MAKE ANSWER

Reply Preparing to Major Hodgins' Charges

DEBATE ON IMMIGRATION

RALPH SMITH MAKES FORCIBLE SPEECH IN DEFENCE OF THE POLICY PURSUED BY LIBERAL GOVERNMENT — RETURN OF THE DOUKHOBORS.

(Special to The Daily News)

Ottawa, April 23.—In the house of commons today, replying to R. Lake, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth said that he had been approached by two officials of the Ontario government who reported that there was no jail accommodation in Ontario for the Doukhobors recently sentenced, and that the 50 living in Fort William were willing to return to Saskatchewan, but would not go until the 19 in jail accompanied them, and the officials on behalf of the attorney general of Ontario urged the government to pardon the prisoners. He had consequently asked magistrate Palling for a report, but denied asking for a favorable report or stating that the Doukhobors would be sent west. The magistrate reported on April 16, and the administration then granted a pardon and left the prisoners free to go where they would, but did not contemplate sending them to Saskatchewan, or assuming any responsibility for their behavior.

On the orders of the day being reached the premier stated that he had interviewed chairman Parent, the Transcontinental commission, and the latter had promised to prepare a statement regarding the charges made by major Hodgins, which he hoped to present to the house on Friday, together with any announcement considered necessary.

Replying to R. L. Borden the premier said that ambassador Bryce had sent a copy of the new treaty with the United States to the colonial office. Bryce had asked if Canada wished send the treaty direct and the premier said he responded in the affirmative.

Dr. Sproule was informed that Mr. MacKenzie, the new secretary of the imperial and foreign correspondence department, would be attached to the privy council office, and his duties would be to classify and deal with the correspondence of the various governments. His status would be that of a clerk.

Owen asked if the government would give relief to the woollen industry by specific duty.

Continuing the debate on Monk's motion to abolish the bonus system of immigration, Cockshutt, Brantford, said the day was long past for that. He thought that 90 per cent of Ontarioans opposed the system and probably all the eastern provinces oppposed it. He particularly opposed colonization, particularly settlements by a particular class or nationality of people, such as the Doukhobors. One civilization for all should be the aim, and he thought it notable that all the independent members opposed the government in this regard.

Ralph Smith vigorously defended the immigration policy of the liberal administration and thought the government had exercised a wise discretion in selecting immigrants. If followed to its logical conclusion the proposed resolution would admit the very people it was most desirable to exclude. He pointed out that in 1905-06, while 6000 people from Canada and Newfoundland went to the States, in the same period Canada received 50,000 from the States. He declared Monk's speech full of general statements which could not be proved, and which would not be understood by the laboring people. He advised the government to settle all vacant lands as speedily as possible. The more people that were placed on lands the better for city and country alike. As a whole, what was wanted, was a bold and courageous immigration policy.

After recess Houghton, Lennox, resuming the debate, twitted Ralph Smith for deserting the labor party, and urged that the present immigration policy was a purely western one.

Replying to this, Turriff quoted figures to show that Ontario received more immigrants than any other province. He declared the work done was for all in Canada, if they only went to the right place to look for it. He combatted the idea that the States was getting the best class of immigration. He praised the Icelanders, Germans, Swedes, Hungarians and Galicians, all of whom he had lots in his constituency. With every prospect of immense development, the goverment would not be justified in sitting still and depending on a few thousand British emigrants. He declared that the bulk of the Doukhobors were good settlers and quite as moral as Canadians. Turning to the financial side of the question, Turriff declared that every million spent in immigration would be returned a hundred fold. Comparing the existing American and Canadian laws, the abolition of the bonus would mean in the end, selection, and, as in the States, more immigrants from southern and less from northern Europe.

R. L. Borden declared that the increased immigration was the direct result of the good crops of 1901-2, rather than to any efforts made by the government. Last year of the 335,000 immigrants only 20,000 were bonused, and he would ask Turriff if that meant the other 315,000 were undesirables. Referring to Dr. McIntyre's contrasting his(Borden's) speeches in the house and in the west, he said he had promptly had the correction made, and as a matter of courtesy the member for Strathcona should accept his correction. Monk's motion did not mean the stopping of immigration, but it was time the giving of bonuses ceased. What had become of the bonused immigrants There was nothing to show how many of those 20,000 on whom bonuses had been paid would not have come to Canada in any case. Payment might be justified for people of a specially excellent type, but no one had shown that the 20,000 bonused were superior to the other 315,000, who came here of their own free will. He quoted Ontario figures to show that a very large proportion of those committed to asylums and jails were foreign born. He argued that the newcomers were the Canadian blood food and every effort should be made to maintain its bright quality.

The premier, in closing the debate, said that Monk put the question in a very moderate way; he did not propose to stop immigration, but sought through salient features, features which contributed most directly to a proper development of the immigration policy. The dominion's dominant consideration is to retain all born on her soil. This had become easier now, owing to the impetus given development by the large influx of people. The true strain of Canadian blood held good, but a few years ago descendants of the U. E. loyalists and French settlers, could not earn a living and departed for the United States in thousands. Reviewing the efforts of the United States during the last century to induce immigration and the development of commerce, the premier said that Canada had gone the United States one better. People were at last coming in in copious floods, while the migration of Canadian to the United States had ceased. He declared that the present policy was the invention of the conservatives, who were not proud of their creation because the liberals had made it successful. He admitted that some degenerates had been admitted to the country, but new regulations had been adopted which will exclude this class in the future. He concluded by saying that the policy of bonuses was only a temporary one, but in view of our southern neighbor with eighty millions of people and the urgent necessity of increasing our population, the time had not yet come to abolish the system.

The motion was negatived by a vote of 91 to 45.

Lavergne, Robitaille and Verville voted with the opposition.

Lavergne gave notice that he would reintroduce the matter again.

Ottawa, April 23—The foreign trade of the dominion for the 12 months ending March 31, totalled $568,390,391, an increase of $25,819,900 over 1907. The total imports were $358,373,685, an increase of $18,008,9440, and the total exports $280,016,606, an increase of $7,810,000. Of the exports $246,950,968 were in domestic products, as compared with $239,634,769 in 1907. Exports of foreign products totalled $33,045,638 as against $32,571,839 in 1907.

During the month of March imports totalled $30,052,238 as against $36,842,056 a year ago, a decrease of $6,789,844. Exports of $17,943,487 represents a gain of $2,983,214.

The mayor of Sudbury with representatives of the people of Manitoulin island, protested to the commons railway committee this morning against the renewal from year to year of the charter rights of the Manitoulin and North Shore railway company to build a line to Sudbury, Little Current, and across to Manitoulin island. The charter is controlled by the Lake Superior Consolidated company and the claim is made that the promoters are merely renewing the gobernment subsidy to develop the iron mines instead of fulfilling the obligations they had assumed to the people of Sudbury district and Manitoulin island.

In the commons public accounts committee this morning Northrup moved that a summons be issued for the appearance next Thursday of Archie McNee of Windsor to give evidence as to fishery rights secured by him in Hudson's bay, and that a general question as to the issue of fishery leases be taken up then and prosecuted till concluded.

Barker, M.P., Hamilton, then took up the inquiry into the purchase by the transcontinental railway commission for $325,231 of land in St. Boniface, Man., for terminals and shops for the G.T.P.

John Henry Keen, Winnipeg testified to the effect that he purchased a parcel of this land for $59,000 as a mere investment and sold to the transcontinental commission for $138,000.

The railway commission on May 5 will take up a case of the liability of railways for damage on the loss of freight put off at flag stations and also the class of stations where it will be necessary to have a permanent agent.

BURRELL IS CHOSEN

(Special to The Daily News.)

Vancouver, April 23.—Martin Burrell, of Grand Forks, was unanimously chosen as the conservative candidate at the Vernon Yale-Cariboo convention tonight. There were 129 delegates in attendance, who represented an additional 148 proxies. Price Ellison presided. Burrell's name was practically the only one mentioned, and he accepted.

TROUBLE AHEAD

Vancouver, April 23—As the result of the civic authorities demanding that the candidates for the vacancy on the license commission caused by the recent death of Wm. Hunt, should qualify in the same form as for the office of mayor, there is trouble ahead. Three candidates filled nomination papers, but only one stands muster, according to the mayoralty qualification standard.

ENGLISH SONS

Celebrate St. George's Day by Banquet

A MEMORABLE OCCASION

MANY BRILLIANT AND PATRIOTIC SPEECHES WERE MADE—DINNER ONE OF THE MOST SUCCESSFUL EVER GIVEN BY THE LOCAL LODGE.

