GALLIHER AT FERNIE

Addresses Large Gathering of Electors in Stork's Opera House

Is Congratulated Upon Efficient Work Done for the Constituency--Good Meeting at Marysville

[Special to The Daily News]

Fernie, Oct. 13.—W. A. Galliher opened the campaign in this city tonight when he addressed a public meeting in the Stork opera house. The large hall was comfortably filled with an attentive and appreciative audience.

J. H. Bricker occupied the chair. Mayor Stork andl L. P. Eckstein gave excellent preliminary addresses. Among other things they each referred in very complimentary terms to the very efficient work done by Mr. Galliher at Ottawa and to the faithful service he had rendered his constituents.

Mr. Galliher held the closest attention of the audience for an hour and a half. His explanation and defense of the Grand Trunk Pacific agreement was logical, clear and concise. He showed that the government had driven a hard bargain and that the people of Canada were getting the most possible return for a small outlay of money. He contrasted this with the vacillating, vague, impracticable policy of Mr. Borden in which nothing definite is promised. Mr. Galliher touched briefly on the general prosperity of the country under the liberal administration and he quoted from statistics to show that the trade of the country had increased ten times more rapidly than under the conservative rule. Mr. Galliher strongly supported a duty on American rough lumber, claiming that this industry deserved protection to the same extent as kindred industries whose productions found ready markets in British Columbia. He would continue to work for that duty as he had in the past. The protection to the lead industry had been obtained in a bonus which worked more beneficially than would a duty. Mr. Galliher briefly outlined more specifically what he had done for the constituency and he frankly stated that he was prepared to be judged on November 22nd by his past record.

The meeting closed with rousing cheers for the king and the candidate.

AT MARYSVILLE

[Special to The Daily News]

Marysville, Oct. 13.—W. A. Galliher, candidate for the dominion house on the liberal ticket, arrived here yesterday about noon, and received a most cordial reception.

From here he drove to Kimberley and the Sullivan mine, returning to Marysville last evening, where a meeting was held in the hall of the Fairview hotel.

Marysville is a small place but there were about 150 people present, and when Mr. Galliher arrived, he was received with prolonged applause.

Fred Mitchell, president of the Miner's union, officiated as chairman.

Mr. Galliher for an hour and a half dwelt upon the issues, confining himself chiefly to the Grand Trunk Pacific contract and the positive attitude of the liberal party on the proposition, as contrasted with the vacillating policy of the conservative leader. The many strong points made by the speaker were heartily applauded, and at the close he was cheered to the echo.

Dr. King, M.P.P., and F. E. Simpson, of Cranbrook, followed with short talks, and the meeting adjourned with three cheers for Laurier and Galliher.

MACKINTOSH IS FOUND.

The Governor Hard at Work and in the Best of Spirits—Hopes to Win.

[Special to The Daily News]

Revelstoke, Oct. 12.—Hon. Charles H. Mackintosh, conservative candidate for Kootenay, whose immediat whereabouts of late appears to have troubled some of his followers in the southern portion of the constituency, has been quietly spending the last couple of days here doing good campaign work.

Accompanied by Thomas Taylor, M. P.P., Mr. Mackintosh left for Arrowhead today and later will go into the Lardeau-Slocan country via Comaplix, reaching Nelson next week.

The tory candidate is in the best of health and spirits and full of fight. He declares that his party will carry the country next month and later he hopes to win personally in Kootenay. Asked if he had been as successful financially recently as reported, the "governor" merely laughed and made no positive statement one way or the other. "You will hear from me later," was his parting remark.

BORDEN IN MONTREAL.

Montreal, Oct. 13.—R. L. Borden, leader of the opposition, arrived in the city from Cornwall at noon. He was met by a large number of local conservatives. He will speak in Windsor hall tomorrow night and at Monument National on Saturday night.

ALL'S WELL IN QUEBEC.

[Special to The Daily News]

Quebec, Oct. 13.—From present indications the liberals will gain every seat in the district of Quebec, including the counties of Montmorency and Dorchester at present represented by T. Chase Casgrain and Mr. Morin. Liberals are united and enthusiasm is general.

LAURIER IN TORONTO.

Toronto, Oct. 13.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier arrived here at noon today and was met by a large reception committee. Sir Wilfrid will remain till Saturday, speaking at Massey hall tomorrow night.

The premier was much gratified with the warmth of the greeting extended to him upon arriving here. He is in excellent spirits and while somewhat thin, looked well and hearty and exchanged pleasant greetings with many old friends who received him and had a word of encouragement for all who were presented to him. A few minutes were spent in an informal reception by the premier and lady Laurier at the King Edward hotel, which will be the premier's headquarters during his stay in the city.

BRITISH PREFERENCE.

Guelph, Ont., Oct. 13.—Speaking here last night sir Wilfrid Laurier said his government stood ready when the British government was prepared to give mutual preference to grant greater concessions than at present granted under the preferential tariff.

POLITICS IN QUEBEC.

Thirty Constituencies Still Wanting Conservative Candidates.

[Special to The Daily News]

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—Hon. Louis P. Brodeur, who is here today, says that there are 30 constituencies in Quebec in which there are no conservative candidates, and only three waiting liberal nominations. One of these is Nicolet, where solicitor general Rodolphe Lemieux will run, in addition to contesting Quebec.

Hon. sir Richard Cartwright leaves for Winnipeg on Friday, to take part in the political campaign. Sir Richard speaks in Winnipeg on Tuesday next.

QUESTION OF COMPENSATION.

Bell Telephone Company Wants Pay For Loss of Monopoly.

[Special to The Daily News]

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—Before the railway commission, in the case of the municipalities of Port Arthur and Fort William against the exclusive contract between the Bell Telephone company and the C. P. R., which forbids any other company than the Bell having connection with the railway stations, evidence was given yesterday showing that the contracts were worth half a million a year to the Bell people. The board some time ago gave authority for the telephones of Fort William and Port Arthur to connect, and the question is the compensation which the Bell company was to receive for the loss under their contracts.

WHEAT FOR THE WORLD

WEST IS CAPABLE OF PRODUCING 600,000,000 BUSHELS

SO SAYS PRESIDENT LONDON CORN TRADE ASSOCIATION

Winnipeg, Oct. 13—A. P. Wood, president of the London Corn Trade Association, was a passenger on the east bound train yesterday afternoon. Mr. Wood made a trip to the coast and returned with new ideas regarding the amount of grain which can be expected from the prairie provinces of Northwestern Canada.

"It is merely a matter of getting the settlers on the land," said Mr. Wood as the train pulled out, "and it will not be 60,000,000 bushels of wheat that you will be raising but 600,000,000. The fertile plains of western Canada will grow the wheat of the world, and it will enrich you all. All the nations of the earth will send their products to you in exchange for your wheat and flour. The wheat which can be grown in Canada is the finest in the world and will always be in demand."

GEN. SAKHAROFF'S ACCOUNT

He Tells of the Fighting on Monday And Tuesday

St. Petersburg, Oct. 13.—General Sakharoff, in a despatch to the general staff, dated the 11th gives some details of the operations Monday and Tuesday. He says: "The Manchurian army on October 10th strengthened its hold on the positions taken the previous evening five miles south of the Shakhe river. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon of Oct. 10th the enemy took the offensive between the Mandarin road and the village of Toumytsaos (north of Yentai) with about a division of infantry and several batteries of artillery. The enemy's attack was checked by the fire of our advance guard. They maintained artillery bombardment until the evening. On October 11th the Japanese attacked the Russians on both sides of the railroad and north of the Yentai mines. A fierce fight raged all day long, and by night the greater portion of the position occupied by the Japanese in Khowana pass had fallen into the hands of the Rusians who, however, at 5 o'clock in the evening, had not succeeded in capturing a wooded hill, constituting the key to the position. All day on October 11th the Russians maintained the offensive along the entire front against the Japanese advanced position, except at some points where they were obliged to retire to their main positions."

NEW PEACE CONFERENCE

It Will be a Year Before it Can be Convened

Washington, Oct. 13—The president is preparing to redeem his pledge to the delegates to the inter-parliamentary peace conference to secure another meeting of plenipotentaries of the powers signatory to the Hague convention with a view to revising and adding to that instrument. Complex machinery of this kind is difficult to get in motion and if the ordinary course is followed in these negotiations it will be at least a year, and probably a longer time before the meeting can be held.

