SYMPATHY FOR JEWS

Russian Outrages Arouse Popular Sentiment in Great Britain

Grey Declines to Inform Government of Russia of Views of British People--Roosevelt Takes Similar Stand

London, June 20.—In the house of commons today, Walter Runciman, parliamentary secretary to the local government board, on behalf of foreign secretary Grey, again declined to inform the government of Russia of the views of the British people concerning the anti-Jewish outrages. He said that the impression made and the sympathy aroused, not only in this country, but everywhere, by the disturbances and loss of life in Russia, were well known to the Russian government, and they were not matters in which official diplomatic interevention was usual or desirable.

Labor members of parliament intend to put further question to the government with a view to pressing it to protest to St. Petersburg against anti-Jewish uprisings.

Foreign secretary Grey's attitude in declining to inform the Russian government of the views of the British people concerning the outbreaks is the cause of much dissatisfaction. This is the opinion expressed by the Daily Graphic and the Tribune, both of which oppose the sending of a British squadron to Cronstadt next month.

Simon Wolff, former president of the Bnai B'Rith, had a talk with the president today. He told the president he was receiving telegrams and letters from all parts of the United States, protesting against the massacres, and urging this country to take some action in the matter.

President Roosevelt expressed sincere sympathy with the oppressed people, but was unable to see how the United States government under the circumstances could do anything to prevent the outrages.

New York, June 20.—A telegram from president Roosevelt relative to the recent massacre of Jews in Russia was read tonight to a mass meeting of Jews in this city. It says:

"I shall go over the matter with secretary Root. You know how deeply we sympathize with your feelings and how shocked and horrified we are at what has occurred in Russia, but you know also how well nigh impossible it is to accomplish anything but harm by interference."

London, June 20.—The Jewish Chronicle, of this city says, it has received a telegram from Bialystok announcing that the murderer of chief of police Durskiheff, who was shot and killed there May 30, was a former policeman. The Jews had previously been accused of the crime.

Bialystok, June 20.—Three official investigations are to determine the responsibility for the excesses of the last week. These are to be conducted by the commission of the lower house of parliament, the minister of the interior and the minister of justice.

ALGECIRAS CONFERENCE

Sultan of Morocco Not Entirely Satisfied With the Result.

London, June 20.—The correspondent at Fez of the Daily Mail telegraphs that he had an interview with the sultan of Morocco, who, when reluctantly induced to talk about the Algeciras conference on Moroccan reforms, complained bitterly that during the progress of the conference he was never consulted. The sultan added that he "agreed in principle with the convention, but that some modifications are necessary and I must have time to consider the treaty."

He added that he desired to have a clause inserted empowering him to dismiss the European commissioners as soon as, in the opinion of the European governments, Morocco was established on a firm and sound basis. Such a clause, the sultan says, would be a recognition of Moroccan independence and tend to allay the suspicions of the Moroccan people.

RUNAWAY FREIGHT CAR

Crashes into Engine of Express Train, Causing Death of Engineer

Rutland, Vt., June 20—A peculiar accident on the Rutland railway, a short distance from here today, resulted in the death of Harry N. Davis, the engineer, and the severe shaking up of passengers on the express train. The train was the express which left here at 2 p.m. for Boston.

At a point about seven miles south of Rutland the railroad ascends the mountain, the grade being one of the heaviest in Vermont. While the express was climbing this grade engineer Davis suddenly saw a single freight car coming down the hill on the same track. He tried to bring his train to a standstill but before this could be done, the car had crashed into the locomotive. Davis was so badly injured that he died while being brought here. No one else was hurt. It is supposed the freight car, which was loaded with pulp, became separated from a train on a siding.

EMPEROR CALLS ON TREPOFF

London, June 20.—The Tribune's correspondent at St. Petersburg asserts that emperor Nicholas is urging general Trepoff to organize a cabinet and that the emperor has summoned M. Pobedonostoff, former procurator of the holy synod, to an audience.

A despatch from Riazan to the same paper reports that the Bolchieff regiment has mutinied and killed several of its officers.

READY FOR CORONATION

SPECIAL EMBASSIES ARRIVE AT TRONDHJEM

SWEDISH MINISTER HAS URGENT BUSINESS AT HOME

Trondhjem, June 20.—The arrival and reception of the special embassies from Great Britain and France headed by the prince of Wales, and admiral Aube, respectively today gave the crowds pleasing spectacles of royal pageantry. Besides the salutes of the arriving warships and the responses to them, there was an extended exchange of international courtesies and from morning until night guns boomed in the harbors.

The only public appearance of the royal family of Norway was when they went to greet the prince and princess of Wales, which was made the occasion of a patriotic demonstration.

The baby crown prince has taken a wonderful hold upon the hearts of the Norwegian people and if he retains his place in their affections through the years he will be one of the world's most popular monarchs when he comes to the throne.

The harbor is filling rapidly and presents a gala appearance, the vessels being freely draped with gay bunting.

The American embassy, headed by Charles H. Graves, minister of Sweden, will be received in audience tomorrow, when lieutenant commander Gibbons arrives from London.

The remaining special embassies, including prince Henry of Prussia, will arrive here tomorrow, when the final preparations for the coronation will be completed.

The Swedish minister at Christiana finds it convenient to have urgent business requiring his presence at home. However, the incident seemingly is proving not at all disturbing.

LAND OF REFUGE

Appeal on Behalf of the Oppressed Jews of the World.

London, June 21.—Mr. Montefiore, president of the Zionist faction, and Israel Zangwill, president of the Jewish territorial organization, presented a joint appeal through the newspapers this morning to the prominent Jews of Great Britain and the United States on behalf of the oppressed Russian Jews. They remark that the United States senate's adoption of a bill to further restrict immigration threatens to close even this land of refuge without opening another, and say therefore it is more than ever urgent to find permanent means of grappling with the Jewish question and have a future abiding place for the oppressed Jews of the world.

MONTREAL VACANCY

Toronto Man May be Asked To Run in Liberal Interest

Montreal, June 20—A Toronto man may become M.P. for a Montreal constituency. The St. Anne division is not represented, Dan Gallery having been unseated and disqualified by the courts. Gallery is appealing against the disqualification, but the prospect is that another man must carry hte grit standard when the bye-election comes on. J. G. Donoghue of Toronto, counsel for the Dominion Trades Congress, has been approached by liberals who want him to run. Mr. Donoghue worked hard to elect the labor man, Verville in Maisonneuve. There is a big labor vote in St. Anne, and the idea is that Donoghue could unite the labor and liberal elements by running himself.

ADRIFT ON A LIFE RAFT

Victoria, June 20—A despatch received tonight by superintendent F. S. Hussey of the provincial police, dated from Ucluet, on the west coast of Vancouver island, says: "A bottle has drifted ashore on Long beach, near Ucluiet with the following message: 'On life raft, hundred miles off Columbia bay, John Meldren, alive, come to my rescue; June 5th, 1906.' A life buoy, marked Louise, San Francisco, has also drifted ashore on Long beach.

KILLED ON THE TRACK

An elderly man named Alex. Macdonald, was killed on the track at Smelter Junction last night. He was run over and badly mangled by the train from Rossland. How he came to get on the track is not known and very little could be ascertained as to who the unfortunate man was, beyond his name, and probable age, which was given at 55.

MEAT SUPPLY FOR ARMY

London, June 20—William Field, member of parliament for St. Patrick's division of Dublin and champion of the British meat dealers, who has been so actively questioning the ministry for the past week in re[illegible] another question in the house [illegible] elicited the information from war secretary Haldane that "an American firm, long established in the London meat market" holds contracts to supply meat to three military stations in the United Kingdom. These contracts do not include the supply of canned provisions but occasionally preserved veal is issued from the army reserve in order to insure a turn over of the stock. The proportion of frozen mutton is not allowed to exceed two-sevenths of the mutton supplied to the troops.

BRITISH P. M. G. WAKES UP

London, June 20.—At the Victoria league this afternoon, Sidney Buxton, postmaster general, said he was in communication with the Canadian authorities regarding the reduction of postage on newspapers and magazines between England and Canada. He hoped for a favorable reply. He realized that Canada was being flooded with American literature and advertisements, which was serious to imperial unity and to trade. He was glad to believe that Canadians were sufficiently robust to withstand such appeals, but he would like to see it at an end.

ARGONAUTS AT HENLEY

TORONTO CREW MAKE FAVORABLE IMPRESSION IN ENGLAND

OPINION OF ONE OF GREATEST AMATEUR AUTHORITIES.

