HOUSE SEETHES WITH EXCITEMENT

Members in Uproar Over Ruling of Speaker

PREMIER DEFENDS NAVAL POLICY

Says Attitude of Government Has Been Intentionally Misrepresented

OTTAWA, Nov. 29—The battle of the parliamentary session which has been proceeding on unusually brisk lines for 10 days culminated tonight in an encounter of warm description between two parties over a ruling of the Speaker, consequent upon a remark of one of the Conservative members just after the premier had closed his defence of his administration. The contest was just as fierce and the excitement just as intense as during the famous contretemps between Hon. George E. Foster and Sir Wilfrid Laurier two years ago.

The incident began thus: When the premier had finished his speech, T. W. Crothers one of the leading critics of the opposition rose to address the house and a number of Liberals began to leave the chamber. The noise was great and the Speaker shouted, "order, order." In the hubbub the Speaker heard Dr. Schaffner of Souris, Man use the word "coward." The Speaker rose and called upon Dr. Schaffner to withdraw the expression. The member for Souris at once complied. Speaker Marcil then intimated that an apology was due to the house. Dr. Schaffner remarking that he would have to comply with the order of the Speaker, apologized.

Mr. Foster: "What about 'liar' the other day?"

The noise at this point became tremendous. Conservatives gave full vent to their lung power and shouted to the Speaker to order Mr. Gauvreau of Temiscouata to apologize also to the house for calling Mr. Monk a liar. Mr. Marcil appealed to the house for order and Mr. Borden rose amid the wild cheering of his followers: "I respectfully suggest," he said, "that the word coward is not more offensive than the word liar." This was followed by another burst of cheering from the opposition. Through the uproar, Mr. Foster shouted in stentorian tones: "Make the other man apologize, that's only the fair thing."

The Speaker explained that the other day, when the Liberal member for Temiscouata, used the expression liar, he had not heard it, when he saw it in Hansard the following day he called upon Mr. Gauvreau to withdraw. The honorable gentleman had done so.

A wordy dispute took place on the question as to whether Mr. Gauvreau should apologize as well, and Sir Wilfrid, Mr. Borden and Mr. Foster expressed their views on the matter. Peace was restored by Mr. Gauvreau voluntarily apologizing to Mr. Monk. Previous to the row the debate had proceeded quietly during which the premier in an hour's speech dealt exhaustively with the naval question.

Uncrowned King.

W. B. Northrup, Conservative, East Hastings who resumed the debate on the address said it was the time for Canada to stop and take stock of her national defenses. "There is an uncrowned king in Canada, as despotic and autocratic as any despot who rules any land in the world today," he said with reference to the prime minister. Comparing the Fielding tariff and the National policy, he said, "I hope the people of this country will not think that the Fielding tariff is a new tariff introducing a new principle." He argued that the naval policy of the government had brought about a weakened condition. Since last year by that policy two warships had been taken out of the imperial navy and 800 sailors had gone out of service and millions of dollars of Canada's money had been spent in vain. He charged that the prime minister was prepared to sit down and consider trade relations with the United States on behalf of commercial union or continental free trade.

E. W. Tobin of Richmond and Wolfe, followed Mr. Northrup. He dealt with the Begin matter wherein Begin was accused by Mr. Monk of having stated from a platform during the Arthabasca Drummond election that the Canadian navy would be used to pound Great Britain. Mr. Tobin produced declarations from Mayor Cardiff of Kingsley Falls, where the meeting was held and J. S. Smith and J. B. Prefontaine, who were at the meeting, all three bearing out Mr. Begin in his denial. In view of these statements Mr. Tobin suggested that Mr. Monk withdraw it, but Mr. Monk did not do so.

Likes Despot.

Replying to Mr. Northrup Ralph Smith, of Nanaimo, said he did not object to a despot if it were a good one. A man like Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who by his policy had contributed so largely to the success of his country, was to be excused if he exercised considerable personal authority over those who followed him. Referring to the navy, Mr. Smith said the country would remember that the government had carried out the navy policy on lines approved by the whole country. The people would prefer a government, which goes ahead, even if it makes mistakes, to politicians who stood for doing nothing. At the welcome to the Rainbow at Vancouver, Mr. Smith added, Premier McBride, who has been spoken of as the probable leader of the Conservative party, had expressed himself in accord with the Laurier naval policy.

W. S. Middleboro, North Grey, criticized Ralph Smith's remarks stating that he had held different views before 1906. E. N. Lewis, West Huron, stated that four out of five men in his constituency would vote against the imposition of a navy at the present time.

Premier's Speech.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier opened with a reference to the Monk amendment, which he said contained nothing new but Mr. Monk had been consistent. Referring to Mr. Borden's amendment, the only thing he had to say was, that it was the last chapter in the history of the variations of the leader of the opposition on the navy question. Sir Wilfrid then entered into a detailed review of the attitude of the government and the opposition, quoting Mr. Foster's many resolutions. Mr. Borden had made several speeches about the country on the navy matter and there was no suggestion of an appeal to the people. It was impossible to say how many tempters the leader of the opposition had. He had been told that Mr. Monk's amendment had aroused a feeling of embarrassment among the opposition and it was felt that unless another amendment was moved members of the opposition might vote with Mr. Monk. In Quebec the cry would be that the bill was an imperialistic measure and in other provinces separatist measure. The object of course would be to destroy the government and were they to succeed they would be falling on each other's necks because at last the government had been defeated, but there would be a jolly row when the time came for them to define a policy. The opposition had not opposed the national transcontinental bill because it was not submitted to the people. The present situation is merely a subterfuge to escape responsibility.

Takes Monk to Task.

The prime minister next took Mr. Monk to task for having stated that he (Sir Wilfrid) had been guilty of misrepresentation. Mr. Monk had accused the government of having passed a "secret order in council" on February 10, 1909, approving a plan whereby Canada should take part in the naval policy of Great Britain. Amid Liberal cheers Sir Wilfrid stated, that this order in council was but a confirmation of a resolution passed at the previous imperial conference. There had been accusations all over Quebec that Sir Wilfrid had been guilty of conspiracy and was keeping something from the house. It was with such fabrications that Mr. Monk poisoned the minds of the people of Quebec. "Misrepresentation there has been but not on my part," continued Sir Wilfrid. He restated his endeavor through 21 years of his leadership to make every appeal to the people such that race and creed consideration would not be involved. The present agitation in Quebec will not live long. "We shall," he continued, "go to the end because we are right and right will prevail." The debate was adjourned by Mr. Crothers.

C. P. R. TO BUILD NEW BRANCH LINE

Second in Kootenay Within Short Time—Taps a Very Rich Territory

The C.P.R. has decided upon the construction of another short branch line into the Kootenay. It will run from below Elko and Galloway southerly towards Waldo and Bayne's Lake.

Though short the line is important and is likely to be remunerative, passing as it does through valuable timber limits and an extensive tract of rich agricultural land.

This is the second branch line to be constructed by the C.P.R. in the Kootenays within a short time,—the other being the line to Wellington.

VANCOUVER LADS JOIN CANADA'S NEW CRUISER

(Special to The Daily News.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 29—During the stay of the Canadian cruiser Rainbow in Burrard inlet, 32 Vancouver lads have asked for appointment as apprentices on the vessel. Of these 10 have been accepted and 22 taken on probation. It is probable this number will be considerably increased before the cruiser leaves for Esquimalt on Thursday.

SOLE TAX ON LAND.

(Special to The Daily News.)

VANCOUVER, Nov. 29—New Westminster city council has strongly recommended to next year's council that the taxation of improvements should hereafter be eliminated and the city's revenue obtained entirely from a tax on land.

CURLERS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Local Enthusiasts Make Plans for Coming Season

DONALD GUTHRIE IS PRESIDENT

Harry Houston, Vice-President; A. T. Walley, Secretary—Local Bonspiel

At the annual meeting of the Nelson Curling club in the board of trade rooms last night it was proposed to hold a special local bonspiel in Nelson sometime in January next, to give a dance or some similar function under the auspices of the club and to organize a series of matches between rinks selected from the various callings in the city. The election of officers also took place and various questions of detail regarding matters essential to the welfare of the club were discussed at length. C. D. Blackwood, the retiring president was in the chair.

The first matter taken up was the election of officers for the year, which resulted as follows:

Patron—P. Burns of Calgary.
Honorary president—C. D. Blackwood
Honorary vice-president — Harry Wright, M.P.P.
President—Donald Guthrie.
Vice-president—Harry Houston.
Secretary-treasurer—A. T. Walley.
Executive committee—P. J. Gleazer, F. A. Starkey and J. H. Fox.
Ice committee—J. G. Bunyan,, A. Bunker.
Umpires—His honor Judge Forin and Frank Deacon.
Membership committee—C. D. Blackwood, George Thurman, D. H. Proudfoot.

