BE STRAIGHT

Bishop Ingram's Admonition at Washington

PRAISE FOR ROOSEVELT

ABSOLUTELY STRAIGHT, PRESIDENT'S LEADING CHARACTERISTIC—TO PRESENT PRECIOUS HISTORICAL DOCUMENT TO PEOPLE OF UNITED STATES.

Washington, Sept. 28.—The bishop of London was the centre of interest at today's session of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew's convention held at Continental hall. A great crowd cheered him upon his arrival and paid him the same tribute throughout his stay. After a meeting of the International Council, during which the bishop of the West Indies and a number of others spoke, and several resolutions of a formal character were adopted, the bishop addressed the convention.

"To have a good influence over people you must be absolutely straight," said the bishop, among other things, "and right here let me say that this seems to be the leading characteristic of your splendid president. Since arriving here yesterday I have had three or four hours of the most delightful conversation I ever had with any one in my life."

The announcement was made that the next meeting of the Brotherhood in England would be held on July 2 to 6 inclusive in 1908 at Oxford university.

During the afternoon the members of the various councils were chosen and special meetings held by the Brotherhood in the United States, and the Brotherhood in Canada. The delegates later visited the White House and were received by President Roosevelt.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 28.—The Post-Express says editorially today: "The Post-Express is expected to make the announcement that Dr. Ingram, the lord bishop of London, who is now in this country, is not only the bearer of a bible from king Edward, but brings on his account and that of his historic diocese, the original charter of the colony of Rhode Island, which he intends to present to the people of the United States, through president Roosevelt.

"He found this precious document hidden in the library of his episcopal palace of Fulham in London. No doubt he will have an interesting story to tell. The charter is in excellent preservation with the seals intact and the signatures of the king and counsellors perfectly legible. It seems probable, however, that the bishop's document is the charter granted to Rhode Island and Providence plantations by king Charles the second in 1662. This instrument was liberal, providing that no person should be in any wise molested, punished, disquieted, or called in question for any difference of opinion that does not actually disturb the civil peace. And it is understood to have used almost the exact words of Charles' famous declaration from Breda that did so much to secure him the throne of England. This charter served as a constitution for 180 years till 1843. During the war then waged this charter was abrogated by sir Edmund Andros, but on his deposition, the old government suffrage was added in 1724.

DUNCAN ROSS, M. P.

Thinks C. P. R. Will Start Third Line From Kamloops.

Winnipeg, Sept. 28.—Duncan Ross, M. P. of Greenwood, B. C., who arrived in the city from the east expresses the probability that the C. P. R. will lose no time in securing a third line through the Rockies by way of the Yellowhead pass, running to Kamloops through the valley of the Thompson river. As a matter of fact Mr. Ross affirms that it would be very profitable for the great transcontinental to do this, in the first instance he points out that there is not much country that is capable of being developed on the main line between Banff and Kamloops, while on the proposed mountain line there is a great deal of valuable agricultural land all along the valley of the Thompson river. The Canadian Pacific railway Crow's nest alternate route has developed in a very extraordinary manner, the mining, agricultural and other industries have without number been brought into existence by the daring policy that conceived the construction of that line of railway. In a similar manner he believes that the construction of the Yellowhead pass would have a similar effect not only upon the resources of the company but upon the country through which it would pass. The gauge would be about the same as on the sections across the plains and he did not think that the distance by way of the Yellowhead would be any longer than the main route. There will, however, be some difficulty after the railway lines pass the mountains and want to get down to sea level. Here the question of cost will enter and skilful engineering and greater expenditure will be necessary.

IN THE INTEREST OF PEACE.

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—Archbishop Duhamel in the interests of peace has counselled the Buckingham labor interests not to erect in the cemetery the stone that has been preapred for the two labor union men who were shot in the riots last October. The stone has a French inscription saying, "Glory to the brave," and the like, and is now on exhibition here. It will be shipped to Buckingham next week unless the labormen decide to accept the admonition of the archbishop.

TAFT IN JAPAN.

America and Japan Will Always be Friends Says Secretary.

Tokio, Sept. 28.—Secretary Taft arrived at Yokohama early this morning, and already his first day in Japan has contributed much toward reassuring the apanese in the matter of the feeling entertained regarding them in America.

Thomas J. O'Brien, the new American ambassador to Japan, who arrived with Mr. Taft did not fail in doing his part in the creation of a better feeling between the two countries.

The Hochi Shimbul displaying commendable enterprise, published this evening a half tone picture of the secretary landing at Yokohama, and an interview in which Mr. Taft is quoted as saying: "America and Japan always will be friends. The necessity for arms in trade is something we do not recognize. I speak as the secretary of war of America and also as the secretary of peace."

UNSANITARY WINNIPEG.

Winnipeg, Sept. 28.—Some startling statements will be made in a report on the sanitary conditions in the city bakeries now being prepared by the city health department officials. Inspections by officials, it is claimed, have shown that in many cases the bakeries are not in proper condition and that they are in a dilapidated state. The department has already taken action against some of the proprietors. The definite statement is being made the ingredients for the bread are allowed to stand about so that they collect a liberal supply of dust and dirt. The utensils used, according to the officals are far from clean in many cases. The further statement is made that the bakers are not cleanly in person in numerous instances using dirty hands in the dough and wearing aprons that are not by any means clean.

EDITOR KIDNAPPED

Santa Barbara, Sept. 28—Fremont Older, managing editor of the San Francisco Bulletin who has been active in the prosecution of the bribery graft cases in San Francisco was taken off a south bound Southern Pacific train at 8:30 this evening by a force of 20 deputy sheriffs, who served a warrant for his arrest to appear in the superior court at 10 o'clock this morning on habeau corpus proceedings, instituted to rescue him from the hands of a deputy constable from Los Angeles who, it is alleged, virtually kidnapped him.

