HUNDRED DIED

British Steamer is Burned Off Malta

PANIC OCCURS ON BOARD

ARAB PASSENGERS BECOME TERROR-STRUCK AND CAUSE CONFUSION—CAPTAIN AND CREW STICK TO POSTS AND DO BEST TO PRESERVE ORDER.

VALETTA, Island of Malta, Nov. 25—Over 100 persons, passengers and crew of the Ellerman line steamer Sardinia, perished today when the steamer was destroyed by fire just after she had sailed for Alexandria, Egypt. The Sardinia was hardly a mile off Grand Harbor when the first sign of fire appeared, but with a strong wind to fan the flames the whole ship was soon ablaze and the passengers and crew had scarcely a chance for their lives.

There was a wild panic on board as the rapidly spreading flames drove the passengers to the rails and not many waited for the boats to be lowered, but plunged into the sea. Scores are believed to have been drowned. Many were literally roasted to death. There were many craft in the harbor at the time of the edisaster and a number of tugs and other small boats rushed to the assistance of the imperilled liner. The high sea and gale prevailing at the time, however, made it impossible for them even to approach the Sardinia and they could do little in the way of aid.

The Sardinia left Liverpool on Nov. 14 with a cargo of general merchandise for Mediterranean ports. Her crew numbered 44 and 11 first class ann 6 second class passengers embarked at Liverpool. Most of her other passengers were Levanites, Maltese and Egyptians. Many of these people cross on the steamers of this line from Malta to Alexandria. It is their custom to pitch their tents on deck for shelter during the four days' trip. The decks were crowded and this condition undoubtedly made the orderly clearing of the ship most difficult.

The loss of life reached about 123 persons. The dead include 100 Arabs, 5 European passengers and 18 members of the crew. Seventy persons were saved. Among these are nine European passengers, 21 members of the crew and 40 Arabs.

The flames apparently originated in the forehold and the quantity of naptha stored there, fed the conflagration so that it was impossible to save the ship. From the beginning the captain and the crew stuck nobly to their posts. They served out life belts and did everything to help the panic stricken passengers, most of whom were Arab pilgrims.

Rescuing parties were sent out from all the warships in the harbor and pinnaces and launches and other boats are continuously bringing in survivors and bodies of victims.

The European survivors among the passengers and crew already have been landed. They declare that the Arabs on board were thrown into a condition of uncontrollable panic when the situation became serious. The burning vessel could not return to the mouth of the harbor owing to the danger to other ships. She finally was driven ashore on Recoli rocks. Her grounding was followed by a succession of noises like eruptions, indicating the explosion of the naptha in her hold.

When the pumps became useless Capt. Littler, commander of the Sardinia took the helm and directed his ship towards the shore so long as it could be navigated. First officer Watson, all three engineers, Seagraves, Hislop and Neil, and two first class passengers, one a boy, named Grant, are missing.

Fifty or more bodies have been recovered and 70 persons rescued. It is impossible at present to say just how many were drowned or burned to death because the list of pilgrims is incomplete, but the number will doubtless reach over 100.

After the vessel refused to obey her helm she drifted around three times and finally beached broadside on the rocks at the mouth of the harbor. She was still burning this afternoon and will be a total loss.

The British vice-admiral, sir Asherton Curzon-Howe, and admiral Fisher directed the rescuing boats, which did brilliant work in rescuing those who were yet alive and bringing the bodies to shore. Capt. Littler's body, which was terribly mutilated, was landed this afternoon in the presence of great crowds who stood uncovered. The other bodies were also mutilated and burned. Fifty-six of the injured are being cared for in the hospitals. The cause of the fire is not known but denial has been made that there were explosives on board. Unquestionably, however, explosions occurred and it was first believed that the rapid spread of the flames was due to flowing naptha.

The Sardinia left Liverpool on Nov. 5. She stopped at Valetta, landing a few passengers and taking on the pilgrims. Capt. Littler, who was for many years in the service of the line, died at Birkenhead. He leaves a widow and child.

Wholesale Robbery.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25—District attorney Clark startled an interested crowd before judge Kelly in the supreme court, Brooklyn yesterday when, in closing his opening charge against John G. Jenkins, president of the now defunct Jenkins Trust company, who is charged with the larceny of $50,000, he stated that he would produce proof to show that Jenkins took unlawfully from the bank altogether $157,000, or $57,000 more than the actual capitalization of the bank itself. Mr. Clark said that this money was entered in the books as loans to Kaiser, Hunter & Young, all clerks in the bank, who, however, knew nothing whatever of the loans.

EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN

TORONTO, Nov. 25—The evangelistic committee of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, which met here today, decided to start four simultaneous evangelistic campaigns in Kootenay district at the request of the Kootenay presbytery.

Rev. J. T. Ferguson, when shown the above dispatch last evening, said that this matter had come up at the meeting of Kootenay presbytery held in September last and Rev. D. M. McKie of Greenwood had been instructed to communicate with the Toronto committee regarding the matter and this decision was apparently the result of that communication. Personally he knew nothing about what arrangements had been made in regard to the matter or what the plans were.

ARCHBOLD ON THE STAND

VICE PRESIDENT OF STANDARD OIL IS WITNESS

DID NOT REALIZE POSSIBILTIES IN EARLY DAYS

NEW YORK, Nov. 25—Detailed information on the magnitude and diversity of the business of the Standard Oil company, was given by John D. Archbold, vice president of the Standard Oil company, on the resumption of his testimony today in he hearing of the federal suit to dissolve the oil company.

Mr. Archbold, asserted that it was the Standard which by eliminating the jobbers and retailers, stepped in and greatly reduced the price of oil to the consumer. The hearings were adjourned today after a brief session until Monday when Mr. Archbold will resume his examination.

That even those closely identified with the Standard in its early days did not recognize its future possibilities, was brought out today, when Mr. Archbold said that in the eighties fears were widespread that the supply of crude oil would be depleted and that accordingly he parted with some of his trust shares at seventy and eighty cents on the dollar.

Much of the day was spent in spreading upon the records, figures, showing the productiton and consumption of oil in the period between 1882 and the present time.

SAVES SEVEN LIVES

Fireman Prevents Family From Jumping to Death.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25—Lowering himself over the cornice of a five-story tenement house and dangling 75 feet above the sidewalk Frank Semple, a fireman, early today by desperate efforts prevented David Lynch, his wife and five children from leaping from the window to escape the flames that were creeping up behind them.

All through the night the fire had smouldered in the building and when it finally burst into flames at dawn the stairways were blazing from cellar to roof and many families were unable to reach the street.

When the firemen arived on scene Lynch and his family were about to leap to the street. Semple seized a rope and reached the rooftop through the adjoining tenement. Fastening the rope to a chimney he lowered himself just in time to rescue the stricken family from leaping to their death. Later they were taken from the burning building by means of ladders. The other tenants were all rescued without injury.

When she left Yokohama a fleet of 120 Japanese warships were engaged in manoeuvres and the land forces in mimic war. Pitched Battle Between

PROVINCIAL LIBRARY.

ASKING FOR MORE WAGES

MEN SAY THEY WERE PROMISED RAISE IN WAGES IF TAFT WAS ELECTED AND DESIRE EMPLOYERS TO FULFILL THIS PLEDGE—TROOPS IN CONTROL

PERTH-AMBOY, N.J., Nov. 25—Following a pitched battle between 700 strikers and 12 deputy sheriffs today at the factory of the National Fire Proofing company at Keasbey, near here in which six of the strikers were shot down, governor Fort, in response to a call for troops, despatched four companies of the state national guard at Trenton to the scene and tonight the streets are patrolled by 250 soldiers.

