IRISH ARE UNANIMOUS

Great National Convention Condemns Birrell's Proposed Bill.

Redmond Moves Resolution Which Carries Unanimously Amid Scenes of Excitement —Irish Americans All in Line.

Dublin, May 21 — The largest, most representative and most harmonious convention which ever assembled in Ireland, repudiated the bill for a limited Irish council, which was all the liberal government had to offer in fulfillment of its campaign promises. This action killed the hope of any home rule legislation by the present parliament, created a serious split in the government's forces and may have a far reaching result.

The temper of the convention was plain; no one had a word to offer in behalf of the bill. Home rule or nothing was the unanimous sentiment and the resolution rejecting the measure, proposed by John E. Redmond, commanded every vote. The Irish parliamentarians had been deluged with resolutions from town councils and other bodies, all denouncing the bill. The leader spoke in an unmistakeable voice and the Irish members of parliament cheerfully acquiesced in his will. Three hundred delegates came here to attend the convention and soon after the doors of the Mansion house were opened it was impossible to get into the building. The gathering lacked the spirit of the old home rule gatherings, when Davitt, Dillon, Healy and other fiery orators had the center of the stage. The speeches were temperate and there was little denunciation of the government. Except for the outbreak of a priest who ttempted to make the bill a crurch issue and was rebuked, everything went smoothly. The American delegates were greeted enthusiastically. The keynote of the orations and of several resolutions was that the bill was an insult to Ireland.

Richard Croker was cheered at the opening session of the convention, when the chairman announced that he had contributed $500 to the Irish parliamentary fund.

Subsequently a resolution was adopted calling upon the government to fulfil its pledges of legislation for the relief of evicted tenants as well as for university and primary education.

Mr. Redmond had requested Dennis O'Sullivan of San Francisco, to sing "God Save Ireland" and before the adjournment Mr. O'Sullivan mounted the platform and rendered the song. The closing scenes of the convention were most enthusiastic. All the delegates, as well as the ladies who crowded the galleries, rose to their feet singing the chorus with Mr. O'Sullivan.

The floor of the rotunda was packed with delegates representing every part of Ireland, including many of the Catholic clergy. Besides Mr. Redmond were the American delegates, secretary John O'Callaghan; treasurer T. G. Fitzpatrick, and executive committeeman, Patrick Cummings of the United Irish league, John Parnell, brother of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, Richard Croker and several bishops. Mr. Redmond, who presided was greeted with great cheering. His first words were: "The heart of every Irishman in the world goes out to John Dillon in the hour of his great affliction."

A resolution of sympathy with Mr. Dillon in the loss of his wife, was adopted, as was another for the widow of Michael Davitt, who died since the last convention, recalling Davitt's imprisonment for Ireland's sake and the "part he bore in raising the Irish peasant from a serf to a free man."

Telegrams of greeting from Irish societies in America and elsewhere were read, after which Mr. Redmond reminded the delegates of Ireland's fight for self government would be judged by their conduct in this convention.

Mr. Redmond then read the resolution on the Irish bill, which was clamorously cheered, as follows:

"We declare that it is utterly inadequate in its scope and unsatisfactory in its details and should be rejected by the Irish nation and we regard the production of such a measure by the British government, pledged to home rule, as a confirmation of the position we have always taken that any attempt to settle the Irish problem by half measures would be entirely unsuccessful, and we call upon the Irish party to oppose the bill in the house of commons and to press upon the government with all their strength and power to introduce a measure for the establishment of a national parliament, with a responsible executive, having power over all purely Irish affairs, and at this crisis in the fortunes of Ireland we invite all the nationalist forces of the country to unite in support of our representatives in parliament and enable them to effectively press for the speedy and genuine settlement of the Irish question."

Continuing, Mr. Redmond first denied the criticism that he and his party were committed to the bill. On the contrary, he declared the framers of the measure had refused his advice as to the only safe basis on which the proposed council could be founded. The Irish members of parliament were not committed to any part of the bill or to the government. They had voted for its introduction in order to fulfill their promises, that the government's proposals might be submitted to a convention.

Summarizing his views, Mr. Redmond asserted that the Birrell bill was not workable and therefore would end in disgrace and disaster. Its failure would be used as an argument of Ireland's incapacity for self government and its operation would result in the demoralization of the nationalist party and the unity which was Ireland's strongest weapon. He criticized the financial and other details of the bill as being inadequate, when compared with the great powers given to the lord lieutenant. Government by committee, he said, was unheard of. Knowing the constitution of the British parliament he knew it was useless to hope to secure satisfactory amendments to the measure. In conclusion Mr. Redmond said: "The liberal party must drop the Rosebery idea and must come back to the standard of Gladstone. People talk of an alliance of the Irish party with the liberals. The Irish party is independent. It can have an alliance with no English party that does not put home rule in the front of its platform."

Speeches seconding the resolution were then made. A. J. Kettle, a veteran home ruler, was the first speaker, after which John O'Callaghan aroused the enthusiasm of the delegates by tendering te support of the Irish American party. "Do you think," he asked that the task of Mr. Bryce in America is going to be made any easier because his colleagues have thrown this crumb in the face of the Irish people, this measure, which you will throw in the faces of his colleagues with contempt."

Continuing, Mr. O'Callaghan, amid loud applause, assured the delegates that so long as England gives the Boers, who fought her, more home rule than the Irish, "the Irish Americans will prevent the alliance with the United States which England so greatly desires."

Father David Humphreys, another speaker, proved to be a disturbing element. "Catholics and nationalists are the same," he said. "The bill is directed against the Catholic church. It would drive the priests out of the schools and let in the devil, in two generations it would change Ireland into a France."

Father Humphreys' speech was interrupted, whereupon he asserted that the convention was "packed with Redmond's creatures," and Mr. Redmond compelled him to take his seat for insulting the convention.

Joseph Devlin and Fitzpatrick spoke eloquently, deprecating sectarianism. Several other speakers followed among them being Frank O'Connell, an Australian member of parliament, who assured the convention of the sympathy of all Australians for home rule, and T. P. O'Connor, M.P., who explained the reasons why the Irish members of parliament distrusted the bill. He said that if all the cabinet ministers were as honest as the prime minister, sir Henry Campbell- Bannerman, more would be done for Ireland.

Dr. Timmins of Boston, scored Father Humphreys for the statements he had made to the convention. During the delivery of the last speeches the delegates were clamoring for a vote on the resolution and finally at 3 o'clock Mr. Redmond put the question.

There was a tremendous chorus of "Ayes" and the resolution was declared adopted unanimously.

London, May 21—The nationalist convention at Dublin having rejected Mr. Birrell's Irish bill, it is understood the government will drop it for this session at least, and will proceed with other reforms which its liberal supporters are urging. That the government cannot grant any wider measure of self government to Ireland without causing dissension in the cabinet is denied. Mr. Redmond's action in moving the rejection of the measure, although anticipated in some ways, generally caused surprise, as it is understood that he had agreed, after a conference with his colleagues, to accept what the government offered as a partial concession to the demands of Ireland. With the majority of his party, including the clergy, opposed to it, however, there was no other course for him to pursue in the opinion of the politicans here.