FAVORS FREE TRADE

British M.P. on Visit to His old Canadian Home in Ontario

Montreal, Sept. 28—J. A. Baker, M.P. for Elmsbury, London, England, is in the city on a visit to his old home in Trenton, Ont. In an interview he said he wanted Canada to join the mother country on a free trade basis with the world, so that the dominion might enter all markets with the English trades and have the benefits of trade throughout the entire globe. He said the free trade feeling throughout the British isles was becoming stronger every day. The English peoples, he said, wanted Canadian goods and they were anxious to trade with Canada, and when the All Red line was established he looked for an improvement of relations. Personally, Mr. Baker favored the scheme, but the feeling in England, he said, was rather divided on the question.

Regarding the Asiatic question in British Columbia, Mr. Baker said the attitude sir Wilfrid Laurier had taken on the question had met with the heart yapprval of the British authorities as well as the people of England. The solution of the trouble, he thought could be safely left to the Canadian government and the people to settle. From what he knew of British Columbia he thought there was a certain class of work which oriental labor might profitably attend to, such as clearing lands, working in mines and doing ordinary railway labor which artisans and skilled workers would not care to do. Such labor would tend to improve British Columbia and thus obtain better cultivation which would mean much to the people of that portion of the dominion. Oriental labor to a degree, in his opinion, was a necessity to the development of British Columbia.

OFFICIALLY PROCLAIMED

Thanksgiving Day Oct. 31—Quebec Bridge Disaster Refered to England

Ottawa, Sept. 28—This week's Canada Gazette contains a royal proclamation, making Thursday, Oct. 31, a day of general thanksgiving.

Another proclamation further adjourns the meeting of parliament to Nov. 7.

Earl Grey has received a letter from lord Elgin, colonial secretary, concerning the sympathy of the British government in the Quebec bridge disaster and concluding as follows: "His majesty's government fully realizes the extent of this calamity in regarding the development of the new transcontinental railway, which, when completed will form a fresh link in imperial communications, but they rely on Canadian enterprise to make good the disaster to so important an undertaking.

INGLORIOUS ENDING

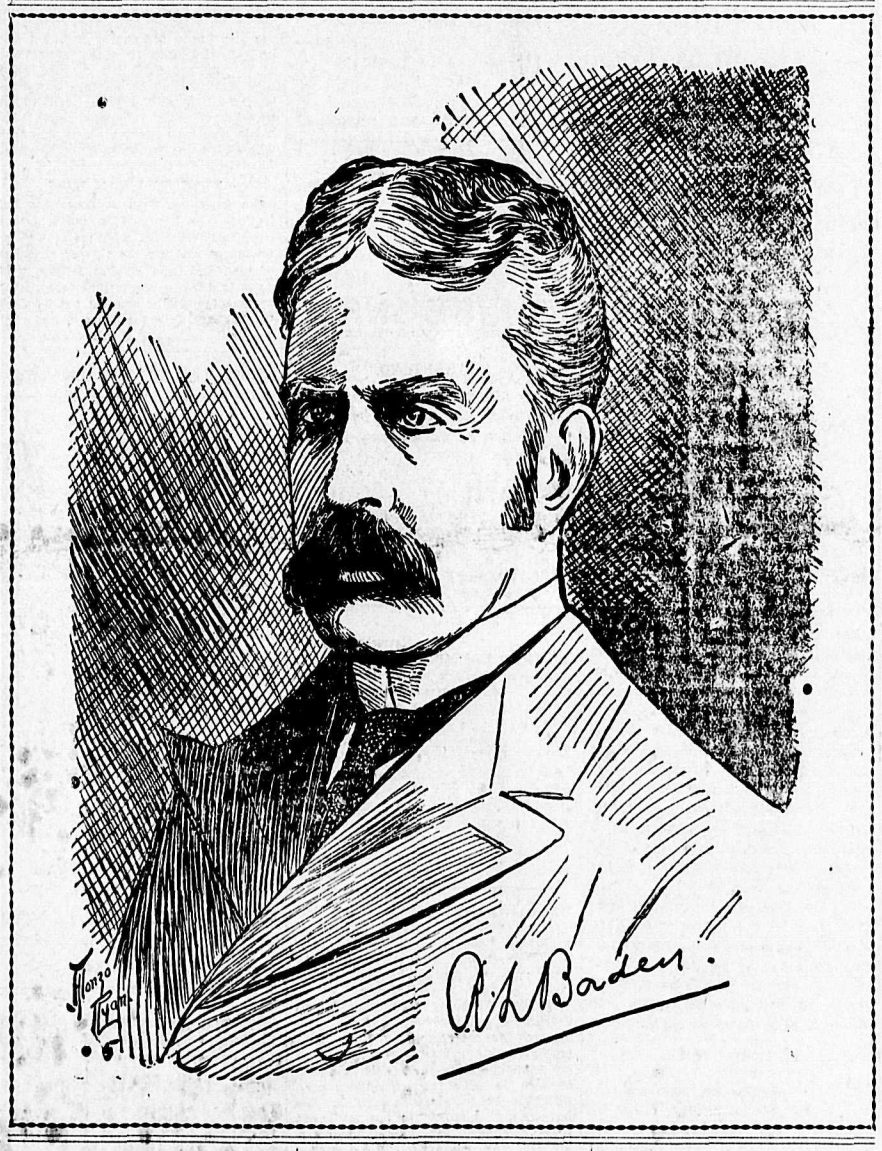
Toronto, Sept. 28 — Knapp's roller boat, that promised once to revolutionize maritime business, broke loose from its moorings last night and floated in the bay until it finally bunted into the steamer Turbina, which was tied up and caused considerable damage.

