Oldest Camp in Kootenay Takes on New Lease of Life

Long List of Actively Worked Properties—More Details of Rich Strike on Krao Plenty of Ore Coming Out

Ainsworth, the oldest mining camp in the Kootenays has taken on a new lease of life and busy times are looked for from now on.

The camp was located away back in 1884 when A. D. Wheeler, now the lucky owner of the Krao, was mining recorder. It was a good camp in 1890-1-2, but when the Slocan excitement started up there was a rush to the rich finds there reported and Ainsworth dropped out of it all. In 1896-7 there was a revival, and there has always been more or less work going on quietly. Around 1903-4 the Highland shipped more lead ore than any other silver-lead property in the province at that time.

Now a new era of prosperity and bustle has arisen and many properties are already working. The rich strike on the Krao has attracted unusual attention, but there are other working mines giving excellent results today.

H. M. Stevenson, who is in charge of the Highland properties, came into the city last evening after showing Maxwell Stevenson and Miss Stevenson, of Philadelphia, his father and sister, who are spending a few days here visiting him, over the camp. To a reporter of the Daily News, Mr. Stevenson said last evening:

"Ainsworth has already become a busy camp once more, and I think the business will grow steadily from this time on. The list of working properties today includes the Krao, Spokane-Trinket, No. 1, Maestro, Donald and Black Diamond, Albion United, Tariff, and the Balitmore of Woodberry creek, to say nothing of the well known Blue Bell across the lake.

"A. D. Wheeler has recently made a remarkable find on the Krao, this property being half a mile from the lake to the southwest of the camp. It is reached over the trunk road, 2¼ miles long and the Krao's own spur road of about three-quarters of a mile long. At the 100-foot level, north of the shaft, there is a showing today 13 feet wide of good paying, shipping ore, and in this 13 feet there is four feet of very high grade ore carrying extra high values in natural and ruby silver. When I was there today, two carloads—or 40 tons—of ore were piled up waiting for sacks, that will average 200 ounces in silver to the ton. Mr. Wheeler has nearly a ton of picked samples which will run as high as 1,060 ozs. The new ore body was struck by crosscutting into the foot wall and another crosscut is now being run 150 feet to the north. This latter work has just broken into the general ore body. The drift is in 15 feet and Mr. Wheeler tells me the ore is as good in appearance and values as the original find. Mr. Wheeler intends preparing a special exhibit of the ore for the Nelson fall fair, and I know it will instantly attract the close attention of all mining men who see it.

"On Monday last at the United, T. G. Procter's property, a crosscut on the 150-foot level broke into four feet of high grade ore that will run 50 ozs. of silver, and which is the continuance of the ore body encountered and developed between the 50 and 100-foot levels. This latest find has proved that the contention of those who had a bond on the property some time ago, and who thought they were breaking through the foot wall, was wrong. The ore body is there all right. The United has 150 tons of ore ready for shipment this week.

"On the Spokane-Trinket, G. H. Barnhart has nearly three carloads of good ore ready for shipment. They are fixing all the trail to get the ore out by the wagon road. On the Maestro, Grant King and H. Giegericle have three carloads ready for taking away. H. J. Wright and James Curry, who have leased the Donald and Diamond, have nearly a carload of Donald ore ready for shipment. It looks to run 80 ozs. in silver. At the well known No. 1, H. Jones and H. M. Stearns have recently struck four feet of the old solid high grade ore for which the property was famous in the past. At the Tariff a crosscut is being driven under contract to open up the property; the tunnel is now in about 150 feet. On the Albion they are drifting from the deep level of the Highlander. This work will open up the Albion at a depth of 1,000 feet. At the Baltimore on Woodbury creek, English Brothers and George Stott, of Kaslo, are doing good work.

"Work on the Highlander? Well I have nothing to say about that just now, nor do I care to say anything about the Blue Bell, though it is fairly well known what is being done just now on this latter property. One important feature about the Highlander is well worthy of notice now that general attention is being directed to the Ainsworth camp. The long tunnel is in 2,610 feet giving a depth of over 1,600 feet and every vein outcropping has satisfactorily shown up in the tunnel, proving that the veins go down in the camp, a fact that will encourage all who are now working Ainsworth properties. I think that further good reports will come from the camp before this season is over and that the present revival of interest and work will be maintained."

From another source comes the following news of the United:

The United mine near Ainsworth, which was recently taken up by T. G. Procter and associates after its abandonment by the Canadian Metals company, has now its bins full and a shipment of 150 tons ready on the bench for the Hall Mines smelter. Upon the result of this shipment will depend the future proceedings of the new management but it is thought likely that the results will be such as to justify the erection of a lead and zinc separator at the mine.

STENSLAND IN PITTSBURG.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 15.—Paul O. Stensland, the defaulting banker, was in Pittsburg today. Stensland was seen aboard a train at the Union Station by Oscar Holmer, who used to be a close friend of his. Holmer's attention was attracted to a stranger seated in the car. He walked up to him and said: "Hello, Stensland, what are you doing here?"

"For God sake, is it you? don't give me away," was the answer.

"I told him his affairs were none of my business," says Holmer.

PLENTY OF FRUIT LAND

RANCHES ON THE ARROW LAKES IN DEMAND

PURCHASERS MAY STILL GET IN ON GROUND FLOOR

Just as soon as the harvest is gathered in the northwest provinces there may be expected in Nelson quite an influx of Manitoba wheat farmers and their brethren from Alberta and Saskatchewan. These have been attracted by the reports of successful fruit growing in this district. A. N. Wolverton said yesterday to a representative of The Daily News that he was daily in receipt of enquiries from Winnipeg and other points in the Northwest, principally, he declared, for ten acre lots on the west arm of Kootenay lake. This, Mr. Wolverton said, was probably indeed by their proximity to the life and bustle of Nelson, although, in his opinion, the lands on the Kootenay river, on the Columbia, on the Slocan river, on the main lake or even on the Arrow lakes, were equal to the Nelson lands from the point of view of fertility and had the further advantage of being generally cheaper.

As to transportation, most of such outlying lands are equally favored with Nelson. The C.P.R. steamer comes down the Arrow lakes late in the afternoon and gathers up fruit picked that afternoon, which fruit is sent forward the next morning from Nelson over the Crow line. The Nelson fruit under the new arrangement is principally picked up over night and sent down to Nelson to be forwarded the next morning with the other fruit collected from points west of Nelson, on the Kootenay, Slocan or Columbia rivers, or from the Arrow lakes or Fire valley.

Mr. Wolverton confirmed the item in yesterday's issue as to land being taken up on either side of the Arrow lakes and said that there was a large quantity of arable land, especially on lower Arrow lake, available for fruit ranching. "Most people," sid Mr. Wolverton, "want lake frontage, but the land at the back, the bench land, is equally good, and in some cases bench land is superior. Some of the land is sandy but what sandy soil can do when well irrigated has been shown in the nearer ranches to the city. I was over the other side of the lake the other day and saw one apple tree with 24 props holding up its overburdened branches. Some of such land, such as that at Deer Park, is selling at $75 per acre. That, however, is not provided with water. Where the settler will put in water for himself the land can be got down to $5 per acre, and the purchaser need not be in the least afraid of the outcome.

"There is one advantage attached to the Arrow lake land," he continued, "and that is that the level is some 420 fet below that of Nelson and in consequence the crops are earlier and thus get the best of the season. This also applies to the Columbia and portions of the Kootenay rivers.

"As to there being plenty of land left for settlers, there is no doubt. Of course all the government and the railway land has practically disappeared but the stakers or purchasers have far more than they can cultivate themselves and I have listed with me over 11,000 acres all over the country. The land varies in price from $100 to $5 per acre, the former, naturally, being improved land. It is not fair to say that the brokers here are holding out for exorbitant prices. If a purchaser wants improved land, wants it on the lake front, and wants it in the immediate neighborhood of the city, he cannot complain if the demand has exceeded the supply and he has to pay heavily for his venture in ranching. Even then, he does not stand to lose. But if the would be settler, whose purse is not as deep, will be content to clear his land for himself and take up bench land, he can get land at extremely reasonable prices, the fertility of which is no whit below that of the lake shore frontage. Of course it takes money to clear land but, on the other hand, there is a great demand for lumber and the clearing of the land, in this way, should be made to pay for itself. With the exercise of a little common sense and the display of a little personal energy this can be done in the great majority of cases."

