TRIAL AT BOISE

Rebuttal Evidence Produced by the State

ORCHARD CORROBORATED

TESTIMONY FOR DEFENSE IS IMPUGNED IN MANY IMPORTANT PARTICULARS—O'NEILL IS SEVERELY ATTACKED BY THE PROSECUTION

(Special to The Daily News)

Boise, July 13.—When court opened in the Haywood case this morning there was no other witness to go on for the defense and the introduction of re-buttal evidence by the state began at once.

John C. Rica, of Caldwell, testified that Orchard didn't have a moustache in November, 1905. That was to rebut the statement of J. C. Elliott, who testified he talked with Orchard on November 28 or 29, and the latter indicated he was angered at Steunenberg and something dreadful would happed.

E. M. Heigho, general manager of the P. and I. N. railroad, and D. C. Collopy, train dispatcher at Nampa, were put on to rebut the same witness. They showed from the records of the two roads that Elliott could not have come down over the P. and I. N. road on November 28 or 29, and catch a train to Nampa as he claimed.

Dan Gainey, who lost both feet in the independence depot explosion, was on the stand. He was in the wood business with Orchard until February, 1899. On May 4 or 5, 1899, he was in Mullan and asked Dominick Flynn if he knew where Orchard was, Flynn said he had not seen him since he went out of the wood business. Flynn testified in this case that Orchard played poker in his cigar store on April 29.

R. E. Grimshaw, of Deadwood, S.D., testified he knew John M. O'Neill, editor of the Miner's Magazine in 1880. There was a strong objection to his testimony and to the admission of certain certified copies of records offered later in the day. These records were admitted and they showed that John A. Hogan was sentenced to 18 months at Deadwood in January, 1881, for killing Daniel Falva in the previous November. The witness Grimshaw testified that John M. O'Neill was the man sentenced under the name of Hogan He was living there under the assumed name. O'neill was one of these who testified hearing Orchard threaten to kill Steunenberg.

J. P. Stevenson, clerg of the Cullin hotel, Salt Lake, testified that Orchard was there in November 28 and 29, 1905, when Elliott claimed to have talked with him on a train near here.

James H. Moore, formerly keeper of a rooming house in Denver, testified that Orchard was at his house through most of July in 1904, when Dr. I. L. Magee claimed he saw him in the Couer d'Alenes.

W. J. Bailey also re-butted Magee about F. F. Johnson being chairman of the Republican central commitee in the Couer d'Alenes in July 1904.

August Paulson, of Wallace, testified that Orchard sold his interest in the Hercules mine to D. Cardona, early in -898. The deeds showing the transfer of the interest were introduced. Harry Green transferred it to Orchard on October 5, 1897, and Orchard transferred to Cardona on March 7, 1898. This is to controvert the claim that Orchard was compelled to sell out in April 1899, because Steunenberg sent the troops in and that he killed the former governor for that reason.

Roy Kingsbury, bookkeeper for the federal company, produced books to sow that Harry Orchard was working in the Tiger-Poorman mine for some time prior to April 29 and until May 3, and that he worked continiously, excepting on April 29, the day of the riotous excursion to the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mill. It controverted the testimony of the stage driver, who said he met Orchard on the road on May 2.

E. L. Hale, who was master-mechanic at the Gem mine, said he did't see W. F. Daivs about town on April 29.

William Dewey, of Goldfield, who was in the Couer d'Alenes in 1899, testified he went down on the train on April 29, that W. F. Davis handed out guns at the union hall, that he went down on the train and that he commanded the crowd that to blew up the mill. He said on crossexamination that he thought every man from the Gem mine went on the train. Davis testified he did not leave the Gem that day.

The court then adjourned for the day until Monday morning.

A warrant was issued tonight for the arrest of Dr. I. L. Magee for perjury.

(Associated Press)

Boise, July 13—With the opening of the court in the Haywood trial today attorney Richardson sprung a decided sensation by announcing that the defense rested. The change of plans took the state by surprise and there was some delay in beginning the case in rebuttal.

The witnesses began to straggle in and soon John C. Rice, was recalled to the stand. He testified that in November, 1905 Orchard did not wear a moustache, this was in contradiction of one of the witnesses for the defense, who swore he heard Orchard make threats against Steunenberg, describing Orchard as a man with a large moustache.

The next witness was Dan Gainey of Walla Walla. Gainey lost both his feet in the Independence depot explosion. He lived in the Coeur d'Alenes in 1898 and 1899 and roomed there part of the time with Orchard. Gainey said that Dominick Flynn who testified he was playing poker with Orchard on April 19, 1899, the day of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan explosions, had told him in a conversation that he had not seen Orchard since 1899.

Cross examined by Richardson he said he had no present business.

"When did you go out of business?"

"After I was dynamited at Victor."

"It was because you were dynamited that you wanted to come here and testify?"

"No, sir."

"You know it was Orchard who says he blew you up?"

"Yes."

"But you have corresponded with him since his arrest?"

"I have written to him several times."

"That's all."

Interest in the rebuttal case was materially increased by the calling of August Paulson of Wallace, Idaho, one of the owners of the Hercules mine, in which Orchard once held a sixteenth interest. There was a long argument between counsel as to the witness' ability to tell when Orchard ceased to exercise any control in the mine. Paulson said he could not remember the exact dates but as early as the spring of 1898 Orchard had nothing further to do with the property, his interest being secured by Dan Cardoner, now a wealthy man, from the production of the mine.

