THE FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS

Burial of the Pope a Nine Days Ceremony

Public Will be Admitted to View the Remains

Rome, July 21.—The body of Leo XIII. lies tonight in the hall of the throne room a few steps from the room in which his death took place. The same vestments, the camarup hood, the rochet and the white gown which were put on yesterday cover the form, which rests in semi- state, surrounded by lighted candles, the noble guard, and the Franciscan pentitenlaries. Tomorrow morning the diplomatic body, with high dignitaries, and Roman aristocracy, will enter the hall to pay their tributes of respect to all that remains of the pope. In the afternoon the body will be arrayed in all the glory of pontificial robes, the mitre replacing the hood and at sunset it will be taken into the chapel of sacrament of St. Peter's where for three days the public will be given an opportunity of paying a last farewell. The interment will occur on Saturday evening. Today was notable for the impressive ceremonial of the recognition of the death of the pope which occurred in the morning in the chamber in which he died. Thereafter only those were admitted who were concerned in the embalming of the body, an operation which occupied six hours. Meantime the authorities of the vatican proceeded with the preparations for the funeral, the conclave and the acknowledgement of the condolences which have been received. Throughout the day the vatican was surrounded by crowds which inreased toward night.

Several thousand entered St. Peter's at vespers and joined in prayers for the departed. Among those were many of the Italian offiers whose troops, shortly after sunset, were marched from the vatican back to their barracks. At no time had their services been needed. It is not the custom in Italy to wear the conventional emblems of mourning and hence the crowd which in consequence of the closing of many places of business, wander through the streets tonight, has more the appearance of an aimless holiday making throng than one sorrowing for the death of the pope. Into nearly all the churches, however hundreds not often seen in places of devotion, flocked to say a hurried prayer. Afterwards they loitered outside reading the deep black-edged proclamation of cardinal Respighi, the vicar of Rome, concerning the funeral arrangements, the meeting of the conclave and the church ceremonies. The quiet of the evening was broken by a chorus such as the world has seldom before heard. One the stroke of eight, all of Rome's four hundred bells began to toll. From the seven hills and from every quarter of the city which contained churches came the constant clang until all was one vast reverberation. The harsh jingle of the smaller chapel bells striking quickly, and more often, was not drowned by the solemn strokes that came in mourning measure from the great dome of St. Peter's. Except in its common motive and common sorrow it was an amazing discord which continued an hour and which will recur nightly until the obsequies are over.

The program for the nine day's ceremony as far as established follows:

Wednesday morning—The second meeting of the congregation of cardinals, which will occur to discuss measures relating to the conclave. The diplomatic body, the Roman aristocracy and the high dignitaries of the church will at this time have an opportunity to take a last view of the late pontiff before he is laid in St. Peter's. In the afternoon the body will be arrayed in full pontificial robes and the remains will be transported to the basilica of St. Peter's where they will be taken charge of by the chapter of the basilica and deposited in the chapel of the sacrament.

Thursday—The whole population of Rome will be allowed to view the body of the pontiff while requiem masses will be celebrated in the different churches. The same morning the third meeting of the congregation will take place. The congregation will also meet on Friday and Saturday.

Saturday night the body of the pope will be sprinkled with holy water by the chapter of St. Peter's. It will then be taken at the head of a procession around the basilica and entombed to the strains of the "Miserere" intoned by singers of the Julia chapel. The ceremony will end with the celebration of a requiem.

On Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of the following week the meetings of the congregation will continue Three grand funeral services will occur subsequently, but the dates have not yet been fixed.

London, July 21.—Long biographical sketches, memoirs and editorials are called forth by the death of the pope, and the English papers all teem with expressions of the warmest sympathy and admiration for the statesmanlike qualities displayed by him throughout his pontificate. A contrast is drawn between the unique position the papacy now holds in international consideration compared with its shattered discredited position at the time of the death of Pius IX. His victory over Bismarck is everywhere recalled as the most brilliant example of diplomatic sagacity and the editorials dilate upon the successful manner in which he reconciled himself to the spirit of modern times in his dealing with France, America and England.

The Morning Post says: "The keys of St. Peter's that death has snatched from him are now the symbols of a world wide monarchy such as even Islam itself with its countless millions of devotees cannot boast."

The Daily News says: "History will not soon forget that little, frail, white figure who occupied the most striking position in the civilized world. Leo XIII. will be remembered as one of the greatest of popes and humblest of Christians."

The Daily Telegram says: "The Catholic world mourns the loss of one of the noblest priests, most accomplished scholars, and wisest statesman who has ever filled St. Peter's chair."

Vienna, July 21.—Emperor Francis Joseph has telegraphed from Ischl to cardinal Taliani, the papal nunico at Vienna, as follows: "At the moment when the Catholic world is plunged into the deepest grief by the news of the death of the supreme shepherd, my heart urges me to express to your eminence all the pain which this cruel loss, so deeply felt in the whole world, has caused me. The filial love and unlimited veneration which during his life time I felt for the holy father, follow into the eternity the exalted being whose memory is blessed for all time and who will ever occupy a distinguished place in the annals of our holy church."

Paris, July 21.—The Figaro this morning in its comment on pope Leo describes him as one of the greatest political popes. It says: "Pope Leo leaves the Roman church stronger, more alert and more closely allied with the life of the people, than it was under any predecessor during the past century."

The Journal also emphasizes the late pope's political ability, saying, "the church still needs diplomatists. May pope Leo's successor be another Leo."

The Gaulois, which is published with a mourning border, contains an article by Ferdinand Brunetioc, who declares that pope Leo's eternal honor in history will be that he realized that the church's action must be social and that democracy had need of the church.

The Matin says: "The pontiff's reign was not sullied by a single word of hatred or a threatening gesture."

The Eclair and Petit Journal, both dwell especially on the efforts of pope Leo to maintain good relations with the French government. The former reproaching his lack of firmness and combativity and the latter declaring him to have been vanquished, adding that defeat came before his death.

The Soliel also dwells on the pope's special affection for France, which it says, was so ill requited by the government.

Rome, July 21.—This morning began the first of the grandiose and unique ceremonies which follow the demise of a pope, and although private, it was conducted with grat pomp and was most impressive. All the cardinals present in Rome, numbering 29 assembled at the palace to view the remains of the late pope Leo XIII. and to officially pronounce him dead. Cardinal Oreglia, dean of the sacred college and camerlengo of the holy Roman church, had to put aside his cardinal robes, as a sign of deep mourning, and was gowned entirely in violet, while other cardinals wore crimson robes with violet colors, indicative of mourning. Within the death chamber the body lay with a white veil over the face surrounded by Franciscan penitentiaries, while outside the noble guard maintained a solemn vigil. The profound silence was only broken by the chanting of prayers for the dead. Into this solemn presence came the mourning procession of cardinals, who kneeling, silently prayed, then the prelates reverently looked on while cardinal Oreglia approached the remains. For this function the pope's bedroom had been transformed into a kind of mortuary chapel with the altar at one end, having in the centre a crucifix surrounded by six candles. The white veil was then removed from the dead man's face, revealing the cameo-like features of the departed pope rendered sharper and more transparent by death. So lifelike was the body that those present half expected Leo to raise his hand in the familiar gesture of blessing.

