PROVINCIAL BOUNDARIES

Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan Seek More Territory

All Three Anxious to Secure Fort Churchill, Only Good Harbor on Eastern Shore of Hudson's Bay

(Special to The Daily News)

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—A conference between dominion ministers and delegates from the provinces of Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, relative to the extension of their respective boundaries to Hudson Bay was held at Ottawa today and concluded by a reference of the matter to a committee of the federal cabinet. The case was fully represented by the provincial ministers after which sir Wilfrid Laurier responded that the representations would receive due consideration of the government.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, with Aylesworth and Oliver, took part in the conference on behalf of the dominion. Premier Whitney, Messrs. Foy and Matheson represented Ontario; premier Roblin, Messrs. Campbell and Rogers, Manitoba; premier Scott and Mr. Lamont, Saskatchewan.

Manitoba asks for the entire portion of Keewatin district adjacent to Hudson Bay and Saskatchewan asks for that portion of Keewatin north of Nelson river and adjacent to Hudson Bay. Ontario proposes that the present eastern boundary of Manitoba shall be extended due north to the intersection with the Churchill river and thence following the latter to Hudson Bay. This would give Manitoba everything north of Churchill river and Ontario everything lying between Churchill and Albany rivers. Each of the three provinces is after access to Fort Churchill, the only good harbor known on the eastern shore of Hudson Bay. The claims overlap in such a way that it is a flat impossibility for Laurier to please them all.

The insurance commission met at 4 o'clock this afternoon to afford the insurance managers' association opportunity of presenting any recommendations it may have to offer. The managers were in session through the earlier part of the day completing a memorial. Representatives were present of all the leading Canadian life companies.

TARIFF ON ZINC ORE

Appraisers Taking Evidence Regarding Classification Under Dingley Law

New York, Nov. 12.—The board of United States general appraisers are engaged taking evidence regarding the customs classifications under the Dingley tariff law of zinc ore. The contest lies between the domestic mine owners and the treasury department on the one side and the importers and smelters on the other. The government and the mine owners contend that zinc ore comes within the meaning of the term "metallic mineral substance" as that phrase is used in the tariff and is, therefore, dutiable at 20 per cent ad valorem. The smelters and importers are contending that this ore should be returned free of duty as "calamine" or else assessed for duty at specific rates, according to the zinc actually contained in the ore. Evidence will be given by H. A. Wheeler, a mining engineer of St. Louis; . W. Mixter, of the Mixter and Heald Zinc Co., of Knoxville, and Axel O. Halseng, a mining expert of this city, in favor of the contention of the mine owners.

BOMB THROWER SHOT.

General Rheinbot Killed the Man Who Intended to Kill Him.

Moscow, Nov. 12—A bomb was thrown at general Rheinbot today on the public streets by an unknown man, who quickly ran away without waiting to see the effect of his murderous deed. Immediately after throwing the bomb the man was seized by two policemen. General Rheinbot fled into a neighboring house but as soon as he ascertained that he was uninjured he returned to the scene, ran to within two yards of the prisoner, and shot his through the head. The general's assailant, who was dressed as a workman and was about 23 years old, was not identified.

BOERS ON THE WARPATH.

Raid Northwestern Part of Cape Colony. Rising Not a Serious One.

Capetown, Nov. 12.—Several Boers entered the northwestern part of Cape Colony a few days ago and surprised a police camp in the vicinity of Wilkop. Two troopers were wounded and a corporal captured. Led by a man named Ferreira, the invaders marched to Meder, gaining some recruits through a story that an uprising in the Transvaal is imminent. The colonial government has adopted strict measures to end the disorder.

The colonial police force which is pursuing the insurgent party under the Transvaal Boer Ferriera was within five miles of the raiders, but the scarcity of water and the sandy country render the pursuit difficult. The fugitives have gained several recruits.

London, Nov. 12.—The Boer raid in the northwestern part of Cape Colony occasions no anxiety in government circles. The parliamentary secretary of the colonial office informed the house of commons that the local government was taking all the necessary steps and it did not think the assistance of the regular forces was necessary.

The government of German South Africa had been requested to capture the raiders if they returned to German territory, with the view of extradition on charges of murder and theft.

CIVIC RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES FOR NINE MONTHS.

FIRE CHIEF DEASY'S EMINENTLY SATISFACTORY REPORT.

At the regular fortnightly meeting of the city council last evening aldermen Hume and Annable were the absentees.

The chief of the fire brigade submitted a very satisfactory report showing that there had been no loss by fire during a period of six months. It was decided to call for tenders for the removal of the old court house building, and a lot of routine business was transacted.

After the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, the report of the finance committee recommending the payment of $171.85 for streets and electric light payroll was approved and cheques ordered to be issued.

The city treasurer submitted the following financial statement for the first three quarters of the current year.

In the appended statement the first column of figures under the head of receipts represents the total receipts for the first three quarters of the year, up to September 30th last, and the second column the council's estimated receipts for the whole of the current year. In the case of disbursements the same rule applies, the first column being the total disbursements for the first three quarters of the current year ending September 30th, and the second column the council's estimated expenditure of the current year.

The statement was referred to the finance committee.

Chief of the fire brigade Deasy submitted the following report:

"I have the honor to report the unprecedented record of six months without loss by fire and to congratulate the citizens on their watchfulness and care during that long period. With the approach of winter it is to be hoped the same watchfulness will be exercised. Regular drills of the fire department were held during the month and a pressure test made of all hydrants of which a record is on file in this office."

The chief goes on to report upon the condition of the fire team and recommends that one of the animals be sold and another purchased in its place.

The removal of fire alarm boxes 32 and 33 on Stanley street one block lower down is recommended for reasons given. The erection of a small house at the corner of Hall and Front streets by the Nelson foundry and the installation at this point by the city of some 200 feet of hose, a cart and a nozzle was referred to, and the city's share of the arrangement recommended to be carried out. This will give the fire brigade the use of 600 feet of extra hose on the water front.

The chief's report was received and adopted and Ald. Selous gave notice that he would introduce a by-law at the next meeting amending by-law 74 regarding the handling and removal of ashes, etc.

A petition was read asking for a light on Stanley street above the rink. It was generally agreed that a light was badly needed at the point mentioned and the petition was referred to the fire water and light committee.

The city engineer reported that a sewer from the corner of Josephine street along Front to Ward would cost $260. This will be necessary when the court house building is moved to its new location. Upon motion the council decided to construct the sewer at once.

Upon the question of moving the old court house building by contract or by day labor, the mayor asked the council what course should be pursued. The cost, said the mapor, should not exceed $500, but he doubted if any contractor would undertake the job for the figure mentioned.

The city engineer favored doing the work by contract if the work could be done for a reasonable figure.

Alderman Rose, seconded by alderman Irving, moved that tenders be called for to move the building, to be returnable at the next meeting of council. Alderman Selous moved in amendment, that the work be done by the city under the superintendence of the mayor. Alderman Kirkpatrick seconded this motion.

Alderman Selous said that the moving of the building was a ticklish operation and could best be done with the least amount of damage to the building by the city under the mayor's superintendance. Upon a vote the council divided equally and the mayor after some hesitation decided in favor of the original motion calling for tenders, giving it his casting vote. Tenders will according be called for at once.

