opposed to it. Of the 900 votes in Nelson only 100 were labor votes, and many of these had been already pledged owing to the lateness of the independent labor party in taking the field. He believed in making a fight if there was a fighting chance, but he could see none here. An educational campaign was of questionable advantage. He believed the best interests of labor would be served by endorsing either the liberal or the conservative candidate, of course exacting favorable terms and pledges.

William Ebbs did not address himself to the motion, but made a strong argument for organization, enthusiasm and unanimity among labor men. "I have been told," said Mr. Ebbs, "that two great corporations are putting up the campaign funds for the two great parties in this fight. If this is true, and I believe it is, where do you come in?"

The voting followed. Only those who had signed the membership roll were allowed to vote, and in the result the motion was carried by a majority of three, 15 voting for and 12 against. A motion to make the previous vote unanimous was defeated.

Nominations were then called for, and after a long interval Mr. Ebbs nominated Charles McKay, who, however, refused to allow his name to be considered on the ground that his health would not permit, and also that he felt there was no chance of winning, and therefore could not put his heart in the fight.

No other names were put in nomination, and the president called for a discussion on the question of raising funds for carrying on the campaign. Several subscriptions were offered, but the speakers continually referred to the previous question and the discussion became heated and at times personal, culminating in a motion by T. H. Rankin, one of the 15 who voted for the original motion, that they should drop the whole thing and go home. On the suggestion of the chairman this was modified to a motion to reconsider the previous question, and in this form was carried.

After further discussion the original motion was again put and again carried by the same majority, the vote this time being 11 to 8.

After this there seemed no prospect of getting any further, as no one had any suggestions as to what should be done next. A motion to adjourn indefinitely was voted down, but a subsequent motion by Frank Phillips to adjourn to meet at the call of the executive committee was carried. The committee was instructed to get matters in shape so that business could be proceeded with promptly, and the campaign inaugurated at the next meeting.

In spite of the fact that there was a division of opinion on the question of the advisability of running a candidate, every speaker announced his intention of actively supporting by work and financial assistance any candidate the party should nominate.

ROYAL CANADIAN REGATTA

ARGONAUTS TAKE FIRST PLACE IN SENIOR FOURS.

WINNIPEGS WIN IN FINAL OF THE JUNIOR FOURS.

[Special to The Daily News.]

St. Catharines, Ontario, Aug. 7.—The Royal Canadian regatta was favored with fine weather today though the course was somewhat slow. The regatta was a wonderful success, there being probably a larger crowd than ever attended a Canadian regatta before. The senior fours brought out the Dons, Winnipegs, and the Argonauts. The Argonauts were a heavy crew selected from their eight, well boated, and the condition of the water favored them. The Winnipeg crew rowed an old boat too weak to carry them properly, and this was made worse by the condition of the water. The Argonauts took first place by four lengths. Time, 7:51.

The first heat of the junior fours between Detroit, Ottawa and Winnipeg was won easily by Winnipeg. Time, 7:59.

The second heat of the junior fours, between the Argonauts, Toronto, Dons, was a runaway race for the powerful Argonaut crew. Time, 8:08.

The final of the junior fours was the last race on the program, and as the first and second crews of the previous heats were allowed to compete, there were four starters, Dons, Argonauts, Winnipeg and Ottawa. The excitement ran high between the Winnipegs and Argonauts, and a good deal of money was bet. The Winnipeg contingent were not discouraged at the defeat of their seniors and accepted everything that was offered. They won out, with the Argonauts second by two lengths.

Race summaries: Senior fours, won by Argonauts, Winnipeg second, Dons third.

Junior fours, first heat, Winnipeg first Ottawa second, Detroit third.

Second heat, Argonauts first, Dons second, Toronto third.

Final heat, Winnipeg first, Argonauts second.

Pair oars, Detroit first, Argonauts second.

Junior doubles, Argonauts first, Detroit second.

Junior singles, first heat, Detroit first, Hamilton second, Don third. Time, 8:44.

CHALLENGER CAN'T BE BEAT

IN ALL KINDS OF WIND SHE OUTSAILS SHAMROCK I.

PARSON CAMPBELL'S PRAISE OF SIR THOMAS LIPTON.

Atlantic Highlands, New Jersey, Aug. 7.—The Shamrocks raced in many kinds of wind today, running and reaching in a shifting breeze. Shamrock III. outsailed her pacemaker by two minutes and six seconds in sailing 15 miles to the outer mark and in beating back by four minutes and nine secods, a total of six minutes and fifteen seconds, elapsed time. The starting time was: Shamrock I., 11:28:45; Shamrock III, 11:29:28. Within three minutes the challenger overtook the old boat and began to leave her astern. The wind was softened, but at noon the old boat caught a freshening stroke of wind from the west and smothering her spinnaker and seting balloon jib cut down half the challenger's lead before the latter felt it. They ran for half an hour without spinnakers and then set them again. The challenger gained slowly. At the turn she gained a lead of a quarter of a mile and once close hauled for the windward threshing a stiffer breeze began to draw away. Half way back the yachts were sailing a pretty race in a ten-knot wind and the challenger crossed the line while the old boat was more than a mile away.

Summary—Shamrock III. 11:29:28; turn, 1:59:58; finish, 4:01:19; elapsed time, 4:31:51. Shamrock I., 11:28:45; turn, 2:02:47; finish, 4:06:51. Elapsed time, 4:38:06.

