A MOURNFUL CORTEGE

Obsequies of the Unknown Dead of the Steamer Slocum Disaster

As the Hearses Passed the Crowd Stood Bareheaded and Wept Out of Sympathy for the Dead

New York, June 18.—The unknown and unclaimed dead, numbeing 29, were buried by the city today, a special plot in the Lutheran cemetery having been provided. Of the 29 bodies only one was that of a man, there being 11 children and 17 women. As the fourteen hearses, carrying these 29 unknown victims of the disaster passed, an unusually large crowd respectfully lined the sidewalks making a line extending several blocks to the pier, whence the ferry carried them over to the Long island shore. The men stood with bowed, uncovered heads and by far the greater portion of the women and children gathered along the street knelt. Even those who are ordinarily phlegmatic and undemonstrative, were affected by the sorrow that all seemed to feel, and sobs shook the frames of the women, while tears streamed down the cheeks of the men .The cortege continued through the streets, lined with mourning thousands, until it became a part of the long procession of funerals that were winding their way along.

More than 200 witnesses have been summoned to appear at the inquest on Monday. Among the stories which have come to the investigating officers was one from Charles A. Lang, who was a passenger on the Slocum, to the effect that fire was first discovered when the steamer was off 56th street, near the lower end of Blackwell's island. This point is more than three miles below 138th street, where first, many said, the fire was discovered. Yesterday a deck hand told the coroner that the fire really started off 86th street, but the point named by Lang is a mile and a half below that place, and nearly six miles from the point on North Brother island where the Slocum was beached.

Based on the same data the list of missing today was estimated at 330, while 58 victims of the disaster are in the hospitals. So far as could be learned plans had been made for the burial of 111 bodies from homes in the vicinity of St. Mark's church. The plans included services in 37 churches of the denomination in that neighborhood. Considerable difficulty had been experienced by undertakers in securing a sufficient number of hearses, and it became necessary to call upon the neighboring cities in order to supply the demand. In accordance with the German custom the people who were obliged to be out of doors passed through the streets of the stricken parish with bared heads. Business was practically suspended and stores were draped in black, and lines of hearses filled the streets. The funerals began at an early hour and at times the streets were completely blocked and traffic of other kinds was impossible. Every church in the vicinity was filled to its capacity. Clergymen from all parts of the city had left their own congregations and come to the bereaved district to give spiritual consolation to the afflicted.

A diver, who today renewed the search for victims of the steamer General Slocum disaster, found a deep hole in the bed of the river practically filled with bodies. Within an hour after the search was begun eight bodies had been brought to the surface and when he was forced to abandon the work for a time because of the swift current, he stated that between 30 and 50 bodies still remained in the hole. The river was searched along the bottom, when he found several bodies lying together. At first there appeared to be about half a dozen bodies in the pile, but upon removing several the diver found a great hole in the river bed literally packed with the dead. He says at least 30 more bodies will be found when the tide again turns and permits a resumption of the work. This number he says may be greatly exceeded. After the lapse of three days since the disaster, the most carefully collected data shows that 568 bodies have been recovered up to this time.

The following telegram from the German ambassador at Washington, baron von Sternberg, inclosing a cablegram from the German emperor, was received today by Dr. Haas, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church: "The following cablegram has just been communicated to me by his majesty, the Kaiser:

"'Being most profoundly affected by the news of the indescribably horrible catastrophe which has overtaken the Lutheran congregation, I command you to express to it my innermost feelings of sorrow.'

"In carrying out the command of my most gracious sovereign, allow me at the same time to offer you my own personal sympathy."

NEARLY SIX HUNDRED BODIES

More than three days and nights of unceasing search has resulted tonight in the recovery of 581 bodies of victims of the awful disaster. While even this appalling number does not represent the full extent of the calamity, hopes are now entertained that comparatively few bodies remain to be recovered. There is a possibility that when the charred hulk is brought to the surface a considerable number of bodies may be found within the tangled mass of wreckage which has defied all attempts of the divers at complete exploration. Doubtless, too, many bodies have been swept away by the whirling surrents of Hell Gate and carried out into the waters of the sound or out past Sandy Hook to the open sea. The number of those officially recorded tonight as still missing is 325. The region in the vicinity of St. Mark's German Lutheran church is east 6th street was today the scene of 114 funerals, representing the burial of nearly 200 bodies, almost all of whom were women and children. Enormous crowds thronged the quarter and a large force of police was necessary to prevent disorder and keep clear a passage for the lines of hearses and carriages. Funeral services were held in no less than 37 churches of various denominations in the quarter.

Sixteen more bodies recovered during the day were brought down from the scene of the wreck to the temporary morgue at the foot of east 27th street this afternoon. So great was the clamor for admission that all run of the crowd was lost and when the entrance to the pier was thrown open a rush took place during which many persons were knocked down and trampled on.

The executive committee of the mayor's relief committee, met this afternoon at St. Mark's church and made arrangements for the extension of relief privately to all the sufferers by the disaster who are in need. Mayor McClellan authorized police commissioner McAdoo to contract with a wrecking company to raise the hull of the Slocum. A powerful wrecking tug was despatched to North Brother island tonight with orders to raise the wreck as soon as possible and tow it to shallow water off Riker's island, where it will be searched for any bodies that may yet remain on it. The investigation of the coroner will begin on Monday morning and about 200 witnesses are to be examined in the effort to fix the responsibility for the disaster.

MAY BE THE TERMINAL

A LARGE WHARF IS TO BE CONSTRUCTED AT KITIMAAT.

RUMORED G. T. P. MAY TAKE ROUTE SURVEYED FOR NORTHERN LINE

Victoria, June 18.—Charles Clifford, M.P.P. for Cassiar, left here on Thursday for Kitimaat, where he will build a large wharf for the accommodation of traffic. Incidental with this announcement Forbes Vernon, who is deeply interested in the Pacific Northern & Omineca railway with Mr. Clifford and others, has left Otttawa and Montreal on his return trip. Mr. Vernon is coming by way of St. Louis, and will arrive here shortly.

It is said that Mr. Vernon's trip to the east was for the purpose of interesting the Grand Trunk Pacific in assuming the Pacific Northern & Omineca charter. A provincial subsidy has been granted that line, and for some sessions past an effort has been made to increase it. While in Montreal it is said he had several conferences with general manager Hays, of the Grand Trunk Pacific. The announcement that this wharf is to be built would indicate that the mission was not in vain, It is generally conceded now that there is a very strong probability that assurances have been given which will result in the Kitimaat-Hazelton road being made a branch, at least, of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Mr. Clifford, while he does not care to say much about it, acknowledges that Kitimaat may yet be the terminal point. The route surveyed for the Pacific Northern and Omineca is said to be a very easy one for building purposes. It is up a valley which apparently was at one time the old course of the Skeena river. Kitimaat has a splendid harbor, and navigators say the approaches are excellent. It is free from ice the year round, and is the gateway to a rich country.

Even if the Grand Trunk Pacific selected a terminal point further north, it might be to its advantage to construct a branch to connect with the outside by way of Kitimaat.

OUTPUT IS INCREASED

BOUNDARY SHIPPED 5000 TONS MORE ORE THAN LAST WEEK

WITHOUT ANY GREAT EFFORT THE MINES PRODUCED 17,020 TONS

[Special to The Daily News.]