A moment of breathless silence ensued and then the cardinal camerlengo taking the aspersorium sprinkled the late pontiff with holy water, and said in a firm voice "Gioacchino," the Christian name of the deceased holy father. When there was no answer the same word was repeated three times louder and louder, after which, turning to the kneeling cardinals, the camerlengo solemnly announced "The pope is really dead."

As the words were uttered there arose from the kneeling cardinals a sigh like that of the wind in the trees at night, a tribute paid to the late pontiff by these priests.

THE MANITOBA ELECTIONS.

Official Returns Confirm the Sweeping Victory of the Roblin Government.

[Special to The Daily News.]

Winnipeg, July 21.—Official returns received today do not materially alter the Manitoba election results.

O'Donohue, liberal, is leading in St. Andrews and Kildonan, and is undoubtedly elected. Prefontaine, liberal, is elected in Assiniboia by 17, and Lagimodiere, liberal, in La Verandrye by 27. South Brandon, Lansdowne and Virden returns are incomplete but conservatives are probably elected for the three seats.

The official majorities for the Winnipeg seats are: North Winnipeg, Walker, 91; Centre Winnipeg, Taylor, 153; South Winnipeg, Gordon, 174.

Bernier, conservative has one majority in St. Boniface; Greenway, liberal, has nearly 400 majority in Mountain; Doig, liberal, 125 in Russell; Jackson, liberal, 19 in Hamiota and Lagimodiere, liberal, 27 in La Verandrye.

TENDENCY OF SILVER.

An agreement establishing a ratio of exchange relative to silver and gold between gold using and silver using nations, as is contemplated by the international silver conference now in session in Europe would have the effect of steadying and possibly advancing the price of silver, says the Mining Reporter. For instance, if the ratio of 32 to 1 were agreed upon it would tend to fix the price of silver at about 65 cents per ounce. It is believed in many quarters that this ratio will be the one established. In the meantime there is a sharp contest on between the American Smelting & Refining company and the London brokers for ascendency in controlling the silver market. The supremecy of the former means that the price will be fixed in New York instead of in London as heretofore. The American company, which is indirectly heavily concerned in production, is interested in higher prices.

AYLESWORTH HAS ACCEPTED

VACANCY ON ALASKA BOUNDARY COMMISSION.

INDIAN LOUIE TO BE HANGED AT KAMLOOPS.

[Special to The Daily News.]

Ottawa, July 21.—A. B. Aylesworth, K. C., Toronto, has accepted the position of dominion government commissioner on the Alaska boundary commission, rendered vacant by the death of Judge Armour. Aylesworth will be appointed at once.

In railway committee today the Canadian Telephone and Telegraph bill passed committee after five days' discussion.

In the house today Morrison read in a Seattle newspaper of July 2nd a dispatch dated June 17th from Dawson containing an intervew with W. B. Charleston, who said that the men on the Yukon telegraph line took exception to work without pay. He, Charleston, would have done the same thing, and spoke of the superintendent having money. Morrison also read from an interview with Mr. Charleston in the Province of July 10th in which he spoke of the mismanagement of the Yukon telegraph line, and said that his report to the minister would be full and not complimentary to Crean. Morrison asked the minister if Charleston was appointed to make an investigation into the conduct of superintendent Crean.

Sutherland said that there were no complaints made to him regarding Crean, nor did he authorize Charleston to investigate his conduct. Charleston was sent out in connection with some accounts for construction of the line with which Charleston had to do. He knew of no such authority such as mentioned being given to Charleston and he would have the matter looked into.

The sheriff of New Westminster has been wiring if Indian Louie is to be hanged on the 24th, and the secretary of state has wired back to proceed with the execution.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

To Be Dissolved Next Session and General Elections Take Place in March

London, July 21.—The Times announces that it is anticipated in official circles that parliament will be dissolved early in the next session and that a general election will occur in March. In connection with this announcement rumors were current yesterday that premier Balfour intended in October to make a strong speech in support of colonial secretary Chamberlain's fiscal program and that thereupon chancellor of the exchequer Ritchie, and the other free trade ministers, would resign, which of course, would virtually compel Mr. Balfour to resign also, and recommend a dissolution of parliament.

SIR THOMAS A MASCOT.

Atlantic Highlands, N. Y., July 21.—After her narrow margin of victory yesterday, sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger trimmed her trial course by 33 minutes 17 seconds in a 20 mile race. Much of her big victory was de to a fluke in which she covered miles of water while Shamrock I. hung idle in a calm. Another thing which the sailors say brought good luck to the new boat, was the presence of sir Thomas on her deck.

LADY ROSE'S DAUGHTER.

London, July 21.—Charles Frohman has accepted George Fleming's dramatization of "Lady Rose's Daughter," and has decided to present Fay Davis in the title role. Miss Davis is now in Switzerland and will return to New York for rehearsals.

A SURPRISE HERE, TOO.

Berlin, July 21.—The news that the Chicago police have discovered a plot against the emperor was a surprise to Berlin police officials, who express great appreciation of Chicago's vigilance and prompt communication.

MISCAMPBELL RE-NOMINATED

KING EDWARD IN IRELAND

Enthusiastic Reception by Citizens of Dublin

Imposing Ceremony at the City Limits

Kingstown, Ireland, July 21.—King Edward and queen Alexandra, accompanied by princess Victoria and their suites, arrived here at five minutes past nine o'clock this morning, on board the royal yacht Victoria and Albert. Immediately after the yacht took its position in the harbor the salute was fired by thirteen vessels of the home fleet. A heavy rain which had been falling since an early hour, ceased at 9 o'clock, the sky cleared, giving promise of fine weather for the royal entry into Dublin. In replying to an address here king Edward said he shared in the sadness of multitudes of his subjects over the news of the pope's death. The king added that his visit came at a time when a new era is opening for Ireland.

A special performance which had been planned for the royal theatre in Dublin has been countermanded in consequence of pope Leo's death.

Dublin, July 21.—The entry of king Edward and queen Alexandra into Dublin was made the occasion for a general holiday. The decorations surpassed anything hitherto attempted in Dublin. The grand stand was crowded while the people were massed on the sidewalks. Their majesties bowed their acknowledgements to the warm greetings.

Their majesties lunched with the lord lieutenant and the day's program was concluded with a formal visit to the duke of Connaught.

Thousands of spectators eagerly awaited the coming of the king and queen. Always personally popular with the Irish king Edward was to receive a warm welcome on the occasion of this, his first visit to the Emerald Isle since he ascended to the throne. Shortly before the arrival of the royal party the pursuivant-at-arms, wearing a gorgeous cape of royal heraldry, galloped up to the lord mayor and asked permission for the entrance of the king and queen. Gravely and in quaintly worded terms of courtesy, the lord mayor granted the request. Back galloped the pursuivant-at-arms, the gate banging behind him, the whole scene being a counterpart of a sixteenth century play.