The Rev. J. R. Campbell, pastor of the London City Temple, was with sir Thomas Lipton on board the Erin today. Proposing a toast to sir Thomas at luncheon he said, after wishing him success, and referring to his popularity in America and England, "An American statesman told me today, that without being a politician, sir Thomas was doing a vast pile of work. That he was helping to foster friendly feeling between the two great nations. I trust that England and America will never be engaged in any more serious warfare than that waged for the possession of a cup."

THE POPE'S CORONATION.

Humble Members of the Faith to Be Admitted to the Ceremony.

Rome, Aug. 7.—St. Peter's is closed while the preparations for the coronation next Sunday are proceeding. Pope Pius has expressed a desire to have as many of the humble members of the faith as possible admitted, and 50,000 tickets will be distributed by the parish priests, Catholic clubs and associations, seminaries, ecclesiastical colleges, monasteries and convents. The remainder of the seats will be reserved for distinguished guests. Only two tribunes have been erected, one for the diplomatic body and one for the Roman aristocracy. The body of the church will be divided into compartments with separate entrances. From the Venetian provinces they are already leaving by thousands to attend the coronation of "their pope."

A SPOKANE ELOPEMENT.

Dentist Deserts Wife and Children for a Young Girl.

[Special to The Daily News.]

Spokane, Aug. 7.—A sensation in high life was sprung today in the elopement of Dr. W. F. Dunlop and Kathrine Wykoff, a pretty eighteen year old girl. Dr. Dunlop is a prominent dentist and society leader, and Kitty was in his employ. The doctor left behind a wife and two children. He sold out his business to his partner previous to his departure and spread a report that he was going to Germany to study. Instead he went to Seattle with the girl, where they were last heard from.

END OF STRIKE IN ODESSA

RUTHLESS METHODS OF RUSSIAN GOVERNOR.

SERIOUS FOOD RIOTS NARROWLY AVERTED.

London, Aug. 7.—The Times this morning prints a dispatch from Kieff, Russia, dated August 1st, which says that general Arsenieff, governor of the district of Odessa, and the mayor of Odessa, together with a committee of influential citizens, have induced the tramway strikers to resume on the distinct understanding that their grievance will be considered and concessions granted.

General Arsenieff received instructions on July 30th from St. Petersburg enjoining him to refrain from active interference with the men, provided they maintained order and obeyed the police. In the event that the mob became recalcitrant he was directed to have the troops fire blank cartridges, and then, if necessary, three rounds of ball cartridges.

The correspondent says the strikers made no serious attempt to resist the police and that general Arsenieff's actions in the alleged riots are freely condemned, as unwarrantably precipitated. He says: "This collision caused a feeling of pain and indignation over the ruthless methods of Russia's strong man, Von Plehve, to whose above mentioned instructions it was due."

The Standard's Odessa correspondent, under date of August 2nd, says that all the trades have now resumed work, that the strike is practically ended, but that the city will remain under martial law for at least another ten days. The strikers did not get all they demanded, but in most cases, were met with fair spirited compromises on the part of the employers. According to the correspondent the local Odessa papers on the day the dispatch was sent, announced that the governor had issued a statement to the effect that he had summarily convicted 71 persons and had sentenced them to three years' imprisonment for disturbing public order. The names given include many Jews and a few foreigners. The strike ended just in time to avert serious food riots, as the high price of provisions led to popular threats to storm the bakeries and flour mills. There have been a few fatalities, but no serious disorders. It is stated that while the strikers were trying to prevent a train starting Saturday night, four of the strike leaders were run over and killed.

Ottawa, Aug. 7.—Finance minister Fielding in the house today brought up the resolution giving $15,000 each year for three years, $10,000 for the fourth year and $5,000 for the fifth year to procure cable news from Britain. He said the service would be open to all newspapers in Canada. The money would be paid over to the press association which would be formed to look after this. All details would be handled by the association, which would be required to expend an equal amount of money to that contributed by the government. The resolution was adopted and a bill introduced to assist in the establishment and maintenance of an independent service.

THE PACIFIC CABLE.

[Special to The Daily News.]

Vancouver, Aug. 7.—(Per SS. Aorangi)—Sir Edmond Barton has received a letter from Mr. Seddon, premier of New Zealand, protesting against the agreement with the Eastern Extension company, which is inimical to the Pacific cable. Mr. Seddon urges the federal government not to enter into the agreement and contends that the contemplated changes should not be made without the consent of the contracting parties to the Pacific cable agreement.

THE SITUATION IN MACEDONIA

No Immediate Prospect of an Outbreak

Revolutionists Lack Funds for Campaign

London, Aug. 7.—Confidential official reports received at the foreign office regarding Macedonia have caused the British government to adopt the view that the situation is not very serious for the moment, although sufficiently so to warrant the taking of precautions. The Porte is looked to to re-establish order in Macedonia, and the British officials do not believe that the Turks contemplate an attack upon the Bulgarians.

As far as officials representing the Balkan states are aware, the Macedonian committee does not possess sufficient funds to inaugurate a successful revolution, but it is hoped by continuing the existing lines, to ultimately bring about the interference of the powers which signed the Berlin treaty.

According to dispatches from Vienna last night the Macedonian central revolutionary committee had fixed August 31st as the date for a general rising and had appointed Borris Sarafoff commander of the revolutionary forces.

Borris Sarafoff, whose name has been prominent in recent uprisings in Macedonia against the Turks, has been described as the most romantic figure in the Balkans. He was popularly believed, and stated to be the real instigator of the abduction of Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary, from the Vilayet of Salonica in September, 1901, in order to procure through her ransom funds to enable the Macedonian revolutionary committee to organize the insurrection in Macedonia.