THE BATTLE CONTINUES WITH HEAVY LOSSES

No Appreciable Progress Has Been Made in the Advance of the Russians While Oyama Reports the Capture of Thirty Guns From the Enemy--Japanese Have Brought Their Shell Fire to the Inner Fortress at Port Arthur

St. Petersburg, Oct. 14.—(1.50 a.m.)—Desperate fighting and heavy losses on both sides, with varying losses for the Russians, such is the summing up of the situation by general Kouropatkin, in a telegram filed on October 13th. There is no sign of the battle slackening. On the contrary, general Kouropatkin telegraphs that he has ordered the army to resume the fight with redoubled vigor today. General Kouropatkin himself is in the thickest of the fighting and general Sakharoff, his chief of staff, is personally directing reconnaissances. The conflict has been most desperate at the center and on the west flank. The advance guards at these points had to be repeatedly reinforced, owing to the great pressure of the Japanese attacks. At nightfall on October 12th, the Rusian right was withdrawn from its main position, but one of the abandoned positions was retaken at the point of the bayonet during the night. Contrary to field marshal Oyama's report, no mention is given in general Kouropatkin's report telling of an enveloping movement by Oku. The only positions captured by force were at the center, where the Rusians were compelled to retire during the afternoon. There is no mention of the loss of guns. The war office explains that even if it is true, it is of no material consequence.

According to telegrams from Russian correspondents the horrors of the battle were intensified by bitter cold and rain.

General Mistchenko, who had been reported to be raiding in Korea, played a conspicuous part in the fighting on the Russian left flank.

According to the latest news of the fighting toward Bensihu, the Russians were striving for the possession of a pass, but no news was received from there yesterday. The pass alluded to presumably is the Yua pass, which is eight miles due north of Bensihu. Should this pass fall into the hands of the Rusisans, it would involve the capture of Bensihu, thus opening up the road to Liao Yang.

According to the belief of the general staff, general Rennenkampf has not penetrated as far as the Taitse river, but he is said to be operating in the attempt to capture Bensihu.

PORT ARTHUR MUST FALL.

Until This Happens Peace Proposals Would Be Futile.

London, Oct. 13.—Discussing the battle between the Rusians and the Japanese south of Mukden, baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister, today said to the Associated Press that reports of Japanese successes must not be construed as forerunners of a decisive blow, as it is imposible for either commander to utterly crush the other. He says that if general Kouropatkin is defeated in the present battle, "he can put forward no strategical excuses as at Liao Yang."

He pointed out that the "retirement of Oyama merely means falling back on his main defences, namely Liao Yang, where all preparations in the way of fortifications and ammunition have been made for a prolonged stand in case of necessity."

Whatever the result of the present battle baron Hayashi believes that it will only have a small bearing upon the eventual decision of the grim issue at stake.

"Until Port Arthur falls," he said, "any proposal loking toward peace must be futile. Should it be captured, those in Russia who are supposed to favor a reasonable setlement would have both a more sentimental and material factor in favor of their point of view than developments of the Manchurian campaign could provide. Japan in possession of Port Arthur could treat for peace.

"Intervention in some shape or form must eventually occur. At the moment Russia declines anyone suggesting it, because there is involved a confession of defeat. Should Port Arthur fall, I think it would be sufficient."

LATE NEWS FROM THE FRONT

Indicates That the Japanese Have Been Successful.

Tokio, Oct. 13.—(Evening.)—The latest news from the front indicates Japanese success. General Oku's left army alone captured 5 guns. The Russians made two desperate counter attacks against the Japanese left, but were repulsed with heavy loss. The Japanese commanders in their report give expression to the admiration of the valor of the Russians. The Manchurian headquarter's telegram sent today reports as follows:

"In the last report our right army has been continuing a vigorous pursuit of the enemy towards the north.

"The column, which was despatched in the direction of Shihichiaotsy to interceptp the retreat of the enemy from Bensihu, continues its operations. The central army continues its attack on the Russians and expects to occupy the line between Tungshankou and Huchikuchiatsu today. The enemy in this direction appeared to retreat continuously until dusk this evening.

"A report that a large column of the enemy is moving to the southwest and is commencing the erection of defensive works at Chienhuangohiatien cannot be verified.

"The number of guns captured by the centre column of the left army is 16 instead of eight, as previously reported.

The right wing of the centre column of the left army captured four guns. The enemy's two counter attacks against the centre column of the left army, were very daring, but these attacks were repulsed with heavy damage, which was inflicted by our artillery and by a heavy infantry fire.

"The right column of the left army, while pursuing the enemy west of the Schili river, captured five guns, making the total number of guns captured 25.

"The supports and the artillery reserve advanced to Kuchiatzu and vicinity driving the Russians from Huanchiatien. The right wing of the left column of the centre army captured 150 prisoners."

> No appreciable progress has been made in the projected advance southward of the Russian armies, under general Kouropatkin, since the initial success of the movement on the capture or Bentsiaputze. Fighting of the most stubborn description continues along the entire front. Field marsnal Oyama reports the capture of 30 guns from the Russians. General Kouropatkin's report to emperor Nicholas is couched in guarded words and claims nothing in the way of accomplishing results. Reports from the Rusian miltiary commanders at Port Arthur show that the Japanese have brought a shell fire to bear upon the inner fortress. The garrison, however, is represented to be hopeful of the outcome of the siege.

RUSSIANS IN CONFUSION.

Disorderly Retreat With the Japanese in Pursuit.

Tokio, Oct. 13.—Further details of today's fighting are as follows: "A line from Maerhshan to Manchuafan has been reached. There a body of the enemy, possessing guns, was enveloped by us and thrown into great confusion, while another portion of the enemy's forces appears to have fled northward, also in great confusion.

"The right army has sent a detachment toward Shihchiastiu for the purpose of cutting off the retreat of the enemy posted at Bensihu, and this detachment will reach its destination about 3 o'clock this afternoon. The centre army captured two guns and eight ammunition wagons at Sankwatshishan this morning.

"According to statements made by prisoners, general Kouropatkin with three divisions was in the rear of the force confronting our right army. The centre and left columns of this army after driving a strong force of the enemy before them took the Russians positions at Langtoichien and its vicinity at 1.30 o'clock in the afternoon and captured eight guns. The enemy retreated in a disorderly mass to the north and our forces pursued them, advancing toward Linhanchiatzu. The right column, after encountering fierce resistance, dislodged the enemy, who was holding positions north of Yendonulu. The enemy retired in confusion. Our forces were engaged in pursuing the enemy toward Lungwangniae, south of Wulichiah at 1.30 this afternoon.

NEW JAPANESE GUNS.

They Are a Serious Menace to Port Arthur Fleet.

Che Foo, Oct. 13.—Local Russians confirm the report that the Russian battleship Retvizan was recently hit by a shell of the new big Japanese guns, but they claim that the damage done was slight. Two sailors were killed. Another shell burst near the Russian gunboat Giliaka, killing her commander, and injuring others. The Russians admit that the new Japanese guns furiously threaten the harbor, docks, etc., but they believe, however, that the squadron at Port Arthur will remain inside the harbor until the arrival of the Baltic fleet.

PRESSURE WAS HEAVY.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 13.—General Kouropatkin reports that during the fighting yesterday and today, the advance trops were reinforced from the principal positions, that his left wing was ordered to fall back on the main position and that about 2 p.m. the center was also obliged to fall back. The report does not mention the fighting on the right wing.

DANCHENKO'S ACCOUNT.

He Describes Some of the Fighting Up to the 11th.

General Kouropatkin's Headquarters at the Front, Oct. 11, via Mukden, Oct. 12.—(Morning)—Nemirovich Danchenko, the distinguished Russian war correspondent, telegraphs as follows to the Associated Press: The advance was general along the line on October 8th. The day was foggy and, while this did not contribute to high spirits, it served to impede the Japanese artillery, which as we approached their eastern position was extremely indifferent. On the west the Japanese slowly retreated before us. This day general Mistchenko had a brilliant engagement with the Japanese near Bentsiaputze. The Cossacks' batteries went at a gallop, firing and advancing to fresh positions, and repeating the operations, until the Japanese abandoned the hill positions and fled in confusion. It is reported the Japanese lost heavily in this encounter. Bentsiaputze was a magnificent position held by a division of Japanese and strongly entrenched.

Meantime hard fighting was proceeding on the extreme east, where we drove back the Japanese.

The same day the Voronski regiment was ordered to occupy the hills in front of Yentai. This was accomplished. Having secured a commanding position, they entrenched under heavy fire, driving back attack after attack. The day closed with a heavy rain. The Japanese retired long the whole line, in some cases six to twelve miles.

Yesterday, October 10th, we reached a position in the hills which lay across our line of advance. The Japanese were then a long distance in front. The weather was warm and the sun was bright. Below us on every side stretched the same corn fields which bordered the hills, varying in size, and with narrow passes. There is every prospect of a desperate attack on the part o themmmmmmmmmff fn cffffi the part of the Japanese in order to regain the passes they abandoned the day before.

The fighting so fat has cost us 200 killed or wounded.

General Kouropatkin is going forward carefully and watching the ground pers nally.

Firing is heard steadily in the direction of Yentai. It isreported that we have occupied the station.

The Japanese have ade a desperate attempt to occupy the hills held by the Voronski regiment. They threw a whole brigade of infantry against it, supported by a heavy fire from their battries.

The Voronski men gallantly held the positions. Our batteries first replied from the hilltops, but later went below. The advance continued slow and steadier with repeated skirmishes. The day closed with a smother of fog, lifted here and there by rain squalls.