PROSPERITY IS GENERAL

Scarcity of Labor as Noticeable in Eastern Canada as the West

Hon. Wm. Templeman Delighted With Conditions in Maritime Provinces—Starts on His Way to the Coast

(Special to The Daily News)

Ottawa, Aug. 15. — Hon. William Templeman, minister of inland revenue, has returned from the maritime provinces. He visited St. John, Halifax, Sydney, Charlottetown, Moncton and other points.

"Notwithstanding the rush to the wheat fields of the Canadian west," said Mr. Templeman, "the east is sharing in the great prosperity which exists all over Canada. The great cry is the scarcity of men to do the work. This applies to almost all branches of trade.

"The Dominion Coal company in Cape Breton is probably the greatest sufferer in this regard. Some hundreds of miners were imported from Britain and still the demand for coal is greater than the output can meet.

"The Sydney steel works is particularly busy. The company is shipping rails to Vancouver by water for the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern railway. The Vancouver street railway has also purchased rails from Sydney. When this can be done, there is no need for importing."

Mr. Templeman leaves for the Pacific coast at the end of the week. He goes by way of Toronto.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 15.—Preparations being made for a reception to those attending the annual meeting of the Manufacturers' association are for a reception fitting for the occasion. Since the last programme was published the real estate exchange has made arrangements to secure sufficient automobiles to conduct the entire party of visitors over the city, and show them not only the manufactories, but also the splendid opportunities for investment.

It is satisfactory to note that the health of men employed in construction camps in the west has, up to the present this summer, been exceptionally good. Dr. T. F. Chamberlain, inspector, having concluded his round of the railway construction camps, reports very favorably as to their condition. The inspector's purview extends beyond the ordinary public work, undertaken by the Dominion government, and includes every railway, canal, bridge, telegraph and other work within the legislative authority of the parliament of Canada.

"I left Toronto in the middle of June," Said Dr. Chamberlain, "and I have been on the road about two months. In the provinces of Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia, I have been in camps where, I suppose, some 8,000 men are employed. The general health has been excellent.

"I have been over the Canadian Pacific construction, the Canadian Northern work, the Grand Trunk Pacific, the Great Northern and the Kettle River Valley railway construction. I have driven about one thousand miles, crosscutting the country. That is the way to get an idea of the west.

"Everywhere in Manitoba I found the crops very fine although it has been a little dry for the last few weeks so that the grain is not so strong in the straw as it might have been with a little more rain. The hay is pretty well cut and they are harvesting their oats and wheat now. I think the crop in both these cereals will be large.

"In Alberta the crops were looking well, especially in the northern portion of it. The southern and western portions have been a little dry but there has been plenty of rain in other parts of the province. Although I saw some fine grain, I saw very fine cattle too."

NELSON'S NEWS OF THE DAY

The city engineer was busying himself yesterday afternoon in examining the trestle work underneath the roadway at the northwest corner of Baker and Ward streets, which was thought to be in some danger of collapse and will proceed at once to make its safety beyond a peradventure.

Shackleton and Simpson are erecting a permanent rustic design in stone for a fountain at the fair. The whole structure, weighing several tons, is being erected on a timber foundation, which in turn is upon rollers, so that the imposing mass can be withdrawn from the center of the building whenever desired.

Work has been started on the new poultry building at the fair grounds. It is situated just east of the old building which this year will be devoted to the district exhibits of fruit and vegetables. The new building, measuring 30x50 feet, will be entered from the north and will have no connection with the other buildings, so shutting off any possible obnoxious emanations.

The ore from the car of concentrates which was burned by spontaneous combustion, apparently, in the C.P.R. yard last week has been put through the smelter here. As this cannot well be done with the charred remnants of the car, the present point is who is to reimburse the railway company for the loss of their car? The ore was shipped by the Second Relief mine and the consignees here were the Hall Mines smelter, E. W. Widdowson and company acting for the mine. The matter, however, will probably be amicably arranged.

Miss Pansy Fleishman of Vancouver, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J .J. Walker of this city. Miss Fleishman is an accomplished pianist, having graduated from St. Ann's academy, Victoria, and holding several certificates of the eastern colleges. Miss Fleishman is on her way east to continue her studies, in the colleges there and expects to remain away a couple of years.

The first practice of the musical part of the entertainment at the fall fair, which is under the supervision of Mrs. Melvilit Parry, took place last evening at 8 o'clock in Fraternity hall. Mrs. Parry has a job of some dimensions on her hands. What is proposed, and what doubtless will be carried out, is a Japanese parasol drill and march, introducing solos and chorus work from the Mikado, the Chinese Honeymoon and the Geisha. There are some 24 ladies taking part.

TRY TO UNSEAT FIELDING.

Liverpool, N. S., Aug. 15.—The court this morning decided to go on with the election petition to unseat Hon. Mr. Fielding in Queens and Shelburn. The question of the jurisdiction of the court in the matter, as raised by the attorney-general, will be submitted to the supreme court of Canada.

The first witness, John Wolff, said he had been paid five dollars to remain home on election day. He, however, went and voted for Ritchie, the conservative candidate.

CRICKETERS WILL LEAVE

FINAL ARRANGEMENTS SETTLED FOR EXCURSION

NELSON WILL TAKE DOWN STRONG REPRESETATIVE TEAM

At a meeting of the executive of the Nelson cricket club last night at which were present also the president of the Nelson board of trade and the secretary of the 20,000 club, final arrangements were made for the departure of the team and their friends on Friday evening. It was reported that up to the present 35 places had been taken on the special car going to the coast, and more were likely to come in. Among those certainly going are postmaster Gibson, Jack Bunyan, T. Kerr and family, A. T. Walley and others.

The team selected are A. S. Coppen, captain, F. W. Rolt, E. J. Marks, R. Reid, A. Tregilus, Crozier Bourke, H. J. Elvery, F. C. Corry, R. Marsden, E. W. Widdowson and F. J. Sammons. From these gentlemen final word has been obtained. In addition the following have also been asked to go on the strength of the eleven, but at present have not been able to signify their final acceptance: Judge Forin, W. Gregg, C. T. Hartington, L. Sewell, H. Hardcastle, captain Paddon and R. Howe. It is thought desirable to have more than the full strength, as several matches will have to be played and an opportunity will be thus afforded for a rest for some of the members of the team.

While the full strength of the team can hardly be said to be present, with the absence of one of the best bats, Harry Wade, and of its best bowler, E. Mason, for whose presence with the 11 arrangements unfortunately could not be made, the team has considerable batting strength and has a powerful attack in R. Marsden, whose bowling in the Rossland match was extraordinarily successful and Crozier Bourke who did equally well in the ranchers' matches. Hardly inferior to these two fast men are F. J. Sammons, H. Hardcastle and R. Reid, while if W. Gregg proves able to go at the last minute, the team will have three bowlers of the first class.

Under the circumstance Nelson will be represented with a good team of exceptional strength for such a new district as Kootenay. The team has drawn hard luck in having to play immediately upon their arrival so powerful a team as the Portland men, with whose oarsmen Nelson so recently tried conclusions unsuccessfully. If Nelson is defeated in this match it will lose all chance of the Driard cup as the games after all, are not to be played on M.C.C. rules, but rather in heats, after the manner of the Waterloo cup. Still, outside the league matches there are several others to be played and Nelson is sure to render a good account of itself.

Manager Starkey is very keen and desires it to be thoroughly understood that his men are to be strictly in training. This will be somewhat difficult as their entertainers at Victoria have arranged for a flannel dance, and for sundry other banquets and festivities generally during the week. However, Fred Starkey may be relied upon to keep up the end of the Kootenays while at the coast, and will not fail to disseminate the latest and most up to date information as to the latent possibilities of the Kootenays and especially its capital, Nelson.

