RAILWAY MEN MEET

A Division of the O. R. C. Successfully Formed in This City

Kokanee Division, No. 460, Duly Organized---List of Officers Appointed--- Banquet at Strathcona

An important event in railway circles occurred here yesterday which illustrates in its way the growth of this city as a railroad center.

A division of the order of railroad conductors was formally organized and subsequently a banquet was held at the Strathcona hotel to celebrate the event.

The division was organized by C. H. Wilkins, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, grand senior conductor.

The new division is officially known as "Kokanee Division No. 460 O.R.C."

The officers of the new division are: David Mackay chief conductor; R. G. Mouat assistant chief conductor; Joseph Bradshaw, secretary-treasurer; W. J. Nelson, senior conductor; J. A. Kinney, junior conductor.

J. L. Peltier, of Fort William, Ont., general chairman of the C. P. R. system, O. R. C., was in attendance at the organization of the division.

Conductors J. Hopgood, J. Herchimer, W. Gee and J. H. Morrison, all of Kamloops, assisted in the organization proceedings.

After the work of the day was over an adjournment to the dining room of the Strathcona was taken and at 10 o'clock the members of the order and their friends sat down to an elegantly prepared supper.

The table was profusely adorned with flowers, roses predominating, and the menu was a most tempting one, served in the Strathcona's usual excellent style. Irwin's orchestra supplied excellent music during the banquet.

His worship mayor Hamilton occupied the chair and was toastmaster for the occasion. Among the specially invited guests were superintendent J. S. Lawrence, F. W. Peters, assistant freight traffic manager, Winnipeg, captain J. C. Gore, and C. H. Crandon.

Around the table, in addition to those already mentioned, were:

W. A. Jackson, J. Herchimer, J. Bradshaw, J. F. Sullivan, Robert Mooney, Chesley Clark W. E. Woodhouse, J. M. Cameron, J. D. Fraser R. G. Mouat, J. A. Kinney, D. Mackay, John Hopgood, J. H. Morrison, Grant Paull, Wm. Gee, A. Denman, A. Halkett, T. C. Peck, W. J. McIntyre and J. P. Wells.

The toast list included the following:

The King.

The President of the United States.

Grand Lodge—Responded to by C. H. Wilkins who enlarged upon the existing number of the order of railroad conductors as extended over the American continent, and made a strong plea for the new division just organized.

Officers of the O.R.C. and Sub-Lodges—Responded to by Messrs. Herchimer, Hopgood, Mackay and Bradshaw.

The C. P. R. and the O. R. C.—Replied to in an excellent speech by L. L. Peltier

The Ladies—Messrs. Peck and Cameron.

The speeches were all brief, to the point and bubbling over with humor and good feeling.

The banquet was brought to a successful conclusion shortly after midnight.

CARNEGIE MILLS CLOSE.

The Employes Regard the Shut Down As a Lockout.

Pittsburg, July 7.—Operations have been suspended at the four steel hoop plants of the Carnegie steel mills, two at Youngstown, and one each at Girard and Warren. These are the only works of the big steel concern that has been under the wage scale of the Amalgamated association of iron, steel and tin workers. All the other plants of the company are operated on a strictly non union basis. The officers of the association regard the shut down of the mills as a lockout, but the company has not declared that it will not reopen the wage conference until it is ready to resume operations. Official announcement was made today of the wage settlement with the American Sheet and Tin Plate company.

MR. SCOTT MAY RESIGN.

Premier Was Obliged to Override One of His Decisions.

Ottawa, July 7.—The conservatives are trying to run Hon. Mr. Scott, secretary of state, out of the cabinet, because Sir Wilfrid Laurier was obliged, in justice to the Yukon, to override a decision of Mr. Scott. The conservatives claim that the secretary of state was flatly turned down by the prime minister in the house. Sir Wilfrid said the intimation to judge Britton that he need not make any report on the Treadgold concession seeing that the concession had been abandoned by the company and cnacelled by order-in-council, had been sent to Mr. Scott without consulting his colleagues of the cabinet. When this action of Mr. Scott was considered in council, it was disapproved by the cabinet and a letter was sent to judge Britton asking him to consider Mr. Scott's letter as unwritten, and instructing him to proceed with his report. The incident has led to conservative reports that Mr. Scott will resign from the cabinet.

Mr. Clarke, Toronto, conservative, vigorously denounced what he called Mr. Preston's "inaccurate and misleading" letter to the London Times on lord Dundonald's dismissal.

Hon. Mr. Sifton promised to look into the matter and inform the house of the goverenment's decision.

Mr. Bell, Pictou, accused Intercolonial officials of interefference with the bye-election at Guysboro, N.S., and asked for a commission to investigate.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson refused, saying that similar charges were made against conservatives. He would personally inquire into the subject, he said.

GOLD BRICK FROM QUEEN.

G. H. Barnhart Has Leased the Porto Rico Mine and Mill.

[Special to The Daily News.]

Ymir, July 7.—As a result of a 14-day run at the Queen mine stamp mill, Salmo, William Waldie obtained a gold brick valued at $2900. This is exclusive of the values contained in the concentrates.

This afternoon the half yearly meeting of the Ymir Waterworks Co., was held, the business transacted being purely routine.

It is reported that G. H. Barnhart has obtained from the Canadian Pacific Exploration Syndicate, of London, England, another lease on the Porto Reco mine situated on Barrett creek, and that it is his intention within the next 10 days to place men to work running No. 4 tunnel 150 feet, which will give him plenty of stoping ground and enable him to have ore to again run the mill. Mr. Barnhart had a lease last fall on this property and it is understood that he made a good thing out of it.

The property is unquestionably a good one but like many other mines operated by English companies the management was poor. Under Mr. Barnhart's care the property should again become a producing mine, as this gentleman is a mine and mill manager with few equals.

A BIG BAPTIST RALLY

NEARLY 10,000 MEMBERS OF CHURCH MEET IN DETROIT

CHAPMAN SAID CONVENTION WAS FOR SPIRITUAL QUICKENING

Detroit, July 7—With a session of praise and prayer, participated in by nearly 10,000 men and women, the international convention of the Baptist Young People's Union of America opened this morning. The rally took place in the Light Guard Armory, which was prettily decorated with flags and banners of the various societies. On the platform, in addition to the speakers and distinguished visitors, was a chorus of several hundred voices, which led the musical portion of the program.

The attendance was representative of every section of the United States and Canada, and most of the leading divines of the denomination and laymen and laywomen of national reputation were recognized upon the platform and through the audience. The Baptists of Detroit and Windsor were out in force and so thoroughly had the local committees performed thei work that the preliminaries and program moved like clockwork.

National president John H. Chapman of Chicago, called the immense gathering to order at a quarter to nine o'clock. In his opening remarks he emphasized the idea that the international convention is not merely a holiday excursion but rather is designed for spiritual quickening and for inspiration to effect service for the creator. He analyzed the object of the organization, "to secure the increased spirituality of Baptist young people; their simulation in Christian service; their edification in scriptural knowledge; their instruction in Baptist doctrine and history, and their enlistment in all missionary activity through existing denominational organizations."