Today, October 11th, the Japanese renewed the attack on the hill held by the Voronski regiment with terrific force. Their attacks had been driven back, when the brave regiment received the order to retire to the centre position.

A DESPERATE AFFAIR.

Fierce Encounter on Right and Centre of Line.

Field Headquarters of the Second Japanese Army, Oct. 11, via Fusan, Oct. 13.—During the night the Japanese occupied the hills held by the Russians on the right and center of the line, the Russians falling back a distance of three miles. The Japanese infantry advanced within 1500 yards of the Russian lines at noon, and defeated the Russians in a fierce encounter, almost annihilating the attacking force, and made three charges. The Russian artillery was not silenced despite a fiecer shelling all day.

BLOODY AND DESPERATE.

Fighting Along Railroad North of Yentai of That Character.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 13.—Private despatches sent on the night of October 11th from the headquarters of general Bilderting, whose corps occupies the Russian centre, describe the bloody and desperate character of the fighting along the railroad north of Yentai station, where on Monday the Russians repeatedly charged the Japanese trenches at the point of the bayonet, the fight continuing into the night. The Japanese reserved their fire until the Russians at the double were almost upon them. An instance is given of a regiment getting within a few yards of the Japanese trenches, but recoiling before the murderous volleys of the Japanese, then coming on again with reinforcements literally under a shower of shrapnel, and finally succeeding in driving out the Japanese. But the Japanese artillery fire was so withering that the Russians were unable to remain in the trenches. That night the Japanese artillery bombarded the Russian centre, preparing the way for a general counter attack which field marshal Oyama ordered for Tuesday.

The Japanese offensive movement extended to their extreme left. General Oku's army became for the first time engaged. At nightfall Tuesday the Japanese had forced back the Russian right but the centre held fast, although a few position had fallen into the hands of the enemy.

JAPANESE REPORTS.

Indicate That the Russians Are Making No Headway.

Tokio, Oct. 13.—An extended report received from the headquarters of the Manchurian armies, a brief summary of which is published this afternoon, indicates that the Japanese were generally successful in the fighting of yesterday and that all three of the Japanese armies gained decided advantages. The Japanese cptured a total of ten guns. The operations designed to isolate and surround the Russians at Bensihu, are progressing favorably. The numbers engaged in the struggle exceel the forces which fought at Liao Yang. In some places the fighting surpassed in desperation anything shown since the war began. The losses are not indicated, but they unquestionably are heavy. A telegram covering yesterday's operations, which arrived here today, says:

"In the direction of Bensihu the enemies attacks have been repulsed at all points. Communication with Chiaota have been firmly established. The pursuit of the enemy undertaken by the main force of the right and centre armies has progressed favorably."

KOUROPATKIN'S REPORT.

Ordered the Positions Now Held to Be Stubbornly Defended.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 13.—The full text of general Kouropatki's report to the emperor, which is dated October 13th, is as follows: "Last night and throughout the day the Manchurian army was engaged in a fierce fight. The Japanese concentrated a direct force against our dispositions on the centre and right wing. We carried the fight from advanced positions and it became necessary to support these advance guards from the main position. The right wing held its advance position and only at nightfall, under my orders, retired to the principal position. In the centre the troops were forced to retire from the advanced to the main position at about 2 p.m. According to the reports and to my own observations the fighting was most desperate. We repulsed numerous Japanese attacks and ourselves assumed the offensive. The heroic defence of its advance position by the Tomsk regiment is especially deserving of mention.

"During the night our troops on the right flank recaptured at the point of the bayonet a position which had been taken the previous night. On the left flank severe fighting for the possession of a pass has been continued. Our troops scaled almost inaccessible rocks and held their ground for two days, gradually approaching the enemy. I have not yet received a report of the result of today's fighting on the left wing. Under the conditions of the fighting the losses are necessarily considerable. I have ordered that the positions we now hold be stubbornly defended tomorrow."

RESULT OF BATTLE.

Tokio Reports Indicate That Kouropatkin Has Been Beaten.

Tokio, Oct. 13.—(2 p.m.)—It is yet too early to measure the results of the tremendous struggle, which has been proceeding for the past three days south of Mukden, but all reports reaching Tokio, indicate that general Kouropatkin has been decisively whipped and severely punished. The Russian commander was evidently caught while making a disposition of his forces, and he was beaten before he could recover. Much depends on the ability and resolution of the Japanese in following up their advantages. General Kouropatkin may turn upon favorable ground and succeed in beating back the Japanese onslaught, but the tide seems against him. The Japanese yesterday began a desperate effort to turn the Russian right and if this should be successful, it will carry disaster to the Russian arms. The struggle around Bensihu was followed with intense interest here. The Russian force there is estimated at 5000 and loss would be a severe blow. Estimates of the total forces engaged vary. One telegram from Liao Yang says that the Russians have 200,000 men with 1000 guns. The Japanese force exceeds the number engaged at the battle of Liao Yang.

RECAPTURED SIGNAL HILL.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 13.—General Stoessel, commander of the Russian trops at Port Arthur, telegraphs that the Russians recently recaptured Signal Hill. He adds that the Japanese are bombarding the interior of the fortress with new batteries, and the bombardment is becoming more violent.

"The Japanese, having increased the number of their guns against the north front commenced an approach against that portion of the fortress on the night of October 10th, but were stopped by volleys. The Japanese then directed their attack on the extreme right flank, assailing Signal Hill which is situated near the sea and commenced an attack from Siaku hill. Having repulsed our sharpshooters the Japanese occupied Signal hill. At daylight Signal hill was shelled by the Russian artillery after which our companies drove off the Japanese and reoccupied the position. The Japanese are using explosive enclosed in boxes provided with Bickford fuses which they throw like hand grenades. Our garrison is successfully employing similar weapons.

"Our indefatigable hero Kondrat is continually inventing such means of striking the enemy. The troops continue to show heroism, the wounded returning to the ranks full of ardor.

"The Japanese have organized fresh batteries to bombard the inner fortress. One of these batteries is composed of 11-inch mortars. The bombardment is becoming more violent every day. The enemy has received reinforcements of several battalions. The weather is cold. The spirit of the troops is excellent and all from the chief to the lowest soldier are eager to fight the enemy."

RUSSIANS LOSE THEIR GUNS.

Tokio, Oct. 13.—General Oku has captured 25 Russian guns, making a total of about 30 Russians guns which have fallen into the hands of the Japanese since the battle began. The latest reports from the front tell of continued successes.

IMPORTANT MINING DEAL.

Professor Brock To Act as Arbitrator in Amalgamation Scheme.

[Special to The Daily News]

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 13.—The governors of the school of mining have granted professor R. Brock three months leave of absence. He will accept a position as arbitrator in connection with the proposed amalgamation of the Le Roi Centre Star and other large mining companies in British Columbia.

CONNAUGHT IN SMASH-UP

King's Brother's Motor Car Collides With a Cart

He Was Thrown Violently to the Ground and Rendered Unconscious--His Injuries Are Not Severe

Edinburgh, Oct. 13.—The Duke of Connaught, brother of king Edward, while driving in a motor car from Edinburgh to Gosford House, the seat of the earl of Wemyss, tonight, had a narrow escape and suffered injuries from which he was for a time rendered unconscious. The automobile in which the duke was riding with his aide de camp, major Murray, in passing a street car collided with a cart. The overhanging portion of the cart struck the rear seat of the automobile, and literally carried away that section of the vehicle. The duke was thrown out with great force. As soon as the automobile could be stopped major Murray went to the aid of the duke, whom he found unconscious and bleeding from wounds about the head.

A second automobile, carrying members of the duke's suite, came up and the duke was taken back to Edinburgh in it. By the time the automobile reached Edinburgh the duke had recovered and was able to walk into his hotel. After two stitches were taken on his ear and his hurts had been examined by physicians it was announced that the duke would suffer no serious consequences, but that he had received a severe shaking up and shock. Major Murray was not hurt.

PORT ARTHUR SHORT OF COAL.

German Steamer Emma to Receive Bonus For Running Blockade.

Tsingtau, Oct. 13.—The correspondent of the Associated Press learns on most reliable authority that a high Russian officer who passed through Tsing-i tau yesterday on his way to Shanghai is making fabulous offers to shippers to take cargoes to Port Arthur, and that this officer had admitted that the supplies were alarmingly low, and especially those of coal. The German steamer Emma, which cleared from here yesterday for San Francisco with a cargo of coal, will attempt to reach Port Arthur. The foreign crew is replaced by Chinese. Many of the crew deserted on learning the destination of the ship. It is said the Russian paid $15 per ton, besides depositing the appraised value of the vessel, with a bonus of 25 per cent, in a bank before the cargo was loaded and that the captain, should he succeed in running the blockade, is to be awarded a prize of $1,250.

It Attacked and Drove the Russians Away in Disorder.

Field Headquarters of the Japanese Left Army, Oct. 12, via Fusan, Oct. 14.—The left army made an advance last night and early this morning occupied a position close to a village and field occupied by the Russians. The Japanese attacked along the whole front, driving the Russians out of the positions which they retired to yesterday. At 3 o'clock this afternoon the Russians were retiring northward in disorder. The Japanese captured a complete Russian battery. The Japanese are pursuing and shelling the retreating Russians, whose loss is probably large.

