TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER

James A. Dale Committed for Trial at Spring Assizes

Close of Preliminary Hearing in Carmi Shooting Affray—Prisoner to be Temporarily Confined in Nelson Jail

(Special to The Daily News)

Greenwood, Nov. 15.—The preliminary trial of James A. Dale, the Carmi murderer, closed late last night and the accused was committed to stand trial at the spring assizes which will be held here probably in May.

The most important evidence submitted at the hearing was that of David Smith, the wounded man, a full report of which was given in The Daily News of today. Smith was one of Dale's victims and was the only man who witnessed the shooting. He was badly wounded in the arm but has not recovered.

Alex Hood was one of the principle witnesses and in his evidence told what he knew of the affair. After Dale and the two Frenchmen Godereau and Celle, had quarrelled and had gone with Smith to Godereau's cabin, followed later by Dale, who was armed with a rifle, Hood was asked by Dale's wife to go after Dale and either bring him back or take the weapon from him, as he (Dale) had threatened to shoot the Frenchmen, and she was sure he would carry out the threat unless forcibly prevented. Hood started for the cabin but was too late and on the way met Smith who had sustained a wound in the shoulder. Together they went to Dale's uncle's cabin. By this time Dale was on his way to the post office and on the way fired at the cabin where Hood and Smith and the other men were. Hood spoke to Dale, warning him to stop firing lest he shoot his father and uncle, James C. Dale, a highly respected prospector. Dale replied that "he had no father any more." Dale continued firing at the cabin and all the men except Hood sought safety in flight. The later remained to care for Smith, whose shoulder was causing him much suffering.

Later the witness went over to the postoffice door and again spoke to Dale, who was now ensconed in his father's cabin, adjoining the post office. Dale replied with a shot which, happily, missed its mark. Hood then went into the post office and got a 22 rifle and fired a few shots at the window from which Dale had been shooting.

Continuing witness said: "Dale continued shooting for a time. After he had stopped firing I called to the men and told them where Dale was. Two men Bubar and Laing, came over and we set a watch on the cabin, continuing until about 1 a.m. when Dale escaped. Musgrove, the magistrate, Frank Clark, and myself went to Peter Godereau's cabin and there found Joseph Celle and Godereau lying dead on the floor."

Witness gave details of the condition of the bodies, corroborating the evidence of Dalvid Smith.

Dr. Spankie, who examined the bodies upon their arrival in Greenwood, gave very complete evidence as to the nature of the wounds, stating that death was due to hemorrhage caused by the bullet wounds. The doctor's testimony closed the taking of evidence.

Throughout the trial the accused maintained an absolutely uncommunicative attitude. To all questions put by the magistrate he positively refused an answer, hanging his head and refusing to even look up. When ordered to stand up he doggedly refused until compelled to rise by constable Dinsmore. He would then lean heavily on his chair and sullenly glower at the floor or defiantly eye the court. His whole demeanor was decidedly displeasing and tended to strongly prejudice spectators against him. When requested to sign the usual document he paid no heed and paid no attention when the privilege of making a statement was offered. His refusal to assent to having heard the evidence as given by the witnesses, necessitated the re-reading of the mass of testimony by the magistrate—no easy task at so late an hour. No plea or statement was entered by the defence. After the conclusion of all necessary formalities, magistrate McMynn committed the accused to stand trial for murder at the spring assizes. The prisoner consulted for a few minutes with his father and uncle, and was then escorted to his cell.

Dale was taken to Nelson on this afternoon's train in charge of constable Dinsmore of Grand Forks, where he will be lodged temporarily pending his removal to Kamloops. It is thought that should the Nelson jail not be crowded, the prisoner may remain in Nelson all winter.

Before his departure for Nelson today The Daily News representative interviewed constable Dinsmore regarding the condition of the prisoner.

"Dale has well recovered from his self inflicted wound," said Dinsmore, "and is able to speak fairly distinctly. He is taking a lively interest in his case. When he began to improve in the hospital at Grand Forks, he asked me what would become of him after leaving the care of the doctor and nurses. I told him he would be taken to Greenwood for preliminary trial and then to Nelson to await full trial in the spring. At this he coughed and huskily remarked: 'I'll never see Nelson,' I believe," continued Dinsmore, "he is determined to do away with himself of he can possibly get a chance. There is nothing in his physical condition to prevent him seeing Nelson, and I'll do all in my power to get him there."

"What view does he take of his chance for acquittal at the coming trial?"

"He does not say much," said Dinsmore. "He is taking a lively interest in young Sloane's case in Spokane, and I think he will base his hopes largely upon the fate of that young man. I think, however, that whatever an American jury may do with Sloane will have little effect upon a Canadian jury's verdict upon Dale."

LETHBRIDGE STRIKE CAUSES COAL SHORTAGE ON PRAIRIE

MACKENZIE KING COMING WEST TO INVESTIGATE AFFAIRS

(Special to The Daily News)

Ottawa, Nov. 15—Premier Scott of Saskatchewan, is now in Ottawa calling the attention of the labor department to the coal shortage in the new provinces, which has now assumer a grave condition through the continuance of the Lethbridge strike. A message received by him today says that actual suffering now exists, even before the cold weather has set in. Immediate steps for relief are advised as imperative unless word comes of a prospective settlement. Mackenzie King, deputy minister of labor, will leave tomorrow for Lethbridge in the hope of reaching a settlement of the trouble.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

INTERESTING EXPERIENCE OF THE TOWN OF PORT ARTHUR

RUNS OWN TRAMWAY AND TELEPHONE SYSTEMS PROFITABLY

(Special to The Daily News)

Port Arthur, Ont., Nov. 15.—In a very short time the ratepayers of this town will be receiving a letter from the town clerk asking them to call at his office to receive their share of the profits of the municipal government for the past quarter. Strange as it may seem the people of this town fully expect such a state of affairs to came about within the next ten years. Every stranger who drops off here is at once made acquainted with the town's method of doing business. He may not be interested but that does not matter, he is obliged to stop and listen before making headway in any other direction. Every resident of the town carries around a copy of the last municipal report and knows to a cent the profits derived from the waterworks, street railway, electric light or telephone plants. Incidentally he will tell you that the rival town of Fort William, four miles away, is helping to pay Port Arthur's taxes because the street railway owned by Port Arthur runs through the two towns and every time a Fort William resident pays his 5 cent fare he reduces Port Arthur's taxes by an infinitesimal mite. No one ever lands in this town without being informed of this fact before he has been here ten minutes. Every ratepayer tells it on every possible occasion whenever he can get anyone to listen. The Bell Telephone company charged $36 per year for all telephones but under municipal ownership the price was reduced to $24 for business phones and residences were charged $12 per annum, and even at these greatly reduced prices the municipal plant for the last year showed a net profit of $2301 after paying running expences and interest on the bonds. For the same period the electric light plant cleared a net profit of $11,000 and the street railway system cleared a similar amount. The most conspicuous citizen in town is a member of the railway and electric commission. He receives no pay but the position is eagerly sought after. This commission consists of three members, one being elected each year when the third year member retires. The controlling officials serving without pay save all the salaries which would go to eat up the profits of municipal ownership and this is doubtless one of the principal reasons for its success. One half of the taxes of Port Arthur are paid by the revenues derived from the waterworks, lighting plant, street railway and telephone system. The total investment of the municipality was $149,000 and last year the total income amounted to $36,000 and in a very short time these enterprises will have paid for themselves.