As to the excavation of the lots at the foot of Ward street for the old court house building, it was decided that it should be done by day work under the superintendence of the city engineer.

Alderman Selous said that captain Forin had asked for a remittance of part of the arrears of the electric light used in the armory and requested the city to accept the amount allowed by the dominion government, otherwise the difference would come out of the pockets of the members of No. 2 company. It transpired that there are40 lights in use at a monthly cost of $12.85. The arrears amount to about $154 to Nov. 1st. The government only allow for light for six months of the year. On motion by Ald. Rose, seconded by Ald. Kirkpatrick, the matter was referred to the fire, water and light committee to report at the next council meeting.

On the question of the sale of wood, the mayor said there were many complaints about the quantity of wood sold for an alleged cord.

Ald. Irving—Have it weighed; that is the way the C. P. R. does now

Ald. Rose—The situation is unusual and the city should meet it

Ald. Rose moved that the matter be left in the hands of the mayor.

The mayor will insert a notice in the city papers that the city weighmaster will in future measure any wood that purchasers may want measured.

Ald. Rose asked if anything had ever been done in regard to a sidewalk on Cedar street between Silica and Carbonate streets.

The mayor said the matter had been discussed and turned down by the board of works some months ago. The question was referred to the city engineer to report on the probable cost of the construction of the sidewalk.

The council then adjourned until Monday, November 26th.

SNUFF WAREHOUSES DYNAMITED.

"Night Raiders" Fighting Alleged Trust In Tennessee.

Nashville, Ten., Nov. 12.—The warehouses of the American Snuff Co., at Eddyville and Fredonia, Ky., were wrecked by dynamite last night. Bloodhounds followed the trail of the wreckers for 10 miles into Caldwell county. Several months ago, warehouses of the company in the southern part of Kentucky were dynamited and growers who sold tobacco to the alleged trust received warning messages from the "night raiders."

MARLBOROUGH DIVORCE SUIT

London, Nov. 12.—Society believes now that the duchess of Marlborough will not long delay her proposed trip to the United States for the purposes of procuring a divorce from the duke. If the action is brought as now seems assured, the complaint probably will be filed in New York, and every effort will be made to keep the details from the public. The publicity which has been given to the woes of the Castellanes has decided the duchess to avoid the European courts.

LABOR IN POLITICS

Gompers Tells of Methods of American Federation of Labor

Seeks to Unite all Wage Earners in Constitutional Struggle for Protective Legislation

Minneapolis, Nov. 12.—In his address heretoday, referring to labor's political campaign, Mr. Gompers said in part:

"Much interest has been aroused regarding the active campaign inaugurated and carried on by the American Federation of Labor in the recent past. Labor's opponents assumed to regard our actions as an unwarranaed invasion of their domain and that the working people have no right to exercise their sovereign power of citizenship to punish politically those who are hostile or indifferent to our rights and interests or to stand in advocacy of those who have proven themselves as friends and who deem it requisite to secure the enactment of laws having for their purpose the abolition of inequalities and injustice, and the protection and promotion of those rights to which labor is so justly entitled. They accused us of "threatening" congressmen with out political ill-will, as though people of other interests do not advocate and support the election of those who favor those interests and threaten with political defeat those who are opposed to them. Evidently it is not understood that the ballot in itself, is the weapon with which the constitution has invested the citizen, not only to threaten, but to carry that threat into execution. The American Federation of Labor has often declared and often emphasized that as our efforts are centered against all forms of industrial slavery and economic wrong, we must also direct our utmost energies to remove all forms of political servitude and party slavery, to the end, that the working people, may act as a unit at the polls at every election; that the American Federation of Labor most firmly and unequivocally favors the independent use of the ballot by the trade unionists and working men, united regardless of party, that we, elect men from our own ranks to make new laws and administer them along the lines laid down in the legislative demands of the American Federation of labor and at the same time secure an impartial judiciary that will not govern us by arbitrary injunction of the courts, nor act as the pliant tool of corporate wealth."

KAIEN ISLAND AGAIN.

Victoria, Nov. 12.—(Special)—Chief commissioner Green's refusal to sell Babine lake lands to the dominion government is accepted as a reversal of the policy in force when Kaien island was sold to Anderson, Bodwell & Co. The commissioner says he has no power under the Land Act to sell larger blocks that 160 acres to any one person.

Local members of the legislature claim that their contention at the house last session that the Kaien island sale was illegal, and the land must revert to the province, is confirmed by the commissioner's answer to the dominion and serious complications at Prince Rupert are anticipated.

NELSON'S NEWS OF THE DAY

H. Giegerich and A. Lucas of Kaslo, are in the city.

The Great Northern express from Spokane struck a mudslide near Beaver and did not reach the city until 10:30 last night.

C.P.R. telegraph wires were again badly disorganized last night. It was not until 1 o'clock this morning that connection with the outside world was partially restored.

The many friends of C. W. McAnn, of Kaslo, will be glad to hear of his decidedly improved condition. Accompanied by Dr. Hartin of Kaslo, Mr. McAnn went to Rochester, Minn., some time ago for special treatment. Dr. Hartin has now returned and states that ten days ago Mr. McAnn was successfully operated upon and was found to be suffering from a tumor. Although very weak, Mr. McAnn stood the operation very well and is on the way to complete recovery, but it will be some time before he will be able to travel back to Kaslo.

The C.P.R. land department is getting ready to issue its land sale book for 1907. The land commissioner at Calgary has written H. and M. Bird, the local agents, asking that material be at once forwarded of the sales, etc., of the past year, of the present siuation and the outlook for the coming year, with special reference to the land in this neighborhood. Mr. Dennis also asks for the personal views of some of the more prominent settlers. As the pamphlet issued by the department has such a wide circulation, both the 20,000 club and the board of trade should see that carefully prepared statements are at once furnished the Messrs Bird. The opportunity of obtaining free advertising of so excellent a character rarely occurs.

Hugh B. Gilmour, agent at Vancouver for the Watrous Engine Co.; Wm. Cunliffe of the Rossland Engineering Works; J. J. Fleutot, Bellevue, and G. A. Lammers of the McGoldrick Lumber Co., were among the arrivals at the Hume last night.

UNITED VS. FREE CHURCH

FINDING OF COMMISSION ON SCOTTISH CHURCH DISPUTE

FREE CHURCH MUST DIVIDE UP WITH UNITED.

London, Nov. 12.—The commission appointed by the government to report on the Scottish church dispute and suggest remedies, has presented its report, and it is announced by the chairman of the commission that matters have been amicably arranged. The Assembly hall and college buildings at Edinburgh, Glasgow and Aberdeen have been awarded to the United Free church, while the Free church gets a number of buildings in Edinburgh and the annual sum of £3000 for the maintenance of its colleges. The Free church is also awarded two additional churches at Glasgow. Most of the foreign mission funds are given to the United Free church but a sufficient sum has ben allocated the Free church to carry on its mission work. In 1904 the house of lords, as a result of a long standing dispute between the churches, each claiming to be the original Free church, decided in favor of the Free church's claim, which had refused recognition to the union in 1847 of the Free church with the United Presbyterian church, the Union, which constituted the United Free church. The decision involved the transference of the whole of the property of the original Free church, valued at about $55,000,000, to the 24 Free church ministers known as the "Wee Kirkers" owing to the smallness of their number. The United Free church faced poverty while the other came into possession of property too vast for them to handle. Hence a royal commission was appointed to inquire into the difference between the churches. The commission has now decided that the Free church shall hand over all the property it cannot adequately administer.