R. L. BORDEN ACCORDED CORDIAL RECEPTION

Premier McBride Declares Slogan for the Coming Campaign to be "Better Terms"—Opposition Leader Goes Over Main Points of Platform as Laid Down by Him at Halifax—Witty Speech by J. G. Bergeron

R. L. Borden, the conservative leader, has every reason to be gratified with the reception tendered him in this city last evening. The opera house at which the public meeting was held, whilst not crowded when the proceedings commenced, soon filled up and by the time the leader came forward every seat was occupied in all parts of the building by as attentive and appreciative an audience as any man could desire to address. There was no great display of enthusiasm, but the speakers were given a cordial hearing and their good points were applauded generously.

It was just 8:35 o'clock when the party took their seats on the platform, R. L. Borden and premier McBride taking seats respectively to the right and left of the chairman, Dr. W. O. Rose.



The front of the stage had been tastefully decorated with beautiful flowers arranged by Mrs. W. A. Macdonald. The other members of the party were Mr. Bergeron and Dr. Reid. On the platform were seated, in addition, the leading conservatives from outside points, who had come in to Nelson expressly to hear their leaders. Among these were noted: N. McKay, M.P.P., W. Hunter, M.P.P., Jas. Scholfield, M.P.P., R. F. Green, D. Carney, M. Burrell, A. B. Mackenzie, W. A. Macdonald, A. H. McNeil, A. B. Watts, W. Brandon, A. S. Goodeve, F. Starkey, Jas. Anderson, F. Fauquier, Melville Parry and H. R. Jorand.

Premier McBride spoke first and in some respects his speech was the most effective of the evening. He spoke with vigor and in dealing with his pet hobby, "better terms," became quite impassioned. Moreover, the premier spoke solely with a view to arousing his party's entnusiasm locally for the coming dominion campaign. Of course the same motive prompted the leader's speech, but Mr. Borden does not enthuse, he is always the quiet, self-contained lawyer, appealing in thoughtful language to the jury. McBride made it clear that in British Columbia in the coming dominion campaign, the tory slogan will be "better terms." He repeated statements made by him on the coast regarding the Asiatic immigration question and went over the ground of the "better terms" controversy. His speech warmed up the audience and made an excellent prelude to the weightier utterances of the leader.

Chairman Rose briefly introduced Mr. Borden as the coming premier of Canada and upon Mr. Borden rising to address the audience he was greeted with loud applause and cheers from the faithful on the platform. Mr. Borden spoke with considerable force and with more animation than characterised his speech here on a former occasion. He was listened to with the utmost attention and undoubtedly created a very favorable impression. An extended report of his remarks and of those who spoke after him follows, so that our readers may judge for themselves as to the merits of the matter and the manner of what the tory propagandists had to say. The meeting was a most enjoyable one throughout, characterised by excellent order and the most kindly consideration of the various speakers. This brief review would be entirely inadequate were no mention made of the excellent fun making provided by Bergeron of Quebec. On the present tour Mr. Bergeron takes the place of Lefurgey, of P. E. I., as the funny man of the troupe. A big burly genial man, Bergeron plays his part admirably, and save for one atrocious pun his efforts to amuse and enliven the audience were heartily appreciated.

Dr. Rose opened the meeting as chairman by introducing the premier of the province as the first speaker.

Hon. R. McBride referred in the start of his speech to the recent provincial election complaining that about 50 conservative electors had refrained from voting, thus converting a conservative majority of 49 into a minority of one!

He went on to speak honefully of the prospects of the conservative party at the next dominion election. Passing to provincial affairs he said that he had not advised governor Dunsmuir to withhold his assent to the Natal Act. The governor had exercised his perrogative and referred the bill to Ottawa. At the present time Asiatics are swarming into the provinces, yet Ottawa is apparently holding out both arms to the incomers. The solution of the problem lay with the conservative party. Going on to the question of better terms the premier recapitulated the circumstances of the Ottawa conference and his subsequent visit to London. When the conservatives returned to power then the case of British Columbia would have a proper hearing. Since confederation this province has paid into the dominion twenty million dollars more than it had received. It had presented the dominion government with a strip of land 500 miles long by 40 miles wide, 2,500,000 acres on Vancouver and 3,500,000 acres on the Peace river. Hence the question of better terms was the first question for the people of this province, they have treated Ottawa generously and only want fair play in return.

Then was introduced to the audience R. L. Borden, as the future premier of Canade. His rising was signalled by cheering and applause. Mr. Borden thanked the audience, as he said he had had to thank the audiences elsewhere in the provnce, for their cordiality. Everywhere, Mr. Borden said, he had been greeted by ladies and the numerous ladies present in the Nelson audience were here, as they had been elsewhere, an augury of success. The men always did what their ladies told them to do, if not at once, well, later on. The married men were initiated as to the secret of this; the unmarried would understand at a future date.

Mr. Borden took this early opportunity of thanking Hon. Richard McBride publicly for the hearty support he had received from him in his present tour of the province.

"Had Mr McBride not withdrawn from the Ottawa conference," said the opposition leader, "he would have been blameworthy, but it took a strong and a courageous man to do as Mr. McBride had done. The people of this province had a debt to pay to their premier for his stand on this question and for the further invaluable services rendered to British Columbia by him in London. Senator Templeman had done his best, not only here but all over Canada, to make the question of better terms a dead issue. This cannot be done. There are great questions dividing the east and the west. There is a danger of a divergence of interest—a danger of divergence of sentiment. It would be right therefore for the east to extend to the west the utmost fair play. Long before he question had assumed its present acute stage I saw that the matter was an important one and I declared that I would make it a matter of enquiry if returned to power. Still I promise that when the conservatives return to power than an enquiry will be made and justice done."

Referring briefly to the circumstance of the return to Ottawa of seven liberals at the dominion election of 1904, Mr. Borden said he would be content if at the next general election seven conservatives were returned. Sir Wilfrid Laurier had not approved of the seven sent him, for in selecting a man to fill a portfolio from British Columbia, he had passed over each of the seven, after looking at them carefully, in favor of a gentleman from the senate.