Delegates to the British Columbia Curling association annual meeting next week—F. A. Starkey and A. T. Walley.

Bonspiel Here

The question of holding a local bonspiel, to be run on the same lines as the great annual ice carnival of the British Columbia Curling association, was discussed at length and very favorably received by the meeting. It was proposed that the event should commence at 8 o'clock in the morning and last until midnight on a day to be selected later towards the end of January when the ice and other conditions for the Scotch national game are most favorable.

To Boost Membership

It was stated by the secretary that the club last year had 57 paid members, and C. D. Blackwood, A. T. Walley, J. H. Fox, J. G. Bunyan, F. A. Starkey, Donald Guthrie, George Thurman and P. J. Gleazer mades various suggestions as to the best means of increasing the membership to about 200, a total which was at one time reached by the club. Although no definite plan was decided upon every enthusiast of the "roarin' game" present evinced his intention of boosting both the club and curling with all the means in his power. That the majority of last year's members and a very large number of green hands will be seen on the ice at the recreation building this winter therefore seems assured.

Skip Question

Messrs. Blackwood, Starkey, Walley and Guthrie were appointed a committee to interview the president and executive of the Pavilion association with a view to having certain modifications made regarding the lighting and other arrangements in the building.

The question of the classification of skips and the best methods of selecting skips and rinks was considered and it was decided that this matter should be left over until the next public meeting which will be called shortly by the president.

J. H. Wallace in advocating a series of games between rinks composed of curlers from the various callings in the city, said that he thought at least 20 such rinks might compete.

The president and secretary were asked to employ a caretaker and ice maker directly the weather made such a step necessary.

The meeting closed with votes of thanks to the retiring officers and to F. A. Starkey and E. K. Beeston for permitting the club to use the board of trade rooms as a meeting place.

Those present were: C. D. Blackwood, Donald Guthrie, George Thurman, P. J. Gleazer, J. H. Wallace, A. T. Walley, J. G. Bunyan, J. H. Fox, F. A. Starkey, R. J. Elliott, A. Bunker, D. H. Proudfoot, George H. Revel and D. J. Robertson.

LOCAL OPTIONISTS OFFER AMENDMENTS

Dr. Spencer Submits Suggestions to the Local Leagues and to the Municipal Councils.

Dr. Spencer, superintendent of the British Columbia Local Option league, has issued a circular letter to the local leagues throughout the province, a copy of which was received yesterday in Nelson. Dr. Spencer, writing from Vancouver, says:

"The following is a copy of the suggested amendments sent for the consideration of all the municipal councils of British Columbia. Will you kindly call your league together without delay and pronounce upon these subjects, one by one, and let me have your answer within 14 days. I hope you will not fail in this matter:

"1. An amendment giving power to any municipal council to reduce the number of licenses by bylaw, providing that in every case the said bylaw should be subject to the majority vote of the citizens; and, in this connection, the power of the increase of licenses should be subject also to the majority of the voters by the same process of bylaw.

"2. That the action of the license commissioners in any municipality, and the action of the superintendent of provincial police in unorganized districts, should be subject to review by a county court judge, and the decision of the county court judge subject to review by the court of appeal. No injustice would be caused, as the unsuccessful party would have to pay the costs.

"3. That all license commissioners in all municipalities should be elected by the municipal voters, in precisely the same manner as a mayor, reeve, or councilman, is elected.

"4. That all police commissioners in all municipalities should also be elected by the municipal voters."

FREIGHT DERAILED NEAR CHINA CREEK

Six Cars Leave Track Early in Evening—Due to Broken Axle—Passengers of Express Transferred.

A freight derailment occurred on the C. P. R. near China Creek, about half way between Castlegar and Trail, about 7 o'clock last evening, when six cars were derailed, and the track was somewhat damaged. The derailment, which is said to have been due to an axle of one of the cars breaking, took place on a level stretch between stations, where the freight was travelling at a considerable speed. The car with the weak axle was about fourth from the tender and the engine and the first three cars kept the rails, as did also the rear portion of the train.

The usual night express for Nelson brought on the Trail and Rossland passengers as far as the scene of the wreck, where they were transferred to the express from Nelson. The latter returned to Castlegar, and getting the boat passengers at West Robson, came on to this city, pulling in just before 2 o'clock.

A wrecking crew is working at the scene of the derailment.

CAR KILLS CHINAMAN DRIVER HURRIES AWAY

(Special to The Daily News.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 29—Jim Wing, a well known Chinaman of this city was this morning struck by an auto going along Westminster avenue at a rapid rate. Bystanders who witnessed the accident say the driver put on full speed as soon as he saw the man struck and hurried away. The Chinaman was taken to a hospital but died shortly after, his skull being fractured. The police are making search for the car causing the fatality but are handicapped as in the confusion no person caught its number.

VETERAN MAIL CARRIER DEAD IN COTTAGE

KENORA, Ont., Nov. 29—John A. Fletcher, over 80 years old, the veteran who carried the Kewatin mail for many years was on Sunday evening discovered dead in his cottage. Heart failure was apparently the cause of death. The postmaster sought him, he not having turned up for duty on Friday. In falling he seemingly struck a box of matches, burning part of his clothing. $30 was found in the unburned portions of his apparel. He has daughters in Winnipeg, Toronto, Edmonton and Los Angeles.

BALFOUR IN FAVOR OF REFERENDUM

Would Put Tariff Reform to Vote of People

MAN IN STREET REMAINS APATHETIC

Ulster Breathes Threats of Civil War--Churchill Mobbed; Birrell Injured

LONDON, Nov. 29—With the Ulstermen breathing freely threats of civil war if the Irish parliament is ever installed, with Secretary Birrell crippled through the violence of the militant suffragettes, with Winston Churchill nearly horsewhipped by male sympathizers of these selfsame suffragettes and with Churchill's baby guarded by detectives when taking the air, it can easily be imagined that Great Britain is in the throes of the wildest excitement, but stripped of all political decorative verbiage it must be confessed that the man on the street shows obvious indifference. He sees the Irish Nationalists fighting for a free hand in Ireland, the Radicals demanding more or less unchecked powers for their schemes of social reform and listens to the warnings of the Unionists that home rule means home ruin, but he goes on his way apparently little impressed by any of this. What makes prophets chary in forecasting the result of the contest is that the ministerial forces are once more in full blast the majority of the cabinet ministers being again on the platform. In point of platform speakers the government has a great advantage over the opposition.

Balfour for Referendum

"If the Unionists win, it does not mean tariff reform," Mr Balfour announced tonight. He is willing to leave it to a referendum. In the meantime the leaders are making every appeal to what in the Unionists would be called the independent vote.

The Irish Unionists sent a message of defiance to home rule to Mr. Balfour's meeting, and deputations of defiance from Non-conformist Unionist associations of England, and 600 ministers of non-episcopal churches in Ireland have addressed Mr. Balfour in opposition to home rule. The reading of the message from the Irish Unionists at Albert Hall caused much enthusiasm.

Not Peace But Sword

"In all solemnity," said the message, "we now declare that home rule will bring Ireland not peace but the sword. If an Irish parliament is set us, the Unionists of the south allied with the men of Ulster will not acknowledge its authority. They will neither obey its decrees nor pay its taxes."

Mr. Balfour's Statement

Mr. Balfour pronounced strongly in favor of a referendum as the best method of settling deadlocks between the two houses without requiring the reform of the house of lords and said it could be carried into effect before the house of lords was reformed. This, he declared to be Lord Lansdowne's plan. "Some people seem to think," continued Mr. Balfour, "that asking whether I would submit tariff reform to a referendum puts me in a hole. I frankly say that tariff reform would be a great change. This election cannot be described as taking place on tariff reform simply and I have not the least objection to submitting tariff reform to a referendum. It seems to me that our opponents should respond and say 'We agree that home rule shall be put to a referendum too'."

Great cheering followed this statement. Mr. Balfour denied that the veto conference had been broken up by the uncongenial attitude of the lords. He asserted that the government was threatening a revolution based on the wants of one particular section who boasted that they had not yielded an inch from the position of Parnell. He concluded by saying that the cabinet was governed by its noisest members, who were governed by John Redmond, who was governed by Patrick Ford.