PARISIANS ON QUI VIVE

AWAIT WITH ANXIETY OUTCOME OF CASTELLANE CASE.

MAY RESULT IN WORST SCANDAL OF MODERN FRANCE.

Paris, Nov. 12.—Whether count Boni de Castellane will be permitted to summon into court the witnesses who have submitted affidavits in favor of his wife' plea for a divorce, or whether the countess shall obtain the decree without the hearing of further testimony, is the question to be decided in a few days by the trial judge in the famous Castellane case. Parisian society anxiously awaits the decision.

If those that have signed affidavits are compelled to undergo examination in court, then the names thus far masked behind meaningless initials, will be given to the world, and more than one proud French family will came tottering down from exalted social position.

While certain members of these families have doubtless contributed to the domestic tragedy that has broken up the home of the Castellanes, in more than one instance the families themselves are the devoted friends of the countess.

Their pleading that she shield the "black sheep" from being named in court has been seconded by the desire of the countess not to wound her friends. Thus it is that the public hears only of "Madame A.' "Madame B." and so forth. But if the count's demand for explicit evidence is granted, there will follow the most amazing and far-reaching social scandal in the history of modern France.

SANTOS DUMONT'S AEROPLANE

Paris, Nov. 12.—Santos Dumont made another series of experiments with his aeroplane in the Bois de Boulogne today. He made two flights of between five and six seconds, covering between 50 and 60 metres each time. In the afternoon he met with better success and was only prevented by the immense crowds which surged on the field from accomplishing a sensational flight.

He skimmed along at a height of 15 feet and a speed of 30 miles per hour for a distance of 215 metres when fear that his whirling propellor would strike the cheering people forced him to descend. The next trial will take place at Longchamps race course from which the crowd will be excluded. The principal change in the aeroplane today was that the side runner-reins were attached to the shoulders of M. Santos Dumont, who operated them with instinctive movements of the body. He was completely successful in preventing the rolling motion of the machine.

BIG MILL FOR GOLDEN

Revelstoke, Nov. 12—Golden is to have one of the largest lumber mills in British Columbia. The Columbia River Lumber company, F. W Jones, manager, announces that as soon as they shut down for the winter, about Dec. 1, they intend to start construction of the new plant. The main building will be 65x200 with a planer room 75x100. The boiler house will contain a battery of six furnaces, and power will be supplied by a pair of 20x24 engines, with a 48 inch driving belt. The planer room will be driven by a 12x16 engine. The company intends to install a double cutting band saw and Wickes' gang, also a circular saw to slab for the gang. The mill will contain when completed every modern improvement. The buildings will be completely sheeted with iron, and it is intended to make the new mill one of the best in the country. Its capacity will be 150,000 feet every ten hours and if it is run day and night it will be able to cut 50,000,000 feet in a season.

COAL MINERS' STRIKE

GENERAL MANAGER LINDSEY ADDRESSES MICHEL UNION.

NATIONAL BOARD MEMBER BURKE ALSO VISITS MICHEL.

(Special to The Daily News)

Fernie, Nov. 12.—On Friday night last Thos. Burke, president Mitchell's representative, went to Michel and at a union miners' meeting, held behind closed doors, reported on the result of his labors in attempting to settle the strike. A committee of six of the leading men of the union, appointed for that purpose, wrote general manager Lindsey a letter requesting him to address the company's employees at Michel on Saturday night at 8 o'clock, which request was acceeded to.

The men convened their meeting and then adjourned and Mr. Lindsey was invited to lay the company's case before them. Nearly all the Michel miners were present and listened most interestedly to what for two hours and a half was said to them and at the close of the address and after asking several questions, all of which were answered, the meeting unanimously passed a vote of thanks to the speaker.

Mr Lindsey quoted from the written documents to show that there was but one issue—the refusal of the union men to work with non-union men—this, he showed, it had been promised would never take place. This was admitted then and there by John Laurenson, the former president of the Michel union, present at the conference at which the promise was made, and Mr. Lindsey said he was content to rest his case on Laurenson's word.

It was pointed out that Mr. Sherman had said at the Dicken investigation that he had never intended a strike but that when he found out that a strike had been called he did not make any effort to rectify it. If no strike was intended then the whole proceeding was a demonstration in force to coerce unwilling men into the union and it was charged that the whole proceeding was a deliberately planned attempt to force the closed shop, conceived and carried out, but a movement which had got away from its authors.

Mr. Mitchell had sent them a telegram telling them that all men must join the union and that at he end of seven days union men must cease to work with non-union men, and that they had done so and struck in consequence. If the sacred promises of the United Mine Workers of America were broken and not to be relied on and Mr. Mitchell sent representatives here to back up that policy, he must be excused for desiring not to continue business relations with them any further. Mr. Lindsey also said that if necessary the mines would remain closed down six years rather than submit to the closed shop principle even if they had not been promised it. He also pointed out wherein Mr. Burke had overstated his case in addressing the meeting on Thursday in the opera house at Fernie.

(Special to The Daily News)

Michel, Nov. 12.—Since the peace negotiations were closed at Fernie the main interest is now apparently centered on Michel. Claims of unfair treatment of Michel representatives at the hands of Gladstone union at Fernie at their mass meeting last week and the ignorance of Michel union in regard to the negotiations for the adjustment of the strike have led to restless and bitter feelings toward the Fernie local and the district officials. Movements for independent action of the Michel union or withdrawing from the U. M. W. of A. and forming another union have been the cause of much concern to district and national officers

A special meeting was called Friday evening and was addressed by Messrs. Burke, Sharpe and Sherman, the principal part of the evening being taken by Mr. Burke, who it is conceded, is an able speaker, and it is due to his appeal, that the dissatisfied feeling among the members of Michel union has changed to a better understanding and promise of future harmonious action regarding the strike settlement, for now it is generally understood that unitedly the two sections of the brotherhood will fight to a finish to get the facts of both sides.

Mr. Lindsey, general manager of the Coal company, was invited to address the people of Michel at a mass meeting Saturday evening at Michel hall, which was packed, to listen to his explanation of the facts, covering all the details of the situation and the cause that lead to it. In his talk Mr. Lindsey exonerated the Michel union from any responsibility for the trouble, knowing that this union was opposed to the strike.

In the meantime work is continuing on the new box car loader as though no strike existed, and work will be started this week to rebuild the wash house, recently destroyed by fire, on a larger scale, having been found inadequate to the demand.