The London papers print mail letters descriptive of the Macedonian situation dated the latter part of July, which indicate that the committee was vigorously preparing for an uprising with the close of harvest. The members of the committee, according to these advices, have been vainly hoping for an outbreak of war between Bulgaria and Turkey, or some other sensational occurrence, such as a massacre of Christians, to give them an opening, but nothing has happened, and although the situation is critical, it is just possible that the committee may still further postpone the date of the outbreak.

Meanwhile the Turks are more ready than ever to strangle any rising at its birth. The imperial troops, poorly paid, and poorly fed, exasperated by the prolongation of the crisis and the necessity of incessant duty night and day, owing to the threats of the Turkish population to pillage Bulgarian houses, and murder their occupants as revenge for the depredations of roving Bulgarian bands, are preying on the peasantry and would indulge in barbarities upon the slightest pretext.

According to these mail advices, despite the combustible appearance of the situation, it is declared that an unanimous insurrection of the Macedonian people is quite impossible, as the Turks have the advantage in numbers and arms over the Bulgarian bands, and any attempt at such an insurrection would merely be the signal for the massacre of innocent peasantry. The Times' Sofia correspondent says that the Bulgarian government is determined to maintain a loyal attitude toward Turkey by preventing ammunition for the insurgents from passing across the Bulgarian frontier to Macedonia.

Constantinople, Aug. 7.—News received here as to the extent of the Bulgarian revolutionary movements in the Vilayet of Monastir is conflicting. In consular dispatches from Monastir, which were received this morning, the opinion is expressed that the insurrection broke out a fortnight earlier than its chiefs intended, and before the bands were in readiness presumably, because the leaders were disconcerted by the active preventative measures adopted by the authorities. The Bulgarian inhabitants in a number of villages have fled to the mountains for refuge. The railways have asked that the troops guarding the lines be quadrupled, but this would entail the employment of 20,000 soldiers, and in view of the impoverished treasury the governor will find it impossible to comply with the request. In spite of reports to the contrary, it is confidentially believed in well informed circles that the Porte in conformance with its formal declarations will apply regular troops to suppress the insurrection as it is well aware how important it is for Turkey to avoid excess, such as certainly would be the outcome of the employment of undisciplined Albanians or other irregular soldiers. The diplomats here entertain no doubt that the Porte will continue its present policy of fighting the bands with regulars. Of the eight batallions of infantry dispatched to Monastir three will occupy the heights of Peristeri to the westward of Monastir and one will go to Florina, a town of 11,000 inhabitants, 17 miles southwest of Monastir. The Porte has sent categorical instructions to the valis of the Armenian provinces of Asia Minor holding them personally responsible for any Kurdish excess and ordering vigorous measures to be taken to prevent fighting. The British vice-consul at Bitli has been ordered to proceed to Mush, 80 miles south of Erzeroum, where the Armenian massacres between Kurds and Turks occurred in 1894 to investigate the situation there.

A RECORD RUN.

Crossed the Continent in 73 Hours and 21 Minutes.

Los Angeles, California, Aug. 7.—At 1 o'clock this afternoon the special bearing Henry P. Low, chief engineer of the United States Steel Corporation, drew in at La Grange station, having completed a run from the Atlantic to the Pacific, a distance of more than 3,200 miles, in the fastest time on record.

Mr. Low left New York on Tuesday, August 4th, at 2.45 p. m., and arrived in Los Angeles 73 hours and 21 minutes later, one hour and twenty minutes more than three days of actual running time, which includes the three hours gained by running from east to west.

CIRCUS TRAIN TELESCOPED

TWENTY-THREE MEN KILLED AND TWENTY INJURED.

A TERRIBLE DISASTER ON THE GRAND TRUNK.

Durand, Michigan, Aug. 7.—Wallace Brothers' circus trains were wrecked in the Grand Trunk yards here early today and 23 men, mostly employees of the circus, were killed outright. Twenty more were injured, some fatally.

The show was travelling in two sections over the Grand Trunk tracks from Lansing to Lapeer, and the accident, it is said, was caused by failure of the second section of the train to stop on time. The second section of the train crashed into the front train at full speed. The engine of the second and four cars of the first section were completely demolished. Much valuable property was destroyed, and the loss to the circus people will probably be very heavy. Some of the victims were railroad people attached to the train. These include trainmaster J. McCarthy, of the Grand Trunk. Some of the animals were killed. The scene after the collision was appaling. The wreckage was strewn about and piled high. The shrieks of the injured and the bellowing of the frightened animals could be heard above the hiss of escaping steam and the excited shouts of the rescuers. It was some hours before the injured were rescued from the wrecked cars. Some of them were in terribl agony, and it is thought that more will die.

A wrecking crew was on the scene in a very few minutes. All the physicians and trained nurses in town were sent for, and those of nearby places were rushed to the scene on hand cars. The hotel Richelieu was converted into an hospital and scores of volunteers with stretchers were in readiness. The dead, many of them so terribly mangled that identification seemed impossible, were laid on grass a short distance from the scene. By 6 o'clock a corps of 12 physicians was at work. Four of the injured died at the hospital.

When the wrecking crews had finished 17 dead were lying on the grass waiting removal to the morgue. The circus performers on the rear of the moving train all escaped injury. Wallace Brothers say that their loss will be very heavy, but have given no estimate of it as yet. This is the second wreck that the Wallace shows have suffered within a month.

Engineer Percy, fireman Collier and head brakeman Benedict, who was also on the engine of the second, say that if the brakes had worked there would have been no collision. Fireman Collier and brakeman Benedict jumped, but engineer Percy remained at his post trying to get the brake to work, until his train was within less than 100 feet of train No. 1, then he jumped. He was shaken, as were the fireman and brakeman. None of the crews of the trains were hurt.