'Don't trust the pupils who are performing their part on the stage," admonished Mr. Balfour. "Don't trust the Irish wire puller; don't trust the American paymaster, who calls for a tune; trust alone to the enlightened patriotism of the people of this country."

J. H. Severans, who was member of parliament for the Brixton division of Lambeth in 1906 and who at one time was a resident of Boston, has become the Liberal candidate in the same constituency against Davidson Dalziel, Unionist, once a resident of New York.

Another Peer Recants

Lord Joyce, who was created a peer by the Liberals has announced his defection from that party because of its failure to provide for the defence of the country and its connection with Socialists. It is said several other peers are tending in the same direction.

Heavy Guns in Action

The politicians of all parties are now straining every nerve to crowd into a few days the work which in ordinary elections is spread over weeks and months. Nearly all the heavy guns were in action tonight.

Arthur J. Balfour, leader of the opposition, before a big meeting in Albert hall, where he warmly supported the referendum, spoke of the government as puppets dancing to the tune of John Redmond and his American paymasters.

The prime minister, Mr. Asquith spoke at Reading, Chancellor Lloyd-George at Cardiff, John Redmond at Dublin, Winston Churchill at Colchester, Augustine Birrell at Bristol, John Burns at Battersea and Austen Chamberlain at Ashton.

Issues Contract

The issues are narrowing down daily. The Conservatives make much of the menace of home rule. They claim that the plan of the Liberals for the reform of the house of lords means a single chamber government and put to the front their new policy of the referendum.

There is great fervor among the Liberals, a feature being the sudden reforming zeal on the part of the house of lords and the claim that the Lansdowne referendum scheme is a snare because the parties would be unequally yoked together under it. That Conservative measures would sail smoothly through the house of lords while the referendum would be invoked only for Liberal bills which were distasteful to the peers. Moreover, they estimate the cost of each appeal to the people at $10,000,000

An interesting factional cleavage has occurred in Mr. Balfour's party over the tariff reform. The Spectator, which is the spokesman of the Unionist free traders, has proposed that the tariff reformers pledge themselves to submit the question to a referendum if the party wins, it not being a leading issue of the campaign. The more ardent tariff reformers led by the Morning Post, contend that it is the foremost principle of the party.

Polling Days

The lord mayor of Birmingham has fixed Saturday for polling. The dates will be in London and large towns, first nomination, Dec. 2, last nomination, Dec. 3; first polling day, Dec. 3, last polling day, Dec. 8. County and district bouroughs, first nomination day Dec. 3, last nomination day, Dec. 9; first polling day, Dec. 7, last polling day Dec. 17. WOUNDED WITH AXE AND RAZOR

Italian is Sentenced at Trail for Slashing Victim in Construction Camp Fracas.

Benedito Raglione, the Italian who attacked a man named Billy Cellihеu at the construction camp at Tiger near Trail on Nov. 18 and seriously wounded his victim with an axe and razor was brought into the provincial jail yesterday by Provincial Constable Monneypenny of Trail.

He was sentenced by Noble Binns, police magistrate at Trail, to six months imprisonment and a fine of $50 or a further six months in default of payment, on charge of unlawful wounding. E. S. H. Winn appeared for the crown.

VANCOUVER CADETS FOR CORONATION

Will be Sent by School Board—Part of Expenses Paid by Public Subscription

(Special to The Daily News.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 29—Sixty lads of the Vancouver high school cadets will go to the old country this summer to attend the coronation of King George. When the boys made application some time ago the school board refused their request, but the parents of the lads have now backed up their application and the board has reconsidered their action. The boys will be in command of Capt. Davey. They will pay part of their expenses and the balance will be made up by public subscription. Special arrangements will be made for the mid-year examinations of the cadets taking the trip.

GREAT NORTHERN TERMINALS AT FALSE CREEK

(Special to The Daily News.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 29—The Great Northern railway has filed its plans for large terminals and passenger station on the north shore basin at the head of False creek. The plans contemplate deepening the present cut through the east end of the city by 14 feet to secure a better grade. The cut will also be widened to give room for four tracks and as soon as the plans are approved by the railway commission the company will start expropriation proceedings necessary to fully carry them out. Its officials have already expended several million dollars on private purchases and the final consummation of the deal with the city whereby the railway secures possession of 60 acres of foreshore will complete the site.

ALLOW HUNTERS TO SHOOT WAPITI

Now Range the Foothills in Lordly Bands

KOOTENAY GAME WELL PROTECTED

Big Game of British Columbia Increasing, Says Chief Game Warden

(Special to The Daily News.)

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 29—Chief Game Warden Byron Williams who has just returned from a short tour through Lillooet, is authority for the statement that the past season has been an exceptionally good one for game of all varieties, and that instead of showing signs of exhaustion the big game of British Columbia is really on the increse, and this despite the fact that many distinguished hunters who have visited the province during the past season returned to their homes delighted with the fine trophies secured. There were many of such hunters in the field and all had rare good luck.

Wapiti Numerous

For further protection of game, the government has just adopted orders in council establishing three reserves or rather enlarging two existing game reserves and formally creating as a game reserve the large tract in East Kootenay that for some time past has been operated as such by successive orders in council prescribing annual closed seasons therein. To the Yalaron (Lillooet) reserve approximately eight miles have been added, the reserve now taking in the entire valley of the north fork of Bridge river and being decided upon for the particular benefit of beaver, which are present there in great numbers and of exceptional size. The New Fort George reserve lies between the north and south forks of the Fraser river, with an approximate length of from 60 to 70 miles and a breadth of 30 or 40 miles. This is a great moose country, containing also some cariboo and mountain sheep. The East Kootenay (Rocky Mountain) reserve is now established as a regulation game reserve of approximately 2000 square miles area. The game herein has been well protected during the past two seasons by prescribed closed seasons and the wapiti now range the foothills in lordly bands. They are finer animals than the Vancouver island wapiti, and are now becoming so numerous that by next season it is hoped that the protection may be for a short period withdrawn and the hunters obtain a chance to secure some exceptional trophies.

Fear General Slaughter

The difficulty of acceding to the several requests that have been made for an earlier open season for Kootenay wapiti is found in the fear that an inrush of hunters would occur and a slaughter follow, whereas if sportsmen would but discriminate and pick off only old bulls, good instead of harm, would result. The feed conditions and the climate in this district are ideal for game, and there are no predatory wolves to work destruction among the deer herds as on Vancouver island, the result being that Kootenay wapiti have greatly increased in number during the past few years. It is Mr. Williams' opinion that the East Kootenay game park will prove an ideal locality for the successful propagation of chamois, and that with stock from this part of our own country the suitability of the Vancouver Island Alps as a habitat for them later on may more safely be tried and with better prospects of success.

WINLAW SAWMILL STARTS OPERATING

Full Crew of Ninety Men Now at Work at Mill and in Limits—Runs All Winter.

John B. Winlaw, the well known lumberman, started his sawmill at Winlaw into operation for the season, yesterday. This is one of the few mills that operates throughout the winter, which constitutes its season. It will now operate continuously till the spring.

The mill starts with a full crew of men, 35 to 40 being employed at the mill, and 50 in the woods. The limits are on the Slocan river, near the mill.

PREPARATIONS FOR EXPEDITION SAID TO BE INADEQUATE

YOKOHAMA, Nov. 29—The Japanese Antarctic expedition under Lieut. Shiraz started yesterday afternoon from Shinagawa bay in the 150-ton schooner Kainan Maru. In the opinion of foreign experts, the preparations are wholly inadequate and the expedition is doomed to failure and possibly disaster, but Lieut. Shiraz is confident.

NEW ROAD WILL ATTRACT TOURISTS

Premier Plans Motor Road Through Splendid Scenery—Full of Attraction for Anglers

(Special to The Daily News.)

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 29—Premier McBride who returned on Saturday evening from a short tour through Yale has in mind tentative plans for the repair of some of the finest scenic portions of the old Cariboo road so that an ideal circuit of a motoring route of approximately 125 miles may be laid out with very little additional road mileage in the country of the Fraser canyon, a drive that for majestic scenery will out rival any on the American continent. Briefly the plan is to reconstruct the historic old Cariboo road for that section lying between Lytton and Ashcroft, a distance of 40 miles.

Wonderful Country

Lytton is the point at which the Fraser and the Thompson rivers converge. From here it is proposed to strike west to Lillooet which also lies on the Fraser, 48 miles above and pass by way of Cache creek and the eastern bank back to the initial point, a total distance of not more than 150 miles of as wonderful a mountain country as is anywhere to be found. The streams abound with fish and the sunny river slopes at various points contain many fine farms which give to the majestic mountain scenery a unique touch.