The banquet given by the Sons of England last night at the Strathcona hotel was an extremely well got up and managed celebration of England's patron saint, St. George. There were 70 guests present, Sons of England, loyal Britons, representatives of Greater Britain and their friends together with a lone substitute for St. David and an Anglicized Russian. Each and all enjoyed themselves throughout a well spent evening, enlivened with subjects grave and gay, with songs of merit and with the interchange of old memories and of fresh experience, which can best be seen at such an assemblage of Englishmen, who within their numbers, had covered the whole civilized world, not to mention quite a few countries hardly under that category.

The catering did credit to mine host of the Strathcona, E. E. Phair, who prepared a most sumptuous repast.

The table was arranged in a three sided hollow square and was simply and tastefully decorated with flowers, miniature flags and shining glass, reflecting great credit upon the management. The service was good, although drawn out, inevitable and to be expected in big dinners of this sort, affording ample opportunity for the interchange of gentle reason and the coruscations of flashing wit (from the Hibernian contingent. The head table was naturally the constellation of the evening in which major and minor wits scintillated, but the galaxy of talent bifurcated and ran sparkling down either end of the spacious dining hall.

The appointments and arrangements for the banquet were due to the untiring efforts of the special committee, R. G. Joy, Rev. F. H. Graham, S. A. Wye, S. A. Kelly, F. A. Starkey and E. A. Crease, to whom not only the thanks of the lodge should be due but also the praise of the general community for such a welcome contribution to the gaities of Nelson. The banquet opened a little after 9 o'clock with R. G. Joy, the master of the lodge, in the chair, flanked by Rev. F. H. Graham, W. C. Wells, W. A. Macdonald and F. A. Starkey on the left and by T. G. Procter, G. Johnstone, R. F. Lawrence, E. A. Crease and A. H. Coppen on the right. Facing these were W. Rutherford, F. Fletcher, H. S. Stewart, T. Airey, D. C. McMorris, I. G. Nelson, H. E. Douglas and E. H. Smith.

There were also to be noted in the hall J. Anderson, R. J. Steel, S. A. Kelly, Lieut. Hallett, J. L. Buchan, F. M. Black, A. S. Horswill, D. Proudfoot, G. Brown, F. Nott, C. T. Partington, F. J. Sammons, A. Carrie, Capt. Stewart, M. R. McQuarrie, R. J. Clark, Sergt. Luscombe, W. J. Astley, W. G. Thomson and many another.

The dinner proper being concluded, the feast of reason began with the toast to the King, proposed appropriately by the president, R. G. Joy with the quotation;

"May he live
Longer than I have time to tell his years
Ever beloved and loving, may his rule be."

This was accompanied by the singing of the national anthem which elicited that the good voices of "Merrie England" were well represented in the assemblage.

Telegrams of congratulation were read with cheers from St. George's society of Montreal and T. Morley of Vancouver.

Then was drunk in silence, proposed by Hon. W. C. Wells, the well beloved memory of the good queen, unmarked otherwise than by the quotation:

Her court was pure, her life serene,
God gave her peace, her land reposed
A thousand claims to reverence closed,
In her as mother, wife and queen.

Although there could be no response to such a toast, yet the speech of the proposer, Hon. W. C. Wells, although curt in words, gave entrance to many an ennobling train of thought in thinking of the glorious characteracter of the late queen and the glorious deeds of peace and war during a reign unsurpassed in English annals.

Then came a toast to the Army and Navy and Auxiliary Forces, coupled with the names of E. A. Crease and Capt. Lorne Stewart.

E. A. Crease began with a witty story told against the prince of Wales, by himself and then went stralgt on to say that Englishmen ought to wake the Canadian to the necessity of this country helping the imperial navy. (Applause.) Great Britain could not for ever keep up the strain and we young stripplings, bounding into manhood, ought to relieve the mother of a part of the burden. The speaker went on to give instances of the men of high and low degree of whom the navy was composed, a credit to any country, a glory to the empire. As to the army whenever the hour arrives, such was the strength of the national character that the man of the hour comes also, giving instances of the character of that army, the speaker closed with saying that: "England's sons still know the way like England's sons to die."

Capt. Stewart speaking for the auxiliary forces of the empire said that every citizen of the empire between 18 and 60 were nominally of these forces. He regretted that not more interest was being taken in these forces by the young Canadian. He spoke as a Canadian, yet he could not help remarking that half the Nelson companies was made up of young Englishmen from the old country, the young Canadian not finding time to shoot, to learn to defend his country. Yet the Canadian forces, the Nelson contingent, had done nobly in the South African war. He announced that today the 102nd regiment had been gazetted with headquarters in Nelson and appealed for the general support and interest of the city, which in the past, in the person of major Hodgins (applause) and others, had done itself more than well in the defence of the flag.

Then followed a song by E. H. Smith, "The Deathless Army," which was sung with great sympathy and received with tumultuous applause.

The toast next following was that of St. George, which was responded to by Rev. F. H. Graham who began by congratulating the shades of St. George on having the honor of being the patron saint of such a country as England. The speaker said that George of Cappadocia, a swindling army contractor had bought himself the bishopric of Alexander and was promptly killed by his flock. This was according to Emerson. According to Ruskin was George of Armorica, who was a soldier of Diocletain and who gave himself to death in the cause of freedom of thought. This was the St. George chosen by the Oxford convention in the 13th century as England's patron saint. The spirit shown by this St. George was typified by the history of England, a spirit which the speaker hoped would be shown in the annals of the west among the pioneers of empire, so that that tremendous heritage which has been the inheritance of the race may be handed on.

T. G. Procter ten gave "They All Love Jack" to a roaring chorus which penetrated every corridor of the hotel.

Then followed the toast Our Order which was coupled with the name of Fred Starkey who was received with great applause.

The president of the board of trade alleged that the society had been formed in 1874 in Toronto by seven Englishmen in defence against Scotsmen. Now, in Toronto the Scotsmen had been compelled to take a back seat. The order had lodges all over Canada and in South Africa and other parts of the world. It numbered a Canadian membership of 25,000 and had paid out $1,600,000 in benefits. The sentiment of the society was loyalty to the king and to the country adopted. Every Englishman in this city and in every other imperial city ought to join such an order.

S. A. Wye then gave "The Englishman" whose patriotic sentiments were warmly applauded.

Then came the toast of the Motherland, which was responded to by E. K. Beeston, the keynote of whose speech was England the "home" of the English race. A little land whose acreage could be rivalled by Kootenay, but whose millions of inhabitants had covered the earth with its trade. Yet the note for these absent was the note of "home," that word peculiar to the English language. Home, with its historic memories, with its sacred association, with its glorious annals.

Then followed a song by E. H. Smith, "Heroes and Gentlemen." This was so vociferously applauded that an encore, "The Boys of the Old Brigade" was given. The accompaniments were taken by H. S. Bodmer and were much appreciated.

Next on the list of toasts was that of the Land We Live In, which was coupled with the name of W. A. Macdonald, K.C. Very appropriately here was sung the well known board of trade chorus, "We're here because we're Here."

Mr. Macdonald spoke well and eloquently. Beginning with praising the spirit which prompted the banquet he passed directly to Canada and the glorious west. He prophesied that in 50 years there would be 80 millions in Canada and that the seat of empire might be in Canada itself. Its people were of strong and sturdy nature, its possibilities and its resources all but infinite. Passing in rapid review the provinces of the dominion, the speaker dwelt shortly upon the enormous wealth which would be found in Kootenay. He concluded after a warm eulogy upon England, that the Canadian contingent to South Africa was the best thing that Canada had ever done for itself in the way of advertising. Further, Canada was now in a position to establish a navy. Canada could well go down to all posterity under the folds of the flag, part and parcel of the greatest empire the world has ever known.

Then followed a song by G. Brown, "The Maple Leaf Forever," whose stirring chorus was taken up with great vim, followed by three cheers for Canada.

George Johnstone, whose speech was prefaced by the singing by the entire assembly of "Auld Lang Syne," opened his remarks by stating that Scotland had been described as a country whose people "kept the Sabbath, the Ten Commandments and everything else they could lay their hands on." Mr. Johnstone made a running fire of comment upon all the previous speakers ending by congratulating the Sons of England upon the progress they were making but inculcating the necessity of informing the coming generation of their noble heritage. There were nobler things in life than to have a solid graft.

For Ireland R. J. Clarke spoke and was warmly received. He made a particularly Irish speech, replete with witticisms and punctuated with applause. He refused to speak on the subject of Ireland to Englishmen and Scotchmen, as they would not understand! The chief troubles of Ireland were religion and politics neither of which were understood by any he saw present.

