STRIKE AT COAL CREEK

Union Miners Refuse to Work Longer With Non-Union Men

Manager G. G. S. Lindsey Issues a Circular Claiming That 1905 Agreement Has Been Broken

(Special to The Daily News)

Fernie, Sept. 22.—The mines of the C. N. P. Coal company at Coal Cretk are idle today owing to the refusal of the members of the local union, U. M. W. of A., to work any longer with non-union miners.

On September 14th the following notice was issued: "Acting under instructions from president Mitchell we hereby give all non-union miners notice that seven days after this date we will cease to work with non-union miners. (Sgd.) U. M. W. of A."

At a meeting of the union held last night it was decided to cease work this morning until ordered to return to work by the district officers.

The officials of the coal company claim such action is a deliberate violation of the agreement instituted between the company and the union in May, 1905.

G. G. S. Lindsey, general manager of the company, has issued a circular letter to the workmen at Coal Creek, in which he clearly defines the position of his company, and draws the attention of the members of the union to the following facts:

"At the conferences between the company and the officers of the union immediately preceding the signing of the agreement the question of discriminating against non-union men was thoroughly discussed and the national board representatives, Mr. Jones and Mr. Sherman, both agreed that president Mitchell would not allow a strike because there were non-union men in the mines; that the local union could not take such a step without the consent of the national president of the Mine Workers and that they would have to conduct such a strike on their own resources, that they could not deal with a question which would result in closing down the mines without instructions from and consent of the national president and that they could not get his consent; that under the agreement where a difference arises betwen the company and the union, all cases where the United Mine Workers have not been fairly treated are to be referred to a series of tribunals, ending with the president of the company and the president of the United Mine Workers of America for settlement, and as long as such negotiations are in progress and until a final decision is reached, mine laborers and all other parties must remain at work; that if president Mitchell gave the instructions to cease work on the grounds stated and authorized their publication then the contract with the United Mine Workers of America is not worth the paper it is written on, for he has violated every pledge given by him through representative at the conference in May, 1905, and by his district officers, and has failed to himself discuss the matter with the president of the coal company, before acting, as provided under the agreement and until that is done the men must continue work."

Mr. Lindsey's letter concludes thus:

"This notice is sent you for the purpose of presenting the facts to you as they exist and to give you the opportunity of considering them and governing yourselves accordingly. It is further to give notice that every workman who does not report for work on Monday morning, September 24, 1906, will, having absented himself for two days without permission, be liable to be discharged, and will for this and other reasons be discharged from the employment of this company."

GEORGIA RACE RIOT

Fifteen Negroes Killed in Hot Street Fighting

Atlanta, Sept. 22A race riot is reported on Decatur street, a street especially frequented by negres. The fire department has just been called out to disperse the mob. The trouble is the result of assaults committed on white women here today. Ten negroes are said to have been killed already. The mob apparently is beyond control. negroes are being pulled from street cars and beaten to death. Great confusion exists on the streets. The mob seems to lack a leader and the police at midnight seem to have the mob controlled. The number of dead so far is uncertain and reports from police headquarters conflict with the numbers given by the newspaper reporters. The militia was slow in assembling. Fighting is reported in Peters street. From the Associated Press office shots are heard frequently. The Constitution says 15 negroes have been killed

SOO STEEL MAGNATE

F. H. Clergue of the famous Sault Ste. Marie steel plant, and party are at the Strathcona. Mr. Clergue was seen last night at the Strathcona by a representative of The Daily News and, in response to queries as to whether he had not come here for the purpose of investing in some locally owned properties, said that he was here only to look over the country of which he had, of course, heard a great deal and was enjoying himself. He declared he had liked what he had seen of the districts contiguous to Nelson and thought that this city had a great future before it.

Reverting to the affairs of the Clergue company he said that everything was going along nicely. The steel mills had recently put out as much as 1000 tons a day, or at the rate of over 300,000 tons per annum. But the actual production of the mills had so far not exceeded 250,000 tons per annum. Yet, as the total output of Great Britain, one of the largest producers in the world, was not more than 1,000,000 tons per annum, the output of the Canadian mills, a quarter of that huge total, was, he thought exremely creditable for a new industry.

Mr. Clergue and those accompanying him will probably remain in town over today, leaving for Bonnington tomorrow. Whether or not they will visit the Boundary district before proceeding to the coast had not been decided upon last night.

WIND UP OF THE FAIR

OFFICIAL COUNT MAKES TOTAL ATTENDANCE 10,293.

SUGGESTIONS FOR IMPROVEMENTS NEXT YEAR.

The secretary of the Fair, Capt. McMorris, authorizes the statement that the total attendance during the three days of the exhibition was 10,293.

In the 20,000 clubs guessing contest on the attendance the guess of 10,144 wins first prize—a dressing case, and 10,500, the second—a dinner gong. The piece of rock, the average assay of which formed the subject of the club's second guessing contest will be assayed tomorrow, it being found impossible to do this yesterday.

In the special exhibition guessing contest, "How many cakes of Golden West Soap are in the exhibit," the actual number of cakes was 11,524. Miss Lottie Annable, guessed nearest with 11,523 and wins the case of soap, value $6, which will be delivered to her on application to A. Macdonald & Co. The result of the big $1500 Golden West guessing contest "How many cakes will we sell between July 1, and December 1," will be published about December 5th.

On the whole the poultry show of this year was not equal to that of last but the arangements were far better for the reception and housing of the birds shown. James Lilly, the caretaker, has been highly complimented on the methods he employed.

A busy cohort of workers was industriously employed the whole of yesterday taking down the decorations from the fair building and from the streets. It is generally agreed that never at any time have the decorations been more tasteful or extensive and in this regard great praise must be given to chief Deasy, G. C. Hodge and a host of willing workers.

As the horse racing proved to be such a drawing attraction at the fair it has been suggested that the course be slightly altered for next season. At present the finish is too close to the turn at the western end of the course. The suggestion is that the judges' box be placed nearer the position which the steps now occupy at the western end so as to give a fairly long home stretch in the straight. As it has also become evident that the present accommodation of the grand stand is entirely inadequate this suggestion as to the track also involves the extension of the grand stand to the eastward.

Another consideration before the fair directors is the enlargement of the building. The mineral display was far too cramped and next year the exhibits promise to be at least twice as large. The district displays of fruit and vegetables also took up considerable room. Various suggestions have been made in this regard. One is that the district displays be confined to fruit which will save much room now occupied by mammoth and cumbrous vegetables. Another is that the displays by manufacturers be allowed only when they will pay for the space occupied. As, however, one prominent firm sold the greater part of its exhibit at the fair this remedy is more likely to increase the revenue of the fair than to increase its capacity.

A further remedy suggested by J. W. Ford is to cut out separate district displays altogether and to allow competitors individually to exhibit their fruit or vegetables in the proper places the marks thus gained to be totalled together for a district prize.

Dr. Porter, of the McGill university, who was here with the visiting Canadian engineers, and who is professor of metallurgy at that university, has secured, through the courtesy of the mineral department of the fair and a few individual exhibitors, a fine exhibit of the ores of the districts tributary to Nelson. The exhibit has already been boxed and placed at the disposal of Dr. Porter.

The press end of the fair was well attended to by Capt. McMorris, the secretary, there being far less trouble than usual in giving the public the details of prize winners.

CRANBROOK MAN INSANE.