Then from the ramparts of the gate came a fanfare of trumpets. The royal party was in sight. Out upon a scarlet cloth stepped lord mayor Harrington and the members of the municipal corporation, the same who had refused to vote the king an address of welcome. Their robes glowed in the sunshine and their wands and maces flashed brilliantly. The gate was swung open and in rode the advance guard of the royal cortege. A squad of life guards preceded the royal carriage and their brilliant uniforms evoked loud applause from the spectators. The first carriages contained the home secretary and other members of the king's party, accompanied by members of the court and attended by mounted equerries. Finally, amid almost perfect silence, save for the echo of cheers and cries of "God Save the King," from outside the city limits came the royal couple. During the five minutes when the king was occupied with the ceremonies at the gate there was scarcely a lull in the loud cheering of the crowds. Freqently his majesty nodded. In fact, he scarcely ceased nodding during the entire nine-mile drive through the streets of Dublin to the castle.

PLEASED WITH THE LARDEAU

M. L. MOYER, OF PHILADELPHIA, TELLS OF HIS GOOD LUCK.

SAYS THERE SHOULD BE THOUSANDS IN THE DISTRICT.

[Special to The Daily News.]

Kaslo, July 21.—M. L. Moyer, of Philadelphia, passed through here today on his way to procure machinery of the latest improved type for the purpose of developing placer ground which he has taken up for his people, who are Boston and Philadelphia capitalists. Mr. Moyer has had many years of mining experience all over the United States and British Columbia and is also an expert mineralogist. He has been prospecting and experimenting since May last along the Lardeau river and its branches and to say that he is enthusiastic is putting it mildly.

He says: "It would be impossible to speak too highly of the wealth of the district. If we had the Lardeau valley over in the United States we would have ten thousand people into it since Marquis & Gilbert made their big find. I have two claims taken up and have leased 80 acres more for my people, three and one-half miles from Poplar creek. Who are my people? I am not at liberty to say, but we have ample capital back of us in old Philadelphia and can assure you that already we are satisfied with the returns we are receiving from properties we are operating on Trout Lake. The Ethel, Horseshoe and Lucky Boy are already on a dividend paying basis, the smelting returns go $204 to the ton and the veins have every appearance of going down and holding to the high values. The formation is excellent and will be permanent. I have been in the vicinity of Trout lake for nearly three years and came down the Lardeau river in May last, since when I have been testing the streams and bars and I am so well satisfied that we intend to put in as soon as we can get the machinery on the ground, as complete and up to date placer mining outfit as money can buy. I know just what we want and no expense will be spared to secure the proper apparatus. I had two men working 12 days and with shovels and rude appliances they took out eight ounces of gold for whch I got $17.50 per ounce. We went down nine feet and had to stop on account of water. How much deeper the pay dirt went I had no means of knowing but it was good enough for me if it did not go any deeper. We intend to use hydraulic pumps to raise the sand from the bed rock, using traction engines for power and the lastest improved gold saving apparatus. There is something of great importance that seems to be overlooked to a great extent by all those who are interested and that is the presence of considerable platinum in the ores of the district. Do you see the platinum in that bottle? (showing a bottle half full of flakes of gold and black particles of what is evidently platinum). Well, that was panned out of arsenical iron ore after it was crushed. Frank Carlson showed me a piece of ore the size of a man's hand that could be bent and turned into various shapes, being held together with the wire gold, taken from his claim near the Gold Park group. I saw a piece of ore as large as a man's head with gold literally sticking out all over it. I tested the Marquis & Gilbert lead for 1,800 feet and secured gold in every pan. The arsenical iron on Poplar creek gave returns of from $20 in free gold to $14.20 to the ton."

RETALLACK KASLO'S CHOICE

WAS THE UNANIMOUS NOMINEE OF OF THE LIBERAL CONVENTION

WILL OPPOSE MINISTER OF MINES IN COMING ELECTION.

[Special to The Daily News.]

Kaslo, July 21.—At a convention of liberals held here today John L. Retallack, of this city, was unanimously nominated as standard bearer in the liberal interest at the coming provincial elections.

A resolution endorsing the provincial liberal platform was unanimously carried.

The delegates present and represented were T. L. Kinman, Robert Madden and J. H. Currie, Trout Lake; Robert Hodge, John O. McKinnon, and A. F. Rankin, Ferguson; M. J. Halpin, Whitewater, and Henry Giegerich, Ainsworth; E. Latham. D. C. McGregor, D. P. Kane, W. V. Bradshaw, John Keen and A. Jardine, Kaslo. The meeting was enthusiastic over the choice made.

POLITICS AT TRAIL.

Conservatives in Search of Candidate—Choice Between Houston and Wright.

[Special to The Daily News.]

Trail, July 21.—Local conservatives are considering a proposition from party friends in Ymir to accept Harry Wright, mining recorder at Nelson, as the conservative candidate for the Ymir district. It is suggested that by taking an outsider any differences between Ymir and Trail will be smoothed over and that failing John Houston, Harry Wright is the strongest candidate that could be selected to oppose the liberal nominee. Wright, it is understood, has consented to resign his office in Nelson and contest the constituency, providing the conservative organizations in the district give him a satisfactory guarantee that he wil not be called upon to expend a five cent piece in the campaign.

Wright's stronghold is in Ymir where the conservatives prefer him to Houston. Here, on the other hand, the conservatives want Houston, and say that they will only accept Wright as a last resort. The chief men in the party here want to bring about a deal with regard to the Nelson nomination that will leave Houston free to contest Ymir district. Their proposition is that mayor Rose be run in Nelson as a compromise candidate. They believe he would have a better chance of winning than Houston would have because of the split in the party and they argue that a solid vote could be whipped into line for Houston at Trail, that the outlying districts know him well and would probably give him a majority vote, which would more than offset the liberal candidate's majority in Ymir. The C. P. R. representatives here claim to be able to swing the town vote practically to a man and in view of the friendly attitude taken by Houston towards the company during the trackmen's strike they are more inclined to support him than Harry Wright. However, it is pretty well agreed that if Houston cannot be secured Harry Wright will be the conservative nominee, though the question of his expenses is a serious one, the district being so large and scattered that it will cost any candidate a good round sum to thoroughly canvas it.

NO IDLE MEN HERE.

Great and Growing Demand For Labor All Over the Kootenays.

The new condition of affairs in the mining industry here resultant on the granting of the lead bonus and of the recent rich discoveries made in the Lardeau district as well as at some other points adjacent to this city, is coming along so quietly that many people are hardly well aware of the change .

The labor market, however, that infallible indicator of business activity or the reverse, is plainly showing the awakening that has already commenced.

Labor of all kinds is in great demand at the present moment all through south eastern British Columbia and nowhere is the pressure greater than in the district which has this city as its natural commercial centre.

Every trade is on the list. Metalliferous miners, perhaps come first but coal miners are wanted in east Kootenay as well as coke tenderers. The Hall Mines smelter, the LeRoi smelter and the Granby and other Boundary plants are all short handed. Carpenters are needed for construction work in the Lardeau and at the new camps which are springing up there and unskilled labor is asked for in all directions. In many cases the local miners' unions are quite unable to supply the daily demands made upon them, but are doing their best by writing to outside points to get good men in here.