A feeling of intense excitement prevails as the strikers declare the deputies were not justified in firing upon them. Two of the wounded men are dying in the hospital here and the four other wounded men are painfully hurt. Although Keasbey was quiet tonight, the citizens fear for the morrow when the strikers threaten to renew the attack on the plant of the National Fire Proofing company.

Two weeks ago the men employed by the Raritan River Clay company went on strike for higher wages. Then each succeeding day the strikers constantly increased in number, marched to other towns to induce employees to leave their work. The strikers, nearly all of whom were foreigners, say that they were given to understand before the election that if Taft were elected their pay would be restored to $1.50 per day. The officials of the factories say that no such promise was made.

The situation became so serious that sheriff Quackenboz swore in 50 deputy sheriffs to guard the factories of the National Fire Proofing company at Keasbey, the seat of most of the trouble, and a number of smaller concerns down the river.

Early today the mob of strikers gathered around the factory at Keasbey. It was observed that the foreigners were armed with heavy iron pipes, pitchforks clubs, stones and some of them showed revolvers, the police say. Chief of police Burke when bringing lunch to the deputies, was threatened with personal injury.

So far as is known the strikers did not return the fire which resulted in six of their number being stricken by the bullets of the deputy sheriffs.

At 1:15 this afternoon prosecutor Burdine of Middlesex county, telegraphed a request to governor Fort for troops. Col. Fred Gilkinon, assistant adjutant general, was sent to Keasbey to investigate the situation and to advise the governor whether troops were needed. It was on the advice of Col. Gilkinon that the troops were sent to the scene.

CONTROL IS CHANGED

New Interests in Charge of Big Work at the Soo.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25 — A deal was completed yesterday whereby the control of the $40,000,000 Lake Superior corporation passes from Philadelphia interests to financial interests represented jointly by New York and Philadelphia parties. President Lloyd of the Commercial Trust company of this city completed negotiations paying this afternoon for the bonds of the corporation held by Philadelphia institutions.

Mr. Lloyd says he is acting merely as an agent and refused to give the names of those interested in the deal which ends, it is said, a long struggle between interests represented by the Canadian Improvement company and local banks.

HOSPITAL SHIP RELIEF

Vessel Turns up Safely But Suffered in Storm.

MANILA, Nov. 25—Admiral Sperry today received a telegram from the hospital ship Relief, five days overdue at Guam, for which port she sailed from this harbor Nov. 15. The message came by way of Sorsorgon in southern Luzon and stated that the ship was badly damaged by a typohoon Nov. 18, during which the engines were disabled. Fire broke out on the Relief but was promptly gotten under control.

The Relief is now proceeding to Manila under her own steam, repairs to her engines having been made by the crew. The news relieves the fears entertained here that the Relief had met with disaster.

Lake Steamer is Lost.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 25—The steel steamer North Star of Buffalo was sunk early today in lake Huron, by a collision with a sister ship, the Northern Queen. The steamers collided in a dense fog while off Port Sanilaced. The North Star sank so quickly that her crew had barely time to escape to the Northern Queen, which also suffered considerable damage but was able to proceed back to Port Huron. Both boats were built at Cleveland in 1889. They are 295 feet long.

HIS ELECTION ACCOUNT

GEORGE M'AVITY'S EVIDENCE AT MARINE INQUIRY

TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND FOR POLITICAL USE

S. JOHN, Nov. 25—George McAvity, a member of the firm of McAvity & Sons, Ltd., was called at the marine enquire today. The firm sold the government $42,000 worth of goods in the three years ended June, 1907. He testified that loans had been made to Harding and the latter now owed the firm $1300. He confessed that a check book and other papers had been returned by his orders. They referred to an election account and as they had been cancelled there was no further use in keeping them.

To judge Cassels he said that Harding's checks were on the same basis as the election account. The election account amounted to about $25,000.

(Western Associated Press.)

ST. JOHN, Nov. 25—On the opening of the marine inquiry this morning G. H. Watson, K. C., counsel for the government, read a telegram from captain C. T. Smith, inspector of government steamers, asking that Charles A. McDonald, manager of the St. John iron works, be allowed to read in court a letter to the firm written by the former. When read the letter showed that captain Smith had called the attention of the firm to defective work on the government steamer Curlew.

Mr. Watson asked if it was after this date that captain Smith was loaned $150 and Mr. McDonald answered affirmatively and testified to exchange of checks with F. J. Harding, marine agent, whatever the latter so desired and waited his pleasure for payment.

The freight train had run past the switch and was backing up on the main line, when the express, two hours late, crashed into the caboose. ITALIAN WINS

Plucky Dorando Defeats Marathon Victor

HE LEADS MOST OF WAY

RACE RUN UNDER SAME CONDITIONS AS THE OLYMPIC CONTEST IN LONDON IN WHICH LAST NIGHT'S WINNER CAME IN FIRST BUT DISQUALIFIED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25—In the presence of a crowd that filled all the seats in the big amphitheatre and overflowed into every other space where a view of the contest could be had, Pietri Dorando and John J. Hayes started tonight in what was practically a renewal of the memorable struggle between the two men in the Marathon race at the Olympic games in London last summer. It is history that in that race Dorando, the Italian runner, crossed the line first but the race was awarded to Hayes as a result of the Americans entering a protest on the ground that Dorando had received aid after falling exhausted near the close of the race.

In tonight's match at the London Olympic Marathon distance of 26 miles 385 yards, Hayes sought to maintain his title against the little Italian, who had run such a plucky race and so narrowly missed scoring a victory. The crowd was on hand early and for an hour before the race started enthusiasm was stirred by the playing of rival bands in opposite galleries.

At the end of ten miles Dorando was leading by three feet, time one hour six and one-fifth seconds. At the end of the 20th mile Dorando lead Hayes by five feet, time 2.04.25.

The last few miles of the race were exciting. In the 24th mile Hayes, made another of the jumps to the front that he had been sprinting at in intervals during the race but Dorando, running strong resumed the lead like a flash. This was repeated half a mile further on Dorando again proving the stronger. The 25th mile was finished in 2.36.57 1-5. Hayes weakened in the last half mile and the Italian won handily by about 60 yards. Dorando's time tonight was nearly eleven minutes faster than Hayes made when he won the Marathon race at Shepherd's Bush last summer. Hayes covered the distance then in 2.55.18.

MRS. GUNNESS CASE

Ray Lamphere's Fate Now With the Jury.

La Porte, Ind., Nov. 25—Following a day of arguments the case of Roy Lamphere, charged with the murder of Mrs. Belle Gunness and her three children by setting fire to the Gunness house before daylight on April 23, 1908, went to the jury at 5:30 this evening, at the close of the 15th day of the trial. Attorney Worden argued for the defence:

"I firmly believe that Mrs. Gunness is alive," he declared. He dwelt on the incidents of the day before the fire and declared that they showed that Mrs. Gunness was prepared to flee. He contended that the identification of the bodies found in the fire ruins was not complete. He affirmed belief in the testimony of D. M. Hutson and his two daughters who said they saw Mrs. Gunness on July 9.

State attorney Smith declared that the defence could not paint Mrs. Gunness any too black for him. He picked to pieces the testimony of Hutson and his two daughters. His arraignment of Lamphere was intense.

The judge's instruction was largely technical. Late tonight the jury, after having failed to agree, went to bed.

