STORY OF OUTRAGE

Virginia Girl Rivals Tale Told by Evelyn Thaw in New York.

Judge Loving's Daughter, as Principal Witness in His Trial for Murder, Tells of Being Drugged and Ruined.

Houston, Va., June 25—Between sobs, and with tears streaming from her eyes, Miss Elizabeth Loving, who has been a principal in the trial of her father ,Judge William G. Loving, for the murder of Theodore Estes, testified here today of her alleged ruin by the young man whom the parent shot to death.

The trial was probably the most dramatic ever held in a Virginia court of justice and rivalled the story told by Evelyn Nesbt Thaw of her ruin by Stanford White.

It was the same story, she said, she told her father on the morning of the tragedy, which resulted in his hunting down and slaying the man whom she charged with wronging her.

Estes, she said, gave her a drink of liquor from a flask he had in his pocket, while they were out buggy riding on the afternoon, prior to his being killed. After taking the drink she declared that she immediately began to feel dizzy and "her head spun round" as if she had been given some powerful drug. In this condition and despite her protests, she declared her escort drove her along and unfrequented road, and then, despite her screams, outraged her. Exhausted by the struggle and with her mental faculties dulled by the stimulant, the witness declared, she recalled nothing more until she regained her senses in bed late that night at the home of county clerk E. L. Kidd, where she had been visiting Miss Kidd.

She testified that the following morning when her father asked her for the cause of her being brought to the home of Mr. Kidd unconscious, she related to him on bended knees the same statemet she made she made today. This recital, the defense so affected the mind of judge Loving that committed a crime, which according to his statement would have been prevented by no power "except God Almighty."

Whether the story told by the 19-year-old girl today can be disproved by the prosecution remains to be seen, for on the damaging of it hags the fate of the of the defendant.

They assert that it can be shown that the outrage laid at the door of Estes, now in his grave, was impossible.

The rebuttal by the prosecution will be probably the most important though not the most sensational feature of the case.

How much of the evidence they have already secured can be introduced is yet to be determined and a legal contest as to the admissability will be waged tomorrow because as already announced, their case is nearing an end.

Miss Loving admitted that she had taken two drinks with young Estes during the day, the first one being at Estes' store. She was asked about other occasions when it is charged she drank whiskey, but the prosecution objected on the ground that the testimony had no bearing on the case.

The defense waived the question for he present, but may insist on similar ones later on in the trial. Aside from the testimony of the girl, the testimony of two physicians concerning the possible insanity of judge Loving at the time of the killing, and the testimony of the defendant and Harry Snead, were features of the trial.

Dr. William Tunstal of Lexington, who saw judge Loving before and after the shooting, testified that he thought Loving did it while insane. Tunstall, who is a practising physician of Nelson county, based his theory partially on his professional knowledge of Loving, who, he said, went on frequent debauches, ending in delirium tremens. Judge Loving, he said, was deranged for an hour.

Dr. H. B. Melvin of Halifax, who has for 45 years practiced medicine stated that he had passed upon the mental condition of many people and he testified that continued drink brought on excitement which often ended in insanity.

Dr. Melvin, when cross- examined, said his practice was mostly for bodily diseases.

REVENUES FROM TIMBER

FOR FISCAL YEAR ENDING JUNE 30 WILL ESTABLISH RECORD.

VANCOUVER IRON MOULDERS OUT ON STRIKE FOR INCREASED PAY.

(Special to The Daily News)

Vancouver, June 25.—It is officially estimated by the provincial timber office that the revenues from this source for the fiscal year ending June 30 will total $800,000. This will be an increase of several hundred thousand over last year and will establish a new record for the department.

Dr. Montizambert, dominion health officer, stated here today that it was probable the inspection at Boundary with reference to small pox would be lifted in a few weeks. A conference with Dr. Fagan is now being held on the issuance of such orders.

The dental society came out victorious in its prosecutions of two dental students here before magistrate Williams this morning, who hold the provisions of the act valid. According to the decision all "practicing" by students must be done in the presence of a licensed practitioner.

Seventy-five iron moulders of the local machine shops, went on strike this morning to neforce a demanded increase from $3.75 to $4 for nine hour day with Saturday half holiday. Fifty helpers will be thrown out as a result in a few days.

NO SMALL BERRY BOXES

Inspectors of Fruit Branch Keep up Active Campaign

Ottawa, June 25—There are to be no small berry boxes after this year. The fruit inspectors have been after the box makers and have served notice upon all and sundry that anything less than the legal size will mean prosecution. The law declares that a berry box shall contain not less than four-fifths of a quart. The law was on the statute books for a long time without any attention being paid to it. In the first place it was the duty of the trade and commerce department, but the officials were too busy to worry about the size of berry boxes and the result was they kept getting smaller When they got down to about two-fifths of a quart the administration of the law was turned over to the inspectors of the fruit branch during their slack season, so they started after the small fruit men last summer with warnings which were renewed this spring. The result is that they have reported to Ottawa that they have so far found no undersized berry boxes on the market and the manufacturers state that none have been ordered. The boxes from the United States are all reported to be up to the Canadian standard six.

GUN CLUB TOURNAMENT

SIXTEEN EVENTS ARRANGED FOR GOOD PRIZES.

The program for the Nelson gun club's ninth annual tournament, to be held here during the Dominion Day celebration on July 1 and 2, has just been issued.

There are fourteen straight events and two special ones. The shoot will take place on the club's grounds at the foot of Stanley street on the water front at 9:30 a. m. each day.

In addition to the added prize money valuable trophies are offered and the tournament will be one of the star attractions of the celebration. Many outside shooters have promised to come and last year's successful shoot should be surpassed.

MONDAY, JULY 1.

No. 1—15 targets—Patenaude challenge cup, presented by J. O. Patenaude, jeweler, and $15 added money.
No. 2—20 targets—$20 added money.

Event No. 5 on the second day is a team shoot. Two teams will be selected from the shooters on the ground and the winnng team will divide the prize money.

MESSAGE FROM FUSHIMI.

Kingston, June 25.—Prince Fushimi has sent sir Richard Cartwright, acting premier of Canada, a message of appreciation of the courtesy extended to him on his trip across Canada.

He adds: "It is my earnest desire that the bonds of riendship between our two nations may ever draw tighter and that the cordial sentiments so happily existing at present may continue for all time. I have been much impressed by the enthusiasm of the reception accorded to me by all classes of the community and the good will towards Japan, which so evidently exists. My hope is that the Canadian people may prosper in the future as hey have done in the past."

FOR THE CELEBRATION.

A letter from Vancouver was received here yesterday saying that the Nelson lacrosse team, if they train steadily should defeat Vancouver in both games here on July 1 and 2. The matches will be well worth coming miles to witness.

ORCHARD'S RELATIONS WITH DETECTIVES

Defense Continue Efforts to Impeach State's Chief Witness---Show by Witnesses That He Had Repeatedly Threatened to Take Governor Steunenberg's Life Out of Revenge for Alleged Personal Grievances---Also That He Was Intimate With Detective in Employ of Mine Owners' Association.