Phoenix, June 18—This week's ore tonnage from the mines of the Boundary is nearly 5000 tons in excess of that of last week, due to the larger shipments from both the Granby and the Mother Lode mines. The No. 37, a Summit camp property is on the list this week, sending out a couple of cars. The several mines sent out the following amounts of ore respectively:

| | |
|---|---|
| Granby mines to Granby | 11,940 |
| Mother Lode to Greenwood | 3,840 |
| Emma mine | 850 |
| Oro Denoro to Granby | 270 |
| Brey Fogle to Granby | 60 |
| No. 37 to Granby | 60 |

Total for the week, 17,020; total for the year to date, 379,870 tons. This week the Granby smelter treated 12,658 tons of ore, or a total of 288,227 tons this year.

RAT PORTAGE FIRE

Lumber Co.'s Loss Was $150,000—Thirteen Families Homeless

Rat Portage, June 18—The Rat Portage Lumber Co.' loss in Friday's fire was $150,000.. The company will rebuild at once. The insurance was $65,000. Some $25,000 worth of glass was burned. Thirteen families are rendered homeless and 150 persons thrown out of employment.

DEFENCELESS MEN SHOT DOWN LIKE DOGS

Russians Gave Combatants on Transports no Chance Whatever for Their Lives ---Believed That Kouropatkin Will Take the Offensive---Wounded from Vafangow Reach Liao Yang---Kuroki Waiting---Big Fight Expected

KILLED DEFENCELESS MEN

Russians Gave Combatants on Transports No Chance.

Tokio, June 18.—A total of 509 survivors of the Japanese transports Sado and Hitachi, destroyed by the Russian warships have arrived at southern ports. The Russians permitted non-combatants to leave the Sado but their whereabouts are unknown. There was apparently no chance given the combatants on board the Hitachi to leave and the Russians raked the crowded decks of the crippled transports with shrapnel. The Japanese denounce this action bitterly, as barbarity, indicating the clear intent of the Russians to kill defenceless men on board, instead of having a simple desire to destroy ships.

Nagasaki, June 18.—Thirty more survivors from the transport Hitachi have arrived at Hakodate, and it is probably that more survivors have reached the adjacent islands. The authorities are reticent about the extent of of the losses. The governor of Nagasaki has officially thanked the British consul here for the services rendered by the British steamer Dubar in rescuing survivors of the Hitachi.

SAY IT WILL BE HISTORIC.

Notable Battle of Ironclads is Promised By the Russians.

St. Petersburg, June 18.—The authorities are decidedly elated over the simultaneous receipt of the despatches from rear admiral Withoft, who commands the Russian fleet at Port Arthur, and from Vladivostock, indicating that the fleet of both places are moving. Somewhat naturally the authorities declined to disclose the means of transmission of admiral Withoft's despatch, but the fact that the message brought the admiralty's report up to June 14, indicates that it hardly came by runner through the Japanese lines The condition of the squadron makes it apparent that the vessels are ready to go to sea, and if they meet the Japanese fleet the result will probably be a battle of ironclads that will take a place in history overshadowing the meeting of the Chinese and Japanese fleets on the Yalu. A reference in the Port Arthur despatch to rear admiral prince Ouktansky incidentally disprove the report, previously denied by the Associated Press, that the prince had been deposed and executed.

The Vladivostock message shows that the commandant there is looking forward to serious operations, probably with a view to Japanese reprisals for the destruction wrought by the Russian cruiser squadron. There is no indication, however, so far as can be learned, that the Japanese squadron has appeared in the neighborhood.

The St. Petersburg authorities have received nothing of an official nature bearing upon the report of the mutilation of the wounded at Vafangow and they are not disposed to discuss the matter until it shall have been formally called to their attention.

ANOTHER BATTLE EXPECTED.

Forces of the Belligerents Are More Equal Than Hitherto.

Liao Yang, June 18.—The retirement of the Russians before a superior force from Vafangow, and the advance of the Japanese east and south eastward, makes imminent a still more important engagement in the southern region. The Japanese have now arrived at a point where the forces are more equal and where they must fight on more even terms. The loss of 3000 men by the Russian divisions at Vafangow shows the courage and ability of the officers and troops to retain their position under a percentage of loss almost unprecedented. The Japanese attack on Port Arthur has been delayed. The overcrowded hospital trains are inspected when passing Liao Yang by general Kouropatkin and grand duke Boris.

HELD IN SEOUL.

Vessels Kept in Harbor Through Fear of Vladivostock Squadron.

Seoul, June 18.—The authorities insist that every steamer owned by foreigners, but chartered by the Japanese shall not leave port before further news is received of the whereabouts of the Russian Vladivostock squadron. A Korean vessel which left Fusan recently for Gen San, is overdue and it is feared she has been sunk by the Russians.

WOUNDED MUTILATED.

Military Attaches Sign Statement Accusing the Japanese.

St. Petersburg, June 18.—Colonel Merchausky, commander of the fourth infantry regiment, was taken prisoner by the Japanese at Vafangow. The charge that the Japanese mutilated the Russian wounded men found in the bushes about the battle field of Vafangow, is reported by other Russian correspondents. Nemirovich Danchinko, probably the best known of the Russian correspondents, says a hospital assistant in charge of three wounded soldiers having been driven off on the approach of some Japanese cavalry, saw the latter mutilate the wounded men, inflicting stabs and slashes. One body showed 28 wounds on the head, the face cut open, the eyes were gouged out, the breasts were pierced and the knees were crushed by rifle butts. The skull of one man was crushed. Danchinko declares that the horrible practice was indulged in by the Bashi Bazouks in the Turkish war, and says general Simonoff drew up a statement in regard to the Japanese mutilations which was signed by the British, French and Spanish military attaches.

WOULD BE A WASTE OF TIME.

Japan Thinks it Useless to Protest Against Russian Violation.

Tokio, June 18.—The Japanese government may decide not to make any formal protest through France against the alleged violation of the Japanese flag at the battle of Telissu, on the ground of its uselessness. It is believed that Russia will deny, whatever the facts may be, creating a discussion which would only involve a waste of time. Herein lies the disadvantage of the Japanese plan to restrict military observers and press correspondents, for the reason that no matter how flagrant the violations they may chage of the law of nations, they are unable to substantiate them by the testimony of neutral witnesses.

DAMAGED WARSHIPS

Admiral Alexieff Reports That They Have Been Repaired.

St. Petersburg, June 18.—The minister of marine has received the following despatch from admiral Alexieff, dated June 16: "According to reports received up to June 14, from rear admiral Withoft, in command of the naval forces at Port Arthur, the work of repairing the ships of the squadron has been brought to a most successful conclusion, alike regarding the battleships under the command of rear admiral Ouktomski, the cruisers comanded by captain Reitsenstien, and the torpedo boats, thanks to unremitting labors, energy and absolute devotion of all concerned. The health of the crews of the squadron is most satisfactory.

KUROKI IS WAITING.

Watching Result of Fighting on the Liao Tung Peninsula.

General Kuroki's Headquarters, in the Field, via Fusan, June 17.—(Delayed in transmission.)—General Kuroki is patiently awaiting the results of the fighting on Liao Tung peninsula on the result of which the future movements of the first Japanese army largely depends. The Russian re-occupation of towns northeast of the Japanese front is believed to indicate a plan to prevent general Kuroki from attempting a junction with the Japanese forces on the Liao Tung peninsula. Correspondents with general Kuroki's army have been promised greater liberty and have been given permission to visit the outposts of the army. Heavy rains prevail.

RUSSIANS LOST LARGE NUMBER.

Eleven Hundred of the Wounded Soldiers Reach Liao Yang.

St. Petersburg, June 18.—About 1100 of those wounded at the battle of Vafangow, including 55 officers, have reached Liao Yang. The total Russian losses are about 2,000. General Stalkenberg's force is marching north, the railroad being unable to transport more than a few thousand men. Special despatches say that the Russians at Vafangow had 42 battalions against 44 Japanese battalions. The Japanese had great superiority in artillery, having more than 200 guns.