ALBERTA COAT OF ARMS

ST. GEORGE'S CROSS SURMOUNTS SNOW-CAPPED MOUNTAINS

UNGAVA DISTRICT MINING REGULATIONS RESCINDED

Ottawa, May 21.—The order in council permitting one man to stake out 100 mining claims in Ungava, one for himself and the balance for others, has been rescinded.

Every province in Canada now has a coat of arms. Alberta was the last to receive a provincial emblem.

Word has been received from the Herald's college that a design has been approved for this province, and the same will reach Ottawa in a few days.

The Alberta shield, which has been approved, has a St. George's cross on the top, and below it a range of snow-capped mountains, with a plain and a field of wheat in the foreground. The design is quite a striking one.

NEW VENIRE ORDERED

Haywood Trial Adjourned While Fresh Batch of Talesmen Are Secured.

De ense Claim to Have Traced Antecedents of Harry Orchard Whove Right Name Is Harry Moore, Claim He Is a Bigamist.

(Special to The Daily News)

Boise, May 21—At noon today it was necessary to take an adjournment in the case of Haywood, in order to get more talesmen. A venire of 60 being issued, the case adjourned until Thursday.

When the adjurnment was taken each side had exercised all its peremptory challenges. This time there have been 88 men called to be examined. Of these 24 were passed for cause. Of the 64 excused for cause, all but eight went out on direct or implied bias. Of the eight three were excused on conscientious opposition to capital punishment, and the others for various reasons, one being deaf, and another suffering from troubles which might lay him up soon.

John F. Whitlock was under examination when court adjourned last evening. When Darrow came to examine him this morning, he asked that the examination be passed as he wished to make some further inquiries into a matter touching the qualification of the juror. This is understood to be the fact that Whitlock belongs to a lodge of Odd Fellows in Meridian which passed resolutions on the murder of governor Stuenenberg; Darrow's request was granted and the defense then excused John Fisher, the man over whom the hard battle was fought the day before.

After five men had been excused Levy Smith, an employee of the Boise and Interurban railroad company, was accepted for cause.

Judge Wood then called attention to the physical condition of Aric Cole. He had been a sufferer and was likely to be taken ill at any time and hang up the case. There was no objection to his being excused. His place had not been filled when the panel was exhausted.

Nothing whatever has developed in connection with the case. The defense claims to have traced the antecedents of Harry Orchard. They say his right name is Harry Moore and that he deserted a wife and child in the east before coming west. They further say his marriage to his Cripple Creek wife was not legal, there having been no divorce. While the prosecution does not make any statement on the subject, they say Orchard will tell the full story of his life on the stand.

An interesting statement respecting Orchard is made by dean Hinks of St. Michael's Episcopal church. He states the prisoner is a reformed man and will tell the whole truth. The dean has every confidence that Orchard will stand the ordeal through which he has to pass and that he is prepared to do his duty to society.

A man named Williams who was working for the defense, has decamped leaving a wife and children dependent. It is stated that he had some important documents which he endeavored to sell to the prosecution. Mr. Darrow says he has no idea why the man left. The deserted wife is in despair, saying her husband took every cent they had, even the change she had in her pocketbook.

EVIDENCES OF STABILITY

CROW'S NEST MINERS PURCHASING THEIR OWN HOMES

EMPIRE DAY CELEBRATION AT COAL CREEK

Fernie, May 21—One of the most promising signs of the future stability of the mining industry of this town is the number of miners who are investing their money in the purchase of the lots that have recently been placed on the market and the number of houses that are being erected in the Fernie annex and townsite addition which are a big improvement on the buildings hitherto constructed in these localities.

Great preparations are being made by the Coal Creek library and athletic association for the games and sports to be held at that camp on Friday, May 24, a long and attractive program having been arranged by the energetic management in charge. Games of every description will take place, weather permitting, on their excellent grounds and a record attendance from Fernie and surrounding district is expected. In the evening a grand ball will be given and from present indications it will be the most successful in the history of this progressive club.

Operations on the new postoffice and customs building are progressing satisfactorily and it is expected that the roof will be on before the winter season commences.

BIG DEAL IN COAL LANDS

Montreal, May 21.—The announcement is made that the Maritime Coal, Railway and Power company has acquired the entire property of the Canada Coal and Railway company, consisting of over seven square miles of coal bearing lands and twelve miles of railway, with full equipment, locomotive, freight and passenger cars, terminals, etc. The mine extends from the town of Maccon through the company's land to the coal dock on the Bay of Fundy, where the company holds a submarine area of large extent under lease from the government.

CUT IN LUMBER PRICES

Brandon's Chief Retail Firm Makes Gratifying Announcement.

Brandon, May 21.—John Hanbury, president of the Hanbury Manufacturing company, Brandon's largest wholesale and retail lumber merchants, made the announcement today that his company would at once inaugurate a big cut in the price of all kinds of lumber. The output from the big sash and door factory will also be sold at greatly reduced prices. The cause of the drop in prices is said to be owing to the backward weather and many deciding not to build this year, owing to the high price of material. The decreased prices are expected to give building operations a boom here and allow hundreds to get to work who have waited for something to turn up.

MUNDY LUMBER CO. FINED FOR IMPORTING ALIENS

Vancouver, May 21—At the assizes this morning judgement for $400 was entered by consent against the Mundy Lumber company, fr violation of the Alien Labor law, by importing employees from Bradford, Pa., to work at the company's mill at Three Valley, some miles west of Revelstoke, on the main line of the C.P.R. This is the second case brought against the company.

In chambers in Dunsmuir, vs. Last Chance Mining company of Sandon, where an injunction had previously been granted lieutenant governor Dunsmuir restraining Louis Pratt or the Last Chance Mining company in liquidation, from tunneling into the adjoining World's Fair claim, owned by the plaintiff, an order for directions as to pleadings was granted.

The C.P.R. vs. F. Aug. Heinze, an action for forcing the partition of the Columbia and Western land grant lands, plaintiff's counsel reported that Mr. Heinze could not be served with the last order for discovery. Bowser, K.C., Heinze's counsel, promised to assist in the hunt for the Montana mining man, so as to locate him for service of the order.

LORD'S DAY ACT

Four Cases Against the C. P .R. in Alberta—Work Done in Yards.

Calgary, May 21.—Fred English, local agent of the C. P .R. here, has been served with four notices of infringement of the Lord's Day Act by the C. P. R. The summons specifies that the offense is for work in the yards at Claresholm and Nanton and two actions in Macleod. The action is taken against Mr. English because the C.P.R. accepts action in one point alone in Alberta, and in freight matters it is Mr. English, of Calgary. The action will be tried in the Claresholm case tomorrow.

This is the first action in Alberta arising out of the Lord's Day Act and probably the first case against the C. P. R. It is said that work similar to that done in the places complained of is done every Sunday in Calgary.

The alleged offense occurred on March 31st.

ALL SLOCAN INDIGNANT

Mass Meeting to Be Held Today to Denounce New Mail Service.

Delegates From All Slocan Points Will Assemble at New Denver—Silverton Man Describes the Situation.