OYAMA IS SATISFIED.

His Centre and Right Armies Have Made Substanual Gains.

Tokio, Oct. 13.—Field marshal Oyama, reporting from the field Wednesday afternoon expresses satisfaction at the progress of the operations and fighting between the Taitse and Hun rivers. The centre and right armies made substantial gains. While the left army was desperately struggling to envelop the Russian right field marshal Oyama despatched two telegrams, the first of which said: "The state of affairs in the direction of Mukden is as follows: On the morning of October 8th the center column of the right army at 5 o'clock occupied Lokoutin mountain and the northern heights of Pachetszu. The left column of the right army occupied the northern heights of Shaotakon, and continued to pursue the enemy's central column. The right army succeeded in occupying Maerh mountain. The central army, beginning operations from midnight October 11th, reached the heights extending from Sanchiatzu to Sankaushih mountain on the northwest, and is probably pursuing the enemy."

EVICTION IN IRELAND

London, Oct. 13J—At Feitsport, near Cork, an attempt yesterday to evict a tenant named Edmund Murphy for unpaid rents of six years led to serious fighting. Fifty police, arriving early in the morning, found the place barricaded. A crowd assembled and assisted Murphy, assaulting the police with red hot irons, boiling water and stones and compelling them to desist. The conflict continued all day. With the arrival of reinforcements the police charged the mob with fixed bayonets and many on both sides were injured. Later in the evening, through the mediation of the parish priest, Murphy was induced to surrender. Altogether 30 arrests wee made. A policeman had all his front teeth knocked out.

BORDEN'S RAILWAY POLICY

The Daily News yesterday published the full text of a telegram sent by R. L. Borden, the conservative leader, to sir Charles Hibbert Tupper at Vancouver, regarding his railway policy.

Mr. Borden's message is an important one and deserves careful consideration.

The first thought that occurs in connection with this pronouncement is the peculiar method Mr. Borden has of making known his policy, or perhaps we should say, the policy of the moment, for he has promulgated so many different policies in reference to railway construction, that it is somewhat difficult to follow his quick-change methods from day to day.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper is the medium Mr. Borden adopts to make known his latest railway policy. He has been touring Ontario, speaking at several points but at none of them did he place himself as frankly on record as in the telegram sent to sir Hibbert.

Mr. Borden now says that if the conservative party be successful at the polls the government, of which he will be the head, will immediately proceed with the construction of a transcontinental railway as a government work.

This declaration is distinctly contradictory of his attitude in parliament last session, entirely out of accord with the expressed views of practically all his chief lieutenants, absolutely contrary to the policy of the conservative party and emanates solely from Mr. Borden and consequently, at best, can only be accepted as Mr. Borden's personal inclination in the matter.

We do not wish to question Mr. Borden's sincerity in this matter, but it is fair to suggest that very little confidence can be placed in his latest railway policy in view of the frequency with which he changes his ground. To-day Mr. Borden may honestly intend to undertake the construction of another transcontinental railway. But how do we know where he will be tomorrow?

In the debate on the Grand Trunk Pacific contract in parliament last session, Mr. Borden is reported in Hansard as saying:

"So far as the line from Quebec to Winnipeg is concerned, I am not to be supposed to minimise the possibilities of that northern country. Thoroughly explore and understand it, and then build that line from Quebec to Winnipeg, as a colonization road, according as the requirements of the people and colonization demand. And within a certain number of years, if a practicable route be found, then extend that road to the Pacific coast."

There is nothing indicative of immediate construction of any part of the road in that statement and as to the Pacific coast section of it, that was to have been deferred indefinitely.

During the same debate Mr. Haggart, an ex-minister of railways, and one of Mr. Borden's chief lieutenants, is reported in Hansard as saying:

"Is it possible to build a road from Winnipeg to Quebec and from Quebec to Moncton on modern principles? Has it ever entered into the heads of the ministers what an enormous sum will be required for the construction of that road? I fail to see a scintilla of evidence that the eastern portion of this road will be of any use. There are many propositions, but none of them involve the absurdities of this proposition of building a line from Winnipeg to Quebec and from Quebec to Moncton. I have proved conclusively that there is no necessity for this road in New Brunswick. It is a useless appendage."

Dr. Sproule, another Ontario tory leader, said:

"What province has been clamoring for this scheme? Hon. gentlemen have been unable to show any such demand. Has Ontario called for it? No, the sentiment of Ontario is against the subsidising of railways. We have no mandate from the people to undertake the building of a transcontinental railway and add to the debt of the country a sum no less than $125,00,000. I say the supply of railways in many portions of the western country is ample."

Extracts of similar import from the speeches in parliament of Mr. Borden and his chief lieutenants might be quoted by the ream, but the foregoing afford ample insight into the real views of the conservative party with regard to the construction of a new transcontinental railway.

The fact of the matter is that the conservative party at first undertook to oppose unconditionally the construction of a new transcontinental railway. Finding that course to be overwhelmingly against public sentiment they changed their tactics and declared for a variety of projects, one after the other, but none of them promising anything more than a very partial adoption of the government ownership idea. As a last resort, in the closing hours of the session, Mr. Borden introduced a resolution vaguely suggesting government construction of a new transcontinental line at some indefinite period and under conditions that made the proposal obviously absurd. Even the palpable insincerity of this last resolution did not make it palatable to the leading conservative journals, which immediately denounced the government ownership idea in terms anything but complimentary to their party chief.

The traditions of the conservative party are totally opposed to any policy of this nature. Sir John A Macdonald and sir Charles Tupper were open and avowed opponents of government ownership. In practice the policy of the conservative party has all along been in the direction of granting practically unconditioned control of railways to private corporations. Their contract with the C. P. R. is an example. But the clearest light is thrown upon conservative ideas of the proper railway policy by reference to Manitoba's experience.

The present conservative government in that province was placed in office upon a platform pledging them to the principle of government ownership.

Having got into power the conservative government immediately began to give reasons why government ownership is a bad thing. In explanation of the deal with the Northern Pacific, premier Roblin said:

"Now the question I proposed to myself was why would we want the Northern Pacific as a government road? We realized that we could not operate it and secure such material benefit for the people of the country as we desire without subjecting ourselves to all the dangers which threaten to overtake government operation of roads as shown in other portions of Canada. We realized that it was not wisdom to undertake the control of the road and operate it ourselves and make it part of the political organization of the day."

Apropos there is a story told of a colored ported on the end platform of a car that somebody wanted to stand on. He said: "Massa, you bettah git into de car. The person asked: What is the platform for, and the colored man replied: "Well, sah, platforms are to get in on and not to stand on."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

"It's a long time between seats," says Hon. George Eulas Foster when he views a sitting down place in North Toronto.

The Toronto News is out for Foster and Aylesworth. Fence-straddling like that must make riding on a rail feel like a pleasure excursion, remarks the Montreal Star.

London (Eng.) Bullionist:—"While Canadian tories were waiting for the millennium to come to them, the Canadian liberals set about seeing what could be done to bring about closer trade relationship between the dominion and the mother country."

John Wanamaker says:—"If there is one enterprise on earth that a 'quitter' should leave severely alone, it is advertising. To make a success of advertising one must be prepared to stick to it like a barnacle on a boat's bottom. He should know before he begins it that he must spend money—lots of it. Somebody must tell him, also, that he cannot hope to reap results commensurate with his expenditure early in the game. Advertising doesn't jerk; it pulls. It begins very gentle at first, but the pull is steady. It increases day by day, and year by year, until it exerts an irresistible power."

The hope which springs eternal in the human breast glows fiercely in the bosom of the party campaigner. Oh, the brave fellows! How they whistle to keep up their courage! How they smile in the teeth of danger! How they swell like the frog who would be an ox! How they hold their chins up and thump their chests and consult maps and brandish little leather-covered notebooks which prove to a fraction that the other side has no chance at all! How they do talk, making the ephah small and the shekel great! How they do go to their imaginations for their facts, and see pots of gold at the foot of every rainbow, and build castles in the clouds, and impoverish the Aurora Borealis for language! How they do hyperbolize! And how we would miss it if they ever happened to discard this fine, old, immemorial method of throwing dust in the eyes of Fortune, and tricking her into an alliance with these dazzling predictions! Do you know any politician who is not an optimist—anyone, we mean, except George Eulas Foster? Why, it's part of the game. The dreariest advocate of blue ruin in parliament, the most inveterate apostle of despair, becomes an optimist at election time so far as his party's chances are concerned. If he didn't he wouldn't be human.

Miss Rose Peterson, Secretary Parkdale Tennis Club, Chicago, from experience advises all young girls who have pains and sickness peculiar to their sex, to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many beautiful young girls develop into worn, listless and hopeless women, simply because sufficient attention has not been paid to their physical development. No woman is exempt from physical weakness and periodic pain, and young girls just budding into womanhood should be carefully guided physically as well as morally.