(Special to The Daily News)

Spokane, Sept. 22.—Gibbering like a monkey, and in a pitiable state of mental and physical collapse, Arthur Griffin, of Cranbrook, B.C., was arrested in the Northern Pacific yards at Moscow, Idaho, last night. He could give no information about himself, but papers show him to be an Englishman of good birth, and a former officer in the British army. The police say he is a hopeless liquor and drug fiend. Griffin is held at the city jail pending proceedings to send him back to Cranbrook. When arrested he was wandering aimlessly down the track in the path of an oncoming freight train, and was barely saved from death on the rails.

TIE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

CAPITALS AND TECUMSEHS ARE NOW ON EVEN TERMS.

PLAY-OFF OF TIE GAME WILL SETTLE THE QUESTION.

(Special to The Daily News)

Toronto, Sept. 22.—One tie and one regularly scheduled match were played today by N. L. U. teams in the championship race, the Cornwalls taking their unfinished game with Montreal by a score of 5 to 4, and Tecumsehs defeating the Nationals in the last of the scheduled games of the season by 8 to 5. Tecumsehs thus tie Capitals in the pennant competition; but the extra series arranged by the executive in its last meeting will not have to be played as the game left uncompleted early in the season (by mutual consent of the two teams) has yet to be decided. That game will settle the 1906 championship dispute.

Some confusion has been caused by inaccurate records sent out by telegraph concerning the standing of the clubs. The labor day game played here between Tecumsehs and Nationals, and won by the latter, was an exhibition, not a league game, but it has been included in the percentage lists by some compilers. Tecumsehs, accordingly, before today's match, should have been credited with six games won and four lost, instead of six won and five lost, as previously reported, and Nationals only four games won instead of five.

The league standing now is:

	W	L	Tied
Capital	7	4	1
Tecumseh	7	4	1
Toronto	7	5	0
Cornwall	7	5	0
Montreal	6	6	0
National	4	8	0
Shamrocks	3	9	0

MEETS REBEL LEADER

TAFT HAS CONFERENCE WITH PINO GUERRA.

ROOSEVELT ANXIOUS TO HAVE PEACE RESTORED.

Havana, Sept. 22.—The propositions made by the moderates last night have considerably changed the Cuban situation, having praved the way for suggestions by Messrs. Taft and Bacon, for further concessions on both sides, which may yet save the republic intact. Messrs. Taft and Bacon, accompanied by consul general Steinhart and captain McCoy, called on president Palma today and got his ideas on what he was willing to have done under the circumstances. In the afternoon, secretary Taft and assistant secretary Bacon listened to the views of a number of prominent liberals and insurgents, including Pino Guerra, general Castillo, Juan Gualberta Gomez, and Jose Miguel Gomez. To the Associated Press secretary Taft said: "The proposals of the moderates, while not broad and far reaching enough to meet the necessities of the case, evidence a desire to maintain the integrity of the republic, even though they are compelled to abandon their control. Consequently, the situation is at least somewhat more hopeful. There must be some resignations, showing the good faith of the government, before the rebels will consent to lay down their arms."

Secretary Taft received a long cablegram direct from Oyster Bay today. It is understood that he was therein instructed to exhaust every resource in settling the difficulty without intervention if possible. This was in response to the secretary's pessimistic message of yesterday.

Everything hangs tonight upon a conference now progressing in Marianao between secretary of war Taft and the representatives of the liberal leaders, the persons arrested for alleged conspiracy, and the rebel field commanders. Since the arrangements for this important meeting were completed Mr. Taft has believed that there was fair reason for expecting an outcome to the negotiations which would lead to a settlement without the necessity of American intervention. This expectation was shattered this afternoon when the unwelcome news reached the mediators that the government had refused to release the prisoners in order that they might atend tonight's conference and the prisoners themselves had refused to accept these conditions, declining absolutely to be the recipients of favors from the present government. Mr. Taft took up the matter diplomatically with the result that general Steinhart and captain McCoy, aide to president Roosevelt, drove in an automobile to the presidency here, where they saw Miguel Gomes and four others of the leading alleged conspirators. The latter returned with them at 7.30 o'clock this evening. Meanwhile Machado and Ferrera, the rebel leaders in Santa Clara province, had taken automobiles and gone direct to the rebel camps outside Marianao, returning respectively with general del Castillo and Pino Guerra. Not since the efforts at mediation began has such intense interest prevailed. The crowds thronged the streets and with suppressed excitement awaited the arrival of the rebel leaders. It was evident that the sentiment of the village was with the rebels but the people feared to applaud them.

WEEK'S ORE SHIPMENTS

Alterations at Smelters are Now Very Nearly Completed

Great Increase of Output Confidently Looked for Next Month—Figures for the Week and Year to Date

With the exception of some important news from Rossland indicating the finding of a new ore body in the Centre Star mine, published elsewhere in this issue, the past week has been an uneventful one in district mining circles.

The ore tonnage for the week, as shown in detail hereunder, is about an average output, and the marked advance certain to come as quickly as the several smelters complete the enlargements and improvements now nearly ready, has not yet started.

The very creditable mineral display made at the Nelson exhibition just over, suggests what could readily be accomplished each year if a competent man were put in charge of the matter early in the season to stay with it until the fair was over. Many mining men take a great deal of time and trouble to send valuable selected specimens to the fair, but it requires the steady effort of some one individual to get the matter well in line and to arrange and display the specimens sent in. The exhibit this year was an educational one of great value and it was so well put together that visitors could appreciate and understand the value of what they saw.

Up in the Slocan country the plan of mine leasing, which has become so general this year has resulted in several instances in bonds being taken on the properties and capitalists interested, from the good showings obtained by the lessors.

The output of the various mines and the receipts at the several smelters for the past week and year to date in detail, are appended:

SUTHERLAND OBDURATE

REFUSES TO ACCEPT OFFICE UNDER NEW ARRANGEMENT.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE FAILS IN PERSUADING HIM.

Montreal, Sept. 22.—The committee appointed yesterday by the Methodist general conference to consult with Dr. Alexander Sutherland and try to induce him to accept election as one of the general missionary secretaries of the church, has as yet failed to find a solution for the difficulty. It is reported that Dr. Sutherland's mind is made up and that he will not yield to solicitation.

Dr. Sutherland's first public announcement of his intended retirement was made in the debate over the recommendation of the missionary committee in favor of the division of the general secretary's work. Dr. Sutherland had put up a strong fight for a continuation of the old system and had privately intimated to several friends that if he were beaten he would resign. Ostensibly the fight was over the work of Dr. Whittington in the Indian mission field of British Columbia, but in reality a deeper issue was at stake—whether or not Dr. Sutherland should have entire and almost absolute control of all the missionary operations of the church.

C. B. Keenleyside of London, presented the report of the committee to the conference, and asked N. W. Rowell to move its acceptance. In speaking to this motion Mr. Rowell pointed out the magnitude of the work as undertaken by the society and the impossibility of giving such supervision as is necessary to ensure success when only one man is in charge, hence the proposal was to divide the work and appoint two men. Another fact was presented, viz., the necessity of having some one in training in this work who should be able to take up the work in case a vacancy should occur through death or otherwise.

Rev. Dr. Sutherland in reply, outlined a policy somewhat different for the appointment of a general secretary with an under secretary and two field or assistant secretaries who should conduct the business of the mission rooms without any division of the work. After an address, marked by great earnestness, Dr. Sutherland intimated that in view of the existing condition of affairs as indicated by the action of the committee on missions he felt he could no longer sustain the position he had held in the department and was compelled to intimate that after a period extending over 30 years, he must be allowed to retire from the mission rooms.