The toast of Wales, preceded by the "Men of Harlech," sung in Cymric, was replied to by R. F. Lawrence who declared although Wales was the smallest integral portion of the British empire yet its people were everywhere throughout its domains. He referred with pride to the Welshmen in the British cabinet and to other distinguished Welshmen elsewhere.

The hour was now well past 1 o'clock this morning and it is with regret that The Daily News owing to the exigencies of time and space is unable to report the concluding speeches for the United States by H. E. Douglas, for Nelson by T. G. Procter and for the ladies by G. Dickson, together with songs from Rev. F. H. Graham and R. Brown, which ended up an enjoyable and memorable evening.

CRISIS IS NEAR

Strained Situation Exists in Manchuria

CHINA LOOKING FOR HELP

DEPENDING UPON THE SUPPORT OF UNITED STATES IF A COUP D'ETAT IS ATTEMPTED IN ORDER TO CARRY OUT TREATY OF PORTSMOUTH.

Pekin, April 23.—American official influence is strongly opposed to the proposal that the American fleet of battleships call at Chinese ports, because, during the past few weeks, the conditions in Manchuria have created an international situation which is regarded as dangerous. Further, the spontaneous alignment of the powers for the first time since the conclusion of the Russo-Japanese war and the attitude of encouragement to China discerned in this American naval demonstration has aroused suspicion. Germany, France and other powers support the coming of the fleet, and Great Britain acquiesced in the proposal, but the final position of Russia is uncertain. This is by reason of the Russo-Japanese unity on the question of the government of Russian and Japanese subjects in Manchuria, as well as Russia's self-confessed dependence on a recast of the Russo-Japanese relations in order to ensure peace in the Pacific.

There is an impression here that secretary Root and baron Rosen, Russian ambassador to the United States are not favorably disposed to the present attempt of China to effect a coup d'etat in Manchuria, but China is convinced that the United States will not be able to retire from its position in the matter of the control of the municipality of Harbin, and she therefore hopes for favorable consideration from Washington of her plan.

China is apprehensive, lest the United States should now weaken on the realization of the principal clause of the Portsmouth treaty for this would permanently defeat the effects and the objects of the Chinese administration in Manchuria. Because of this apprehension, it would take only a trifle to precipitate a crisis and in this connection it is interesting to note that both Japan and the United States suppressed as far as possible the recent occurrence at Mukden when several Japanese attacked the native staff of the American consulate there.

The recalling by Japan a few days ago of baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister to China and thus putting an end to his temporary filling of this post which has endured for a year, is deemed here to show that Japan recognizes the advent of a new phase in the Manchurian situation. The powers are aware that the policies of Russia and Japan are based upon secret agreements and memoranda. This fact has been revealed by the developments of the present situation. It is said here that an effort thus being made to establish the principle of secrecy in important agreements. China has submitted her entire side of the Chientao boundary case and the documents have been forwarded to Tokio. She will shortly turn her refusal of the proposal made by Japan regarding the postal service in Manchuria. With regard to the question of the Yalu forests, it is believed that the present negotiations will be fruitless because of the desire of Japan to convert the lumber business into a monopoly.

TO BE STARVED OUT

London, April 23.—Pte. Moyer, of the Royal Canadian regiment, who shot and killed color sergeant Harry Lloyd, of the 28th Perth regiment, Stratford, who was taking a course of instruction at the Wolseley barracks here, is said to be located near Berlin and will be starved into submission.

LINEVITCH IS DEAD

Russian General and Aide-de-Camp to Emperor Passes Away

St. Petersburg, April 23.—Lieutenant general Linevitch, aide-de-camp to emperor Nicholas and commander of the First Manchurian army, died of pneumonia this afternoon. He had been ill for a little over a week and on several occasions his symptoms were of heart failure, which manifested itself. On Tuesday night he had an attack from which he recovered, but yesterday it was found necessary to perform an operation, after which the patient gradually became weaker.

General Linevitch was 66 years of age. He was fighting in the Caucasus when he was 21 and took part in the Russo-Turkish war of 1877-78. Since then he served in all of Russia's Asiatic campaigns. He was prominent in the relief of the legation at Pekin, succeeding admiral Alexieff in command of the Russian troops in August, 1900. For a time in 1904 general Linevitch was governor general of the Amur territory, but later assumed command of the Russian forces at Vladivostok under viceroy Alexieff. He assumed command of the First Manchurian army of the Russian forces on March 17, 1905. General Linevitch was in the battle of Mukden and a number of important engagements, in which he was reported as displaying great bravery. When he returned to St. Petersburg in March of the following year he was received with but little enthusiasm.

DRINKWATER IS DEAD

WAS RAILWAY'S DIPLOMATIC AGENT AT OTTAWA

Montreal, April 23.—Charles Drinkwater, assistant to the president of the C. P. R., and one of the oldest and best kown of all C. P. R. officials, died at his home here this evening about 8 o'clock, after an illness of only six days, from pneumonia. He had been suffering from a severe cold for several weeks, and last Saturday this developed into double pneumonia and from the first there was very little hope of his recovery at his advanced age of 66 years.

The deceased was an Englishman, and after serving in subordinate capacities on various English roads, he came to Canada in 1864 and entered the civil service as private secretary to sir John A. Macdonald, then prime minister of Canada. He held this position for 10 years and left it to become assistant to the general manager of the G. T. railway. When in 1881, the C. P. R. company was formed, Mr. Drinkwater was appointed secretary, which office he held until the first day of March last, when he retired from that office to become assistant to the president and parliamentary agent of the company at Ottawa and Quebec. Ever since the formation of the C. P. R. Mr. Drinkwater has been its diplomatic agent at Ottawa and he was a notable figure at the capital for the past quarter of a century, frequently appearing before the railway committee of parliament. He was greatly respected in railway circles and his death is regretted alike by the officials of the C. P. R. and a wide circle of railway friends.

An earlier despatch sent out today announced that Mr. Drinkwater was much worse and during the remainder of the day he never rallied.

HAS AROUSED MUCH IRE

SCOTCH WHISKEY ATTACHED IN NEW YORK

DISTILLERS ARE ANGRY OVER THE SEIZURE

London, April 23—News of the detention of a shipment of Scotch whiskey by the customs officials of New York, on the ground that the labels do not disclose the presence of coloring matter, has dropped like a bomb shell among the Scotch distillers and has aroused much ire.

Representatives of the distillers visited the foreign office here this afternoon and brought the matter to the urgent attention of the officials. Later it was declared that instructions had been cabled James Bryce, the British ambassador at Washington, in the premises. The shippers contend that they have been most careful to comply with the requirements of the American pure food law, and they claim that section 8 of the law ,expressly excludes its operation in regard to harmless coloring ingredients.

PUBLISHERS' APPEAL

Washington, April 23—All of the members of the house of representatives today received telegrams from the publishers attending the annual meeting in New York of the Associated Press and newspaper publishers' association, urging action on the bill removing the tariff from print paper and wood pulp, and in reply John Sharp Williams, the democratic leader, sent the following: "I join in your protest. Get the speaker to recognize it, or someone else to make a motion and it will pass. It is up to him."

Representative Mann, who is chairman of the sub-committee appointed to investigate the paper question, said today that the committee was making preparations to begin its inquiry. He says the committee will not begin its work with any cut and dried plan but will go into the work impartially. He could not say just when the committee would begin its sittings but said that before doing so the members desired to inform themselves somewhat on the subject.

CANADIANS ARE STARVING

Montreal, April 23.—At a meeting of the South African Veterans' association last night it was stated that many Canadian volunteers were now starving in South Africa, and it was suggested that the government should now bring them home.

LICENSE HOLDERS WIN

Toronto, April 23.—The license reduction bylaw remains quashed, and the city must pay all costs of its attempt to reinstate it by appeal. This is the judgment of the divisional court, rendered here today.

IS RE-ELECTED

But With a Greatly Reduced Majority

RUNCIMAN AT DEWSBURY

PERSONALITY OF NEW PREMIER IS ALREADY CAUSING TROUBLE IN IRELAND WHERE NATIONALISTS DISTRUST HIM—THE SIN FEIN.

Dublin, April 23—The changing of prime ministers is likely to hace important consequences on the political situation in Ireland. H. H. Asquith, the new premier, is not trusted by the nationalists and his accession to office is giving rise to a restlessness similar to that which followed the rejection of the Irish councils bill. Some of the junior members of the Irish party are eager for a campaign of actual opposition to the liberals, to be opened by an attack on Winston Churchill's candidature at Manchester. The more experienced men, however, are in favor of giving Mr. Asquith a trial. The position is complicated by the production of the university bill, which is generally approved in Ireland and which the more solid elements of politics are anxious not to imperil. The tangle of the land act finance has also to be unravelled before a forward movement on the national question can safely be undertaken.