Henley, June 20.—The Argonauts of Toronto were afloat today and this evening were seen to advantage over nearly the full course. From the standpoint of physique the Canadians have made a splendid impression. Sir John Edward Moss, one of England's greatest amateur authorities, says it is the most powerful crew he ever saw. Other experts express a similar opinion, saying the Argonauts have a good chance to take the challenge cup from England for the first time. It is generally admitted in English rowing circles that the Third Trinity, Cambridge, is the only crew likely to trouble the Canadians unless the Belgians should prove good

REAR-END COLLISION

Mansfield, Conn., June 20—One killed, and an engine badly damaged, lying at the foot of a ten foot embankment, several freight cars wrecked and tracks torn up, are the results of a rear-end collision between an extra and a way freight, which occurred near here on the Central Vermont railway this afternoon. The dead man is G. Stanton, head brakeman of the extra freight. He was in the cab of the engine which rolled down the embankment, and was cremated.

RACE FEUDS IN NEW YORK

New York, June 20—Following a stabbing affray in Norfolk street tonight, when Guiseppe Yacober killed Abraham Kosslowitz, a mob of nearly 1000 most of whom were Jews, neighbors of the dead man, fought to wrest the Italian assailant from the police. The quarrel which brought on the stabbing, arose as to who would give way when a party of Italians met a party of Jews on the sidewalk.

JOHN D. CRIMMINS ILL

Norton, Conn., June 20—It is reported here tonight that John D. Crimmins of New York, is seriously ill at his home. Rev. J. D. O'Connor was called to the Crimmins' home tonight and remained there for a short time. When seen afterwards he said in answer to inquiries: "Mr. Crimmins is ill," but added, "I think he will pull through."

The annual statement of the Traders' bank of Canada shows profits for the year amounting to $396,231.75.

UNFAVORABLE TO HAGGARD

His Scheme of Agricultural Settlements is Turned Down

Committee Reports That no Instance of Successful Colonization is on Record in Canada or Australia

London, June 20.—Parliamentary papers were issued today containing the report of the departmental committee appointed by Arthur Lyttleton when he was secretary for the colonies to inquire into H. Rider Haggard's recommendation for the establishment of agricultural settlements in the British colonies.

The report is unfavorable. It recommends that the government take no steps at present to further the schemes of colonization and suggests that the government make a grant to committees formed under the Unemployed Workingmen's Act, under certain conditions, or that a grant be given the emigration formation office to which should be entrusted the arrangements, if a special fund is alloted to assist soldiers completing their terms of service to emigrate to the colonies.

The committee favors placing persons in the colnoies and leaving them to work out their own scheme of living. The committee regards the management by a religious body, referring to the Salvation army, as undesirable. The committee also believes the expense would be greater than has been calculated and that the prospects of return of money advanced would be uncertain.

"Whether we turn to Canada, South Africa or Australia," the reports says, "we fail to find an instance of a thoroughly successful effort at colonization."

TO EVADE LIQUOR LAWS.

Cobalt Miners Plan to Buy Booze on the Quebec Side.

Cobalt, Ont., June 20.—Northern Quebec or rather Quebec in the vicinity of lake Temiskaming is now drawing considerable attention in the Cobalt excitement. The mining laws of Quebec and the laws governing the disposal of liquor in that province are much broader than those of Ontario, and both these conditions go to make up the interest now turning eastward.

The temperance faction in the government of Ontario has said that there is to be no liquor sold in Cobalt, while anything approaching the usual license, generally the active principle in the mining camps of the west, has never been thought possible in Ontario.

But in Quebec the case is different and as Mann island, a large and beautiful piece of land in the centre of lake Temiskaming and but five or six miles east of Cobalt, is part of Quebec, the scheme is being hatched to establish there a casino where all sorts of liquor will be sold and where games will be carried on. To this place the idea is to run excursions not only from Cobalt, but from Toronto and Montreal as well.

The feeling in Cobalt is becoming strong against the liquor policy of the government as the rival town of Haileybury is built up on the strength of its hotels, which are possible only by virtue of their licenses. The Cobalt people claim that the law which says that liquor may not be sold within four miles of a mine was never meant to govern such conditions as exist at Cobalt and they see no reason in it.

While the Casino is merely talk as yet, many there are who would be willing to put money into it to build it as an ultimatum before the ultra temperance faction of Ontario.

A great number of Cobalt prospectors are in Quebec prospecting the large areas of Huronian rock known to exist there to the east of Temiskaming. Dr. Barlow of the Canadian geological survey, with a staff of assistants is going to apply himself to the district this season and has already been on the ground. There are also quite a number prospecting in the Windigo lake section on the borders of Quebec. Outside of the Cobalt region the Windigo lake section is the most promising district yet known to the prospectors.

PROGRESS OF NEW SOUTH WALES

Sydney, June 20.—Statistics specialty prepared for the jubilee of responsible government in New South Wales are published, showing the remarkable progress made by the state since 1856, the year of the grant of self-government. The population, which in 1856 was 252,640, has now increased to 1,504,700. Other comparative figures may be tabulated as follows:

| | 1856 | 1906 |
|---|---|---|
| Revenue ..... | £1,986,553 | £11,740,348 |
| Imports ..... | 5,460,971 | 29,350,034 |
| Exports ..... | 3,430,880 | 36,756,366 |
| Wool output .... | 1,303,070 | 16,446,260 |

Mr. Carruthers, premier and treasurer of New South Wales, states that this year the government services will pay the whole of the interest on the public dout, with the exception of £200,000, for which sum the government get roads and bridges and all its buildings.

HOTEL FIRE IN GRAND FORKS

(Special to The Daily News)

Grand Forks, June 20.—At 7.30 this evening fire broke out in the upstairs of the Alberta hotel. The fire department did heroic work with three streams of water and extinguished the blaze in about ten minutes. The damage done will probably be $1000 to the building and hotel furniture.

If this fire had got more headway it would have burned the entire block, some $50,000 worth of hotels and business houses.

The Alberta hotel was just being refitted by S. Nelson, who recently bought it for $5000.

NOVA SCOTIA ELECTIONS

Halifax, June 20.—The provincial general elections today resulted in the return of the government. The opposition, which had only two members in the last house, will apparently be better represented in the new. The returns indicate the election of six members, McMillen in Inverness, Tanner and Bailey in Pictou, Landry in Richmond, Wilcox in in Hants, and Campbell (independent liberal) in Kings.

Two members of the government, Wickwire and Patterson have been beaten.

MEAT INSPECTION BILL

SENATORS NOT YET SATISFIED WITH ITS PROVISIONS

INSIST UPON DATNG OF LABELS AS ESSENTIAL.

Washington, June 20.—Senator Proctor today called up in the senate the agricultural appropriation bill, and made the usual motion for agreement to a request for a conference. He said there were two essential points of difference between the two house amendments to the meat inspection amendments. One was the omission by the house of the senate provision, requiring that the date of inspection be placed on cans containing meat, and the other the transfer of the cost of inspection from the packers to the national treasury. Speaking of the latter change, he said that it was radical, and in his opinion unwise, and advised that the house amendment on that point be not accepted. The packers, he declared, could afford the expense as an advertisement, for, looked at in that light the government certificate would be of immense benefit.

Senator Beveridge agreed with senator Proctor as to the unwisdom in the matter of the date of manufacture and cost of inspection. The two changes he considered as most important, declaring that if the date is not to be used, it will be possible to pass off as fresh meat, that which may have been inspected five years ago. He said that the date is stamped on meat shipped abroad, and argued that the same plan should be pursued with reference to meat consumed at home. He said the packers alone are responsible for the agitation that has been aroused, but predicted that in the end, the result would be a restoration of confidence, and therefore beneficial. He credited the prospective success of the measure to the president, who has stood firmly from the beginning for the most complete inspection bill on the statute books of any country.

Senator Lodge also spoke for the senate provision. He pleaded especially for the dating of labels, because the public has the right to know what it is buying. He thought the packers should pay the cost of inspection. He did not agree that the consumers would not feel the effect of the tax, for judging the future by the past, the packers would find in a tax of a few mills, an excuse for an increase of several cents a pound on the meat they sell, and a similar decrease on the stock they buy. He charged the Chicago packers with trying to defeat the legislation. The attack from Europe did not alarm Mr. Lodge very much, for he said that practices in foreign countries are no whit better than our own. He defended the inspection report of Messrs. Neill and Reynolds, saying that their charges had been justified by the orders given by the Chicago city government for greater cleanliness.

TERMS OF UNION

Anglican Bishop Williams Sets Forth the Terms he Considers Essential

London, Ont., June 20—At the opening of the synod of Huron yesterday bishop Williams made a frank and full statement of the terms upon which the Anglican church would be prepared to unite with other Christian bodies. They are four in number, as follows:

1. The acceptance of the scripture as the revelation of God and the warrant for faith and conduct.

2. The acceptance of the Nicene and Apostles' creed as a sufficient exposition of the faith.

3. The acceptance of the two sacraments ordained by Christ.

4. The acceptance of the historic episcopale.

The action of the Presbyterian general assembly last week, said bishop Williams, in advancing the scope of negotiations now being carried on between the Methodists and Congregationalists, at least opened a new possibility of negotiations.