Mr. Borden then went into the matter of transcontinental railways. The liberals had acted in this matter not in the interests of Canada but in the interests of the Grand Trunk Pacific The proposal at the last election of the conservative party was to build the Grand Trunk Pacific as a national highway. The government was then putting up nine-tenths of the cost. It was not much to go a step further and pay the other tenth. Then the railway would have been a national asset. The people would have had a control over the rates and the management of the railway. The conservatives, if their alternative policy had been adopted, would have seen that this was done. The general growth of the country would then have accrued to the benefit of the people of Canada and not for the benefit of the Grand Trunk, in which the people are not participating. The cash and credit for the building of the road were practically all of the people. They supplied it and in consequence it is but common honesty that they should own the railway. As time goes on the people of Canada will realize how much the bargain of the trustees for the people, the liberal government, and ratified by the general election, was an improvident contract, and was not for the good of Canada, but for the good of the Grand Trunk. The contract was made and it must be abided by, but for all time to come this generation and the generations to follow would be paying higher rates because of that bargain.

Going into the question of immigration Mr. Borden reminded his audience that he had pointed out all over the province the evils of the present arrangement. He went into the history of Asiatic immigration He showed that sir Wilfrid Laurier had the advantage of the royal commission of enquiry which reported in 1903. Yet he had done nothing. He had said the matter was solved. But it was not. A treaty had been signed which let the Japanese in. "Mr. Fisher told us," said Mr. Borden, "on his return from Japan, where he had gone practically as an ambassador, that the Japanese were a home loving nation. He said that the immigration would be restricted to a few each year, and that he had a written agreement to that effect. Now, when the treaty of 1906 came up sir Wilfrid Laurier said that this agreement still held good and hence there was no opposition to the approval of the treaty."

"Now," went on the tory leader, "the rovince of British Columbia must be colonized and dominated by the same races which have colonized not only the west, but also the east of Canada. The west knows better of the trouble of Asiatic immigration than does the east and it is to the west that the east must turn for a solution of the problem."

Going on to the question of the ownership of certain public facilities Mr. Borden asserted that the first question in Canada was the ownership of such public facilities In most countries of the world, not British the railways were government owned The government of Canada had done one good thing, the creation of a railway commission. The commission should be extended and divided into two, one a tribunal and one an executive, with control over the public utilities. A story had been told him of a shipper of lumber over the Intercolonial, who had sent a car of lumber 70 miles which had reached its destination so quickly that a bird had had time to build a nest and hatch out its eggs. The railway commission was looking into matters of this kind. It was extending its control over telephones and would shortly do so over telegraphs. There should be a telegraphs and telephones government system. Canada had already 7000 miles of such a system where the people had no adequate return for the money invested. Why should not the people have a system in those parts where the telegraphs would pay? But these things must not be carried on in the same manner as is the Intercolonial. There must be a civil service reform. There should be no man appointed to a government position without fitness. The liberal government had scandalously abused their power of appointment. There were plenty of such instances.

"What did the audience think," asked Mr Borden "of giving a position to a man twice before in jail; to appointing another man who was openly accused of suborning perury. Sir Richard Cartwright had defended this man by making a new commandment "Thou shalt be discreet and then thou shalt not be found out."

Mr. Borden then declared that the system of appointment to public office should be by competitive examination and by an independent board of commissioners. Competitive examination might not be the best method of selection, but it was far better than the present system. Reformation in this regard would make the public servant more independent and thus the people would be better served.

"There are three essentials of democratic government," concluded Mr. Borden, which he stated to be:

The honest appropriation and expenditure of public money, decent selection of men for public office; purity in elections.

The tory leader went on to declare that in every one of these essentials of government the liberal party had utterly failed. Take the case of the West Huron fraudulent election. The false ballots had been picked out. Yet there had been no completion of the enquiry. Sir Wilfrid Laurier had stopped it. The perpetrators of those frauds should have gone to jail, yet sir Wilfrid had condoned their offences. There had ensued a carnival of corrupt elections culminating in the scandal of the London election, which the speaker went into with some detail. The deputy returning officer had deliberately paid the voters their bribes, except where he had divided the bribe, in a case of doubt, with his assistant. These things, Mr. Borden charged to the fault of the leaders of the party and to the party itself. If these offences were condemned by the public there was a little hope for he purity of public life in Canada.

Mr. Borden sat down in a storm of applause saying as his last word that he hoped the next election would see a conservative elected in this riding.

The third speaker was J. H. Bergeron, who took up the older issues of the conservative party—saying that the liberals had stolen the National Policy and that the expenditure had largely increased despite the promises of economy. Mr. Bergeron's treatment of these matters was utterly novel to most of his audience who were kept amused for the best part of his speech. A point made by Mr. Bergeron was whereas the expenditure of the country had increased 200 or 300 per cent yet the population had only increased 2 or 3 per cent. Mr. Bergeron brought up many instances of waste of public money. Among these was a case of a wharf to which no boat could come, so the government had staved off unpleasant enquiry by saying, "Never mind, we'll make a bridge of it." And they did.—This brought down the audience.

Mr. Bergeron spoke at some length and with much humor, the burden of his remarks being that the liberals were corrupt and would not punish the corruptionists, whereas the tories had punished with imprisonment instances which had occurred under conservative administration.

The meeting ended with Mr. Bergeron's clever speech, the hour being 11 o'clock. There were cheers given for the leader of the opposition, for the premier of the province and for the member for Beaubarnois, J. H. Bergeron, and the conclusion came with the singing of the national anthem.

The party was afterwards serenaded by the Rossland band, when an informal reception was held by the leader of the opposition.

LOCAL CHINESE MERCHANTS TO ASK FOR $25,000 DAMAGES CAUSED BY RECENT RIOT—SENATOR COX BUYS LELAND HOTEL PROPERTY AT BIG FIGURE.