In pursuance of the announcement he had thus made during this debate, Dr. Sutherland, when yesterday re-elected as one of the two missionary secretaries, refused to accept the office.

NELSON'S NEWS OF THE DAY

H. L. Brown, formerly C.P.R. ticket agent in this city, and now general western agent for the Allan Steamship line, with headquarters in Winnipeg, is paying a visit to his former chief, J. S. Carter.

A letter received by captain Johnstone of the local Salvation army corps, announces that brigadier A. Smelton, provincial commander of the B.C. and Yukon territory, assisted by ensign Bloss, will visit this city and conduct one meeting next Friday night, Sept. 28, commencing at 8 o'clock. The brigadier leaves Saturday for Grand Forks, where the army has recently opened up a hall.

A. H. Merritt of San Francisco, manager of the Ensign Beckford company, who manufacture Maple Leaf Fuse, has been on a visit to Nelson in connection with his company. Mr. Merritt is somewhat surprised at the amount of development work that is going on at the present time, but is now making arrrangements with his agent here, C. D. Goepel, for an extension of his business in Nelson and the country tributary thereto.

NEW ZEALAND EXHIBITION

Chance For B. C. Mining Men to Send Specimens to Exposition.

R. R. Hedley, manager of the Hall Mining & Smelting company, has received a letter from W. A. Burns, secretary of the exhibition branch of the department of agriculture, Ottawa, in connection with the New Zealand International exhibition, which opens at Christchurch, New Zealand, about November 1st and which will remain open for some months.

Secretary Burns says: "Will you kindly forward the mineral specimens intended for display in the Canadian section at the above exposition to the following address: Canadian Government Commission, New Zealand International Exhibition, Christchurch, New Zealand, care of Bucknall Steamship Co., Vancouver, B. C.

"All freight charges to be paid at destination by us."

Mr. Hedley is of the opinion that possibly many mine owners would like to send specimens and it is suggested that the board of trade take the matter up promptly.

Some one person must be appointed to collect and pack good specimens, and give all necessary particulars, etc., and in order to start the matter the above letter was given to the press.

REPORT ON SULLIVAN

PRESENTED TO ANNUAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS

SENATOR TURNER ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE COMPANY.

(Special to The Daily News)

Cranbrook, Sept. 22.—At the meeting of the Sullivan stockholders held at Spokane yesterday, senator Turner was elected president; J. M. Armstrong, vice president; D. A. Clement, secretary, and G. W. Hull, James Findley, Ed. Saunders, M. Oppenheimer, F. J. Finucane, H. Shields and Clendenning, directors. It was determined to raise $40,000 as a lien on the ores of the mine to pay accrued interest on bonds. A new Blake crusher is to be installed in the sulphide mill and another Heberlein roaster is to be built. The stock closed yesterday at 14 cents bid, and 17 asked.

Manager Clendenning reported that the mine was in operation the entire year, producing 26,997 tons of smelting ore at a total cost of $78,014.89, which includes prospecting and development work. During the year 1488 lineal feet were drifted, crosscut and sunk, and 171,768 cubic feet stoped in different levels; 3211 feet of diamond drill work was performed during the year.

There are now in sight, he reported, in the 60 foot north drift, 40,000 tons of ore, and from present indications this amount will be augmented from 40,000 to 50,000 tons. There are also in sight 25,000 tons of ore carrying 18 to 20 per cent zinc and 12½ per cent lead, which it may be possible to dispose of sometime.

There has been expended in improvements during the year on additional mine buildings, plant and equipment, $1463.83. The total outlay under present operations, including the aerial tramway, is $33,987.07.

The smelter was out of blast 39 days during the year. While in operation 26,918 tons of Sullivan ore and 1437 tons of silicious ores were reduced at a cost of $185,038.63, producing 4843 tons of bullion containing 9,686,230 pounds of lead, 22,478,734 ounces of silver and 821,794 ounces of gold, the total value being $491,088.40.

Treasurer E. M. Adams submitted the following report, which was dated September 15.

STRIKE ON CENTRE STAR

ANOTHER MINE MERGER IS NOW PROBABLE.

Rossland, Sept. 22.—The new ore shoot on the 1600 foot level of the Centre Star is the talk of the town. It is 40 feet in width and assays $48 to the ton. It is believed by some that the second enrichment of the ore, similar to that found in the mines of Butte, has been found here. The members of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers, who were here yesterday, were shown the big ore shoot and were amazed at its width and extent. It is probably the most important shoot of ore that has ever been uncovered in the Centre Star and will yield a good many dollars in dividends for the stockholders of the Consolidated Mining company.

The War Eagle, another of the Consolidated company's properties, is reported to be looking exceedingly well.

The lower levels of the Le Roi and the section west of the Josie dyke are turning out remarkably well.

There is probability of a merger which will include the Giant, California and Novelty, three very promising properties on Red Mountain, which are now lying idle; people close to the Great Northern railway are said to be engineering the deal.

SEVERE PENALTY FOR THEFT

Moscow, Sept. 22.—Four young men who attempted to rob a store here last Thursday, were condemned to death by a drumhead court martial and were executed today. The fifth member of the party was sentenced to hard labor for life.

COW WRECKED TRAIN

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 22.—The Syracuse bound train on the R. W. & O. railway, leaving Oswego at 6.55 p.m. 100 passengers on board, was wrecked at Battle Island, seven miles from Oswego, and Samuel Widerig, of Oswego, the fireman, was killed, his body being pinned under the driving wheels of the locomotive. The train had left a steep grade and was making fast time when the engine struck a cow asleep between the rails. The engine, baggage car, smoker and one coach left the track. None of the passengers were hurt.

YIELDS TO UNCLE SAM

Britain Likely to Sell the Sealing Rights of Canada

Protests of the Dominion May be Ignored in Proposed Treaty With the United States

London, Sept. 22.—With the increasing interest in Canadian affairs, there has been a revival in England of the discussion of the negotiations which sir Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador at Washington, is carrying on with the American government for the settlement of the various questions in dispute with the United States concerning Canada and Newfoundland. As far as the fisheries question with the latter colony is concerned, the point of difference is settled, sir Mortimer and the state department at Washington having practically reached an understanding. Of the outstanding questions affecting Canada, that of sealing is causing the greatest difficulty, but here again the British ambassador and the state department are making headway. Canada appears to be more favorably disposed toward the American proposal for the entire stopping of pelagic sealing, with compensation to the Canadians affected thereby. Sir Mortimer has kept in close touch with the Canadian authorities during the negotiations, the foreign office considering this to have been better than the Canadian suggestion made early in the year, for the appointment of a Canadian attache to the British embassy at Washington to advise the ambassador on Canadian affairs. This Great Britain declined to agree to. It was considered hardly likely that such an appointment would be acceptable to the United States, no matter who was the appointee, as he probably would have been considered the special advocate of Canada.

PIONEERS MARRY.

Col. E. S. Topping, familiarly known as the "Father of Trail," and the man who once owned the Le Roi mine, was in the city yesterday receiving the hearty congratulations of his many friends, on his marriage with Mrs. Mary Jane Hanna, a pioneer resident of Trail.

The ceremony took place in Rossland very quietly on Friday afternoon last, when Rev. John A. Cleland, of St. George's Anglican church, married the couple in the apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Burritt, at the Kootenay hotel, in the presence of a few old and intimate friends.