Prologed applause greeted the presentation of mayor Maybury, who offered a welcome in behalf of the city of Detroit, and not less cordial was the reception given Rev. S. S. Marquis, who spoke for the church at Detroit, and to G. Jay Vinton, who spoke for the Baptist young people's societies in Michigan. But one response was made on behalf of the board of managers and the delegates, this duty being assigned to Rev. Herbert J. White of Beverly, Mass. After the usual committee appointments and the transaction of other preliminary business the mornig session was brought to a close with an address by Dr. Charles R. Henderson of the university of Chicago.

This afternoon the convention received the reports of the board of managers and of several officers and committees of the society. These reports without exception showed that the past year was one of exceptional activity for the organization. It was also one of prosperity as the society continues to make gratifying progress in the increase of membership.

IN THE SUPREME COURT.

Case of the Centre Star vs. Rossland Miners' Union on Trial.

Victoria, July 7.—The appeal in Rex vs. Hutchinson opened before the full court this morning. C. C. McCaul of Vancouver for the prisoner, takes the ground that the judgment was not proper under the indictment. Howell and Hutchinson he contends, had not the power to defraud, thereby they could not be convicted of conspiracy to defraud. Only the B. C. Supply Co. could defraud with conspiracy with Howell and Hutchinson. But the indictment did notinclude the former company in the fradulent intention. The argument is still in progress. The court seems to favor the trial judge's interpretation of conspiracy.

(In the spring assize court J. G. Hutchinson was convicted on a charge of conspiring to defraud creditors, and was sentenced by Mr. justice Duff to six months' imprisonment).

The case of the Centre Star vs. Rossland Miners' Union is proceeding before Mr. justice Duff. Mr. A. C. Galt says it will be proved that the Western Federation of Miners, with headquarters at Denver paid large sums to the Rossland union to carry on the strike and that the union men at Rossland continuously watched and beset the roads to the mines to prevent the men working.

LIME LIGHT OF GLORY.

John McGuire Gets Under Rays Shed by Miss Adams' Fame.

Butte, July 7.—The present tour of Maude Adams is designated by her press agent as her first appearance in the west in a stellar role, to which John Maguire takes exceptions, and the vetran actor and manager proceeds to get within the rays of the limelights of fame shed by Miss Adams. He claims that it was 25 years ago, under his management at Portland, that Miss Adams made her first appearance as a star, when in a fluffy white dress, a little girl with big blue eyes, she used to sing "Somebody's Coming When the Dewdrops Fall" between the acts at the old New Market theatre.

He declares that her specialty was enjoyed fully as much as the acting of Walter Lehman, James Neill and a dozen others who have since become stars in their own right. The little girl was mentioned on the bills as "Little Maudie, the Elfin Star," so there is no question about the claim of Mr. Maguire that the present is her second tour in a stellar role on the Pacific coast.

CHARGED WIT HBRIBERY.

Ex-U. S. Poseoffice Official Arrested in New York.

New York, July 7.—George W. Beavers, former superintendent of the salaries and allowance bureau of the United States postoffice department, was re-arrested in Brooklyn today under an indictment found in Washington on October 5th of last year. It charges Beavers with having accepted bribes in connection with the introduction of the Doremus' cancelling machine into the postoffice department. The arrest was made by the local federal officers upon orders received direct from Washington. Beavers was brought at once before judge Thomas, who set the hearing of the case for next Wednesday, paroling Beavers until then in the custody of his attorney.

OPENS AN ORE BODY.

Phoenix Branch Accidently Develops Bailey's Property.

Greenwood, July 7.—The Great Northern railway is doing some fine development work for F. C. Bailey of Spokane, who owns a group of claims on Providence creek about two miles east of Greenwood. At this point the Grand Forks & Phoenix line swings west, comingwithin one and one half miles of the Providence mine. In describing a curve the road crosses two of Mr. Bailey's clams, the Fredrick and the Excelsior. One cut on the latter claim is 27 feet deep, running across the ore body.

THE SULLY COMPROMISE.

Ex-Cotton King Will Pay Fifty Cents on the Dollar.

New York, July 7.—The creditors of Dan J. Sully & Co. today considered a settlement proposition which provides for a 40 per cent cash payment, and the acceptance of notes for an additional 10 per cent and it is understood that a great majority of the creditors favor this offer which carries with it also the abandonment of all pending litigations.

TENDERED AN OVATION

William Jennings Bryan Was Cheered by the Democrats

The Vote on a Minority Beport Turned Him Down and Showed that the Conservatives Are Dominant

St. Louis, July 7.—The democratic national convention today adopted the report of the committee on rules, credentials and permanent organization. The session opened at 10 o'clock, and an hour later took a recess until 2 p.m., and adjourned at 6.20, until 10 o'clock tomorrow. During the day several speeches were made, the chief of which was W. J. Bryan's effort to overthrow the report of the credentials committee and seat the contesting delegates from Illinois. The controversy was ended by the rejection of the minority report of the committee by a vote of 647 to 299. Though Mr. Bryan's speech and his appearance on the floor of the convention were cheered far beyond any previous demonstration, the fact made few votes, and the alignment of delegates proved the correctness of the estimates of the division between those who favored the radicals and those who are supporting the conservative element, which is now in control. When the result of the contest was announced, the report of the committee on permanent organization was made.

Representative Champ. Clark who was chosen permanent chairman, addressed the convention. He had prepared a speech of great length. The hour was so late when he gained the platform, however, that he spoke about three hundred words and left his audience to read the remainder.

The ovation given to Mr. Bryan was pronounced. It was begun before the afternoon session of the convention had been called to order and continued for 12 minutes. There was so much furore that temporary chairman Williams and all his assistants, including a hundred policemen, were unable to restore order. Quiet came from the convention only when the Parker forces joined in and by persistent efforts turned the tide by a counter demonstration for the New York man, so that the favorite candidate for the nomination for president finally reaped the harvest of enthusiasm shown for Mr. Bryan.

The morning session was without material interests, except for the dissension caused by objection to that part of the report from the committee on rules which provided for the seating of delegates sent by insular possessions. The report was adopted finally as a result of a ruling by the temporary chairman, which has the effect of refusing representation to the delegates who had come from the Philippines.

It remained for the afternoon session to create that degree of strife which makes a convention interesting to the masses. This was the contest relating to the Illinois delegation. It was known that Mr. Bryan would take an active part in the matter although the odds were believed to be overwhelmingly against him. The galleries and other space on the hall allotted to spectators showed how great a drawing card he is. When Mr. Bryan entered the convention hall the first sound of applause was heard from the vicinity of the Nebraska delegates. As if to make up for the tardy welcome extended to Mr. Bryan yesterday great numbers opened their cheering simultaneously from the center galleries. For a short time some degree of organization was maintained among the majority of delegates but the sight of the great human walls in the galleries shouting themselves hoarse throwing and waving hats, umbrellas and coats, and many persons on the elevated platform yelling and, motioning encouragement proved too much for the more orderly delegates to withstand. They joined with the demonstrative ones until the thunderous applause was converted into a deafening roar. The confusion was unprecedentel, and all other displays of enthusiasm were dwarfed in comparison. After the applause had continued for more than fifteen minutes temporary chairman Williams motioned the band to play. Again and again he signalled the musicians only to learn a moment later that the instruments were pouring out all the volume of sound of which they were capable.