Slocan City, May 21—Slocan City is a unit against the C.P.R. schedule. Tomorrow's meeting in New Denver is certain to be well attended and appropriate resolutions passed.

The delegates from here will be mayor McNeish, H. P. Jorand and D. St. Denis.

W. H. Brandon of Silverton, was in an angry mood at the Hume hotel last night; "angry" hardly describes the state of Mr. Brandon's feelings for he was fairly bubbling over with indignation at the C.P.R.'s latest traffic arrangement, up and down Slocan lake three times a week.

"I left Silverton yesterday," said Mr. Brandon, "but of course had to wait over at Slocan until this morning and then came on to Nelson. This new, villainous arrangement of a tri-weekly, in place of a daily passenger and mail service, on Slocan lake has aroused the indignation of all the settlers and old timers. We have stayed with the district for the past 15 years and now, just as a revival commences, the C.P.R. throws us down.

"Do you suppose we are going to sit quietly and see the steamer pass within a stone's throw of us every day and be humbly content to have the boat call every other day? No sir; we won't stand for such treatment. When the boat does call she brings along barges and all, so why can't she do it every day?

"From Silverton alone since the first of the year there have been over 50 cars of freight in and outgoing and the revival of mining is just commencing. We have the best of prospects now, if the C.P.R. would leave well enough alone, that we have had for the past six or eight years.

"We will hold a big district convention at New Denver tomorrow at 2 p.m. to take active measures which will ensure the return of the daily service. There will be delegates from Sandon, Three Forks, Rosebery, Slocan City, Silverton and New Denver. We will make a formal complaint to the C.P.R. headquarters; if the big railway will not listen to reason, we will appeal to the railway commission and if necessary we will bring the provincial government into the matter, as it strikes me the provincial bonus to the Nakusp-Rosebery line should be earned, and I think it will be.

"We will ask your board of trade and your 20,000 club to push the matter. It is a question in which Nelson is very much interested and we have already been promised all the assistance possible. We are quiet, law abiding people up Slocan lake way. We have waited patiently for years for the district to pick up and paid our toll to the C.P.R. all this time, but we won't, we simply won't stand for the tri-weekly schedule and we'll go on raising cain until the railway restores our daily service."

Subsequently Mr. Brandon had a conference with president F. A. Starkey of the board of trade and with several other citizens, all of whom promised to assist in the effort now being made to restore the daily service. If Mr. Brandon is a fair sample of the feeling now existing along Slocan lake points, today's meeting at New Denver should be a warm one and The Daily News has dispatched a special correspondent o the scene to fuly cover the affair and to report at length the views of the delegates.

U. S. HAS NO GRIEVANCE

CHANGE IN RATE ON SECOND CLASS MATTER UNDERSTOOD

U. S. PUBLISHERS TREATED SAME AS CANADIAN PUBLISHERS

Ottawa, May 21—The deputy postmaster general made the following statement today in reference to the statement contained in an Associated Press despatch from Washington that the postmaster general of Canada had notified the postmaster general of the United States that it would be impossible for the Canadian authorities to handle second class mail matter sent ino the country from the United States by express or freight and remailed here:

"I might state that no such prohbition has been made. The United States has the same privilege of remailing today in Canada under the present convention, as it had under the old one, with the exception that instead of the rate being one cent per pound, it is one cents per four ounces or four cents a pound. The fact that the rate has been raised from one to four cents was nanatural sequence to the amended convention. To admit remailing privileges at the rate of one cent per pound would be to admit an objectionable class of matter, which owing to the difference in classification between the two ountries, has been pouring into Canada for many years, and which admitted publications from the states to circulation in Canada, the right to publish and circulate which was denied to Canadian publishers.

CROPS ARE ALL RIGHT

Calgary, May 21.—The C. P. R. is busy receiving reports from agents respecting crops, and will make its first report tomorrow. Inspector Jamieson informed the Free Press correspondent tonight that crops are as far ahead or further ahead now than one year ago at this date. Last year there was a touch of dry weather at this time. The late spring is not looked upon as even regrettable.

The Calgary board of trade has received notice to vacate its present premises on the station block. The reason for this is that the C. P. R. intends to proceed at once with its $250,000 building.

At the meeting of the city council tonight mayor Cameron refused to allow a motion which was brought in by one of the aldermen and which would have carried, the object of which was to have all committee meetings open to newspaper reporters.

BUY YOUR COAL EARLY

ADVICE OF W H. ALDRIDGE OF THE PACIFIC COAL CO.

ONLY SAFE WAY OF GUARDING AGAINST WINTER SHORTAGE

Winnipeg, May 21—W. H. Aldridge, managing director of the Pacific Coal company, in an interview today said:

"The difficulties in the western coal fields have been settled for two years and it is only a question of getting sufficient men to enable the coal companies to supply the public, the industries and the railways. Some of the coal companies are short of men at the present time, but it is hoped that this shortage will be made up during the next month or two.

"One important cause for the coal shortage of last winter was due to the public waiting until fall before laying in their winter's supply. During last summer a number of mines did not have sufficient orders to operate over three or four days a week and in the fall the coal companies had more orders than they could possibly fill. The severe weather later in the season made it impossible for the railways to handle all the traffic and supply sufficient cars, and it was equally difficult for the coal mines to operate to their fullest capacity under the severe conditions.

"If the public will, so far as possible, take their coal supply during the summer months, when weather conditions are favorable for both the railroads and the mines there need be no fear of any coal shortage during the winter."

AMERICAN MANUFACTURERS TO RAISE BIG CAMPAIGN FUND

PRESIDENT OF ASSOCIATION CALLS FOR $1,500,000

New York, May 21—The sum of $1,500,000 to be expended in fighting industrial oppression in the next three years was called for by president James W. Vancleave, of the National Association of manufacturers at their convention in this city today. President Vancleave appointed a committee of 35 members to find a way to raise the money.

Mr. Vancleave announced his plan at the conclusion of his annual address, in which he declared the principles of the association were to maintain the open shop, oppose the boycott, limitation of apprentices, and limitation of output and to oppose dictation by labor unions. He also declared that the manufacturers must combat the new issues, caused by the determination of labor union leaders to terrorize the president, congress, judges and juries.

RAILROAD EXPANSION

Western Canada to Be Scene of Vast Development in Near Future.

Extensive Operations of Four Big Transcontinental Railways, Each Trying to Get Ahead of the Other.

Winnipeg, May 21—With four rival transcontinental railroads pushing forward as rapidly as possible to secure new territory in the three Canadian prairie provinces, the season of 1907 will eclipse all previous records for the Canadian Northwest. Hundreds of miles of steel were laid last season and thousands of acres of fertile territory opened to settlement, but according to the plans the Canadian Northern, the Grand Trunk Pacific, the Canadian Pacific and the Great Northern have mapped out for the coming year an even greater mileage of new track will be laid, while vaster districts than ever will be opened for the newcomers from eastern Canada, the United States and the old countries.

The Grand Trunk Pacific, the new transcontinental, promised to be ready to assist in moving the crop of 1907, so that it can be seen the line has a big year's work ahead of it if it is to make the necessary connections.