The bride and groom left Nelson last evening for Victoria, where they will reside in future. Both are closely identified with the early days of Rossland and Trail, and the bride was the first women to reside in the latter city, long before it became a smelter town. She went there in 1890 from Nelson. Colonel Topping was one of the original townsite owners, as well as the first mayor of the city. He is now manager of the Tel-Kwa Mines, Limited, an organization having many shareholders here, and owning several claims in the famous Bulkley valley country.

THE FORESTRY CONVENTION

The forestry convention, which opens in Vancouver this week, may have an important bearing upon the future of the lumbering industry in this province. If the representatives of the provincial government, who will be in attendance, can be induced to grapple with the question of forest preservation in an intelligent manner, the discussions that will take place during the convention should provide the necessary spur.

British Columbia is one of the few countries that can now boast of really great resources in marketable timber. Heretofore little or no pains have been taken to conserve this wealth. Within the railway belt the dominion government has enforced regulations regarding forest fires which have been the means of protecting the limits situated therein, but elsewhere in the province, where the local authorities have control, practically nothing has been done, and year after year it has been necessary to record enormous destruction of standing timber by forest fires.

No system of reforestration prevails in this province and yet it is one of the subjects that should long ago have received the attention of the government.

It will probably not be in order for any of the delegates to the convention to deal specifically with the timber regulations now in force in this province, but the debates on the various topics affecting the lumbering industry that are provided for in the program, should bring home to the local authorities some sense of the fatuous nature of the policy they have adopted. It would probably be impossible to conceive of any system of dealing with the timber resources of a country more certain to result in the dissipation of this source of wealth than that devised or accepted by chief commissioner Green.

The convention will serve a very useful purpose if it result in arousing the local authorities to a proper appreciation of their responsibilities in reference to the administration of the forest wealth of this province. It is, perhaps, too much to hope that at this late hour chief commissioner Green can be persuaded to take a bigger view of this question than he has hitherto, but at least we may hope that the discussions will have the effect of so arousing public opinion that his opportunities for mischief will be speedily and effectively curtailed.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The recent fast record made between Liverpool and Quebec and thence across the continent to Vancouver has occasioned a good deal of comment in England. It is pointed out that while the gain from a commercial point of view is most gratifying, it is strategically eminently satisfactory. One paper emphasizes the fact that, from start to finish, this newest connecting link between Great Britain and her far eastern possessions, including Australasia, "is either on the ocean which she commands or on British territory." Being thus circumstanced, it is seen to be necessarily far safer for the transport of reinforcements for army or navy than the shortcut, via Suez ever can be during war. It is evident that the Suez route must remain exposed to the danger of being blocked by an enterprising enemy—for a time at least—and also to flank attack through Asia Minor. The London Globe believes it is quite possible that the All-British line of communication will be so improved as to render it preferable for despatch of troops to India as well as to the far east. There is the additional consideration that Japan justifiably expects her western ally to adopt all feasible methods for promoting mutual helpfulness, both naval and military, against a common enemy. "Of course," says the Globe, "the brilliant success of the Canadian endeavor does not afford the slightest reason for neglecting older lines of communication. On the contrary, we should heartily welcome any material acceleration of the voyage round the Cape. But in the matter of imperial connections, whether on sea or on land, England can hardly have too many strings to her bow."

A bequest of $10,000 to the university of Toronto, the interest therefrom to be utilized from time to time in assisting progressive young Canadians, is contained in the will of Aeneas McCharles, of Sudbury, who died in Montreal last August. Mr. McCharles was one of the first to become interested in the Sudbury nickel mines. The clause in the will says, "I give, devise, and bequeath to the provincial university of Toronto the equivalent of $10,000 on the following terms and conditions, namely, that the interest thereform shall be given from time to time, but not necessarily every year, like the Nobel prizes in a small way: (1) To any Canadian from one end of the country to the other, and whether student or not, who invents or discovers any new and improved process for the treatment of Canadian ores or minerals of any kind, after such process has been proved to be of special merit on a practical scale; (2) or for any important discovery, invention, or device by any Canadian that will lessen the dangers and loss of life in connection with the use of electricity in supplying power and light; (3) or for any marked public distinction achieved by any Canadian in scientific research in any useful practical line."

KASLO REFUSES THE CUP

Editor The Daily News—I desire to express hearty concurrence in the editorial remarks you make on the correspondence in connection with the above subject that you published today. I do not think that the Nelson people will be satisfied until there is a further investigation into the protest made by Mr. Adams in his letter of the 20th inst. He states clearly the grounds of his protest and unless his information is inacurate his protest appears to be justified, and entitled to more consideration than it appears to have received at the hands of the directors, who, one would suppose, would have liked to have had him present when endeavoring to arrive at a just decision on his complaint. I wish to express no opinion whatever on the merits of the protest, but I certainly think that when the representative of his district at the fair feels obliged to take the action Mr. Adams has taken, that for the credit of Nelson and for the important purpose of retaining the confidence of all exhibitors in the district, that the directors should have a thorough and open investigation into the charges made by Mr. Adams.

This does not appear to be a matter on which the decision of Mr. Palmer on the merits of the exhibits has any bearing, but simply whether the rules of the association, framed to insure similar conditions for all competitors, have been fully enforced. If they have, it should be clearly shown, as it will greatly increase the confidence of exhibitors. If they have not, the fault should be frankly admitted and full reparation made.

After what I may call the brilliant success of the exhibition just closed, it seems a pity that any misunderstanding should be allowed to possibly mar the future usefulness and steady growth of what is already the most important annual gathering in the Kootenays.

NELSONIAN.

Nelson, Sept. 22, 1906.

Editor The Daily News—With reference to the unfortunate friction which has arisen over the Kaslo fruit award, I should like to mention a few facts in connection with the case which may be of interest to some of your readers. Those in charge of the Kaslo exhibit came here feeling very much hurt that so few Nelson people went to the Kaslo fair last week and they also complained that none of the local Nelson fruit growers sent exhibits to Kaslo. For my part, I never received a prize list from Kaslo, nor was I asked to send anything to the Kaslo fair and I naturally took it forgranted that the report was correct which stated that the fair was started for the purpose of collecting the best possible collection of fruit in order to secure the district cup. As to the complaint that exhibitors were allowed to break the rules by adding to their display after 8 p.m. on Tuesday; this rule has never been enforced and cannot be enforced conveniently, as the train from Grand Forks does not reach Nelson before 10 p.m. As to fruit being moved by Mr. Hyslop from the individual plates in the main building to the district display, I can only state from my own experience that none of my fruit was changed by anyone from the time it was placed on the table until last night. In selecting my fruit I marked the best for the individual plates, the next best for collections and the next went to the district exhibit. The Kaslo people concentrated all their best fruit in the district display and under the circumstances I think they did very well in securing the judges' award. On Tuesday evening I gave Mr. Hyslop a plate of apples from one of my collections because I had forgotten to put aside any of this variety, which he had askod for, and I consider I was perfectly justified in doing so. As I was awarded 13 first and 12 second prizes in the fruit department, it is more than probable that had Mr Hyslop been changing plates in the main building he would not have overlooked all mine and I am absolutely certain that none of mine were interfered with by anyone. The Nelson fair is for the benefit of everyone living in the Kootenays and we must all work together in harmony in order to secure the best results. Rivalry between districts is a good thing, and it was for the purpose of stimulating rivalry that I presented this cup for annual competition, but we must not squabble over little technicalities, which only generate ill feeling, but rather get the best fruit grown in each district on the tables and let the judges settle the rest. Yours trusly,

JAMES JOHNSTONE.