Then it was that the conservative forces turned to the aid of the chairman. They started applause for Parker. His name on a purple banner proved almost as magnetic as Bryan in the flesh. From one idol to another the gathering turned Some of the standards which were marched to the Parker rally a few minutes before had been a part of the Bryan demonstration.

When at 2.30 the temporary chairman made himself heard he demanded order and called for the report of the committee on credentials. After a long delay, chairman reached the platform. He was listened to attentively as he read his report and moved its adoption. He explained that some of the contests had been brought in the form of a minority report and suggested that these be acted upon separately. The contest in Illinois was the only one before the convention. The roll call on Mr. Bryan's motion to substitute the minority report for the majority report resulted in a defeat for him. The report of the committee on permanent organization was made.

Repesentative Champ. Clark was escorted to the platform to assume the chairmanship. Mr. Clark made only a few remarks and recognized a motion to adjourn until 10 o'clock tomorrow. The motion was carried with cheers.

The tariff, financial and reciprocity planks agreed upon by the sub committee of the committee on platform and resolutions are in part as follow:

The democratic party has been and will continue to be the consistent opponent of that class of tariff legislation by which certain interests have been permitted, through congressional favor, to draw a heavy tribute from the American people. The monstrous perversion of those equal opportunities which our political institutions were established to secure, has caused what may once have been infant industries to become the greatest combinations of capital that the world has ever known. These publicly favored enterprises have through trust methods been converted into monopolies, thus bringing to an end domestic competition which was the only check upon the extravagant profits made possible by the protective system. The industrial combinations by the financial assistance they can give, now control the policy of the republican party. We favor a wise conservative and business-like revision and a gradual reduction of the tariff. We favor a reduction of tariff taxation upon trust produced articles to the point where foreign competition may enter the American market whenever the trusts and combines, seeking monopoly, raise their prices to the American consumer above a reasonable and just profit, and by such reduction depriving the trusts and monopolies of the power to extort from the American people, under shelter of American law, prices higher than those charged foreigners for the identical articles.

The discoveries of gold in the past few years and the great increase in the production thereof, adding two thousand million dollars to the world's supply, of which seven hundred millions was added to the share of the United States, has contributed to the maintenance of a single money standard value, which is no longer open to question, thus removing that issue from the field of political discussion and contention.

We favor a liberal trade treaty with Canada.

Before tomorrow night the democratic conventio nwill have adopted a platform nominated candidates for president and vice-president, and adjourned sine die, if the programme of the leaders can be carried out. The Paker adherents are now talking of securing his nomination on the first ballot, but they do not anticipate that more than two ballots at the outside will be necessary. The vote today on the Illinois case was a fair test, and it was favorable to Parker. There were 546 votes cast of the 1000 votes in the convention, the 54 Illinois votes being withheld. The negative vote on Mr. Bryan's minority report was 647, which is 20 votes short of the necessary two-thirds to nominate. It represented, with some exceptions. Parker's strength, although it has also in it some of the opposition, including 32 votes of Massachusetts. There is still a chaotic condition in regard to the vice-presidency and the outlook is that a large number of candidates will be voted for, and perhaps several ballots taken before any one is chosen. Among those mentioned are David D. Francis and governor Alexander M. Dockey, of Missouri, John W. Kern, of Indiana, James R. Williams, of Illinois, senator John W. Dabiel, of Virginia, governor Charles B. Aycock, of North Carolina, and ex-senator Geo. Turner, of Washington.

The democratic convention adjourned at 6.20 p.m. until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. No nomination has been made. Just before adjournment William J. Bryan was defeated on a minority report of the committee on credentials. The vote was 301 to 647. A sub-committee of the committee on resolutions has adopted as its financial plank a declaration in favor of maintaining the present gold standard.

St. Louis, July 7.—The democratic national convention reconvened today, entering upon the second day's session. The stirring scenes of yesterday had the effect of heightening interest in the meeting. Again those having tickets of admission at their disposal have been overwhelmed by applications for admission and the disappointed of yesterday redoubled their efforts today. As the opening hour was advanced the crowds in Olive street in the vicinity of the main entrance to the hall were in evidence much earlier today. An interesting feature of the proceedings before the committee on credentials was the appearance of William J. Bryan. After the Illinois contest had been disposed of, he asked for a reconsideration of these cases that he might make a minority report. The committee ruled that no resolution was necessary, and Mr. Bryan was told to make his minority report. He asked those members who would sign it to stand up, and the delegates from Oklahoma, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Rhode Island arose. This action foreshadowed that Mr. Bryan would make the fight on the floor of the convention. The committee sustained the action of the national committee in all of the contested cases, save that from the 21st Illinois district.

PINK PAPERS SEIZED

Dawson, July 7.—Several big rolls of pink tinted Police News have been seized by the postoffice and customs authorities the last few days. The Police News and other similar papers are under the ban of the Canadian government and not allowed to enter the country. Notices to this effect were given here several months ago by collector Busby, and all importers and subscribers of papers are warned of the fate that would befal the publications should they be found entering the country.

A NOVEL SCHEME.

Proposed in Europe to Extract Alcohol From Beer.

Washington, July 7.—A general movement for the suppression of over-indulgence in alcoholic drink in Germany, as well as in adjoining Austria and Switzerland, United States consul Muench, at Plauen, says in a report to the state department, has been among the recognized symptoms of social reform in these countries during the last several years.

Public conventions have been held at which men and women of more or less note have discoursed learnedly upon the evils of the alcohol habit and the necessity for its suppression or limitation, the matter has been broadly discussed in the German parliament, medical men have composed pamphlets and magazine articles, canteens for the dispensation of non-alcoholic drinks for the masses.

The conceded decrease of beer consumption in Germany within the last several years is justly attributed to these endeavors quite as much as the prevailing depression in industries.

Though beer is the popular beverage, containing the smallest percentage of alcohol among prevalent alcoholic drinks yet efforts have been made to produce this, or an imitation thereof, without infusion, or development of any alcohol whatever.

A plan is seriously urged which promises seeming success—namely, to extract the alcohol from the finished beer by means of distillation thus leaving as residue a beverage which retains the taste and nourishing qualities of beer itself, and which can by carbonating, be easily rendered both palatable and lasting.

A CITY WATER FAMINE

OVER TWO MILLION GALLONS NOW CONSUMED DAILY

ALL WASTE WILL HAVE TO BE STOPPED AT ONCE

The civic authorities think a water famine is not only possible but decidedly probably here within a reasonably short time unless the users of water stop the large amount of waste that is going on all over the city.

At the pesent time the daily consumption of water exceeds 2,000,000 gallons every 24 hours and this is away out of all proportion to the population served as the city authorities declare.

All indications point to a hot dry summer with a light rain fall and this will result in a steadily falling supply for city purposes unti a point is reached when extra precautions will be necessary to retain sufficient water on hand for fire protection purposes.

Although the season of high water is just on the decline, Cottonwood creek has already dwindled down to almost a September basis and an unusually low water season is looked fo this fall.