(Special to The Daily News)

Boise, Idaho, June 25.—Today the defense in the Haywood murder case examined a number of witnesses. The examinations were along two lines to prove that Orchard murdered Steunenberg in revenge for loss of his interest in th Hercules mine and that he was in constant communication with the railway detective Sterling, agent of the mine owners, while he was in Cripple Creek. Further, the theory of a conspiracy on the part of the mine owners, played an important part in the proceedings.

The witnesses testified positively and were not shaken on cross examination excepting in one case. The cross examination was light as a rule. In the case of the last witness, Sullivan, the work was taken up by Borah and was searching, the witness getting rather tangled up in some of his statements.

At the opening Orchard was called to the stand for a moment for the purpose of having impeaching questions asked and recognizing witnesses. These impeaching questions were all as to his having declared he had a grudge against Steunenberg and intended to kill him. The men to whom he is alleged to have made that statement were all present, excepting one. They were Max Malich, of Denver, John B. Elliott, of Nampa, D. C. Couley, of Denver, Charles A. Sullivan, of Cripple Creek, Frank Hough, of Wardner, (not present) James Rainey, of Gem, Lottie Day, of Denver, F. R. Reid, of Denver, D. C. Coates, of Wallace, W. F. Davies, of Goldfields and Billy Easterly.

The question asked Orchard respecting him was:

"Did you tell Elliott you had formerly been a member of the Western Federation of Miners, but about two years before had quit and went to work for the mine owners' association, and did you tell him the Western Federation of Miners would be destroyed, that ways would be found to accomplish the putting away of the officers of the Federation, and did you ask Mr. Elliott questions about governors Gooding and Steuenberg, and did he tell you he thought Steuenberg was the strongest democrat in the state; did you tell him some thing terrible was going to happen within 30 days, but it would probably be some months before the Western Federation of Miners was entirely broken up?"

Orchard emphatically denied that any such conversation had ever been held between himself and the man named Elliott at any place.

The first witness called by the defense was Mary J. King, of Cripple Creek. She said she kept a rooming house, the National rooming house, and later the Star rooming house on Bennett avenue. She kept the latter house from January, 1904, for several months.

The witness said a detective by the name of K. C. Sterling occupied a room in her house for a couple of months, and rented a room there for Mrs. McKinney, who stayed there about six weeks.

Darrow showed Mrs. King the two pictures taken of Orchard in the Caldwell jail. Witness recognized them and said she saw him in her rooming house in the hall just outside of Sterling's door at least seven times. The witness said the man always came by the back stairway which led up from an alley.

She could not recall how long Orchard usually stayed. She never saw him depart. She said Sterling had many other visitors. These visits of Orchard were between January and the latter part of March. She had seen Orchard talk to Mrs. McKinney in the hall.

Miss Frances King, a daughter of the previous witness, was next called. She recognized Orchard's pictures. She had seen him in the court room and at her mother's rooming house in Cripple Creek talking in the hall with Sterling and with Mrs. McKinney. She remembered seeing him three times.

Mrs. Alice Fitzhughhes ,of Fairview, was next called. She took charge of the Star rooming house in Cripple Creek in 1904, when Mrs. King vacated. She said Casey Sterling occupied room No. 2.

Here she was shown Orchard's picture. She had seen him on the witness stand in Boise and also seen him at her boarding house in Cripple Creek.

"What was he there for "

"To see Mr. Sterling."

"How many times was he there "

"I don't remember, but I think about a dozen. He always came early in the morning or early in the evening."

The next witness was C. W. Atler, a railroad clerk from Leadville. He told Darrow he used to live in Cripple Creek from 1899 to October, 1906. He worked in the railroad offices. He knew D. C. Scott. He was a railroad detective. He had seen Sterling and Scott together a good many times, two or three times a day.

"When was it?"

"It was in 1903, 1904 up to the opening of 1905."

"They were together a great deal during the strike?"

"Yes sir."

The witness said he had seen Orchard at the depot three or four different times with D. C. Scott. Once he had seen him there on a Sunday not more than a week before the Independence depot explosion. The witness said he had an engagement with Scott to go to dinner. Scott spoke to him in reference to Harry Orchard.

Witness said Orchard came while Scott was away, asked for Scott and waited for him in the depot office. When Scott came the two went up to Scott's room.

The witness said that at one time he saw Scott, Sterling and Orchard, all in Scott's room. He said Scott was not ready to keep his engagement for dinner, so he went alone. He saw Scott again at 8 o'clock.

On cross examination he could not give the date of the first time he saw Orchard with Scott. It was some time before the report of an attempt to wreck a train on the Cripple Creek & Florence railroad. He could not tell how many times he was there before the time of the attempt to wreck the train. It was more than once.

"He was there twice anyway?"

"Yes."

The witness, when asked to state how long the second meeting between Scott and Orchard was before the train wreck, said it was possibly two weeks. He was positive he he did not see them again together before the attempt to wreck the train.

Aller said he could not remember the dates of Orchard's visits, even as to the approximate time, with reference to the train wreck.

"You are just guessing about the matter, arn't you?" asked Hawley. "And you are not sure about anything?"

"I am only sure about seeing Orchard there," replied the witness.

As soon as the afternoon session began, Ira Blizzard was called to the stand. He told Darrow that up to the last three months he had been in Cripple Creek for 13 years. He said he was a practical railroad man. He said he knew K. C. Sterling, had known him for about 12 years in the Cripple Creek district. He had seen him in the office of the mine owners' association. The witness said he went to the scene of the Independence explosion, saw the wire and chair rung. He judged the wire stretched 300 yards. He said the depot had not been occupied for a long time.

He was asked about putting dogs on the trail of persons who might have pulled the wire. The witness said he saw the dogs brought from Victor. It was in the evening.

"Which way did the dogs go?"

"Hold on," demanded Borah; "that testimony should not go in unless the dogs are qualified. That is in the nature of expert testimony. What kind of dogs were they? Hounds or shepherd dogs?"

Darrow said that for the purpose of the showing he was about to make of what he reported to Sterling it was not necessary to qualify the dogs.

Judge Wood did not seem to think the question admissible, but upon Darrow's promise to qualify the dogs later by other witnesses ,he allowed the question to be answered.

The witness said he believed they were blood hounds. The witness was allowed to tell which way the dogs went after strong objections of the state had been overruled.

He said the dogs went off toward the Vindicator mine across a low piece of ground and down the main road toward Colorado Springs.

There ensued an argument over the admissibility of the story of the dogs and his report to Sterling during which Darrow said:

"We expect to show that Mr. Sterling knew of the explosion, that he was responsible for it and that he called off the dogs because they were following Orchard."

The witness was allowed to tell of his telephone message to Sterling. He said:

"I told Sterling the dogs were on a safe trail. He said, 'call off the dogs, we know who did it.'"

Then after that Blizzard said Sterling told him, "I told you to call off the dogs because we know who did it; it was Steve Adams who blew up the depot."

Hawley took up the cross examination.

Blizzard said he was not an expert on dogs. He said he had no particular interest watching those used then only in looking after the railroad company's interest. The witness said Sterling did not say how he found out Steve Adams caused the explosion.

Dr. I. L. McGee, formerly of the Coeur d'Alenes, but now of Wallace, testified he thought he saw Orchard playing poker at Mullan at the time of the blowing up af the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mill, in 1899. Dr. McGee said he saw Orchard in the Coeur d'Alenes in 1904 and Orchard told him he was working as a spotter, not for captain Swain, but for the "other outfit." The organization impeaching question on this point fixed the date at 1905, but it was changed when Orchard was on the stand this morning, and the doctor was emphatic in saying it was 1904.