INSULTED LITTLE GIRLS

Winnipeg, Aug. 15—Two little girls were attacked by a man named Stokes on the outskirts of the city tonight and he made indecent proposals to them. They escaped and notified the police. Stokes was arrested shortly afterwards.

HIS LAST PARADE.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 15.—Thomas A. Martin, senior commander of the department of the Potomac, became ill while marching in the G. A. R. parade and died while being removed to the emergency hospital.

DISORDERS BREAK OUT

Terrorists Rise at a Signal and Attack Warsaw Policemen

Many are Killed and Wounded—Riots Occur Simultaneously in a Number of Other Towns

St. Petersburg, Aug. 15.—Acting with a definite plan and at a signal, the terrorist and revolutionists today inaugurated a carnival of murderous attacks with bombs and revolvers on the palace and troops in various cities in Poland, echoes of which are heard from Ufa, Yalta, Kiev, and even far away Chita where acting chief of police Gorpinchenko was slain almost on his own doorstep. The revolutionist's campaign flames up at Warsaw where many were slain in the streets and many more wounded. Among the killed, according to the latest official advices, were two sergeants of police, a Hebrew merchant and a woman. The returns are not all in. Policemen and soldiers were shot down like rats in the streets. Their assailants were traveling in small bands, and most all escaped. The only capture was a band of ten men who had invaded a vodka shop and killed a soldier. These were bagged by a passing patrol. Bombs were employed in an attack on the police station of the volsk, in Warsaw, where a sergeant, two patrolmen and a soldier were wounded.

Other Polish cities singled out by the terrorists were Lodz, where six soldiers, three patrolmen and the wife of a police captain were wounded by the mob and two soldiers and two terrorists were killed in the streets; Radom, where a bomb, thrown into the police station, killed the wife and children of the police captain; Vlotslavsk, where the chief of police was slain, and Vplok, where, at a given signal, an attack on all the posts was simultaneously made and several of them wounded.

On account of the Agrarian disorders, the railway between Damara and Selatoust, which already was carrying guards on all its trains, today was placed under martial law. Two attacks occurred today near Ufa on a train, the robbers rifling the registered mail, in one case securing $5,000, in the other case the amount is not known.

Warsaw, Aug. 15.—There were many sanguinary conflicts today with the revolutionists who have organized wholesale massacres of policemen, gendarmes and infantry patrols. These conspirators shot and killed 18 policemen, four gendarmes and seven infantry patrolmen and wounded a score more. Soldiers fired a volley into a crowd killing 15 and injuring 30 others. The city was calm and thousands of persons were crowding the outgoing excursion trains. Simultaneously the attacks on policemen started at 10 o'clock in the morning. About 1 o'clock in the afternoon news began to arrive from all parts of the city revealing the concerted nature of the attacks. In Ostrovski four men attacked a sergeant of police but the latter was able to bag three of them who were armed with revolvers. In a fight at Torgava street, revolutionists shot down two patrolmen and a Jewish merchant was killed by a stray bullet. A band of ten men invaded a vodka shop in Cholodena street where they wounded a soldier. The clerk and wife of the proprietor opened fire upon the invaders and a passing patrol stormed the house and captured all of the band.

In the afternoon, a detachment of infantry and Cossacks appeared in the streets dispersing the crowds with their swords, fire arms and bayonets. The streets were quickly emptied and by 9 o'clock all the restaurant and hotel busses kept busy carrying the wounded to hospitals. All passersby were searched.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 15.—The investigation into the attempt on the life of Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaevich on August 10, at the guards' camp manouvres at Krasnoye Selo, have developed that ball cartridges were used in 96 rifles of the sharpshooters. The Krasnoye-Selo incident was preceded earlier in the week by two sensational occurrences directly due to disloyalty among the troops. Some men of the White sea regiment fired at one of their officers from ambush, and a sergeant of the Onierski regiment, who evidently had become aware that plotting was taking place among the men, was killed.

INTERESTED IN KOOTENAY LANDS

Visit of Paul O. Stensland to This City in Fall of 1905

In view of the interest that is being taken in the whereabouts of Paul O. Stensland, ex-president of the Milwaukee avenue state bank of Chicago, now a fugitive from justice and reported to be seeking retirement in this district, it is interesting to recall that Mr. Stensland was here nearly a year ago. He had become interested in the lands the Pillsburys of Minneapolis had acquired from Mark Rutherford who in turn purchased the cheap lands from the Great Northern railway, advertised as a protest against the assessment made by commissioner Renwick and confirmed by W. A. Jowett. In consequence he had paid a visit to this city and was received by T. G. Procter, through a mutual acquaintance, D. C. Corbin. Mr. Stensland saw at once that the Pillsbury lands were hardly those which would attract his countrymen but for all that he saw as immediately that the Kootenay did possess lands which were equal to anything in Canada for settlement. In consequence he entered into negotiations with various parties for the purchase of these lands, personally viewing them in company with Mr. Procter. These negotiations came to nothing for various reasons, one of which doubtless was the difficulties which afterwards overwhelmed the banking man.

Mr. Procter said that Mr. Stensland was an active man of 50 or more, reserved in manner and of medium height. "In fact," said Mr. Procter, "he seemed to be a very good fellow, but slightly on the clerical line."

LIBERALS MEET TONIGHT.

A definite announcement has been made by the liberal association, in connection with its meeting this evening, that the business will start promptly at 8 o'clock, in the board of trade rooms, and members are requested to be in attendance, in good time.

At 8:40 an open discussion will take place on the proposed reduction of the head tax upon the Chinese, recently raised by the Fruit Growers' association. An invitation is issued to anyone favoring or opposing the proposed reduction to be present and address the association on the subject.

CANADIAN NEWS NOTES

ROOF GARDEN FOR NEW WING TO PARLIAMENT BUILDING.

FEDERAL LEGISLATORS WILL BE SURROUNDED WITH LUXURY.

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—The public works department has plans well under way for the extension that it is intended to build to the house of commons side of the parliament buildings. The architecture will correspond with the rest of the building. The addition will be run westward from the corner now occupied by the speaker of the commons, and will meet a wing projected northward from the rooms now occupied by the parliamentary press gallery. When completed it will give much more office accommodation and provide members with rooms in which to attend to their correspondence and other business. The upper story will probably be used as a restaurant, the top being converted into a sort of roof garden. Spacious balconies overlooking the river will also be provided for the convenience of members.

The public works department will be ready in a few weeks to invite competitive plans from Canadian architects for the new departmental block that the government intends building between Major's Hill Park and Sussex street. The minister of public works is in communication with Messrs. Saucier of Montreal and Burke of Toronto, two leading architects, as to the conditions of the proposed competition.

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 15.—The annual meeting of Canadian municipalities opened here yesterday afternoon, Mayor McIlraith of Halifax in the chair. After the usual ceremonies of welcome to the delegates the address of the president of the union, Ex-Mayor Urquhart of Toronto, who was unable to be present, was read by W. D. Lightall of Westmount. Its keynote was "Home rule for municipalities and supreme rights of the governing bodies of cities and towns within their spheres."

The report of the secretary was then read. It was of a satisfactory nature, showing the effective work of the union in the various provincial legislatures.

Mayor Fleming of Brandon spoke on the advantages of "Municipal Union." Mayor Coatesworth of Toronto dwelt on the fact that in the fight with monopolies, municipalities should stand together. Mayor Sharpe of Winnipeg thought it would pay the union to keep first-class lawyers at Ottawa to watch legislation. Mr. Lightall said the union had been inadequately supported. A resolution was adopted to the effect that railway companies should bear all cost of protection at gates, subways or elevated tracks.

AN INTERNATIONAL RIDDLE.

Cronberg, Aug. 15.—King Edward and the Kaiser returned to the castle from an excursion to Hamburg and Saalsburg late this afternoon and had dinner, which was followed by a concert. After luncheon, the emperor and King Edward conversed alone one hour on the castle terrace. Afterwards Baron Tscherscrky, the Darmstadt secretary of state, and Frank Lascelles were present. The drift of the conversation, which probably was political, is not known.