So long as there was more water than was wanted, taps have been allowed to run unheeded and generally a great deal of waste has been the result. There is probably not a building in the city today in which ones or more taps are not allowing the water to trickle away hour after hour, and the excessive use of hose for garden and lawn sprinkling and for use on the streets and sidewalks is another means of making good the 2,000,000 gallon consumption per diem referred to.

The civic authorities themselves set a bad example for at the three tank pipes used for filling the street watering cart, enough water is allowed to run away every day to supply the actual needs of a good many persons.

Provided all waste is promptly stopped there will probably be sufficient water for all purposes but if the waste goes on the city authorities will be compelled to take drastic measures, to the great inconvenience of all concerned. The hope the citizens will at once set to work to have their household service put in shape so as to bring the present waste to a stop. A few hundred new washers placed in the leaky taps about town now will save a whole lot of trouble a little later on, and there should be no need of asking a second time that this be done as it is a matter which closely affects every esident in the city.

FLOODS IN TWO STATES.

Crops Seriously Damaged and Railroads Washed Out.

Seansville, Ohio, July 7.—The heavy rain storm of last night and today has wrought inestimable damage to crops, while the railroads have sustained severe damage from washouts.

Kansas City, Mo., July 7—Heavy damage is reported throughout Kansas from Alibine, Arkansas City, Ottawa and Lawrence, where the Smoky Hill, the Solemn, the Walnut and other rivers are rising at the rate of two inches per hour. The damage to crops will be enormous. In the vicinity of Alibine alone it is estimated that the damage will amount to $250,000. The Kansas river made a new channel at north Lawrence, cutting the west portion off from the rest of the town. At Kansas City the market in cash grains was suspended owing to the non arrival of trains from the southwest.

CONVICTED OF STEALING SHEEP

Miles City, July 7.—J. C. Schrimer and his son John, were convicted by the grand jury of larceny and sentenced to one year each at Deer Lodge. They were complained against by W. E. Harris for stealing about 300 head of sheep and destroying his red "V" brand by covering it with a black triangle splotch. Jos. Eber, who had been herding for the Schrimers had a quarrel with them about his pay and started the story which resulted in their arrest and conviction.

PUTTING IN PLANTS

Lead Pipe and Sheet Lead to be Made at Trail Smelter

A Factory for the Corroding of Lead is Soon to be Established in Eastern Canada With Branch Here

Rossland, July 7.—The Canadian Smelting Works at Trail will inaugurate a new industry in Canada by manufacturing the completed lead products. The machinery is now at the smelter to manufacture lead pipe and the smelter will be in the market with the pipe in thirty days. Plans are being prepared for sheet lead machinery, another important branch of the industry. Contracts are about to be closed for corroding works, to be located in Montreal, with the probability of a small branch corroding plant at Trail for the western market. The total estimated outlay for the manufactories is $100,000. During the week the biggest shipment of Canadian refined silver in the history of the coutry went out from Trail to China. It consisted of 70,000 ounces, valued at $40,000. The smelter is handling 600 tons of gold-copper ore daily and one hundred tons of silver-lead ore and concentrates. The management will blow in No. 2 lead stack next week, doubling the capacity of the lead works. The refinery is turning out 11 tons of lead daily. It will be increased to 25 tons daily on the arrival of a car of acid now in transit. The plant is employing 350 men. The Kootenay mines are now producing on the basis of 30,000 tons of lead annually.

BOAT RACES AT HENLEY

SCHOES WON THE DIAMOND SCULLS, MAKING NEW RECORD

WINNIPEG CREW DEFEATED IN FINAL FOR STEWARD'S CUP

Henley, Eng., July 7—L. F. Scholes of the Don Rowing club, Toronto, beat A. H. Cloutte, of the London Rowing club, in the final heat of the race for the diamond sculls.

The Canadian sculler in the result not only justified the predictions of his friends but created a new record, 8 minutes, 23 seconds, beating the record of B. M. Howell of New York, in 1898 by six seconds. The wind was up stream and the conditions were favorable for fast travelling, but under prevailing conditions there was little advantage in the choice of stations. Scholes, who was on the Buck's side, got away first and led by a half a length at a quarter of a mile from the start. Cloutte put in a series of fine spurts and once got within three-quarters of a length of his adversary, but Scholes again drew away and won by a length and a quarter amidst great excitement.

In the final of the Steward's cup the Third Trinity Cambridge beat the Winnipeg crew. Third Trinity had a rather easy victory, defeating the Canadians by a length and a half in excellent time 7 minutes, 30 seconds, equal to the Leander's record of 1898. The Winnipeg's steered badly in the early part of the race.

MURDERER EXECUTED

The Electric Apparatus Worked in a Satisfactory Way

Columbus, July 7—The great care taken to assure success and quick work at the penitentiary annex today at the execution of Albert Fishr, resulted in every detail being well carried out, and the murderer was quickly killed by the strong current. At his own request Fisher was permitted to take part a few weeks ago in a rehearsal of the scene in the death chamber, even to the adjustment of the black cap and straps. This was done in order to prevent any bungling and delay when the time came for turning on the death current. The crime for which Fisher paid the death penalty was the murder of William Marshall, a bartender, in Toledo early last spring.

HIGH GRADE LEDGE FOUND

Ore From Vein on Swede Group Pans $1.25 to the Pan

B. Crilly of the Great Northern Mines, yesterday received a telegam from superintendent Morgan of Poplar, stating that another ledge had been located on the Swede group. The lead is eight feet in width. Eight pounds of iron carbonates were taken from the ledge and panned and yielded $10 in gold. This is $1.25 to the pound, which is rich ore anywhere. The extent of the find is not known yet as the ledge had not been stripped for any distance when the telegram was sent. Mr. Crilly states that the timbers are being got out for the mortar and other parts of the frame for the ten stamps that are to be added to the Great Northern mill at Camborne.

TOWN PARTLY UNDER WATER

Kansas City, July 7—One half of Armourdale, the packing house town, in the suburbs on the Kansas side, is under water on account of the overflow of the Kaw river. The river is still rising at a rapid rate and conditions approach the great flood of 1903. The river is higher than at any time since then.

ALL STAKED ON PORT ARTHUR

Japan has admonished her generals in the field that Port Arthur must be taken without more ado. This is the well nigh unanimous verdict of the English press, as set forth not only in the London Times and Mail, but in the provincial papers, including the Manchester Guardian. The London Spectator is so sure on this point that its predictions would lead one to expect the news that Port Arthur has fallen to come any day. Our English contemporaries further agree that the place cannot be taken without assault, unless the operations are to be indefinitely delayed. The London Standard, however, is not alone in entertaining serious doubts regarding an immediate assault upon Port Arthur:

"The question is being discussed in Japan whether the investment of Port Arthur is to take its place among the great sieges of history, or to be terminated by a rapid coup de main. The answer might no doubt be supplied by the Japanese general staff, if that very competent body chose to reveal its plans. It depends in the main on one of those terrible calculations which it is sometimes the duty of military commanders to make. What is the price, in terms of human life and suffering of wounds and death, which it is worth while to pay for abbreviating the delay and suspense in the Liao Tung peninsula? . . . . There may be no special reason for the Japanese to be in a hurry, since it is tolerably certain that Port Arthur cannot be relieved by land; and as for the Baltic fleet, it cannot arrive, if it arrives at all, soon enough to be of any practical service. Nevertheless the Japanese must be anxious to get rid of the entanglement of Port Arthur so as to be relieved of all further apprehension as to the maritime position and in order to set free their entire army for the advance in force into central Manchuria. They may decide to storm the place after shaking it to pieces by a series of bombardments; and in that case they are very likely to succeed, though no doubt not without paying a heavy toll in the lives of their men."