D. C. Scott was called by Mr. Darrow. Scott said he was from Cripple Creek and had been a number of years a special agent for the Florence & Cripple Creek railroad. H admitted he had come to Boise on the part of the state. Scott said he hau knew K. C. Sterling since the fall of 1903. He was then a secret agent for the mine owners' association.

F. C. Reid, of Goldfield, testified that he talked with Orchard in the miners' union hall at Cripple Creek in 1903. Orchard said to him:

"If it had not been for Steuenberg, I would not be here. I'll get even with him."

Darrow contended that everything might be opened up regarding the troubles in the district at that time . He said it had been laid open by the prosecution.

Hawley replied that no evidence in regard to individual deportations, etc., had anything to do with the connection of the defendant with the murder of Steuenberg.

He said the answer to that one question would mean the opening up of a lot of investigations that were entirely irrevalent, that would take a lot of valuable time.

"Suppose the defense is attempting to establish a counter conspiracy," suggested judge Wood.

After coisiderable argument the court said he would permit the last question to be answered.

"But Mr. Darrow," said the court, "you must not understand that the court is going to allow you to go into a general rehash of all the incidents of the labor troubles in Clorado."

The witness told of being arrested, put in the bull pen for a few days and finally released .

A motion by the state to strike out all of the testimony of the witness was overruled.

Charles A. Sullivan, a hotel watchman, of Denver, said he had been a miner in the Cripple Creek district from 1900 to June, 1904. He had worked in the Vindicator, Atlanta and other mines. He had gone from Cripple Creek to New Mexico.

He met Orchard at Neville's saloon the same day he arrived there. It was in 1902. He said he came from Utah and had been in the Couer d'Alenes.

"For months we roomed over Neville's saloon and we both boarded at Neville's residence not far away."

The witness testified that Orchard told him he would have been rich had not it been for Steuenberg, that the Idaho governor ought to be killed, that if some one did not kill him he would do it himself.

The witness testified to a similar statement which he said Orchard made later at the breakfast table.

On cross examination he said he had the conversation alluded to on the porch some time in September. He testified that he and Orchard were always alone when the latter talked about killing Steuenberg. He said he had never talked with Orchard about the Steuenberg matter when anyone else was around.

"Did you never tell anybody about it?"

"No."

"How did the lawyers for the defense find it out?"

"I told Fitzhenning about it."

"Who is he "

"An engineer in Denver.'

The witness could not remember when it was he told Fitzhenning, but thought it was in the engine room of the Y. M. C. A. building in Denver.

Witness said Orchard told him he had helped blow up the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mill at Wardner.

"He didn't tell you he was playing poker at Mullan that day, did he?" asked Borah.

"No sir; he told me he was at Wardner and helped blow up the mill," declared the witness.

Court then adjourned.

IS NOW SHIPPING COAL

PLANS BEING PERFECTED FOR AN EXTENSIVE PLANT

Lethbridge, June 25—H. N. Galer, manager of the International Coal and Coke company of Coleman who is spending a day or two in Lethbridge, states that the Coleman colliery and coke plant are now working full blast raising 1600 tons of coal a day, 1300 tons of which is sold for steam purposes, and the balance being converted into 225 tons of coke which is sold to the smelters in British Columbia and the Boundary country. The three weeks' shut down ended on May 8 and the men who left for other points have nearly all returned, 450 now being employed. Mr. Galer thinks that the total output of the Pass mines will considerably increase in the next year or so. The Alberta Coal and Coke company of which Mr. Galer is also manager, whose property is two miles east of Lundbeck, are shipping their first coal this week, raising about 400 tons a day. This is development work was done in the winter and spring. Plans for an extensive plant capable of caring for 6000 tons a day are being prepared by a Chicago firm of engineers. The Albert Coal and Coke company will market their output in southern British Columbia and the state of Washington.

WE SHOULD ALL STARVE.

Calgary, Alta., June 25.—Pat Burns in giving evidence before the beef commission this morning stated that if he closed down his establishment this country would starve in ten days.

MINE OWNERS COMPLAIN

OPERATIONS HANDICAPPED BY ORE CAR SHORTAGE

C. P. R. PRACTICALLY OUT OF THE HAULING BUSINESS

Phoenix, June 25—The mining companies operating in the Boundary are complaining most emphatically of the lack of ore dumps in this section, the C.P.R., notwithstanding ample notice, being utterly unable to handle the tonnage that is offered. At present nearly all of the ore hauling from the Granby mines is done by the Great Northern, the C.P.R taking little or no ore, unless it be a few cars daily from the Gold Drop mine of this company, which is not served by the Great Northern. Fortunately, the Granby company has so arranged things at the mines that the output from two of the huge ore crushers can be fed to the Great Northern ore dumps, if need be, and that is exactly what is being done now. No ore is yet being hoisted from the new Victoria main three compartment shaft of the Granby company as the railway companies have not yet completed their sidetracks to that opening.

The Dominion Copper company is in much the same shape as the Granby, except that it is dependent entirely on the C.P.R. for hauling ore, and notified that company many months ago of intended increase in tonnage. Today manager Thomas is blowing in his third furnace and he says that this means the handling of about 1500 tons of ore daily. He is trying the full battery of three furnaces and if the C.P.R. does not haul the ore promptly, he will have to blow out some of the furnaces.

Maurice M. Johnson, consulting engineer of the Dominion Copper company, was here today, ad stated that his company would not stand this sort of thing on the part of the C.P.R. very long. Already he has given orders to run a survey line from the company's mines in this camp to the building of a aerial tramway to the company's smelter at Boundary Falls, and he estimates that it will require about five miles of tram line to connect the two. Such an udertaking would probably mean a cost of about $100,000 but it would, when completed, greatly relieve a situation that is fast growing intolerable. Not only that but it is more than likely that a gravity tram of this kind could be operated so that the ore could be delivered at the smelter for about half the present cost, which is 30 cents per ton; a feature that certainly has its advantages.

A short time since the C.P.R. withdrew some 80 Hart convertible gravel cars, which has been in the Boundary ore service for some time, and which relieved the situation considerably as long as they were in use here. Some of these cars are now being brought back to the Boundary and in addition to this the C.P.R. is gradually getting in more of the new 40 ton steel ore dumps. At the same time, with a greater demand for hauling ore than ever before in the history of the Boundary, both railways have all that they can do to keep the mine managers satisfied, and they do not succeed very well as yet in that regard.

NEST OF TRAITORS.

St. Petersburg, June 25.—The police last night searched a department of the war ministry and found it to be the headquarters of one of the revolutionary groups. Much literature was seized. The building was cordoned by police during the search, but only one arrest was made.

FOOTBALL CHAMPIONS.

The Coal Creek football team, who play Nelson on July 2, during the celebration, are the champions of the Crow's Nest and an unusually exciting game may be looked for as the local men are very confident of victory.

CITY HAS NO MAYOR

Muddle in Grand Forks Civic Affairs Reaches a Climax.