TAKE THE BALLOON CURE

Paris, June 20—Dr. George Bull, the celebrated eye specialist, agrees with Dr. Daulnoy in thinking that many diseases of the eye may be relieved by treatment in balloons at heights of 3000 to 6000 feet.

In an interview today Dr. Bull suggested that the "balloon cure" might be popularized. "I would recommend," he said the institution of captive balloons outside all theatres and art galleries. Nothing could be better for the headache brought on by the atmosphere of a theatre or for the strain on the eyesight by much picture gazing than an ascent of say 3000 feet. The pure air at such an altitude and the effect of watching the diminutive objects on the earth 3000 feet below would do the eye a great deal of good."

MISUSE OF RELIEF FUNDS

San Francisco, June 20.—With the assertion that members of the finance committee of the citizens relief committee have entered into a conspiracy to make improper use of the relief funds turned over to their care, proceedings have been begun in the superior court by a certain number of refugees. The suit was filed by Alva Udell, William Howard and C. F. Pearce, who allege that they represent 10,000 homeless persons in the relief camps of the city.

COST MEN THEIR LIVES

CONVICTS MAKE BOLD BREAK FOR LIBERTY.

WERE SHOT DOWN AFTER ELUDING THEIR GUARDS.

Matchez, Miss., June 20.—Four men were killed and a fifth fatally injured during an attempt by three life convicts to escape from Angloa state convict farm today.

The dead are: Captain J. W. Block, foreman of the state convict sawmill; Jim Singleton, convict; Bird, convict; Dutch, convict.

The wounded man is J. W. Gibson, a guard, shot through the body.

All of the convicts were sent up from New Orleans, and were working in the new sawmill.

This morning at 9 o'clock, while captain Block was reading a paper, Singleton secured Block's revolver and in company with Dutch and Bird, was making off when the attention of guard Gibson was attracted. Gibson fired on the party and Singleton returned the shot, shooting Gibson through the body and as Gibson fell, Bird took his revolver.

Compelling foreman Block to accompany them, the convicts started toward the river and had placed their captive in a skiff when they were fired on by a trusty. Singleton then shot and killed Block.

Before the fleeing convicts had traveled far their skiff was riddled with bullets and they were killed.

SOCIAL REVOLUTION

Jules Guesde's Prediction Causes Alarm in Paris.

Paris, June 20.—Much public concern is felt over the prediction of Jules Guesde, the socialist leader, that France will be under the domination of his party in 1910. This concern is not lessened by the fact that Guesde is not addicted to idle vaporing.

"The French laboring people," he says, "may look forward calmly to the solution of the social problem by revolution not later than 1910. Three millions of French votes will be behind the program of capitalistic expropriation by that time, if not earlier. The continuation of middle class government of whatever kind will no longer be permitted.

"Matters will have arrived at such a pass then that the government itself will be driven into a corner. That will provoke an immediate struggle, for naturally the government in its defense will call on the army. But when the order to fire comes the army will revolt and not a gun will be trained in the direction commanded."

HAD DISGRACED HIS FAMILY

New York, June 20.—His mind temporarily unbalanced on account of the disgrace he had brought upon his family, Terance Keenan, 27 years old, a prisoner in the King's county penitentiary, killed himself by jumping from a fire escape to the courtyard, a distance of 70 feet. Keenan was serving a two months' sentence for assault.

HACKETT'S SENTENCE

Montreal, June 20.—James Thomas Hackett, found guilty on Saturday of manslaughter in connection with the death of Edith May Ahearn, five years old, on April 3, was this morning sentenced to 25 years' imprisonment.

SESSION NEARLY OVER.

Ottawa, June 20.—The house is expected to prorogue in two weeks.

KIRMESS IN FULL SWING

Three Days Carnival in Aid of Funds of City Free Library

Booths of Various Nations Form Brilliant Display- Exhibition Hall Crowded With Well Pleased Spectators

After many days of preparation and practice and after the expediture of an immense amount of energy by the good ladies in charge of the affair, Kirmess was formally declared open yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock by mayor Gillett, and until 11 o'clock tomorrow evening, the carnival, so successfully inaugurated in the exhibition main building yesterday, will continue to attract large crowds of spectators. Kirmess is in aid of the public library fund, an undertaking that the whole community is deeply interested in, hence the entertainment at the exhibition hall should be loyally supported by every one. During the afternoon yesterday, excellent business was done at all the booths and by the time the fair was closed for the night the management stated that the first day's receipts were very satisfactory and exceeded what had been expected.

A little after 8 o'clock last night, in the presence of a large and enthusiastic audience, the grand march, with over a hundred performers in fancy costumes took place. To the strains of the city band the performers filed in from the annex building in one long line two by two, and a charming spectacle they made. The procession went down to the west end of the building and then wound its way serpentine fashion up to the east end where a halt was made in front of the stage. Then to the national airs of their respective nations, the various groups of performers passed up onto the stage in turn, made their bow and withdrew, giving the audience an excellent view of all the prettily arranged and artistically designed fancy costumes.

Flossy Johnstone, Rita Starkey, Evelyn Fernau, Bina Taylor, Marion Barnhart, Lottie Annable, Mildred Irvine, Dawn Hume, Barbara Cummins, Lola Bennett, Grace Smith, Mildrid Sharp, Ella Madden, Noel Irvine, Winnie Ellis and Fay Brown.

The children won all kinds of vigorous applause for their graceful dancing and did their parts exceedingly well.

Harry Clinton .....J. M. Eaves
Nettie Croker .....F. D. Arundel
Uncle Bowser .....H. S. Bodmer
Mrs. Breezely Fussell ..Mrs. C. Cummins
Edith Clinton ....Miss Beatrice Skinner
Mrs. Honeywood ....Miss Elena Fernau
Jones, housemaid ..Miss Carlota Fernau

The little theatre was crowded by an appreciative audience and the comedietta was well produced.

The ladies quartette, a Scotch dance, selections by the city band, and a solo by Miss Cooling, "There is a land," followed in pleasing succession, then the first of the dances came on, the sextette from "Floradora" performed by Mrs. Parry and Misses Clarice and Gladys Blakemore, Miss Skinner, Miss Hansen and Miss Nellie Annable, and Messrs. Arundel, Gillum, Walker, Johnstone, Cranfurd and Benedict.

The dancing of the performers was greatly admired and the number passed off beautifully amid rounds of applause.

After a song by Edgar Mason and more selections by the band, that most graceful and captivating of all dances, the French minuet was performed by Misses Marian, Flora and Greta Macdonald and Annie Sturgeon, and Messrs. W. H. Swann, H. Gallon, B. Johnstone and E. Vigneux.

The dance is probably the most difficult one for amateurs to attempt but it was performed last evening in a way that drew hearty applause from the delighted audience.

The evening's entertainment came to a close with Mrs. Melville Parry's brilliant rendition of "Merrily I Roam," from the "Bohemian Girl," opera, assisted by an efficient tambourine chorus in costume. The song and dance fairly made the hit of the evening. Those taking part were: Mrs. Melville Parry, Mrs. Christmas and Misses Iro Johnson, Nellie Annable, Hazel Gore, Clarice Blakemore, Gladys Blakemore, Eileen Robertson, Grace Lynn, Christina MacKay, Dorothy Cummins, Dotty Gigot, Helen Macdonald, Mabel Macdonald, Betty Johnstone, Ida Hansen, Miss Thomas, Miss Irwin and Miss Fernau.

A little after 3 o'clock in the afternoon the scene at the exhibition hall was an exceedingly animated and pretty one, the climax, however, being reached during the evening, when the gaily decorated and actistically draped and lighted building crowded to the doors with an admiring and enthusiastic audience presented a scene not easily forgotten. Aldermen Selous and Irving and Rev. J. T. Ferguson escorted the mayor to the stage front and Mr. Selous suggested "a few remarks from his worship." The mayor contented himself with formally declaring Kirmess duly opened, remarked on the public library scheme as one worthy of support and

AS OTHERS SEE US

The Daily News published some few days ago a portion of an article from one of the leading London dailies, dealing with Canada's increasing importance, and predicting that in the year's to come Canada might possibly be the arbitrator of the world's peace.

That this ambitious forecast of the future of the dominion is not attributable simply to the natural sentiment of an English newspaper towards the chief of England's colonies, is manifested by the expressions of such well known and thoroughly representative Americans as ex-minister Choate and secretary of state Elihu Root.