SCHOLES WON THE SCULLS.

Louis F. Scholes, of the Don Rowing club, Toronto has won at Henley the diamond sculls, defeating three competitors and establishing a new record. On Wednesday he defeated F. S. Kelly, who won the sculls in 1902 and in 1903. The sculls carry with them the amateur championship of England, although the competition is open to the world. Scholes before he left Canada for England, stated that he was in good form and expected to be able to defeat all who might compete with him for the sculls and his expectations have been not only realized but he has created a new record on the Henley course. In aquatic sports the Canadian oarsmen are hard to beat both in the amateur and professional class. Hanlon for many years was the champion oarsman of the world, while O'Connor also held the championship, and were it not for his untimely death, in the midst of his career as an oarsman, he to might have accomplished a great deal more. The rest of the world may be able to distance Canada in some things, but when it comes to rowing the Canadian oarsmen can be relied on to more than hold their own against all comers.

FOREST FIRES.

What promises to be an unusually dry summer brings to the front the question of forest fires and their prevention. There is a provincial act providing penalties for starting fires or for carelessly burning brush etc., in the process of clearing up, by ranchers and settlers generally, but as there are no fire wardens to enforce the provisions, the act is practically useless. Now and again convictions are obtained when an unusually flagrant case occurs, but as a rule settlers, prospectors and others are pretty much left to look after themselves. The dominion authorities long ago found out that passing acts of parliament for the prevention of forest fires without making due provision for the enforcement of them, accomplished nothing, and it was only when fire wardens were appointed that a stay was commenced in the yearly destruction of standing timber by fire. Settlers are now coming into the section immediately tributary to this city in larger numbers than ever before and they should be duly impressed that it is nothing short of a criminal act to start up a forest fire from sheer carelessness and want of ordinary care in clearing and cleaning up their grounds.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The English postoffice has a close monopoly in delivering letters throughout the United Kingdom, says the American Postmaster. Firms addressing and delivering circulars, bills, etc. on a large scale come in conflict with the postoffice rights, and are to be suppressed. Circulars must be sent through the postoffice if addressed, nor can they be delivered according to a list carried by the distributor. It is permissable for a firm to send out its own bills by its own messenger, but when the business is given to a distributing company it is unlawful. By another queer freak of this particular law an addressed letter becomes a package when a string is tied around it and passes out of the postoffice jurisdiction.

A statement before the Railway commission that the Grand Trunk Railway company paid $2,000,000 in damage claims last year shows that there must be deplorable inefficiency somewhere. Such a record on a government railway would lead to a political campaign. It is a common impression that a small part of this sum judiciously expended in strengthening the force of employes would go a long way toward preventing the accidents which have resulted in these damage claims.

HELEN KELLER'S LIFE

BRIEF BIOGRAPHY OF WOMAN WHO IS DEAF, DUMB AND BLIND

NOTWITHSTANDING THIS SHE HAS MASTERED MANY THINGS

Mark Twain once said that the two most interesting characters of the nineteenth century are Napoleon and Helen Keller. The attention of the world was once more drawn to this remarkable girl when she recently received from the president of Radcliffe college a degree corresponding to that of bachelor of arts in Harvard university. Here is a girl of 24, blind, deaf and dumb from her infancy who has mastered the art of speech who knows and appreciates the word "color," who writes beautiful descriptive English and has now successfully emerged from one of the great colleges of the United States.

Last year Miss Keller wrote her autobiography and the book stirs one like a great epic; without some knowledge of the facts therein set forth it is impossible to understand how this blind girl has accomplished so much. Helen was born in Alabama 24 years ago on June 27th. At the age of six months she spoke; she walked when she was a year old. Eight months later she was suddenly stricken down with acute congestion of the stomach and brain. She lay between life and death for weeks, and the doctor did not expect her to recover but one day the fever left her, and she woke from her delirium, never to see or hear again. Then it was that her hands were called on to be her eyes and ears and tongue. They felt every object, observed every motion and slowly but surely began to accumulate that vast store of knowledge which makes up ones experience. She had no idea of any object that was not conveyed by the hands, the nose or the palate. She did not know that everything had a name, she did not know what a name was, that others were different from her she could not understand. One thing she had—a supreme desire to express her thoughts.

It was when Helen was not quite seven years old that Miss Sullivan went to live with her. The first move in the great attempt of the teacher to pierce the cloud which hung over the child's consciousness is described in Helen's book. "She led me into her room and gave me a doll. When I had played with it for a little while, Miss Sullivan spelled into my hand the word doll. I was at once interested in the finger play and tried to imitate it." Of course at that time Helen did not know what her teacher meant by the finger play. As has been said, she did not know that the doll had a name. In the days that followed she learned to spell into Miss Sullivan's hand, uncomprehendingly, a number of words like "pin," "hat," "cup," always having examined the article first. Later verbs like "sit," "stand," and "walk" were spelled. Then we come to that thrilling passage where the blind girl describes the first ray of sun that shot athwart her soul. "We walked down the path to the well house, attracted by the fragrance of the honey-suckle, with which it was covered. Some one was drawing water, and my teacher placed my hand upon the spout. As the cool stream gushed over my hand, she spelled the word water, into the other, first slowly and then more rapidly. I stood still, my whole attention fixed upon the motion of her fingers. Suddenly I felt a misty consciousness of something forgotten—a thrill of returning thought; and somehow the mystery of language was revealed to me. I knew then that water meant that wonderful, cool something that was flowing over my hand. That living word awakened my soul gave it light, hope, joy, set it free."

After this the child's hunger and thirst after knowledge were almost unmanageable. She insisted that the name of every object be spelled to her, and would not rest till she had spelled it back again. The tremendous feat of conveying to the mind of her pupil the idea of an abstraction Miss Sullivan accomplished soon after this. Helen had been stringing beads of different sizes in symmetrical groups, and had made many mistakes. Finally she stopped, puzzeled, trying to recollect the proper order for the beads. Miss Sullivan lightly touched her forehead, and then spelled "think!" "Then," says Helen, "In a flash I knew that the word was the name of the process that was going on in my head." Reading was taught by having words in raised letters pasted on familiar objects. Arithmetic was learned by means of straws and beads. For years the teaching went on like the teaching of any other child, except that the lessons were spelled instead of spoken.

In the spring of 1890 came another wonderful step. Helen learned to speak. She had long been aware that those about her communicated by some means other than touch, and ever since her illness she had had a desire to utter sounds. She loved to have her hand on a dog when it barked, and often she would lay her fingers on the moving lips of those about her. There was one word—"water"—sole inheritance from her babyhood—the meaning of which she knew. This she called "wa-wa," and was able to say it after her recovery. Her throat, tongue and lips were in no way deformed. She ceased to speak because she ceased to hear. Today she speaks intelligibly and well, though her voice possesses a wierd, compelling force that at once arrests attention; but not a word has ever reached her ears. Now, anyone can converse with Helen Keller. She places her fingers on the lips of whomsoever she is speaking with, and replies vocally.