If you know of any young lady who is sick, and needs motherly advice, ask her to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., who will give her advice free, from a source of knowledge which is unequalled in the country. Do not hesitate about stating details which one may not like to talk about, and which are essential for a full understanding of the case.

Miss Hannah E. Mershon, Collingswood, N. J., says:

"I thought I would write and tell you that, by following your kind advice, I feel like a new person. I was always thin and delicate, and so weak that I could hardly do anything. Menstruation was irregular.

"I tried a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and began to feel better right away. I continued its use, and am now well and strong, and menstruate regularly. I cannot say enough for what your medicine did for me."

How Mrs. Pinkham Helped Fannie Kumpe.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it is my duty to write and tell you of the benefit I have derived from your advice and the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The pains in my back and womb have all left me, and my menstrual trouble is corrected. I am very thankful for the good advice you gave me, and I shall recommend your medicine to all who suffer from female weakness." — MISS FANNIE KUMPE, 1922 Chester St., Little Rock, Ark. (Dec. 16, 1900.)

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure any woman in the land who suffers from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability, nervous prostration, and all forms of woman's special ills.

JAP'S DESPERATE STAND

SINGLE-HANDED HELD AT BAY HALF-A-DOZEN COSSACKS.

FINALLY HAD TO BE SMOKED OUT OF HIS RETREAT.

Berlin, Oct. 13.—The desperate courage of the single Japanese soldier was never better illustrated than in the following story from Odessa of a Cossack, named Uriiadtsoff:

"Near Taschichao we pursued a Jap infantryman into a Chinese house, where he rushed up a loose stair or ladderway leading to a loft, and began to shoot. We had no ammunition, so thought we would burn him out, when down went one of our men with a bullet wound in his back. This made us mad, and we rushed up the stair. There was room only for one at a time, and Misha Medvedtseff rushed first. The Jap waited till Misha was on him, and then fired right through his body, wounding the man behind. The rush from behind drove Misha's dead body on top of him, and the third man taking advantage of this, hacked at the Jap, cutting his cheek. Yellow face yelled, and fired again, killing our third man. Now it was my time, and though I knew I was done for, I felt no fear, but only thirst to cut down the Jap, who laughed at every sho.. However, I was not going to give myself away, so instead of rushing on I used by lance. The Jap drove it down with his rifle muzzle, but it went through his knee. He yelled and shot at me, and I tumbled down, and remembered no more. There were three blood-thirsty demons behind, and master Jap wasn't safe yet. I heard afterwards how he rushed at one man who hesitated to go on, pulled him over the bodies and struck him with a knife. The other two men were knocked down by shots. When more of our men came up, they fired the house, after pulling me and the other wounded out. The Jap seeing he was done for, put his head through a window and laughed. Then he jumped, and was caught on a lance."

THE WINNIPEG FIRE

It Will in no Way Affect Ashdown Co.'s Wholesale Trade

J. Drewe, local manager of the J. H. Ashdown Hardware Company, returned last evening from a business visit to Spokane, where he has been since Sunday. In speaking about the destruction of the retail establishment of the firm in Winnipeg, he stated that it would in no way affect the wholesale business of the firm. The wholesale store of the firm was located in a different part of the city from the retail establishment. The retail place destroyed was the largest retail store in Canada. The building occupied by it was four stories high and had a frontage of 75 feet and ran back the full length of the block. The firm has a large stock of goods in its wholesale establishment and in a day or two will have a retail store in operation; in the meantime customers can be served from the wholesale place, if necessary.

Mr. Drewe was much surprised to learn that Spokane had such a large wheat growing area tributary to it, and said he was astonished to learn that the farming country tributary to Spokane will yield 40,000,000 bushels of wheat this year.

OGILVIE MILLING COMPANY

It is in a Prosperous Condition—The Officers Elected

Montreal, Oct. 13—The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Ogilvie Mills Company, Limited, was held at the head office of the company in this city today. The statement submitted showed that the company had experienced a successful year. The shareholders were gratified to know that the capacity of the mills at Montreal had been increased and that the company are making arrangements for the erection of another large flour mill at Fort William, where the company's elevator, having a capacity of 500,000 bushels of wheat, will be in operation during the coming month.

W. F. Thompson, vice-president of the company, who has just returned from the west, reported that he was satisfied that the wheat crop of Manitoba and the territories would be approximately 65,000,000 bushels.

The following directors were elected for the ensuing year: C. R. Hosmer, president; W. F. Thompson, vice-president; directors, sir George A. Drummond, sir Montague Allan, E. S. Clouston, H. S. Holt, and Hon. G. T. Fulford; W A Black, western manager; Shirley Ogilvie, secretary; S. A. McMurtry, treasurer; George Creak, auditor.

"MY FRIEND FROM INDIA"

Famous Comedy to be Given Here by Walker's Comedians

Walker's Comedians is the strongest comedy company sent into western territory and the play that they are to give us tonight is that world famous laughing hit, "My Friend From India." Everyone has read of the phenomenal success of this irresistable comedy which has packed the largest theatres in all the great cities. Up to this season the owners of the piece have refused o part with the Canadian right of production, but Mr. Walker has now purchased this right and the first opportunity to see it is offered. Walker's Comedians are all players of reputation and a production complete in every respect is assured. There is genuine merriment in store for our amusement seekers this evening when "My Friend From India" will be submitted to them.

A MINER KILLED

Frank Spitz Met Death on Tuesday in the Idaho Mine.

Frank Spitz, a miner employed in the Idaho mine, near Sandon, was killed by the explosion of a blast on Tuesday. The unfortunate man's body was more or less mangled by the force of the blast and by the large pieces of rock thrown out by the explosion. Portions of his head were blown off. Yesterday D. J. Robertson of this city, sent a casket to Sandon. The funeral will be held at Sandon under the auspices of the Sandon Miners' union, of which the deceased was a member. Spitz has worked in the Slocan for a considerable period and was well and favorably known. He was a native of Italy.

MINING RECORDS

At the mining recorder's office on Thursday certificates of work were granted to James E. Kane on the Careless and William Connolly on the Gracie R and the Rossland.

The Gordon Mining & Milling Company recorded the location of the Bedrock mineral claim, about one and a half miles from Erie.

W. R. Sloan of Ymir, conveyed to G. A. M. Young of Moyie, the Ibis, Edith F., Jennie, Hightown, Hecla, Coblat and K. V. mineral claims on Goat mountain. Consideration nominal.

LONG DELAYED ORDERS

Registrar Simpkins yesterday received office copies of the orders made by the full court in the railway assessment appeal cases. The cases were argued on June 14th. Judgment was given on July 29th and yesterday thhe orders were sent on here, possibly by the end of the current year more details may be forthcoming. They are a liesurely class in Victoria. No Victorian was ever known to be in a hurry on any occasion and the city holds the record for delay in all legal matters.

The judgment given dismisses the appeal of the Kaslo & Slocan railway in the Revelstoke, Kaslo and Nelson assessments and awards the costs to the government agent in each instance. In the case of the Nelson & Fort Sheppard railway in the Nelson assessment district, the appeal of the company against the assessment of 502,861 acres of their lands at 45 cents per acre is set allowed with costs and the assessment is set aside and will have to be gone over again.

The judges composing the court were: Drake, Irving and Duff. John Elliot for the government wins in three cases and A. H. MacNeill of Rossland wins one appeal.

CONDITIONS AT COAST

NOTABLE REAL ESTATE DEAL PUT THROUGH AT VANCOUVER

MILLION DOLLAR HOTEL FOR THE CITY OF VICTORIA

J. S. Carter, district passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific railway, has returned from a visit to the coast. While away he was in Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle and reports that each of these cities is lively.

"Vancouver," he said "is showing great activity. Real estate is moving well there and investors are in many cases buying for the purpose of building. A notable transaction was that made by L. A. Hamilton, who sold a piece of property on Hastings street near Granville for $108,000, which he purchased 14 years ago for $1200. Since he bought the property it has paid good interest on the investment from the rentals which he received from the wooden tenements on the property. This property sold at the rate of $300 a front foot, which, I was told, was the highest price per front foot that has been paid for Vancouver realty. There are lots, however, which the owners would not part with for $1000 a front foot. From this you can see that business property in Vancouver is worth considerable money.

"There is a great deal of activity in building in Vancouver both in business blocks and in residences. These business blocks being erected are of the most modern make, while the residences that are now being erected there are provided with bathrooms with tile flooring and other up-to-date conveniences and the houses are fitted with heating apparatus. There is none of the shack building to speak of, which was characteristic of the earlier days of the town. Dwellings must be more than comfortable, they must be almost luxurious nowadays, to command the higher rentals in the terminal town.

"The hotels of Vancouver have simply been unable to accommodate the hosts of tourists that have been daily coming in during the past several months. A great many of these visitors were from Seattle, Tacoma, Portland and San Francisco. The fine new C.P.R. steamer Princess Victoria, has been an important factor in bringing in a large number of tourists from nearby places. The steamer is a very comfortable one to travel on.