IMMIGRANTS INCINERATED

Frightful Railway Wreck on the Baltimore and Ohio

Crowded Passenger Train in Collision With Freight Cars Catch Fire and Score or More of Occupants Burned

Valparaiso, Ind., Nov. 12.—Seventy-five out of 135 immigrants who were on the B. & O. train, which collided head-on with a freight train at Woodville, ten miles north of here this morning, are either killed or injured, and it is believed the bodies of some of them were destroyed by the fire which destroyed six coaches of the train

Laporte, Ind., Nov.12.—Later reports from the scene of the wreck say the immigrant train was the second section of the regular express. The first section did not carry any signal to indicate that another section was following. The freight train put in on the main track and met the immigrant train on a curve. The engineers and firemen saved themselves by jumping, though the engineer of the passenger train was badly scalded by escaping steam. Most of the passengers were asleep when the accident occurred.

Valparaiso, Ind., Nov. 12.—The accident was caused by the freight crew failing to observe signals on the first section of the immigrant train, that the second section was following.

The immigrant train caught fire and was entirely consumed. Of the 135 passengers on board, 117 have been accounted for. All the injured were taken to Mercy hospital at Chicago on a special train after their injuries had been attended to by a corps of physicians, from this city.

All of the train crew on both trains escaped, but the fireman on the immigrant train who was killed.

The immigrants consisted of Russian Jews, Servians and Poles, and were enroute, via Chicago, to the northwest.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Officials of the B. & O. announce that they have received positive news from the wreck at Woodville, Ind., that out of 135 persons on the train, 40 were killed, 35 others injured and 60 escaped unhurt.

Chicago, Nov. 12—More than half the passengers on an emigrant train on the Baltimore and Ohio road were killed today in a collision between the passenger and a freight train, near Woodville, Ind. One hundred and sixty-five passengers were on the train. Forty-seven were either killed outright or burned to death in a fire that broke out in the wreckage immediately after the collision. The names of all the dead probably never will be known, as 45 of the bodies were consumed in the flames, or were so badly burned that identification is out of the question. Thirty eight persons were injured and several of these will die.

One report is that the engineer of the freight train had not been informed that the passenger train was running in two sections. Another is that the first section of the passenger train carried no lights or signals of any kind indicating that a second section was close behind. As soon as the first section of the immgirant train had passed the switch at Babcock, the train started eastward. A light snow was falling which increased the darkness of the early morning, and as the freight was rounding a sharp curve just west of Woodville, the second section of the immigrant train came in sight a short distance away, tearing towards Chicago at the rate of 40 miles an hour. The two trains came together with unslackened speed, and in the crash six passenger coaches and several freight cars were knocked into kindling wood, and together with the locomotives, rolled down the ten foot embankment. Fire broke out immediately in the wreckage, and although a number of the injured were saved by desperate efforts of the train crews and surviving passengers the greater part of those who were pinned down in the debris were burned to death.

PAY DAY AT ST. EUGENE

Another record has been broken in the St. Eugene payroll. Saturday was payday at the mine, and the amount disbursed was $36,000. Last month the amount paid out was $32.500. The increase is due to the extra men working in the shaft, says the Moyie Leader.

During the month of October 2,440 tons of ore and concentrates were shipped, and this in the face of the mill being shut down for six days on account of the mill engine breaking.

The St. Eugene shaft is being put down as fast as possible. It is now down 95 feet below the first station and will be sunk to a depth of 150 feet. The mine is said to be showing up splendidly in the lower levels.

Work on the addition to the mill is getting well along. This addition is 37x41 feet and will be used as a vanner room. A new Corliss engine is being installed in the mill. The company paid its regular quarterly dividend on November 1st.

THE COAL MINERS' STRIKE.

A careful perusal of the minutes of the proceedings at the several meetings between general manager Lindsey and the representatives of the United Mine Workers of America, of the evidence taken by the committee appointed to investigate the alleged misconduct of former president Dicken, and of the speech of the mass meeting of miners by national board member Burke, as reported in the Fernie Ledger, confirms the conclusion we had previously arrived at that the strike of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal company's miners was forced on for the sale purpose of instituting the "closed shop." It is quite apparent that in the initiation of the strike there was not that fair, square, above-board dealing that might have been expected from a powerful labor organization at whose head stands a man so universally respected as John Mitchell. And in reading the minutes of the settlement negotiation proceedings, which unhappily proved abortive, the inference is unavoidable that the real sticking point, so far as the general manager of the company is concerned, was the doubt in his mind as to the measure of confidence he could place in any undertaking given by the representatives of the U. M. W. of A. Indeed, Mr. Lindsey takes occasion to give clear expression to this sentiment, when he says, in course of conversation with national board member Burke:

"I think you will admit that having regard to what has been done to us in the way of striking on the closed shop issue that you would naturally ask yourselves if you were in my place: 'What kind of men are these United Mine Workers of America? Are they men with whom you want to live in business relations?' That is the question my Board ask and the question I have asked myself. . . . . I have received a rude shock, to what extent can you restore my confidence? If you can restore my confidence in the thing, and I think you will by fair action, let us live together in peace hereafter, and I am willing to make any kind of agreement with you."

Having regard to the agreement of May, 1905, the conditions under which president Mitchell sent his telegram, practically ordering a strike for the "closed shop," and the subsequent statements of president Sherman as to his part in authorizing the continuance of the strike, despite the irregularity of the procedure, it is manifestly not unreasonable for the general manager to harbor some doubts as to the value of any agreement to be entered into with the United Mine Workers of America.

Now we prefer to believe that so far as president Mitchell and the national board members are concerned there is every disposition to abide faithfully by all contracts entered into and that had they known of the circumstances attending the inauguration of the present strike, imperative orders would have been given to the local officials to have the men return to work. This being the case, and we claim that the published facts—the minutes of proceedings at the negotiations, the evidence taken by the investigation committee and national board member Burke's public address have all appeared in the local press—fairly justify the inference we have drawn, we cannot understand why national board member Burke will not take the one step, which in our opinion would immediately smooth the way for a settlement of the strike, i.e., acknowledge frankly that a mistake was made in issuing the "closed shop" order of September 14 and give assurance that the executive officers of the U. M. W. of A. do not approve of and will not tolerate any trifling with agreements made between their organization and employing companies by district or local officials

It is true that general manager Lindsey has not specifically stated that such a pronouncement on the part of president Mitchell's representative would smooth away all difficulties, but in view of what he has said and of the well know fact that in negotiations of this character honorable compromise is the invariable outcome, if there be any useful outcome at all, we believe that such would be the case.

In a word, we believe that if national board member Burke would frankly acknowledge, what is now generally conceded, that a mistake was made in calling the strike, that he could effect a settlement satisfactory to all concerned within a very few hours. There is nothing to be ashamed of in such a course, nothing that will in any respect weaken the power for useful service to its members of the organization, but, rather, the effect will be to strengthen the confidence of the rank and file in the honesty of purpose and good judgment of the executive officers, and to convince the public that the United Mine Workers of America is a labor organization worthy of respect.

A MATTER OF RECORD.

