INTEREST KEEN

Sheep Creek Valley Full of Explorers

PARTY FROM SALT LAKE

EXAMINATION OF PROPERTIES BEING MADE IN INTEREST OF AMERICAN CAPITALISTS — J. L. WARNER TELLS OF DEVELOPMENTS.

The potential wealth of Sheep creek camp is now rapidly becoming known and appreciated. The town of Salmo is now enjoying a large transit traffic, the result of many parties of miners, mining experts and capitalists going to and returning from the gold properties in the valley. No expression of disappointment have yet been heard. Even the most cautious and reserved of experts warm with enthusiasm as they tell what they have seen and examined.

Prospectors are very busy in the valley staking new claims and hurrying to open them up, but it is the partly developed properties that naturally attract most attention and interest.

A party of American mining men from Salt Lake City, among whom is M. M. Johnston, formerly consulting engineer of the B. C. Copper company, are examining a number of properties in the interest of western American capitalists whose attention has been drawn to the property by the recent visits of well known mining men. Among the latter was Phil Flynn, of Denver, who has been associated with Mr. Johnston in many fields. Mr. Flynn was in the city about three weeks ago and, though he had little to say here, it has been learned since that his report to his principals was that Sheep creek was, for the amount of capital and labor expended on it so far, the best looking gold field he had ever seen Such a report from a man who has mined in every western state naturally stimulated the interest of those who knew him.

Mr. Johnston arrived in the valley last Saturday and has since been examining many of the properties. He is expected to arrive in Nelson tonight.

J. L. Warner, who is himself largely interested, and who has done much to bring Sheep creek to the attention of the public, returned to the city last night after four days spent in the valley.

Mr. Warner brought with him a beautiful specimen of free milling gold ore from the present deepest workings of the Kootenay Belle. It is flecked with coarse gold.

Mr. Warner stated that it came from a ledge nearly a foot wide, uncovered on the face of the cliff for 35 feet vertically, and entered now by a tunnel to a distance of 40 feet.

Shipments from the Mother Lode continues to be made of the highest grade ore. Last Saturday 100 sacks were shipped and a similar shipment is being made today. Mr. Warner says that it has been found necessary to double sack this ore to avoid the danger of the free gold sifting through a single sack while being transported. Development work on the mine is being rapidly pushed ahead under the supervision of J. C. Moen. The lowest tunnel is now in a distance of 70 feet and still in high grade ore.

While he was too busy to visit many properties other than those he is personally interested in, Mr. Warner heard good reports from all. In every case development work has so far confirmed the most sanguine expectations of the owners ,who are, in most cases still, the original locators.

Going and returning Mr. Warner met many parties all bound for the valley.

McINNES IS NOMINATED

HAS MAJORITY OF ONLY TWO VOTES IN 567.

IS SURE OF LIBERAL VICTORY AT THE POLLS.

(Special to The Daily News.)

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25.—The liberals in convention tonight nominated W. W. B. McInnes as their candidate for Vancouver, MacPherson having been appointed on his recent retirement, postmaster here.

The contest was keen, McInnes receiving a majority of only two votes of the 567 ballots cast. His vote was 289, W. D. Deb Farris, the defeated liberal candidate for the city in the last provincial election receiving 153 and Harry Senkler, K. C., receiving 134.

The nomination of McInnes was made unanimous.

McInnes, in accepting, predicted the liberals return throughout the dominion.

EDMONTON HAPPENINGS.

Shooting Accident on Paddle River—Carpenters Cheat Employers.

EDMONTON, Aug. 25.—An unfortunate accident occurred on Friday last when Gustave Palfans, a young man from Stillwater, Minn, shot himself causing instant death. He was out in the Paddle river district about 90 miles west of this city looking for a homestead, accompanied by his cousin Emil Ouse of this city, and in picking up a gun the trigger accidentally caught and the gun exploded. The unfortunate man received the full charge in the chest and death resulted almost instantly.

A heavy hail storm, travelling from south to north and lasting about an hour, passed over Spruce Grove shortly after noon today and the ground is still covered in places with the hail stones. A telephone message to the Bulletin stated that most of the grain in that section was cut and little damage is anticipated from the hail.

Rendered temporarily insane through grief at the death of his young daughter, David A. Craig, who resided on Namayo avenue in Norwood, committed suicide on Saturday last by poisoning himself.

As the result of a prosecution at the police court this morning of a young lad named Bowles, for stealing a window sash from the C. N. R. yards, it is probable that about half a dozen men employed in the carpenter shops may lose their positions. It was discovered that several men had been doing private jobs for their friends during working hours and the sash that the young lad was caught carrying away was one that had been made for his father by one of the other workmen.

FLOODS IN THE SOUTH.

Part of South Carolina Fears Repetition of 1903.

COLUMBIA, Aug. 25.—Reports received tonight from Spartanburg and Anderson counties tell of unprecendented rains in the Piedmont section of S. Carolina resulting in great damage to property, forcing power plants to close down, thus cutting off the source of power of a number of cotton mills, electric light plants and other enterprises. A repetition of the great flood of 1903 is feared tonight. It is reported that the great dam across Lawson's fork at Whitney mill, three miles north of Spartanburg, has gone down in the floods. Railroad transportation is at a standstill, the tracks being blocked by landslides and washouts. The rain is still falling in those sections of the state and further damage is feared.

A telephone message from Camden, S. C., says that the toll bridge over the Watersee river near that place was washed away by floods today carrying with it about twenty-five people. Meagre reports say that the dead number eight. Telegraph lines in that section are down and communication is difficult.

LATE COL. EVANS.

Sketch of Career of Canadian Soldier Who Died Yesterday.

The death of Col. T. B. Evans of Winnipeg, announced in these columns yesterday, removes one of the most distinguished officers of the Canadian militia and is a distinct loss to the Dominion forces.

Colonel Evans was in the prime of life, having been born in Ottawa on March 22, 1860. He joined the 43rd battalion in 1881 and was transferred in 1888 to the R. R. C. I. at the instance of the general officer commanding, his company being considered the smartest on parade at the annual inspection. He was subsequently transferred to the Royal Canadian Dragoons and rapidly rose to the command of that corps in Winnipeg. His first active service was in the northwest in 1885 with the Midland battalion (medal). He commanded the Yukon field force in 1898-99 (brevet of lieut.-col). He also commanded the Canadian mounted rifles in South Africa, 1899-1900 (medal, despatches, brevet rank of colonel and C. B.) and 1901-2 (despatches). Colonel Evans has been Hon. A. S. C. to his excellency the governor general since 1901 and was married in 1904 to a daughter of Sir. D. H. McMillan, lieut. governor of Manitoba.

His interest in sports was intense and he took at various times an active part in football, hockey ,tennis ,golf, canoeing and rifle shooting. A wide circle of friends will mourn his loss, including a number now resident in Nelson.

NOTED DIPLOMAT DEAD.

Baron Von Sternburg, Former German Ambassador to America.

HEIDELBURG, Aug. 25.—Baron Speck Von Sternburg, the German ambassador to the United States died quietly in the hotel Victoria in this city about midnight last night. The baroness who was Miss Lillian May Langhan of Louisville, Ky., was with her husband at the end. No arrangements have been made for the funeral of the ambassador. Baron Von Sternburg left New York for Germany on May 16.

Baroness Von Sternburg has received the following telegram from Emperor William: "I am deeply shaken by the unexpected news of the passsing away of your husband, I desire to express to you my heartfelt sympathy. I lose in ham a valuable friend and a distinguished diplomat who has rendered important service to me and to the fatherland and whom it will be most difficult to replace. May God give you, in your grief, his heavenly consolation."

BUILDING COLLAPSED.

Was Burned in Conflagration in April —Was Being Repaired.

CHELSEA, Mass., Aug. 25.—A thirty-foot brick wall for a building for which is being erected in Chelsea Square to replace one burned in the fire last April collapsed today and buried more than a score of workmen. Three bodies were taken in the first half hour and fifteen men more or less injured were removed to the U. S. marine hospital where it was reported that several would die. Nearly all the workmen were foreigners. The wall was being built next to the Park hotel which escaped destruction in the April conflagration. The property had formerly been a four story building with a pitched roof and was one of the last to be burned in the fire. A gang of over twenty men were at work on the wall this morning and 15 men were on the staging about 35 feet from the ground laying bricks when the whole structure suddenly toppled over carrying with it all the men on the staging and crashing down on many more who were working in the cellar below. For a few seconds after the crash only clouds of dust could be seen, but when people who were passing on the street got to the scene the shrieks and cries of the injured began to be heard. An alarm was rung in and in a minute the police hurried across the square from the station only a few hundred feet away and the work of rescue began immediately. The police are making arrangements for investigation.

Ten minutes before the wall collapsed Frank Weymouth, a newly appointed inspector of buildings, visited the site and detected what he thought to be a weakness in the wall and ordered all work stopped. Weymouth stated that large holes had been made in the wall for timber and that it was badly undermined.

MISTAKEN AFFINITY.

Half-Witted New York Artist is Again in the Lime Light.

MIDDLETOWN, Aug. 25.—Ferdinand P. Earle, the artist of affinity fame was arrested at his home near Monroe today with assault on his wife on or about August 16. The complainant was Mrs. Inez Barry, an aunt of Mrs. Earle. After he had been arraigned before justice Carpenter at Monroe, the prisoner refused to give bail, preferring to be locked up. Earle pleaded guilty to the charge and was held for the grand jury.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Last summer Ferdinand Pinney Earle startled the country by announcing that he had urged his wife to go to her home in France and sue him for divorce. He also stated that his wife had agreed to take this course in order to enable him to marry his "affinity" Julie Kutner. Residents of Monroe were indignant and twice attacked the artist as he was driving through the village. Later Mrs. Earle and her children sailed for France. There Mrs. Earle secured a divorce.

KAUFMAN BEATS FLYNN

Even Fighting for Seven Rounds But Decisive at Finish.

IS AGGRIEVED

Venezuela Thinks Apologies Due to It

NO QUARREL WITH DUTCH

BUT HAS PERSONAL GROUNDS AGAINST M. DE REUS, CONSUL FOR THE NETHERLANDS WHO HAS BEEN ASKED TO LEAVE THE COUNTRY.