"Vancouver is growing rapidly and one great factor in her prosperity is the settling of the interior of the province from the coast to the Rockies. It is not very thickly settled, but there is enough, with the coastwise and foreign trade to support the town, I believe, in good shape.

"Victoria looks forward to a big increase in the number of tourists when the C.P.R. hotel is completed. The hotel is to cost over a million dollars and is to be as large and as well equipped as the Frontenac at Quebec. Victoria is a city of homes and a most desirable place of residence. If I had an income I would retire and live in Victoria.

"Seattle is going ahead at a rapid rate and they are beginning to erect skyscrapers there. A 20 storey skyscraper is now being finished and several others are on the carpet, and will soon be built. A new union passenger depot is being built in the southern portion of the city which will be a great convenience to the travelling public. Seattle, I must say, is progressing rapidly."

FIND ON SILVER DOLLAR.

Rich Four-Foot Galena Lead Found Under 15 Feet of Wash.

News from the Camborne section is that a find of a rich four-foot lead of galena was made recently on the Silver Dollar group. The ledge was uncovered under 15 feet of wash by a force of men who had been engaged in prospecting the group. The lead is located about 300 feet southeast from the crosscut tunnel, 200 feet from the drift, and 100 eet southeast of the steel galena outcrop, which was discovered some time since. On the drift on the group considerable progress is being made by the contractors, the ore in the face being of the concentrating sort, carrying considerable free gold.

BORDEN'S RAILWAY POLICY

The Daily News yesterday published the full text of a telegram sent by R. L. Borden, the conservative leader, to sir Charles Hibbert Tupper at Vancouver, regarding his railway policy.

Mr. Borden's message is an important one and deserves careful consideration.

The first thought that occurs in connection with this pronouncement is the peculiar method Mr. Borden has of making known his policy, or perhaps we should say, the policy of the moment, for he has promulgated so many different policies in reference to railway construction, that it is somewhat difficult to follow his quick-change methods from day to day.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper is the medium Mr. Borden adopts to make known his latest railway policy. He has been touring Ontario, speaking at several points but at none of them did he place himself as frankly on record as in the telegram sent to sir Hibbert.

Mr. Borden now says that if the conservative party be successful at the polls the government, of which he will be the head, will immediately proceed with the construction of a transcontinental railway as a government work.

This declaration is distinctly contradictory of his attitude in parliament last session, entirely out of accord with the expressed views of practically all his chief lieutenants, absolutely contrary to the policy of the conservative party and emanates solely from Mr. Borden and consequently, at best, can only be accepted as Mr. Borden's personal inclination in the matter.

We do not wish to question Mr. Borden's sincerity in this matter, but it is fair to suggest that very little confidence can be placed in his latest railway policy in view of the frequency with which he changes his ground. To-day Mr. Borden may honestly intend to undertake the construction of another transcontinental railway. But how do we know where he will be tomorrow?

In the debate on the Grand Trunk Pacific contract in parliament last session, Mr. Borden is reported in Hansard as saying:

"So far as the line from Quebec to Winnipeg is concerned, I am not to be supposed to minimise the possibilities of that northern country. Thoroughly explore and understand it, and then build that line from Quebec to Winnipeg, as a colonizaton road, according as the requirements of the people and colonization demand. And within a certain number of years, if a practicable route be found, then extend that road to the Pacific coast."

There is nothing indicative of immediate construction of any part of the road in that statement and as to the Pacific coast section of it, that was to have been deferred indefinitely.

During the same debate Mr. Haggart, an ex-minister of railways, and one of Mr. Borden's chief lieutenants, is reported in Hansard as saying:

"Is it possible to build a road from Winnipeg to Quebec and from Quebec to Moncton on modern principles? Has it ever entered into the heads of the ministers what an enormous sum will be required for the construction of that road? I fail to see a scintilla of evidence that the eastern portion of this road will be of any use. There are many propositions, but none of them involve the absurdities of this proposition of building a line from Winnipeg to Quebec and from Quebec to Moncton. I have proved conclusively that there is no necessity for this road in New Brunswick. It is a useless appendage."

Dr. Sproule, another Ontario tory leader, said:

"What province has been clamoring for this scheme? Hon. gentlemen have been unable to show any such demand. Has Ontario called for it? No, the sentiment of Ontario is against the subsidising of railways. We have no mandate from the people to undertake the building of a transcontinental railway and add to the debt of the country a sum no less than $125,00,000. I say the supply of railways in many portions of the western country is ample."

Extracts of similar import from the speeches in parliament of Mr. Borden and his chief lieutenants might be quoted by the ream, but the foregoing afford ample insight into the real views of the conservative party with regard to the construction of a new transcontinental railway.

The fact of the matter is that the conservative party at first undertook to oppose unconditionally the construction of a new transcontinental railway. Finding that course to be overwhelmingly against public sentiment they changed their tactics and declared for a variety of projects, one after the other, but none of them promising anything more than a very partial adoption of the government ownership idea. As a last resort, in the closing hours of the session, Mr. Borden introduced a resolution vaguely suggesting government construction of a new transcontinental line at some indefinite period and under conditions that made the proposal obviously absurd. Even the palpable insincerity of this last resolution did not make it palatable to the leading conservative journals, which immediately denounced the government ownership idea in terms anything but complimentary to their party chief.

The traditions of the conservative party are totally opposed to any policy of this nature. Sir John A Macdonald and sir Charles Tupper were open and avowed opponents of government ownership. In practice the policy of the conservative party has all along been in the direction of granting practically unconditioned control of railways to private corporations. Their contract with the C. P. R. is an example. But the clearest light is thrown upon conservative ideas of the proper railway policy by reference to Manitoba's experience.

The present conservative government in that province was placed in office upon a platform pledging them to the principle of government ownership.

Having got into power the conservative government immediately began to give reasons why government ownership is a bad thing. In explanation of the deal with the Northern Pacific, premier Roblin said:

"Now the question I proposed to myself was why would we want the Northern Pacific as a government road? We realized that we could not operate it and secure such material benefit for the people of the country as we desire without subjecting ourselves to all the dangers which threaten to overtake government operation of roads as shown in other portions of Canada. We realized that it was not wisdom to undertake the control of the road and operate it ourselves and make it part of the political organization of the day."

Apropos there is a story told of a colored ported on the end platform of a car that somebody wanted to stand on. He said: "Massa, you bettah git into de car. The person asked: What is the platform for, and the colored man replied: Well, sah, platforms are to get in on and not to stand on."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

"It's a long time between seats," says Hon. George Eulas Foster when he views a sitting down place in North Toronto.

The Toronto News is out for Foster and Aylesworth. Fence-straddling like that must make riding on a rail feel like a pleasure excursion, remarks the Montreal Star.

London (Eng.) Bullionist:—"While Canadian tories were waiting for the millennium to come to them, the Canadian liberals set about seeing what could be done to bring about closer trade relationship between the dominion and the mother country."

John Wanamaker says:—"If there is one enterprise on earth that a 'quitter' should leave severely alone, it is advertising. To make a success of advertising one must be prepared to stick to it like a barnacle on a boat's bottom. He should know before he begins it that he must spend money—lots of it. Somebody must tell him, also, that he cannot hope to reap results commensurate with his expenditure early in the game. Advertising doesn't jerk; it pulls. It begins very gentle at first, but the pull is steady. It increases day, by day, and year by year, until it exerts an irresistible power."

The hope which springs eternal in the human breast glows fiercely in the bosom of the party campaigner. Oh, the brave fellows! How they whistle to keep up their courage! How they smile in the teeth of danger! How they swell like the frog who would be an ox! How they hold their chins up and thump their chests and consult maps and brandish little leather-covered notebooks which prove to a fraction that the other side has no chance at all! How they do talk, making the ephah small and the shekel great! How they do go to their imaginations for their facts, and see pots of gold at the foot of every rainbow, and build castles in the clouds, and impoverish the Aurora Borealis for language! How they do hyperbolize! And how we would miss it if they ever happened to discard this fine, old, immemorial method of throwing dust in the eyes of Fortune, and tricking her into an alliance with these dazzling predictions! Do you know any politician who is not an optimist—anyone, we mean, except George Eulas Foster? Why, it's part of the game. The dreariest advocate of blue ruin in parliament, the most inveterate apostle of despair, becomes an optimist at election time so far as his party's chances are concerned. If he didn't he wouldn't be human.

Miss Rose Peterson, Secretary Parkdale Tennis Club, Chicago, from experience advises all young girls who have pains and sickness peculiar to their sex, to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many beautiful young girls develop into worn, listless and hopeless women, simply because sufficient attention has not been paid to their physical development. No woman is exempt from physical weakness and periodic pain, and young girls just budding into womanhood should be carefully guided physically as well as morally.

If you know of any young lady who is sick, and needs motherly advice, ask her to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., who will give her advice free, from a source of knowledge which is unequalled in the country. Do not hesitate about stating details which one may not like to talk about, and which are essential for a full understanding of the case.