In the numerous contradictory explanations offered by the press apologists for premier McBride's course at Ottawa in reference to the better terms question an effort has been made to place the blame for the refusal of the premier's arbitration proposal upon the federal ministers, regardless of the dictum of the conservative premier of Ontario, Whitney, that there was nothing to arbitrate. But the strongest refutation of this charge is to be found in the official records of the proceedings. To quote:

"Moved by Hon. Mr. Murray and seconded by Hon. Mr. Weir, that in the opinion of the conference it is inadvisable that the claim in the way of subsidies of any province be referred to arbitration.

"The conference dividing upon this question, the names of the provinces were taken down as follows:

"Contents—Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, (8).

"Non-content—British Columbia, (1).

"So it passed in the affirmative."

Doubts as to the propriety of conference dealing with British Columbia's claims had not apparently entered premier McBride's mind up to this time.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Reports of premier McBride's ante-dissolution meetings on the island show that ex-attorney general D. M. Eberts has been received back into the fold. Mr. Eberts, it will be recalled, was a minister in the government implicated in the Columbia & Western land scandal, who, as a result of a parliamentary investigation, retired from that government. At that time premier McBride was the leader of the opposition and very bitterly condemned Mr. Ebert's actions. Things have changed since then. Premier McBride now has a Columbia & Western land deal of his own to defend and doubtless he finds in ex-attorney general Eberts a congenial and versatile lieutenant.

Finance minister Tatlow must be in rather an uncomfortable frame of mind these days. He should be hard at work preparing his budget, but he is in the dark as to whether or not his leader's refusal of the proposed additional contribution of $215,000 annually for a period of ten years from the federal treasury will be accepted seriously. And, moreover, he probably is unaware as to whether or not his leader proposes to carry out his threat of increasing taxation. Under these circumstances the preparation of a budget must be a difficult task. Of course, if dissolution takes place before the meeting of the legislature, finance minister Tatlow will be relieved of this anxiety, and, if the truth were known, he would very heartily welcome the relief.

Commenting upon Mr. W. T. R. Preston's retirement from the position of commissioner of emigration, "Canada," a London weekly devoted to the advocacy of dominion interests in Great Britain, refers to the necessity of establishing supplementary markets for the surplus wheat of the prairie provinces in China and Japan, and remarks: "The task of laying the foundation of this trans-Pacific branch of Canadian commerce is worthy of Mr Preston's energy, enterprise, and genius for organization. The record of his work as commissioner of emigration is one which he may contemplate with justifiable pride. Since he took hold of the work, 503,000 bona fide settlers have gone to build up the great transcontinental state of the dominion, and there is no doubt whatever that 70 or 80 per cent of this vast army of agricultural conquest would never have struck camp and marched westward but for his successful campaign against the old world's ignorance of the advantages proffered by Canada to the able-bodied, able-minded emigrant from those ancient European countries where, more often than not, the living are but guests of the dead, and the system of classes slowly but surely hardens into one of castes. More than any worker living, he has helped Canada to carry out the maxim: Get population and all else will be added unto you, and his long-sustained efforts in this direction should never be forgotten."

TO TEST MODUS VIVENDI

Newfoundland Will Enforce the Bait Act Against Americans

New York, Nov. 12—A despatch to the Times from St. Johns, Nfld., says that sir Robert Bond, premier of the colony, has taken the law in his own hands and, despite the modus vivendi, arranged some time ago between the United States and England, has ordered the arrest of American fishermen for violating the bait act, an ordinance of the Newfoundland government. Solicitor Edinburg, acting for the government has gone to the Bay of Islands to cause proceedings to be taken.

While there is general sympathy all through the colony with the stand of the premier regarding the modus vivendi, his action in the present instance is blamed as being precipitate. While, however, there is no feeling in Newfoundland adverse to the United States, there is a strong sentiment against sacrificing any of the interests of the people of the colony to acquire the good will of any nation.

Sir Robert Bond contends that any rights granted to American fishermen are subordinate to the laws governing the people of Newfoundland; that the fishermen are bound to observe the statute known as the bait act and that his action is really one to enforce that law.

While this is the official stand of the government, there is a feeling throughout the country that the action is really intended to test the exten of he modus vivendi and to try and overcome the provisions which grant special privileges to American fishermen. The rights are at present not enjoyed by the colony's own fishermen, and were but recently, after years of negotiation, cut off from the French fishermen at St. Pierre and Miquelon. Sir Robert Bond's action, therefore, assumes international importance and may call for delicate diplomatic negotiations, but the premier is determined to test the law at once.

IN TIME OF PEACE

In the first months of the Russia-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation ond the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared for a successful combat with the first cold you take? A cold can be cured more quicky when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

The other one is 3 ft. by 6ft.—worth $45, will sell for $20.

You can play practically as good a game on these tables as you can on a regular billiard table, and as a parlor amusement it has the advantage over most parlor games that you never tire of it. The more you play it the more fascinating it becomes.

PROTECT THE CHILDREN

SECRETARY SOUTH EXPLAINS THE SOCIETY'S METHODS

PATHETIC INSTANCES OF RESCUE OF LITTLE CHILDREN.

After the conclusion of the regular evening service in St. Paul's church on Sunday evening a mass meeting was held to hear an address from C. J. South, secretary for the Provincial Children's Aid Society. The attendance at the meeting was practically restricted to the members of St. Paul's congregation, a fact which calls special attention to the question of holding such meetings on Sunday evenings after church hours where a general attendance of the public is asked for.

His honor, judge Forin, occupied the chair and in a short opening address dwelt upon the importance of more being done to protect and guide the rising generation. Speaking with reference to the enforcement of existing laws generally, the chairman alluded to the fact that the local bars were kept open all Sunday in open violation of the law. Turning to the question of the protection of young children his honor said that the church must exert herself in these days of socialistic advance and take the lead in regard to such questions as old age pensions and the protection of neglected children. Forces were in operation which would certainly press such issues upon the public and the churches should take the lead.

Mr. South then spoke at some length explaining the work done by the society and himself to protect and care for neglected children. He drew attention to the existing provincial acts prohibiting the sale of liquor and tobacco to minors and asked for the support of public opinion in their enforcement. He gratefully acknowledged the generous support accorded by Nelson people to the society's efforts and to himself personally. He was delighted to find such widespread sympathy and confidence, and assured the meeting that while many difficulties were encountered in cases brought to the society's notice, the removal of children from their homes was only resorted to as a last and final expedient. He told several pathetic stories of the rescue of little children from cruel and intolerable home conditions. In one instance two very young children were forced by their parents to care for the maintenance of a lodging house which contained 27 occupants. The children were underfed, and severely beaten when they did not complete their task, a work that would have over-taxed two fully grown up persons. The parents lay drunk and incapable, leaving all the work for the children to do. In such a case, after endeavoring to bring the parents to their senses and failing, the removal of the children from such a state of slavery was the only solution of the trouble. Mr. South repeated and emphasized the statement that the society always did its best to maintain the home circle and only took the children away when all other efforts failed. A member of parliament had said to the speaker: "I am not in sympathy with the work of your society. I do not think there should be any interference. Parents should be made to do their duty in some way." Mr. South had asked in reply if a man had stolen the member's gold watch should there be any "interference" to get the property back, punish the thief and endeavor to prevent the recurrence of such a thing, if so, and the member admitted the necessity of "interference" in such a case, was not the case of poor little neglected children of far greater importance? The member withdrew his objection and became a supporter of the society. Mr. South went on to speak of the first two children taken over by the society from Nelson, and exhibited two interesting photographs showing the children when first received at the society's home, and one recently taken, the change for the better in the little ones' appearance being apparent at a glance. At present there were 112 children being taken care of. The society kept the number down to the lowest possible limit and in the case of foundlings many applications were refused. Occasionally, however, under special circumstances cases had to be taken over. Many specific instances of the excellent work being done were given and Mr. South closed his address by again thanking the people of Nelson for their kindly sympathy and support in the past.