THE HAGUE, Aug. 25.—The Netherlands government received an unofficial copy of the second note sent to it by the foreign minister of Venezuela in connection with the difficulty which has arisen in the West Indies between the two states. The original document has not yet come to hand. The cabinet met this morning and considered this note at length.

The general tenor of it does not give the Netherlands government much encouragement to persevere in its attempts to reach a peaceful settlement with Venezuela.

M. de Reus, the former minister of the Netherlands to Venezuela, arrived here at 5 o'clock this eening from the West Indies. He went at once to the foreign office to report the difficulty between his government and president Castro.

The Venezuelan note, after referance to the communication of July 20 relative to the handing of his passports to minister de Reus because he was considered incompetent to serve as a medium for maintaining the existing friendly relations between the two countries, says the action of Venezuela, which is entirely personal against Mr. de Reus, did not contemplate the loosing of the ties of friendship between the Netherlands and Venezuela.

Senor Paul says that other incidents have occurred which impart a graver significance to the action of M. de Reus.

The note then recites the arrival of the Netherlands' cruiser Gelderland at Porto Cabello and La Guayra without the usual salute either upon arriving or when she sailed with M. de Reus, an omission, the note says, that constitutes not only an infraction of international custom but was an act of impoliteness.

Continuing Senor Paul refers at length to the "shameful attack upon the residence of Senor Lopez, the Venezuelan consul at Curacao by the populace who were egged on by a faction; that for some time past has been permitted by the Curacao authorities to wage a hostile propaganda against Venezuela and against its government." The note complains that no energetic steps were taken to assure the future security of this official, who was consequently directed to place the consulate in charge of his chief German colleague and embark for Venezuela on an American vessel.

The foreign minister concludes. "The Venezuelan government finds itself obliged to declare to the government of your excellency that so long as the satisfaction due and the reparation for the offences and grievances referred to in this note have not been given it cannot maintain friendly relations between the two countries."

SICK OF CHRISTIANITY

FORMER PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR ENDS HIS LIFE.

PREFERS ROBERT INGERSOLL TO JESUS CHRIST.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Ill, half bind, criticising the church on the score of untruthfulness and insincerity and declaring that he could not worship "America's trinity, success, pleasure and gold," Rev. Albert H. Trick shot and killed himself in a room in a hotel today. He was once pastor in a Presbyterian church in Chicago, had a church in Saratoga, N. Y., but had no regular pastorate for several years ,obtaining an insecure livelihood as an insurance agent. In a letter which he left to Charles N. Dowd, of this city, who had befriended him, the former pastor dclared that he was lonely even in the church when he attempted to "square his soul by the teachings of Jesus,' 'and asserted that the modern church more nearly follows the example of Robert Ingersoll than those of Jesus.

The letter read in part as follows: "I have never been able to conquer an inborn contempt for the place money has in this world, though knowing so well how absolutely a fair amount of it at least is necessary to all of us. I could never adapt myself, in view of my early ideas, to the methods by which money is made. They are so transparently selfish and more or less unscrupulous, whether used by the church or the so-called world . I could never worship America's trinity, success, pleasure and gold. I am too old and settled in my character to change, though my eyes have long been spent on my delusions. I took deeply to heart the teachings of Jesus and tried hard and long to square my soul by them. I found at last what a pitiful mistake I had made and how lonely I was when in the church. The average man cares little about what Jesus taught and it makes one heart-sick to hear its ecclesiastics prate about it.

"I rejoice in the better day dawning when society with its superstition and errors, like all other religions of men shall have passed away and religion itself free and simple, religion that has a passion for truth, justice, love and liberty, purity and humanity shall prevail. Ye Gods ,what does the church care for these things, for truth, etc.? It twists all the facts, philosophy and expressions of history to make them square with their petty traditions and systems of a day. The day will soon some when the world will prove that sacred as the place that Jesus holds in the world's esteem, they are no more bound by what he taught, did and thought, than they are by the precepts of Robert Ingersoll, and the modern church more nearly follows this exemplary and kindly and honest American than they do the Oriental."

To his two sons and a daughter who live in Brooklyn, the former pastor wrote: "I have gone to join mother." His wife died fourteen years ago.

STOCK FIRM SUSPENDS.

Brown & Co., New York Brokers, Are Forced to Close.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—A. O. Brown & So. suspended at the stock exchange today. It was one of the largest brokerage houses in the city, and announced their suspension at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The transactions of the firm in the remarkable stock market of last Saturday have been under investigation by the authorities of the exchange and today it was announced the transactions had been made for the firm's account under the rule which provides that where a firm is unable to unable to deliver stock to another broker, the purchaser may buy in the stock at the expense of the firm so failing to make delivery.

At the height of the boom markets several years ago Brown & Co. did an enormous business, said to have been larger than any other brokerage house at that time in the city. There were at one time branch offices in the city and many others throughout the country, but after the panic last fall many of the out of town branches were closed. The firm was organized in 1902, its members being A. O. Brown, L. Stout, E. F. Buchanan, S. C. Brown and W. R. Whitman. D W Noel, has been named as assignee No statement of liabilities or assets is available as yet, but it is thought the figures will be large.

One of the representatives of the firm said:

"The affairs are badly tangled and it was believed necessary we should suspend in order to straighten them out."

E. F. Buchanan, a member of O. Brown & Co. ,made a statement in regard to the firm's position just before going into conference with the assignee. He said he could give no idea of the liabilities or assets but the failure was not a serious one and the firm hoped to pay 100 cents on the dollar and resume operations before long.

FOR KOOTENAY MINERS

CHANCES FOR PRIZES AT SPOKANE INTERSTATE FAIR.

RULES GOVERNING EXHIBITIONS AND CONTESTS.

nI connection with the Spokane interstate fair, at which Kootenay exhibitors and inspectors were so successful in the mineral department, the secretary has written to the secretary of the Nelson board of trade asking that arrangements be made to acquaint residents of Kootenay with the particulars of all competitions. The rock drilling features have been referred to Frank Phillips.

The communication is as follows:

The liberal awards made in this department in 1907, brought out a very creditable exhibition, and the same awards will be made again this year, in hopes of bringing out an even better display.

Freight will be paid on all ore samples sent in which are billed to the Spokane Interstate Fair, and which are allowed to remain in the permanent display at the fair grounds, but no express charges will be paid.

The rock drilling contest put on in 1907 was such a success that it will be held again for more liberal purses, and a large entry list is expected.

CLASS 1—ORE DISPLAYS.

The Spokane Interstate Fair will give a handsome silver trophy cup, valued at $100, for the best general display of mineral exhibited by any one camp or district, variety, quality and arrangement to be considered.

The Spokane Interstate Fair will also give a silver trophy cup, valued at $25, to each separate camp or dstrict making the best individual showing, variety, quality and arrangement to be considered. No cup will be awarded to any mine unless it has competition from the district which it represents.

The Spokane Interstate Fair will also award diplomas to any meritorious exhibits not receiving any of the above prizes.

CLASS 2—MISCELLANEOUS.

For the handsomest and most unique cabinet display made by any one individual, a cash prize of $25.

For the best topographical map of any mineral district or camp, a cash prize of $10.

In both above lots, cabinets and maps having won prizes at this fair in 1907, will be excluded from competition, but may be entered for exhibition only.

CLASS 3—ROCK DRILLING CONTEST

The Spokane Interstate Fair will give a purse of $1,250 for three rock drilling contests. This money will be divided as follows: One thousand dollars for a double handed contest, of which $750 is for first prize and $250 for second; $200 for a single hand contest, of which $150 is for first and $50 for second; $50 for a boys' drilling contest, for boys 15 years old or under, of which $40 for first and $10 for second.

The following rules will govern these contests: Competition open to all; entries close on October 5 at noon. An entrance fee of $15 per man will be charged in each contest, and $10 of this will be returned to each man who drills. Any one entering and not drilling will forfeit entire entrance fee. No entrance fee for boys' contest. Time allowed in two hand contst will be 15 minutes; in single hand contest 10 minutes; for boys' contest 5 minutes. All tools must be furnished by contestants; drills for two hand contest to caliper 7-8 inch at bit and at point 3 inches back of bit; drills for single hand contest to caliper 3-4 inch at bit and at point 3 inches back of bit. Boys to drill with 3-4 inch steel. Drills may be swedged for three inches back of bit, but must caliper full measurement at bit and at point 3 inches back of bit. Any weight hammer allowed. Two assistants will be allowed to each team in two handed contests, one to coach and one to look after water; only one assistant allowed in single hand contests; under no circumstances are assistants allowed to assist in changing drills. The Spokane Interstate Fair will furnish the best granite obtainable for this contest; if possible, the same will be procured from Gunnison quarries. Contests will commence on Monday, October 5, and continue throughout the week, and will be put on either night or in the day time at option of fair management.

UNPRECEDENTED RAINS

MUCH DAMAGE IS INFLICTED IN SOUTHERN STATES.

MUCH VALUABLE PROPERTY IN DANGER OF DESTRUCTION.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Aug. 25.—Unprecedented rainfall, which has broken all weather bureau records since 1865, has wrought untold damage in this vicinity. Northbound southern railroad trains have been annulled and southbound trains are from five to ten hours late. Street car traffic in the suburbs has been suspended. The residents along creeks adjacent to the city have been compelled to flee to higher ground for safety. The Satawaba river has reached a stage of forty feet and a rise of another foot means the cutting off the street lights and power of Charlotte and neighboring towns.

ATHENS, S. C., Aug. 25.—Damage of $50,000 in this city has been done by almost continuous rains that fell from 11 o'clock Sunday night until 3 o'clock this afternoon .

SPARTANBURG, S. C., Aug. 25.—As a result of heavy rains for the past 48 hours the worst conditions experienced in this section since the disastrous flood of 1903 prevails. Bridges and dams have been washed away and this city is without gas, electric lights or power. The big cotton mills along Pacolet river are threatened with destruction.

KAISER IS ALL RIGHT.

Rumor of Serious Injury to Leg Proves Without Foundation.