General manager McGuigan, of the Grand Trunk system, was on his way from Chicago to Montreal, and arrived on the scene on the passenger train at 7 a. m. He immediately took charge of the work of clearing the track and caring for the injured and dead.

The official report of the accident issued this afternoon by superintendent W. G. Brownlee says:

"The proper danger signals were displayed by the brakeman of the first section, who had been sent back three-quarters of a mile, with lantern, fusees and torpedos. The engineer of the second section answered the signals and claims to have made application of the air brakes, but found that the train was not charged with air and was unable to stop, colliding with the rear end of the first section, demolishing the rear cars and one coach, in which canvass men or laborers were asleep, two stock cars, one containing camels and elephants and the other horses. Trainmaster McCarthy, chief special officer Large, special officer Foley and foreman of locomotives Hazell were reading in the caboose. The first two were killed outright and the others were seriously injured. Nineteen circus employees were killed instantly and three were seriously injured. Two of them have since died. Nine more were seriously injured and there were numbers badly scratched and bruised. Engineer Percy states that the air brake worked all right at Lansing, where he took water, and that he had no occasion to use it again until he was flagged west of Durand, when he found the train was not charged with air. The five sleepers in the rear of the second section were found standing about two coach lengths from the end of the train after the accident. The draw head in one of the cars was jammed in, indicating that it had been broken apart by the accident and rebounded when the train stopped, which is evidence that the brakes were not applied."

The dead are: James McCarthy, trainmaster Grand Trunk road between Port Huron and Battle Creek; A. W. Large, special officer Grand Trunk, Battle Creek; John Purcell, Peru, Indiana, boss canvasman; Lafe Lorson, Cambridge, Ohio, six-horse team driver; G. Thomas, residence unknown, member of stake and chain gang; Harry St. Clair, residence unknown, reserved seat man; John Lesey, Springfield, Illinois, boss of ring stock; Andrew Howland, New York, canvasman; Frank Thorpe, Dundee, Michigan, trainmaster of circus train; Robert Rice, residence unknown; Geo. Smith, residence unknown; Charles Sand, Peru, Indiana; Joseph Wilson, Pittsburg; W. J. McCoy, Columbus, Ohio; unknown man, driver of band wagon; unknown man, said to be from Indianapolis, rider in circus races; unknown man, said to be from Louisville, four-horse driver; unknown man, four-horse driver; unknown man, suffocated to death. Eight unidentified dead are also at the hospital.

KING EDWARD LODGE, A. F. & A. M.

[Special to The Daily News.]

Phoenix, Aug. 7.—King Edward lodge, No. 36, A. F. & A. M., was instituted here last night with about 30 members, the installing officers being the most worshipful grand master, C. Ensor Sharp of Esquimalt, and J. H. Schofield, of Trail, the district deputy grand master. There were present brethren from Eholt and Grand Forks, and after the ceremonies a supper was served in Masonic hall. The lodge has been organized for about two years, and has been working under dispensation up to the present. The following officers were installed: Worshipful master, W. G. Fraser; senior warden, George E. Dey; junior warden, E. J. Allen; secretary, G. W. Rumberger; treasurer, J. H. Trevorrow; senior deacon, R. B. Boucher, junior deacon, H. A. Wright; senior steward, W. S. Macy; junior steward, R. S. Fraser; tyler, J. Swanson. The visiting officials also instituted Harmony lodge, No. 37, at Grand Forks, on Wednesday evening, and this evening paid a visit to the Greenwood lodge.

RICH POPLAR CREEK ORE

BROUGHT DOWN BY W. B. POOLE ON VIEW AT THE HUME.

WORK TO BE STARTED SHORTLY ON THE LUCKY JACK.

W. B. Poole, the well known Lardeau mining man, who has just completed a deal for the purchase of the Lucky Jack group at Poplar creek, arrived in the city last evening.

Mr. Poole is one of the principal owners of the Oyster-Criterion and Ophir-Lade groups, and his visit here is in connection with the extensive plants now being put in at these properties. Mr. Poole brought with him a number of remarkable specimens of rich ore which have been placed on exhibition in the Hume hotel cabinet, where they are attracting a great deal of attention. One lump, which is slightly smaller than a man's hand, is fairly glittering with gold, which sticks out from it at every corner. Another large sample has little knobs of gold protruding which would weigh from half an ounce to an ounce each. The rock is a white or red quartz, full of fine fissures in which the gold lies in threads. Where these cracks cross the gold occurs in nuggets, and altogether the samples explain a great deal of the excitement now centering at Poplar creek.

While very little work has been done on the claims at Poplar creek, the owners being too busy prospecting to learn all they can about the huge treasure beds which are undoubtedly located there, this is soon to be remedied. Work will be started shortly on the Lucky Jack with a large force, and although no definite arrangements have been made as yet, a mill located on the claim will be one of the first things to be put in by Mr. Poole to handle the ore taken out in the course of development work. Deals are talked of in connection with the Magnussen claims and two other of the richer properties so far discovered, and if these go through they will also be developed at once.

Mr. Poole is thoroughly familiar with the district, in which he has always had the greatest faith ever since he first went in. He has been connected now with nearly all the first-class properties in the Lardeau that have come to the front in the last year, and has studied the country closely.

On the Marquis and Gilbert claim, where the first big discovery was made on Poplar creek, the owners have now got a shaft down on the lead about 15 feet, and the values in the rock continue as good as ever.