STOCKS FOR THE WEEK

MARKET SHOWED STRENGTH AND WILL GO HIGHER

GREAT BOOM IN B. C. SHARES IS LOOKED FOR

(Reported by B. B. Mighton & Co.)

The stock market for the past week, as predicted, showed great strength and was a bull market at all times. All stocks advanced and the tradings were more brisk and of greater volume than at any time during the year. The speculator who took advantage of the low price during the dull season has now taken profits which far exceed expectations. No decline is yet shown and it is believed a great boom in the shares of B. C. is at hand.

North Star advanced rapidly and yet shows no sign of an abatement, but on the other hand is in greater demand with each advance. This state of activity is generally from east to west. Sullivan remains very firm, though not as active as last week. Rambler-Cariboo is still weak although it shows some signs of strengthening again shortly. Dominion Copper continues its upward course and is expected to reach par within a few months. Denoro Mines is more active than for some time and an advance is expected by parties in close touch with this company. International Coal while showing a weakness is believed will rally soon, and is now considered one of the best buys on the market at the present low quotation. Cariboo-McKinney, California, Canadian Goldfields and Canadian smelters are showing strength but with no business offered.

Following are the approximate quotations for the week ending yesterday:

PREMIERS' CONFERENCE

WHAT DOMINION MAY ASK OF THE PROVINCES.

QUID PRO QUO FOR INCREASE OF SUBSIDIES

Ottawa, Sept. 22.—The conference between representatives of the provinces and the federal government, which will convene here on October 8th, will be the most important that has ever been held in Canada, and it is not at all improbable that as an outcome amendments to the British North America Act will be sought. The provincial representatives, it is said, will be sounded as to how they would regard the proposition to surrender power to subsidize railways and the interest which they have in the sea coast and inland fisheries. With respect to the former, the granting of subventions to railways has greatly impoverished most of the provinces and has led to the creation of divided jurisdiction. Many of the important provincial railways connect with lines of national character, and it seems only common sense to suggest that if they were under federal authority an unnecessary duplication of work would be avoided, and the provinces saved from large expenditure of money. The system which now prevails is far from satisfactory. Railroad promoters begin by obtaining aid from municipalities and then use this as a lever to secure a bonus from the province. Then they go to the federal authority and urge the fact of the bonuses already granted as a reason why they should be assisted from the dominion exchequer, so that the people contribute thrice towards railway enterprise. There is a growing feeling against the granting of any railway subsidies at all, but if the people's money is to be used for this purpose it is argued that it is better it should be done through central authority, removed from local influences and prejudices. And with the control of such works vested in one body greater efficiency, closer supervision and uniformity of administration would be secured. The same thing might be said of the fisheries. At present there is divided jurisdiction and considerable ambiguity as to the respective powers of the dominion and the provinces. The result is confusion, uncertainty and often friction. All this might be prevented by an understanding under which control should be vested in the central government. It is not to be expected, of course, that the provinces would surrender any rights which they now possess without adequate compensation, nor is there any desire that they should do so. These and other matters are proper subjects for consideration, and should they be favorably regarded might form the basis of a rearrangement of subsidies to the provinces, under which they would enjoy much better terms than now obtained.

THE GOVERNMENT'S POSITION

(Victoria Times)

The Colonist says it "has been authorized to state in the most emphatic form possible that the question of dissolution has not been considered by the government, that no steps have been taken in that direction, that no approaches have been made to the lieutenant governor in the matter, that no preparations have been made for a general election, and that the Times's statements as a whole are foundationless." Which is all very well as far as it goes. The question of dissolution may not have reached the stage of formal consideration by the government as a government. But it is well known that the two members who consider themselves the government have made up their minds as to the course to be taken. It is a matter of common knowledge that active preparations have been going on all summer for a general election. Everything that can be done has been done, short of official formal action, against the day of electoral reckoning. Nor does it alter the complexion of the case at all to say that ample notice of dissolution will be given. The government, as the opposition knows by experience, will not give ample notice, unless it is compelled to. It took a snap verdict in the first instance. By a petty subterfuge it limited the period necessary for public discussion of the political situation, and it escaped defeat by a hair's breadth. In fact, it was defeated, and has only contrived to retain power by pandering to and purchasing the support of members elected to oppose it and by consenting to the passage of measures directly menacing to the present and the future prosperity of the province. It is indubitably true that British Columbia is not progressing as all western Canada and all the western portion of the continent is progressing—and the reason for this state of affairs is to be found in the distrust which has been engendered by the pandering of the McBride government to incendiary, revolutionary elements. The members of the administration have made up their minds that it would be impolitic, perhaps fatal, to meet the house again and display afresh their impotence. They distrust some of their own regular supporters, they fear their guerilla allies, and they dread further revelations respecting the deals into which they have entered at the expense of the province for the purposes of securing the support of corporations. They have decided upon dissolution, and dissolution will only be deferred in case it should develop that dissolution would be more dangerous than facing the house.

I have used this liniment myself and recommended it very ofte nfor cuts, burns, strains and lame back, and have never known it to disappoint." For sale by all druggists and dealers.

HOSPITALS CROWDED

MAJORITY OF PATIENTS WOMEN

It is a sad but true fact that every year brings an increase in the number of operations performed upon women in our hospitals. More than three-fourths of the patients lying on those snow-white beds are women and girls who are awaiting or recovering from operations made necessary by neglect.

Every one of these patients had plenty of warning in that bearing down feeling, pain at the left or right of the abdomen, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back, pelvic catarrh, dizziness, flatulency, displacements or irregularities. All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the female organs, and if not heeded the trouble may make headway until the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation, and a lifetime of impaired usefulness at best, while in many cases the results are fatal.

The following letter should bring hope to suffering women. Mrs. Robert Glenn, of 434 Marie St., Ottawa, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so well and widely known that it does not need my recommendation, but I am pleased to add it to the many which you have in its favor. I suffered untold agonies from serious female troubles for nearly three years, and the doctors told me that I must undergo an operation, but as I was unwilling to do this, I tried your Vegetable Compound and I am only too pleased that I did so, for it restored me to perfect health, saving me the pain of an operation and the immense bills attending the same. Pray accept my hearty thanks and best wishes."

Just as surely as Mrs. Glenn was cured of the troubles enumerated in her letter, just so surely will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure other women who suffer from female troubles, inflammation, kidney troubles, nervous excitability and nervous prostration.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all women who are ill to write her for free advice. She is a daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Baldness Begins Early

"Baldness begins in the young and increases, whether rapidly or slowly up to the fiftieth year." So says Dr. Sabouraud, of Paris, the world's greatest authority upon diseases of the hair and scalp.

Dr. Sabouraud goes further, however, and says that "Baldness as a chronic malady is a disease not of old age, but of youth; in bald old men we simply see the result of a disease that has been slowly doing its work for many years."

The dandruff microbe is an invisible growth of vegetable character; minute fragments of it are easily passed from one head to the other, through the medium of public hair brushes, towels, etc.

In the hair these fragments are inert until they come in contact with the natural hair oil from the sebaceous glands of the scalp, when they begin to grow and form one colony after another; in a similar manner, dry fragments of yeast cake are inert until they find the proper medium, when they promptly begin to "work."

On the back of the head, most of these fragments of microbic growth fall out of the hair before they find permanent lodgement in the sebaceous glands, and this is one of the reasons why baldness begins, and is often confined, to the top of the head.