Miss Hannah E. Mershon, Collingswood, N. J., says:

"I thought I would write and tell you that, by following your kind advice, I feel like a new person. I was always thin and delicate, and so weak that I could hardly do anything. Menstruation was irregular.

"I tried a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and began to feel better right away. I continued its use, and am now well and strong, and menstruate regularly. I cannot say enough for what your medicine did for me."

How Mrs. Pinkham Helped Fannie Kumpe.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it is my duty to write and tell you of the benefit I have derived from your advice and the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The pains in my back and womb have all left me, and my menstrual trouble is corrected. I am very thankful for the good advice you gave me, and I shall recommend your medicine to all who suffer from female weakness." — MISS FANNIE KUMPE, 1922 Chester St., Little Rock, Ark. (Dec. 16, 1900.)

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure any woman in the land who suffers from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability, nervous prostration, and all forms of woman's special ills.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

JAP'S DESPERATE STAND

SINGLE-HANDED HELD AT BAY HALF-A-DOZEN COSSACKS.

FINALLY HAD TO BE SMOKED OUT OF HIS RETREAT.

Berlin, Oct. 13.—The desperate courage of the single Japanese soldier was never better illustrated than in the following story from Odessa of a Cossack named Uriladtsoff:

"Near Taschichao we pursued a Jap infantryman into a Chinese house, where he rushed up a loose stair or ladderway leading to a loft, and began to shoot. We had no ammunition, so thought we would burn him out, when down went one of our men with a bullet wound in his back. This made us mad, and we rushed up the stair. There was room only for one at a time, and Misha Medvedtseff rushed first. The Jap waited till Misha was on him, and then fired right through his body, wounding the man behind. The rush from behind drove Misha's dead body on top of him, and the third man taking advantage of this, hacked at the Jap, cutting his cheek. Yellow face yelled, and fired again, killing our third man. Now it was my time, and though I knew I was done for, I felt no fear, but only thirst to cut down the Jap, who laughed at every sho.. However, I was not going to give myself away, so instead of rushing on I used by lance. The Jap drove it down with his rifle muzzle, but it went through his knee. He yelled and shot at me, and I tumbled down, and remembered no more. There were three blood-thirsty demons behind, and master Jap wasn't safe yet. I heard afterwards how he rushed at one man who hesitated to go on, pulled him over the bodies and struck him with a knife. The other two men were knocked down by shots. When more of our men came up, they fired the house, after pulling me and the other wounded out. The Jap seeing he was done for, put his head through a window and laughed. Then he jumped, and was caught on a lance."

THE WINNIPEG FIRE

It Will in no Way Affect Ashdown Co.'s Wholesale Trade

J. Drewe, local manager of the J. H. Ashdown Hardware Company, returned last evening from a business visit to Spokane, where he has been since Sunday. In speaking about the destruction of the retail establishment of the firm in Winnipeg, he stated that it would in no way affect the wholesale business of the firm. The wholesale store of the firm was located in a different part of the city from the retail establishment. The retail place destroyed was the largest retail store in Canada. The building occupied by it was four stories high and had a frontage of 75 feet and ran back the full length of the block. The firm has a large stock of goods in its wholesale establishment and in a day or two will have a retail store in operation; in the meantime customers can be served from the wholesale place, if necessary.

Mr. Drewe was much surprised to learn that Spokane had such a large wheat growing area tributary to it, and said he was astonished to learn that the farming country tributary to Spokane will yield 40,000,000 bushels of wheat this year.

OGILVIE MILLING COMPANY

It is in a Prosperous Condition—The Officers Elected

Montreal, Oct. 13—The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Ogilvie Mills Company, Limited, was held at the head office of the company in this city today. The statement submitted showed that the company had experienced a successful year. The shareholders were gratified to know that the capacity of the mills at Montreal had been increased and that the company are making arrangements for the erection of another large flour mill at Fort William, where the company's elevator, having a capacity of 500,000 bushels of wheat, will be in operation during the coming month.

W. F. Thompson, vice-president of the company, who has just returned from the west, reported that he was satisfied that the wheat crop of Manitoba and the territories would be approximately 65,000,000 bushels.

The following directors were elected for the ensuing year: C. R. Hosmer, president; W. F. Thompson, vice-president; directors, sir George A. Drummond, sir Montague Allan, E. S. Clouston, H. S. Holt, and Hon. G. T. Fulford; W A Black, western manager; Shirley Ogilvie, secretary; S. A. McMurtry, treasurer; George Creak, auditor.

"MY FRIEND FROM INDIA"

Famous Comedy to be Given Here by Walker's Comedians

Walker's Comedians is the strongest comedy company sent into western territory and the play that they are to give us tonight is that world famous laughing hit, "My Friend From India." Everyone has read of the phenomenal success of this irresistable comedy which has packed the largest theatres in all the great cities. Up to this season the owners of the piece have refused o part with the Canadian right of production, but Mr. Walker has now purchased this right and the first opportunity to see it is offered. Walker's Comedians are all players of reputation and a production complete in every respect is assured. There is genuine merriment in store for our amusement seekers this evening when "My Friend From India" will be submitted to them.

A MINER KILLED

Frank Spitz Met Death on Tuesday in the Idaho Mine.

Frank Spitz, a miner employed in the Idaho mine, near Sandon, was killed by the explosion of a blast on Tuesday. The unfortunate man's body was more or less mangled by the force of the blast and by the large pieces of rock thrown out by the explosion. Portions of his head were blown off. Yesterday D. J. Robertson of this city, sent a casket to Sandon. The funeral will be held at Sandon under the auspices of the Sandon Miners' union, of which the deceased was a member. Spitz has worked in the Slocan for a considerable period and was well and favorably known. He was a native of Italy.

MINING RECORDS

At the mining recorder's office on Thursday certificates of work were granted to James E. Kane on the Careless and William Connolly on the Gracie R and the Rossland.

The Gordon Mining & Milling Company recorded the location of the Bedrock mineral claim, about one and a half miles from Erie.

W. R. Sloan of Ymir, conveyed to G. A. M. Young of Moyie, the Ibis, Edith F., Jennie, Hightown, Hecla, Coblat and K. V. mineral claims on Goat mountain. Consideration nominal.

LONG DELAYED ORDERS

Registrar Simpkins yesterday received office copies of the orders made by the full court in the railway assessment appeal cases. The cases were argued on June 14th. Judgment was given on July 29th and yesterday thhe orders were sent on here, possibly by the end of the current year more details may be forthcoming. They are a liesurely class in Victoria. No Victorian was ever known to be in a hurry on any occasion and the city holds the record for delay in all legal matters.

The judgment given dismisses the appeal of the Kaslo & Slocan railway in the Revelstoke, Kaslo and Nelson assessments and awards the costs to the government agent in each instance. In the case of the Nelson & Fort Sheppard railway in the Nelson assessment district, the appeal of the company against the assessment of 502,861 acres of their lands at 45 cents per acre is set allowed with costs and the assessment is set aside and will have to be gone over again.

The judges composing the court were: Drake, Irving and Duff. John Elliot for the government wins in three cases and A. H. MacNeill of Rossland wins one appeal.

KING GEORGE IS ILL

Dresden, Saxony, Oct. 13—There is renewed anxiety regarding the condition of king George of Saxony whose difficulty in breathing and general weakness are marked.

CONDITIONS AT COAST

NOTABLE REAL ESTATE DEAL PUT THROUGH AT VANCOUVER

MILLION DOLLAR HOTEL FOR THE CITY OF VICTORIA

J. S. Carter, district passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific railway, has returned from a visit to the coast. While away he was in Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle and reports that each of these cities is lively.

"Vancouver," he said "is showing great activity. Real estate is moving well there and investors are in many cases buying for the purpose of building. A notable transaction was that made by L. A. Hamilton, who sold a piece of property on Hastings street near Granville for $105,000, which he purchased 14 years ago for $1200. Since he bought the property it has paid good interest on the investment from the rentals which he received from the wooden tenements on the property. This property sold at the rate of $800 a front foot, which, I was told, was the highest price per front foot that has been paid for Vancouver realty. There are lots, however, which the owners would not part with for $1000 a front foot. From this you can see that business property in Vancouver is worth considerable money.

"There is a great deal of activity in building in Vancouver both in business blocks and in residences. These business blocks being erected are of the most modern make, while the residences that are now being erected there are provided with bathrooms with tile flooring and other up-to-date conveniences and the houses are fitted with heating apparatus. There is none of the shack building to speak of, which was characteristic of the earlier days of the town. Dwellings must be more than comfortable, they must be almost luxurious nowadays, to command the higher rentals in the terminal town.

"The hotels of Vancouver have simply been unable to accommodate the hosts of tourists that have been daily coming in during the past several months. A great many of these visitors were from Seattle, Tacoma, Portland and San Francisco. The fine new C.P.R. steamer Princess Victoria, has been an important factor in bringing in a large number of tourists from nearby places. The steamer is a very comfortable one to travel on.