DROWNED NEAR SHORE

Bic, Que., Aug. 15—The yacht Letoile Demer arrived from the north shore of the St. Lawrence last night. The passengers left the yacht to come to shore in a canoe, which, when about 150 feet from shore upset. Mrs. Dugan and her infant were drowntd, but the other passengers managed to reach the shore in safety.

WILL EUGENE MEN STRIKE

Are Not all Agreed as to the Course They Should Follow

Some Will Insist on an Eight Hour Day, While Others Will Accept a Raise of Wages

(Special to The Daily News)

Moyie, Aug. 15.—The Moyie correspondent of the Daily News interviewed a number of the mill men here this morning, and found quite a difference of opinion among them concerning their course of action in case Mr. Aldridge should refuse to grant them an eight-hour day at the present wages. Some say positively that they will quit work if they do not get the eight-hour day. Others say they will be willing to take an advance of fifty cents in wages, and work the twelve hours as at present. If the eight-hour day be granted all will remain, and it is probable that if only an increase of wages be granted half of the men will quit work. All the men expect some betterment of their condition. The matter will be decided on Friday as Mr. Aldridge will give his decision then.

It is rumored that G. A. King, manager of the mill, has resigned, but Mr. King would not confirm this report when interviewed by your correspondent. He stated that he would give information concerning the matter after next Friday.

The Black-Mackay Mining company, owning the Sub-marine mine here, are working a small force preparatory to carrying out their scheme of sinking a shaft 400 feet deep to tap the north and south veins of the St. Eugene lead, which pass through their property. A tunnel which is being driven on the west side is now in 35 feet, and shows that on that side of the lake there is 25 feet of clay lying on top of the bed rock, which ensures a water-tight bottom against the lake water in the future working of the mine. The company recently purchased two lots from J. C. Drewry, and are making preparations to commence active work sinking their first shaft, which will be put down on the St. Eugene side of the lake.

Last Monday morning Miss Bessie Forin and Mr. Thomas Summers of this place were united in marriage by Father Choineul, and left on the afternoon train, amid a shower of rice, for a short wedding trip.

HEADQUARTERS TO BE HERE

The headquarters of the Yale-Columbia Lumber company, who own extensive timber limits over the country, especially along the Arrow lakes and the Boundary district, will in future be centered in Nelson. It has been found that this city is a better point for such purpose than any other in the counties of Yale and Kootenay. Office quarters are now being fitted up in the old California Wine company's place, next the local office of the Yale-Columbia company's mill on the water front. The change means the addition of at least three families to the city, in that the head officials of the company will in future reside here. As the lumber industry is improving every month it also means an extension of the business done by this city.

CORNER STONE LAID

Winnipeg, Aug. 14—The corner stone of tht magnificent new Catholic church of St. Boniface was blesstd by Mgr. Langevin this evening in the presence of a multitude. Mgr. Dukauel, archbishop of Ottawa, delivered the address of the occasion, his remarks conveying to his grace the archbishop of St. Boniface, hearty congratulations on the success of the great undertaking. The cathedral will cost considerably in excess of $300,000.

THE QUEEN'S SYMPATHY.

London, Aug. 18.—Among the flood of telegrams of condolence from prominent people to the Craigie family were many from America. Queen Alexandra, on Tuesday night, telegraphed to Mrs. Craigie's mother: "I am much shocked and grieved by your poor daughter's death and offer you and Mr. Richards my warmest sympathy in your sorrow."

SHOT HIS SICK WIFE.

Wallsville, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Frank Butts, an old soldier, 65 years old, shot and killed his wife today and attempted to kill his fifteen-year-old daughter. Butts fired three shots at his wife. The woman was ill in bed. She tried to defend herself by holding pillows in front of her. One shot hit her above the heart. Butts escaped.

ABE ATTELL WINS

Grand Rapids, Aug. 15—Abe Attell, featherweight champion, got the decision over Frank Garseys of Buffalo tonight at the end of the 15th round in the most magnificent exhibition of the ring sport ever pulled off in this city. The two boys were battling fiercely at the end of the bout and the decision of referee Siller was hardly popular.

CAUSE FOR REJOICING.

British Columbia has a great deal to be thankful for. In the first place, she has as her leading citizen a native son, endowed with good looks and curly locks; in the second place, she has rich mines, limitless forests and teeming seas; in the third place she has a sphynx, a wonder of erdition, a master of wisdom as president of the council and brains of the government; in the fourth place, she has an amazing legacy of statute amendments left by the late lamented attorney general; in the fifth place, she is blessed with a magnificent climate and a glorious tangle of entrancing scenery—mingled mountain and lake, forest and stream, rock and plain, sky and waterfall; and in the seventh and last, to cap the lot, she has her own "Gwen."

There are, it is undoubtedly true, some who will question the value of this category; but then they are crass, stupid souls, unworthy of consideration, whose materialistic minds cannot rise high enough to enjoy the beauties and the grandeurs of the greater life. In petty quibbling they will say that good looks never governed a state to the benefit of the state; that perpetual silence and inactivity, whether of the sphynx or dullard, never advanced the public welfare; and that genius, hampered by a natural tendency to folly, never rose to the ordinary plane of honest common sense. But then they know not of what they speak. It may be true that the pretty premier has never proved a statesman, that the sphynx has neither pronounced or solved a real problem, and that Gwen has never up to the present perpetrated anything of serious portent. But the real man of commanding stature seldom answers before the time calls—and time has as yet seen fit to summon but one of the transcendent three, and that only recently.

In the cry that has gone up of late for help on farm, in mine and in forest. Gwen has heard the call, and quickly responded. She has just delivered herself on the Chinese labor problem. Her deliverance is noteworthy, for it marks a new epoch in the discussion of this tangled subject. She brings a fresh, unprejudiced mind to bear upon the difficulties that have puzzled and perplexed others, and, with the keen sight of female genius, piercing through all entanglements to the heart of the question, she solves it at one stroke. Lo and behold, the child of her mental travail is a bitter jibe at the liberal ministry, for she finds that the imposition of the $500 head "tax was a piece of political chicanery to catch votes on the part of the present government; it was not the wish of the majority, nor in the real interests of the people or the country, but was the epitome of the dog-in-the-manger cry of those who say; 'We will have all the jobs and those we cannot fill shall go undone.'"

"A pretty state of affairs truly!" says Gwen.

That settles it.

It proves, beyond the shadow of a doubt that Canada is cursed with a designing band of politicians—men who have no more regard for public honor and integrity than to pass a law the effect of which is to make the overburdened employer pay higher wages and bring in a mass of expensive, undesirable white labor to replace the cheaper, more suitable and more welcome Orientals whom the homekeepers of Vancouver grieve to see becoming so scarce.

What fatuousness! Surely the Ottawa degenerates must see that they are riding to a fall! Surely they will take heed of Gwen's timely warning and, with faces averted under the sting of shame and disgrace, strive to right the wrongs they have done and give the poor, downtrodden Chinaman and the overburdened "west end" housewife a chance!

Surely, too, they will break off and cast from them forever their unholy alliance with the Victoria gang—an alliance to which Gwen, with discreet delicacy, does not directly refer but the existence of which she circumstantially indicates. For Gwen is nothing if she is not logical; logic is an attribute of herself as it is of her sex; and hence, when she declaims against the chicanery which prompts the Ottawa government to impose the $500 head tax she does the province a great service by revealing the duplicity, the treachery, the treason of the McBride ministry at Victoria which moved heaven and earth to secure the passage of this shameful restrictive legislation. Blessed be Gwen! She has laid bare the deep schemes of Laurier and McBride and has proved that men who were thought to be wide apart as the poles are in reality working hand in glove for the destruction of Chinese labor and the elevation of the white workingman to a higher place in society.

Verily, twice blessed be Gwen!