At this season many miners and prospectors are busy in the hills either doing their own assessment work or performing that duty on contracts for other owners.

The demand for labor is the sure forerunner of a steadily increasing demand in all lines of business and there is not a class in the community but will shortly feel the impetus of the general revival that is daily becoming more and more plainly visible.

The demand is only beginning but it will increase as the season progresses and the best advertisement that the Kootenays can have at the moment is that we have no idle men here and plenty of work offering for capable hands to do.

PIONEER PROSPECTORS.

Peculiar Find South of the Granite Road. Who Was Mining Here in 1881?

A peculiar discovery in the mountains, south of the Granite wagon road, about three miles west of Nelson, is causing a good deal of speculation among prospectors and old timers in the city. It consists of four boxes of dynamite, badly weather beaten, and with most of the corners chewed off by porcupines, with the date "1881" almost obliterated, printed on one end. Besides the four boxes mentioned is the remains of another one, which apparently had been almost empty.

Close beside the find is an outcropping of quartz, covered in all but one place by a rock slide. Whether the powder is all that is left of some early tragedy of the hills, or whether it was left there by some one who intended to return but never did there is nothing to show. In the early eighties, outside of a few hunters and a still rarer prospector this section of the country was uninhabited. The Indians occasionally came up from the south to fish in the lake, but they took no interest in the ore in the hills. The most probable supposition is that the powder is not of so early a date, as was inferred from the date on it, but that it belonged to some of the prospectors attracted to the district when the Forty-Nine creek excitement was on. It is thought not unlikely that a tunnel lies under the slide with perhaps the remains of a cabin somewhere near it, but this of course is only supposition.

THE JUNO STRIKE.

Rich Lead Continues to Show up Well—Adjoining Ground Being Re-prospected

Reports from the Juno mine yestrday were to the effect that the rich lead struck at the beginning of last week is very likly to prove continuous. The work of tracing this lead is being pushed as rapidly as possible, and so far as the development has gone there has been no diminution in the size of the lead or quality of the ore.

The discovery has already had the effect of stimulating interest in the properties along Morning mountain again, and considerable prospecting is being done between Morning and Toad mountains.

Practically all of this area was at one time located, but a large number of the claims were abandoned some time ago and on some of these it is now thought likely that rich ore will be found.

BRITISH JOURNALISTS COMING.

Further information has been received regarding the visit to Canada of representatives of the British newspapers which was arranged in behalf of the federal government by lord Strathcona and W. T. R. Preston. The journalists will probably reach Montreal about Friday next, and make a tour from Montreal to the Pacific coast. They will give their attention to industrial and economic problems as well as to the general conditions of the country. The papers represented include the Morning Post, the Standard, the Daily Express, the Morning Leader and the Sphere of London, the Western Morning News, Plymouth, the Newcastle Daily Chronicle, the Belfast Evening Telegraph, the Birmingham Daily Post (Mr. Chamberlain's organ), the Western Daily Press, Bristol, and the Aberdeen Free Press.

ST. EUGENE TO RESUME.

James Cronin, manager of the St. Eugene, has come up from California and is about to commence operations in opening up the mine. He says that it will take a couple of months to get the St Eugene in shape to ship its normal capacity. About $150,000 has been spent on the mine for development since shipping ceased and the property is now in shape to make a large output for two or three years. A zinc concentrator is to be erected and more power is to be added to the mill.

RUSSIA IN MANCHURIA.

London, July 21.—The Associated Press learns that Japan is not satisfied with the assurance Russia has given the United States in regard to Manchuria and has been actively urging Great Britain to join her in a more energetic attitude toward Russia. Japan is persistent in urging that additional ports be opened. Japan has informed the foreign office here that Russia has not ceased to present for Chinese acceptance the conditions which she presented some time ago and which Russia denied submitting.

TWO SUICIDES AT SPOKANE

O. Sontagh Former Manager of Le Roi Smelter

And Geo L. Crocker Shoot Themselves

[Special to The Daily News.]

Spokane, July 21.—Two suicides by the revolver route were recorded here today. Both men were well known in British Columbia mining towns.

George L. Crocker, a poor homeless, morphine fiend, was first found in a shack on Big Island. The second suicide, found half an hour later was Oscar Sontagh, a prominent smelter man and formerly in charge of the Le Roi smelter at Northport, whose body was discovered in a luxurious bedroom at the hotel Spokane.

Oscar Sontagh was about 50 years of age and was one of the best known metallurgists in the west He was formerly manager of the Northport smelter, but of late resided here enjoying every comfort money could buy.

Domestic troubles and financial worries are given as the reason for his death. His body was found in the hotel room by the chambermaid this evening clothed in a night shirt, and stretched full length in front of the dresser, with a 32 calibre revolver in his hand. No note or other information giving the reason for the rash act has been discovered yet. Sontagh had fifty-five cents on his person. He leaves a wife in San Francisco. He lived like a prince till the very last.

George L. Crocker, the other suicide, was 38 years of age, and for the past five years worked in a local bakery, and in British Columbia towns. He was a single man and addicted to the morphine habit. He lived in a shack, and was missed by the neighbors who notified the police. His body was discovered hanging by a rope made from bedclothing which had been fastened to the ceiling by a pick. A 38 calibre revolver was on the floor beneath his feet. A hole through the right temple ended his life.

YMIR NOTES.

[Special to The Daily News.]

Ymir, July 21.—The political associations at Trail seem to be holding back on the registration of voters, none having as yet been registered from that quarter. The total now on record is 460, of which 202 are from Ymir—the Ymir mine. This figure from Ymir is already considerably in excess of the estimate, but there are many yet to come in.

The Porto Rico Lumber Co. has commenced the work of replacing the dams on the Salmon river, which were washed out during the recent floods. In consequence of these dams being unavailable now, the mill is unable to get a sufficient supply of logs to keep it running continuously.

At the election for fire wardens held here on Saturday, Messrs. Burne, Buckworth and Gleazer were returned unopposed.

A GIRL WITH GLANDERS.

St. Paul, July 21.—A girl, an assistant in the laboratory of the state board of health, is recovering from an attack of glanders. She became infected more than a year ago. Three cases of glanders among human beings have occurred recently in this state. Two brothers died from the effects of having taken it from horses owned by one of them. It was the germs from these which innoculated the girl.

CAUSE FOR REJOICING.

Winnipeg, July 21.—The conservatives are jubilant over their victory at the polls yesterday, with almost a clean sweep for Roblin. The conservatives have carried 30 seats out of the 40, with two elections yet to be held. The liberals carry Assiniboia, Mountain, Rhinland Russell, Leverandrye, Hamiota, Birtle and Kildonian. All the others are government.

IN MEMORY OF INGERSOLL.

Chicago, July 21.—The fourth anniversary of the death of colonel Robert G. Ingersoll was observed today by the holding of memorial services under the auspices of the Ingersoll Memorial association, of Chicago. The association is behind a movement having for its object the erection of an imposing monument to colonel Ingersoll.

WASHINGTON'S GRAIN CROP.