The defense claims that Orchard had a personal motive against Steunenberg because of the loss of this property when he was driven out of the country as a part of 1899 troubles. The state claims Orchard sold out his interest a year or so before the troubles. The deed by which Orchard transferred his interest in the Hercules mine to Cardoner was admitted in evidence over the protest of the defense, it bears date of March 7, 1898.

Paulson was cross-examined but briefly and left the stand as the luncheon adjournment was ordered.

William Dewey, the witness put on in rebuttal by the state, this afternoon, made a full confession of his share in the Bunker Hill and Sullivan explosion. He was the last witness of the day, and court adjourned until Monday.

GREAT STEAL

Lindsay Counterfeiters Made Big Haul

SPURIOUS BILLS GALORE

COUNTRY FLOODED WITH BOGUS MONEY INCLUDING GOVERNMENT ISSUE AND BILLS OF PROMINENT CANADIAN BANKS—TWO MORE ARRESTS MADE YESTERDAY.

Montreal, July 13 — That the Lindsay counterfeiters have been not only circulating bad bills of the Dominion government, but have for three years been flooding the country with spurious paper money bearing the names of the best Canadian banks, is the startling information which leaked out here this morning.

It is stated that the bank of Montreal and the Dominion bank and the Traders' bank have all in turn been victimized.

In 1905 bad notes first began to appear. They were Dominion bank bills of five dollar denomination. A number of counterfeits were circulated. Then the police began making enquiries nad the production of bad money was stopped.

After a time when the scare passed the mill started up again, this time sending out Dominion bank bills, these bills were "shoved" successfully for a considerable time and then happened what had happened before. The police got busy and they closed down. More recently the output consisted of Traders' bank bills.

In each case the bills were fives. They were not engraved but merely printed off and most of them were passed in Montreal and in the lower provinces among the French Canadian people, used to handling French bills and more or less unfamiliar with paper money of English banks.

Time after time again, the police were on the verge of discovery, but could not show that the people to whom the money was traced had not come innocently by it.

Some of the counterfeits were got rid of in Port Hope and some passed in Ottawa. Bad bills of the Traders' bank recently in circulation are believed to have come from Lindsay.

The police have not yet succeeded in getting the net around the whole gang but more arrests are expected and would it is said have been made already but for a hitch somewhere in the province of Ontario.

Toronto, July 13—Another arrest has been made in connection with the counterfeiting case. This time it is George Miller, a highly respected young man, press room superintendent and a shareholder in the Watchman Warder. The information on which he was taken, is vague and covers the widest possible kind of alleged offence and time, extending back some years.

Miller was at Pleasant Point on his holidays when taken in charge last night. The authorities are quoted as being about to make further arrests and the widening of the case to forgeries of two years ago is said to bring in several others suspected persons.

Port Hope, July 13—James Goslin, well known in Port Hope, was arrested by chief Bond on a warrant issued in Lindsay, charging him with passing counterfeit notes. He is believed to be connected with a gang of counterfeiters at Lindsay. Goslin was formerly a resident of Lindsay.

A BAD RECORD

Winnipeg Fatalities Are Appalling

DEATH OF PETER LARSON

NOTED WESTERN RAILROAD CONTRACTOR DIES AT HELENA—WAS WELL KNOWN IN KOOTENAYS—END OF STRAIN MYSTERY IS REACHED AND MAN FOUND

Winnipeg, July 13—Word reached this city today of the death of Peter Larson at his home in Helena Montana. Deceased was a member of the firm of Foley Bros. and Larson, railway contractors, doing considerable work in western Canada. He was 57 years of age and well known in British Columbia and the west generally.

Since the beginning of the year there has been in this city no less than 34 fatalities, an appalling record, besides five people who have taken their own lives. Possibly never before has so many violent deaths occurred in this city in the same space of time.

From the record it would seem that Winnipeg is increasing in the number of accidental deaths at a rate that is truly alarming.

In detail, the deaths were accidental, 10; by street cars, 5; by freezing, 1; by asphyxiation, 2; burned to death, 6; suicides, 6; drowned, 3; killed on railways, 3; poisoned, 1; murdered, 2.

The mystery of the disappearance of J. J. Strain of the United States immigration staff at Winnipeg, has been cleared up. Mr. Strain has been located at Buffalo and the case is said to be one of mental aberration.

Word was received from the missing man today. He has not the slightest recollection of what he has been doing since re disappeared from Winnipeg on July 4. His memory so far as the intervening days are concerned is a complete blank. It will be remembered that Mr. Strain's last official duty in the city was at 2:15 on the 4th of this month, when he inspected two trains and he was last seen on the day following. His health had suffered since his wife's death and for that reason he was being transferred to Niagara and he was looking forward to the change.

Premier Thomas Bent of Victoria, Australia, arrived in the city today. He was met by premier Roblin, who had arranged to take the visitor from the Antipodes to the dinner at the opening of the industrial fair. Premier Bent is on his way back from London to Australia after completing in England the work which called him to the mother country. He is accompanied by W. H. Meakin, the under treasurer. His daughter, Mrs. Bleaby and his grand daughter left the city for the coast this evening.

MUST SERVE TIME

San Francisco, July 13.—Mayor Eugene Schmitz's application for bail was defeated in the court appeals today.