(Special to The Daily News)

Grand Forks, June 25.—The adjourned meeting of the city council provided a series of surprises, some of them almost dramatic in character ,and all more or less resultant from the license situation, which has already been reported in your columns. Although there still seemed to be some doubt as to whether the two houses which were refused licenses would be given another opportunity to comply with the requirements of the law, it is evident that those interested were resolved to bring pressure of another kind ,or at all events to hand out a Roland for an Oliver. The Square, one of the places in question ,is owned by the townsite company or Dominion Permanent Loan Co. ,of Toronto, practically the same thing. It transpires that the city tank, and main leading to the tank, are on townsite property, no purchase of the site ever having been made. The matter had been under advisement lately, but last night a telegram was read to the council from F. M. Holland to A. C. Sutton, barrister, who has been in charge of the Dominion Permanent Loan Co.'s case, reading as follows: "Take proceedings against city forthwith for damages, and if necessary have city tanks and mains removed from townsite company's land." Some discussion took place but the council feels pretty sure of its position in the matter, and as the tank has been in its present situation for a good number of years it is questionable whether any action for damages could be sustained, to say nothing of the right of the city to expropriate.

Later in the evening alderman Woodland moved for leave to introduce bylaws in respect to mayor's and aldermen's salaries, notice of which had been given at the previous meeting.

On the vote being put for the formal introduction of the by-laws leave was refused, and the situation became a little strained. Some brief discussion took place, the mayor stating with emphasis that his position had been made thoroughly known, viz: that his salary should be assured, otherwise he would not accept the position. Taking a piece of paper from the table mayor Hammar rapidly wrote out his resignation and handed it to the clerk who read it to the council. A motion was passed refusing to accept the resignation until next meeting. Mayor Hammar rose from the chair and taking his hat, said good night, gentlemen, and retired. The outcome is hard to guess at, as it is difficult to see how the aldermen can change their position, and those who know the mayor know that he is extremely unlikely to change his views. Unless some satisfactory compromise can be effected before next week it will be a case of another election.

FATALITY AT ROSSLAND

CAGE TENDER AT WHITE BEAR MINE KILLED.

FELL FROM THE THREE HUNDRED TO ONE THOUSAND FOOT LEVEL.

Rossland, June 25.—John Levcovig, cage tender at the White Bear, was instantly killed in theshaft at 7:05 this morning. He went down in the skip and started the pumps on the lower levels and then came up to the 300 foot level and rang for the cage to go up. The cage was loaded with steel and tools and was lowered to the 300 foot level. In about an hour it was suspected that something was wrong and on descending he was found dead in the dump at the 1000 foot level. His shoulders were smashed by striking against something on the way down. He had evidently fallen from the 300 to the 1000 foot level. As no one was near him at the time, just how the accident happened will never be known. Deceased was a native of Austria, 26 years old and leaves a widow, whom he married ten weeks ago.

Continues the article: "We are, therefore, in the presence of a vile calumny for the purpose of setting Oragemen against the liberal party, consequently we cannot find words strong enough to throw back at this spectacle."

BORDEN'S OPTIMISM.

R. L. Borden, through the medium of the C. P. R. telegraph service, recently told the people of Canada that he was hopeful of carrying the country because the Laurier government was becoming unpopular. He did not suggest that he had any policy or that he contemplated advocating any course that would make for the betterment of conditions in Canada. His hopes are based entirely upon the assumed unpopularity of the Laurier administration. This assumption of unpopularity is born direct of the vain imaginings of the tory press. But, whether or not the Laurier administration be popular, Mr. Borden displays grave weakness when he tells the people of Canada that his hope of securing office is based solely upon this supposition. Mr. Borden must be hopelessly out of touch with public opinion if he sincerely belives that it will be sufficient for him to bank upon the unpopularity of his opponents to gain office. At this period in the history of Canada something more progressive and aggressive will be required of party leaders than reliance upon their opponents' unpopularity.

Has Mr. Borden asked himself this important question: Is your own personal popularity increasing? Mr. Borden has had opportunities of showing his calibre and so far he has declined to take advantage of them, preferring to drift, hoping to be wafted into office by an enraged electorate. Mr. Borden could have shown conclusively his desire for cleaner politics by declining further to be associated in the leaderhip of the conservative party with George Eulas Foster. He might have shown his hatred for religious and racial bigotry by declining to recognize colonel Sam Hughes as another of his lieutenants and Dr. Sproule could have been rejected on the same grounds. Fowler, Bennett and Lefurgey are still prominent in the counsels of the tory party, despite all the outcry against graft. So long as these things prevail, Mr. Borden need not place much hope in the supposed unpopularity of the Laurier administration.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Copies of the complete statistics of manufactured products of Canada for the year 1906, with comparison with 1901, have been isuued by the census department. They exhibit separately every industry carried on in more than three factories in the dominion; those engaging less than three factories are lumped together at the end of the table.

The report exhibits an extraordinary progress since the last quinquennial industrial census. The rate of increase of the total manufactured products of Canada has been 48.75 per cent. In 1901 the total value of the manufactured goods of the country was $481,053,375; in 1906 there were turned out no less an amount than $715,035,965.

In a few items, chiefly those relating to complicated machinery, there is a slight falling off. Printing presses and sewing machines are about the only important cases of this kind that cannot be ascribed to a diminution of demand. Watch cases show a reduction. Bicycles are, of course, much less extensive than in 1901, and automobiles have not yet reached a separate class. The only great staple industry showing a reduction is woollen goods.

The greatest increases are in structural materials ,heavy machinery, the apparatus for modern scientific utilities, such as electricity, the products of nature after passing through one or more manufacturing processes (grain, lumber, meat and fish) and certain domestic comforts and appliances which go with general prosperity.

Agricultural implements go up 33 1-3 per cent. Iron and steel bridges go up 110 per cent. Railway cars go up from near four millions to over fourteen millions. Custom clothing goes down considerably, but the loss is vastly more than taken up by factory clothing. Electrical apparatus goes up almost 200 per cent. Electric light and power goes up 275 per cent. Iron and steel products go up 40 per cent. Log products go up 35 per cent; lumber products over 90 per cent. The paper output more than doubles. Printing, bookbinding and publishing together go up 50 per cent. Smelting shows an increase of 300 per cent. Sugar shows an increase of nearly 50 per cent.

The people of Sandon are leaving no stones unturned to secure better mail service and they see some glimmering of hope in a letter just received from superintendent of railway mail service, McLeod, which reads as follows "Dear sir—Your telegram of even date regarding mail service now ineffect for Sandon to hand, and in reply I beg to advise that I have already submitted to the department a report on the cost of using Great Northern system between Kaslo and Nelson and thus providing a more efficient service for Sandon. I am also submitting a copy of your telegram with a further report thereon to the department. Yours very truly,

J. A. McLEOD, Superintendent.

J. J. Atherton, Esq., Citizens' Committee, Sandon, B. C.

Sandonites are inclined to regard superintendent Coleman as a humorist when he proposes to check up the traffic and see if something better in the way of a train service cannot be supplied ,after curtailing the service so as to destroy its usefulness to the people of the Slocan.

MARK TWAIN IN LONDON

GUEST OF HONOR AT LUNCHEON BY THE PILGRIMS

IRISH SECRETARY BIRRELL DELIVERS ROUSING SPEECH

London, June 25—The finest tribute which Mark Twain (Samuel L. Clemens) has received in England was the Pilgrims' luncheon in his honor today. The guests numbered 150 persons, many of whose names are known on both sides of the Atlantic.