Meantime Wm. O'Brien is about to summon a new conference on the land question with general sir Wm. Butler as chairman. The report of the congested districts commission is ready for publication. Sir Anthony Macdonnell's recommendations have been have been rejected by the majority of the commission and in consequence he has resigned his position as under secretary of Ireland. It is possible he made be rewarded by a peerage for his services in Ireland, and as he is without an heir, the honor would be merely a life peerage. He will be succeeded by sir James Dougherty, assistant under secretary, an Ulster Gladstonian liberal and a Presbyterian.

The Sinn Fein party is endeavoring to make political capital of the Asquith succession, urging it as a proof of the failure of parliamentarianism. The production of the university bill and the expected land legislation, however, hampers the campaign as the measures will be generally accepted as sufficiently profitable results of the year's work of the Irish party.

APPROVE ARBITRATION

Representatives of 80,000 Printers Offer Their Congratulations

New York, April 23.—The representatives of an industrial army of 80,000 men appeared at the meeting of the American Newspaper Publishers' association today and congratulated the members of the association on the successful development and working of the arbitration system between employers and employees. Among the men who bore witness to the success of arbitration between employees and owners of newspapers were James F. Lynch, of the International Typographical union; James Freel, president of the International Stereotypers' union, and Mathew Berry, president of the International Pressmen and Assistants' union. President Lynch was unable to be present in person because of illness but sent an address to the convention.

PRAIRIE FIRES

Father, Mother and Two Children Burned To Death

Regina, April 23—Henry Berlier was burned out of his house and home last night in a prairie fire which swept the country east of Regina. Several miles of prairie has been burned over and it is believed the loss to farmers will be great. The mounted police are now investigating and until their report is received it is impossible to tell how much damage is done.

Battleford, April 23—Miss Anna Matthews is the only survivor of a family of five as a result of prairie fires in the Tramping lake district. The father went to fight the flames, which were creeping down on their little home and perished in the attempt. The house took fire and Anna Matthews, 16 years old, with her clothes on fire carried her five year old brother and sister to a place of safety, returned for her mother but was too late; she fought her way again through the flames only to find that the other children had wandered into the fire zone and had perished.

REFUSED TO SIGN

Danville, April 23—The miners refused to sign the scale presented by the Illinois operators today and began the preparation of a scale of their own which will be presented to the operators later. This scale will be an ultimatum. A strike will at once be declared upon the refusal of the operators to accede to the demands of the miners.

OUR BIRTHDAY

The Daily News is six years old today and while that is not a very long record under ordinary circumstances, but in the west and in this particular portion of the west, six years continuous publication of a daily newspaper means a good deal if the people of Kootenay had not given The Daily News a very fair measure of support during the six years in question, this newspaper undertaking must perforce have been abandoned. When the Daily Miner was taken over in April, 1902, and The Daily News succeeded it, on larger and broader lines, than had ever been attempted by any Kootenay paper up to that time, grave doubts were expressed as to chances for ultimate success of the venture. Those in charge have battled along, and with the help of a sympathetically supporting public, the enterprize shown has enabled us to long pass the experimental stage and today this paper fairly covers and may, without undue exaggeration, be said to represent southeastern British Columbia in the daily paper field. That the usefulness and circulation of The Daily News should grow rapidly from this time on goes without saying. The country hereabouts is rapidly filling up with settlers and the demand for a daily paper is steadily increasing. After our own fashion and in our own way we have done our best to give a clean, newsy paper, strenuously advocating at all times the great resources of the Kootenay and in the kindly recognition from time to time of the paper's standing and good influence, we have our reward.

POLICE MATTERS

The time for receiving applications for the vacant position of chief of the Nelson police force expires at 5 o'clock this afternoon and this evening the police commissioners, his worship mayor Taylor, Alderman T. Steed and William Irvine, will probably select the official who is to be at the head of the local force. Until comparatively recently Nelson people had become accustomed to regard all police matters with equanimity, and with W. H. Bullock-Webster representing the provincial authorities and W. R. Jarvis as Nelson's chief of police, this was quite understandable. Both men were old and well proved public servants and their administration of police matters had brought about a well deserved feeling of confidence. Of late the city force, for reasons that are now unnecessary to go into, has in a measure lacked public approval, and the public look to the commissioners to appoint someone whose position at the head of the force will restore the old time public confidence in the city police. We do not know who the applicants are, but if the commissioners can see their way clear to place acting chief Charles W. Young permanently at the head of the force, then a long step will be made in the right direction. Mr. Young's appointment would undoubtedly be popular, in the right sense, and for good and sufficient reasons. His record, a long and honorable one, is well known and his tact, courage and honesty, three invaluable characteristics in a chief of police, are beyond dispute. Frankly, we think the commissioners will be fortunate if they secure the services of Mr. Young, or of someone as well qualified, if there be such an applicant. The appointment is an important one, of more importance to the people of this city than might be thought at first glance, and it is hoped that the commissioners will be able to worthily fill it.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Professional lacrosse and hockey have not yet proved their fitness in this country. J. D. Pratt, of the Winnipeg Rowing club, went so far in a speech the other evening as to state that some of the professional hockey matches in Winnipeg during the past season were decided before they were played. The same accusation has been made in most places were professionalism has found a lodging place. The Victoria Hockey club of Montreal, an amateur organization, has shown an entirely different spirit and one which puts professionalisf in a class by itself. This club has had a most successful and profitable season, and has donated $1700 to the hospitals of the city. This is an example which might be kept in mind by all ambitious amateur sporting organizations. It is almost ideal in its conception and reflects great credit on the executive officers of the Victoria Hockey club.

The discussion on Mr. Monk's resolution in the commons to abolish the bonus immigration system has proved interesting and instructive but it is questionable if the abolishment would secure what Mr. Monk really wants. With less than one-tenth of our land under cultivation, it is impossible and it would be unwise to limit the immigration. Yet t would be equally unwise to allow the scum of Europe to float this way. Close inspection might mean fewer immigrants, but it would mean better immigrants, and quality is just as important as quantity. Judging from the speeches of members of the government we may expect closer inspection of all newcomers infuture, and although this will entail a greater outlay for additional inspectors, it will be money well spent.

Steven's "Copper Handbook" is an annual volume whose appearance is welcomed by copper workers the world over. As the work of one man it is a monument of industry and intelligent discrimination. In concluding a detailed description of the Granby Consolidated Mining & Smelting company's mines and works at Phoenix and Grand Forks, Mr. Stevens speaks thus of the company's execution: "Both mine and mill have been brought to a high state of effiency, and the cost sheet is one of which any directorate well might be proud. . . . The Granby is one of the few copper properties of the world of which a careful investigation leads to the verdict that there is nearly everything to commend, and scarcely anything to criticise."

Today the west has taken upon itself the work of heralding in advance the growing financial improvement. In the older parts of the country Canadians are more conservative and are recovering more slowly from the recent depression. But they never seem to go slowly in the west. Reports from all sections indicate that everyone there is trying his best to forget the anxieties, just as readily as he formed them. Increased railway construction has much to do with the ability of the west to overcome its troubles so rapidly. Three great railway corporation are exerting every muscle and nerve to spread themselves all over the country. They recognize that the future belongs to the company which is soonest in the field, and their construction is counted now by hundreds of miles, where formerly it was only in tens. Every town and hamlet is sending out a story of expansion. When the railway reaches a locality it finds it already discounting the arrival, and learns of the growth of places far in advance, where as yet the road is only a thing of the future.—Canada Lumberman.

GUATEMALAN SITUATION

Guatemala City, April 23—The students who fired on president Cabrera Monday were cadets who formed the guard of honor. The cadets managed to elude the soldiers who attempted to surround them and made their escape, taking refuge in the military academy. Later they were captured. Several of those who were implicated in the conspiracy against the president have been executed.

Panama, April 23—A passenger on a vessel which arrived here yesterday from Guatemala informs the Associated Press that when he left a few, days ago, the situation in Guatemala City was critical. He said president Cabrara had left his residence for fear of being assassinated. Indeed, since the attempt on his life some months ago, he has been seen in public only once, at the inauguration of the Guatemala Northern railway. President Cabrera, the Associated Press informant says, seems to be greatly hated and his enemies have sworn to kill him.

Managua, Nicaragua, April 23—Advices received here from Honduras state that the Honduran plenipotentiary in Nicaragua has been reconcentrated in Managua by order of president Cabrera and the minister has taken refuge in the American legation.

LUTHERANS COMING

Winnipeg, April 23—Hundreds of German Lutherans from Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska are preparing to emigrate to the Canadian west. Thirty thousand acres of land have been secured for them in the Tramping lake district. They are a thrifty class of people and will make ideal settlers.