SEARCHED MERCHANTMEN

Tokio, June 18.—The Vladivostock squadron has disappeared off the west coast of Aomori prefecture. The Russians recently searched two merchantmen and to one of them they transferred the Englishmen taken from the Japanese transport Sado. They then permitted the vessels to depart uninjured.

TIRED OF BEING ATTACKED.

General Kouropatkin Will Now Assume The Offensive.

Liao Yang, June 17.—(Delayed in transmission)—Red Cross trains filled with wounded from the south are passing through Liao Yang. The proportion of wounded officers testifies to their gallantry. Almost all the officers of one regiment were killed or wounded.

Military activity on a grand scale is apparent at Mukden. A high authority confirms the announcement that general Kouropatkin is assuming the offensive.

RUSSIAN STRATEGY.

Recent Movements Made in the Interest of Port Arthur.

St. Petersburg, June 18.—It transpires that the simultaneous raid of the Vladivostock squadron and general Stalkenberg's march toward the south, were the direct outcome of a plan agreed upon by viceroy Alexieff and general Kouropatkin at Mukden, immediately after the battle of Kin Chou to release the tension at Port Arthur. The authorities apparently are satisfied with the results of Stalkenberg's mission, he having compelled the despatch north of a detachment of the third Japanese army commanded by general Nodzu, delaying the siege to that extent, while at sea the raid of the Russian squadron has rendered the further transport of troops from the Japanese mainland impossible.

WANT PLENTY OF SOLDIERS

Loss of Transports May Delay Downfall of Port Arthur.

Che Foo, June 18.—Japanese officials here believe that the loss of the transports Hitachi and Sado will delay the combined attack on Port Arthur. The Taotai, of Che Foo, has protested to the Russian consul against the use of wireless telegraphy between Che Foo and Port Arthur, but the consul has not yet made any reply to the Taotai's representations.

LEASE TAKEN OVER

Ymir Youngsters Will Take High School Entrance Examination

[Special to The Daily News.]

Ymir, June 18—Arthur Phillips and Con Moore of Erie, have taken over from Messrs, Clements, Hall and Davis their lease on the Keystone mine near Erie. The last mentiond parties have held the lease for a little over 20 months and during that time have shipped some $24,000 worth of ore. The property belongs to Finch and Campbell of Spokane and they are getting a royalty on all ore shipped.

B. Fallows, M.E., and Hugh W. Keech of Rossland, are purchasing supplies which will be forwarded to the Monarch mine on Hall creek, where Mr. Keech will run a 150 foot tunnel on the property. The property has ledges carrying copper ore and is owned by Portland, Oregon, parties.

THE KANAWHA WON

Beat the Hauoli and Secured the Cup in a Sixty Mile Race

New York, June 18—H. H. Rogers' twin screw steam yacht, the Kanawha, today won the Lysistra cup and $2500 offered by James G. Bennett of the New York Yacht club, by beating F. M. Smith's Hauoli, her only competitor, by three minutes and forty seconds in a 60 mile race off Sandy Hook lightship. The race was the second of the series, the first of which was won by the Kanawha last seaon, and today's victory gives the Kanawha absolute possession of the cup. She was never headed after she crossed the starting line The course was 30 miles seaward from Sandy Hook lightship and return.

RESULT OF COLLISION

A British Torpedo Boat Destroyer Sunk off Sardinia

Ajaccio, Corsica, June 18—During the night of June 16, two torpedo boat destroyers collided off Porto Torres, island of Sardinia. One of the destroyers sank. The crew was saved.

Paris, June 18—A despatch from Ajacio says the torpedo boat destroyer sunk there on the night of June 16th was the Bat, belonging to the squadron of rear-admiral Walker. During the night manoeuvres the Bat collided with the destroyer Stag and sank in deep water.

REGARDED HIM HIGHLY

General Bobrikoff's Tragic Death Affects Emperor Nicholas

St. Petersburg, June 18—General Bobrikoff's tragic death affected emperor Nicholas, who had a high regard for the governor general. It was noticed that his mejesty hurried through two ceremonies yesterday. It is reported that lieutenant-general VonWahl, formerly chief of police of St. Petersburg, will succeed general Bobrikoff as governor of Finland.

PANIC IN A CIRCUS

Chicago, June 18—Nearly 100 persons were sunk in a struggling yelling mass through the collapse of a reserved seat section during the performance this afternoon. It is known that nine are seriously hurt and it is supposed that scores more are hurt, whose names were not reported to the police. The panic among the 2000 people in the tent was intensified by the plunging of two horses that broke from the ring in which they were performing and ran into the crowd. During the excitement the treasurer disappeared with over $600 of the show's money.

HIGHBALL WON THE RACE

Chicago, June 18—Without feeling the touch of whip or spur, and running entirely on his own courage, Highball, the three-year-old colt won the American Derby at Washington Park today. L. B. Dickerson's Woodson, one of the long shots, was second, half a length in front of John A. Drake's Rapidwater. English Lad, a favorite before the race, was fourth and at the end. Time 2.33. It equals the best time ever made for the event. The Picket won last year's Derby in exactly the same time.

BROKE TWO RECORDS

Cleveland, June 18—Before a crowd of 20,000 horse lovers at Clover, Ill., today, Lou Dillon, the trotting mare, driven by her owner, Mr. Billings, was sent a mile to a wagon to beat the amateur record of 2:10. The mare made the distance in 2:06 1-2 and the last quarter made in 30 seconds. Mr. Billings next drove Charlie Mac a mile to saddle in an effort to break the ameteur world's record of 2:19 1-4. The record was lowered to 2:17 3-4.

MAKES ROSSLAND DULL

LE ROI NOT EMPLOYING AS MANY MEN AS IT USED TO

Rossland, June 18—Geneally speaking the situation in Rossland is dull and this will probably continue until the community sees more activity manifested in connection with the Le Roi mine, which has been the largest individual employer of men in the camp. Otherwise matters are in a most satisfactory condition, and various points have developed in the past week that promise much for immediate future of the camp. The Le Roi continues to employ 150 men and ship 160 tons of ore daily. It is intimated that the Northport smelter reserve of ore will be finished about August 1st, and that there is a possibility of suspension then. On the other hand, it is said that arrangements are being made for supplies of self-fluxing Boundary ores to be shipped over the Great Northern extension now being built. The delivery of such ores at Northport will alter the situation materially.

Throughout the week machinery tests were under way at the Rossland Power company's big concentrator and it is understood that shipments of milling ore from the Rossland mines will be started within a fortnight. "Running like clockwork," continues to be the report sent out from the plant as to the machinery tested to date.

That the Iron Mask, Cliff and Abe Lincoln mines may soon rejoin the working list is not unlikely. In each instance steps looking to this end have been taken. All three properties have been closed down for two years or more.

Shipments of milling machinery for the White Bear company are arriving daily, twenty stamps for the crushing section have been delivered. Much of the plant is now roofed in.

Shipments for the past week were:

| | |
|---|---|
| Le Roi | 1,330 |
| Centre Star | 1,440 |
| War Eagle | 990 |
| Le Roi No. 2 | 490 |
| Le Roi No. 2 (milled) | 250 |
| Spitzee | 30 |
| I. X. L., concentrates | 7 |
| Kootenay | 385 |
| Jumbo | 200 |

Total for the week, 5,122; and for the year to date, 172,288 tons.