Thousands of Tourists

"In a few years British Columbia will be catering continuously to thousands of tourists who will come here looking for a good time much as they go to southern California today," said the premier. "A magnificent automobile road through such a wonderful country for the sightseer, the fisherman and the camera folk as is provided in the canyons of the Fraser and Thompson rivers will continue an attraction that will be worth millions to the people of this province."

While passing through this district last week Mr. McBride gave preliminary consideration to the necessities presenting themselves, preliminary for the construction of such a road as is proposed, as well as to other public works which will be taken up shortly with Mr. Taylor.

ALL THAT STANDS BETWEEN YOU AND AN EASY SHAVE

You are assured of one of two things in the Smith Perforated Razor Hone

Razor Satisfaction or Money Refunded

You are a man—you have hair on your face—therefore you have razor trouble.

Now just glance at the picture—a razor hone with small deftly rounded holes in its surface. This is the secret of razor satisfaction.

You might dislike to draw your razor over this at first, but this little article will absolutely dispose of that hacking, pulling, irritating edge on your razor which no amount of old fashioned honing will remove. The smooth razor hone is a failure. The enormous success of the Smith Perforated Razor Hone wherever tried has proved this. Barbers everywhere admit it—the proof to you is in the shave.

The flat hone is a failure because the forward stroke curves the infinitely thin edge one way and the backward stroke reverses it. The principle is at fault.

Examine the same edge after passing over the Perforated Hone. You will find it is straight up, incisive to the greatest possible degree, and firm. The wavering edge has been disposed of—broken off in contact with the sharp edges of the holes. Give your razor six strokes or hone it all day, the result is the same—the razor is in shape. The result is inevitable.

The natural grit stone from which these hones are made is found only in British Columbia. There is nothing else to equal it in the world, and the combination with the Smith invention makes the only satisfactory hone the world has ever known. We can prove this to you—prove it absolutely. Just pin $1.00 to this advertisement and mail it to us. We will mail you a hone. If at the end of one month you are not satisfied, just say so, and back goes your dollar.

Do not wait a week to do this. You have a lifetime of shaving ahead of you. You get immediate satisfaction with this hone. The hone makes good or it costs you nothing.

HONOR FATHER PAUWELYN

BILLINGS, Mont., Nov. 29—Rev Cyril Pauwelyn, the first Roman Catholic priest ordained in the diocese of Montana, today celebrated the silver jubilee of his ordination, which took place in the cathedral at Helena, Nov. 29, 1885. The celebration began with a solemn high mass in St. Patricks church this morning, the jubilarian was the celebrant and was assisted by personal friends. Bishops Carroll of Helena and Lenihan of Great Falls, together with numerous priests, were within the rail of the chancel. At the close of the mass there was a procession to the rectory, followed by a banquet at which the valuable services which Father Pauwelyn has rendered to the church during the last quarter of a century were discussed.

OTTAWA, Nov. 29—There is a possibility that Chinese capital will become interested in Cobalt. Mr. Fung, Chinese consul general, has gone there and it was stated today that he will look over the mines. It is believed that this is preparatory to advising some of his wealthy countrymen apropos of investment.

CONFERENCE OF GOVERNORS

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 29—The new Kentucky state capitol was the scene today of the assemblage of many of the most distinguished figures in the political life of the nation. The occasion was the opening of the annual session of the national conference of governors, which was inaugurated as a regular yearly event during the Roosevelt administration. The purpose of the initial conference called by President Roosevelt was to discuss the problem of national conservation. This topic also has a prominent place on the program of the present conference, but in addition there will be numerous other questions of nation wide interest discussed. Uniform divorce laws and laws for the regulation and control of corporations will be considered and the governors will also exchange views on prison reform, the initiative and referendum and other problems of the day that are of common interest and importance to all the states.

At the opening of the conference this morning more than 30 states were represented by their chief executives or conferrees appointed by them. Among those present were many of the governors elect who will not take office until the first of the year, but who were specially invited to attend the conference. The forenoon was given over largely to the work of organization, the exchange of greetings and the completion of the program for the subsequent sessions. In cordial addresses delivered by Governor Willson and Mayor Polsgrove the visiting governors were welcomed to the state of Kentucky and the city of Frankfort. Following the adjournment of the morning session the visitors were entertained at lunch at the home of Col. E. H. Taylor. A reception at the executive mansion tonight concludes the conference program so far as Frankfort is concerned as Louisville is to entertain the governors at their subsequent sessions, beginning with that of tomorrow morning

WANT UNIVERSITY FOR CALGARY

Bill is Presented to Alberta Legislature —Is Opposed by Lethbridge Member.

EDMONTON, Alta., Nov. 29—There are now three uncompleted bills before the house. J. L. Cote, Liberal, Athabasca, continued the debate on the Alberta and Great Waterways bill extolling the resources of the north country and quoting largely from public and government documents. O'Brien moved the adjournment of the Calgary University bill introduced by R. B. Bennett and Smith. Camrose, again adjourned the debate on the provincial resources resolution.

Calgary University.

R. B. Bennett, who introduced the Calgary University bill, made an eloquent speech in support of it. Several men in Calgary had agreed to found chairs in the university and others had agreed to donate $50,000. It was not proposed to commence business until $500,000 had been subscribed above the cost of the buildings.

W. A. Buchanan, Liberal, Lethbridge, spoke in opposition to the bill. He was a believer in a state university and believed that the modern idea was for a state university. There had been a good deal of feeling when the university was located at Strathcona, but now that it had been, it was the duty of the province to support it.

Malcolm MacKenzie, Claresholm, said that the member for Lethbridge voiced his sentiments in the matter. He now opposed the Calgary bill on the same grounds. He did not believe that the majority of the people of the province would favor a Calgary university; he did not think they even favor one university.

In spite of the efforts of J. K. Cornwall to secure a third reading of his Canadian Northern Western bill which the railway company are in haste to have passed, the bill was not reached on the order paper and will stand till Wednesday.

CASE IMPORTANT TO ELEVATOR INDUSTRY

Warehouse Commission Says Small Firms Must Have Terminal Elevator Licenses

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Nov. 29—Action has been taken against several local elevator men by Warehouse Commissioner Castle for failing to take out a Dominion license for terminal elevators. These are not big elevator concerns but are purely local firms with limited storage accommodation for their own purposes. They point out that to take out such a license would convert them into terminal elevators and disqualify them under the act from doing other than a storage business for which their plants are not designed. The affected firms, on the other hand, purchase treat and clean wheat and do not charge fees for storage and have only limited accommodation and the wheat they store is their own property. The penalty for not taking out terminal licenses is $10 per diem and the license necessarily restricts other business than storage and should the decision go against them the lake ports will be deprived of a promising industry as an adverse judgment would be a death blow. The case has been adjourned for eight days.

MONEY

Can a Person Become Wealthy from a Salary?

It has never been done. Can a fortune be built by keeping your surplus in a savings bank at 3 per cent interest? Never. The people who have actually got ahead in the world are those who know how to use their surplus money. It does not make any difference how much that surplus amounts to. It may be only a few dollars a week, or it may be fifty or a hundred dollars a month. The result in either case is the same. The person who makes good in life is the one who knows how to keep his surplus money working.

If you agree with us in the above statement, the next step is the selection of an investment. No wise man would think of prescribing for himself if seriously ill, or conducting his own law business. The selection of the best investments requires just as much or more experience and judgment.

When you decide to invest your hard earned savings consult specialists. They are just as anxious to make money for you as the men following any other business are to give you satisfaction.

We not only have a manager with thirty years experience, but he has the combined judgment of several directors in the company to assist him in selecting investments for our clients.

Before offering property to our clients we invest our own money in it. It is bought because feel sure that it will rapidly advance in value whether we sell or not.

We have been operating in Burnaby property throughout the Kootenays for nearly three years, selling many hundreds of people and not one who bought and paid for property has lost a dollar. On the other hand, those who bought from two to three years ago have made from 150 to 200 per cent, those who bought one to two years agio, 100 per cent, and every lot we have sold is so situated that it will continually advance in value for many years.

We have a few lots left in our old additions and have just secured another very choice tract for subdivision

Let us start you on the road to success. Remember we wait for you if ill or out of work, and it only takes $20 to start and $10 per month. Every day you delay you are losing money.

NELSON, B.C.

W. R. CLARKE TELLS HIS TROUBLES

Great Waterways Promoter Breaks His Long Silence—Does Not Like Sifton Policy.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 29—In a statement President W. R. Clarke, of the Alberta & Great Waterways railway made the following statements:

In view of the policy of confiscation now being jammed through the legislature by Premier Sifton, I believe it only just that some facts on my side of the case should be given fair consideration by the public.