(Special to The Daily News)

Vancouver, Sept. 28.—Senator Cox has purchased the old Leland hotel property here at the price of eighty-five thousand dollars. It is understood the purchase was made for the Canada Life Assurance Co., which will erect a five-story structure on the plot next year.

Northern advices state that John Houston has recovered possession of his printing press through the aid of a provincial constable. Chief Engineer Bacon of the G. T. P., was impressed by the provincial official to assist in removing the plant from the quarters where the railway men had stored it. It is understood that he has made arrangements which will allow Houston to get out his paper at Prince Rupert.

Local Chinese merchants have completed their damage claims incurred during the recent riot. The full amount is twenty-five thousand dollars, of which twenty thousand is for consequental damages owing to loss of business resulting through the riots.

The New Westminster lacrosse team has again won the championship, defeating the Maple Leafs this afternoon by a score of ten to three.

FIFTEEN KILLED

Bad Accident on Chicago Express—Heroic Surgical Operation

Wheeling, Sept. 28—The Chicago express, a Baltimore and Ohio fast train, running between Chicago and Wheeling, crashed into a freight train in the Bellaire yards near here at 3:30 this afternoon. Seveal cars were demolished and 15 persons were killed and a score injured, some of them fatally. Among the passengers were a number of members of a comic opera troupe. The train is said to have been four hours late and was running at high speed when the collision occurred.

Engineer H. A. Lipecomb, of the passenger train underwent probably the most heroic surgical operation in moden times. Caught beneath his engine, it was found impossible to emove the broken iron from his body on account of the way in which one of his legs was entangled, and escaping steam across his face made it impossible to administer an anesthetic. As a result a physician amputated his leg as he lay there conscious. Despite the burning and the pain of the operation, he bore it bravely. It is feared, however, that the man will die.

All the members of the opera company escaped serious injury except Alfred Dolby, the musical director. It was found necessary to amputate his right arm, thus ending his career in his profession. He was riding in the smoker and was found with a timber tightly binding him by the arms. At the office of superintendent Loree tonight it was said that they were not certain who was to blame for the accident but a thorough investigation was under way. The property damage will amount to about $50,000.

ANOTHER COBALT STRIKE.

Cobalt, Ont., Sept. 28.—Yesterday afternoon a rich strike was made on the United States cobalt mine in Bucks township, adjoining the Chambers-Ferland property. The strike is a vein of argentine, ten inches wide which will run 1,000 to 2,500 ounces of silver to the ton. The find is twenty-five feet from the main shaft at a depth of fifty feet.

THE POLICE TANGLE

The services of two tried and experienced officers, chief Pitchford and sergeant Wightman, have been dispensed with and their places filled by two unknown men from Revelstoke. This is the outcome of the recent police tangle in addition to the discharge of constables McBeath and Young.

We had hoped that the days of comic opera methods in our civic government had passed and that all important business would be conducted on sane, businesslike lines. This hope has been badly shattered of late. We have seen matters seriously affecting the good government of the city dealt with in the most inconsequential manner and with utter disregard for the true interests of ratepayers.

It was generally expected that the police commissioners would act upon the suggestion of alderman Selous and make some effort, through the offices of police magistrate Crease, to prevent the complete disorganization of the police force. Instead of this course being pursued, no attempt whatever to smooth matters out was made, but overtures were made to the Revelstoke men to apply for the vacancies and immediately upon their arrival in town a hurried meeting of the board was called, the resignations of Pitchford and Wightman accepted and the new men appointed.

This extremely casual treatment of men who have served the city faithfully and well is glaringly inconsistent with the treatment meted out to another civic official. Superintendent Smith, of the electrical department, in order to avoid an investigation into an occurrence which placed in question his fitness for so responsible a position, tendered his resignation, which was accepted. A few days are allowed to elapse and then without further enquiry into the matter he is reappointed to his old position. If the treatment meted out to Smith can be defended, there can be no pretense at defense of the treatment accorded chief Pitchford and sergeant Wightman.

For the sake of decency and fair play, we trust the matter will not be allowed to pass over without some further effort on the part of the council to undo, what if allowed to pass unchallenged, will place the city of Nelson in a very unpleasant light.

EDITORIAL NOTE.

The tory meeting last night was devoid of any special interest, either by reason of any momentous utterance upon the part of the tory leaders or any marked display of enthusiasm. The gathering was enlivened by the large attendance of the faithful from outside points, Kaslo and Rossland being particularly well represented. Mr. Borden spoke in his customary style, though with greater animation than usually characterises his public addresses. Premier McBride was in his customary fighting form and made it clear that the provincial government will enter actively into the coming campaign on behalf of the tory party. This is a somewhat ludricous attitude for premier McBride to take up in view of his perfervid denunciation of Ottawa domination at the late provincial elections. Premier McBride intends to drag the "better terms" question into the dominion fight, notwithstanding his repeated declarations that this is not a party question. However, the tories must have an issue and as they cannot, as good Canadians, question the policy of the Laurier administration in dominion affairs, they will make the most of the dry bones of "better terms."

SHOULD TAKE 'EM EAST.

Ottawa Millman Fond of Japanese—"No Danger" He Says.

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—Albert MacLaren, the big mill owner at Buckingham, near here, who has had considerable experience with the Japanese in British Columbia, is of the opinion that the white residents of the western provinces are making a grave mistake in attempting to drive the Japanese and Hindus out of the country or to prevent them from landing. The James McLaren lumber company, which has mills at Buckingham and Vancouver, have employed many Japanese in the past two years, and Mr. MacLaren stats that the foreigners have always given the best of satisfaction.

"British Columbia needs Japanese to develop its wonderful resources," remarked Mr. MacLaren. "White men are preferable certainly, but there are not enough whites in British Columbia to keep up with the tremendous pace at which the province is growing. We have many Japanese in our mills out there although the white employees are in the majority. The Japanese have never failed to do their work. There is no danger of the Japanese preventing white men from getting employment there. There is undoubtedly plenty of work in B. C. for all hands. Canada needs these Japanese."