FOUR TIBETANS KILLED

They Attempted to Intercept a British Convoy and Failed

Gyantse, Tibet, June 16—[Delayed in transmission]—A force of 300 Tibetans attempted to intercept a British convoy today. Four Tibetans were killed. The convoy arrived here safely. The Tibetans around Gyantse, according to the latest information, number about 8000 men and there are 7000 between Kang Ma and Karola. The Tibetan fort is receiving more brass cannon and its fire is increasing in intensity.

THE BOOKBINDERS SPEAK

Roosevelt Censured for Action in the Miller Case

St Paul, June 18—After passing a resolution censuring president Roosevelt for his action in the Miller case, in connection with the public printing office in Washington, and electing officers, the International Brotherhood of Bookbinders adjourned today. The question of placing the president and secretary-treasurer on a salary was left to a referendum vote.

HARD TO KILL

Took Five Shocks to Execute a Condemned Negro

Columbus, June 18—The electrocution of Moses Johnson, a negro murderer, in the Ohio prison today was almost as harrowing as that of Michael Schiller yesterday. Johnson was tied in the chair and the first shock of 1750 volts was administered at 12:05. It failed to kill him, and five shocks in all were administered before the condemned man was pronounced dead.

POPE RECEIVES FALCONIO.

Rome, June 18.—Monsignor Falconio, who came to Rome merely to present his homage to the pope, whom he had not met, having lived abroad since he was appointed apostolic delegate in Canada, was most cordially received by the pope, who kept him an hour. The pope was most satisfied with the news monsignor Falconio gave him about catholicism and the clergy in America, congratulated him on his work and invited him to remain here so long as he wishes. Monsignor Falconio, however, expects to leave Rome for America at the end of June.

A TRIBUTE TO "BOBS"

Hero of Delhi, Lucknow and Kimberley Lauded by Mr. Choate

Told of His Uninterrupted Success--Formerly an Able Warrior, Now an Apostle of Peace and Harmony

London, June 18.—General lord Roberts was the recipient of a striking tribute as the guest of the evening at the second annual dinner of the Pilgrims' club held here tonight. Many famous Englishmen and well known Americans were present to do honor to the "Great Little General," who is president of the British branch of the Pilgrims' club.

Ambassador Choate presided and in proposing the king's health, said: "The king was the steadfast friend of the United States under all circumstances."

In giving the toast of the evening ambassador Choate dilated upon lord Roberts accomplishments in the cause of peace, and described him as one of those who had seen and grown tired of the horrors of war, and who now was one of the great apostles of mediation and arbitration, rather than an advocate of a horrid resort to war.

"Yet," said Mr. Choate, "long years of fortune and genius have united to make for earl Roberts' unbroken progress of victories and success. From second lieutenant to earl and knight of the garter; from the most subordinate position to that of commander-in-chief, from the capture of Delhi and the relief of Lucknow, to the relief of Kimberley, his career has been one unbroken tide of victory and success. The relief of Kimberley might have been the relief of London. I thought until that day that an English crowd was cold compared with an American crowd. My eyes were opened and I learned that their hearts beat with as warm a feeling as those of any people on the globe. In my official and personal capacity, I warmly invite earl Roberts to cross the Atlantic and pay us a visit. He will receive such a reception as no Englishman ever received. I would like to be present at that first interview in the White House when lord Roberts and that younger soldier, Roosevelt, meet. That day I am sure, public business will be suspended, and lord Roberts and president Roosevelt will sit cheek by jowl, from the rising to the setting of the sun, exchanging the views of war, but let lord Roberts go as an apostle of peace and Anglo-American harmony and of the great doctrine of arbitration."

Earl Roberts modestly replied. He said he hoped to be able to visit the United States at no distant date, and echoed the ambassador's tribute to the work accomplished by the Pilgrims' club in promoting good feeling between Great Britain and America, saying that both countries owed a deep debt of gratitude for the inauguration of the club.

Cordial cable despatches congratulating earl Roberts were read from general Young and general Chaffee, of the United States army, and from bishop Potter of New York.

CHAT WITH MACHIN

Rowland Machin, the well known travelling man, is a guest at the Strathcona. In talking about conditions throughout the province he said they were generally good everywhere he had been, and he takes in almost the entire province during his journeys.

Mr. Machin stated that while he was at the new mill of the Nettie L., near Ferguson, a few days since he had the pleasure of seeing the first bar of bullion that was turned out by the plant. It weighs exactly 1000 ounces and looked good to him. A. J. G. Swinney, the manager of the mines and mill of the Great Western, he said, is evidently the right man in the right place. Mr. Swinney stated that the mill is working in a very satisfactory manner. In a short time he hoped to have the compressor plant and the tramway, which were partially carried away by a snow silde last winter, in working condition again.

The hills all through the Lardeau are peopled with more prospectors than ever in the history of the district. The discoveries at Poplar and the very satisfactory manner in which the free gold mines around Camborne are turning out has attracted attention and the nomads of the hills are loking for new Cambornes, and new Poplars.

The lumber industry, he says, is showing considerable activity everywhere and the exports to the territories this year promise to be larger than eve before.

TAKING OF PORT ARTHUR.

Since the commencement of the hostilities between Japan and Russia there have been a series of uninterrupted victories for the forces of the mikado both on land and sea. It is true that one or two unarmed transports have been sunk and that a few warships have been sunk by mines. The latter were accidents and not due to Russian courage, nor calculated to add to the renown of Russian arms. The good fortune of the Japanese, however, has been continuous whenever they faced the Russians, man to man, on land or on the sea. When a man is playing a game of chance, even though he has phenomenal luck, he expects to lose an occasional bet, but the Japanese luck has been beyond that which is ordinary, as they have not lost a single important point in the war game so far.

The next big prize to be won by Japanese arms is Port Arthur. Critics say that here the Japanese will encounter their first big defeat and ask how the Gibraltar of the far east will be taken, defended as it is, by miles of forts and garrisoned by an army of at least 30,000 men.

The stronghold will be taken in the same manner that it was ten years ago, though the present plan may differ slightly in its details. Though the Japanese spent several days in making the preparation, they took the place ten years ago in one day by assault, beginning at 2 o'clock in the morning and ending at about 4 in the afternoon. Fourteen hours was all that was consumed in doing the trick. At that time they had only 25,000 soldiers in addition to coolies, gunners, and guards for the lines of supply. Then they had a few siege guns, but far less than they are putting in position now. From the accounts the siege guns did no great damage to the forts or the garrison, but served, however, to demoralize the Chinese just before the final attack was made. The assault was from the plateau north of Port Arthur. The main force advanced by the northern road on the line now followed by the railroad. Two brigades approached in parallel lines and another, curving around so as to attack the town to the left. A fourth brigade came up along the south coast road, converging a little with that from the north. These four assaults made at one time confused the Chinese defenders and the Japanese were soon in possession of the place.

On the present occasion the assault will be made with at least 100,000 men on land, who will have the co-operation of the fleet, which is superior to the Russian squadron at Port Arthur. It is true that there are better guns, more forts, and Russians, to defend the place this time, instead of Chinese. The defense will doubtless be more stubborn than it was a decade ago, but that the stronghold will fall into the hands of the Japanese before a great while seems to be reasonably certain. History will repeat itself.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is now said that William R. Hearst has virtually given up the fight to obtain the democratic nomination for president. The fight which he has made has cost him between a million and a half and two million dollars. When his ready money ran out the boom collapsed. The fact of the matter is that the nomination for the presidency cannot be bought and Hearst now realizes this. He takes the situation philosophically, says he has had a run for his money, and that he will be heard from again.