It should be remembered, that the program was not only passed by the legislature but was endorsed by a unanimous vote. The ministry then went to the country for the verdict of the people and there was an overwhelming victory for Premier Rutherford. It was therefore somewhat surprising last February to see the matters of the amount of guarantee, rate of interest and mileage vociferously attacked by certain members of the legislature who had already voted for those provisions. One of these members, who had never been over the proposed line or never built a railroad glibly asserted that he could build it for $12,000 per mile. The guarantee of $20,000 per mile is not in the least unreasonable, the C. N. R. line which will run through the country similar to that of the Great Waterways road was guaranteed by the Dominion government at the rate of $25,000 per mile. The injustice of the attack upon the amount of the guarantee is demonstrated by the fact that it is now reported that the C. N. R. is willing to build the line to Fort McMurray providing that the Alberta government will allow them to bond the road for $25,000 per mile.

After several months of negotiations I completed the placing of the bond issue at par the bankers offered the bonds to their clients at 110. The fact that dealers in bonds should retail them at a higher price than that at which they purchased them was considered by the opponents of the Rutherford government as a heinous offence.

Referring to charges made on the floor of the house, re the bond sale, Mr. Clarke stated that the counsel for the royal commissioners made inquiry of the Morgans and received a letter stating that no commission was paid to me or any other person. The royal commission in its report absolutely ignores it.

Why he Kept Away.

Regarding his non-appearance before the commission to give evidence, Mr. Clarke stated that the commission allowed the counsel representing those opposed to the railway the greatest latitude permitting matters to be stated that would not be accepted in an ordinary court even going into the private affairs of people that had not the remotest bearings on the question at issue. "I felt I would be forced to reveal my private affairs for the benefit of persons who sought to benefit themselves by the destruction of the project and satisfy the desires of certain people for blood. At that time I was also involved in two lawsuits in which any evidence that I might have given could have been used and this also was a factor in determining me not to appear before the commission. Moreover, I realized that the royal commission was to be the battle ground of political factions and I could not see that it was necessary for me to concern myself with the quarrels of these parties. Mr. Sifton is specious and misleading in what he says and what he leaves unsaid. The legislature prohibited our building the road until after the royal commission had made its investigation. The legislature expected that the commission would render its report about May 1, but Mr. Clarke added the final session was not held until July 5. Obviously the plan was to prolong the inquiry until after the date that the bond issue was due. After the fight against the railway was started financial arrangements were rendered ineffective, and when commission made its report, it was impossible to make arrangements. It would be remembered that the banks receiving deposits of the bond money agreed to allow 3 1-2 per cent interest for the use of same, this amount to apply towards the 5 per cent interest due the holders of the bonds. The premier fails to acquaint the public wtih the fact that the railway stood ready to pay the 1 1-2 per cent due from the company on July 1 provided the Alberta government will collect the balance due from the banks. Instead of doing this the premier chose to borrow the whole 5 per cent from another bank.

Act Annulled.

The report of the commission was not made public until Nov. 10. Before there was any opportunity for me to make new arrangements for the building of the road after government officials and members of the legislature had been exonerated from the charges made against them the premier introduced legislation for annulling the laws previously enacted for building the railroad, and for appropriating for bridges and public buildings the money which I had raised through a bond issue for the specific purpose of a railroad from Edmonton to Fort McMurray.

Mr. Clarke in conclusion stated that he would be willing to see others carry out the project and with this end in view had written and wired Premier Sifton, but had received no reply.

"Whether or not the people approve Premier Sifton's policy of confiscation, I am willing to rest my case upon such indications of public opinion as the action of the Edmonton board of trade on the 25th inst. when a resolution was unanimously passed condemning the premier's action."

TROUBLE BREWING IN OTTAWA CLUB

Capital Hockey Enthusiasts Badly Up Against Salary Limit—Art Ross Sends Forth Wail.

OTTAWA, Nov. 92—Ottawa hockey enthusiasts, in the lull preceding the storm that seems to be gathering for professional hockey in Canada, are on tiptoe as to the probabilities that will arise within the next week or so. The officers of the Ottawa Hockey club, and even the players, do not know just where they stand at the present, and with not one of the men signed up to date, and the salary limit in the way of the committee who are looking after this matter, it seems as if something that is bound to cause trouble is brewing, but just what the proposed steps are, no one seems to know.

Not in years have the players and clubs been so far apart at this stage of the game as is now the case, and last year at this time Renfrew and Ottawa were fighting for the possession of Fred Taylor, together with other notable hockey stars. President McGee, in an interview this morning, stated that until a meeting of the club could be called, and notices for gathering on Thursday afternoon have been sent out, nothing could be said as to what course the team and the club will pursue this year. The lineup is very indefinite, and, with the stories that the Ottawa executive intend to use only local players, it is hard to even guess what sort of a seven will wear the famous red, white and black jerseys this winter.

Art Ross Again.

OTTAWA, Nov. 29—An effort is now being made to bring about peace in the hockey war. A proposal is made to raise the salary limit to $8000, thus allowing about $1000 per man for the season. Renfrew is in favor of it, but Ottawa met today and decided to oppose such a move. In the meantime a meeting of the outlaw league has been called for Montreal tomorrow to make preparations for organization. Ottawa men have been invited to attend.

The Renfrew club held its annual meeting last night; it paid out $15,000 in salaries last winter and took in less than sufficient to pay travelling expenses. Satisfaction, however, was expressed, the club having gone into it for advertising purposes. J. G. Barnet is again president.

Art Ross, the famous Montreal point, writes the eastern papers, denouncing the clubs for announcing the deficits of last year. Ross says that each club makes money every year, but pads the accounts and announces a deficit to delude the public with the impression that they are making big sacrifices for the game. Ross declares he has received from $1000 to $2700 per season through hockey, getting the latter at Haileybury last winter, but he says he would turn it all over to charity if he could wash his hands of professionalism and retain the honorable calling of an amateur player. Public sentiment now seems with the players.

HACK GETS DR. ROLLER ONCE AGAIN

MONTREAL, Nov. 29—Hackenschmidt, the Russian Lion, kept up his string of victories last evening by defeating Dr. Roller in two straight falls after a hard battle. He took the aggressive from the start but it was not until 47 minutes had elapsed that he put his opponent down with a half Nelson. The heavy work told on Dr. Roller less than Hack.

The second fall was secured in 19 minutes with the Russian as the aggressor all the time. With Roller on top, Hack reached up and turned him over, converting a defensive into an aggressive hold and by sheer weight got the fall. Hackenschmidt's weight was greatly in his favor.

After Three Doctors Had Given Her Up

Clanbrassie, Ont.

Two years ago, the doctor made forty-four calls on me and then said he had done all he could for me. I was suffering with intense Kidney Trouble and severe inflammation had set in. Two other doctors were consulted and agreed that nothing could be done to help me.

On the recommendation of a neighbor, I took "Fruit-a-tives" and they cured me. To-day, I take "Fruit-a-tives" as my only medicine. I am in excellent health and "Fruit-a-tives" is the medicine that cured me after I had been at death's door for months.

I am glad to be able to give you this testimonial. It may benefit some other woman suffering as I suffered, as I believe that I would not be alive to-day had I not used "Fruit-a-tives."

ANOTHER BRANCH LINE.

The construction by the C. P. R. of a second new branch line in this territory within about a year is an indication of the intent of the company to continue following a progressive policy in the Kootenay and of its faith in this part of the province. In these respects it is in keeping with the decision of the same company to build another boat for the Lake Kootenay service, and with its general attitude toward the development of our resources.

A similar course on the part of the Great Northern would make the latter company very much more popular than it is at the present time. Probably there is not a district dependent upon the Great Northern for transportation facilities that does not heartily regret the fact.

In this connection it may be observed that the new line to be built approximately from Elko to Waldo runs to some extent into what has been regarded as Great Northern territory. There is other Great Northern territory, notably that along the Pend O'Reille and Salmon rivers and in the Slocan where C. P. R. lines would be most welcome.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

The amendments, presumably to the Liquor act, which Dr. Spencer proposes, do not seem well calculated to accomplish the ends which he may be supposed to desire. On the other hand, they are of such a nature that if made law they would be a cause of serious public mischief.

The proposal to have all police commissioners elected by the municipal voters would give us practically the same method as that followed in the United States. The result there has not been an administration of the law so superior to that which prevails in Canada that we need be in any hurry to seek for a similar result here.