Two notable speeches were made that of chief secretary for Ireland, Birrell, which was classic and full of humor, concluding with a tribute which brought the company to its feet, with prolonged cheering, and that of Mark Twain which was largely humorous. After speakig in that strain for some minutes, however, he said: "I have chaffed and chaffed and chaffed, but man does not reach the verge of 72 years without knowing life." He then proceeded in a serious and somewhat pathetic vein, which touched his audience deeply, and then bowed his thanks. He said: "I have to catch a train for Oxford," and withdrew, while the hosts cheered with enthusiasm.

FISHERMAN KELLEY

Protests Agains Eviction by C.P.R. Land Department—City Men to act

J. Kelley, fisherman of Slocan Junction writes The Daily News as follows, concerning the C.P.R. land department's announced intention of evicting all the poolmen from their little holdings: "I take the pleasure of writing The Daily News a few lines about the pool and people who live here. I own eight row boats and I rent them out to fishermen. I am a boatman myself and always do my best to give the visiting fishermen good sport, the best going. I think I gave a good account of myself last year. I had earl Grey and his family out with me, when the governor general came to Nelson and I think they were well pleased. Every boatmen here can tell the same story; we treat all the people right who come here to fish and to take pictures. There is very little fish caught here for the market and we only make a few dollars each season from the visitors. Sometimes only a very few visitors come and then a lot come together and want us to look after them and we always do so and give them the best time we can. I think we are doing the C.P.R., who own the land, a good turn. We are weill acquainted with the water and if we are sent away there willl be no one to look after the fishermen and other visitors."

The notice served o the poolmen to vacate their little cabins, came direct from Mr. Dennis' offfice in Calgary, a man being sent here to serve the fishermen. So far the land department of the C.P.R. has given no reason for driving out the fishermen and it is suggested that the city men, who know from past experience, how useful the poolmen have proved in the past, and how very accommodating they have always been, should unite in a protest to Mr. Dennis, and ask him to leave the fishermen undisturbed unless he can show good reasons for the contrary.

HINTS FOR ADVERTISERS

WRITING AND CONSTRUCTING PROFITABLE ADS.

"KEEP EVERLASTINGLY AT IT" SHOULD BE THE WATCHWORD.

To know how to advertise, what to advertise and when to advertise, is a problem which can be solved only through practical experience. Common sense must play its part in a season's advertising as well. It is like the seed which the farmer sows in the spring time. The sower does not know what the harevst will be. He knows that it will depend upon his care and upon the sunshine and the rainfall. No advertiser can foretell his harvest. But he should know that he will gather but little if he does not care for the seed of this sowing and follow it zealously.

At the beginning the ad. writer should be lareful not to insult the reader's idea of his own intelligence. One of the most unhappy mistakes an advertiser can make is to warn people away from another's goods. And of all the fool things a man can do is to print and ad. with a lot of generalization, without trying to give some decided application.

Advertising be considered as much of a fixed yearly expense as labor, rent, insurance ,etc. Beginners are often scared because returns are not immediate. They willingly incur the expense of a short campaign of advertising and then stop because enough answers are not received. Often they will just miss splendid success because of this shortsightedness. No man with goods to back up his advertising can usually fail.

"Keeping everlastingly at it brings success," should be the watchword of every advertiser. The expense ought not to be the least of all. A certain amount of each sale should in any case be put back into advertising. And it is not wise to stop when business is at its best. Keep everlasting at it, demand a fair profit, and see the dollars grow.

In constructing an advertisement the writer will do well to put himself in the place of a reader, and ask, will it attract my attention? It it has not a catchy ,pleasing appearance, with something that tells a story, the desired effect is lost. The first sentence should stand out as the one prominent feature of the ad. All other matter is secondary to the leading line of the ad. The more snappy and catchy the line is the better chance it has of attracting the eye of the reader. Once the reader has been attracted he will read the balance.

The matter under the first line should be divided into short crisp sentences, all telling something in a way that is different from the sing-song, commonplace statements too often found in ads. The whole story of the machine, its good points,. uses and abuses, superiority over other lines, and a mass of detail, would be better told by the salesman, and only enough to arouse curiosity printed. To crowd an advertisement full of dry detail is a sad mistake that only tires the reader.

Don't forget a cut, if possible to use one. Draw the story of the ad. around the picture. If a cut of a buggy is used say what the buggy is, a word or two of construction, an invitation to look over and compare it with other lines, and offer catalogues or circulars for the asking. Then give firm name and where located.

Always be sure to give the town where you are doing business. The advertiser will likely fall into the notion that everybody knows him. But outside of his own little township there are very few who ever heard of Hardin Strong. Some reader of the paper may become interested in the ad. but not knowing where Hardin Strong is doing business will pass the ad. up and allow his interest to cool. Make both name and town prominent, the location smaller than the firm name.

A good advertiser is not ashamed to borrow ideas from someone else. He might do worse than to keep a scrap book in which to paste advertisements that have attracted his attention because of some pretty typographical construction, catchy phrase or wording that has appealed to him as being out of the ordinary. From time to time these can be worked into ads. that will show up well. Successful men are a class of borrowers. They take and improve upon the ideas of others.

There should always be borne in mind that white space is not wasted. This can be overdone, but the implement man is not likely to make the mistake of using too few words. Ad. writers of dry goods announcements do crowd their pages, but they are catering to a different trade than are implement dealers. It needs the right kind of advertising in right mediums to reach the right people.

The shots that hit are the shots that count. Misses and near to the mark show fair markmanship, but the man who hits the bullseye is a master shot, and the dealer should strive to land his printed bullets right in the middle of the target. This can be done by watching the efforts of known successful advertisers in like lines and learn from their experience. A few well worded sentences will hit the mark oftener than pages and pages of wadding.

Hammer at the strong points of your line. A tap on the head of a nail only starts it going. A few well delivered blows drives it to the head. So it is with advertising—keep hammering until the arguments are clinched and rivited. Then begin on another nail and so on.

It is the strong points of a line that stand the best exploiting. Talk them as you would if the customer was standing close by and listening to the words. If the rise and fall of the cutter bar lever of a mower works so easily that a light touch is all that is necessary, tell it. A well ironed, finely painted buggy is worth a few strong words. The device that drops three wrains of seed in a place and no more—is sure in action—let that be given a line. And if the dealer handles a line of goods that are guaranteed, ask the customer to take one home and try it. He can bring it back if it does not perform all that is claimed for it.

Study catalogue house advertising and make good use of it. The concerns are abominations and heartily disliked, but their methods of obtaining notices are above par. As their ads. yearly succed in inducting ten million people to send their money away from home it must be acknowledged that the mail order people have learned the art of advertising.

Vehicles are a line that can be advertised and pushed ten months in a year. A buggy ad. can be run in with good result when there is nothing in the machinery or implement stock that is right in season. The same may be said of gasoline engines and churns. Buggies are constantly breaking down, wearing out or being traded off. A good deal of attention should be paid to that stock. Run at least one ad. every month of buggies.