The first bars of bullion have been turned out at the mill of the Silver Cup in the Lardeau, near Ferguson, and a group of properties of known merit has been placed on what promises to be a profit yielding basis. The company owning these properties has shown much enterprise and a great deal of faith in them by erecting at a large cost, a combination mill for the reduction of the ore. It was evident after the properties were secured by the present company that the mines could be made to yield a much larger profit by treating the ore on the ground, than would be the case if it was shipped by team and rail to the smelters, and so it was determined to erect a plant on the ground. It was necessary on account of the character of the ore to put up a complicated plant. This was done. Now the plant is operating in a manner highly satisfactory to the management and the reward for the patience, energy and enterprise and also the capital invested, is in sight and should not be long in forthcoming. The mines have plenty of ore of a high grade, the reducing plant works satisfactorily, and these facts spell dividends for the shareholders.

A FEW WORDS ON SAMPLING

Any one or two single pieces will very seldom give a correct average of your ore, neither will it do to break a rock and send one half to one assayer and the other half to another, and expect them to agree, as the values are never evenly disseminated, hence a variation; the better way is to take what you consider to be a fair representation of the parcel, of a number of pieces (the more the better) and break them all down to the size of corn or smaller, then thoroughly mix and take your sample from it.

NEW YORK FASHION LETTER

New York, June—18—Vacation time is rapidly approaching and thousands who, under ordinary circumstances would have gone to some summer resort, to the sea shore, or some favorite retreat around the lakes, are this year preparing to go to St. Louis to take in the world's fair. Among those contemplating a visit of one or more weeks to the fair are a great many who have never had any experience in exposition trips and are, therefore, at a loss to decide what would be best to take along with them. Especially for women the wardrobe question is of great importance and a few practical suggestions will probably be welcomed by many prospective fair visitors belonging to the gentle sex. Unless a person has unlimited means, it is always well to remember, that travelling with much baggage is rather expensive. It costs overweight on the railroads and makes it necessary to take a larger room at a hotel or boarding house. Then there is another consideration. There are some women, undoubtedly, who command unlimited means to go to St. Louis not for the purpose of seeing the exposition and profiting thereby, but merely for pastime and because other society people go there. These women expect to attend social functions in St. Louis as they do at home and as they would at any fashionable resort. Most women, however, who go to St. Louis do not belong to that class. They visit St. Louis to take in the exposition and take in other amusements only incidentally. Their means are by no means unlimited and they must be economical with their funds as well as their time to reap the greatest possible benefit with the smallest expenditure of time and money.

It is for women of that class that the suggestions concerning the necessary wardrobe will be especially welcome. The advice may be boiled down to the following two rules: Leave everything superfluous at home and, do not forget to take things that are reasonably sure to be needed. Taking it for granted that the prospec*tive visitor is a working or a business wo*man, it may safely be assumed, that she intends to make the most of her time and that she will walk a great deal to see as much as possible of the exhibits. Walking skirts are the proper thing for such strolls and a woman who intends to go to St. Louis should have at least two in her trunk. The most practical plan is to have skirts of light material, that does not show the dust very much. Three or four shirt waists of washable material and one or two silk waists of a little more elaborate style, for special occasions should be taken along. A jacket or some warm wrap for cool weather should not be forgotten. The outfit should also include a light rain coat, perhaps a linen duster, rubbers, one or two parasols and an umbrella. Do not carry a large assortment of hats. One simple walking hat with veil and a more elaborate hat for special occasions is all that is necessary in that line. Besides that every woman visitor to the fair should be provided with two pairs of stout and well fitting shoes. They should not be too small, or they would make walking a torture. It is an excellent plan to wear a plain linen suit for travelling and as little hand baggage as possible. Do not neglect to carry one or two suits of a trifle heavier underwear in your trunk, besides several changes of the light kind, as changes of temperature are liable to take place, particularly after thunder storms.

Linen shirt waist suits are said to be unusually popular among the visitors to St. Louis. These suits are highly practical and better suited to the hard wear to which they will be subjected on such occasions than dresses and waists of other materials. Shirt waists of soft or delicate materials, although, perhaps more dressy and ornamental, soon lose their freshness and look wilted and bedraggled after half a day's wear in hot summer weather. Linen waists and skirts retain their freshness much longer and can be easily washed and freshened.

Never before have China and Japan contributed so extensively to occidental fashions as at the present time. Japan, in particular, is well represented among the novelties of the season in various lines. This does not refer to the various styles of neglige garments borrowed from Japan, but to contributions in fields heretofore uninfluenced by oriental costumes.

Several new dress materials in silks and other fabrics, made in Japan or China are in the market and promise to become extremely popular. Then there is a wonderful variety of woven embroidery trimmings characteristically Japanese in their color schemes and decorative patterns, which now threatens to revolutionize the style of the day. Cherry blossoms and chrysanthemum patterns, from Japan, woven or embroidered patterns of dragons from China, belt buckles of characteristic Japanese or Chinese carvings in ivory or some oriental wood and even hats of *split bamboo and silk, imported from Ja*pan, are shown in the shops and all of these novelties are so beautiful and attractive, that they find ready purchasers.

Shoulder dangles are the latest novelty in ornamental frills and Woman's Home Companion devotes the following paragraph to it: "A little new touch that will count in giving a fresh look to a party gown is a shoulder dangle. A simple one is made of narrow black velvet ribbon. There are two shoulder straps and two ends of different lengths. Each end is furnished with a rosette of ribbon, and the two ends are caught with another rosette just at the top of the low cut bodice, as well as being attached in front. This shoulder dangle shows to its best advantage when worn with an all white gown. It also gives a girl an excuse to introduce her favorite color in her frock in an original way. The light soft ribbons are effective for this very odd little dress accessory. For the girl, whose design of gown will not allow a shoulder dangle there is a smaller dangle for the sleeve. The sleeve dangle is used as a finish for an elbow sleeve. An exceptionally pretty dangle which finishes a sleeve belonging to a gown of chiffon silver cloth was made of a band of white ribbon, on which was sewed little artifical pale green hops. The band finished the puff of the elbow sleeve, and from it at the back, were three graduated ribbon streamer ends, each finished with a little cluster of hops."

The bridge whist craze, which seems to be quite unabated in England, has led to the creation of a new type of gown, the bridge gowns, which are becoming more popular every month. It is said that the new fashion has already been trans*planted to this country* and a number of wealthy New York women have ordered such gowns for bridge parties. As bridge usually follows dinner or luncheon, the gowns bear the character suitable for either of these functions. To avoid accidents long, dangling sleeves, that would be liable to catch in the cards, are barred. The puff is built from the elbow to the shoulder with a tight fitting cuff below. For the dinner bridge gowns a low decollete would be bad form and the transparent yoke or the small round neck are preferable. Most of those gowns are made of soft, clinging stuff, so popular this sea*son.*

Among the new colors shown in some handsome dress materials imported from Paris, is a dull blue, one shade of which is called Eau de Savon. It has the blueish, irridescent color of soap suds. Another new shade is Papier Buvard, a pink of the color of blotting paper. These shades common in open mesh or transparent fabrics, such as canvas, voile, etamine or organdy and are lined with silks or chiffons matching the materials. With these colors corselets of gorgeous colors or white belts glowing flowers are worn to give a touch of brilliancy by means of contrast.

There is a new departure in kimonos, which formerly were made of brilliantly colored bandanas and showed the most dazzling combinations of dark blue and white or vivid red and white, with scant regard for artistic effec. Now only the most delicate tints are used. The centre of the handkerchief shows delicate pink, blue green or lavender, with a dainty border of pale, Persian colors of Dresden effects, with the colors of the centre predominating in the onventional or floral design. Another change of style is produced by bringing the points of the handkerchiefs to the neck line and then turning them over, so as to form a shawl shaped collar. Some exquisite specimens of the new style kimonos are shown in the shops just now.