At the recent banquet tendered lord Grey in New York by the Pilgrims, Mr. Choate thus referred to Canada:

This great Dominion of Canada is a nation with which we ought not only to be at perpetual peace, but all possible questions remaining unadjusted between us should be settled as soon as possible. She is not only our nearest neighbor, but our most spirited and ambitious rival, and her prosperity is advancing with leaps and bounds quite as vigorous as our own.

Mr. Root made the principal speech on this occasion and his references to Canada were particularly noteworthy. In part, Mr. Root said:

I think that the American people should recognize the fact that a great change has taken place upon the other side of the border—a change which materially affects the theoretical, the assumed or supposed, relation or possibilities of relation between the United States and Canada. It was apparently, as we read the history of the negotiations which led to the treaty of peace of 1793, rather in doubt for a time whether Canada should not be ceded to and become part of the United States when our independence was recognized. In 1812 the British governor general of Ontario wrote, in personal letters which have since been punblished, that a majority of the people of his province were rather in favor of the Americans than of the English. We must recognize that a great and radical change has taken place. Canada is no longer the outlying northern country in which a fringe of descendants of royalists, emigrating from the colonies when they became independent of Great Britain, lived and gained precarious subsistence from a fertile soil. It has become the home of a great people increasing in population and in wealth. The stirrings of a national sentiment are to be felt. In their relations with England one can see that while still loyal to their mother country, still a loyal part of the British empire, they are growing up, and, as the boy is to his parents when he attains manhood, they are a personality of themselves. In their relations to us they have become a sister nation. With their enormous natural wealth, with their vigor and energy following the pathway that we have followed, protecting their industries as we have protected ours, proud of their country as we are proud of ours, they are no longer the little remnant upon our borders; they are a great and powerful sister nation. And the people of America look with no grudging or jealous eye upon this development. We bid them godspeed in their growth in greatness and in power, in their capacity to do their part for civilization, for peace and justice, for liberty and righteousness among the nations.

In very large measure credit for the improved standing of Canada among the nations of the world must be given to the aggressive policy adopted by sir Wilfrid Laurier since he took office in 1896. It may be contended that this is a mere partisan expression of opinion. But we fancy if those who might offhand jump at this conclusion would give the matter a moment's consideration they would admit the accuracy of our estimate.

Prior to 1896 Canada had been very much in leading strings. It appeared impossible for our statesmen to venture upon any really independent course. We looked to Downing street for instructions, or at least for guidance at every move and turn. With the advent of sir Wilfrid Laurier to power Canadian nationalism asserted itself. The changed conditions were not manifested in any spirit of hostility to the motherland, for sir Wilfrid Laurier's administration has been signalized by very special marks of loyalty to and love of Great Britain and British institutions, but rather by the natural self-assertion of a people that recognized that they had reached a stage in natianal growth which justified their thinking and acting for themselves. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's preferential policy was one of the most effective means of establishing Canada's claims to recognition as something more than even the greatest of Britain's colonies.

This policy gave us a new standing in the eyes of the people of Great Britain and brought home to Germany and Belgium and other European nations the fact that Canada was a power to be reckoned with.

The energetic steps taken to settle the west have proved another factor in establishing Canada's present enviable position in the eyes of the world. Unmistakable evidences of the vast potentialities of the dominion have been brought to the attention of all countries. They have been made to realize that Canada must before very long be a factor of incalculable import in the world's economy by reason of the fact that from its fertile soil will be obtained the bread supply of the nations.

Great is Canada and great will her future be if her statesmen in the future be imbued with the same patriotic motives as have influenced sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues since they were entrusted with the reins of office in 1896.

"Practical Methods to Insure Success" Price 25c

By H. E. Burton.

Everybody should read this little book. It can be read in an hour and costs but 25 cents, but to those who will read it with a mind open to conviction, and who will adopt and practice its teachings, its value cannot be measured in money. It does not lay down a lot of complicated and wordy instructions, but sets forth in a manner so plain, so concise and to the point that a child can grasp them, the underlying causes of our failure to attain that power and mastery of self, which will make possible to us a measure of attainment and happiness beyond anything we have ever dared to hope for. It is a book for both men and women, for boys and girls.

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Is Like Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff Without Herpicide.

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of Dandruff and to prevent Baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Cantharides, Vaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair Vigors.

Newbro's Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Hon. R. F. Green, in a letter to a Trout Lake City elector, sets at rest the rumor that has been going the rounds that he proposed transferring his affections from the Kaslo to the Slocan riding. He says: "As regards the report that I am deserting Kaslo, I can tell you emphatically that the announcement in the paper was the first I heard of it and that Kaslo is quite good enough for me."

The reason there has been no bank failure in China for the past 900 years is thus explained: "Over 900 years ago, in the reign of Hi Hung, a bank failed. Hi Hung had the failure investigated, and to his indignation found it had been due to reckless and shady conduct on the part of the directors and the president. Hi Hung at once issued an edict that the next time a bank failed the heads of its president and directors were to be cut off. The edict, which has never been revoked, has made China's banking institutions the safest in the world."

SCHOOL TRUSTEES MEET.

Conditions Upon Which Non-Residents Can Attend City Schools.

A special meeting of the board of school trustees was held last evening in the office of Dr. Arthur.

After a lengthy discussion it was decided to allow pupils residing outside the city limits to attend the city schools on payment of a fee equal to the cost per pupil to the city.

The matter of accommodation was thoroughly thrashed out and was finally laid over to be taken up again at the August meeting.

Forty-two new pupils will enter the public schools in August according to the reports from the teachers and trustees.

Dr. Arthur reported that 21 property holders in Addition A. had given him a petition which they desired forwarded to the education department asking for a grant for a school of their own or a grant to the city of Nelson to permit their children to attend the city schools.

Those present last evening were chairman Emory, Dr. Hall, Dr. Arthur, F. W. Swannell and principal A. Sullivan of the public schools.

WANTED TO SEE THE KING

George Allan, of Perth, Ont., Caused a Sensation at Windsor Castle.

The London Daily Mail of June 6 says:

An extraordinary story was told by a Canadian farmer who called at Windsor Castle yesterday to see the king.

He went up to chief inspector Spencer at St. George's Gate and asked to see his majesty, as he wished to inquire where Miss Mary Anderson was. "She came over in the same ship as I did," said the stranger, "and was put in a trance for several days. I want to see her, as she will be queen one day if I marry her.

"I am the son of a king and queen, and am charged with electricity. People I pass in the street are consequently able to tell what I am thinking about. I was sent to Canada by the king for the benefit of the Jews, and I know that the king wants me back by Christmas, but I do not know where he is."

The Canadian was escorted to the Castle police station, and subsequently conveyed by Mr. Simms, the Windsor relieving officer, to the workhouse. He had nearly £80 in his pocket, and is believed to have had £1000 on him when he started from Canada.

He says: "My name is George Gerald Allan, and I am the son of Andrew Allan, a farmer of Perth, Ontario, Canada. My mother, three brothers, and one sister live there also. I have been working on my father's farm. I first left Canada at the end of March, arrived at Liverpool on April 6, and went to London, where I unsuccessfully tried to obtain an interview with sir Edward Grey at the foreign office.

"I afterwards returned to Canada, but did not go home, staying at the town of Perth, four miles from my fathers place. I left Montreal on May 11 on the steamship Southwark, of the Dominion line, as a second class passenger, and arrived at Liverpool on May 22. I left Liverpool on June 1, stayed the night at an hotel in Bloomsbury, came to Windsor on June 2, and put up at the leading hotel in the town. I have since been trying to find the king."

A local medical man has certified the Canadian to be insane, and the relieving officer cabled yesterday afternoon to his friends in Ontario.

GOSSIP OF GRAND FORKS

Assessed Value of City Real Estate—Prospector's Experience with a Wood-Tick

(Special to The Daily News)

The municipal court of revision was held here yesterday when it was learned that the total assessed value of real estate in the city this year is $1,080,000. There were only three reductions in the city assessor's assessment. That of the Grand Forks hotel was reduced $500; Mrs. Pocock's house was reduced $300, and the Grand Forks Townsite properties were reduced $3000.

Word has reached here today that a fire broke out in the Great Northern survey camp, some 15 miles up the North Fork, last evening and burned out the entire camp. The loss has not been ascertained.

Louis Johnson, a veteran prospector of this section, is now recovering from a most novel experience. It seems that a few days ago he was taken with a peculiar illness which apparently was a stroke of paralysis. Medical aid was procured when on examination it was found that the only thing the matter was the embedding a large wood-tick in the small of his back, the removal of which was easily accomplished. The victim of the peculiar experience is now in town completely recovered.

The municipal estimates for the year 1906, as presented at the last meeting of the council were $56,062.50.