If there is one thing that experience in the United States compared with experience in Canada has made clear, surely it is that the direct election of police commissioners cannot compare with their appointment by the municipal and provincial representatives of the people as a means of securing law and order. The same thing applies to the election of license commissioners, which Dr. Spencer also proposes. The effect in either case would be far from desirable even from the standpoint of Dr. Spencer himself.

What is meant by proposing that "the action of the license commissioners in any municipality should be subject to review by a county court judge," and this in turn to review by the court of appeal, is not clear. What action does he mean, and on what principles is the review to be made? If the commissioners reduce the number of licences is the judge to have power to rescind the order, or if they require closing at certain hours, or the lighting of bars on Sundays, or the refusal of sale to certain classes of persons, is the judge to have power to "review" this also?

What a feast there would be for the lawyers if every action by the police commissioners were subject to appeal to one court and then to another! And how extremely difficult it would become to enforce regulations! What would happen to the ordinary business of the courts while the judges were fulfilling the duties of liquor commissioners all over the province, is also an interesting question.

THE ISSUE IN ENGLAND.

The constitutional issue in England is now clearly drawn. Mr. Balfour has come out definitely for the introduction of the referendum. As leader of the Unionist party he states that if given a majority at the election he will submit tariff reform to a referendum before committing the country to that policy; and he asks that the Liberals should also submit their Home Rule measure to a referendum.

On the general question of the House of Lords, the Unionists propose that the composition of that body be reformed so that the holding of a peerage shall not carry with it membership in the second chamber and so that such membership shall be efficient and representative; also that it shall cease to have the power to reject or amend financial measures. In event of a failure of agreement between the houses on other measures, the employment of the referendum would afford a means of securing the final verdict of the electors without the necessity of holding a general election.

The referendum has been made a part of the constitution of Switzerland and other countries and of many of the states of the American union, as a safeguard of the rights of the people and as a progressive measure for the purpose of preventing a temporary majority from passing measures not in accord with the will of the people.

Taken by itself the Unionist constitutional policy should be preferred by the electors of the United Kingdom to that of the government which calls for the almost unchecked rule of the majority in the house of Commons, without any opportunity for the people to interpose an expression of their will. But it will hardly be taken by itself. It will be considered in connection with the programme of the government and with the former course of the house of Lords in dealing with legislative measures. Those who are in favor of the government policy will be likely to see in the referendum a device for putting difficulties in the way of the measures they would like to have made law at the earliest possible moment; just as in our own country the proposal to submit the naval policy to a referendum would be regarded as being inspired by hostility to that policy rather than by any special regard for the principle that the country should not be committed to an important policy until the electorate has given its sanction.

JURY IS LENIENT WITH MR. ROBERTS

Acquitted at Mock Trial of Charge of Stealing Chicken—Unlimited Fun at Trinity Church Gathering

The news of a mock trial as the program for the people's meeting in Trinity Methodist church, brought a large number of people together last evening to see fair play, and the entire conduct of the trial was certainly a revelation on the study of law as practised in this province. Lewis Roberts, the church organist, was placed on trial for the alleged offence of stealing a prize chicken from the house of A. W. Seaman. His counsel was Mr. Conn, K. C., while the prosecutor for the crown was Joseph Patrick, the eminent criminal lawyer, who has practised at the bar since the tender age of 19 years. The judge, who observed the complete formalities of the supreme court, was represented in the person of J. W. Bennett, and the mature judgment of his concise summing up of the case in the address to the jury was a masterpiece of forensic eloquence. It undoubtedly won the day for the prisoner at the bar, as he alluded to the villainous appearance of the accused, and had no doubt he was guilty. Lester Patrick made a formidable if sleepy jailer, while G. S. Rees, in company with a court stenographer, made voluminous notes of the evidence, and swore in the witnesses, the balance of the time being spent in securing order for the court. Among the witnesses called were Mesdames Walley and Shaw, and Miss Adams, also Messrs. Seaman, Lidgate, Cotter and Reed. Detective Pike testified to finding the chicken in the prisoner's bed in his room at the Y. M. C. A., and identified it by a missing toe on the right foot. The prisoner gave evidence on his own behalf, but it was so damaging to his prospects of release that his counsel regretted the venture. Considerable "submitting" and "objecting" on the parts of both counsel led to strained relations between them.

The prosecuting attorney's appeal to the jury cast a gloom over the prisoner's friends, as he foretold seven years in the penitentiary if a conviction was made, but the jury, under J. Irving as an experienced foreman, rose to the occasion, and brought in a verdict of "not guilty." They added a rider that they would like to know if the accused had much trouble in getting away with the chicken on the night in question. This verdict was acceptable to all, and the fact that some of the gentler sex were members of the jury is thought to have led its favorable nature. His lordship thereupon discharged the prisoner, and gave him a severe warning to steal another chicken to replace the one stolen from Mr. Seaman.

If laughter counts for anything, the mock trial was heartily enjoyed by all, and the evening was voted enjoyable by all. Harry Edwards was grand marshall for the occasion, and was ably supported by his one night company of strolling players. The gathering closed with the National Anthem. Rev. J. P. Westman was unavoidably absent, and was thus not able to assume the judicial ermine, originally planned for him.

ERICKSON DANCE GREAT SUCCESS

Pleasant Social Gathering Marks Opening of New School House—Concert and Dance

(Special to The Daily News.)

CRESTON, B.C., Nov. 29—It was a grand success when the new school house at Erickson was packed a couple of evenings ago on the occasion of the concert and dance given by the trustees, to celebrate the opening of the building.

The following were among the items that contributed to the success of the evening: Solo, selected, Rev. P. C. Hayman; violin solo, H. H. Hamilton; recitation, Evan Ross; solo, Mrs. W. Kemp; duet, the Misses Long; solo, selected, R. O. B. Fitzgerald; recitation, "Specially Jim," May Littlejohn; solo, "Don't Take Me Home," Willie Hall; bagpipes, G. M. Gunn; recitation, F. Martin; solo, "I Would Rather be a Lobster Than a Wise Guy," Willie Long; reading, R. O. B. Fitzgerald; solo, "Loves Old Sweet Song" Mrs. B. Elliott; solo, "Where Did You Get That Hat," Willie Long. This was followed by F. M. McKenna, the Sirdar school master, giving a recitation which was very humorous entitled "A Kiss in School."

Miss Margaret Moore made an efficient promptress helping the younger of the children over the difficult parts.

After the concert a splendid supper was provided. The room was then cleared and dancing was indulged in.

The evening was in every respect a grand success. The new school building was packed to its capacity and all present had a most enjoyable time. The opening of the new school house is an auspicious occasion marking a big step in the development of Erickson.

Among those present were noticed Mr. and Mrs. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. E. Cartwright, Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Boss, Mrs. Breeze, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison, Mr. McLod, M. Benninger, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Long. W. J. Littlejohn, Mr. and Mrs. Kemp Whilst the Misses Opie, Howarth, Moore, McBean, Ryckman, Trotter, Cameron and others were among the young ladies of Creston who graced the entertainment with their presence

Among the many improvements recently made to Creston dwellings is the addition of a commodious bathroom to the cottage of F. G. Little, while Jesse Wiles is adorning his home with a new foundation.

Mrs. G. M. Gunn and little daughter Isabelle arrived in town last Saturday while Miss Ida Gunn arrived here last Sunday from Nelson.

Mrs. M. Young, the local milliner is making extensive improvements to her premises this week. She is siding her store and dwelling. The work is being done by Contractor Andy Miller.

Provincial Constable Gunn is a terror to any small boys that he finds coasting on the sidewalks.

"The Hair and Its Cure," Sent Free Upon Request.

The Herpicide Company want everyone to have a copy of their booklet telling how to take care of and possess nice hair. The booklet contains much valuable information on the subject of saving and cultivating the hair.

If the present-day men and women would begin to live up to the teachings of this little booklet it is doubtful if the next generation would find a baldheaded man or lady wearing false hair.

It is just as easy to have robust and beautiful hair as to have thin, scraggy hair or no hair at all. If the scalp is kept clean and free from dandruff the hair grows naturally and luxuriantly.

The booklet tells how this may be most effectively accomplished by the use of Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide destroys the germ which causes dandruff, frees the head from dirt and scarf flakes. The hair becomes light, fluffy and beautiful.

Newbro's Herpicide is the original remedy that kills the dandruff germ for which there are many imitations and substitutes said to be just as good. Buy nothing but the original.

All reliable dealers sell and guarantee genuine Herpicide in one dollar size bottles.