TWENTY MEN KILLED

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 15—A report reached here that 20 men were killed at noon today by an explosion in a stone quarry, nine miles from this city.

MORE WORK IS ORDERED

Chief Justice Hunter's Ruling in Sandon Mining Suit Reversed

Full Court Sustains Appeal of Plaintiffs to be Allowed to Do More Work at Both Ends of Black Fissure

(Special to The Daily News)

Vancouver, Nov. 15.—Before the full court today, composed of Irving, Martin and Morrison, J.J., the judgment of chief justice Hunter in the celebrated mining case of the Star Mining & Milling company vs. the Byron N. White Mining company, was reversed with costs, in so far as the chief justice refused to allow the plaintiffs to do more experimental work. The full court directs that the further work asked for by the plaintiffs be done and the matter referred back to the chief justice who tried the case and dismissed the plaintiffs' action with costs. The case has been argued for the past four days, E. P. Davis, K.C., and S. S. Taylor, K.C., appearing for the appellants, the Star M. & M. Co., and E. V. Bodwell, K.C., and R. S. Lennie, for the defendants, the Byron N. White Co. Mr. Bodwell concluded a lengthy argument lasting three days, this afternoon, and the full court then gave their decision as above without reserving upon M. Taylor, Mr. Davis having opened the argument in favor of the appellants.

This great legal battle between two big silver-lead Slocan mining companies, with the Star M. & M. Co. headed by J. M. Harris as plaintiffs, and the Byron N. White Co., with Byron N. White of Spokane, as president and chief stockholder, as defendants, commenced five years ago, on July 30 last, the writ being issued on July 30, 1901. The plaintiffs claimed the right to follow their lead, the apex of which they claimed was upon their own ground, into adjacent territory under the old law.

After a long delay the case finally came to trial here before chief justice Hunter without a jury.

The main trial occupied 21 days in the hearing, and in addition the chief justice twice viewed the mine workings personally, and later, in December last, the argument was heard at the coast. Previous to the trial a certain amount of exploratory work was done under the direction of the court, but the plaintiffs wanted more work done. Previous to the argument on the main case at the coast a formal application made by the plaintiffs for more exploratory work, was refused by the chief justice who then heard the main argument and found against the contention of the plaintiffs, dismissing the action with costs. The order based on the judgment refusing to allow more work to be done and dismissing the action with costs was perfected in February, whereupon the plaintiffs launched an appeal against both findings in March. There being no quorum of the full court in May, Martin, J., being absent in England, the appeal could not then be heard, but came up on Monday last and was concluded yesterday with the result above given.

The defendants taxed their costs of action before the local registrar here for over $18,000. Both parties apealed from the taxation but these appeals were ordered to stand over pending the main appeal to the full court just disposed of.

The defendants then applied for security for costs of action and for addition security for costs of appeal over and above the $200 given, but these appeals were not allowed. The defendants then appealed to the full court from the order refusing security for costs, but were denied by the full court last week.

Whether the defendants will now appeal against the judgment of the full court given yesterday to the lords of the privy council remains to be seen, but it is more than probable that this will be the next step in this famous long drawn out suit. At the moment Mr. Harris in on top and the burden of an appeal to the privy council is thrown on Mr. White.

The new work asked for by the plaintiffs and now directed to be done by the full court is the extension north and south of what is known as the "Black Fissure," at the two points where the plaintiffs claim it cuts off the defendants' lead. If this work is done, then the evidence of what is disclosed will be laid before the chief justice, who will presumably ascertain if his previously given decision is affected or not.

NELSON'S NEWS OF THE DAY

Dr. A. Goodman Levy has opened an office in the Tramway block, Baker street.

P. Burns and Co., yesterday received a carload of fowl for the Christmas trade.

Mrs. Sturgeon will raffle a handsome pillow in aid of the sale to be held next week, Wednesday, Nov. 21, by the Catholic Ladies' Aid. The pillow is of delicate salmon pink silk, with point lace top in princess Louise design, enclosing an embroidered center of bolting silk.

By special request made last night of the management of the Nelson-Bruce company, the play for Saturday's matinee has been changed from "The Soldier of Fortune" to "The Virginian."

Provincial constable Isaac A. Dinsmore of Grand Forks, brought over James A. Dale of Greenwood, last night and lodged him with warden Lemon. As announced in another column, Dale has been committed on the charge of wilfully murdering Goderau and Celle at Carmi, on the 14th of October. The trial will come on for hearing at the assizes in May. The constable said that Dale had almost recovered from his wounds and came along to Nelson quietly.

Dr. E. C. Arthur yesterday received a letter from Dr. Fagan asking him to call a special public meeting for this evening to discuss the anti-tuberculosis question. This meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in the court house. It is specially requested that the members of the city council and of the local anti-tuberculosis society, as well as every business and professional man interested in the steps now being taken to fight the ravages of the disease in British Columbia, attend this meeting.

The through mail for this city from the east and from the coast, which comes via Spokane, was dumped off at Northport last night, when by the exercise of a little thoughtfulness it could have been sent around by Rossland as on former occasions. If the Great Northern railway company cannot maintain sufficient stock to run the line properly between this city and Northport, and the whole traffic is held up by a small mudslide at Troup junction, they might at least see that the mail is sent on with the least delay possible.

There was an unusualy good attendance at the monthly meeting of the liberal association last evening in the board of trade rooms, President A. B. Docksteader occupied the chair, while some routine business was transacted and then made way for Dr. E. C. Arthur, who announced a debate on the Hindu immigration question. At this latter affair quite a number of outsiders were present and an animated discussion took place. Finally the following resolution was unanimously adopted: Resolved, that we endorse the action of the dominion government in taking measures to represent to the Indian government through the imperial authorities, that the immigration of Hindus into Canada should be prevented and that British immigration into Canada, and especially into the province of British Columbia, should be encouraged in every way possible.

A. B. Cowan, vice-president of Cowan and Co., Ltd., of Galt, Ont., the largest exclusive manufacturers of wood making machinery in Canada, is in the city on a brief visit, stopping at the Hume. Mr. Cowan has just been practically across the dominion, having recently visited Newfoundland and the maritime provinces and subsequently Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan. He will spend a day or so here and then go on to the coast, stopping off at several intervening points. "The whole country is in a very prosperous condition," said Mr. Cowan yesterday. "Every section of the dominion that I have just visited shows the same happy state of affairs. I have just learned, with some surprise, of the fruit growing outlook here. It seems to me that the possibilities are limitless."

Born, at Williams' siding, on Nov. 15, to the wife of William Brown, a daughter.

BRAKEMAN WAS BLAMED

MISINTERPRETATION OF RULES CAUSED C. P. R. WRECK.

ENGINEER OF SECOND SECTION SAW NO SIGNAL TO STOP

(Special to The Daily News)

Kamloops, Nov. 15.—The inquest on Rowe, the victim of the C. P. R. train disaster at Tranquille, was completed last night, the verdict being: "Death from injuries, the result of an accident caused by the misinterpretation of rules by the rear end brakeman on the first section of No. 96."