Mayor Frank Hutton is energetically moving in the matter of having the government extend the wagon road from its present terminus to upper Franklin townsite, a further distance of two miles. It is estimated that the further extension will cost aproximately $5000. It has been learned that the government will likely entertain mayor Hutton's proposition.

THE "ARCTIC" SCANDAL

(From the Ottawa Free Press)

The great "Arctic" scandal has gone the way of all the others unearthed by the opposition members during the present session. When it was first discovered no words were strong enough to condemn those responsible. "At last we have them" said the conservative editors, and the awful story was related under the biggest scare heads and in the boldest type.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier promptly ordered an enquiry. This was the last thing those responsible for the wild charges were desirous of. Their interest immediately began to wane for they knew that their bluff had been called. However, a few of them turned up at the opening of the investigation for form's sake and one of them, Mr. Bennett, took the opportunity, as might be expected, to make some nasty and unwarranted remarks.

Witness after witness was called and frankly stated all he knew about the expedition and the supplies ordered for it. Mr. Northrup, for the opposition went on a fishing expedition, but he had bad luck from the start. Not a tittle of evidence of wrong doing could be obtained. Reliable officials, although they owed their positions to the party so anxious to profit by any scandal, bore testimony that there was nothing extravagant in the requisitions, having regard to the proposed three years' stay of the vessels in the arctic regions. It was also shown that when the Arctic returned to Quebec she brought with her a large proportion of the supplies that she had on board when she first sailed.

Falling on this head, the opposition then tried to show that there was friction between the heads of the expedition, but beyond minor troubles such as occur under almost any circumstances, they were also unsuccessful in this direction.

And now these conservative members, apparently so enthusiastic at the start, have practically given the thing up in disgust. With all the evidence going the opposite way to that which they desired, they cannot be bothered attending the meetings of the committee.

TRONDHJEM CATHEDRAL

Where King Haakon and Quen Maud of Norway Will be Crowned

Trondhjem cathedral, where king Haakon VII and queen Maud of Norway will be crowned on Friday next, June 22, is the most imposing church in Norway. It was founded in the eleventh century and has recently been restored. The name Trondhjem, or as it is sometimes spelled Throndhjem, meaning the "throne's home," is a particularly appropriate one for an edifice in which to hold a coronation. The Domkirke or cathedral, cruciform in shape and built of dark slate colored stone, stands in the center of a graveyard. The first structure erected sometime between 1016 and 1030, is credited to St. Olaf and his shrine was long a favorite place of pilgrimage not only for Scandinavians but for pilgrims from all parts of Europe. The body of the saint was found incorrupt in 1541 when the Lutherans plundered the gold and jewels from the shrine and in 1568 it was buried in the cathedral.

The architecture of the oldest parts of the venerable pile is Norman and of those niext in date early English showing a marked similarity to the church styles of England of the same period. Fires in 1432, 1531, 1708 and 1719 destroyed many of the older parts but equally repeated restorations have done much to preserve those remaining and Norwegians wherever found take much pride and interest in the work of preservation.

The bishop of Trondhjem by constitutional right performs the coronation ceremony and among the kings and queens here crowned were Bernadotte (Carl Johan) in 1818; Carl XV in 1860; and Oscar II and his queen Sophie in 1873; the earlier kings were Haakon V in 1299; Carl Knutsson, 1449; Christian I, in 1450; and Hans in 1483.

The city itself, the capital of Norway down to the time of the union with Denmark, is one of the Norse kingdom's most important seaports and is situated at the mouth of the Nid. A little to the east is the fortress of Christiansten, erected in the 17th century and in the fjord to the north is the fortified island of Munkholmen with the remains of the mediaeval monastery. The city's population is over 38,000 and its trade is important.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP IN OTTAWA

The initial report of the city of Ottawa electric commission has been issued. On July 17 last, to prevent the amalgamation of electric companies, which proposed to put up the rates, the city expropriated by virtue of its charter, the Consumers' Electric company, though working in the face of strong and vigorous competition.

The civic plant has ended the first ten and a half months of its existence with a balance of $826.58. The customers have increased 40 per cent, and this despite the fact that for months past the plant practically ran itself, while the city council argued as to the best method of management. The aldermen are much gratified with teir initial move in municipal ownership.

BIALYSTOK ATROCITIES

JEWS HUNTED DOWN AND TORN TO PIECES LIKE WILD ANIMALS

CHILDREN BRAINED BEFORE EYES OF HELPLESS PARENTS

Grodno, Russia, June 20—Owing to the refusal of the censor at Bialystok to permit the free telegraphing of the result of the investigation of the massacre of Jews there, the correspondent of the Associated Press came here.

The anti-Jewish riots at Bialystok are now ended, the troops are in full control and in view of the outcry, it is said to be certain that the authorities will not permit a renewal of the horrors recently witnessed at Bialystok.

The entire region is greatly excited owing to the fear that the Bialystok massacre was only the signal for a general attack on the Jews throughout the north and in Poland; but if any such conspiracy exists, it is too late to carry out the plans, as the most imperative orders to prevent further outbreaks have been issued to the governors and governor generals from St. Petersburg. When the correspondent arrived at Bialystok on Saturday morning the worst was already over, but on all sides there were revolting evidences of savage bestiality on the part of the blood-drunken mobs, who sacked and burned the Jewish houses, shops and stores. For 72 hours with a slight abatement during the day time, the mad orgy of blood and pillage went on uncontrolled.

During the rioting the Jews were hunted down by furious mobs, who in the majority of instances were not content with merely killing their victims, but tore them to pieces like wild animals, and while this was in progress the troops either stood idly by, or, as was more frequently the case, fired into houses and shops where Jews were concealed, under the pretext that they believed them to be revolutionists, but rally in order to make way for the murderers and plunderers who followed in the soldier's wake.

While it is impossible to give exact figures, the visits of the correspondents to the hospitals and cemeteries enabled him to approximate the killed at 100 Jews and 20 Christians. The question of the origin of the massacre was carefully investigated. Although many of the Jews denied that a bomb was thrown at the orthodox procession on Thursday in honor of Corpus Christi day, the fact that a bomb was thrown was established beyond a doubt, but the question of who threw the bomb remains unsettled. The accounts of impartial witnesses, however, demonstrate that an insulting cry enraged the Jews, who attacked the religious procession; then from one end of the city to the other the police spread the report of the attack, thus fanning the religious fanaticism of the Christians and setting loose the worst elements upon the Jews, on whom the crowds watching the procession had already turned. The Jews at first fought with revolvers and bombs. With these weapons the majority of the Christian victims were killed. The Jews were soon overwhelmed and fled for shelter into cellars and attics. The soldiers watched the chase and butchery, sometimes laughing with indifference, but never failing to fire into houses where Jews, sometimes to the number of 100 were making a stand against their assailants. The soldiers said the Jews were revolutionists, and that was their reason for firing on them. The authorities, who wanted to do something to stop the massacre, with the police and troops in open sympathy with the mob, were utterly powerless, although it is freely charged that the highest authorities in Bialystok deliberately organized the massacre; or if this was not the case, it was carried out under strict orders from St. Petersburg. There is no evidence to support either charge, according to the investigation of the parliamentary commission whose members were specially anxious to elucidate this point.

M. Sheplin of Odessa, a member of the commission said: "We wished particularly to bring home the responsibility to the government if the massacre was organized in St. Petersburg. Our conclusions are that it was not planned in St. Petersburg. Neither do we find that chief of police Sherometieff of Bialystok was a party to the plot. However, the responsibility of his subordinates, together with that of the rank and file of the police and some of the military officers, who imagine that the system of Von Plehve and Trepoff has not ended, is in question. We have failed to clear up whether a police or an anarchist threw the bomb. Our investigations only demonstrate that the real issue of this and smaller tragedies is the position of the Jews, which makes the ignorant Russian consider them to be Pariahs, outside the protection of the law. Jews everywhere are now organizing societies for self defence, and so soon as they show the least resistance to prosecution they will be treated by the troops and ignorant Russians as revolutionists for whom a simple death is too good. Parliament must insist upon the punishment of the guilty."

The tales of atrocities are innumerable, and while some of them have been exaggerated, enough has been established to make almost anything credible. The mob seemed delighted in torturing their victims. Strips of flesh were cut from their bodies, children were taken from their mother's arms and brained on the pavements before the eyes of their parents; an old Jew was beheaded and the ghastly trophy was carried all day at the end of a pike through the streets.

In many cases heads of victims were beaten to a jelly with stones. At the Bialystok railroad station, where the mob searched the trains for Jews, a rioter seized a five year old girl by the throat and held her at arm's length until she was strangled to death. Little children seemed to take delight in pointing out the hiding places of Jews. Mutilated corpses were left lying along the streets in some cases for days. A badly injured Jewess in the hospital described the scenes: "Hell was within human beings and they enacted the role of demons," then the woman suddenly went into convulsions at the memory of the horrors she witnessed.