INTERSTATE COMMISSION

LONG DELAYED REPORT HAS BEEN SENT IN

RAILWAYS MUST BE REGULATED FOR PUBLIC'S GOOD

Washington, July 13—The interstate commerce commission today made public a report of its inquiry into the railroad operations of E. H. Harriman and the operations of the so called Harriman lines, which enquiry has been in progress for several months.

The report was written by commissioner Franklin K. Lane and is the unanimous expression of the committee on the subject, copies of the report have been transmitted to president Roosebelt and the department of justice.

The committee expects it will be determined by the president and attorney general from the statement of facts set out in the report, whether the government shall institute proceedings against Mr. Harriman. No recommendations are made by the commission as to any prosecutions.

The recommendations of the commission which are rather general than special in their terms and application are as follows:

The function of a railroad corporation should be confined to the furnishing of transportation. Railroads should not be permitted to invest generally in the stocks bonds and securities of other railways and steamship companies, except connecting lines for the purpose of forming through routes of transportation including branches and feeders.

It is in the interests of the public to facilitate the consolidation of connecting lines. The credit of a railway company is founded upon the resources and prosperity of the country through which it runs. Its surplus funds and credit could be used for the betterment of its lines and branches to develop the country contiguous to it.

The testimony taken upon the hearing shows that about 30,000 square miles of territory in the state of Oregon, surrounded by the lines of the Oregon Short Line, the Oregon Railroad and Navigation company and the Southern Pacific railroad company is not developed while the funds of the companies which could be used for the purpose are invested in stocks like the New York Central and other lines, having only remote relations to the territory in which the Union Pacific system is located. To this end the risks of the railroads should be reduced to a minimum. Every one knows that railway securities fluctuate more or less according to the prosperity and also by reason of the widespread speculation in securities. It therefore adds an element of hazard to a railroad's capital and credit to have its funds invested in the stocks of other companies, thereby endangering its solvency and its and its ability to pay reasonable dividends upon its capital stock. It is a serious menace to the financial condition of the country to have large systems fail to meet their obligations or go into the hands of receivers and the object of the administration should be to lessen the risks f railway investments.

It is contrary to public policy as well as unlawful for railways to acquire control of parallel competing lines. This policy is expressed in the federal laws and the laws of nearly every state and finds in about 40 of them prohibitaons against consolidation of capital stock or franchises of competing railways, or the purchase and acquisition by a railway of competing lines. Competition between railways as well as between other industries is the established policy of the nation and while the acquisition of a small minority of the stock of a competing line might not decrease the competition, yet the acquisition of any considerable amount of stock representative on the board of directors of such railway unquestionably has the effect of diminishing the competition and lessening to that extent its effectiveness. So long as it is the policy of the general government and of the states to maintain competition between naturally competitive lines, the ownership of any stock by one railway in a competing railway should not be permitted and such lines of railway should be prohibited from having any common directors or officers.

The time has come when some reasonable legislation should be imposed upon the issuance of securities by railways engaged in interstate commerce. Men will not invest their money and take the risk for small rates of interest. But this principle does not apply to old established railway systems having good credit. Such railways should be prevented from inflating their securities for merely speculative purposes. Railways should be encouraged to extend their systems and develop the country. It is of the utmost importance that securities should be safe and good investments for the people and should yield good returns for the money invested. Railroad regulation will tend to make them more safe and more secure inpestments and thereby benefit not only the railway companies but the public.

BOUNDARY MINING DEAL

CONSOLIDATED COMPANY MAKES BIG PURCHASE

ACQUIRES MANY PROPERTIES IN PHOENIX CAMP

Phoenix, July 13—By far the most important deal in a mining way that has been made in the Boundary for a long time was brought to a successful issue this weke, when the Consolidated Mining and Smelting company of Canada, which has been operating the Snowshoe mine in this camp, under lease and bond for a year past, secured control of some twenty or thirty mineral claims here by purchase and option. The mines taken oveh include the claims of the Phoenix Amalgamated Copper Mines, as well as several others, the Cliff group, the Fottle Axe group and the Pay Horse group, all located to the south and east of the Granby company.

No figures are available as to the cost of the properties to the Consolidated but it is known that the Phoenix Amalgamated will receive something like $50,000 in cash together with a block of stock in the Consolidated. On the other claims a payment was made, said to amount to ten per cent. The total involved runs well into six figures.

It is evident that no time will be lost in getting to work on the newly acquired properties with development work, as orders have been placed for lumber for a two storey bunkhouse to be built at the War Eagle, and 50 men will be given employment there as soon as they can be had and the work opened up. The old bunk house will be utilized until the new one is ready for occupancy, it being in charge of W. S. Mack and company, who now conduct the Granby, Snowshoe and Skylark boarding houses. Supplies are already being sent to the mine and the telephone line will be extended to that point also.

At present the War Eagle is equipped with half of a ten drill air compressor and other machinery, but it is the intention to install as soon as it canbe done some of the machinery having already been ordered. The West Kootenay Power and Light company will build a branch feed line to the War Eagle and the machinery will have electric drive throughout as with the other mines of the Boundary.

Charles Bossal, superintendent of the Snowshoe, for the Consolidated, was seen regarding the deal, but had little to say regarding the matter, except that he had received orders to proceed at once with prepaations for the development of the new claims, which would be thoroughly prospected and exploited by diamond drilling.