The evidence showed that the train approached the siding at a twenty-mile gait, the engineer claiming the rules gave him the right-of-way to a distant switch unless signalled to stop. He says he saw no signal. The brakeman claimed that the rules required the second section to slow up at all sidings till train No. 97 crossed, claiming that the distance from which he signalled to stop would have been sufficient had this rule been observed. He admitted that he placed no torpedoes as the rule requires.

Papers found on Rowe, produced last night, show that he was in the 3rd Scots Guards, discharged October 4, 1904, with two medals and clasps, for service in South Africa, Cape Colony and Transvaal. His full name was John Archibald Rowe, and his address 398 St. Antoine St., Montreal.

SEVEN YEARS AT KINGSTON

Port Arthur, Ont., Nov. 15.—Two Finlanders, Emmanuel Jansen and Waldamere Jansen, were sentenced today to serve seven years each in the Kingston penitentiary, by judge O'Leary at the district court. Their crime was that of highway robbery with violence upon Robert Mooney, a resident of Fort William, which occurred about two months ago. Mooney was waylaid on the Fort William road by three men, one of whom escaped. They severely pummelled him and robbed him of $60 and also threatened his life.

RETURNING TO WORK

Miners Now Flocking Back to Michel and Coal Creek Camps

Michel Union World Not Tolerate Sherman's Arbitrary Rule and Declared for Strict Observance of Contracts

(Special to The Daily News)

Fernie, Nov. 15.—An increasingly large number of miners are applying for work at all the mines, the afternoon train to Coal Creek carrying 188 men seeking work, making a total of 325 now on the books at that camp, while at Michel over 200 are already working and the balance of the old employees have made application for their old places.

Every train brings in its quota of returning miners, who will be given work as soon as possible. Preliminary work of cleaning up is being rushed with all speed and it is confidently expected by the company that a satisfactory tonnage will soon be on the cars for shipment.

No wire has yet been received from president Mitchell though one is expected hourly.

Tonight a meeting of Fernie local was to be held to discuss the situation, but as there has been such a defection from the ranks of those who have preferred to obey the order of Sherman instead of that of Burke, it is not thought that anything of importance will result.

(Special to The Daily News)

Michel, Nov. 15.—At an enthusiastic and well attended meeting Wednesday morning Michel Miners' union repudiated the authority of district president Sherman. By a vote of 98 in favor of starting work at once against 44 dissenting votes, Michel union put itself on record against the one man rule of Mr. Sherman and to stand by the agreement entered into by Mr. Burke and Mr. Lindsey on Monday night. Seventy seven men went to work Wednesday morning and over two hundred applied for work during the day. As soon as the different mines here can be put in working shape all the men will be put to work and the men that left camp at the beginning of the strike to find work elsewhere are returning. All incoming trains are loaded for Michel as they were outgoing seven weeks ago.

The local union has disbursed nearly $4000 in relief funds during the strike, a like sum yet remaining in the treasury. The work of the committees in charge can only be commended. Everything was handled in a strict, business-like way. No kicks have been registered at any time. Michel union may well be proud to have amongst its leading members such men as Andy McLeod, Jack Laurenson, J. L. Carter, J. Wylie, John Gorton and others, to whose influence is due the excellent condition of the finances and their conservative counsels have no doubt been influential in the excellent behavior of the men throughout the strike.

FLOODS IN WASHINGTON

RAILROADS HAVE BEEN BADLY DISORGANIZED.

BRIDGES WASHED OUT AND WAGON ROADS IMPASSABLE

Portland, Ore., Nov. 15.—Portland tonight is cut off by floods from Seattle, Tacoma, Bellingham, Spokane and every point north and east of Kelso, Wash.

The rainstorm that swept over the northwest Pacific coast last night has created a condition under which railroads are at a standstill or greatly interrupted. Flooded rivers have washed out bridges and wagon roads are impassable. The only trains that entered Portland today were from the south. Trains from the north are stalled in and about Seattle and Tacoma and trains from the east, over the Oregon Railroad & Navigation tracks, are stalled by a landslide at Bonneville and passengers will be brought here by boat.

A despatch from Kelso, Wash., says a raging torrent is rushing through the lowlands in that vicinity carrying away thousands of dollars worth of property.

The Cowlitz river, which began to rise rapidly yesterday, jumped to 20 feet above the low water mark this morning and the big 800 foot drawbridge that spans the stream between Kelso and Catlin, unable to withstand the terrific strain, broke from its fastenings early today. Nine steamers have left Portland for the Cowlitz river to recover booms of saw logs that broke loose near the headwaters of the river.

The Willamette river in Oregon, at points above Portland rose rapidly yesterday and today.

N. Y. C. AGAIN CONVICTED

New York, Nov. 15—The grand jury this afternoon found the New York Central railway company guilty of granting rebates amounting to $36,000 to the American Sugar Refining company. It was announced that the trial of the American Sugar Refining company on a charge of accepting the rebates paid by the New York Central would be commenced tomorrow.

STILL ON DOUBTFUL ST.

(Special to The Daily News)

Victoria, Nov. 15.—The Times tonight made the announcement that the election date had been decided upon and that the proclamation dissolving the house was momentarily expected.

Premier McBride, interviewed by the Colonist, denied the truth of this statement. He did not deny, however, that he had asked, or was about to ask, for a dissolution. He evaded that point.

Kamloops, Nov. 15.—Finance minister Tatlow was at Ashcroft yesterday to take to Victoria his daughter, who has been a guest of judge Cornwall for the past month. He stated that McBride had decided there should be no elections until after the holidays and perhaps not then.

AMBASSADOR INSULTED

BRAZIL'S REPRESENTATIVE RESENTS TREATMENT AT NEW YORK

ASKED IMPERTINENT QUESTIONS BY IMMIGRATION OFFICALS

New York, Nov. 15—Whether or not an ambassador of a friendly nation on arriving at New York to take up his duties in Washington, must be compelled to inform the immigration inspectors whether he has ever been in prison or in an almshouse, or supported by charity or whether he is a polygamist or an anarchist, may be referred to the state department at Washington as the result of the refusal today of Jaoquin Nabuco, Brazilian ambassador, to answer the questions when he arrived here today from Liverpool. The immigration law requires that all arriving at the port shall answer these and other questions.

Concerning the incident Mr. Nabuco said: "I answered every question which I believed would add to the statistical government information, but when it comes to asking questions regarding my beliefs and opinions, it is different. I am not a visitor to this country in the implied sense of the word. I am here as a representative of another power and as such I am to a certain extent the guest of this nation. This is the ground I take and for this reason alone I refused to answer certain questions."

Washington, Nov. 15—Upon being unofficially informed of the circumstances attending the landing in New York of the Brazilian ambassador, Senor Nabuco, brought about by his refusal to answer certain questions, United States secretary of state Root promptly communicated with the department of commerce and labor and requested that the necessary instructions be telegraphed to the collector at New York immediately to extend the courtesies of the port to the ambassador and his secretary. It is possible an apology also will be offered to the ambassador and a severe admonition given to the immigration officials responsible for the indignities.