Synopsis of Regulations for Disposal of Minerals on Dominion Lands in Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and the Yukon Territory,

Placer Mining.—Manitoba and the N. W. T., excepting the Yukon Territory.—Placer mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee, $5, renewable yearly. On the North Saskatchewan River claims are either bar or bench, the former being 100 feet long and extending between high and low water mark. The latter includes bar diggings, but extends back to the base of the hill or bank, but not exceeding 1,000 feet. Where steam power is used, claims 200 feet wide may be obtained.

Dredging in the rivers of Manitoba and the N. W. T., excepting the Yukon Territory.—A free miner may obtain only two leases of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable in the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee's right is confined to the sub*merged beds or bars of the river* below low water mark, and subject to the rights of all persons who have, or who may receive entries for bar diggings or bench claims, except on the Saskatchewan River, where the lessee may dredge to high water mark on each alternate leasehold.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles, but where a person or company has obtained more than one lease one dredge for each fifteen miles or fraction is sufficient. Rental $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of two and a half per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—Persons of eighteen years and over and joint stock companies holding free miner's certificates may obtain entry for a mining location.

A free miner's certificate is granted for one or more years, not exceeding five, upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company, according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1500x1500 feet by marking out the same with two legal posts, bearing location notices, one at each end of the line of the lode or vein.

The claim shall be recorded within fifteen days if located within ten miles of a mining recorder's office, one additional day allowed for every additional ten miles or fraction. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made, and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1.00 an acre.

Permission may be granted by the Min*ister of the Interior to locate claims con*taining iron and mica, also copper, in the Yukon Territory, of an area not exceeding 160 acres.

The patent for a mining location shall provide for the payment of a Royalty of 2 1-2 per cent of the sales of the products

Dredging in the Yukon Territory.—Six leases of five miles each may be granted to a free miners for a term of twenty years, also renewable.

The lessee's right is confined to the submerged beds or bars in the river below low water mark, that boundary to be fixed by its position on the 1st day of August in the year of the date of the lease.

The lessee shall have one dredge in operation within two years from the date of the lease, and one dredge for each five miles within six years from such date. Rental, $100 per mile for first year and $10 per mile for each subsequent year. Royalty, same as placer mining.

Placer Mining in the Yukon Territory.—Creek, gulch, river and hill claims shall not exceed 250 feet in length, measured on the base line or general direction of the creek or gulch, the width being from 1,000 to 2,000 feet. All other placer claims shall be 250 feet square.

Claims are marked by two legal posts, one at each end, bearing notices. Entry must be obtained within ten days, if the claim is within ten miles of a mining recorder's office. One extra day is allowed for each additional ten miles or fraction.

The person or company staking a claim must hold a free miner's certificate.

The discoverer of a new mine is entitled to a claim 1,000 feet in length, and if the party consists of two, 1,500 feet altogether, on the output of which no royalty shall be charged, the rest of the party ordinary claims only.

Entry fee, $10. Royalty at the rate of two and one-half per cent on the value of the gold shipped from the Yukon Territory to be paid to the Comptroller.

No free miner shall receive a grant of more than one mining claim on each separate river, creek or gulch, but the same miner may hold any number of claims by purchase, and free miners may work their claims in partnership by filing notice and paying fee of $2. A claim may be abandoned, and another obtained on the same creek, gulch or river, by giving notice and paying a fee.

Work must be done on a claim each year to the value of at least $200.

A certificate that work has been done must be obtained each year; if not, the claim shall be deemed to be abandoned, and open to occupation and entry by a free miner.

The boundaries of a claim may be defined absolutely by having a survey made and publishing notices in the Yukon Official Gazette.

Petroleum.—All unappropriated Dominion lands in Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and within the Yukon Territory are open to prospecting for petroleum, and the Minister may reserve for an individual or company having machinery on the land to be prospected, an area of 640 acres. Should the prospector discover oil in paying quantities, and satisfactorily establish such discovery, an area not exceeding 640 acres, including the oil well and such other land as may be determined, will be sold to the discoverer at the rate of $1.00 an acre, subject to royalty at such rate as may be specified by order-in-council.

Department of the Interior, Ottawa, February, 1904.

JAMES A. SMART,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

We Offer $1,000

For a Disease Germ That Liquozone Can't Kill

On every bottle of Liquozone we publish an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. We do that to convince you that Liquozone does as we claim.

Please note what that means. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is, therefore, almost helpless in any germ disease. Liquozone alone can kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too.

Acts Like Oxygen

Liquozone is the result of a process which, for more than 20 years, has been the constant study of scientific and chemical research. Its virtues are derived solely from gas, made in large part from the best oxygen producers. By a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time, these gases are made part of the liquid product.

The result is a product that does what oxygen does. Oxygen gas, as you know, is the very source of vitality, the most essential element of life. Liquozone is a vitalizing tonic with which no other known product can compare. But germs are vegetables; and Liquozone, which—like oxygen—is life to an animal, is deadly to vegetal matter.

We Paid $100,000

For the American rights to Liquozone—the highest price ever paid for similar rights on any scientific discovery. We did this after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, in this country and others.

That price was paid because Liquozone does what all the skill in the world cannot do without it. It does in germ diseases that which is impossible with drugs. It carries into the blood a harmless yet powerful germicide, to destroy at once and forever the cause of any germ disease. And no man knows another way to do it.

Liquozone is new in America, and millions who need it don't know of it. For that reason we are spending $500,000 to give the first bottle free to each of a million sick ones.

Germ Diseases

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone kills the germs, wherever they are, and the results are inevitable. By destroying the cause of the trouble, it invariably ends the disease, and forever,

NEW FINDS MADE DAILY

STAMPEDE TO MEADOW CREEK—NEW LEADS FOUND

WILL BE CONSIDERABLE ACTIVITY IN PLACER MINING

[Special to The Daily News.]

Poplar, June 18—Poplar is a little quiet at present as most of the prospectors are in the hills either doing assessment work or looking out new locations. Numerous strikes have been made during the last few days, although what their importance will be is yet too early to say. On Rapid creek Chism and Hendricks are opening up a four foot lead of quartz which shows free gold in quantity next to the hanging wall, and by crushing the quartz gold can be panned from the lead anywhere. This claim adjoins that held by C. D. Porter and it is thought that the lead is the same as that crossing Porter's claim. J. Berglund and partners recently struck a rich 18 inch lead of galena about eight miles up Poplar. On the Twilight claim between Cascade and Poplar a ten foot lead has been struck, which is believed to be the continuation of the Buffalo vein. There has been quite a stampede to Meadow creek this week, many promising leads having been struck there recently. Several of the claim owners have cut a trail to the head of the creek which is proving of great assistance in taking in supplies and in working the properties.

At Goldhill Rositer and McInnes are working a small force of men on a three foot lead of quartz from which gold can be readily panned. W. Leask of Cranbrook and partners or pushing work on the Buck and Doe claims and have a most promising showing. The amount of rich float found on almost all the creeks in this vicinity is greater probably than that of any other similar area in Kootenay and from the character of some of the pieces found it is evident that there are some tremendously rich leads to be located yet. The high water prevalent at this season have so far kept the placer miners from doing much work along the streams, but as soon as the water lowers somewhat there will be a great deal of activity at the creeks both near here and also in the vicinity of Trout lake. One nugget picked up early in the season was worth over $23 and a number of small ones have also been found. Already rockers and other apparatus are being put in position so that no time will be lost when the river reaches the proper level.