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—A dispatch received here from Strassburg says it is reported that the imperial manoeuvres have been postponed owing to the fact that the emperor is suffering from an injury to his leg. Confirmation of this report could not be had last night as it was impossible to communicate with Wilhelmshore where the emperor is staying. Semiofficial circles, however, have no information on the subject, and consider the rumor unworthy of credence.

WILHELMSHORE, Aug. 25.—Emperor William rode in the forest this morning which fact proves as unfounded the widely published report proves that he was suffering from a severe injury to one of his legs.

FIGHTING PEDAGOGUE.

Arkansas School Teacher Kills Father and Wounds Son.

HOT SPRINGS, Aug. 25.—Henry Fisher, aged 50 years, a prominent farmer of Lincoln township, was cut and fatally wounded, and his son stabbed and seriously wounded yesterday at the Dewey school house in that township, by Gerfield Lewis, a school teacher, who is alleged to have punished the boy for a misdeed and who was said to have quarrelled with the boy's father when the latter went to the school to investigate the matter. The boy was cut while attempting to assist his father. The weapon used was an ordinary pocket knife. Lewis was arrested.

MURDERER CAUGHT.

Murderer of Vancouver Boarding House Keeper Arrested.

(Special to The Daily News.)

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25.—Jack Pertello, the negro wanted for the murder of Mrs. Jenkins, a colored boarding house keeper yesterday in this city, was arrested tonight at Port Hammond. The motive of the crime is not known. The woman's body revealed thirty cuts. Pertello for years posed as a friend of the husband. The murder was committed in the latter's absence. Pertello came here from Dalles, Oregon.

Now for Johnson.

SYDNEY, Aug. 25.—Tommy Burns, who yesterday defeated Bill Squires, states that he is anxious to meet Jack Johnson and that negotiations looking to a match are under way.

Templars in Session.

ROCHESTER, Aug. 25.—The grand lodge of the International Order of Good Templars, opened its annual convention here this morning with about three hundred delegates in attendance.

BIG TURN OUT

Regatta This Afternoon Will Be Feature of Holiday

EIGHTH OF LAUNCH RACES

KEEN INTEREST SHOWN BY CONTESTANTS AND GENERAL PUBLIC IN WHAT PROMISES TO BE MOST SUCCESFUL REGATTA EVER HELD HERE.

The regatta which takes place here this afternoon will be the attraction of the holiday and a keen interest is being taken in the affair not only by the contestants but by the public in general and the lake front will undoubtedly be marked with enthusiasm throughout the races.

Nothing has been omitted by those in charge of the affair that would in any way add to its attractiveness and nothing has been left undone by the contestants in getting well prepared for the races, practicing having been kept up practically incessantly since the last regatta. Surely nothing will be left undone by the general public who by turning out in good numbers can make an affair of this kind the success it is deserving of and thus create a keener interest in the aquatic sports on Nelson's most valuable asset—the lake.

The mixed fours will form the feature of the races, the stroke being allowed to have one of the ladies who pulled with him at the recent regatta but the other lady and the bow must be changed. The crews will be those of Teague vs. Mawdsley and Nott vs. Horswell with Skuce a bye.

There will also be pulled off the single and double canoe races, the mixed doubles and two heats and the finals in the men's fours, the crews being left in for the latter being those of Cheyne, Nott, Teague and Horswell. In this race the course is a mile long but in order to make it as interesting for the public as is possible the committee have arranged it so that the race will start from the float and finish at the float.

During the intervals a series of swimming races, walking the greasy pole and tilting has been arranged so that at no stage will the regatta be devoid of incident.

In the preliminary heats of the men's fours last evening Skuce dropped out and the crew stroked by Cheyne beat that of Johnstone easily while Nott's crew defeated that of Mawdsley, after a good race.

There will also be run off this afternoon the eighth of the summer series of launch races which are proving of such interest.

The regatta will commence at 2:30, city time, and arrangements have been made to accommodate the public as well if not better than has been possible at future regattas. Tea will be served for the ladies in the boat house.

PAY FOR BOY'S LIFE.

American Motorists Roughly Handled by German Villagers.

DRESDEN, Aug. 25.—A. Bartlett of Chicago, accompanied by his daughter, was automobiling from Karlsbad to Dresden last Saturday when the car ran over and killed a boy 8 years old in the village of Achmiedeburg, 30 miles from here. The boy suddenly ran in front of the machine from behind a wagon. When it became known that the child was dead, the villagers made a hostile demonstration against the Bartlett party, the members of which took refuge in a nearby hotel. From Schmiedeburg, Mr. Bartlett telephoned consul general Gaffney at Dresden, who with deputy consul general Duantler, went down to Schmiedeburg. They found the police and the village authorities in session taking testimony. It was decided Sunday morning that the chauffeur was blameless. Mr. Bartlett said however, that he would indemnify the family of the boy.

Jubilee at Lourdes.

LOURDES, Aug. 25.—Pilgrims to the number of 7,500 yesterday attended the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the apparition of the Virgin. A magnificent church has been erected on the spot where the Virgin is said to have appeared to a child in 1858. Thirteen bishops of different nationalities presided at the ceremonies.

Triumph for Germany.

PLYMOUTH, Aug. 25.—The North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II has established a new record in time elapsed and average speed for any vessel over the long course of 3,080 miles from Sandy Hook to Plymouth. She made the distance in five days, nine hours and 55 minutes, an average speed for the trip of 23.71 knots an hour.

Embezzler's Suicide.

FRANKFORT, Aug. 25.—Herr Kellermann, cashier of the coupon department of the Mittendeutch Credit bank, shot himself dead in this city today. He had embezzled $125,000 from the bank. He left a letter of confession addressed to the management.

Boss Croker Honored.

RUBLIN, Aug. 25.—Richard Croker has become an honorary burgess of Dublin. He signed the roll and received from the lord mayor a certificate granting him the freedom of the city.

SWING OF THE PENDLUM

ENGLISH CONSTITUENCIES GO AGAINST GOVERNMENT.

CONSERVATIVE VICTORIES MAKE A LONG RECORD.

Some remarkable figures have just been published showing the swing of the pendulum in England since the last general election, says the Winnipeg Telegram. Eight seats which have been regarded as strongholds of liberalism have been won with enormous majorities for the unionist cause, the chief cause of the turnover being the question of tariff reform. This is being kept to the very forefront by the unionists, who maintain that far and above every other consideration this has to be fought out. The eight seats that have been won are Cockermouth, represented for so many years by Sir Wilfrid Lawson, the poet-teetotaller, Brigg (Lincolnshire), South Hereford, Mid Devon, Peckham, (Metropolitan) North West Manchester, Pudsey, and Haggerston (Metropolitan.)

Not only have they won these seats, but in every by-election that has taken place the liberal majority has been greatly reduced, while, on the other hand what is most unusual, the government have been unable to gain a single seat from the unionists. From the labor party they have succeeded in wresting one solitary seat, but the victory cost them dear, the labor party having ousted four government nominees while the socailist party robbed the government of one solid supporter.

Taking the figures of the forty-five contested by-elections that have taken place since January, 1906, the liberals polled in these constituencies, at the general election, 219,815 votes to 175,529 polled by the unionists. At the by-elections in the same constituencies, the liberals polled only 184,380 votes, while the unionists secured 197,218 ballots. In other words, while the liberals lost 35,507 votes the unionists gained 20,389. The principal falling away of voters was at Leicester, 4,000, Surrey, defeated by a plurality of 7,000, Hull over 3,000, Dundee, falling off of upwards of 2,000, Pudsey, 2,000 and Haggerston 1,000. In other cases the change over varied from tens to thousands.

All over the country the unionists are intensely satisfied with the results and look forward with no little pleasure to the time when the next appeal to arms is made. In 1905-6, they were caught napping and unprepared; today they are thoroughly wide awake, well organized, and fully prepared for the fray.

GOLDEN ZONE BONDED.

Option for Bond Given to G. P. Jones, of the Nickel Plate.

Rumor was busy for a few days last week, says the Hedley Gazette, regarding a deal which was reported pending for the purchase of the Golden Zone.

It was reported a few weeks ago that officials of the Daly Reduction company made overtures for the purchase of the property, but at that time the water for milling had not played out, and the fine showing that was being made on the plates did not tend to dispose the owners to part with the claims. The failure of their plans, however, has in all probability left the owners little option as to the immediate course to be folowed.

Option for bond has now been given by the owners to G. P. Jones, superintendent of the Nickel Plate and Sunnyside mines, at a figure that is variously stated from $40,000 to $75,000, and time is given to explore the property, although it is understood that the holders of the bond are to make an immediate payment of sufficient to pay off the few outstandnig debts against the property, which are insignificant.

Whether Mr. Jones has taken the option on spec off his own bat, or in behalf of others is a matter that no one appears to know, and it is within his right to give it out or keep it to himself as he may see fit. We understand it is his intention to sample and explore during the life of the option, as fully as time and circumstances will permit him.

Work on the Bertha.

The lead on the Bertha, which had faulted a little, has been struck again, although at present it is little small. One shift only, is at work at present, but it is expected that sinking operations will again commence shortly, and be prosecuted with even greater vigor than heretofore.

Diarrhoea Cured

"My father has for years been troubled with diarrhoea, and tried every means possible to effect a cure, without avail," writes John H. Zirkle of Philippi, W. Va. "He saw Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy advertised in the Philippi Republican and decided to try it. The result is one bottle cured him and he has not suffered with the disease for eighteen months. Before taking this remedy he was a constant sufferer. He is now sound and well, and although sixty years old, can do as much work as a young man." Sold by all druggists and dealers.

The September Rod and Gun.

Duck shooting has a mighty fascination in September and Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada published by W. J. Taylor, Woodstock, Ont., deals in a generous manner with the duck hunter in its September issue. Eastern, central and western Canada contributes duck hunting stories, and the differences in the conditions under which the sport is pursued in various parts of the country are well brought out. Every duck hunter will sympathize with the work of the Brandon people in making a collection of the native wild fowl and trust their example will be followed in various parts of the Dominion. Fishing and big game hunting expeditions and accounts of the adventures of a chainman in "Helping to Make a Railway," and the story of "The Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Squadron" are articles to which particular attention may be directed. The story of "The Alpine Club's Third Annual Camp" is told in an article by a special representative and care is taken that those interested in outdoor life in any of its phases are not neglected. There is plenty of variety scattered through the pages of an excellent number, not only in the departments, but also in the numerous articles and stories making up the issue.