RHEUMATIC PAINS RELIEVED

Mr. Thomas Stenton, postmaster at Ponty Pool, Ont., writes: "For the past eight years I suffered from rheumatism and during that time I used many different remedies for the cure of rheumatism. Last summer I procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and got more relief from it than from anything I have ever used and cheerfully recommend this liniment to all sufferers from rheumatic pains." When You Buy Fruit Land

It is well to remember that what is important is NOT the first cost of your fruit farm, but the amount of profit which your farm will yield year by year.

DON'T be attracted by cheaper, inferior or inaccessible lands which exist in the Kootenay, as elsewhere—but get the best. Take advantage of a double selection.

1. Our selection was made with the utmost care at a time when we had the whole district to pick from.

2. Your selection—made from ours—thus you get the benefit of a double and cumulative selection.

FURTHERMORE, remember that to be successful the following five qualities are absolutely essential:

(1). Title; (2). Soil; (3). Water; (4). Accessibility; (5). Transportation.

WE SELL OUR OWN LANDS. We own over 20,000 acres, title perfect.

THE SOIL is deep loam with clay subsoil, free from stone.

THE WATER on these lands is pure and abundant both in running streams and numerous springs.

THE MARKET for your product is right at your door on existing lines of transportation.

BUT when you buy an orchard tract you want more than soil; more than pure water; more than transportation; you want A HOME—A place to live in—THAT IS WHAT WE HAVE FOR SALE.

Postoffice with daily mail service; express trains, stores; schools—A home every few steps. You get the comforts of civilization combined with the pleasure of a profitable, healthful and beautiful rural home.

Terms $10 cash and $10 per month for 10 acres, with liberal discount for larger payments.

LUMBERMEN'S CONCLAVE

REPRESENTATIVE MEETING TO BE HELD HERE TODAY

QUESTION OF GOVERNMENT REGULATION AND PRICES

A meeting will be held here today at the Hume hotel of the Mountain Lumbermens' association at which will attend a delegation of the coast men. This delegation is comprised of Messrs. De Pencier, of the North Pacific Lumber Company, Vancouver; P. D. Roe, of the Rue-Cuddy Lumber company, Port Moody; F. Beecher, of the B. C. Mills Timber company, Vancouver, and Mr. Small, of Messrs. Small and Bucklin, of New Westminster.

Among the Mountain lumbermen will be P. Lund, of the Crow's Nest Pass Lumber company, Wardner; Otis Staples, of the Staples Lumber company, Wycliffe; A. McDougall, of the Fernie Lumber company; F. C. Dubois, of the Elko Lumber company, also of Fernie; A. F. Kräpfel and J. Hanbury, of the North Star Lumber company, Elko; E. Home, of the East Kootenay Lumber company, Cranbrook; A. F. Dudgeon and F. E. Sine, of the Bowman Lumber company, Revelstoke; E. F. Sanders, of the Columbia River Lumber company, Golden; S. R. Mundy, of the Mundy Lumber company, Three Valley; F. L. Buckley, of the Rogers Lumber company, Enderby; G. A. Limmes and J. B. McGee, of the Adams River Lumber company, Shuswap; Otto Lachmund and H. G. Hoppins, of the Lamb-Watson Lumber company, Arrowhead; T. Ludgale, of the Big Bend Lumber company, Arrowhead; C. D. MacNab, of the Baker Lumber company, Waldo; H. H. Ross, of the Ross-Saskatoon Lumber company, Waldo; F. W. Adolph, of the Adolph Lumber company, Baynese lake; A. E. Watts, of Wattsburg; besides representatives of the mills having headquarters at Nelson and in the immediate vicinity.

There are several subjects coming up before the meeting for discussion. Among them is the dominion government's announcement of its intentions of enforcing the clause in the timber regulations requiring license holders of dominion lands to erect sawmills within six months, ensuring an annual cut of 100,000 feet for each square mile held under license.

As is well known, stocks of lumber on hand in British Columbia as well as Prince Albert and other spruce mills are greatly in excess of the demand that can be expected for many months to come and today 90 per cent of the mountain mills, says the secretary of the Mountain Lumbermen's association, are inactive and can see no warrant for the early resumption of operations.

"At the coast," continued Mr. Anstie, "at least 75 per cent of the mills and 90 per cent of the logging camps have been closed for the past five months and the majority cannot yet résume operation, through want of a market. Further, that the British Columbia government realized the very serious position in which the lumbermen find themselves is well shown by the recent order in council suspending for a time the enactment which prohibited the export of logs from this province in order to assist the lumbermen financially and to save a large portion of timber in the water from destruction by the toredo worm.

"A short time ago a large mass meeting of lumbermen and representative business men met in Vancouver and passed a strong resolution setting forth the reasons why the dominion government's proposed action would work a great hardship upon this industry. The resolution protested in emphatic terms against the enforcement of this regulation as to the erection of sawmills. It is felt that the bringing in force of this regulation would mean confiscation by the government of large vested interests in this country, as the general stringency of the money market, together with the poor demand for lumber makes it practically impossible for the owners of the limits affected to secure capital to open up their limits and erect sawmills.

"Another matter," continued Mr. Anstie, "which will have the attention of this convention will be the pointing out of the desirability of protecting British Columbia manufacturers from American rough lumber. Different boards of trade, as well as coast lumbermen, have already petitioned the federal government, praying that a duty of $2 per thousand be imposed upon rough lumber coming into Canada.

"Reports will be presented to the meeting regarding the prospects for demand in the northern market and other matters affecting the general interest of the manufacturers will be discussed."

Asked regarding prices, the secretary stated that he did not anticipate any advance in the near future. Prices were reduced last January from $2.50 to $5 a thousand upon the different grades, which, in his opinion, was an ample recognition of the requirements of circumstances.

Pressed as to the real existence of a feeling of hostility between the coast and mountain lumbermen as to prices, Mr. Anstie replied that there was always a feeling somewhat of the nature of hostility, although that word was not all descriptive, between competitors for the same market. Beyond that competitive feeling, which had been earmarked "hostility" by a portion of the press, there was no antagonism between two branches of the same industry.

Here's the Cure for Sick Kidneys

TEST THEM FREE

Perhaps you are skeptical about GIN PILLS. So was Mr. Brown. He had tried so many things for his kidneys, without getting any better, that he had just about made up his mind that he couldn't get well.

When he first read about GIN PILLS he laughed. The second time, he thought. The third time, he said "he would write for a sample just to see if there was any chance of getting well."

He was pretty nearly tickled to death over that box of GIN PILLS. They did him so much good that he would have paid $5 a box for the second, if necessary. The dizziness, headaches and backaches stopped. Those shooting pains in hips and legs died away. Urine lost its high color. He slept through the night without being disturbed by bladder trouble. His appetite began to pick up and he felt better than he had been for years.

34 John St., Hamilton, Ont.
Being a sufferer from my Kidneys and Dizziness in the Head, and could get nothing to help me, I saw in the papers what good Gin Pills were doing. I got a sample box, and they did me so much good, I bought three boxes and am taking them. They have worked wonders for me. I can recommend them to any similar sufferer. GEO. A. BROWN.

Don't be prejudiced. Give Gin Pills a fair trial and they will cure you just as they cured Mr. Brown. Mention this paper and we will send you a free sample. The Bole Drug Co., Winnipeg, Man.

PUNITIVE EXPEDITION

Simla, April 23—A mixed force of British and Indian troops is at present being rapidly mobilized for another punitive expedition against the tribes who recently have been raiding and looting villages on the border. Ten thousand Mohamedens are gathered at Kamall, 20 miles from Peshawur and several thousand Afghans are said to have crossed the Kabul river to join the malcontents.

BOYCOTT SPREADING

Sidney, N.S.W., April 23—The boycott by the Chinese of Japanese goods, which originated in China as an outcome of the Tatsu Maru incident of last February has reached Sydney and is practically complete here. The Japanese Yamata sailed yesterday for Japan without passengers or cargo and without the usual gold shipment destined for China.

BOTHA'S WARM TRIBUTE

DEATH OF SIR HENRY A GREAT LOSS TO EMPIRE

BRITAIN WILL MISS BRAVE AND CONSIDERATE COUNCILLOR

London, April 23—"He was the faithful servant of his country; I am truly sorry he has gone," is the expression used on hearing at Copenhagen of the death of sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, and it well expresses the deep feeling of regret as for a personal loss, underlying the tributes given in ungrudging measure by the public and newspapers of all shades of opinion.