OLD AGE PENSIONS.

Commission Getting Information in Nova Scotia Mines.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 28.—The commission appointed by the local legislature to enquire into and report upon the possibility of adopting a system of providing old age pensions for workmen in the mines of Nova Scotia, concluded its session in this vicinity today with a short meeting held in the Sydney mines. The commission have held daily sessions since last Wednesday mainly taking up with examination of those principally affected by the proposed scheme. G. H. Duggan, manager of the Dominion Coal company, and F. B. Brown, manager of the Nova Scotia company, were among those examined. So far, generally speaking, the evidence adduced has gone to show that while there is general satisfaction expressed at the present system of relief, in case of accident or sickness, there is room for improvement and that any measure bringing such improvement about, would be welcomed. Anything, however, that would tend to merge under one common control the existing miners' relief with the proposed old age pensions would it is thought meet with strong opposition. The commission adjourned to meet again here in about three weeks time, after having visited, for the purpose of gathering further information, at Springhill, Inverness and Stellarton.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CO., Ltd.

Dear Sirs—While in the country last summer I was badly bitten by mosquitoes, so badly that I thought I would be disfigured for a couple of weeks. I was advised to try your liniment to allay the irritation and did so. The effect was more than I expected, a few applications completely curing irritation and preventing the bites from becoming sore. MINARD'S LINIMENT is also a good article to keep off the Mosquitoes. Yours truly,

ANXIOUS FOR RACE.

Sir Thomas Lipton Prepared to Challenge Under Old Rules.

London, Sept. 28.—The officers of the Royal Irish Yacht club have decided, instead of sending a reply to the New York Yacht club today, to call a meeting of the Irish club for October 2 at which the answer of the American club to sir Thomas Lipton's challenge for the America cup and what further action, if any, is necessary will be fully considered.

Sir Thomas expects to be present and will explain what he is anxious to do in order to bring about another series of races for the cup, namely, build a ninety-footer under the new American rules.

He is so desirous of arranging for another contest that he said today that he really believed after all, he would challenge under the old rules if he could get a designer of note to plan a boat for him. He was afraid, however, that it was impossible to get any man whose boat would have any chance of winning to do the work, as all those he had spoken to took the same view of the matter as William Fife, who says it is useless to attempt to recapture the cup with a fresh boat which would have to be sailed across the Atlantic, and who under no circumstances will undertake to design such a yacht.

TWIN SULLIVAN WINS

San Francisco, Sept. 28—Australian Bill Squires, the heavyweight pugilist, who came to this country with the avowed intention of wresting the title of champion of the world from big Jim Jeffries, went down to defeat a second time today, when he was practically knocked out by Jack "Twin" Sullivan in the 19th round of what was to have been a 25 round contest.

FEARFUL PAINS

SUGGESTIONS HOW WOMEN MAY FIND RELIEF.

While no woman is entirely free from periodical suffering it does not seem to be the plan of nature that women should suffer so severely. This is a severe strain on a woman's vitality. When pain exists something is wrong which should be set right or it will lead to a serious derangement of the whole female organism.

Thousands of women have testified in grateful letters to Mrs. Pinkham that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound overcomes women's special pains and irregularities.

It provides a safe and sure way of escape from distressing and dangerous weaknesses and diseases.

The two following letters tell so convincingly what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will do for women, they cannot fail to bring hope to thousands of sufferers.

Miss Matilda Richardson of 177 Wellington Street, Kingston, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Some four years ago my usually good health began to fail. I had severe pains in my back, my head ached, I would have dizzy spells, and during my monthly periods I would suffer intense pain. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so glad that I did, for it brought new life and health to me. My monthly periods were natural and painless, and my general health improved. I have not had an ache or a pain since, and I feel it a duty as well as a pleasure to tell you what your medicine has done for me."

Mme. Louise McKenzie, of Mount Carmel, Montreal, Canada, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I had heard so much good about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before I started to take it for painful periods so that when it cured me I was not surprised. I had suffered with blinding headaches and pain until it seemed that I must scream. These pains lasted from five to ten days every month, and you can understand how glad I was to get relief. I am in the best of health, and am pleased to give you this testimonial for what your medicine has done for me."

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound rests upon the well-earned gratitude of Canadian women.

When women are troubled with irregularities, displacements or ulceration of the organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, bloating, (or flatulency), general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about your sickness you do not understand. She will treat you with kindness and her advice is free. No woman ever regretted writing her and she has helped thousands. Address Lynn, Mass.

STOCKS FOR THE WEEK

A FURTHER DECLINE ON NEARLY EVERY MARKET

VOLUME OF BUSINESS HANDLED IS ABOVE AVERAGE

(Reported by B. B. Mighton & Co.)

The past week witnessed a decline in stocks on nearly every market, there being but few exceptions to the downward movement. This decline has made it possible to secure dividend paying stocks at prices, which have not been touched for several years, with a result that the volume of business handled has been far above the average.

B. C. Copper remained almost unchanged until Friday of last week when another decline took place, the shares dropping to 5 3-4.

Dominion Copper strengthened slightly during the middle of the week ,but sold off during the last two days and changed hands at from $3 to $3.12 1-2. Consolidated Smelters were offered freely at between $105 and $110. This is a new low record for these securities and is a good deal below the price at which they were originally placed on the market. Cariboo-McKinney weakened and was offered in large blocks at 3 1-2. Alberta Coal sold off to 3 cents per share, offerings being n evidence at about 38c. International Coal and Coke had a slight advance, selling up about 1 cent per share over last week's quotations. Rambler-Cariboo remained almost unchanged with but little business offered.

Following are the approximate quotations for the week ending yesterday:

IMPROVED OUTLOOK

Montreal, Sept. 28—An enquiry at the leading banks in this city today elicited the informatino that the outlook is much more favorable from a financial standpoint throughout the three provinces of Manitba, Albertoa and Saskatchewan than was the case three months ago. As a matter of fact the merchants and the business men generally have heeded the warning note sounded all through the three provinces several months ago by the conservative banking men and this accounts for the improved outlook.