HERO McBRIDE

Coast Politicians Turned Out in Force

NON PARTISAN SPEECHES

PREMIER DECLARES HE GAINED ALL HE WENT TO LONDON FOR AND STRONGLY URGES THAT PROVINCE MUST BE GRANTED BETTER TERMS THAN OFFERED.

(Special to The Daily News)

Vancouver, July 13.—Despite threatening weather the citizens of Vancouver came out by thousand tonight to greet Premier McBride on his return to the metropolis of the province.

The welcome was devoid of any political feeling. Conservatives and liberals joined alike in the welcome.

The procession, headed by the mayor and the city council, numbering fully 1000 paraded through the principal streets, winding up at the drill hall. There mayor Bethune formally welcomed the premier and Mr. McBride replied.

The premier's address was free from partizan flavor, M. McBride stating that in the presentation of the province's claim at London he had endeavored to represent the interests of the whole province without regard to any thought of political standing and impressed upon his hearers the meaning of the striking out of the words "final and unalterable" from the terms suggested by the provincial premiers.

In the afternoon McBride was enthusiastically received at New Westminster, like non-partisan honors being evident in the reception.

AMERICANS OUT OF IT

London, July 13—The first contest in the preliminary rounds for the Davis cup, the emblem of the tennis championship, was decided at Wimbledon this afternoon.

Norman E. Brooks, Australian, winner of the all-England championship a week ago, defeated Bolls C. Wright, American, in three straight games.

The second round of the singles, between Karl H. Behr, American, and A. F. Wilding, New Zealand, furnished far better and more exciting tennis, but the New Zealander won the in long run.

The defeat of both Wright and Behr makes the prospect of America regaining the cup very remote, for to do so they must win the doubles on July 15 and the singles July 16th.

LONGSHOREMAN KILLED

Victoria, July 13.—A longshoreman, named Baynes, was killed while at work in between the decks of the steamer Ning Chow today. A lot of pipes was being raised when it swung round and knocked the unfortunate man down the hole to the deck below.

The new C.P.R. steamer Princess Royal left this afternoon on a trial trip to Ladysmith. On her return the steamer will be put in commission.

PLAN THAT FAILED

Montreal, July 13—That 15 convicts of the St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary had planned an audacious conspiracy, not only of escaping themselves, but of emptying the entire institution, was the confession made yesterday by ex-convict Francois Larouche, shortly after he had been liberated from the penitentiary, where he had served a term for burglary.

INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY

Speaking at the Jamestown exhibition the other day, Dr. Woodrow Wilson, of Princeton university, made an important contribution to the question of the responsibility of individual members of corporations.

The doctor's theme was individual accountability for the acts of corporations, and his remedy for the monopolistic tendencies and the unlawful practice of modern public service and industrial incorporated companies in the United States was the arrest and imprisonment of corporation heads instead of the finding or dissolution of corporations themselves. In advocating this, the Princeton president undoubtedly struck at a real and serious defect in company law as it has been developed both in the United States and in Canada. The fiction that makes incorporated companies a separate person in law has been carried to an absured and dangerous extreme, and when that happens, as a United States judge once observed, it must be disregarded.

A fictitious person cannot do anything, and when anything is done involving a breach of the law, it is a real man who is responsible. "One really responsible man in jail," said President Wilson, "one real originator of the schemes and transactions which are contrary to the public interest legally lodged in the penitentiary, would be worth more than a thousand corporations mulcted in fines, if the reform is to be genuine and permanent." The kind of law Canada needs is that which will attack and punish presidents and general managers of railroads for evasions and violations of the statutes. It is just as absurd, said Dr. Wilson, to indict or dissolve corporations for offences against the pubic as it would be to arrest and confiscate automobiles because their owners killed pedestrians. If the individual is made responsible, the president is convinced, the difficulty will be solved.

EDITORIAL NOTES

There is a decided inclination in some quarters to belittle the Lemieux conciliation act and to insist that it is unworkable. In the Cobalt strike, the act is being appealed to but just as in other cases, difficulties are encountered at first until the working of the act is understood. When the Cobalt miners grasp the situation thoroughly, it is most likely that arbitration with follow and a settlement be quickly reached. The procedure under the Lemieux act has already solved several difficult problems and there is no good reason why it should not work out satisfactorily the dispute at Cobalt.

Mr. William Whyte, second vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway company, has reached the coast after passing through the Kootenays. He was not able to visit Sandon as he promised, nor did he take up directly the question of restoring the daily service on Slocan lake, but it has been unofficially stated, that upon Mr. Whyte's arrival in Vancouver it is very probable a settlement of the question will be reached. It has been hinted that the schedule in force during the winter via. Nakusp, Slocan lake and Slocan Junction, will be again adopted forthwith, but what even plan is followed, a change for the better, may be expected this week and it can not come too quickly.

GARIBALDI'S STATUE

Paris, July 13.—The statue of Garibaldi, Italy's gift to the city of Paris, was unveiled today in Lowandow Square with imposing civil and military ceremonies in the presence of President Fallieres, the cabinet ministers, the diplomatic corps, and other distinguished persons. Foreign Minister Pichon and General Canzio, Garibaldi's son-in-law, made the principal addresses.

The feature of the occasion was a defile before the monument of the French veterans of the army of the Vosges, and deputations of Italian veterans who fought with Garibaldi in the defence of France during the Franco-German war of 1870-71. The presence of the latter in Paris, where they are being shown much attention, gives to the French national fete, the anniversary of the taking of the Bastile, which will be celebrated tomorrow with the usual popular festivities and a review of troops at Longchamps, somewhat of the character of a Franco-Italian fraternization.