ELKO--A SUMMER RESORT

ENTHUSIASTICALLY DESCRIBED BY A TOURIST.

One of the many pretty spots in southern British Columbia particularly adapted for summer resorts is Elko on the Crow's Nest line, which is reached in an eight hours run from Kootenay Landing.

"A Tourist" much taken with the beauty of the place gives the following description:

This beautiful little mountain hamlet is situated on the Elk river, 3500 feet above sea level on the Crow's Nest Pass division of the Canadian Pacific railway. It is just a twelve hour journey from Medicine Hat and coming east over the Kootenay route is reached by rail from Kootenay Landing in eight hours. Hence it will readily be seen that its location favors it as a convenient point at which to break one's journey and take a few day's rest whether east or west bound. This village has also a Great Northern railway service, being on the Rexford-Fernie branch, about 60 miles from their main line at Rexford. This line gives a twenty-four hour service between Elko and Vancouver. The Canadian Pacific railway have under construction a line from Yakh, a short distance west of Elko, that will give direct-all-rail service to Vancouver in about twenty four hours.

The situation of Elko on an almost level plateau in the valley of the Elk river, surrounded by mountains, is altogether unique in its beauty. While here and there one sees the bald and rocky peaks with their snow caps, the mountains here are for the greater part covered with splendid timber consisting of fir, larch, pine and tamarac. In some places the deadly forest fire has left its tell-tale red line behind and the different pictures presented in every direction by the varying lights of the sun seem ever full of a new beauty, while the sunsets on these mountains beggar description from my poor, weak pen. Loking east from the Canadian Pacific depot one see straight before him the very beginning of the Crow's Nest Pass from which all this region derives its name.

The Elk river valley at this point becomes very narrow, and for a distance of nearly a mile the river rushes pell-mell through a very steep and narrow canyon, terminating in a deep waterfall, after which the stream widens and flows on more quietly for a few miles to Elkmouth where it joins the Kootenay. The canyon is almost one succession of water falls, each vying with the other as being the most beautiful. Here and there peeping out from the canyon's rocky walls—polished from the action of the water till they look like marble—are rich clumps of moss centered with the most beautiful wild flowers I have ever saw.

A pack bridge crosses the canyon almost at its steepest point, and from here one finds a splendid pack trail winding up to the top of the mountain and extending for miles across the range The beauty of the canyon and the entire valley from this mountain top can only be imagined. One must climb the dizzy height if they want to reap the pleasure. But the sure-footed cayuse makes the mountain climb an easy and pleasant task for anyone accustomed to riding on horseback.

It is greately regretted that the magnificent scenery of Elko is almost unknown except among the neighboring towns and the men mterested in lumbering in the vicinity. The only industry here is the planing mill of the North Star Lumber Co., employing about 50 hands, this being the head office for the company's Kootenay business. The tourist advised by the passing traveller to enjoy a day's sport at Elko, finds here a great lack—no proper accommodation. There are three licensel hotels, very small places, quite unfit to cater to the needs of the tourist. The travelling man hurries through his business (where he would fain linger in such a restful scene) so that he can catch the evening train for Fernie and secure modern hotel comforts.

While the Canadian Pacific railway has done so much in providing attractions for the travelling public at Banff, Glacier and other mountain points, we cannot help but ask why have they overlooked such a beautiful spot as nature has provided for them at Elko? Of sport there is no lack, the mountain trout abound in the Elk and the many smaller streams easily accessible from this point. And for real solid enjoyment what could excel a day in the woods, where one can feast on the delicacies provided by these mountain streams?

Then the shooting season follows when the man with the gun can indulge his taste for the partridge, the mallard and other game; while in the winter the deer become very tame and venture too far through the forest falling an easy victim to the alert hunter. The climate, taken all the year around, is said to be unexcelled in any part of America. The winters are short, good sleighing and only moderately cold, while the summers are long with no excessive moisture.

Before the construction of the railroad this country was accessible by a wagon road built north from the Montana boundary line. This government road is still maintained in excellent shape and crosses the Elk river by a traffic bridge about ten miles from Elko. The drive to this bridge through the woods presents to one a perfect fairyland of beauty that would rival any park drive. There is no underbrush such as one finds in the forests on the coast, and the timber grows far enough apart that one can see great distances in every direction. The exquisite coloring of the wild flowers growing in profusion, and the scent of the June roses make one marvel at the beauties of nature.

Already the holiday seeker from Cranbrook, Fernie and other adjacent towns turn their steps towards Elko for a summer's rest, but it is deplored far and wide that the Canadian Pacific railway have not seen fit to provide proper hotel accommodation. With the large tract of land available for amusement purposes, splendid water supply from mountain springs, water power for electricity or any other purposes, it is to be hoped that the company may turn their eyes this way and at no distant date may deem it wise to establish a Kootenay summer resort at Elko, for which many a tired and weary traveller would rise and call them blessed

HOW TO BREAK UP A COLD

It may be a surprise to many to learn that a severe cold can be completely broken up in one or two days' time. The first symptoms of a cold are a dry, loud cough, a profuse watery discharge from the nose, and a thin white coating on the tongue. When Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is taken every hour on the first appearance of these symptoms, it counteracts the effect of the cold and restores the system to a healthy condition within a day or two. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

MILLERS IN CONVENTION

Milwaukee, June 20.—The fourth annual convention of millers under the auspices of the millers' national federation, opened a three days' meeting today in Milwaukee. Over a thousand millers are in attendance.

President John A. Burke, in delivering the annual address, said among other things, that the organization was against manipulations, was for high standard grades of wheat in all markets, improvement in government crop reports and enlargement of export trade. He hoped for good results from rate legislation. The pernicious rebate, he said, must be stopped.

THE VERY BEST REMEDY FOR BOWEL TROUBLE

Mr. M. F. Borroughs, an old and well known resident of Bluffton, Ind., says: "I regard Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as the very best remedy for bowel troubles. I make this statement after having used the remedy in my family for several years. I am never without it." This remedy is almost sure to be needed before the summer is over. Why not buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

CENSURE FOR PEARSON & SONS

New York, June 20.—A coroner's jury, which has been investigating the cause of numerous deaths in the city, where tunnels are being constructed for the Pennsylvania railroad, returned a verdict today, censuring the contractors, Pearson & Sons, of London, for their method of handling workmen .

UNKNOWN FRIENDS

There are many people who have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with splendid results, but who are unknown because they have hesitated to give a testimonial of their experience for publication. These people, however, are none the less friends of the remedy. They have done much toward making it a household word by their personal recommendations to friends and neighbors. It is a good medicine to have in the house and is widely known for its cures of diarrhoea and all forms of bowel trouble. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

PAUL NIPOU, Prop.

Synopsis of Regulations Governing the Disposal of Dominion Lands Within the Railway Belt in the Province of British Columbia.

A license to cut timber can be acquired only at public competition. A rental of $5 per square mile is charged for all timber berths, excepting those situated west of Yale, for which the rental is at the rate of 5 cents per acre per annum.

In addition to the rental, dues at the following rates are charged:

Sawn lumber, 50 cents per thousand feet B. M.

Railway ties, 8 and 9 feet long, 1 1-4 and 1 3-4 cents each.

Shingle bolts, 25 cents a cord.

All other products, 5 per cent. on the sales.

A license is issued so soon as a berth is granted, but in unsurveyed territory no timber can be cut on a berth until the licensee has made a survey thereof.

Permits to cut timber are also granted at public competition, except in the case of actual settlers, who require the timber for their own use.

Settlers and others may also obtain permits to cut up 100 cords of wood for sale without competition.

The dues payable under a permit are $1.50 per thousand feet B.M., for square timber and sawlogs of any wood except oak; from 1-2 to 1 1-2 cents per lineal foot for building logs; from 12 1-2 to 25 cents per cord for wood; 1 cent for fence posts; 3 cents for railway ties, and 5 cents per cord on shingle bolts.

Leases for grazing purposes are issued for a term of 21 years at a rental of . cents per acre per annum.

Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite Not more than 320 acres may be acquired by one individual or company.

Royalty at the rate of 10 cents per ton of 2,000 pounds is collected on the gross output.

Entries for land for homestead purposes may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the minister of the interior at Ottawa, the commissioner of immigration at Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district within which the land is situated, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

A settler who has received an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

It is the practice of the department to require a settler to bring 15 acres under cultivation, but if he prefers he may substitute stock; and 20 head of cattle, to be actually his own property, with buildings for their accommodation, will be accepted instead of the cultivation.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of th Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of the Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of the Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for a patent should be made at the end of three years before the local agent, sub-agent or a homestead inspector.