ROOSEVELT AT PANAMA

PRESIDENT TAKES CRUISE ABOUT PANAMA BAY

EXPRESSES SOME OPINIONS TO NEWSPAPER MEN

Colon, Nov. 15—The president landed here half an hour earlier than was expected and there were no representatives of the government of Panama or the Canal company present to receive him. Chief of police Shanton, with a force of 72 picked men belonging to the Zone police, was at the pier and the president immediately inspected the force and highly complimented Shanton on their appearance. Soon after this Messrs. Shonts and Stevens, with their wives arrived, and word of the arrival of the president was sent to president Amador's party, who were at breakfast. President Amador and his suite hurried to meet president Roosevelt and found him on the platform of his railway car. Mr. Roosevelt very cordially received president Amador and the ladies of his party, and personally helped the latter to enter the train. At 8 a.m. sharp the train, which consisted of four cars handsomely decorated, left Colon for Panama. The first stop was at Gatun, where the school children were paraded, speeches of welcome delivered and patriotic songs sung. The same program was repeated at Bohio and all the stations, president Roosevelt thanking all the welcoming delegations.

Panama, Nov. 15—The train, bringing the presidential party from Colon, arrived in front of the Tivoli hotel at Ancon at 10:30 a.m. There president Amador and party alighted and president Roosevelt and his party were conducted to Laboca, at the Pacific entrance of the canal, where the steamer Bolivar was in waiting to take the president on a cruise about Panama bay. Afterwards the party returned to Laboca. All ships were decorated with flags when president Roosevelt's steamer passed and saluted, blowing their whistles while the crews of the seven American vessels cheered the president frantically.

Speaking to newspaper men the president said he felt like the commander of a great and successful army.

Though it rained from 10 a.m., the weather did not interfere with the cruise.

STRANGERS REMAINED

Motion to Clear House of Commons for Unsavory Debate Quashed

Bucknill Report on Chinese Practices in South African Compounds Subject of Discussion in Both Houses

London, Nov. 15.—Both houses of parliament tonight debated the unpleasant subject arising from the recta unauthorized publication of the contents of the "Bucknill" report which gives the results of the inquiry into the conditions of Chinese labor in South Africa and which reveals the systematic practice of unnatural vices in the Chinese compounds there.

Notice of the debate was given today by R. C. Lehman, liberal, who, in the house of commons, obtained leave to move the adjournment of the house to discuss the,

"Prevalance of gross immorality in the Chinese compounds in the Transvaal as disclosed by the 'Bucknill' report and the imperative necessity for the government to take immediate steps to stop this state of affairs, especially by a more rapid and systematic repatriation of the Chinese."

The government has hitherto declined to publish this report on the ground that it was confidential. Among the radicals the hope seemingly prevails that this scandal may be used in justification of the abolition of Chinese labor.

The motion that all strangers should withdraw having been rejected by 326 votes to 25, Mr. Lehman, before a crowded house, moved the adjournment. In a studiously moderate speech he declared the country was in the presence of a great moral disaster and asked the government for information on specific points and what it intended to do in the matter.

Winston Spencer Churchill replied on behalf of the government. He said it had been decided not to publish the "Bucknill" report because it was unprintable and because the evidence upon which it was based had been obtained confidentially. It was undoubtedly true, Mr. Churchill said, that such vices existed in many compounds, but the opponents of Chinese labor always recognized that such a state of affairs was almost inevitable and the responsibility rested largely, in the first place, with Alfred Lyttleton, until lately colonial minister. It was unlikely, however, as alleged, that these practices amounted to an open public scandal or were tolerated by the police or mine managers. These evils had long been foreseen—then why this belated intervention on the part of the bishops and archbishops, asked Mr. Churchill. The revelations of the "Bucknill" report, although they did not bear out the statements alleged, nevertheless disclosed a condition of affairs sufficiently unhealthy and unnatural to seal the fate of Chinese labor. It was a matter, however, which should be left to South Africa which was on the eve of responsible government.

Mr. Lyttleton then declared that no shred of evidence of this horrible and monstrous system of vice had reached him while in the colonial office. Other members spoke on the subject and then premier Campbell-Bannerman said the government had every reason to believe the evil would be diminished if not altogether eradicated.

The motion was eventually talked out.

The subject was raised in the house of lords by the archbishop of Canterbury, who asked if the government had any information thereon.

Lord Elgin, the colonial secretary, said the evidence of the "Bucknill" report went to show that the practices prevail in nearly all the compounds and in his opinion strengthens the view that the permanent adoption of a system of Chinese labor was impossible. The grosser allegations, however, were not substantiated by the report.

Lord Lansdowne, foreign secretary in the late ministry, defending the late government, said the opposition would go as far as possible to assist the government in stamping out the evils. The subject was then dropped.

STANDARD OIL STOCK DROPS

New York, Nov. 15—After opening up several points, Standard Oil stock dropped three points to $574, a new record for several years. Sales were fairly heavy, being about 150 shares. All transactions in this stock are fractional and it is some years since as many as 100 shares were sold in a single lot. The decline was without effect on the general market.

THE PRICE OF SILVER

A few days ago The Daily News published a telegraphic summary of an interview with George W. Roberts, director of the United States mints, upon the occasion of his official visit to Denver, Colorado. He was then reported as having predicted that the price of silver would steadily and naturally advance until a high mark, possibly near 80, will be reached.

Denver papers to hand contain lengthy reports of this interview, Mr. Roberts' view being regarded with all the weight due to his position as director of the mints and a close student of the money market. What he had to say had, naturally, special reference to conditions in Colorado, but in a general way his remarks would be applicable to the Slocan.

Mr. Roberts expressed the opinion that there would be a steady price of 76 for silver and he estimated that this price will open 100 new mines in Colorado in a year. Millions of ounces of metal in medium-grade ore now untouched will again be mined, the same as 15 years ago. Increase the low standard of production of 1903, less than 20,000,000 ounces, but 25 per cent and the increase to Colorado in a single year means $10,000,000.

"These figures look large," director Roberts said, "and they are large. They mean everything to this western country, but they are not beyond probabilities."

Mr. Roberts went on to say: "Since we began buying silver for the United States mints, the first of August, the price has soared from 66 to 71 and better. We paid almost 72 for our last purchase last Monday. But in these three months we have purchased a little less than 5,000,000 ounces of silver.

"Five million ounces has crowded up the market. That is not a drop in the bucket. India will this year break all records for silver purchasing, and will take over 100,000,000 ounces. The full effect of this enormous demand will not reach the market for another year, due to the fact that India is gaining much of her silver from the old Mexico pesos, which have been discarded and are being sold to India for bullion. The cash in this transaction is coming back into America for gold to place the Mexican circulation on a gold basis.

"Another year and the full force of the Indian demand will be upon the market in increased force. Then, China is taking more silver every year. It is a matter of but a few years until the development of the interior of China will demand an enormous increase in their silver coinage, which is now taxing three mints. Add to all this the enormous increase in the past five years in the demand for silver for use in the arts—due to increased prosperity—and you understand why I say that silver is going up, and going up to stay."

Asked if he thought it advisable for owners of low grade properties to resume operations this year, Mr. Roberts replied:

"It seems very clear to me that before the year is ended the price will have advanced several points. The spring may see 75 cents offered for silver. I am sure that there is very much ore in this state that will not mine at a profit under 70 cents that will make big money at 75 cents.