Rumors are now going the rounds that the Lardeau railway is to be extended this season from Trout Lake to Thompson's Landing, although the foundation on which such rumors rest is still very slight. Several of the contractors who took part in the building of the line are reported to be on their way up now to look over the ground. The railway at present only runs as far as Gerrard, connecting with Trout Lake by a steamer in the summer, communication being blocked, except by wagon road to Thompson's Landing, during the winter months.

Camborne and the various rich mines in the Lardeau are as yet all cut off from railway facilities and an immense lot of unnecessary expense is being incurred in getting supplies and machinery in at present. Poplar creek being south of Gerrard can be reached from Nelson by steamer and rail all the year round, but the other camps further north are closed in by the ice for a great part of the year.

AUSTRALIAN LEGISLATORS

Indulge in Personalities and Fistcuffs

Scene in New South Wales Assembly

[Special to The Daily News.]

Vancouver, Aug. 7.—Advices by the Aorangi from Sydney, N. S. W., this morning, tell of a disgraceful scene in the colonial assembly, as a result of which three members have resigned.

The trouble occurred while T. Griffith, a remarkably peaceful member, was speaking on the censure motion.

John Norton had earlier in the evening greeted the attempts of opposition members to catch the speaker's eye with cries of, "Get back to your holes, you rats." Some interjection by Mr. Broughton, in the course of Griffith's speech, drew from Norton the words, "He's better than a rat," to which Broughton promptly replied, "Yes, and better than a social leper," after a pause adding, "You're a social leper."

Members were instantly on their feet, when Broughton, looking directly at Norton, said, "You're a —— —— cur."

In the disorder that followed Norton, almost unnoticed, crossed the floor of the chamber and struck Broughton several times in the face with his fists. The attack, which was joined in by two other members, caused great excitement and Norton was immediately dragged away by members and "named" by the speaker.

Premier sir John See, in moving to suspend him for the remainder of the sitting, hoped that such an incident would never occur again.

Mr. Carruthers said that the incident should help to put a stop to that language, to which they were becoming accustomed, and Mr. McGowan, leader of the labor party, followed in a similar strain. The motion was agreed to and Broughton was then adjudged guilty of contempt. An apology from him was not accepted. The incident closed by Griffith, who had the floor, concluding his speech with the dramatic announcement that as soon as the debate was over he intended to place his resignation in the hands of the speaker. He had, he said, witnessed scenes in the house that would disgrace any back country municipal council.

OTTAWA IS STORM SWEPT

A CYCLONE STRUCK THE CAPITAL YESTERDAY.

WALLS OF SAWMILL POWER HOUSE BLOWN DOWN.

Ottawa, Aug. 7.—A terrific electric storm accompanied by a wind of cyclonic force, swept down the upper Ottawa and over lake Deschene and struck the city with awful force this afternoon.

At Deschene, seven miles from here, the walls of the power house of the big sawmill under erection were blown down, and James Campbell, boiler maker was killed; Joseph Valiquette, boiler maker's assistant, had his back broken and will die; John Chugg, a lineman, was seriously injured, but will recover. Other employees were also injured, but only slightly. The plant was owned by the Fraser company. The loss is estimated at $10,000.

At Britannia-on-the-Bay, across from Deschene, the storm caught four young men in a yacht, who had a narrow escape from drowning.

FROM THE SOUTHERN CROSS

IMMIGRATION OF AUSTRALIANS TO THE CANADIAN PRAIRIES.

FIRST PARTY OF PRACTICAL FARMERS HAS ARRIVED.

[Special to The Daily News.]

Vancouver, Aug. 7.—While thousands of stalwart and stout hearted settlers are daily going into the Canadian prairies from "across the border," and across the old Atlantic, it has remained for a party of 12, headed by J. T. Donaldson, late of Christchurch, New Zealand, to inaugurate an emigration for the harvesting from the land beneath the southern cross.

With the exception of Mr. Donaldson himself, all his little company, which came by the Aorangi today, are from New South Wales and Victoria. They are practical farmers, but have found continued droughts and bad times in the sister colonies too discouraging, and propose so soon as they prove Canada as pictured, to bring their families over and permanently settle.

On their report will depend a considerable Australasian exodus now in prospective.

LAURIER AND ONTARIO.

The redistribution of seats in Ontario is not pleasing to the conservative press of that province. Certain papers wilfully ignoring the fact that a shameless gerrymander was perpetrated in Ontario by the conservative government in order to "hive the grits" now resent very bitterly the attempt being made by a liberal government to undo that wrong.

Fair arguments with which to oppose the bill now before parliament not being available, resort is had to appeal to racial animosities. One conservative paper seeks to prove that sir Wilfrid Laurier has always been animated by hostility to Ontario. In support of that baseless assertion it charges that when the provincial boundary question was up for discussion, "he protested against the settlement by law, instead of by compromise, on the ground that a legal decision would give the province more territory than his own narrow view led him to believe we ought to have."

In the light of historical facts the accusation is absurd, and independent newspapers like the Toronto News frankly point out that the opposition to the ratification of the boundary award came mainly from the Bleus of Quebec. Sir John Macdonald willingly or unwillingly, surrendered to their demand, and, as we know, threatened that not one acre of land, one stick of timber, or one lump of mineral in the disputed territory should ever belong to that province. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was bitterly attacekd in Quebec because he stood for the ratification of the award. He was denounced by the Bleus as a traitor to his race and his province. So strong a feeling against ratification was roused in the French province that many French liberals deserted Mackenzie, and Blake and Laurier ,and voted with sir John Macdonald and the Bleu contingent. But sir Wilfrid Laurier stood firmly by Ontario. In one of his speeches he said: "If you deny Ontario the boundary she claims, she may deny Quebec her northern boundary, and those sectional cries, which at one time were thought to be forever destroyed, would be renewed. The question having been settled, ought to remain settled. There is no occasion to open it anew. I do not fear the appeal that will be made against me in my own province on the vote I intend giving. I have no hesitation in saying this award is binding on both parties, and ought to be carried out in good faith. The consideration that the great province of Ontario will be made greater, I altogether lay aside as unfair, unfriendly and unjust."