Jim Hill declared in Winnipeg on the occasion of his memorable visit, that they would span the Canadian west as soon as the Grand Trunk Pacific, and Hill is usually a man of his word, so that important development and great expansion may be expected in that direction during the coming year. The two Hill lines into Portage la Prairie and Brandon by which it is possible to ship out the majority of Manitoba's wheat crop to the Mineapolis mills, are now in operation. Hill does not publish broadcast his plans but it is expected that he will start his Canadian campaign by connecting his various branch lines and crossing the plains to the mountains immediately.

The Canadian Pacific has also a big program and the numerous lines started last spring will be completed and carried forward, notably the through line connecting Winnipeg and Edmonton. One of the principal extensions to be pushed forward by the C.P.R. is the line from Moose Jaw to Edmonton, which will open a vast territory hitherto untapped. It is understood that big improvements are slated for Moose Jaw and also for Brandon, in the way of yard extensions.

The Canadian Northern also will not be behind its rivals in the race through the "Last West." Its energies will be devoted chiefly toward pushing its main line through from Edmonton to the Pacific coast and lines northward into the Peace river country. The northern part of Alberta and Saskatchewan promise to see probably greater railroad expansion and rivalry than any other portion of the country. The C.P.R. has up to the present, devoted its energies to the south, but that it intends to invade the territory of its rival, the Canadian Northern, is seen in the announcement that it will build a line from Bradenburg to Kamsack. From Bradenburg it will build lines southward to make connections with its lines east and west. From Kamsack it will extend northward probably to Hudson's bay. This move is the most important one announced for some time, and the move is a strategic one on the part of the C.P.R. Hill's surveyors are known to have been at work in the northern part of Manitoba this year, and it is thought it is their intention to rush the Brandon, Saskatchewan and Hudson's Bay line through to Hudson's bay, probably to connect with the Canadian Northern and the Manitoba Midland, the other Hill line at Forth Churchill. Altogether next year should see railroad expansion almost unequalled in the history of the continent, a large number of smaller companies having been incorporated for the purpose of commencing construction this year.

G. T. P. IN NEW BRUNSWICK

St. John, May 21—The work on the Grand Trunk Pacific in New Brunswick was commenced this week, the first operations having been begun on division 5, which is between Edmonton and the Quebec boundary.

It is expected that construction work will go ahead quite rapidly. The first sod was turned a few miles this side of Edmondton. There was no ceremony of any sort but the Italian laborers settled down to work.

There has not been anything done on division 1, Moncton to Chipman, owing to the presence of snow in the woods but arrangements are being made to start in a few days.

GRAIN CONSPIRACY CASE

Winnipeg, Man., May 21.—At the court house this morning judge Phippen delivered judgment in the alleged grain conspiracy case, declaring the defendants, Gage and McHugh, members of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, not guilty of conspiring to restrain trade in grain. The reserved case will be argued at a later date.

SLOCAN MAIL SERVICE

Delegates from all points on Slocan lake will assemble at New Denver today for the purpose of discussing the new C.P.R. schedule, which reduces the Slocan country to a tri-weekly mail service from a daily service that has been in effect for years past.

The feeling throughout the Slocan is intense over what is justly considered an entirely unjustifiable reactionary move at a time when the district is recovering from a long period of depression and when, as a matter of fact, there was never greater reason for co-operation on the part of the big railway company.

The Slocan country is looking to Nelson for material assistance in this matter. Nelson board of trade has always been in evidence when there was anything to be done to promote the welfare of outlying districts and Slocan people feel that there never was a greater or more pressing occasion for assistance from this city than in the present circumstances, which threaten the entire business interests of the Slocan.

The Daily News has sent a representative through the district to ascertain the sentiment of the people and to enquire into the probable effects of the continuance of the new schedule. He will attend the indignation meeting at New Denver today and report the proceedings.

There is nothing that Nelson can do to assist Slocan in its present trouble that should be considered to onerous. The Slocan district has been a profitable trade centre for Nelson merchants and it is up to their representative organization, the board of trade, to do all that it can do to bring about a restoration of the regular mail service for that district. The C.P.R. is running its steamer on Slocan lake daily as heretofore, so that it would not be asking too much of the corporation to make daily stops at Silverton and New Denver. The loss of time would be insignificant compared with the convenience it would mean for Slocan business men.

At this season of the year with tourists and homeseekers coming into the country it is most annoying that regular and prompt transportation through the Slocan country should be cut off.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Whether the dominion general elections be brought on this year or next the liberals of Toronto do not intend to be caught napping. Candidates have already been nominated in North, South and Centre Toronto, W. H. Shaw, H. H. Dewart, K.C., and T. C. Robinette, K.C., respectively. At the Centre Toronto nomination the candidate, who was the unanimous choice of the convention, referred to the last contest in which he had participated. After two or three months' work they had made a creditable showing in Centre Toronto. He had polled about 4000 votes and his opponent had exceeded this number by a vote of 4395. These were not dark days. They were bright days for the liberal party in Centre Toronto and he took advantage of the occasion to thank the loyal band of workers who had stood beside him in that fight. He accepted the nomination for it was a great honor and it was his duty to uphold good, strong, true liberalism and to support a leader so distinguished and honored as sir Wilfrid Laurier. He believed that the heart of Toronto was truly liberal. On this occasion they had an organization that they did not possess in 1904. It was working on a good sound business basis, and knowing the sacrifices of the men who were workers in that organization, they could win any "Toronto" they set out to conquer. Personally he was willing to make all the sacrifices that would win a vote by fair means. There was a great influx of men from foreign lands where their battles against monarchical oppression had been fought in the past. These were splendid seed and would become noble members of the liberal party. The work of sir Wilfrid Laurier in securing a trade alliance with Italy was favorably commented upon among other matters of interest.

G. P. Graham, the liberal leader in Ontario was present at this convention and in the course of his address said: The liberals of Toronto have fight in them on this occasion, and the conservatives would find after the contest that they had carried too much flesh to be in proper condition. Mr. T. C. Robinette could be elected if every man did his duty. Toronto was said to be a tory city. This was a time when independence of thought was extending itself. With that independence of thought and the policy which the liberals upheld there was every reason to look for cordial support among the young men of Toronto. Every Canadian who had watched sir Wilfrid Laurier at the colonial conference was proud of him—proud that a Canadian and a French Canadian at that, should attend such a conference and practically control it. Under his leadership Canada was more prosperous that at any period in its history. Canadians scarcely realized to what extent he had been instrumental in bringing Canada up to the proud position which it occupied today. What had Toronto done to bring about that condition? He had hopes that she would do much. It was time that she sent to Ottawa, not men to criticize the government, but give it a generaus support in the work of construction that was making Canada a great nation, and which would make of this city a greater Toronto. Mr. Graham paid a tribute to Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, a man, he said, of whom his constituents should be proud. Mr. Graham added that he had been nearly all over Ontario, and could say that the liberal party was never more united or so full of fight, than it was in this province today.