It often takes years to produce dandruff, but after it is well established in the scalp the destruction becomes more and more rapid. The hair becomes dull, brittle and lustreless, but occasionally there is excessive oiliness. Itching of the scalp and falling hair usually follow excessive dandruff, and unless something is done to check the disease, baldness will surely follow.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE— the ORIGINAL remedy that "Kills the dandruff germ"—will overcome any stage of the malady, except chronic baldness. It acts by destroying the growth that causes the disease, and when this is done, the hair is bound to grow as nature intended.

More men and women get positive results from the use of NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE than from all other hair remedies combined.

It is delightfully refreshing to use, and it stops itching of the scalp almost instantly. Remember that you must destroy the cause to remove the effect. Do not wait for chronic baldness, for it is incurable. THE TIME TO SAVE YOUR HAIR IS WHILE YOU HAVE HAIR TO SAVE.

TELEGRAMS OF THE DAY

DISASTROUS FIRE SCOURGES ALMONTE, ONTARIO.

MYSTERIOUS BANK ROBBERY IN SASKATCHEWAN.

Almonte, Sept. 22.—The most disastrous fire in the history of this town broke out this morning, between 3 and 4 o'clock, in the three-story house owned by T. H. White, the building being on Mill street. The fire had gained considerable headway before the fire company arrived as the buildings, being formed of wood, burned with great rapidity. Word was sent to Carleton Place and the fire company from that place responded. The following suffered a heavy loss: H. H. Cole, building and contents total loss; T. R. White, building, total loss, and F. Timmins, tenant, effects, a total loss; effects of E. Scott and Miss Cairns, tenants of L. W. Shipman, and Shipman building are a total loss; Miss Paterson, owner and R. M. McFarlane, tenant, total loss; G. Paterson, owner, and M. West, tenant, both total loss; W. Bell, tenant of Wylie remises, total loss and building severely damaged; J. K. Cole, dwelling, and S. L. Lawford and R. Lockard, building, total loss, contents saved; T. R. White, dwelling, total loss, tenant J. Hartnett saved contents; Miss Paterson dwelling, total loss, tenant J. Silson, contents saved. The loss will approximate $125,000 with insurance yet unknown.

Kinistino, Sask., Sept. 22.—On Wednesday night the Bank of Commerce here was burglarized of about $3000. The population of Kinistino is but little over 200 and a stranger could hardly be in town without being noticed. No stranger was here on the night of the robbery as far as is known, and no resident is missing from home, and consequently it is generally believed that whoever robbed the bank is still coolly walking around town.

The extraordinary thing that puzzles everybody is how the clerk could have left the office with the safe doors open. The manager, Mr. Cady, was in the bank until 7.45, and when he went out told the clerk, Hickman, to put his books away and close the safe when he had finished his work. Hickman finished immediately afterwards and went upstairs to the rooms which he occupies. He had scarcely begun to read a novel when he thought he heard the safe door click. He went down and as he reached the foot of the stairs a bullet just missed his head. A second shot followed and he was stunned. He recovered consciousness almost at once and found his left temple and ear burned. The place was in darkness and Hickman did not see his assailant crossing the street. He informed the people at the hotel that he had ben shot and Cady and a friend ran to the bank, one going to the front door and the other to the back. No one was there but Cady found the safe open and the cash box, which contained $3000 in currency was missing. Every available man in the town was pressed into service and in half an hour men armed with shotguns and rifles were driving out in every direction in search of a fugitive. No suspicious travellers were found, however, and as far as definite information goes no one seems to have any idea who the thief or thieves are.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 22.—Grand duke Nicholas has informed general Dedulin, the commandant of the Peterhof palace, who is his personal appointee, that he was firmly persuaded that revolutionists of all the revolutionary committees exist at Peterhof, for twice he has found death sentences on his writing table, and grand duke Vladimir had received a similar missive the morning after his arrival, causing great surprise, as his return had been accomplished secretly. Grand duke Vlidimir instituted a close search of Peterhof, examining all the officials and every apartment. While thus engaged he saw a group in the garden, who fled at the gentleman's appearance. The guards pursued and arrested three men, two of whom were footmen in the service of the grand duke Nicholas and the other a palace gardener. One of the men had in his possession a complete plan of Peterhof palace, with the doors and gates carefully marked. The three men were taken to the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul.

The newspaper Obierniest, which is circulated free among the soldiers and the police, appeals to the soldiers and the guard to break the bonds of discipline and take 10 lives for every comrade killed, should the terrorists inaugurate a campaign of armed attacks on police and army officials in St. Petersburg such as was recently waged in Warsaw. Liberals profess the greatest alarm over this possibility and claim it is a direct incitement to a repetition of the Seidlce disorders on a greater scale.

Toronto, Sept. 22.—Another boundary dispute has developed between Canada and the United States. This time it is a water boundary, the dispute being over the separation line running through lake Erie. After the seizure of American fishermen's nets for poaching in Canadian waters on lake Erie secretary Schacht, of the Keystone Fish Co., Erie, Pa., disputed the charge of trespass. Commander Dunn, of the Canadian cruiser Vigilant, to avoid further disputes, offered to log off the district from Erie to the international boundary and superintend the placing of gas buoys on it if the fish company would furnish the buoys. Mr. Schacht forwarded this offer to the state department at Washington, stating the matter was one of importance as there were 40 or 50 boats sailing out of Erie liable to have their nets seized at any time though the fishermen believe they had set them on the southern side of the line. Acting secreary of state Bacon, commenting on captain Dunn's offer, called attention to a claim that the maps of the Ghent commission were not accurate to the scale, as lake Erie was drawn wider than it really is, so logging of the distance from the north or south shores on the Ghent commission map to the international boundary would result in an overlapping of some miles in the centre of the lake. The United States department has referred the case to the International Waterways Commission, with instructions to the chairman, general Ernst, to make a report accompanied by maps, showing the alleged difference between the international boundary through lake Erie as shown by the Ghent commission maps and the boundary indicated by the United States lakes survey. The Canadian government has instructed Dr. King, chairman of the Canadian section of the International Waterways Commission, to make a report on the location of the line from the Canadian side of the case. Thus the friendly offer of a Canadian commander of a fisheries' protection vessel to a fishing company has brought a nice point of international difference to a head.

Boils and Pimples

Red Rash, Eczema, in fact any skin disease, disfigures the complexion because the bowels are constipated—or because the kidneys do not rid the system of waste—or because the skin itself is unhealthy.

Ointments, salves and soaps are useless. Because the trouble is with the blood.

Owing to defective action of bowels, kidneys or skin, the blood becomes laden with impurities. It is these impurities — deposited by the blood—that make boils, pimples, and painful, disfiguring skin diseases. It is because the trouble is with the bowels, kidneys or skin, that FRUIT-A-TIVES cure these diseases act directly on the eliminating organs—correct their irregularities—strengthen them—and thus clear the skin and make the complexion clear and soft.

Fruit-a-tives

OF INTEREST TO MINERS

CORRESPONDENCE.

J. C. H., Kaslo, B. C.—Through some misunderstanding or neglect your samples have arrived too late to give a correct determination. It is impossible to state correctly the constituents of a piece of rock either by gas or electric light, and as your samples did not arrive in time for a daylight determination, they will be replied to next week. Under the existing circumstances an examination has been made of your ore; from this it would seem advisable to have both assayed for gold and silver, the fee for which will be $1.50 in each instance. There is apparently not sufficient copper present in either sample to justify the assaying of the rock for that metal. Should you desire an assay to be made upon your samples, please reply, enclosing the fees stated above, when a private reply will accompany the assay certificate.