That all are ready to admit that he was not a great statesman or genius or even a great administrator is not allowed to detract from the volume, the warmth or the sincerity of these tributes to his great force of character, his undeviating honesty of purpose, his courage and geniality of disposition, which enabled him to win all hearts in his dealings with men which brought him the highest position of the state.

General Louis Botha, premier of the Transvaal, telegraphed a warm tribute saying the empire loses one of its best statesmen and the Transvaal one of its true friends. In securing self government for the new colonies he raised an imperishable monument to himself and laid the foundation of a united South Africa.

John Redmond, telegraphing condolence on behalf of his party says: "We all feel that Britain has lost a brave and considerate friend."

CAPITAL AND LABOR

Extracts From Cy Warman's Speech to Guelph Canadian Club

I am independently poor.

Kill capital and labor will starve.

No man who is fit to live likes to live on charity.

A private knocker in a public nuisance.

The discouragement of capital, if a crime, is a crime against labor.

The extra hazard of honest enterprise is driving capital to Wall Street, and labor to the benches in the park.

The political trust-buster and professional muck-raker, firing at capital hits labor nine times in ten.

The same hand (or mouth) that raises the bank rate reduces the day's wage of the workingman, by the same movement and at the same time.

It is as important for capital to earn a living as it is for labor to earn a living, because when the dollar quits the workman's day's work is done.

Labor should be protected—from its fool friends; the socialist should be screened off from the anarchist; the anarchist from high explosives, and gin.

Cheap labor is always expensive. In China they pay ten cents a day, and move at ten cents a ton-mile. On this continent we pay from ten to twenty times ten cents a day, and move freight for seven-tenths of a cent a mile.

Unjust legislation, which cripples the railway and renders it incapable of earning interest, destroys its ability to pay good wages to its employees.

I protest against the growing tendency upon the part of the political uppercrust and the social undercrust to rate railway officials as a semi-official class who are happiest when hunting along the line which separates the land of lawful things from the land of things unlawful.

I should not care to be as rich as Mr. Rockefeller, but I'd like to live in the house half way between him and the man with the hoe.

BIGGEST TRUST

Russian Government Owns all Liquor Privileges in Vast Domain

The biggest saloon keeper and liquor seller in the world is the czar of the Russians. He is proprietor of all the saloons in his vast domain, and thus owns the biggest trust on earth, with competition totally barred and with profits increasing enormously every year. The great white czar's government encouraged drink to such a degree last year that the income derived from the sale of sodka exceeded $390,000,000. Each year the Russian peasants are said to get drunker, dirtier, more miserable and more brutal. The imperial grog shops are small and unclean, with a counter at one end and rows of bottles of various sizes all around the walls from floor to ceiling. The people are not allowed to drink on the premises so they go to the doorstep, break off the neck of their bottle and, after swallowing its contents, fling it into the street. The bottle holds about a wineglassful of the imperial drug and costs five cents. The daily wage of a workman in the fields is from ten to fifteen cents. A member of the third douma declares drink kills Russia, and that neither a constitution nor a revolution is so much needed as temperance. He says the government budget is made up of poison.

PRACTICAL SIR WILFRID

The first minister of the dominion has seldom showed greater adroitness than he displayed in his treatment of the anti-cigarette bill. Sir Wilfrid was in a position to speak disinterestedly on the question, since he avoids the use of tobacco and knows nothing of the joy of blowing "rings" in his few idle moments. Many estimable Canadian women were interested in the anti-cigarette legislation and it is always far to offend the voteless section of the community. But, with a neatness which no mere Anglo-Saxon could emulate, sir Wilfrid declared that it is the small boy who is harmed by the cigarette, while to the mature man it is comfort and solace. Wherefore, the cigarette is a matter for domestic, not for parliamentary legislation, and it is the duty of the mothers to see that their small sons abstain from the "sly cigarette." Mothers, not M. P.'s should cope with this evil, said the head of the government, with, of course, the graceful insinuation that maternal influence is unbounded. The tables were thus most effectually turned, the premier showing the feminine petitioners in favor of this bill that the responsibility lies upon their fair shoulders.

The premier also gave advice which would shock the tender heart of inspector James L. Hughes, who is averse to corporal punishment and believes in the dear little ones developing their selfhood—whatever that may be. Sir Wilfrid expressed himself as decidedly in favor of a sound thrashing being administered to the small boy who toys with the dusky charms of My Lady Nicotine. In this age of allowing the servant and child to rule, it is cheeringly wholesome to have the premier of the country place himself on the side of the old-fashioned discipline and refuse to make a matter of legislation what should be a feature of home training.—Canadian Courier.

NEW TORY NEWSPAPER

THE TORONTO NEWS TO BECOME CONSERVATIVE JOURNAL

WILLISON TO RETURN TO HIS OLD PARTY

For a long time, the conservative province of Ontario has been without a strong conservative daily paper. The Toronto Mail and Empire while an excellent newspaper has never been a supreme political influence. Perhaps its proprietors did not deem it best that it should be. In any case, it never became the tories' "Bible," as the Globe has been and remains the "Grit Bible." The World is the personal organ of Mr. W. F. Maclean, and has never been a reliable party newspaper, though Mr. Maclean is usually classed as a conservative. There was thus a curious situation. The Globe and Star are full-fledged party organs as well as excellent newspapers; the Mail and Empire and World were sort of half-raters on the conservative side, while the News and Telegram were independent. Since the failure of the Empire and its absorption by the Mail, the conservatives have always chafed under what they considered a disadvantage. Now, if report is to be believed, the News is to become an out-and-out conservative newspaper. Independent journalism loses; party journalism gains.

Mr. J. S. Willison is to remain as editor and there will be few if any changes in the staff. Mr. Willison was bred and raised in conservative principles, but by accident became managing editor of the Globe, a position which he filled with distinction and ability. Under his guidance the Globe came back nearly to the leading position which it held under the Hon. George Brown. Now, Mr. Willison goes back to the party of his early manhood and will henceforth fight on the conservative side. Just whether he can make the News the leading conservative organ, as he kept the Globe the leading liberal organ, remains to be seen. If he does, he will be entitled to much credit as a skilful journalist and a forcible publicist. Nevertheless, it seems a strange turn of fate that the conservatives should turn to the historian of the liberal party and the biographer of sir Wilfrid Laurier as their chief journalistic advocate in the largest province in the dominion.—Canadian Courier.

LA PATRIE'S NEW HOME

The past few years have witnessed rapid development, not only of the natural resources of Canada, but of her commercial and professional institutions of every kind, as well. True to their traditions, the newspapers have been well to the front in the march of progress. There are few papers that have not made important additions either to their plant or to their equipment, or both, and some have entirely outgrown their old quarters and have erected new buildings adapted to the exacting needs and conditions of the 20th century journalism.

Among the latter is La Patrie of Montreal, one of the most prominent of the French newspapers in Canada. Although approaching the 30th year of its existence, La Patrie was known, up to ten or eleven years ago, only to a comparatively small circle of readers. In 1897 the paper came under new management and a new policy with the result that it has grown to be one of the most widely circulated and best known papers in eastern Canada.

More than three years ago La Patrie's old quarters on St. James street were found to be altogether inadequate. The announcement early in 1905 of the purchase of a building site on the south side of St. Catherines street east, at the corner of City Hall avenue, caused no little surprise. It was an entirely new departure among the newspapers of Montreal, all of which were located on or near the busy section of St. James street. But La Patrie had very good reasons for taking this important step, chief of which was the desire to be established as nearly as possible in the center of its clientele of readers.

The work of finishing and fitting up the interior, of installing the electric plant and the large amount of new and electric machinery, took several months even after the building was occupied last autumn. Every detail is now complete and the formal opening and inauguration took place on Monday, April 20.

La Patrie's new building is without doubt a credit to Canadian journalism. It has a frontage of 75 feet on St. Catherine street, a depth of 94 feet and is six stories high, in addition to a basement and sub-basement. It is built of light Indiana limestone on a foundation of Stanstead granite. The main, or St. Catherine street entrance is in the form of a broad, high arch, occupied by a wide doorway crowned by rich ornamental iron grill work. The distinctive feature of the whole structure is the abundant provision for supplying a most liberal amount of natural light to every part of the building. The front of the building, alone, facing St. Catherine street, contains 63 very large windows, in addition to the doors of the main entrance which are principally of plate glass.

The whole plan and arrangement of the interior conforms to the central idea of the structure—utility combined with beauty. From the spacious, well lighted business office on the first floor to the composing room on the sixth floor, the whole is laid out in a manner that bespeaks a vast amount of thought and foresight on the part of those by whom the building was planned. The press room occupies the greater part of the basement, which is only partially below the St. Catherine street level and is lighted by large windows opening on both streets. Here stand the three great Goss presses, each with a capacity of 75,000 papers per hour. All three presses are equipped to grint from one to four pages in colors, giving La Patrie a unique position in this respect.