In her college course Miss Sullivan sat with Helen, spelling into her hand the lectures. Helen retained what she could in her mind and later copied it out on a specially constructed typewriter, the letters remaiging in raised type. These she read and so prepared herself for the examinations which she has so successfully passed. Her books of reference are in raised type, scores of them having been expressly made for her through the kindness of some of her many friends. Apart from her wonderful mental gifts, Helen Keller is a lovable, healthy, wholesome-minded girl, with a passionate love for dumb animals. That her life will in some way be spent in the service of those who can neither see nor hear is very probable.

Miss Alice M. Smith, of Minneapolis, Minn., tells how woman's monthly suffering may be quickly and permanently relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have never before given my endorsement for any medicine, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has added so much to my life and happiness that I feel like making an exception in this case. For two years every month I would have two days of severe pain and could find no relief, but one day when visiting a friend I run across Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,—she had used it with the best results and advised me to try it. I found that it worked wonders with me; I now experience no pain and only had to use a few bottles to bring about this wonderful change. I use it occasionally now when I am exceptionally tired or worn out."—MISS ALICE M. SMITH, 804 Third Ave., South Minneapolis, Minn., Chairman Executive Committee Minneapolis Study Club.

Beauty and strength in women vanish early in life because of monthly pain or some menstrual irregularity. Many suffer silently and see their best gifts fade away. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps women preserve roundness of form and freshness of face because it makes their entire female organism healthy. It carries women safely through the various natural crises and is the safeguard of woman's health.

The truth about this great medicine is told in the letters from women published in this paper constantly.

Mrs. C. Kleinschrodt, Morrison, Ill., says:—

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have suffered ever since I was thirteen years of age with my menses. They were irregular and very painful. I doctored a great deal but received no benefit.

"A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and after taking a few bottles of it, I found great relief.

"Menstruation is now regular and without pain. I am enjoying better health than I have for sometime."

How is it possible for us to make it plainer that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will positively help all sick women? All women are constituted alike, rich and poor, high and low,—all suffer from the same organic troubles. Surely, no one can wish to remain weak and sickly, discouraged with life and without hope for the future, when proof is so unmistakable that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure monthly suffering—all womb and ovarian troubles, and all the ills peculiar to women.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

JAMES A. BAKER TELLS OF MILITARY RULE IN COLORADO.

CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS TORN TO PIECES AND WALKED ON

James A. Baker, of the executive of the Western Federation of Miners, who has returned from a visit to Colorado and was interviewed by a Daily News' reporter yesterday, when asked if there was anything new in the strike situation in Colorado replied that the ground had been well covered in the interview with Frank Phillips and by the statement published by the Federation of Miners, both of which had appeared in this paper. There were some further developments in the situation which he thought would be worth publishing.

"After the riot in the Cripple Creek district, succeeding the Cripple Creek explosion, our men were practically deprived of their liberty and either thrown into prison or deported. Our union stores which had served as commissaries for our members and their families, having been destroyed, it became necessary to provide some other means for supplying the necessities of life for the families in the district. We found a couple of merchants in that section, one at Victor and another at Cripple Creek, upon whom we had no special claim and who were not identified with the Citizen's alliance. We immediately made arrangements with these merchants to supply the women and children with the necessaries of life. The Federation placed to the credit of Mr. Kettleson, of Victor, a general merchant, the sum of $2500 and he agreed to supply the families of the miners and to honor orders issued by the committee of the woman's auxiliary of organized labor in that district. Mr. Kettleson had no sooner commenced to carry out his agreement with us than he was interviewed by a committee from the citizens' alliance and the military, who demanded to know if he was supplying the goods on the credit of the Western Federation of Miners. He replied that he was not extending any credit, and that what he was issuing was being paid for.

"For a few days he ran along in this way until he had distributed between $800 and $900 worth of goods. Then he was again waited on by a similar committee and told that he must not continue to distribute goods in that manner; that if he continued to do business with the Western Federation of Miners his place of business would receive the same treatment the union stores had. They forbid him from extending credit under any pretext, saying that people who purchased his goods must put money on the counter for them. Then he informed us of what had occurred and explained that he would be unable to further carry out his agreement. The same mandate was practically issued at Cripple Creek to the merchant there, who was delivering goods on the same plan.

"About this time the Federation was notified in writing by adjutant general Bell that we would not be allowed to send any relief into the district, except through the military, explaining that one major Naylor would receive all such relief and distribute it according to his judgment. We ignored this order and undertook to do business direct with committee of the woman's auxiliary, using the money order department of the postoffice for this purpose. The local postoffice authorities, being a part of the Citizens' alliance, evidently gave immediate notice to the military authorities of what was being done and within the hour after getting those money orders cashed the women were arrested, brought before the military committee, subjected to the sweating process and compelled to admit where the money came from. A special proclamation was read to them and they were threatened with both imprisonment and deportation if they continued to receive money this way. Notwithstanding this the women have demonstrated that they have the courage of their convictions and continue to receive the money through the postoffice, and through their help we have been enabled to prevent actual suffering.

"The relations in Denver became very strained and the Citizens' alliance, of which governor Peabody is a member, has drawn the lines closely, even to the extent of ordering us to vacate the office which we have occupied since 1901. We found that the combination to shut us out existed in the larger blocks, and this notwithstanding the fact that we have paid our rents annually in advance ever since we have had offices in the city. We occupied five rooms in the building where our offices are, the Mining Exchange block, and there are a dozen vacant rooms in the building now, so it is simply a case of forcing us out at any cost. I looked around in a number of blocks for quarters, and found places where there were many vacant rooms, but as soon as I told whom the rooms were for, the W. F. of M., they refused to ent to us.

"The Citizens' alliance is made up of both republicans and democrats although the fomer party has the larger number of representatives in it. They are organized simply for the purpose of maintaining the supremacy of corporations and to break up and destroy all forms of organized labor. Their actions show that there is no crime in the calendar they would not commit against a union man or his family, or against a person who expresses a word of sympathy for them.

"Simply because the Rocky Mountain News and the Denver Times published a portion of the facts in relation to the struggle they have been boycotted by the Citizens' alliance. The result of this is that while they are losing considerable advertising patronage their circulation has been greatly increased by subscription from all over the country. We are now, for the first time since the trouble commenced, enabled to get all of the facts as they occur through the medium of these papers. The publishing of the actual facts as they occur will be of great benefit to us in this struggle. The owners of the papers are wealthy and able to carry on the fight to a finish.

"The only bright spot that I can see on the horizon is the intervention of the federal courts, which have been appealed to to sustain the rights guaranteed under the constitution, which have been torn to tatters and trampled on by the military authorities and ignored by the president of the United States. It is evident that Mr. Roosevelt is afraid to do anything on the eve of the campaign, which might in the remotest manner possible jeopardize his chances for being elected president. We have repeatedly appealed to him, both in letters and telegrams, and outlined the condition that we were confronting, and requested him to make an investigation and up to the present he has never even acknowledged the receipt of a communication.