"Why, in the early '90s 84 or 85 cents tempted miners to work the very low grade ore. Since then the cost of mining and smelting has been reduced almost 50 per cent. All of these mines will be reopened soon."

These prognostications of so experienced an observer as the director of the United States mints will doubtless have their effect upon Slocan mine owners and the renewed activity now prevalent should be greatly stimulated.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

An investigation is in progress at Toronto into the cost of text books supplied to public school pupils. The sworn testimony of some of the publishers goes to show that 50 per cent profit is made on the production of these books and when the retailers' profit is added it is obvious that parents have to pay an excessively heavy price for them. There has been some agitation in this province looking to the government publication of text books and in view of the disclosures at Toronto the possibility of the government doing this work and supplying the books at a great reduction under present prices appears to be practicable. The text books sold in this province to public school children are published by the Toronto firms that appear to have a monopoly of the business in Ontario. It would be well for minister of education Fulton to look into this matter.

In discussing proposed amendments to the Election law at the coming session of the dominion parliament, with a view to curbing corruption, the Toronto Globe draws attention to a suggestion made by judge Wallace, of Halifax. The Halifax judge's point is to secure the better enforcement of the law against corrupt practices and he proposes the appointment of a prosecuting official, whose functions he thus describes: "There shoulvd be established for the express purpose of supervising the enforcement of such a law a department with a special staff of officials, and, most important of all, directed not by a government or any of its ministers, but by a resolute and independent chief or 'General Superintendent of Elections,' who could not be removed from office except by a two-thirds vote of the house of commons, and whose energy and determination in enforcing the law would soon make him a terror to the whole chain of curruptionists—not only to the man at the end of the chain who pays out the bribe money or distributes the liquor to the voter, but to the 'respectable' committee which hands it over to such men and the other 'respectable' committee which collects it, and also those others who may be at the beginning of the chain—the corporations, bonus-hunters, and others whose liberal contributions sometimes go beyond proper limits and should in any event be disclosed to the public." The idea is a good one and we should welcome the appointment of a man like police magistrate Dennison of Toronto, who is conducting the present enquiry into the London bribery cases, to the office.

The suggestions of our correspondent, "C.M.W." should be taken to heart by those directly interested in the proposed changes in the tariff affecting the zinc industry. Some greater show of concern in what is asked for than the formal forwarding of a petition is certainly desirable and, moreover as pointed out by "C. M. W.," there should be someone at hand to advise ministers upon the numerous technical points that are sure to arise.

The public meeting called for this evening in the interests of the anti-tuberculosis propaganda should be largely attended. Practical steps have been taken on the coast to establish a sanatarium and in other ways to combat the dreaded scourge. The people of Nelson are concerned in this movement and should show their appreciation of what is being done by attending the special meeting called for 8 o'clock this evening at the court house.

ZINC PROBLEM AT OTTAWA

Mine Owners and Others Interested Should Have Representative on Spot.

Editor, The Daily News: Those interested in zinc would be well advised if at this moment they arranged for special representation at Ottawa.

That special providence that watches over children and drunken men may possibly be kind to them, but there is much point to the excellent adages that speak of help being extended to those who help themselves.

A very small expenditure (a few hundred dollars, a bribery and corruption fund is not at all necessary) will pay the way of a zinc man to Ottawa and his hotel expenses for the next three months, and there are plenty of competent men who would regard the pleasure and honor of the mission a sufficient compensation for the loss of time.

It is almost disrespectful to the Tariff Commission and to our parliamentary representatives, to ask them to deal with a proposition full of technicalities and bound to provoke keen criticism, and from some quarters, strenuous resistance, and to leave them without a continually available medium of communication with those whom they are trying to serve.

The owners of zinc mines and the promoters of zinc treatment schemes should do this work without prompting from any one. But they are not doing it, and probably will not wake up to its necessity until too late; so there remains only the old expedient of passing the hat and collecting from the man on the street the needful funds. Perhaps the long suffering board of trade of Nelson will take the initiative. Will president Starkey make a move? C. M. W.

Dear Sirs—A few days ago I was taken with a severe pain and contraction of the cords of my leg, and had to be taken home in a rig. I could not sleep for pain and was unable to put my foot to the floor. You may use my name as freely as you like, as I consider it the best remedy I have ever used.

HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR IT

This Charge is Hurled at the Salter Shoe by a Dealer

"You are responsible and you alone for the importation of American shoes into Canada." Mr. Slater was surprised when this charge was hurled at him by an indignant shoe man. He had opposed the supplication of the other Canadian shoe manufacturers for an increase in the shoe tariff, and stoutly and ably opposed it, his competitors admitted. But his opposition, he maintained, did not favor the foreign shoe.

This is the way the charge against the Slater Shoe Co. was argued: "You give exclusive agencies for the Slater Shoe. Only one man in each town or city can have the agency. What are the other dealers in the town to do? Sit still, and allow the Slater Shoe to get all the trade of people who want fine shoes? Not much, sir, we know that the only shoe that can stand up with your shoe for style and workmanship is the American shoe." And they have to have it; the buyer pays the duty, too.

HIGH PRICE OF SILVER

Washington, Nov. 15—It has transpired that the 100,000 ounces of silver just purchased by the United States government for subsidiary coinage has cost 71.58 cents an ounce. This is the highest price paid for silver since the repeal of the Sherman law in 1893, when the low price was 47 cents an ounce. The present price represents an advance of 24.58 cents an ounce, which is equivalent to 52 per cent in 13 years.

IN TIME OF PEACE

In the first months of the Russia-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation ond the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared for a successful combat with the first cold you take? A cold can be cured more quicky when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cure of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale by all druggists and dealers

Social Tragedy

Women Who Brave Death for Social Honors.

In the midst of one of the most brilliant social functions of the season, a noted society woman started suddenly from her chair with a scream of agony and fell insensible to the floor.

A few hours later the distinguished physician told her anxious husband that she was suffering from an acute case of nervous prostration brought on by female trouble, and hinted at an operation. Fortunately a friend advised her to try

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The result was that she escaped the surgeon's knife and to-day is a well woman.

The derangement of the delicate female organism sets every nerve in the body quivering with pain. Headaches, backaches, torturing bearing down pains and dragging sensations make women nervous and hysterical.

Mrs. T. E. Gillis, of Windsor, N. S., writes:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—When I commenced to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was suffering with weakness and female trouble, headaches, backaches, and that worn-out, tired feeling. I have only taken the Vegetable Compound a few short weeks, and it has made me well, strong and robust. I believe that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is without equal for female troubles.

Mrs. Laura Emmons, President Loyal Home Workers, Walkerville, Ont., writes:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM,—I am enjoying such good health that I feel it a duty to write and thank you for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered for more than five years with functional troubles, causing an unpleasant discharge and weakness which no amount of medicine, diet or exercise seemed to correct. Your Vegetable Compound, however, reached the root of my trouble, cured me and made me strong, healthy and well. I want to say to every suffering woman, don't daily with medicines you know nothing about, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

TO BREAK STANDARD OIL

ATTORNEY GENERAL MOODY ISSUES STATEMENT OF CASE

PROCEEDINGS TAKEN TO DISSOLVE THE COMBINE

Washington, Nov. 15—Attorney general Moody, acting today through the resident United States district attorney, instituted proceedings against the Standard Oil company of New Jersey under the Sherman anti-trust act by filing in the United States circuit court at St. Louis a petition in equity against it and its 70 constituent corporations and partnerships, asking that the combine be declared unlawful and in the future be enjoined from entering into any contract or combination in restraint of trade, etc.