DEATH NOW CONFIRMED

HAYTIEN MINITER IS HANGED BY INDIGNANT CITIZENS

HE MEETS FATE HE DEALT OUT TO OTHERS

PORT AU PRINCE, Hayti, Nov. 25—The report that general Leconte, the Haytian minister of the interior, had been killed at Jeremie, was confirmed today. Upon arriving at Jeremie at the head of a government detachment sent out against the revolutionists, he found the government gunboat Croyant ashore He at once accused the commander, Capt. Ostema, of treason and, refusing to listen to any explanations he forthwith had him executed.

After this minister Leconte landed at Jeremie for the purpose of recruiting men in town to fight against the rebels under general Cimon, the leader of the movement against president Nord Alexis. Some of the people of Jeremie protested against this course and minister Leconte selected two of the most prominent citizens and had them executed. These outrages so aroused the people that they armed themseuves hastily and advanced against Leconte and his troops. There was practically no resistence. Leconte was taken prisoner and in his turn was executed on the same wharf where he had caused the killing of Ostema and the two citizens.

General Tancrede Auguste has been named minister of the interior in succession to Leconte. He held a ministerial position under general Sam. The revolution is progressing. General Celesten, the minister of war, has sent in a demand for disciplined troops. He explained that the new troops will not stand against the fire of the enemy.

General Leconte made his name a terror in Hayti during the few years he was prominent in the affairs of the government. He is credited with being responsible for the summary execution last March of 11 prominent politicians, charged with conspiracy against the government.

These men were taken from their beds at break of day, marched to a cemetery on the outskirts of Port au Prince and summarily shot. He was a mulatto, about 38 years of age, and was a lawyer of Cape Hatien, without any practice, until 1902, when general Nord Alexis made him his private secretary. He rose fast in the Alexis government and became head of a clique that practically ruled the president. The present revolution in Hayti began last week and up to the present time the rebels appear to have been fairly successful.

PARIS, Nov. 25—At the request of M. Carteron, the French minister to Hayti, the government has issued orders that the French training ship Ducuay Tretuin proceed to Port au Prince from Jamaica. Should the situation in Hayti grow worse American intervention in affairs of the island is not regarded as unlikely and France probably will not oppose such a measure.

TROUBLE ON PANAMA CANAL

Rains Cause Settlements and Slides in Several Places.

COLON, Nov. 25—Owing to the exceptionally heavy rain fall of the last few weeks the earth on the crest of the Gatun dam has settled in certain places. The Gatun dam, which is designed to hold in check the waters of the Charges river, was in the beginning 50 feet wide. It has now extended to a length of 300 feet. In view of the heavy weight of the embankment the settlement of the dam was expected. There is nothing to prevent this falling in and it will have to continue. There have been other settlements in the vicinity of the dam at Gatun and the rains have resulted in a settlement and a slide in Cutbrea cut. The railway track is inundated on both sides for a distance of several miles but transit has not been impeded.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25—If there has been any serious accident resulting in the sinking and destruction of the work of the proposed Gatun dam on the isthmian canal caused by the recent heavy rains as published by a Panama newspaper, no mention of it has been made by Col. Goethals, chairman of the commission and the engineer in charge of construction, in his daily reports to the office here.

REPENTS OF HIS ACTION

Shah of Persia Vacillates on Constitutional Government.

TEHERRAN, ..ov. 25—The shah already has repented of his proclamation posted in the mosques Monday in which it was set forth that the people, in spite of his promise, shall not have a constitution and during that night he sent out orders to withdraw this proclamation from circulation and to destroy all the copies of it. Following these instructions the proclamations posted on the streets and mosques were hurriedly torn down.

This sudden change of front on the part of his majesty is attributed here to the vigorous representations that undoubtedly have been made by the British and Russian legations. These powers, it is reported, have notified the shah that he will be held responsible if any refusal to give his people a constitution results in anarchy.

INCREASE IN THE NAVY

MUST HAVE FLEET DOUBLE THAT OF GERMANY

SHIPS, COLONIES AND COMMERCE THE MOTTO

The interview with the German emperor and the disclosures which have followed it have led public opinion to demand an increase in the navy.

The Observer summarizes its case in these words, "Ships, ships, ships."

"Loan or no loan," its says, "we must have next year the necesary Dreadnoughts and must pay the price, cost what it may. In the old proud motto, 'ships, colonies, commerce,' two words are almost superfluous. Because we had the first of these the rest were added unto us. The quint-essential watchword of our safety lies in a simpler sentence, 'ships, ships, ships'."

"What the vast majority of Englishmen will have stamped upon their minds is the emperor's admission that the majority of the German nation are unfriendly to us, and his contention that this hostile nation mean to go on indefinitely enlarging their navy," says the Times. "That part of the conversation will not, we trust, escape the earnest attention of the British government. An immediate announcement in parliament that they intend to proceed next year with the number of Dreadnoughts and Invincibles necessary to keep our fleets well up to the two-power standard would be very acceptable to the country, after the plain warning it has received on such unimpeachable authority."

"The only answer worthy of Britain both as mistress of the seas and as a lover of peace, is to build a navy twice a strong a Germany' no matter what the cost," says the Spectator. "Anything, however, which seems like a claim to dictate, even in the slightest degree, the strength of the German fleet is wholly unjustifiable. Fortunately it is not a claim made by any serious persons here. All we can do and all we have a right to do—but also what we must do, unless, to borrow the kaiser's phrase, we are mad—is to insist that we must meet German competition by appropriate action—by increased shipbuilding and by improved organization."

H. W. Wilson writes in the November National Review an article entitled "On The Eye" in which he says:

"The most critical moment in the history of the British nation is drawing near. In the next few weeks and months it will be determined whether the British navy—the only force which stands between the empire and destruction—is to be sacrificed once more to the foolish and short sighted demands of the pacifists. The command of the sea is trembling in the balance. The next British naval program will show whether it is to be secured for the British navy or to be allowed to pass for a century into the stong annd determ'ned hands of Germany."

Dr. E. J. Dillon, writing on the "Near Eastern Crisis" in the Contemporary Review fo November, says:

"National armies are trumps in the games of politics today and international treaties and conventions derive their value chiefly from these. Stipulations can be relied upon only so long as the party that benefits by them is strong. Not longer. Hence the primary duty of patriots is to agitate for formidable land and sea forces, without which national life is becoming precarious. Such in brief is the bitter lesson inculcated by the political events of the past three weeks, which have set the Balkan states by the ears annd conjured up the danger of a European war."

CANADA FOR CANADIANS

The inquiry now proceeding at Washington into the American tarif schedules has created some interest in Canada and public men on both sides of the line have been discussing possible reciprocal proposals between the United States and this country.

Of late years Canada has grown less and less inclined to consider the advisability of seeking fiscal concessions at Washington or to vary the tarif treatment with the neighboring republic. As Mr. Sifton told the members of the New York chamber of commerce the other day this country was obliged by the hostile tariff imposed by the Americans to seek its own commercial salvation elsewhere and having found it, is not disposed now to reopen the question again. The general feeling prevading Canada today is that Canadian raw material should be subject to an export duty and carried to the final processes of manufacture in Canada. It should be manufactured in Canada by Canadian labor and made to contribute to the prosperity of Canadian producers and Canadian business centers.