It will be hard to convict sir Wilfrid Laurier of hostility to Ontario upon this, or, indeed, upon any other question. The charge of racial bigotry or of dislike for the English provinces does not lie against the prime minister. In his long war against the Ultramontanes, in his attitude on the Ontario boundary, in the battle against the coercion of Manitoba, in the adoption of the British preference, in the dispatch of contingents to South Africa, he has voiced British rather than French-Canadian feeling. Only in his attitude toward the two Riel rebellions has he represented the dominant sentiment of his province, and no one now denies that the half-breeds had substantial grievances. These grievances probably did not justify armed revolt, but they were hardly less serious than the causes which provoked the abortive rebellion of 1837 in Upper Canada. It is significant that sir Wilfrid Laurier is persistently attacked by his political opponents in Quebec on the score of excessive consideration for the English provinces and neglect of the interests of his French compatriots.

A NEW NATIONAL POLICY.

No exception can be taken to the opinion expressed by the Montreal Herald that the liberal government's agreement with the Grand Trunk Pacific company marks a new development of Canadian policy toward railway enterprises.

That the government has safeguarded the country's interests in every particular where attack might be anticipated is abundantly manifest. The security for the bond guarantee is to be found in mortgages which may be foreclosed by the government in case of default. The company, in consenting to government control of rates has placed a tremendously powerful weapon in the hands of the administration—a weapon which can for all time be used to protect the people against extortion by this company or by its rivals. The running powers over the line reserved to other companies mean, for one thing, that the country will be protected against the demands of these companies for subventions to new roads. The G. T. P. is bound to provide shipping accommodation at Canadian Atlantic and Pacific ports. It accepts the proposition of the government that the aid extended to it is given for the purpose of encouraging the development of Canadian trade, and the transportation of goods through Canadian channels, and it binds itself to loyally live up to these conditions. It agrees to purchase all material possible in Canada, and to deposit five millions of dollars with the government as guarantee for the carrying out of its pledges.

Heretofore the railway promoter has gone to parliament with demands, too often granted, which meant that the country, or the country and the bondholders should build the proposed road. All that the government has attained in the past under the policy followed has been the opening up and development of the country. The G. T. P. proposes to open a new territory to settlement, and to give Canada a new national highway. It might not unreasonably ask that the policy followed toward less important enterprises be pursued in its case. But instead of doing so, the government strikes out on new lines, bolder, more patriotic, more businesslike. It says to the company, "Yes, we will assist your very worthy enterprise. We will build part of the road, and instead of giving it to you as our predecessors gave $35,000,000 of government built road to the C. P. R., we will retain it ourselves. We will not give you an acre of land. We will not exempt you from a dollar of taxation. We will make you pay interest on the cost of the road we propose to lease to you. We will retain absolute control of your charegs of freight carriage. We will compel you to give running powers over your whole line to any company we designate. We will insist that you carry your freight to Canadian ports, and there furnish shipping to carry it across the ocean. We will take mortgages on your road and rolling stock as security for the fulfillment of your obligations. We will insist that you deposit with us five millions of dollars as earnest of your good faith. And if you agree to do all these things we will guarantee your bonds to a sum equal to three-quarters of the money you invest—a guarantee which we are convinced will impose no liability on us—and we will give you a bonus which we estimate will approximate thirteen millions of dollars, or rather less than the surplus of dominion revenue over expenditure last year."

Here we have a new national policy in truth. A policy in its very essence Canadian, that makes for Canadian solidarity, Canadian development, Canadian commercial independence, Canadian nationality. A policy that, in the large, must commend itself to the Canadian people, for it proposes to accomplish these great things at a minimum of cost, and in a manner which will secure to ourselves and to succeeding generations, the advantages that must flow from the abandonment of the short sighted methods of the past, and the adoption of plans that will meet the needs of the present and safeguard the interests of the future.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Senator Macdonald has achieved fresh notoriety. This thoroughly typical Victoria tory some time ago laid it down as good conservative doctrine that Chinese were needed in British Columbia to keep organized white labor in subjection. He made this declaration of principle on the floor of the senate, in support of his leader, sir Mackenzie Bowell's attack upon the bill to raise the per capita tax upon Chinese from $100 to $500. The senator has now gone on record as being opposed to the construction of a new transcontinental railway, notwithstanding the fact that British Columbia stands to gain enormously by its construction without having to contribute a dollar in cash or an acre in land to the cost. He has given notice of a resolution condemning the scheme in which the following passages occur: "That this house should object in the most unqualified manner to railways being constructed and operated by governments. . . That the necessity does not exist for the government proceeding with the proposed railway." Here we have a representative and influential British Columbia conservative giving away his party's real attitude on the question of government ownership of railways. Senator Macdonald must be altogether too frank to please an element in his party which today seeks to persuade the electorate that conservatism has been born again and no longer stands for the aggrandisement of the privileged few at the expense of the masses.