Before making an application for a patent, the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so. W. W. CORY,

Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

FERNIE WILL CELEBRATE

DOMINION DAY FESTIVITIES AT THE COAL CITY.

INSPECTION OF THE KOOTENAY RIFLES BY LORD AYLMER

(Special to The Daily News)

Fernie, June 20.—Arrangements have been completed for the grand Dominion Day celebration under the auspices of the Fernie Miners' union, U.M. W. of A., and if the weather conditions are at all favorable the affair will be one of the most attractive and successful ever attempted here.

The recreation grounds are undoubtedly an ideal spot for such celebrations and are now in perfect condition for the long program of sports and amusements prepared for the occasion, while the personnel of the committee in charge is in itself a sufficient guarantee that nothing will be left undone that could add to the enjoyment and comfort of those in attendance.

The citizens of Fernie are apparently determined not to be behind other towns in the Kootenays in the matter of manly sports, and the new gun club is the latest aggregation of enthusiastic sportsmen who will endeavor to maintain the reputation of the coal town. They have secured conveniently situated grounds on Pellatt avenue, and will hold their first shoot on Saturday June 23. The club already has a membership of 35 and have entered the competition for the Dominion Cartridge company's medal. The following is the list of officers:

Hon. president, G. G. S. Lindsey, K. C.; president, E. Wrigglesworth; vice-president, J. S. T. Alexander; secretary-treasurer, A. Klauer; field captain, Geo. L. Pearson; committee, J. B. Twiney, L. Atkinson, J. Carrick, J. T. Spalding.

That the military are popular in Fernie was evidenced by the large crowds that turned out last evening to view the inspection of Nos. 1 and 2 companies of the Kootenay Rifles on the recreation grounds.

Inspector general lord Aylmer, accompanied by colonel J. G. Holmes, D.O.C., and major Eaton, A.D.C., arrived on the C. P. R. express at 6.30 p.m. from Cranbrook, and at 8 o'clock inspected the local companies. The weather was all that could be desired and the men, who were in review order, presented a smart and soldierly appearance and turned out in full force. Upon the arrival of lord Aylmer upon the parade grounds he was received with the usual general salute, and he then proceeded to carefully inspect the men, their arms and accoutrements, after which the commanding officer, captain McEvoy, put his men through battalion drill, company drill and battalion in attack, all of which evolutions were performed most creditably. Upon the conclusion of the inspection lord Aylmer addressed the officers and men, congratulating them upon the large parade slate, the fine physique and tidiness of the men, the precision with which they had performed the different movements and expressed his surprise and pleasure at the high state of efficiency they had attained in so short a time and concluded his remarks by saying how pleased he was to observe the number of medals and decorations worn by members of the battalion. The parade slate was as follows:

No. 1 company—Four officers, 39 non-commissioned officers and men.

No. 2 company—Two officers and 37 non-com. officers and men.

After the return of the companies to the armories, lord Aylmer and staff, and the officers of the battalion were entertained by captain and Mrs. McEvoy at their beautiful residence in the park. Sergeant-major Varty, the efficient drill instructor of the Kootenay Rifles, was the proud wearer of no less than seven medals, having served with the British forces in several campaigns.

A quiet wedding took place in the Baptist church on Monday evening at 7.30 when Mr. H. T. Manley, engineer in charge at the Coal Creek mines, was united in marriage to Miss Kate A. Wilson, of Fernie. Rev. Mr. Kempton performed the ceremony. A reception was afterwards held at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Kimpton. Mr. and Mrs. Manley left by the Great Northern railway the same evening for Seattle and coast cities. On their return they will reside in Fernie.

ARGUMENT IN DREYFUS CASE

Paris, June 20—Maitre Moras in the supreme court today resumed his presentation of the Dreyfus case. He argued that many officials and subordinates of the ministry of war had the same access to the secret papers as Dreyfus, whereas the latter had no knowledge of the mobilization plans which had been communicated to foreign governments.

WESTERN CANADA'S FUEL

SERIOUS PROBLEM HAS TO BE GRAPPLED WITH

REMISSION OF TAXES UPON DENATURED ALCOHOL PROPOSED

The Regina delegates to the convention of Associated Boards of Trade of western Canada held at Edmonton this week, raised a very important question when they introduced a resolution favoring the remission of taxes now collected upon denatured alcohol. The resolution calls attention to the seriousness of the fuel problem in the west, and points out that prices for wood, coal, coal-oil, gasoline and other materials which may serve as fuel, have been steadily rising during the past few years. It also mentions the recent action of the congress of the United States in passing a law which frees from taxation denatured alcohol to be used for industrial purposes, a step which the British government cannot ignore. The Germans have long recognized the importance of cheap alcohol for arts and manufactures.

The solution of the fuel problem in the west of Canada would be a boon, the effects of which it is difficult to estimate. Leaving aside the benefits which would be conferred upon individuals by the reduction in the cost of fuel for heating purposes in stoves and furnaces, there is the larger question of power production to be considered. A great handicap to the industrial development of the west along the line of manufacturing enterprises, has thus far been the lack of power. The production of power has always been an expensive undertaking on account of the scarcity of fuel. From Fort William to Calgary on the main line of the railways, and for a great distance to the north, little or no coal is mined, and there is an almost total absence of timber. At Banff, Lethbridge, Edmonton and other points in Alberta, and in a few districts near the United States boundary in Saskatchewan and Manitoba, coal mines are being worked, but the heavy charges for freight make the cost of delivery at given points in Manitoba or the new provinces very high.

The abolition of the inland revenue tax now collected upon denatured alcohol should enable this substance to be produced on an extensive scale. It might almost be said that wood and coal would be supplanted. It has been calculated that if the tax on denatured alcohol were removed, an ordinary room could be heated with a spirit burning stove at less cost than with an ordinary coal stove, which burns coal costing $6 per ton. When it is considered that anthracite costs $10 to $14, according to quality in the province of Saskatchewan, the annual saving even in the domestic fuel bills would be enormous. The most important feature of this subject as far as the west is concerned, is that the raw material for the manufacture of denatured alcohol can be produced in the three prairie provinces in practically unlimited quantities. An acre of land will produce 300 bushels of potatoes, and from that quantity say 250 gallons of commercial alcohol can be produced; but with the use of a special grade of white potato intended chiefly for the manufacture of alcohol, it is alleged that the output could be increased to more than 500 gallons of alcohol per acre. Much depends on the proportion of starch in the wheat or potatoes. With the enormous areas of fertile land now under cultivation in the Canadian west it is difficult to imagine how much commercial alcohol could be produced. It is not out of the way to say, however, that it is possible to supply this fuel for power to much of western Canada. This view does not take into consideration the fact that decayed, frozen and other unmarketable kinds of potatoes can be used for the purpose.

The market for frozen and rejected grain will also be open to the development of alcohol production. It is in this connection that the subject has come under the notice of the department of agriculture at Regina. The deputy commissioner of that department made enquiries in 1904 and has given out the statement that frozen wheat would be worth 78 cents a bushel at Hamilton, Ont., on the basis of 25 cents per gallon for alcohol. It is contended, in other words, that alcohol can be produced at Regina for less than 25 cents a gallon on the basis of 52 cents per bushel for feed wheat, the prevailing price at that point at the present time. We are not prepared to go as far as this, in stating what can be done today, but we learn from professor Shuttleworth of Toronto, that the price at which French chemists have aimed at is 25 cents per hectolitre, not far from 25 cents per gallon, and if they can get it down to that price it will afford an excellent prospect as fuel. "If you can get good wood alcohol," adds the professor, "you have a good fuel for power, it is better than gasoline, because safer; better also because it furnishes more available power, and gives off no offensive odor. At the present time in Canada we cannot expect alcohol to rival gasoline and petroleum and coal for fuel, but these substances show a tendency to go higher. In Germany and France, however, alcohol is used as fuel in many minor directions, such as propelling cycles and motors, and small engines or for household purposes.

Meanwhile the deputy commissioner of agriculture of Saskatchewan, J. R. C. Honeyman, has prepared statistics and other information on the subject for the Territorial Grain Growers' association, and that body will probably take some action in the matter. The commendable action of the Regina board of trade in introducing the subject at the important convention in Edmonton last week brings the question before the public in concrete form. A question which has long engaged the attention of the emperor of Germany and upon which he has had repeated conferences with king Edward, as one of great moment to the small German farmer and the British agriculturist as well, is one which may with great propriety attract the observation and study of the Canadian cultivator.