Politics and Murder.

IRONTON, Aug. 25.—Factional politics are claimed to be directly responsible for the killing today of Henry Freck, by Robert Frownie, his rival candidate for representative and republican central committee man. The two men met on the street and Frowine was seen to draw his gun and commence shooting. He was arrested in his home.

A Faithful Friend

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. I have been a commercial traveler for eighteen years, and never start out on a trip without this, my faithful friend," says H. S. Nichols of Oakland, Indian Territory. When a man has used a remedy for thirty-five years he knows its value and is competent to speak of it. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

Blue Ribbon

If You've Been Using "Cheap" Tea

The rich, full flavor of Blue Ribbon Tea will be a delightful surprise to you.

No 25c or 30c tea has a flavor to compare with it. The choice leaf used in blending Blue Ribbon Tea costs too much to sell at any such price.

And as so much less is required to the cup, BLUE RIBBON TEA is REALLY THE MOST ECONOMICAL, as well as the best.

A pound of Blue Ribbon will make over 200 cups, rich and strong, so it costs less than 1-4c per cup.

Just try a pound of Blue Ribbon and judge it for yourself.

About Ourselves

Few of our readers ever give a thought to the splendid news service we are giving them from day to day. Prominent newspaper men in other cities have repeatedly remarked upon the excellence of the news service supplied by THE DAILY NEWS, and it is a fact that no other newspaper published in British Columbia has given its readers as good or as lengthy reports of the recent session of parliament at Ottawa, the Olympic games in England, of the Westminster-Shamrock lacrosse games, and in the same excellent manner in which we have covered these events, will we continue doing in all matters of interest to the public.

The Daily News

is enabled to supply this service, because we are members of and receive the reports of three newsgathering services—the

Associated Press
Western Associated Press
Canadian Associated Press

the three great news-supplying associations of Canada.

To Advertisers

We have today the largest circulation of any daily newspaper distributed in the interior of British Columbia, including especially, the Kootenay and Boundary districts, and for this reason THE DAILY NEWS is the best advertising medium in the vast and rapidly growing territory referred to, much of which is directly tributary to Nelson. This is proven by the increasing volume of advertising carried during the past year, and in advertising consistent success is the surest test, and proof of merit; therefore the increase shows that advertisers are getting direct results from their advertising campaign.

To Subscribers

As noted above THE DAILY NEWS receives and publishes the reports of Canada's three great news-gathering associations, and in addition supplies all local news events of the city, maintaining also paid correspondents in all the surrounding towns in the Kootenay and and Boundary. As special features THE DAILY NEWS publishes each week.

A Colored Comic Supplement

and starting on Tuesday, August 4th, will publish each day an installment of a new serial, a story that will appeal to all, as it is by that well known and popular writer, Rider Haggard, and is entitled

"The Yellow God"

OTTAWA AND THE QUEBEC BRIDGE SCANDAL.

HOW THE POLITICIANS WERE AMPLY PROTECTED.

By the Ottawa government the fallen Quebec bridge has been taken over, says the Toronto Mail and Empire, and the country, after paying the loss, which aggregates $4,000,000, is to meet the expense of the new structure—$10,000,000 more. This enormous liability is cast upon us because the original scheme for the building of the bridge was an attempt by Fielding and company to use the great enterprise as a means of enriching certain politicians. Under Fielding's plan the undertaking was to be carried on by means of a partnership, ex-premier Parent, of Quebec, and a group of politicians being one of the partners, and the Dominion government, representing the people of Canada, being the other. The politicians were to put up $265,000; the country was to provide $6,578,000.

In the division of the profits the country was to get 3 per cent. upon its share—$6,678,000—while the politicians were to get all that was left. It was calculated that the income from the bridge would be no less than $470,752 and that the annual expenditure would be $318,000, which would leave the politicians the neat sum of $152,000 on an investment of $265,000 was pretty good—for the politicians. But the story does not end here. The speculation was expected to be highly profitable. Still something might go wrong. The bridge might fall down, or the business might not be what was looked for. In such an event the politicians would stand to lose their $265,000. This contingency was not lost sight of by finance minister Fielding. That gentleman, therefore, provided in the law that if the affair should not turn out as expected the government would take it over. That is to say, if the thing should bring in the profit of $152,000 a year the politicians would retain control of the bridge and divide the $152,000 between them. But if the speculation should involve loss, then the structure would be taken over by the government, and the taxpayers would bear the loss. Could there be a better arrangement for Parent and his colleagues? These gentlemen were to contribute relatively nothing to the enterprise, and were to get the profits, if any, while the taxpayers were to find the great volume of capital, and were to shoulder the loss should any occur. In the event of failure, and the consequent transference of the bridge to the government what about the $265,000 which the politicians were expected to invest in the undertaking? Were they to lose this, as ordinary men lose when they place their money in an unfortunate venture? Not at all. This point was covered by finance minister Fielding in a most effective manner. It was agreed by him that if the government should take over the bridge, the shareholders should receive the face value of their stock with a premium of 10 per cent. and with interest at 5 per cent. per annum for the whole time during which their money had been invested. This was a splendid deal for the politicians. But it is not all. Mr. Fielding did not require these gentlemen to put up actual cash in payment for their shares. They could buy their shares by rendering service to the company. And it happens that this is what certain of them did. The directors were voted large sums, and this money paid for stock.

Now comes a decidedly interesting phase of the case. The bridge has fallen down, and the country is taking it over. One of the obligations we have to meet is thus presented to parliament:

Par value of the capital stock (round figures, $265,000), to which is to be added a bonus of 10 per cent. and 5 per cent. simple interest from the date the stock was paid up $353,000

So that, after politician Parent and his colleagues have failed in the attempt to erect this bridge, and have brought a loss of many millions to the country, we are to make them a present of $353,000 to repay them the $265,000 which they did not put in. The Ottawa government has in this matter safeguarded the politicians at every point, and has, with equal care, sacrificed the country. Men guilty of such an operation in the administration of a private trust would be brought before the courts. But we are not so sensitive in politics. We pay the losses that have been incurred, and send the guilty men to parliament.

WARNS AGAINST FROST.

Electric Apparatus That is Used in Washington Orchards.

Scientific fruit raising has been deliberately shoved into a new era by the recent installation of the automatic electric frost foreteller in the larger orchards of the irrigated belt in Washington. New sets of agricultural and horticultural rules have been arranged by each farmer, although the mercury may drop to the zero mark during a cold spell, without the slightest fear that when he resumes his daily duties the following morning he will find his crop blackened with frost.

The frost foreteller is an innocent looking piece of apparatus as it sits idly under the apple trees, but it has a little thermometer firmly planted amidships that never goes to sleep. When the temperature starts a swift slide towards the freezing mark, several degrees on the safe side thereof the trusty thermometer begins to ring a bell in the farmer's bedroom and keeps on ringing it until he appears in the orchard and turns it off.

Scattered around here and there are covered pots. These pots are filled with crude petroleum, and once alarmed by the glass, the fruit grower simply goes rapidly from pot to pot with a handful of matches and it's all up with Jack Frost. In a moment the trees are enveloped in a thick black smoke, and the fruit crop is saved, the tops go back on the pots and the fires go out.

A fruit inspector says that orchards supplied with smudge pots can be kept eight degrees warmer than those without them, and many have been saved with them where smudge-potless ranches adjoining suffered total loss. Smudge pots are used in many places. —Keremeos Trumpet.

Visits King Edwrad.

MARIENBAD, Aug. 25.—M. Isowisky, the Russian foreign minister came here on Saturday in a motor as the guest of Nelson O'Shaughnessy, third secretary of the United States embassy at Vienna. He paid his respects to King Edward with whom he had a short conversation. The king invited him, it is understood, to make him a more formal visit during his stay at Carlsbaod.

Strenuous oGat Ride.

GOLDEN CITY, Aug. 25.—Alleging that four of his ribs were broken and that he was otherwise injured when he resisted efforts to "brand" him, John Greisel, editor of the Golden City Register, has brought suit against eight members of the Modern Woodmen of the American camp here, asking $10,000 damages. The attack occurred, Mr. Greisel says in his petition, on April 10, while he was taking the second degree in the Woodmen's initiation ceremonies.

GAME AN ASSET.

As the years pass on the stream of tourists seems to be ever greater in its volume and longer in its flow. As expressed in the dispatch published by The Daily News from Banff yesterday morning, the Rockies of British Columbia are as fifty Switzerlands rolled into one. Moreover not only is there the scenery but there are also shooting and fishing, game on the mountain sides and fish in the lakes that cannot be obtained elsewhere on the continent. There is a food value in the game but there is a greater value in the attractions they give, drawing visitors to the country, and anything that can be done to see that the supply is not exhausted, wantonly wasted as were the bison of the northwest, should be encouraged. The government this season have extended the closed season for willow grouse one month and have utterly forbidden the shooting of prairie chicken until next year. This is a step in the right direction. The Nelson board of trade, as well as the associated boards of trade, have been persistent in their efforts to preserve the game and to enlarge the boundary of the national playground which is to be found between the Crow's Nest and the main line of the C. P. R., but the general public have not as yet been aroused to a sense of their duty in the matter. It has been a common thing this and other seasons for coveys of young grouse to be destroyed for the table. This is not only unsportsmanlike but is shortsighted. For a long time Nelson has been trying to have the Kootenay lakes, especially the West Arm and Kootenay river made attractive to tourists and in the pamphlets of the Publicity Bureau attention has been called to the game fish and the shooting which may be had. One tourist attracts another. One good day's sport leads to another, but if game is destroyed in the manner described the tourist who came to shoot as well as to see the scenery is more than likely to go away giving the place a bad name. The trouble is that no one thinks it to be his business to enroll himself as a committee of one to see that the laws are enforced, rather leaving the whole work to the game wardens instead of giving him information when breaches of the law come under his notice. There are few pople here who are unsportsmanlike enough to destroy game wantonly but it is feared that there are still fewer people who will take any kind of trouble to see that the game is preserved.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The steps taken by the city council for enhancing the beauty of the cemetary, God's Acre as it is simply called in the old country, though possibly they entail a little extra expense, will doubtless be commended by the community. The plat of land used by the city as a burial ground is very favorably situated and could be made a spot of beauty. It is a reflection upon the civilization of any community when their place of sepulture is found by visitors to be unkempt and uncared for.