Tacoma, Washington, July 21.—Grain exporters estimate this year's wheat crop at 20,000,000 to 22,000,000 bushels—about the production of last year. Bad weather and lack of rain has decreased the yield in some districts, but this is largely compensated for by increased acreage.

THE IRISH LAND BILL.

London, July 21.—In the house of commons today premier Balfour, in the absence of Irish secretary Wyndham, moved the third reading of the Irish land bill. The bill passed the third reading by 317 to 20.

DEAD OR ALIVE.

Plattsburg, N. Y., July 21.—Warden Deyo of Clinto prison, has just authorized the announcement that the $250 reward offered or the capture of Peter James, the "lifer" who escaped from the prison Saturday last, will be paid for him dead or alive.

THE PREMIER'S TOUR.

Premier McBride has returned to Victoria not at all well pleased with the prospects for his government in the forthcoming elections. He learned in Kootenay that the people want to rid this province once and for all time of the old grafter element that has for so many years fattened at the public expense and for purely selfish reasons stood in the way of every move that promised to promote the general welfare. The premier found this sentiment prevailing to a very large extent among men who in federal affairs are pronounced conservatives. He was told plainly that the conservative party could never hope to amount to much in this province until the barnacles were cleared away. These men recognise the fact that as conservative appointees control the administration of all the departments, fill practically all the government offices throughout the province and with their friends and dependents exercise supreme control in the conservative party's councils, it would be impossible for a conservative government to make the changes necessary to put the administration of affairs upon a sound and economical basis. Consequently, whether they like it or not, they have to admit that to a liberal government must be entrusted this work. The first essential to the re-establishment of the credit of this province upon a sound basis is a thorough overhauling of all the departments. This can only be done by a liberal government which would have nothing to lose and everything to gain by doing the work properly. Premier McBride learned of this situation in all parts of Kootenay. He now knows that the best his government can hope to do is to secure two seats in southern British Columbia. He learned, too, what he was up against in the Okanagan, Kamloops, and Yale districts. On the lower mainland he has confessed his weakness by assenting to the nomination of Gifford, a liberal, in New Westminster, as a government candidate. On the island the strained relations still existing between the various tory factions make it extremely improbable that the McBride government will secure more than five out of the twelve seats. Premier McBride has really nothing to complain of. He had the opportunity of proving to the people that he was prepared to break loose from the old element. He has not seen fit to take advantage of that opportunity and therefore it is fair to infer that he is not desirous of so doing. That is the conclusion arrived at by hundreds of independent electors from one end of the province to the other, and though they may have no special regard for the liberal party these men will support liberal candidates knowing that by that means alone can they assist in the work of reformation.

THE AUSTRALIAN COMMONWEALTH

The depression in Australia, largely due to the prolonged drought that paralyzed industry in many sections of the country and brought many to absolute ruin, has been so marked that it is surprising to discover that in spite of all drawbacks the commonwealth is in a financially satisfactory condition. The revenue for the past year amounted to £12,126,000 and the expenditure £11,784,000. Of the revenue, customs and revenue provided £9,681,000, being £640,000 above the estimate; postal £2,445,000. The items of expenditure were: Customs £270,000; defence £743,000; postoffice £2,571,000, and paid to the states £8,200,000, or £880,000 above the estimate. It will be observed that the postal service showed a deficit of £126,000.

Taking the several states separately the New South Wales revenue returns for the year amount to £11,532,133, an increase of £353,919, though this does not prevent a deficit on the whole of £50,000 for the year. The revenue of Victoria for the year amounted to £6,936,392, showing a decrease for the year of £70,000 as compared with the previous year, the principal item of decrease being the railways, this amounting to £325,000. For South Australia the returns are better and give a surplus of £20,000, the full revenue being £2,472,466, and increase of £43,700 over last year.

From these figures it would appear that Australia is emerging, perhaps not as rapidly as one might wish, but nevertheless emerging, from the lamentable conditions which have obtained there for so long a period. We in Canada have much to be thankful for in that our climate is not subject to such vagaries as exist in Australia. Inconveniences we endure at times storms may do damage occasionally, and in some parts of the dominion crops are blighted and the hopes of hundreds of farmers dashed to the ground. But year in and year out, we have no cause for complaint. Compared with other peoples we are highly favored in many important respects, and in none more so than in the matter of climate.

This is a "free country", still a law that compelled people to try Blue Ribbon Tea would do a lot of good

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Very little interest was taken in the Manitoba elections outside the province. The issues were largely local and so far as could be gleaned from the Winnipeg papers were not of a particularly important nature. Times being very good and the farmers being busy the probabilities are that no great enthusiasm was displayed by either party and the government candidates naturally gained the advantage of this apathy. The liberal cause was weakened by the indepenedent and prohibition vote. Whilst the prohibitionists favored neither party, the licensed victuallers to a man worked indefatigably for the government. Whatever the causes, the fact is that the Roblin government has been returned by an overwhelming majority. Thomas Greenway has unmistakably lost his hold upon the Manitoba electorate.

The press dispatches inform us that upon their arrival at Ottawa Messrs. Wilson and Green first held a conference with the conservative leaders and discussed with them the plan of campaign in British Columbia. The alleged mission of these two colleagues of premier McBride was to interview the dominion government regarding certain matters of provincial concern. As a matter of fact the published reasons for th Ottawa trip were simply in the nature of a bluff, which would enable the ministers to collect their travelling expenses from the treasury instead of drawing upon the party campaign fund. The real object of the mission was made apparent by the conference with the conservative leaders and the subsequent visit to Montreal with Mr. Borden to call upon sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific railway. Mr. Charles Wilson has made no pretense that the visit to Ottawa was undertaken for any other purpose than to raise a campaign fund. He knows that he has no standing at Ottawa as yet. The government of which he is a member cannot speak for the people, has received no mandate of any kind from the people. It was necessary that someone should go east to look after a campaign fund and as those eastern trips cost money it was thought advisable to send two of the ministers, who could charge up their expenses to the province. So far as the conservative party's appeal for a campaign fund to the C. P. R. is concerned, that is a matter that concerns themselves. If they are willing to rely upon that source they must abide by the consequences, but it is more than a little cheeky to send their missionaries after the sack at the expense of all the taxpayers of the province.

A few days ago the Victoria Colonist told us that the question calling for immediate solution was as to whether premier McBride controlled the conservative party or the conservative party controlled him. Now the Rossland Miner propounds a new problem. The Miner asks: Shall the corporation control the conservative party or shall the conservative party control the corporations? The answer to this question had better stand over until the return of Charles Wilson and R. F. Green from the east. The Miner tells us that certain conservatives are determined to continue to fatten upon the magnificent resources of the province at the expense of the common people. They wish to continue to shirk their taxes and gobble up more crown lands. And hence it is that their lieutenants are getting busy.

CONSERVATIVE PLATFORM

(Adopted at Revelstoke, Sept. 13th, 1902.)

1. That this convention reaffirms the policy of the party in matters of provincial roads and trails; the ownership and control of railways and the development of the agricultural resources of the province as laid down in the platform adopted in October, 1899, which is as follows:

"To actively aid in the construction of trails throughout the undeveloped portions of the province and the building of provincial trunk roads of public necessity.