The following statement was prepared and made public by attorney general Moody:

"In June last, by direction of the president, Messrs. Kellogg and Morrison were appointed by me special assistant attorneys general to act with assistant attorney general Purdy to make an investigation of the relations of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey to the business of refining, transporting, distributing and selling oil throughout the United States, and to ascertain all the facts and report to me whether or not, in their opinion, there has been a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey or the persons or corporations associated with or managing it.

"The counsel have completed that duty and the report of their investigations has received careful consideration by the president and his cabinet. The information available to the department tends to show that the various corporations and limited partnerships under their control, in the manner hereinafter designated, the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, produce, transport and sell about 90 per cent of the refined oil produced in the United States for domestic use and about the same proportion of refined oil exported from the United States. That this share of the business has been produced by a course of action which, beginning in 1870, has continued under the direction of the same persons in the main down to the present time.

"These persons now surviving are John D. Rockefeller, William Rockefeller, Henry Rogers, Henry H. Flagler, John D. Archibold, Oliver H. Payne and Charles M. Pratt.

"That the design throughout of the persons having control of the enterprise has been to suppress competition in the production, transportation and sale of refined oil and to obtain as far as possible a monopoly therein.

"Between 1870 and 1882 the design was effected through agreements made between many persons and corporations engaged in that business.

"That in 1882 the result aimed at was made more certain by vesting in nine trustees, including five of the above named presons, sufficient stock in the 39 corporations concerned to enable the trustees to control their operations in such a way that competition between them was suppressed.

"That the individual defendants in 1899 increased the stock of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey from 10 million to 110 million dollars; that said company was then a producing and selling corporation, and they added to its corporate powers the power of purchasing stock in other companies and practically all the powers exercised by the trustees under the unlawful trust agreements of 1882. That the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, taking the place of the trustees, acquired all of the stock of the corporations before held and controlled by the trustees, paying therefor by the issue of its own shares, in exchange.

"That the president of the board of trustees became the president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, and the same persons, the individual defendants, who had directed the business of the trust then assumed the direction of the business of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and ever since continued it. That the purpose and effect of the use of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, as a holding company was precisely the same as the purpose and effect of the appointment of mthe trustees, hereinbefore referred to, namely to suppress competition between the corporations and limited partnerships, whose stock as held first by the trustees and then by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

"That the foregoing methods, obtained by the establishment of railroad rates for transportation, was discrimination in favor of the corporations whose stock was held by the holding company. That that company has been enabled to obtain in large sections of the country a monopoly of the sale of refined oil, with the result that the prices to the consumer within the territory where the monopoly prevails are very much higher than within the territory where competition to some extent still exists.

"It is believed that these facts, together with others contained in the report of the special commission, justify and require action by the United States in the courts. Accordingly a petition in equity under the provisions of the Sherman act has been filed against the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and 70 other corporations and limited partnerships and the seven individual defendants named in the right judicial circuit at St. Louis, No., to have said combination adjudged and decreed to be unlawful and the said corporations be declared unlawful and the said corporations prohibited from declaring or paying any dividends to the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, and enjoined from entering into or performing any contract or combination to restrain trade and commerce or to monopolize trade in the future.

"The question whether an action of a different nature should be taken is reserved for furture consideration. The controversy is now pending in the courts and any further comment by the department or by anyone connected with it would be obviously improper and unfair.

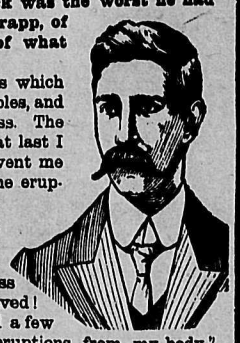
SORE BACK

"The doctor told me my back was the worst he had ever seen," said Mr. Alf. Lillierapp, of Walthamstow, when telling of what Zam-Buk had cured him.



"It was covered with eruptions which came in the form of headless pimples, and spread until my back was one mass. The itching at night was so bad that at last I had to have my hands tied to prevent me scratching myself and making the eruptions bleed. I took internal medicines and tried various salves; but in vain. One night I read about Zam-Buk and bought a box. Well I hardly know how to express my gratitude for the benefit I derived! That first box gave me relief and a few more cleared the pimples and eruptions from my body."

Similar eloquent testimony comes from Manitoba.

Mr. R. J. Burgoine, of Harding, says:—"I had some very bad sores on my heel but Zam-Buk cured them in a few days. It also cleared my chest of an unsightly eruption."

ZAM-BUK NEEDED IN EVERY HOME.

Zam-Buk should be in every home. It cures cuts, burns, bruises, scalds, chilblains, cold sores, chapped hands. Heals ulcers, eczema, running sores, abscesses, may be safely applied to the delicate skin of babies and cures teething rashes. It also eases the pain of piles. It is good as an embrocation, and excellent for rheumatism and sciatica. All druggists sell it at 50 cents a box, or from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. 6 boxes for $2.50.

ZINC RESOURCES OF B.C.

COMPILED FROM REPORT OF ZINC COMMISSION.

GENERAL CONCLUSIONS AS TO MAGNETIC SEPARATION

X

The possibility of enriching the zinc ores of British Columbia to a high degree by magnetic separation has been thoroughly demonstrated by the tests conducted by the commission, which have been heretofore summarized. The ores tested are of wide variety and represent all of the classes that the mines of the province are at present capable of producing. In every case it has been possible to produce a zinc concentrate assaying upward of 40 per cent zinc; in many cases concentrates assaying about 50 per cent zinc; and in a few cases concentrates assaying as high as 57 per cent zinc.

These results compare varey favorably with those which are attained in the concentration of similar ores in the United States, in Australia and in Europe. The zinc concentrates, produced from the mixed ores west of the Rocky mountains in the United States do not average better than 40 per cent zinc; that produced at Broken Hill, N.S.W., goes only 40 to 45 per cent zinc. The zinc concentrate that can be produced in British Columbia will average better than those figures. It is to be remarked, however, that a thoroughly good technical result is not necessarily a good commercial result. Ore assaying only 40 per cent zinc, unless it contain also an important silver value, will not be a profitable product in British Columbia on the basis of 5c. spelter (it is not safe to make calculations on a higher basis than that), but this is because of the remoteness of the province and the long railway carriage to markets, absorbing a large part of the value of the ore, which must inevitably be borne. This is an unfortunate condition, which can not be altered; indeed, can not be much ameliorated. This subject has been thoroughly discussed in previous sections of this report.

Of practical importance in no way inferior to the degree of concentration is the matter of percentage of mineral extracted from the ore. With the exception of a few especially difficult ores, the tests of the Commission show remarkably high percentages of extraction, these rising in one case to nearly 99 per cent, and being upward of 90 per cent in many cases.