Have the firm name in type not quite as large as the top line, and the town address in type about half or two-thirds as large as the name. Do not try to display every line. It kills the force of the whole ad. to try to bring out strong everything that is in it.—Farm Machinery.

EVERY MAN HIS OWN DOCTOR

The average man cannot afford to employ a physician for every slight ailment or injury that may occur in his family, nor can he afford to neglect them, as so slight an injury as the scratch of a pin has been known to cause the loss of a limb. Hence every man must from necessity be his own doctor for this class of ailments. Success often depends upon prompt treatment, which can only be had when suitable medicines are kept at hand. Chamberlain's Remedies have been in the market for many years and enjoy a good reputation.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints.

Chamberlains Cough Remedy for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm, an antiseptic liniment for cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, swellings, lame back and rheumatic pains.

FREIGHT TARIFF IMPROVEMENTS.

Regina, Sask., June 25.—The transportation committee of the board of trade today had an interview with W. F. Peters and W. B. Lanigan of the C. P. R. Mr. Peters promised that the traders' rates at present operative as far west as Medicine Hat should be extended as far as possible without conflicting with Calgary and Lethbridge. With regard to the Arcola branch, Mr. Peters stated that a tariff expert was working out a new system which would give each wholesale point a tariff that would enable it to control the territory to which it was geographically entitled.

TENDERS FOR DERRICK, SCOW, BOILER AND ENGINE.

Tenders addressed to the undersigned at Ottawa, and marked on the envelope "Tenders for Scow, Steam Engine, Boiler and Derrick, for buoy service in British Columbia, or tender for scow alone," will be received up to the 20th day of July, 1907, for supplying and delivering at Victoria, a wooden scow and the erection on board of a steel derrick with hoisting engine, boiler and other accessories, according to specification; also for supplying and delivering in Victoria where directed, a double cylinder tandem hoisting engine, winch to have four hoisting drums and two winch heads and upright steel tubular steam boiler of 30 horse power capacity, and a structural steel derrick.

Specifications of the machinery and plans of the derrick can be obtained at the Department here, at the agency of this department, Victoria, at the Customs house Vancouver, and the Customs house, New Westminster, B.C.

Tenderers must furnish plans of the boilers and engines offered and state the earliest possible time in which they will agree to make delivery.

Separate tenders for the three articles, viz., engine, boiler and derrick, will be received, and separate tenders for the scow or tenders for all together.

An accepted cheque on a chartered Canadian bank equal to 20 per cent of the whole amount of the tender must accompany each tender. The cheque accompanying the tender accepted will be forfeited if the party tendering declines to enter into a contract or fails to complete the work contracted for, and each cheque will be returned immediately in case of non-acceptance of tender.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

Newspapers inserting this advertisement without authority from this Department will not be paid.

Kootenay Fruit Lands

Burton City and Fire Valley Fruit and Farm Lands are the best sellers now.

15 months ago I purchased from original locators about 5000 acres of Fruit Lands near Burton City. Since then I have been getting the titles and having them subdivided into 10, 15 and 20 acre blocks. One month ago I began to advertise them and have disposed of nine 15 acre blocks and twenty-one 20 ac. blocks, averaging more than one block per day.

1—The land has a good surface loam with a clay subsoil.

2—It is free from stones.

3—It is nearly level and has a gentle slope, none of it being more than 100 feet above the lake.

5—They know I have had a wide experience in fruit lands and am prepared to prove any statements mentioned here.

6—Because I am a practical fruit grower, having over 2500 fruit trees on my home farm, and buyers get the benefit of my experience.

7—I am also prepared to clear land, plant it and care for it until such time as my customers are prepared to take it over.

A SNAP

one improved 20 acre fruit farm for sale fronting on the lake,has a nice beech and in a good locality, 2 1-2 miles north of Burton City. 5 acres cleared and ploughed, 175 fruit trees, a nice creek runs through the property soil is good and no waste land. Daily boat service. This is one of the prettiest places on the Arrow Lakes and will make a nice home in the heart of the fruit growing district.

Price $100 per acre, 10 per cent. down, balance can be arranged

Synopsis of Canadian Homestead Regulations

ANY available Dominion Lands within the Railway Belt of British Columbia may be homesteaded by any persons who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

1. At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

2. If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the hosemsteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

3. If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

Coal lands may be purchased at $10 an acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of 10 cents per ton of 2000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

D. A. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

MODERN TORY FINANCES

SURE-THING SYSTEM EVOLVED BY GEO. E. FOSTER.

TRUST FUNDS MANIPULATED FOR SELF AND FRIENDS.

The system which developed or was developed around the Union Trust Company and by which Mr. Foster and his associates were enabled to enrich themselves at the expense of the Independent Order of Foresters is worth some attention.

The perversion of the purpose of the Union Trust Company was the basis of the whole system. This company had been formed as an agency for the investment of insurance money belonging to the Foresters. The money it received from the Foresters was to be used for the good of that order absolutely. Whether the profits were large or small they belonged to the men who put up the money with which those profits were made. Had the company been conducted with this fact in view no door of opportunity would have been opened to the speculator. With the policy of the Union Trust determined by the fact that its funds were trust funds, it would have been impossible to evolve an elaborate system whereby its manager and its associates might enrich themselves from the lendings and spendings of the concern. Naturally enough, therefore, the policy was not determined by any such consideration. Having got the money, the manager of the Union Trust company admittedly treated that money as the actual and absolute property of the Union Trust and invested in no sense and in no degree with the nature of a "trust." This opened the door to the speculator. Here were funds in plenty, under the custody of a most obliging guardian, and with no "insurance law" or "trust funds" strings attached.

The speculator soon came. He came often and to good purpose. When he came he usually brought an option; when he departed he took away the cash. In time it came to be understood that this company formed to buy securities for the I. O. F. had become an unfailing fountain for the refreshment of distressed financiers of the conservative persuasion. This was the next link in the chain, the second step in the evolution of the system. The funds were useless to the "cult" while they remained locked in the vault of the Union Trust. They must be gotten into circulation, and the "cult" were the gentlemen to do it. The modus operandi was usually to sell something the vendor didn't own to a syndicate who couldn't pay for it, and then borrow the money from the Union Trust. Usually, too, this meant that the vendor depended on his ability to sell to the Union Trust to keep him above water when his obligations came due. In no single instance does he appear to have hoped in vain. A more obliging concern it would be hard to invent. Very literally these gentlemen bought things "without money and without price," and drew their cash profits from the coffers of the Union Trust.

Another feature of some of the deals laid bare by the Royal Commission on Insrance was the "scalping" process by which Mr. Foster collected royalty for transacting the business of the company he was paid to manage. These royalties he claims were divided or are to be divided with his three syndicated associates. For example, in the purchase of the Carrot river lands, Mr. Foster received one-half the commission due the agent of the vendor, $5000. This he claims was a "reduction" in the price of the land due to his efforts. The vendor's agent denies this. If it was a "reduction," how much did it "reduce" the company's risk or expense that the money went to Mr. Foster and his three associates instead of to the owners of the land? And are not "efforts" to secure "reductions" part of the business of the manager of a concern which is buying something? How long would the manager last if he pocketed the "reduction?" And if this commission was not a "reduction," what only else could it have been? A parallel instance occurred in the purchase of the Swan river lands, from which Mr. Foster knocked down $2480, or 25 cents per acre. Again in the Kamloops Lumber Company deal, Mr. Fowler gave Mr. Foster at least $2500 and probably $7000 outof his $55,000 profits. In each instance the cash that had paid these rake-offs came from the Union Trust.