I was so weak from an attack of diarrhoea that I could scarcely attend to my duties, when I took a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. NEW YORK FASHION LETTER

New York, Sept. 28ht.—As soon as the heat of summer lessens, as soon as the days begin to shorten and people begin to return to their u.ual task of the year, women begin to look about them and inquire what are the fashions to be this fall and winter. It is early as yet for those functions that require the more elaborate gowns; but there is one gown that the majority of women will buy aas soon as possible it is the walking tailor-made suit. This fad, for fad it has become, of the tailor-made suit. is one of the salient features of the fall fasulons, but it is a fad that contains all the essentials of permanency.

There are two kinds of tailor-made costumes. The one for morning wear or business purposes only, whose chief characteristic is sever plainness; and the other more elaborate and very often of the three piece model intended for church,calling, the restaurant dinner or theatre wear. At least the designers have given considerable thought and work to the needs of the individual figure. A good many of these new models were inspected recently upon their arrival from the foreign and American makers.

The "Trotteur" or side-wall shirt as it is called and the man tailored finish in the jacket is the fashion for the severe tailor-made suit, which to be quite up to date should be developed in one of the new worsteds that come in plaids cheecks, broken or unbroken and stripes as well as the solid colors. Serges and cheviots closely follow the worsteds in popular favor.

As to colors—the choice of which is always impotant to gain both style and becomingness, the majority of women will be glad to know that blue will be a leader this winter; for blue is one of the colors most generally becoming. There are different shades of blue so that all varieties of complexion may be suited. Navy, an ald friend, and royal are prime favorites. Copenhagen, which looks like the blue seen in some old fashioned china, and nattier blue are to be much used as well. The browns are still to be used; russet, mahogany, and all the leather shades. For rest green and the bronze tints will again be in vogue. Silver and mouse grey were seen in two imported gowns, as well as in one in bordeaux red and a fourth in rose. But for the severe tailor suit the blues, mouse gray and dull browns are most in favor by the well-dressed women. Of course, black is always in favor with many women and is especially conspicuous where trimmings are used. The brighter and more highly patterened fabrics will be more generally used by the first makers for the afternoon costumes.

There are a few essentials required in the latest mode of morning suits. To make it strictly correct. The skirt must be short so that it escapes the ground anywhere from three to six inches four being the usual length. Though they may be plaited, kilted, or box-plaited the plaits must be carried until past the hips for small hips are the fashion and it behooves every woman to at least gain the effect. It is better that the short woman should have her skirts plain plaited but she who is tall of figure may have her skirts trimmed with three bands, the lower forms the hem which model is frequently seen in imported models.

A drop skirt is a necessity, made either of taffeta, moreen or mohair trimmed with one or more silk ruffles or plaitings, and this skirt should be as carefully fitted to the figure as the outer skirt. If the goods of the outer skirt should be of a thinner material than serge an underskirt of satin will set better than one of silk; but for service the heavier fabrics are the better choice for winter. The jacket for this costume may be ont of two styles: The "Finger Length Coat." so called because it ends at the point where the fingers touch when the arm is held straight, when worn by the slender figure the seams are sloped slightly, but in case of the full figure they should be pretty well under the arm and in the back, but rather loose in front. It comes in both single and double-breasted styles. The "Cut away" is particularly effective on a woman of medium figure for which the back should extend about fifteen inches below the waist line. The trimmings should be flat and may be of velvet or of the cloth. The length of the coat as a rule has slightly increased and the buttons are not now decorated, but made of the same material.

The sleeve—an important item—in all the tailor made suits seen, the full length was used and trimmed with cuffs of velvet or cloth according to which every material was used for the collar and buttons.

A very attractive, but none the less serviceable suit which will be stylish for the fall and was modelled after a French importation was made of gray worsted flecked with white. The jacket was of one of the smartest designs, a close fitting "cut away" a style that is particularly modish in the regulation suiting for the tailored gowns. The coat slopes beautifully at the back, and under the arms; and the long seams in front, from shoulder to bottom edge just all fullness to a nicety. It closes in double-breasted style but slopes gradually away from the top button, and the fronts are cut away from the lowest button. The neck may be finished with a stitched shawl collar, or a flat trimming of braid, or galloon may take its place. In the present instance the shawl collar was used and stitched as the whole dress in dark gray silk. The sleeves were arranged in the arm hole with gathers, and a cuff with a backward turned tab completed the jacket. If intended for winter wear such a coat would better have an interlining and an inner one of silk.

NELSON NEWS OF THE DAY

The temperature yesterday varied between 46 and 72 degrees.

A diamond drill is being set to work upon the Arlington at Slocan.

The Ottawa mine, which has not been working recently, is again starting up.

Born, in this city on Saturday, Sept. 28, to the wife of Harry James, High street, a daughter.

J. T. Martin, local manager of the Canadian Fairbanks company left for the coast last night on a business trip.

At the Presbyterian church this morning there will be a children's service and there will not be any Sunday school in the afternoon.

The launch race for the Citizens' cup was pulled off at Slocan City yesterday over a seven mile course. Eight launches entered, the winner proving to be Ed Angrignon's Leader.

Frank Griffiths has just made a second strike on the Westmont at 10-Mile. From the first strike which was made some time ago, a car was shipped to the Trail smelter, which went over $3000.

Joe Bradshaw, C.P.R. conductor of this city, was called to Seattle last night owing to the death of his brother, Frederick. This is the third death in the family in two years, Mr. Bradshaw, the father dying two months ago.

Delegates to the liberal convention at Vancouver this week are leaving tonight for Revelstoke where a special coach will be provided for their accommodation. From Cranbrook, Nelson and Rossland are going 35 delegates and there will be others from various Kootenay points so that there is likely to be a big representation of Kootenay at Revelstoke on Monday night.