Notwithstanding the installation of these three great presses, it is interesting and suggestive of the high aspirations of the paper to note that ample space has been provided on the other side of the basement, for at least three other presses of equal size. However great, therefore, may be the future growth of the paper, there will be no fear of lack of press room.

The other departments—the general business offices on the first floor, the job printing, binding, photo engraving, etc., departments on the second, third and fourth floors, the editorial and directors' rooms on the fifth and the composing room on the sixth—are designed and laid out on similar lines, always with the object of meeting present requirements and providing for future growth.

La Patrie has enjoyed a decade of uninterrupted progress, leading up to the occupation of its present building. It will be interesting to note to what extent the expectations of those who predict greater things during the next ten years, will be fulfilled.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Chicago, April 23.—The bursting of a flywheel at the plant of the North Shore Electric Light company at Waukegan last night caused the death of two men and probably fatally injured two others, and brought darkness to a number of North Shore suburbs. From some unknown cause, the belt on the flywheel, measuring 20 feet, caught fire. The blaze was discovered by one of the employees in the engine room.

NELSON NEWS OF THE DAY

Work has been started on several new houses in Nelson and its suburbs.

C. G. Broadwood yesterday purchased the residence of George Playle in Fairview.

The last dance at the armory for the season will be given by the R.M.R. tonight.

The thermometer yesterday varied only between 46 and 56, the day being rainy until a late hour in the afternoon.

"It just took two days to sell eight head of horses," said a classified advertiser yesterday when he asked to have his ad discontinued.

A drill parade of the 1st Nelson Co., Boy's Brigade, will be held this evening in the church hall at 7 o'clock sharp. All members are to attend in uniform.

The National Stock company who are making a record for themselves at the Nelson opera house this week, will give a special matinee tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. "In Mizzouri" will be the bill.

F. A. Starkey, representing the board of trade and R. C. Brock, the Kootenay Fruit Growers' association, waited yesterday upon J. H. Ward of the B. C. Telephone company and informed him that they had secured the 35 yearly subscribers who were wanted before the company would string a line to Procter. R. C. Brock and E. K. Beeston will take forms up the lake to be signed by the subscribers contracting for one year. Shorter terms afterwards may be arranged for campers. Mr. Ward has written to the head office at the coast for instructions to proceed with the new line according to the arrangement made here last November.

Born, last night, April 23, to the wife of P. J. Gleazer, Victoria street, a son.

The "Squaw Man" will be produced at the Nelson opera house this and tomorrow night.

There will be a meeting of the Women's Hospital aid ball committee at the residence of Mrs. J. M. Lay at 10:30 this morning.

The trouble on the Boundary line was lessened yesterday but the track will not be wholly clear possibly for a couple of days. A Boundary train was sent east last night transferring at Shields.

Weather permitting the great lakes will be opened for navigation by the C.P.R. lake steamer Alberta sailing from Owen Sound on May 2, the Manitoba will follow on May 5, and the Athabasca on May 8. East bound the boats will sail from Fort William on every Tuesday, Friday and Sunday.

There was a fair attendance last night at the reproduction of the "Red Cross Nurse," the house applauding the actors warmly. Tonight will be given the "Squaw Man," said to be the strongest play in the repertoire of the company. A description of the play appears in another column.

HINTS TO ADVERTISERS

Put a little "salesmanship" into a classified ad.—and it will sell any used article you want to sell.

To make your advertising so good that it will reflect the store spirit and stamp progressiveness on the store itself is a fine aspiration.

Watch the ads. and you'll know whether it's worth while to move this spring.

Get interested in the "to let" ads.—for it's the to let time of year.

"Get-rich-quickly" is a discredited slogan; and so is "get-rich-slowly." To "prosper surely is a sound aspiration—and a possible one to progressive advertisers.

A few dollars invested in fixing up the room—and a dollar or so in advertising—and you can rent it for a dollar a week more than before.

This is the best month of the year to sell or rent property—and of course to use the want ads.

AN IMPOSING FUNERAL

DECEASED WAS BURIED WITH MILITARY HONORS

Quebec, April 23.—The remains of the late sir Adolphe Caron, K. C., former minister of militia for Canada, were laid to rest this morning in Belmont cemetery. The funeral was one of the most imposing ever seen in Quebec. The streets along the route of the procession were crowded with people all morning; flags were at half mast on different buildings, while blinds were lowered in The deceased was buried with military honors. Among those present were Hon. R. Lemieux, representing the dominion government, and major general Wilson, representing earl Grey. The religious ceremony took place at the historic Bascilla, which was crowded. While the remains were being taken from the hospital to the church one of the mounted men had a leg fractured by his horse slipping and falling on him.

Joseph Philippe Rene Adolphe Caron, K.C., M.G., K.C., P.C., was the eldest surviving son of the late Hon. R. E Caron, lieutenant governor of the province of Quebec He was born in the city of Quebec in 1843. He was educated at the Seminary of Quebec, at Laval university and at McGill universitv, at which last institution he graduated B.C.L., 1865. He daughter of Hon. Francois Baby, who represented Stadacona division in the legislative council of Canada for several years. He studied law with L. C. Baillarge, Esq., Q. C., and subsequently with the late Hon. sir John Rose, bart., and was called to the bar, L. C., 1865. He was appointed a Q. C. on May 19, 1879. He was a director of the Stadcona bank and in 1867 was vice-president of the Literary and Historical society of Quebec. He was sworn of the privy council and appointed minister of militia on November 9, 1880. He was created a K.C.M.G. on August 25, 1885, in recognition of his services in aiding in the suppression of the Northwest rebellion in 1885, while minister of militia. He was an unsuccessful candidate for Bellechasse at the general election of 1872, and was first returned to parliament for Quebec county in March, 1873; re-elected by acclamation at the general election of of 1874 and again returned at the general election of 1878. He was re-elected by acclamation on his appointment to office, and again at the general elections of 1882 and 1887. He won the Rimouski seat in the following general election, 1891, and again sat as minister of militia and defence. At the general election of 1896 he was elected for Three Rivers and St. Maurice. He was appointed postmaster general on June 25, 1892, and continued to hold that office in the Thompson and Bowell administration. He retired from office in 1896 when premier Bowell resigned, and finally retired from active politics on the coming into power of the Laurier administration.

"ONE TOUCH OF NATURE MAKES THE WHOLE WORLD KIN."

When a rooster finds a big fat worm he calls all the hens in the farm yard to come and share it. A similar trait of human nature is to be observed when a man discovers something exceptionally good—he wants all his friends and neighbors to share the benefits of his discovery. This is the touch of nature that makes the whole world kin. This explains why people who have been cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy write letters to the manufacturers for publication, that others similarly ailing may also use it and obtain relief. Behind every one of these letters is a warm hearted wish of the writer to be of use to someone else. This remedy is for sale by all druggists and dealers.

IF YOU WANT A HOUSE

Don't think prices will ever be lower in Nelson. If you are looking for a home it will pay you to call and see what I have. The very thing that suits you may be on my list. Some of the terms are exceptionally easy, for instance, a small cash payment just to bind the bargain and the balance monthly should suit most people, better than renting as you are making a good investment for the price of rent. If you have cash a liberal allowance will be made on purchase price.

However, if you would sooner rent I will have some houses about May 1 and would advise you to leave your name as soon as possible; they won't go begging for long.

NEW LOCAL REGIMENT

NELSON TO BE HEADQUARTERS FOR 102ND.

CAPTAIN HOLMES OF KASLO WILL COMMAND

Ottawa, April 23.—Military orders promulgated today contain authority for the organization of several new regimental units and a number of addition companies and squadron to strengthen the Canadian militia.

Independent squadrons will also be raised at Kamloops and Vernon, B. C., and at Red Deer, Alberta.

The annual establishments for 1908 are also published and show that the government force has a given establishment of corps made up as follows: Cavalry 1163, artillery 1432, enigneers 394, infantry 1267, auxiliary corps 598.