Mr. Broadbridge will hold a strawberry social on Friday, 19th at 8 o'clock at Mr. Fotherby's, Carbonate street. A good program of music, songs and readings will be provided. Admission 25c. including refreshments. Come and have a jolly evening.

SIZING UP THE CHANCES

AMERICAN PAPERS COMPARING FORCES WITH JAPAN

ALL CURRENT COMMENT IS VERY WARLIKE IN TONE

Not more calculated to ensure peace than the strengthening of the Pacific squadron is the publication in American newspapers of high standing of articles comparing the navies of the United States and Japan. Two full, illustrated pages of the New York Times are devoted to the subject, the tone of the articles being to impress upon readers the supposed fact that Japan's army and navy are not as formidable as might be expected. The greatest prominence is given to rear admiral Bridge's interview on the power of the United States navy. At the present time a journal could do no worse service to its country than to thus minimize the effect of war and for the Times to do so is an indication that it believes there is absolutely no danger of serious trouble or that the situation at present is so far advanced that a newspaper article cannot affect it.

In discussing the Japanese army the Times says that the process of conscription and the wholesale discharges that followed the war with Russ t leave in the Japanese army today only men who have enlisted since the peace of Portsmouth, or shortly before. The article contradicts a statement that Japan could put a million veteran troops into the field and declares that the total army of Japan numbers only 220,000 men and that any increase must be by methods similar to our own under such circumstances. The writer continues to disparage Japanese equipment, saying that the "Arisaki" rifle, the Mauser of 1893) is far inferior to the rifles used by other powers, including the United States. Besides being inferior, most of the Japanese weapons were worn out in the great war, and the rifles captured from Russia form the chief weapon of the Japanese today.

The idea that Japan has any "secret devices" of war that might be used with terrible effect on her enemy is scouted, as it is asserted that any military tricks the little brown men have are copied from some European power. As for the navy, Japan has the trouble common to all maritime powers of continually "licking into shape green men, who, for the most part, leave the service just as they are becoming really useful. Special inducements are held out to sailors to remain longer than the minimum term of three years, but the Times doubts if ten per cent of the men who saw service under Togo are now in the navy. As for the guns, the wear and tear of the Russian war, which subjected the Japanese navy to a more severe test than any other modern navy ever underwent, is said to have made mose of them comparatively useless. Regarding the ships they are said to have suffered more than was known at the time of the war.

In another article headed "America Ahead in Fighting Strength," an anonymous naval officer, who is said to be "well known," but under orders not to talk for publication, declares his opinion that before the Atlantic fleet has been a week on its voyage to the Pacific, "Japan will seize the Philippines and declare war." After this "break" it is not difficult to guess why the officer is "well known," but the Times vouches for the statement that the vast majority of those in the naval service have long been of the opinion that sooner or later the Japanese situation would reach a crisis. The despatching of 16 battleships to the Pacific, there to make part of a combined fleet of 21 battleships, six armored cruisers, two monitors, nine protected cruisers, six gunboats and one coast defence, might as easily constitute that crisis as be a result of it.

Tables are given showing the superior naval strength of the United States and there is a chart comparing the land forces wherein it seems that the regulars in the United States number 58,338, the state militia 111,289, and the unorganized militia 16,360,363, "unorganized militia" being a new name for the male population between the ages of 21 and 60. At present there is no adequate reason for a war between the United States and Japan; there is far more cause for a war between the United States and California, but it is an ominous sign when a disputant takes off his coat and begins to feel his muscles.

COST OF LIVING

Prices Are Higher in Dawson City and Will Continue So

(Special to The Daily News)

Winnipeg, July 13.—Mail advices from Dawson City of recent date says: "(At this time of the year Dawson merchants begin to sit up and look to Fairbanks' market with more or less concern. Usually there has been a good demand from Fairbanks during June for goods which are short there and can be had here, but it seems as though business there has been exceptionally slow of late. Eggs are almost entirely out of the market, and whenever a consignment arrives they are readily bought up at $70 per case. Potatoes are well controlled by a few dealers, who are holding out for 20 per cent. per pound and they cannot possibly go higher, but the market will remain firm until the middle of June, when a fresh supply will begin to arrive. Onions are practically out of the market, but the small quantity on hand is selling at $35 per crate.

Sugar is selling at $15 per ton less than it cost last fall and all the retailers are long on this commodity and rolled oats are in good demand at $c. per lb. Corn meal is also long and is selling at less than cost.

In discussing the conditions of the market, one of the prominent jobbers said: "The fact that the prices on all eatables outside have advanced, and that it will be impossible to duplicate last fall's prices, will be the means of merchants holding their requisitions for late summer shipment. The market is not overtocked by any means and there are a great many articles that will command a good figure just as soon as a demand is made on the local market. A few of the most sought for articles and that are really showing up short, are potatoes, onions, fresh eggs, cream, salmon bellies, hay and oats. These articles are really short and should command a good figure before navigation opens.

ENGLISH COMMENT

London Spectator on American-Japanese Situation

London, July 13.—The weekly reviews comment gravely on the Japanese-American situation. They express relief that the immediate tension appears to have been relieved, but they foresee that it is not impossible, in the more or less distant future, that the same problem should confront Great Britain that now confronts the United States.