The Vancouver World effectively answers the absurd statements of its local conservative contemporary, the News-Advertiser, in reference to the proposed amendments and additions to the provincial liberal party's platform. "Liberals do not maintain that every plank that was ever put into their platform must remain for all time to come as the basis on which they are to appeal to an intelligent electorate. If they did that they would not be a progressive party. If they did that their only course would be to unite with the staid and circumspect conservative party whose blood is stagnant, and whose policy is mildewed. The efforts which the liberal representatives yearly and daily and hourly make in the advancement of their country's interest are bearing fruit ,and as bit by bit the great work they have in hand is done, and as stone by stone the social fabric is reared nearer will come the millenium for this great country. Liberals of British Columbia wherever they are situated are rendering the greatest service to their country in their power when they meet and deliberate on those great questions which should receive the attention of every patriotic person in this campaign. Whatever makes for the advancement of British Columbia should obtain serious consideration. Whatever will promote the peace and prosperity of her people should be contended for. And this whether the occasion arises in the first or the eleventh hour. For whatever is beneficient should be fostered by all conscientious liberals, the mantle and cloak of whose belief is wide and big enough to enfold all that is good."

[Special to The Daily News.]

Victoria, Aug. 7.—F. M. Rattenbury, architect, has an advertisement in today's official Gazette inviting tenders for the erection of a court house in Nelson. It is understood here that the government have no intention of beginning work yet a while, the only object in calling for tenders at the present time apparently being to influence the political situation.

A WELL KNOWN ALBANY MAN

Recommends Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

About eighten months ago Mr. W. S. Manning, of Albany, N.Y., widely known in trade circles as the representative of the Albany Chemical Co., was suffering from a protracted attack of diarrhoea. "I tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," he says, "and obtained immediate relief. I cheerfully recommend this medicine to those similarly afflicted." Sold by all Druggists and Dealers.

THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS.

Dr. Parkin, the Commissioner, Gives His Conclusions.

Capetown, South Africa, Aug. 7.—Dr. George Robert Parkin, principal of the Upper Canada college, Toronto, who was appointed to prepare a plan for the allotment of the Rhodes scholarships delivered an address here yesterday upon the general result of his consultations in Canada, the United States and Africa. His conclusion is that the scholars should not go too early to Oxford, but as mature graduates, who would be able to add Oxford culture to the full training received in their own countries.

VALUABLE TIME SAVED.

Slight injuries often disable a man and cause several days' loss of time and when blood poison develops, sometimes result in the loss of a hand or limb. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment. When applied to cuts, bruises and burns it causes them to heal quickly and without maturation, and prevents any danger of blood poison. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers.

CASCADE—The queen of Beers.

NOT PRINTING BALLOTS.

Ottawa, Aug. 7.—An official of the government printing bureau says, in regard to the rumor that the bureau has been engaged on a rush order for ballot papers and voters' lists to prepare for an election this fall, that no ballots have been printed, and the staff has had so much other work to do that the law has not been observed as regards the printing of voters' lists. The Franchise act requires that lists be kept printed every year in readiness for use, but in point of fact only 18 lists for Quebec and 12 for Nova Scotia are ready. None of the other provinces have been touched.

VERY REMARKABLE CURE OF DIARRHOEA.

"About six years ago for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea," says Mrs. Alice Miller, of Morgan, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again, and for six long years I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physicians' prescriptions and treatment without avail. Finally we moved to Bosque county, our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe it could be so after having suffered so long, but that one bottle of medicine, costing but a few cents, cured me." For sale by all Druggists and Dealers.

GENERAL MILES RETIRES.

Washington, Aug. 7.—General Nelson A. Miles will be 64 years old tomorrow and by reason of this fact his official life as commander in chief of the United States army ceases at midnight tonight. He will be succeeded by major-general Samuel B. M. Young, whose term will expire under the age limit clause on January 9th, 1904. His successor will likely be major-general Henry C. Corbin.

CHOLERA INFANTUM.

This has long been regarded as one of the most dangerous and fatal diseases to which infants are subject. It can be cured however, when properly treated. All that is necessary is to give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil, as directed with each bottle, and a cure is certain. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers.

NELSON'S NEWS OF THE DAY

Register your vote.

J. R. Anderson, deputy minister of agriculture, arrived in the city last evening from Victoria.

The Presbyterian picnic, which was postponed owing to bad weather, will be held on Saturday, August 15th, to Kokanee park.

The retail dealers of the city have agreed to close this afternoon from 3 till 5, so that their clerks may be able to attend the lacrosse match.

Special services will be held at the church of Mary Immaculate on Sunday in honor of the coronation of pope Plus X. Rev. father Caldi, of Spokane, will preach at both morning and evening services.

James Cronin, manager of the St. Eugene mine, at Moyie, passed through the city yesterday on his way to Rossland, but did not stop off, transferring from the boat to the train. Mrs. Cronin and children are registered at the Hume awaiting Mr. Cronin's return.

At the Queen mine, near Salmo, work is proceeding steadily, and the property is rapidly being got into shape to be a steady and large shipper. William Waldie is in charge of the small force of men who have been employed there for some months past, and which is being added to as occasion warrants.

The lacrosse match this afternoon, liberals vs. conservatives, will doubtless attract a large attendance. The teams are to be captained by two aspirants for political honors and a third is to act as referee. S. S. Taylor will captain the liberal team, John Houston the conservatives, whilst R. S. Lennie will be the referee. Mayor Rose will face off the ball at 3 o'clock sharp. The city band is to be in attendance.

A meeting of the directors of the agricultural society was held last evening to receive tenders for the erection of the main building for the fair. That of W. G. Gillett, being the lowest, was accepted, and the contract was awarded. Work will be commenced on the building immediately. H. Wright, J. Dover and J. J. Malone were appointed a committee of three to see if arrangements could be made to have the Labor Day celebration of the Miners' Union held here during the fair, in which event a purse of $500 for a drilling contest will be provided by the committee.