Bank manager Byron E. Walker told a conference of New Yorkers last week that there must be a general reduction of American imports before there could be any fair basis for reciprocal negotiations between the two countries. Canada indeed, must before long be forced to take steps to effect a more equitable trade balance between herself and the United States. The states now supply this country with goods to the annual value of $170,000,000 and take from us goods to the value of only $85,000,000. This is not a satisfactory situation and while, as an eastern paper puts it, "There never was a better feeling in Canada to the United States, there also never was a more resolute determination to prevent exploitation of the natural wealth of this country for the benefit of an aggressive commercial rival." Canadians are not ready to pay a price for the privilege of sending their raw material to American markets.

After reviewing the reciprocity situation at the present time, so far as it affects Canada, the Toronto News comes to the conclusion that the whole energy of the Canadian government should be devoted to measures for the utilization at home of the country's resources, the creation of new home industries, the fuller employment of Canadian labor at better wages, the enlargement of the home demand for farm products and steady increase in the volume of traffic for Canadian transportation companies.

Engrossed with such a program the government at Ottawa will have no special occasion to worry over reciprocal relations with the United States until such time as it is manifestly made clear that Washington means business and is willing to give as well as take.

Judging from the expression of opinion in some of the best informed papers over the border, the movement for tariff reform within the ranks of the republican party is not formidable and in this country the general desire is to avoid reciprocity negotiations with the neighboring country, so that despite the zealous work of Mr. J. J. Hill and others like him, reciprocity is not likely to come to the front again for the next few years.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Madame Melba was in Belfast recently and was about to go from her carriage to the hotel over a muddy sidewalk, when Charles Pollock a newsboy, laid a lot of his papers on the footpath to save the distinguished singer from wetting her shoes. Pollock may not have had Raleigh and his cloak in mind, but he got his reward in the following letter: "Dear Boy—I was much touched by your chivalrous thought for me in Belfast the other day, and I shall always remember it with great pleasure. I am glad to hear you are a steady, industrious boy and a comfort to your mother, and I know you will grow up a brave honorable man, for you have already given evidence of the possession of exceptional qualities. You readily sacrificed your little bundle to make an easy path for me and I hope your path tarough life may be made easy and bright by the kindness of others. I enclose a check for five pounds to buy you some small gift that will remind you of how I appreciate your thoughtfulness. — Faithfully yours, Nellie Melba."

The illustrated London weekly, Canada, says: Fear of generalizations is a mark of the parochial mind, and there is not a trace of this fear in lord Milner's mind. That is why he has faith in the imperial future and can find sound arguments for his faith. Thus, from the experiences of his Canadian tour, he discovered an argument for confuting those who insist on the distant dificulty. Physical remoteness and inaccessibility have not prevented the confederation of Canada's provinces on the evolution of a Canadian spirit, the vital principle of Canadian nationhood. Yet Nova Scotia, he pointed out, is further from British Columbia than Canada is from Great Britain. And forty years ago, when confederation was in the making, the unabidged prairies and the rampart of the Rockies were out and away a greater obstacle to intercourse than any of the oceans separating the British independencies. Yet, today United Canada is a great accomplished fact, the significance of which is evident to the whole world—from Germany to Japan. Why, then, despair of imperial unity, especially when it is remembered that the sea—the cheapest of all highways—associates rather than separates.

The announced proposal of the dominion government to introduce "gag" legislation at the coming session of parliament comes at an unpropitious time. The promised measure is said to be the result of the last session's prolongation and is to be offered "with a view of expediting public business and preventing useless prolongations of debates." The government's iniquitous election act was one of the principal causes for prolonged sittings of the house last session but by the fight put up the opposition forced the government practically to drop this pet scheme originated by Clifford Sifton and the opposition more than justified the position assumed. The revelations before the Cassels commission up to the present time have given the public some idea of the conditions probably existing in other departments which might have been uncovered had the documents and other details asked for not been held back and had not obstacles of every kind been placed in Mr. Borden's path. The government now proposes to introduce closure and the inevitable answer will be that concealment is sought. Quite enough has been disclosed already to warrant the opposition fighting the proposed measure. Under different circumstances the country might be prepared to consider closure but at the present time the introduction of the "gag" will not meet with public favor.

From liberal sources we are told that the coming session of parliament will not be a long one if the ministers can help it. It is anounced that the ministerial program will include the new insurance act, left over from last session, a bill to create a separate portfolio of labor, the passing of which will be a preliminary to the calling of W. L. Mackenzie King to the cabinet, and legislation will also be proposed to amend the present rules of debate in the commons by the introduction of closure.

Dominion Agricultural Station is Doing Good Work.

The seed testing station established at Calgary by the dominion government, is beginning its third season's work. It has been a very popular institution, so much so that during the season of 1907-08 nearly 500 samples of seed were received to be tested. This wa a much greater number than had been anticipated and conequently the capacity of the laboratory was not sufficient to handle the work as promptly as might be desired. This year the number of germinators have been increased and larger accommodation secured so that the work may be done as quickly as required.

Owing to peculiar crop conditions last year the greater part of the work was the testing of the vitality of grain. An equally important feature of the work done at Calgary is the testing of grains, grasses, clovers and other seeds for purity from weed seed. While it is possible for anyone to make a germination test for himself, the purity test requires a technical knowledge of seeds that many farmers may not have.

Both these tests are made free of charge to any former, gardener or seed merchant who sends a sample to "Seed Laboratory, dominion department of agriculture, Calgary." The sender should mark his sample "purity" or "germination" or both, according to what test is wanted. It is not necessary to send any letter so long as this mark and the sender's name and address are written plainly on the package.

YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO FEEL "DOPEY"

—to have headaches—an easily-tired body—a stuffy-feeling brain—even for part of the time. There are too many keen alert men and women, always at their best, to give much chance of success to one thus handicapped.

These things are the direct results of a sluggish liver—constipated bowels—dry skin — overworked kidneys — in short, of a body whose sewers are clogged.

Nothing opens up these outlets of the waste, and clears the system of poison so gently, yet so effectively, as "Fruit-a-tives." "Fruit-a-tives" are the juices of oranges, apples, figs and prunes combined—by a process that greatly increases their medicinal value—with valuable tonics and internal antiseptics, and made into tablets.

Take one or two "Fruit-a-tives" every night, eat plenty of ripe fruit, and see how quickly your brain clears and headaches leave you. 50c a box—6 for $2.50. Trial size 25c. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

STEAMSHIP LINES SOLD

Consolidated Company's Assets Are Disposed of.

PORTLAND, Maine, Nov. 25—The assets of the Consolidated steamship lines of Maine, were sold at public auction today for $6,500,000 to a sub-committee of bond holders of the company consisting of Alvin Krech, Henry P. Mallory and Henry P. Booth.

The sub-committee will transfer the assets to the Atlantic gulf and West Indies steamship lines, which will be incorporated in this city for the purpose of taking over the affairs of the Consolidated steamship lines, the holding company for the Morse steamship line.

The sale was held by special masters under a decree of the United States circuit court for a foreclosure sale under the mortgage to the American Trust company of Boston under date of Jan. 1, 1907. The assets were sold in one parcel and consisted of practically the entire issues of stock of the Eastern, Metropolitan, Mallory, Clyde, New York and Cuba, Mail and the New York and Porto Rico steamship companies, aggregating in value $59,985,600.

There was only one bid, and one bidder. The offer was satisfactory to the special masters, and the assets were ordered to be turned over to the sub-committee subject to the confirmation of the court.

NEW YORK FOG BOUND

Practically All Shipping is Tied up as a Result.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25—Fog which has hung over the city and the harbor for two days still clung like a shroud today, tieing up shipping in the worst blockade that the city has experienced in 25 years. Between the Narrows and Sandy Hook a constantly growing fleet of ocean steamers was at anchor with little prospect of getting under way until the fog lifted, while outside the harbor several liners are awaiting a chance to enter port.