The Spectator publishes a thoughtful article in which, although it dismisses the idea of war between Japan and America as wholly incredible, it admits with reluctancy that the situation contains many elements of anxiety, saying it is almost inevitable that there should come a conflict, some time or other, out of the Anglo-Saxon resistance to the landing of Japanese immigrants in the territories bordering on the Pacific ocean. The colonies of Australia, Africa and Canada are as anxious as the people of California to exclude the yellow races. With respect towards Japan, the Spectator is unable to withhold its sympathy from the colonists. It says circumstances have forced the Americans to be the pioneers in working out the problem, but it is impossible to foresee how soon another series of accidents may bring Great Britain face to face with similar difficulties. Consequently, the paper expresses the most earnest hope that the British public and press will do the utmost in their power to assist in the promotion of a peaceful and enduring solution of the American-Japanese problem, the government by the tactful influence of an ally, and the press by avoidance of any comment that might prove an emparrassing precedent in the future. "With all sympathy and admiration for Japanese aspirations and the Japanese themselves, we must admit," the Spectator concludes, "that Great Britain's first and last duty is to her own flesh and blood."

TWAIN DEPARTS

London, July 13.—Mark Twain, who started for home today, made this statement regarding the remarkable attention he has received in England: "I have led a violently gay and energetic life here for four weeks, but I have felt no fatigue and I have but little desire to quiet down. I am younger now by seven years than I was and if I could stay here another month I could make it 14. This is the most enjoyable holiday I have ever had and I am sorry the end of it had come. I have met a hundred old friends and made a hundred new ones. It's a good kind of riches, there's none better, I think. For two years I have been planning my funeral, but I have changed my mind now and have postponed it. I suppose I won't see England again, but I don't like to think of that."

BEST MEDICINE IN THE WORLD FOR COLIC AND DIARRHOEA

"I find Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to be the best remedy in the world," says Mr. C. L. Carter of Skirum, Ala. "I am subject to colic and diarrhoea. Last spring it seemed as though I would die, and I think I would if I had not taken Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. PEACE DELEGATE'S VIEW

London, July 13.—A special despatch received here from The Hague gives an interview with Aimaro Sato, a member of the Japanese delegation to the peace conference. M. Sato says: "Neither I nor my colleagues are aware of any crisis between America and Japan, and certainly all talk of rupture or war is the wildest exaggeration. It is equally untrue that we decline to support the proposal for immunity of private shipping on the high seas because we wish to leave our hands free to attack American commerce in case of war."

THE DOCTOR AWAY FROM HOME WHEN MOST NEEDED

People are often very much disappointed to find that their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like cramp colic and cholera morbus require prompt treatment and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and alll risk. Buy it now: it may save your life. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

GRAFT IN FRISCO

San Francisco, July 13.—Mayor Chas. Boxton, as a witness in the trial of Louis Glass, charged with bribing the supervisors to procure a telephone monopoly, has told in court the story of his entrapment last fall at the home of Mr. Roy, who bought, for $500, Boxton's supervisal vote against an ordinance prohibiting child patronage of skating rinks, only to turn Boxton over to the law. Mayor Boxton told how Rudolph Spreckles, Assistant Prosecutor Heney, District Attorney Langdon, Detective Burns, and a dozen others walked in on him during the deal and offered to let him go free if he would "turn up" his confederates and accomplices inside and outside of the board of supervisors. He agreed and a written guarantee of immunity was drawn up and placed in Spreckles' pocket.

LIBRARY CONTEST

Editor The Daily News—On July 10th I wrote Mr. Rutherford on behalf of the Knights of Pythias, regarding the library contest, stating that the matter had been brought up at our last convention and that the lodge was very dissatisfied with the way the counting had been conducted; and further that I was instructed to place a copy of the letter with the press. Mr. Rutherford requested me not to give this letter to the press until he acted in the matter, and therefore I did not do so.

On Friday last there was a letter in the Daily News regarding the contest and that is apparently as far as things have gone, "excepting" that the library has been handed over to the high school. In my letter to Mr. Rutherford, I stated that one firm in town had, upon the last day of the contest placed over 400,000 votes to the K. of P., two other members of the lodge had given 119,000 and 57,000 respectively, mainly collected from the members and saved up. All these votes were placed before the closing hour and should have been credited to us, whilst on the closing day, according to The Daily News, we only received forty odd thousand.

In justice to our lodge and to the Kootenay Lake general hospital, who would have been the recipients had we received the library, we think it only right that the public should know these facts. Yours truly,

E. W. WIDOWSON,
Nelson, July 13 K. R. and S.

BUSY MAN'S VACATION

For those who are taking a lengthy rest from business, or for those who are unable to leave it, suggestions as to the best way to get the most good out of spare time is always interesting and sometimes helpful. "Vacation for business men," dealing with the best and most helpful way to spend a holiday; and a "Busy man's Vacation," showing how a person can get rest and recreation at their own doors, are both interesting and helpful. Both these articles are to be found in the July outing number of the Busy man's Magazine. In addition to these there are several others of interest to those about to take an outing such as "In Evangeline's country," an interesting account of a trip in picturesque Nova Scotia; "In a Border Mining Camp," and "John Bull's Bread Basket," on western Canada, the farming country.

JAFFRAY COMING WEST

(Special to The Daily News)

Fernie, July 12.—Senator Robert Jaffray, of Toronto, vice-president of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal company, Charles C. Dalton and Colonel James Mason, directors, will leave Toronto on July 18, on a visit of inspection of the mines and property of the company.