British Columbia owes Gwen a debt of gratitude. Just in time her clarion voice has rung out, and just in time her "sympathy for the workers of the west" (the Chinese, she means) has prompted her to unburden her soul of a great message. Hear her words:

"The growing agitation in favor of the removal of the $500 poll-tax on Chinese domestic servants, farm laborers, etc., is causing tremendous satisfaction to the housekeepers of Vancouver, many of whom have abandoned home-life altogether and gone to live in boarding houses and hotels, or who are living in rooms and taking their meals at restaurants simply because they cannot afford to pay the exorbitant wages demanded today by even inferior Chinese servants. No community can prosper without a plentiful supply of labor, and a prohibitive tax which strikes a death-blow to family life, causes fish to rot uncanned, fruit to decay ungathered, the harvest to wither ungarnered, and the land to degenerate uncleared, untilled and unsown is nothing short of iniquitous."

There's refreshing vigor and logic. None can doubt the veracity of such lucid sentences, and none will challenge the significance of her resounding truths. Note, too, the vein of tender human feeling that runs through it all. Gwen's great heart has been stirred and away down in her innermost self she has heard the call of the workers. To that call she has nobly responded. Take her word for it:

"I write this morning as one who is in fullest sympathy with the workers of the west, and when I speak of work I know what I am talking about, for what matters the implement we use, be it pick, pen, trowel, spade or needle, work is work if you do it thoroughly, as honorable as another. Bar out such skilled Oriental labor as would offer unnecessary and undesirable competition to our white labor, but for goodness sake admit the unskilled labor and domestic servants without which our fair province must go to wrack and ruin, since it is proven impossible to obtain anything like an adequate supply of white labor."

Finally, in words the eloquence and pathos of which can scarcely be matched in the whole wide field of literature, the pity of it all is laid bare in a sad picture of blighted home, neglected children and ruined families!

"Why should we women be forced to give up our homes, why should we be forced to neglect our children, our sewing and our requisite rest and recreation because we cannot afford to pay the $500 tax for a Chinaman (in the shape of the exorbitant wages he now demands) to do the ordinary housework? Cannot the men who forced this burden upon us understand that the tax is not putting a single extra dollar into their pockets, but is simply enriching the Oriental against whom it is supposedly directed? Who really pays the tax? The women of Vancouver. Who pockets the money? The Chinese domestic servants. It is the crassest folly of the age."

The debate is ended; no peurile journalist need raise his pen again; Gwen has spoken.

Tremble, Laurier; tremble "Dewdney Dick." Your dooms are sealed. Either the Chinese come or you go. Dixit.

ANOTHER BOUNDARY DISPUTE.

The announcement received yesterday from Ottawa that the Canadian and Newfoundland governments had arranged a modus vivendi in connection with the disputed Labrador boundary pending the decision of the courts in the suit brought by the government of the province of Quebec against that of Newfoundland to determine the litoral rights of the former, indicates that progress is being made in one of the most interesting cases that has ever affected the Dominion. The issue will decide the claim of Newfoundland to jurisdiction over the coast and much of the hinterland of Labrador from a point south of the 52nd degree of latitude to Cape Chudleigh on Hudson Strait. The Grand River Pulp and Timber company, on the strength of a charter and concessions obtained from the government of Newfoundland, has been cutting timber on Hamilton inlet, far back from the coast and well within what has been held to be Canadian territory. Mr. Gervais, as solicitor for the province of Quebec, has entered an action in the provincial courts against the company for $100,000 damages. The defence of the company is that the timber was cut in territory under the jurisdiction of Newfoundland, while the government of Quebec holds that the Labrador litoral under jurisdiction of the colony consists of a narrow strip of coast extending some 150 miles north from the southern end of the Strait of Belle Isle. The Dominion government is, of course, also interested in maintaining this position, although, unfortunately, the maps printed and officially authorized by the interior department indicate, by a broad red strip that Newfoundland's jurisdiction extends from south of the Strait of Belle Isle to the entrance to Hudson strait; an unfortunate admission that the Dominion is closed out from the entire Atlantic coast of Labrador. This will doubtless be made the most of by the Newfoundland government in defending the claim of the company.

THE REAL TEST

Of Herpicide Is In Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair vigors may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpicide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

OUR COTEMS' VIEWS

Is Earning His Salary—Mr. Borden, leader of the opposition, is to tour Ontario. The rumor that this is the result of an intimation from the government to get busy or lose his position is emphatically denied. The government made no pointed threat regarding unwillingness to pay the salary to an idler.—Toronto Globe.

A Geographical Difference—Hundreds of people saw Harry Thaw shoot Stanford White. The crime was brutal, cold-blooded and fiendish enough to be the work of a mad man, yet noted alienists declare that Thaw is sane. In Canada or in Great Britain the man would surely go to the gallows, yet it may be regarded as a certainty that he will escape execution. Judge Thomas of Montgomery, Ala., recently compiled some striking and interesting statistics relating to homicide in the United States. Among these tables was one dealing with the New York cases alone. During the past ten years there were 2107 persons tried in New York for homicide. Of that number only 32 were executed.—Toronto News.

Liberal Caution—It is true that in times of prosperity provision should be made for years of depression, and no lesson seems harder for governments of either party to learn. When the revenue is abundant sugestions for getting rid of the surplus are abundant also. A dollar does not look so big in good times as in bad; expenditures are scaled up, and when hard times come it is difficult to scale them down again. The N.P. period began with surpluses and ended with deficits. To point out that this may happen to the liberal government as well as to the conservative government is a friendly warning which a wise minister will not disregard. As to the manner in which retrenchment shall be effected there will naturally be difference of opinion between high protectionists and advocates of a low tariff.—Toronto Star (Lib.)

Conservative Commendation — On tariff matters this government (the Laurier) has shown itself to be practical rather than "doctrinaire." Some of the flotsam and jetsam of the old opposition campaigns against the "National Policy" may still encumber the desks of the men writing on the ministerial organs; but the men of action at Ottawa have proven long ago that they realize that it is a condition and not a theory which confronts them, and that, in confronting a condition they had better listen to experience and common sense. The tariff which Mr. Fielding has given us ever since he took his seat has been a business man's tariff, and not a tariff framed by the light of a student's lamp.—Montreal Star (Con.)

SUMMER DIARRHOEA IN CHILDREN

During the hot weather of the summer months the first unnatural looseness of a child's bowels should have immediate attention, so as to check the disease before it becomes serious. All that is necessary is a few doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy followed by a dose of castor oil to cleanse the system. Rev. M. O. Stockland, pastor of the first M.E. church, Little Falls, Minn., writes: "We have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for several years and find it a very valuable remedy especially for summer disorders in children. MINING RECORDS

Writs of execution were taken out this morning for various creditors against the Mother Lode, Independence, Golden West, Dominion, Virginia, Comstock and Eldorado, situated on Dominion mountain, about 10 miles east of Salmo, the interest of A. F. Dixon to be sold by sheriff Tuck to satisfy the claims of G. Munroe, R. Robinson, Allan Stubbs, S. A. Wye and D C. Barbrich, principally for wages and advances.

KASLO MINING SUIT

Judge Forin was absent yesterday in Kaslo, where he went to hear the mining suit between M. J. Halpin and S. S. Fowler and J. L. Retallack. The view of the case as presented by the plaintiff, is that he sub-leased the Whitewater mine of turns into the hands of the lessees; that he drove in upon the vein and discovered the ledge, shipping four cars to the Hall Mines smelter, the smelter paying the returns into the hands of the lessees, that he insufficiently timbered his work, that the lessees objected and that he thereupon put in timber, taking the same from the surface of the Whitewater property; that the defendants served him with a notice that he should not do so, and on the first car's returns being paid into their hands, deducted $560 from the returns to cover the price of the timber. The plaintiff is suing for this money. Of the other three cars two are still in the C.P.R. yards here and the returns from the second are being held back by the defendants.

UNNECESSARY EXPENSE

Acute attacks of colic and diarrhoea come on without warning and prompt action must be taken. There is no necessity of incurring the expense of a physician's services in such cases if Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is at hand. FRONTIERSMEN'S LEGION

NEW BRITISH SEMI-MILITARY ORGANIZATION ENTERS B. C.