Ocean traffic has been practically suspended since Monday while many of the sound steamers have not attempted to leave their docks. The ferry boats have been unable to keep anything like schedule time, many of them remaining in their slips. Numerous minor accidents resulted from the boats striking piers in their efforts to get into the slips. The tunnels were jammed to suffocation with the crush of passengers who forsook the ferry boats and dirty streets.

The effect of the fog was almost as demoralizing on the streets as on the water. Hundreds of vehicles blocked traffic at congested points, a great many being forced to stay on the streets all night.

Discussed in Tokio.

TOKIO, Nov. 25—The recent published interview with emperor William, is the most absorbing topic here. Officials as well as the newspapers believe that the emperor has been correctly quoted but the newspapers ridicule his statements. One paper publishes a picture of the German emperor having his tongue amputated and editorially discredited the statements attributed to him that he and president Roosevelt were in accord.

Once Too Often.

LONDON, Nov. 25—Herbert Lee, a music hall performer, died in this city yesterday from the effects of a wound in the head received during a performance of "William Tell" at a local theatre the previous night. Lee held a ball on his head at which Madame Clementine shot at a distance of 50 feet. Madame Clementine surrendered to the police. Mr. Lee has been giving this act for a period of 15 years without having met any accident.

How to Cure a Cold.

Be as careful as you can you will occasionally take cold, and when you do, get a medicine of known ability, one that has an established reputation and that is certain to effect a quick cure. Such a medicine is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has gained a world wide reputation by its remarkable cures of this most common ailment and can always be depended upon. It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs aids expectoration, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. During the many years in which it has been in general use we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

REDEEM WORN OUT CASH

THE UNSANITARY CONDITION OF CANADIAN BILLS

BANKS ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR UNCLEAN MONEY

There has recently been a renewal of the complaints on the part of the business community against the unsanitary condition of the money in circulation in Canada and it may, therefore, not be uninteresting to state just exactly the modus operandi used by the finance department in dealing with this question.

In the first place it should be understood that the department of finance has no direct dealings with either the banks or the public in this matter of the currency. There are assistant receivers at Charlottetown, Halifax, St. John, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Victoria whose duties include the supervision of the dominion note currency. At certain stated times one's, two's four's and the large denominations are sent to the assistant receiver general.

When a bank needs a new supply or an additional supply of dominion notes it applies to the assistant receiver general in its district and puts up the necessary cash in the case of an additional supply or, in the case of old notes, turns them in to the office of the assistant receiver general, and is handed new bills in return. Any old notes, thus received, whether damaged by wear, contaminated by disease or torn in course of use, are carefully checked over by the local assistant receiver general and forwarded to Ottawa. Here they are again checked and if the tally is found corect they are then consigned to the furnace. This is a crematorium specially constructed for the purpose, with a patent chimney so that none of the fragments shall escape into the air.

The system of checking is most complete and the men who are in charge of the work are under careful supervision and are searched day by day in order that they may not cary away with them any of the condemned bills. Though what use one of these condemned bills would be to anyone is difficult to realize, for each one as checked over is disfigured with a stamp which forever puts it out of business.

The officials of the finance department contend that the public has no cause for complaint as to the condition of the dominion currency, claiming, indeed, that it far cleaner and more recognizable than that of some of the banks. While it is impossible in a country such as this to compel everyone to return to the government a one or two dollar bill which has seen its service—simply because it is impossible to prevent any citizen hoarding up a supply of dominion notes—the department does its best to keep the currency clean and in a condition fit for public handling.

So far as the banks are concerned the responsibility for dirty bank bills rests upon them entirely. There is no law by which the government can compel a bank to issue new notes; the only thing the government can do is to set a good example by, so far as in its power lies, keeping its own currency clean. And in this respect the public can do a great deal. Any man or woman who obtains a dirty or defaced dominion bill has only to take it to any bank and demand a new note and the request will be granted.

Similar complaints have been received as to the quantity of defaced and smooth silver coin in circulation. Here again the department is always ready to convert old silver into new. All the recipient has to do is to take the old silver to a bank or to the assistant receiver general and demand new coin for it and he will get it.

The government has taken power to itself to redeem any silver worn smooth by usage and any such silver is in due course returned to Ottawa, re-melted and eventually coined again. The new branch of the royal mint has proved quite useful in this respect—that it enables the government to always have an ample supply of new coinage on hand whereas there was always the possibility under the old system, when silver was coined in London, that a time might come when there would be a shortage in Canada.

MOVING PICTURES

Good Advertisement for B. C. in the Old Country.

A novel and up to date of advertising British Columbia is daily to be seen at the Crystal Palace, near London, a resort which, as all who have visited the metropolis know, is visited daily by an imense crowd of sightseers. The advertisement consists of moving pictures showing British Columbia scenes as well as many glimpses of our leading industries in operation.

Among the pictures shown are photographs of sawmills at work cutting up logs from the giant Douglas fir, others depict operations in the logging camps and the Londoner gazes open-mouthed at the dexterity and speed with which the immense trees are handled by the help of donkey engines and block and tackle. Next comes the canneries and the audience is taken through all the processes from the catching of the fish to the last operation of sealing and labelling the salmon cans. The mines are similarly treated.

Nor are the agricultural and horticultural interests neglected. The great firm of photographers which leads all others in Europe in the moving picture business, had its best photographers in the various parts of the province this summer. Some of them went to the orchards and berry picking, apple packing and other sights, familiar to the fruit grower are produced on the sheet and arouse intense interests among the visitors at the Crystal Palace. The show is being given in the electric theatre and no extra charge is made and enormous crowds are seeing the moving pictures every day.

Capt. the Hon. Mr. Tatlow, who is now visiting England, went to the Crystal Palace to see what kind of an exhibition was being given. He took a particular interest in it and he arranged for the photographers to come out, and in a general way superintended their itinerary, although the idea was originally suggested by Mr. Turner, the agent general. A letter was received from him yesterday by the premier and in it the finance minister says that the pictures are very good and meeting with immense success. It is generally considered both an effective and an up to date way of advertising the country and gives the homestaying Englishman a better idea of what British Columbia is really like than he could ever gain, except by coming out in person, which it is hoped that a great many will do. Altogether the experiment seems to be an unqualified success and after the engagement at the Crystal Palace is over the pictures will be exhibited at the chief London music halls.

CHINESE EDITOR'S WISH

DESIRES CLOSER RELATIONS WITH UNITED STATES

ADDRESSES LETTER TO PRESIDENT-ELECT TAFT

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Li-sun-ling, the Chinese editor who has been making a tour of the United States, leaves tomorrow for his home at Hongkong. Before his departure Mr. Ling addressed a letter to judge Taft, who had received the Chinese editor during his western trip, in which he says:

"I am about to leave America for my home in China. I have just returned from an extensive trip through the western and southern states, where I received a most kindly welcome at the hands of both public and private citizens and where I was given an opportunity to advocate and advance the idea of closer relations between the United States and China, the idea you were kind enough to permit me to discuss during my tour of the west.

"I have been cheered and encouraged during my tour, to find in all sections of the country deep sympathy with China, universal desire to help preserve and advance progress and a keen appreciation of the mutual advantages that would accrue from closer advantages between these two friendly peoples.

"Now upon the eve of my departure from the United States I desire to express to you and through you, to the great nation whose destiny you are summoned to preside, my warmest and heartfelt thanks and I sincerely hope that the very friendly relations which now exist between the two peoples will continue to increase more and more every day."