The Two Friends group at the head of Lemon creek is being rapidly developed by a force of men under J. Moffatt, of Nelson. All around the headwaters of Lemon creek there is more activity noticeable than has been the case for years. Although the district is connected with the landing at Six-Mile creek, six miles east of Nelson, all the business goes to or by Slocan City, as the trail to Slocan is open, while the wagon road leading to Nelson is blocked by a slide that came down three years ago. There was some talk early in the season of the government opening up the wagon road again, but the season in the hills is rapidly drawing to a close, and nothing has been done. With the revival of the lead industry a lot of business will go to Spokane that should come to Nelson from this camp owing to the condition of the road.

T. G. Procter brought in a string of ten handsome trout from the narrows yesterday morning, and other fishermen who were out along the lake with the early bird were also well rewarded for their efforts.

Patenaude Bros. have had specially manufactured for their trade a number of very prettily designed pewter mugs, bearing embossed views of the city. For a souvenir of Nelson one of these mugs would be hard to beat.

H. S. Rich, of Red Wing, Minn., and W. W. Rich, of St. Paul, Minn., arrived in the city last evening and are stopping at the Hume. Both gentlemen are largely interested in the Cherry Creek Gold Mining company, and are now on their way to pay a visit to the property.

A meeting of Fairview liberals will be held in the Baptist mission hall, Hume addition, this evening at 8 o'clock, to appoint delegates to the convention on Thursday, August 13th, to select a candidate to contest the Ymir electoral district in the liberal interests. All resident liberals are requested to attend.

A lodge of the Order of Railway Conductors for the Kootenay district is to be established in Nelson shortly. Most of the railway conductors in this section belong to lodges located at main line points and they feel the need of a local branch of their organization. The new lodge will start out with a good membership.

The Virden, Manitoba, lacrosse team are arranging for a tour through to the coast, commencing next week. Among the teams that they wish to arrange games with is Nelson, and it is very likely that their challenge will be accepted. The exact date on which they will arrive in the Kootenays is not yet settled, but definite information will be received within a few days.

The steamer Kokanee took up a large number of prospectors and investors bound for the Poplar creek goldfields yesterday afternoon. There was also a considerable quantity of machinery sent up for use at the various concentrators and tramways now in course of erection in the Trout Lake district. Nelson is now commencing to obtain a good share of the trade of both districts, but there is still room for much improvement.

The local company of Rocky Mountain Rangers turned out for drill last evening, preparatory to the annual inspection by the officer commanding the district, which will take place in about a fortnight. The company is in good shape, although there is still room for a few more. The splendid quarters provided at the new armory have added greatly to the interest taken in the organization in the city, as the men have now a good, well lighted hall for drilling in.

News has been received in the city of the drowning of A. J. Widmaier and son in Alaska. The news first appeared in a paper published in Valdez and the accident is stated to have occurred through the accidental overturning of a canoe on July 7th. Mr. Widmaier was formerly proprietor of the Kootenay Candy Factory, at the corner of Hendryx and Baker streets. The son, who was a boy of about seven years, lived with him. He owned some property in Nelson and had resided here for some years before leaving for the north last spring.

F. E. Weir, who was one of the Nelson riflemen who took part in the annual shoot of the British Columbia Rifle Association held at Victoria on July 21st, 22nd and 23rd, has returned. He says that beside the three representatives from Nelson, D. Mackenzie, D. McKay and himself, there were two men from Trail and one from Rossland. The meet was a most successful one and it is hoped that it will lead to the formation of an interior association. There are now rifle clubs at all the principal towns of the interior, and if an association was formed taking them all in it would lead to a great deal more interest being taken in the sport than is the case at present.

Dr. Armstrong returned last evening from Rock mountain, near Osoyoos, where he has been investigating an outbreak of glanders among the horses belonging to the ranchers in that vicinity. The infected district lies near the boundary line, adjoining what was formerly known as the town of Nelson, Washington. The coast papers in mentioning the outbreak have credited it to Nelson, B. C., apparently being under the impression that Nelson is in the Boundary district. Dr. Armstrong states that the disease is now well in hand, and that no further trouble is expected there. It was found necessary to destroy seven horses, not one hundred and seven, as given in some of the coast papers.

Thomas Hyland, aged fifty-two years and seven months, died yesterday morning at the Kootenay Lake general hospital, from heart disease and dropsy. The deceased, who was very well known in Nelson and the Kootenays generally, had been ill for the past four months, and had been an inmate of the hospital for nearly three. He was in the restaurant business for some years previous to his last illness, and during the construction of the Crow's Nest railway conducted establishments at a number of the new towns that sprung up along the line. Mrs. H. Jones, of this city, a sister of Mr. Hyland, was with him almost constantly during his last illness, and has the sympathy of all in her sad bereavement. The funeral service will be held at 9 o'clock on Monday morning at the church of Mary Immaculate, after which the interment will take place in the Catholic burying ground.

One of the chief events will be hose racing, and the committee decided to offer good prizes for these races, teams being expected to compete from all over the Kootenays and Boundary.

OUR FURNITURE LOOMS UP clearly and temptingly. Those of ordinary discernment can see that this is not ordinary furniture, although the price seems to be about the same.
But the value is different. This FURNITURE will be still beautiful and yet in active service when the other kind has joined the great army of "has-beens."
Much to admire in this line of WOOD ROCKERS besides the handsome design and fine finish. The prices are attractive.