Shortly will be placed before the people a by-law for the borrowing of $85,000 in order to erect a second unit to the power plant. At least two advantageous customers have been lost to the municipality by the incertitude of the supply of electricity. That uncertainty can only be removed in one way and that is in the practical duplication of the plant in order that should any accident happen to one unit the city is in a position to immediately fall back upon the other. Moreover as the fixed expenses are hardly larger for the generation of double the horse-power than for the generation of the horse-power now at the service of the municipality it follows that if customers can be obtained the cost per horse-power is very much reduced. If the city is selling 500 horse-power and spends upon it the same amount of money it would cost to produce three times the quantity it is evident that the customers cannot obtain the same rates as they would if there were a larger market. But that larger market cannot be obtained unless customers have some guarantee that the supply will not fail the them at some critical moment. Hence there should be no hesitation in voting for the passage of this by-law.

In regard to civil service reform, says the Toronto News, the government at the last session adopted a measure applying the merit system to the inside serivce. The outside service remains at the mercy of the patronage committees and subject to party expediency. Mr. Borden undertakes to remove all civil servants to a position of independence of the machine. The reform is much needed, as the present system is a nuisance to every member of parliamnt and every minister of the crown, and generally bedevils the public business. Word now comes from Ottawa that many undesirable promotions are being made before the competitive system is introduced in the departments.

There are many Americans who justify the operation of lynch law against negro criminals in the south, says the Hamilton Herald. The Thaw trial revealed the disturbing fact that there are many Americans who favor the operation of the "unwritten law" in such a case as the one which brought about the murder of Stanford White by Thaw. Doubtless there are thousands who will assert vehemently that the deed done by captain Hains is also justifiable under the "unwritten law." That contempt for the orderly process of law together with a corresponding inclination to look leniently upon acts of personal revenge when they have an interesting story attached to them, is growing in the United States, is a very serious and ominous fact. The spirit of anarchy is closely associated with this condition of mind. It bodes ill for the republic unless the growth of this evil is promptly and sternly checked.

If plans do not miscarry, says the Prince Rupert Empire, the Grand Trunk Pacific will be running trains between Winnipeg and Edmonton, a distance of near to 900 miles, by Christmas day, 1908. A resident of Manitoba, who was in Prince Rupert this week, after visiting Hazleton, expressed the opinion that the G.T. P. would not be built across British Columbia for a good many years. He was told to be at the Empire office in three years from August 12th and he would be taken from Prince Rupert to Hazleton by rail. The Grand Trunk Pacific will be in operation between Edmonton and Prince Rupert in three years from the date on which the first train arrives at Edmonton from Winnipeg.

NOTES OF YMIR.

Arthur Rand Visiting Some of His Holdings in the Camp.

(Special to The Daily News.)

YMIR, Aug. 25.—Jack Daly who was blown up at the St. Eugene mine at Moyie, is back from Spokane where he has been under treatment for some months. Mr. Daly's eyesight is gone completely. He is residing with his brother-in-law, A. C. O'Neill.

Ymir school opened yesterday. So far the flag and free text books which are supplied by the government have not come to hand and as a result the teacher is laboring under difficulties for the present.

A. E. Rand of New Westminster, who is a heavy holder in the Dundee group of claims was here yesterday inspecting his holdings in the camp.

Nicholas Oats, foreman of the Ymir mine is going to California to recuperate.

F. L. Churchill of the Churchill Cedar Co. is at Spokane on a business trip and will return in about a week.

The Misses Schrum, who have been visiting Miss Reith at Waneta returned home last evening.

CRIMES AT THE COAST.

Doctor's Diplomas Stolen—Livery Man Assaulted and Robbed.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25.—Thieves stole four diplomas from the office of Dr. MacKenzie last night. It was evident that they were after nothing else for the papers were carefully stripped from the cardboard in the frames and probably will be used for fraudulent purposes with the name erased.

James Haines, driver for the Fashion livery stables in New Westminster, was the victim of a cruel and successful highway robbery on Saturday evening while driving along the Johnston road in Surrey. Raines had been driving a person out to his home and was returning to town when a man came out of the woods, grabbed the horse's bridle, stopping it and immediately hit Haines over the head with a board. That was all Haines remembered till some time later. When he came to his senses he was still in the buggy and the horse was tied to a tree at the side of the road. His pockets had been searched and $3 in silver taken.

RICH SILVER ORE STRUCK

SAID TO RUN OVER 8,000 OUNCES TO TON.

GENERAL REVIVAL IN MINING AT SANDON.

(Special to The Daily News.)

SANDON, Aug. 25.—During the past few weeks things have been progressing very favorably in Sandon, the mining industry especially showing that improvement. The output of ore is steadily on the increase, in fact owners and leasers of surrounding mines are beginning to realize that the camp at last has passed the stagnation period and is now decidedly on the up grade.

In the Reco mine, for instance, the leaser, Mr. Zattoni, has struck a very rich shoot of ore, 36 inches in the face, the extent of which has not yet been fully determined. The mine has been steadily shipping for the last few months and now employs nearly forty men.

The Richmond-Eureka mine continues to ship steadily the average output being 4 and 5 carloads per week.

The richest silver lead ore ever struck in the Slocan has been found on the Comstock-Virginia which is under lease and bond to Messrs. Bignay & Tattoni, an average sample being well over 8,000 ounces to the ton. The ore shoot has already been opened up over a hundred feet and large shipments are expected this winter. A large strike of clean ore has also been made in the Whitewater Deep.

What might have turned out to be a fatal accident occurred last week on the Richmond-Eureka mine's tram. The foreman, John Bakke, and a miner Edward McPhillips were going over the tram oiling the cable. The bucket jumped the cable while going over the third tower, precipitating both men to the ground—a fall of over thirty feet. Bakke escaped with a fractured shoulder blade and a few bruises and McPhillips was very badly bruised but otherwise unhurt. They were attended to by Dr. W. E. Gomm, who is now in charge of the Miners' hospital. Both patients are progressing favorably.

Sandon public school opened today after the summer vacation. The school board has been fortunate in obtaining the services of Miss H. B. S. Marsters, who holds an academic certificate.

The Reco hotel re-opened on Saturday under the management of Mrs. McKinnon late of Ainsworth.

His Accursed Luck.

The intoxicated individual who after bumping into the same tree thirteen times, bemoaned the fact that he was lost in an impenetrable forest is no greater disgrace to modern civilization than the hero of this story:

A citizen of Seattle who had looked upon the wine when he was no longer sure what color it was in the course of his journey home encountered a tree protected by an iron treeguard. Grasping the bars, he cautiously felt his way around it twice. "Curse it!" he moaned, sinking to the ground in despair, "Locked in!"

EDITOR THE DAILY NEWS:

HARRY GETS MAD.

In your issue of the 19th inst, there appeared an article headed "a knocker in Nelson" written by one Harry Williams of Nelson, B. C.

Permit me Mr. Editor to point out to your community that there is only one Harry Williams known to those who have been in this country 25 years of which 9 years have been spent within the locality of Nelson, and further beg to flatly repudiate the authorship of the article referred to as I have been subjected to a lot of unpleasant critisism, I think it would be better to notify the general public that I had nothing whatever to do with the letter having had no cause whatever to complain of Nelson; having made a satisfactory living since I have resided here. I am leaving here tomorrow for other fields and hope to return by the early spring when I hope you will be able to ascertain the individual who so politely impersonated my well known name. Trusting you will find space for this letter.

Yours truly,
H. WILIAMS.

Procter, August 25.

MRS. LUARD MURDERED.

Wife of British General, Formerly in Command in Canada.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The wife of major General Chas. Edward Luard, formerly generay officer commanding Canadian military was mysteriously murdered this afternoon in a desolate wood near Seven Oaks, which is a short distance outside of London. No trace of the murdered has been found, but the motive apparently was robbery, valuable rings having been taken from the woman's fingers.

Major general Luard is a retired officer of the royal engineers. He entered the army in 1857 and was executive officer in London during the Fenian disturbance of 1867. Devised the scheme for the rearmament of Gibraltar. He founded the society of miniature rifle clubs in 1901 and the patriotic society in 1897. In 1875 he married the youngest daughter of Thomas Hartley Gilfeet Cumberland.

The circumstances surrounding the tragedy are inexplicable. The general and his wife were about to go on a holiday and the general suggested that they walk from their residence at Ightham Knoll, a short distance to the golf links to fetch some things which they needed from the club house. They started at 3 p. m. making a short cut through a wood. Half way along Mrs .Luard being tired declared her intention to return home. The general proceeded alone to the club house and returned to his house by another route. Finding his wife had not returned home he set out in search of her and was horrified to find her lying face downward in a pool of blood where he had shortly before left her. Mrs. Luard had been shot with a revolver, one bullet entered her temple and the other striking her behind the ear. The second shot seemingly was fired after the woman fell on her face. Her hat had been pulled back and three rings were wrenched from her fingers. The summer house is a mile distant from any dwelling. A farm hand heard shots in that direction about 3:30 p. m. or half an hour after the general had left his wife. Mrs. Luard was was about 58 years of age.

IN FRIENDLY RIVALRY

VISITING SAILORS COMPETE WITH AUSTRALIANS.

ATHLETIC CONTESTS ENJOYED AND HONORS EVEN.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Aug. 25—The athletic program in connection with the visit of the United Statess battleship fleet was increased today by the addition of contests between the American and British sailors and Australians.