"Yours respectfully," "Li-sun-ling."

ROSSLAND MINES

General Advance in Consolidated Company's Shares.

Consolidated company shares have advanced several points during the past few days, and yesterday $85 was bid for them and $95 asked says the Rossland Miner. There have been sales made at the bid price during the last few days. Holders of the shares are not inclined to part with them at present prices, as they are fully satisfied that it will go to par and beyond par within a short time. The increase in the price of copper is one cause for the advance. Another is the excellent condition of the mines of the company in Rossland, Moyie and Phoenix camps. A third cause is the large production of ore from the several mines of the company. Besides this the smelter is reducing more then 1000 tons of ore a day, the refinery is turning out about 60 tons of lead a day and a good profit is being made by the industrial section of the company's assets. The mines and smelter were never in better condition than they are at present. The intention of the company, too, is in the direction of expansion and within the next year the quantity of ore mined and reduced by it will be considerably larger than it is at present. The advance in the price of shares is based on a meritorious, solid and enduring foundation and it seems certain that they will never again be quoted at a less price than at present.

Messrs. Singer & McNeely, of the Molly Gibson mine, in Burnt Basin, have 1000 sacks of ore ready on the dump just as soon as snow is in a fit condition to be rawhided to the railroad. Fred Linberg has taken the contract for rawhiding the ore to the Columbia and Western railway, from whence it will be shipped to the smelter of the Consolidated company, at Trail. The ore, according to recent assays, will run well and will leave a fair profit after paying for extraction, transportation and treatment. It is reported that a new and promising ledge has been located on the property, but a sufficient amount of work has not yet been done upon it to determine its value.

The development of the Giant-California still continues under the direction of J. A. Miller. Diamond drilling continues on the 300-foot level of the California. Development of the Giant lead has been stopped pending the result of the diamond drill explorations in the California territory.

The extraction of ore continues in the I. X. L., and a second shipment will shortbe made. The returns from the first shipment, while not large, were fairly satisfactory.

Doctor is Killed.

BRANDON, Nov. 25.—Dr. Leeson, of Beresford, who formerly practiced in Brandon was almost instantly killed last night. He was hauling lumber and while getting upon the load slipped and fell under the wheels which passed over his head. Dr. Leeson was a pioneer of this district and was widely known, and popular in Manitoba.

Guilty of Personation.

PORT ARTHUR, Nov. 25.—After being out twenty minutes the jury inthe case of Tomlinson, charged with impersonation at Dexter poll returned a verdict of guilty, accompanied by a recommendation for mercy.

Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good;" and Doctor Pierce's medicine well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine it is unequaled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—one to three a dose. Much imitated but never equaled.

HOUSE AND THREE LOTS, CORNER CEDAR AND HOOVER STREETS.

This property occupies the best corner at the intersection of the streets named. The house is of frame construction, well and substantially built, and consists of parlor, dining room, kitchen, two bedrooms, large bathroom having good bath with hot and cold water and modern toilet, pantry, vestibule and a splendid wide verandah on two sides of the house, providing a magnificent view of the lake.

The rooms are of good size, lath and plastered, and well lighted. Dining room is nicely papered. The sink (hot and cold water taps) usually in the kitchen, is in this instance in a separate room off the kitchen, which is a good feature.

From the kitchen a convenient stairway leads to the basement which extends under the whole of the house. It has a high ceiling and the floor is on the same level as the ground outside. CHARGE OF UNFAIRNESS

ANSWER OF BRITISH ATHLETIC OFFICIALS

REFUTATION OF THE AMERICAN ACCUSATIONS

In reply to the reiterated charges of unfairness made by Americans against the British officials at the Olympic games in London, a full statement has been issued by the authority of the Amateur Athletic association of Great Britain, says the Toronto Mail and Empire. This course of the British officials has been made necessary by the bold charges of some of the dissatisfied Americans. One of them is Hon. J. B. Maccabe, who represented the United States athletes at the games as a commissioner. Another is J. E. Sullivan, president of the A. A. U. of the United States, and a third is Gustavus T. Kirby, one of the American members of the Comite d'Honneur. Mr. Kirby, has written a pamphlet n the subject of British unfairness, and Hon. Mr. Maccabe, in the Boston Globe made a number of specific charges.

The first Maccabe accusation is that in drawing for the preliminary heats a number of slips were drawn from a hat. The slips were of two colors, one green, representing the British athletes and the other white, representing the foreigners. The green slips were not put in the hat at all, and so every bye and walkover went to the British athlete. The reply to this charge begins by explaining that the Americans were informed officially on two occasions as to the method of drawing heats, and concludes: "No green slips were ever used, and the statement made is a deliberate lie." Charge No. 2 was that "some of the officials actually swore at our men," to which the answer is, "This is absolutely untrue." In the famous 400-metre race, which was the cause of more trouble than all the other contests combined, Hon. Mr. Maccabe alleged that "some of the Englishmen actually pulled Taylor off the track by force." The British assert that Taylor was not interfered with in any way, and that he had nothing to do with the fouling of Halswelle by Carpenter.

Mr. Maccabe alleged that officials struck Hayes, the Marathon winner, when he was coming to the tape. The answer is: "This is a disgraceful falsehood." Re the tug of war, in which the British team pulled over the Americans as though they were "a lot of girls," as the dispatch said, Mr. Maccabe declares that the British team wore "specially prepared shoes, which are not allowed under the rules. They had prongs at the toe, and heel plates like small horseshoes in the heel." The answer to this charge recites the rule in question, and concludes: "There were no prongs at the toes, and the boots worn absolutely complied with the conditions of the contest." Mr. Maccabe's final charge was to the effect that "Every day," after the Marathon race, spectators would yell, "Who won the Marathon?" To which the answer would be "Dorando." Then the cry would come: "Who got the prize?" And truth would compel the shouters to say "America!" The British officials note the phrase "every day," and point out that the Marathon took place on the last day but one of the games. They characterize this charge as "quite in keeping with the other unfair and untrue charges."

Having disposed of Hon. Mr. Maccabe, the British officials take up Mr. Sullivan's statement to the effect that the British officials were the most unfair and prejudiced in the world. They say that "no protest or objection was made by any of the other twenty nations, but, on the contrary, very many letters have been received by the A. A. A. congratulating them on the success of the games, and on the efficient manner in which they were carried out, and expressing thanks for the generous treatment accorded the competitors." Next came the Kirby charges, the first one being against the entry of Longboat, and the answer to which is that the British Olympic council approved the entry. Mr. Kirby said that Sherman was not allowed to compete in the broad jump because he was not present at roll call; but that he was actually running in a race when the roll was called. The A. A. A. says that Sherman was told that if he had notified the jumping judges that he was competing in the race he would have been transferred to another section in the broad jump. Another charge was that for the pole vault a hole was not allowed. A hole is contrary to British rules, and to those of other countries competing. The rest of Mr. Kirby's charges are of a trivial nature, hardly worth making, if true, and hardly worth denying if otherwise.

All the American accusers have had something to say as to the famous 400-metre race, in which Carpenter, one of the American runners, was disqualified for having fouled Halswelle, one of the British competitors. Carpenter, therefore, was not allowed to start in the final, which was won by Halswelle. The Americans insisted that Carpenter did not foul Halswelle. Here is the statement of Dr. Badger, a vice president of the A. A. A., and the umpire in the race in question: "Robbins and Carpenter (both Americans, by the way) were in such a position as to compel Halswelle to run very wide all round the bend; and as they swung into the stretch Halswelle made a big effort, and was gaining hard, but as they went up the straight, the further they went the wider Carpenter went out from the verge, keeping his right shoulder sufficiently in front of Mr. Halswelle to prevent his passing." The other officials confirm this view.