"The United States circuit court of St. Louis has issued a writ of habeas corpus commanding the governor of Colorado to produce Charles H. Moyer, president of the Federation. Governor Peabody became cognizant of the fact that this order had been issued, declared martial law at an end in Telluride, and turned Mr. Moyer over to the civil authorities. This was done before service of the writ of habeas corpus had been made. Moyer was turned over to the civil authorities and was held for a time on a former charge of flag desecration. During that interval a complaint was made and papers prepared, in Teller county, charging him with complicity in the Vindicator mine explosion. The original charge of flag desecration was dropped and he was turned over to the authorities of Teller county and a military posse escorted him to Cripple Creek. Proceedings were undertaken to get him out, by a writ of habeas corpus, when the murder charge was dropped. Then a new charge was filed against him and all of the general officers of the federation as well as the local officers of that district, charging them with complicity in the Independence depot explosion. I am indirectly informed that president Moyer is out on bonds, but I do not know but what they have hatched up another charge against him and again have him in jail.

"So far as we are concerned the fight for our inalienable rights must go on. There is only one other choice and that is to get off the earth. The entire east is thoroughly aroused over the situation. President Roosevelt has been flooded with demands to intervene and to put an end to persecution in Colorado. The people throughout the entire country apparently realize that if we are subjected to a defeat in this struggle that they will soon be subjected to similar treatment. From all parts of the union the people are extending us their moral and financial support and assuring us that they will help us till we win as they fully realize that this struggle is their own."

THE SPOKANE FAIR

"Like the Old Fruit Fairs" is the watchword of the Spokane Interstate Fair management this year. Robert H. Cosgrove, who for a number of years has been identified with the Minnesota State Fair, the most successful annual fair in the United States has been retained as manager of the Interstate Fair this fall. Every effort will be made to provide an exhibition which will be as meritorious and attract as much attention as the old fruit fairs used to do. And with this end in view the premiums have been increased in all departments, but more particularly in the fruit and grain departments. The amount of money given in fruit alone has been almost doubled, new classes introduced, and new divisions made. The fruit displays at the former fairs were famous all over the country, and there is no reason why they cannot be equalled again.

MYSTERY CLEARED UP

GEORGE YEOMAN'S BODY IS FULLY IDENTIFIED

CAME FROM MONTREAL AND WANTED TO RETURN

Further enquiries concerning the man whose body was found four miles below Procter on the opposite side of the lake, Wednesday last, have resulted in establishing the identity of the deceased beyond all doubt and some details concerning him.

George Yeoman was a Montreal mechanic and becoming dissatisfied with life in the east came west very much against the wishes of his parents. He worked in the C. P. R. shops at Revelstoke and in this city but does not seem to have obtained steady employment. He was clearly in financial straits and some time ago wrote his father in Montreal for money, and a letter addressed to the dead man containing cash was found in the local postoffice by the provincial police yesterday. Further enquiries resulted in discovering that Yeoman had been boarding at the Madden house, where a trunk was found containing clothing and some letters and papers. Yeoman, it is said was anxious to return to Montreal and probably decided to work his way back as best he could. It is thought that he went to Procter with the idea of getting on one of the car barges and so reaching Kootenay Landing. Finding some difficulty getting on the barge at the start he borrowed rancher Ford's canoe and started to board one of the barges en route. Either in paddling out or in attempting to board the barge the deceased came to grief and was drowned.

Two men who worked with the deceased at the local C. P. R. car shops visited the city cemetery yesterday morning and fully identified the remains. Acting chief Constable Young wired the chief of police at Montreal requesting him to inform the father of the deceased of the death of his son.

Three weeks ago last Saturday Yeoman disappeared from the Madden house leaving no word of his future movements but leaving his trunk and clothes. The following day, Sunday, rancher Ford missed his green canoe, which was discovered, floating about upturned by the officers of the Moyie the next day.

IN SESSION AT SEATTLE

Seattle, July 7—A prominent feature of the annual meeting of the Washington State Bar association, which begins here today will be a general debate on the railroad merger as it applies to this state. Several of the most eminent lawyers and jurists of the state will take part in the discussion. At the opening sessions held this morning in the federal court room, president W. A. Peters of this city, presented his annual address. The sessions will continue through the remainder of the week. Prominent among the participants are judge H. S. Elliott of Chehalis, E. C. Macdonald of Spokane, Judge Carroll B. Graves of Ellenburg and judge Frank H. Rudkin of North Yakima.

FOREST FIRES.

Some of the Provisions of the Preventative Act—Caution Required.

The season of forest fires is here and already some local damage has been done. With the probability of an unusually hot and dry summer this year, it becomes more than usually necessary that all due precautions should be taken to prevent the starting of forest fires.

The act governing the matter, and the amending acts, provide a means of punishing anyone guilty of neglecting to use the prescribed means of preventing the commencement of a forest fire. Anyone convicted under the act may be fined not more than $200 or less than $50 and may be imprisoned for a period not exceeding six months; and in addition is liable at a civil action, for all damages occasioned by the fire so wilfully started.

All persons who make or start a fire in any woods or forest or upon lands adjacent thereto between May 1st and October 1st in any year, for cooking, obtaining warmth, or for any industrial purpose, are obliged to clear a sufficient space surrounding the place in which such fire is started, and the fire is to be completely extinguished before leaving the place.

Ranchers and settlers clearing lands are equired at all times to constantly watch over and care for any fire they may start for clearing purposes so as to prevent its spreading and getting beyond control, and must first clear a margin around the spot or tract to be cleared up by fire.

The burden of proving that the terms of the act have been complied with is specifically placed upon the defendants in any action under the act.

It is further provided that it shall be the duty of every provincial government agent gold commissioner, timber inspector, forest ranger, mining recorder and provincial police officer or constable to enforce the provisions and requirements of the act.

If the government would go a step further and appoint district fire wardens or specifically designate one official in each fire district to look out for offenders against the act, some of the disastrous fires experienced in the past might be prevented.

In addition to settlers and prospectors the holiday campers and picnickers should take particular care to extinguish camp fires before quitting the spot.

THE CUTWORM PEST.

Entomologist Cockle Tells How to Get Rid of Them.

Editor, The Daily News: Recently I called attention to the prevalence of the large quantities of fraiegated cutworm eggs. Many of our local agriculturists destroyed thousands of these eggs and in this way secured a partial immunity from the attack of the swarm of caterpillers which will surely result. To combat these it is now necessary to poison them with Paris Green which can best be accomplished by the following method:

Take a pail of water to which add two pounds of sugar, with this damp 50 pounds of bran and add to it one pound of Paris Green, thoroughly mixing it. Piles of this may be laid along the borders of flower and vegetable beds, each pile being covered by a shingle or board laid flat on the top of the piles, and caterpillers will be found to frequent these piles and be poisoned. Where chickens are kept great care should be taken to place only small piles with large covering to prevent the chickens reaching the poisoned bran. If this treatment is promptly carried out, there is no reason to anticipate the disastrous results which were in evidence in 1900 when swarms of this destructive cutworm swarmed all over the province. But prompt action will be the only saving of many of our beautiful gardens. The supply of poisoned bran should be renewed at least every week. In the case of rows of cabbage and like plants the bran may be advantageously covered with large cabbage leaves to secure it from drying up by the sun and to afford a shelter to which the caterpillers may resort. J. W. COCKLE, Entomologist.