In the tug of war the team from the British warship defeated the American sailors. In the three hundred yard foot race, Brown of the British cruiser Pioneer was first, Therry of the U. S. battleship New Jersey second, and Swanson of the same vessel third. The Americans were victorious in one of the baseball games, the fleet defeating New South Wales 4 to 3. In the other game the university of Sydney team defeated a team from the battleship Missouri, 8 runs to 0. There was a fight for the light weight boxing championship of the fleet at Athletic hall in which Lynch, of the battleship Ohio, drew with Kelly of the Missouri in the eighth round.

This evening the city was illuminated as usual. The lard mayor of Sydney gave a reception to about 2,000 persons including Australians and officers of the fleet.

KILLED FOR LOVE.

Youth, in Love With Step-mother, Removes his Father.

JACKSONVILLE, Aug. 25.—A farmer named Turner, residing about ten miles from the city, was shot and killed last night by his son. Bad blood had existed for some time between them because the younger Turner was in love with his step-mother, a young girl whom his father had married a short time ago. Young Turner was arrested and locked in jail in this city.

Drowned in Sight of Wife.

SCITUATE, Aug. 25.—In sight of his bride of four weekss who was powerless to aid him, John Colon was drowned in a mill pond here yesterday. Mrs. Colon was within twenty feet of her husband when he sank and the only boat in the pond was floating bottom upwards thirty feet off shore.

The Yellow God

"Hang the Asiki," said Alan feebly, "I think all these poor beggars are dead," and he pointed to the rowers.

"Look like it Major, but what that matter now since you and I alive? Plenty more where they come from. Not dead though, thing only sleep, no like cold, like dormouse. But never mind cannibol pig. They serve out turn, if they live, live; if they die, die, and God ha' mercy on souls, if cannibal have soul. Ah! here we are," and from beneath six inches of water dragged up the tin box containing Little Bonsa, from which he extracted the fetish wet but uninjured.

"Put her on now Major. Put her on at once and come sit in prow of canoe. Must reach Asiki-land in proper style. Priests think it your reverend uncle come back again, just as he leave. Make very good impression."

"I can't," said Alan feebly."I am played out Jeeki."

"Oh! buck up, Major, buck up!" he replied imploringly. "One kick more and you win race, mnstn't spoil ship for ha'porth of tar. You just wear fetish, whistle once on land, ani then go to sleep for whole week if yol like. I do rest, say it all magic, and so forth—that you been dead and just come out of grave, or anything you like. No matter if you turn up as announced on bill, and God bless hurricane that blew us here when we expect die. Come, Major, quick, quick! mist melt, and soon they see you." Then without waiting for an answer Jeeki clapped tre wet mask on his master's head, tied the throngs, and led, or rather carried, Alan on tthe prow of the canoe, where he sat him down on a little cross bench, stood behind supporting him, and again began to sing in a great triumphant voice.

The mist cleared away, rolling up like a curtain and revealing on the shore a number of men and women clad in white robes, who were marshalled there in ranks chanting and staring out at the dim waters of the lagoon. There upon the water driven forward by the gentle breeze, floated a canoe, and lo! in the prow of that canoe sat a white man, and on his head the god which they had lost a whole generation gone. On the head of the wite man it ad departed; on the head of a white man it returned. They saw and fell upon their knees.

"Blow, Major, blow!" whispered Jeeki, and Alan blew a feeble note through the whistle in the mouth of the mask. It was enough, they knew it. They sprang into the water and dragged the canoe to land. They sat Alan on the shore and worshipped him. They haled up a lad as though for sacrifice, for a priest flourished a great knife above his head, but Jeeki said something that caused them to let him go. Alan thougt it was to the effect that Little Bonsa had changed her habits across the Black Water, and wanted no blood, only food. Ten Alan remembered no more; again the darkness fell upon him.

CHAPTER XI.

Bonsa-Town.

When consciousness returned to Alan, the first thing of which he became dimly aware was the slow, swaying motion of a litter. He raised himself, for he was lying at full length, and in so doing felt that there was something over his face.

"That confounded Little Bonsa," he thought. "Am I expected to spend the rest of my life with it on my head, like the man in the iron mask?"

Then he put up his hand and felt the thing, to find that it was not Little Bonsa, but something made apparently of thin fine linen, fitted to the shape of his face, for there was a nose on it, and eyeholes through which he could see, yes, and the mouth whereof the lips, by some ingenious contrivance, could be moved up and down.

"Little Bonsa's undress uniform, I expect," he muttered, and tried to drag it off. This, however, proved to be impossible, for it was fitted tightly to his head, and laced or fastened aat the back of his neck so securely that he could not undo it. Being still weak, soon he gave up the attempt and began to look about him.

He was in a litter, a very fine litter hung round with beautifully woven and colored grass mats, inside of which were a kind of couch and cushions of soft wool or hair, so arranged that he could either set up or lie down. he peeped between two of these mats and saw that they were travelling in a mountainous country, over a well-beaten road or trail, and that his litter was borne upon the shoulders of a double line of white-robed men, while all around him marched numbers of other men. These seemed to be soldiers, for they were arranged in companies, and carried large spears and shields. Also some of them wore torques and bracelets of yellow metal that might be either brass or gold. Turning hmself about, he found an eyehole in the back of the litter, so contrived that its occupant could see without being seen, and perceived that his escort amounted to a veritable army of splendid looking, but sombre faced savages of a somewhat Semi*tic cast of countenance. Indeed,* many of them had aquiline features and hair that, although crisped, was long and carefully arranged in something like the Egyptian fashion. Also, he saw that about thirty yards behind, and separated from him by a bodyguard, was borne a second litter. by means of a similar aperture in front, he discovered yet more soldiers, and behind them, at the head of the procession, what appeared to be a body of white-robed men and women bearing strange emblems and banners. These he took to be priests and priestesses.

Having examined everything that was within reach of his eye, Alan sank back upon his cushions and began to realize that he was very faint and hungry. It was just then that the sound of a familiar voice reached his ears. It was the voice of Jeeki, and he did noto speak, he chanted in English to a melody which Alan at once recognized as a Gregorian tone, apparently from the second litter.

"Oh, Major," he sang, "have you yet awoke from refreshing sleep? If so, please answer me in the same tone of voice, for remember that you de-evil of a swell, Lord of the Little Bonsa, and must noto speak like co-o-ommon cad."

Feeble as he was, Alan nearly burst out laughing; then, remembering that probably he was expected not to laugh, chanted his answer as directed, which, having a good tenor voice, he did with some effect, to the evident awe and delight of all the escort within hearing.

"I am awake, most excellent Jee-e-ki, and feel the need of food, if you have such a thing abou-ou-out you, and iit is lawful for the Lord of Little Bonsa to take nutri-ment."

Instantly Jeeki's deep voice rose in reply.

"That good tidings upon the mountain tops, Ma-aJor. Can't come out to bring you chop because too l-l-infra dig, for now I also biggish bug, the little bird what sit upon the rose, as poet says. I tell these Johnnies bring you grub which you eat without qualm, for Asiki Al coo-o-ook."

Then followed loud orders issued by Jeeki to his immediate entourage, and some confusion.

As a result, presently Alan's litter was halted, the curtains were opened, and kneeling women thrust through them platters of wood, upon which, wrapped in leaves, were the dismembered limbs of a bird which he took to be chicken or guineafowl, and a gold cup containing *water pleasantly flavored with some es*sence. This cup interested him very much, both on account of its shape and work*manship, which, if rude, were striking* in design, resembling those drinking vessels that have been found in Mycenian graves. Also, it proved to him that Jeeki's stories of the abundance of the precious metal among the Asiki had not been exagerated. If it were not very plentiful, they would scarcely, he thought, make their travelling cups of gold. Evidently there was wealth in the land.

After the food had been handed to him, the litter went on again, and seated upon his cushions he ate and drank heartily enough, for now that the worst of his fatigue had passed away, his hunger was great. In some absurd fashion this meal reminded him of that which a traveller makes out of a luncheon basket upon a railway line in Europe or America. Only there the cups are not of gold, and among the Asiki there were no paper napkins, no salt or mustard, and no sixpence to pay. Further, until he got used to it, luncheon in a linen mask with a movable mouth was noto so easy. This difficulty he overcame at last by propping the imitation lips apart with a piece of bone, after which things were easier.

When he had finished he threw the plates and the remains out of the litter, retaining the cup for further examination, and recommenced his intoned and poetical converse with Jeeki.

To set it out at length would be wearisome, but in the course of an hour or so he collected a good deal of information. Thus he learned that they were due to arrive at the Asiki city, which was called Bonsa Town, by nightfall or a little after. Also he was informed that the mask he wore was, as he had guessed, a kind of an undress uniform without which he must never appear, since for anyone except the Asiki heself and to look upon the naked countenance of an individual so mysteriously mixed up with Little Bonsa, was sacrilege of the worst sort. Indeed, Jeeki assured him that the priests who had put on the headdress when he was insensible, were first blindfolded.

This news depressed Alan very much, since the prospect of living in a linen mask for an indefinite period was not a cheerful. Recovering, he chanted a query as to the fate of the Ogula crew and their chief Fahm.

"Not dead," intoned Jeeki in reply, "and not gone back. All alive-O, somewhere behind there. Fanny very sick about it for he think Asiki bring them along for sacrifice, poo-or beg-gars."

Finally he enquired where Little Bonsa was, and was answered that he himself as its lawful guardian, was sitting on the fetish in its tin box, tidings that he was able to verify by groping beneath the cushions.

MONTREAL, Aug. 25.—Mrs. Jane Wilson, 42 years old, who arrived in Montreal recently from the old country and lived with her husband in East St. Catherines street, died in a hospital last night from the effects of an overdose of some drug.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 25.—At a convention of maritime provinces Baptist unions yesterday resolutions were adopted in favor of a constitution for the dominion Baptst union.

TORONTO, Aug. 25.—The Globe's Ottaw correspondent says general elections are likely in October or November.