The Toronto World announces "on good authority from conservative headquarters" that Mr. Borden, leader of the conservative party, is "marking time until after the next election." His object is said to be to wait for the removal from the party of such undesirables as Foster, Haggart, Sproule and Sam Hughes, no mention is made of Fowler, but we can well understand that Mr. Borden would not greatly mourn a decision upon the part of that scandal monger to drop out of active politics. After next election Mr. Borden is going to assert himself. He will demand a parliamentary fund and will refuse any longer to accept the stipend granted the leader of the opposition by the government. "Marking time" is a favorite practice of the tory leader and the prospects are that he will have abundant leisure in which to do his marking. These are not the times in which Canadians will show any great appreciation for a political leader whose idea is to mark time. Canada is forging ahead, taking a front place amng the nations of the world and a party leader who counsels standing still is entirely out of touch with the sentiment of the Canadian people.

SHEARER BERATES JUDGE

LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE FINDS HIS DECISION MISCHEVIOUS

NO EFFORT WILL BE SPARED TO CIRCUMVENT IT

Rev. J. G. Shearer, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, has made the following reply to judge Morson's recent decision, in which he allows the Sunday sale of candies and ice cream in restaurants:

"The decision will be thoroughly satisfactory to Mr. Jas. Haverson, K.C., and to Jewish, Greek, Italian or other restaurant keepers who want to do the widest possible business on Sunday. It will assuredly not be satisfactory to the great majority of citizens of Toronto and York, which for the time being are affected by it.

"It is doubtful if Judge Morson realizes how sweeping his judgment is. He says that a restaurant keeper may sell the food either for consumption on the premises or to be carried away. We presume he means food that is ready for consumption. If he is using food in the broader sense still, then the judgment is so much the more sweeping. Taking the narrower meaning of the word, the effect of the decision is that any restaurant keeper can sell ice cream, ice cream soda, soft drinks, candy and confectionery, all varieties of fruit, all sorts of bread, cakes and all pastry, biscuits, the ready-to-eat cereal foods, cheese, butter, eggs, canned fruits, canned vegetables, canned meats, cooked spiced and dried meats ,dried fruits, dried fish, raisins, maple sugar, maple syrup and a host of other things, either for consumption on the premises or to be carried away. If they can be carried away, then they can be carried to the homes of the city. It means, therefore, in short, that a large part of the business of the grocer, the confectioner, the fruiter and the provision dealer can be freely and legally carried on on Sunday, providing it is done in a restaurant.

"We may expect a rush to the city hall for restaurant licenses by Jews, Greeks, Italians, Chinese and Canadians who are unscrupulous enough to want to use Sunday for money making.

"It will be manifest how unfair such a law would be to grocers, fruiters, etc., who find themselves in competition with restaurant keepers who also carry on these other lines of business. If such a decision were left unchallenged and the law similarly interpreted throughout the country, it would result in thousands of employes in restaurants being deprived of their Sunday rest beyond the limits of those now on duty, and on duty in most cases, we regret to say, seven days in the week, and that to serve no necessary or important end other than money making. The decision, however, is limited to this city and county, and we venure to believe there are few judges anywhere in Ontario who would follow such a remarkable judgment.

"Of course a remedy can be found, and will be found. A stated case can be taken over Judge Morson's head from the magistrate court to the high court, or the Shops Regulation Act of the province can be amended, and though the case was not a Lord's Day Alliance case, the public may be assured that no stone will be left unturned to have the mischief this decision would do averted, and that at the earliest possible time."

RELIEF FOR RHEUMATIC PAINS

"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years," says Mr. Rolland Curry, a patrolman of Key West. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so I was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it my wife went to the drug store here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the pain away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

PEARY OFF AGAIN

St. Johns, May 21.—Captain Robert Bartlett, in obedience to orders received from lieutenant Peary, is today ready to start in the Roosevelt, which has been put in first class shape. As the navy department has granted three years' absence, lieutenant Peary is now prepared to start. The lack of funds has been remedied by a subscription that guaranteed the sum of $200,000 for the new expedition. Commander Peary has stated in his lectures that if he ever started on another expedition he would take a course more to the westward from the last starting point, a thing he learned on his last trip. This time it is Peary's intention to drift with the ice floes as far north as possible and then he believes he can reach the pole by sled. He said after his return from his last trip that if the season had been normal he would have done better, but he encountered an Arctic storm that disabled the Roosevelt for a time. It is understood that this time Peary will select his own crew and he has secured the consent of Roy, Marvin, naturalist, and Dr. Louis Wolf to accompany him on the trip.

C. P. R. NEWS SERVICE

INTERIOR NEWSPAPERS TAKE UP FIGHT FOR BETTER DEAL

PHOENIX PIONEER HANDS OUT SOME HOT SHOT

The Daily News is not alone in its complaint of the miserable news service supplied by the C.P.R. telegraphs, a service that fully justifies the inference that some $20 a month clerk is entrusted with its compilation.

The Fernie Free Press, the Cranbrook Herald and the Phoenix Pioneer have all recently added their strictures to those passed by this paper on the C.P.R. telegraph department.

The Pioneer of Saturday last, in its comments on the matter, remarks:

"Publishers of daily newspapers in Canada—especially in the western part—have long been aware of the indescribably poor press telegraphic service furnished by the C.P.R., and for which the highest price the traffic will bear is exacted. And it matters not that objections are raised to, at times, getting part service or indifferent reports evidently made up by a $20-a-month clerk in the Vancouver office, the full pound of flesh is exacted month after month.

"Recently The Nelson Daily News complained of the miserable press service given by the C.P.R., and the intimation reached Editor Deane that he had better keep still or they would shut off his press service entirely. But Mr. Deane was not to be gagged by such threats and had his little say on this, to him, important subject, just the same.

"If there ever was an exhibition of high-handed monopoly, here it is. They charge top-notch figures and give a service that smells to high heaven, and if one objects to paying for what one does not get, one can go without even the second-hand, stale telegraphic press service that is afforded.

"It is time that the C.P.R. telegraphs, as it is styled, was called down and called down hard. While local officials are, almost without exception, uniformly courteous and accommodating, those higher up seem to "feel their oats" and need taming down. This appears to be a shining opportunity for the railway commission of Canada to do good work. Any daily paper in British Columbia that is not muzzled can testify to the facts as above stated.

"Incidentally, it might be mentioned that the commercial service afforded by the C.P.R. telegraphs is also as bad as the press service, and there appears to be little or no relief in sight."

A characteristic instance of the incapacity of the C.P.R. telegraph department to handle the news of the day arose yesterday. Early in the day The Daily News advised the C.P.R. telegraph department that the trial of mayor Schmitz was to open in San Francisco and asked to have the proceedings covered. Probably half a dozen queries were sent to Vancouver during the night on the same subject, but not a word could be secured. Probably about Friday next the C.P.R. news department will learn that there is such a place as San Francisco is on the map and that one of the most important trials for civic corruption is in progress there.

It would be an easy matter to enumerate scores of similar instances. It is not too much to say that only very occasionally does the C.P.R. news end provide an intelligent and complete story. The rule is to begin in the middle and drop it just about the time it becomes of interest.