"To adopt the principles of government ownership of railways in so far as the circumstances of the province will admit, and the adoption of the principle that no bonus should be granted to any railway company which does not give the government of the province control of rates over lines bonused, together with the option of purchase.

"To actively assist by state aid in the development of the agricultural resources of the province."

2. That in the meantime and until the railway policy above set forth can be accomplished, a general railway act be passed, giving freedom to construct railways under certain approved regulations, analogous to the system that has resulted in such extensive railway construction in the United States, with so much advantage to trade and commerce.

3. That to encourage the mining industry, the taxation of metalliferous mines should be on the basis of a percentage on the net profits.

4. That the government ownership of telephone systems should be brought about as a first step in the acquisition of public utilities.

5. That a portion of every coal area hereafter to be disposed of should be reserved from sale or lease, so that state-owned mines may be easily accessible, if their operation becomes necessary or advisable.

6. That in the pulp land leases provision should be made for reforesting and that steps should be taken for the general preservation of forests by guarding against the wasteful destruction of timber.

7. That the legislature and government of the province should persevere in the effort to secure the exclusion of Asiatic labor.

8. That the matter of better terms in the way of subsidy and appropriations for the province should be vigorously pressed upon the Dominion government.

9. That the silver-lead industries of the province be fostered and encouraged by the imposition of increased customs duties on lead and lead products imported into Canada, and that the Conservative members of the Dominion House be urged to support any motion introduced for such a purpose.

10. That as industrial disputes almost invariably result in great loss and injury both to the parties directly concerned and to the public, legislation should be passed to provide means for an amicable adjustment of such disputes between employers and employees.

11. That it is advisable to foster the manufacture of the raw products of the province within the province as far as practicable by means of taxation on the said raw products, subject to rebate of the same in whole or part when manufactured in British Columbia.

CONSERVATIVE CONVENTIONS

At a meeting of the executive of the Provincial Conservative Association, held at Vancouver, the province was divided into five divisions for organization purposes. The Kootenay-Boundary division is made up of the following provincial election districts: Revelstoke, Columbia, Fernie, Cranbrook, Ymir, Kaslo, Slocan, Grand Forks, Greenwood, the City of Rossland and the City of Nelson. At the same meeting the following resolutions were adopted:

(a) In city electoral districts, one delegate for every fifty and fraction of fifty votes polled at the provincial election held in 1900, and if the city is divided into wards, the proportion of delegates for each ward shall be based on the vote polled in each ward at the last municipal election.

(b) In other electoral districts, one delegate for every fifty or fraction of fifty votes polled at the provincial election held in 1900, the delegates to be apportioned to polling places, or as near thereto as will be fair to the voters of the different neighborhoods.

2. The electio nof delegates shall be at public meetings, held at a designated central place in each polling division, or in each ward in city electoral districts, if the city is divided into wards. At such public meeting only those who pledge themselves to vote for the candidate or candidates selected at the nominating convention shall be entitled to a vote for delegates.

3. Two weeks notice shall be given of the public meetings at which delegates are to be elected, and nominating conventions shall be held in city electoral districts two days after the day on which delegates are elected, and in other electoral districts seven days after. All nominations throughout the province to be made at a designated central place in each electoral district, and on the same day.

4. All notices of the date of public meetings for the election of delegates to nominating conventions, the apportionment of delegates, and the place and date of nominating conventions in the several electoral districts shall be prepared by the member of the executive of the division in which the electoral districts are situate, and issued over the names of the president and secretary of the Provincial Conservative Association.

A meeting of the provincial executive will be held at Vancouver within a month, and the date for holding district nominating conventions will then be fixed.

JOHN HOUSTON,
President of the Provincial Conservative Association.

MAY BE THE NEXT POPE

CARDINAL RAMPOLLA PROBABLE SUCCESSOR TO LEO XIII.

A NUMBER OF ASPIRANTS TO THE VACANT PAPAL THRONE.

At present the opinion is general that the papal throne and the fisherman's ring will descend to Gotti, Rampolla or Vannutelli. Not so frequently mentioned are Satolli, Svampa and Oreglia. Each of these cardinals is a great man at Rome, and has his following. Then among the secondary aspirants, where, it is said, may be found the available candidate, are Priso, Celesia, Macenni, Sarto, Capecelatro, V. Vannutelli, Richelmy and Ferrari. Fourteen cardinals, have been named.

As far as the layman is capable of judging, Rampolla del Tindaro has, by right of achievement, the best claim on the succession. He fills the eye as a great religious general. His diplomacy and tact have been proven in the many years he has been papal secretary of state. His skill in subtle negotiation has won for him the name of the "grand silencer." In appearance Rampolla is tall, severe, ascetic. By birth a Sicilian, of noble rank, he was educated in the Eternal City and from childhood has served the church. His diplomatic genius was early recognised and tested. Leo sent him as papal nuncio to Spain, at a time critical to the fortunes of the present dynasty. The services he was able to perform at Madrid when king Alfonso's death left his widow, who could scarcely speak Spanish, in a most difficult position, are said to have placed the Spanish royal family forever in his debt. More than anyone else, perhaps, Rampolla deserves the credit for reconciling the German government and the papacy. This brilliant stroke is commonly credited to Leo himself, and is regarded as one of the most important achievements of his reign. The fact of the matter is that it was Rampolla who induced emperor Frederick, the crown prince, to visit the holy father. The historic interview followed. Above all things, Rampolla has been a loyal and devoted servant to Leo XIII. From the first he has been the pope's man, and, if elected, will be sure to continue the policy which has made the present reign illustrious in the annals of the church.

Two Vannutellis are cardinals. They are brothers. Serafino, bishop of Porto Santa Rufino, is a strong candidate. He represents the extreme "moderns." He too is a diplomat, the first gentleman of the vatican court. Politically he is at the head of the reconciliationists. Therefore, he is on intimate terms with the king and queen of Italy, and is in high favor with the triple alliance, which, by the way, Rampolla has publicly denounced. Vannutelli is an aristocrat. He comes of one of the great Italian families, and his kinsmen occupy important political positions. Some of them are merchant princes. His chief service to the church was performed at the court in Vienna, where, during a political crisis, he did brillant work. For this he was created cardinal by Leo. In Rome he maintains a splendid establishment, entertains lavishly, and is immensely popular. The English and American cardinals are likely to support his candidature and he has strength among his own countrymen.

The election of Gotti would be a triumph for the democratic branch of the church, for the present prefect of the propaganda is the son of a dock laborer. His obscure origin is held by some to place the triple crown forever out of his reach. Pecci himself, however, was a country lad. Gregory was the son of a carpenter, and Peretti a swineherd. Then, too, was not St. Peter a Jewish fisherman? Gotti has never been reckoned a politician. He is a learned man, however, and noted as a mathematician and physicist. He belongs to that most severe order—the barefooted Carmelites. Of the leading candidates, Satolli is best known on this continent, for he has been papal delegate to America, and resided at Washington for some time. Satolli is a scholar of distinction, and in this respect probably excels any of his three powerful rivals. Those who have seen him have remarked the beauty of his head, his one distinguishing physical feature. Altogether a plain, unpretentious man Satolli, is a good friend of America, where his election would be very popular.