Send 10c in postage to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich., and a nice sample will be sent with the booklet.

AGED PHYSICIAN FACES GRAVE CHARGE

Attempt to Murder Woman and Son—Dynamite Explosion in Sanitarium Garden.

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Nov. 29—One of the most sensational criminal trials that has taken place here in many years is promised in the case of Dr. Willard P. Burke, who was brought into court today to answer to the charge of having attempted to murder Miss Lu Etta Smith and her 11-months-old illegitimate son, of which Dr. Burke is said to be the father.

The wealth and prominence of the accused physician, the unusual method which he is accused of employing in his alleged attempt at double murder, and the subsequent flight of the intended victim to Japan to avoid testifying at the trial are some of the remarkable elements in a case which has already attracted wide attention and the trial of which will undoubtedly be followed with much interest.

Dr. Burke, who is a man well along in years, is the proprietor of a large sanitarium at Alturas, five miles north of this city. On the night of February 5 last the patients and attendants of the sanitarium were startled by a loud explosion in the sanitarium grounds. Upon investigation it was found that the explosion had occurred beside a house tent in which slept Miss Lu Etta Smith and her infant son. Further investigation showed that the explosion had undoubtedly been caused by a stick of dynamite. The perpetrator of the outrage, however, had made a poor calculation in placing the explosive. The lives of the intended victims were spared, though it was many weeks before the woman recovered from the shock.

Miss Lu Etta Smith, the intended victim, was a student at the University of California when she met Dr. Burke. Later she went to live at the sanitarium, where her child was born. The child was named Willard P. Burke Smith.

Bought Dynamite.

The investigation by the authorities following the explosion led to the arrest of Dr. Burke and his indictment on the charge of attempted murder. The officers claim to have ascertained that, a few days before the explosion, Dr. Burke obtained a quantity of dynamite and took it with him on his return to Santa Rosa from a visit to the Phoenix mine, near Oroville, which he owns.

One of the peculiar features of the case was the disappearance of Miss Smith when the date set for Dr. Burke's trial approached and her subsequent return. Some time after the dynamiting episode the woman left this vicinity and went to Berkeley. Subsequently she left Berkeley and was next located in Japan. According to report she was given a sum of money sufficient to take her and her child to Japan and was promised regular remittances so long as she remained there. But it is said that the promised remittances failed to materialize and the result was that through the generosity of some Americans whom she met in Tokio she was enabled to return to California. However this may be, it is certain that she placed herself in communication with the authorities here and is now in readiness to appear as the principal witness for the prosecution. Struggling to the end with all the resources of a man possessed of wealth and unusual cunning the aged physician now realizes the seriousness of his position under the serious charges made against him.

FERNIE NEWS NOTES.

(Special to The Daily News.)

FERNIE, B. C., Nov. 29—The Ladies Aid of the Methodist church gave a first anniversary dinner in the church last night, which was well patronized, afterwards a grand concert was given which was of unusual excellence and thoroughly enjoyable.

A Retail Merchants' association which was to have been organized last night failed to materialize owing to so many other meetings being held, which prevented a sufficient number being present.

Provincial Constable Charles Bulger of Michel, who has been confined to the hospital here with a sprained foot, was able to leave that institution yesterday and returned to his duties.

R. W. Wood, vice president of the Trites-Wood company, who has been in Calgary for the past ten days on a business trip returned to town yesterday.

Miss Ashworth, daughter of the manager of operations of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal company, gave a most enjoyable party on Friday and is entertaining some of her friends again tonight.

Silks, satins, velvets and furs—especially sealskin—are much used for the new winter hats and toques.

Where is there a more delightful spot to own an orchard home than on the Arrow lakes in the vicinity of Edgewood?

The man who invests right in fruit lands with water frontage will see the dollars he invests grow.

WHY?

This district has every advantage, good roads, schools and postoffice, daily boat service.

BUY THIS

You buy right when you can secure 160 acres, water front, so much below its value as we can sell you today 160 acres beautifully situated on the west shore of Arrow lake, close to Needles, on good wagon road; one and a half acres cleared, 1000 strawberries set out, 500 raspberries, half an acre planted in fruit trees, comfortable house; an improved ranch at wholesale price, $22 per acre.

We advise you to buy it; it's a money maker.

Houses

Well built home, containing 7 rooms, bath, etc.; large garden. Early possession. Furniture if desired.

Cottage recently built in Fairview, four rooms, 2 lots, city water.

Land

Kootenay lake—Sites for summer homes on Nelson-Balfour road.

Kootenay river—9 acres at $60 per acre.

METAL MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Silver, 55¼. LONDON, Nov. 29.—Silver, 25½; lead, £13 3s 9d.

MARKETS.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 29.—All markets on this side of the water opened considerably lower this morning upon the arrival of Liverpool cables, and for a time a decline took place. With the advance of the morning, however, strength returned to the American market, which appears to be the work of local bears alone. The demand for cash wheat was light, as is only to be expected, as official navigation closes tomorrow and dealers who intend shipping have already got their supplies in shape. In spite of this, however, a general clean-up up was made and sales of almost all grades were reported. At the close the market Winnipeg Nov. showed a drop of ¼c, Dec. of ⅛c to ⅝c, and May of ¼c to ⅜c. Oats, which also showed considerable weakness in the early markets, regained some strength and closed ¼c under for Nov. and Dec., and unchanged for May. Flax declined 5c for Nov., while Dec. advanced 3c.

American Markets Stronger.

American markets were much stronger than Winnipeg, and on Chicago and Minneapolis a transferring of holdings from nearby to further months took place. Chicago at the close showed a decline of ¼c for Dec. and an advance of ¼c for May and July, while Minneapolis was exceptionally strong, closing to ⅝ to ¾ higher for Dec. and ½ to ⅝ for May. Corn and oats both showed a slight advance on the Chicago market for all options, while Duluth flax advanced 1½c for Nov. and Dec., and 5½c for May.

Winnipeg—Wheat, Nov. 90⅝ to 90¼; Dec., 90 to 90; May, 94½ to 94¾. Oats, Nov., 33 to 32¾; Dec., 32¼ to 32; May, 36¾ to 36¾. Flax, Nov., 2.30; Dec., 2.27.

Chicago—Wheat, Nov., 89¼ to 89½; May, 95¼ to 95⅝; July, 92¼ to 92⅞.

Minneapolis—Wheat, Dec., 99½ to 1.00⅝; May, 1.04 to 1.04⅝.

Winnipeg cash wheat—No. 1 Nor., 89¾; No. 2 Nor., 86¾; No. 3 Nor., 83½; No. 4, 79. Rejected, 1—2 Nor., 84; 1—2 Nor., 81½; 2—1 Nor., 81¼; 2—2 Nor., 79½; 1 Nor. for seed, 83; 2 Nor. for seed, 81. Oats, 2 W., 32½; 3 W., 30; rejected, 30½. Flax, 1 N.W., 2.29; 1 Man., 2.27.

Wall Street Still Pessimistic.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 29.—The market at Wall street this morning was slightly stronger than at the close of yesterday. There was still a good deal of pessimism in evidence despite the fact that one newspaper says that the interview attributed to J. J. Hill is false, and quotes him as saying that conditions in the west are not at all as gloomy as the alleged interview with Hill represented them to be. Some brokers were of the opinion that the gloomy views taken by so many at the early hours and later stages of yesterday had nothing to do with the slump in prices, and are inclined to believe that the sudden drop was entirely due to manipulation.

Montreal Market Sags.

MONTREAL, Nov. 29.—The local market again showed a tendency to lower prices on moderate amount of selling pressure this afternoon. In Wall street, weakness continued and is likely to carry the Canadian market lower as the very indifferent undertone may precipitate selling and will find little check on the buying side.

London Market Quiet.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Trading was quiet on the stock exchange today. Easier money weakened discount rates and helped to advance consols and other gilt-edge securities. Home rails improved on dividend anticipations. Copper shares and Kaffirs closed easy. American securities opened a fraction above par but immediately turned weak under realizing induced by the interview with Mr. Hill. Continental sales further depressed values, but New York support in the afternoon caused a rally and a steady closing.

Bears Take Profits.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The subsidence of turmoil in today's stock market afforded a strange contrast to yesterday's disorderly decline. The dealings did not fall back to last week's low level by any means, but the decreasing activity and the narrowing range of fluctuations suggested a return of the same conditions of neglect and indifference. The advances were firmly held and last prices were at the top. The gloomy view of the industrial, and especially the railway, outlook, attributed to Mr. Hill continues to absorb a large share of attention. It was evident that consideration of the matter over night left a conviction that the violence of effect produced in yesterday's stock market by Mr. Hill's utterances was disproportionate. The bear interests stood ready to take profits by covering.