The Daily News was advised not to cover the Haywood trial at Boise specially, the C.P.R. news department intended giving an excellent report. The Daily News decided to take no chances and had its own representative on the ground when the trial opened. This course has proved the correct one, for the C.P.R. report is as usual entirely lacking in continuity and faithfully avoids anything of real moment.

It may be that the powers that be will consider the foregoing of the nature of "unfair criticism"; the C.P.R. telegraph department is very sensitive, in that event such service as has been rendered will be cut off.

STOLE SLEEPING CAR FARES

Conductor Creeton Escapes With Light Sentence

Montreal, May 21.—C. J. Creeton, the sleeping car conductor, who was arrested at the instance of the C.P.R., and who pleaded guilty to a charge of appropriating for his own use, money collected from passengers in payment of sleeping car fares, was sentenced today to a term of two months' imprisonment. In passing sentence the judge lectured the prisoner severely on the seriousness of the offense, which he pointed out, in addition to being an act of theft, was also a serious breach of the trust placed in an employee by an employer and said it was only on account of the prisoner's youth and previous good character, that he gave him so light a sentence. The judge concluded by expressing the hope that the sentence which he had imposed would nevertheless be a warning to others in whom trust was reposed and intimated that those found guilty of similar offenses in the future would not be dealt with as leniently as was the prisoner.

FARMER BLOWS HIS HEAD OFF

St. Stephen, N.B., May 21.—Benjamin Anderson, a wealthy retired lumberman and farmer, committed suicide today. He had been acting strangely for some time, and yesterday told his son he intended to shoot himself. The son talked to his father, who promised to give up such thoughts. Today, however, Anderson took a gun and blew his head off. He was 50 years of age.

TO ACCEPT OR RETECT

IRISH NATIONAL CONVENTION NOW IN SESSION

FATE OF BIRRELL'S BILL IN THEIR HANDS

Dublin, May 21.—A great number of delegates from all parts of Ireland have assembled here to attend the convenion to decide whether to accept or reject the bill to provide for the establishment and functions of an administrative council for Ireland and for other purposes connected therewith, introduced in the house of commons by chief secretary for Ireland Birrell on May 7th. More than 2000 delegates are here. It would appear to be a foregone conclusion that the bill will be rejected by the conference. The clergy have opposed it unanimously and all the rank and file of young Ireland are bitter against it. The leaders were in secret conference all day. According to the most reliable reports, John E. Redmond, the nationalist leader, will himself move the rejection of the bill. The American delegates strongly recommend this course. The young Irishmen propose that the convention adopt resolutions rejecting the bill and calling upon the liberal party to introduce legislation carrying out its pledges.

CHANCE FOR HOMESTEADERS

Langham, Sask., May 21.—Langham has 39,000 acres of homesteads, Doukahobaour lands to that extent, which will be thrown open for homesteads on June 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, within one to five miles of Langham, Sask. The lands are now available by order in council and the former Dick reserve will be open to homesteaders commencing on the first day of June, 1907. By the order in council under which this land is opened, entry will be granted for each quarter section to the first eligible applicants applying therefor at the counter at the land office at Prince Albert.

DIVISION OF SYNOD FUNDS

Montreal, May 21.—Lansing Lewis, who for years has been treasurer of the Anglican synod of Montreal, has resigned the position as a protest against the threatened division of the funds of the synod from what he considers their legitimate objects. This division consists of the grants of $15,000 to the congregation of St. Stephen's church, West Mount, which for some time past, it is said, has been unable to meet its maturing liabilities.

Only 14 miles from Burton City, on Goat mountain, is located one of the largest herds of mountain goat known to the sportsmen of B. C., while on the opposite mountain deer can be seen at any season of the year and one of the streams running through Burton Valley is called Trout Creek on account of the quantity of fish caught there. Burton Valley is the home for wild fruit. Wild cherries, wild crab apples, raspberries and wild strawberries, are fast being replaced by cultivated orchards.

HOURS OF RAILWAYMEN

EASTERN PRESS COMMENT UPON THOMPSON CASE

UNANIMOUS OPINION THAT G. T. OFFICIALS BE PROSECUTED

As noted yesterday, the Ontario press discuss very seriously the sentence recently imposed upon a Grand Trunk railway conductor by judge Riddell. The Toronto World says:

In sentencing conductor Thompson to three years in the penitentiary, judge Riddell said:

"If this were the fault of the rules or regulations of the railway company, then terrible were the guilt of those responsible for such rules and regulations, president, director, general manager or whoever they may be."

But unfortunately the rules—the printed rules of a railway company—are for dress parade. They are handy for the defence when a maimed employe or his widow brings a suit to recover damages for personal injury or wrongful death. Then some "rule" worthy of being embroidered, framed, and hung on the parlor wall, is offered in evidence. "Employes must take no chances. A train must not be moved unless the conductor and engineer know that it can be done with absolute safety." Some smug platitude like this is found in every book of rules ever printed.

Any practical railway trainman knows that if he obeyed the printed rules he would not hold his job 24 hours. The engineer who steals a siding, who takes a chance, who makes time, is the man who is marked for promotion. So notorious is it that the written rules are not the real rules of the company; that in nearly every jurisdiction in the United States and Canada the employe is allowed to show to the jury that the "rule" invoked against him has been so habitually disregarded as to imply acquiescence on the part of the company.

Another thing. It was claimed by the crown that Thompson never complained to the company that he was not getting sufficient sleep. Was it necessary If, as has been stated, his run involved 20 hours a day, for five days hand running every week, could there be any doubt among those in authority that the man was being deprived of requisite rest?

In addition to the run itself, much time is required from the conductor in getting out with his train. He must examine and compare his orders and his watch with the engineer's. He must verify his manifests and examine the seals of the cars, in case of freight. He must at least casually inspect the train before it starts. Some time is lost by every trainman coming from and going to his home. When and where did the company suppose that Thompson slept unless it was upon the train?

Stress was laid by the learned judge in sentencing Thompson on the fact that he did not notify the engineer of the danger from the approaching passenger train. Perhaps he should have done this, but it is difficult to understand what orders could have been received by the conductor, which were not also received by the engineer. As we understand it, the operator always writes out the message in triplicate; one copy is preserved; one is for the conductor; the third is for the engineer.

Mr. Justice Riddell is entirely right in his opinion that gross negligence in operating a train is tantamount to a crime. He by no means intended that the conductor should be made the whipping boy for the company. In his address to Thompson, he said:

"To my mind the persons who even permitted you to work 19 to 20 hours per day, day after day, five days in the week, were guilty of a gross wrong; the persons who made rule sor regulations under which this was possible, are themselves almost or quite as guilty morally, perhaps legally, as yourself of the death of these three poor victims.....It would be WRONG TO PUNISH AN EMPLOYE AND ALLOW THE EMPLOYER TO GO SCOT FREE WHERE BOTH ARE AT FAULT."

But the people are cynical. They find that, in spite of all the judges do to preserve equality before the law, the great corporations and the big lawbreakers do go scot free.

"What in the captain's but a choleric word,
In the soldier is flat blasphemy."