The Coal Creek football team are scheduled to play the Coleman aggregation on the Fernie recreation grounds on Saturday evening at seven o'clock, when a fast game is expected, both teams being in first class condition.

COLD IN EUROPE

Berlin, July 13—Unseasonable cold prevails throughout middle Europe, temperatures as low as 40 degrees have been recorded in South Bavaria and it was reported from Strassburg today that snow was falling in the Vosges muntains.

The railway adminstration reported several washouts in consequence of the prolonged rains, which have been falling. In Berlin, for 36 hours out of the last 48, American tourists in shirt waists and summer hats have been shivering around the hotels.

This evening the Odd Fellows will observe decoration day by parading to the cemetery and decorating the graves of departed brethren. All brothers and the Daughters of Rebekah are requested to be at the hall at 6:15 sharp. Conveyances will be furnished for the ladies. All those donating flowers are requested to leave them at the hall this afternoon.

STOCKS FOR THE WEEK

COBALT SECURITIES CONTINUE TO DECLINE ON MARKET

CONSOLIATED FIGURES REMAIN AT RECENT PRICES

(Reported by B. B. Mighton & CO.)

Locally stock trading for the past week has been fairly active, with prices firm and with few declines. Spokane exchange reports business above the average during the summer months. Cobalt securities continued to sag with but little buying in evidence. There were no special features during the week, there being no flurries in any of th stocks.

Alberta Coal and Coke advanced three cents over last week's close with more tradings at the present high figures than were reported at any time. American Boy continues weak and in almost no demand, investors being a little timid in purchasing assessable stock. B.C. Copper after advancing to $11, fell back again to $9 and showed fluctuations of only a point or so throughout the week. Consolidated Smelters were active and only slightly changed from their recent figures. Rambler-Cariboo advanced half a cent on the asked price, but with no business offered. Dominion Copper fluctuated only a point or so throughout, with but little interest manifested. International Coal remained almost unchanged, sales being recorded at 90 cents. Sullivan advanced a point or so during one day's tradings and fell off again and remained unchanged. White Bear was a little stronger selling about half a cent above recent quotations. Western Oil and Coal, both ordinary and preferred, sold slightly lower with large offerings noticed.

Following are the approximate quotations for the week ending yesterday:

	Asked	Bid
Alberta Coal	$ .44	$ .41
B. C. Copper	9.75	9.62½
Consolidated Smelters	115.00	105.00

CITY PARK

Editor The Daily News—The proposal described in your issue today to operate a kind of floating stage on the water front at the park, will possibly be a success, but why does not the 29,000 club carry out the idea thoroughly. The club should get from the city council entire control of the park and erect thereon dressing sheds for bathers, a pavilion for music in the summer time and for dances and other entertainments in the winter, and also a kiosk for the sale of light refreshments.

The pavilion might be so arranged as to be used as a Cafe Chantant during such weather as we are having now, with a stage fronting the open. In return for these privileges, which in other places have been the foundations of large fortunes, the club would undertake to put the place in order, and keep it so. At present the so called park is a disgrace to the town. No one who is in any way proud of Nelson would take a visitor out there and say "this is our park." It is a visible sign of our neglect of opportunities.

I have advocated this scheme in another form before and it is one which would be a revenue producers to the 29,000 club as lessee and also to the city through the large increase it would bring to the tramway receipts. To the citizens in general it would give an opportunity of pleasant recreation and remove an eye sore and a standing reproach. I am, etc.,

CHARLES ST. BARBE.

MORE OUTRAGES

Troubles in South African Mines Still Continue

Johannesburg, July 12—The dynamite outrages arising out of the strike situation throughout the mining regions continue. The first fatalities occurred today when the Kinsols hotel at Boksburg was blown up. Three men were killed and several were injured. An atempt was also made to damage the Jumpers Deep mine. A native was caught placing a stick of dynamite at a point where its explosion would cut off a number of white miners in the underground workings. The strikers will appeal tommrrow to premier Botha to force the mining companies to arbitrate the differences between them and the men.

WANT THEIR LAND

Riverhead, July 12.—A novel suit was filed in the Suffolk county court today by the Montauk Indians, as a tribe, who are seeking to obtain possession of the land of which they claim they have been deprived by the whites since 1660.

Counsel for the Indians alleged that the Indians deeded the land to the whites in 1860, retaining the right to live there uninterruptedly. In 1879 a portion of the land was sold and each Indian was paid individually to move off. The Indians now claim that the bargain was illegal and that the Indians should hae been dealt with as a tribe and not as individuals.

AN EASY GRAFT

London, July 13.—J. Pierpont Morgan appeared in the West London police court today as a witness in the case of Mrs. Josephine Leslie, who was arrested at Newmarket July 4th, charged with defrauding members of well-known families by false pretences, and who represented herself to be a friend of Mr. Morgan. The later repudiated all knowledge of Mrs. Leslie. He said he did not write to her advising her to join one of his syndicates, and never invited Mrs. Leslie, as alleged, to dine at his son's house. As a matter of fact, Mr. Morgan added, he was in New York at the time of the alleged invitation. On cross-examination Mr. Morgan said he did not remember any invitation being sent to George Easterlicks, the prisoner's father, for a public dinner which Mr. Morgan gave in New York.