NELSON'S NEWS OF THE DAY

The Nelson Hardware Company was inadvertently omitted from the list of those who contributed to the erection of the band stand.

The Hunter V mine near Ymir is now shipping from 60 to 70 tons of ore daily. A portion is sent to the Hall Mines smelter and the balance to the Northport smelter.

Owing to an electrical storm last night the C. P. R. wires were down more or less up to the time of going to press this morning, which accounts for the lack of war news in this issue.

At the regular monthly meeting of the board of trade council yesterday afternoon only routine business was transacted, and it was decided that during the summer months the board would only meet at the call of the president.

John Burns the contractor, has completed the warehouse for the Hudson's Bay Co., on the C. P. R. flats. He has also finished a residence for Gilbert Anderson on Robson street. John Burns, jr., has gone to Ymir to build a Catholic church there.

F. N. Raines, barrister of Toronto, paid a fraternal visit to the local lodge of the S. O. E. last night. Mr. Raines is a grand lodge representative touring Manitoba, the territories and British Columbia on a visit of inspection to S. O. E. lodges.

At the Madden house it was learned last night that George Yeoman the man whose body was found on Wednesday last near Procter, arrived at the hotel on June 3rd and left on June 19th. He was a much younger man than at first supposed, not being over 25 years of age.

The funeral of Malcolm McLeod, who died on July 3rd, at the Kootenay Lake General Hospital, will take place at 10 o'clock this morning from D. McArthur & Co.'s undertaking parlors. Rev. J. T. Ferguson will officiate. His son, C. M. McLeod, arrived from Spokane last evening for the purpose of attending the funeral.

T. Kiddie, manager of the Tyee smelter at Ladysmith, has been in the city for the past few days on a combined business and pleasure trip. He visited the Hall Mines smelter yesterday and goes to the Boundary country this morning, returning later and going to the coast from Robson. The Tyee smelter has a daily capacity of 250 tons but Mr. Kiddie says that they only run about 20 days a month on the average. There is not sufficient ore available on the coast for the four smelters there, but Mr. Kiddie looks for improvement in this respect later on. At the Britannia mining company's properties on Howe Island Messrs. Riblet & Co have obtained the contract for the erection of a tramway 3 3-4 miles long and are now busy on construction. A concentrator will be erected or else the output will go to the Crofton smelter. This is Mr. Kiddie's first trip in the Kootenays and he is greatly impressed with all he has seen on his trip.

DONS MAN'S CLOTHES.

A Girl Who Wanders Around Attired in Trousers and Coat.

Butte, Montana, July 7.—Jennie Morrison, who gives her age as 19, but who looks much younger, claims to have worn boys' attire for six years without discovery. Jennie was taken into custody by the Butte police recently while attempting to board an outgoing train. Her voice betrayed her as she cried to her partner for help. The girl had been traveling with a man named Ed Grant, who is being held in the county jail on the suspicion that he is a more desperate character than the present circumstances show.

The girl seems perfectly at home in man's attire, and declares that she will never wear skirts again. Her hair is cropped short, and no one would suspect her of being a girl.

"I first wore these togs in Portland," she said in an interview: "I found I could go anywhere and see all kinds of things when I wore them, so I decided this was the costume for anyone who wanted to see the world. I've been across the continent three times, all the way from Golden Gate to Portland, Maine, and from Vancouver to Florida. That is the only life worth living, the roving life. It would kill me to live in one place. Some ladies from the associate charities came here today, but they don't know anything. They are good hearted all right, and they mean well, but they don't know anything. How can they?"

While the girl is wordly wise to a degree, there remains something pathetically childish in her demeanor which arouses the sympathy of all who see her. She will not reveal the name of her parents or tell where she "hails" from. She simply affirms that she likes to roam about the world, and that so long as she does not break the law no one has the power to prevent her.

CAPTAIN WAS TO BLAME.

Lamb Says the Current Was Responsible for Norge Disaster.

Copenhagen, July 7.—Captain Lamb, one of the highest officers of the Danish navy, said to the Associated Press correspondent today that no fault could be found with either the captain or crew on the Danish steamship Norge. He said that the Norge gave away with the current, and added: "I made 300 trips to the United States and my ship often gave away to the strength of the current and the variation of the compasses. These conditions are known to all navigators. The officers of the United Steamship Co., which owned the Norge, deny the statements made by the survivors of the wreck that the lifeboats were rotten or the supply of life belts was insufficient. They say that only recently the Norge was supplied with 300 new life belts and that the stock on board exceeded the number of passengers carried by the ship on her last ship.

INSPECTOR RETIRES.

Victoria, July 7.—The announcement was made yesterday that inspector Netherby has retired from his position as inspector of the Vancouver island schools. There has hitherto been four inspectors in the province, inspector Netherby, of Victoria; inspector Stewart, of Vancouver; inspector Gordon, of Kamloops; and inspector Wilson, of Nelson. The estimates provide for only three this year. The retirement of Mr. Netherby begins with July 1st. The three remaining inspectors will cover the work, but the distribution of territory has not yet been decided upon.

A FIERCE SKIRMISH.

The Russian Casualties Were 300 and the Japanese 1,000.

London, July 7.—A St. Petersburg despatch says, that early on Wednesday morning general Kashtalinsky's troops surprised and attacked the Japanese outposts at Lant Gan San. They finally rushed the camp of the main outpost, killing everyone in it. The Japanese were reinforced and made three fierce attacks, but were repulsed. The advance of a second Russian battalion enabled the first to retire safely. The Russians had 300 casualties, while those of the Japanese are placed at 1,000.

DEFENDS RIFLEMEN.

Ottawa, July 7.—R. G. Macpherson, member for Burrard, in an interview in a local paper today, combated major Winter's remarks which appeared to the effect that the Vancouver rifle team which competed in the C. M. R. league shoots made the high score of ninety-four on accountof shooting under unusually favorable circumstances. Major Winter stated that the Vancouver range was protected from the wind by the surrounding forests and that the British Columbia men had as easy a task as if the targets were placed in a long hall.

"There is no foundation whatever," said Mr. Macpherson, "for these disparaging remarks. Our men made the record score because they are the best marksmen in the country. Last year when the British Columbia team came here they swept prizes from all competitors, and you may say they left practically nothing but the range when they went home.

"There is some shelter at Vancouver, but our range is nevertheless as windy as the average one in Canada. Our team thart scored ninety-four had no advantages on this account, but we had the disadvantage in respect of bad light. The weather is rarely bright. We have another team, not in the Bisley class, which scored ninety-one in an open range which was beside a body of water.

HARVEY SCOTT RESIGNS.

Portland, Ore., July 7.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Lewis and Clark exposition, president Harvey W. Scott tendered his resignation which was accepted.

The reason assigned by Mr. Scott is failing health and the necessity for laying aside all business cares. Mr. Scott has held the office of president since the death of Henry W. Corbett, about two years ago. The successor to president Scott has not yet been selected.