There are two assay certificates awaiting the names of the senders. Letters cannot be sent to postoffices, such as A. B. C., Nelson. It is necessary therefore, that all correspondents enclose their name in all letters sent.

P. B. T., Kaslo, B. C.—The place you indicate with a blue line in your sample is ruby silver; whether it is pyrargyrite or pousite is very hard to determine without having more data to go upon.

W. E. G., Sandon, B. C.—The books you requested us to obtain for you have been ordered, and you ought to receive them by the same mail this paper arrives.

H. M. S., Nelson—There is apparently in the sample you sent us no foundation for your supposition that the greater part of the rock is feldspar. There is a little of that mineral present, but the dark green mineral is horn blende, whilst the white is quartz. As stated before there are slight indications of feldspar being present; there are also showings of zinc blende in the sample.

E. M. N., Ainsworth, B. C.—From outward indications there was nothing to go upon to state that there was native silver present in your rock. The sample was placed in an acid bath, to clear it and dissolve away the iron oxides, after which there were still no indications of native silver being present.

H. M. S.—Your sample is a very fine specimen of bornite, which is a compound sulphide of iron and copper, running very high in the latter metal.

N., Nelson—The difference between pyrite and pyrrhotite is very slight. Pyrite has two parts of sulphur to one part of iron, whilst pyrrhotite has seven parts of iron to eight parts of sulphur. The latter is the general acceptance of the analysis of pyrrhotite, but it varies greatly.

W. Nelson—As you state in your letter cairgorm stone is practically pure quartz. The coloring matter present is due probably to some carbo-nitrogen compound. We know of no occurrence of this class of rock in British Columbia.

G., Nelson, B. C.—It will require an analysis of your sample to be made before it can be definitely stated whether tin is present in your sand. The authority you quote as saying it is there appears to be perfectly reliable and you can safely rely upon the returns given.

L. B., Trout Lake, B. C.—If you are not satisfied with the results obtained submit your pulp sample to a reliable assayer, or, should you desire it we will have the same attended to for you. The fee will be double the usual charges.

K. E.—Your question cannot be answered in this department, as we do not follow the stock quotations. Please refer to our advertising columns.

R. W., Sandon, B. C.—No. 1, porphoryte with specks of galena intermingled; No. 2, blende and galena, the former in greater quantity; No. 3, quartzite with talc on the side; No. 4 is somewhat of a serpentine nature, not sufficient of the sample being sent to determine correctly.

M. S. D., Silverton.—It is very doubtful whether the reddish coloring is due to the presence of ruby silver. Most probably it is, but it can only be determined upon an analysis being made. This would be costly for this class of rock. Probably an ordinary assay would give you the information you require.

SUPREME COURT VACANCY

Appointment of Mr. Justice Duff to Federal Vacancy Practically Assured.

(Special to The Daily News)

Ottawa, Sept. 22.—It will be necessary to appoint at once a judge for the supreme court in place of the late Mr. Justice Sedgewick. The court meets on October 2 and it is possible that chief justice Fitzpatrick may not be able to sit on some of the cases. It is almost certain that the new judge will come from British Columbia. Mr. justice Duff, of the supreme court of British Columbia is said to be first choice of the province and he is, therefore, likely to get the position. There are some applications from eastern provinces, but it is said that the west will have first call. There is also a vacancy in Ontario to take the place of the late judge Street which will have to be filled.

ORE DISPLAY AT THE FAIR

AINSWORTH'S PRIZE COLLECTION NOT REPRESENTATIVE.

DISTRICT WILL DO FAR BETTER NEXT YEAR.

As an aftermath of the fair, local mining men are still discussing the respective merits of the several exhibits, and are prophecying that with the experience of the present to build upon, next year will see even better things.

The prize given by E. W. Widdowson for the best district display of ores elicited two noteworthy competitors. Boundary and Ainsworth. The prize was given to Ainsworth but, deserving as was Ainsworth in winning the prize still the display presented was not worthy of the district represented. Ainsworth did far better than any but not nearly as well as might have been done. The method in which its competitor, the Boundary, exhibited its ores, was more worthy of praise than the representative character of the exhibitoin. Marysville showed a few samples utterly inadequate to the vast possibilition. Marysville showed a few samples unaccompanied by description, unwashed and jumbled together, represented the important mines of Erie and vicinity.

Better than this will be done next year. The districts will better understand the issues at stake as will also the fair directors. The space allotted will also be larger in all probability and the mining industry will then be able to assume the importance which is due to it in the exhibits of the Nelson annual fair.

The collection made and exhibited by H. M. Stevenson, of Ainsworth, was large and diverse in character. Naturally galena ores predominated, as the Ainsworth is first of all a lead producing district. Representative samples, however of copper, zinc, auriferous iron and quartz, and rich dry silver ores were shown, making this district display by far the most varied in its character of any on exhibition. There were included four large pieces of solid lead ore from the Bluebell mine on Kootenay lake, a 450 pound church, also of lead, from the Lavina on Hamill creek, and two heavy pieces of dry solver ore from the La Plata, including a sample of concentrates. These were the striking features of the exhibit.

Rich dry silver ores were also shown from the Olsen, Truant, Baltimore and Pontiac on Woodbury creek. But the ore from the Krao at Ainsworth attracted probably more attention than anything else in the exhibit. The high assay values obtained upon these ores gives promise of a future not at present foreseen by the majority of owners.

Copper ore from the True Blue at Kaslo, gold bearing pyrites from the Silver Glance on the south fork of Woodbury creek; gold silver quartz from the Isabella at the head of Coffee creek and a different ore of the same valuable minerals from the Black Bear on Woodbury's south fork were shown. Also among the samples shown were horn blende schist, carrying gold from the Roy at Ainsworth, and silver-lead concentrates from the mills of the Highland and Highlander, the Cork and La Plata were prominently displayed.

The zinc ores shown were representative and included fine specimens from the Glengarry, United, Libby, Bluebell, Nicollet, and Rose of Ainsworth, and the Winthrop, Cork, Bismark and Province of the south fork of Kaslo creek, of which the Winthrop and Bismark zinc carries high silver values.

The lead-silver ores were more numerously represented and fine blocks, in many cases weighing from one to two hundred pounds each, were shown from the Highland, Majestic, Spokane, Little Donald, United, Highlander, Albion, Little Mamie, New Jerusalem, Bluebell, Old Timer and Tenderfoot of Ainsworth, the Cork, Winthrop and Bismarck of south fork of Kaslo creek, and the Lavina of Hamill creek.

Other properties represented were the Eden and Crescent, Glengarry, Roy, Star, Surprise, Blackbird, Crow Fledging, Tariff, No. 27, Black Diamond, Little Phil, Early Bird, Rand, Trinket, Hector, Tina, Alberta and Snelling, all of the Ainsworth camp, making a total of 55 properties.

YMIR NOTES

(Special to The Daily News)

Ymir, Sept. 22—Samuel Benzie, who has been superintendent of the Porto Rico Lumber company's sawmill here, has resigned to accept service with the Wattsburg Lumber company at Wattsburg. Mr. Benzie's successor has not yet been appointed.

Wm. Kinraid and wife have returned to Ymir and were welcomed by his many friends. Mr. Kinraid made a trip to Quebec to meet the lady that he brings to Ymir as his wife.