The following is the resolution:

Whereas, the problem of obtaining cheap and economical fuel for domestic and manufacturing purposes is a serious one at all times with the people of Western Canada, and

Whereas the tendency of prices for wood, coal, coal oil, gasoline, and other materials which may serve as fuel has been steadily upward during the past few years, and there is no prospect of their being reduced in price in the near future, and

Whereas, the congress of the United States has recently passed a law freeing from taxation denatured alcohol to be used for industrial purposes, and

Whereas, alcohol can be manufactured at a cost of about ten cents a gallon, and there is in this country many waste products of the farm, from which alcohol can be manufactured, and the adulterating or denaturing done at the various factories under the supervision of an inland revenue officer.

Therefore, this convention of the associated boards of trade of western Canada urges upon the dominion government the advisability of introducing legislation at the next session of parliament for the abolition of all taxes now collected upon denatured alcohol.

WEALTHY WOMAN'S CRIME

Caused Death of Her Maid Servant—An Angry Demonstration

Sioux Falls, S.D., June 20—Mrs. Emma Kaufman, wife of a wealthy Sioux Falls brewer, was given a preliminary hearing today on a charge of having caused the death of her maid servant, Agnes Polreis. She was hissed when she was brought into the court room and when she came out, an angry demonstration was made, and cries of "Lynch Her" were heard. As a result of the hearing, Mrs. Kaufman was charged with murder. The case will be called for trial in November.

Miss Polreis, who was 17 years of age, died June 1, and was buried at Parkston in this state. The body was exhumed and was found to bear 45 separate wounds.

MAHARA MINSTRELS

One of the novelties in minstrelsy this season and the leading feature with the Mahara minstrels is the appearance in the first part of four handsomely costumed lady vocalists. The quartette of ladies are graduates of the famous Dunavin musical college where all high class colored musicians are educated. It is acknowledged that the singing features of this organization compare favroably with the finest operatic companies on the stage and surpasses in excellence of harmony all so called minstrel vocalists. It has always been the endeavor of Frank Mahara to excel in the singing features and these ladies aided by 28 male voices in grand chorus certainly proves that the management has struck the key note of success. Mahara's challenge band and orchestra will give a street parade at noon Monday.

PROMOTION FOR YOUNG CHURCHILL

London, June 20—The report that Winston Churchill is to be promoted to a higher post in the government is, to say the least of it, premature.

But there is this amount of truth in the report, that should the lord privy seal, the marquis of Ripon, for reasons of health, resign his office, there would then be some slight rearrangement of portfolios. Lord Ripon will, however, if possible, see the education bill through the house of lords, which would postpone the necessity of any rearrangement of government offices. In the event of there being a vacancy in the cabinet there is little doubt that the reversion would be offered to Mr. Churchill, who by his brilliant talents and most arduous work in a difficult post deserves this honor.

WEEKLY HALF HOLIDAY

WILL BE LARGELY DEVOTED TO KIRMESS TODAY.

LACROSSE MATCH AND BASEBALL THIS AFTERNOON.

The merchants' regular weekly half holiday this afternoon will naturally be largely devoted to Kirmess. After the immense amount of trouble taken by the ladies in getting up the fair now in progress at exhibition hall everyone should turn out and show their appreciation. Many places five times the size of Nelson would be utterly unable to accomplish what can be seen today at the main building. The upbuilding of a public library to help which Kirmess is being held is a worthy object and should be loyally supported by the entire community.

This afternoon, as part of Kirmess, two games will be held on the recreation grounds. The Sons of England and the Odd Fellows will meet at baseball and every thing is in readiness to care for the wounded. The umpire has taken out an accident policy and insured his life and the game promises to be a very exciting one from start to finish.

After the baseball battle is over the senior and intermediate lacrosse players will line up. The latter players are ambitious and anxious to tackle the older players, confident that they can give a good account of themselves. This will be the first game of lacrosse played here this season and it is expected to herald the reviving of public interest in the national game.

The teams will line up as follows:

| Seniors | Intermediates |
|---|---|
| Goal | |
| Greyerbeihl | McCallum |
| Point | |
| Jeffs | Carley |
| Coverpoint | |
| Sharp | Smith |
| Defence field | |
| Bell | Edwards |
| Manhart | Crossett |
| Davison | Carroll |
| Centre | |
| Thompson | Beckett |
| Home field | |
| H. Bishop | Steel |
| Perrier | Davison |
| A. Bishop | Steed |
| Wallace | Ball |
| Jackson | Bell |

Most of the business houses and stores will close down today at the noon hour, a matter that is specially directed to the attention of householders and shoppers.

KIRMESS IN FULL SWING

Then a trip to the various national booths around the hall was undertaken.

The Canadian, opposite the main entrance, is one of the largest in the hall and like the others is typically arranged and decorated. Maple sugar—the real article—and many home made products are on sale. Those in chrage are Mesdames Gore, George Johnstone, McInnes, Starkey, and Blake Wilson; Misses G. Blakemore, P. Cummins, M. Cummins, D. Gigot and D. Nickerson.

The English and Welsh Booths are run together and in the latter fresh eggs and chickens dressed up in Welsh style, are obtainable, while at the side of the English booth, "Aunt Sally" and other old English pastimes can be indulged in. The Old Village Store forms part of the booth and a rushing business was done yesterday in flowers and toothsome sweets. Those in charge are: English, Mesdames Cummins, Davys, Applewhaite, Goepel, Renwick, Astley and Kelly; Misses Broadwood; Welsh, Mesdames Cummins, Heathcote, Lennie, Misses Gigot, Renwick and Cummins; Village Shop, Mesdames Buchan, Cummins, Misses Fernau, Wood-Taylor.

The Scotch booth was frantically Scotch, bewildering to an innocent Canadian reporter who visited the spot yesterday afternoon. Naturally the kirk was represented, but the bagpipes were in evidence too, and you could buy heather or butter Scotch with equal ease. Scones, shortbread and a host of Scotch "makeups" found a ready sale. The booth is taken care of by Mesdames Ferguson, Robertson, Misses Whitney, Campbell and McCandlish.

A real Irish shanty with everything in keeping, including three little pigs, is on view at the Irish booth in the northwest corner of the hall, and an Irish dinner was served to many guests at a long table set in the hall in front of the booth. Real Shamrock—vouched for—can be obtained and visitors should carefully inspect the finished arrangement of this booth. In charge are Mesdames Rose, Drew, Rutherford and McDermid, Misses Lynn, Ellis, Mackay, Nickerson, Irwin, Peacock, Boyce and Stephenson.

At the American, presided over by Mrs. Riblet, a thriving trade was done by Miss Nelson with a weighing machine, while Mrs. Fullerton, for a consideration, was willing to tell your future, possibly your past, by a careful examination of your palm. The other ladies are Mrs. Rason and Misses Macdonald and Robertson.

The Japanese is a characteristic affair and particularly well decorated with many interesting objects on sale and the same may be very truthfully said of the Turkish booth which adjoins, and is presided over by Mesdames Jameson and Stewart in correct Turkish costume. At the Japanese booth are Mesdames Green, Clements, Misses DeBou, Cummins, Johnstone and Gore.

Mrs. W. A. Macdonald's French drawing room, presided over by that lady, her daughters and Miss Sturgeon, is probably the most artistic feature of the Kirmess, so complete are the details.

Fortune telling at the Gipsy booth proved a money maker yesterday, the gypsies being Mesdames Thom, Parry, Christmas, and Misses Broadwood, Fernau, Blakemore, Skinner, Macdonald and Annable.

At the Dutch booth were Misses Johnston, Hansen, Hipperson and Steele and the refreshment room at which the day's receipts were very large were Mesdames Beer, Miller, Hamilton, Misses Irvine, Wilkinson, Elliott, Hipperson, Ebbs and Jackson. In addition to the refreshments, fortune telling from the tea leaves in your cup can be tried at the tea booth with excellent results.

The band, who volunteered their services gratuitously and Mrs. McIntyre's orchestra added greatly to yesterday's program.

The Kirmess will be continued today, opening this afternoon and this evening the following program will be given commencing at 8 o'clock:

Grand march, Band; Flower Drill; Theatricals, band; song, selected, Mr. Messillin; sextette from Floradora; band; French minuet; song, "By the Shores of the Mediterranean, Mr. Arundel, assisted by chorus in costume; Swedish song in Costume, Miss Hanson; song, selected, Mr. Crawford; tambourine dance; solo, Mrs. Melville Parry, assisted by chorus.

No one should miss the chance of seeing Kirmess. It will be at its best this afternoon and evening.

Among the prizes won at Ye Village Shop last evening were boxes of cigars, valued at $5 each, by A. Reid and Chas Walmsley; order for dozen photos by S. Johnson; and a chair valued at $7 by a lady, name unknown. Tickets for Ye Village Shop prize drawings are being sold by the English Rose girls, Misses L. E. Oliver, Dolly McLeod,, C. Fernau and May Wood-Taylor.