LOCAL COMMAND IS TO BE FORMED IN VANCOUVER AT ONCE

Nelson's large body of South African veterans, and all those who have been accustomed to the exciting yet attractive life of the camp, the saddle and the trail, will learn with pleasure that Britain's new semi-military organization, the Legion of Frontiersmen, founded and organized by an ex-Canadian cow boy and mounted policeman, Roger Pocock, is to obtain a footing in British Columbia and that in Vancouver already steps are being taken for the formation of a local command.

A temporary committee has been selected composed of the following gentlemen: Mayor Buscombe, chairman; J. W. Bowser, K.C., T. H. Calland, Harry Senkler, sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, W. Nicholson-Lailey, Hon. organizing officer; Maurice M. Marsden, F.R.G.S., member of the Legion; F. H. Shanks, member of the Legion, who have given their consent to act and give their advice. When sufficient members have been elected a meeting will be called and a permanent committee formed, and the necessary officers appointed who will decide all points in connection with the above command, subject to instructions received from headquarters in London, and will also engage a suitable building in which a club may be formed, for the convenience of members, as well as obtain a tract of land, where a summer camp may be held, and the sports and pastimes apertaining to the life of a frontiersman can take place.

The general council, consisting of experts and representative frontiersmen, has now settled the policy and scope of the Legion of Frontiersmen as set out below. It has had a large correspondence with frontiersmen all over the world and has secured the opinions of hundreds of men representing every province of the empire. The scheme, as now set forth, embodies their views, and it is hoped will meet with the widest possible support.

Some months were devoted to finding out what sort of legion would be most useful to his majesty's government. In this the council had the generous help of the war office, and the project is fully approved by the secretary of state for war. The government has given the council absolute liberty of action, so that it is free to govern itself within the lines laid down.

So far the council has been promised some 6000 subscribers, but there are, of course, many thousands more free and qualified to join. In all it is expected to enrol 30,000 effective men.

The general council is composed of the following:

Chairman, Right Hon. the earl of Lonsdale, explorer, hunter and sportsman; Rt. Hon. earl of Meath; Rt. Hon. earl of Onslow, G.C.M.G.; viscount Esher, K.C.B., K.C.V.O., D.L., M.; captain viscount Morpeth; general lord William Seymour, K.C.V.O.; major lord C. F. The executive officers are: chairman of the council and Hon. treasurer, Rt. Hon. earl of Lonsdale; chairman of executive council sir Henry Seton-Karr, Kt., C.M.G.; chairman of finance committee, major lord Charles F. Brundell Bruce; founder and registrar, Roger Pocock; general adviser to the council, colonel W. C. Eldon; assistant hon. treasurer, W. C. Fullicks; solicitor, Robt. Todd, 17 Warwick street, Regent St., W.; bankers, London and County Banking Co., Ltd.; auditors Messrs Jenks, Stellman and company, Broad Street House, E.C.; secretary, C. Cory Kernick; offices, pro tem, 6 Adam St., Adelphi, London, W.C.

The scheme and object of the legion is the organization of a civilian self governing and self supporting body of British frontiersmen throughout the empire, associated for the promotion of imperial interests in time of peace, and whose services shall be available if called upon, for imperial defence in time of war.

For this purpose the above named general and executive councils of the legion have been formed, with power to add to their numbers; an organizing and clerical staff have been appointed; and correspondence, with most encouraging results, has already been commenced with numerous frontiersmen in various parts of the empire.

Before taking any public action the scheme of the legion was laid before the secretary of the state for war, who, on Feb. 15, 1906, wrote expressing his sympathy with its aims and objects and stating that he recognized it as a purely private organization which should a suitable occasion arise, he might be able to utilize.

The term "frontiersmen" includes men trained and qualified by previous completed military service, or by working, hunting or fishing in wild countries, or at sea, who for various reasons, do not or cannot serve in the existing military forces of the empire, and who are not prepared, by reason of temperament or vocation, to submit themselves to the ordinary routine of military discipline except in time of war.

The executive council is satisfied that there is a wide and hitherto untouched field of enrolment open for the legion without in any way interfering with recruiting for the regular, auxiliary and colonial forces of the crown; such as, for example among: 1, frontiersmen on the fringe of civilization, where auxiliary forces do not exist; 2, frontiersmen whose vocation fits them for military pursuits, but whom no military pay or career will induce to give up the free life and prospects of the frontier in time of peace; 3, men debarred by age or physical disqualification from arduous military service, but nevertheless fitted by previous experience and training, to act as advisers or guides.

After many months 'private correspondence and enquiry, the executive council of the legion possesses evidence that some thousands of men of the kind described are now ready to enrol as members of the legion, and to subscribe to its funds, provided that in time of peace the legion shall be organized as a civilian, self-supporting and self-governing body.

The following are the main proposals of the executive council, subject to such alterations and amendments as may from time to time be deemed necessary or advisable as the legion grows and develops:

It is proposed to have three classes of members, as follows:

Class A—Pledged to military service in time of war, and when called upon, 10s. 6d.

Class B—Prepared to act as guides or local assistants and advisers, if and when called upon, £1 1s.

Honorary—In sympathy with the aims and objects of the legion, not less than £2 2s.

In addition to and apart from, such subscriptions, it is proposed that local councils and commands shall raise funds for their own requirements by local subscription, to be supplemented from time to time by grants from headquarters, as funds permit, and as the executive council may deem advisable.

The central headquarters of the legion shall be under the general supervision and control of the general council and the executive council, who in the first instance have been appointed by such general council; 2, that the members of the councils shall be, in manner to be hereafter determined, subject to election by the members of the legion; 3, that the local councils shall be elective and have right to appoint a representative or representatives on the headquarter executive council; and 4, that all leaders of local commands shall be elected by the votes of the men of their respective commands.

It is anticipated that in time of war the Legion of Frontiersmen, when fully organized, will at once be able to provide for the purposes of imperial defence in any part of the empire the following services:

The advantages of membership are:

1st—The establishment throughout the empire of a friendly organization, whose members are united for a common imperial purpose, who can be known to one another by a distinctive badge, and who will be ready to act in unison when required.

2nd—The establishment of headquarters in London, and of a club as funds permit, where members can enjoy the advantages of a central rallying place.

3rd—A system of organized sports and of exhibitions of frontier skill in riding, shooting, packing and other warlike exercises.

4th—The grant to efficient frontiersmen who may be selected for service in time of war of the same military status, pay rations and allowances as obtain in the regular army, with such additional bonuses for any particular or daring work as may be specially allotted.

5th—The gradual development of a Mutual Benefit association for members of the legion.

It is not possible to fully anticipate and explain all the details of the future organization and management of the legion, which, it is hoped, may eventually grow into a powerful and world wide imperial asset of great value. As the legion has great possibilities, so its growth must to some extent be slow and gradual in order that it may be sure and lasting. In the meantime, the encouragement and support already received warrant the executive council in believing that a sure foundation is being laid, and that some thousands of effective frontiersmen can shortly be enrolled.

A form of application for membership is atached to all notices sent out, which intending applicants are requested kindly to fill up and return to the secretary of the legion, with a remittance for the amount of yearly subscription required; and in the case of application for honorary membership, with such a further donation to the general funds of the legion as those applying may feel inclined to give.

Therefore, be it resolved that this organization, Sandon Miners' union No. 81 of the W. Synopsis of Regulations Governing the Disposal of Dominion Lands Within the Railway Belt in the Province of British Columbia.

A license to cut timber can be acquired only at public competition. A rental of $5 per square mile is charged for all timber berths, excepting those situated west of Yale, for which the rental is at the rate of 5 cents per acre per annum.

In addition to the rental, dues at the following rates are charged:

Sawn lumber, 50 cents per thousand feet B. M.

Railway ties, 8 and 9 feet long, 1 1-2 and 1 3-4 cents each.

Shingle bolts, 25 cents a cord.

All other products, 5 per cent. on the sales.

A license is issued so soon as a berth is granted, but in unsurveyed territory no timber can be cut on a berth until the licensee has made a survey thereof.

Permits to cut timber are also granted at public competition, except in the case of actual settlers, who require the timber for their own use.