The matter of relative efficiency of various types of magnetic separators will not be discussed, except broadly. It was not within the means of the commission to make exhaustive competitive trials of different makes of machine, and anyway this matter is of camparatively little importance providing the machines conform to sound principles of mechanism and magnetism. The design of these machines will be treated to some extent further on in this report. It is a common mistake among the inexpert to look for some machine, which in itself will be the solution of all problems in ore treatment. There is no one machine which will prove such a universal panacea. Attention should be concentrated not on the machine, but on the process. The process being successfully devised, it will frequently be found that several different kinds of machine will do equally well the particular work that is required of them. It will be observed from Mr. Argall's report that the principal experimental work of the commission was in the determination of processes, rather than the competitive trial of various machines. In so far as such trials were made, readers of this report may draw their own conclusions.

It is proper, however, to point out the broad difference between the two grand types of magnetic separators, viz., the high intensity and the low intensity. The former require much more power than the latter, but they will make separations of minerals of low magnetic attractability, which remain unaffected by the machines of low intensity. In order to enable the latter to operate at all, the ore must be converted by roasting into a more highly magnetic form, and the cost of roasting is more than an offset of their economy in power and lower first cost. In the case of the blende-siderite ores, however, roasting and separation by low intensity machines gives a higher grade of product than does raw separation by high intensity machines, and the commercial result figures out better. Consequently, if that class of ore were alone to be treated, the choice would by all means be for a roaster and low intensity machines. But when it is a case of treating a variety of ores, some of which can be separated only by a high intensity machine, the choice is determined by different considerations. The high intensity machine, will perform all of the separations of strongly magnetic material that the low intensity machine will make, and is capable of far more delicate adjustment and of effecting separations between minerals of several different degrees of magnetic permeability. A plant for the treatment of miscellaneous ores of the West Kootenay should, therefore, be provided with high intensity separators, rather than low intensity. Means for roasting the ore are required in any case.

A disappointing feature of the experimental work at Denver was the failure of the Blake electrostatic separator to prove of service in the treatment of the ores of British Columbia. In no case did this appear to be of useful application. In the treatment of some ores in Colorado and elsewhere, this separator has given excellent results on a commercial scale, but its action depends upon the relative conductivity for static electricity of the component mine a's of an ore, and in many cases the difference is not sufficient to enable a separation to be made. This appeared to be the case of ores of British Columbia in so far as they were tested by this process. In fairness it is to be remarked that the tests of the Blake separator were by no means exhaustive, and it is possible that by modifications in the ore treatment satisfactory commercial results may be obtained with it in certain cases.

In Australia, the ores of Broken Hill were first successfully treated by magnetic separation. During the last two or three years a class of processes known as the flotation processes, has been introduced, and these have now clearly beaten the magnetic separation processes in the treatment of the ores of Broken Hill. So far, the flotation processes have not been tried except at Broken Hill and comparatively little is yet known as to their theory or the precise conditions which determine their application.

I caused some experimental work to be done, on a laboratory scale, at New York, under my own direction, to determine the applicability of the these processes to the ores of British Columbia. I shall refer to these experiments at more length in a subsequent section of this report. It is sufficient to state here that some of the ores of British Columbia appear to be amenable to separation by this process, but the results do not indicate any superiority over magnetic separation in point of enrichment of the grade of the ore, while for the treatment of the miscellaneous ores of a district flotation would probably be less elastic and less efficient than magnetic separation. Flotation is especially adapted to the treatment of the ore of a single mine on a large scale. This condition does not obtain at the present time in British Columbia; certainly not in the Slocan. The conclusion may, consequently, be accepted that for the enrichment of these ores, the best method is a combination process in which washing on tables and magnetic separation are the essential features.

THE REAL TEST

Of Herpicide Is in Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair vigors may look nice and smell nice but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpicide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co. Detroit, Mich.

PRESS COMMENTS

Nelson Daily News, Nelson, B. C.

Clever and Clean.—Jerry from Kerry company closed a three-nights' engagement at the Nelson Opera House last evening. The entire company has made a most favorable impression in the city by the cleverness and cleanness of their performances.

The Post, Sydney, Cape Breton.

The Jerry from Kerry company closed a very successful three-nights' engagement here Saturday evening. The company is one of the best that has visited Sidney for a long time and will always command a large patronage wherever they play.

Daily Telegraph, St. John, N. B.

Jerry from Kerry Please Opera House Audience.—Jerry from Kerry came to the opera house last night and gave an evening of pleasure to a good-size audience. The entertainment is of musical farce comedy nature and carries first class vaudeville features. There are good comedians, excellent acrobats, pleasing singers, a good band and orchestra. Altogether it made up a program which greatly pleased the audience and gave very hearty enjoyment, as the laughter producing qualities were certainly all that were promised. Jerry from Kerry will be at the opera house all this week and to judge from the success of the opening performance will do a good business.

Evening Journal, Edmonton, Alta., N. W. T.

A surprise was in store for many of those persons who attended the performance of the Jerry from Kerry company at the opera house last evening. When the orchestra took their seats there was standing room only and many were turned away. They play was advertised as amusing, and it was truly so, the audience being kept in a continual round of laughter. No doubt the capacity will be tested tonight.

Daily Herald, Calgary, Alta., N.W.T.

Jerry from Kerry.—Last night the Lyric was crowded with the best class of theatre patrons to witness Jerry from Kerry. The company is composed of some exceedingly capable people who render some very mirthful comedy and participate in a number of very clever turns. John Patten as Jerry was vociferously applauded; in fact all the members have earned a lasting reputation for amusing the public of this city. The band and orchestra is one of the best ever heard in Calgary.

Evening Telegram, Portland, Ore., Dec. 25, 1905.

When Patten and Fletcher presented Jerry from Kerry at the Empire yesterday it proved to be pleasing and the large audience took to it like a duck to water. Their vaudeville acts are all features, and their band and orchestra above the average.

Daily News, Tacoma, Wash., Dec. 18, 1905.

Jerry from Kerry at Savoy.—The Savoy had the crowd last night, the attraction being Jerry from Kerry, a comedy that kept the big audience in constant good humor. The attraction is meritorious.

TAXES CAUSED A REVOLT

EXPLANATION OF ENGLISH COUNTY COUNCIL ELECTIONS

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP AND SOCIALISM SUFFER REVERSE

London News-Letter, Nov. 3—Municipal ownership, socialism and all that makes for what may be termed "sextremism" in local affairs, have suffered a sweeping defeat this week. By a large majority the people of London and the surrounding district, have turned out of office the municipal authorities who favored these advanced ideas. London's revolt against faddists, cranks, socialists and laborites, is nothing hort of dramatic.

Three years ago the party known as the "progressives" swept the moderates from power, capturing a majority of the 28 boroughs into which London is divided. Today the "reformers," as the moderates now call themselves, control more than 20 boroughs, capturing what had been considered strongholds of socialism and labor.

The scenes at the polling boohs bore eloquent testimony to the fact that the Londoher is beginning to realize the important part played in the national life by the municipal government. The result of all this was a landslide in favor of careful administration untinctured with municipal ownership and socialist theories.

The progressives, giving them the best intentions in behalf of the poorer classes, have made a sad muddle of their three years 'spell of power. You can find in London municipal Turkish baths for the workingman who doesn't use them, steamers that ply for the pleasure of the middle classes instead of for laborers, electric light plants that do not work at all.