This is a marvellously interesting feature of a great Sunday magazine.

ZINC RESOURCES OF B.C.

COMPILED FROM REPORT OF ZINC COMMISSION.

SUMMARY OF MAGNETIC ORE TESTS AT DENVER.

VII.

The following condensed summary of the magnetic ore tests, including also the tests with the Blake electrostatic separatir and tests of wet concentration, conducted by the commission at Denver, Colo., under the direct supervision of Mr. Argall, is based on the report by Mr. Argall. All computations of ore values are based on zinc at £23 (5c per lb.) at London, lead at 2.5c per lb. in British Columbia, and silver at 60c per ounce. In the case of lead ores, the net value is reckoned on the basis of $12 per 2000 lb. for freight and treatment.

The valuations of the various ores are presented as illustrative rather than as absolute determinations. Not only are the prices constantly fluctuating, but also the prices for ore, based fundamentally on the prices for their metal contents, which the smelters will bid, are subject to never ending and wide variations. Even during the writing of this report the market both for lead and zinc ore has experienced radical changes. In a general way, however, the following estimates reflect the conditions toward the end of 1905, except that the value of lead ore has been computed on the new basis, and such errors as there may be in them, or such differences from present conditions, will not materially affect their usefulness for purposes of comparison, or their approximate indication of the results that may be expected from the milling of these ores.

Lot 1.—Jackson mine. Blende-siderite-pyrite-quartz. Assayed 35 per cent zinc, 1.4 per cent lead, and 5 ozs. silver. Treated raw, one ton of ore gives 0.666 ton of zinc concentrate, assaying 49.1 per cent zinc, saving 91.59 per cent of the zinc in the original ore. Treated after roasting, one ton gives 0.637 ton of zinc concentrate, assaying 50.75 per cent zinc, saving 94.37 per cent of the zinc in the original ore. Loss of weight in roasting 13.8 per cent.

A.—Raw Treatment—
0.666 ton zinc ore at $12.10 ..... $8.06
Cost of concentration 2.30

Net value $5.75

B.—Roasting Treatment—
0.637 ton zinc ore at $13.75 ..... $8.76
Cost of concentration 2.70

Net value $6.06

The second method is, therefore, the more profitable.

Lot 2.—Ruth mine. Blende-siderite-pyrite-quartz. Assayed 37 per cent zinc, 1.4 per cent lead, and 9.4 ozs. silver. Treated raw, one ton of ore gives 0.710 ton zinc concentrate, assaying 48.4 per cent zinc, saving 94.96 per cent of the zinc in the original ore. Complete results of roasting-treatment were not made on this ore, but judging from the partial test they would have been similar to the results shown by Lot 1.

Lot 3.—Payne mine. Blende-siderite-pyrite-quartz. Assayed 42 per cent zinc 4.9 per cent lead and 18 ozs. silver. Treated raw one ton gives 0.88 ton of zinc concentrate, assaying 47.1 per cent zinc, saving 98.9 per cent of the zinc in the original ore, the silver of the ore going chiefly (96 per cent) into the zinc concentrate. Treatment after roasting gives (1) 0.1325 tons of iron ore, assaying 21.4 oz. silver, 5 per cent lead and 8.8 per cent zinc; (2) 0.7831 tons of zinc concentrate, assaying 52.4 per cent zinc, 4.2 per cent lead, and 17.7 ozs. silver; and (3) 0.0724 ton of lead ore, assaying 30.8 per cent zinc, 10.9 per cent lead and 32.2 ozs. silver. By re-treatment of (3) a further portion of zinc can be recovered. The loss of weight in roasting was not stated.

In this case, the crude ore would be marketable as a zinc ore, although its value would be inferior to the result after concentration. The comparative results of marketing crude ore and the two available methods of enrichment are as follows:

A.—Crude Ore—
1 ton at $10.80 ..... $10.80

B.—Raw Treatment—
0.88 ton zinc ore at $15.50 ..... 13.64
Cost of concentration 2.30

Net value $11.34

C.—Roasting Treatment—
0.1345 ton iron ore at $11.45 ... $ 1.54
0.7831 tons zinc ore at $19.77 .... 15.48

Total $17.02
Cost of concentration 2.70

Net value $14.32

Here there is a distinct and important advantage in magnetic separation after a preliminary roasting, which will be increased by further treatment of the zinc-lead middling, disregarded in the above computation.

Lot 4.—Hartney mine. Blende-siderite-galena-quartz. Assayed 26.1 per cent zinc, 8.4 per cent lead, 23 oz. silver. Crushing to 0.02 in size and washing on table gave, from one ton of crude ore, 0.1113 tons of galena concentrate, assaying 53.2 per cent lead, 12.2 per cent zinc and 70.5 ozs. silver; and 0.8286 ton of blende-siderite-quartz tailing, assaying 29.2 per cent zinc, 2.3 per cent lead and 16.4 ozs. silver. Roasting the latter product of separating it magnetically gives from a ton of the original ore 0.5 ton of zinc concentrate, assaying 44 per cent zinc, and a middling product, incapable of further separation, which is worthless either as a zinc ore or as a lead ore.

0.113 ton lead ore at $51 ..... $5.68
0.5000 ton zinc ore at $7 ..... 3.50

Total $9.18
Cost of concentration 2.50

Net value $6.68

Lot 5.—Slocan Star mine. Blende-siderite-pyrite-pyrrhotite-quartz. Assayed 33.8 per cent zinc, 1.8 per cent lead and 38.6 ozs. silver per ton. Treated raw, one ton of ore gives 0.709 ton of zinc concentrate, assaying 44.8 per cent zinc, saving 94.9 per cent of the zinc in the original ore. Roasting and subsequent separation yields 0.54 ton of zinc concentrate, assaying 50.6 per cent zinc and 0.36 tons of iron ore, assaying 35.5 ozs. silver per ton. The zinc concentrate assays 46.8 oz. silver per ton and carries about two-thirds of the amount present in the original ore.

A.—Raw Treatment—
0.709 ton zinc ore at $24a $17.02
Cost of concentration 2.30

Net value $14.72

a Approximate, the silver content of this ore not having been determined.

B.—Roasting Treatment—
0.54 ton zinc ore at $28.65 ..... $15.47
0.36 ton iron ore at $13.00 ..... 4.68

Total $20.15
Cost of concentration 2.70

Net value $17.45

The commercial advantage of roasting and then separating magnetically is in this case very striking, as is also the degree to which the crude ore is enriched. The crude ore is a marketable product (because of its high silver content), but its value per ton is more than doubled by the simple treatment indicated under B. This result is particularly important inasmuch as the Slocan Star mine is among those of the West Kootenay district that has the largest capacity for production.