HE IS STILL IN THE BOX

WHY IT WAS A GAS AND NOT A DUST EXPLOSION.

The cross examination of James Ashworth, the English expert, commenced on Friday at 12.15, was not concluded at the trial of the damage action against the C. P. N. C. Co., when the court rose for the day, yesterday at 1 o'clock.

At the close of the day's session Mr. Bodwell in reply to a question from the court announced that the case might possibly be concluded this coming week. The defendants had several witnesses to call yet and although their examination in chief would be comparatively brief, the cross examination which would follow might be lengthy. The defendants were doing what they could to expedite matters. Mr. Taylor assured the court that he felt his responsibilities on cross examination, but was not in any way prolonging the trial further than was consistent with the interests of his clients.

The court—I do not desire to be understood in any way, as suggesting that all the counsel engaged are not conducting this trial as expeditiously as possible, but in view of my engagements, we will have to set a little longer each day in future and comencing on Monday the court will adjourn at 5 o'clock in place of 4.30.

The proceedings in the court yesterday were of a comparatively uneventful nature. Mr. Ashworth's replies in chief being as laconic as they were; his cross sxamination, so far as it has gone, has simply resulted in obtaining the witness' grounds for his announced opinions and deductions, and in some instances his admitted differences from some authorities quoted to him by the plaintiffs' counsel.

To. Mr. Taylor, the witness said that he was a retired mining engineer, not in general practice at the present time. He had made a special study of mine explosions. Referring to the findings of the British Royal commission on coal mine explosions, the witness said the findings were neither clear nor conclusive, and in the 12 years that had elapsed since the commission sat, more light had been obtained on several matters referred to. He instanced mine inspector Hall as one of the men before the commission who had changed at least some of his views of late years. He was now adverse to mine watering.

The following conclusions arrived at by the commission were submitted in turn to the witness.

1. The danger of explosion in a mine in which gas exists, even in very small quantities, is greatly increased by the presence of coal dust.

2. A gas explosion in a fiery mine may be intensified, and carried on indefinitely by coal dust raised by the explosion itself.

3. Coal dust alone, without the presence of any gas at all, may raise a dangerous explosion if ignited by a blown-out shot or other violent inflammation. To produce such a result, however, the conditions must be exceptional, and are likely to be produced only on rare occasions.

4. Different dusts are inflammable, and consequently, dangerous in varying degrees; but it cannot be said with absolute certainty that any dust is entirely free from risk.

5. There appears to be no probability that a dangerous explosion of coal dust alone could ever be produced in a mine by a naked light or ordinary flame.

Mr. Ashworth replied that under certain conditions No. 2 was true and he concurred in Nos. 1, 3, 4 and 5. Hall was opposed to mine watering before and after the commission, and so was the witness. The commission recommended watering against their advice. The witness added that he would not like to say that the royal commission made a "slip shod" recommendation, but considering what they had before them they could not do otherwise than they did.

Counsel went into the personnel of the commission and read extracts to show objections raised and the findings finally arrived at.

The court—The fact is what happened? Before Marconi's time people thought they knew lots of things about telegraphy, all about it in fact. That is a recent instance. The telephone is another. There is such a thing as progress in scientific research.

As to other changes, the witness quoted professor Dickson as a competent authority. He has proved that five per cent watery vapour in the air is necessary to prevent dust explosions and that this is not attainable. The Germans have tried and abandoned the idea. As a preventative the witness preferred wet patches to spraying, though wet patches did not always prevent explosions. It was not positively known what area of dampness dust explosions would cross. Dust in suspension would cross 70 yards of wet areas.

Referring to an article on safety lamps written by him in which he had attributed a certain mine explosion in England to the bonneted Clanny lamp, the witness said that later experiments had disproved the contention he was advocating in the article in question.

Water, under some conditions might affect an explosion in a mine, its cooling action for instance. But if the heat is sufficient it released the oxygen in the water and caused a further explosion This was a serious consideration. Water is necessary to get the greatest explosive effect. The witness declined to say whether the danger from water outweighed the benefits or vice versa. Watering did not lower the mine temperature as proved by Henry Hall in his later reports. Sufficient water could not be got into the air to have a cooling effect, except possibly where there were pools of water, mere sprinkling had no effect. To retard an explosion the roofs and ribs must be dampened.

Professor Galloway's views on watering, and proper watering, were read out and the witness said that the view was based on a particular explosion. If he referred to dampness and not to wetness, he, the witness, differed. If the dust is wet enough to wring water out of it is a preventative.

The watering systems used were: 1. Martin's combined water-air. 2. By sprinkling with pressure. 3. Water carts. 4. Buckets and hand sprinkling. No. 1 was only used in one property to knowledge of witness. No. 2 was used in many mines. If the water question was left to the witness, he would not water at all. The system shown to be in force at Coal Creek would be sufficient for the witness. The dust on floors was not dangerous, but the reverse. He differed from professor Galloway on this, it was a question of degree. The fresher coal dust was most dangerous. In order to avoid danger it was not necessary to remove dust in haulage ways. It should be kept dry. The shooting places should be watered. Gas should be looked after and a good safety lamp should be used. Dust explosions had phenomena and as to many tests it would be an advantage to be on the ground soon after the occurrence. If the workings at No. 2 mine had been under 28 feet of water for two years before he saw them it had not removed evidence of coking.

A small amount of gas in McDonald's level would do the damage created at the mine. Gas in McDonald's level and rooms could be the initial cause of the whole explosion. Dry coal dust under certain conditions may be ignited by a gas explosion. There was probably an outburst of gas in McDonald's level and this was the probable cause of the explosion. The position of the bodies when found, and the coking, are gas indications. The whole of room 7 was scattered over with very fine coke, and this points to a sudden outburst of gas. The great trouble with miners is that they will not understand or appreciate the dangers of gas and will not do what they should do when gas is prevalent. The fact that the men were at their places was a factor in favor of a gas explosion rather than a dust one.

The air was charged with fire damp in the old workings and gas could easily go across without much loss of heat. Assuming 1 1-2 or 2 per cent of gas along return air way to McDonald's level and the men at their places, the gas in McDonald's level would cause the results attained here. It is not the rule at all that gas explosions die away in a mine and rarely reach the entrance, or outer air. The outburst at the mine's mouth is not a test at all.

Professor Galloway's reference to "usual attempted explanation of an outburst of gas, etc.," before the royal commission refers to a particular explosion. Have never heard of the sudden outburst of gas being ridiculed by W. N. Atkinson.

That the coal dust was not incident to the explosion is shown by the fact that the explosion did not go up the main entry. In large explosions coal dust may, or may not be the cause. There have been gas explosions which have been aggravated by dust. Coking widely distributed is not evidence of a dust explosion. Conflicting evidences of force are common to all explosions, and not dust explosions only.

He did not admit the theory of successive dust explosions. There was only one. It was practically instantaneous, but not absolutely so. The whole mine was wrecked the same instant. Assuming local explosions at various points, fan shaft, and different levels, it would not be proof of a dust explosion, a gas explosion would have the same effect. Percussion force would cause the result.

It is a mystery how gas explosions are carried from one point to another, widely separated, but percussion force is one suggested explanation. All scientists support the vacuum theory of force. It is one of the most important matters to be considered in every explosion. The rebound of the air into the vacuum will create wreckage.