Particularly interesting and significant is the final paragraph of the British defence, which deals with the published threat of the A. A. U. to break off all relations with the A. A. A. of Great Britain. "To this it is sufficient to say that although the A. A. U. of America have repeatedly asked to enter into a working agreement with the A. A. A., the latter body have always respectfully declined. There are, therefore, no athletic relations to break off."

Oarsmen Under Arrest.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 25—James A. Teneyck stroke of Syracuse university eight oared crew, was arrested here todtay for the Chicago police charged with being a party in a pool game by which Chris Hansen was fleeced out of $1500. A few months ago Teneyck was arrested on a similar charge made by a man in Salem, Mass. Teneyck's father settled the Salem affair and he was not prosecuted.

ALL-SMITH HOCKEY TEAM

Seven Ottawa Brothers Are to go on Tour.

OTTAWA, Nov. 25—Henry Smith, father of the famous Ottawa hockey family of that name, makes the announcement this morning that he will take his seven sons on a hockey tour shortly, playing exhibition games with the strongest teams in Canada and the United States.

The trip will start from Pittsburg after the close of the season there, Feb. 15. Games will be played in Cleveland, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Canadian and American Soo, Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal and wind up with a clash against the Ottawa team.

Jack, the oldest member of the family, who played with Ottawa the first year the Stanley cup came here, is at present in Fernie, B. C.

Dan, better known as "Moxey," is at St. Alphonse, Sauguenay River. Alf., Harry and Tom, all of whom have played with the Ottawas, are at present in Pittsburg, while Billy and George, the youngest, are in Ottawa.

To Close the Meadows.

SEATTLE, Nov. 25—Ole Hanson, representative from the 43rd legislative district, is out with the announcement that he intends to put the Meadows race track out of business at the coming session of the legislature. Hanson comes from a strong "sporting" district, but declares that he intends to make the anti-race track bill his principal work in the legislature.

With the election of George Vandervveer as prosecuting attorney, Hanson saw his way clear to get the enforcement of any law he could get passed, and immediately started out to have a bill drawn. The bill is in the hands of an attorney at present and will be drawn to cover every avenue of escape heretofore utilized by race track men.

Influences have been brought to bear on Hanson to keep out of the fight until after the exposition, but he professes to be unable to see any justification for race track gambling during the fair season that will not apply at any time.

Remarkable Record Made.

HALIFAX, Nov. 25—The Dalhousie College football team, winners of the Halifax league, have surely made records this season for this side of the Atlantic; they have not been scored against in the Halifax league, and in the five games they have played in that series they have scored 178 points, they have played but one outside game and that with the generally recognized most formidable opponents in the maritime provinces, St. Francis Xavier, whom they beat 27 to 3. Thus they have scored 205 points to 3 in six games—a record which is bound to stand for a long time.

Sullivan is Appointed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25—James E. Sullivan, president of the Amateur Athletic union and chairman of the commission in charge of the United States team at last summer's Olympic games was today appointed by mayor McClelland a member of the New York city board of education. Friends of Mr. Sullivan say that this appointment was made by the mayor with a view to the promotion of athletics in the public schools, a subject which the new appointee has been actively interested in for many years.

Notes of Sport.

Nothing is heard this autumn from the old Federal Hockey league. There seems to be absolutely no sign of life in this once lively organization. There was all kinds of trouble and difficulty among the clubs last year, the season finally ending up with but two clubs—Ottawa Victorias and Cornwall—still intact. This season there will not be even two clubs to squabble.

William Kirkby, of Kelowna, B. C., met with a painful accident while playing football out at South Okanagan recently. In a scrimmage he was kicked in the jaw, which sustained a clean break. He is progressing favorably. Another man was also crippled in the melee.

I. L. Wheatcroft, the millionaire Victoria, B. C., sportsman and proprietor of the St. James stable that is to be raced at Santa Anita during the winter, has purchased Miss Sain for $4000, and will ship this good racer to Santa Anita at once. She was about the best in her class around the Canadian and Kentucky tracks during the summer and fall meetings.

Tom Longboat is in love. She is said to be the prettiest copper-colored maiden that ever stuck beads on a mocassin. It is more than ever noticeable that Tom has a press agent. The next thing he will be doing will be to rescue somebody's darling from the icy water. Keep a-going, Tom needs the change.

FOR SATURDAY EVENING

"Girl From Chili" Booked for Nelson Opera House.

"The Girl from Chili" opened at the Grand last night to capacity and indications point to a record breaking business on the week if it keeps up to last night's standard. It is a very cleverly constructed farce comedy on the "Charleys Aunt" order and went with a "snap" and "go" that kept the audience in a continual state of merriment throughout the entire performance. The company is a very capable and hard working one, very strong in singing voices and the interpolated specialties were up-to-date and thoroughly enjoyable; the great "Salome Dance," as modified and dressed, by Mlle. LaTosca, being the most artistic interpretation of that celebrated dance ever presented to a Seattle audience. Miss Sidney Farmer as "Juanita" the Girl from Chili, is an actress of extreme cleverness and vivacity, wore stunning gowns and met all the requirements of the role. Taken all in all, it is a performance well worth seeing and worthy of the patronage given it by the Grand clintle on the opening night. Seattle, Wash. (Post Intelligencer) Oct. 18th, 1908. "The Girl from Chili" is booked at the Nelson opera house Saturday evening next.

ECZEMA AND PILES CURED

Magistrate and School Commissioner Healed by Zam-Buk.

Zam-Buk by its healing powers has earned the praise of men and women in the highest stations of life. One of the latest prominent gentlemen to speak highly in Zam-Buk's favor is Mr. C. E. Sanford, of Weston, King's Co., N. S. Mr. Weston is a justice of the peace for the county, and a member of the board of school commissioners. He is also deacon of the Baptist church in Berwick. Indeed throughout the country it would be difficult to find a man more widely known and more highly respected.

Some time back he had occasion to test Zam-Buk, and here is his opinion of this great balm. He says: "I had a patch of eczema on my ankle, which had been there for over twenty years! Sometimes also the disease would break out on my shoulders. I had taken solution of arsenic, had applied various ointments, and tried all sorts of things to obtain a cure, but in vain. Zam-Buk, unlike all else I tried, proved highly satisfactory, and cured the ailment.

"I have also used Zam-Buk for itching piles, and it has cured them completely also. I take comfort in helping my brother man, and if the publication of my experience of Zam-Buk will lead other sufferers to try it, I should be glad. For the cure of piles and skin diseases, I know of nothing equal to Zam-Buk."

Zam-Buk also cures burns, cuts, ulcers, blood poisoning, ringworm, scalp sores, chapped hands, cold sores, and all skin injuries and diseases. Rubbed well on to the chest in cases of cold it relieves the tightness and aching. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price, 3 boxes for $1.25.

The boat was built on the theory that while the body was stationary the end would roll over the water and that tremendous speed would be attained. The boat, however, never did more than five miles an hour and the difficulty of managing always made her trips dangerous to other craft.

NELSON NEWS OF THE DAY

The Sunday school teachers' Guild of St. Saviour's church will meet tonight in the parish hall and not in the rectory.

It is expected that principal Mackay of Vancouver will address a meeting of men in St. Paul's church on Sunday afternoon on a live topic which will shortly be announced.