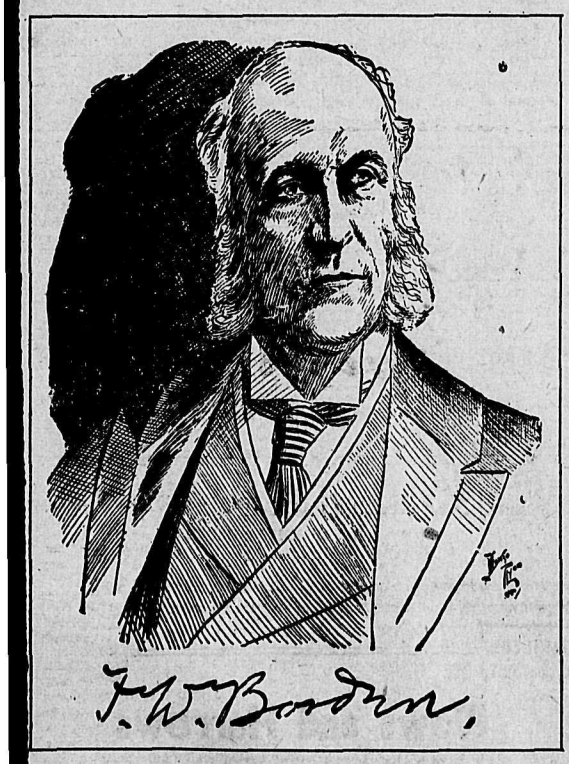
When shown the above despatch last evening, captain Lorne Stewart, commanding the Nelson company R. M. R., exclaimed joyfully: "That is splendid. It is what we have been looking for for a long time, and we hardly expected the announcement until next September.

"It seems that the independent R.M.R. companies at Nelson, Kaslo and Rossland, and possibly some other companies, will be formed into the 102nd Regiment of Rifles, with headquarters in Nelson. It also means a second company for Nelson, and we are quite ready for this addition."

It is generally understood that captain W. J. H. Holmes, of Kaslo, will be the colonel of the new corps. Who the other commanding officers will be is not known officially.

Having regimental headquarters here should mean a regimental band, and does mean a forward step for the local militia and there should now be no difficulty in filling at least two full companies enrolled a tonce.

The 102nd Regiment should take a prominent part in Nelson's annual Dominion day celebration or at the Fall fair, or on both occasions.



DOMINION EXHIBITION

CALGARY MAKING PREPARATIONS FOR GREAT FAIR

ATTRACTIONS WILL BE THE BEST EVER OFFERED

(Special to The Daily News.)

Calgary, April 23—The dominion exhibition to be held in this city from June 29 to July 9, and which will be opened by Hon. Sydney Fisher, minister of agriculture, promises to outclass all previous records in its line.

The number of exhibits is larger, the variety is greater, the attractions are the latest devised and the best on the road, the racing program with its $13,000 in purses and its high class entry list, will eclipse any ever seen in western Canada, while the district exhibits of which there are 50, will give visitors a better idea of the diversity of western Canada's resources and conditions than could be got in weeks of travel and the expenditure of a lot of money.

One hundred and forty exhibits have already been booked in the various buildings and every available inch of space has been taken up. With applications still coming, manager Richardson has found it necessary to construct three large tents 28x56 feet each, and put them together so as to provide additional space under cover for those exhibitors who were not so fortunate as to secure space in the buildings proper.

The work on the grounds and buildings is being pushed rapidly forward and everything promises to be in readiness on opening day.

The question of accommodating the thousands of visitors is not being overlooked. Calgary's fine school buildings, including the recently completed Normal school, by the courtesy and co-operation of premier Rutherford who is at the head of the provincial department of education, and the local school board, will be transformed into apartment houses. The homes of the citizens will be thrown open with characteristic western hospitality; military tents will be erected on private lawns and in other ways the housing and other comforts of the visitors will be looked after.

The show of live stock will be a leading feature of the exhibition and $25,000 in prizes will be awarded. Entries close May 30.

The music for the exhibition will be furnished by the famous 91st Highland regiment band of Hamilton, the Iowa State band and musical aggregations of lesser note.

The attractions, including Strobel's airship are high class, clean and up to date in every way, and there will be many typical western features such as rough riding by real cowboys, Indian and squaw races by members of the tribes from the reservations and other purely western pastimes.

The grounds occupy 93 acres, and are located almost in the centre of the city on the bank of the Elbow river. From the grandstand is provided a magnificent view of the Rocky mountains, eighty miles distant, which in the summer sunlight and clear air of Alberta appear to be only a mile or two away.

In the industrial building there will be a branch postoffice, telegraph, telephone office and a bank for the accommodation of the visitors, so that no one need leave the grounds from morning until night. Special railway rates have been received for the exhibition, and homeseekers' excursion dates fixed to accommodate visitors. From Port Arthur and west, tickets will be on sale June 26 to July 7, good going until July 8. Final limit for return July 13.

"THE MERRY WIDOW" LID

My scat!
Where did she get that hat?
Who ever did
Invent a lady's lid
Like that?
Who had the nerve to roll it out
And stretch it more and more,
From centerpiece to rim until
It spreads from shore to shore,
And likewise lifts its summit up,
On birds' and other wings
Above the earth until it scrapes
The clouds and other things?
Who added to the wondrous width
of brim, so that the space
Could easily accommodate
An automobile race?
Say, who done that?
Who built her hat?
Who made it something never seen
On earth or in the sky,
A flat of wide expanding plain,
A mountain towering high?
Cut wider doors for her to get
Inside of any place.
And put the ceiling on the roof
To give her nodding space.
Push up the clouds to let her stand
Erect upon the ground,
And shove the wide horizon back
To let her turn around.
Oh, weirdly, witching, woozy hat
That flattens out and towers—
Who ever saw a thing like that—
A pancake filled with flowers?
A hat contagious—spreading Yes,
That names the Merry Wid.,
And she who fails to catch it should
Slip out and change her lid.
Gee whiz,
What a wonder woman is!
And my scat!
Where DID she get that hat?

—W. J. LAMPTON.

AN AGE OF PRORGESS

IN MEDICINE AS WELL AS ART AND SCIENCE

This is an age of progress in the world of medicine as well as in arts and science. This is demonstrated by the remarkable discovery after years of research by two eminent French chemists of the process by which the curative, medicinal elements of the cod's liver may be separated from the oil, thus getting rid of that nauseating part of this valuable remedy.

In Vinol modern science has given to the world a most delicious cod liver preparation without oil made by a scientific, extractive and concentrating process from fresh cods' livers, combining with peptonate of iron all the medicinal, healing, body-building elements of cod liver oil, but no oil.

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak and run down persons, after sickness, and for chronic coughs, colds, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles, Vinol is unexcelled.

Try it on our guarantee to return your money if it fails to give satisfaction. Wm. Rutherford, druggist, Nelson, B.C.

AT THE THEATRE

Production of Squaw Man This Evening and Tomorrow Night

Nelson theatre goers are enjoying this week a treat that is given only too seldom to them and that is a really meritorious company producing plays that are recognized successes from an artistic standpoint and it is gratifying to note that the patronage is a liberal one. Tonight there will be a complete production of "Squaw Man," Edwin Milton Royle's wonderful cowboy plade, made famous on the stave by Wm. Faversham. Nelson will be the fifth city in Canada to witness this great play as this is its first season on the road. No finer story of western life was ever written and it is a treat after seeing so many exaggerated and overdone cowboy or western plays. From all appearances the advance sale at Rutherford's drug store for the performances this and tomorrow night, has been most satisfactory, both being well taken up.

TO KILL WITNESSES

Oakland, Cal., April 23.—An attempt was made on the life of J. T. Gallagher, one of the main witnesses for the prosecution in the San Francisco bribery cases, last night at the home of William H. H. Scheneck, his brother-in-law, at East 20th street and Ninth avenue, East Oakland, when a huge bomb placed on the porch exploded and tore away the whole front of the house. Gallagher was up stairs at the time with his wife, and Scheneck was in the rear room with his wife and four children and Dr. Guy Brown. All escaped unhurt except one boy, who was hit in the neck by a flying missle. Gallagher's hat was pierced by a splinter. The house was wrecked.

RETURN TO WORK

Hamilton, April 23—Moulders employed by the D. Moore company returned to work this morning at the old rate of wages and it is expected that other foundrymen will open shortly. Foundrymen have been trying to get moulders to accept a reduction of wages, claiming that higher wages are paid here than elsewhere, but the union would not consent, holding that the agreement entered into two years ago would not expire until next May. It was feared that there would be a lockout or strike, but the Moore company has broken the ice by agreeing to pay the old wages in the meantime until the international officer comes to settle the matter.

HOW TO PROSECUTE

Edmonton Is Worked Up on the Social Evil Question

Edmonton, April 23.—The city police department is much concerned at present as to who shall get the fines being collected from local houses of ill-fame. Prosecutions are now being carried on under the Vagrancy Act but the city authorities are willing to prosecute under the Nuisance Act if it will strengthen their position. The whole question will be threshed out between the attorney general and the city solicitor within the next few days and a definite understanding arrived at.