The men in No. 3 were burned by great pressure, or by actual flame. Burrows' "hot duff" was part of the dust forced out and along the entry by the explosion. Absolutely dry coal dust is not so dangerous as damp coal dust. Witness did not agree with sir Frederic Abell's evidence before the commission as to successive dust explosions. Conditions have altered since opinion was given. Too much coal dust might choke an explosion. When mine inspector Hall experimented by firing a shot into a chamber filled with coal dust, an explosion only followed the third shot.

He attached no importance to the color of the outburst at mouth of tunnel, or the absence of flames there.

Mr. Stewart was an investigator, not an authority. He is a very nice man, and a very interesting, good, and capable writer, personally he was a friend of his. From his own point of view he is an able writer.

Blakemore's definition of "explosion" if correct, is not exhaustive.

He would expect to see some blast come out of No. 2 mine, but not necessarily.

The main point in dispute between Blakemore and himself was the theory of successive dust explosions. The gas in McDonald's level was like the powder in a cannon. the whole mine being the cannon. Force pressure same all over. Explosion will begin to die out when there is sufficient room for expansion. The greater force at fan shaft and overcast, i.e., at the mouth of the cannon, quite natural. Have never heard it stated that gas explosions rarely reach the mouth of workings. The dust in the entry floors plays little or no part in the explosion. It is the dust in suspension that counts.

At 1 o'clock the court adjourned until Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

NELSON'S NEWS OF THE DAY

It has been decided to hold the annual picnic of St. Paul's church Sunday shool on Thursday, 14th July.

Superintendent Lawrence of the Canadian Pacific railway stated yesterday that a station was being built at Poplar.

The team attached to the Hudson's Bay delivery wagon ran away last evening and collided with a post near the Tremont. The result was a badly smashed wagon.

Unless arrangements are completed for the use of the armory for the celebration dances, they will be held in the Success club rooms on July 1st and in the opera house on July 2nd.

Ben C. Nicholas, city editor of the Victoria Times, is a guest at the Queens hotel. Mr. Nicholas has been taking a holiday in the Okanagan country and will spend a couple of days in Nelson, returning to the coast Tuesday morning.

Alderman Clements has made arrangements to comence building the new band stand on Ward street, south of Baker. Work will be started tomorrow and it is thought the work will be completed by the end of the week.

A strawberry festival will be given by the ladies of St. Paul's Presbyterian church next Thursday evening on the grounds of Mrs. Lamont, Carbonate street. All members and friends interested in the church are heartily welcome.

One of the features of the celebration will be a baby show which will be held in te opera house building on July 1st. D. McArthur and Co. have donated for the first prize a $40 baby carriage which will be given to the prettiest baby. There will be other prizes.

Miss Alice McBeath returned from Puget Sound Academy at Snohomish to spend the summer vacation with her parents. Miss McBeath is taking the normal course at the academy. She took up second year's work and passed with very creditable marks. She visited her brother, Harry, a few days at Vancouver on her way home.

The result of the erection of the barricade across the sewer opening at the corner of Baker and Ward streets, has been to suply a comfortable lounging place and a crowd of loungers are generally to be found there particularly of an evening. Two or three complaints were made yesterday and it was sugestd that the police should keep the passage way open at all times and move the loungers to some other and more convenient meeting place.

Owing to the fact that the money ran out before the celebration sub-committees got around to the tug of war, there were no funds left for a prize for that event. R. G. McLeod has generously come forward and donated 200 shares of the stock of the Spyglass Mining Co. as a prize for this event. This stock is valuable and will make a prize worth competing for as the company owns one of the very best mines in the Poplar district.

Captain Gore yesterday stated that he had learned some additional particulars concerning the drowning of Bruce McLane, the ship carpenter, near Nakusp on Sunday last. They went out in a small boat on a fishing trip. While exchanging seats at a considerable distance from shore, the boat was overturned. They clung to the boat and although they had but one oar after two and one half hours hard work they suceeded in reaching a point about 50 yards from shore. Then the hook on the end of the trolling line caught on the bottom and held the boat. McLane's companion asked him to help right the boat and then they could cut the trolling line and paddle to shore. They were almost chilled to the bone by this time. McLane said he would swim ashore and struck out, but his feet were so numbed that he could not use them. Though he kept his hands in motion h sank and drowned within a few feet of the boat. McLane's companion righted the boat, cut the line, and paddled ashore. The body of the unfortunate McLane is still in the water, although every effort has been made to recover it by drags and the use of dynamite.

E. B. McDermid and wife of this city were in the holdup of Thursday on the Northern Pacific train in Montana. He left here on Tuesday for London, Ont. At Spokane he stopped off and was joined by his wife. They left Spokane on the train which was held up by masked highway men near Bermouth, Montana. Mr. McHardy yesterday received the following dispatch dated Billings, Montana, June 17: "Had hot time last night with train robbers. The pasengers were unmolested. My credit is good here. E. B. McDermid."

Rossland is to have a tax sale next month and the city authorities have included lands of the Columbia and Western railway C. P. R. in the sale. Yesterday Charles R. Hamilton barrister of Rossland applied to Mr. justice Martin for an injunction against the city selling, claiming that the railway lands are exempt. John Elliot opposed the application and as the parties were not ready to proceed his lordship declined to take up the matter later on, owing to the trial of the damage suits taking up all his time. If an injunction is got it will have to be applied for at the coast. Mr. Hamilton returned to Rossland last evening.

ANOTHER ENTERTAINMENT

The pupils of St. Joseph school give another of their interesting entertainments next Thursday night at the opera house. Besides a number of vocal duets, solos, and scarf fantastics for which the pupils are unrivalled, there will be most appropriate dialogues and a charming pantomine which promises to give more than a pleasurable satisfaction to the many patrons of these attractive juvenile performers. The full program will appear in this paper during the course of the week and as a crowded house usually greets St. Joseph's pupils, no time should be lost in securing tickets.

NELSON BEATS TRAIL

THE CIRCUS IS COMING

It Will be Here on Tuesday, June 28th. —A First-Class Show

If there is anything new under the sun in the circus world then it will of a surety be secured by Norris and Rowe for their new big shows. This season they have discovered what they claim to be the greatest aerial act ever presented in this country. It is called the "Five Flying La Vans." At the very apex of the enormous tent, these accomplished and death-defying ocrobats, have arranged a vast net work of rigging, triple bars, pedestals, etc., and silhoutted against the white sanvas swing from the pedestals and pass and repass each other in the air, at the same time executing difficult feats of acrobats. The whole making a graceful, pleasing picture and the fear-compelling act will be one long remembered. The veritable feast of circus novelties which Messrs Norris and Rowe offer their many admirers this season will do more to perpetuate their hold upon the affections of the amusement loving public than has ever occurred in the world of white tents. Two performances will be given here Tuesday, June 28th.

Have an air of prosperity about you on the 1st of July by wearing an up-to-date suit made by Taylor and McQuarrie, fashionable tailors.

E. O. Windsor, piano tuner, is in the city. Leave orders for him at the Canada Drug and Book Co.

BODIES OF DROWNED FOUND

Collingwood, June 18—The bodies of Harry Andrews and Edmond Carrol, two of the four victims of the drowning accident of last Saturday night, were found yesterday.

The usual assembly will be held on Monday evening at Fraternity hall. Milward's full orchestra will supply the music.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Nelson lodge, K. of P., will meet at Castle hall, next to the postoffice, on Sunday, June 19th, at 10 a.m. Visiting brethren are cordially invited.

We Don't Make White Flour!

That's why "B. & K." WHOLE WHEAT FLOUR possesses its individuality.

It is NOT made from a cheap grade of White Flour with a little Bran mixed back in, but is the product of the ENTIRE GRAIN, ground on the stones used in the manufacture of Oatmeal. Makes the most wholesome BREAD. Try it.