Svampa, archbishop of Bologna, has his candidature aided by a prophecy of St. Malachi, which is said to have been fulfilled in the selection of previous popes. Translated into Latin the word "Svampa" may become "flaming torch" (ignis ardens) and the old prediction said that thus would Leo's successor be known. Oreglia is the choice of the Jesuits. He alone of the cardinals has ventured to publicly criticize the policy of Leo. He is a reactionary and was dismissed from Portugal for meddling in political affairs. Oreglia is dean of the college of cardinals, and is 75 years old. Capecelatro comes of a family distinguished in southern Italy, and stands closer to the Italian government, it is said, than any other member of the sacred college. For years he was queen Margherita's confessor, and is considered the best educated prelate in Rome. Prisco is best known as a writer. Celesia is the oldest of the cardinals, and a noted controversialist. Sarto is a great preacher and an excellent administrator. Vannutelli, the younger, represented the vatican at the golden jubilee of queen Victoria and the coronation of the czar. Ferrari is one of the youngest of the cardinals. Of the others the public knows little.

CANADIAN PACIFIC EQUIPMENT

The denial bureau of the Canadian Pacific is still hard at work. It has lately been hinted that there was no blockade last autumn. It is asserted that there will be none this coming autumn. We are assured that there is plenty of rolling stock and motive power. Meanwhile, the railway is placing orders for engines and cars with feverish haste. The Wall Street Journal recently noticed the order for 30 additional engines—ten in Toronto and 20 in Glasgow—and remarks that the 745 engines which the Canadian Pacific had on June 30th, 1902, proved woefully inadequate to handle the crops of the season. "It is stated" the Journal says, "that the number of locomotives owned by the company at the end of the fiscal year 1904 will be at least 40 per cent greater than on June 30th, 1902. In other words, the road expects to have use for nearly, if not quite, 1,000 engines by the end of the fiscal year 1904."

With the Canadian Pacific equipment the Wall Street Journal compares that of several other railways. The comparison works out as follows:

	Engines.	Cars.	Cars per Engine
C. P. R. (est.).....	800	32,187	40
G. T. R.	999	30,586	30

The motive power department "will stand strengthening," is the conclusion drawn from this table. "Only the Great Northern has a less adequate supply of engines at present, and the Great Northern is essentially a freight line, while the Canadian Pacific is both passenger and freight. Moreover, it must be remembered that the car equipment of the Canadian Pacific will be added to to the extent of over 5,000 cars by the end of the fiscal year 1904, so that even if the total number of engines reaches 1,000 the proportion of engines to rolling stock will still be less than normal for a road of its class."

HIS LAST HOPE REALIZED.

(From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont.)

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine April day. During his traveling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given to him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one bottle worked a complete cure and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

SANDON MINING NOTES.

The Last Chance to Recommence Work—Wakefield Increasing its Force.

The Wakefield mine will shortly increase its force to 70 miners. Manager Lane expects to ship 250 tons of ore per month and will make the first shipment next week, when the car will be sent to Nelson.

The Last Chance mine after a year's period of idleness has resumed operations and is now added to the regular working mines of the district. A force of ten men were put to work on Monday and will be gradually increased as room is made for them in the workings.

The claims recently located by Mike Kerlin in the Poplar creek district are looking up well, a four foot ledge of galena ore has been opened up on the surface, assays of samples taken from the lead gave good returns in gold, silver and lead. Jack and Jim Thompson are associated with Mike Kerlin in the locations.

It is not publicly known, but the Slocan district has in prospect a smelter and refining works somewhere adjacent to its mines, says the Review. If the parties who are now in the country looking quietly over the field with a view to the erection of both lead and zinc smelting works are fully impressed with justification for such works, one will be built not many miles from Sandon. The people who are at the back of the proposition are from New York and have abundance of available capital to carry through successfully any such undertaking. We are not at liberty to give any particulars other than those already mentioned, but if the encouragement looks anyway bright to them next spring at the latest, will witness the commencement on smelting works of sufficient proportions to reduce and refine any tonnage that can be produced from the mines of this camp.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY.

The uniform success of this remedy has made it the most popular preparation in use for bowel complaints. It is everywhere recognized as the one remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant to take. It is especially valuable for summer diarrhoea in children and is undoubtedly the means of saving the lives of a great many children each year. For sale by all druggists and dealers, who will refund your money if you are not satisfied after using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel complaints and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and reliable.

KAMLOOPS MINING.

Python is to Open Up at Once—Plenty of Working Capital Available.

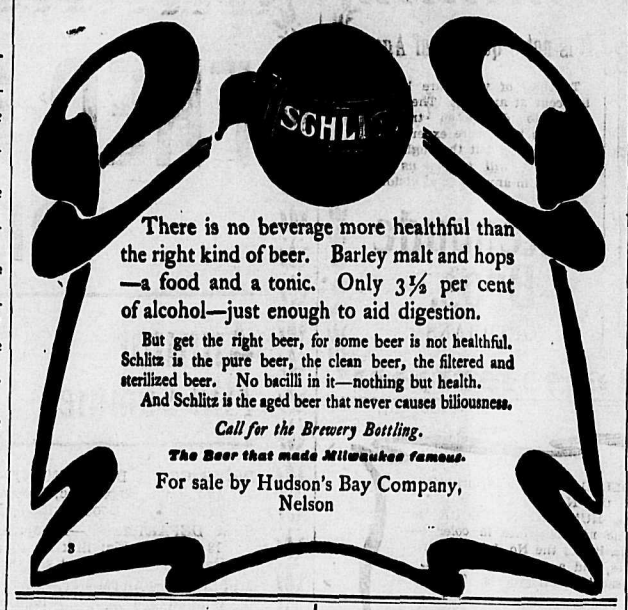
Mining is looking up around Kamloops. It was announced the other day that satisfactory arrangements had been made to at once open up and work the Iron Mask property and now the Python Mining company is to follow suit. W. F. Wood, manager of the company, has just returned from Montreal where he was successful in making arrangements for raising the capital necessary for the development of the Python group and to place the property on a producing basis.

An expert will shortly visit the property and it is upon his report that the carrying out of the arrangements entered into depend. Mr. Wood has every confidence that the result of the inspection will be satisfactory and that will mean the opening up of the mine.

Everything will be got in readiness for the examination almost immediately. The plans of the management are comprehensive and when carried out will mean the establishment of the camp on a firm basis as a permanent ore producer.

THE COPPER SITUATION.

The curtailment of copper production in some quarters, notably at Butte, Mont., is not likely to be followed by an increased price of the metal, because in the east there is a visible decrease in consumption. Labor troubles, threatened and actual, are contributing largely to both conditions. The large buyers have apparently anticipated lower prices; but producers, while ready to meet demands, seem not eager in their offerings.



There is no beverage more healthful than the right kind of beer. Barley malt and hops—a food and a tonic. Only 3½ per cent of alcohol—just enough to aid digestion.