Try Again for Health
Gin Pills Will Cure You
OR MONEY REFUNDED

If you have wasted money on doctors, and taken medicine after medicine, without relief, of course you are discouraged. But don't give up. There is one cure—certain and sure—that will make your kidneys well and strong.

Here is a letter from an old gentleman, 72 years of age, who had just your experience, but who was convinced that he owed it to himself to at least try GIN PILLS. Read what he says:—

The Bole Drug Co. Winnipeg, Man. Boissevain, Man.

Dear Sirs,

I am now 72 years of age. I have been ill for about six or seven years, and have been attended by different doctors, but I could get no help. I started taking —— Kidney Pills, and I have taken several odd boxes, and I found they helped me a little. This spring I started to take Gin Pills, and believe they have cured me. I cannot say too much about them, and recommend them as a good kidney pill.

(Signed) WILLIAM CUMPSTONE.

Note that Mr. Cumpstone not only found quick relief, but "believe they have cured me."

Try just once more. Give GIN PILLS a fair trial. So sure are we that GIN PILLS are a positive cure for all Kidney troubles that we will let you test them free.

Send name and address, and tell in what paper you saw this offer and we will send you a sample box of GIN PILLS free of charge. Gin Pills are sold by all druggists at 50c a box, or 6 boxes for $2.50.

TO CRUSH INDEPENDENCE

WORK OF SOCIALISTS AT VANCOUVER LABOR CONVENTION

REPORT OF PRESIDENT GRAY OF VICTORIA T. AND L. COUNCIL

President Gray of the Victoria Trades and Labor Council, has made a very interesting report to that body on the recent labor convention at Vancouver, at which an attempt was made by the socialistic element present to prevent the organization of a labor party. Mr. Gray's report outlines very clearly just what occurred and is timely locally because of the meeting to be held this evening by the Nelson Trades and Labor Council, at which delegate Johnston will make his report.

After some preliminary remarks regarding the action of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress and the attitude of the Victoria council on the labor question, Mr. Gray proceeds to say:

The British Columbia executive called the Vancouver convention for the formation of the party and you elected me as your delegate to the convention. At my election I declared to you that I was aware attempts would be made to sidetrack the proposed labor party, and that I would at the convention stand out for "Labor and Labor only," and would determinedly resist any attempt to down the movement and further declared that if any other party appeared in evidence at the convention with any objects hostile to straight labor, that I would come right out. The endorsement of this attitude by your council appeared to be unanimous and I attended the council with that understanding. Reports had reached me from Vancouver and elsewhere that two attempts would be made to down the straight labor movement—one by the liberals and one by the socialists. The report re the liberals was groundless—only one representative of the liberal party came to me with any suggestion, and he came entirely on his own responsibility. The reports re the socialist intention proved to be correct. A deliberate and determined attempt was made to deprive the infant labor party of life at the first sign of birth, and this movement must have been in process of organization for some time. The Western Federation of Miners who were not represented at the Trades and Labor congress, were largely represented at the Vancouver convention and their efforts to strangle the Canadian labor party at its birth and to tack the labor movement on behind the socialist party were backed up by a number of other delegates who were sent to the convention as trade unionists by trade unionists, but whose first allegiance at all times is to the socialist movement in some form or other. The tactics used by the socialist adherents at Vancouver, on the lines laid down by the Nelson convention, I am of the opinion that the anti-straight labor movement was solidified and the forces rounded up by the Nelson convention. These delegates came from far distant mining centers and evidently at great expense, and for what? To deny the right of non-socialistic labor men to organize for their own protection on lines more acceptable to labor organizations than those laid down by the socialist party of Canada. The attempt failed, and I feel sorry that for this purpose so much money had been spent when it could have been used for other and better purposes. When I learned three weeks ago that an attempt would be made to sidetrack our movement I set to work to arrange a plan of action to prevent this, and I went to Vancouver with an almost complete draft of a constitution and every possible preparation for the completion of the formation of the Canadian labor party, no matter what would happen. The very moment that the convention delegates assembled there were abundant signs of carefully organized opposition to the new labor party. My right as vice-president of British Columbia, to take the chair at the opening, was questioned by a delegate who also at a late stage was responsible for the tricky "proportionate representation" move. When the credentials were received the question of representation came up and it was moved that delegates be allowed to record one vote for every 50 members or fractional part thereof of the unions represented by them. I saw danger in the move at once, as the motion was at once supported by the socialist adherents, and delegate Davidson, M.P.P., asked in addition that proxy voting be allowed. As an amendment I moved that "each man present should have one vote, and one only." The motion for proportionate representation was carried by a vote of 27 to 21, several non-socialists were tricked into voting for the motion by the arguments for "fair play, etc." As soon as this advantage was gained our opponents dropped the masks and reached out for the life of the Canadian labor party. Delegate Davidson while denying direct connection with the socialist party in Canada, at once took the lead of the socialist movement, and moved a motion to the effect that it would be unwise to form another labor party, and instead that the delegates should go home and study socialism. The straight labor men at once realized that they had been trapped, as the motion on the adoption system of voting must have carrried. Many of these men declared that they would leave the convention at once, but I urged them to remain until we could arrange a movement to outflank our opponents. I replied to delegate Davidson's motion and on Monday evening called a meeting of non-socialists to discuss the situation. The meeting was well attended and it was unanimously decided that we withdraw on Tuesday morning at 10:30 and go on with the business for which we were sent to the convention. On Tuesday morning delegate Davidson, Vancouver, on behalf of the straight labor delegates, moved "the previous question." This would have had the effect of putting the motion against the formation of the party at once to a vote. A roll call vote showed the strength of our opponents by the proportional voting system, to be 99 votes to our 54, although the actual vote was 27 delegates for us and 22 against.

In another room the delegates assembled and I moved to the effect that "this meeting of delegates assembled who have been sent to this convention to form a labor party separate and distinct from all other existing parties, do now proceed with the formation of the British Columbia section of the Canadian labor party." The motion was carried and we proceeded at once to business. The name adopted was the Canadian Labor Party of British Columbia. The objects, platform containing 18 planks, candidates' pledge, emblematic design, and complete constitution of 30 rules, was adopted and the whole business finished Tuesday afternoon.

You have been told that the socialists captured the convention but this statement is ridiculous. The Canadian Labor Party of British Columbia has been properly formed by the delegates sent to Vancouver to form it, and formed in the manner intended in spite of all the carefully planned attempts to prevent its formation.

ELENENTH ANAIVERSARY

METHODIST CHURCH'S HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL CELEBRATION.

EVERY DOLLAR OF DEBT IS NOW WIPED OUT.

The Rev. R. Newton Powell and the members of his congregation are to be heartily congratulated upon the highly successful celebration on Sunday and yesterday of the eleventh anniversary of the local Methodist church.