Hoarseness in a child subjected to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given at once or even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Contains no poison. Sold by all druggists and dealers.

NEW BAKERY NOW NEAR COMPLETION

Cornwell & Co. Will Have Two Story Building Near Their Store—Will be Ready in Another Week

J. Cornwell & Co., fancy bakers, have purchased through Croasdaile, Mawdsley & Co. the property in the rear of the armory, which is convenient to their store and restaurant premises on Baker street, and are enlarging and remodelling the building for a bakery. R. D. McDonald has the contract and is pushing the work rapidly. The building is being raised, and a basement of concrete blocks is being constructed, the ground dimensions being 45 by 25 feet. The remodelled building will thus consist of two stories, including the basement. The purchase price, cost of reconstruction and cost of equipment will bring the total expense up to something over $3000.

The new bakery will be ready for occupancy in about a week's time and Cornwell & Co., who have been without a bakery of their own since their premises in Fairview were burned some weeks ago, will immediately reopen that end of their business.

NELSON NEWS OF THE DAY

CREW MUTINY

NEW YORK, Nov. 29—The British freighter, Clan Maclean came to anchor today with half of her crew prisoners. Her captain took on a batch of Spaniards at Gibraltar to replace Lascars and when they came in sight of America they refused to work. The officers had to drive the mutineers back from the bridge by firing revolvers over their heads and after working the ship into the shelter of the Delaware breakwater lay too for a fortnight until the captain could ship enough men to make this port. What to do with the crew is a problem.

The paper written by Mrs. Virginia Green, and published in yesterday's issue of The News, was prepared in anticipation of the session of the royal commission on industrial training and technical education, Mrs. Green having been invited by the local Women's council to be one of its representatives on that occasion. Commissioner Bryce asked Mrs. Green if she had a paper, and she replied that she had it in the form of notes, but had not yet extended them. He thereupon requested her, in addition to her verbal evidence, to complete the paper, for the use of the commission. The paper, as noted yesterday, is now in the commission's possession.

J. J. Malone returned on Monday night from Spokane, where he has spent a fortnight, including a period at the apple show. Mrs. Malone and her daughter Edna returned some days earlier.

Articles of all kinds, from baby stockings to men's pyjamas, can be procured at the sale of work tomorrow afternoon and evening at the K. P. hall, Eagle block, from the ladies of the Methodist church. Tea will be served, along with music.

It is stated that a meeting will be called shortly, at the board of trade rooms, of all interested in the subject of the Houston memorial to decide the next steps to be taken. A number of ways are being suggested for applying the memorial fund in a useful and appropriate way. One of the favorite suggestions now is to make the fund large enough to cover the cost of a public library in this city.

Members of St. Andrew's brotherhood cordially invite all friends to their annual service, to be held in St. Saviour's church this evening at 8 o'clock, after which they will heartily welcome any men members or visitors in the parish hall, adjoining the church.

The fish pond tomorrow in the K. P. hall, Eagle block, in connection with the sale of work and home cooking by the ladies of the Methodist church, will be a great attraction. There will be no blanks and the poorest fisherman will get full value for his money.

W. A. Jowett leaves this morning for Slocan City, on mining business.

A few of the "Y" boys last evening in company with some of the fair friends of the association, foregathered for a pleasant evening at the home of Mrs. Anderson.

John G. Devlin expects to leave this morning for Sheep Creek on a visit of inspection of the Clyde-Belt group.

Miss Eugenie Fox, who is to give a Dickens recital at the opera house tomorrow night is a sister of G. O. M. Fox and B. H. Fox, manager and secretary respectively of the Kootenay Jam company.

Owing to the fact that the members of the C. P. Walker company who are to present "Twelfth Night" at the public school tonight will arrive on the Spokane train, the performance will commence at 8.30 instead of 8 o'clock as advertised.

The I.O.F. guard will meet in the Eagle hall this afternoon at 3.30 o'clock.

Harry Houston has returned from the coast and opened up a real estate office in the Aberdeen block. Mr. Houston is an old-timer in Nelson, having lived in the city for 13 years previous to a few months ago when he left for Vancouver. He was for 12 years with the Yale-Columbia Lumber company in Nelson.

Tickets of membership in the Nelson Curling club may be obtained from any officer or member of the executive after Dec. 1.

J. H. Wallace expects to spend the coming winter in California.

Donald Guthrie, chief of the fire department, has made arrangements to burn the two shacks at the corner of Front and Cedar street, which were condemned on Monday by Dr. Hartin, medical health officer, as a menace to public safety, tomorrow morning at 4 o'clock. The shacks adjoin the fence around the recreation grounds. This fence, in order to obviate any danger from the fire, will be taken down by James Foote of the city public works department.

There will be a practice of the Nelson male voice party at the Y.M.C.A. at 8 o'clock tonight.

The maximum temperature yesterday was 37 degrees and the lowest recorded at the government meteorological station was 27 degrees.

A number of boys were to be seen skating on the ice near the C.P.R. flats yesterday.

A. Carney of Kaslo leaves this morning for the Crow, accompanied by his son, H. A. Carney, of Fort George. The latter will go on to New York, where he will spend two or three months.

Ald. Carrie returned from Trail this morning by the delayed Rossland train.

The Citizens' party nominating committee of 25 held another meeting last night, in connection with producing an aldermanic slate. At the close of the session the chairman of the party, R. G. Joy, stated that there was nothing to report.

Wealth In Fruit Lands

Producing fruit lands in Washington and Oregon give annual returns of $1000 to $2000 per acre and cost $1500 to $2500 per acre.

West Kootenay fruit lands are just as fertile, but the orchards are not quite so old and the lands have not been quite so well known.

So you can buy Edgewood Orchard lands today at from $10 to $80 per acre on easy monthly payments without interest that will double and treble in value by the time you complete your payments, for settlers and buyers are coming in fast.

You choose your farm by the surveyor's report. Better choose today, for some of the best are being taken every day.

"The Three Musketeers" Last Evening —"Twelfth Night" Tonight.

A well filled house greeted "The Three Musketeers" at the opera house last evening, the play being an adaptation of Dumas' well known novel, by Sanford Dodge. The leading parts of D'Artagnan and Lady de Winter were worthily taken by Mr. Dodge and Miss Nickerson, and both were several times recalled for their excellent acting. The play was handsomely costumed and well put on and the leading characters were fairly well supported.

This evening "Faust" will be presented, and doubtless will attract a large audience.

An announcement of more than ordinary interest to the lovers of the best in dramatic literature is that of the engagement of the superior company of players, headed by William Yule and Violet Eddy, in "Twelfth Night." Shakespeare was manifestly in a holiday mood when he penned this delightfully irresponsible comedy of improbabilities. No great problem clogged the flow of his fancy; no call to right the wrongs of humanity checked the serene utterance of his joyous muse. Even Viola is less strenuous than most of our poet's heroines, and throws herself with a gay spirit into the masquerading adventures through which she passes to comedy's inevitable goal—the hymeneal altar. No less an authority than Mr. Halliwell Phillips describes "Twelfth Night" as "The perfection of English comedy and the most fascinating drama in the language." The play will be presented at the public school hall this evening.

In the "Animated Gazette," to be shown in the change of program at the Gem theatre tonight, among others are views of "The Installation of the Mayor of London," "A Picturesque Procession of Freemasons to a Stone-laying Ceremony at Westcliff-on-Sea," "Putney Dingy Races on the Thames," "Opening of the Steeplechasing Season at Dunstall Park," and "The Walking Race to London From Brighton." Other good subjects are "The Count of Montebello," a fine Im- comedy; "The Call of the West," and "The Wrong Road."

Miss Eugenie Fox, well known in Canada and the old country for her accomplished readings from Dickens and various Scotch writers, will give a number of dramatic recitations at the opera house tomorrow night. Miss Fox has appeared at the majority of the great London concert halls and theatres and has everywhere been greeted with large and appreciative audiences.

The change of program at the Empire theatre this evening includes, "The Silver Plume Mine," "Young Lord Stanley," a splendid Thanhouser film, and "Animated Gazette 76," being historical events in moving pictures.

PLUMBERS STRIKE CONTINUES

MONTREAL, Nov. 29—The plumbers strike is ten weeks old today and the men say they will stay out. Some of the firms have already granted the increased pay asked for but there are still 200 out. In Montreal there are about 600 but only 400 are union men. As a result of the strike a number of carpenters and plasterers are out of work.