But get the right beer, for some beer is not healthful. Schlitz is the pure beer, the clean beer, the filtered and sterilized beer. No bacilli in it—nothing but health. And Schlitz is the aged beer that never causes biliousness.

A small party of miners left yesterday for Crawford Bay to work on the iron ledges exposed on the McMillan and Robertson claims on Gray creek.

At the record office yesterday E. N. Pellent transferred the Alexandre and Dumas mineral claims to the Dumas Gold Mines, Limited, consideration nominal.

The Methodist church congregation will hold a basket picnic today to Kokanee Park the steamer leaving the city wharf at 9 a.m., and 2 p.m., and returning at 7 p.m.

A new train service has been inaugurated on the Great Northern betfeen Jennings, Mont., and Morrissey, B. C. A train will leave Jennings every day excepting Sunday at 6 a.m.

N. F. Townsend, surveyor of Rossland, who has been surveying some of the properties on the north shore of the lake, was in the city last evening and leaves for home this morning.

A charge of securing money fraudulently has been brought at Nelson by C. Barclay, against A. P. Lindsay, and will be tried with the other counts against him when he comes up at the next assizes.

Five wagon loads of lime have been scattered over the flats at the foot of Cedar street, and as the ground has now dried up the nuisance arising from the sewer overflowing there during high water has been greatly abated.

Rev. Dr. Wright leaves this morning for Spokane to officiate at the wedding of O. Somerville to Miss M. Somerville, both formerly of Nelson, and well known here. The wedding will take place from the home of the bride's mother.

There will be a meeting of the committee of the Nelson Operatic society this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the opera house to consider the advisability of producing an opera in this city during the week of the Fair. A full attendance is requested.

Mulholland, the one armed prisoner who who escaped from the jail on Monday is still at large, but is believed to be still in the neighborhood. He was traced after his escape to a cabin near the Hall Mines smelter, but got away before the police reached it.

The hot spell is now on in earnest and yesterday the thermometer registered 92 in the shade. The heat, however, was not appressive, a cool breeze blowing off the lake all day, and by 7 o'clock the mercury was down to 70. The saloons and soda water stands did a rushing business all day, and in the evening every available pleasure boat was in use upon the lake.

D. McArthur & Co. have added an ingenious machine to their undertaking department, consisting of a device for lowering caskets into a grave. When the grave is prepared the coffin is rested over the opening on two straps, one at either end. Then on touching a little lever the coffin descends to the bottom, the machine lowering it automatically but gently.

The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen have decided to hold their annual excursion on August 25th, which will be the first day of the celebration at Rossland. Those going on the excursion, which will be run from Nelson and Boundary points, will have the privilege of remaining over both days.

The Montreal Daily Herald has sent to England one of its editorial staff—Mr. J. C. Walsh—to interview English public men in regard to Mr. Chamberlain's preferential trade proposals, and to estimate, as well as may be, the weight of the forces working for and against the proposition. As Mr. Walsh will naturally represent the Canadian point of view, his interviews should elicit responses peculiarly interesting to Canadians. His letters will begin in the Herald in the course of a few days.

Yesterday afternoon a party of four youngsters, the oldest of whom was only eleven years old, went fishing on the city wharf. They had been there but a few minutes when an outcry arose that brought men running from several directions, thinking that an accident had occurred. All that had happened, however, was that a two pound trout had taken the bait on one of the hooks, and for a time threatened to pull the owner off the wharf. The other youngsters, though greatly excited gave assistance in time and the fish was triumphantly landed.

A meeting of the Nelson lacrosse club was held last evening at the Hume hotel, and a large number of the members attended. Dr. McLennan was appointed chairman. It was decided that a game should be played at Rossland on July 30, an invitation having been received from that town for the date mentioned. The proposed game with Vancouver at Rossland during the celebration in August also came up, but no action was taken. A letter received from the Shamrocks, of Montreal, regarding a game was discussed, and if possible one will be arranged to be held during exhibition week.

An anxious enquirer called at The Daily News office last night to learn if anything had been heard of the city band's whereabouts. "I understand," said he, "that we were to have a couple of open air concerts a week from our fine city band, but somehow the organization appears to have lost itself. I am sure that if the Salvation army's evening performance prevents the city musicians from turning out that the matter could readily be adjusted. What does the city band want? A public petition to bring them out? or a bonus from the city council? The summer is passing away without our promised concerts and the band should get busy and play at least one night a week."

The Kootenay Railway & Navigation company will give an excursion to Procter and Crawford Bay on the steamer Kaslo next Sunday. The boat will leave the city wharf at 10 a.m., and returning will leave Crawford Bay at 3.30, calling at Procter, and reaching the city about 6 p.m. Fare for the round trip, Procter $1, Crawford Bay, $1.25.

Drury Nickerson had great luck fishing last evening just off Squire's point. He hooked a fine rainbow trout and after an exciting struggle succeeded in landing him safely in the boat. Mr. Nickerson was congratulating himself on the capture, when the trout made a final leap for life and jumped back into his native element once more only to be re-taken a second time after another game struggle. The fish is a beauty and weighed and ounce or two over five pounds.

Several visitors arriving in the city from eastern Canada yesterday, report that the recent discoveries at Poplar creek are causing considerable excitement in many parts of the eastern provinces. Nelson is getting a lot of good advertising through it, as this city is always referred to as the best point to outfit for the new gold fields. Large numbers of men are preparing to come west to the Kootenays again, and the new finds are having a very beneficial effect in combatting the prejudices engendered by the wildcat booming done by eastern brokers for a couple of years.

SILVER-LEAD MINERS.

To Meet on Friday Next at Sandon to Form a Permanent Organization.

The following circular has just been issued by the silver-lead miners of British Columbia:

Sandon, B. C., July 17th.

Dear Sir:—You are hereby notified that at a meeting of the silver-lead miners of British Columbia held in Sandon, December 10th, 1902, and at a subsequent meeting held at the same place on May 4th, 1903, resolutions were passed looking to the formation of a permanent organization of operators and owners of silver-lead properties and mines, and to that end committees were appointed to draft a constitution and bylaws, for the following purposes:

1.—For selling, marketing, or otherwise disposing of the output of the silver-lead mines of British Columbia.

2.—To protect our several interests from encroachments of every kind, and to see that the bonus so generously given by the Canadian government is not diverted into channels other than for those for whom it was intended.

3.—For promoting the general good in the silver-lead districts by coming in closer touch with those engaged in that industry.

The time is now at hand for desolving the temporary organization. The committee on constitution and bylaws is ready to report, and the sooner a permanent organization is formed to take charge of business the better for all concerned.

In order to get as large a representation as possible, on questions that will arise, you are urgently requested to be present, either in person or by proxy, at a meeting to be held in the city hall, Sandon, B. C., at 7 p. m. on July 24th, 1903.

It is the intention of the committee to overlook no one who is interested in the silver-lead mining industry, and should you know of any one who has failed to get notice of this meeting, please make it a personal matter and extend to him a most cordial invitation to attend.

John Keen, A .C. Garde, joint chairmen.
L. Pratt, N. J. Cavanaugh, joint secretaries.