Settlers and others may also obtain permits to cut up 100 cords of wood for sale without competition.

The dues payable under a permit are $1.50 per thousand feet B.M., for square timber and sawlogs of any wood except oak; from 1-2 to 1 1-2 cents per lineal foot for building logs; from 12 1-2 to 25 cents per cord for wood; 1 cent for fence posts; 3 cents for railway ties, and 50 cents per cord on shingle bolts.

Leases for grazing purposes are issued for a term of 21 years at a rental of 2 cents per acre per annum.

Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres may be acquired by one individual or company.

Royalty at the rate of 10 cents per ton of 2,000 pounds is collected on the gross output.

Entries for land for homestead purposes may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the minister of the interior at Ottawa, the commissioner of immigration at Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district within which the land is situated, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

A settler who has received an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

It is the practice of the department to require a settler to bring 15 acres under cultivation, but if he prefers he may substitute stock; and 20 head of cattle, to be actually his own property, with buildings for their accommodation, will be accepted instead of the cultivation.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of th Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of the Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of the Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for a patent should be made at the end of three years before the local agent, sub-agent or a homestead inspector.

Before making an application for a patent, the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so. W. W. CORY, Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

TELEGRAMS OF A DAY

DESPERATE NEGRO TAKES CHARGE OF FREIGHT TRAIN

WITH TWO REVOLVERS COMPELS CREW TO OBEY HIS ORDERS

Decatur, Ala., Aug. 15—A Louisville and Nashville freight train reached here from Birmingham yesterday practically under the control of a desperate negro. At the point of two revolvers, the trainmen were compelled to submit to the negroe's instructions as to where the train should stop and at what speed the enginer should run his engine, from Newcastle to this place, a distance of 95 miles. Threatening to kill men attempting to molest him, he sent the train through to Decatur where by a ruse of the engineer the train was sent into the shop yards and with the assistance of five other men the negro was captured. It is believed that he is wanted for some crime and was seeking in this way to escape.

New York, Aug. 15—Tomorrow afternoon there will be a little ceremony at the Maritime exchange. Captain R. E. Prager, of the steamship Maine, will be presented with a loving cup by McClive Bayley, acting consul general, on behalf of the Canadian government. Last January captain Prager's vessel, while off the Grand Banks in heavy weather, rescued the crew of the British schooner Kipling, which was abandoned while en route to Liverpool.

Chicago, Aug. 15—Professor James H. Breadstead, the Egyptologist of the university of Chicago, has announced in an article in the Biblical Work, published yesterday, that the oldest fixed date in history is 4241 B.C. In that year he says the calendar was established, the year beginning on what would now be the 19th of July. Consequently the calendar now in use, was 6147 years old last month. The professor arrived at these conclusions during long exploration trips to the Nile valley, where he compared the astronomical data in the old and middle kingdoms of Egypt.

New York, Aug. 15—A special to the New York World from Berlin says: The Local Anzeiger reports that Miss Isadora Duncan, the American dancer, has been married secretely to an Englishman named Craig, a son of Ellen Terry. It adds that the couple are now in Holland. Miss Duncan has made her home in Berlin for several years. She made a big hit as a Greek dancer immediately after her arrival there and later on established a school of dancing which was attended by many aristocratic women. Recently a sensation was caused by a police order forbidding Miss Duncan to dance with bare feet on the score of impropriety. A couple of years ago Miss Duncan visited Greece and startled the people of Athens by giving dances in the classic style on the Acropolis.

London, Aug. 15—The inquest on the remains of Mrs. Pearl Mary Teresa Craigie (John Oliver Hobbs), who died Monday, resulted today in a verdict of death by natural causes.

Minneapolis, Aug. 15—For the 40th time since their work was finished and their glory won the men of the Grand Army of the Republic were in line today. The parade was notably well handled and the old soldiers passed for miles between buildings gorgeously decorated. For hours before the scheduled time for the start the streets were filled with spectators.

Portsmouth, Eng., Aug. 15—The court martial of captain Thomas B. S. Adair and navigation lieutenant James H. Dutham of the British battleship Montague, which was lost on the rocks at Lundey island on May 30, was begun today. The officers were charged with having negligently or by default, stranded the ship and lost it.

New York, Aug. 15 — General manager Calderwood of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company, said today that the attorneys for the company are preparing a case to submit for judge Gaynor's decision, as to whether only one fare shall be charged passengers to Coney island. He said that the case probably will be ready to be taken into court tomorrow or on Friday.

London, Aug. 15—The government has decided to seek the extradition of William Mann, treasurer of the Benevolent society of Postal Employees, who recently absconded to the United States, leaving a shortage of $145,000. He fled to Texas, where he was located in April, but his present whereabouts are unknown.

Minard's Liniment Cures Garget in Cows

MAKE HAY WHILE THE SUN SHINES

There is a lesson in the work of the thrifty farmer. He knows that the bright sunshine may last but a day and he prepares for the showers which are so liable to follow. So it should be with every household. Dysentery, diarrhoea and cholera morbus may attack some member of the household without warning. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which is the best known medicine for these diseases, should always be kept at hand, as immediate treatment is necessary and delay may prove fatal. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

GUESSING CONTEST

The 20,000 Club's Latest Money Raiser—No Free List

E. W. Widdowson explains with regard to the guessing contest which is to take place next month at the fair that every one is going to have an even run for his money. Although running the contest, Mr. Widdowson has not at present made up his mind as to what the reward to the successful guesser shall be nor even what is to be the condition of guessing. He thinks that ten cents a guess and $25 for the prize will about fill the bill. He allows none of his employees to guess and he will ask one of the smelters to send in the ore so that he himself will not know what is its approximate value. On one point Mr. Widdowson has made up his mind, which is that he will have no free list.

PROGRESS IN ASSAYING

WELL EQUIPPED LOCAL PLANT IS DESCRIBED

THOROUGHLY RELIABLE RETURNS FOR CAPITALISTS

The strides that have been taken by the mining industry in this district lately are hardly sufficiently appreciated in Nelson. Yet, there has been a vast improvement and nowhere is better evidence to be found of that improvement than in the assay offices of the city. Sixteen or seventeen months ago A. L. McKillop was practically the only assayer in the city. Today there are two well equipped offices, that of E. W. Widdowson and company having entered into friendly rivalry. But it is doubtful if the business of their predecessor has suffered at all. Business has increased. Mr. Widdowson, to whose assay rooms a representative of The Daily News paid a visit yesterday afternoon, is making big bids for its favor. He has recently made additions to a gas engine which he installed some months ago, which makes it still more efficient.

Before the watching eyes of the reporter the gas engine was set to work in something under a minute, a small wrench serving as a starter, although the miniature plant is of 1 1-2 horse power. The engine is of a new type, known as the Fairbanks, and is made by the Allis-Chalmers-Bullock people. Inside of a minute also a piece of auriferous rock was crushed by a small Hoskins crusher, the product cut down by passing through a Jones sampler, an idea of Mr. Widdowson's, now patented and in use in the Trail smelter, and then put through a Calkins disk grinder, a sample, finer than flour, being obtained in less than five minutes. This is the new mechanical process, a marked improvement on the old bucking and pestle and mortar hand treatment, and is the same as that used at the smelters, the method said to be truer than any hand sampling, however carefully done.

In the chemical room the ordinary assay work is done except that the cumbrous furnace usually seen is replaced with a Fletcher gas furnace, a neat device that stands on a table with a door so arranged that it automatically closes as the sample is removed. Mr. Widdowson's office also boasts of two balances, the one by Ainsworth of Denver, and the other by Becker of New York, ensuring perfect weighing.

Recently Mr. Widdowson reports that he has had numerous assays ordered by capitalists from the other side of the line who are carefully testing Nelson and contiguous properties through trusted agents, and what is even more to the point, that he is receiving numerous samples of zinc and iron for assay. The iron is coming from all over the district and as it plays an important part in the reduction of zinc ores he is also receiving many samples from the zinc properties of the Kootenay. Mr. Widdowson is thoroughly convinced that the country is on the eve of a big mining boom but utters a warning note when he asks that mining men in general should not set too high a valuation on their properties, especially when the form of acquisition is through a working bond, where the ore extracted is to go to the owners. The need of the country is development and until such time as development is made on a large scale there can be little hope of attracting capital for its exploitation, to which the mineral wealth of these districts may justly lay claim.