The minister and people started out to raise $400 in order to pay off all existing liabilities and succeeded in not only doing this, but in having a surplus of $160 on hand. At both morning and evening services on Sunday there were large congregations, in the evening especially, the church being filled to the utmost capacity. There was a special musical program at both services, excellently rendered. In the morning $271 was received. In the afternoon the children by their own unaided effort raised $27.60, and the evening contributions swelled the day's receipts to $471.85. At night the pastor gave a special address on "A day in Thy courts is better than a thousand." Psalms 84, verse 10. The sermon, which was delivered in three sections, interspersed with hymns and solos, had special reference to the value of the church of God, (1) to the community, (2) to the family, (3) to the individual.

Yesterday before the church social started in the evening the debt fund had risen to $511.35 and when the entertainment closed the total receipts reached $571.35. This will pay off every dollar of indebtedness and leave a handsome surplus, making an unique situation in the church's history here.

High tea was served last evening from 5.30 to 7.30 and the long tables so tastily set out, were twice filled. Conspicuous in the decoration of the church which included an elaborate floral display, was a banner inscribed "God speed the sister churches." F. M. Black, occupied the chair at the entertainment which followed the tea, and fraternal addresses were delivered by Rev. J. T. Ferguson, Rev. E. H. Shanks and Rev. F. H Graham, representing the other city churches, the burden of the brief speeches made being that the success of one church meant the success of all. Capital solos, all of which were enthusiastically encored, were rendered by Mrs. Chrismas, Mrs. Shanks, captain P. McL. Forin, and Rev. F. H. Graham.

The complete success of the anniversary is all the more gratifying in that the church management had to rely wholly upon local effort Several outside clergymen were invited in turn to come and make a special appeal but from various causes they were unable to get here.

HAROLD NELSON'S RETURN

Harold Nelson and his company did not get nearly as good a house last night as his company or his play deserved but doubtless as soon as the public find that high class comedies are to be played instead of melodrama they will again crowd the house to greet Canada's leading actor.

The "Soldier of Fortune" is a play after the style of the novels made popular by Anthony Hope, such as Rupert of Hentzau. The author is unknown, the play being sent to Harold Nelson some time ago and at last altered by Mr. Nelson into its present shape. The time is cast in the middle ages when palmers become knights and fight the battles of witches, such as the famous fight by Wilfrid of Ivanhoe in Scott's famous novel. Though the plot is not altogether new and though the diction occasionally bears a strong likeness to the master himself, yet the play is well worth seeing and it is a pleasant forerunner of the good things which the Nelson company has in store for the theatre goers this week, culminating on Friday night next with the "Merchant of Venice," when Mr. Nelson will take the part of Shylock, one of his strongest characterisations.

While there are some old faces and friends among Mr. Nelson's new company, yet all the women are strange to Nelson and some of the strongest male actors have not played here before. Helene Scott, who for so long played the leads in this well known company, is now studying in Toronto for the operatic stage, for which she always had a strong leaning. Her place is taken by Pearl Reesor and Miss Reesor as princess Yetive did more than well last night. Her love scene with prince Rupert was one of the prettiest things ever seen on the Nelson stage. She can be impressive and dignified without straining after effect, and yet took her part all through. Hardly second to Miss Reesor, indeed in another play the positions may be reversed, was the acting of Marie Goodrum, as countess Sylvia. Now, the countess is a villain and, possibly, in some hands a melodramatic villain. Miss Goodrum did not get the applause which freely came to her rival in the play, in fact she narrowly escaped hissing, so realistic was she in her portraiture of an adventuress who dared anything to right her sullied honor. Spaking low but distinctly, Miss Goodrum gained that force that comes from showing that there is force although controlled. A third actress was Lucy Thayer, who took the character party of Frau Twinkle and a most delightful shrew was she as that frau, though probably her husband did not think so.

George Dayton, who came straight from Broadway, New York, to join the company, is a decided acquisition. He was excellent as the chancellor and played the part as to the manor born. The other parts were either minor and were well filled, or were taken by old friends of the city. Bruce Desmond was not so successful in the difficult part of the court jester as he has been seen in other impersonations, nor was the old favorite comedian, William Yule, altogether happy as a lawyer, except that apparently a jest was made of law in the court of Wolfsberg.

Harold Nelson played the wandering knight of unknown parentage ,finally discovered to be the missing prince, very convincingly and seems to have been at no end of trouble to fit himself for such a part. He is by turns, Jongleur, troubadour, errant knight palmer and prince, just as was Coeur de Lion. Clifford Bruce as Victor, was at his best, excelling even his old record as tthe Arbiter. Now Mr.Bruce has advanced far enough to play tragedy and play it well.

Owen Wister's famous novel, the Virginian, will be prsented tonight with Clifford Bruce in the title role. A strong caste has been made, although Mr. Nelson himself has retired in order to give his company a chance to distinguish themselves. The play is even stronger than last night's and there should be a good house.

NELSON'S NEWS OF THE DAY

There were no cases for consideration by C. D. Blackwood at the provincial court of revision, called for the revision of the voters' list yesterday morning.

There will be a meeting of all interested in the support of hockey for the coming winter at the Hume hotel this evening at 8 o'clock. There should be a good turnout of all interested.

The Harold Nelson company will produce this evening the adaptation of the widely read story, "The Virginian," in place of the play "Facing the Music" as originally announced.

The Baptist Young People's union will hold a social this evening at 8 o'clock in the church to which the public are cordially invited. There will be songs, recitations and refreshments.

Gold commissioner Renwick has received the contracts and plans for the new court house. It is expected that contractor Gillett will sign the papers today and commence work at once.

There was only one application in chambers yesterday before his honor judge Forin when H. A. Stewart obtained an order for payment out of monies in court in Traves vs. Knowles and Bell.

The usual weekly meeting of the Young People's society in connection with St. Paul's church will be held this evening in the church parlor at 8 o'clock. All friends are cordially invited to attend.

A mass meeting of union men is called for this evening in Miners' union hall at 8 o'clock by the Nelson Trades and Labor council to hear the report of Wm. Johnston, delegate to the recent labor convention.

The executive of the 20,000 club will meet in the board of trade rooms this evening at 8:30. The request of the C.P.R. land department for local information about fruit lands, referred to elsewhere, will come up for consideration.

H. B. Smith, D.L.S. of Rossland, has finished surveying 6000 acres of land for the Great Northern railway along the line of the Nelson and Fort Sheppard railway in the vicinity of Salmo, says the Miner. The task has occupied his time during the past two months. He leaves for Armstrong in a day or two, where several years ago he was hydraulic engineer for a waterworks system which was put in then. The intention is to increase the size of the system five times, and Mr. Smith has been requested to act as engineer in charge of the work.

J. H. Fox has returned from a visit to East Kootenay. He states that the Cranbrook people are going in for curling this season. Their ring building is completed and they will have four sheets of ice this winter. The Cranbrook people want the bonspiel there this year and will try hard to get it.

Arthur Hickling, the well know mining and real estate man, who yearly makes a pilgrimage from the old country to the Kootenays, is at the Hume on his way back to England after spending the last few months in B.C.. Mr. Hickling is interested in Princeton coal lands and has been visiting that section for some weeks. He goes from here to London, Ont., and expects to reach England by Christmas.