A worse feature of the system was that the properties handled were not simply sold out-and-out to the Union Trust for so much money and the company left to make what it could from their sale. They were juggled through successive "syndicates" and "companies," each of course adding a large slice of profits. The result was that the more "handling" a property received the greater was its eventual cost—and this cost was taken from the coffers of the Union Trust. The Fowler-Bennett-Pope-Lefurgy-C. P. R. land, for example, was bought for $3.50 and sold for $4.50. But it was not sold to the Union Trust. It was sold to the Foster-McGillivray-Wilson syndicate. This syndicate marked the price up 50 cents per acre, and turned it over to the Great West Land Company, formed for that purpose. What the Union Trust really became responsible for was the $3.50 per acre to the C. P. R., plus $1 per acre to the Fowler syndicate, plus 50 cents to the Foster syndicate. By this successive jugglery the Union Trust was loaded with about $300,000 more than the C. P. R. charged for the land. And the Great West Land company was so manipulated that the Union Trust had just 25 per cent as much say in the management as the Foster-McGillivrary-Wilson syndicate. And even this interest was taken from the company when the venture appeared certain to be financially profitable.

Again in the British Columbia lumber mill deals the Union Trust provided $225,0050 cash to purchase a $170,000 mill; paid $175,000 for the $40,000 property of the Okanagan Lumber company; yet when these acquisitions were consolidated into the Kamloops Lumber company Mr. Fowler held 650 shares of the company, 300 of which were to eb turned over to Mr. Foster.

By such means was it arranged that while the Union Trust provided the money for speculating it should not be the party to profit from the speculations. It was a straight case of heads, the "cult" wins; tails, the Union Trust loses.

LONGSHOREMEN DECLINE

REJECT FAVORABLE DECISION OF CONCILIATION BOARD.

COMMITTEE OF INVESTIGATION CONCEDES ALL THEY ASK FOR.

Montreal, June 25.—The longshoremen have written the minister of labor stating that they will not be bound by the findings of the conciliation committee, which gave them practically all they asked for.

The unanimous report of the board of conciliation and investigation appointed under the industrial disputes act to adjust the differences between the Montreal longshoremen and the shipping federation has been made public by the labor department. The finding of the commissioners—Archbishop Bruchesi, Mr. George W. Stephens and Mr. Joseph Ainey—is virtually in favor of the longshoremen's request for a further increase of two and one-half cents per hour, making the wage escale 30 cents per hour for the balance of the season from July 1 next and for the whole of the season of 1908. The board recommend the increase take the form of a bonus for this year, given to the men who continue steadily at work, thereby insuring a constant and continuous supply of labor.

The department has communicated with the representatives of the shipping federation and of the longshoremen to see if the board's findings will be acceptable to both parties, but as yet reply has been received only from the latter.

"After earnest consideration of all the facts, the board, in the spirit of justice, and with a view of securing peace and harmony, recommend that the increase of 10 per cent, or 2 1-2c per hour day and night, already granted by the shipping companies to the longshoremen remain the rate for the present season. But in view of the special importance attached by the shipping agents to a constant and continuous supply of labor till the final closing of navigation, and to safeguard the public interests, and as a further inducement to the longshoremen to fulfill these conditions, the board recommend that a bonus of 2 1-2c per hour, over and above the wages paid under the present rate, be paid by the shipping agents to the longshoremen; said bonus to be paid to all longshoremen employed by th eshipping companies from the day of each man's engagement, but in no case shall the bonus be effective previous to July 1, 1907; the meaning of this recommendation to be that for all those men who engage to work for the shipping companies after July 1 and continue to do so till the close of navigation shall be entitled to this extra wage. We further recommend for the season of 1908 that 30 cents per hour be paid during the day and 35 cents during the night; that an agrement to this effect between the parties be entered into which shall be binding until the end of the season of 1908, any change affecting the future to take place between the 1st day of ecember, 1908, and the 1st day of March 1909, by fifteen days' written notice to be given by either party to the other."

CASH IS KING QUALITY IS QUEEN

On July 2nd we will open our doors as a CASH STORE

The amount of money lost to the merchant each year through bad debts and items forgotten to be charged along with collecting of outstanding accounts would, if saved, go a long way toward reducing the cost of groceries and provisions in Nelson, but under the CREDIT SYSTEM of doing business these losses are unavoidable and must be paid for by the CASH CUSTOMER and the CREDIT CUSTOMER who pays promptly.

In adopting the CASH SYSTEM these undesirable features will be eliminated, our operating expenses will be reduced and as a natural result we will be in a position to make you a saving of from 5 to 10 per cent n your groceries each month.

In making this announcement to the general public we feel that our efforts to conduct our business on more up-to-date lines will be duly appreciated and to achieve our aims we ask the assistance and co-operation of our many friends and customers.

NELSON'S NEWS OF THE DAY

G. P. Wells returned from Kaslo last night.

Mrs. Fred J. Squire has returned to the city from a visit to Vancouver.

Mr. Cant and daughter of Guelph, are visiting Dr. T. G. Gibson, Vernon street.

The Ladies' aid of St. Paul's church will meet in the church parlor this afternoon at 3:30.

The examinations for entrance to the high school will commence this morning and close on Friday afternoon

Tenders for the sole privilege of selling temperance refreshments on the recreation grounds on July 1 and 2 must be in George Horstead's hands by 6 o'clock this evening

Considerable city real estate has changed hands this spring; one of the latest is the sale of Mr. Helme's residence on Hoover St., to Mrs. E. Miller, through the agency of McDermid and McHardy.

The 20,000 club's guessing contest supports a good cause. Cards can be purchased from the secretary or any of the stores. How many visitors will come to Nelson for the celebration.

The civic court of revision will meet in the city hall at 10 o'clock on Friday morning next when all complaints against the assessment for the current year, will be disposed of.

The water sports committee has arranged for the following rowing races on July 1, part of the celebration program; Four oared, one mile; single lapstreak half mile; ladies doubles and men's doubles with lady cox.

Although the provincial government has offered a reward of $500 for information that would lead to the arrest and conviction of the person who murdered W. Zimmerman at Penticton last winter, the perpetrator of the crime has not yet been captured.

The range of the thermometer for the 12 hours ending at midnight was: Highest, 82; lowest, 48.

The local strawberry crop is said to be double that of last year when early frosts killed so many of the plants. The Kuskanook is taking on many crates each morning for the east and the brief season is now fairly on.

Wm. Rennie, Ltd., Toronto, through their Vancouver office offer two special prizes for the Nelson exhibiton open to competitors using the company's seeds. Competitors must file with the secretary the original packet containing the seeds from which the plants exhibited were grown.

A temporary supply of paper for The Daily News, ordered from Vancouver by wire on June 21, was in the C.P.R. freight sheds ready for delivery yestrday. This is the record for quick freight delivery and the C.P.R. freight department is entitled to the credit.

A meeting of the directors of the Nelson Agricultural and Industrial association willl be held in the court house on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The special prize list will be discussed and a deputation of local flower growers will address the directors on some wanted changes in the rules regarding floral exhibits at the fair.