GUELPH, Aug. 25.—Mayor John Newstead, of this city, conservative, will oppose Hugh Guthrie, M. P., for the commons.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 25.—Alexander Milton, chief accountant in the paymaster's office of the C. P. R., with headquarters here, and two section men were run over and killed last night by transcontinental train No. 97, at Eagle river. Milton is assigned the task of going over the line to Fort William every month distributing the pay cheques to the employees along the route. He was on one of these regular trips when he met his death. Several of the men were at work at the track and on a siding. He had handed a number of cheques out and was in the act of handing out more when No. 97 came along at fair speed, and Milton and the two men whom he was about to pay stepped from the main line track to a side track, the train coming down the latter right-of-way, and crushing them under the wheels, killing them instantly.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 25.—Roy Chisholm, 14 years of age, of Sheep Harbor, is under arrest charged with killing Percy Taylor, a 13 year old companion as the result of a quarrel.

HALIFAX ,Aug. 25.—Lottie W., the 3 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hall, was fatally burned last night. The child is thought to have been playing with matches in bed in the absence of her parents.

OTTAWA, Aug. 25.—So far this season Canadian cheese has been neglected in the north of England by reports of P. B. McNamara, commissioner at Manchester, to the department of trade and commerce. This, he says, is due to the fact that domestic cheese is cheaper than the Canadian. He adds, the retail and wholesale trade has an impression that cheese prices are being held up by forces that they cannot control and they are going to leave it severely alone at any rate deal with only compulsory quantities.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 25.—Another drowning accident is reported from Fort Alexander, on Lake Winnipeg, in which provincial constable Jos. Huston, Jr., and Bruce Burll, on J. D. McArthur's drive, lost their lives. Huston and Burll were out sailing when the boat upset in a whirlpool. Two other men were in a boat at the time but were unable to render any assistance.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 25.—Daniel McLean, ex-sheriff of Portage la Prairie, and one time provincial secretary in the Greenway government, died today, aged 55.

MONTREA ,LAug. 25.—J. O. Mills, of Prescott, Ona., an employee of the Dominion Express company, who was employed on the C. P. R. line running to St. Agathe, lost his life in a peculiar manner. He went berry picking and evidently fell into a small stream of water, the depth of which was not over a couple of feet. It is supposed that he was siezed with violent cramps and was drowned.

REGINA, Aug. 25.—Edward Evans, who was injured by falling from a C. P. R. train Saturday night, died yesterday at Victoria hospital. His skull was fractured.

TORNOTO, Aug. 25.—John Fensom, founder of the Fensom Elecator Works, and fifty years a resident of Toronto, died yesterday afternoon.

TORONTO, Aug. 25.—Five Chinamen were arrested this afternoon charged with being unlawfully engaged in holding up their fellow countrymen here for the purpose of contributing to an alleged fund for defence against the police. They are alleged to have collected five to ten dollars weekly from laundrymen and Chinese gambling joints, guaranteeing them full liberty to gamble to their hearts' content without hindrance.

HAVELOCK, Ona., Aug. 25.—Dr. Deningike, dentist, was found dead at the bottom of the stairs in his home yesterday morning. He had been stricken with heart disease while returning to the room after taking a bath.

QUEBEC, Aug. 25.—St.Cyrille de Wendover, Drummond county, has narrowly escaped total destruction by fire. The total loss amounts to $65,000 and includes sawmills, tannery, station sheds and part of the station.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 25.—A girl named Day, 18 years old,suicided yesterday by taking carbolic acid. No reason for the act is known.

CHARLOTTETOWN, Aug. 25.—Mrs. Daniel Martin, wife of the postmaster of Montague, burned to death Saturday. While preparing dinner her clothing caught fire from a kitchen stove.

NORTH BAY, Aug. 25.—Wm. Martin, Jr., late tax collector for North Bay for whose arrest a warrant was issued some days ago, charged with the theft of town funds amounting to $28,000, has given himself up to the police and been committed for trial, bail being fixed at $10,000.

MONTREAL, Aug. 25.—C. P. R. earnings for the week of August decreased $190,000.

KINGSTON, Aug. 25.—Captain Thomas Donnelly died here yesterday morning after a lingering illness.

TORONTO, Aug. 25.—The remains of James Gorman, C. P. R. brakeman were found scattered along the track east of Parkdale yesterday afternoon. He is cupposed to have been walking on the track early in the morning and was struck and badly mangled by a train, and that other trains had run over and scattered the remains. He was unmarried.

TORONTO, Aug. 25.—The West Toronto council last night approved the idea of annexation to Toronto city and appointed a committee to confer with the board of control.

GLENCOE, Aug. 25.—Robert McLaughlin, of Mosa, was chosen conservative candidate for the commons at the party convention yesterday.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 25.—Major Fraser has declined to run against Hon. Wm. Patterson in Brant and mayor Patterson of Paris is likely to be the conservative candidate.

LANGHAM, Sask. Agu, 25.—While driving to the home of her sister, Mrs. William Campbell, on Saturday, Mrs. W. Montray was seriously injured by the horse running away and throwing her from the rig. Her recovery is doubtful.

WINNIPEG. Aug. 25.—Herbert E. Wilson, secretary of the boys' department of the Young Men's Christian Association here, has accepted the general secretaryship of the Y. M. C. A. at Marshaltown, Iowa.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 25.—Investigation shows that the published stories of the action of harvesters coming through the east have been greatly exaggerated. In many cases the statements made have been proven to be entirely false, as for example the story circulated as to the disrobing by harvesters of a lady passenger.

WINDSOR, Aug. 25.—Joseph Oulette, 20 years old, son of Frank Oulette, station agent of the Grand Trunk railway at Stony Point, is held on the charge of stealing $600, the property of the railway. The young man is alleged to have returned $542 of the money taken. The father had received money Wednesdty to pay the employees of th road. On Thursday morning the entire amount was missing.

HAGERSVILLE, Ont., Aug. 25.—The twin sons of Sylvanus Dixon, of Milton, were kidnapped from the home of their grandfather, Dr. Jones, on New Credit road, this morning by two women in a buggy, one of whom was thought to be the children's mother who resides at Toledo, Ohio, and who has been separated from her husband for some years.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 25.—The body of Miss Edith Turnouck, the remaining victim of the triple drowning accident at Winnipeg beach, was recovered today. The funerals of Herbert Lambourne and Davd McGifford the other victims were held today and were largely attended.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 25.—The city police have arrested four men suspected of being concerned in safe blowing exploits lately. Two of them are known to have bad records but the other two are comparatively young men. There has been a regular epidemic of crime lately, the safe blowers working all towns in Manitoba. They were turned over to the provincial authorities.

MONTREAL, Aug. 25.—Vice-president Smithers, of the G. T. R., is now on his way to Montreal from London, England, for the annual inspection of the company's lines, in place of Sir. Charles Rivers Wilson, president. It is Smithers' intention to also inspect the Grand Trunk Pacific. He will be accompanied on that misson by Mr. Charles M. Hays, president.

OTTAWA, Aug. 25.—The militia department is advised that of eight cases of typhoid fever which have been discovered in the Royal Garrison artillery camp, at Petawawa, not a single case was contracted there. Seven of the patients came form Quebec and one from Toronto, and the opinion of medical officers is that in each case the disease was contracted before the men reached camp.

NELSON NEWS OF THE DAY

A visit is being made to the Sheep creek mines by a party of American mining specialists.

The thermometer yesterday ranged be-62 and 46 degrees, with a record precipitation of .31 inch; the coldest day this summer.

Ranchers are more than pleased with the present downpour of rain which has broken up a period of draught, lasting for nearly a calendar month.

Good progress was made yesterday in the filling in preparatory to subgrading of the remaining block on Baker street to have its wooden sidewalks replaced by cement.

The members of the amalgamated union of Carpenters are invited to meet with the United Brotherhood, this Wednesday) evening at 7:45 in the Miners' Union Hall.

Tomorrow is the last summer half-holiday, the chief feature of the day being the regatta on the water front at which the boat club invite the general public to be present.

A casual walk around the city will show that there has been far more activity than is generally understood, or than has been the case for many years past, in the building of new homes.

W. F. Teetzel, in charge of the government lands at Creston, says the survey will be completed within the next week or ten days, and that the sale has been definitely set for October 14th.

On Sunday Allan Lean picked up on the beach near his camp on the West Arm a piece of polished flint which he believes is a fragment of a primitive Indian razor. He intends to present it to the Publicity Bureau collections of curios.

If you want any building or repair work, Phone A172 and estimates or contracts or jobbing will be cheerfully furnished by McDonald and Williams. Shop, Front and Ward Sts. opposite court house. P. O. Box 367. 271-tf.

For the Canadian National Exhibition, to be held at Toronto, August 29th to September 14th, the Canadian Pacific railway will have in effect special round trip rates. For full information as to rates, dates of sale, limits, etc., apply to the nearest C. P. R. ticket agent. 99-15f

CANADA'S FINANCES GOOD

T. HAMAR GREENWOOD ON PRESENT CONDITIONS.

THINKS THERE WILL BE TROUBLE WITH JAPANESE.

T. Hamar Greenwood, the most prominent Canadian in the imperial parliament, was in the city for a few hours says the Montreal Herald, on his way through to the west of Canada.

Since his last visit a year ago Mr. Greenwood has been appointed a member of the executive committe of the liberal party for Great Britain and Ireland, being the youngest man to occupy a seat on that body with the single exception of his chief, Winston Churchill. Apart from politics he has been devoting most of his time to practice in Canadian cases before the judicial committee of the privy council, having been connected with some of the most important cases heard by that court during the past year.

In an interview Mr. Greenwood stated that the reduction in postage on magazines from England to Canada had been a very popular move and was proving most successful. The honors for this achievement were easy between the Canadian postmaster general, Mr. Lemieux and Mr. Buxton, the head of that department in Great Britain.

The agitation for the removal of the embargo on Canadian cattle was still going on, said Mr. Greenwood, and he earnestly hoped that Canadians would not cease to press their case. "No one is more keen about this matter than I am myself. The reason why the government has not removed the embargo is simply political necessity. The conservative opposition, in spite of their alleged love for colonial preference, object to the removal, and are supported by the whole Irish party, whose country now enjoys a monopoly of the English market for live cattle. The prime minister and nearly all the members of the government favor the removal, but it is an open question, considering the numbers opposed to it, whether the government would be supported in repeal. I hope the Canadians will not forget that if tariff reformers in England meant what they say, the embargo would be removed at short notice."