The Toronto News remarks:

A good point is made by the Guelph Mercury in connection with the Grand Trunk conductor who has been sentenced for three years for complicity in the Gourock wrevk. The Mercury says: "A company which makes rules and then invites its employes to break them, and assumes an attitude which leads employes to feel that they are likely to lose their positions if they do not consent to transgress them, should not be allowed to go scot free, while subordinates suffer."

This is sound reasoning. Nothing can do more to destroy respect for British law and justice than the suspicion that there is a law of vengeance for the poor subordinate and a law of mercy for the rich and powerful.

Mr. Justice Riddell is directing the attention of the department of justice to the guilt of the responsible officials who permitted Thompson to work 19 or 20 hours a day for five days a week. Will the department pigeon-hole the report and let the matter die out by mere inaction? Or will it take vigorous action, and make it clear that position does not protect a man from punishment for wrongdoing. Will the department make it clear to both railway officials and railway employes that every man responsible for loss of life in a railway wreck will receive severe punishment? Nothing else will stop the carnage.

The Toronto Telegram:

The attorney-general of Ontario will fail in his duty if he does not attempt to fix criminal responsibility upon the G.T.R. officials who allow train crews to work 16 and 18 hours per day.

Working railway men should recognize Hon. Justice Riddell as their best friend. Justice Riddell is not fighting for his own life. The chances are a million to one against his ever being placed in jeopardy by carelessness or disobedience to orders on the part of over-driven train crews.

Justice Riddell has struck a blow at a system that widows the wives of railway men and leaves their children fatherless. It is unfortunate that an individual product of this system should suffer in Justice Riddell's discharge of a public duty. The misfortune of conductor Thompson is not the fault of justice Riddell.

The best service the Ontario government can render the working railway men of this province is to prosecute the creators and preservers of a system that drives these men into jeopardy every hour. Public opinion, operating through the processes of the criminal law, will now make sure that somebody goes to jail for every killing due to carelessness on the railways. Overwork is the great cause of carelessness, and the excuse always pleaded for disobedience to orders. When the Ontario government takes a hint from Hon. Justice Riddell and strikes at the system of overdriving railway men, the Ontario government will be doing something to save many railway men from untimely graves and a few railway employes from jail.

SIDETRACK NELSON

Great Northern to Abandon Day Service to Spokane.

The Great Northern railway has apparently decided to sidetrack Nelson, that is, if this community will patiently stand for it.

Commencing June 1st the daily service between Spokane and this city will disappear, and a half day, half night, service will be instituted instead.

The southbound train will leave here at midnight, arriving in Spokane at 9 a. m.

Leaving Spokane at 4 p. m. the northbound train will reach here between 1 and 2 o'clock in the morning—when it is on time.

The local agent here has not been officially notified as yet, but the change is coming.

ANOTHER COAL COMPANY

A coal company capitalized at $1,000,000 has been organized in Edmonton, and a charter has been applied for. American capital is interested, three Minneapolis men being the big shareholders.

The company will operate a mine up the Saskatchewan river, some 50 miles from Edmonton and 38 miles due west from the C.P.R. at Leduc.

A vein 22 feet thick is said to have been located, and the company has purchased 536 acres surrounding the point at which the vein was opened. If the vein maintains its surface width, it will be the largest in Alberta.

The provincial officers of the company are: President, Mose Anderson; vice-president, R. V. MacCosham; secretary-treasurer, J. M. Finlay; board of directors: R. Secord, Dr. Whitelaw, Holley Ross, Edward Meighen and three Minneapolis capitalists.

This company has also purchased 160 acres of coal land near St. Albert, where an eight-foot vein of coal is guaranteed.

TUMORS CONQUERED

SERIOUS OPERATIONS AVOIDED

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the Case of Mrs. Fannie D. Fox.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

The growth of a tumor is so sly that frequently its presence is not suspected until it is far advanced.

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by profuse menstruation, accompanied by unusual pain, from the ovaries down the groin and thighs.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation; secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound right away and begin its use.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., will give you her advice free of all charge if you will write her about yourself. Your letter will be seen by women only. Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine. Eighteen months ago my monthlies stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly that I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician and was told that I had a tumor on the uterus and would have to undergo an operation.

"Soon after I read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After trying five bottles as directed the tumor is entirely gone. I have been examined by a physician and he says I have no signs of a tumor now. It has also brought my monthlies around once more, and I am entirely well."—Fannie D. PROGRESSING MUSICALLY

OPINION OF DR CHAS. E A HARRISS REGARDING CANADA

McGILL UNIVERSITY ESTABLISHING A CHAIR OF MUSIC

Dr. Charles A. E. Harriss, director of McGill university conservatorium of music, writes in Canada on the subject of "Music in Canada." He says:

You ask "What of music and of the progress this branch of the arts is making today in Canada?"—Canada, the promised land; Canada, the most prosperous country possibly of all countries on the face of the earth at this moment; with American capital teeming into the vast dominion and thousands of United States citizens leaving the land of the Stars and Stripes for the land of the Maple Leaf.

I answer, as one of many in the musical realm laboring for the past quarter of a century for progress and higher national musical development in the dominion that the promise for a "musical Canada" was never so happily evident as now.

As to our musical condition 25 years ago your readers are not concerned, but they will be interested in our present stage and in the progress made since 1901.

Pre-eminently, and at the very outset, it is safe to affirm that the great impetus given to music throughout Canada in recent years is due to our former governor general, the earl of Minto, our present governor general, earl Grey our premier, sir Wilfrid Laurier, that munificent philanthropist lord Strathcona, and to McGill university; powerful influences from high places, without which the cause of music, whether in the new world or the old, is shorn of its quickening aspirations.

It may be difficult to realize but it is nevertheless a fact, that Toronto, in the year 1901, had but one permanent and active choral society, the Toronto Festival chorus of some 350 choristers; today the Queen City can lay claim to no less than eight large choral societies averaging in all about 2000 voices. Furthermore, choral singing generally throughout the cities of the dominion is now a factor in the life of our country, thus proving a great stimulus to many thousands of active participators and a source of education to a vast concourse who are today within reach of choral music from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific.

In 1902 the local conductors throughout the seven Canadian provinces organized a cycle of musical festivals extending from Halifax, N.S. to Victoria, B.C. Throughout the year 4000 Canadian voices were engaged in preparing the music, which in the following year, 1903, sir William Mackenzie came out to conduct. The music performed was entirely British music. The festival continued for five weeks and covered a territory from point to point of 4000 miles.

In 1904 the university of McGill opened its classic walls to music when the McGill university conservatorium of music was auspiciously inaugurated by his excellency the earl of Minto. Between 400 and 500 students are now in attendance there; other schools of music, such as the Toronto Conservatory, directed by Dr. Edward Fisher, and the Toronto college of music, directed by Dr. F. F. Torrington, have a yearly attendance of 1500 and 1000 pupils respectively. The cities of Halifax, Ottawa, Hamilton, London, Winnipeg and Vancouver have each of them good schools of music. In the public schools of Canada music is well provided for and in this regard I well remember hearing 5000 school children sing God Save the King in the city of Winnipeg in a way that was as beautiful as it was exalting.