After the plaintiff, Miss Annie Blount, had testified briefly that she was induced to give Mrs. Leslie $42,500 on the strength of letters purporting to have been written by Mr. Morgan promising huge returns, the case was adjourned.

NEW YORK FASHION LETTER

New York, July 11.—Among the latest of the smart creations of New York dressmakers are cotton kimono pianofore frocks, with square or round necks, and fascinating "guimpes" or underslips of embroidered muslin or lawn and lace insertion. One of these frocks was in white linen, with a narrow apple green border, and another was a quaint, old-fashioned spotted lilac print. Others, more elaborate in white linen and colored borders, have applique flowers to match. A very pretty one was of white linen hemmed with scarlet, against which was a border of appliqued poppies. These little frocks are lovely, carried out in white washing silk, with borders of various pastel shades and flowers, and as dainty and useful as could be desired.

The vogue for immense hair ornaments is another noticeable innovation in New York smart society. In one case case there was a great cluster of black ospreys, a half-wreath of pink roses and an immense velvet ornament, sewn with srystals, giving the crowning effect to a lovely pompadour silk gown. A large bunch of silver berries supplemented by a bunch of laurel leaves, whose glossy foliage admirably sets off the reflection of the silver, was worn by a fair haired woman.

Crystal beads are much in evidence on the newest black frocks. Some gowns are literally sewn with these glittering dewdrops, while coral and gold beads bring quite a new note into the embroideries of the day, and hammered aluminum sequins are worn with beautiful effect.

Sashes are favored for both day and evening wear and in one case this revival is illustrated by means of floating ends of coral net, which falls in empire style from between the sholders of the gown. In another instance a quaint blue sash, patterned with moss-rosebuds, is worn in the old approved style. This is also seen in a black satin sash, worn with a striped Tussore gown.

The two new colors which are now seen everywhere on the streets of New York and at all the summer resorts near by are sandstone and wild mint. The former bids fair to maintain its popularity all summer, and will be carried out in voile or faced cloth, stitched in blue silk and embroidered in blue to match, as well as black and self color.

A refined and fascinating color scheme was shown in a hat and frock worn by a tall and dark woman who was sipping something cooling on one of the hotel roof gardens the other night. The frock is one that well shows the best trend of fasnions for our mid-summer frocks. Of white mousseline de soie, it was a masterpiece of fine work; the deep bordering of various sized tucks to the skirt is very original and soft, and the small line of satin down the front gave a pretty lengthening effect. There were soft thouches of faintest blue about the bodice; the little pleated rosettes and some small bands of satin and the sleeves were most fascinating.

The hat worn with this lovely frock was fully worth of it, and was obviously made with the one intention of extreme becomingness. Of very wide, drooping shape, it was trimmed solely with one enermous ostrich feather.

Dressy little house coats are now being made of striped pekine silks, mainly balck, and are very much in vogue They are charmingly matronly, when one is too young for the qualification, and exceedingly youthful, when youth is on the wane. A charming example requires all parts on the bias. The fronts are open and do not meet. The slope off of the corners is quite pronounced. The back is seamed so that they form points of the stripes where they join. The full sleeves are on a bias when the stripes turn up and over from the front view. A single pocket line is seen on each front slanting across the stripes, but without flaps, being too near the rounding edge of the slope. Two large santique enameled and jeweled buttons decorate the front, on either side, and two on the waist line in the back. A richly wrought lace collar turns over the neck and a front of exquisite lingerie on the same order gives the most finished air of elegance to the coat. The same beautiful lace enters among folds of bias silk as a finish to the half-sleeves. White taffeta linings are exceedingly light and soft, so that these coatees can be worn in the warmest weather.

Very pretty informal and simple dinner and dance gowns for the young set are of mousseline and zatiste in white and pale colors. These are full waists with high silk or ribbon girdles, fastening with three straps and three pairs of large buttons, covered with the same material as the girdle. The straps, being of cord and wide apart, are new and pretty. Bertha frills of lace and ruffles of the gown fabric often trim the decolletage in the various lines, and finish the short sleeves. The same ruffles and lace carry out the three rows of a Greek design upon the skirt.

CATHERINE MANN-PAYZANT.

Kootenay Fruit Lands

Burton City and Fire Valley Fruit and Farm Lands are the best sellers now.

15 months ago I purchased from original locators about 5000 acres of Fruit Lands near Burton City. Since then I have been getting the titles and having them subdivided into 10, 15 and 20 acre blocks. One month ago I began to advertise them and have disposed of nine 15 acre blocks and twenty-one 20 ac. blocks, averaging more than one block per day.

The reasons why Burton City lands sell so readily are as follows:

1—The land has a good surface loam with a clay subsoil.

2—It is free from stones.

3—It is nearly level and has a gentle slope, none of it being more than 100 feet above the lake.

4—The public know I can furnish a good title at once.

5—They know I have had a wide experience in fruit lands and am prepared to prove any statements mentioned here.

6—Because I am a practical fruit grower, having over 2500 fruit trees on my home farm, and buyers get the benefit of my experience.

7—I am also prepared to clear land, plant it and care for it until such time as my customers are prepared to take it over.

A SNAP

Good Vision

Is not preserved by persisting in not wearing glasses. In most cases great benefit is derived from wearing proper correction. Errors are detected most minutely by our mode of examination and we grind the lenses so the eye will receive the greatest amount of benefit, often curing long standing muscular trouble and headaches. Young boys' and girls' eyes should not be neglected; it is the proper time to cure if possible.