Mr. Greenwood spoke very highly of the work of commissioner King in regard to Oriental immigration. That subject, he said, was engaging the earnest attention of both the colonial and foreign offices. "The home government will in this matter support the views of the self-governing colonies. In so far as emigration from Hindoostan is concerned, it will be restricted by the government of Hindoostan, which have by law the right to forbid the emigration of the Hindu, and does and will exercise that right.

The real problem is the problem of Japan and her aggressive surplus population. At the moment Japan is prepared to herself restrict the outflow of her people, but it does not require a prophet to foresee that the conflict between these swarthy John Bulls of the Pacific and the white races of America will soon become acute, and may mean war. Just now Japan is having a tremendous struggle to make both ends meet in national finance, and has cut down her naval and military programmes by large amounts. I have no doubt myself, however, that when she gets over the economic losses of the late war with Russia, there will be trouble. If she can stir up and form an alliance with half-awakened China, the Yellow Peril will be a reality.

"In this connection I must compliment Mr. Mackenzie King, C. M. G., on his admirable report, with which he will find the imperial government in general agrement. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's policy of sending an able man to discuss this delicate question with the home authorities was an act of practical imperialism that deserve everyone's commendation."

Speaking of financial matters Mr. Greenwood said that Canada and England seemed to have weathered the storm better than any other two parts of the globe. It was true that the last G. T. P. issue had disappointed a good many, and it was also regrettably true that a committee of inquiry consisting of Grand Trunk shareholders was now sitting.

"Speaking as a Canadian I am bound to say there is an impression, how far based on fact I am not in a position to say, that the G. T. P. is too much an American and too little a Canadian institution. If this is not true it cannot be too widely known in England, as John Bull has become very wary of American roads and industries but has great confidence in Canadian securities, as he has unlimited confidence in the splendid banking system of the Dominion.

"I believe the best interests of Canada are served by emphasizing the Canadian element in all your undertakings. No colony, indeed no country, ranks higher in England at this moment than the Dominion. It should be the first duty of every Canadian to see to it that no flimsy schemes or flimsy schemers hurt the good name of Canada in England, which remains the almost inexhaustible fountain of gold for the rest of the world."

FIT-REFORM

With a feeling of pride as well as of pleasure we now announce the arrival of our men's suits for fall and winter wear. We can confidently say the suits this fall far surpass anything we have shown in the past. We've young men's ideal suits, suits that are dashing and distinctive, the long soft rolling lapels—the graceful form fitting cut of the coat—the sleeves with or without cuff effect—the ease and grace of the trousers are a few of the principal features of the new fall suit, the fabrics are entirely new and rather striking in effect.

NELSON NEWS OF THE DAY

Born in this city on August 24 to the wife of William Towe, Cemetery road, a son.

Born in this city on Monday, August 24, to the wife of John F. Favell, Silica street, a son.

Born in this city on Monday, August 24 to the wife of G. Jorgensen, Stanley street, a son.

Born in the city on Tuesday, August 25, to the wife of W. Fotherby, Carbonate street, a son.

A meeting of the executive committee of the synod of the diocese of Kootenay will be held in the parish hall this morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The regular review of Aberdeen Hive No. 12. L. O. T. M., will be held this evening in the K. of P. Hall at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

Hon. W. Templeman and party arrived from Kaslo by yesterday morning's steamer and at once took train for Trail. Yesterday was spent in Trail and Rossland. The party will reach Grand Forks this afternoon.

The basket picnic announced to be held this afternoon at the old city park, under the auspices of the W. M. S. society of the Methodist church, has been postponed owing to the unfavorable weather. Other arrangements will be announced later.

F. E. Griffiths, of the Westmont mine on 10-Mile creek, has 40 men at work roadmaking and repairing to enable him to ship his ore. The road was originally built by the Enterprise mining company in 1896 and afterwards taken over by the provincial government. Since that time nothing has been done on it and the several wooden bridges have become unsafe. Mr. Griffiths' last shipment of ore broke through three of them.

F. A. Carlow, official organizer of the Ancient Order of Foresters is in the city, and will organize a subordinate court here. Mr. Carlow is a guest at the Tremont hotel and would like to have any foresters residing in the city who may have belonged to outside courts look him up and assist in the organization here. There are now 14 courts in British Columbia with a membership of 1732. The A. O. F. is a benefit order and does not carry insurance.

Three crooks Hatch, Adams and Johnson were sentenced here on October 4 last to twelve months imprisonment for flimflaming an old person from the east at the union depot. Hatch was discharged with Johnson from the provincial gaol here a short time ago and Adams was let out ten days later, losing time on account of bad behavior. Hatch left for Edmonton but turns up in Spokane and was arrested for trying to pass a worthless cheque and sentenced to 15 days on the chain gang. He escaped from it and was captured two some money from Nelson people and waited around outside because ordered out of town and joined Adams on his release. They went to Ymir and were moved on and now the police are looking after them in Spokane where they are suspected of flimflaming a Washington farmer. There was a great deal of sympathy extended to these men at their arrest here last year but apparently that sympathy might have been extended to more worthy objects.

Rev H. Steele, of Grand Forks, Rev. E. A. St. G. Smyth, of Trail, and C. A. Cock, of Cranbrook, arrived in the city last night to attend today's meeting of the executive committee of the synod.

M. Seaman, of Okanagan Landing, brother of captain Seaman of Nelson, and also in the C. P. R. inland navigation service, arrived in the city last night to take his examination for a captain's certificate, which will be conducted by Lieut. G. E. Hallett.

PERSONALS.

C. A. Cock came in last night from Cranbrook.

F. L. Hammond returned from Victoria last night.

Hugh Stevens, of Arrowhead, is a guest at the Strathcona.

W. E. Cooke, proprietor of the Kaslo saw mill, arrived in the city last night.

W. B. Hudson one of the lessees of the Second Relief mine, arrived from Erie last night.

A. D. Ganong, of the well-known confectionery firm of St. Stephen, N. B., is a guest at the Strathcona.

M. E. Ryan, district claims agent of the Great Northern railway, arrived from Spokane last night.

B. A. Shatford, rancher, of Similkameen, arrived from Penticton last night and is at the Hume.

Byron N. White president of the Slocan Star company, and Mrs. White, arrived from Spokane last night and are at the Hume.

GRAND FORKS FATALITY

TWO CHILDREN DROWNED IN N. FORK OF KETTLE RIVER.

CHOLERA INFANTUM ALSO REDUCING JUVENILE POPULATION.

(Special to The Daily News.)

GRAND FORKS, Aug. 25.—A sad drowning accident occured in this city late this afternoon, when the two younger children of Mr. Verzuh, an employee of the Granby Smelter, met their death in the North Fork of Kettle river. The two children had been fishing and in crossing a foot bridge near the Granby smelter the girl, the younger of the two apparently fell, and her brother in attempting to rescue her was also drowned. This accident has cast a gloom all over the city tonight, as several homes have recently losts little ones through cholera infantum, there being children's funerals both yesterday and today from this cause.

TRIBUTE TO STRENBERG.

Official German Gazette Eulogizes Dead Diplomat.

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—The Reichs Anzeiger, the official gazette, today concludes an announcement of the death of baron Speck Von Sternburg with the following words: "Baron Von Sternburg brought to every post that he filled a faithful and most conscientious sense of duty which endured to the end. In his last post, in spite of years of the most painful suffering, he understood with great diplomatic skill how to win not only the full confidence of the emperor, but also that of the people of the great nation among whom he so successfully represented the German Empire. Chancellor Von Buelow loses in the baron one of his most energetic fellow-workers an da diplomat who leaves in the foreign office an enduring and honorable memory."

WINSTON'S UNIVERSITY.

Hamar Greenwood, M. P., Talks on Asiatic Imimgration at Vancouver.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25.—Hamar Greenwood, formerly of Whitby, Ont., and now member of parliament for York in the imperial house of commons, and parliamentary secretary to Winston Churchill, was in the city today en route to Prince Rupert. He considers the situation on the Pacific coast in regard to the Asiatic immigration acute and critical, and he himself is strongly against unrestricted immigration of Orientals into Canada. Talkin gof Canada and Great Britain, he stated that the tendency today in England and Europe is to invest more and more in the dominion and less and less in the United States.

Clue to Murderer.

SEVEN OAKS, Eng., Aug. 25.—There has been no arrest in connection with the murder of the wife of major general recently been infested with tramps and the police have been furnished with descriptions of a man reported to have been seen leaving the woods Monday and are looking for him with bloodhounds.

Tony Pasteur Dying.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Tony Pasteur, theatrical manager, who has been seriously ill at his home for two weeks, was reported very weak today following a relapse last Saturday.

Off for Honolulu.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—The United States Pacific fleet under rear admiral Swineburn sailed yesterday for Honolulu, towing the seven torpedo destroyers.

HERE SOON.

A big program of novelties is promised by Richard & Pringle's Famous Minstrels this season when they play at the opera house tomorrow night.

There is a double edition of comedians led by the old time favorites, Clarence Powell and Pete Woods.

The first part is a dream of splendor, styled "The Meeting of the Alumni."

The Nightengale Quartette is also a big feature. This quartette is considered the best on the minstrel stage. Prominent in the olio are several very expensive acts, such as Craig, the human enigma. Moore, the mystifying. The silver shod dancing sextette, in the very poetry of motion. J. W. Cooper and his wooden headed family. Clarence Powell, the man who talks about his folks, and the big musical burlesta, "When the Troop Struck Town," introducing the entire strength of the company.

Any Reasonable Offer
We have had a fine 6 room house, with 3 lots, placed in our hands for quick sale. The owner is leaving town, wanted $1900 but will not refuse any reasonable offer. This is a splendid, well-built house with electric light and city water, large verandah and good basement. There is also a stable, henhouse and woodshed. Just the place for a man to keep a cow and some chickens. Well located in Fairview, about 12 minutes walk from post office.

Attention!
Have you taken advantage of our Cleaning Up Sale? If not we beg to call your attention to the fact that we still have a lot of snaps in Men's, Women's and Children's shoes. We must clean these lines out and to do so have knocked the profit clean off.