In 1905 the Mendelssohn choir of Toronto, conducted by Dr. A. S. Vogt, earned material fame through a series of performances given by them in the cities of the United States, much in the same way as your Sheffield and Leeds choirs have earned their great renown and reputation in going abroad.

In 1905 a Canadian composition was performed in London at which his majesty the king was graciously pleased to be present, and this year his excellency originated a musical and theatrical competition open to all Canada, for which the governor general presented two handsome trophies—a practical demonstration of earl Grey's devotion to the artistic culture of the dominion. The competition took place in Ottawa in January and occupied a week, those who competed coming from places far distant as St. John, Newfoundland, on the one side, to Vancouver, British Columbia on the other. If the readers of this article will consult their maps, they will find that some of the competitors, by the time they had returned to their destination, had in their enthusiasm covered in railway travel alone something like 9000 miles. The prizes awarded by competent judges, fell to an amateur orchestral organization of French Canadian instrumentalists hailing from Quebec, and to a dramatic company of Winnipeg.

In a program of music to be given at the forthcoming banquet of the Worshipful Company of Musicians of the city of London, the following Canadian composers, amongst others, will be represented: Calixte Lavalle, Adamee Tremblay, Sydney Alton and Laura Lemon.

McGill university, it may be added, now seeks a professor for a new chair of music.

Thus it will be seen that Canada is progressing musically in proportion to its prosperity. From the evidences of youthful talent and genius that have come recently under my own observation as director of McGill university conservatorium of music, I have no hesitation in stating that during the coming quarter of a century Canada will not only take her proper place in music, but will have something definite to say in the music of the world.

GOOD WORDS FOR CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY

People everywhere take pleasure in testifying to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Edward Phillips of Barclay, Md., writes: "I wish to tell you that I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My little girl, Catherine, who is two years old, has been taking this remedy whenever she has had a cold since she was two months old. About a month ago I contracted a dreadful cold myself but I took Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was soon as well as ever. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

WHERE ZINC IS PRODUCED

The zinc industry of Liege, Belgium, is interesting, because of the location there of the largest zinc manufacturing concern in the world. J. C. McNally, the United States consul at Liege, furnishes the following particulars of the zinc trade:

In 1906 the zinc market was particularly active and the demands exceeded the supply. The yearly average price was $129.94 per metric ton (2,204.6 pounds), or $8.12 higher than for the previous year. ALBERTA'S WHEAT AREA

FARMERS CONFIDENT OF EXCEPTIONALLY HEAVY YIELD

VAST TRACTS OF VIRGIN SOIL BEING BROKEN UP

Cargary, May 21.—G. W. Rowley, who returned from a trip through a considerable portion of the wheat district of Alberta, states he believes Alberta will be the only western province to increase its wheat area this year. He speaks in highest terms of the splendid appearance of fall wheat, and says the farmers are feeling confident of having an exceptionally heavy yield. All over the wheat country can be seen signs of prosperity. Every little way great stea mplows are busy breaking up the virgin prairie, and at every little station can be seen one or more of the great plows awaiting unloading. A great tract of unbroken land will be turned this year and next year the increase in the wheat acreage will be enormous.

NELSON'S NEWS OF THE DAY

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Macdonald leave this morning on a trip to England. They expect to return about Aug. 1.

There will be a meeing of the Nelson Aerie F.O.E. tonight and after the regular business is disposed of there will be a social.

T. S. McPherson arrived from Victorial last night and will be at the Strathcona today. He is returning to the coast at once.

The date of the entertainment to be given by the ladies of the Baptist church has been changed from June 6, to June 3. It will take place in the K. of P. hall.

The Greenwood spring assizes open this morning before Mr. Justice Clement. There are two murder cases on the criminal calendar, Dale being the defendant in one of them.

A meeting of the executive committe of the diocese of Kootenay will be held today in St. Saviour's parish hall. Revs. Henry Steele, GrandForks, and C. A. Procunier of Revelstoke, arrived last night for the meeting.

An inebriated individual who kicked up a fuss at the Hume hotel on Monday evening, and who was arrested in consequence, was fined $20 and costs by the police magistrate yesterday morning, and given a good lecture in addition.

Managing director Starkey said last night that the exhibition directors had made a satisfactory arrangement with Reiss and company of Chicago, for the amusement side of the fair next September. The specialties this year will be the best ever shown here and will include a two hour regular circus exhibition in addition to side shows and special attractions. The combination will provide a band and are so satisfied with what they saw of the Nelson fair last year that very liberal financial arrangements, entirely satisfactory to the directors, have been agreed to.

The funeral of the late Edward Daly of Montreal, the aged father of Patrick Daly of Ymir, who died at his son's residence at Ymir on Sunday evening, will take place this morning from the Church of Mary Immaculate at 8 o'clock.

A special general meeting of the Nelson Launch club has been called for 2 o'clock this afternoon in the city hall. A captain is to be elected for the season and the question of filing out a racing program will also be considered. A full turn-out is particularly requested.

The Daily News received a note from David McBeath, who is now engaged in railway construction work at North Bend, Wash., last evneing. He says the work he is engaged on is very heavy and will take all of two years to complete. His working force is chiefly composed of Austrians, Bulgarians and Italians.

The would-be burglar who attempted to enter the Kilby residence, on West Silica street, on Monday night, has not been captured. His footmarks were traced for a distance from the house, showing the direction he ran off in. The police are inclined to think the thief is a new arrival, but not one of the Spokane thugs.

There was a fair sized audience at the opera house last night to see "A Trip Through Europe in 20 Minutes," and many special moving pictures. The views shown, including some comic ones were uniformly well chosen, but the light was not altogether satisfactory. A complete change of program will be presented this evening.

A meeting of the junior baseball team was held last evening and after much careful deliberation the following players were selected to play against Kaslo on the 24th: R. Bard, catcher; J. Bell, pitcher; T. Stevens, 1st base; S. Newitt, 2nd base; M. McCandlish, short; L. Jackson, 3rd base; W. Brown, left field; E. Irwin, center field; J. Miller, right field, and A. Lacey, spare man.

TIERNEY'S CLAIM

City Will Not Contribute a Cent or Become Liable in Any Way

There was no change yesterday in the situation between the city and the West Kootenay Power and Light company as to the settlement of the pending litigation, prevented by the interposition of W. P. Tierney and Dave McBeath. Mr. Campbell arrived last evening and there was another conference of the powers at the Strathcona hotel late last night, with what results remains to be seen.

At the time McBeath and company asked to be relieved from their contract the city took over the work and it is understood obtained from the contractors an assignment of all their interests, paying them in full for all the work done to that date. That being so people ask how the contractors can talk of bringing an action for damages against the company. It is quite clear that public opinion will not sanction the city's paying a cent to McBeath and Tierney, and it is equally clear that the city and Mr. Campbel's company can settle the pending litigation, if they want to, without regard to Mr. Tierney. If Mr. Campbell insists on obtaining any undertaking from the city to protect his company from a possible but highly improbable action for damages, the appeal to the privy council will have to go on.