Hundreds of other utopian inventions appear to have created scarcely any improvement in existing conditions, while increasing, at a terrific rate, the burden of taxation. Against this burden of rates London has risen in arms.

In a little borough like Poplar, the house holder has to pay in local taxation alone $2 on every $5 of taxable value. Add to that an income tax of 35 cents on every $5 earned and you can scarcely be surprised that the Londoner has revolted against the party that originally tickled his fancy with delightful vistas of socialistic experiments that would make all the poor rich.

In the constituencies represented by the great labor leaders John Burns and Will Crooks the upheaval has been remarkable. Burns' recent parliamentary opponent has been returned by a large majority.

Woolwich, the supposed stronghold of socialism, where the laborites hold 28 out of the 36 seats, now sends back only one labor councillor. Keir Hardie and other parliamentary socialists stumped the boroughs, but, apparently, only helped to swell the utterly unexpected majority of the moderates.

From the provinces comes the same tale. In the great manufacturing centers where the contests were generally fought on ordinary political lines, the unionists captured many seats from the socialists. The laborites believe that neither these nor the London results have any political significance. That is to say, the country is still liberal and supports the liberal government. But these results do go to show that the great middle class of England, the respectable people of small incomes, and the majority of the laboring classes, have started to fight socialism.

The new division of the national parties is due to the rise of socialism, and this is strikingly proved by Thursday's voting. It is a war that will keep England in an axnious state for many years to come and will affect her position among the powers when the terms liberals and conservatives are forgotten. Conservative papers and speakers today are glorying in their victory, but the wise political prophets of both parties know that socialism has received only a temporary reverse, which is severe, but not decisive.

MEN'S WINTER STYLES

Are Shown in the Book Just Published in Montreal

"Manners and Modes for Men" is the title of the book published by the Semi-ready company in Montreal. Copies may be had free from the manager of the Semi-ready wardrobe here. In the book the president of the Semi-ready company, who is a recognized authority on men's dress, gives a series of effective pictures showing the distinctive character of dress for various pursuits and purposes. While it is impossible to picture that touch of warmth and brightness in the new cloths, the Semi-ready styles cling closely to the subdued and unobtrusive finer cloths which assure distinctive elegance and forbid that too bold effect which is displeasing.

The forecast made some months ago by the author of this book has turned out correct in the tone, the shape and the color most desired by gentlemen. The new sack coat for the fall and winter of 1906 will have neither center or side vents. This has given place to the close waist and flowing hip and the easy fitting sack. Both styles are shown.

The newest winter overcoat is called the French Chesterfield. It is a modification of the fashion first shown.

J. A. Gilker, the pioneer merchant of Nelson, secured the agency for the incomparable Semi-ready.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE

It was evident last night from the crowded state of the opera house that the public had taken the Nelson-Bruce company at their word—that the play of "Arizona" was the best modern play in their repertaire—and had come to see it. Nor were they disappointed. The scene was of the west and though pitched in Arizona yet was of sufficient human interest—the characters being intensely human and not merely melodramatic heroes or villains—to hold the attention of any critical audience. There were many pretty scenes throughout but the finale was easily the best of them all. It came rather unexpectedly and ended by leaving something to the imagination in a manner which brought out the dramatic instinct of both the author and company as perhaps nothing else could have done.

Among the women great talent was shown by Pearl Reesor as the much tempted wife of colonel Bonham and also by the coming young actress, Marie Goodrum, as Lena Kellar, whose scene when accused of the murder of the villain of the piece, was one of the best parts of a highly attractive drama. Lucy Thayer, as Mrs. Canby, was a very well thought out piece of character acting. Jackson Rigby as Col. Bonham, was seen at his best on this present visit and shows also that great strides have been made by him since his engagement at Rossland two years ago by Harold Nelson, Mr. Rigby then being a well known amateur. William Yule as Henry Canby, was a fine piece of acting and Bryce Desmond, as the vaquero, showed to better advantage than in any other play this week. George Dayton, as the villain divided public favor with Clifford Bruce, the hero, and it would be invidious to say which was the most successful in his portrayal of his part.

Tonight will be enacted the "Merchant of Venice," in which Harold Nelson will appear in the best of all his parts—Shylock.

NELSON'S NEWS OF THE DAY

Born, in this city, on Nov. 14, to the wife of George Broderick of Creston, a daughter.

Born, in this city on Nov. 14, to the wife of Dr. James Sproat of Victoria street, a daughter.

It was stated yesterday that Archie Bishop and George Douglas would have charge of the skating rink the coming season.

Attention is directed to the new C.P.R. winter time schedule published elsewhere in this issue, which comes into effect on Sunday next.

Frederick Henry Drake of Sayward and Miss Ada Rose Ankron of Winnipeg were married in Nelson yesterday by Rev. J. T. Ferguson.

A special meeting of Nelson Encampment No. 7 is called for this evening for degree work. Every member in the city is requested to attend.

The regular monthly meeting of the public school trustees will be held in the office of the secretary, Dr. E. C. Arthur, this evening at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. W. A Thurman did not return home from St. Paul last evening as expected. A train wreck in North Dakota prevented connection being made at Moose Jaw. Mr. Thurman, who went to the landing yesterday to meet his wife and family, has gone on to Cranbrook and the party is expected to reach the city this evening.

W. Seatle of the Hume caribou hunting party, has returned home. He declines to give further details than those already published, of the number of animals captured, but he said significantly that there were only two caribou left and that J. Fred Hume and the rest of the party expect to get these and to reach Nelson on Monday evening.

J. S. Carter received a packet of the celebrated Outremont melon seeds, the plants from which are grown only on St. Helen's island, opposite Montreal. Mr. Carter is sending the seeds to J. L. Moore secretary of the Spokane chamber of commerce, who in turn is arranging to grow the plants in some of the market gardens near Spokane, thought to be specially well suited for the culture of melons. Some idea of the value of the Outremont melons may be gathered from the fact that the Waldorf-Astoria hotel of New York, takes yearly the whole crop and obtains from its patrons $1 a portion, or $2 for each melon. The plant it is said, cannot be successfully cultivated hereabouts, but at prevailing prices it might be well worth trying if some enterprising fruit grower would make the experiment.

Tickets for the coming St. Andrew's banquet are now out and meeting with a ready sale, the price this year being reduced to a couple of dollars. A meeting will be held in Mr. Wattie's office on next Monday evening to perfect arrangements for the banquet which will be held in Fraternity hall as at present arranged.

The adjourned meeting of the Wholesalers' association will be held this evening in the board of trade rooms at 8:30. In view of the fact that officers for the year are to be elected, and also that the question of freight rates is to be discussed a full attendance is extremely desirable if the association is to make good its right to exist.

A rock and mudslide on the Great Northern line, about a quarter of a mile west of Troup junction, on the upper line, late on Wednesday night, together with a derailed freight train, which ran into the tumbled down mass, caused a temporary suspension of business on the line between Nelson and Northport yesterday. The morning express for the south was cancelled and so was the northbound train up from Northport, the company having no extra engine on hand for the work, although the traffic along the whole line would justify the company taking proper care of this end of it. The mail, which should have gone out yesterday morning will be dispatched today, as the line will be clear for traffic this morning. Northbound passengers from Spokane last night reached the city by way of Rossland and the C.P.R. from that point.