Angus McGillivray and A. Erickson of Sandon were awarded the first prize of $500 at the Spokane exhibition, making 53 inches in irregular soft rock. Frank Johnson of Silverton, was third in the single drilling. Referring to the boy's contest the Spokesman says: Although struck in the head with a five pound hammer in the fore part of the eight minute drilling and his little hands bleeding from being struck by the rough edge of the hammer slipping from the steel, little Tommy Stevens stuck to his task and with his associate, Teddy Chenowoth, boy drillers from Rossland, winning hearty rounds of applause from the two thousand people assembled in the big tent on the fair ground last night to witness the boy's exhibition drilling and the fore part of the single handed contest. Tommy Stevens, less than 13 years of age and weighing but 62 1-2 pounds, is the son of Ed Stevens, an employee of the Canadian Consolidated mines at Rossland. His associate Teddy Chenowoth is the son of miner John Chenowoth, employed at the same mine. In the eight minutes allotted he boys they drilled through 11 7-8 inches.

SPARS IS SARCASTIC

Thinks Lipton's Advisers Want to Capture America Cup too Easily

New York, Sept. 28—John R. Spars, the yachting expert, says, in an interview published here: "The action of the New York yacht club in declining to accept the challenge of sir Thomas Lipton to sail a race for the America cup with a boat not only of a size inferior to those that have recently raced for it, but of a type decidedly slower, ought to have the hearty support of every sportsman in the United States and of the world. It has always stood the prize of the swiftest yacht in the world and of large type and because it has been successfully defended against the attacks of yachting nations in Europe.

"Sir Thomas wants a fair raceSIGFOsj?. g

"Sir Thomas has good sporting blood, blood that is as good as his advisors are bad. Sir Thomas wants a fair race on the best terms possible. The others want to get hold of the cup by hook or crook. They have waged a long war of words and they succeeded in throwing so much dust into American eyes that a rule was adopted to discourage the building of swift boats. They have not yet succeeded in making the America cup the trophy of a class of houseboats."

MILLS ARE CLOSING.

F. A. Anstie Returns From a Trip Into East Kootenay and Alberta.

F. A. Anstie, secretary of the Mountain Lumberman's association, got back yesterday from a trip into East Kootenay and through the province of Alberta. Speaking of the lumber situation to a Daily News reporter Mr. Anstie said: "I find about 50 per cent of the production of timber cut off owing to the mills having closed down and a great many other mills are announcing their intention of discontinuing operations within a few weeks. It also appears to be certain that logging operations will be probably from 50 to 60 per cent less than the scale of 1906. The reason for this is the decrease demand from the prairie provinces induced by the stringency of the money market curtailing building operations."

Synopsis of Canadian Homestead Regulation

ANY available Dominion Lands within the Railway Belt of British Columbia may be homesteaded by any persons who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother, or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

1. At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

2. If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

3. If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

COAL—Coal mining rights may be leased for a period of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2560 acres shall be leased to one individual or company. A royalty at the rate of five cents per ton shall be collected on the merchantable coal mined.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

WEEK'S ORE SHIPMENTS

ORE OUTPUT IS MAINTAINING YEAR'S AVERAGE

HEAVIER TONNAGE IS BEING LOOKED FOR

The shipments for the past week while not as large as those for the week previous which was a record in the history of the mines of this district, shows that the normal state has been again reached in the smelters and there is little likelihood that there will be any further shortage of coke to retard development within the near future. The Boundary smelters and the smelter at Trail are all equipping themselves to deal with a heavier tonnage.

Appended will be found the ore shipments and smelter receipts in detail for the past week and year to date in tons.

Rossland, Sept. 28—The coke situation is considerably improved but still there is a chance for its betterment. The Trail smelter for instance, is running five out of its seven furnaces and could run the entire seven if there was more coke. There is no trouble whatever about securing a sufficient quantity of ore as the mines could put out a largely increased amount were there all the coke that is needed.

THE HUB

The Right Kind of Clothes

You don't need to be told that a man's clothes help him to success or doom him to failure. If they're right, to the former; if they're wrong, to the latter.

The old saying, "it isn't the clothes that makes the man," doesn't hold good in the eyes of the world at the present day.

The most stylish clothes command the most attention. I can't promise you success, but I can give you the clothes that will help you to it.

FLOODS IN SOUTHERN FRANCE.

Terrible Destruction of Property and Heavy Loss of Life.

Paris, Sept. 28.—The flood situation in the south of France is a little better today. The papers are filled with accounts of the immense destruction caused in the department of Herault, where the damage is principally confined, and which is estimated at four million.

Reports from the departments of the Rhone, Gard and Vaer say that the rivers everywhere have overflown their banks, inundated the neighborhood, causing much distress among the people in these districts, many of whom sought refuge in the upper part of their houses, and have been without food for days. The authorities are hurrying relief supplies to the flooded sections of the country. A number of bodies have been recovered in various parts of the departments mentioned, but the exact loss of life is not known. A dispatch from Marseilles says that an unprecedented rainfall there has flooded the lower parts of the city. In the department of Ardeche the rains have caused a dangerous rise in the streams and serious breaks in several dams have occurred.

His friend explained that so far the band boys were safe.

AUTO RACES

New York, Sept. 28—Speeding through a sea of mud and a downpour of rain the 35 horse power car driven by Cedrin and Burke, finished first in the 24 hour automobile races at Morris park tonight at 10:21 o'clock, having covered 984 miles. The second was the Studebaker car driven by Holme and Delmar, with 878 miles and the third the Italian car with 873 miles.

The heavy rain compelled all of the drivers to slow down somewhat and the record made at the same track three weeks ago by A. Renauld, 1079 miles was not equalled.

The tragic death of L. W. Smelzer, whose car ran into the fence shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, had a deterrent effect upon other drivers.