"Vancouver is growing rapidly and one great factor in her prosperity is the settling of the interior of the province from the coast to the Rockies. It is not very thickly settled, but there is enough, with the coastwise and foreign trade to support the town, I believe, in good shape.

"Victoria looks forward to a big increase in the number of tourists when the C.P.R. hotel is completed. The hotel is to cost over a million dollars and is to be as large and as well equipped as the Frontenac at Quebec. Victoria is a city of homes and a most desirable place of residence. If I had an income I would retire and live in Victoria.

"Seattle is going ahead at a rapid rate and they are beginning to erect skyscrapers there. A 20 storey skyscraper is now being finished and several others are on the carpet, and will soon be built. A new union passenger depot is being built in the southern portion of the city which will be a great convenience to the travelling public. Seattle, I must say, is progressing rapidly."

FIND ON SILVER DOLLAR.

Rich Four-Foot Galena Lead Found Under 15 Feet of Wash.

News from the Camborne section is that a find of a rich four-foot lead of galena was made recently on the Silver Dollar group. The ledge was uncovered under 15 feet of wash by a force of men who had been engaged in prospecting the group. The lead is located about 300 feet southeast from the crosscut tunnel, 200 feet from the drift, and 100 eet southeast of the steel galena outcrop, which was discovered some time since. On the drift on the group considerable progress is being made by the contractors, the ore in the face being of the concentrating sort, carrying considerable free gold.

NELSON'S NEWS OF THE DAY

Donald Guthrie, chief of the Rossland fire brigade, was a passenger on the Moyie this morning for Kootenay Landing.

On October 13th a daughter was welcomed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Gibbs. Mrs. Gibbs is being cared for at the Home Hospital.

The county court sittings set for October 25th, have been adjourned until October 28th, at 10 a.m. A further court sittings has been set for November 29th.

The advance sale of tickets for Walker's Comedians, who appear at the opera house this evening, has been very satisfactory and a good audience will greet the players tonight.

All the time is the best time. Don't wait to begin advertising until you want something. The future will soon be the present, and taking care of tomorrow is taking care of today.

The postponed meeting of the directors of the Agricultural and Industrial Association, originally called for Tuesday night, will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the city hall.

Two teamsters are charged with having assaulted a Chinaman in the employ of the local sawmill company yesterday afternoon and the matter will be ventilated in the police court at 10 o'clock this morning.

School inspector David Wilson returned to the city last night after a three weeks' tour o inspection of the schools in the Norheast and Eastern Kootenay, including Windermere, Revelstoke, Golden and Field.

The report of the board of trade meeting and some other local news items have been unavoidably omitted from this issue, owing to receipt at a late hour of important despatches covering the great battle now in progress in Manchuria.

No word had been received up to 10 o'clock last night from the relatives of the late W. H. Harvey, who died at the Kootenay Lake general hospital on Monday last, and today arrangements will probably be made locally to give the old man's remains decent burial.

R. Driver, an employee of the Bonnington power company, is a patient in the Kootenay Lake general hospital, having severed the achilles tendon of his right leg with an axe while doing some log chopping at Bonnington on Wednesday, the axe slipping and nearly cutting the man's heel off.

The body of G. B. Chandler, late agent for the Canadian Pacific railway company at Nakusp, who died at New Denver early in the week, has been embalmed and will be sent to Dorchester, N. B., the former home of the deceased, for burial. Mrs. Chandler will accompany the body east.

James B. Laidlaw of Toronto, representing the Norwich Union Fire office of Norwich, England, is at the Hume on company business. It is five years since Mr. Laidlaw was last out west and he thinks Nelson has greatly improved in the interval. J. B. Johnson, real estate and insurance man of Rossland, was with Mr. Laidlaw last evening and both gentlemen will spend today in the city. Messrs. Brydges, Blakemore & Cameron represent the Norwich Union here.

The city engineer's department has nearly finished the special work made for it by the break in the Ward street sewer. A hose along Ward street attracted some attention. It was being used to flush some of the pipes connecting buildings with the main sewer. Connections with sewers are being made in several places; for the rest the gang is kept busy repairing sidewalks, a work that has been necessarily neglected since the bursting of the sewer, and the burning of the water flumes engrossed the attention of the department.

Colonel S. W. Ray of the Molly Gibson Mining company, left yesterday morning for Port Arthur, Ontario. In a conversation had with him yesterday he stated that Port Arthur was enjoying a season of prosperity and that realty is growing in value there. Within the last year he has sold $40,000 worth of his holdings there. The McCormick Company, makers of agricultural machinery, gave him $10,000 for one lot which they desired for a business site. Colonel Ray expects to return in a few weeks when the organization of the new company, which is being formed to take over the assets of the Molly Gibson, will be completed.

THE TRAMWAY DEAL

No Settlement Arrived at Yet—A Further Conference Today

There were no new developments yesterday in the pending deal between the city and the visiting directors of the Nelson Electric Tramway company.

Both sides were reticent as to the real situation but a conference of some length was held last evening without any definite conclusion being reached. A further conference will be held today when it is hoped some advance will be made.

It is understood that in addition to conferring with the city the tramway directors are endeavoring to make better terms with the West Kootenay Power & Light company which supplies the power for operating the line and the outcome apparently depends to at least some extent upon the attitude of the Bonnington people.

Mayor Hamilton is anxious to conclude a satisfactory deal if it can be arranged but admits that the city must first own its power plant before it can undertake to operate the tram line, and this means the sale of the $150,000 worth of power plant debentures and the erection of the plant. All his worship would say last night was that as the visiting directors were anxious to arrange matters, and the city authorities are more than willing to meet their views as far as possible, it was probable that some settlement would be arrived at this week, though it might take some time to arrange all details.

NO GAME TODAY

Winnipeg Lacrosse Team Wire Their Regrets

When the local lacrosse team left Vancouver on Tuesday they concluded definite arrangements with the Shamrock team of Winnipeg to play a match here today, and until yesterday afternoon there was no suggestion of any change in the program. The team manager sent George McLaughlin a wire which reached here last evening stating that a sufficient number of players were not returning east to make up a team and regretting that the match must be called off. It is supposed that some of the players desired to spend a few days visiting at the coast in place of returning home with the others, hence the message.

THE LAST SAD RITES

E. A. Crease, who acompanied the remains of the late A. J. Marks to Spokane and who was present at the interment last Tuesday afternoon, returned to the city with Mrs. Marks on Wednesday night and spoke with a good deal of feeling yesterday of theburial ceremony. A platform and canopy had been erected at the grave and the sides of the grave as well as the earth at the surface were completely hidden from sight. The full Masonic burial service was most impressively rendered by the Master and Chaplain of Oriental lodge, which had full control of the funeral arrangement. At the close of the service the undertaker in charge touched a lever and almost imperceptibly the coffin descended into the grave and was finally lost to sight. Mr. Crease spoke warmly of the kindness shown by the Spokane Masons to the funeral party and the completeness and excellent taste of all the burial arrangements even to the minute detail. The members of the lodge turned out in full regalia and in addition quite a number of old timers were present.

IMPORTANT ORDERS MADE

Regarding Issuance of Providence Mining Company's Stock

In the now famous case of Madden and others against the Providence mine, W. A. Macdonald, K.C., acting for the plaintiffs, obtained two important orders from Mr. justice Irving sitting in chambers at Rossland. Both were opposed by J. A. Macdonald, K.C. of Rossland, counsel for the defendants. On behalf of the plaintiffs two affidavits were read, and two others for the defence and after argument by counsel, two orders were signed by Mr. justice Irving.

The first order is that the motion for an injunction stand over to the assizes at Greenwood, to be heard again on the morning of the 20th of October. In the meantime Wm. Diamond, director, is restrained from voting 1600 shares away; Wm. Law, secretary of the company is restrained from recording any such vote, and the Providence Mining company is restrained from holding any extraordinary general meeting.

By the second order J. P. Myers-Gray, barrister of Greenwood, is appointed a special examiner to take cross examinations upon affidavits presented and to cross examine Wm. Diamond. It is provided also that counsel for plaintiff and for defendant may cross examine witnesses.

IN CHAMBERS

Before his honor, judge Leamy yesterday the following applications in chambers were disposed of:

Watson vs. Pfefer and Currie. Macdonald, K.C., for plaintiff obtained an order for payment out of monies in court.

Reid & Co. vs. Williams. Macdonald, K.C., for plaintiff obtained an order for service of writ ex jure.

LUMBER FOR CONCENTRATOR

It Was Forwarded to Kaslo Yesterday From This City

A barge load of lumber was sent to Kaslo yesterday by the Kootenay River Lumber Company. At the office of the lumber company it was stated that the lumber was intended for the use of the Kootenay Ore Company, which is building a zinc concentrator at Kaslo. It was further stated that a large consignment of machinery for the plant was forwarded to Kaslo several days since and that the construction of the buildings and the installation of the plant would be rushed. George Alexander is the manager of the Kootenay Ore Company, which is erecting the concentrator.