TROOPS THRASH GIRL

ANOTHER EVIDENCE OF RUSSIA'S AWFUL MILITARY TYRANNY

ENQUIRY INTO WAR SUPPLY FRAUDS IS IN PROGRESS

St. Petersburg, Aug. 15—Intense popular indignation has been created here by the brutal treatment of Mlle. Smirnoff, a refined young woman, at the hands of the crack Chevalier guards. While a squadron of these guardsmen were passing along the Nevski Prospect yesterday, Mlle. Smirnoff, who was accompanied by another young lady, remarked: "They are as gay as if they had captured Port Arthur."

Pedestrians hearing the remark reported it and quite a crowd gathered and joined in the jeering. The commander of the cavalry suddenly gave the command to charge with drawn whips. The troopers then charged the crowd, laying about them right and left. Mlle. Smirnoff and her companion, who in the meantime had passed on down the street, were pursued. They tried to escape into a doorway but were caught. Under the direction of an officer they were forced to enter a hack and were driven to the guards' barracks, where they were taken before general Stenbockfermor.

The latter was disposed to turn them over to the police, but other officers interfered and Mlle. Smirnoff was finally taken to the courtyard, where the troopers in the presence of two officers, administered to her 37 lashes with their whips. The girl's clothing was cut as if by knives by the wire thongs of the whips and her flesh was horribly lacerated.

The papers are demanding the trial both of the officers and the men who participated in the affair. Reports of both police and private surgeons are printed, describing in detail the extent of the wounds inflicted. The girl's back is so swollen that it is impossible as yet to ascertain whether any of her ribs are broken.

No action on the part of the military authorities has yet been announced. The Twentieth Century, which printed another story of the case today, has been confiscated.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 15—Professor George H. Blakeslee of Clark university, Worcester, Mass., who was accompanied by M. N. Lubesky, a newspaper man, was arrested near Volomask yesterday as a suspicious character, although he had a certificate of identity from the American consul general, Mr. Smith of Moscow, and was on the point of being sent to Volomask when he was released by order of the governor at the request of consul Smith, who had been apprised by telegraph of the situation. Professor Blakeslee is one of a number of Americans travelling in Russia, studying the political, social and economic situations.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 15—The Cronstadt mutineers who are to be tried by court martial, have been divided into several categories. The court martial of the ringleaders in now in progress. The official inquiry at Aomak into the abuse of the Siberian railway during the war is coming to a conclusion. It has transpired that 15,000 cars disappeared and that at one railroad station alone the state was defrauded of $50,000.

KING KISSES THE KAISER

EDWARD AND WILLIAM FALL ON EACH OTHER'S NECKS.

MEET AT CRONBERG WITH MARKS OF FOND AFFECTION.

Cronberghess, Nassau, Prussia, Aug. 15.—King Edward of Britain arrived here on a special train from Frankfort at 8:45 a. m. today. Emperor William and Prince and Princess Frederick Charles of Hesse Nassau met him at the railroad station. The emperor assisted the king in alighting and then they kissed each other on both cheeks. The meeting was very cordial. The emperor had on the uniform of the Posen Jaeger regiment, with a steel helmet.

King Edward was accompanied by Sir Charles Harding, permanent undersecretary of foreign affairs; Major General Sir Stanley Clarke, chief equerry, and Major General G. E. Ponsonby, equerry to his majesty. Sir Frank Lascelles, the British ambassador to Germany, and the British consul general, M. Oppenheimer, joined the royal party at Frankfort. After introductions had been exchanged, the royal party and their following proceeded to Friedrichshof in automobiles. The streets were profusely decorated with evergreens, flags and streamers. Their majesties were heartily cheered by the crowds and school children who were lined up all along the route.

Many Englishmen from surrounding watering places were also present. After reaching Friederichshof the royal party breakfasted and then the emperor and king spent some time together. About 11 o'clock they, with prince and princess Frederick Charles took a drive to see the monument erected in honor of Emperor Frederick in the Schloss park. After lunch at the king's wish a visit was made to Hamburg and the Roman camp at Saalburg. A program of assiduous sight-seeing and drives has created the impression among those surrounding their majesties that they wish to avoid prolonged political discussions.

Berlin, Aug. 15.—The press of all sections treats King Edward's visit to Emperor William from the standpoint of being a sign of improved relations between him and the emperor and the belief and hope are generally expressed that the visit will have a beneficial effect on the people of both countries, beside putting their political relations on a better footing. The papers, however, avoid all extravagant hopes in this direction, evidently trying to keep within the safe minimum of practical results. Nobody expects positive political arrangements but the Cologne Gazette, which usually reflects the view of the foreign office. It expects the rulers to discuss all political questions concerning Germany and Great Britain, and also the general position of European politics. The Post, which also maintains a close connection with the foreign office, cherishes the "glad expectation that much of the ill feeling and many of the misunderstandings may be removed by a frank face to face talk."

A tone of sincere admiration for the king pervades all the leading articles. The Cologne Gazette greets his majesty with feelings of reverence; the National Zeitung calls him a practical statesman of the first rank, and the Neuste Nachrichten, while complaining that the king's policy has been to isolate Germany, pronounces him a "political artist."

The semi-official North German Gazette this afternoon says: "His majesty the emperor met his majesty the king of England this morning. We rejoice that this meeting between the two monarchs has been hailed sympathetically nearly everywhere by the English as well as the German press. We cannot share in the supposition held here regarding special political reasons for this meeting. Even without suppositions, the actual value of the meeting, it appears to us, cannot be doubted. We hope that the exchange of views between the rulers of Germany and Great Britain will serve to further the peace of the world and promote harmony between all persons of conciliatory sentiments on both sides of the channel.

"We welcome the king with homage."

It is considered likely that the monarchs will talk over Russian affairs and undoubtedly they will try to remove the ill feeling between the two peoples, so manifest for the last few years. Before it was known Sir Charles Hardinge was accompanying the king, it was felt that his majesty's visit to Emperor William was simply one of friendship and made with the hope of establishing a better feeling, but the presence of the under secretary makes it evident that more important questions will come up at the meeting.

Copenhagen, Aug. 15.—It is reported that King Frederick will visit Emperor William at the beginning of October and subsequently go to London to see King Edward.

IN SPORTING CIRCLES

THURSDAY'S LACROSSE MATCH IS DECLARED OFF.

CRICKET MEN MAKE ARRANGEMENTS FOR COAST TRIP.

Manager Deasy has received no word from the Regina lacrosse club with regard to the game which was to have been played here this afternoon and the proposed game has been declared off by the local team. The Regina management have proven themselves mighty poor sports in this matter and in future they will have to show that they mean business when arranging any games with Nelson.

A report comes from Cranbrook that "Scotty" Williamson, who received his first lessons in lacrosse in Nelson, has started for Toronto and that he will push on to Ottawa and play second defence for the Caps for the rest of the season. Scotty is a first-class defence player and doubtless will make good in eastern company. Curiously enough when the Torontos and Capitals meet Scotty will be checking Billy Cameron, who played with him in Seatle last year but who is now one of the star home players of the Toronto team. Jeff O'Brien, another ex-Nelsonite, is playing lacrosse with some of the irregular teams in the Ottawa valley.

The crews for the fall regatta of the Nelson Boat club, fixed for Thursday afternoon, September 6, and their hours for daily practice are appended. Each crew will be allowed 20 minutes only.

The machinery is now on the road from Shenbrooke and will be assembled as early as possible after its arrival. Captain Trethewey is still in the east but is expected back shortly.

Eric Beeston ,who was taken to the hospital after having been impaled upon a picket fence on Monday evening, is progressing favorably. The lad was running along the top of a fence and slipped. In his fall the sharpened end of a picket caught him just under the chin and inflicted a severe but hardly dangerous wound, running in about an inch deep just under the root of the tongue.