T. H. Atkinson, late druggist of Ymir, and who for the past few months has been clerking for Benson and Ross of Salmo, left for McGill university at Montreal, where he will take a course in medicine. Mr. Atkinson is a land capitalist, having staked 6000 acres of land along the Salmon river bottom for himself and his business associates.

Messrs. Deharnais and Pellant have left for the Foghorn mine where they will do some work.

E. M. Hand, manager of the Ymir Gold Mines, Ltd., has returned from a trip to Spokane, where his family are residing.

J. G. Dewar, license commissioner and road agent, left for La France creek this evening, where he is building a trail.

Ymir has some youthful nimrods in the persons of Chester Patterson aged 13, and Eddie O'Neill, aged 12. Yesterday these two young gentlemen went hunting and brought home five grouse. This is better than many older persons who have gone hunting from here have done.

NEW YORK FASHION LETTER

New York, Sept. 22—Two styles of hats seem to be the most in evidence just now, the picture hat for dress wear, the designs for which are for the most part gathered from the Empress Eugenie or Second Empire modes; and the close fitting hat which is small, especially the toques intended for wear with the tailored suits, to which last class may be added the small theatre hat.

The tilt is still here; but has veered round to a new quarter, a lift on the left side at the back, and then looks as if some one had tried to jam it down over the right eye. Instead of the narrow brim in the back, it is narrowest on the right side and front, flares widely at the left and falls in the back. This wideness at the left side leaves great room for possibilities in trimmings, such as under arrangements of flowers, lace, etc., and the long dropping plumes used above, or the beautiful wings and draped buckles that stand up in prince of Wales style and float over the back. Crowns are in many cases made by shirring, draping, crushed pleats or arranged to suit with the brim a suitable angle for the face of the wearer.

Another hat intended for wear with a brown suit, decorated with black braid, and having an embroidered mole colored vest, had a mole colored felt draped crown drawn to a point, narrow in front and caught with a jet buckle. The brim was of brown velvet, and the three wings at the left side were beautifully shaded from a brown that was almost black to a tender yellowish mole shade. One of the wings stood straight up at a becoming angle and two drooped over the side and back.

A plainer hat of brown felt also of the narrow toque variety looked much like a man's soft walking hat which was accentuated by the ribbon band and broad buckle of the same, relieved only by the two broad, long quills at the left, one black and the other mole and grey. This idea of having the quills of different colors and one plain and the other shaded is a rather popular fad and more decorative than two of the same kind.

The craze for braid has already reached the hat and many of the walking hats are trimmed wholly of it, with perhaps a relief by a bright buckle, or two quills or wings, or both; but many have no other trimming than that afforded by the braid, which is, of course, particularly woven for this purpose, and shows a variety of patterns embracing many colors. In many a hat that carries out the color scheme of the suit, which may be somber indeed, is brightened by these braids, or, the hat may carry out a contrast while the braids may show the various colors shown in the costume.

An instance of the second class of hat was a picture hat in white felt, high on the left side back and dented around the edges. Rosettes of white velvet edged with rose colored cord, giving them a roselike apparance were set on the barotte underneath, while the crown was encircled with a white broad showing gold, rose and green and this hat was variously worn with a black velvet, a red broadcloth and a green self checked panama.

The sailor hat also will be worn this winter, inded, sailors are too becoming, too comfortable and too handy to easily go out. A sailor though extremely plain, may often be worn when no other hat could be thought of, for with a handsome veil, a few ribbons or a silk drape, these will make a sailor suitable for almost any occasion except the dressiest affairs.

Plaid silk as a hat trimming made a good idea of a showing in one shop and many little toques, sailors, alpines, etc., were trimmed entirely with it, laid in imitation buckles, roses, bows, quills and wings; crossed bands, folds, straight lines alternating with diagonals of the plaid; and in a majority of cases all other trimmings were absent.

The plaid silk is, according to the present showing, likely to be popular not only in millinery, but for waists, as a dress trimming; and also for belts and ties.

Next to the plaid hat trimming, is the stripped silks, and a pretty idea used on a mouse grey brim was a crown of draped stripped silk. A hat of this description is very suitable and well wearing for rainy days, as there are no wilted flowers or feathers to detract from the wearer's trim look, which should be the aim of her who must be out in such weather. It is possible that women do not realize that care should be expended in rainy seasons, and few do not know that a fresh, bright plaid bow or bright tie and belt, provided that the gloves, shoes, hem of the skirt and coat are in good order, will make her a gladsome thing to look at on a dreary morning.

NELSON'S NEWS OF THE DAY

Monday is the last day on which names can be added to the provincial voters' lists before the November revision.

The date of holding the court of revision for the purpose of revising the register of voters for the Nelson city electoral district has been postponed from Monday, November 5, to Monday, Nov. 12.

W. R. MacInnes, freight traffic manager of the C.P.D., accompanied by F. W. Peters, assistant freight traffic manager, western division, were here yesterday on a periodical visit of inspection.

J. G. Billings left for the coast last evening to attend the forestry convention. He was accompanied by Mrs. Billings. This evening G. P. Wells, secretary of the Mountain Lumbermens' association will leave for Vancouver for the same purpose.

At the Methodist church service this evening Miss McBride will sing Handel's "Oh Lord, Correct Me." The floral decorations of the church will include many of the prize blooms of the recent fair, kindly donated.

The last Gazette contains notice of the appointment of James Ryan of Cranbrook, as a police commissioner in the place of James Greer, resigned and also of the appointment of G. F. Weir of Trail, as a member of the Ymir licensing board in place of Harry Kearns, resigned.

Napoleon Pratt, charged with assaulting H. A. Herman in Fairview was sentenced by stipendiary magistrate Crease yesterday to three months in the provincial jail with hard labor. M. Megraw was fined $10 and costs in connection with the assault referred to, he having assisted Pratt in the latter's trouble with Herman.

A despatch in yesterday's paper was calculated to make readers imagine that the Great Northern's bridge at Cut Bank, a station on the line in Montana, had been destroyed by fire. The local officials of the line state that the bridge was not burned down and that all trains were running regularly yesterday.

Beginning today there will be four days of special services in the Baptist church in connection with the meeting of the Baptist ministers' association. The pastor will preach at both morning and evening services. Mrs. Shanks will sing at the evening service. On Monday evening the service will be taken by Revs. Kempton and Goodfield of Fernie and Cranbrook. On Tuesday evening Revs. Marks and Auvache of Rossland and Grand Forks will be in charge and on Wednesday evening Rev. C. Padley of Lethbridge will deliver the address.

Those who guessed correctly the weight of the big candy stick hung up in J. A. McDonald's booth at the fair will have to draw for the prizes on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Mr. McDonald's office, corner Josephine and Vernon street. The exact weight was 29 pounds and 12 persons hit the mark. They are B. Bosquet, D. C. McMorris, M. Knudson, W. Kinahan, L. Annable, Mr. Douglas, C. Traves, S. Norris, A. Elliott, B. E. Irwin, Mr. Jameson and A. H. Kelly.

Bill Jones, better known in sporting circles as "Slim," a colored individual, is in the city lockup charged with holding up the Strathcona hotel porter, Wesley Zeigler, in Jones room on Friday night and extracting a $10 bill from him. Zeigler says that Jones came at him with an axe first and then shoved a gun in his face until he coughed up a $10 bill. The trouble will be discussed before the police magistrate tomorrow morning.