There will doubtless be a big turnout tonight to send off the Nelson oarsmen who will leave at 7:15 over the C.P.R. for the N.P.A.A.O. regatta at lake Washington, which takes place on July 4 and 5. The Nelson entries are: Senior singles, T. Desbrisay; junior doubles, A. Poole and F. Nott; senior doubles, DesBrisay and Nott; junior fours, A. Bishop, bow; Ferguson, 2; McIntosh, 3; Lea, stroke. G. C. Hodge and some others will accompany the rowing men on their trip.

The regular meeting of the British Columbia Fruit Growers association will be held at Kaslo at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, July 2. Notice of motion to amend the constitution by having the membership composed of delegates from the local associations; also to change the clause relating to the qualification for voting, will be brought up. Other questions of importace will be discusssed. The fact that the meeting is called on the second day of the local celebration will probably prevent some Nelsonites from attending.

J. M. Mellis ad Frank R. Carlow, will be in the city in a few days in the interests of the brotherhood of Owls, a fraternal organization, with headquarters in Seattle. The brotherhood of Owls is a fraternal organization of good fellows who believe in love and laughter. It does not believe in postponing one's enjoyment. It teaches good cheer and warm fellowship. It has a good membership and has lodges in Victoria, Vancouver, Nanaimo and Ladysmith, which are all going ahead by leaps and bounds. The brotherhood of Owls also pays sick and funeral benefits.

The building committee of St. Saviour's church held an important meeting last night in the mission hall with the rector in the chair, and F. Irvine, F. A. Starkey, V. Eperson, L. B. DeVeber, C. W. Busk, E. K. Beeston and E. A. Crease, present. It was finally decided to complete the building after the original design, that is the crucifix form, and with this end in view, G. D. Curtis, diocesan architect, of Vancouver, was wired to and asked to come here for a consultation. Mr. Curtis prepared the original plas of the church and he will now be requested to complete the building on the original lines designed by him. When the plans are arranged building operations will commence.

GOOD ENTERTAINMENT

DANDIE DIXIE MINSTRELS

Will Perform at Opera House One Night Only, Monday, July 1

After an almost unprecedented all summer run atop the New York theatre, the Dandie Dixie Minstrels begins its regular season at Washington on Aug 4, starting a tour of every important city in the U.S. and being booked solid to June 30, 1907. After this remarkable tour will have been made the same organization intact will visit Europe, Asia, South Africa, Manila and the Hawaiian islands, returning to San Francisco. Besides being equipped with a most remarkable pretentious production of scenery, costumes and electrical effects, the company travels in a handsome $20,000 Pullman car, "The Dandy." The personnel of the company includes: Campbell Bros., the black aristocrats; Williams and Stevens, comic impersonators; Toney Trio, daredevil acrobats; Benny Jones, the Texas teaser; H. S. Wooten, the Indian Territory tenor; John Prampin, the world renowned acrobatic comedy juggler; the Oklahoma Octette, and the Cotton Pickers' Band, the daddy of them all, lead by Robert Leach, the colored creator. They will be seen at Sherman's opera houses on Monday evening, July 1.

NELSON'S NEWS OF THE DAY

The regular business half holiday will be held tomorrow. There will be the usual open air concert on Ward street in the evening.

The 20,000 club, after paying all indebtedness in connection with the moonlight excursion to Procter last week, cleared $56 for the club's coffers.

Provincial constable Dinsmore of Grand Forks, brought over a Swede last night sentenced to three months in the gaol here for general misconduct.

Joseph P. Downey of Guelph, Ont., representing South Wellington in the legislature in the conservative interest is visiting his brother-in-law, Thomas McAstocker of this city. Mr. Downey is editor of the Guelph Herald and is returning east from a few months' trip through the south.

The Woman's auxiliary in connection with St. Saviour's church held a very successful and largely attended lawn party yesterday afternoon on the grounds surrounding Mrs. Barnhart's residence on Baker street. The ideal weather prevailing made the party an unusually pleasant one.

A warm evening and many other matters in progress possible accounted for the want of a quorum at the monthly meeting of the 20,000 club at the city hall last night. President Procter, secretary Ebbutt and J. M. Lay, W. H. Jones, D. C. McMorris, A. Lean and R. G. Webb were in attendance and after half an hour's informal discussion those present adjourned.

The final meeting of the Dominion day celebration general committee will be held this evening in the court house at 8:30. As the program is to be finally decided on tonight all interested are specially asked to attend. It is to be hoped that those in charge of the water sports will have their part of the program in shape this evening as more than usual interest is being taken now in all water sports and this sub-committee should have all details ready by tonight.

The Nelson Transfer company a few days ago landed a carload of heavy Ontario horses, specially picked out by Geo. Ferguson durig his recent trip. There were 17 horses in the consignment and although the owners wanted to give the animals a rest after their long trip, so as to get them in condition for sale, three teams were promptly picked out locally. The horses are estimated to be worth in the neighborhood of $5500 for the lot and the enterprising dealers are likely to do well with their purchase.

The Ymir license commissioners met in the court house yesterday G Weir of Tail and Wm. Clark of Ymir were present, the late J. A. Kelleys' place on the board not having been filled yet. The commissioners reconsidered the application for a transfer of the Grove hotel license in Fairview from C. F. Walmsley to E. G. Borden. Mr. Lennie for the applicant, called several witnesses who united in giving the hotel a good character and the board finally consented to the trasfer, expressing the hope that the house would be conducted along the lines sworn to by the witnesses examined. Another meeting of the board will be held on July 18 when applications from Masterson of the Ymir hotel, Ymir, Patrick Daly of Ymir and J. B. Bremner, will be considered.

MINING RECORDER RESIGNS.

C. D. Blackwood Enters Partnership With T. G. Procter.

C. D. Blackwood, mining recorder, yesterday wired his resignation to the department at Victoria and today enters into partnership with T. G. Procter in the fire, life, and accident insurance business, the style of the new firm being Procter & Blackwood.

Mr. Blackwood has been in Kootenay since 1895 and has been mining recorder since January, 1904, he taking office upon the resignation of Harry Wright, who retired when he became conservative candidate for Ymir. Mr. Blackwood has been in the government service since 1902, and besides being mining recorder has filled the office of assessor and collector, registrar of votes, registrar under the marriage act, registrar of births, deaths and marriages, and collector of revenue.

Mr. Blackwood's present step is no doubt in a measure due to the increased activity in all local business circles, his new sphere offering him opportunities denied to a government official.

Mr. Blackwood's personal popularity will stand him in good stead in his new venture and his association with an old established insurance business like that of Mr. Procter's should result very favorably and satisfactorily.

A successor to Mr. Blackwood has not yet been named.

GORMALY-TILT VEIN

Toronto, June 25—A recent report received from the superintendent of the Ontario-Quebec Cobalt by Messrs Gormaly-Tilt and company., states that the shaft on No. 2 property has been sunk to a depth of 50 feet. The vein has continued to widen with depth and extremely high values have been obtained. The recent surface strike of native silver on the adjoining property has verified th opinion of leading mining engineers that this property willl soon prove to be one of the richest in the Cobalt district.

Plans are already laid to sink a depth of 150 feet and it is expected that very high values will be found.