The conference between the board of trade and Messrs. Walsh and Beadner of the Canadian Manufacturers' association on the subject of freight rates will take place at the board of trade offices at the foot of Ward street at 4 p. m. today.

The question is asked what is a New England supper? Is there New England flavor of the dishes? or New Engand fashion in the dresses? or New England tone in the conversation? The only answer is, come to the Presbyterian church parlors on Friday evening and find out. A hearty welcome, a first rate supper and good company are guaranteed.

The annual meeting of the Nelson hockey club will be held at 8 p. m. tonight, city time, in Fife's barber shop when officers for the ensuing year will be elected. As matters of considerable importance in connection with the club's program for the winter will be discussed it is hoped that there will be a full attendance of all players and others interested in the game.

The Carpenters' union held their annual social in Miners' Union hall last night at which there was a large attendance. A first class program was provided and a most enjoyable time was spent.

One of the most successful and enjoyabe concerts that has been given in Nelson in a long time was that of the Churchman's club of St. Saviour's church in the opera house last evening. An excellent program had been prepared for the occasion and was carried through in admirable style. The Churchman's club deserve every credit, as well as the thanks of those who attended last evening's concert for the excellent entertainment provided.

Allan Purvis, the new C. P. R. superintendent, will arrive on the Crow boat tonight. Mr. Purvis has been in the service of the company for upwards of 15 years, practically all of which time has been spent on the Pacific division. He was for some years secretary, and afterwards chief clerk to R. Marpole when the latter was general superintendent, and also served in the latter capacity for general superintendent Busteed. Last February Mr. Purvis was appointed superintendent at Souris, Man. Some years ago Mr. Purvis was sent to the Kootenay on account of failing health and served as purser on the steamer Kokanee for a time. He is therefore already well and favorably know to Nelsonites.

CARNEGIE AND TARIFF

Steel Men Disagree With Him Regarding Reduction.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—Andrew Carnegie, his wealth, his views on the steel tariff and his claim that it costs less to produce steel in the United States than abroad offered a fertile field for the interrogations of the ways and means committee of the house today. The tariff enquiry on the metal schedules produced several surprises not the least of which was the voluntary declaration by several manufacturers of iron and steel products that their industry could stand a reduction in duty.

The steel and rail men disagreed entirely with Mr. Carnegie's views as expressed in his widely discussed magazine article favoring a reduction in the duties.

The democratic members and representatives Boutell, of the republican side of the committee did most of the questioning today. Iron, steel, zinc and manufacture of metals were taken up.

J. A. Campbell, manufacturer of wrought iron pipe had the distinction of being the first manufacturer to tell the committee voluntarily that he is getting too much protection from the tariff. He said that the duty on lap-welded and butt- welded tube is prohibitive and can be reduced one half and yet give ample protection. He also vounteered the information that the manufacturers could stand a reduction of 20 cents a ton on the duty on round iron wire. He claimed the present rate on steel rails is necessary.

C. E. Fulton, president of the Pennsylvania steel company and a spokesman for the producers of steel rails pleaded that the present duty of $7 a ton on steel rails is reasonable. He said than any considerable reduction would necessitate a reduction in the cost of labor.

P. S. Witherbee, of New York, representing a producer of iron ore on lake Champlain said that trade could stand a reduction on iron ore of from 15 percent to 20 percent.

RESPONSE IS LIBERAL

Eagles Subscribe for Debentures for New Hall.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles met last night at Fraternity hall and once again was the necessity for a larger lodge room brought home to the membership.

The regular seating capacity was not adequate and double rows of chairs had to be provided. Several candidates were taught how to fly artistically, and much routine business transacted. The building committee presented a minute report of the progress of the new hall, and explained of the $25,000 necessary to complete the building, only some $4000 odd was not provided for, and an opportunity was afforded to the members to subscribe for debentures. The response was immediate, and judging thereby it is safe to say that when completed, the committee will be enabled to turn over the new hall to the Aerie with a considerable portion of the original loan, thought necessary at the start of operations, provided for from the sale of debentures. As every debenture purchased by local members and their friends means the keeping or just so much interest on the amount invested from going out of the city, as well as showing that Nelson people are sanguine of the city's future; the Aerie hopes that the entire cost of the building will be subscribed at home.

Another Record Shipment.

CALGARY, Nov. 25.—Following the fast freight record from Liverpool to Calgary, 5089 miles, by freight in 21 days. This remarkabe time has just been made on a shipment of two cars of goods from Carr & Co., Liverpool, to T. L. Mewburn & Co. of this city, via the Canadian Pacific steamship and railway service. Had these goods been shipped by via New York a week or ten days would be lost in customs clearings. This record fully demonstrates the superiority of the C. P. R. freight service.

TO THE MUSICAL PUBLIC.

Mr. J. L. Osborne, with the Montelius Piano house makes a special feature of tuning, regulating piano actions. Hammers reshaped, revoiced in the best manner. Pianos that have become harsh and unsymettatic in tone quality should embrace this opportunity for having the original tone properly restored. Pianos that have been carelessly tuned or a minor third below pich should also be attended to. Mr. Osborne expects to make Nelson his home and will guarantee any work that he does. The Montelius Piano House. 173-6

SCORE ARE DEAD

Latest Reports From the Tornadoes in Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 25.—The known dead number 15 while unconfirmed reports declare that six other persons lost their lives as a resut of the storm which swept parts of this state Monday. Verified reports place the number of injured at 23, three probably fatally. Reports last night which were to the effect that the tornado was most severe at Piney were not substantiated today Reports show that no one was killed at that place. Several freak acts of the tornado were reported near Hot Springs and Berryville. School houses were lifted off the foundations and moved but the pupils and teachers inside escaped unhurt.

For Fishery Protection.

VICTDRIA, Nov. 25.—Tenders have been invited for a 19 knot fishery protection cruiser for British Columbia, to be in January 15. The cruiser will be 250 feet long, 32 feet beam and 15 feet deep. The British Coumbia marine railway company of Esquimalt, will submit a tender.

Match is Postponed.

MELBOURNE, Nov. 25.—On account of heavy rain, the Davis cup match has been postponed until tomorrow. Brooks and Wilding will represent Australia.

SPEAK THIS AFTERNOON

MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION REPRESENTATIVES HERE

WILL MEET LOCAL BOARD OF TRADE TODAY

J. G. Walsh, manager of the transportation department of the Canadian Manufacturers' association and R. W. Breadner, manager of the customs department of the same organization, arrived in Nelson last evening and will deliver addresses at a special meeting of the board of trade to be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon. To this meeting all manufacturers doing business in Nelson, whether members of the board of trade or not, and every member of the latter body is especially asked to be present.

The object of the visit to the west of Messrs. Walsh and Breadner, whose headquarters are in Toronto, is to meet members of the association in this part of Canada, as well as manufacturers who are not, to discuss with them questions of common interest and to get in touch with local conditions in the various centres visited.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

The Alberta conference of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will be held in Edmonton from February 18 to 21 next, inclusive. This will be the second annual conference to be held in Alberta; the first was held in Calgary last February and was very successful.

The local chapters having assumed the responsibility for the success of this forthcoming conference, are now issuing preliminary notices to all chapters in the province; and will be glad to hear from anyone interested. All communications, whether containing suggestions or enquiries will be greatfully received by the secretary, R. S. Young, Imperial bank, Edmonton. It is hoped that all interested in brotherhood work will take an active part in insuring the success of the conference; and that all chapters in the diocese will be well represented.
